NOTICE ANYTHING NEW?—

We are starting the year off with a new face. Look over at the masthead. Its new. We think the new design of the name of our paper is simple but more recognizable and we have decided to introduce it with the start of this new year.

We at THE HERALD have plans to give you a more complete newspaper with more news over a larger section of our county. We have always needed help from our readers in letting us know what is going on and continue to solicit your help.

Playing a big role in our plans will be Danny Gibson who was added to our staff this week at Sports Editor and Assistant Advertising Manager. Danny is a familiar face to many sports fans and we expect to see him develop our sports coverage into the best in the area.

Through the years we have depended on sports correspondents. These have included Joe Webster, Tom Delaney, Jack Delaney, DeWayne Arp and Jerry Foster. We appreciate their efforts and will continue to rely on them in helping us keep up with what is going on.

Ambulance Service To Continue Without Subsidy

Top items for discussion on the January Agenda of the Loudon County Quarterly Court's monthly meeting include the problem of providing ambulance service in Loudon County and reports concerning four lawsuits in which Loudon County are involved. The court will meet at 9 a.m. Monday, Jan. 10 following an 8:30 a.m. public hearing on zoning Regulation amendments. Both meetings are scheduled for the main courtroom at the courthouse in Loudon.

In the agenda mailed out late last week by County

Judge Harvey Spraul a report under the Ambulance Service Study Committee read as follows: "At this point it appears that the funeral homes will continue operating the ambulance service, 'as is' and without subsidy, until July 1, 1972, with County to make decision as to what action to take subsequent to that time."

It had been reported earlier that the Ambulance Committee and the three county funeral directors were working on an agreement whereby the county would be responsible for payment of all ambulance trips made by the funeral homes. The minimum charge being discussed was $25 for an in-county call and an additional 7 1/2 per mile, one-way for all out of county trips.

The lawsuit reports will include the Anderson County suit against the State of Tennessee to allow the counties to receive more of the TVA in-lieu of tax payments made to the state. Recently a judgement was given which would have Loudon County receive some $36,000 more each year from the TVA payments. Anderson County Judge Joe Magill, who filed the suit has asked the county and all other counties involved in the $800,000 judgement to pay him a six percent fee in the case.

The other cases are the Riverview Cemetery, where it is claimed individuals have encroached on the property illegally; the collection of shortages in the office of former Circuit Criminal Court Clerk Bobby Joe Knowles from the clerk's bonding company; and the division of gasoline tax funds from the state received by the three county road districts.

The following is the text of the agenda released by Judge Spraul:

AGENDA

1. Pledge of allegiance, opening of court, roll call.
2. Reading and approval of the minutes of the December 8, 1971, regular meeting of Court.
3. Recognition of visitors and delegates, and open discussion period. (At this time any visitor or delegate may state any business which they may wish to take up with the Quarterly Court, and present a statement about any items in which they are interested which is on the planned agenda.)

1. Election of Chairman Pro Tem for 1972.
1. Tennessee Intergovernmental Committee Report.

were white mum shoulder corsages.

A reception followed at the Kentucky Utilities Auditorium in Pineville, with the bride's parents as hosts. Those assisting with serving were Mrs. Chuck Williams and Mrs. Clyde Penrod of Bluffton, Indiana and Miss Peggy Johnson.

Certain areas of need legislation for medical and health facilities in Tennessee was the subject of remarks by Jim Hampton, Assistant Administrator of the UT Memorial Hospital.

Farm Census Mailing Set

Shortly after the first of January 1972, the Bureau of the Census will be mailing out "type of farm" survey report forms to a selected group of farmers in Loudon County.
There will be nine different survey forms used. One each for cash grain, tobacco, cotton, potatoes, sugar and other specialized field crops, vegetables, fruit, livestock, dairy, and poultry.
Each form is designed to collect information pertinent to that particular type of farm enterprise. Each form is designed by sections so that if the answer to the lead question is "no" the farmer may skip to the next section.
The trends shown in the 1969 Census of Agriculture indicate that there is an increasing degree of specialization. The completion of the "type of farm" survey report forms will help obtain a truer and more complete picture of this specialization and may set the pattern for future censuses of agriculture. All farmers are urged to complete this form and return it soon as possible.

Your County In Action

It may be that the biggest question of discussion locally during the last couple of weeks, and facing us as we move into the new year, is the renewed controversy concerning the completion of the Tellico Project. An auxiliary question is whether or not Governor Dunn made a mistake politically by taking an official and definite stand against the completion of the Project. During the time I have been writing this column, and for the future, I have not and do not intend to get into a discussion of partisan politics, but of course you cannot discuss the solution of important problems facing government without talking about politics in some form, because most of the problems are solved through the political process. But really maybe the question insofar as Loudon County (and Blount and Monroe Counties) are concerned is whether or not the Governor was RIGHT in this stand. And, whether he was right or wrong, what effect will his opposition have? I don't think there is much question but that the great majority feeling of Loudon Counties, and as I understand it Monroe and Blount Counties, is in favor of the Project, with there being various reasons for different people feeling this way.

To extend this a bit farther, I don't believe there is any question but what the great majority of the people in our County felt that the Governor should not have taken a stand and that this is a local issue which should be a matter for the three Counties most primarily involved. However, there are others who do not feel this way, and feel that matters concerning rivers, pipelines, etc. are questions in which someone in Seattle may have a legitimate interest. And I can understand degree of specialization. The completion of the "type of farm" survey report forms will help obtain a truer and more complete picture of the specialization activities and may set the pattern for future censuses of agriculture. All farmers are urged to complete this form and return it soon as possible. Maybe the Governor's was based on one, or a combination of part or all, of these elements, or some other element, we don't know, but the fact is that it has been done now and that his action has moved the question into a burning issue. This means that the people in the area certainly need to be thoroughly informed as to the Project. Accordingly, I will be expecting to discuss some of what I know concerning the background and development of this Project in my column during the next few weeks. The real question here, as in facing our County, in my mind, is what is the best decision that will benefit and be within the desires of a significant majority of our people in Loudon County.

to a certain extent, because I feel that I would be very upset for example, about a proposed dam in the Grand Canyon. But some I have talked to feel that even though they do not deny that people in Maine may have a legitimate interest in what happens in Loudon County, they feel that such persons do not have a complete view of this particular project and this is not the type of matter that should engender that type of interest. Maybe the Governor's motivation was that even though taking a stand in opposition would be unpopular in the three-county area, but that it would help him Statewide because someone in Memphis doesn't care a bit whether or not we get 5,000 badly-needed industrial jobs over here, and indeed I understand that businessmen in Gatlinburg and Pigeon Forge, etc. are very concerned, because they fear that the development in the upper end of the Tellico Project will be better planned and offer more than is being offered there, and accordingly is a threat to their stand. Or, maybe the Governor owed a political debt to a very powerful source which had some influence on him to take a definite stand. Or, maybe the Governor's stand came from a very deep feeling that this type of project was not in the best interest of Tennessee and to the ecological and environmental concerns. Or, maybe the Governor's stand was based on the fact that he did not have the full knowledge of the entire Project, with particular reference to the model area proposed to be created, and the affect that this type of development would have as a demonstration to the Nation, and in raising the economic level of the tri-county area, and in the State of Tennessee. Some feel that the Governor may modify his position somewhat after he has a chance to be informed the best and impact of this entire Project.

50 Years Of Growth And Progress Building A Better Loudon County

Celebrating Our Golden Anniversary Year

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK
LOUDON, TENNESSEE

December 31, 1971

DONALD L. CANTER
President

Dear Friends,

No other business plays a more important role in the life of a community than the bank. The success of that bank depends on the success of the community and the mutual working relationship that must develop.

For 50 years now the FIRST NATIONAL BANK of Loudon and the people of the Loudon area have been working together in building the business community and providing homes and the physical necessities of life. Very few banks lived through the depression of the 20's. The fact that the FIRST NATIONAL BANK is 50 years old this week points to the strength of not only the bank but the community as well.

The FIRST NATIONAL BANK has always been fortunate to have men on its board of directors who possess business ability, common sense and a genuine concern for people. Their goal has been and will continue to be that of fiscal responsibility in line with the needs of our people and community.

Being 50 years old, the FIRST NATIONAL BANK is older than most of the people living in our community. Over the years thousands of people have looked to us for financial help and guidance and entrusted their savings to us in return for the best possible interest rates.

Despite our 50 year history the FIRST NATIONAL is a young bank that looks to the future in helping to promote progress and delights in the success of those around us.

The past 50 years has seen a partnership between "Our Hometown Bank" and the people grow and develop. We are extremely proud of our role in individual and community success and thank you for your confidence, friendship and business.

As we enter 1972, our Golden Anniversary Year, we pledge our continued efforts in helping you attain success for your families through a better community. Remember, you are always welcome at "Our Hometown Bank."

Very truly yours,

Heart Group Opens Campaign

Most people make resolutions only on New Year's Day, but the Loudon County Heart Association wants everyone to resolve daily to protect their hearts against heart attack. Mr. R.S. Presley, Campaign chairman said,

The Association proposes that all citizens of this area reduce their risk of heart attack by taking the following steps:

- Eat foods low in saturated fats and cholesterol
- Control high blood pressure
- Do not smoke cigarettes
- Maintain normal weight
- Exercise moderately and regularly

The more risks a person has, the greater the chance of suffering an attack. Should an attack occur, the symptoms may vary, but these are the usual warning signs:

- Prolonged, heavy pressure or squeezing pain in the center of the chest, behind the breastbone
- Pain may spread to the shoulder, arm, neck or jaw
- Pain or discomfort is often accompanied by sweating, nausea, vomiting and shortness of breath may also occur.

BIG CHRISTMAS FOR ODIE—Odie Mann, Loudon's man-about-town, is shown here with the many Christmas gifts he received from Loudon businesses and individuals. As Odie said, "It's good ain't it."

The decision to obtain help should not be left to the victim himself, but is also the responsibility of his family or friends. Most of the 674,000 annual heart attack deaths occur outside the hospital before the victim receives medical treatment. Prompt attention is a MUST!

City League Action Continues

On Friday December 17 the Loudon City Basketball league had two games. The Ghetto defeated the Bank of Lenoir City, Loudon Branch by the score of 53 to 52. Roy Wilson with 18 points led the winners followed closely by the play of Larry Brown, 11 points. Joe Davidson was best for the Bankers tallying 18 counters. Buck Kirkland had 13.

In the second contest Piney thumbed Greasy's Gang 63-40. Wayne Poole and Jerry Russell were the 1-2 punch for Piney setting 17 and 13 points respectively. Ronnie and Mike McNabb led the losers with 12 points each.

In earlier league play Lynn Millsaps bombed the nets for 34 points as the Clodhoppers defeated Luttrell 62-74. Joe Evans was Luttrell's top point getter with 20 points.

Gary Harvey had 18 points in the Vols 42-37 victory over Stop n Shop. Willard McCloud totaled 16 for Stop n Shop.

The new year got off to a fast start Monday night when Arnold Hawkins fired in 15 points and Roy Wilson added 14 to stop the Clodhoppers 63-52. Lynn Millsaps took game scoring honors with 31 for the losers.

Lassies Open New Year On 9-3 Note

After winning in the opening round of the Newport Invitational Tournament against Newport, the Loudon Lassies dropped their next two games to Walland (40-31) and Greasy's Gang raced past Stop n Shop 41-44 behind the scoring punch of Wayne Johnson and Harold Grimes, 23 and 17 points respectively. Lancaster's 18 points paced the losers.

Piney added the Vols to its most recent victims posting a convincing 79-59 score. Wayne Poole and J.L. Millsaps shared scoring honors with 16 points each. The Vols were led by Gary Harvey 24 points and Tim Jones 21 counters.

The Bank of Lenoir City got double figures from all five starters to hand Luttrell a 67-53 set back in the final game of the night.

Townsend (63-52). The Lassies finished fourth in the tournament.

In the semifinal matchup against Walland, the Lassies ran up against probably their toughest opponent of the season. The Lassies got out to an 8-5 lead at 2:45 of the first quarter on two baskets by Lynn Dorsey and two by Marilyn Smith. However, Walland came scrapping back to score seven straight points to end the quarter on top by 12-8.

The Lassies opened the second frame with six straight points to take the lead, 14-12. At 2:16 of the second quarter, Walland was back on top by 19-16. Two Marilyn Smith free throws cut the lead to 19-18, but Walland scored two quick buckets to end the half leading the Lassies, 23-18.

In the third quarter, Walland upped its lead to eight at 25-26. Walland went to a control offense in the fourth quarter and went on to win by the score of 40-31.

Loudon was led in scoring by Lynn Dorsey with 13 points. Jane Shubert and Marilyn Smith were held to nine points each. The Lassies shot a very poor 29 percent from the floor. Walland was led in scoring by Collette McCauley with 19 and Kathy Wilson (the tournament's most valuable player) with 14.

The Loudon defense was led by Gloria Brown with eight rebounds and five interceptions. Helen Gentry had five rebounds and Mary Graham pulled down four missed shots.

In the consolation game with Townsend, the Lassies fell behind early and went down by the score of 63-52. The officials in the game allowed quite a bit of contact, and as a result the game got very rough.

The Lassies fell far behind in the first quarter, and could never quite catch up. The score was tied at 2-2 when Townsend reeled off sixteen consecutive points to go ahead 18-2 at 1:15 of the first quarter. At the end of the quarter, Townsend was on top by 23-7.

In the second quarter, the Lassies came roaring back behind the shooting of Marilyn Smith and Lynn Dorsey. With fifty seconds remaining in the half, the Lassies cut the lead to 26-28. Townsend scored just before the half to take a 35-28 lead to the dressing room.

Townsend began to "pull away in the third quarter. At 3:25 Townsend had extended their lead to ten at 43-33. At the end of the third period, Townsend was in front by the score of 54-41.

The Lassies cut the lead down to seven (57-50) at 2:40 of the fourth quarter, but Townsend went only for the good shots and went on to win by the score of 63-52.

The Lassies were led in scoring by Lynn Dorsey with 26 points. Marilyn Smith (16) and Jane Shubert (10) rounded out the Lassic scoring. The Lassies continued to shoot a cold percentage connecting on only 36.4 percent of their shots. Townsend displayed a very balanced scoring attack with Sharon Godsey scoring 26, Karen Middleton (30) and Susie Wilson (17).

This game marked the first time this season that anyone had been able to score more than 44 points on the Lassic defense. The Lassic defense was led by Mary Graham with five rebounds and six interceptions. Both Gloria Brown and Helen Gentry played an outstanding defensive game, despite being in foul trouble most of the way.

Walland went on to win the girls tournament, defeating Cosby in the finals. Loudon's Lynn Dorsey and Gloria Brown were named to the All-Tournament team.

PETTY, LEFLER, ON EUROPEAN TOUR—Jack Lefler, former Loudon High school basketball star and the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Lefler, along with Coach Mac Petty former head mentor of the Redskins and now assistant at the University of the South, are shown boarding their plane at the Nashville airport for the first leg of a three week European trip. The trip will include 13 basketball games and some long remembered sightseeing. Left to right are Bob Knight, Bill Perkinson, John Bingham, Gary Erwin, Lefler, Eddie Greene, Ilona Bowden, Ralph Daniels, Pat Flanagan, Jim Cox, and Mark Knight. At rear are the two coaches who accompanied the team, head basketball coach Rudy Davalos and Malcolm Petty.

Speaking of Sports

By DANNY GIBSON
Sports Editor

Hello, sports fans. My name is Daniel B. Gibson. Mr. Larry Cate and I have worked out an agreement in which I have been employed by the Loudon County Herald to cover the sports events of Greenback, Lenoir City, and Loudon. I will also be attempting along with Mr. Cate to construct a wider representation of advertisement in the Loudon weekly newspaper. I hope to become a welcomed figure both at the many athletic and recreation events of the county as well as an aid to the merchants in relating their products to the consumer. I prefer to be addressed as "Danny" by one and all as I wish to start as all being equal without any awkward titles or fancy addresses.

I have worked for a weekly newspaper for six years as sports editor and will try to give the experience I have learned in giving the many individuals involved in the varied sporting programs around the county as much attention as possible.

I realize basketball is in full form and I will quickly have to become familiar with the new faces I will be writing about, so I ask that you help me as much as possible and maybe we will not get too many wrong scores or twisted names in constructing the latest area results. We promise to get better.

With the cooperation of the county school system and those close to the sports program of the individual schools, we hope to recognize an All County team in football, and both boys and girls basketball. Thus giving some individuals a little more attention than what they might receive when it comes time to name an All Conference or All District unit as many talented athletes from several counties are usually involved.

I see where the Loudon boys (9-2) at this writing, appear to have a superb quintet under the direction of Coach Hugh Watson, whom I have long been an avid fan and friend since his college days when he completed as a Hixson college guard tandem of himself and Danny Schultz. Schultz later to gain fame as an All American at the University of Tennessee.

Lenoir City, noted for its well touted round ball play and solid baseball teams, is also winning big this winter.

The Greenback Cherokees, playing in the Blount County district and listed among the "A" division schools, has a young team with a lot of

Redskins Roundballers Tumble Maryville, Fall To Friendsville

For the second straight year, the Loudon Redskins have posted a 1-1 record in the Maryville-Alcoa Jaycee Classic. On Thursday, the Redskins reeled off a 73-59 win over Maryville. However, on Friday the Skins fell victim to a fine Friendsville team by the score of 79-66. The Classic action gives the Skins a 9-3 record.

In the Maryville game, the full court press proved to be the winning factor for the Skins. The press caused numerous turnovers by the Red Rebels.

Maryville employed a box-and-one defense in an attempt to shut off the high scoring of Yancy Hampton. Both sides got off to a cold start with the Skins pushing in front 8-3 at 3:30 of the first quarter. Maryville did not score its first field goal until 2:50 of the first quarter. The score at the first stop found the Skins in front by the score of 18-10.

Maryville came charging back in the second quarter behind the shooting of Scott Randall, and trimmed the Skins lead down to 29-27 at the half.

The Skins put the game out of reach early in the third period as Ray Simmons went to work inside. Maryville went almost four minutes into the third quarter before they scored their first bucket. At the end of the third period, Loudon was in front, 50-42.

Maryville could not draw any closer than eight in the fourth quarter. The Rebels' star center, Scott Randall, faded out midway of the fourth quarter, and the Skins began to steadily pull away. The final margin was 73-59. Loudon was led in scoring by Yancy Hampton and Ray Simmons with 22 and 21 points respectively. Simmons also contributed 22 rebounds. Mike Messamore had 15 points and R. L. Branam chipped in with 9. Other Loudon scorers were David Birkholz (4), and Dale Amburn (2).

The Skins connected on 24 of 70 shots for a rather cold 34.3 percent. Maryville was led in scoring by Scott Randall with 23 and Charles Hartzell with 14. Randy Lambert (7), Richard Vincent (7), Dan Trentham (3), Miskey Flynn (2), Paul Law (2), and Randy Veal (1) rounded out the scoring.

On Friday night, the Skins ran into a very well-coached Friendsville team. Both teams got off to a very slow start.

Friendsville got off to an 8-3 lead at 5:30 of the first quarter. The Skins got their first field goal at 4:52 and scored six straight points to take the lead at 9-8 at 4:03. However, Friendsville scored two quick buckets to regain the lead at 12-9 with 3:50 remaining in the quarter. The Skins reeled off five straight points to retake the lead at 14-12 at 1:04. The Falcons scored two field goals, and it took two Yancy Hampton free throws at the end of the quarter to knot the score at 16-16.

To start the second quarter, Yancy Hampton connected on four straight shots to push the Skins in front by 24-19. Friendsville came scrapping back to cut the lead to 28-27 at 2:25. Two free throws by the Falcons' Rodger Byrd tied the game at 32-32 with only 38 seconds remaining in the half. Both sides scored two more points and went to the dressing room with the score tied, 34-34.

At the start of the second half, the Skins jumped out to a 40-35 lead on three quick baskets by Ray Simmons.

However, Friendsville refused to fold and rallied to tie the score at 40-40 at 4:55 of the third quarter. At 3:35, Friendsville went in front at 44-42. Yancy Hampton's bucket at 2:09 gave the Skins a 47-45 lead. At this point, Friendsville reeled off ten consecutive points to take the lead at 55-47. The Skins came battling back and went into the fourth quarter trailing by only five at 55-50.

The Skins were able to cut the lead to 57-56 at 6:40, but could never pull ahead. The Falcons steadily pulled away and were in front by 71-62 with 1:20 remaining. Loudon cut the final margin to seven at 75-68.

Loudon was led in scoring by Yancy Hampton, who connected on 13 of 25 from the field and four of four from the charity stripe for 28 points.

Ray Simmons had 25 points and 19 rebounds. Other Loudon scorers were David Birkholz (5), R. L. Branam (5), and Mike Messamore (4). The Skins shot a very respectable 48.2 percent, but the Skins had 16 turnovers in the game.

Friendsville displayed a very balanced scoring attack. Rodger Byrd had 22 points and a basket of rebounds. Johnny Morgan (16), Dave Giffen (16), Jack Boone (11), and Darrell C. Clabough (10) rounded out the Friendsville scoring.

Loudon's Yancy Hampton was named to the All-Tournament team picked by the coaches participating in the Classic.

Loudon Teams Win Easily Over Sweetwater

Both Loudon teams jumped out to early leads and were never headed in Tuesday night action at Sweetwater. The Loudon boys, who had earlier beaten Sweetwater by 34 points, had a more difficult time this time around, but won by the score of 44-34. The Loudon Lassies, with a super first half, shot down the Lady Wildcats by a score of 52-37. The Redskins got out front early and were never in serious trouble. This was a game in which a number of odd events occurred. Midway of the first period, Sweetwater coach King Berrong was slapped with three successive technical fouls and was ejected from the playing floor. Another odd event was that Sweetwater held Loudon's ace scorer, Yancy Hampton, to only seven points (18 below his average). A third oddity was that Sweetwater was forced to play the entire second half without any time outs, after calling their allotted five in the first half.

The Skins jumped out to a 9-5 lead at 3:57 of the first quarter. By the end of the quarter, the Skins had built the margin to 19-12. Ray Simmons pumped in 10 points to lead the Loudon scoring in the first quarter.

Midway through the second quarter, the Redskins pulled ahead by 13 at 35-26. The halftime margin was the same with the Skins in front by 36-23. The Skins put the game out of reach early in the third quarter. At 4:44, the Skins were in front by the score of 46-26. The Skins led at the end of the quarter by a score of 51-38.

In the fourth quarter, Sweetwater threatened briefly by trimming the margin to 59-47 with 3:44 remaining in the game. However, the Skins held on for a 65-54 victory.

Loudon was led by Ray Simmons with 26 points and 25 rebounds. Ray connected on 12 of 24 shots from the floor. Other Loudon scorers were Mike Messmore (9 points and 11 rebounds), Yancy Hampton with seven (only attempting 10 shots in the game), R.L. Branan (7), Freshman Donnie Tharp (6), David Birkholz (4), Dale Amburn (4), and Bill Collins (2). The Skins connected on 40 per cent of their shots from the field. Sweetwater was led by Anthony Oggs with 25 and Kippy Brown with 11. Ricky Bellis (8), Sammy Vestal (5), Bart Neil (4), and Arnold Ashbury (1) rounded out the Wildcat scoring. The win raised the Skins record to 10-3. The Loudon Lassies had their best first quarter since the Rockwood game and, as a result, built up a big first quarter margin, which Ashbury could never quite match.

In the first four and one half minutes of the first quarter, the Lassies led by Marilyn Smith, jumped out to a 10-1 quarter. At 4:30 of the fourth quarter, the Lassies had an 18 point lead at 42-24. At this point, Sweetwater staged a mini-comeback by scoring some straight points to cut the margin to 11 points. However, Jane Shubert hit two free throws to restore order, and the Lassies went on to win by a final score of 52-37.

The Lassies were led in scoring by Sophomore Marilyn Smith, who connected on 8 of 12 from the floor and wound up with a total of 19 points. Smitty made some dazzling moves inside and pumped in jumpers from the outside. Lynn Dorsey was close behind with 13 and Jane Shubert had 10. Other Lassie scorers were Debbie Thomas (2), Debbie Hawkins (2), and Connie Huskey (1). For the whole game, the Lassies shot a very fine 51 per cent.

The Lassie defense turned in another typical brilliant performance. The Lassie defense is giving up only 49.2 points per game. G.oria Brown had eight rebounds and a number of blocked shots. Helen Gentry and Mary Graham also played an outstanding game for the Lassies. The win raised the Lassies' record to 9-3.

On Friday night, the Redskins skins and Lassies journey to Cleveland to meet the state-ranked Bradley County Bears. Next Tuesday, in an important District Nine game, both teams will travel to Midway. The next home game is with Cleveland on Friday, January 14.

Per Capita Tax Load Low

With state and local taxes on the rise in all parts of the country, it is of great interest to Loudon County residents affected.

Are they paying more or less than people in other communities for local government services?

According to the latest figures, they and everyone else are having to dig much deeper than before to meet the increased cost of such services.

For Americans as a whole, the cost of state and local government operations averaged $42 per capita in the past five years, an increase of 47 over the prior year.

For residents of Loudon County, the tax load was approximately $26 per capita.

Elsewhere in the State of Tennessee, it was $27.8, or 27 more than the year before. The average was $28.3 throughout the East South Central States.

The findings are based upon state-by-state breakdowns of Commerce Department data. They were made by the Tax Foundation and by the Commerce Clearing House, authorities on government finances.

Their figures show that it takes much more than in previous years to operate the various state, county and municipal governments and provide people with adequate police protection, education, sanitation, health, roads and other needs.

In 32 of the 50 states the tax load has more than doubled in the past five years, and has become much heavier in some areas than in others. The range at present is from a low of $25.2 per capita in Arkansas to a high of $65.2 in New York State.

The high rates in certain sections of the country are attributed to special local conditions, such as unusually reminded of staging groups or singing get-togethers which were very popular a few years ago. Of course, we are having reference to Gospel singing. This is not intended to imply that some of the groups around today are not good, because they are. This column's purpose is to look at the past and when we do this in the realm of Gospel music. We feel that our area has had some of the most talented you could find anywhere. Many of these groups we have written about over the years. Most of these groups disbanded years ago, but not before leaving an imprint on the lives of those that heard them sing.

The Kirklund Brothers sang at many of our area churches during the Good Old Days, and were much in demand for appearances at varied activities.

This quartet was made up of the late Peter Kirklund, Oscar and Ernest Kirklund, both of whom now work at Union Carbide Loudon Plant and Walter, who now lives in Knoxville and is in the Packaged Food Business. We thank the Kirklunds very much for the loan of this prized picture.

Our other picture this week is a little unusual. The two men are holding the pistol on each other in jest. This picture was loaned to us by Mrs. Carnes, cashier at the White Store. We erred a couple of weeks ago when we said that Mrs. Carnes was raised in Lenoir City. She tells us that her people came from Lenoir City, but she was raised in Maryville.

For quite a long time we have wanted a picture of one of these groups which we thought could stand with the best of them. Of course, we are having reference to the Kirklund Brothers Quartet. They were very well known and very popular in our area a few years back. Of course, when people in our area think of religious music, the name Kirklund must likely come to mind. The Kirklunds have been singing, teaching and generally connected with this phase of life.

We not only consider the Kirklund Brothers who made up the personnel of this quartet to have been good singers. But each one of them is a personal friend of ours and others who make up the Good Old Days family.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

We are sure that a large percentage of our folks from the Good Old Days will recall many happy hours when

Loudon Countians Personal Debts $9,185,000

How well are Loudon County residents managing their financial affairs these days? How much do they owe in the form of installment debt?

To what extent have they been using the abundant amount of credit at their command to purchase automobiles, dishwashers, air conditioners, furniture and other expensive items?

Although their incomes have gone up in the last year or two, in most cases, enabling them to become more expansive in their spending, they have been more cautious than usual, due to their uncertainties with regard to inflation, unemployment and other economic factors.

As a result, they have kept their debt load well within manageable limits and their credit in good shape.

According to data from the Federal Reserve Board, the National Consumer Finance Association and others, the amount of consumer debt outstanding in the United States is over $12 billion. It is equivalent to about $1,600 per family.

In Loudon County, on the basis of recent national Depot Park. This is the location on which Miller Motor Company now has its building. We are very grateful to Ollie for his help. We understand he is now a patient at Fort Sanders Hospital in Knoxville.

You know, the mention of the old Depot Park, is a trigger for many memories of the Good Old Days in our town. This park was very pretty and offered an unusual atmosphere to our town during the days of railroad passenger service, which also played a very colorful role in our town many years ago.

Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

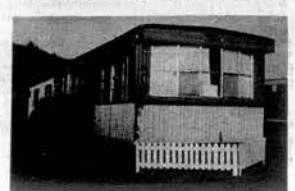

reports and based upon average earnings and expenditures locally, the overall debt load is estimated at $9,185,000.

This includes automobile loans, credit extended for the purchase of other consumer goods, personal loans and loans for home repair and modernization. It does not include mortgage debt, charge accounts and single payment loans.

The debt load in the local area figures out to $1,160 per family. That is the mathematical average. However, since many families have no debt at all, the amount owed by those that do is considerably higher.

In general, more than $1 out of every $7 that a family has left after paying its personal taxes goes toward the

TELLICO DAM WORKED SLOWED BY INJUNCTION

Limited Injunction Stops Some Tellico Project Work

Federal Judge Robert L. Taylor, in Knoxville, Monday, issued a limited injunction which will temporarily halt work on the Tennessee Valley Authority's Tellico Dam while permitting peripheral work on the overall Tellico Project to continue.

Judge Taylor, whose decision came after two days of testimony in the Environmental Defense Fund's suit against TVA, left it to EDF and TVA lawyers to work out details of the restraining order, but he specified that he wants work to continue on some roads already under construction in Monroe County.

The judge further directed that the injunction is not to interfere with the work of employees of TVA's division of water control planning.

EDF Atty. Joe T. "Rick" Brown had suggested earlier in the trial that, in the event an injunction should be granted, that the plaintiffs would agree that it need not apply to this division.

Brown's stipulation came after Reed Elliott, director of the division, had testified that a temporary work stoppage could result in the authority's having to reassign, or perhaps terminate, a number of skilled employees now engaged in survey and mapping work in the project area.

Two Charged In Swiney Murder Get Life Sentences In Kentucky

THE TELLICO BATTLE—
The blow dealt to the TVA Tellico project Monday in Federal District Court was damaging but certainly does not mean the highly important Tellico Project is being stopped. Should we let a seemingly small group of people, although they are quite vocal, stop this development we will be telling our children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren that we blew the one real chance to bring economic security to east Tennessee.

The murder trial of three men charged in the shooting death of Ronny Swiney of Philadelphia on October 24 of last year, has been scheduled in a special term of the Monroe County Criminal Court beginning on Wednesday, Feb. 2, Monroe County Sheriff Kenneth Davis said this week.

about a week after the Swiney murder in Kentucky and charged with armed robbery of a service station at Burlington, Ky.

During the past six to nine months we have seen the anti-Tellico movement gain steam and some of the names on the rolls of the various groups are big names, but as yet we have not seen a point which within itself or rolled together with other issues are valid enough to warrant the destruction of this project.

Two of the three, Barnes and Carter were sentenced to life in prison in Kentucky last week after submitting to armed robbery charges. According to Sheriff Davis this means they would serve a minimum of 12 years in the Kentucky prison. The third, Joe Lynn, apparently as yet has not been tried.

of the Swiney murder, would be served in Tennessee prisons after they complete the terms in Kentucky.

Certainly Governor Winfield Dunn's statement was one which helped send the sport fishermen, nature lovers, and arrowhead collectors into orbit. Governor Dunn is a man we admire and respect and although he continues to stand behind his first remarks we find his reasoning weak and believe him very ill advised. In a television interview Monday night he said that preserving the Little T for the sport-fishermen was far more important than the economics of the dam and project.

The three men, Leslie Joe Lynn, 20, of Sweetwater, Arnold Carter, 22 of Sweetwater and Danny Barnes, 28, of Lake City, where arrested

How can a dam and lake which is designed for navigation, shorelines perfect for all types of recreation, available and desirable industrial tracts and the possibility of a new community of 50,000 persons in an area which would be without equal in environmental protection, be less important than a few hundred persons who catch a few trout from a stream that has to have the fish placed there in the first place.

County Court Monday heard an extensive - but compressed - report of the present activities of the Boeing Company which is conducting a study of the feasibility of the Timberlake community in the proposed Tellico project.

of the Swiney murder, would be served in Tennessee prisons after they complete the terms in Kentucky.

Since the project began almost five years ago there has been much work, planning and actual good come from the project. Our education system is already feeling the positive effects of some things that have happened because of TVA and Tellico.

It was reported in County Court Monday that the court Ambulance Service Committee and the three funeral directors in the county had not been able to reach any firm agreements on ambulance service for local residents, but that all three firms were presently continuing to an-

How can you justify abandonment to the families that have already been relocated because of the project. Look at the 411 bridge. Think about the Indian treasures that have been uncovered and preserved that would have never been given a second thought had it not been for Tellico.

For 30 of our 33 years we have lived either in Blount or Loudon Counties and never have we seen a single project that carries with it so many benefits for the present and future and yet had so many enemies.

It is our intention to take issue with the EDF, the Association for the Preservation of the Little T and any other groups who are trying to deprive our people of the benefits of this project.

Mrs. Pressly To Head Heart Fund Drive

Mrs. R.S. Pressly will head the 1972 Heart Fund Campaign in Loudon County, it was announced by Robert Sample, Executive Director of the East Tennessee Heart Association. The campaign will be conducted here, and throughout the country, during February which has been declared American Heart Month by an Act of Congress.

According to Mrs. Pressly, volunteers will try to contact all Loudon Countians during the month of February to distribute heart-saving information, and to collect funds to support research, educational, and community service activities of the local Heart Association.

County-Wide Landfill Is County Court Goal

Loudon County may soon have a rural garbage collection system if tentative plans County Court began working on come about.

The Squires voted Monday to ask County Judge Harvey Sprout to appoint a committee to work with committees from Lenoir City and Loudon in seeking a central sanitary landfill to serve both major cities as well as Greenback and Philadelphia and a private contractor.

But they didn't stop there. "Why wouldn't the County want to go into a collection program?" asked Squire J.J. Blair. "The people in the county need collection."

Rural collection would involve the placing of 44 bulk garbage containers (Dempster Dumpsters) mounted on concrete pads at convenient locations throughout the county. A curbside-operated garbage truck would then pick up and empty these containers on a regular schedule.

Estimates placed the cost of installing the 44 containers at about $26,400, plus about $27,500 per year to operate the collection system.

The assumption is that county residents who now dump bags of garbage along the roadsides and in other unauthorized dumps, would, instead, deposit them in one of the containers if they were conveniently placed.

"How do you go about enforcing such a thing?" one Squire asked. "How do you make them use it?"

"Roane County has a system in operation that is working quite well," answered Dennis Martin, State Planning Commission staff member for Loudon County, as well as for Lenoir City and Loudon.

He also described a similar program in Anderson County which is working less well because there are not enough bulk containers.

Mr. Martin had just completed reporting the recommendations of the County Planning Commission in regard to solid waste disposal. The Commission last Thursday night conducted an extensive hearing for a formal report prepared by Mr. Martin's office in cooperation with TVA staff member Carl Raenic.

The recommendation called for attempting to form an agreement with the Loudon County to operate a joint sanitary landfill program. It was pointed out, however, that efforts by salvage firm owner David Witherspoon to open a sanitary landfill in Monroe County to serve many East Tennessee communities has caused a furor in that county and the likelihood of developing an interest there is slim.

In fact, Judge Sprout referred to a resolution adopted by the Monroe County Court recently setting out the position that Monroe County does not want anybody's waste but their own's.

Squire R.P. Hamilton expressed the view that the program should be for Loudon County only. "I can see the possibility of future complications," he said.

Mr. Hamilton and Squire Foster made the motion for Loudon County to form a committee to go into the matter in depth, to meet with similar committees from Lenoir City and Loudon, that they seek a site for a sanitary landfill, get costs for setting up the operation and make a report back to the next meeting of County Court.

After the Court returned from lunch, Judge Sprout appointed Squire Blair as Chairman of the committee, to serve with Squires Hamilton and Foster, along with Mr. Martin. Judge Sprout is making up the report.

Earlier Mr. Martin had estimated that the cost of setting up a sanitary landfill would be about $40,000, assuming that some expected bulk and TVA grants can be obtained. This amount, he said, should be retired in three years if the State continues to appropriate the 75 cents per capita for such a program which has been made available this year.

To operate the landfill, he estimated a cost of $35,150 per year, with the cost being shared among Lenoir City ($13,413—about the same as it is costing to operate its own city dump now), Loudon ($10,977), Loudon County, (about $17,000), private contractor (about $8,000), and smaller amounts expected from Greenback and Philadelphia.

Lenoir City and Loudon have been given a July 1 deadline to stop using their present city dumps and they are urgently seeking a solution to the problem. Councilman Harry Wampler, who attended the Thursday night Planning Commission hearing and who made a report on the project to City Council Monday night, expressed the view that if Loudon County doesn't move quickly on setting up a county-wide facility, Lenoir City and Loudon will attempt to go into a joint program.

Conner, Hartsook, and Lenoir City Druggist Calvin Hixson, members of the special committee appointed to seek out new doctors, interviewed the prospect. Other members are Judge Harvey Sprout, Tom Henry, Ray Birkholz and M.C. Anderson. "They were busy and couldn't make the trip," said Mr. Hartsook.

One of the problems will be finding a suitable site which the State Health Dept. will approve. Mr. Martin reported that Jack Johnson, now operating a private garbage collection service, has attempted to get two sites approved and both have been turned down.

The experience of other counties has been that when a suitable site is found and it gets the approval of the State Health Dept., there frequently follows a massive protest from neighboring residents.

"That's going to be the most difficult problem," Mr. Martin told the Court. "to find a suitable site which can be approved."

He and members of the committee were to begin looking right away.

New Doctor Progress Told

Squires Idas Conner and James M. Hartsook, both of Lenoir City, are hoping their efforts may have started wheels moving which will bring a new doctor or doctors to Loudon County.

They told County Court Monday of their contact with a doctor now working in Lexington who has expressed strong interest in coming to Loudon County.

"And he probably will bring another doctor with him," Squire Conner said.

After the Court meeting, the two men described their discussions with the Knoxville doctor, who has spent the past 10 years working in the emergency rooms of Ft. Sanders and St. Mary's Hospitals.

The man receives high praise from local ambulance drivers, they said. "Ambulance personnel from both Click Funeral Home and Hawkins Mortuary" told us they knew him and considered him one of the best emergency room physicians anywhere," Squire Hartsook added.

The doctor has visited the hospital at Loudon. "He was enthusiastic about our facilities there—especially the laboratory and x-ray and he liked the idea of having offices in the old wing of the former Bacon Hospital," Squire Conner said.

Landfill, Urban Renewal Discussed By Loudon

A sanitary landfill to serve residents in the city of Loudon was the major topic on the City Commission agenda Monday night. City Administrator Gary Hensley and Mayor Joe Carter are to serve as city representatives on a committee made up of all cities in Loudon County and County members on a group to pursue the possibility of a county-wide sanitary landfill.

Hensley said that the City of Loudon, and all other cities were operating under a one year extension on their present trash disposal programs and that they must run out in July of this year.

He said the county is interested in forming a cooperative of the county and the cities in the county to jointly operate a landfill.

Mayor Joe Carter said he was interested in working with the county and that he and Hensley would meet with the group as County Judge Harvey Sprout had asked.

Commissioner Hamill Carey said that Loudon's present landfill operation is in the best condition it is ever been and is probably better than 90 percent of those in the Loudon County.

but the soil does not meet the state standards and there are some drainage problems.

Hensley also reported that he was in contact with HUD representatives later this month to discuss the City's application for Urban Renewal. He also reported that a study by the state highway department was being scheduled to see what can be done about various traffic problems in the city. He mentioned that he is now seeking an agency, Technical Advisory Service of U-T or Municipal Technical Advisory Service, to make a governmental study of the City of Loudon.

It was also learned from Mr. Hensley that word on the city's application for construction of 200 additional low rent housing units was expected in the next 60 to 90 days. Of the present housing project he said that all but six of the 50 units was occupied and the project had passed through the Development Phase to the Management Phase. Hensley said that there was about $17,000 in funds left over from the project and he was going to ask HUD for permission to use a portion of it to develop a mini-recreational park in the housing project area. He also said he is planning to purchase equipment to furnish the community room at the project. He said he is developing several programs whereby residents of the project will use the community room for various activities.

This included mostly work at sporting events, parades and school functions where the City Police have been unable to handle. Police Commissioner said he appreciated the efforts of the AP's and the contribution they have made to the city by their services.

SYDNEY ELAM enjoys "showing off" the rooster that he trained for the TVA & Fair's rooster-crowing contest. He has learned many phases of chicken-raising through the 4-H poultry project.

Poultry Popular

4-H Project

By Karen F. Nenesiel, Assistant Extension Agent

Sydney Elam is Loudon County's 4-H Poultry project winner for 1971. He has been finding out that this can be a very profitable project, as well as a fun way to learn about raising chickens. Sydney raised 50 chickens to learn more about the care, feeding, and management of these animals.

The chickens he raised were provided through a special 4-H "poultry chain" that has been sponsored by Sears. This system offers 50 chicks a piece for interested 4-H'ers who promise to bring back 6 of the grown animals for a county-wide Poultry Show and Sale. At the 1971 show, Sydney's pen of chickens took a blue ribbon. The profits from the sale of chickens are used to replenish the Poultry Fund for buying the next year's chicks.

Another of Sydney's accomplishments came at the time of County Demonstration Day, where he won a purple ribbon and the opportunity to enter the District Contest. In the District Contest at Jefferson City, his demonstration and record book rated a red ribbon, considered high rating for a first-year entry.

Sydney also entered six chickens in Loudon County's 4-H Poultry exhibit that took first-place honors at the T.V.A. & Fair in Knoxville. Another project exhibit that brought lots of attention was the unique poultry display that Sydney assembled for the Greenback Community Fair.

Other projects in which Sydney has chosen to participate are Tobacco, Bread-baking, and Small Engine. His tobacco project has been very profitable. He quotes $23.00 as the amount of prize money his tobacco has earned at Greenback and Knoxville fairs. He found that it sold well at the end of the season, too.

Bread-baking is a hobby that he and his family have enjoyed. For the local contest at Eaton's School in 1971, Sydney says he "got up at 6:00 and baked biscuits and corn muffins." He decided the corn muffins must be best, since they won first-place in his club. He also entered the County contest.

A "sick" go-cart was Sydney's first reason for taking the Small Engine fair. His father helped him repair the engine and complete his records for his project.

Sydney's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Elam, of the Eaton's Community. His mother is an active 4-H project leader. His younger brother, Stanley, and sister, Vanessa, are also 4-H members. The family have been strong supporters of 4-H work in Loudon County.

One Hurt In Injunction Stops Tellico Work

Two Accidents

Two unusual accidents were investigated by City of Loudon police during the past week.

Late Thursday afternoon the bed of a truck belonging to Railroad Salvage of Loudon hit the bridge crossing the Southern Railway tracks near Loudon Junior High School. The truck traveling on Ward Avenue attempted to pass under the bridge and the high bed struck the underside of the bridge overhead. The accident caused the windshield of the truck to shatter causing injury to Kenny A. Russell, a passenger in the truck driven by Williams K. Phillips. Russell was admitted to Loudon County Memorial Hospital with cuts in the face and head.

The Loudon City Commission has discussed the dangers of the low overpass and sharp curve at the point of this accident and has passed an ordinance prohibiting truck traffic on that portion of Ward Avenue.

The other accident, investigated Friday afternoon, saw a car jump over the sidewalk and into the display window front of Florist on Wharf Street in Loudon. No one was injured in the accident but both the car and the store front were heavily damaged. Driver of the car was Wanda S. Kirkland, Rt. 2, Loudon.

Loudon, Blount and Monroe are in favor of the project.

When a plaintiff's attorney questioned the majority approval and asked Judge Spraul if he had seen a reference to a poll, in a story in The Knoxville Journal, the judge replied, "No, but I would not be surprised at anything The Journal printed. They are against the project."

Continuing on the subject of polls, Judge Spraul said newspapers in Blount and Loudon Counties had printed poll results showing as many as 85 per cent of the population of the three counties in favor of the project.

The three counties, the judge said, have already joined in cooperative effort to plan for long-range school been named and are planning various events to raise funds. In Loudon the Chariman is Donnie Roberts; in Philadelphia, Mrs. Homer Bolt; in Lenoir City, Mrs. Ronnie Brewer; and in Greenback, Mrs. Harley Myers. Persons wishing to volunteer for the Mother's March should call their area chairman as soon as possible as they are now working on this important part of the campaign.

Last year Loudon Countians raised over $5,000 outranking other larger counties.

Events already scheduled: Mother's March - Sunday

Tellico - January 29-30 on WATE-TV, Channel 6.

Names of the Mother's March volunteers will be published at a later date along with information on the Tellico which is not available as of yet.

Army Private Gary S. Roberts, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Roberts, Route 2, Vimore, recently completed the night-week basic field artillery (canonner) course at the U.S. Army Field Artillery Training Center upgrading to meeting the expected influx of residents, brought by projected industrial growth along the lake.

Judge Taylor was given a detailed outline of work to date on the project.

Mr. Kimmons explained that the 600-foot concrete portion of the planned 3300-foot dam already is completed. Now work to fill underlying rock on the remaining earthen portion of the dam is beginning, he said.

The proposed lake would back waters of the river a distance of some 33 miles, almost to Alcoa's Chilhowee Dam.

The final plaintiff's witness was Price Wilkins, a supervisor with the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission. Mr. Wilkins compared the river's trout fishing excellence with the White River in Arkansas; but later under cross-examination, he admitted the Little "T" actually is not a natural trout stream. The state, he said, annually plants more than 50,000 rainbow and brown trout into the waters below the Chilhowee Dam.

Mr. Wilkins admitted that trout do not naturally reproduce in the river waters and that the number of young trout emerging from small tributary streams is negligible.

Earlier, a Memphis State University anthropologist deplored the effect of the lake on archeological excavation of a number of Cherokee villages in the area.

The plaintiff's first witness was Paul Douglas Williams, a director of the Association to preserve the Little "T," who explained a series of photographic color slides of the area. The first, Mr.

Williams said, represented an island adjacent to the partly completed dam as it was prior to the beginning of the Tellico project. The remainder showed various scars and marks of construction from the dam site to a point several miles up river.

Dr. Edward Clebsch, an associate professor of botany at UT, charged that the TVA's statement on the project "doesn't mention ecology." TVA attorneys immediately countered with the argument that the only statement issued to date is a draft submitted to various agencies, Federal and otherwise, to solicit their comments. At this point, the plaintiffs offered letters from the U.S. Department of Interior, the President's environmental advisory group, and from state officials, all calling on TVA to explain in greater detail what the impact on the area would be.

Dr. Clebsch also testified that TVA, as far as he knows, has not publicly commented on any alternatives to the proposed dam project.

One possible alternative, he said, would be for lands now acquired by TVA to be held and expanded and the river be committed as a scenic river and to add the land as an adjunct to the Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

Dr. Clebsch conceded that if the court halts the work, some construction should continue along the roadways to avoid erosion.

Dr. Clebsch, who specializes in ichthyology, the study of fishes, said at least four endangered fish species found in the Little "T," could become extinct if TVA is allowed to continue the project and turn the river into a lake. The plaintiffs originally filed the suit to halt the $59 million project in a Washington Federal Court but a Judge dismissed the action, saying his court did not have jurisdiction.

Last month, plaintiffs again filed the action, that time at Birmingham, Ala., but a judge ordered it removed to Knoxville where TVAs headquarters physically is located. However, according to Congress, TVA's official home address is Muscle Shoals, Ala.

Greenback Cherokees Drop Pair To Walland Redskins Split With Midway

The Walland Indians were on the warpath Tuesday night capturing both basketball games from the Greenback Cherokees.

The Walland girls, 16-4 on the year, had to weather a touch and go first quarter with the Cherokees. Ahead by just four points the Walland guards forced the Cherokees into forced shots and refused to give any second shots as they controlled the back boards. The Walland forwards meanwhile were hitting with precision and bounced to a commanding 32-16 halftime margin.

Meri Beth Hammonree and Kathy Williams opened up for the Cherokees hitting from long range and converting on several assists by Bonnie Prensell. The Greenback guards also became more aggressive limiting Walland's Kathy Wilson to just two field goals in the final two quarters. Judy Hammonree led the rebounding for the Cherokees as the Greenback lassies never gave up the fight and cut the difference to eight and nine points on three different occasions before dropping to defeat by 51-34.

Meri Beth Hammonree paced Greenback with 17 points, connecting on six of 19 shots from the field. Kathy Williams was in double figures with 11 points. Greenback hit but 28.4 percent of their shots, 14 of 49. Walland with two more shots from the field hit 41.2 percent with 11 successful shots in 31 attempts.

Greenback was off guard in the first quarter of the boys game letting a half court trap press by the Walland guards cause numerous turnovers. The Indians also beat the Cherokees on the back boards in the first eight minutes running up a 20-7 lead. The Cherokees quickly made a few changes in its line. In the feature attraction Coach Willie Joe Kyker and Tim Hammonree took charge of the backboards and ignited unlimited fast break baskets by Larry Ritchey and Joe Major.

Greenback hustling throughout the game cut the lead to 41-46 in a rallying effort to over take the Indians (9-6) in the last two minutes of the third canto. The Indians put out the fire with a three point play and three straight buckets from the corner to move back up by 14 at the end of three periods.

Greenback will be home again Friday night against Townsend. The Cherokees will have an even chance with the Tigers if they play a full half game as well as they performed in the last three quarters Tuesday evening. The Cherokees will find the going more difficult as the Townsend girls are a seasoned team rating as one of the best girls teams any Blount County school can place on the floor this season.

Marietta Blackburn flipped through 30 points and Mary Ruth Dunsmore got 26 as the Panthers took the preliminary 68-42. Susie Thompson joined the scoring fun, hitting 30 points to pace the losing Rockwood lassies.

Rockwood is now 10-5 on the year.

The Loudon Redskins continued to roll along as one of the top teams of the district by advancing its record to 11-4 with a resounding 85-66 victory over the home-standing Midway. Ray Simmons and Yancy Hampton hit 28 and 24 points, respectively, to lead the Skins to the win.

Bradley Victimizes Redskins

The Loudon Lassies found the going very tough in Bearland of Bradley High School. The Friday night face off of what might be the top two girls teams in Region III was won by Bradley 37-58. The Bearettes, despite winning will have assured second thoughts when they pay a visit to the Redskin hardwood in mid-February.

Loudon held a superior first half advantage both in scoring and team hustle. Ahead by 21-20 at the half the Lassies once again was in command by 15 to 8 before the Bearettes rallied to go ahead at 20-19. Lynn Dorsey's field goal regained the lead for Loudon.

Bradley struggled with a one point advantage for the most part of the third canto before jumping to a six point margin on two field goals and a couple of foul shots. Loudon caught fire in the final frame of action on the long bombs of Dorsey and some nifty play by Marilyn Smith. The count had been narrowed to two points when a bad break that resulted in the difference of scores between the two splendidly prepared sets. Loudon's Smith was called for a charging violation which cost the Lassies possession of the basketball and a foul on Smith. Nevertheless the player control foul was regarded as a shooting foul by the referee. When questioned the referee called a technical foul and the tempo was suddenly swung to the Bradley end of the floor. The Bearettes turned the series of events into a seven point lead and with time running out held off the efforts of the Lassies to post their ninth decision in 10 starts. Loudon's record stands at 10-4.

Lynn Dorsey led the Loudon shooters with 33 points. Marilyn Smith contributed 17 while Jane Shubert rounded out a fine team performance with 10 markets.

DEFENSIVE CORP.—The Loudon defensive force of which Coach Dewain App is most pleased with this season spikes another rebound for the waiting Lassie forwards. Gloria Brown goes high to gather in this stray Bradley shot, while Mary Graham (50) and Helen Gentry (20) quickly come to her aid.

Tennessee's fifth ranked quietest of high school basketball polls. Bradley County, reared to a 77-61 conquest of Loudon Friday night at Cleveland. The Bears shooting 43 percent for the entire game on 34 of 79 field goal attempts, rang up an uncatchable 30-7 first quarter score. Bradley hit eight of its first 23 shots from the field while Loudon was making good on 3 of 16 shots. The Redskins altered its defense in the second period and matched percentages from the field.

Behind the shooting of Ray Simmons, Loudon hit 10 of 20 second period launches but Bradley was connecting just as fast hitting eight times on 16 tries.

The Bears leading by 38-27 at intermission was one thing but the fact was that the aggressive Bradley defense was charged with only one foul in the first 16 minutes of play. Loudon on the other hand committed eight violations, four being tagged to David Birkholz, the Redskin's tallest front liner.

Loudon struck fast in the third canto cutting the score to 38-34 on the rugged rebounding of Birkholz, and the shooting of Mike Messamore. Birkholz fouled out at the 4:30 mark of the period. Thus the Bears taking advantage of its already superior size but on four straight trips down the floor while Loudon had but one attempt in the same number of times down the floor.

Simmons and Yancy Hampton tried in vain to equal the torrid marksmanship of the Bears but Bradley was not to be denied its 12th win of the season without a loss.

Loudon hitting 31 percent for the night on 27 of 87 shots now owns a 10-4 workahed.

Speaking of Sports

By DANNY GIBSON Sports Editor

All Loudon County went visiting this past weekend with only Lenoir City returning with victory smiles. The Pantherettes charged out to a commanding 34-20 halftime score, but had to ward off a determined Oliver Spring rally to win going away. Marietta Blackburn surpassed her season average with 29 points. Betty Chrisman followed with 21 and Mary Ruth Dunsmore collected 15 points as the Pantherettes proved no rest for the Oliver Springs guards.

The Lenoir City Boys had to cope with a 65 percent team shooting effort by the Oliver Spring quintet to stay atop the District IX standings. The rest of the Loudon County teams also ran into hot handed court groups as Lanier hit on 17 of 38 shots to stop the Greenback boys. 45-36. The Cherokees hit only 12 of 53 from the floor. The Cherokeeettes out shot the Eaglettes from the floor as Mari Beth Hamontree was good on 10 of 20 floor attempts but fell to defeat by sacrificing 20 points at the charity stripe. Greenback managed but seven charity points.

Loudon had the toughest encounter of the County, visiting the State's fifth ranked Bradley Bears. The Bears committed but one foul in the first half and never permitted the Redskins any closer than four points as they won with substitutes finishing the game for both teams. The Bearettes made it a long drive home as they took the preliminary 57-50. The word TOOK was not taking anything from the once beaten Bradley girls but the Lassies played winning basketball for the most part with a pressure defensive effort and clutch shooting by the forwards. Nevertheless, the game slipped away in the final minutes as a questionable foul on a Loudon forward provoked questioned opinions by the fans but in any event the outcome of the penalty was soon to decide the game.

The foul, a charging violation, should have given Bradley the ball but instead a one-and-one foul shot was awarded and later a technical, plus getting the ball and scoring on the possession. Hence, you be the score keeper, Bradley was on top by a single point when things got all messed up and by the time Lynn Dorsey could get to launch a 30 foot net burner the Bearettes were ahead by seven.

I think the Bradley Bears best work hard between now and February 11 as I feel the Friday night game may well be a thorn to both of Loudon's roundball teams in preparing for the stretch drive of the season.

I have visited with each school in the County and met so many nice and friendly people I have had to make a list just to try and remember those people sure to be important in helping me with the Loudon County Sports happenings. I have gotten so confused I have often addressed one coach as another and given credit for one coach as a girls coach when he is a boys coach. . . . well anyway I am having a great time and truly must say that I find the working conditions the tops with everyone lending a hand to aid my catching up of the sports news.

In action this week end the Greenback Cherokeees will take a 2-9 record into a Friday night clash with Townsend at Greenback. The Cherokees will then hit the road again on Tuesday evening to play Lanier for the third time this season.

Loudon will have a toughie in twice beaten Cleveland Friday night in Loudon. The Redskins will go to Etowah Tuesday night to face an always rugged McMinn Central team. Lenoir City must try their luck with unbeaten Bradley County on Friday night and as if that was not enough for any team the Panthers will host the angry Yellow Jackets of Kingston Tuesday night. The Yellow Jackets are experiencing a bad season for the first time in years and they don't like the idea so watch out Panthers.

The Tellico Project - And The Many Issues

By Calvin Lumsford

If you are one of the East Tennesseans who has an axe to grind in regard to the Tellico Dam, (or maybe you are not a Loudon, Blount or Monroe Countian), we seem to have a fair share of them, who are not, don't be impatient. Whatever your pet gripe in regard to this project is, if it has not been aired yet, it could be next on the agenda.

You may be a sportsman, a floater, an amateur archeologist, a wild river buff, an outspoken economic authority from a local university, or by chance you may be one of those seemingly forgotten people whose everyday life was changed by uprooting them from their homesteads and find themselves confronted with another kind of river—the River of No Return. Much of what has been done cannot be undone.

In the beginning when a group of people, the greater majority of whom would be affected by the proposed building of the Tellico Dam set out to do what they could to prevent the building of the Dam, did not publicly receive the support of groups or individuals now being heard from on every corner as to why the dam shouldn't be finished. The thought comes to mind, wasn't these much publicized points just as important then? The sportsman's potential, the beauty of a wild river, the environmental problems, is something that has just been discovered by pouring a few thousand tons of concrete. If they exist now, surely they existed when the initial battle to prevent the start of the Tellico project, was being waged. And yet, where were those groups who have grung up iron out of nowhere to voice their opinion.

Not satisfied with the expenditure of the taxpayers money already poured into the Tellico project, a court battle is now underway, with additional cost to the taxpayers. These cost will be born in part by those who couldn't afford the time off from work or the expensive equipment needed to catch the suddenly popular trout, but yet they will bear their share of the cost.

We believe in Democracy and feel that each of those who have spoken out are within the individuals rights and have weighed their decision in the balance as to where their stand was for personal reasons or for what would be best for the people of Loudon, Blount and Monroe Counties. But is it necessary for a Washington based organization to bring a court suit to have the decision handed down as to what we can do with one of our rivers that nobody seemed to give a hoot about for several hundred years? Suddenly they want to save it, not for the displaced families who have lived their lives along its shores, who find themselves relocated or in the process of trying to relocate. They want to preserve a wild river, a Trout stream. This is the same land that the Indians gave up unwillingly so it could be civilized.

Regardless of what the decision will be, some will be happy, some will be sad. Regardless of which way the balance will fall some good things as well as some bad things have already come out of the controversial TVA venture.

One could not say that the 411 Bridge was not a much needed improvement. It has benefited many people and possibly saved many lives of those who travel this busy highway. How long would it have been before this work was done, if it had not been for the Little T project? We are not saying that this just act outweighs the injustice, which the people along the Little T say they have and will suffer. The bridge was needed and has become a reality.

The colonial Fort Loudoun site may well see its long years of work to establish it as a noted historical point become a reality with the development of the surrounding area.

Many things have been said regarding the archeological aspects of the Cherokee Indian Burial grounds along the shores of the Little T. The University of Tennessee with what we have been informed, with a financial grant, has been busy about the process of recovering many historical items from these mounds.

Without this stepped up work by this group, these mounds possibly would have waited a few more hundred years to make a noted historical contribution to mankind. This work has progressed because of the possibility of the coming back waters of the Little T.

To date, according to information supplied by TVA, 516 tracts of land in the Tellico area have been contracted for, or almost 66 percent of the expected land acquisition. This involves 23,700 acres. Over 62 percent of the estimated 38,000 acres to be acquired. These purchases according to TVA represent $12,250,425 or over 58 percent of the total land cost.

A high level Tennessee statesman was a visitor in the Loudon County area a few months back and after he had personally observed the expenditure and a construction status of the dam, personally told this writer, the dam should never have been started, but to stop it now would be such a waste of the taxpayers money. TVA should go ahead and complete it.

In a talk before the Knoxville Rotary in November, 1971, TVA Chairman, A.J. Wagner said, quote, "We must remind ourselves that only a decade ago the great national concern was for the growth of the national economy. There were too few jobs, too many unemployed and we are anxious to speed the rate of economic growth," unquote.

We have mentioned some facts, not necessarily intended as opinions, but things worth the thought of those for or opposed to the Tellico project. We hope justice for all is in the offing and peace will come to the troubled waters of the Little Tennessee River.

economic growth," unquote. We have mentioned some facts, not necessarily intended as opinions, but things worth the thought of those for or opposed to the Tellico project. We hope justice for all is in the offing and peace will come to the troubled waters of the Little Tennessee River.

Local Divorce Rate Above National Average

Do marital splittings occur more often or less often in Loudon County than in other places?

How many local residents have been divorced? How many of them have remarried?

Locally, as well as in most other parts of the country, the number of marriages that have been ending in divorce is much greater than in earlier years.

According to data released by the Department of Commerce, based on 1970 census figures, the divorce rate in the United States is 33 percent higher than it was in 1960.

At that time there were 35 divorced persons for every 1,000 married couples. It has risen since then to 47 per 1,000. This is exclusive of those who remarried afterward.

The divorce rate among residents of Loudon County is somewhat higher than the national.

The number of divorced men and women in the local area, per 1,000 married couples, is 51, according to the figures.

In the East South Central States the number per 1,000 is 49. In the State of Tennessee it is 52.

The official count shows a total of 245 divorced men and 392 divorced women in the local population.

According to the Census Bureau's findings, breakups are more likely to occur among young married couples—those in their late 20's who have been married for five years or less—rather than among older people.

The presence of children appears to be no deterrent. It is found that twice as many children are involved in divorce actions today than there were 15 years ago.

A further analysis of the data shows that the divorce rate in non-farm areas is double what it is in farm areas. It is also much higher among non-whites than among whites.

Many people who have been divorced get married again. For every one who is currently in the divorced column there are 2 1/2 others, on average, who have returned to the ranks of the married.

Applied to Loudon County, there are approximately 1,600 men and women in the local area who were previously divorced and are now married.

Tellico Tri-County Group Reports On Tellico Project

The Tellico Tri-County Development Association, Inc., this week released an in-depth report on the Tellico Project. The report, coming from Charles Hall, president of the Association includes background information and projections concerning the project. In his letter Mr. Hall said the Tri-County group believes the Tellico Project is vital to the future development of the area.

There was also a letter attached from the Tennessee River Valley Association of Decatur, Alabama, in which President Barrett C. Shelton, Sr., said, "We are not automatically in favor of impoundments. Changes in our natural resources must be evaluated closely. We believe that a balanced approach to economic security and environmental excellence is possible and most necessary." He further stated, "Our Board of Directors has reviewed the Tellico Project in depth and respectfully with Governor Winfield Dunn. (Dunn is a director in the TRVA.) We believe that tourism and recreational opportunities will increase many fold when the project is completed. The total economic impact to the region will be great."

The following is portions of the report received from the Tellico Tri-County Development Association:

Physical Description
Construction of the Tellico Project was begun in March 1967. The major element of the project is a dam on the Little Tennessee River about one quarter mile above its confluence with the Tennessee River and about one mile southwest of TVA's Fort Loudon Dam on the Tennessee River.

The dam is in Loudon county and the reservoir and watershed are in Loudon, Monroe and Blount counties. The principal cities affected are Maryville, Alcoa, Madisonville, Lenoir City and Loudon.

The concrete portion of the main dam was completed in 1970 and all work on the dam and reservoir are scheduled for completion in 1973. To date about $30 million has been spent on the project out of an estimated total project cost of $60 million. The Tellico Reservoir will extend 33 miles upstream to the foot of Chilhowee Dam, which is owned by the Aluminum Company of America. A 9-foot navigation channel will be created for about 30 miles. At normal full pool elevation the waters of the reservoir will occupy 16,500 acres.

Navigation
The Tellico project is unique in several respects. It includes the construction of a 1,000-foot long navigable canal which will join the Tellico reservoir with the present Fort Loudon reservoir. The two will thus be essentially a single reservoir. The Little Tennessee will become a part of the Tennessee waterway but without the expense of building a lock. Commercial tows can use the Fort Loudon lock.

Power
The flow of the Little Tennessee normally will be through the canal and into the Fort Loudon reservoir where the water will be run through the Fort Loudon turbines. This will generate an average of 200 million kilowatt-hours a year without having to build a powerhouse or buy additional coal. This is enough power to supply the approximate present needs of Maryville or Athens.

Flood Control
The Tellico reservoir will have a flood storage capacity slightly larger than Fort Loudon reservoir. The flood protection afforded to downstream cities, principally Chattanooga, will therefore be substantial.

Timberlake and Its Potential
Industrial Development
TVA has found through experience that there are a few unique locations in the Tennessee Valley which are unusually favorable to heavy industry. These locations are areas where commercial large transportation, rail service, highway connections, and large acreages of land with favorable terrain all come together at the same place.

The Tellico project area near Vonore now has all of these advantages except a navigable waterway, and that missing link would be supplied by the Tellico project.

Since 1945 private companies have invested more than $2 billion in industrial plants and terminals along the Tennessee River. Most of this development has occurred at the seven other areas along the river offering the same type of industrialization opportunity as the Tellico project will present. It is estimated that about 78,000 jobs now exist in the Tennessee Valley as a result of its water transportation facilities.

Upper east Tennessee, the inland terminus of the Tennessee waterway, has not shared in this development, primarily because of the steep and rocky topography close to the river. A comparison of water-front investment in two cities of about the same size illustrates this difference. Through 1970, Chattanooga had a waterfront investment of over $318 million providing employment for 11,600 persons. It has extensive waterfront acreage. On the other hand Knoxville, which lacks such acreage, had a waterfront investment of less than $4 million with employment of only 199.

With the completion of the Tellico project, central east Tennessee is expected to participate in this type of economic development. During the first 25 years after completion of the project, TVA forecasts new industrial employment in the project area for about 9,000 persons plus 16,000 new recreation, commercial, service and other jobs.

Recreation Opportunities
The Tellico Reservoir will be well located to capitalize on unusual opportunities for a variety of recreation developments. The reservoir will extend into the Cherokee National Forest. It is also near the southern boundary of the Great Smoky Mountains National Park whose six million visitor load is the greatest of any national park.

Tellico Lake will have a spectacular beauty and recreation appeal which TVA estimates will attract as many as 3 million visitors annually, far more than the river could possibly support in its present state or if developed only as a scenic river. More than 90 percent of the fishermen in east Tennessee fish in reservoirs, and it is expected that fishing in Tellico Reservoir will quickly reach a level at least five times greater than the present fishing use of the river.

Tellico Reservoir and developments on its shoreline, in a sense, will expand the national park and provide a wider range of recreation opportunity to those who visit the park area.

Specialists who have examined the area believe it has the potential for nationwide appeal to tourists with a resort-recreation complex that contains a mix of craft centers, themed rides, specialty shops and eating facilities. Such plans would include camping and picnicking facilities, golf courses, an Olympic size pool and public beach, horseback riding facilities, hiking and riding trails, an historical interpretation center, motels, and motels all clustered in a planned recreation complex along the shores of the Tellico Reservoir. The combination of mountain and water-oriented recreation activity will create a recreation attraction unequalled in east Tennessee. Some 2 million visitors are expected to be attracted annually to the Tellico Reservoir and related recreation facilities.

Residential
With the large industrial and recreation expansion indicated by the project, TVA and state and local governments early recognized that the influx of thousands of people requiring homes and services in an essentially rural area could place an excessive burden on local government. The result could be a sprawl development, costly to supply with public services and detrimental to the scenic countryside.

Consequently, local officials in the tri-counties area formed the Tellico Area Planning Council to work with the Tennessee State Planning Commission, the East Tennessee Development District, and TVA itself to accommodate part of this new residential growth on the shores of Tellico Lake in a new community. This community has been called Timberlake in honor of Henry Timberlake, an early British explorer of the Little Tennessee who provided the first meaningful maps of the stream and the adjacent Cherokee Indian villages.

Timberlake would be a town expected to grow to some 50,000 people, designed and built to the highest standards. Aside from offering quality residential environment, TVA's plans include the development of the best available environmental protection technology.

Most of those employed in the industrial and recreation businesses would be expected to live in existing communities in the area - Madisonville, Lenoir City, Loudon, Sweetwater, Tellico Plains, Maryville, Greenback, and Vonore. Perhaps 40 percent would choose the new town of Timberlake. The Tellico planning groups have therefore kept their studies in the broad field of utilizing the new developments for the improvement of the entire area.

For example, the existing school systems have joined together to find ways of meeting the new educational demands that will be created. The method chosen for accomplishing these goals has been to use the Tennessee laws which give adequate authority for cooperative and contractual arrangements between school boards to carry on joint projects in order to cut costs and improve educational facilities.

The county courts have joined with TVA, the Tennessee State Planning Commission, and the development district in studying ways to provide water service to the area. TVA is providing engineering funds and will invest in a system adequate for the early phase of the community development (following completion of the project).

TVA has assured that water quality in the Little Tennessee will be maintained. In addition to state and Federal restrictions on waste discharges, TVA will require high standards of waste disposal as part of the conditions under which shoreline lands are sold.

Road relocations will include major highway connections with U.S. 11 and Interstate 75 at both Lenoir City and Loudon and with U.S. 411 in the vicinity of Vonore. It is anticipated that Vonore will emerge as a gateway to the upstream recreation area, and TVA has been working with the city to improve its recreational facilities so that it can be in a position to provide services to tourists and area visitors as well as act as a residential community.

Economic Need
There is a great need for actions for combatting some of the chronic difficulties of the region—relatively low incomes, relatively high unemployment, declining agriculture, and continuing outmigration of young people seeking better opportunities for employment. The per capita personal income in the 3-county Tellico area in 1963 was $2,200 a year, 65 percent of the average for the State of Tennessee and only 65 percent of the average for the United States. The Monroe County Industrial Development Association recently said: Monroe County has 33.9 percent of its families in the $0 - $2,000 income bracket. Fishing and scenic rivers are not solutions to our low income, low standard of living problems.

Farm earnings, which were virtually stagnant from 1950 to 1962, dropped sharply between 1962 and 1968—73.8 percent in Monroe County alone, 52.2 percent in the three counties. Net outmigration continues as in the past. Loudon County lost 1,325 by migration in the 1960's and Monroe 2,201. Blount County gained 34.

Thousands of Jobs? How do we know?

The Tennessee Valley now possesses a strategic central location with respect to the growing markets to the north, north-west, southwest, and southeast. Creation of the Tennessee River channel has given the region a third mode of transportation, and competition in the field of surface transportation has become a significant and healthy part of the economy. Commercial lows now can move from Knoxville and vicinity up the Ohio to Pittsburgh, up the Mississippi to Minneapolis or Chicago, up the Missouri to Kansas City or down the Mississippi to New Orleans and Houston.

The impact of the waterway has been far greater than even the optimists could foresee at the time it was being built. Traffic on the river has passed the 25-million-ton mark and continues to rise. It shows no signs of leveling off.

The reason is clear. Investment by private enterprise in new and expanded industries along the waterway, though it began slowly, rose rapidly and today exceeds $2 billion. These plants provide employment directly for 38,000 persons and indirectly for several times that many.

The sites these industries have chosen to build their plants have the characteristics of what has come to be called a "transport complex." This is where rail, highway and water transport are all available along with large areas of land suitable for the construction of large plants.

TVA estimates that 9,000 industrial jobs and 16,000 service jobs would be created over 25 years by the industrial development resulting from the Tellico project are not guesswork. They are based upon what has already happened wherever these unique locations have occurred in the Tennessee Valley.

Why Not in Central East Tennessee?

The upper reaches of the Tennessee waterway have not shared in this industrial growth even though they have rail, highway and barge transportation available. The reason is that it is a region of ridges and valleys lacking in suitable sites for large industrial construction—large acreages of land close to rail, highway, and water. Land that is on the waterway and also close to rail and highway is either too steep or too rocky or of limited area.

There presently are only about 900 acres of waterfront industrial land available in the eastern end of the state. This point was emphasized by the Tennessee State Planning Commission for Industrial Development in a recent letter to TVA about the project which stated: From our own knowledge in showing prospects sites in East Tennessee, we are aware of the shortage of the type of industrial land that will be created by this project. As of now there are only three waterfront sites on the Tennessee River in East Tennessee that are firmly available for industry and within practical distance of other forms of transportation and services.

That should tell you a lot about the cars we sell.

Whether you own a big or small car, pay a little or a lot, the one thing you don't need from a car is trouble. You want a car that will hold up. A car that's built to last.

Well, we're with you. Just look at this figure: 9 out of 10 new Chryslers registered in the last 10 years are still on the road.

This includes all the various owners, any kind of terrain, and numbers of miles. But every Chrysler is designed and built the way you want it to last. So given if you won't be keeping a car for years and years, it's good to know you've got all that quality going for you in your first year as well as in later years.

If our cars aren't right, we don't want you to have them. For example, every Imperial is put through a road test at the factory that includes over 100 different checks before it reaches you.

This year every Chrysler car offers a new optional electronic ignition system that does away with the points and condenser that can wear out. This helps keep the engine tuned longer. And a tuned engine means cleaner exhaust.

From our lowest-priced Chrysler Royal to our big, luxurious Imperial, Chrysler cars are built to last. The same is true of every Chrysler-engineered car we sell—Valiant, Duster, Cricket, Satellite and Fury.

We think that's the kind of car America wants. That's the kind of car we'd like to show you. Come see us today.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

We have mentioned many times the interest that old car pictures create with our readers. When they are loaned to us, we are most happy to use them in the Good Old Days column. I suppose the old time touring cars and roadster, which is no longer built, are the most popular. At one time in the Good Old Days, anyone that owned a Sport Roadster was considered quite a blade. Today, if you owned one of those in good condition, you would be considered wealthy.

The old picture of a couple of Loudon boys from the Good Old Days, John B. Wallace and Joe Mills, are giving this Sport job the once over. It seems that Joe is showing John B. how to remove the radiator cap in order to keep from getting burned. Would you believe this with the big nose on the ground?

Anyway, the picture was made in 1933, which is almost forty years ago. I know Joe or John B. either one would say, "where did the years go?" We know what make of car this is, but would like to let you take a guess. Give us a call and tell us what make you think it is. Our many thanks to Joe (Country Boy) Mills for the loan of this picture.

Over the passing years, we have mentioned on occasion that the Depot was a place where you could always find a bunch of men passing the time. Well, we never have had a picture of the boys around the old Loudon Depot, but, we do have a picture of such a group around a Depot not very far from Loudon. Can you recognize it?

Loudon and the Loudon County area have always had good representation in the Armed Forces of our Country, both on land and sea. We would say this picture of Herbert, Ivan and Curtis Scarborough, was made during World War I as they represent the Navy.

Our many thanks to the Curtis family of Wharf Street for the loan of this picture. Those boys were Mrs. Curtis's brothers.

Somebody asked me the other day why I didn't write something about the days when boys used to trade

Bantam chickens. Well, we thought we had said something about this a long time ago, but it is something which we participated in and it is well worth talking about.

When I was growing up, the going price was about twenty-five cents for hens, and fifteen cents for roosters, give or take a nickel here or there. The trading was not always chickens for chickens, but many times the trades were for broken down bicycles, a set of four wagon wheels, etc. The boys would usually bring out what they had to trade on and let you take a look.

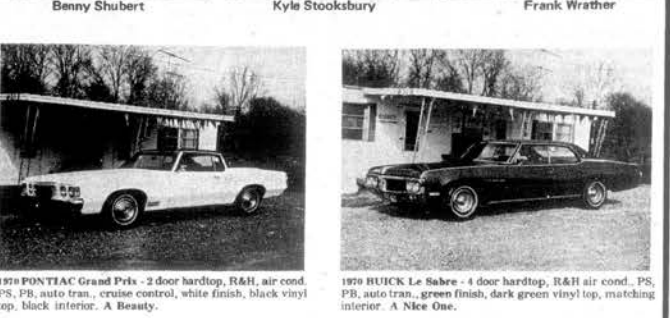

I recall swapping an old Bantam family, hen, little chicks and rooster for an old Keystone movie projector and a large reel of film. The only trouble was, the film only had one thing on it. It was an old 1923 Dodge touring car climbing hills and turning curves. Must have been made by the Dodge people to promote their car. Anyway, I guess I ran it over and over a thousand times and all the kids in my community saw it at least six times. Every once in a while, the old Loric Theater would break a film and cut out a section of it and give it to us. It might be a few frames of Hot Gibson, Tom Mix, Randolph Scott, or some other cowboy but this was really something. Do you recall these days? Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

SECOND IS SAME AS LAST--

Loudon County placed second among 10 Tennessee sites that were considered by a major expanding industry. Dayton, in Rhea County, won the battle. We were told Loudon was second, but in this case, we might just well have been last.

In November we were in Nashville and learned while visiting with a state official that a major industry, who turned out to be the Lazy Boy Chair Company, was considering building a new plant, employing some 500 persons in Tennessee and that Loudon was one of the sites they would visit.

That afternoon, after flying around some thunderstorms to get back home, we notified the Committee of 100 chairmen, the president of the Fort Loudon Industrial Development Company, city officials and county officials of the impending visit.

The prospect came in early and was shown what Loudon had to offer by state industrial people along with local industry seekers. Shortly after they left we learned we were high on the list (one of four cities) of probable locations.

Monday, the state and plant officials were back in town. There were all day meetings with utility, county and city officials, tours of sites, visits with other industry. The evening was concluded with dinner and the U-T basketball game.

Tuesday there was more activity than the company officials went back home. Thursday it was learned that Dayton was chosen. Why Dayton and not Loudon we don't know, but efforts are being made to find out the reason. Lazy Boy is apparently lost and the community will suffer from it because they would have been a very complimentary addition to our already fine industrial names. But there will be a next time and next time we might finish first in the race.

SILENT MAJORITY NEEDS TO SPEAK UP--

Despite what the various individuals and organizations who are opposed to the Tellico project think the majority of the people support the project and want it completed.

Almost without exception every public official in the three county area are for the project. These include mayors, county judges, most county court members, state representatives and state senators, and others.

All newspapers in the three county area have spoken out in favor of the project and some radio stations have also. Every day in businesses, on the street, at meetings and on the telephone people say to us, "I sure hope they don't stop the Tellico Dam."

Why not express those views on paper and send them to us for publication. Dan Hicks, editor of the Madisonville paper, has a good idea about countering weekly assault on the project by the anti-Tellico forces. He has asked readers of his paper to join what he calls "A Committee for the Completion of Tellico Dam." As Hicks stated the same people write the same things over and over just to keep the anti-Tellico voice before the people. During the past year we have printed about 50 letters to the editor opposing the Tellico Project and three or four persons are the authors of all these letters.

We, like Hicks, would like to hear our readers who favor the project to let us hear from you in writing so we can make the show of force it will take to show these anti-folks that they are really a very small minority. No longer can we keep quiet and hold the belief that Tellico will be completed.

The Association for the Preservation of the Little T and other organizations like them are serious in their opposition. Its time those for the project get serious in their support.

FLUORIDATION AT MADISONVILLE--

Remember about five years ago the attempt to fluoridate the water in the City of Loudon. There was a referendum and the question was soundly defeated because of the scare campaign used against the issue.

We noted in the Madisonville Democrat last week that the Madisonville city council, on their own and without a public vote, approved the purchase of equipment to add fluoride to the water supply there. We still hope that someday the water systems in our county will give the dental protection to our citizens through this means.

State Supreme Court To Review Appeals Court Reversal Of Earls Murder Conviction

The murder conviction of Doyle Earls, convicted of the August, 1969 murder of 17-year old Richard Lynn Barger of Philadelphia, has now reached the Tennessee Supreme Court.

Earlier this summer the State Court of Criminal Appeals overturned the January 1970 second degree murder conviction of Earls. Last week the State Supreme Court agreed to review the action of the Court of Appeals.

Earls, a former marine, former school teacher and Loudon County farmer was sentenced to 10 to 15 years in prison after a jury convicted him of the murder.

The murder took place in the driveway of Barger's girlfriend, Marsha Harris, in Philadelphia on a Friday night, early in August of 1969. Barger's battered body was found floating in a farm pond about two miles away two days later.

The Criminal Court of Appeals remanded the case for a new trial on grounds that the search warrant's results were "inadmissible" in evidence. The court said, however, that if the "articles taken from Earls' home were properly admitted the evidence would have confirmed the verdict of guilty."

During the trial the state had contended that Earls had lain in wait in a field near Harris home until the youth had started to drive away from the home; that he had stopped the car, killed the boy by striking him on the head with a tire tool and then threw the body in a farm pond.

The victim was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Barger of Philadelphia.

During the trial at Maryville (the trial was held there after the defense was granted a change in venue) the prosecution entered several exhibits that were taken from Earls' home during the search. Prosecution witnesses said that Earls told them during the search that the warrant was not needed and they could take anything they found. Items which were not listed on the search warrant were taken and later used in the trial. The Criminal Court of Appeals ruled that because Earls said they could take the items it was not "sufficient consent" just because Earls agreed to hear the case and rule on the decision of the Court of Appeals the Supreme Court did not set a date for the hearing.

One local court official said that if the Court of Appeals decision was overruled by the Supreme Court the case could then be appealed on to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Since shortly after his arrest on the murder charge Earls has been free on bond.

County Landfill Meeting Set

A committee of representatives from the Loudon County Quarterly Court, cities of Loudon, Lenoir City, Philadelphia and Greenback, will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the courthouse to discuss the possibility of a Central County Landfill.

First District Squire Jack Lefler has been appointed to replace Squire J.J. Blair as chairman of the county committee. Blair, after being appointed by County Judge Harvey Sprinkle, at last week's county court meeting, asked to be replaced because of personal reasons. Blair will continue on the committee. The committee is expected to discuss various means of collecting trash from the county rural areas and how a central landfill could be obtained and operated on a cooperative basis. Any private (Continued On Page 5)

There are six categories for membership—regular, $10; family, $25; sustaining, $50; century club, $100; patron, $200, and sponsor, $250. The Arts Association is a non-profit organization and memberships are a tax deductible item. Checks may be given or mailed to any officer.

At the meeting, members in attendance voted unanimously to extend to Dr. Morgan their deepest appreciation for his untiring efforts in working to bring cultural opportunities to the people of Loudon County.

In addition to Mr. Surrett giving details concerning the spring programs being sponsored by the Arts Association, he told of a "Summit Meeting" for teachers to be held at the University of Tennessee April 7 and 8. This is to be a statewide conference of top specialists who will deal with crucial problems of education with emphasis on dramatic, innovative teaching techniques, with accent on DDDT (delinquents, dropouts, drugs, and tensions).

Sponsors are the Tennessee Arts Commission, UT College of Education, and the State Department of Education. Loudon County Arts Association voted to pay six registration fees at $10 each in order that six interested teachers from the Greenback, Lenoir City and Loudon areas might take advantage of this opportunity. Interested teachers are asked to contact Mr. Surrett.

MEMBERSHIP The Arts Association is now being solicited. Officers of the Association are quick to point out that in order to achieve the goals set forth, a strong financial backing is necessary.

After disposing of 37 bound over cases on the Criminal Court docket the Loudon County Grand Jury Tuesday requested that the Loudon County Court Jail Committee take immediate action to correct inadequate conditions at the county jail.

Of the 37 cases on the grand jury docket 25 indictments were returned in cases with charges ranging from kidnapping to breaking and entering.

In an incident that occurred during the past weekend the grand jury returned a "no true bill" in favor of Freddie Bivens who had been charged with felonious assault in the shooting of Eddie Logan. The incident reportedly took place at Bivens' home in Lenoir City.

Other indictments returned by the "Grand Jury" during Saturday night, Logan is in a Knoxville hospital, in serious condition, recovering from two wounds suffered in the incident. Sheriff Freeman Russell said the shooting took place after Logan entered the Bivens' home, made advances to Bivens' daughter, and struck his wife.

Elgie Butler and Hance Williams of Monroe County were indicted on charges of kidnapping two Lenoir City sisters this past summer. They entered pleas of guilty and sentenced to one to three years in prison. A probation hearing on the sentences is set for Feb. 8. The two men were earlier sentenced to three years in prison on charges of raping the girls.

David Shelton and Mike Johnson were indicted on charges of kidnapping and contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Jerry Lynn Johnson, involved in the same incident was indicted for kidnapping. Their trial is set for Wednesday, Jan. 26.

Last I-75 Contract Due By Early Spring

Loudon County State Representative Benny Stafford said this week that he has received a letter from State Highway Commissioner Robert Smith stating that all sections of I-75 in Loudon County will be under contract by early spring of this year.

Mr. Stafford said as he understood it the section of I-75 from Athens to the Tennessee River at Loudon was already under contract and that work was starting from the south and working north.

The contracts to be let this spring include the sections from the present end of I-75 at old highway 95, including the bridge over the old state highway, the Sugar Limb interchange and the bridge over the Tennessee River.

Stafford said the state was still trying to hold to its promise of having all of I-75 open by the last of 1973. This of course depends on the completion of the bridge at Loudon.

Hand-Sharp Nuptial Vows Exchanged

Miss Brenda Kaye Hand became the bride of Russell Merrell Sharp, Saturday, January 8 at the First Baptist Church, Lenoir City.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rodgers Hand, Harrison Hills, Lenoir City.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Johnson Sharp, 6438 Grubb Road, Hixon, Tennessee. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Patterson of Chattanooga.

Rev. Shields Webb performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with Marginal Shields Fern baskets and candelabra. An arch candelabra held 15 white lighted tapers arranged with fern. The kneeling bench was covered with white satin and lace trim with bows attached to each side.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Mose Waller, organist. Special selections included Largo, Wedding, Bellis, Paganis Angelicus and Poeme. Fred Randies, vocalist, sang "Bless This House", "Because" and "Wedding Prayer".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Joe Hand, chose a full length, A-line silhouette of white satin of traditional styling with long fitted sleeves tapering to a point. The bodice was overlaid with Alencon lace, seed pearls and tiny crystal beads and bordered the scooped neck line. The same lace was repeated along the sides of the dress and bordered the scalloped hem of the dress. Tiny covered buttons and lace appliques complemented the back and sleeves. Her chapel length, detachable train was also bordered with Alencon lace, pearls and tiny crystal beads. Her two tiered train length veil of imported silk illusion was held by a floral profile head piece of matching lace seed pearls and crystals. She carried a bouquet of white roses, white stock, Baby's Breath and Magnolia leaves with satin streamers and white rose buds tied in love knots. She carried an embroidered handkerchief belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Eugene Armstrong. Her only jewelry was a diamond pendant, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Bobby Wraether, niece of the bride, served as Matron of Honor. Karen McKinney, Elaine Eastham, Teresa Wise and Phoebe Robinson, all of Lenoir City and Billie Sharp of Chattanooga were bridesmaids. They wore gowns of pink chiffon and ruby Venice lace. The gowns featured scooped neckline, full sheer sleeves ending in lace cuffs and fitted bodices with mock lace boleros. The skirts were softly gathered and fell from empire waist. Their headpieces were pink chiffon double dior bows with adorned with pink roses. Atop the cake was a miniature bridal couple below an arch of white roses. The groom's cake had a masculine touch with velvety chocolate tiers. It featured a rose gay of roses above and roses around the bottom tier. Separating these two tables was a lace adorned table holding the silver punch bowl. Two silver candelabra with pink tapers graced the table with their arrangements of White Stock, sweetheart roses and Baby's Breath and leather leaf. The bride and groom were served at a small table draped with white lace over pink satin.

Those assisting at the reception were Miss Cheryl Sharp, sister of the groom, of Chattanooga, Miss JoAnn Reed, Knoxville, Betty Roullette, Cleveland, Vicki Keller, Mrs. Bill Webb, Mrs. Johnny Guider and Ruth Ann Wampler, all of Lenoir City; Terri Sharp, sister of the groom, handed out rice bags, Mrs. James Scarborough, sister of the bride kept the bride's book.

For a wedding trip to Panama City, Florida, the bride chose a navy blue polyester dress with matching jacket and matching accessories. She wore white rose buds from her Bridal bouquet. The bride is a graduate of Lenoir City High School and attended the University of Tennessee. She is presently employed at Bradley County Memorial Hospital as a Medical Technician.

The groom is a graduate of Hixon High School and attended Cleveland State College and the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga. He is employed with United Parcel Service.

Sharp, Mrs. Eugene Armstrong, Mrs. Avery Leeper, Mrs. W.H. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. Euel Barnes, Miss Donna Brown, Mrs. Donald Terrill, Mrs. A.B. Corum, Mrs. Ray Summitt, Mrs. Hasson Johnston and the Laboratory Staff of Bradley Memorial Hospital, Miss Billie Joe Sharp and Mrs. Claude Smallen.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given in the Fellowship Hall of the Church given by the bride's parents. The reception tables were draped with white lace over pink satin. All the magic of a garden was captured by the brides cake. It featured a tinkling, flowering fountain set within a circle of stately Roman columns. The tiers

Guns Taken In Breakin

Thieves broke into one of Lenoir City's newest businesses and cleaned out its inventory of guns last week. Uncle Sam's GI Surplus Store, owned by James Chaney, was burglarized Tuesday night, Jan. 11 and thieves got away with eight guns, 17 men's watches, 48 rings, a sweater and two pair of gloves.

Listed among the guns taken were two .25 cal. Titan automatic pistols, one .22 cal. Derringer pistol; one .38 cal. special ZZ "31" revolver; one .32 cal. High Standard nine shot; two 20 ga. single shot shotguns and one M-937 min. Mauser.

Store employee Paul Kelley discovered the break-in when he opened the store Wednesday morning. The thieves had broken a side window leading into the office and climbed inside.

Police Chief Wayne Chambers said investigation is continuing. He and Policeman Floyd Williams made the inspection on the scene.

Kings Store Broken Into

A break-in Friday night at King's Department Store in Greenback netted the thieves some $200 in merchandise and money, according to county deputy J.C. Hammontree who investigated.

Store owner, S.L. King discovered the break-in about 6 a.m. Saturday morning. The thieves had broken out a window on the North side of the building to gain entrance. Blood was found on one piece of broken glass indicating the burglars were injured in the incident.

Taken were 25 to 30 cartons of cigarettes, five blankets, eight pair of blue jeans, several pair of gloves, seven dollars in change and two chewing gum machines.

Hammontree said apparently the burglars were hungry, because they took time out to eat some cheese and crackers while they were in the store.

County Landfill Meeting Tuesday

collectors of garbage in the county are also invited to attend the meeting, Judge Sprout said.

Both the cities of Loudon and Lenoir City are now operating landfill operations, but both have been notified by the state that their operations are not acceptable and must be replaced by July 1 of this year.

Heart Disease Biggest Killer In County

Loudon County's Heart Fund Chairman, Mrs. R.S. Pressly, said this week that approximately 150 persons in Loudon County will lose their lives this year due to heart and blood vessel diseases. She said this is more than half of the total expected deaths in the county for the year.

Mrs. Pressly went on to say that "one in every eight persons suffers from some type of heart and blood vessel disease. The most common forms are heart attack, high blood pressure, stroke, rheumatic heart disease and congenital heart defects."

"Thousands of infants are born each year with abnormalities, many of which can be corrected by surgery. Diagnostic and surgical advances continue to make progress over these unborn defects," she said.

In February, during Loudon County Heart Month, an educational campaign will be conducted as part of a nationwide drive to inform citizens about the heart and blood vessel diseases and the steps that can be taken to safeguard their lives.

Winfrey Elected Lenoir City Chamber President

Lenoir City Atty. Bland Winfrey is the new president of the Lenoir City Chamber of Commerce. He succeeds Bob DeLoach, manager of Lenoir Hardware and Furniture Co.

Mr. Winfrey was elected Tuesday at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors.

Other officers elected were Mr. Hildreth, Gillus Purdy, Kenneth Ezell and Ralph Blackburn. They will serve three years. Other directors are Mr. Winfrey, Mr. DeLoach, Ronald L. (Cotton) Easter, Al Beeman, Harvey Sorrell, Earl Dean, J. W. Wilburn, Jr., and Vernon McKinney.

The Board adopted a resolution Tuesday commending Mr. DeLoach for his service as president.

Mr. Winfrey has been a partner in the Lenoir City Law firm of Daniel, Winfrey and McMurray for the past six years. He received his law degree from the University of Tennessee College of Law in 1965. Before that, with a B.S. Degree in Transportation from the University of Tennessee, he was employed by Raytheon Electronics, Inc., Bristol, in the traffic department.

He served in the Army during the Korean conflict, coming out with the rank of Master Sergeant. The son of Mrs. W. W. Winfrey and the late Mr. Winfrey of Concord, he is a graduate of Farragut High School.

He and his wife, Betty, have a nine-months-old son.

Home Prices Up 53 Percent In 10 Years

With incomes such as they are locally, how much can the average Loudon County family prudently afford to spend for a home?

How big a load may it take on in the form of monthly carrying costs without getting overburdened?

The questions are pertinent at this time because many local families are in the market for new homes. They have been house hunting for a long time but have been unable to get what they wanted. The selection was small and the prices high. More recently, however, the situation has improved.

Some guidelines on home buying for families in various income brackets come from the Federal Housing Administration, the American Bankers Association and others.

In general, they say that the cost should be much greater than twice the family's annual income. Those with small incomes sometimes have to go as high as 2.5 times their earnings. On the other hand, those in the upper brackets may spend only 1.5 times their income to obtain suitable homes.

On that basis, Loudon County families whose incomes are close to the local average in a position to buy more expensive housing than families in many other communities.

That is because the local average is relatively high, amounting to approximately $9,950 gross per family, according to the latest figures.

Applying the recommended rule of thumb, those in the area with average incomes could therefore safely buy homes costing up to $20,400.

Many Loudon County families have earnings that are well above the norm and others have less. Those in the upper ranges can afford more expensive homes, at the same time using a smaller proportion of income in doing so.

As a guide to carrying costs, including mortgage payments, taxes, insurance, maintenance and utilities, the latest report shows that the average purchasers of homes bought with mortgages insured by the FHA took on monthly payments equal to nearly one-fifth of their income.

Because of the tight market in recent years, houses have gone up steeply in price. In Loudon County, the median price rose 53 percent in the past 10 years.

Campground Listed In National Registry

The almost 100-year-old National Campground in the Glendale Community has been listed in the "National Registry of Historic Places."

In a letter this week, Herbert L. Harper, State Liaison Officer for the Tennessee Historical Commission, told Mrs. Annas Hartsell, Secretary of the Board of Trustees of the National Campground, that the historic site had been accepted for inclusion in the National Registry.

The National Campground is the scene every summer of a 10-day non-denominational series of evangelistic services. In early years, hundreds of people - including whole families - would come to the Campground and stay for the entire time.

The site is near TVA's Tellico Dam Reservoir, but it will be virtually unaffected by the development. Mrs. Hartsell said this week that the agency has already bought all the land it expects to acquire in that area and only a small corner, including an old, now abandoned, spring, was taken.

Kittrell Hears 1013 Cases In Past Year

Circuit Judge Willard Kittrell, Jr., reports this week that the Circuit Court of the Fourth Judicial Circuit, composed of Loudon, Blount and Roane Counties, made disposition of 1013 cases during the calendar year 1971.

In Loudon County 344 cases were completed, the smallest number of the three counties. Blount County led with 284. Roane County had 285 cases.

Judge Kittrell said the case load is one of the largest in a rural circuit in one where the judge travels from county to county and holds terms of court in more than one county.

Loudon Shows New Hustle In Conquest Of Chargers

The Loudon Redskins have victory if the Redskins were to quit looking at themselves in a maintain a respectable record mirror and started looking at of the type team they are, but their winter basketball to establish order in their schedule. The Redskins previous games. Tuesday night turned in their Coach Hugh Watson had best performance since before more of a satisfying smile on the Christmas Holiday Tournament in December, past dozen games. The Redskins had a closed team meeting on Monday before practice and the closed door session must have done the trick. Not since in the first few games of the season have the Redskins played with such team spirit and hustle. Yancy Hampton fouled out midway of the third period but his 13 points and inspired play of chasing loose balls and typing up the ball really ran the Redskins in peak form. Ray Simmons battling the boards for 24 rebounds and 21 points again paced the Loudon attack.

LENOIR CITY has all the board position during this action Friday night. Lenoir's Richard Cantrell (30) left no opportunity for rebounding. The Panthers are Tim Cunningham, Dwight Cusick (13) and Mike Hooks (44). Kingston, trailing by 19 at halftime, got hot like that in the second section to upset Lenoir City.

The victory over the Chargers had two real behind the scene heroes in the play of Dale Amburn and Bill Collins. Amburn scored four points but his floor play and ball handling accounted much for the scoring of Hampton and Simmons. Dale also pulled down 12 rebounds under extreme pressure from the taller Central front line. Bill Collins came on in the first quarter to rip off nine rebounds, block three shots and hammer in four of five field goal attempts. Three baskets by Collins in the final quarter proved the game winning margin as Simmons was cut off from the ball.

Loudon hit 39.9 percent for the game while holding Central (12.8) to a low 26 percent.

The Loudon girls were once again victimized in the preliminary game 35-28. The Lassies never got closer than two points 9-7, that coming at the end of the first quarter. The early Central bombardment left true as Loudon's second half surge fell short of the defensive minded Chargers. Lynn Dorsey with 16 points was the lone Lassie breaking the double figure column. Loudon owns a 9-7 record after the loss.

The Loudon "B" team took the early game by a 52-44 count. Rick Messamore and Butch Brown shared the Redskin scoring honors with 10 points each.

Kingston Throws District 9 Race Into Four Way Tie

Kingston, held to only four field goals in the first half, turned up the front burner in the second section for a stirring rally which produced a 58-54 victory over Lenoir City Tuesday night. The win avenged an earlier season loss to the Panthers, brought about a last-second shot. It was a hot hand by Eugene Martin and Bobby Rogers, coupled with 9 foul shooting by Richard Cantrell in the fourth period which turned the trick for Kingston.

From that point it was nip-and-tuck but Kingston never did lose the lead. With 1:45 left Kingston held a 33-32 lead after Tim Cunningham hit for the Panthers. Richard Bailey then hit the front end of a one-and-one and Cantrell hit two from the line for a 56-52 Kingston lead. Dwight Cusick hit a fielder with about one minute left to tie the gap to 56-54 and then Bailey locked it up with two charity tosses for the final 58-54 victory.

Martin hit 8 of 15 from the floor to pace the victory with 18 points, and Rogers got 6 of 9 for 15 points, playing as a reserve. Rogers was the only Jacket to score in the third period, hitting three straight from outside when it appeared L.C. would blow the Jackets out of it. Tim Cunningham led Lenoir City now 11-6 in all games and 8-2 in the district, hitting 16 points. He was joined by Mike Hooks (13) and Cusick (10). Kingston had four double-figure scorers, as Bailey and Cantrell joined the scoring leaders with 10 and 11 points, respectively.

Greenback Gains Split With Lanier

The Greenback Cherokees have concluded a three game face off with Lanier. The Eagles proved a close opponent in all encounters but always seemed to slip by as time would run out on the Cherokees.

Tuesday night the Cherokees split in their final meeting of the regular season. The Greenback boys held to withstand a red hot offense in the first half as the Eagles hit on 25 of their first 19 shots from the field. Lanier led by 35-22 at the half which is the widest margin experienced over each other this year. Greenback fought back on the strong board play of Billy Joe Kyker and the outside marksmanship of Joe Mainor and Larry Ritchey to trail 40-44 at the start of the fourth quarter. The Cherokees could not close any closer on the stubborn Eagles, and continued in a fight swap out in the final eight minutes, bowing 60-54.

Billy Joe Kyker enjoyed his best night ever as a varsity performer. The 6'4" sophomore pulled off 24 rebounds and dished in 10 points to lead in both departments for individual game honors. Joe Mainor hit 14 points and Larry Ritchey contributed 12 as the 12-5 punch of the Cherokees all but pull the game out for the Greenback five.

Tim Hammonree failed to score for the Cherokees as he was limited to action due to a leg and over the Jackets and was over 20-21 at intermission. The second half was played evenly, L.C. winning 37-25 to post the victory.

Betty Christian hit 14 points and Mary Dimsmore got 10 for the victors. Other Kingston scorers included Janine Mullins 7, Tammy Alexander 8 and Carolyn Gallaher 2.

sickness. Tony Lingerfelter played valiantly scoring seven points and helping on the boards.

The Greenback girls tried their best to get the night off right as they jumped on the top of things in the first period. Ahead by 12-9 after one quarter on the play of Hammonree and Williams, the Cherokees trailed by two, 26-24 at the half.

Mari Beth Hammonree found the range at the outset of the third frame and with strong defensive play by the Greenback guards had the game all even 33-33 apiece with just seven minutes to play.

Kathy Williams joined in the hoop, bombardment with Hammonree and with clutch free throw shooting from Bonnie Pressnell carved out a five point lead with three minutes left in the game. The Cherokees proved superior down the stretch as they controlled the ball and won going away 48-40.

Mari Beth Hammonree finished with 24 points to lead the Greenback attack. Kathy Williams was just a step behind with 18 points.

Bears Drop Cold Shooting Panthers

The Bradley County Bears hit from all angles Friday night and handed Lenoir City a 29-26 set back at Bradley. The Bears hit over 50 per cent in the first half and with the Panthers not hitting in normal fashion took a near uncatchable halftime difference of 26-16 to the dressing room. Bradley was just as effective in the second half out shooting the cold Lenoir City quintet by 36-20 to gain a 72-46 victory.

The win was number 14 for the state ranked Bears, who have lost but once this season. Lenoir City is now 12-4 for the year. The loss has no effect on the Panthers standings in the District as Bradley is not in the same District format.

Tim Cunningham paced Lenoir City with 10 points. Mike Hooks added nine to the Panther tally. The Pantherettes played probably their best game of the season in dropping a closer battle than what was indicated by the final score, 51-38. The Friday night preliminary saw Marietta Blackburn fill the hoops for 20 points as she Lenoir City girls played without regard to the Bearette record (44-1) and state power balling.

The first half was of nip-and-tuck performance with the Bearettes edging out a 22-20 halftime margin. The Pantherettes getting balanced play from the forwards and tremendous defensive play from Sammy Dunlap, Vickie Morgan, and Janet Leeper, were still hitting the game on a field goal into the final minute of the third period.

Nan Zeigle, turning an ankle in the closing seconds of the third canto, had to leave the game and the Bears appeared to use the Lenoir City defensive loss for a shot in the arm. The Bearettes picked up the tempo in the last five minutes to claim its 15th season win.

Nan Zeigle a sophomore, came off the bench to direct the Bradley play and score 24 points. Miss Zeigle also proved the difference in the Loudon girls game with the Bears a week ago. Blackburn's 20 points was backed by the nine point shooting efforts of Mary Dimsmore and Betty Christian for the Pantherettes.

The Lenoir City "B" team got a real scare in its game with the Bears. A late goal in the waning seconds by Freddie Rice produced a come from behind win for the Panthers at 62-64. Sammy Dunlap led the Baby Panthers with 19, while the "Hero" Rice had 11. Lenoir City is unbeaten for the season.

Blue Raiders Sweep Past Loudon Teams

The Loudon basketball teams are about convinced that the New Year of 1972 may not be all as favorable as the close of 1971. At any rate the Redskins have not fared as victorious as they have wished since the Christmas holidays.

The Loudon girls dropped their third game in a row Friday night to the tune of 44-38. The game was almost a 19 point game for Cleveland for three quarters. The Loudon forwards never really challenged the defensive frame of the Raiders until the final quarter when the Lassies displayed their true form.

THREE POINT EFFORT— Loudon's Mr. Everything, Ray Simmons, launches a field goal try from foul line against Cleveland Friday night. Simmons who tallied 19 points and grabbed 21 rebounds was fouled on the play.

the basket but not one dropped through. Meanwhile, Cleveland stretched its margin to six points by hitting from the foul line. Both teams collected 18 points at the charity strips, with Cleveland getting 26 tries to 25 attempts by the Lassies. Thus the game ended with Cleveland ahead by three field goals. The same number of crisp shots Loudon disappointedly failed to convert in the waning seconds.

Lynn Dorsey was the lone forward to score in double figures for the Redskins. The high scoring Lassie forward tallied 20 for the game, but teamed with running mates Shubert and Smith in the final stanzas as the Loudon team play and hustle allowed pulled the game out of the fire. Loudon's record is now 10-6.

The Loudon boys were guilty of 30 turnovers in the final event with the talented Blue Raiders. The Redskins held a six point upper hand mid ways of the first half only to trail by seven points at intermission. Ahead by 19-6 after one stop the Loudon offense rang up a 22-16 working margin, but it was Cleveland going to work. The Redskins experienced a flurry of turnovers and forced shots due to the pressing full court defense applied by the Cleveland team. The Blue Raiders reeled off 13 consecutive points and took a 29-22 lead that held up in a final three minute shoot out at the close of the second quarter.

Loudon's probable most disadvantage of the first half was the tagging of three foul on rebounding ace Ray Simmons. Simmons was limited to only light board work and when the veteran pivot man is forced to give ground in close to the basket, the Redskins attack shows evidence of his absence.

Yancy Hampton not having one of his better games turned the offense over to David Birkholz and Dale Amburn, who teamed to give Loudon control of the game after three periods 31-19. The come back was of near perfection as Loudon won the eight minutes of play by a 16-9 score. The bottom seemed to fall out at the five minute mark of the fourth quarter for the Redskins as floor errors and easy follow-ups of missed Cleveland shots reversed the hard play of the rally.

Cleveland now 11-3 for the season shot 49.5 percent for the entire game, which is outstanding for high school play and on foreign hard wood. Cleveland hit on 28 of 59 shots. Loudon made good on 25 of 72 shots for 38.7 percent. The Redskins are 11-5 for the year.

Three men struck for double figures in the Loudon line-up. Ray Simmons, limited somewhat in the first half, led the Loudon performance with 19 points and 21 rebounds. Yancy Hampton followed with 17 counters and David Birkholz connected on 5 of 11 shots for 10 points.

Dale Amburn played an inspired game for the Redskins and had nine points all in the second half.

Cleveland made the night a clean sweep noting a 60-35 decision in the "B" game.

Hampton, Jolley After Scoring Lead

Loudon's senior guard Yancy Hampton, who has burned the nets for 379 points in just 16 ball games for the Redskins, is ranked sixth in the state scoring averages released last week. Hampton has since let his average fall from a 23.5 clip per game to a still respectable 22.7 average.

Hampton and the Redskins have encountered some of the top teams in East Tennessee since the state scoring leaders were last posted. Thus limiting the point production for over all stress to play both as a scorer and as a team man in helping his team collect points.

The Redskins, with Hampton leading the way are the leading offensive team in District Nine with a 69.4 average. They have 56.6 per cent in scoring against Loudon with an overall 11-5 record in a heated race for top honors of the district with Lenoir City, Rockwood, and Harrington.

Likewise, Hampton is involved in an individual scoring duel with Meigs County center Clyde Jolley.

"Hot Tigers" Down Greenback

The Greenback Cherokees ran into a hot shooting Townsend five Friday night bowing 72-58. The hard Rock Cherokees had to compete with four Tigers popping the hoops for a dozen points or better.

The Cherokees nevertheless plugged away and were never out of contention as they made several tries to rally on the Tigers. Greenback fell behind by seven at the half and were out distanced in the final two quarters by five points, but only after having to foul in the closing minutes with hopes of getting possession of the ball.

Joe Major and Larry Ritchey combined for 31 of the first Greenback total. Ritchey hitting for 17 points and Major shooting well from the left wing had 14 points. Tim Hammonree turned in with nine points, as the young sophomore continues to improve for the Cherokees.

Merl Beth Hammonree and Kathy Williams drove the Townsend guards silly with each girl burning the nets for 22 points. The courageous play of the Cherokees against one of the best sextets in Blount County and East, Tennessee held close for over two periods trailing by four to eight points for the most part. The Cherokees were out distanced down the stretch as all three starters struck for double figures, to post a 67-47 victory.

SMITH FIRES—Sophomore forward Marilyn Smith of Loudon guns in a 15 foot jump shot as the Lassies staged a fourth quarter rally in hopes of over taking a once beaten Raiderette crew. Cleveland won 41-38.

Speaking of Sports

By DANNY GIBSON
Sports Editor

Football has finally taken its season rest with the Super Bowl finishing out the pigskin campaign for another year. In case you missed the Sunday festivities the Dallas Cowboys won 24-3 against a young talented Miami Dolphin eleven sure to be heard of in the years ahead.

Back to basketball and checking the area I see where Kingston and Oak Ridge, both having off years, rally into each other this past weekend with the Roane County quintet ending a victory drought with a satisfying victory.

Another news note pleasure was to find Tennessee Wesleyan of Athens again in the thick of the volunteer State Athletic race with a overtime win over Carson Newman Saturday night. The Bulldogs are 4-0 in conference play, 8-9 overall.

Friendsville Academy receiving much national attention as the owner of the longest losing streak to date 0-103 record, had a real week of things. On Tuesday evening the Quakers had a player to "football pass" a field goal from behind the half line in the closing three seconds to give what the score board read 65-64 Academy victory, but the score was wrong and the score was tied. The Quakers lost in overtime. Before a packed house the Quakers had to postpone their Friday night game with Cleveland Day School as the referees failed to appear. WHAT A WAY TO GO!!!

Back to our court scene the entire County found defeat blanketing the outcome of Friday night play. Everyone will be out to redeem themselves this week as Lenoir City travels to Meigs County for a face off with District 9 scoring leader Clyde Jolley. The Panthers will take off Friday night to prepare for Loudon January 28.

Loudon will host Oliver Springs in a TSSAA benefit game Friday and then return to Cleveland on Tuesday night for a rematch with the Blue Raiders.

Greenback visits Madisonville Friday night and on Tuesday night the Cherokees host Vonore a double victim of the Greenback boys and girls earlier in the season.

Loudon County Elementary Hoop Conference At Peak Play

The Loudon County Elementary Basketball Conference is at its season peak. The young roundball stars of the future sport a most successful invitational tournament in November. Now the elementary teams are in their last month of competition with the season ending February 7th.

The Conference is in two divisions with "A" and "AA" classifications being placed on respective schools. From the division classification the final records will be constructed with the tabulation of victory points achieved with each teams season wins. Trophies will be awarded to the top point getters in each division, boys and girls. A final season wrap-up will be the playing of the County tournament with the top win-loss records of the boys and girls getting a seat of berth in the playdowns as to their outstanding season work.

Knowledgeable standings as of January 12.

LTVEC Discuss Tri County Career Center

The Little Tennessee Valley Educational Cooperative held a meeting of its board of directors last Wednesday at Greenback. Executive Director William Oakes presented possible program options for the board to consider in laying ground work toward a Tri-County Career Development Center. Mr. Oakes stated that the additional $20,000 originally proposed for the start of initiating an Adult Center that another $25,000 to $30,000 could be raised from various sources to give the LTVEC a net $70,000 budget to aid the Tri-County efforts.

The meeting was well represented by Monroe, Loudon, and Blount Counties. The representatives were informed of a proposal of priorities given the LTVEC by each respective school systems of programs that like to have in their second semester curriculum starting next week through out the Tri-County.
 The proposals resulted from a meeting in Elmo Johnson's office on the University of Tennessee campus. Those attending the meeting were Supl. L. McDowell of Monroe County, J.L. Goins of Blount County, and Mr. William Napier of Loudon County.
 The following desires were: Blount County—Automotive Trades Distributive Services; Loudon County—Automotive Trades Office Occupations; Monroe County—Office Occupations Para-professional Training for teacher aides.
 With the student orientation program and the Adult Center work hand in hand with the proposed programs.
 With attention given to both student and Adult career development a suggestion of a pilot program in building trades be adopted with the actual eventual construction of a house or houses. A Vocational Co-op program if adopted would train the students in building trades under a trained instructor. On completion the house would be sold with the money going to repeat the process.

 These ideas mentioned in the above paragraph and discussed to great length by the Directors of the LTVEC Wednesday night was to be presented to the Planning Commission Tuesday for further thoughts and ideas to be expressed by them.
 Mr. Oakes also told of a proposal that student driver's training will be a full curriculum to be enjoyed by all secondary schools within the Tri-County area. Ten schools already have such a program. The addition of this training to the educational units of the area will become effective in September of 1972, as agreed by the respective superintendent's of the Tri-

County school systems.
 The meeting lasting some four hours was adjourned till the Tuesday gathering in Greenback with no date set for the board to officially meet for discussion or decision making on the five year prospective guidelines of the Little Tennessee Valley Educational Cooperative and its drive to establish its determined goals to help build both the educational aspects of the community and the overall environment.

You might have to pay $492 million more taxes. If the railroads go broke.

Railroads paid that much in 1970 — Southern's part was $41 million.

But money losers can't go on shouldering a $500 million tax burden indefinitely. And that's what many U.S. railroads are fast becoming.
 Of the nation's 70 large railroads, 21 lost money in 1970. Between 1955 and 1969, total pre-tax income dropped by about 50%—despite nearly ¼ more freight and about 19% more total revenue.
 Which means that, precisely when railroads must haul more and more goods and essential raw materials, most lines don't have and can't borrow the money for necessary repairs and new equipment. That trend can't go on.
Nationalization?
 The problems would be the same—they'd just be in someone else's lap. The Government's and yours as a taxpayer. And experience shows that governments are not adept at running railroads profitably.

Then there's the cost: over $60 billion just to acquire and modernize facilities and equipment. Plus more billions for operating deficits. Nationalized railroads wouldn't pay tax dollars—they'd probably consume them.

Surface Transportation Act
 Railroads can work out their problems and fill their role as a vital part of a balanced transportation system. That's one aim of the proposed Surface Transportation Act, now before Congress. Who supports it? The trucking, railroad and regulated water-carrier industries, among others. We hope you will, too.
 Railroads want to remain tax payers. Not become tax burdens.

Letters To The Editor

In Opposition To Tellico Project

Mr. Larry Cate, Editor of Loudon Herald.

Dear Mr. Cate: After reading "The Clipboard" from the January 13 Loudon County Herald, I feel that I must write to tell you and your readers my opinion on the Tellico Project. I feel that the project should be stopped, not ONLY because of the unlikely economic prosperity that TVA has promised the people of the area but for a much MORE important reason.

Thousands of acres of fertile riverbottom land and have been made stagnant lakes. Yes, Mr. Cate, I would be ashamed for my grandchildren and great grandchildren to know that I did nothing to try to stop this great bureaucracy from taking over the rest of our land.

Your truly, Mayne Wear Loudon, Tennessee

Dear Mr. Editor: The propaganda machine is rolling. After losing the first round in the fight for the Little T, TVA must have sent out an emergency call to the local boys. "Get on the ball, men. You've evidently not been doing your job of convincing the people that the Tellico Dam will do wonderful things for them. Some of them don't believe us, so you must roll out the glory picture again. Don't forget that the word MONEY hypnotizes. If you mention it often enough, people will lay aside all doubts."

No, I am not convinced that the Tellico Project is worthwhile. Harvey Sproul, you seem to have a very good working relationship with TVA. Perhaps you can explain to me the failure of the Melton Hill Project. Melton Hill was supposed to do more for Oak Ridge than the Atomic Energy Commission has done. But today, ten years after completion, there are only 25 people employed at Melton Hill's great industrial park. Now I suppose if you are one of the 25 people employed there, you may think that your job is worth the millions of public money that was invested, but I doubt if any others would agree.

Isn't it convenient that all of TVA's wonderful predictions are 25 years in the future? They think we'll all have forgotten by then. I would like to clarify a few points that Mr. Calvin Lamford made in his article. He wonders where the groups who oppose the dam were when the project was first proposed. Some were vocal at that time, but the Environmental Defense Fund was not established until 1967, after the Tellico Project was already approved. The purpose of EDF is to prevent harm to the environment by taking legal action against offenders. The Association for the Preservation of the Little T, not wishing to give up the fight for the river and its fertile farm land, appealed to EDF because the Association did not have the financial resources for a costly court suit. The EDF is a charitable organization composed of scientists, lawyers, and others. Before EDF accepts a case, a board of scientists reviews carefully the evidence to be sure that the issue is worthy of action. Some of the most distinguished lawyers in the nation have voluntarily prosecuted cases on behalf of EDF.

Mr. Lamford also mentioned the advantage of the new 411 bridge at Vance. Certainly, the new bridge was badly needed. The problem is that TVA spent $10 million on the bridge when it could have easily been built for $7 million. Of course with an extra $3 million TVA can buy a lot of influence, a real propaganda machine. Who cares a hoot about the river anyway? Evidently Mr. Lamford doesn't, and TVA would have us believe that the only people who do are a few fishermen. But some realize that rivers in Tennessee are an endangered species. Because of TVA's constant damming activities, fewer than a half dozen good, free-flowing rivers remain in the Tennessee Valley. A few years ago people from other areas traveled for miles to view our TVA lakes. A few years from now, Tennesseans may be traveling for miles to view a phenomenon of nature that they took for granted too long—a river.

Sincerely, Brenton Ward

Dear Editor, I have stated what stand I take concerning the Tellico Dam Project and I am sticking with it. Whether we win or lose, I'm willing to listen to the other sides good and bad points. If we do lose, I'm also willing to live with the other sides good fortune and to give them a "warm handshake" so to speak. But I still don't understand this: Why flood the land with water just to have a little bit of "progress" when it just as easy to use what is here for the betterment of our communities in general. I still don't think we need industry that bad. I believe we can be better service to the real needs. That is, mental health, physical conditions such as diabetes, arthritis, birth defects. There's a huge chance without industry here, we will have better all round environment after 30 years.

than to go ahead with the dam. What about the men that were hired? I'm sure those guys aren't going to stand around doing nothing while this thing is going on and I certainly think they can think of a better place to put that "dangit" machinery than to leave it out in the open like that. What can you do with what has been constructed of the dam? I'm leaving that up to whoever is in charge, I'm sure they can think of something.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Most of the time the Good Old Days effort is in pointing out changes that have occurred over the passing years, in people, clothing, mode of transportation, etc. and these changes do stand out very much. I was thinking the other day for a century, people were striving for areas to become more populated and the trend today is to get away from it all. The other week, we mentioned that a few years back, there were specific places where people would meet to enjoy each others company. You could most always find a group congregated in these places. It was not always those on foot, but many of our Good Old Days readers recall the hitch racks in Loudon and Lenoir City and other towns of our area, where men gathered sometimes to look over a horse or somebody's new wagon or buggy that they had brought to town to show around. I don't remember but a lot of people have told me that buggies were like cars are today, sport models and all.

Adult Learning Labs Funded

By C. Kenneth Powers
Tennessee Valley Authority has agreed to provide funds to equip and operate three adult learning laboratories, approved by the Little Tennessee Valley Educational Co-operative (LTVEC) Board at its January 12 meeting. Dr. William D. Oakes, LTVEC Executive Director, has announced.

The laboratories, expected to be in operation by February or early March, will be located at the Vocational-Technical Center (Alcoa); in the former Loudon County High School building, Loudon; and at Hiwassee College, Madisonville.

Two phases of instruction will be offered at each laboratory, Dr. Oakes said. "Both phases, adult basic education and high school equivalency, will use programmed materials and learning machines employing the latest audio-visual techniques and programmed testing procedures," he said. Dr. Oakes emphasized the individualized nature of education available in this kind of program. By using learning machines, instructors are free from normal classroom procedures and are better able to give attention to student's individual problems. This makes it possible for each student to progress at a rate that is best suited to his personal needs.

Instructors will be certified teachers who have special training in adult and continuing education programs. They will assist students in determining when they should advance to the next phase. When a student has mastered the material, he may earn a high school diploma by taking the General Educational Development (GED) test.

Day and evening classes said. The laboratories offer adults an opportunity to continue their education at hours that are most convenient to the individual student.

Dr. Oakes said, "We are continuing our search for educational programs to meet the needs of residents of our tri-county area. The intent of most of these early programs is to prepare our potential work force for the jobs that will be available in the proposed city of Timberlake." Among programs Dr. Oakes mentioned was the human resource park or educational center, which has been discussed in earlier Charrette Forum articles. He also said that studies are being made for a career-development program which would be implemented over a five year span.

A complete driver education program, involving the most advanced procedures, is planned for phased implementation over a three or four year period. The completed program would involve a final phase of testing on a track which would simulate actual road experience.

Readers are invited to write Charrette Forum, Box C, Greenback, Tennessee 37742, for further information on these programs or to express an opinion about educational needs in the area.

Your County In Action

BY HARVEY L. SPROUL
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

The Loudon County Planning Commission and the Building Commissioner are finding that many people do not seem to be aware of the zoning regulations which are now in effect in all of Loudon County (except inside the city limits of Greenback and Philadelphia).

All of our citizens should remember to check the regulations before making any important decisions concerning the sale, purchase, lease, or the construction of buildings on real property in Loudon County. Loudon County has had a law since the early 1960's requiring individuals desiring to make improvements to their building or property to obtain building permits, and if people will observe the law and do this, then they should not find themselves in the position of violating the regulations.

I think that we should all be excited about the progress of the Little Tennessee Valley Educational Co-operative, which is one of the results of the Charrette which the three counties had some months ago.

Of course, it takes time for anything to get on its feet, but it seems to be clear that we are going to be able to do things together as three counties and seven school districts, that we certainly could not do separately, and we will be able to obtain large Federal grants for special programs that are not available under other conditions.

Of course this means better education for our children, a better community in which to live, and in which to attract new industry and substantial new citizens.

Loudon Chamber Meets Monday

The Loudon Chamber of Commerce will have its monthly membership meeting at 8 p. m., Monday, Feb. 7, at the Chamber office on Mulberry Street, president Ed Arnold announced this week.

Membership in the chamber now totals 40 businesses, firms and individuals. The latest members are Myers and Hudson Drug Center, Coles A&W, and The Specialty Shop.

possible things that are being considered by the Board of Directors of the Co-op include approximately $60,000 in a special grant which has been located under the leadership of Dr. Bill Oakes, Co-op Director, for the establishment of an adult training center in Alcoa, and in Loudon (in the old high school building).

Another possibility that looks very good is a building trades program, one phase of which will probably begin in Lenoir City.

Driver Education programs are not available in five of the high schools, and it is felt that the beginning of a 4-phase program will be possible this fall, with the ultimate or the 4-phase to involve an actual driver test track, but the possibility of this part would probably depend on whether or not Timberlake is approved.

Of course, some of the other things that the Co-op could possibly do depend somewhat on the development in the Timberlake area, but it is hoped by September, 1975, that a Vocational-Technical Center can be located near the junction of the three Counties involved in the Co-op. A "special education facility" is also possible.

I noticed a little news story the other day concerning a lady who had died in Knoxville, and the story went like this: "Mabel Carlock, 52, of 716 Bregan Street, AN HONEST WOMAN, died Sunday morning."

Apparently what happened was that in 1963 when she worked as a room maid at the Andrew Johnson Hotel, she had found $1467 under a pillow, and she turned it in to the management. Her reputation as an honest woman was established even unto her death.

Wouldn't that be a fine thing to have said about you at your death? "Mabel Carlock, an honest woman, died Sunday morning."

I am still somewhat puzzled at a Christmas card I got which had a postmark on it marked "US Postal Service, TN" with the card being signed "Ed". How many "Eds" do you know, and can you analyze handwriting? Will the real "Ed" please come forward and identify himself?

War Veterans To Receive Dividends

Between now and the end of June a total of $31,000, approximately, will be distributed to some 46 war veterans in Loudon County. The payment representing dividends due them under their GI insurance policies, is being accelerated by the government normally, when such dividends are declared, they are paid on the anniversary dates of the policies and stretch out over an entire year.

Under the speed-up this year, local veterans of World War I and World War II who are holders of such policies will share in a record distribution amounting to $296 million. The Veterans Administration announces, it is $11 million more than was ever paid before.

Four Get Prison Terms

Four persons were sentenced to prison terms after trials in Loudon County Criminal Court this week.

Gary Skidmore, Ray Smithers and Ronnie Smithers were sentenced to three to seven years in prison for breaking into a business at Eatons Crossroads in a Criminal Court Jury Tuesday.

Monday Avery Cusick, accused of robbing Midway

Service Station near Lenoir City, was sentenced to five years in prison by Judge Lloyd McCluen after being found guilty by a jury.

Donna C. Magness was found guilty of driving while intoxicated and fined $250 and given 48 hours in jail. She was found not guilty of driving on a revoked license and another indictment of leaving the scene of an accident was quashed.

David Shelton, Mike Johnson and Jerry Lynn Johnson were to be tried Wednesday on charges of kidnaping. Set for Thursday are cases of receiving and concealing stolen property against Gene Stansberry and assault charge against James W. Price.

Gary Skidmore is scheduled to be tried Friday on a charge of larceny of an automobile.

$1,873,000 Spent On

Local Home Repairs

How much are Loudon County homeowners spending per year for alterations, improvements, repairs or maintenance of their property?

The findings are that it runs into big figures. According to the latest government reports listing average outlays per housing unit in the regional area, local homeowners spent an estimated $1,873,000 for such purposes in the past year.

It amounted to an average expenditure in the area of $222 per unit. Nationally it was $297.

These were the averages. Some spent more than this and others much less since only a small proportion of homeowners go in for sizeable improvements or renovations in any one year.

The figures, based upon data from the Department of Commerce, show that the major outlay, in most cases, was for additions, alterations and replacements. About 60 percent of the total went in this direction.

The remaining 40 percent was for maintenance and general upkeep. Painting was the biggest item in this category, accounting for nearly half the amount spent. Next in order were plumbing, roofing, heating and other repairs.

The amount of money going for home improvements has been on the rise lately. Nationally, reports the Commerce Department, $14.8 billion was so spent in the past year. This was an increase of $1.2 billion over the previous year.

Most experts agree that the increase was due principally to the fact that many families who would normally have been moving into new homes decided to stay where they were and improve or remodel the old home.

They reached that decision after shopping around. What they found was a tight market, with a small number of properties for sale, reflecting the limited amount of new construction in the last few years.

As a result, the prices of available homes, new and old, have become very high. Coupled with that has been the financial problem of getting mortgages at satisfactory interest rates.

The decision to stay put and spend the $1,873,000 on improvements and repairs has been a boon to Loudon County mechanics and to local merchants selling building supplies.

Thomas Fund Over $2,500

Contributions have reached almost $2,500 in the John David Thomas fund after a benefit gospel singing at Nichols Auditorium Saturday night added $251.25.

Sixteen-month-old John David Thomas, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Ray Thomas, formerly of Lenoir City, now of Austell, Ga., is a victim of encephalitis and reports this week indicated that tests have now shown severe brain damage.

Mrs. Benny W. Guider is coordinating the financial campaign here.

She said more than 300 people attended the gospel concert Saturday night and Wasteplex can become a reality, both solid waste reports find that sanitary landfills are the best answer for the disposal of solid waste in East Tennessee, both from the economical point of view and in complying with the Tennessee Solid Waste Disposal Act.

Road Commission Illegally Apportioned

In answer to a lawsuit in Chancery Court by Third Road Commissioner Joe Greenway seeking to overturn a county court directive on distribution of funds to the three county road districts, County Judge Harvey Sproul said that the Road Commissioners or present Road Commission is unlawfully and illegally apportioned. In the answer filed with Clerk and Master Lloyd Black, Sproul said the Commission is illegal inasmuch as for example one road commissioner in the third district represents approximately 700 people while road commissioners in the second and fifth districts represent approximately 12,500 people.

When asked about the matter Judge Sproul said, "It appears to me from my knowledge of court decisions in other cases, and our own reapportionment of Quarterly Court in 1968 that there is no question but what the ultimate result of a lawsuit in which this question properly comes up, is to reapportion the three road commissioners so that each highway district will have approximately 8000 people in each."

He further stated, "From this standpoint, rather than having a court tell the quarterly court who the highway commission will be organized and where the lines will run, which will of course cause a lot of problems in changing our voting precincts, it might be that the Quarterly Court might consider reorganization of county legislators to consider a new private act which could be based on a model county highway commission act, in which could guarantee that each of our present civil districts would have at least one commissioner."

Wagner Happy With Budget

TVA Board Chairman Aubrey J. Wagner, in a telephone conversation Tuesday, said he was encouraged that President Nixon placed in his proposed budget the amount of funds for Tellico that TVA had asked. "I firmly believe Tellico is one of the best projects in TVA's history, from Norris Dam forward." He predicted Timberlake will be a pollution free town, "or as near as you can get it," and pointed out that the Tellico area offers the "best of both worlds" of technological progress and environmental protection.

Waste Disposal Discussed At ETDD Meeting

Two solid waste studies, one for the metropolitan area and one for the rest of the thirteen counties which comprise the East Tennessee Development District at its January meeting, which was prepared by Allen and Hoshall Consulting Engineers of Memphis for ETDD, concerns Anderson, Blount and Knox Counties.

The Solid Waste Study of the Non-metropolitan Area concerns the rest of the thirteen counties which comprise the East Tennessee Development District and was prepared by Michael R. Jouan of the University of Tennessee School of Engineering.

Both plans will be used as general guidelines for each area. Each plan contains important statistical information such as how much tonnage of solid waste each area will generate in the future and estimates how it will cost each of the ETDD counties to dispose of this waste.

In the Metropolitan Solid Waste Study, it is recommended that each county government create a single agency to administer the solid waste disposal program for the entire county and the out-of-city collection. This agency would serve as the basis for the management system that will be required to administer any future recycle and recovery system such as Wasteplex now being studied by the District.

Each of these county agencies should operate a single landfill for the use of the county, all cities in the county, and private collectors, institutions, and individuals.

In using this system, the municipal governments would remain responsible for collecting the waste within their respective municipalities. The private collectors serving outside the cities in the three-county area should be franchised to serve specific areas by the solid waste agency, thus eliminating duplication of men and equipment now prevalent.

The Non-metro Solid Waste Study essentially recommends the same ideas for the rest of the 13 counties in the District. However, in some cases it could be even more economical (almost $10,000 annually in some cases) if some counties jointly operated a single sanitary landfill.

Both studies recommend that every county inaugurate a rural collection system consisting of steel containers placed at strategic locations throughout the county. It would be the responsibility of the county to administer the collection and disposal of the waste deposited in these containers.

It is suggested that each county government should strongly support the proposed regional study (Wasteplex), where all waste in the region would be brought to one site for recycling. But until

ON THE TAX SCENE

TO ITEMIZE OR NOT TO ITEMIZE?

QUESTION: Joe and Ellen are married and their joint income is $12,000. Joe figured out all of their possible itemized deductions including contributions, interest, taxes, medical expenses, etc. and they totaled $1,350. Should Joe and Ellen plan to itemize their deductions on Schedule A this year?

ANSWER: No, it would not be to their best interests to itemize. For the tax year of 1971 the standard deduction has been increased to 13% with a maximum of $1500. Joe and Ellen would be eligible for the maximum standard deduction of $1500 - which is more than their itemized deductions of $1350.

Loudon 14-5 Vs Lenoir City 12-5 In District Hoop Power Battle

How about a quick game of five card draw? That is about what the Loudon-Lenoir City game will boil down to Friday night. The river boat gamblers featured will be the coaches of the respective schools and all are holding ace up their sleeve for the big show down. The winner takes it all at the Loudon County Gymnasium, will give the victor a catbird seat in the District nine standings as the team to stop for league honors.

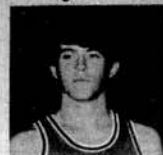

Couch Hugh Watson's Redskins were big winners back in November when the Panthers visited with Loudon. Now the Panthers are an improved lot with five accomplished starters and experienced depth that can provide clutch baskets when the situation calls.

Loudon City Coach Willie Joe Smalley has been going with a line-up of Mike Hooks a 6'2" forward, Tim Cunningham a 6'4" junior wingman and leading scorer for the Panthers. Dwight Cusick a 6'7" senior has been the pivot man closest the basket. Eddie Shiple and Doug Williams are the guard duo expected to start. Capable reserves are Randy Tatham and Gary Brackett. While having only one man listed in the line-up with a double figure average the Panthers have relied on balanced play and all players mentioned above have started in one game or another in posting a 9-2 district work sheet and a 1-5 overall record. The Panthers, along with having the most league victories of any District nine team, are the top defensive club.

Meanwhile back across the bridge the Redskins are preparing for the attack on the Panther's den with Messamore a 6'2" forward and David Birkholz a rugged forward at 6'4" and ready from the corner filling the front line of the Loudon team. Ray Simmons will be the pivot man and carries a 19 point average into the game. At 6'7", is the Redskins' most capable rebounder. Yancy Hampton, who once led the District in scoring but has since changed his play to a defensive demo and now has a still respectable 22 point per game accuracy, will be in the backcourt. Dale Amburn will be the playmaker, and the Lenoir has the most improved big man of the two teams in Louie Gardner who does not. A big scorer, although capable, works more for his teammates in creating scoring situations than looking for individual points. Doug Williams is this type of 110 per cent player for the Panthers.

PANTHERETTE COACH WILLIAMS, DISCUSSES A FEW OFFENSIVE FINE POINTS AFTER PRACTICE WITH MARIETTA BLACKBURN.

Bill Collins a 6'4" junior, Collins specialty is coming off the bench to grab a clutch rebound or crash the boards and ram through a stray shot to spark a rally. Rodney Elykins of R.L. Branan are steady reserves playing often for the Redskins.

Loudon, in its quest to survive the tight District nine race, has a 2-2 league record and a 1-4-8 overall mark of achievement. The Redskins are also the top offensive team averaging 70 points a game while yielding but 55 points per contest.

What should be one of the top headliners in East Tennessee and definitely a game all the league teams will be interested in, is the match-up between the Loudon Lassies and the Lenoir City girls. The Lassies have the touch of fireworks of a grand championship. Despite the lopsided play in the first meeting the game will be of a more serious nature Friday night with the District Tournament seeding under way in one month. Thus the setting for the district shuffle is about to take place in a game of showdown. The loser will fall behind equal challengers to cast their cards on the table in the manner of Harriman (12-5) and Rockwood (13-6). The deck will be cut and the game started from the center of the court on the opening tipoff of what should be one of the most memorable and exciting stretch drives for seeded berths in District nine in several years.

In the preliminary game the Loudon Lassies will be a slight favorite owning a 7-2 league slate as to a 6-5 mark by the Panthers. Loudon's lone district set backs were to unbeaten and league leader Midway.

The Pantherettes were upset Friday night by Meigs County and this could mean the Lenoir City girls were caught looking ahead. They lost by a mere nine points in the first of the season clash at Loudon.

Sopomore sensation Marietta Blackburn, who Coach Glenn Williams says has worked hard to surpass his expectations for this year already, is averaging a torrid 30 points a game. She will bind with the efforts of Mary Ruth Dunsmore, and Teresa Maddox to give the Pantherettes plenty of offense. Janet Leeper heads a defensive corps rounded out by Vickie Morgan and Diane Dunlap, who sometimes is pressed into a forward role.

Coach Williams has what is probably the best group of sophomores in the district, as he has five in the starting line-up, but yet they play in veterans.

Couch DeWayne Arp has a balanced team this year in the Loudon Lassies. Lynn Dorsey is his top point getter to date with a 17 point average. The senior forward is complimented by the double figure play of sophomores Marilyn Smith, who carries a 11 point average, and Jane Shubert with a 12 point per game clip.

Gloria Brown is the defensive workhorse and top rebounder for the Lassies. Seniors Helen Gentry and Mary Graham give Coach Arp his probably strongest team point-defense. The Lassies are well trained in stopping the opposition and that will be a challenging chore in the Friday night preliminary when Blackburn and company take sights on their home hoops.

Both games could be decided by the team with the fewest mistakes and turnovers. It will be an exciting evening watching the various moves of the respective coaches in motivating, their proud and masterful teams in the wildest hardwood game of the season.

Don't forget to catch a quick supper and rush to the "B" team game.

game. Coach Barry White's Baby Panthers are unbeaten and Bill Marcus's Braves have been improving vastly over the weeks with hopes of starting the Friday night main features off with a real WAK WAGOP.

Greenback Sweeps Twin

Bill From Blue Devils

Greenback rolled to a double win over Vonore Tuesday night for the second time this season. Mari Hammontrée gunned down the Devilsites of Vonore 53-38. Miss Hammontrée rifled in 25 points and sidelick Kathy Williams tested her shooting eye with 18 points to give Coach Charles Bailey's gas a balanced offense.

Greenback vaulted to a 14-1 first quarter lead and were never headed. Vonore, out scored the Cherokeeites in the second period but the damage was already over and with sure victory just a matter of time.

The Greenback boys made the sweep with an astounding 83-59 blitzing of the Blue Devils. Guards Joe Major and Larry Ritchey accounted for 54 points between them. Captain Major found the range and damped in 30 points for the top offensive man of the ballgame. Teammate Ritchey was not far behind as he gathered 24 points in his playmaking position.

Center Bill Kyrer slapped 10 points through the hoops while working the boards with Tim Hammontrée and Tony Lingerfelder.

Greenback out played the Vonore quiet in every period pulling away steadily from the first quarter. Vonore hit 29 of 83 shots for a 47 percent accuracy. The Cherokeees hit but five foul shots for the entire game.

The Cherokeees play at home, Friday night hosting Porter. On Tuesday night Greenback must go against state ranked Alcorn at the Tornadoes home court.

Redskins Rip Cleveland For 3rd Straight

Loudon won its third straight game Tuesday night and second prestigious road victory in seven days. The Redskins handed homestaying Cleveland a 79-76 thrashing behind the 35 point shooting of Yancy Hampton.

Cleveland cut down the Redskins on the Loudon floor just two weeks ago with the aid of a death trap full court press. Tuesday night the Raiders tried the same medicine and the results was three to 12 point working margin for the Loudon quiet.

Loudon streaked to a 7-3 lead early only to watch the Cleveland Raiders forge ahead 18-16 after one quarter. Loudon hung tight with the aid of foul shots, hitting 10 in a row at one stretch before registering a field goal.

Cleveland carried the lead into the second quarter for only about two minutes before the Loudon team play and useful assists coming from all five starters pushed the Redskins on top to stay. The Loudon offense worked the ball so well at the start it appeared disappointed if a player shot an easy five footer, as so often the ball was moved in and out two and three times, close to the goal before a lay up would be sank.

Loudon zipped to a 39-38 halftime lead despite shooting 40 percent as to 60 percent by the Blue Raiders. Hampton saddled with three fouls was the only fence part of the Redskins game play.

The Redskins did not even warm up for the second half. A fast break rip on the tip-off got things moving for Loudon. The Big Red machine was clicking throughout the third canto with Simmons and Hampton burning the nets and the Cleveland press for easy baskets. Dale Amburn's quarterbacking kept the Redskins in perfect balance as David Birkholz and Mike Messamore scrapped the boards for every bit of life they had.

Loudon had the game locked up by 12 points in the final stanza and barely four minutes remaining, when three turnovers and a missed shot gave the Raiders a shot in the arm. The score went from 71-90 to 71-97 and still over two minutes to play.

Hampton and Amburn made crucial foul shots. Birkholz hit a baiting five foot bank shot off the back board. Simmons struck from the corner and then Hampton slipped free for two baskets down the stretch to give the Redskins a 79-76 frightful but rewarding 79-76 victory and a 14-5 season record.

Yancy Hampton found his shooting form once again and responded with 35 points while playing with four fouls for much of the last half. Ray Simmons was just as effective pumping in 23 points and snaring 23 rebounds. Simmons also had numerous assists, hitting Hampton for easy lay ups off the Cleveland press.

David Birkholz added 10 to the scoring for Loudon. Messamore, Amburn, and Collins all turned in brilliant team play as they dished out a revenge victory over Cleveland.

Loudon was out scored from the field by eight points but countered with 19 of 21 free throws for a 90 percent foul shooting accuracy that is excellent by any team. The Redskins hit a hot 60 percent from the field in the second

Loudon with 21 points. Lynn Dorsey and Jane Shubert fired in 12 points each as the Lassies used a balanced offensive attack.

Loudon's record is 10-8 for the season after the loss. Cleveland also getting double figure shooting from its three starters in 14-5 for the year. Cleveland won the "B" game 46-37.

Panthers Split With Meigs Co. Teams

Lenoir City primed itself for a Friday night show down with Loudon last week by drilling unbeaten Meigs County 90-60.

The Panthers facing the Lenoir City team by the way of Meigs County forward Clyde Jolley, found only the first half anything like close.

Meigs County trailed by less than 10 points for much of the first half only to see the Panthers race off with a 42-33 halftime margin. Lenoir City peppered the nets with authority in the second half to outscore the Tigers by 26 points.

Everyone got into the action for Lenoir City. Five Panthers hit for a double figure performance. Tim Cunningham led 14 parade of scores with 24 points. Ed Shiple scored 14 from his guard position. Board men Dwight Cusick and Mike Hooks tallied 11 and 10 points respectively. Randy Tatham flipped in 12 points in a reserve role.

Jolley had 23 points for the Panthers in a 90 percent foul shooting accuracy that is excellent by any team. The Redskins hit a hot 60 percent from the field in the second

Speaking of Sports

By DANNY GIBSON
Sports Editor

The TSSAA board of control has presented its plans for the basketball and football seasons in 1972.

The basketball format is for two classifications of 'S' (Small schools of 550 students or less) and 'L' (Large schools of 551 students and above). There will be a state tournament for each classification to be played in March as has been the old custom in the present set up with all schools taking part. The new plan appears to be to the best advantage for the small schools as it has been five years since a small division, or "A" division school if you wish, has made the final 16 teams left from regional play to take part in the last leg of the playoffs for state title. Starting next season the small schools will have a surefire state champion to sit alongside of the L class state title holder.

In this day of perfectionism and sports' gimmicks the little schools just don't have the chances they had when small teams as Hampton and Lyndon slipped into the big time to upset the favored big schools, and reach the state tourney. The middle class enrollment schools appear to be struck the worst blow by the new plans for 1972. They are in the L group and therefore schools just barely over the S enrollment scale such as Loudon listed in the L division by some 30 students must compete with teams as Kingsport Dobbs-Bennett, presently rated as Tennessee's number one high school basketball power and unbeaten in 21 games this season, who has 3500 students to choose from for its athletic program. Thus the middle school will definitely become the hard luck group in basketball. It is through the "A", "AA", and "AAA" program now in effect with the football playoffs will soon be the eventual way of basketball.

The new S and L classification will have little bearing on the play of the girls teams other than maybe some restricting problems. The state girls power ally has long been from the small schools of Walland and Porter of Blount County, while L rated Bradley County is a common name for the best sextet honors each year in Tennessee. Therefore the new grouping of teams is directed in benefit of the boys teams of the small schools, as the small girls teams have seemed to always been able to hold their own while not always coming home with a guaranteed state title as will be the case starting next season.

Lebanon, the Girls State Champs last year, again heads a strong Middle Tennessee group of teams that will battle for the title this year. Neither West Tennessee nor East Tennessee appear to have the sextets to cop the crown come March.

The boys race is in good hands with either number one ranked Kingsport or number two, Chattanooga Riverside as top teams with talented credentials for claiming the title this year. Both teams are capable of handling a lot of college outfits believe it or not. Thus East Tennessee should do well in the boys meet at Vanderbilt's Memorial Gymnasium March 14-15.

The board of control has also sent out questionnaires to state officials in regard to the teams and coaches understanding and handling of the new five second possession rule. The TSSAA is considering the idea of going to about 80 percent international rules. Each team would be given 30 seconds to get off a shot. Thus, eliminating the four seconds allowed to hold the ball four seconds to dribble rules. The foul lane would be increased by two feet in width with still a three second rule on the time allowed inside it. A team could take the ball in on the side rather than shoot a one shot foul or in the last two minutes were two shots are awarded on all fouls, a charity toss and then side court possession would be in order. The thoughts and ideas are still in the discussion stage but look out for some sort of plan in just a few years of this nature.

The Board also added a new provision to the football playoffs. Starting with next fall's football play the top two teams in each region must play each other for the right to represent each respective region in the playoffs. The vote of 103-90 to pass the new clause of selecting a regional champion was in December of 1971.

Football teams which reach the finals of state play-offs will play 13 games. In 1972 and 1973, teams will have 11 weeks to play 10 games. However, in 1974, teams will have 10 weeks to play 10 games. In other words, no open dates are available to teams after 1973 season. The reason for this is to have the football season over by Thanksgiving so as not to overlap with the start of basketball.

The TSSAA has also announced that Rhea Central will play in Class AAA football next season (starting this September) rather than in Class AA. The move was made by request of the Rhea County school.

Bob Cummings, head football coach at Rockwood for the past three seasons, has resigned that position to take an assistant's job at Gallatin

High School

Mike Collier, a former Crossville football star who came to Rockwood with Cummings as his assistant, is a likely replacement.

In this day of high tempered emotion and competitive play a last note: Coach Charles Bailey should be commended on his personal action and the sportsmanship of the Greenback girls basketball team in their Friday night ball game with host Madisonville.

With the game speeding by with the inspired play of both teams a Greenback guard was charged with foul. The Madisonville forward in turn threw the ball at the Cherokee and she returned the sphere likewise and for a brief moment basketball play became second billing for the girls. Two Madisonville girls were ejected and the Greenback guard also got the thumb. Coach Bailey inserted his entire second unit to assure order with his team. The Cherokees were down by 11 at the time with some four minutes left to play. The move of course quickly put the game out of reach. Coach Bailey's idea of better to lose the game than get somebody hurt for the rest of the season and tournaments just around the corner, is well affirmed by this writer for your cool headedness and your teams outstanding conduct in accepting the decision.

Should Greenback choose to broaden its athletic program it is believed an accomplished golden glove prospect could be in the making to represent the Cherokees. The program would also strike a plus for the women's liberation movement.

Greenback Defeated Twice By Tornadoes Basketball Teams

The Greenback Cherokees dropped both games last Friday night with Madisonville. The Cherokees lost the preliminary 68-32.

The Tornadoettes tallied the most points they have been able to score all season and ran their record to 6-4 in getting past Greenback. Dorena Black's 35 points was the game difference. The leader forward for Madisonville hit from every angle as the Tornadoettes played confidently within their home floor atmosphere.

Her Beth Manonette led the Cherokee in scoring with 17 points in just over three quarters of playing time. Kathy Williams gathered 13 points in the same amount of playing time. Greenback got but two points in the final seven minutes as the Cherokee second unit played the fourth quarter against the veteran first team of Madisonville.

In the boys' game Greenback placed four men in double figures for the first time this season. The balanced Cherokee play is a warning to the future despite losing Friday night 84-52. Coach Charles Bailey is starting three sophomores and two juniors and the future is really looking bright. Joe Minor paced the Greenback offense with 18 points. Larry Ritchey rifled in 12 points for the back court duo. Tim Hammonree recovering from the flu responded with 10 points. Billy Joe Kyrker, challenging Madisonville's All State candidate Barry Dyer on the boards had 10 points for the game. Barry Dyer led Madisonville with 27 points his season average. The game was close in every quarter but the third when Harry Ritchey was the only Cherokee to score. Madisonville won the third count 26-3 and the game was out of reach. Kathy Williams was slowed by the calling of 38 fouls. Fourteen tallied on Madisonville.

Elementary Tourney Set By Coaches

The Loudon County Elementary Basketball Conference had a meeting last Tuesday night with the planning of the upcoming Elementary Tournament being discussed. It was decided that two tourneys would be tried this year. A "B" team tournament to be held February 10, 11 and 12. The finals coming on Saturday night, Feb. 12. Six teams will make up the boys and girls pairings with Glendale and Greenback not supplying "B" units for the three night meet.

Starting Monday, Feb. 14, the "A" or varsity tournament will be held with 16 games to be played during the course of the week. There will be no games on Wednesday night of the "A" tourney. All the teams at both "A" and "AA" competition for the regular season will be included in the construction of the tournament brackets.

Edson Cross Roads will host the "B" and "A" tournaments for the Loudon County Elementary Basketball Conference playdowns. Coach Randy Wright, boys and girls head mentor at Edson, will be the Tournament Director for both tourneys.

Steekes, with its Gymnasium playing readiness hopes to host Loudon in its new surrounding Jan. 27. If the gym is not finished the game will be played at Loudon.

The Loudon "B" team chalked up a 38-30 victory.

Loudon jumped to a seven point first period lead (20-13) and never trailed while never really taking full command of the game. Twenty-four Loudon turnovers helped the Oliver Springs girls to stay in the game. Gloria Brown had 10 pass interceptions for her defensive play in the pivot. Helen Gentry controlled the boards for Loudon with eight rebounds.

TSSAA Announce BB Plans For '72

By Danny Gibson
Sports Editor

High School basketball in Tennessee will be played in a school classification plan next year. The classification of schools into Small (350 students and under) and Large (501 students and up) was made official last week by the TSSAA Board of Control.

The basketball play was passed by a 156-63 vote in regional meetings last year. State tournaments will be held in each class for both boys and girls.

The new plan will bring about new districts and regions. New districts and region alterations were just constructed two years ago and now come again.

The small schools favored the proposals, the real large schools didn't really care, and the medium sized schools or "AA" division as we know them now, got the expected toughest hand/deal then in the new hardwood deal for 1972.

It is the opinion of several coaches of the 600-700 student schools their teams will be the ones to suffer in the playoffs. On the other hand the small schools, who are so often used as stepping stones by the medium and large student enrolled schools to gain high tournament finishes, will now be of equal competitive and should inspire their competitive spirit and feelings as to past unsatisfying endings to the season.

So starting in the winter of 1972 a 250 member school will never have to experience tournament play with an opponent with more than 200 more students enrolled in its secondary ranks. Where as the 500 member schools could end up playing a school that has from a 1000 to 1500 students enrolled. Thus causing gripe among the "AA" schools. A dilemma that the "A" schools have been putting up with since the organizing of the TSSAA in the late 1930's.

The rearranging of district formats will do something similar this: Roane County teams from Rockwood, Harriman, and Kingston will now join with teams from Clinton, Dayton, Scott, High, Laffollette, and Oak Ridge to be known as the new District 7 for 1972-73.

Loudon and Lenoir City with approximate enrollments of 385 students and 634 students, respectively will be in District 8 with McMinn County, McMinn Central, Maryville, and Everett.

Therefore the local teams qualifying for regional play will go against those teams and teams from the Knoxville area in District 5 and 6. The Roanoke will be number two, with such Knoxville hoop powers as Fulton, Holston, and Austin East heading an "AA" division as we know them now, get the expected toughest hand/deal then in the new hardwood deal for 1972.

The local teams of what is presently District nine do not appear to be any better off. Riverdale will be number two, cutting a piece to the eventual state playdowns than they now have. In fact it could be more of a task for some, but no doubt will be better off. The Riverdale will be number two, cutting a piece to the eventual state playdowns than they now have. In fact it could be more of a task for some, but no doubt will be better off.

also lack a sextet as of present. If the same number of teams go to the regional as in past (4 teams) just one would be eliminated from further action.

It is noted as of now in District one of Class I, where Greenville South Greene has a girls team, while two other districts in that region have none, and District four has five states. The belief of many coaches and sportswriters that still more variations of district and region formats for the upcoming season will undergo construction before a final stamp of approval can be applied to the new S and L system.

Meigs County, Midway and Oliver Springs the only Small schools currently in District five will go to District five under the new plan. Their competition will come from the schools of Polk County, Calhoun, Charleston, Cleveland Day School, Copper Basin, Greenback, Madisonville, Spring City, Calhoun, Charleston, Madisonville, Tellico Plains, and Vonore.

It is guessed that Tennessee Military Institute (TMI) of Sweetwater, which has discontinued post grad play after this year, and has been accepted into the TSSAA for next year will be pitched into District five with the Small schools unless a formal request is expressed to be in with the Large division of the system.

Should Oliver Springs place in the District 5 elite they would then be huddled off to District five in the opposite direction to the rest of its normal opponents. The Bobcats would oppose teams from Coalfield, Wynn, Harrogate, Jackboro, Jellico, Lake City, Maynardville, Norris, Oakdale, Oseida, Powell Valley, Sunbright, and Warburg. Half of the elite do not have girls' basketball. Although Large and Small schools can continue to play each other during the regular season, it is felt that many schools will discontinue their present contracts. An example would be why should Greenback (Small) continue to do battle with Alcoa (Large) when they will never meet as far as District, Region, or State play will be devised. The victory or loss for either would have no bearing on their records for tournament seeding.

Here are some financial items and crowd facts released by the TSSAA on the 1971 football playoffs.

Class A games netted $5,329.40.
Class AA games netted $11,663.23.
Class AAA games netted $24,862.40.

Total receipts from the 1971 games amounted to $46,855.03. TSSAA's share was $14,148.80. Expenses for the games came to $18,292.15.

In five years now, the playoff games have netted more for the TSSAA has gotten $34,268.28.

Total attendance (paid) for three years is $7,624 and it has increased every year. This year's increase was about 8,000.

The crowd at the Red Bank Bristol semi final games, according to TSSAA, was 4,887. That game also brought in total receipts of $13,802.16. It was $8,372.90 at Red Bank.

Total receipts have also increased every year. TSSAA's share has increased every year, too.

The total expenses decreased $1,262.25.

The total A and AA attendance for six games was 3,464 less than AA for three games.

The Maryville-Kingston game netted $5,779.30, $2,218.20 more than the AA final between Kingston and Milan at Allandale. In Class A, the final netted less than either of the semifinal games.

Highest expenses came from the Covington-ABA game at Vanderbilt, $3,281.90.

Sevierville, Newport Sites Of Elem. Play

Newport and Sevierville will be the sites of first-round play in the 1st East Tennessee Elementary basketball tournament.

Competition is scheduled for March 16-18 at Newport Elementary and March 17-18 at Sevierville Elementary. Final action is slated for Newport Elementary March 21, 24 and 25.

Girls and boys teams from 10 ET counties are expected. Director Clyde Rainwater says he'd like to have the top two or three teams from each county.

Jefferson elementary won the boys' title for a second year in a row last season and Eagleton (Blount County) claimed the girls' crown. Blount County girls' teams have triumphed the past five years.

Coaches interested in entering teams should contact Clyde Rainwater, Rt. 2, Dandridge (telephone 397-2620).

Compton Completes Electronics Course

Navy Airman Charles Compton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Compton of Route 2, Greenback, has graduated from Avionics (Aviation Electronics) Technician School at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Millington, Tenn.

As an Avionics Technician he will maintain and repair the sophisticated electronic devices aboard Naval aircraft.

He is a 1970 graduate of Friendsville High School.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE A NEW ADDITION TO THE GOLDEN GLOVES—No, it is not a women's liberation movement to take over the sports world of boxing. It is just Shirley Dotson (dark uniform) left of Greenback and Madisonville's Sherry West working out a little difference of opinion on a foul called by the referees. Madisonville won the ball game but Miss Dotson was awarded the main event on a split decision. Anita King and Judy Harmontree are also shown for the Greenback girls.

Harmon Promoted By Game And Fish

Bob Harmon, State Game and Fish Commission officer in Loudon County, last week was promoted to the rank of Sergeant. Harmon, a veteran of seven and one half years with the Commission will supervise the work of seven Game officers in five counties.

The counties are Loudon, the law enforcement work in Blount, Monroe, McMinn and the five counties and be in charge of public relations on the Game and Fish just the local county level. Harmon has been assigned Sergeant rank in its grade in Loudon County for five years to help give more years. He, his wife and two daughters and two sons reside on Ferry Road. He will also coordinate Street in Loudon.

9 out of 10 new Chryslers registered in the last 10 years are still on the road.

Whether you own a big or small car, pay a little or a lot, the one thing you don't need from a car is trouble. You want a car that will hold up. A car that's built to last.

Well, we're with you. Just look at this figure:

9 out of 10 new Chryslers registered in the last 10 years are still on the road.

This includes all the various owners, any kind of terrain, and numbers of miles. But every Chrysler is designed and built the way you want it—to last. So even if you won't be keeping a car for years and years, it's good to know you've got all that quality going for you in your first year as well as in later years.

If our cars aren't right, we don't want you to have them. For example every Imperial is put through a road test at the factory that includes over 100 different checks before it reaches you.

This year every Chrysler car offers a new optional electronic ignition system that does away with the points and condenser that can wear out. This helps keep the engine tuned longer. And a Royal engine means cleaner exhaust. From our lowest-priced Chrysler Royal to our big, luxurious Imperial, Chrysler cars are built to last. The same is true of every Chrysler-engineered car we sell—Valiant, Duster, Cricket, Satellite and Fury.

We think that's the kind of car America wants. That's the kind of car we'd like to show you. Come see us today.

Judge Defends Squires Position On Jail

(Continued From Page 1) last summer the TLEPA had a sudden reversal of policy, and two or three local grants were made by the Agency for the building of local jails in other counties," Sprout said.

At the last meeting of the East Tennessee Development District Law Enforcement Advisory Committee (the 16 county planning group), the organization passes a resolution requesting the State Law Enforcement Planning Commission to clarify its position as to whether or not money was going to be available for local jails, because of the information that had specifically been given to Loudon and Knox Counties stating that there was no grant money available.

"At this time the Loudon County Quarterly Court cannot make a wise decision as to what type of local jail facility to build," the judge said, "and in fact cannot get a grant for this purpose until these matters are straightened out in Nashville. Obtaining a grant can save a lot of money on the County base, and it has been and is my recommendation for the local County Court at its Quarterly Court to wait for an answer to the resolutions passed by ETDD and to a separate resolution passed by the local County Court at its last meeting before making a definite decision as to what to do about the building of a local jail."

One of the problems, Judge Sprout said, in keeping the local Grand Jury advised of the continuing developments is that the Grand Jury meets only once a quarter, and that every four meetings a complete new Grand Jury is selected (except for the foreman remains the same), and there has been a difficult time in co-ordinating what is being done toward the obtaining of a new jail.

"It is certainly hoped that when the Grand Juries of Loudon County meet that they will consider the history of Loudon County's efforts to get adequate facilities for the incarceration of its prisoners," Judge Sprout concluded.

Budget For Tellico

(Continued From Page 1) The budget includes $63-million for TVA pollution control research, monitoring and facilities, up from $43-million this year. Appropriations will provide only a part of this amount. Most of it represents air pollution control facilities and other activities associated with TVA electric power operations, and these are financed from the agency's power funds.

Air pollution control at coal-burning power plants is a major part of the total. Included is $20 million for electrostatic precipitator installations at Johnsonville, Colbert, and John Sevier Steam Plants as part of a continuing program of improved fly ash control on the TVA system. By the end of 1974, the efficiency of fly ash removal for TVA coal-fired generating units is expected to average 98 percent.

The budget also includes $15-million for starting construction of a full-scale installation for test a limestone wet scrubbing process as a test method for reducing sulfur dioxide emissions from coal-fired power plants.

In addition to the Tellico project, the President's Budget calls for these other water resource construction projects: $7.5 million in carryover funds for construction of the Duck River Project in middle Tennessee, involving two dams and reservoirs. Construction is tentatively scheduled to begin this spring on Normandy Dam and in 1973 on Columbia Dam.

$3.5 million to complete construction of the Yellow Creek public port project in northwestern Mississippi, where work began in December.

$5 million to continue work on the Bear Creek multipurpose water control system in northwest Alabama. Based on experience with facilities already completed, TVA has reduced the planned channel improvement work in this project from 58 stream miles to the nine miles of floodway being completed this year along 18 miles of the streams.

Letters To The Editor

In Opposition To Tellico Project

Dear Editor:
You sure branded me as an obnoxious perennial nuisance. I accept the charge, but if you owned some property that TVA wished to purchase and you wished to keep, I am certain their tactics would deeply offend you (I've seen too much of this). Sometimes I think TVA is operated on a small county scale of ability.

Then I read a statement of Audrey Wagoner. This brings a mental picture of Senator Howard Baker ("Augh") this makes me sick, if you and Judge Sprout were as busy organizing the community to promote local industry procurement as you are in promoting TVA propaganda, perhaps we could have more industry in Loudon County in this generation.

TVA industrial sites will cost over $2000 per acre their original congressional statement, $10,000,000 profit from resale of $500 acre which cost approximately $2,200,000. I am certain many acres of suitable industrial land is available for industry in Loudon County for this kind of money. Why not option some and be ready for next opportunity.

Another thing our County Judge suggests he might be Mr. TVA and that he is the voice of Loudon County. Being elected county judge doesn't give him the authority to control the destinies of his subjects (except). Somer or later he will discover he is just Attorney Sprout.

Concerning the local merchants, when will they realize they Timberlake is getting too close to peoples bad disposition. I wonder if you would consider printing the worlds great historical monuments are under water. That is all I have to say. Thank you very much.

Indian nations enter the fight to save the Cherokee heritage that Boeing will help them plan the Indian development on the Little T. This should be more attractive work for them.

Mark Harrison, Route 4, Loudon.

Sr.:
Damn the TVA and don't dam the Little T. God builds rivers and man builds dams. Where will the next dam be, on the Steekes Creek. It will do about as much good as the one on the Little T. The TVA has told so many things about the Melton Hill Dam that hasn't come true, how can anybody believe what they say about one on the Little T. In one of your past editorials you say that the Timberlake will be 50,000 people, the TVA in their widest predictions only said 25,000 people with people like you the TVA don't need their propagandist.

It will destroy much of historical value such as the old Fort Loudoun. I have heard all about the dikes but they don't work all the time. They were going to use them in Egypt when some other socialist were building a dam for them but the dikes didn't work all the time and some of the worlds great historical monuments are under water. That is all I have to say. Thank you very much.

Don A. Tilley.

Dear Editor:
I am beginning to believe the Tellico Project is getting too close to peoples bad disposition. I wonder if you would consider printing the worlds great historical monuments are under water. That is all I have to say. Thank you very much.

I wish you good people to read this message. It hit me "right between the eyeballs" when I read it. So, here it is: "The real battle of our time is being fought in the hearts and minds of people like you and me. We must respect differences of opinion, for there have to be true to their inner convictions. We must live with people with whom we disagree, giving them the right to interpret life differently from the way we do. We must remember to love those with whom we differ. We shall not build a better world out of bitterness, intolerance and high-handedness. Solutions come through patient consideration, fair play and an earnest seeking for the best way for all concerned. We must be always willing to reexamine our convictions in the light of new knowledge. Life at its best is always a crusade for a better way of life."

This was taken from the Upper Room and written by Robert N. DuRose a S.C. I have learned that what you think is right maybe is, but we must consider other peoples way of thinking too. Theirs may be a better way. B.S. Goodrick.

Dear Editor:
One of the silent majorities has spoken out. I am very much opposed to the Little Tennessee Project.

When the project first came out, I was very much in favor of it; but I got to reading and thinking it over and now I've seen the light.

The Melton Hill Dam Project was supposed to bring more economy to Anderson County than the Oak Ridge Project. What happened? They had 5 million dollars building on the 1000 acres that the TVA condemned and bought from the farmers in that area.

Chattanooga had more than 200 million dollars building in the same time.

In your editorial in the past you said that the Timberlake Project will be a town of 50,000 and the TVA only predicted 25,000 in the biggest lie. I was talking to a man that had signed the petition to save the Tellico Project and after I talked to him, he was ready to scratch his name out. He had been listening to the TVA propagandist.

So let's all get together and save the Little T. Damn the TVA but don't dam the Little T.

Ike Tilley

Dear Editor:
I have always heard that it takes all kinds of people to make a world. Loudon City and Loudon are a good example of it—the number of people with differing opinions concerning the Tellico Project. What I can't understand is the number of people who have fallen for the big premiums TVA has made when they don't have any proof to back up any of their promises. If people would only stop and think TVA has been making these same promises since 1935. If they couldn't bring in industry and make jobs for our people with 22 dams, how in the world can one more dam do all the things they are promising. They know the Tellico dam within itself wasn't justifiable (the amount of electricity it would produce vs. they dreamed up Timberlake and all the promises of industry. If they can bring in industry, there is nothing to keep them from doing it without the dam and the flooding of 30,000 acres of good farm land.

I'm all for industry coming to our area, also progress in every form when it upbuilds an area but when you destroy a lot to get a little that isn't progress. That is what TVA is proposing to do. You said you would hate for your grandchildren to know you blew your chance to upbuild the area. If you would think it over I believe your grandchildren would thank you for helping save their rightful heritage. That is a useful valley, river and farmland for them to enjoy in years to come and not another polluted lake.

Help Stop Tellico.
Mrs. L.E. Kerr, Route 4, Loudon.

Charles McCatt
County Agent
The University of Tennessee Agricultural Extension Service

The big problem facing Loudon County farmers at this time of year is deciding how much fertilizer and lime to use for crop and pasture production. This is where the Soil Testing Laboratory fits into your fertilization program. Soil Testing is the scientific way of taking the guesswork out of determining the amount of fertilizer and lime for crop production. A soil test is used to find out the existing fertility status of a given field or soil. The recommendation provided with each soil sample tested provides the rate of nitrogen, phosphorus, potash and certain minor elements required to be applied per acre for the specific kind of crop to be produced by the farmer as well as the amount of limestone required per acre to correct the soil acidity. These recommendations are the result of research conducted on the different experiment stations located over the state. Soil testing, therefore, is a means of carrying the soil fertility research to your individual fields. Who knows whether some fields require more phosphate or potash than others even though the same crop is being produced. The answer is they don't unless a soil test is made.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

It always makes us very happy to get pictures which were taken back a few years ago and that have people in them that were known. We have always noted that this type of picture starts the thinking along other lines of things out of this era of our lives. Some of these things are very amusing, while some are of a more serious nature. But for the most part they are very interesting to us and our readers.

We have an old picture this week which was taken in Loudon many years ago, and in the picture are three men who were well known in this era of the Good Old Days. They are Fred Thomas, now living in North Carolina, Henry Thomas, 940 Mulberry Street, Loudon and the late Horace Cline, deceased.

Mr. Cline was the father of Horace L. (Tom) Cline now of Cave Springs, Georgia and Alma Williams. We were school mates of Tom and considered him to be one of our buddies during our school years.

As most folks from the Good Old Days will quickly recognize, this is an old Model T Ford Touring Car, curtains and all. Maybe it will be a little difficult to establish the year model, but we would guess 1924 or 1925. This one looks as though it had those old 30 x 3 tires on the front and note how slick they were. We recall that the late Mr. Ebb Huff had an old T Model like this one, but had a set of front tires made out of red rubber with a chain thread, which was really something in its day. Oh yes, our many thanks to Mrs. James Anderson the loan of this picture.

Our other picture this week is of a couple of young ladies who seem to be enjoying getting their picture made. This picture was made many years ago and is Regena and Emma Kate Scarbrough. Our thanks to the Curtis family of Wharf Street.

If any of our readers down Philadelphia way have any school group pictures, especially during the years Mrs. Miller taught there, we would like to run them in the Good Old Days. Let us hear from you.

A couple of weeks ago, we ran a picture of an old car which belonged to Joe (Country Boy) Mills and asked if anyone recognized the make to give a call. Well we had quite a few callers and for the most part it was out of curiosity. An old friend of ours, Don P. Grove of Philadelphia, who has quite a bit of written information as well as pictures of Vintage Cars, said that this one had him stumped. He said that it had some features of a Chrysler, but some were quite different. Mr. Grove also said it had some features of the old time Chandler but stated that other things made him leary of saying it was a Chandler. Well, anyway, next week we will tell what make it was and (thanks to the many who called about this).

Mr. Grove has a publication listing the names of all the cars built in America over the passing years. We might be off a little on this, but we believe he said the book listed over 500 different names. We have an invitation to visit with him and look at the book, which we plan on doing in the very near future. More on this later.

We would like to mention this. We would greatly appreciate a call from a Mrs. Glass who left some car pictures at the Herald office for us. We need some information on them. We would appreciate it very much.

Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

Former Loudon Man Helps Fire Damages Therap Home Save Life Of Woman

A former Loudon resident and a companion, both employees of Peltus-Owen-Wood Funeral home in Nashville, have been credited with saving the life of a Nashville woman after a slice of orange she was eating lodged in her throat.

Roger Burke, formerly employed by Karnes Funeral Home in Loudon, and Robert Bratcher, answering an ambulance call found the woman near death. They gave her heart and lung resuscitation. Doctors at Baptist Hospital said that their action probably saved the woman's life. She was not breathing when they arrived at the woman's home.

The orange slice was removed from the throat of Mrs. James Byrn and she is reportedly recovering in the Nashville hospital.

Burke is assistant manager and assistant personnel director of the Nashville funeral home.

A fire about 12:30 a.m. Saturday damaged the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Hoy Therap at 1114 Huffland Drive in Loudon.

City of Loudon Fire Department answering the blaze quickly the fire which was confined to the attic of the house. Besides the light fire damage the house also suffered some smoke and water damage.

Mrs. Raymond Babb, passing the house noticed smoke and called the fire department. The Theraps were not at home at the time.

Citizens For Tellico Organize, Coordinate Efforts

Efforts in Loudoun County to show support for the completion of the Tellico Dam and project were strengthened Tuesday night in a meeting at the Loudoun City Utility Building of proponents for the continuation of the project. The meeting was called by Mrs. Albert Bell of Loudoun City to get efforts among all groups supporting the project coordinated and to further the petition campaign started in Loudoun two weeks ago.

The Loudoun County Citizens For the Completion of the Tellico Project absorbed to "Citizens for Tellico" is being headed by Mrs. Bell, vice president is Dr. Roy Campbell, secretary Mrs. Harvey Sprout and co-treasurers are Jen (Butch) Thompson and J.B. Collis.

It was Thompson and Collis who started a petition campaign in Loudoun two weeks ago to get signatures of citizens favoring the project. Thus far some 2000 persons have signed the petition.

Mrs. Bell said that the petitions are being distributed throughout the county and persons wanting them could call her at 886-8620 and they could be turned back in to her or State Representative Benny Stafford. Petitions are also available in Loudoun from Mr. Thompson and Mr. Collis and at the Loudoun County Herald office.

Bumper stickers stating "Save The People - Dam The Little T" were also put out to counter the "Save The Little T" bumper sticker campaign of the opponents to the project.

Mrs. Bell urged those attending to write letters to their State Representatives, State Senators, Governor Dunn, U.S. Representatives and U.S. Senators in support of the project.

A.J. Gray of TVA pointed out that one of the major benefits to the three county area directly affected by the project would be the highway construction program. He mentioned the relocation of State Highway 72 from 1.75 at Loudoun to U.S. 411 at Vance and a bridge near the dam and road connecting State routes 20 and 72 and other major road improvements, some of which are already underway in Monroe County. Another highway improvement mentioned was the new four lane bridge over the Little T on 411 near Vance.

In speaking of the benefits of the project Mr. Gray said that the 900 acres of land being purchased in the project for industrial purposes could produce some 600-9000 jobs for the people of the area and help stop the decades of out-migration in the area. He said the new town of Timberlake would be a completely planned environmentally controlled town which could grow to some 50,000 people. He said it is thought that about 40 percent of the people working in the industrial jobs that could come with the project would live in Timberlake and the surrounding towns would become homes of the remaining 60 percent. He sees the Tellico project as a major development which could bring economic security to the area, much like Oak Ridge has to Anderson County.

Mr. Gray said the spin-off economic benefits of the project would reach into all of East Tennessee and that the recent endorsement of the project by the Knoxville Chamber of Commerce points to the fact that the metropolitan area of Knoxville sees the potential the project has for them. He said that President Nixon has said that rural development is necessary for the small community to survive and that some rural development can help solve the problems of the big cities.

One speaker warned of the efforts of some state legislators to get the lower portion of the Little T, where the project is centered, designated as a Scenic River, and urged proponents to tell these representatives not to do anything that would stop this project.

Concerning the petition campaign it was pointed out that similar campaigns are being conducted and organizations formed in Blount and Monroe Counties as well. Mr. Thompson said that the petition campaign is being carried on in an area from Knoxville to Chattanooga, from Oak Ridge to Sevierville.

Several persons at the meeting said they live on the Little T, were raised there, some have fished there, but all favored the project. One fisherman said the only way to catch a trout is to go to the river near Chilhowee when the fish are stocked and get them as they come out of the trucks. He said the trout in the river have to be stocked because it is not a natural trout stream.

Many women in the group mentioned that their children had to leave the area for employment and if the project could bring jobs into the area then their smaller children, grandchildren and future generations might have a chance to stay in their home community, work and help improve the community for their education.

At the conclusion of the meeting the group indicated they wanted to start a movement that would show a chain-reaction growth that would see the majority of people let their feelings about the project know and help assure its completion.

Mr. Russell Mr. Sheppard GOP Candidates To Announce Saturday

At least one race for a top county elected office is going to take place in the Loudoun County Republican Primary. It was learned this week that incumbent Republican Sheriff Freeman Russell will be challenged in the Republican Primary by Fred Sheppard, Sheppard of Loudoun City and manager of Loudoun Texaco service station was Russell's Chief Deputy for two years.

A mass meeting of the Loudoun County Republican Party is scheduled for 12:30 p.m. Saturday at the courthouse in Loudoun. At the meeting candidates for the Republican nomination for the offices of Sheriff, Property Assessor, Road Commissioner and Constable are expected to announce their intentions.

Incumbent Sheriff Freeman Russell and incumbent Property Assessor Edmund Carter are both expected to ask for renomination in their re-election bids. Road Commissioners Lillard Hedgcock, Lee Malone and Joe Greenway are also expected to seek the Republican nominations. It has been rumored that Malone will have an opponent.

Nine slots on County Court will also be included in the GOP nominations. When to hold the county primary will also be one of the major items of discussion at the meeting. Some members of the Republican Executive Committee have entertained the idea of holding the county primary on the same date as the Republican Presidential Primary in Tennessee. The county primary is usually held on the first Saturday in April. The Presidential Primary is currently scheduled for May, but State Representative Victor Ashe of Knoxville is pushing to have the date changed to sometime in April.

Local Republicans favoring holding the primary elections at the same time say it would hold down the cost of holding the elections if they were held together. Other items of business on the agenda, announced by Executive Committee Chairman Harry Wampler, include reorganization of the Executive Committee, election of officers, naming a primary election board and other business.

The Tennessee Highway Department last week let a bid to Wright Brothers Construction Company of Bell Buckle, Tenn., for construction of an industrial access road into the Union Carbide plant at Loudoun. The low bid was $49,200.

The project, only one-tenth mile in length, will bring a road from the southbound lane of U.S. 41 circle under the Tennessee River Bridge into the plant property.

Court To Consider Legislation To Reorganize Highway Commission

Loudoun County Court next Monday night will consider the question of whether to ask State Rep. Benny Stafford and State Sen. Houston Goddard to enact private legislation to reorganize the Loudoun County Highway Commission.

The matter comes up as an outgrowth of a lawsuit filed by Third District Commissioner Joe Greenway to contest County Court's authority to redistribute highway maintenance money being received from the State.

The proposal for reorganization would call for election of a new Board of Commissioners which would have the specific duty of hiring a single county-wide Superintendent of Highways. The same general proposal has been up for consideration on several occasions during the past 10 years and on one occasion Rep. Ed Arnold, at the request of County Court, had a private act passed calling for a single road superintendent. Some Court Members, however, objected to some of the specific provisions of the act the court refused to ratify the measure when it came back to County Court.

Mr. Greenway's lawsuit against the County came up after County Court voted several months ago to redistribute highway money coming from the State gasoline tax collections. For many years that money has been divided 40 percent for the Loudoun-Philadelphia area (First and Fourth Road District), 40 percent for the Loudoun City - Eaton Crossroads - Martel area (Second and Fifth District), and 20 percent for the Glendale-Greenback area (Third District).

The complete agenda follows:
1. Pledge of allegiance, opening of Court, and roll call.
2. Reading and approval of the minutes of the January 10, 1971, regular meeting of Court.
3. Recognition of visitors and delegations, and open discussion period. (At this time any visitor or delegation may state any business which they may wish to take up with the Quarterly Court, and make any statement about any item in which they are interested which is on the planned agenda.)
4. Report of County Officials.

Swiney Murder Trial Postponed To May

The trial of three men charged with first degree murder in the shooting death of Ronny Swiney of Philadelphia this past October has been postponed. The trial was scheduled to begin in Monroe County Criminal Court this Wednesday, but has now been postponed until the May term of court there, Sheriff Kenneth Davis said this week.

The rescheduling of the trial date was necessary, Davis said, because extradition of two of the defendants from Kentucky had not been completed. The two, Arnold Carter and Danny Barnes are in prison in Kentucky for armed robbery. They were sentenced to life in prison there about two weeks ago. The third defendant, Leslie Joe Lynn is in jail in Loudoun, arrested with the other two in Kentucky, was brought back to Tennessee, after being found guilty of being an accessory after the fact in the Kentucky armed robbery, but not sentenced there.

Sheriff Davis said that extradition papers to get the two defendants back from the Kentucky prison for the murder trial were signed by Governor Winfield Dunn last week and are now in Kentucky for the signature of Governor Ford. He said the delay in extradition is the reason the trial has been postponed.

All three men were captured in Kentucky several days after Mr. Swiney, who was City of Philadelphia recorder, a former school teacher, and active civic worker, was kidnapped from the service station where he worked as a night attendant, robbed and shot to death.

Two Loudoun City men charged with breaking into Atchley's Pharmacy in Loudoun City about two weeks ago were sentenced to three years in prison Monday in Loudoun County Criminal Court.

Ronnie Helton and Joe Dyer were caught in the basement of the pharmacy by Loudoun City, Loudoun County and State officers about 1 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 19 after Loudoun City policeman Raymond Littleton found basement window broken out. The Loudoun County Grand Jury indicted Helton last Monday and their cases set for trial this week.

Dyer submitted to the charges and a jury recommended three years. Helton was found guilty of breaking and entering by a jury and sentenced to three years by Judge Lloyd McCluen. Dyer was transferred to State Prison at Petros Monday night. Helton was given 30 days for motion for a new trial. He is free under $3500 bond pending the new trial hearing.

Four men who unsuccessfully tried to escape from the Loudoun County Jail were sentenced to one year in prison for the attempt by a jury last Friday.

Jerry Johnson, Ronnie Smithers, David Shelton and Carl Ferguson were found guilty of the jail break attempt. Johnson and Shelton were later released on bond pending motions for new trials. Smithers and Ferguson have been sent to the state prison.

Charlie Davis Elected United Fund President

Loudoun First National Bank Vice President Charlie Davis was elected vice president of the United Fund of Loudoun County, Inc.

Mr. Davis, who just completed chairmanship of his lawsuit that only the Road Commission directors have authority to divide the money.

County Judge Harvey Sprout, in a statement last week, pointed out that the result of taking the matter to Court will be a reapportionment of representation on the Road Commission and while the Third District now has one road commissioner (one-third of the membership), that area would have much less representation under a court-ordered reapportionment plan.

County Court meeting will be at 7 p.m. Monday, Feb. 7, in the main Courtroom at the Courthouse in Loudoun. The meeting comes only three weeks from the January meeting, which was delayed a week because of the New Year's holiday.

At the membership meeting, the new directors, Gary Kinsey of Philadelphia, Bob DeLoach of Loudoun City and Tom Matlock of Loudoun were elected for three-year terms.

Mr. Wall expressed appreciation to United Fund workers who, year after year, carry out a successful campaign of "Honesty, I've never seen a group function so well together as a membership and campaign committee."

Mr. Davis expressed appreciation to "all those who had a part in this campaign. It was a wonderful job and all the credit goes to you."

He cited figures which showed the campaign exceeded its goal by $2,308.72. Goal was $46,145 and pledges totaled $48,543.72.

$2,000 Is Goal Of Local Heart Fund Drive

One hundred Heart Fund Leaders from East Tennessee attended the 13rd Annual Kick-Off Banquet of the Heart Fund Campaign at the UT Student Center, Hermitage

Room, in Knoxville January 13. Presiding over the meeting was O. Harmon Coeter, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the East Tennessee Heart Association.

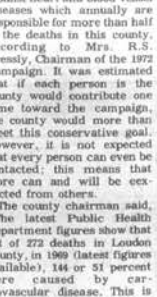

Guest speaker for the evening was the Tennessee Heart Fund Campaign Chairman, Dr. Andrew Holl, past president of the University of Tennessee. Dr.

Holt announced that the goal for the East Tennessee area is $105,000.

The Loudoun County Heart Association has set a goal of $2,000 to be used to the fight against heart and blood vessel diseases which annually are responsible for more than half of the deaths in this county, according to Mrs. R.S. Pressly, Chairman of the 1972 campaign. It was estimated that if each person in the county would contribute one dime toward the campaign, the county would more than meet this conservative goal.

However, it is not expected that every person can even be contacted; this means that more can and will be expected from others.

The county chairman said, "The latest Public Health Department figures show that out of 272 deaths in Loudoun County in 1969 (latest figures available), 144 or 51 percent were caused by cardiovascular disease. This is the best reason I know for every person in Loudoun County to work for and contribute to the Heart Fund."

Two Hurt As Man Fires Unloaded Gun

Two Loudoun men, one a Loudoun policeman, were accidentally wounded last Saturday afternoon when an "unloaded" .22 caliber pistol discharged. Kenny Phillips and Kenny Russell underwent surgery at Loudoun County Memorial Hospital Sunday to remove bullet fragments from Phillips' hand and Russell's leg. Both have since been released from the hospital.

Loudoun Police Chief John Lennex said that Phillips, owner of Dixie Motor Sales, West End in Loudoun, where the accident happened, was holding the .22 pistol which he thought had just been unloaded. He said Phillips cocked the gun and then the bullet struck his hand and the leg of off-duty policeman Russell.

And now a word about H&R Block's competition.

Because we think our competition represents more of a threat to you than it does to us, we're going to help you sort them out.

Your Family
The greatest people in the world. Most of the time. Unfortunately, most of the time doesn't include income tax time. Because the last thing you need when you're doing your taxes is an aunt who took an accounting course just before she dropped out of college. Or a father who thinks how much money he makes and what you do with it is something the rest of the family should know about.

Your Neighbors
You know the type: The mild-mannered shoe salesman next door who suddenly turns into a mathematical genius just about the time income tax is due. He knows all the angles. Some of which even the Internal Revenue Service doesn't know about yet. And he's willing to share them with you. "Just to be neighborly."

You
Your own worst enemy. All year long you can't balance your check book, but that doesn't stop you. Armed with W-2's, a few reams of paper and a couple of gallons of coffee you bravely attack that stack of forms. You may be taking deductions you're not entitled to, and entitled to deductions you're not taking. So, should you be doing your own taxes?

Redskin Teams Blast Blue Devils

Loudon remained in a tie for the District Nine lead Tuesday night by blasting highly-regarded Harriman 75-52. The Redskins avenged an earlier 71-69 setback at Harriman and kept Loudon in a first place tie with Rockwood, which defeated Lenoir City 62-53 Tuesday night.

Both Loudon and Rockwood are 9-2 in district play, while Harriman fell back to 5-3 and Lenoir City to 9-4. Loudon is 16-3 on the season and Harriman 14-6.

Loudon guard Yancey Hampton received special recognition in pre-game ceremonies as the Redskin's all-time scoring leader, and then capped off the evening with a 32-point performance. U n b e r s i d e . . . M i k e Messamore played a big role in the Loudon win, scoring 15 points and connecting on 7 of 10 shots from the field. Eleven of Messamore's points came in the first half as the Redskins moved out to a 36-24 lead.

Harriman was paced by 6-5 center Clarence Hall, who scored 20 points and led all rebounders with 17. Danny Wright added 13 and Phil Bazel 10 to the Blue Devil attack, however, usually high-scoring Alvin Boyd hit only 2 of 14 shots from the field and finished with six points.

Loudon's full-court press was the big factor in Tuesday night's win, forcing the Blue Devils into numerous turnovers. The Redskins used the press to jump off to a quick 10-0 lead as Harriman scored six and Ray Simmons four in the first three minutes of play.

The visiting Blue Devils came back at this point as Wright scored six points to spark a surge that pulled Harriman into a 12-12 tie.

Hampton put Loudon ahead for good moments later with a three-point play and Messamore connected twice from the field before the end of the quarter to give Loudon a 19-14 advantage.

The Redskins outscored Harriman 15-6 over the next four minutes to move out on top 34-20. It was 36-24 at halftime.

Loudon outscored the visitors 18-16 in the third period to maintain a 54-40 lead going into the final period.

Hampton capped off a fine evening by connecting on his last four shots from the field as the Redskins coasted in to a 20-point victory.

Loudon's victory was highlighted by one of the team's top shooting performances of the season as the Skins hit on 23 of 67 shots from the field for 46 percent.

Harriman, on the other hand, hit on only 24 of 70 shots from the field for a cool 34 percent.

Hampton hit on 14 of 31 shots for Loudon, however, Messamore paced the Redskins in accuracy, hitting 7 of 10 shots in one of his best performances of the year.

For Harriman, only Hall, who connected on 9 of 22 shots from the floor and Bazel who hit on 5 of 10, connected with any regularity. Wright and Boyd, both averaging better than 14 points for the season, hit on 5 of 13 and 2 of 14 shots respectively.

Hall led all rebounders with 17, but was followed closely by Simmons who pulled down 15 for Loudon. Harriman held a sizeable advantage on the backboards, but Loudon neutralized this by forcing Harriman into numerous turnovers with their full-court press.

The Loudon Lassies turned in one of their top offensive games of the season in blitting the Harriman gals 68-53.

Loudon extended its season record to 12-9 on the overall level and 8-3 for the district. Harriman is now 6-7 in league play and 2-10 for the season.

Jane Shabert sparked the Lassie play with eight field goals in the first half. With Miss Shabert turning in her best game since before Christmas the entire Loudon offensive attack had an almost new swing in firing through 18 of 47 shots for a 48 percent.

LOST REBOUND - The ball appears to have floated away from the action in the Rockwood-Lenoir City game Tuesday night as Tim Cunningham loses the handle to a rebound for the Panthers. Eddie Shipley (23) and Dwight Cusick are also 'froze by the ball's behavior.

The overall Loudon play, despite hosting a team of oft-beaten status, was very much improved as the Harriman defense is not all that bad.

Five other forwards joined in the scoring parade for Loudon as Coach DeWayne Arp used the night for a chance to give experience to many of his reserves. Lynn Dorsey and Marilyn Smith had 13 and 12 points respectively before giving way to substitutes.

Mary Graham paced the Loudon defense, sparing nine rebounds and stealing four passes.

Pam Irvin was the only consistent offensive threat for the Blue Devilettes. The senior forward popped in 19 points to no avail.

The Harriman "B" team captured the Junior Varsity game 33-24.

ANGELS AT PLAY—These two Loudon rebounding stars, Mike Messamore (53) and Ray Simmons (43) were instrumental in decking the Harriman Blue Devils 75-52. Messamore had eight rebounds and hit 70 percent of his field spots for 15 points, while Simmons gathered 15 rebounds and totaled 10 counters.

Panthers-Tigers Split Wins

Rockwood got a big basketball victory Tuesday night, routing by visiting Lenoir City 82-62. The victory moved the Tiger record to 15-7 on the year, and the district win was a big one in the upcoming seeding for district tournament.

The Tigers got a sensational 20 point performance from Doug Sanders in posting the win. It was a 24-9 second quarter margin which pulled the home team from an 8 point deficit to the front.

Lenoir City rushed out to a 16-8 first stop lead and appeared headed for the barn, but the Tigers warmed to the task in the second quarter and took a 32-25 halftime lead. From that point it was all Rockwood.

The Lenoir City girls won the preliminary, easily, 64-33. Tim Cunningham was the leader for the Panthers, hitting 20 points, but he had no double-figure support from his teammates. Mike Hooks contributed 9 points and Randy Tatham, playing a reserve role, had 8.

Eddie Chatman contributed 16 points to assist Sanders in the Rockwood leadership. James Dowker had 9 and Dennis Hanks 7.

Rockwood won every quarter but the first, taking the third period, 19-11, and the fourth 17-16.

The game was really settled in that torrid second period. The loss put the Lenoir City record at 15-6.

For an added treat to the fans a mystery match to be announced at ring side Saturday night will round out the action packed wrestling card.

Tickets are on sale from any band booster member or can be purchased at the gate for $1.75. Adults and $1.50 for children under 12 years of age. People are urged to arrive early for choice ring side seats.

performing with 13 points. Greenback's play was not all that one sided in favor of the Tornados as they matched point for point in the second quarter and struck to their normal game play despite having a depth and experience handicap. The Cherokees will not ever face the Tornados again, unless a misfortunate district draw matches them again, as next year the two teams will be in different enrollment classifications. The Cherokees with the personnel returning should be one of the better "S" teams of the area next year as they will have the size and shooting ability of nearly all their competitors.

The Greenback girls dropped a disappointing preliminary contest 56-47.

Loudon Dumps Panthers Again, 64-57, Regain District Lead

The Loudon City Panthers tumbled from first place in the District Nine standing Friday night in fourth place as the result of a 64-57 setback by Loudon. The loss left Loudon City with a 9-3 District record and 13-6 overall.

Loudon moved from the runner-up position to a temporary first place hold on the standings. The Redskins are 8-2 in league play and 19-5 for the season. Third place Harriman (5-3) was to meet Loudon Tuesday night.

Yancey Hampton led the Redskins with 36 points. The clutch play by the Loudon center was his highest point total ever. Hampton had several 35 point games as a junior and burned the nets for 35 last week at Cleveland, but never has he been able to get more until Friday night.

Loudon never trailed in the ballgame. Mike Messamore started the scoring netting a foul shot and a free foul hook shot to drive to give Loudon a 3-0 lead.

The arch-rival Panthers, losing by 18 early in the season to the Redskins, found the range on the outside shooting of Tim Cunningham and Mike Hooks. The score remained within four points for the first half. Loudon City getting its best team play early with the spark of Randy Tatham coming off the bench to get a strong inside game balancing the outside firing of Hooks and Cunningham.

Loudon led 15-12 after one stop and the Panthers failed to give ground in the second half as each team scored 15. Loudon provided the game difference in the third period.

Both teams again tallied 15 in the final stanza.

Loudon won the game from every standpoint. The Redskins shot 44 percent on 36 of 59 shots. Loudon City hit a close 42.5 percent on 25 of 58 shots from the field. Loudon again hit well from the charity line with a 70 percent effort, 12 of 17 attempts. The Panthers hit 50 percent of their tosses seven of 14 tries. Loudon controlled the backboard play with 37 retrieves as to 28 for Loudon City. Randy Tatham led the Panthers with 12 points. Simmons was best for Loudon

34. Hampton snapping the nets for 36 points and game scoring honors, an 16 field goals and four foul shots, led the Loudon offense. Ray Simmons had 12 points and Mike Messamore chimed in with nine.

Lenoir City got 15 points each from forwards Mike Hooks and Tim Cunningham as the Panther front line was most impressive. Randy Tatham had nine points and Eddie Shipley dumped in 10 scores, all from around the edge of the circle.

The Loudon City girls kept their hopes alive for a possible chance of being seeded in the District tournament with an upset of the Loudon girls in the preliminary game, 40-34. The Pantherette victory avenged a previous nine point loss to the Lassies and evened their season record to 6-6 in the District play and 9-9 overall.

The unbelievable sophomore sophomores Coach Glenn Williams has gotten so much respect from despite their inexperience of varsity play, raced to a 14-1 lead in route to victory. The Pantherettes could do no wrong from the outset of the game as they hit seven shots before ever seeing one rim the hoop and into the waiting arms of Helen Gentry for the Lassies.

Loudon finally pushed back into the fight with eight straight points of their own but the first period buzzer halted the comeback.

Lenoir City played a cautious game in the second period, protecting its lead with a 9-8 second period decision over the Lassies.

Loudon always good for a strong finish begin its rally on a fast break basket by Marilyn Smith, in the second half. The basket brought the halftime difference of 23-17 to 23-19 and before the Loudon City team could regain its first half form the score was 23-23.

Marietta Blackburn hit three consecutive shots to provide the Pantherettes with a slim 30-27 working margin after three quarters.

Loudon stayed within a field goal down to the last minute. At this point the Loudon City girls held a 34-35 lead. Loudon had the ball and worked for a high percentage shot. The ball was worked in to Jane Shubert on the baseline. The line shooting Lassie had a open path to the basket when from where Janet Leeper made the defensive save of the game. Blocking the would-be shot and whipping the ball to the Loudon City forwards. The defensive play broke the Loudon momentum. Loudon City added five more points in the last 30 seconds, but Loudon never recovered from the defensive gem.

Marietta Blackburn led the scoring for the night with 21 points. The offensive output was below her season average of 29.8. Miss Blackburn hit on five of 10 shots from the floor but had 11 successes at the charity stripe.

Lenoir City had a tremendous effort from its entire sextet and not just Blackburn. Betty Christian hit for 11 points on five of 12 field goal attempts. Many being crucial baskets in the second half. Mary Dummore rounded out the L.C. attack with eight.

Lenoir City was beaten on the rebounding edge of the game with Loudon gathering 27 as to 34 by the winners. Janet Leeper led the defensive corps of both teams with 13 rebounds and Vicki Morgan pulled down nine to help out for the game. Loudon's top board player was Mary Graham with nine rebounds. Gloria Brown and Helen Gentry finished with six and five retrieves respectively. The big difference of the game came on the 43 percent shooting of Loudon City, 13 of 30 shots as to a low 29 percent by Loudon 12 of 46 field tries. Loudon stayed close for much of the second half on the overall 21 turnovers for the Pantherettes in comparison to 13 for themselves.

All three Loudon forwards hit four shots from the field with Dursley adding seven points from the foul line to give the Lassie shooting with 15 points for the night. Marilyn Smith had 10 points and Jane Shubert hit the bucket for nine counters. Loudon is still in second place of the District well in favor of the Orange and Black 28-13.

Sammie Dunlap and Eddie Liles paced the Panthers (14-0) with 25 and 20 points respectively. Loudon was led in scoring by William Canisar and Robby Blewins, with 13 and 11 points respectively.

Mich Keesler scored 12 to reach double figures for Loudon City also.

The Loudon Redskins took a giant step in quest of being seeded number one in the District Nine play the end of this month. The hard earned decision over the Panthers Friday night 64-57, gives them the best overall record among some fine basketball talent in the league.

This is being written before the Redskins hosted Harriman 14-5 at this time and Loudon City traveled to Rockwood 14-6. Both those Roane County schools and pesky Kingston will have much to say in the final listings of tournament berths.

Yancey Hampton's 71 point show in his last couple of games has given him a good chance of over taking Meigs County's Clyde Jolley for the league scoring master. These two fine shooters will have their chance of shutout before the season is over as the Redskins must travel to Meigs County in the next few weeks.

Tickets go on sale this week for the State (TSSAA) tournament, scheduled March 14-18 at Vanderbilt Memorial Gymnasium in Nashville. Orders should be mailed to Athletic Ticket Office, Vanderbilt, P.O. Box 6158, Nashville.

People interested in attending the NCAA Regional tournament at UT March 11 can pick up an order blank for tickets at the Loudon Herald office. Should Tennessee win the SEC title it not believed the Vols would be in this playdown without victories in a tournament elsewhere.

A closing note to those dedicated substitutes on teams with Mighty devout coaches may find a clue to success in what Rutgers' diminutive Mike Jones did.

Tired of bench-warming, he went to Coach Richard Lloyd and revealed: "I prayed I could become a starter, and God told me we'd lose all the big ones if I didn't start."

At the time Rutgers shot 3-5. Either because he was afraid of a thunderbolt or because he figured a change couldn't do any harm, Lloyd promoted Mike to the varsity five.

The Scarlet Knights knocked off Georgia Tech and Pittsburgh in rapid succession. Mike became a permanent starter.

Porter Trims Cherokees

Greenback failed to match the Panthers for two quarters and had the score tied at 29-29 for the halftime break. The Panthers opened the game up in the third period and Greenback could not get a full head of steam down the stretch to over take the margin of defeat.

Goodrich, Commission director, upon graduation from the Tennessee Law Enforcement Training Academy recently. Witt was given instruction in public relations and supervision. and Greenback could not get a full head of steam down the stretch to over take the margin of defeat. Joe Mainer with 15 points directed the offense for the Cherokees. Bill Kyker slammed 12 points through the hoops for double figure play. The rest of the Cherokees could not get over seven points each.

Porter had three men in double figures. The superior Porter girls were checked for much of the first half leading by a narrow 28-19 at intermission, but found the scoring range in the second half to blitz to a 54-38 victory.

Mary Hammontree and Kathy Williams banged the hoops for 17 points each in leading the Cherokees to offensive play.

L.C. Sextet Victors, 57-49

The Lenoir City Panthers rode the hot shooting performance of sophomore sensation Marietta Blackburn Wednesday to post a 57-49 victory over visiting Maryville.

Miss Blackburn rattled the hoops for 36 points in taking game honors. The Lenoir City forward has scored nearly 30 points a ball game for the season and played swap out with the District scoring lead with Meigs County's Kathy Campbell.

The Panthers scooted to a 30-21 half time margin in the afternoon clash. Maryville closed the gap to as close as five in the second half before the continual Lenoir City accuracy provided the final outcome.

Mary Ruth Dunsmore tallied 10 for the Panthers in support of Miss Blackburn's performance.

The win gave Lenoir City an 8-9 overall record as the game was a non-league meet. Maryville was led by the point shooting of Marcia Garner.

UT 'Toying' With Lights For '72

The site of the 1972 Penn State-Tennessee game is still undecided. Television has reared its beautiful, gold-plated head. ABC-TV is looking for a Sept. 9 game on national TV, but might insist that such a game in deadly heat be played at night. Or, the game could be Sept. 16, a regional TV date and could be in daytime.

The Memphis Stadium has lights. UT does not. UT officials have toyed with the idea of hurriedly installing lights for 1972, but this is only a remote possibility.

Rupp Trophy To Honor Top Cager

An annual award for the nation's outstanding basketball player, patterned after football's Heisman Trophy, was announced Friday by the newly formed Commonwealth Athletic Club. The award, to be given for the first time next spring, will be named in honor of Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp, whose teams have won more games than any college coach in the history of basketball. "We're going to call it the Adolph F. Rupp Trophy, although I suppose it will be known as the Rupp Trophy," Louisville attorney Bissell Roberts, one of the incorporators of the club, said. "We're sending out about 2000 ballots to sportswriters and sportscasters all over the country and each of them is being asked to vote for three top players," Roberts said. From these ballots, the nation's top player will be named.

Local Waste Problems On State Report

Several Loudon County cases were included in a report on industrial wastewater treatment given in testimony by a state health official last week.

Robert Hunt, regional engineer for the State Health Department, gave the recommendation at a public hearing last week on proposed stream use classifications. The classifications are being considered by the State Water Quality Control Board.

Sources of industrial wastewater and public wastewater systems in Knox, Loudon, Monroe and Blount counties, some of their problems, and recommendations of the health department were presented as testimony.

Problems listed for Loudon County included:

Wampler's Wholesale Meats - Recent data indicates there are several discharges to Hines Creek, although some treatment is provided, specific recommendations are being withheld pending an evaluation.

Southern Railway System - Lenoir Car Works - Two wastewater discharges into Blue Springs Creek only recently were brought to the attention of the water quality control division. No recommendations are being made pending an evaluation.

Eaton Corp., Lock and Hardware Division, Lenoir City - This industry should continue to improve the

$2,000 Raised Here In March Of Dimes Telerama

Loudon Counties pledged $2064.00 through the Loudon County Telerama Headquarters last weekend, County March of Dimes Chairman Peggy Clabough said this week. She said she believes Loudon Counties pledged another $1000 directly through the Telerama Headquarters. The exact amount called in there from the county will be known later. In all the Telerama raised over $70,000 in cash and pledges.

Mrs. Clabough expressed her thanks and the thanks of all children with birth defects for the pledges made during the Telerama.

The two largest contributions were made by students at Loudon and Lenoir City High Schools. The Loudon High Journalism Class challenged Lenoir City High School to raise funds during "Teen Scene" program of Loudon High on WHLU radio.

operation of its industrial wastewater treatment facilities.

Loudon - The city should enforce a sewer ordinance which controls color in the wastewater and any other adverse effects of industrial waste.

Lenoir City - The city should correct an industrial problem and enforce a sewer ordinance which controls industrial waste.

Lenoir City students raised $539.30 and the Loudon students raised $251.50.

Mrs. Clabough said although the contest was between two rival schools there were no losers because the winner is the children with birth defects the students combined to help. In thanking the students she said, "I have always maintained that the students of Loudon County are the greatest because of their interest in community projects and community service." She said it is the plans of Loudon County Chapter of the March of Dimes to set up a TAPS program in Loudon and Lenoir City high schools with a representative from each to attend a two day workshop in Atlanta concerning the work of the March of Dimes, TAPS is a Teen Action Program.

During the 19 hour local Telerama Mrs. Clabough was assisted by the Loudon Jaycees in taking pledges. They were Judy Stogner, Joyce Ridemur, Iris Alban, Sandy Elliott, Barbara Galyon and Brenda Carnes. The Loudon County Herald office was used for the Telerama headquarters in Loudon County.

Letters To The Editor

In Opposition To Tellico Project

To The Editor:

This is a letter to your so-called petitioners and to you concerning the Tellico Project.

I'm not against petitioners, be they for or against; I just think people ought to be fair and decent about it.

I read the list in your paper that people were supposed to have signed. I know some of the people did not sign it because they can't even read, much less write.

I'm sure you'll have no trouble getting 10,000 names using these tactics.

It's my strong belief that people have no business meddling in affairs of this nature if they don't take an active interest in their government.

I'm criticized by my friends for writing so many letters opposing the flooding of the Little T valley and wanton destruction of 36,000 acres of farm area that I am fast becoming a joke.

I believe we, including myself, are making a bigger deal out of this Tellico project than we should. I really don't think it's really so great.

I also believe we have placed too much importance on what other states think of us.

I don't care what they think. I think we are the luckiest people in the world to have what we have—beautiful climate, green hills, plenty of trees, green land, plenty of WATER, just to name a few. God really has blessed us in this way because He knows we really do appreciate it. Don't we?

I don't believe it's that important about how much money we have, or how great our cities are in terms of the human point of view. What now, they are very important for the balance of trade with foreign countries.

When four of the seventeen (17) dairies being destroyed by Little T Dam were producing enough milk to purchase all the electricity this project will produce and there are hundreds of miles of TVA lake frontage in depressed areas for model cities and industrial sites.

Why destroy the best land left for intensive farming in East Tenn. (see Rose Island). This land farmed like hundreds of Monroe and Loudon County farmers operate will produce many millions of dollars each year. All this money from farms will be spent of banked in the immediate area. (Funny thing how many new banks in this depressed area). Lets build up our local cities, back our farmers, help our state and Federal Government to make the Little T Valley to be a show place, not a pond.

I prophesy that within this century many dams will be drained to raise food for the nations children. Electricity will be generated by atomic breeder reactors.

Dear Editor, I believe we, including myself, are making a bigger deal out of this Tellico project than we should. I really don't think it's really so great.

I also believe we have placed too much importance on what other states think of us.

I don't care what they think. I think we are the luckiest people in the world to have what we have—beautiful climate, green hills, plenty of trees, green land, plenty of WATER, just to name a few. God really has blessed us in this way because He knows we really do appreciate it. Don't we?

I don't believe it's that important about how much money we have, or how great our cities are in terms of the human point of view. What really matters is what God thinks of us and what we think of Him. From now on, I am going to be more appreciative of our state than before. If you do the same. Right? B.S. Goodrick.

Dear Mr. Cate: It is a mystery to me why some people have moved into Loudon County since they seem to think that it is such a depressed area. It seems that some of the very people who have moved here are the ones who start running down the county and start trying to change the area by calling it progress.

I wonder if they have already "reformed" the area they left, or if the people of that area did not like their type of reformation. I do not mean to imply that all newcomers are trouble makers and reformers because most of the people who have moved to this area have contributed to the area greatly and will continue to be an asset to their community.

However, I do not hear of this type of people running down the area and trying to change it the minute they move here in the name of progress. I am all for progress and change if it is progress, but not all change is progress. I wonder how many of you read "Don Whitehead reports on Growth-Wondering if it's always Good" in the Knoxville News Sentinel on January 23, 1972. It is a very good article and I suggest that you, Mr. Cate, and your type of newcomers read it and maybe learn from it. If you want a copy of it, I shall be happy to send it to you.

In your editorial last week, in regard to the Tellico Project you stated "The Anti-campaign is backed by big money and big names, but a drive that has the grassroots support of the people, the working man, the housewife and the students is the one which generally gets next to the man who depends on votes."

The thing that surprises me most about your statement is your reference to the grassroots. How closer could you get to the grassroots than from the people who own this affected property? This is the case of many who are fighting this project. Believe me, if any of your property or property of many like you were affected, then it would be quite a different story. People talk quite differently when a project is affecting any of their property. It is quite alright for them to indignate and promote projects when it involves the taking and using of other people's lands. And, another thing, I think you, Mr. Cate, and many others like you, will be surprised at the many people besides farmers who are against this project—especially the number of housewives and students. You know, the students of today are highly enlightened on many issues and I have talked with many who have seen the light on this project. They are highly disturbed by TVA's condemning so much land and using it for this unnecessary project. They realize that since TVA's predictions did not come true for industrial and economical growth for their other areas, it is logical to assume that it will likewise be the same on this project.

So, please, think back to what made you move to Loudon County in the first place. You must have liked it or you wouldn't have moved. If we need more industry, I am certain there are many acres of suitable industrial land available in Loudon County without having to build one more dam to obtain it.

And, another thing, Mr. Cate, you wonder why a recent industry decided not to come to our area. I wonder if maybe our county paper with some of its editorials and our county judge's opinionated columns might have caused this industry to look elsewhere to locate.

Yours truly, Sarah H. McClatchey, Loudon

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Cate:

Enclosed is an article by Don Whitehead which appeared in Sunday's News-Sentinel. I hope you will print it as every county and city and Chamber of Commerce official can read it. Thank you.

Sincerely, Sam Harrison, M.D.

Editor's Note: The following are from the article written by Don Whitehead, writer for the Knoxville News-Sentinel.

You probably have heard the story about the man explaining that his home town's population hadn't changed in half a century because there wasn't any more room, somebody had to leave town. Well, the time of a "net" got changed in such a fast pace when you come to think about it. If you see me make a fetish of growth, just for growth's sake, you might not be the answer to making a town a better place which is free or to making any progress.

I have often thought that a thing expanded without thought that growing might be the most interesting place in which to live. The energy used to build a "better tomorrow" could be channeled into creating a "better today."

Uncontrolled growth can produce a rapid change in a town's spirit, appearance and even its values. Normal growth can be handled without strain at all.

Editor's Note: The following are from the article written by Don Whitehead, writer for the Knoxville News-Sentinel. You probably have heard the story about the man explaining that his home town's population hadn't changed in half a century because there wasn't any more room, somebody had to leave town. Well, the time of a "net" got changed in such a fast pace when you come to think about it. If you see me make a fetish of growth, just for growth's sake, you might not be the answer to making a town a better place which is free or to making any progress.

home buyers that nothing would be really real, to get on the number of people who could live in my town. When a baby was born, nobody would have to be born. When somebody died, we would not have a replacement move in to fill the vacancy.

No business would be permitted to expand without thought that expansion was necessary to survive. To want people to return to the community 50 years in the future and be able to say, "Why, I remember that place, it was a fine town." We would know from year to year the amount of money needed for improvements and services. A citizens' committee would be set up to study, contract and expand, and it would be certain no one was gouging or cheating at the community's expense.

WOULDN'T SEEK INDUSTRY? We wouldn't beat the bushes for any kind of industry that demanded special tax consideration. We would let industries come to us and beg to get into our community. They would have to show cause why they would be in our town. If they didn't want to accept our terms, then they could go elsewhere to look for a bargain.

One of the greatest things I've had in several years came not long ago when we were visiting in Central Kentucky. One of my long-time friends had just been elected to head the Chamber of Commerce in a fairly large community. And we met one of the top city planners in the country. He said that the city was growing. That it was one of the fastest growing in the country.

I said to my friend, "What success are you having in bringing industry to your town?" He said, "I naturally assumed that in my new town there would be a lot of new industries and rapid growth. But he threw me for a 10-yard look when I said, 'The biggest asset in the promotion of expansion right now, I don't think we can take care of it. We have too many people and tax increases. Before we go on to looking for new industries, we want to be sure we can handle such problems as sewerage, water, pollution, and what goes with sudden growth.'"

TREND OF THE FUTURE? I realized I had been thinking of growth in a both ways. Growth is good. Growth is the American way. But when I stopped to consider my friend's viewpoint, I saw that he had a good point. I think he might have been years ahead of his time in favoring a period of "lean growth."

Down the line, the state of Florida itself is beginning to take a longer look at the quality of growth and the problems it poses. Growth is not entirely the blessing it once seemed to be.

Dear Editor, For the past few weeks the Tennessee Highway Patrol has been using the 45 mile per hour speed zone on U.S. 11 in Philadelphia as a speed trap.

The troopers set their trap with a radar car and patrol car. Last Friday night I counted 16 motorists that were caught in this speed trap. 11 of them were driving cars. Sometimes these cars would be behind large trucks. Why didn't the patrolmen stop the trucks? They had to be going as fast as the cars.

I am all for highway safety and enforcement of speed laws, because this enforcement is designed to cut down on the loss of lives and injuries suffered in accidents. What I do not like is a speed zone being constantly used as a speed trap, especially when all violators are not prosecuted. Philadelphia is my home and is a community that has been making strides in areas to benefit its residents. We don't want the highway patrol to give us a reputation as a speed trap.

DAR Sponsors History Month Theme Event

Members of the American History Classes of Loudon High School are participating in American History Month sponsored by the Hiwassee Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. During February, articles will be printed about some of our great Americans written by students from these classes. This week's article was written by Valerie Davis, a junior at Loudon High School.

AMERICA'S GREATEST AMERICAN

Andrew Jackson, our seventh president, served two terms in the highest office we have ever known as an American citizen. Even though he was challenged many times while in office, he stood firmly on what he believed to be right. The opinions of others never swayed him.

If it doesn't shrink on their backs, why should it shrink on yours.

Animals wear leather all their lives. And they don't worry about rain or dirt or cracking or hardening. But as soon as they lose their hides, that's when the trouble can start. Without protection, baseballs can shrivel up, mini-skirts become micro-skirts, size 9 shoes become size 8. Union Carbide got together with the tanners to save a little bit of the world from shrinking. We took a little known chemical called Glutaraldehyde and refined it and designed it so it could be added to the tanning process. To give you a leather that resists hardening. A leather that resists cracking. A leather that doesn't shrink at the sight of water. We're out to save your hide.

I., Philadelphia, supports operations of the AFSC Command, Development and Test Center which directs the Air Force non-nuclear munitions program.', 'He and command personnel were commended by Dr. Robert C. Seamans, Jr. for their part in the great achievement of a space reconnaissance mission in defense and electronics during the past decade. Dr. Seamans stated that future U.S. progress would unquestionably depend on the research and development efforts of AFSC, which manages the acquisition of Air Force aerospace systems.'

Career Development Education Planned

Dr. William G. Oakes, Executive Director of Little Tennessee Valley Educational Cooperative (LTVEC), today announced that assistance from other area agencies will enable LTVEC to submit proposals to the Federal government for a grant to finance planning of career development and environmental education programs.

Oakes credited East Tennessee Development District, Clinch-Powell Educational Cooperative, and Tennessee-Appalachia Educational Cooperative for their assistance in formulating the proposals.

TVA Chairman Aubrey Wagner had invited LTVEC staff members to meet with TVA personnel to discuss the feasibility of establishing an environmental research center in the proposed Timberlake area.

"Through this facility," Dr. Oakes said, "TVA can make a significant contribution to integrating environmental education with all subject areas normally taught in the public education system."

In discussing the two patterns of education, Oakes defined Career Education as that dealing with "the world of work," and Environmental Education as that concerned with "the world of man as a part of nature." As the delicate balance in ecology is defined, it will become a part of the new standard curriculum in public education. Career education will be available to all from kindergarten through high school and beyond, and environmental education will teach man how he can incorporate his life with conservation of natural resources.

The new pattern of education will require innovative concepts of testing his talents and abilities. It will enable more meaningful educational choices to be made in the middle years of education.

Dr. Oakes also said that the new concepts would require more vocational education programs for the tri-counties, especially courses of skill and refinement at the high school post-graduate level.

"Thus, we look forward to making the quality of life and the quality of education more meaningful for area residents; through combination of career education, environmental education, and the resources of an educational park," Oakes also said that the program will require commitment on the part of area residents, as well as their willingness to contribute advice and suggestions for implementing the programs. Readers may participate by writing Charrette Forum, P.O. Box C, Greenback, Tennessee 37743.

Valentine Banquet Set

Rev. Billy Joe McCown, pastor of Unity Baptist Church of Maryville, will be guest speaker at a Valentine Banquet at the First Baptist Church of Philadelphia. The banquet will be held in the Fellowship Hall, February 12 at 7 p.m.

Emmett Carter will be Master of Ceremonies. Also on the program will be Miss Carol Fisher, Folk Singer and Band Director at Eagleton High School and Assistant Band Director at Everett High School of Maryville. There will be a crowning of a King and Queen by the Pastor, Rev. Dillard Hagan.

Our readers tell us that as a normal thing, they first look at the pictures we have and then read what we have to say about them. This being the case, you are possibly wondering why we are using a picture of a couple which is not very old. Well, there's a good reason and we will explain. The couple in this picture is Mr. and Mrs. Walker Cannon of Sweetwater, who are past residents of our area. Mr. and Mrs. Cannon celebrated their 56th wedding anniversary on the 27th of January. Their daughter, Mrs. George Lane, Route 4, Loudon, sent this picture along with some very interesting things about their courtship in the Good Old Days. Normally, we don't use this type of thing in the Good Old Days, but thought that the old time courtship of this couple would be interesting to our readers. These folks are ardent fans of the Good Old Days column, and would appreciate this type of recognition rather than some other way. The Cannon's were married near Morristown, 1916, which was leap year. Mr. Cannon courted Mrs. Cannon, the former Mary Bell Smith, of White Pine, Tenn. Their courtship lasted for three years during which time Mr. Cannon traveled eight miles by horseback or buggy to see Mrs. Cannon. One time the trip was made in severe cold weather and he had to get off his horse and walk to keep from freezing. The Cannon's have five children, W.L. of Sweetwater, Mrs. Howard Bellis and Mrs. George Lane, Loudon, Mrs. Cecil Wallace of Harriman and Mrs. Ralph Alexander of Maryville. The Cannon's have seventeen grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. According to Mrs. Lane, her mother and father are both still very active, with Mrs. Cannon working in her yard and flowers during the summer. The Cannon lawn is one which attracts the passerby's attention because of its neatness and care. We are sure many of the Cannon's friends will want to call and express their wishes for many more years of happiness for this couple. The Good Old Days extends its congratulations. Sometimes people will loan us pictures for us in the Good Old Days and request that we

WHO IS B.S. GOODRICK?????

For about two months now we have had a letter to the editor almost each week from someone named B.S. Goodrick in opposition to the Tellico project. Although we don't know everyone around here, we do know most familiar names. Mr. Goodrick is a mystery though.

His letters always contain some philosophy and generally mentions God or some reference to the bible. The letters are all postmarked Loudon, but contain no return address.

As far as we can find out Mr. Goodrick received no mail through the Loudon Post Office and has no utilities in the Loudon Utility system. We invite Mr. Goodrick in because we would like to meet him and find out if there is such a person. If there is not, someone should be ashamed for not having enough conviction in their belief in the opposition to the Tellico Project or their belief in the Bible to give their true name.

HUD Changes To Slow Loudon Urban Renewal

Loudon City Administrator Gary Hensley said this week that the city's proposed urban renewal project in the area of Loudon County Memorial Hospital has suffered a setback due to changes in the federal program.

Hensley met with officials of the Housing Urban Development Agency last week and learned that the "conventional" plan submitted by the city is not acceptable under new federal guidelines and a new application for property improvement should not be submitted. This could delay the program from nine to 18 months he said.

The city had hoped to begin buying property in the area of the hospital this year for the urban renewal program.

Under the new guidelines a Project Evaluation Study must be made and new application filed. Hensley said this work must be done by a consultant and would take time to prepare. He said he hopes that the city can begin purchasing property for the urban renewal project no later than mid 1973.

Mr. Hensley said that residents of the area around the hospital that have any plans for property improvement should not be alarmed about the potential project because the project boundaries have not been established and with the project size being cut down by the new program the entire idea is still indefinite.

Road Commissioner Wins Road Funds Lawsuit

Chancellor James O. Phillips last Friday overruled a motion to dismiss a lawsuit brought by Third District Road Commissioner Joe Greenway against an effort by County Court to re-distribute road funds within the county.

The suit sought to stop a proposed reapportionment on a basis of 14 percent for the Third District, 46 percent for the Second and Fifth Districts and 40 percent for the First and Fourth.

The traditional distribution for several years has been 20, 40, and 40 percent.

Mr. Greenway's suit contended that only the Road Commissioners have authority over the funds, which come from the State Gasoline Tax. His attorneys, Arthur Fowler and John Gibson, said County Court had no authority over the funds, since it does not involve appropriation of county tax money.

The County Court, represented by Atty. C. Howard Boseman of Knoxville, entered a motion to dismiss the lawsuit.

But Chancellor Phillips agreed with Mr. Greenway. He overruled the motion to dismiss and ordered the cause to be set for hearing.

ONE DEAD - EIGHT INURED IN FIERY WRECK—The three cars that were involved in a fiery, grinding collision on Highway 72 in Loudon County near the Roane County line early Sunday morning are shown here. The car in the top photo first collided with the station wagon (shown below) then skidded into woods 200 feet away, burst into flames and burning the driver to death. The other car, shown below, then collided with the station wagon, seconds after it was hit by the first car. In all one died and eight others were hurt in the accident.

Man Burns To Death In Fiery 3 Car Wreck

A young Erie man was killed and eight other persons were injured in a fiery three car accident on Highway 72 in Loudon County near the Roane County line at 12:24 a.m. Sunday. The dead man was identified as Billy Williams, 18, of Erie.

Tennessee Highway Patrolman George Pierce said that from what persons involved in the accident said the car driven by Williams, heading toward Kingston, turned sideways on the two lane highway and struck a station wagon carrying the family of William Frank Ward of Loudon City. The Williams car then skidded about 200 feet up the highway, plunged into woods beside the road and exploded. Williams burned to death in the twisted wreckage. A passenger in the car, James Thomas (Tommy) Tinnell, 18, of Erie was thrown out of the wreckage and injured.

Just after the Williams car bounced off the Ward station wagon a third car, driven by Danny Weaver, 23, of Erie collided head-on with the Ward car.

In the Ward car, both Mr. and Mrs. Ward were injured and taken to Fort Sanders Hospital after being treated at Loudon County Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Ward had compound fractures of the ankle and other injuries. She is in serious condition. Mr. Ward suffered injuries and was reported in fair condition. One of the three Ward children, Anita, 11, is in fair condition at the Loudon hospital with a broken arm, broken, and possible skull fracture. Two other children were treated for bruises and cuts, then released.

The passenger in the Williams car was admitted to Sweetwater Hospital with head injuries. Driver of the third car, Weaver, was also admitted to Sweetwater Hospital with chest injuries and cuts.

The dead man is survived by his wife, Betty Johnson Williams, parents, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Williams, all of Erie; sisters, Mrs. Ronnie Sharp, Loudon; Mrs. Gary Patterson, Erie; grandmother, Mrs. Eliza Beeler, Sharps Chapel; two nieces and ten nephews.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at Salem Baptist Church with Rev. Robert Ivay officiating. Burial was in Paint Rock Cemetery.

20 Republicans Announce For Primary, Elect Officers

Several surprise announcements were made Saturday at the Loudon County Republican Party Convention by persons seeking the party's nomination for county offices in the August General Election. It was also decided to hold the local primary, where Republican nominees are selected, on the same date as the State Republican Presidential Primary. That primary is now scheduled for early May but may be moved back to mid-April.

As predicted last week incumbent Sheriff Freeman Russell, who announced for the nomination seeking a third term, is being challenged by his former Chief Deputy Fred Sheppard who now manages Loudon Texaco Service Station. Emmett Gray, incumbent Property Assessor, announced for re-nomination for a second four year term.

Several Republicans, including several new faces, announced that they were seeking nominations to the county court. From the first and fourth court districts, Lloyd Luckworth is seeking a court position for the first time. Philadelphia Mayor Roy Blodsoe, the only Republican from the district on the court, did not announce for re-election at the meeting. The first and fourth districts has three seats on the nine member court.

From the second district, which has five members, only one of which is presently a Republican, saw three announcements for nomination Saturday. The incumbent I.D. Hudson and newcomers, Jack Henry and John Maas, both Loudon City businessmen. Third District Squire J.G. Hudson and fifth district court member R.P. Hamilton announced for re-election through the primary.

Two races have been announced for nomination in the three Road Commission slots. Second and fifth district Commissioner Lee Malone is being challenged by Clarence Brackett. Third district Commissioner Joe Greenway is to face former commissioner Howard Brooks. First and fourth district Commissioner Lillard Bledsoe is unopposed at this point.

Four persons announced for the two Constable posts in the first district. They are O'Dell Justice and Floyd McCollier, incumbents being challenged by Dewey Russell and Bill Sowards.

Third district constable Raymond Rogers is seeking reelection and Ray Hook is seeking the fifth district post. Convention by persons seeking Lester Williams is not going to seek re-election. There were no announcements from the second and fourth districts.

Candidates in the Republican primary have until 30 days prior to the election to announce and qualify for the nominating election.

Harry Wampler, chairman of the GOP Executive Committee since 1963 was re-lected for a two year term. Other officers elected by the 125 Republicans at the meeting were Edwin Arnold, vice chairman, Broady Harrison, secretary, and John O. Gibson treasurer.

Some 161 persons were named to the County Executive Committee of the party.

Elected as members of the Primary Election Commission were Joe Watkins, Glenn Lotrel, Neal Messler, Ralph Hamilton and Leonard Liles.

Barring any evidence to the contrary Loudon County Coroner Dr. W.B. Harrison who examined the body at Loudon County Memorial Hospital about an hour after the fire said it appeared the man died of suffocation and then was burned. The car was badly damaged by fire from the front of the vehicle back through the passenger compartment.

The family reported that Gunter, who was a school bus driver in Roane County, left home Friday night to visit a friend, but a check there indicated he did not arrive there. Sheriff Russell said the ignition switch in the car was on and the gear selector was in neutral.

Piano Notes

Most People expect the piano to be the authority when it comes to pitch. Suiters and other instruments are tuned to the piano. However, if it has been six months since your piano was tuned or if there has been a change in the season, it is probably a pretty poor authority. Regularly tune the key to keeping your piano sounding its best all the time. May I put your piano on my schedule? Oscar Kirkland, 458-3786.

National Music Opens In Athens

National Musical Instrument Rentals, Inc. has chosen Athens as one of its branch offices of the Southeastern section of the United States. They have named Dr. Ronald Manley, formerly affiliated with Tennessee Wesleyan College, as manager of the Athens office which will serve the entire Southeast. The company was founded prior to the second World War and through the years has chosen individuals, public schools, colleges and universities throughout the northeastern part of the United States in rentals, sales and services of musical instruments and accessories. As a result of the large business volume in rentals and sales, National has been able to establish business relations with the majority of brand-name band and orchestral instrument manufacturers both in the United States and abroad. Musical instruments are available through one of three plans, the "straight" rental, the rental-purchase (trial-purchase), or the "straight" sale. This move has brought about the establishment of the Athens office. Dr. Manley is widely-known in this area having been former chairman of the department of music, speech and theater at Tennessee Wesleyan College. He said today was pleased to be able to serve this area in his new capacity.

Redskins Stop Stubborn Jackets

Loudon's district leading Redskins used a strong third quarter to get away from speck Kingston Tuesday night, but spent a hectic last period to lead. The Redskins won the battle, 60-56, using late baskets by David Birkholz and Mike Messamore to ice the decision.

Loudon girls, behind a classy 27 point performance by Lynn Dorsey, eased by Kingston girls 46-41 after the home B team had slapped the Little Redskins 40-23.

Ray Simmons, as is often the case when Kingston and Loudon do battle, was the big gun. The wiry Simmons fired through 24 points and got four field goals in the third period when Loudon got its best lead. His rebounding on the off-ensive band was vital.

The Redskins went into the final period with a 7 point (48-42) lead and then Kingston, a perennial power in the district for several years but having its troubles this year, came on like gangbusters.

Midway the final period Kingston closed the gap to a single point (50-51) when Richard Cantrell hit a fall-away jumper over the outstretched arms of Simpson. Messamore then connected with a one-hand push from 15-feet to put the visitors on top 53-50, but Kingston's sophomore reserve pivot Buddy Poston, leaped high to put one in from up close to cut it back to one. Then Simmons connected and the Jackets' James Harrison and Loudon's Messamore traded missed charity shots.

With 1:11 left in the game Richard Bailey, who sat out about half the game in foul trouble, hit a pair from the line and the count was 56-54, Loudon. That's when Birkholz hit to all but ice the victory. The game had been rather close throughout, although Loudon held leads of 6 points in the first period, and 7 in the third. Kingston led only at 1-0, and 26-24 late in the second period. The Jackets had the score knotted several times in the game, including the 30-30 count at halftime.

Kingston's most unimpressive rushes were in the second period, but early in the fourth. A technical foul following a personal helped the Jackets catch up in the second period. Three straight charity shots on the calls, put Kingston, even for the first time since 4-4, at 21-21.

The technical was on the bench for a protested call. Late in the ball game there was confusion when the Loudon keeper of the scorebook informed Coach Hugh Watson the officials had the wrong man shooting a foul shot. However, the official's decision was correct and Bailey hit two to cut the gap to two points. Simmons had been charged with a foul when he tried to rebound a missed foul shot by a teammate, and the star skin player informed his coach that it indeed was Bailey he had fouled.

High scoring Yancy Hampton, the Loudon star who has been ill, did not start but entered the fray midway the first period. He played the rest of the game and ended with 19.

Hampton has found Kingston difficult. He got 7 points in a four point loss to the Jackets at Loudon earlier in the season. Eugene Martin and Bailey led Kingston with 13 points each, the only double-figure scorers for the losers. They were followed by Cantrell (9), Harrison (6), Eddie Snow (5), Keith Harvey (7), Poston (2), and Bobby Jagers (1).

Other Loudon scorers, behind Simmons and Hampton, were Birkholz (9), Messamore (8), Dale Amburn (4) and Bill Collins (2). R.L. Branham played but did not score. Messamore got 5 of his 8 points in the hectic fourth period.

The victory put Loudon at 18-5 and dropped Kingston to 11-14.

In the girls game it remained close most of the route after Kingston took a 7-5 lead on the last shot of the first period.

Mariya Smith led the game for Loudon, hitting with 48 seconds left to put the Lady Redskins in front 44-37.

Loudon held a 23-19 halftime lead and went into the final set leading 34-31. Miss Smith had 12 points and Jane Shubert 6 to join Miss Dorsey in the scoring.

Kingston had balanced scoring. Clara Gallaher and Debbie Alexander leading with 12 each, while Pat Bell had 11 and Debbie Adcox 8.

It was rebounding like this by Loudon's Ray Simmons that turned back a determined effort by Kingston Tuesday night. Simmons was a terror on his team's defensive half, and contributed 24 points to the victory. Here he pulls down a rebound over Kingston's sophomore forward, James Harrison.

Coonhunters Elect Calvin Wilson

Calvin Wilson, president, invites all hunters to attend these hunts.

Harriman Decks Lenoir City, 58-51

Lenoir City, with just one district game left on the schedule, finds itself with the same number of losses as opponent Lenoir City going into Tuesday night play. Both teams have lost five times in district play.

Lenoir City, led the league for over a month of play but has dropped its last three games in a row and is now struggling for a fourth place seeding in the tournament the last of the month. Kingston, while equal in defeats, must play Loudon and Harriman and record victories in each game to rate a possible coin flip for the seeded berth. A possibility not likely to come true, thus giving the Panthers a free berth.

Harriman caught the Panthers Friday night 58-51. The win was Coach Richard Fickell's 100th win. The former Lenoir City player and star guard on the Panthers 1958 State Championship team, is in his first year at the helm of the Blue Devils. He coached six years at Oliver Springs.

The Panther's broke on top only to trail by 11-10 after eight minutes. Harriman slipped to a 24-18 halftime difference. Lenoir City caught up to knot the count early in the third quarter of play but the Harriman strength on the boards and a torrid shooting exhibition gave them a decisive edge in the third period (42-16). Lenoir City tried to fight back but the Blue Devils worked doubly hard in protecting its margin of victory down the stretch.

Tim Cunningham canned 16 points to keep the Panthers close. Ed Shipley flipped 11 points through the nets to complement the shooting of Cunningham. Randy Tatham and Mike Hooks had nine points each for the Lenoir City quintet.

The Pantherettes kept their hopes of being seeded alive with a 91-83 decision over the Harriman Devilsites. The Pantherettes had an uphill game for over three quarters and never really pulled away.

Wrestling Set In Loudon On Feb. 19

Live wrestling will return to Loudon on Feb. 19. The wrestling matches are sponsored by the Loudon High Band Boosters and the Athletic Association.

Matches here last week drew more than 1700 fans. Details of the matches will be published next week.

until the final moments of the final period. Harriman's defense proved the test of the game and held the reason for Lenoir City being unable to open the point gap until late. Harriman was actually on top at one point of the game and trailed by a field goal at the half.

High scoring Marietta Blackburn collected a modest 23 points in leading the Pantherettes to their 11th win of the season. Miss Blackburn has been scoring at a 29.6 clip in recent weeks. Mary Ruth Dunsmore fired in 17 points and Betty Christman added 11 to give the Lenoir City girls an equal scoring distribution.

Panthers Split At Crossville

Tim Cunningham poured in 19 points and pulled down 13 rebounds in leading the Panthers to a 63-47 victory over the Crossville Jets on the Cumberland County Court Tuesday night. Randy Tatham added 14 points and 10 rebounds.

Meanwhile, the Panther defense was handcupping the Jet shooters, who finished the night with only 14 goals on 38 attempts.

Gary Brackett had a hot streak in the third period, and the Panthers were out from 46-23 heading into the final period.

Tom Smallen used every man who made the trip during the final period, and Crossville cut the gap by outscoring the Panthers, 34-17, in that final quarter, thanks to 16 free throws.

The Pantherettes took an early lead and appeared capable of upsetting the favored Crossville girls, but faltered to trail, 18-12 at the first rest stop.

It was 39-26 at intermission, and a big third quarter allowed the Jets to get into the fourth quarter with a 36-34 advantage. Lenoir City called in the final quarter, but the

Panther Comeback Trims Dynamos 71-69

The Lenoir City boys' team turned in their best performance of the season Saturday night in nipping Chattanooga City 71-69.

Coach Willie Joe Smalley was all smiles after the prestigious win over the Chattanooga team coached by ex head mentor of Riverside, Dorsey Sims. The Dynamos are now 12-10 on the season, but plays one of the most rugged high school basketball schedules of any team in the state and to support a winning record is an achievement in itself.

The win was not an easy one for the Panthers and may have prevented the bonding element in what Coach

Smalley hopes to be the key in regaining his team's top form for the league playdowns starting February 25.

The Dynamos gave the indication of a much superior group with their air and outside bombing of the hoop. Chattanooga was fluent in riding a 24-11 first quarter lead. Lenoir City trailing by 12 points at one stage of the second period rallied behind the hustle of Ed Shipley and the shooting of Tim Cunningham to pull within seven at the half 41-34.

Plagued by first half fouls, Coach Smalley used his bench with-out hesitation and used 11 different players in the first 16 minutes of play. Coach Sims, who has always substituted freely, used 12 of his 14 varsity performers in the first two periods in running up a seven point difference.

Lenoir City was like hungry animals in attacking the Dynamos defense and left no stray shot hanging on the boards as all five Panthers on the floor crashed the backboards.

The inspired play had the Panthers down by one at 32-31 starting play in the final count. The tense game of two proud basketballs began to take its toll on the players as Mike Hooks bowed out with five fouls to start the fourth period. David Hartman, 6'8" Chattanooga Center also left before the end of the game due to fouls.

Lenoir City passed the fourth quarter heroics, that was to see them edge out a 71-69 victory, from player to player as the ball came past the halfcourt line time after time.

Randy Tatham, starting for the first time in many weeks, hit four straight baskets from the baseline. The Dynamos responded with long range aerials that swamped the lead five times during the final eight minutes.

The Chattanooga defense overplayed Tatham and the Lenoir City team got two straight buckets from Dwight Chalk.

Tim Cunningham slipped under for a crisp shot and Ed Shipley bagged a 20 foot shot.

The game came rushing down to a 67-67 tie with a stray Dynamo shot up for grabs. Spunky Charlie Dye, the smallest player on the floor at the time, somehow came out of a human forest of backboard giants with the ball and was fouled. Dye missed the foul shot but Tatham rained the ball through the hoop and was fouled to produce the Lenoir City quintet with a four point lead and 10 seconds left in the game.

The Lenoir City victory was nothing shy of a tremendous

Tim Cunningham led the scoring parade of tired, happy Panthers with 18 points. Tim pulled down eight rebounds, had nine points.

Chattanooga City had four players in double figures. The Dynamo are 12 and 10 on the season after the loss.

Lenoir City ran its record to 13-8.

There was no girl's game or "B" contest.

SPECIAL TREATMENT—Chattanooga City provided a rarity of sorts Saturday night turning in with girl managers for the team. Regarded as "towel girls", the guys get the treatment during a rest stop with a cold drink of water and toweling off before returning back to the hoop battle. By DANNY GIBSON

The Loudon County Herald was informed last week that the Greenback Cherokees will not play in the District V format planned for "S" (small) schools in the new "S" and "L" division play next year. The Cherokees were supposed to play in a league with Midway, Meigs County, Tellico Plains, Sweetwater, Madisonville, Vonore, Polk County, Tennessee Military Institute and others of this area and size schools. The Cherokees appealed the decision and have been granted a move to the "S" district of Walland, Porter, Townsend, Gatlinburg Pigeon, Seymour, and schools of the Blount County, Sevier County, and area schools close to their geographic location.

Rockwood sought to appeal their enrollment classification from a "L" school to a "S" division title but the TSSAA refused to grant such a proposal, despite the Tigers having only a few students over the 551 level, or at least they must play this way for a year before further discussion of the issue.

Flu is steadily taking its toll of the students, parents, and working force of people. The BUG has slowed the performance of many of the area basketball teams.

Yancy Hampton has had to miss a game and several practice sessions with the ill effect produced by the flu. Dale Amburn was a doubtful starter for the Kingston game.

Randy Tatham of Lenoir City has been weeks getting into playing form after being sick for a while.

The coaches are all running scared for their teams' members and themselves.

Tournaments are just around the corner (25th) and teams with impressive season marks could become babs of the court with some key figures too weak to go on the side lines.

The District Tournaments may be doomed for a snaky week of action. Winter appears to have finally made known its presence and with it the Flu Bug has gotten a reinforced help in cutting down the speed of many of the teams who like to get the ball and seat down the floor.

Chattanooga City may have the answer to inspired basketball play. The Dynamos have towel girls rather than managers. Four pretty young misses provide the hard playing members of the team with a wipe of a towel to rid the sweat from their brow. A water bottle is hurriedly passed about to refresh the fellows and just as quick the team returns to the floor for a brisk just with the opposition.

In commenting on the idea, I called the attention to Lenoir City baseball coach and basketball score keeper John Brannon. Coach Brannon said in a very stable voice, "I need several of them for my ball team. I asked the coach if he thought it would cause his ball team to play a better brand of baseball. Coach Brannon said, "I am not thinking of my ball team I am thinking of how nice it would be for the coach."

Coach Dorsey Sims hand picks his towel girls I am told. The Ex Riverside boss had the effect of towel girls while coaching at the state ranked Trojan school. Coach Sims' teams were in four state tournaments while using towel girls and not managers. His team were State Champs twice in those four years.

So girls here is your chance to make that dream of being on the boys' basketball or baseball or how about the football squad!!

STOKELY CENTER will be the site of the TSSAA sub-state tournament March 11-the same day of the NCAA Midwest Regional preliminary round. The NCAA games will be in the afternoon, however, and the high schoolers will play at night. Sam Venable Sr., who'll direct both events, sees no difficulty in holding both. Earlier the same week, UT will be host to the Region 4 high school tournament. Kentucky plays Tennessee here Thursday, March 9, making it a big, and full, week for Stokely Center.

NBC-TV will televise two Saturday afternoon NCAA games March 11, at 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. NBC also will have two games on television March 18, one game March 23 and the consolation and championship games March 25, in the NCAA championship playoff series. WATE-TV, channel 6, will have the NCAA games here.

The people of our town are proud of their churches. This is something that has existed as long as our town has been in existence. The early history of the town is closely connected to church life and through the Good Old Days into the present. Our thoughts along this line was motivated by a picture we have this week. It is a church group and church groups always create a lot of interest with our readers. We are grateful to those who loan us these old pictures.

This picture was made in front of the First Baptist Church. The exact year we are not sure of, but our thanks for the use of this picture goes to Fannie Johns, Louise Purdy Altum, Joe White, Frank Simpson, Mrs. I. L. Miller, Mrs. Hobart Miller, Homer Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. John Goodman, Thelma Furrow, John B. Grubb, Jean Miller, Isabelle Haskins Purdy, Billy Lawson, Margaret Lawson, James Christian, Lawrence Williams, Rose Mays, Sidney Mays, Mrs. Osborne, Kenneth Delapp, John Harvey Miller, Mrs. Charlie Williams, Bill Wallace, Margaret Grimes, Marie Limburg, Gerald Miller, Ruth Parks, Jessie Margaret Hickey, Nell Hodge Griffin, Jim Thomas, Jr., Helen Thomas, Pauline Haskins, Helen Thompson, Estelle Bivens, James Goodman, Jr., Alma Chasney, Mary Vine Limburg, Mildred Galyon, Garcia Miller, Charles (Lindy) Limburg, Grover McCarty, Maude Robinson, Annie Lee White, Alonzo Banks, Tootsie Miller, Gwendlyn Maples, Edna Shubert, Hazel Shubert Grimes, Gay Lomax, and Ruth Peters.

We believe this is fairly complete. Many in the picture are now deceased. In some cases we added the married name of the ladies as the identification was made to us. If you are in this picture and living out of Loudon we would like to hear from you. Our many thanks to those who helped to identify those in the picture.

Possibly one of the most interesting, attention provoking and expensive hobbies is the restoration of vintage automobiles. It also takes a lot of work. Here, sometime ago we mentioned the interest automobile pictures created among our readers. Well, this week we are using a picture of an old automobile which has been restored. The car is a 1939 Chevrolet two door sedan. A car like this which has been restored has a high value. This car in the picture has a listed price in the antique car book of $1,850. This car was bought by Ed Goble several years ago for $200. He has restored it in his spare time. He was aided in his venture by Bruce Atchley, owner of Smoky Mountain Automobile Museum and collector of unusual and vintage cars, and by Bivens Brothers.

This old Chevy was labeled the cast iron wonder because of its cast iron engine block assembly. This car was the first to have a vacuum shift mounted on the steering column. It was also the fastest car from 0 to 60 in its day. We appreciate those old car pictures and information from Mr. Goble. We are sure he is proud of his work on this vintage car and has something that will gain in value as time goes on. Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

I have been reading the letters printed each week in your column, "Opposition to Tellico Project," and I think it's about time some of us get motivated into writing in favor of the project.

I've been more or less in the background of the project - active, but unheard. I am the culprit who types all the names from the petitions for the newspaper staff to set to type and print. According to Sharon Cartwright in last week's paper, we've really been doing some unfair and inequitable things.

She is correct, you know, some people didn't actually sign their names to the petitions. Some were signed with an "X", and a name written to the side of that "X". I presumed from that, that the persons wishing to sign the petitions couldn't write, but wished to make their opinions known. I felt they wanted their names typed and printed just as I typed and the Herald printed all the other names. I did omit the X's, however.

I don't know what name appeared so many times, but if Mrs. Cartwright will be good enough to let me know, I'll be glad to check and see if the petitions were signed several times. It's not at all impossible that I could have made an error in typing, and typed the name more than one time. The explanation could even be that one of your staff, Mr. Cate, might have printed the name more than once. Couldn't it?

As for the "young teenagers", I wonder if Mrs. Cartwright considers 17 and 18 too young to be concerned and considered. This project will certainly affect them more and for a longer period of time than it will those of us who are older. I'm of the opinion that most teenagers have sensible opinions. They can read, write, and certainly keep up with current events. I guess I'm just one of those "mod" people who aren't of the opinion that young people should know nothing about them. I can assure you that the people I asked to sign weren't held at gun-point. I can't speak for everyone working on getting these petitions signed, but we haven't had any complaints on brutality yet, and nor have we heard of anyone being forced to scroll out their names in favor of the project.

Even considering all of these reported discrepancies in our petitions, you'll have to admit that these errors only amount for a very few names. Copies of these petitions are available for those doubting their authenticity.

According to Mrs. Cartwright "People have no business meddling in affairs of this nature if they don't have an active interest in their government." If signing these petitions and supporting the Tellico Project isn't taking an active interest, I'd like to know what it is? If we didn't falsely print Mrs. Cartwright's name in favor of the project, I don't see that she should complain about the names that were printed, when the people who signed the petitions haven't complained.

Save the new Timberlake Dear Editor:

Seven years ago, the Aluminum Co. of America went into one of the most scenic mountain regions in Tennessee, and to my knowledge there was very little, if any, objection to this, and I thank God this was true, because Chilhowee Lake is so beautiful, and has given many hours of pleasure to so many people, not just the few hardy folk fishermen.

Besides providing electric power, the lake is used for fishing, swimming, boating, camping, picnicking, etc. The Tellico project will serve the same purpose when it is completed, and since the government is predicting a power shortage in the very near future, this alone should be enough reason to go ahead with the construction. The model city of Timberlake will attract thousands of tourists and as well as local people, and mean money. They are the biggest spenders in the country. Also many of these tourists will come back year after year and bring friends and relatives with them, and many of them will buy property here, either for investment or retirement homes. Many of the people who visit East Tennessee fall in love with the place and the people.

The construction of the dam and the town of Timberlake will give employment to several hundred people and hopefully it will attract some large industries. The only large industry we have in this area is the Aluminum Co. and they certainly can't supply our labor market here, they are laying people off. We shouldn't have the problems of pollution, with new industry of industry that relocates, as I'm sure they will comply with the guide lines set up by the government.

The majority of the people in East Tennessee are in favor of the Tellico project, because of its many advantages. However, it looks like the E.D.F. is going to come in here and tell us what we want and put a stop to the construction of this dam, once and for all, if we don't do something quick.

In my opinion Judge Taylor was wrong when he ordered a halt to the project. The E.D.F. act was passed after the Tellico project was started, so it should not apply here.

I certainly can't understand Governor Dunn speaking out against it. This shows he does not want what is best for East Tennessee.

I wonder how many of the people who are fighting this project have really thought it through for themselves.

What good is clean environment if we can't find a job to survive? We can't all go on welfare, and if the E.D.F. forces small businessmen out of business, which they have done already in a number of places, this will force more people on the welfare rolls. This in turn will raise taxes and we can't stand any more tax increases. The middle class American is already carrying much more than our share of the tax load.

The majority of the people in America think Southern people are stupid. If we let them pull this thing off, we will prove they are right.

The advantages far outweigh the disadvantages, in fact I can't see any disadvantage. For instance, the species of fish that are supposed to be destroyed by this project is a loach. I can't find anybody who has ever seen or

Loudon County Heart Fund Drive Needs Volunteer Workers

"There is no 'shot' to make one immune from heart or blood vessel disease," said Mrs. E.S. Pressly, chairman of the Loudon County Heart Fund Campaign, who points out that 1 in every 8 persons in the county is or will be afflicted with some form of these diseases.

The chairman today issued an appeal to Loudon County residents to volunteer to help distribute literature on Heart Sunday, February 27, on "How to Beat the Big One - Heart Attack," and to collect contributions for increased research, education, and community programs to help fight the nation's leading cause of death.

The public education drive on Heart Sunday climaxes the county-wide Heart Fund Campaign to be held during the month of February.

"I've lived in the mountains all my life and I never heard of there being no such fish as loach. The state stocks our streams with a different species of trout and they are mixing with our trout so eventually there will be no native trout; they will all be a different species."

As for the Indian burial grounds: The Indian people that these places and relics would mean very much to, are long since dead. The younger generation of Indians and all other races for that matter do not put the importance on things of the past, that our ancestors did. And this is as it should be. We should all live in the present, and look to the future. What's past is past.

As for the farmland: The government (your tax money) is paying out millions of dollars every year in subsidies to farmers to let their land lay idle. If more farm land is needed (which it's not) they can put this to use. Any way the government has already purchased the land.

If anyone knows anything we can do to get this project going again once and for all, please let us know before it's too late. I'm sure the people we are in favor of will write letters to the hearing, or do anything else we can do to get it going again.

Volunteers will call on friends and neighbors to inform them how they can reduce the risk of heart attack, how to recognize the warning signs, and what to do if heart attack should occur. "Each volunteer will be asked to give just a few hours to bring this vital message directly to the public in an all-out effort to help reduce heart attack deaths," said the chairman. "We will need most volunteers from most all areas of the county if we are to reach the majority of the people, and reach our $2,000 goal," she added. If you wish to help in this local campaign, call 458-3631 and offer your services.

Dr. Andy Holt, State Chairman for the Heart Fund, asked us to remind everyone that gifts may be made as a memorial to loved ones or friends.

Mrs. Eric Headrick

Thomas A. Edison, the Wizard of Menlo Park, gave us a head start in using electricity for the betterment of everyone. Today, we are the most efficient users of electric power of any country.

Electricity frees us from hard physical labor. Provides many comforts and conveniences in the home and where we work.

Electricity helps us to realize the benefits of the earth's resources. Increases our productive potential. Brings economic improvement and helps to create jobs.

Electricity helps us to upgrade the environment. Puts out no pollution of any kind where it is used.

Here, as Edison dreamed, electricity is for people. And, we'll do our best to keep it that way.

Some 4000 Have Signed Petitions Favoring Tellico

Between 3500 and 4000 persons have now signed petitions in Loudon County favoring the completion of construction of the Tellico Dam project. A drive to get 10,000 signatures to send to state and federal officials showing local support for the project was started three weeks ago and is growing rapidly.

Heading up the campaign in Loudon is Jim (Butch) Thompson and J. B. Collins. In Lenoir City heading the efforts are Mrs. Albert Bell and Dr. Roy Campbell.

When completed copies of the petitions will be sent to the government officials.

So, cars just fit into your family.
CHRYSLER NEWPORT ROYAL
It's true, you know. Some families just naturally fit into a car. But when a car fits into a family, that's something else.

That's Chrysler Newport Royal for 1972. It's the kind of car that gives a family what they want. It gets them where they want to go, without a lot of trouble. It's built with a deep-down commitment to quality. It's built to last. And its design offers more comfort, too. Automotive Industries reports that Chrysler has the largest interior of any '72 U.S. car.

Best of all, perhaps, Chrysler Newport Royal fits into the family budget. It's our lowest-priced Chrysler. Yet it's every inch a Chrysler. So for only a little more than a so-called low-price car, you get a lot more—Chrysler big-car room, big-car ride and big-car style. Doesn't that hit the kind of car you want? Save for yourself. Come in and try Chrysler Newport Royal.

GOODRICK MYSTERY PARTIALLY SOLVED

The mystery behind the name B. S. Goodrick has been partially solved. Last week we questioned the authenticity of the name used on several letters to the editor we received in the paper.

The newspaper had hardly hit the street last week and we received another letter postmarked "Loudon" in the Goodrick handwriting, but not signed. The letter is as follows:

"Dear Mr. Editor
"May I apologize for the fact I used the Goodrick name. Even though I used that name I was over on that paper and I believe in them wholeheartedly. Kind sir, I am not a mad but a young lady wanting to express her opinion. I made up the name because I say in your paper that you would not consider what I say for printing. Why my name instead of my own? Personal reason. I believe I was within my right to use my name. Many other writers used other names instead of their own but they give everything they have on their article, column or book. So therefore sir don't hold it against me. Like I said sir the name I used wasn't mine, the ideas were. "You won't have to print this because I won't sign my name. My father mailed this for me. Thank you. Oh, by the way, I would like to meet you too..."

As we expected Mr. Goodrick is a fake, but we have found a very sincere young lady who wishes to remain unknown. Although we stand on opposite sides of the Tellico fence, we invite her to continue to make her views known through our newspaper. That is what our efforts are all about. All we ask is that she sign her name.

We were embarrassed last week when we published a letter in support of Tellico and during the composition of the page we accidentally left off the writer's name. The letter was written by Mrs. Dawn Thompson of Loudon. The typesetter had made an error in the name. We clipped the name off for correction and then forgot to put the corrected line of type back in the paper.

As for the letters we have been receiving on the Tellico Project we have observed that most of them lately have been attacks on this writer and not on the project.

If these people are so interested in protecting the people and land from the awful destruction they see in the Tellico Project they should spend their efforts in finding logical arguments in their favor and not in calling us liars, outsiders, newcomers, radicals and saying it is such as we, that are the problems with our area.

We are not perfect, and are the first to admit such, but we fight for what we believe, respect others for their beliefs and try to refrain from name calling.

Just for the record we have been in Loudon County for almost 11 years, love it, consider it home and do not consider ourselves newcomers.

Man Dies Of Injuries Suffered In Wreck

A Lenoir City man, Jim Woodrow Green, 59, died at 7 p.m. Monday at Loudon County Memorial Hospital of injuries he received shortly after noon Sunday in a car accident in Loudon. Since the accident Sunday he had been listed in critical condition at the hospital suffering from head and chest injuries.

An accident report filed by Loudon City policeman Jesse Costner, who investigated the accident, stated that Green, of R. 3, Lenoir City, driving a 1968 Chevrolet was attempting to turn off of Steeple Road onto Ward Avenue in Loudon, lost control of the car striking a utility pole. The impact splashed the pole throwing Mr. Green into the steering column of the vehicle. Mr. Green was a member of Broadford Hollow Baptist Church. $1000 GIFT—William Zebb, official of the Maremont Corporation of Loudon, is shown presenting Philadelphia Mayor Roy Bledsoe with a $1000 check from the company for use on the construction of a picnic shelter at the new Philadelphia Community Park.

Maremont Gives Philadelphia $1000 For Park Development

The City of Philadelphia last week received a $1000 cash gift from the Maremont Corporation of Loudon. The gift is to be used in the completion of the 17 acre community park now under development at Philadelphia. William C. Zebb, Vice President and General Manager of the Exhaust Systems Division, Maremont Corporation, presented the check to Philadelphia Mayor Roy Bledsoe last Thursday. Mayor Bledsoe said that the city is presently purchasing an additional eight acres for the park that will be developed into a picnic area. The funds from Maremont will be used for the construction of a picnic shelter in the area. Bledsoe said the addition to the park will cost about $7,000 and will be funded by local, state and federal funds. The park has just completed construction of tennis courts, two softball fields and other facilities at the park. A dedication ceremony is being planned for later this year. In presenting the check Mr. Zebb said, "We at Maremont are so fortunate to be a part of Loudon County and in this way are expressing the appreciation of our management and employees for the way we feel about Philadelphia." Mr. Zebb said that he is sure that the employees of Maremont will gain many times over the small investment the company is making in the Philadelphia park. Mayor Bledsoe said a plaque commemorating Maremont's contribution will be placed in the park.

Workers Strike At Greenback

Local 4470 of the United Steel Workers Union started their third week on strike from Greenback Industries, Inc. this week. The local 4470 are involved in a wage dispute with the Industries management since their working contract expired midnight February 1. Forty-one members are on strike from the Loudon County steel plant with all production of the plant shut down. The union workers are asking for a new three year contract of 15 percent, 10 percent, and 10 percent increase over their old and expired working agreement.

A meeting is scheduled for the latter part of the week between management and the working force wage committee. The federal mediator is expected to be on hand for the discussion. Jack Quencer is the local 4470 representative. John Broome is the national representative for the area steel workers. R.C. Woods, Greenback Industries, plant manager, stated that the strike was a common economic workers strike experienced most often when it comes time to draw up new working agreements. Mr. Woods also stated that a tentative meeting was set up in the near future with high hopes of resolving differences and that the plant could return to normal routine and production output.

"In Monroe County, in which about half the Tellico project is located, more than half the families have incomes below the poverty level," TVA said. "Such low incomes create a corresponding lack of opportunity and produce poor housing and health care, nutrition problems, educational deficiencies, and migration from the area, particularly of the young."

Tellico will "substantially reduce these impacts by providing very substantial opportunities for employment," TVA says. "The project will also provide significant opportunities for recreation and pastime for the development of a modern community along the shoreline. The impact of this development... will be substantial and will make possible great improvements in the quality of life of its people."

County Court... Road Act Delayed To File Tax Suit

Loudon County Court, at its monthly meeting Monday night, postponed action of several major items on the agenda. Among these was consideration of asking the state legislature to pass a private act reorganizing the Loudon County Highway Department to a system of one county-wide road superintendent. The item was postponed to the March meeting on a motion by Squires Jim Hartsook and I. D. Comer. All members of the court were present except for Squire R. P. Hamilton of the fifth district who is hospitalized and scheduled for surgery this week. Squire Jack Leffer, chairman of the court's sanitary landfill committee reported that the committee had received permission from landowners to show the state five sites as possible locations for a county-wide landfill. He said the committee hopes to have approval on at least some of the sites by March. He said the group were trying to find one location to serve their combined needs. The cities of Loudon and Lenoir City are cooperating in the effort to find one location to serve their combined needs. The cities are operating landfill operations which are condemned by the state and under orders to have an acceptable operation by July 1 of this year.

Zebb Elected FNB Director

William C. Zebb was elected to the Board of Directors of the First National Bank of Loudon last week. Zebb was elected at the stockholder's meeting of the bank last week. Zebb was elected to replace Ben M. Robertson, who resigned. Both men are officers of the Maremont Corporation. Zebb is Vice-President and General Manager of the Exhaust Systems Division of the Maremont Corporation. He came to Loudon in 1968, when the plant announced it was moving to Loudon and operations in Loudon, as plant manager. All other members of the 11 man board of directors were re-elected. They are John C. Greer, R.T. Sharp, A.F. McGary, Harry M. Nacey, Ben M. Robertson, Arthur M. Fowler, Cam Hall, W.V. Kirkland and James L. Hipsher. Selection of members of the

TVA Statement Claims Economy Impact

The Federal Power Commission, FPC said the extra 200 million kilowatt hours Tellico will add to the TVA system annually will be "beneficial to the economy of the region."

The TVA says the river is not and never was a natural trout stream and that it became suitable for put-and-take trout fishing only after TVA in 1944 built Fontana Dam which supplied water cold enough for trout. Turning from fish and wildlife to people, TVA says the people in the three Tellico counties (Blount, Loudon and Monroe) have "an average income level about two-thirds the national average and well below the average in Tennessee."

One reason the average is not lower, TVA says, is "because of a major aluminum manufacturing facility (ALCOA)... in Blount County."

"The Interior Department told TVA it should 'include an impartial analysis of the esthetic values of the free-flowing Little Tennessee River in order to provide a basis for meaningful treatment of the tradeoffs involved.'" It said the draft statement did not "establish the degree of uniqueness of this river within the context of the total TVA system nor within the context of the remaining unregulated streams in the state."

Arts Association Founder, Dr. Charles Morgan Is Honored

Dr. Charles T. Morgan, founder of the Loudon County Arts Association, Inc., was presented a plaque in appreciation for his leadership and services in a ceremony Sunday afternoon at his home.

The presentation was made by Ben Surratt, general manager of the Association, with other officers present for the ceremony. The plaque was inscribed: "Presented to Charles T. Morgan in appreciation for devoted time, service and leadership in the community, 1972, Loudon County Arts Association, Inc."

Dr. Morgan retired several years ago as assistant to the president at Berea College, Berea, Ky. He had also served as director of admissions at Berea. He was publisher of the Loudon County Herald and has been a magazine editor and staff writer.

For 11 years, Dr. Morgan was president of Wood College at Mathison, Miss. He is the author of three hard-cover books, "Education of a Changing World," "The Fruit of This Tree," and a novel, "Of Hell A Heaven."

More recently, he authored the historical drama, "Death of a Nation," which was presented in Loudon during the summer of 1969. This "outdoor-indoor" drama in four parts depicted the last days of the Cherokee Nation East. It was during the planning of this drama that Dr. Morgan organized the Loudon County Arts Association, Inc.

Though Dr. Morgan was "technically" retired, this was far from true with his efforts for the Arts Association. Before stepping down as general manager this year, due to failing health, he had set up four separate programs to be brought into Loudon County this spring.

Maryville College Choir will appear in concert March 5 at Central United Methodist Church in Lenoir City. "Art Forms of Civilization," a traveling exhibit, will be displayed in schools throughout the county March 8-23. "Portrait of a Community" will be on display in the Loudon and Lenoir City Utilities Buildings from April 6-23, and April 21 is marked as "Music Saturation Day" in Loudon County, when the U. S. Men's Glee Club will present a concert for students at each of the three high schools in the county.

Citizens Reminded Of County Building Permit Law

Loudon County Building Commissioner Joe Bradford this week reminded Loudon County citizens of the County Zoning Regulations that apply all over the county outside the various zoning districts of the various cities.

The zoning regulations became effective August 1, 1971, after adoption by the county court. This Zoning Resolution requires that before any person begins construction of any improvement to any real property (including new structures or improvements to existing structures) valuing $1,000 or more, that a person must first obtain a building permit from the Loudon County Building Commissioner. Prospective property owners would also find it advantageous to check zoning requirements before purchasing property, since certain minimum lot sizes must be met in the various zoning districts, Mr. Bradford said.

He said it is extremely important that permits be purchased prior to beginning work on a structure, since failing to do so could result in delay, financial loss or inconvenience. Failure to obtain a permit constitutes a misdemeanor, punishable by fine. Further information may be obtained from Mr. Bradford at the courthouse or by phoning 456-2650.

Your County In Action

By
Harvey L. Sproul
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

The Tellico Project debate still seems to be going rather strongly, and I suspect will be somewhat renewed inasmuch as TVA released its final Environmental Impact Statement this past weekend. From another standpoint, I am sure a lot of people are getting tired of hearing about it and talking about it. As a matter of fact, I suppose that most everyone at this point has their mind pretty well made up, and all the rhetoric is not going to make a whole lot of difference to the man on the street—I believe he (and she) have their minds made up pretty much.

I guess the real debate will continue to be as to what the majority of the people want, and in this regard, not always necessarily is what the people want always the thing that would be best for them.

It takes a pretty good amount of guts for a politician or a representative of the people to stand up and be opposed to something knowing that the most of the people he is representing do not feel that way.

Although I recognize that Senator Albert Gore had his faults, I certainly feel that he fell into this category when years ago he was campaigning for the stopping of the fighting in Vietnam; and maybe this is to a certain extent true about him also from the standpoint of his position for religious freedom as being interpreted by many people to be opposition against prayers in the school.

On the other hand, it is very good for a governmental representative to be able to get in and fight for something he believes is for the best interest of the people whom he represents, and at the same time have a great majority of those people be in support of that position.

I believe that is the category in which those fall who are supporting the Tellico Project, for all indications seem to indicate that, somewhere between 85 to 90 percent of the "people on the street" favor the completion of the Project, at this point.

what the original preliminary Environmental Statement sent out by TVA—what its purpose was, but these statements, as understandable now being required by law, are sent to all governmental agencies and other organizations for their comments. Then these organizations point up any deficiencies, omissions, objections and comments concerning various elements of the Project.

Then the organization proposing the project considers the objections and comments and renders official statement.

Concerning the Tellico Project, this procedure has been going on for several months, and a lot of reports have come making it look as if a lot of agencies were opposed to the Project, when as a matter of fact they were merely raising questions.

Now the question pending in mind is whether or not TVA in the final Environmental Impact Statement which now has been filed has within that statement completely and thoroughly treated all of these questions that were raised, and whether or not the Project still is properly justified.

Loudon Bombs Tigers 76-59 For No.1 District Position

The Loudon Redskins raced to a 76-59 bludgeoning of Rockwood Tuesday night to gain the undisputed possession of first place in the District Nine league standings. Loudon's way to a 20th game victory season has a 19-6 overall mark and a 12-2 league worksheet. Loudon will travel to Dayton Friday night for the final District game of the year. The Redskins finish the 1971-72 campaign at McMinn County Tuesday night. The Cherokees are ranked 20th in the latest high school prep poll.

In Tuesday's night's showdown with Rockwood the Redskins hit on 46.7 percent of its shots (30 of 65) to almost guarantee a lock on the top seeding in the District Nine Tournament. The Tigers remained close through just one quarter (14-12) but due to mistakes and fouls lost the tempo in the second canto and never threatened thereafter. The Tigers hit 34 shots in 24 attempts from the floor in the first half for a dismal 55 percent and finished the game with a 34 percent shooting with 21 baskets on 59 field attempts.

Rockwood fell to 17-9 for the season and a league game at Kingston Friday and a season ending trip to Oak Ridge Tuesday. The Tigers are 10-3 in league competition.

Loudon got tremendous play from its top three shooters. Yancy Hampton, Ray Simmons, and Mike Messamore. Hampton led the Redskins play with 24 points on 10 of 23 shots from the floor. Mike Messamore was a real thorn to the Tigers with a six of 11 fielding and 19 points and 16 rebounds. Ray Simmons kicked in with 17 points and 19 rebounds on eight of 11 baskets and a foul toss. Simmons and Messamore missed but a single shot each in the second half while accounting for 21 of Loudon's second half point production. Yancy Hampton's second quarter shooting spree propelled the Redskins from a 16-12 lead to a 36-13 margin and the game was never closer.

Rockwood led by the 29 point play of Doug Sanders, trailed by as many as 24 points in the second half but cut the difference to 15 twice before yielding to the Redskins by the final count. Eddie Chairman contributed 15 points as the Tigers worked calmly in an attempt to beat the pressing Loudon defense.

Lack of board strength and the hot shooting hand in favor of Loudon proved the fatal blow for the Tigers.

Both teams hit well from the foul line. Loudon connected on 16 of 21 charity tosses while Rockwood hit 17 of 24 free shots.

The Loudon girls won the distaff affair 60-36 as three forwards hit for double figures against the Tigers (5-17). Lynn Dorsey gunning down the nets for 23 points in her last performance before the home folk took game scoring honors. Miss Dorsey hit nine of 22 shots and added five

Speaking of Sports

By DANNY GIBSON
 Sports Editor

The Loudon Redskins virtually assured themselves of a first place seeding in the District Nine Tournament starting on Friday, February 25. The journey, to be held at Lenoir City's Guy F. Tallent gym, shapes up as a playoff between number one Loudon, followed by either Harriman or Rockwood for the two and three slots and a touché match up between the Lenoir City Panthers and Kingston Yellowjackets for the fourth position.

No team likes to lose but it looks like either Kingston or Lenoir City will be watching when the region rolls around. Both teams rich in winning tradition, will have a bitter pill to swallow before the District play is half over as one must go.

The District is more balanced this year than in many years with bottom teams slipping in to land a knockout punch to teams who are supposed to be supreme. The sad thought of this is that the District Nine overall power status is a dim one on paper. Loudon the top team has but wins over McMinn Central and Cleveland in dealing with outside district success. Bradley County landed convincing blows twice in the six losses thus far. Lenoir City dumped Chattanooga City for a leather in their cap and Harriman bumped Knoxville Powell. Kingston caught Oak Ridge but none of the opponents mentioned are really going any place in their respective leagues as potential big winners. Thus this writer fears the representation for the region match-ups as it will take peak performances for a District Nine team to reach a Sub State spot.

Tennessee's safetyman Bobby Majors and Mrs. Bowden (Molly) Wyatt were honored at the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame dinner last week in Nashville. Bobby was honored as the state's amateur athlete of the year. Mrs. Wyatt accepted the posthumous award for her late husband who was inducted into the "Hall". Others inducted included baseball players Johnny Gooch, Red Lucas and Jim Turner, TSSAA official A. F. Bridges, amateur golfer Curtis Pearson, Sr. and track Coach Ed Temple.

Collier, a Crossville native who graduated from Carson Newman, has been an assistant under Bob Cummings, who resigned the Rockwood job to coach at Gallatin High.

C. W. Pemberton, former Crossville High aide, will be Collier's assistant.

Loudon County basketball teams finish up their regular seasons this week.

The Loudon Redskins go to Dayton Friday night for a District Nine clash. A loss is not expected as the Dayton team has been only a medium blend of talent this year and have not been very successful with the upper division clubs of the league. The Redskins go to McMinn County Tuesday night to close out the year before tournaments. The Cherokees have a 18-3 record and is a sure bet to be in the Region III play. Both teams have lost to Bradley County and McMinn Central caught the Cherokees. A team the Redskins whipped twice. But the Chargers caught Bradley County also and Loudon did not do that. The game could give a perspective as to the chances of District Nine landing a team in the Sub State. The top two region teams go to this branch of the state elimination playdowns.

Lenoir City close out on Friday night with Oliver Springs at home.

The Greenback Cherokees finish their regular play at Maryville Friday night.

Loudon All Stars Sting Volunteers

The Loudon All Stars hung a one-sided defeat on the University of Tennessee Sensational football basketball team Saturday night. The locals won handily by the score of 96-67.

The loss was only the second in 20 games for the UT team. The footballers lost their first game on Friday night at Karns High School. The Karns faculty won 73-69 with former Vol basketball player Phil French netting 25 points.

The Sensational Vols were in full representation on Saturday night for the Loudon game.

The Loudon All Stars jumped to a commanding 16-0 lead and were never headed the rest of the evening. Loudon's boys coach Hugh Wilson throttled the victory with 38 points. Former UT hoop player Mac Petty and ex-Redskins inventor was a big gam on the backboards for the Loudon All Stars and contributed 25 points during the game.

Jerry Foster with 16 points was the only Loudon performer to reach double figure play.

The UT Seniors were led in scoring by Joe Thompson, a high school all state performer before going to UT on a football scholarship, with 22 points.

Bobby Majors added 14 points mostly from the outside, and big Bobby Thomas kicked in with 13 to round out the top scoring for the Sensational Vols.

State's 1 And 2 Teams Meet Mon.

It took 35 minutes Monday to sell some 2,000 tickets to the high school basketball game the state has been awaiting most of the season.

Kingport, 27-0, and Chattanooga Riverside, 21-1, square off next Monday at Dobyns Bennett High School.

All 5,201 seats have been sold for the game, approximately 2,000 of them Monday.

The two teams were not slated to oppose each other during the regular season but scheduled each other in recent weeks. They are one-two in the latest Associated Press poll and have been most of the season.

Despite Kingport's unbeaten worksheet and Riverside's one loss, some observers give an edge to Riverside because of its schedule. The Trojans own two three-point victories on a neutral court over Chattanooga Howard, 17-3, and third this week.

Kingport's toughest foe probably has been Bristol, which early in the season was ranked 11th.

This week's poll has only minor changes. Following Howard is No. 4, Nashville McGuck, 17-1, which bowed to FATHER RYAN 79-66 Friday night for its first loss this season. Clarksville, 1-20 after forfeiting 19 victories, because of an ineligible player, is No. 6.

Brownsville, 29-1, is No. 6; Knoxville Fulton, 21-1, No. 7; Memphis Southside, 23-3, No. 9; and Lebanon, 22-1, No. 10.

Alcoa, 19-5, is No. 11; Union City, 25-3, No. 12; Humboldt, 23-4, No. 13, and Columbia, 19-1, and Memphis Manassas, 18-3, are tied for No. 14 and new members of the top 15.

Clinton and Nashville North fell from the top 15.

Loudon Win Skien Halted At Seven By Bradley, 74-57

Prep Scoring
STATE LEADERS
Boys

Sixth ranked Bradley County stormed into the Loudon Redskin camp Friday night and walked away with a clean sweep of the "B" game, and the girls' and boys' varsity contests.

Loudon, winner of its last seven straight games and top power of District Nine, experienced a low percentage shooting night for the herald hoop tilt, losing 74-57. The Redskins connected on 5 of 63 shots for a 39.8 percent for the night. Bradley County, shooting from the hip the entire game, banged the ball through the goals at a rate of 48 percent of the time. The Bears hit 35 goals in 74 field-attempts.

The hot shooting Bears exploded to a 14-4 lead before Loudon could get adjusted and cut the gap to six at 16-10. Bradley scored a bucket to end the quarter for an eight point working margin.

The Redskins cut the difference to four points (22-18) with five minutes left in the half. Three turnovers resulted in easy Bradley baskets and the score returned to the 10 point margin. Loudon crept back to within seven points at the half and had a chance to cut the score to five points with a two shot foul but the shots were missed to leave the score at intermission 34-27 in favor of the Bears.

Loudon hit its first two shots of the second half and had the game within reach of a thrilling comeback when the Redskins' guns ran out of fire power. Bradley raced from a three point game to an 18 point difference over a three minute span that had the Loudon team playing completely opposite of its normal pace and style.

Yancy Hampton finally hit back to back fielders to give Loudon a chance to regain its form, but the damage had been done and the highly touted Bears were not about to let the Redskins construct any catch-up baskets down the stretch.

Dennis Botts, Bradley's all state pivot man, led the Bears in scoring with 24 points. The miscular Botts hit on 11 of 22 shots and added two foul shots for his nights work. Mike Sullivan with 13 points and 14 points each by Eddie Callahan and Alvin Scott gave the Bears a balanced offense. Scott proved to be the second half difference with a perfect six of six shots from the floor while he had but one field goal in five tries in the first half.

Yancy Hampton took game scoring honors with 26 points for the Loudon team. Mike Messamore tallied 13 points and pulled down 17 rebounds to support Hampton. Dale Amburn added nine points, eight coming in the second half.

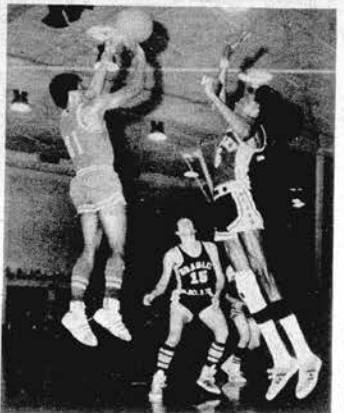

Usual high scoring Ray Simmons was held to four points by the Bradley defense. The hustling Simmons raked in 20 rebounds to keep pace with Bradley's Dennis Botts. Loudon out rebounded the Bears 51-43 for the game, but REDSKIN BOMBER—District nine leading scorer Yancy Hampton goes high to shoot over the defensive efforts of 6'3" Alvin Scott of the Bradley Bears. Hampton blistered the nets for 26 points and game scoring honors.

The Bears had a low total of six turnovers for the entire game while Loudon played well also in this department with 13 miscues.

The loss was the sixth for the Redskins in 24 games this season. Bradley owns a 21-3 mark with two weeks left in the regular season.

The Loudon Lassies dropped their season record to 1-1 to the Bearettes.

The Loudon Lassies matched the Bearettes point for point in the first seven minutes of play. The first quarter score was tied 12-12 and the count was knotted at 15-15 but the Bradley squad eased ahead 20-18 with three minutes and forty seconds left in the half and the game never changed hands.

Loudon went 10 minutes and 28 seconds without a point before Debbie Thomas hit a goal late in the third period for the Lassies.

Loudon hit a cool 25 percent for the game. The Bearettes were hitting at a 45 percent clip, winning every quarter except the opening period stand-off.

Bradley pushed its record to a lopsided 16-2 with the victory.

Loudon is 13-10 for the year. Lynn Dorsey and Jane Shubert led the Lassies with 12 points each in combating the Bears. Loudon's Marilyn Smith, had an ankle injured, limiting her to three points for the game.

Gloria Brown with a sparking first half exhibition led the Loudon defense with eight recoveries and seven rebounds.

Bradley whipped the Lassies on the backboards 42-22. Loudon made fewer errors in the game with just 12 turnovers, as to 21 for the Bearettes.

Bradley won the "B" game 51-46 in overtime.

GRAHAM SWINGS INTO OFFENSIVE FORM—Standout defensive ace Mary Graham was pressed into an offensive role Friday night after starting forward Marilyn Smith was forced to leave the game due to an ankle injury. The move could well be a bit of strategy that will give the Lassies forward depth and a good rebounder on the backboards with tournaments just a week away.

Greenback Tags 112th Loss On Academy

The Greenback Cherokeses presented Friendsville Academy with its 112th straight loss Friday night, 77-37.

The Cherokeses were led in scoring by the junior guard duo of Joe Mainor and Larry Ritchey. The fine shooting backcourt men accounted for 43 points, enough to stop the Friendsville team play.

Ritchey took game scoring honors with 22 points. Captain Mainor was only a shot behind with 21 points. Bill Kyker scored 12 points to once again round out the "big three".

The entire Greenback team took part in the victory as everyone saw plenty of playing time.

The Greenback girls had all three forwards zipping the oords for double figures in a 64-20 lopsided win. Kathy Williams set the tempo with game high scoring bursts of 20 points. Meri Beth Hammonree gained in 15 points and Bonnie Frennell flipped in 12 points besides running the Cherokesettes offense. Kathy Broome pumped through 19 points for the first double figure performance of her varsity career.

The Greenback sextet vaulted to a 32-7 first half lead and toyed with the Academy down the stretch. The win was the fifth for the Greenback girls in 20 games. The Cherokeses boys recorded a 4-11 record.

Raider Fourth Quarter Spoil Panther Hopes

Lenoir City managed but two quarters of spirited play Friday night and raced through a cold second period dry spell in falling to Cleveland 60-42. The Panthers lost all four eight minute quarters, but never really lost sight of catching the Blue Raiders until a fourth quarter blitz turned the contest over to the Cleveland side.

Mike Hooks and Handy Tatham with 11 and 10 points respectively led the Lenoir

City spotty performance.

Cleveland had four starters in double figures. The Blue Raiders eased to a 19-16 first period, but neither team could find the basket in the second period with Cleveland winning the eight minute canto 4-4.

The Cleveland girls won the preliminary game 51-41. Marietta Blackburn scored 22 points for the Pantherettes and Mary Danmore popped in 12 points, but Cleveland countered with all three forwards hitting for double figures.

The Lenoir City boys are 14-9 for the season and were idle Tuesday night.

The Pantherettes are all even for the year with a 11-11 mark.

An important message for people who prepare their own income tax returns.

Maybe you've been cheating yourself all these years.

Every year, between January and April, all about deductions for child care or millions of people sit down to do battle casually. And maybe you aren't aware that if your income increased last year, you may be able to save tax dollars by "income averaging."

Well, when it comes to income taxes, H&R Block is aware of just about everything because we're a company that eats, sleeps, and drinks tax returns 365 days a year.

Yes, maybe you can save a couple of bucks by doing your own returns but it really may be costing you a lot more by not having your returns done by H&R Block.

County Court Delays Road Act Vote

(Continued from Page 1) that remedied the courthouse, and has since gone bankrupt, has offered the county $1067 for items in the contract that were not completed by the contractor. No recommendation was made pending a meeting of the courthouse renovation committee.

After reporting that the Chancery Court had declined to dismiss the lawsuit of Road Commissioner Joe Greenway seeking to block revision of county road funds, Judge Sprout said the next step in the case was to file cross complaints seeking re-portionment of the Road Commission according to the U.S. Constitution.

Judge Sprout reported that the Riverview Cemetery lawsuit, where the county contends encroachment on the cemetery property by private individuals, is scheduled for hearing on Feb. 23. He reported that no date had been set for the county lawsuit against the bonding firm who held the bond of former Circuit-Criminal Court Clerk Bobby Knowles, where the county is seeking to recover a $9000 shortage in that office.

In a unanimous vote the court went on record as opposing the settlement of the lawsuit filed by Anderson County against the State to gain a larger share of the TVA in-lieu-of-taxes paid to the state by TVA. The court in their resolution said that the settlement was not equitable and that the county is due more money from the state than proposed in the settlement. The resolution said that the settlement was made on land values at the time TVA purchased the property and the settlement should be based on current land values on which private property taxpayers are taxed. It also requested that no fee be awarded Anderson County Judge Joe McGill who is asking a $60,000 fee from the case.

A hearing on the case is scheduled in Nashville on March 24, Judge Sprout reported.

On motion by Squires Foster and Curtis Williams, Second and Fifth District Road Commissioner Joe Mallons was requested to post 20 mile per hour speed limits on Sunspoon and Pleasant Hill roads. Funeral home owner Cecil Karnes, concerned about the court's progress in selecting a method of offering ambulance service to the county after July 1, should the funeral homes be forced to discontinue the service at that time as they have stated, asked what progress was being made. Squire Foster said that the court committee is waiting to see what action, if any, was taken by the state legislature toward helping counties financially in the matter.

Mr. Karnes said that the funeral directors of the county had not been able to agree on any plan where they could continue the ambulance service, but he felt they would continue to cooperate as long as possible. The funeral homes are faced with federal wage laws, which they had stated earlier were making it impossible for them to continue providing the service due to the financial burden they were being placed under by new wage and hour guidelines.

In response to a question by Squire Foster, Judge Sprout said that he was hoping to delay further action on the problem of improving or construction of a county jail until the state legislature had acted on Governor Winfield Dunn's proposal of constructing two regional jails in the state as a pilot program. Judge Sprout said he has been told that Loudon County is one of three sites being considered for the two pilot projects. He said that should the county not be selected then he would call for the county court jail committee to take some action on providing an adequate jail facility for the county.

Hospital Report
Squire J.D. Conner told the court that the Board of Loudon County Memorial Hospital voted at its last meeting to hire the new Assistant Administrator, Ray Hamilton, on a permanent basis. He had been on a 60-day probation until then. Mr. Conner explained in that connection, he also reported that Louisa County Hospital Administrator Thomas Foster

"I hope we can have something concrete to report at the next meeting," he said.

$40,550 For Logs

Loudon County landowners and loggers shared approximately $40,550 paid out by Hiwassee Land Company for pulpwood in 1971, according to the company's district forester, Jack Young.

This is one of nearly 100 counties in the Southeast where Hiwassee purchased wood for its parent company, Bowaters Southern Paper Corporation.

Although Hiwassee owns and manages some lands of its own, a substantial majority of the wood it supplied to the mill was purchased from individual landowners.

Many of these landowners are Tree Farmers and are actively participating in growing "the South's Third Forest." This is the term used in describing modern-day efforts to meet growing needs for wood products.

Sixty years ago, the first forests of the South were believed to be exhausted, but industry and private landowners grew the second one, which has supplied timber during that time.

Despite this gain, foresters say more intensive efforts will be needed to keep up with growing populations and demands for forest products.

Government authorities estimate that the total need for forest products will double during the past 20 years.

Development agency set the project aside when it received a letter from the Ft. Loudon Utility District (water) which raised the possibility it might bring a lawsuit.

by the year 2000. They also project a 20 percent reduction in the acreage per person to meet these needs by 1975.

Hiwassee and other forest land owners are taking steps to meet these needs by planting millions of new trees each year, more than are being harvested.

DAR History Month Theme

Hiwassee Chapter of Daughters of American Revolution are sponsoring American History Month during February with articles written by members of the American History Classes of Loudon High School.

This week's article was written by Carolyn Ritchey, a junior at Loudon High School.

THE EXPANSIÓNIST
By Carolyn Ritchey
James Knox Polk, the eleventh President of the United States, was the most underrated president in the history of the republic. Polk, the first dark horse president, continued to be a dark horse throughout his term in office.

He was the only president that ever fulfilled all of his campaign promises, and he chose to be his country's instrument and not its judge.

Polk grew up on a small farm in North Carolina, but his family later moved to Tennessee. Physically he was a frail, sheltered child, but mentally he grew to be one of the toughest men of his time.

He entered the University of North Carolina, and he graduated with high honors. Andrew Jackson and Martin Van Buren were Polk's political idols, and in 1844 they persuaded him to run for president against Henry Clay.

Polk won the election and defeated the Whig candidate by a narrow national vote. As soon as he entered the White House he set three chief aims for his administration. First, he was going to reestablish the United States Treasury as the independent manager of U.S. money.

Second, he intended to reduce the protective tariffs, and third, he was determined to gain the three big regions of Oregon, California, and Texas. Polk accomplished these aims during his one term in office.

In gaining the Texas Territory Polk was forced into the Mexican War. He had offered Mexico twenty million dollars for Texas, but they turned him down. An agreement was reached between the two, and Mexico ceded the Southwest to the U.S.

Many people talk of Polk's expansionist drive as the root of making him a "bad" president. Probably Polk saw that national expansion was the way to divert people from their concentration on slavery and the quarrels between farm and factory.

Since he had willfully accepted war with Mexico some people thought of him as a person that rather fight instead of compromise. Think what would have happened if Polk had not settled the West quickly. Britain and Russia could have attacked the Western part of the United States and taken North America over completely.

It is very odd to see how James Knox Polk could become one of the forgotten presidents when he contributed so much to America. In my opinion, he rates as high as Washington and Jefferson.

TVA Statement Claims Economy Impact

TVA said 1600 acres of forest will be flooded and it estimated the potential annual loss in pulpwood and sawtimber at $14,000

Only eight to 10 miles of the river immediately below ALCOA's Chilhowee Dam is good for trout fishing, and the entire 33 miles between Chilhowee and the projected Tellico Dam

The growth rate of trout in the Little Tennessee is "good but exceptional," TVA said. It cited 1964-65 records of rainbow trout fingerlings growing a half-inch per month

"A truly unique trout fishery would attract many out-of-state fishermen," TVA asserted. "Only 6 per cent of the estimated 29,000 fishermen using the Little Tennessee... in 1964-65 were nonresidents

"On the plus side, TVA said the change from private to Federal ownership of project land will not be flooded with "grossly overpriced" to be made for upland wildlife on lands which otherwise would receive much attention process cannot be served upon him, it is ordered that said defendant file an answer in the Chancery Court of Loudon County

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Gates:

When you led the sheep to slaughter on the 500,000 roads at Sugarilum and Philadelphia, people from Nashville came over and said that industry would not locate here without the roads. So they were voted in, and now no industry.

In one of your past editorials, you said that an industry was looking at Loudon to build. But no natural gas, so they moved elsewhere.

It looks to me like that you, Harvey Spout, and the TVA would stop all of this propaganda about industry moving into Loudon.

It seems to me that you and the rest of that bunch would try to bring in more natural gas into this area.

You keep pushing the petition to save the Tellico Dam. At one time you said there was big money behind the move to stop the Dam. In the pool room, one man paid another one 5 cents to sign his petition for the Dam. Is that big money or not? You have people that has signed your petition more than once, even some little children, ages five and six.

So at this rate you should get all of those 50,000 signatures, that are going to live in Timberlake, that you say will live there. The TVA only predicted 25,000.

Be Tiley.

Wheeler Will Speak At Philadelphia

Charles Wheeler will speak at the First Baptist Church of Philadelphia, Sunday evening, February 20 at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Wheeler, representing the Gideons, will speak on what the Gideons and their Organization are doing in Giving the Word of God to the world.

Mr. Wheeler is a building contractor and resides in Lenoir City. He is also a member of the Dixie Lee Baptist Church and the Moderator of the Loudon County Baptist Association.

Rev. Dillard Hagan, pastor, invites everyone to attend this service.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

We have said quite often that some of the greatest people in the world live and have lived in our area. I suppose this is one of the reasons we like to use group pictures. Because it affords us the opportunity to write about more of our people. We mentioned some time back that possibly school and church groups create the greatest interest among our readers. Well, I guess family groups are next in creating interest and again we are always delighted to have someone loan us a group picture of their families, which in most cases was taken many years ago.

We haven't been able to identify them all or in order, but here are ones we know: Raymond McJunkins, Helen Foster, Hazel McJunkins, Edna Mae McJunkins, (holding baby in arms), Dorothy McJunkins, Robert McJunkins, Carl McJunkins. The others we can't identify. Some in the picture are deceased. Our thanks to Mrs. Raymond McJunkins for the picture.

Our other picture is of an old depot. We would like for you, our readers, to identify the town in which this old depot was located. Here some time back, we ran another old depot picture which created a lot of interest among our readers. We had several calls on this other picture which was of the old Niota depot. I don't know where this depot at Niota is still standing or not. Many have been torn down.

If you can identify this one we will be glad to hear from you. The Hats Off corner has a

18 TO 21 RATIO LOW—

We saw a news release over the weekend which showed the number and percentage of 18 to 21 year old voters in a 33 county area of middle and east Tennessee and were distressed to see that the percentage in Loudon County was the third lowest in the counties listed.

The release showed that only 1058 persons in Loudon County were between the ages of 18 and 21 or just 6.9 percent of the eligible voters, which was listed at 16,474.

Although Loudon County is blessed with more industrial jobs per-capita than many counties our size and the fact that we are on the edge of a metropolitan area we must be losing a larger number of our young adults than are our neighboring counties.

We all know that there are a large number of factors which contribute to this out-migration of young adults and efforts are being made to help stop this loss, but there is definitely much yet to be done.

ONLY 10 CENTS PER HEART—

Sunday is Heart Sunday in Loudon County. The local Heart Fund Campaign is hoping to raise $2,000 to help in heart research and treatment of heart disease.

Heart disease is the largest killer of Loudon Countians as it is over most of the nation. Only through research can cures and preventions for heart disease and attack can be found. To raise the $2,000 in Loudon County should be simple. If all 24,000 Loudon Countians gave just 10 cents each the drive would easily pass the goal. Whether you can give just a dime, a dollar or more we urge you to make an investment in your heart when the Heart Fund Volunteer visits your home Sunday.

At Court of Honor

3 Local Scouts Receive Eagles

By Calvin Lunsford

The Loudon Scouts held a Court of Honor Sunday afternoon, February 20 at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. High Honors of the Court went to Mike and Rick Messamore, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Messamore, What Street, Loudon and to Bart Iddins, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bart Iddins, Davis Ferry Road, Loudon. These three young men were not only recipients of the coveted Eagle Scout Rank Award, but all three of them also earned the Bronze Palm Award. Presently the three Eagle Scouts are completing work in their God and Country Award. All three of these young men made the trip to Annapolis last year with the Loudon Explorer Post.

Another highlight of the Court of Honor was the awarding of the Historic Trails Award. This award, according to Edward Headlee, who presented the awards, has not been achieved by any area Scout or Explorer in many years. The award is presented under the following conditions: The Scout must have discovered an unmarked and uncharted historic trail; he liked and plotted the same. Those who received this unique award were Jim Birkholz, Dennis Moore, Barry George, Buddy George, Mike Lambert, Buddy Swiney all from Troop 215. Those from the Explorer Post were David Birkholz, Preston McQueen, Mike Messamore, Ricky Messamore, Byron Lawson, Jack Hickey, C. P. Chihaz, Bart Carey, Bill Patten, Paul Julian, Rick Alexander, Ernie Denny, Walter Carnes, Mike Holge, Sam Carey, Larry Ivens, and Bill Davis.

Troop awards were presented by Bill House, Scoutmaster and were as follows: Hank Julian, Physical fitness, coin collecting and one year pin; Robert McEachern, Rifle and shotgun and four year pin; Buddy George, Rifle and shotgun and four year pin; Vance Brantley, Tenderfoot and one year pin; Bill Alexander, Second class; Hugh McQueen, Two year pin; Moose Birkholz, Star pin, two year pin; Barry George, Rifle and shotgun; Second class, First class, and three year pin; Handy Davis, Physical fitness, Charlie McEachern, Rifle and shotgun, First class, Second class and three year pin; Jeff Harris, Tenderfoot; David Black, Tenderfoot; Tommy Henry, First Class; George Norton, Basketball; and Norman McQueen, Tenderfoot.

Both Mr. Headlee, Explorer Adviser and Mr. House, Troop Scoutmaster has highest praise for all those who had put forth the effort to attain the goals for which they were honored.

Five Major Zoning Changes Proposed

Five major changes in the Loudon Zoning Map, that have been recommended and approved by the Loudon Planning Commission, are now under study by the Loudon City Commission.

Gary Hensley, City Administrator said this week. Mr. Hensley said the proposed changes have been under study of the local Commission with assistance from the State Planning Commission office in Knoxville and that some action of approval or rejection by the City Commission is expected soon.

He stated that the main purpose of the changes is to allow for some commercial development along Mulberry Street (U.S. 11) and at the same time provide necessary regulations which would insure the integrity of the highway by providing proper traffic controls and to maintain a controllable traffic capacity.

Should the City Commission approve the changes a Public Hearing would be held where citizens make their views on the proposals heard.

Mr. Hensley provided the following brief description of the areas and zoning classification changes of the areas:

1. Area around Mulberry and Ward Avenue intersections. Change from residential to professional and civic, except areas that are already commercial. This is to provide for development of professional offices, services, medical, school, churches and similar uses such as newsstands, recreation, cafeterias and shops incidental to other types of permitted uses.

2. Area South of Church Street, presently zoned Central Business would revert back to residential.

3. Both sides of Mulberry Street from Ross Street to Keene Street intersections—all property fronting Mulberry, not now zoned Commercial to be zoned Commercial (General Business) and some fringe areas adjoining.

4. From Roberson Springs Road to relocated State Highway 72 on the north-west side business property across from Loudon High School to Roberson Springs Road from highway to railroad. All property in this area to be rezoned from residential to Light Manufacturing. This is proposed to allow present businesses in the area to conform to land use and to provide for further development.

A detailed map of the proposed changes can be seen at the Loudon City Hall during regular daily business hours, Mr. Hensley said.

5. Highway 11 from the highway back to the Southern Railway tracks. Proposal to change from Residential zoning to General Business.

This Sunday Is Heart Sunday

Feb. 27 is Heart Fund Sunday City and county residents will form a Heart Sunday Volunteer Army to try to carry the fight against heart diseases to the threshold of every home in this county.

The canvass will increase the total already collected in the first half of the month-long campaign, being conducted to expand the research, education, and community service programs of the Tennessee Heart Association. The state association is an affiliate of the American Heart Association, the only national voluntary health agency devoted exclusively to combating the diseases of the heart and blood vessels.

Miss Jacqueline Pressly, Loudon County Chairman, said that each volunteer on Heart Sunday will call at the homes of between 15 and 20 neighbors, distributing helpful information about the heart diseases and receiving contributions for the heart fund. If families are away from home when the volunteer calls, an envelope may be left in which contributions may conveniently be sent to the local Heart Fund.

If an individual prefers, he may take his contribution to the local treasurer, Ted Lomax of Loudon First National Bank and Bill Thompson of Lenoir City First National Bank, are acting as co-treasurers for the drive. Funds contributed to the drive will be used to fight diseases of the heart and blood.

NEW HOME DESTROYED—The prospect of arson is being investigated as the cause of the fire which destroyed a new home still under construction at Loudon last Friday night.

Fire Destroys New Home, Arson Suspected

Arson is suspected in a fire which destroyed a new home near Loudon last Friday night. The $18,000 home being constructed by Carl Wattenbarger of Wattenbarger Real Estate Company of Loudon, was located on Pine Street in the Dowdy Subdivision just east of Loudon.

The fire was discovered about midnight by a nearby resident. The Loudon County Rescue Squad and the City of Loudon Fire Department answered the alarm, but the blaze which covered the entire house at one time thwarted the efforts of the firemen.

Mr. Wattenbarger said the house was not yet complete at the time of the fire but only minor items were lacking before the house was completed. He said the house was already sold to Mr. and Mrs. David Steele. It was also learned that another of Wattenbarger's houses, next door to the one that burned, was found with gasoline spilled over the floor of the house just a few days earlier. This was also believed an attempted arson.

Wattenbarger has built about a dozen houses in the subdivision during the past year. State Deputy Fire Marshal Marion Wampler was called in by Loudon Fire Chief Charles Varner to investigate the possibility of arson. Since that time Mr. Wattenbarger has offered a $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the fire.

Firemen at the scene said the manner in which the blaze covered all sections of the house at one time indicated that a highly flammable material was used throughout the house to set the fire. Mr. Wattenbarger said the loss was covered by insurance.

Annexation Study Approved For Loudon

Loudon's City Commission last week passed a resolution requesting an Annexation Feasibility Study be made of the business and residential area north of the Tennessee River. This is the area where Union Carbide, the Dowdy Subdivision and other businesses and residential areas are located.

The resolution requested that the Municipal Technical Advisory Service make a study to see if it would be possible for the city to annex the area, provide the necessary services and a cost estimate of such an annexation project.

City Administrator Gary Hensley reported to the Commission that the State Personnel Department is going to use the City of Loudon for the state's first municipal Job Classification and Compensation Study. The study is funded under the Intergovernmental Personnel Act.

Hensley also reported that if funds can be made available state officials have agreed to make a Financial and Accounting Study for the city.

Hamilton Has Surgery

Reece Paul Hamilton, Loudon County Court member from the Fifth District, Eaton Crossroads community, is confined to Ft. Sanders Presbyterian Hospital in Knoxville following surgery to remove a kidney Thursday, Feb. 17.

He is reported to be recuperating satisfactorily. The kidney removal was undertaken, it was reported, after doctors detected a growth on an adjacent tube. Pathology reports following the operation, however, revealed that the growth was not dangerous and full recovery is expected. He is expected to be hospitalized for several more days.

THAT'S THE SPOT—Donald Lynn French of Knoxville points to a bullet hole in the door of his car after an alleged shooting incident here Saturday night in which four persons were charged for felonious assault.

Four Persons Charged After Shooting Incident

Four persons, including two juveniles, were charged with felonious assault early Sunday morning after an incident involving gunshots being fired into a car. OSCAR'S Piano Notes

If you ever think move a piano you know it is very heavy, its weight is due to the massive frame and the iron plate which together withstand the heavy ton tension of the tuned strings. In spite of its sturdy construction, the sound board, which has strings bore against through the bridges, is highly sensitive to temperature changes. So don't expect your piano to stand in tune month after month. Piano manufacturers recommend that you have your piano tuned four times per year. Call Oscar Kirkland, 458-7528.

ELECTRICITY

A TOOL FOR CLEANING UP THE ENVIRONMENT

Electricity is one of the most versatile tools we have for cleaning up the environment. When homes, businesses, and industries switch to electricity as their source of energy, millions of chimneys and smokestacks stop pouring pollution into the air. Waste treatment and a great many other pollution control devices use great amounts of electricity. And will use more in the future.

And electricity is being used to recycle waste products, helping to conserve natural resources. It runs the equipment that changes old cars, cans, glass, and other discarded items from clutter to reusable materials. Electricity is the cleanest of all sources of energy at its point of use. Any pollution from its production is being dealt with as rapidly as methods of control can be found. To make it an even more important factor in cleaning up our environment.

Maryville College Choir Set For Appearance

The Maryville College Concert Choir, considered one of the nation's outstanding college choral organizations, will be heard in this area Sunday, March 5. The choir will be at Central United Methodist Church at 5 o'clock. The choir is being brought to Loudon County for the second consecutive year under the auspices of the Loudon County Arts Association. There is no admission and the public is cordially invited to hear this choral group as it begins its annual spring tour. Ben Surrett, general manager of the Association, said. Dr. Harry H. Harter has directed the choir since 1947, and under his leadership the musical organization has performed for radio and television audiences and appeared in concerts in scores of cities east of the Mississippi River, including a concert in New York City's Carnegie Hall during the 1967 tour. The touring choir has 45 members, the best of 57 voices chosen after rigorous auditions early last fall. During the school year the choir performs special musical services in the college chapel and for special events such as the presentation of Handel's "Messiah" and the Easter Sunrise service. This spring, the choir is singing full concerts throughout the states of Alabama, Georgia, Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee.

In this program, the choral works will represent significant sacred music of the Lenten and Easter seasons and will feature the folk rock mass by Sister Miriam Therese Winter. This is the first of at least four attractions which will be brought to the Loudon County area during the spring.

The vegetable garden is becoming a more important part of family living in many rural and urban areas of Loudon County. Gardening is a project the entire family can enjoy doing together. It provides an economical source of fresh vegetables.

It's not too early to begin planning for your 1972 vegetable garden. We recommend that you begin by selecting a garden site that is well drained and has good, deep soil. Then draw a sketch of the plot on paper.

You will want to consider the number of people in your family and their likes and dislikes as you sketch the rows of different vegetables on paper. Another decision you will want to consider is whether you will use the vegetables fresh, canned or frozen.

You may want to sketch two or three plans for the garden plot and have a double or triple cropping rotation for parts of the garden. Start with cool season crops that are subject to light frost damage and follow these with early crops to be planted after frost.

This plan permits year-round planting, and as the early crops are harvested, other summer and early fall crops can be planted.

When you have all of your plans on paper and know the amount of each vegetable that you will grow, you can order the seed. I cannot over emphasize the importance of ordering only varieties that are adapted for growing in Loudon County. A complete listing of these recommended varieties is available at the Agriculture Extension Service office in Loudon.

TVA Reports Power Sales Drop

Use of electricity during 1971 showed growth in use by customers served by the municipal and cooperative electric systems that distribute TVA power, and declines in use by the few dozen large industries and Federal installations which TVA serves directly.

Sales totaled about 90 billion kilowatt hours (kWh), down slightly from 91 billion the previous year—primarily because of reduced sales to a few industries that are large power users.

Municipal and cooperative systems increased their purchases from TVA by two billion kWh. But sales by TVA to directly served industries declined by more than two billion kWh, and there were slight declines in sales to Federal installations and neighboring power systems.

TVA said most of the decline in its direct industrial sales reflects depressed market conditions in the aluminum and phosphorous industries.

Local National Guard Unit Returned To Full Status

Lenoir City's Tennessee National Guard unit, split for almost three years with Sweetwater, has been returned in full to Lenoir City.

The change, which took place under a state-wide reorganization of the Tennessee National Guard, took effect Feb. 1.

The unit, authorized 151 enlisted men and five officers, is commanded by Capt. Joe Lockett of Lenoir City.

"We have room for 31 men," said SFC Don Rogers, who also was returned here from Etowah as full-time technician in the shuffle. "We now have 146 men and three officers."

vessels. These diseases are responsible for more than 53 percent of all deaths. They include heart attack, stroke and other complications of hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure, rheumatoid fever and lorn heart defects. The heart fund helps fight them all.

We visited a young lady in Lenoir City this week to get some first-hand information on open heart surgery which she experienced one year ago this month. "I had joined the Job Corps in Oklahoma in 1969, but when I had my physical exam, the doctors found that I had a hole in my heart about the size of a silver dollar," said Beverly Hayworth (now Mrs. David Sartin). "To make a long story short, the doctor there contacted the Welfare Department here and asked if arrangements could be made for surgery. After an EKG had been run on Beverly and other examinations made by Dr. Joe Acker and Dr. Hugh Blake, who advised her that she could not possibly live more than 5 years, she was built up physically in preparation for the intricate operation. On Feb. 11, 1971, Beverly was put to sleep "for 72 hours, but I didn't know it had been that long when I woke up," and the "atrial septal defect" was repaired. "The doctors say that I am in good health now," she said. "I am thankful for the good people who helped with their donations of dimes and dollars during the heart fund drive," said Beverly. "Otherwise, I could never have expected to live a happy, normal life."

Four Charged After Shooting

French of Knoxville.

The shooting is said to have taken place on Browder Hill on U.S. 11 between Loudon and Lenoir City. Statements taken from the four men charged, French and his brother Elmer Ray French, who was a passenger in the car, indicated the occupants of the two cars first came in contact at a traffic light in Lenoir City. Conflicting statements of what happened between the initial meeting of the cars and when they were stopped in Loudon were filed with the officers. A shot was fired into the left side of the French car. Officers confiscated a .22 caliber pistol from the car containing Winton and Hawkins.

The two adults charged posted bonds of $5,000 each, and the juveniles bonds of $3500 each.

A hearing in Loudon County General Sessions Court was scheduled for Wednesday.

Woman Hurt In 3 Car Accident

Three cars were involved in an accident just beyond the west city limits of Lenoir City on Highway 11 Monday night, and a Loudon woman was hospitalized as the result.

She was Mrs. Arthur (Barbara) Carmichael, 52, of 661 Skenee St., Loudon. She was admitted to University Hospital in Knoxville, but her injuries were thought not to be serious.

State Highway Patrolman David Kree of Knoxville, who investigated, said the accident came about this way: "A 1969 Lincoln Continental was traveling south on Highway 11 at an estimated speed of about 25 miles per hour," he said, "and a Loudon woman was topped the hill at a high rate of speed, the trooper said, and was unable to stop.

The patrolman said the Barron car skidded 100 feet before striking the Carmichael car in the rear. The point of impact was about eight feet from the driveway of the church.

Behind her, a car driven by Ellis Barron, 26, of Lenoir City, also traveling south, topped the hill at a high rate of speed, the trooper said, and was unable to stop.

After the second collision, the Carmichael car left the pavement and went down the embankment, coming to rest against a utility pole. The Trooper said the pole apparently kept the car from going all the way to the bottom of the embankment.

Loudon Takes Sting Out Of Yellow Jackets For Victory No. 20, 81-45

The Loudon-Dayton basketball game scheduled for Friday night of last week at Fibes Central was postponed late Friday afternoon. A student flare up described as "trouble within the school" was the explanation given to the game being called off. The game was rescheduled for Monday at 1 p.m. in Loudon rather than at Dayton.

The afternoon treat to the Redskin students turned out a very favorable consequence for the "Big Red Cagers." Both boys' and girls' varsity performed brilliantly with fashionable unseeded victories.

The Lassies followed the 27 point play of Lynn Dorsey in chalking up a 60-32 swatting of the Lady Yellow Jackets.

All three Loudon forwards hit the hoops for double figures with Marilyn Smith netting 18 points and Jane Schubert canning 10 markers.

The victory was probably the best played team game turned in by the Lassies since early season some two and one-half months ago.

The Loudon guards got into foul trouble in the first half, but splendid play by reserves and the continued hustle of Gloria Brown blanketed the Dayton offense.

The Jackets, finally, eliminated Mary Graham and Helen Gentry by fouls in the second half, but the Redskin regulars were about ready to turn the game over to reserves as the Lassies supported a 35 point lead.

Loudon hit an impressive 19 of 42 shots from the field while the defensive corp was collecting 26 rebounds and picking off eight passes. The Lassie guards also blocked 14 shots that goes neither as an interception or rebound.

The Loudon boys used every varsity player in gunning down the Yellowjackets 81-45. Nancy Hampton sparked the bombardment of the nets with 28 points, 11 in the first half and 15 in the second half. Ray Simmons collected 18 points and 19 rebounds while playing only about 18 minutes of the 32 minute contest.

Donnie Therp and R. L. Brannan were the pleasant surprise for Coach Hugh Watson's Redskins. The freshman and sophomore respectively came off the bench to register 19 points between them. Brannan scoring 10 points and Therp getting nine counters and hauling down a dozen rebounds.

Every Loudon player dressed for the game scored during the initial romp.

The Jackets, finally, eliminated Mary Graham and cent on 14 of 45 tries from the floor. The Ribes Central team was also beaten badly on the backboards with Loudon pulling down 51 stray shots as to 27 for the losers.

Loudon won its 20th game of the season with the afternoon play. The Redskins shot a respectable 44 percent, connecting on 33 of 75 field attempts.

Dayton hit a mere 31 percent on 14 of 45 tries from the floor. The Ribes Central team was also beaten badly on the backboards with Loudon pulling down 51 stray shots as to 27 for the losers.

The Loudon-Dayton basketball game scheduled for Friday night of last week at Fibes Central was postponed late Friday afternoon. A student flare up described as "trouble within the school" was the explanation given to the game being called off. The game was rescheduled for Monday at 1 p.m. in Loudon rather than at Dayton.

The afternoon treat to the Redskin students turned out a very favorable consequence for the "Big Red Cagers." Both boys' and girls' varsity performed brilliantly with fashionable unseeded victories.

The Lassies followed the 27 point play of Lynn Dorsey in chalking up a 60-32 swatting of the Lady Yellow Jackets.

All three Loudon forwards hit the hoops for double figures with Marilyn Smith netting 18 points and Jane Schubert canning 10 markers.

The victory was probably the best played team game turned in by the Lassies since early season some two and one-half months ago.

The Loudon guards got into foul trouble in the first half, but splendid play by reserves and the continued hustle of Gloria Brown blanketed the Dayton offense.

The Jackets, finally, eliminated Mary Graham and

District Play Starts Friday, Loudon, Midway Top Seeded

Redskins Upset 20th Ranked McMinn, Finish 21-6

The Loudon Redskins hit 19 of 26 foul shots Tuesday night, as four of seven by home standing McMinn County, in hanging a 61-56 upset on the Cherokees.

McMinn playing its last game of the season, is 19-4 for the regular schedule and was ranked 20th in the Tennessee High School power rating poll last week.

Loudon rolling along with a sparkling 21-6 record, its best school win-loss mark in a decade, hit 43.6 of its shots for the game. The Redskins made good on 21 of 30 fieldgoal attempts.

The Cherokees hit 43.5 percent of its floor attempts with 27 baskets in 62 tries.

Loudon had but two fouls in the first three quarters of the game and finished with a season low of six violations. The McMinn County teams had 16 fouls tagged to its members and two technical fouls assessed on their coach, Harry Wilkerson.

The game changed hands six times and was tied on four occasions. The game was tied last at 44-44 on two pressure foul shots from the technical fouls called, Yancy Hampton was at the line.

Loudon won the game from the foul line, but gave up just four rebounds to the Cherokees on the McMinn

Yancy Hampton with 21 points and Ray Simmons 20 points propelled the Loudon offense. Mike Messamore kicked in with 12 points to round out the Redskins big scoring machines.

The win was just one of several impressive road victories the Redskins have registered on the year. The victory should give Loudon a real strong spring board in dealing with District Nine Tournament opposition this week and next. McMinn is considered the only threat in District 10 to be of challenging talent to contend with Bradley Regional and Sub-State berths.

The Loudon Lassies really made a showing in the preliminary game. The Loudon distaff group winning by unbelievable ease 47-26.

Lynn Dorsey paced a balanced team scoring parade with 17 points. Jane Shubert scored 11 points and Marilyn Smith tallied 13 points.

The Loudon guards played a remendous pressure defense with Helen Gentry, Mary Graham and Gloria Brown playing super in turning the ball over to the offense with 11 interceptions, and 20 rebounds. Several blocked shots and turnovers forced by the hustling defensive corp were not listed in the defensive stat to truly describe the play by the guards.

McMinn failed to have a girl score more than eight points.

Loudon boys and Midway girls are top seeded teams for the District Nine basketball tournament which opens Friday at 6:30 p.m. at Lenoir City High School. The meet will continue through Friday.

Pairings for the opening meet were made Wednesday morning in a meeting of coaches at Lenoir City.

The top ranked teams will see action on Saturday night, but the first night will feature an oddity in local basketball tournaments, the meeting of two perennial powers in the first round.

Lenoir City and Kingston, both having difficulty this year, were not among the top four seeded teams for this tournament and will clash in a 9 p.m. game Friday. The winner will qualify as one of the four representatives of the Loudon region. Five meet at McMinn County, while the loser will hang it up and hope for something better next year.

Top-ranked Midway meets Harrison girls on Saturday at 5:30 p.m.; and first place Loudon tangles with Dayton at 6:45 p.m.

First action of the meet Friday pits Meigs County boys and Oliver Springs at 6:30, with the winner going against second-seeded Harrison on Monday at 7:45 o'clock.

At 7:45 Friday Oliver Springs and Rockwood girls meet, and the winner of that game goes against second-seeded Loudon Lassies Monday at 8:30.

All teams advancing to the semifinal round will automatically qualify for the regional tournament the following week at McMinn County High School in Athens.

Midway girls took their top spot with an undefeated season, and appear to be far and away the favored team of the distaff section.

The tournament will offer two boys games and a girls game on the first night, and two girls and two boys on Saturday night.

Three games will be played on Monday night, and then two games on each of the other nights. Consolation games will be played on Thursday night, in both divisions, with championship battles set for Friday night, the concluding night of the meet.

Admission to the district tournament is $1 general admission, to everyone, and reserve seats will be available at $1.50.

Following are the district teams and their records, overall listed first followed by the district record:

Boys: Loudon (21-6, 13-2), Harrison (20-7, 9-3), Rockwood (17-11, 10-4), Lenoir City (15-9, 10-6), Kingston (13-16, 8-7), Midway (15-10, 4-9), Dayton (9-21, 5-10), Meigs (5-22, 2-11), and Oliver Springs (6-20, 3-10).

Girls: Midway (27-0, 13-0), Loudon (17-11, 12-3), Lenoir City (12-11, 10-5), Meigs (16-11, 7-6), Dayton (15-12, 7-8), Kingston (9-16, 7-8), Oliver Springs (9-14, 4-10), Harrison (4-15, 1-11) and Rockwood (5-20, 1-13).

Ray Simmons (14 rebounds), Mike Messamore (12 rebounds), or David Birkholz

Rebelettes Slip By Greenback

Greenback ran into a greedy Maryville Rebel basketball team Friday night and bowed 95-56.

The Cherokees played without the rebounding of Tony Lingerfeller due to sickness. All District Six guard Joe Major led the scoring for the Cherokees with 19 points. Larry Ritchey added 12 to no avail for the losers.

The Rebels went with its varsity line-up the entire ball game and had but two subsstitutions for the entire game. The Rebelettes played a whale of a game in the distaff affair dropping a close 39-36 verdict.

Greenback led the game from the foul line, as both teams hit 14 field goals.

Mari Beth Hammonree led all scorers with 23 points for Greenback. Kathy Williams added 12 to no avail for the losers.

The Greenback defense was at its season peak, despite playing with out the services of Judy Hammonree out of the County offensive boards in the second half. Thus the Cherokees either scored or

Game And Fish Workmen Busy With Boat Launch Construction

New Boat Launch And Parking Area To Be Ready By April

A badly needed boat launch in the Pond Creek area of Watts Bar Lake is finally becoming a reality. Sgt. Bob Harmon, of the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission, announced this week, "that after two years waiting for funds for a boat launch the construction is under way and should be finished by April."

The project will cost a near $500,000 with the boat ramp measuring 20 feet wide and 60 feet long. It will extend 30 feet into the water once the lake is at summer level. The concrete launch will be constructed by the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission about five miles from Loudon on Highway 72. The launch will be the only ramp between Fort Loudon Dam and Kingston.

The site of the launch was given to the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission by TVA. The entire launch and parking facilities will cover an area of some two acres.

Academy and Vonore To Clash In Tourney

They'll have a "dream game" in the opening round of the District 6 basketball tournament. Friendsville Academy and Vonore, both winless, collide at 8:15 p.m. in Thursday's first session at Everett High. The Academy, loser of 113 straight games, is 0-23 this season and Vonore is 0-20.

They were matched by an actual draw. Coaches did not devise the pairing.

Alcon, with a 14-0 District 6 record (31-5 overall), was seeded No. 1 among boys' entries as coaches met here today. Maryville and Everett, each 14-1 in the District, had to resort to a flip of the coin to decide second. Maryville got the No. 2 spot, Everett the third position and Friendsville was seeded fourth.

Everett's girls got the top position for their division.

The tournament continues through March 4. Kenny Coulter and Doc Simpson will be the officials.

Loudon Dragway Sets March Opener

Competition is scheduled to begin March 5 at Loudon Dragway. Owner Jim Slinnett has announced that junior stock, top stock and street elimination classes will be running to start the season.

The 1/4-mile strip is sanctioned by International Hot Rod Association. "I plan to run several pro stock events this year," said Slinnett, "probably one in March."

Game & Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game & Fish Commission

Anglers casting bait or lures in East Tennessee lakes and streams can expect "good to excellent" success, according to Tennessee Game and Fish Commission Assistant Chief of Fish Management, Reid Tatum.

"One factor which may contribute to good fishing in '72 is more optimum water levels provided by TVA," Tatum said. In addition, the spring fishing season could come a few weeks earlier than normal as reservoir waters will take less time to warm.

Watts Bar Lake has provided "fair to good" fishing throughout the winter months. Several nice stringers of Crappie have been taken along with a few good Bass, and this success should improve with the warmer spring months just around the corner.

Fort Loudon Lake is producing fair Crappie fishing at this time. The Crappie are a little sluggish but should become more active as the warmer weather approaches. Bass fishing has mostly been limited to jig fishing during that time in which the lake has

QB Club Start Spring Football

Twenty-two hunters participated in Saturday's hunt and saw their dogs treat several opossums and three raccoons. The hunters were assigned into six parties and competed for four years in order to pick the best tree dogs.

President Wilson invites area coon hunters to attend the next club hunt which will be on March 18.

The standard deduction is up this year. But maybe you should itemize.

Your best buddy Lenny might have told you to itemize your deductions because it would save you more tax dollars. Your neighbor possibly suggested taking the standard deduction because you'd pay less taxes that way.

And Frank down at the office... he helps everybody with their returns... what did Frank recommend?

If there's one way to save you money on your income tax, H & R Block will know how to do it.

Itemized and stand... and deductions are nothing new. We've been preparing returns for years using both. We'll figure out your situation both ways and then prepare your return using the method that's best for you.

You see, for only a few dollars more than it costs to do it yourself (with advice maybe from some other amateur), you can have your tax return prepared with complete confidentiality by a specially trained member of the H & R Block team. There are thousands of them in over 300 conveniently located offices.

Each member of H & R Block is warm, friendly and anxious to help you. A visit to H & R Block usually takes just a short time. Once in our office, you sit down over a free cup of coffee and possibly learn things about your income tax that you never knew existed. Things that we know, because income tax returns are our only business.

H & R Block's fees start at $5 and the average client saves under $12.50 for over 7 million families we served last year.

Furthermore, if your return is audited we will accompany you, at no extra cost, to the Internal Revenue Service and explain how your return was prepared, even though we will not act as your legal representative.

H & R Block also offers you year-round tax service for just one low fee, with no extra charge for audits and estimates.

Yes, it's true. The standard deduction is one of the many things we'll consider when we do your return.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

In the TVA "People Impact" statement of February 11, it was stated that the farm land along the Little Tennessee River is generally of high quality, but the three counties have other farm land superior to that in the project area.

TVA knows that much of the level farm land of the Little Tennessee River Valley lies in the old flood plain and is alluvial land created by the sediment deposited by floods a thousand years and more past. The only other large river in these counties is the big Tennessee River on which TVA has already flooded all the river bottom farm land.

The only farm land of comparable quality that would remain in this area if Tellico Dam is completed is the Stokely-VanCamp tract at Tellico Plains. Along the Hiwassee River down in Polk County, there are some good bottoms. However, an individual cannot buy a comparable farm at either of these places for the prices that TVA is paying for the Little Tennessee River valley lands under forced sale and condemnation proceedings.

Sincerely yours,
Mark Harrison, Chairman of the Board APLTR, Route 4, Loudon.

To the Editor:

On January 28, 1972, we traveled through your community on our way to Florida. A pleasant experience, at least it would have been if we hadn't had to stop for gasoline.

About eight miles from town our truck stopped. Reason: WATERED GAS! Need we say more.

On our return, we stopped to speak to the station owner. He said he could do nothing to help us.

We urge all residents in the area to be very careful where they buy gasoline. Or perhaps there is help for local people who fall into the trap we did. In the North, an independent station sells gas that can be depended on and at competitive prices, without adding water.

To all the people who purchase gas at that station today - our sympathy. You probably had only one tank to use, we had three and back to us, we only filled two at the station in question.

Sincerely,
J.H. Semke, Owasso, Michigan.

Dear Editor:

It never ceases to amaze me that grown people still believe in fairy tales. T.V.A. is certainly the champion storyteller. All your petitioners now believe in castles and fairyland cities such as the mythical Timberlake. T.V.A. should remember, however, the words of Abraham Lincoln when he said, "You can fool some of the people all of the time and all of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

Remember all of those peace-loving citizens who were fooled by Kennedy and then Johnson? Remember it was Kennedy who first moved ground forces into Asia. Then it was Johnson, who promised peace, who escalated the war. It was Goldwater who told the truth to the American people but, as usual, the people chose to believe a fairy tale instead. Goldwater also suggested that we (the government) sell T.V.A. to private enterprise. Then they could have gotten legitimate work instead of having to make work.

The only way I can continue to be proud to be an American is to excuse some of our most tragic mistakes by thinking that the people were too innocent, too glib, or just plain too stupid to see the truth. I hate to think that my own neighbors, so-called Christians, are knowingly coveting the property of others for their own selfish needs. I hate to think that they can enjoy tearing down a man's home and business (his farm) just to build their own. T.V.A. has admitted that the Tellico Dam is not for power and not for flood control. They have promised industry, jobs and eternal bliss. They are, in fact, offering a bribe to the people to gain support. Can you in good conscience accept that bribe? If you support the project, then obviously you can. There are many ways to attract industry, but dams are just not one of them. Just look at all of the other dams. What do you see?

Anyone who supports the seizure of private property might as well be a card-carrying communist. What right does T.V.A. have to become a real estate agent? Remember we formed a government to protect us, not to destroy our right of ownership.

I am really tired of hearing that argument of how much money has already been spent. Sure it's too bad, but just because you happen to lose half your money, is that any reason for you to throw the rest away? And because many have already suffered, is that any reason why everyone should?

Instead of worrying about where future generations will be working, it might be well to consider how they will exist. Any student of science will tell you that every species (including man) has a ceiling of limitation. When the population of the species exceeds that ceiling, it begins to die. Two controlling factors which affect this ceiling are food and physical space. By destroying 38,000 acres of fertile, productive land, you sure aren't helping the prospects of man. Remember three-fourths of the earth's surface is already covered by water!

Boeing Sees 'Clean' Industry For Tellico

The types of industry most likely to be interested in locating in the Tellico industrial complex happen to be the kind that are relatively clean, professional researchers working with the Boeing Company say.

This was the report given by spokesmen of the Boeing Company to the Tellico Area Planning Council at a meeting last Wednesday night at Greeneback.

"We didn't plan it that way, but we are very happy that the research came out that way," said John Doig, Assistant Project Manager for the Boeing Company in the current study the firm is conducting on the proposed Timberlake new town.

Mr. Doig cited research which shows a list of 21 basic industries.

TVA Gives Statement On Watermifoli

The Tennessee Valley Authority has completed a draft statement on the environmental impact of its watermifoli control program, and has submitted the draft to interested Federal and State agencies for review.

The statement is available on request from the TVA Information Office, Knoxville, Tennessee.

Kursian watermifoli, a fast-growing aquatic plant, was found in the TVA reservoir system in 1960 at Watts Bar Lake in east Tennessee. It spread to several other lakes along the Tennessee River and became a major problem. The weed grows in water up to 10 feet deep and forms dense mats of floating foliage that can block boat docks, disrupt recreation activities, and breed mosquitoes.

The most effective control method so far combines changing lake levels, to dry and kill the plant, with controlled use of 2,4-D herbicide where water level controls alone are not adequate. Control programs are planned annually and submitted in advance by TVA to the Working Group on Pesticides, President's Cabinet Committee on the Environment, for review and approval. Plans also are reviewed with the state health departments concerned whenever any significant changes are planned from the previous year's operation.

In recent years this control program has reduced mifoli infestations to a point where the problems they present are less serious than in the late 1960's. The draft statement includes descriptions of the steps taken in conducting and monitoring herbicide applications to avoid adverse environmental effects. It also describes research being conducted by TVA biologists and others on possible biological control methods that may eventually take the place of herbicide in this program, if they can be developed for effective use.

Mr. Doig cited research which shows a list of 21 basic industries which are said to be most likely to be interested in the type of situation to be available in the Timberlake complex.

The report to TAPC was the second "progress report" from the Boeing Company to the Council. The first one detailed how the study was being carried out. This one contained more of the results to date of the study.

The meeting was in the Ft. Loudon Electric Co-Op Building at Greeneback. Loudon County Judge Harvey Sproul, TAPC chairman, pointed out at the beginning of the meeting that it has been the policy of the Council since the beginning not to take any position on whether or not Tellico dam should be built. However, it has been the view of TAPC, he explained, to assume that since it has been started, it should be completed, and that the council should strive to get the best development possible from the project.

Mr. Williams, Boeing Company Project Manager, another Boeing spokesman, seconded that attitude. "There must be the water for the Timberlake to make sense," he said, but he emphasized that Boeing is not participating in the discussion of whether or not to build the dam.

Mr. Williams, Boeing Company Project Manager, another Boeing spokesman, seconded that attitude.

"Average productivity" will again be a governing provision on set-aside acreage for the 1972 voluntary wheat and feed grain programs, according to Fred Fipps, County program official.

Farmers who sign up Feb. 3 through March 10 in these programs will agree to set aside part of the productive cropland on their farms as a qualifying condition for program participation. Purpose of this set-aside is to help control production of agricultural crops beyond what can be marketed at fair prices to farmers, said Mr. Fipps, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

For the 1972 set-aside farm programs to be effective, the average productivity rule needs to be closely followed, he said. Land put into set-aside acreage is to have a productive capacity at least equal to the land on which program crops are being grown or would have been grown in the current year.

Under the set-aside concept in farm programs, after a participant makes his set-aside and maintains his conserving base, he may plant his remaining cropland to anything he wishes, except for those crops under marketing contracts voted by producers. This puts more decision-making in the hands of farmers than did the crop-year restraints of past programs, Mr. Fipps said.

That is a decision the people of this area should make," he said.

Mr. Williams told the TAPC members and the roomful of interested persons that the Boeing study is about half finished and will be completed in June. He introduced another Boeing associate, Al Fenwick from the Seattle office who will concentrate on business arrangements and finances for the remainder of the study.

Mr. Doig told the group that two consultant firms are participating in the industrial and land use studies. They are Real Estate Research Co. from Chicago, and the well-known Fantus Factory Locating Service with headquarters in New York, concentrating on the industrial potential.

He estimated there will be 6,000 manufacturing jobs by 1985 "and the multiplier effect will have the effect of doubling that in total jobs - both manufacturing and service." The study is now getting into the area of how best to treat the effluents from the anticipated industries. Questions being raised include "How can the waste best be treated, in a giant centralized plant, or in staged development of recreation facilities, and does it make sense for anticipated industries to pay for the treatment service?"

The study is showing that recreation - both commercial and public - will play an important part in both the beginnings of Timberlake and in its continuing appeal.

A study by Economic Research Associates, Inc., the firm which did the studies for Disney Land, Disney World, Six Flags, etc., reveals that the market is here now for 1.5 million visitors per year. This would increase to 2.5 million by the year 2000.

"Don't misunderstand me," Mr. Doig emphasized, "we don't anticipate anything like Disney World here."

The recreation expected here would be primarily water-oriented sports activities.

Mr. Williams revealed that Boeing has asked for a hearing with Gov. Winfield Dunn and members of his staff to discuss the Tellico development as well as the State's plans for a 41-million State Park in the area.

He mentioned several early-years uses for land which later would see residential or industrial uses. These included a fish hatchery, fish farms, rod farms, Christmas tree farm, tree nursery; all of which could be operated until the land is needed for other development.

Chapter officers and five members attended the morning worship service at the Prospect Baptist Church by invitation of Chapter President Scott James and Second Vice President Eddie Jenkins.

A bumper sticker announcing FFA week theme has been given to each members family.

Each of the five Agriculture classes are planning a special class program for Wednesday with members observing a dress up day at Loudon High.

Eleven members were elected to the Chapter Farmer degree during a regular monthly meeting of the Chapter on Friday morning.

The Silver pen of a Chapter Farmer was presented by Chapter president Scott James to each candidate. Those present to receive the degree were Preston McQueen, Gregg Clinton, Donnie Jones, Ricky Moore, Eddie Montooth, Greg Allmon, Mike Haun, and Tommy Cratty.

National FFA week includes George Washington's birthday in observance of his leadership in promoting scientific farming practices. Organized in 1928 the FFA promotes leadership, cooperation, and citizenship among high school Vocational Agriculture students. The FFA Foundation Awards program provides Chapter, State and National recognition for supervised programs of Agricultural Production, processing, marketing and service.

The fifth period chemistry class toured the Copper Mining and Refining operations at the plant at Copperhill last Wednesday. The group first stopped to see a copper mine, next saw how the copper was taken out of the ore and refined, and then visited the part of the plant where copper sulfate was made. The class also saw the construction of the new plant that is being built and will be almost pollution-free. The members attending the field trip were Kirby Evans, Tim Greenway, Jeff Byerley, Kay Bailey, Sharon Brookshire, Mary Lou Maynard, Joy Adams, Nita King, Patricia Henry, Karen Rollins, Terry Hagain, David Steele, Mike Myers, John Ogle, Vance Kinser and Gary Raines. The chemistry teacher, Mrs. Robert Anderson, Jr. and Mrs. Adams also accompanied the group.

The junior class held a class meeting Tuesday morning. The purpose of the meeting was to set up budgets for all the prom committees and to vote on a band for the prom. A pep rally was held in the auditorium for the high school students at 3:10 Friday afternoon. The cheerleaders presented a skit on "The History of Cheering". Kay Bailey has been named Greenback's Betty Crocker Home Baker of Tomorrow for 1972. She was chosen on the basis of her score in a written knowledge and attitude examination taken by senior girls on December 7, and will receive a specially designed award charm from General Mills, sponsor of the annual educational program. Additionally, she is now eligible for state and national honors.

There was no school Monday, Mike Myers, John Ogle, Vance Kinser and Gary Raines. The chemistry teacher, Mrs. Robert Anderson, Jr. and Mrs. Adams also accompanied the group.

7.2 Inches Of Rain In January

Last month's rainfall averaged 7.2 inches across the Tennessee Valley, the highest January amount in ten years, TVA reports. Normal for January is about 4.6 inches. Streamflows into Norris Lake were the third highest on record for January. Sluiceways at Norris Dam were used for the first time in four years to supplement the normal water discharge through powerhouse turbines, in order to prevent an excessive rise in the lake level and maintain flood storage capacity in the reservoir. Heavy streamflows also

Construction Of Alcoholics Hospital Set

Construction will begin at Maryville in early March on a new 15-bed hospital which will double the capacity of Wright's Ferry center for the treatment of alcoholics. The Blount County center now has facilities for the treatment of 15 patients in a rehabilitative setting which has proven revolutionary in its treatment concepts and success.

Dr. Cecil Mynatt, staff psychiatrist of Wright's Ferry, said the new building will give the Maryville-Alcoa area the only licensed hospital exclusively for the treatment of alcoholics in the state of Tennessee. The new building will be completed in early spring. It will be of two-story construction, containing more than 6,000 square feet of space. The new hospital will have private and semi-private rooms, treatment and examination rooms, nursing stations and doctors' offices. Wright's Ferry has been in operation for more than a year and the treatment program developed there has drawn much attention from physicians and families of alcoholics. The program combines all the traditional approaches to the treatment of alcoholism, including physical, psychiatric, psychological and rehabilitative. Along with these are treatment methods developed during more than a year of successful experience in treatment.

Dr. Mynatt said the completion of the licensed hospital building will enable Wright's Ferry to progress further in its role of leadership in the treatment of alcoholism. The facility is already being used as a model for similar centers, some as far away as Florida. Wright's Ferry Farm is located on a ten acre plot on Wright's Ferry Road near Alcoa. The original farm building has been remodeled to contain kitchen, dining

Your County In Action

By
Harvey L. Sproul
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

I was talking the other day with Dennis Martin, from the State Planning Commission office in Knoxville, who advises and counsels with the three Planning Commissions in Loudon County. He stated that he was quite surprised at how well the zoning regulations are working in Loudon County, in that in most other places there are a considerably greater number of problems that arise during the first few months than what there have been here.

It is only natural that people who are not accustomed to zoning regulations must become accustomed to specific regulations concerning the use of the land. However, there should be no specific complaints about having to obtain a building permit before an alteration is made to a building or to land because this has been the rule since 1963. It has been my observation that the majority of people are in favor of zoning regulations because of the protection such regulations give—but even persons in favor of the regulations, become upset when the time comes that they personally want to do something different with their own land, and then find that there are certain qualifications that must be met.

Of course, we are all used to regulations in almost every thing that we do. In reality, this is called civilization.

You can't ride on any street that you want to at any rate of speed, but must be guided by the rules and regulations, traffic lights, etc.

The same thing is true about many other things concerning your property which are already governed by State laws such as whether or not you can burn trash, whether you can throw garbage out on your own property, whether or not your electrical and plumbing construction work is done in accordance with State rules and regulations.

You can't just go out and use any well you want to, but it has to be tested, and drain fields and septic tanks have to be approved.

There are many things that regulate us in order to protect our neighbors in the community.

Still it is difficult for many people to understand why it is that they cannot go right out and do anything they want with their land, no matter what the circumstances and conditions are.

We have gotten a pretty good reputation in Loudon County for being a modern, progressive county, and certainly the enactment of zoning regulations is one of the most progressive, forward-looking things that could be done, and I certainly hope that we can have as much understanding and cooperation from all of our citizens as possible.

Why are the zoning regulations so necessary?

The necessity is really for the future more than what is happening today or tomorrow or next week. (Although recently Monroe County found that they had no real control over a garbage dump because of the lack of zoning regulations.)

Knox County, and Anderson County, and urban neighbors, have zoning regulations, and Blount County is to adopt them within the next few months.

In addition, we have the prospect in Loudon County of a "model development" which will be going on as a part of the Tellico Project.

Because of all this, many parts of Loudon County could become desolate slums, with deteriorating property values in a period of ten to fifteen years, if something is not done now to protect and plan the growth. The way to do this is by zoning.

For example, one of our zones is A-1, or the Agricultural-Forestry zone.

The purpose of this zone is to keep some of our land for agricultural and forestry use in Loudon County.

The only way to do that is not to use it for anything else, and that is the reason why there are limitations that a land owner must have at least a five acre tract of land before he can build a house in the A-1 Zone.

This does not mean that you have to have this much land to build a house anywhere in Loudon County. There are other zones where you can have as little as even seventy-five foot wide lots in order to build houses. But in the A-1 Zones we must try to make sure for the future that in Loudon County we will have some open land at least preserved for agriculture and forestry uses.

If the original map was incorrect as to which land should be in the A-1 Zone, then when this is properly determined it can be changed to another zone, by using the designated procedures in the regulations.

The Home Economics sophomore classes visited the agriculture department three days last week. They studied beef cuts and prices as these relate to the buying of food. The Agriculture III and IV classes came to the home economics department and tried their hand at food preparation and table etiquette.

The faculty was invited to the home economics department for dessert, Thursday after school. The FFA boys that were studying food preparation prepared cherry tarts for this occasion. This was part of the observance of National FFA week which is during the week of Washington's birthday. The FFA Talent Show will be Thursday, February 24 at 7:30 in the high school auditorium. Various types of talent will make up the program. Tickets are on sale by FFA members. Proceeds from the show will be used by the club for the projects of the year.

Mrs. Arp attended a convention of National Association of Conservation Districts in Washington, D. C. Monday through Thursday this past week. She served on the Convention Hospitality Committee and attended a tea at the White House at which Julie Nixon Eisenhower served as hostess. She also was a guest on South Lawn of the White House for ceremonies marking President Nixon's departure for China on Thursday morning.

Seniors invitations have been ordered. The time of graduation is fast approaching. In listing the top 25 students of L.H.S. Judy Witt was inadvertently omitted. Judy ranked no. 15 in the class. All students after no. 14 ranked one place lower. The number of absentees because of flu is decreasing.

who look like they have just got a new pair of overalls. We appreciate Earl's interest in the Good Old Days all the way down in South Carolina.

Sombody was telling us the other day they had a picture of Hambone, who was well known on Greasy Corner. We would like very much to have this picture to use in the Good Old Days.

We are always very pleased to have letters and calls from our readers, and as soon as it is possible, we like to mention them in our effort in the Good Old Days. Quite often we receive mail from our out of state readers. Either to inform us that they read and enjoy the Good Old Days or to offer their help in picture identification.

Our mail a few days ago contained a letter from La Puente, California. It was from a Mr. Haven Hughes, who offered the solution to solving the mystery of an old saw mill picture we ran. Mr. Hughes informed us that those in the picture were Marm McLankins, and his son, George, and Willard Henaley. He also stated that the Saw Mill was located near the H. M. Calloway farm in 1919 or 1920. Mr. Hughes went on to say the Saw Mill was owned by his father, Charles L. Bray of Philadelphia, and he is presently living in Baldwin Park, California. Mr. Hughes said he would be glad to supply us with additional information on the Sawmill, and we request that we would gladly welcome any additional information on this Sawmill.

We express our sincere thanks to Mr. Hughes for taking the time to write us and supply this information and will be looking forward to hearing more about the old Sawmill. Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

Singing Sat. At Cedar Valley

Jim Copley and "The Heavenly Hoops" of Cincinnati, Ohio will be special singers at Cedar Valley Church in Sweetwater Saturday night, February 25 at 7:30 p.m.

Clinton Riddle, pastor, invites all singers and public to attend.

We mentioned a few weeks ago that for some reason, (possibly because it certainly catalogs an era) our readers enjoy old car pictures, and of course, we enjoy using them and writing about some things we have heard as well as some we recall about those years. This picture this week is an old Baby Overland Touring car, or at least this is what we think it is. The resemblance to the T Model is pretty great. But some things are quite different. One thing we noticed right off was the front springs, which were only used on the Baby Overland. They were known as the semi-elliptic design and this old car had a protrusion out from the radiator that looked like a cow catcher on a train engine. You will note that this is standing in front of this old car. Another interesting thing is the doors facing you in the picture, or we might say the outline of the doors. There wasn't any doors, just outlines that looked like doors. I guess this was done in order to cut down on costs. Ralph Nader could sure talk about a safety on this model, but you had to get these old buggies cranked before you could wreck them, and at times that wasn't an easy task.

Well, there is a lot of other things we could mention about these old cars, but some other time.

THE MOTEL TAX - - -

What will be the effect of the five cent motel tax be if it is approved by the county court. The private legislation on the matter as requested by the county court has already been passed in Nashville.

Sponsors of the measure say it has not hurt motel business in areas where the tax has been levied and they feel it will not stop other motel developers from locating in Loudon County.

The motel owners here say it will hurt their business since neighboring counties do not have the tax and after one stop tourists will drive a few more miles and escape the additional tax on the room rate. They say also it will kill prospects for further development here. One owner told us he had planned construction of 52 more units, plus a camper park for 100 motor units. If the motel tax is passed by the county court he will not do either.

The idea of the motel tax is the thing that got some court members to go along with approving the sale of bonds to pay the county portion of the construction of access roads to two additional I-75 interchanges.

Now it seems the court must decide what it be best to go ahead with the tax and see if the motel operators are right or should they find some other way to raise part of the funds to pay the interchange bonds?

Just another tough question in the already full hopper of tough questions facing our county court.

TOURNAMENT - - NAME OF THE GAME - -

When it comes right down to it tournament time is the thing that counts in basketball. And Loudon Countians are enjoying one of the best tournaments in many years, in as far as Loudon County teams are concerned.

Both the boys and girls teams of both Loudon and Lenoir City have advanced far enough along in the District Nine Tournament to put all four teams into the Regional Tournament. This is the first time, since we have been here at least, that all four teams have gotten this far.

We wish them all the best of luck, for they have given us some enjoyable moments as spectators and fans. There is still plenty of semi-final and championship action left in District play at the Lenoir City Gym. Take in a game.

Motel Owners May Challenge Room Tax

Loudon County motel and hotel owners are planning to fight ratification of the private act passed in the state legislature last week placing a five per cent room tax on motel and hotel rooms in the county.

The private legislation was passed in both the house and senate last week and has been sent to Governor Winfield Dunn for signature before coming back to Loudon County for ratification by the county court.

It was the Loudon County Court who last summer proposed the legislation to help raise money to pay for two additional interchanges on I-75 in the county. The court, and a public referendum, also approved an additional half cent sales tax to aid in the financing of the access roads leading to the interchanges at Philadelphia and Sugar Linn.

County Court Squire Jim Hartsook who proposed the motel tax estimated it would bring in some $80,000 a year from a present 200 rooms in the county, which would pay the bond payments on the county share of the road projects.

One motel owner, who just completed a $600,000 48 unit structure at the I-75 and Highway 95 interchange said the tax would not only hurt his and other similar businesses in the county but would slow development of motels along the other interchanges in the county.

He said it seemed unfair to tax just one industry, especially when their competition from neighboring counties was as strong as it is. The owner, Bob Porter, an official of GoPro, Inc. who owns the Red Carpet Inn said that travelers will pay the tax one time and when they find out they can stay just a few miles away in motels just as nice for less money, that is what they would do.

Representative Benny Stafford who sponsored the legislation in the state house of representatives at the request of the county court, said the act should be ready for action by the county court, who must approve it in a three-fourths vote, at its April term.

COMING TO LOUDON FRIDAY--Entertainer Archie Campbell, Tennessee's Easter Seal Campaign Chairman and Governor Winfield Dunn are shown with State Easter Seal Sweetheart Sharon Guinn, 6, of Knoxville. Miss Guinn, a victim of Spina Bifida (open spine) and Mr. Campbell will be in Loudon Friday at 12:30 p.m. in front of the courthouse. They will arrive in a caravan used to help promote the Easter Seal Campaign. Drive chairmen in Loudon County are Charlie Davis in Loudon and Clarence Burdette in Lenoir City.

$7,221,939 Bid Is Let

Work To Start This Month On Interstate 75 River Bridge

Officials of one of the two firms who were awarded the bid for the construction of the twin-span Interstate Highway 75 bridge over the Tennessee River at Loudon told the Loudon County Herald this week that crews and equipment for the project would be moving into the area in the next few weeks.

George Bright, secretary-treasurer of McKinnon Bridge Company of Franklin, Tenn., said that all the officials of the company were now attending a convention but that things were already underway to get work started on the project. McKinnon and Saltman Construction Company of Kentucky were awarded the bridge contract by the State Highway Department.

New Dog Law Action Stalled

Nothing will be done in the present session of the Tennessee Legislature on the controversial Dog Control Act. The Loudon County Herald after numerous phone calls concerning the act received this word from State Legislator Benny Stafford in Nashville Tuesday afternoon.

The proposal, designed to protect the owners of both hunting dogs and house pets, is being given intensive study by the Conservation Committee of the Tennessee House of Representatives. Stafford, a member of the Committee said, The Dog Control Law was drawn by the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission at the request of the Tennessee Conservation League.

Highway Department last Wednesday. The firms entered a combined bid of $7,221,939 for the project. This was more than $600,000 less than the Highway Department's estimate of $7,843,000.

Letting of the contract brings to an end of more than two years of attempts by the State Highway Department to get the project under contract. The bridge is the last major obstacle in the completion of all of I-75 through Tennessee although there are two other contracts to be let this year of portions of the highway leading up to the bridge both from the north and the south.

Prior bids, during the Ellington administration, were turned down because bids were more than the Highway Department had estimated. The project was further delayed by problems of finding a suitable location where the river bottom would support the bridge. The location was moved several hundred yards up-river from the original location.

The state had set a deadline of July 1, 1973 for the completion of the bridge. It is expected that the work crews will be large due to the short time allowed for the construction. It is also understood that many portions of the bridge will be pre-fabricated and brought to the construction site to save time.

Loudon County State Representative Benny Stafford, who attended the bid opening said that officials of the firm said they would get started on the project immediately.

$169,820 Contract Let To Repair Loudon Bridge

A Knoxville firm, Stentel Brothers, has been awarded a State Highway Department contract for repair and painting of the Tennessee River Bridge (U.S. 11) at Loudon.

The firm bid $169,820 for the repair, painting and erection of navigation lights on the structure. The state had estimated $146,000 for the project.

Sunday Push Sends Heart Fund Over Top

Loudon County went over the top in the Heart Fund Campaign.

Heart Sunday contributions from residents of Greenback, Lenoir City, Loudon, and Philadelphia total $2,006.73, with two or three small sections still to be counted.

"The contributions collected during the February Heart Fund Campaign and Heart Sunday will be used for research and local community programs aimed at reducing the mortality rate and disability toll from heart and blood vessel diseases," said Mrs. Jacqueline Pressley, local County Chairman.

The money counted to date was received from hundreds of residents all over the county. It is hoped that work is expected to begin in the next few weeks. One hundred working days are being allowed for the completion of the project. Some of the repairs include replacement of some expansion joints, rebuilding of some areas of the guard rails and other corrections.

The state made a survey of the condition of the bridge last year, found it safe, but in need of repair.

As president of Explorer Post 215, sponsored by the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, Lawson will represent the members of his post to campaign and elect national officers for the 350,000 member organization.

Headling the second annual Explorer Congress are President Richard M. Nixon, honorary chairman; HUD Secretary George Romney, and James S. Kemper, Jr., president of Kemper Insurance. Last year Mr. Nixon spoke to the Explorers on the White House lawn and plans are being made for the Explorers to meet with him again.

Highlights of the Congress will be an opening address by Secretary Romney; a routing campaign and nominating convention headed by a U. S. Congressional leader; and various seminars and discussions with experts in areas of interest to young adults.

Loudon Will Not Get State Regional Jail

Loudon County will not get one of the State's regional jails had been hoped - at least not this year - and County Court faces the necessity of building a local jail.

Details on this matter are included in one of the items on the County Judge's report at Monday's meeting of County Court.

The meeting is set for 9 a.m. Monday, March 6, at the Courthouse in Loudon. County Judge Harvey Sproul said last week that expectations for a regional jail to be built in Loudon - following plans developed by the East Tennessee Development District - went awry when State Corrections Commissioner Mark Luttrell recommended Johnson City and Chattanooga as sites for only two regional jails to be started this year.

Loudon County had been recommended as a prime site for a regional jail in a study carried out through the State Law Enforcement Planning Agency.

Indications are, however, that some state money may be available to help build a local jail, as well as Civic Defense participation in at least a portion of a proposed new jail.

The Loudon County Grand Jury has been issuing increasingly stronger reports calling for the construction of a new jail. The County, by court order, is prohibited from locking up women or juveniles in the existing jail. They are usually taken either to the Lenoir City jail or to Monroe County jail.

In other action, the Court will hear a report from the Sanitary Landfill Committee, headed by Squire Jack Lefler. The committee has been looking into the possibility of Loudon City and Loudon going together with the County to operate a central sanitary landfill. Squire Lefler's committee also has been looking for landfill sites which the State Health Dept. will approve.

The agenda for the Court meeting also calls for consideration of three private acts expected to be passed by the State Legislature. They are to be considered if certification has been received from the Secretary of State prior to the meeting. Included are:

1. Modification of the 11 Building Permit Law to bring it in compliance with the recently-established County-wide Zoning Regulations.
2. Enabling legislation to allow the County Court to adopt minimum standard building codes if it should vote to do so in the future.
3. A five percent hotel-motel gross receipts tax. Proceeds from this tax are to be used to help pay the county's share of the construction cost of access roads to two additional interchanges.

The full agenda for the March 6 meeting follows:

1. Filing of allegations, opening of a hearing on the same.
2. Reading and approval of the minutes of the February 14, 1972, meeting of visitors and delegates, and open discussion period. (At this time any visitor or delegate may state any business which they may want to take up in Quarterly Court or make any statement about any item in which they are interested which is on the agenda of the Quarterly Court.)
3. Report of County Officers, Deputies and Committees.
4. County Judge
- (1) East Tennessee Development District annual meeting.
- (2) Consideration of the following private acts: CERA; TIF; AND RECEIVED from Secretary of State prior to meeting:
- a. Modification of $100 Building Permit Law.
- b. Authorization of adoption of Building Codes by Quarterly Court.
- c. Hotel-Motel gross receipts tax.
- (3) Consideration of short term investment of any County Funds temporary surplus letter tax collected.
- (4) Report concerning law suits pending in County Court.
- (5) Anderson County vs. Board of Equalization.
- (6) Consideration of any declarator as to action to be taken toward settlement of a dispute as Loudon County is concerned.
6. Riverside Cemetery.
7. Loudon County versus Bobby J. Knowles.
8. Greenway versus Loudon County.
- (9) Regional jail report and discussion of plan for building local jail.
- (10) Consideration of acceptance of bonding company proposal on court room contract settlement.
9. Report and action if recommendation ready concerning consolidation of Loudon and Boone County and Campbell County Community Action Agencies with Anderson County, Boone County and Campbell County Community Action Agencies.
10. Suggestion by Campbell County Quarterly Court that Loudon County Quarterly Court

Choir To Present 3 Part Program

The Maryville College Concert Choir, which will appear in concert Sunday at 5 o'clock at Central United Methodist Church in Loudon City, will present a program of representative choral works, past and present, reflecting man's traditional and contemporary expressions of his relationship to God.

The choir is being sponsored in Loudon County by the Loudon County Arts Association. The group performed last spring at Loudon United Methodist Church. There is no admission for the choral concert, and the public is invited to hear this outstanding college choral organization. Mrs. E. C. Swenson, president of the Arts Association said.

The three-part program opens with a group of choral selections from the 16th to the 20th century. The opening works, "O Magnify the Lord With Me," is a paraphrase of Psalm 100. A high point in this group will be two works, one by Mozart, "Ave verum," and one by Bruckner, "Christus factus est," both reflecting the episodes which lead up to the death of Christ.

Part two is varied to appeal to all ages and level of interest. It is made up of new choral works receiving first performances as well as light works based on folk songs. "Clap your Hands" is a new setting by Allan Hoke, a graduate of Maryville College and a former member of the concert choir. Two chorales by Yurdumian, "Our Soul is Waiting for Jehovah" and "Blessed Aham to Most High" from the composer's oratorio, "The Story of Abraham," will be included. This oratorio, commissioned by Maryville College for its 150th anniversary, is to be given its world premiere on the college campus on May 12.

Included in this group also are several folk songs and spirituals. A setting of an old hymn, "Amazing Grace," links the folksongs to the two spirituals which conclude part two, "Two Wings" and "Dry Bones."

The final part of the concert opens with "Dance Alleluia," a highly syncopated work with an exciting drive and energy. Featured in this is a folk mass, "Mass of a Pilgrim People," by Sister Miriam Therese Winter of the Medical Mission Sisters of Philadelphia, Pa. The program will close with an arrangement by the conductor of the 23rd Psalm, a hallmark of the Maryville College Concert Choir since 1949. The concert traditionally ends with the setting of "The Lord Bless You and Keep You."

The conductor, Dr. Harry Harter has taken the Concert Choir on tour for over 24 years. This spring this group will present full concerts in Tennessee, Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Alabama. The choir has been chosen as one of the official broadcasting choirs of the United Presbyterian Church and has been heard on the Protestant Hour, the Armed Forces Radio Network, the NBC National Radio Pulpit, the CBS Church of the Air, on the "Great Choirs of America" series, and the Voice of America. They have also performed with the Knoxville Symphony and the Atlanta Civic Ballet.

Since coming to Maryville College after his graduation from the University of Nebraska, Dr. Harter has taught voice and directed the choir. He served as an associate professor of music for several years and was advanced to a full professorship upon receiving his doctorate degree from the School of Sacred Music, Union Theological Seminary in New York. In 1964 he was appointed chairman of the Department of Fine Arts. Dr. Harter has served continuously as chairman of the Music Advisory Panel of the Tennessee Arts Commission since it was established in 1967 and serves as Province Governor for East Tennessee for Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national professional music fraternity for men of America. He also directs the annual College Community presentation of Handel's "Messiah."

Auto Decals Now On Sale Renewal Period Is Extended

The annual renewal period for Tennessee motor vehicle licenses will undergo a major change this year, Commissioner of Revenue George M. Tidwell announced today.

As a result of legislation, all licenses will now be issued from March 1 to April 15. In the past, the renewal period began February 15 and ended March 31.

In addition, the expiration date of the current tags has been shifted to midnight, February 29. The purchase period following will be a "grace period," allowing motorists time to renew their license for 1972 while still driving with 1971 tags.

Any motorist driving after April 15 without the proper registration for 1972 will be subject to arrest and/or fine. Under law, the penalty for such an offense is a maximum fine of $500 and/or imprisonment up to six months in jail.

Under the former system, the expiration and renewal periods overlapped, with both periods ending midnight, March 31. As a result, a motorist buying a new car in March often found himself buying two renewals: one for the current year, the other for the one upcoming.

Tidwell said the elimination of the overlapping is expected to provide greater equity for the motorist as well as easing administrative problems for the department.

All other details, the commissioner said, will be the same as last year, except that license decals will be issued instead of plates. The decal is to be placed in the upper right corner of the rear license plate and will be valid until the issuance of a new decal in 1973.

The decals are issued as a revenue-saving measure, in place of the annual manufacture by the state of new license plates. The next license plate will be issued in June.

Tidwell said the department

Alcoholics Anonymous Sets Meeting

The second meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous "AA" in Loudon will be held this Thursday evening, March 2, at 7:30 in the Fellowship Hall of the Loudon United Methodist Church. This is an open meeting and all who so desire are invited to attend. Dr. Lea Earl Acuff, chaplain at Eastern State Hospital, will be on hand to give guidance as well as visitors from several surrounding towns.

The address of the Loudon AA Group is P. O. Box 101, Loudon, Tenn. 37774. Telephone numbers to call for additional information or help are: 458-2777, 458-2797, 986-2380.

will begin mailing registration renewal slips to motorists across the state at the end of the month. The renewal slip must be presented along with a vehicle title card or owner's identification card at the time of purchase.

All decals are $18.50 and may be purchased at the office of the county court clerk.

for that old snap close purse. It makes me feel good when I hear some of my friends like J. R. Howard say that it's important all right. That's when I like to beam from the good news. Its with respect that makes this writer all smiles and ears.

Whatever is beyond all of this some people haven't stopped to think about. "For what shall it profit a man to gain the finest buildings, machinery, garden and livestock in the world and lose his crop to poor soil?"

Now is the time for you to stop and think. The weatherman is forecasting rain however this shouldn't keep you from making plans for gardening. To be a good gardener requires the same ingredients as to be a good farmer. First, you have to know what you want from your garden and what the soil can do if managed right. Then, you have to build your garden plan to get what you want out of it. Last, but not least, you have to build a management program which will cause your garden plan to happen. If you don't want to be a good gardener, don't be one at all.

Your County In Action

By Harvey L. Sproul
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

Well, I guess some people would say that it might not be too good to start off a column talking about beer, but I have just received some information from the beer people about the amount of tax that Loudon County will receive from taxes on beer.

In the calendar year 1970, Loudon County received $69,766. In 1971 this figure has increased to $59,462.

To give you an idea of what this would mean to us if we lost this revenue and had to put it on the property tax rate—well, it would be approximately twenty cents on the tax rate.

Of course, one of the things that goes unmentioned in such a revenue report, is the cost that a local government might have arising out of the sale of beer.

It certainly was welcome to see that the contract for the construction of the 175 Tennessee River Bridge (with two miles of additional highway) has been let, and that construction will soon start.

It is also somewhat surprising that the bid in the amount of $7,221,000 was some $300,000 less than what the State had projected the bids would be!

The repairs to be done to the old Tennessee River Bridge at Loudon in the amount of $169,000 should give some of the people who are worried when they cross the bridge a more secure feeling.

I guess also that it is fairly well clear to most of our citizens that one of the proposed regional prisons will not be built in Loudon County during the next fiscal year.

The Governor's budget message to the Legislature indicated that the two regional prisons to be built this year will be in the Tri-Cities area, and at Chattanooga.

Because of Loudon County's interest and work in this field of regional jails, we had strong hopes that one of the first ones would be built here. Of course, this would also help to alleviate our own local jail situation.

Inasmuch as the regional jail will not be built here, this makes it imperative under the criticism and direction of the Legislature that one of the County Grand Jurors that something be done about our own jail which is clearly inadequate.

I expect that the Quarterly Court will take immediate steps now to see that something is done, with the plus to fit in as well as possible with the probability that a regional jail will be built in this area in the next few years.

One of the ideas advanced includes making the jail a part of an emergency operating center building, which possibly can be built with a partial Civil Defense Federal Grant, and which will offer the county additional space, together with a facility from which administration can be performed in the event of a general county emergency, which also includes a coordinated and consolidated communications system which will serve us a day to day help to our law enforcement officers in this county.

Plans are now moving forth very rapidly on the building of a new lake access ramp at the end of Russell Ferry Road on the Lenoir City side of the river.

I and others, have been working with the Loudon County Rescue Squad to make the necessary arrangements.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor Larry Cate:
 I wish to compliment you for the fair way you publish both sides of a question. I can't say that for another editor who writes that he gets buckets full of letters opposing the Tellico Project then asks for letters on his side and fails to publish letters opposing his views. If I have criticized you personally, I apologize. You are doing a good job reporting as you see things.

future that IN Loudon County
 we will have some open land at least preserved for agriculture and forestry". This is coming from a man who is pleading for TVA to remove thousands of acres of best farms in the county. How two-faced can our County Judge be? Perhaps he wishes to save land for future TVA Development. I have neighbors who wish to save their farms now.

Dear Editor:
 At a meeting February 22 at Greenback a point about the Tellico Project was brought out (that was new to me and I believe is new to nearly all our people. It was that a dam is needed not only for navigation of the river, but is essential to supply enough water for the industries that are expected. So, we can't have the hoped for plants without a dam. This provides a very strong argument for completing the Tellico Project.
 H. M. Adams

To the Editor:
 NOTE: Dan Hicks would not publish this. Would you be so kind as to do so. Thanks.
 It has been stated that TVA and Tellico Dam are the greatest things ever to come to Monroe County. Yes, greatest to take people's homes and property; but not the economy.
 For helping the economy, Babcock Lumber Co., U. S. Forest Service, Stokleys, and hundreds of smaller businesses paid taxes instead of squandering them.
 I left Monroe County several times looking for jobs, but I left a job each time. I will soon be 77 years old. If I wanted a job, I could get one either manual labor or pumping a pencil. I have the ability to do either. Ask the people who are working if they have been to some other place. You will find most of us come back.

There is something about a high school tournament that provides a chill of excitement and a thrill of winning that the regular season just does not have.

The teams of Loudon, boys and girls, and the teams of Lenoir City, boys and girls, are all headed for the Regional Tournament at Athens starting Monday night. The four best boys' and girls' hoop units of District Nine will play the top four court teams of District 10 to see which two teams will qualify for the Sub-State.

The four boys' teams to represent District Nine will be Loudon, Harriman, Lenoir City and Rockwood. The sextets will be Midway, Loudon, Meigs County and Lenoir City.

Yancy Hampton, scoring king of Loudon High School and District Nine pace setter with a 24 point average this year has been named to The All Tri-State basketball team honoring the best players of Tennessee, Georgia and Alabama. The team is selected by The Chattanooga Times. Ray Simmons of Loudon and Tim Cunningham of Lenoir City were near misses for the all star unit with honorable mention listing.

Hampton has also been recognized as the All East Tennessee hoop squad. The ballots for all state awards have not been counted but each boy on the All Tri-State and All East Tennessee teams get votes for All State positions.

The Loudon boys' have moved into this week's prep power ratings. The Redskins are ranked 19th in the state with a 23-6 season record.

A final note, the Loudon Lassies will celebrate senior guard Mary Graham's 18th birthday tonight (Wednesday) with hopes of chalking up their 18th season win in the semi-finals of District Nine action against County rival Lenoir City. The teams split during regular season.

Loudon has not had a girls team carrying the championship banner into the region since 1959.

SHOOT FORWARD—Playmaker of the Greenback Cherokees, Bonnie Pressnell, dribbles a pass through the Aloia defense for a back swinging hook shot. Miss Pressnell accounted for 11 points in the game.

Loudon Zips Into Dist. 9 Finals; Pop Panthers 59-55

Loudon slipped past unyielding Lenoir City Tuesday night for a spot in the District Nine finals Friday night. The Redskins will play the Wednesday night winner of Harriman and Rockwood.

The up hill 59-55 victory provided the Redskins their first chance of a tournament championship since 1961 when Meigs County denied the Loudon boys a spot in the coveted number one trophy award.

Loudon has not won the District Nine tournament since 1951. This year could be the year of the Redskins and should the Loudon girls continue their torney pace and reach the finals it would be only the fourth time in modern tournament history that both boys and girls basketball teams from the same school loomed as possible champs. Loudon had a struggle all evening in disposing of Lenoir City for the third time this season. The Redskins fell behind by as much as seven points in the early stages of the halgame but a flurry of scoring by Mike Messamore and Ray Simmons cut the gap to a four point difference for Loudon.

Charlie Dye hitting clutch baskets and playing a tremendous floor game for Lenoir City kept the Panthers rolling. Mike Hooks added the rest of the offense with hustling rebounding, baskets and kicking in from the outside when the opportunity was there.

Lenoir City changed its offense in the last 30 seconds of the first half with a four point lead and the ball when Loudon forced a turnover and before the clock could expire the Redskins Ray Simmons and Yancy Hampton had canned six points and the Loudon quiet walked away with a 32-30 halftime lead. Simmons led Loudon in the first half with 15 points. Yancy Hampton was shutout from the field in the first eight minutes, but contributed eight points to the Loudon offense in the second court.

Loudon opened up a five point advantage in the third period with Yancy Hampton doing a tremendous job of one-on-one shooting. The 5'11" senior guard scored 20 straight points for Loudon while Mike Hooks and Randy Tatham were teaming on offense for the Panthers. Dale Ambers' opening shot of the third quarter and Ray Simmons 15 footer were the only shots to go through the iron for

Hampton Nets 21 Pts. LC Sextet Nips Kingston

The regular season Cinderella team of District Nine, Lenoir City Pantherettes, met the quarterfinal road block in the way of Kingston Monday night with a 54-49 victory.

All three Pantherette forwards tickled the twine with a double figure performance. Marietta Blackburn and Mary Dunsmore fired in 22 points each and Betty Christian kicked in with 20 markers.

The near evenly matched teams played to a 14-14 first period standoff and the Pantherettes managed but a three point advantage by halftime.

The Pantherettes nursed a rebounder and team's second leading scorer for the District finale. He is expected to be available for the region starting Monday at Athens. The Redskins protected their established lead down the stretch with Hampton, Bill Collins, and Mike Messamore picking up any slack left with the absence of Simmons.

Hampton led Loudon and all game scorers with 24 points, his season average. Ray Simmons had 17 points and 14 rebounds when he was led from the floor. Mike Messamore gathered 11 rebounds and fired in 10 points to round out the Loudon offensive spark plugs.

Mike Hooks paced Lenoir City with 20 points. Randy Tatham was the only other Panther in double figures with 12 points. Guards Charlie Dye and Ed Shipley had eight each for the night.

Loudon hit 32.5 percent of their field goal attempts with 21 of 40 from the field. Lenoir City hit at a 40 percent clip with 20 field goals in 50 chances taken from the floor. Lenoir City hit a torrid 93.7 of its foul shots making good on 15 charity tosses out of 16 attempted. Loudon made 17 of 26 foul shots for a 65.4 percent.

Kingston still had a late chance in the ball game, after Lenoir City's Betty Christian missed on a one-and-one situation, but in rushing for a shot Miss Adeux misfired from six feet. Then's when Miss Dunsmore hit her pair of foul shots to sew up the victory.

Kingston got a good crack at Lenoir City late in the ball game, but a bad pass cost the Jaxettes their opportunity. After Debbie Adeux hit a pair of free throws with 2:45 remaining in the game, Kingston trailed only 47-40, and got the ball back. But then a Jaxette threw the ball away and Mary Ruth Dunsmore flipped in a basket to give L.C. a 4-0 point lead.

The two teams had played tough and close from the very outset. The game was tied six times, all in the first half, and Jaxettes had the lead for the last time with 1:46 left in the first half, at 26-25. Patricia Bell, a 6-1 freshman pivot who scores 20 points for the Jaxettes their last lead.

However, the Kingston Jaxettes hung tight the rest of the way, never falling more than 6 points behind.

Going into the final frame Lenoir City was up 42-39 but Kingston cut it to 42-41 quickly on a pair of charity shots by Clara Gallaber.

The biggest Lenoir City lead came midway the third period at 28-33 on a fielder by Miss Dunsmore. But then another fresh Kingston forward, Tammy Alexander, hit three straight field goals while high-scoring Marietta Blackburn was getting 3 points, and Kingston had cut the gap to a single point.

Hot Shouting Porter Closes Door On Stubborn Greenback Boys

The Porter Panthers hit a high 54.3 percent of their field goal attempts Friday night and eliminated a hustling Greenback squad 66-54.

The Cherokee trailed 15-10 after one quarter.

Greenback rallied in the second period behind the shooting of Tony Linginfelter and Larry Ritchey to over take the Panthers and the lead at 20-25 by intermission. The Cherokees hit a remarkable nine of 11 field goal attempts during the second canto in vanishing past the Porter five.

The Cherokees stretched the difference to eight in the opening two minutes of the second half. A drought from the field which saw Greenback go five minutes and 14 seconds without a basket, suddenly turned the game momentum to Porter.

Porter's hot shooting, 24 of 44 from the field, gave them three straight wins over Cherokees this season. The Panthers defeated Greenback 76-36 and 60-49 in the earlier encounters. The game was tied at the half in the latter defeat.

Greenback out rebounded their opponent as Bill Kyker gathered in 14 rebounds. Tony Linginfelter playing at top form had 13 rebounds and 10 points. Tim Hammontree added nine rebounds.

All District Six performer, Joe Masour, was limited to seven points and fouled out late in the final period.

Larry Ritchey carried the Greenback offense with 27 points. The hustling playmaker collected most of his points from the 15-20 foot range. Greenback hit a normal winning percentage of 42.5 percent with 20 baskets in 47 attempts, but on this night the Panthers were hitting everything they tossed up and the splendid Greenback play was not enough.

Porter never let up after gaining the upper hand and lead and then turned on the scoring juice to make the game a rout at 40-18 by halftime. The Lady Redskins exacted in the second half with thoughts to Wednesday nights

Loudon hit respectable 44 percent for the Oliver Springs victory and pulled off 45 rebounds to carry 44 minutes honorably but a cool 34 percent for the night and collected but 31 missed shots.

Kingston's Nine Year Regional Skien Ended By Panthers, 66-45

One of the most impressive local tournament records in modern times came to an end in District Nine competition.

Friday night, as Lenoir City knocked off Kingston in an impressive fashion, 66-45. The first round loss of the Jackets ended nine consecutive years of qualification for regional play, and marked the first time in 10 years the Kingston team had failed to make the final of the meet.

had won seven championships, and five of them had gone on to qualify for state tournament competition.

Lenoir City used strong board play and 50 percent shooting to manhandle Kingston, who fell behind early and was never able to catch up.

King City and the Panthers jumped out to an 8-1 margin. After Kingston finally started scoring the Panthers got a big lift from reserve Gary Brackett, who came off the bench to help keep the host ahead.

Kingston closed it to 3 points several times in the first half, after trailing 19-0 at the first stop.

Kingston was hurt badly early in the ball game when Richard Bailey, one of the leading scorers on the team, committed three fouls in 3:19 of play. He went to the bench and didn't return until the start of the second half.

Tim Cunningham and Randy Tatham paced Lenoir City, who became the first team of the meet to qualify for the regional, hitting 20 and 18 points, respectively.

Eugene Martin was the only Kingston performer playing up to snuff. The quick senior guard finally took most of the scoring a lead and finished with 22 points for his night's work.

Kingston trailed only 28-20 going into the second half, but Lenoir City continued to bomb the basket and out-rebound the Jackets.

Charles Doe, a junior guard, went to the foul line for a point and then hit a fielder as L. C. moved out to a 31-20 lead at the very outset of the third period.

Bailey then got his first field goal, but Cunningham answered it, and Martin traded a long fielder with Cunningham's two charity shots and it was 37-24 with 4:11 left in the third period.

Kingston began to score better, as Martin was rarely missing with his looping jumper from 20-25 feet, but Lenoir City continued to pour it on.

The Panthers moved to a 20 point lead (60-40) with about 3 minutes left in the game and were cautiously running time off the clock.

The victory kept Lenoir City alive and with an overall record of 16-9. The loss ended the Kingston season at 13-17, marking the first year in the past 14 the Jackets failed to win 20 or more games.

Lenoir City won the battle of the boards 32-21, but the margin was much greater in the first half.

Fatal First Half Eliminates Cherokettes

The Greenback Cherokettes dropped their opening round game in the District Six Tournament Thursday night 58-44.

The Greenback Lassies opened the tourney with a late afternoon contest against the Alcoa Tornadoettes. The game was fairly decided by the end of the first half. Greenback trailed 41-19 at intermission with the Tornadoettes Rudy Jones accounting for 22 of the Alcoa 41 counters.

Coch Charles Rutley's girls came up with a sticky defense in the second half allowing Miss Jones to a total of three points but her teams first half assault had proved to be enough to win standing the rallying Cherokettes. Greenback out scored Alcoa in the second half 25-18.

The two teams had met in the regular season with Alcoa winning both games. In their first meeting Alcoa squeaked by 26-20 and then picked up a 56-47 decision late in the season.

Greenback was led in the scoring column by Marj Hamontree. The junior scoring ace rifled in 23 points on nine field goals in 23 tries.

Rosanne Presson, Captain of the Cherokettes, ended her high school career with 11 points. Teammate Kathy Williams totaled eight in round out the Greenback scoring.

Greenback hit a disappointing 26.4 percent for the game on 18 of 68 field goal attempts. Alcoa hit a higher percentage for the game with 25 field goals on 59 attempts from the field. Greenback out rebounded the Tornadoettes for the entire game.

Game & Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game & Fish Commission

The hunters and fishermen of Loudon County have an important decision to make concerning the future of their sport. According to David M. Goodrich, Director of the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission, it is up to the sportsmen to encourage their representatives and senators in the 87th General Assembly to provide adequate financing for the Game and Fish Commission. "No longer can the Commission operate on a 'make-ends-meet' budget, no longer can we be satisfied with maintaining the status quo, no longer can we tread water while our wildlife resources are swept away.

To fully recognize the responsibility of the sportsmen in this matter, all the revenue received by the Game and Fish Commission originates with them in the form of licenses, permits and fees. The sportsmen pay the Federal excise taxes, collected at the manufacturer's level, on all sporting equipment and prorated to the states on the basis of the number of licenses purchased in that state. No monies are appropriated from the General Fund for the operation of the Game and Fish Commission. As you can see, this puts the burden of responsibility squarely on the shoulders of the hunters and fishermen. Are you willing to pay the increased cost of maintaining present hunting and fishing resources? Are you willing to pay for an accelerated program that would result in maintenance and creation of suitable habitat which will produce more game and fish and more hunting and fishing opportunity? Or would you rather see a steady decline in the service to sportsmen and a steady decline in fish and wildlife populations in Loudon County and the State of Tennessee?

The Game and Fish Commission is proposing a split license: one for hunting and one for fishing. The proposed cost of these licenses would be $3.00 for fishing, $7.50 for hunting, or a combination hunting and fishing license for $10.00. The Commission is asking that the nonresident, fishing in Tennessee, be charged $10.00 for an annual license. The revenue derived from the increased cost of these licenses would all be used to provide needed services, more and better hunting and fishing opportunities for all sportsmen. The Game and Fish Commission has entered into an agreement with the U. S. Forest Service to manage the entire Cherokee National Forest as one wildlife management area. This will require additional money for personnel to protect, stock, post and manage these 600 thousand acres. The end result would more than double the available managed hunting in this area. The roads and trails on the Catoosa Wildlife Management Area would be improved and the necessary bridges constructed. A hatchery facility for the production of rockfish and muskellunge would be constructed on land already owned by the Game and Fish Commission in Anderson County. A minimum of 500,000 rockfish and hybrids and 5,000 musky to be stocked in our waters would be produced. The Buffalo Springs trout hatchery in Grainger County could be completed which will produce 100 thousand pounds of trout per year. The program, in conjunction with the University of Tennessee, to encourage landowners to set aside some of their land for small game production would be expanded and more technical guidance by trained personnel would more effectively utilize this opportunity. Additional money provided by a license increase will enable the Commission to set in motion a small game habitat improvement program utilizing the cooperation of landowners and sportsmen. More and better public access to our lakes and streams, in addition to better camping facilities on Catoosa and Chuck Swan, could also be realized. Those of you who witnessed the illegal slaughter of deer deer opening day of the deer season last year and have knowledge of the poaching of all game species are aware of the need for more enforcement officers to protect our wildlife resources. These are but examples of what could and need to be done in our immediate area, and we have not even mentioned the obligation we owe to our children to insure that they have the opportunity to enjoy the woodlands fields, lakes and streams as we have known them.

Game and Fish managers agree that game and fish are a crop which Mother Nature will produce abundantly if only we provide suitable habitat and protection.

The Game and Fish Commission can only provide the amount of habitat and protection the sportsmen are willing to pay for. So you see it really is up to you. Let the members of the legislature who represent you know your answer.

HISTORY OF THE GAME AND FISH COMMISSION

The first laws dealing with Game and Fish were laws of destruction and not conservation. They were first passed in 1797 to encourage the destruction of wildlife by paying bounties and allowing the scalps to be used for the payment of taxes.

When our State Constitution was adopted in 1870, the first PROTECTION AND PRESERVATION laws were passed. In 1905 the first Game and Fish Department was created and all wildlife was declared to be property of the State. From 1915 until 1949, when the present Game and Fish Commission was created, the Game and Fish Department was switched from one state agency to another.

The present Game and Fish Commission is a self-supporting state agency which receives its revenue solely from the sale of hunting-fishing licenses, stamps, permits, fines, boat registration fees, and federal aid which is taxes imposed on hunting and fishing equipment and redistributed to the States on a basis of hunting-fishing licenses sold. The Dinglell-Johnson and Pittman-Robertson Acts are federal aid, and they are the backbone for research projects conducted by the Game and Fish Commission.

Average Deduction $1,810 Locally

Taxpayers in Loudon County who are working on their Federal Income Tax tenth member.

The commissioners receive no compensation for their services, except reimbursement for travel and lodging expenses for six regular meetings each year and not more than six called meetings a year.

The responsibilities of the Game and Fish Commission is the administering of all laws relating to fish, game, boating safety, and to preserve and propagate wildlife resources of the State.

returns can now determine how closely their personal deductions compare with the average.

Were their charitable contributions in the past year larger or smaller than those made by others? What about their deductible outlays for medical expenses, for interest and for local taxes?

To know whether their deductions are running higher or lower than those listed by other people might be useful. Some light in this direction is provided by the Commerce Clearing House, a national authority on tax and business law, and by the Internal Revenue Service. They have released data showing what the deductions have amounted to in recent years at each income level. Among families in the United States with incomes close to the average prevailing in Loudon County, the deductions come to approximately $1,810, which is about 20 percent of their adjusted gross income.

The percentage varies with income, it is found. It ranges from 15 percent to 25 percent. Families in the local area whose incomes are as high as $20,000 to $25,000, for example, would have deductions of about $3,500 under normal circumstances, equal to about 16 percent of their adjusted gross income. On the other hand, those in the $7,000 to $8,000 bracket would be deducting $1,500, or 21 percent.

Of the $1,810 in deductions taken by families with incomes approximating the Loudon County average, a breakdown shows that $256 of it is for charitable contributions, $600 for interest paid on loans and installment debt, $590 for state and local taxes and $864 for medical and dental expenditures.

As for the donations to charity, it is noted that the government is a silent partner in these gifts. It picks up part of the tab. As a result, the net cost to the taxpayer of each dollar he contributes ranges from as little as 30 cents for those in the top brackets, to 81 cents for those with small incomes.

No Power Rate Increase—TVA

The TVA Board of Directors has conducted its quarterly review of the agency's power program finances and has determined that no rate adjustment will be necessary for the April-June quarter. Revenues for the current fiscal year ending June 30 are expected to cover costs by an acceptable margin, TVA said, but a continuing evaluation will be necessary in the coming fiscal year because of prospective increases in charges relating to new power facilities, fuel, labor, and environmental protection measures.

Do you really want your brother-in-law to know how much you earned last year?

Of course not. It's nobody's business but your own.

However, annually millions of taxpayers bear this kind of personal information to people who really shouldn't know. For what? Just so they can save a few dollars doing their income tax.

That's some price to pay.

You see, for only a few dollars more than it costs to do it with any amateur who might not know that work clothes in some instances are deductible, or that income averaging might save tax dollars, you can have your tax return done by a specially trained member of the H & R Block team with complete confidentiality. There are thousands of them in over 6,000 conveniently located offices. H & R Block's fees start at $5 and the average cost was under $12.50 for the 7 million families we served last year.

Open 9 a.m. - 6 p.m. Weekdays
9 a.m. - 5 p.m. Saturdays

NO APPOINTMENT NECESSARY

Do you really want your brother-in-law to know how much you earned last year?

Furthermore, if your return is audited we will accompany you, at no extra cost, to the Internal Revenue Service and explain how your return was prepared, even though we will not act as your legal representative.

This means that H & R Block is ready to offer you year 'round tax service for just one fee a year, with no extra charge for audits and estimates.

Yes, we cost a little bit more than your relatives or friends or neighbors but when you think of what we deliver, you can't afford anything less than H & R Block.

County Median Age Advances To 31

In Loudon County, due to changes in recent years in the birth rate and in life expectancy, the median age of the local population is now 31.5 years.

It means that for every resident who is younger than that there is one who is older.

The current median is somewhat higher than it was in 1960, when the previous family. We were able to identify a few of those in the picture. Some we didn't know, but as is almost always the case, some of our readers will usually help us out. And such was the case with this picture. We had a call from Mrs. Shorty McJunkins who informed us that the ones we couldn't identify were out of town visitors who had come with some of the McJunkins' family members to the get-together. While we were talking to Mrs. McJunkins she told us she had an old picture for us which we feel will create a lot of interest. Our many thanks to her for her call.

Mrs. Erskine Millsaps says she also has some pictures for us to use in the Good Old Days. We would like to say that anyone having pictures to loan us, give us a call, and we will be glad to come and pick them up. We would also like to express our thanks to our readers for their continuing interest and help in making the Good Old Days possible.

Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

world presents big problems. The extent to which this has been happening in the local area is to be seen in the Census Bureau's report on the number of children in the population under the age of five for every 1,000 women of child-bearing age. This is called the "fertility ratio."

The ratio in Loudon County is given as 321. In 1960 it was 414.

The shift in the median age has been strongly influenced, also, by the number of people in the older age brackets. As in most areas of the country, the over-65 segment of the local population has been rising in the past 10 years.

By way of comparison, the median age of the American population as a whole is now 27.9. It is 28.1 throughout the State of Tennessee.

For some years, in the local area and in most other parts of the country, the median age level had been moving downward. It was due principally to the high birth rates experienced after World War II. The sharp increase in the number of young people had the effect of bringing the median age down.

More recently, however, the birth rate has been moving in the opposite direction, dropping steadily. It is attributed to the fact that women in their 20's are having fewer children than did women of similar age in earlier times.

According to the 1970 National Fertility Study, this trend is likely to continue for some time. Its findings indicate that women in their early 20's expect to have an average of 2.33 children. The average in 1965, when a similar study was made, was 3.03.

The turn toward smaller families is ascribed by the Population Reference Bureau to a realization on the part of young married people that "rearing children in this complicated and expensive

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

We have written many times in the Good Old Days about places and events that are woven into the past events of our town. These are things only related to our town, Loudon, and are very deeply connected with it. But along with these places and events are people, who were well known by those who lived in Loudon during the period of time we call the Good Old Days.

The other day we received a picture of a man who was well known by the people of Loudon a few years past. The man we have reference to is the late Joe Smith. Mr. Smith drove the truck at the Charles H. Bacon Hosiery Mill for many many years.

Prior to the days of trucks coming to our area, Uncle Joe, as he was called, drove a horse drawn wagon. In those days all the hosiery produced by the mill was shipped by train, and he hauled it and from the Depot. As far as we can determine, he worked his whole life for this company. His family says as best they can determine he was around 75 years old when he died.

This family lived in a house behind the old Grubb Motor Co. Building. The house is now torn down. Uncle Joe's wife was also well known and everyone called her Granny. When I was growing up I used to stop by their house and talk to her as she sat on her front porch. Our thanks to the Smith family for the loan of this picture.

We were asked awhile back if we recalled the flood in Roanoke County caused by the breaking of the Oakeside Dam. It was terrible. We have a picture made on the scene the next morning which speaks for itself.

Our old old Depot pictures which we ran without telling where they were located have created a lot of interest with our readers. We have received many phone calls and a lot of comments from those we meet on our travels around Loudon. We appreciate this interest very much and thought that if our readers enjoyed trying to figure out where these old depots were located, they might also enjoy trying to figure where this old mill which we are running a picture of this week was located. Note the old Wood Mill race which has to travel quite a ways up hill to supply water to

COURT REMAP POWER PLAY - - -
County Court Monday was the scene of another power play by the second district squires. It was a play that would have scored a touchdown on anybody's football team. Under law the court has to be reappointed before the August General Elections.

The nine man court make up was and still is nine members with three from the first and fourth districts, four from the second, and one each from the third and fifth districts.

New population figures showed sizeable imbalance in the court one-man, one-vote make-up. The first and fourth districts were about right (slightly overweight) for three squires, third district about right, fifth district very under represented and the second district far short of population for its four members.

Some thought, with help from the first, fourth and third district squires, that the fifth district would grab off a few hundred people from the second district and get two court members for the fifth, thus bringing the second district back to three members.

But the second district court members were ahead of the game. Instead they got help from the fifth district, took a big hunk out of the fifth district population and moved the second district line from the railroad tracks on U.S. 11 to the river at Loudon to get some 200 or more people from the first district.

It is all part of a continuing power struggle which dates back over several decades when the balance of power was in other hands. Through the years district power has changed in the court and with it comes changes giving the powers-that-be the ruling hand over many court committees.

There may be a lawsuit challenging the reapportionment by the squires who feel they got robbed.

It is too bad that these things happen, but never the less they do. Grudges develop, even this latest action is a grudge act, and this leads to problems of cooperation on matters in the future.

We look for the court reapportionment to branch out into many other areas and have drastic effect on such things as road department reorganizations, appointments and the hiring of county employees. We will find this out soon we believe.

CORONER CHECKS BODY—Loudon County Coroner Dr. W.B. Harrison checks the body of Henry Jenkins Jr., who was killed by a shotgun blast outside the home of a friend in Lenoir City early last Thursday morning. The body was about 200 feet from the spot the man took the blast in the chest. Also in the picture are Sheriff Freeman Russell, deputy Guy Russell, L.P. Police Chief Wayne Chambers and Deputy Kenneth Brown.

Man Killed By Shotgun Blast, Friend Charged With Murder

An argument between two brothers-in-law led to the shocking death of a third man who was a friend to the in-laws when he was killed by the in-laws about 10:30 a.m. Thursday at the home of one of the men on Rogers Circle in Lenoir City. Henry Jenkins, Jr., 21, died moments after he was struck in the chest by a charge fired from a 12 gauge shotgun. The shot was reportedly fired by Ray Allen Parks, who was in the kitchen of the home. The victim was apparently standing in front of a window outside the kitchen.

with statements taken from others. He said that Gray, Covington and Jenkins had been at Dan's Place, a beer tavern near the Parks home about 10:30 p.m. Wednesday night. He said there the two men had apparently had words concerning statements Gray reportedly made to Covington's wife about him seeing another woman. Sheriff Russell said Parks left later and went home and Covington and the dead man went to another tavern for a while. About 12:30 a.m. the two men went to the Parks home. Covington reportedly knocked on the front and back doors and on a kitchen window. Mrs. Parks told her husband, who apparently was expecting Covington because he had his shotgun loaded and in his possession, the officers said that "Bud was trying to get in the back door." Parks told officers he fired the shotgun through the kitchen window "just to scare Bud," and that he did not know Jenkins, who he said was "my best friend," was standing there. After being hit by the shotgun blast from about six feet away Jenkins walked about 30 feet before falling, dead beside a brick house behind the Parks home.

Highway Reorganization On May 4 Election Ballot

If a projected timetable goes through, Loudon County voters will decide at the May 4 Primary election whether to reorganize the County Highway Department to a Board of nine Commissioners who would then hire a single county-wide road superintendent.

County Court Monday voted to ask Rep. Benny Stafford and Sen. Houston Goddard to pass a private act to that effect and to have it come back to a referendum of the people for ratification.

County Court Monday voted to ask Rep. Benny Stafford and Sen. Houston Goddard to pass a private act to that effect and to have it come back to a referendum of the people for ratification. Squire James M. Harssok made the motion to request the private act be passed. It was seconded by Court member J.D. Gunner.

Vote on the measure followed district lines. 5-4. Voting in favor of the proposal were Squires Gunner, Harssok, Henry Foster, Curtis Williams and R.P. Hamilton. Voting against it were J.J. Blair, Roy Bledsoe, Jack Leffer and J.C. Hudson.

An amendment offered by Squire Foster after the initial motion passed, however, was approved by an 8-1 vote with only Bledsoe voting against it. The amendment would delay the effective date of the measure to Sept. 1, 1974 at the end of the term of those who have already announced their candidacy for Road Commissioner.

The present Highway Commission is made up of three members, each of whom serves as a working supervisor over his own road district. Lillard Bledsoe serves the First Road District, Lenoir City, Eaton Cross Roads and the Third District (Greenback, Glendale).

However, the Road Commission structure is embroiled in a pair of lawsuits—one of which attacks its validity on the one-man-one-vote basis, and the proposed reorganization would satisfy that complaint.

If the people should approve the reorganization, the Road Commission would be composed of nine men on the same organizational basis as County Court. Their function would be to establish policy and to hire and direct the activities of a single, county-wide Road Commissioner.

The line previously had been generally along Sugar Lamb Road, but included about 300 people on the East side of the bridge in the First (Loudon) District.

The boundary line also was redrawn between the Second and Fifth Districts. The new line follows I-75 from the river to new Highway 85, then to Shaw Ferry Road, to Highway 11 and to the Knox County line.

County members from Loudon and Philadelphia, joined by Squire J.G. Hudson from Greenback, objected to that part of the plan. It was reported later that a poll taken by a court member during the lunch break that the court vote on the measure would be 8-1 or 9-0 for the adoption of the tax, even after the presentation by the motel owners.

Court Appears Firm On Motel Room Tax

For more than 90 minutes Monday morning, Loudon County Court heard local motel and hotel owners give arguments against the adoption of a private act that would place a five percent occupancy tax on all motel and hotel rooms in the county.

County Median Age Advances To 31

In Loudon County, due to changes in recent years in the birth rate and in life expectancy, the median age of the local population is now 31.5 years. It means that for every resident who is younger than that there is one who is older.

The current median is somewhat higher than it was in 1960, when the previous family. We were able to identify a few of those in the picture. Some we didn't know, but as is almost always the case, some of our readers will usually help us out. And such was the case with this picture. We had a call from Mrs. Shorty McJunkins who informed us that the ones we couldn't identify were out of town visitors who had come with some of the McJunkins' family members to the get-together. While we were talking to Mrs. McJunkins she told us she had an old picture for us which we feel will create a lot of interest. Our many thanks to her for her call.

Mrs. Erskine Milsaps says she also has some pictures for us to use in the Good Old Days. We would like to say that anyone having pictures to loan us, give us a call, and we will be glad to come and pick them up. We would also like to express our thanks to our readers for their continuing interest and help in making the Good Old Days possible. Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

world presents big problems." The extent to which this has been happening in the local area is to be seen in the Census Bureau's report on the number of children in the population under the age of five for every 1,000 women of child-bearing age. This is called the "fertility ratio."

The ratio in Loudon County is given as 321. In 1960 it was 414.

The shift in the median age has been strongly influenced, also, by the number of people in the older age brackets. As in most areas of the country, the over-65 segment of the local population has been rising in the past 10 years.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

We have written many times in the Good Old Days about places and events that are woven into the past, events of our town. These are things only related to our town, Loudon, and are very deeply connected with it. But along with these places and events are people, who were well known by those who lived in Loudon during the period of time we call the Good Old Days.

The other day we received a picture of a man who was well known by the people of Loudon a few years past. The man we have reference to is the late Joe Smith. Mr. Smith drove the truck at the Charles H. Bacon Hosiery Mill for many years.

Prior to the days of trucks coming to our area, Uncle Joe, as he was called, drove a horse drawn wagon. In those days all the hosiery produced by the mill was shipped by train, and he hauled to and from the Depot. As far as we can determine, he worked his whole life for this company. His family says at best they can determine he was around 75 years old when he died.

This family lived in a house behind the old Grubb Motor Co. Building. The house is now torn down. Uncle Joe's wife was also well known and everyone called her Granny. When I was growing up I used to stop by their house and talk to her as she sat on her front porch. Our thanks to the Smith family for the loan of this picture.

We were asked awhile back if we recalled the flood in Roane County caused by the breaking of the Okdale Dam. It was terrible. We have a picture made on the scene the next morning which speaks for itself.

Our old old Depot pictures which we ran without telling where they were located have created a lot of interest with our readers. We have received many phone calls and a lot of comments from those we meet in our travels around Loudon. We appreciate this interest very much and thought that if our readers enjoyed trying to figure out where these old depots were located, they might also enjoy trying to figure where this old mill, which was running a picture of this week was located. Note the old Wood Mill race which has to travel quite a ways uphill to supply water to

County Going Ahead With Local Jail Improvement Plans

After discussing the fact that Loudon County was not picked for the site of one of two regional jail facilities County Court instructed the standing jail committee hire an architect and prepare plans for a new or remodeled jail for the county.

The county has been under pressure from the Grand Jury and Criminal Judge Lloyd McCluen for provide adequate facilities for all prisoners for several years. Presently the county cannot house juvenile or women prisoners in the jail because of the lack of facilities.

Judge Sproul said that the county has been promised some state funds to help on the construction of a jail under the Emergency Operations Center Program. He said money for the basement or ground floor could be obtained especially for a communications center.

The committee was instructed to proceed as rapidly as possible and make a report at the April term of court.

The body was about 300 feet from the spot the man took the blast in the chest. #### Man Killed By Shotgun Blast, Friend Charged With Murder

An argument between two brothers-in-law led to the shooting death of a third man who was a friend of the two in laws about 12:30 a.m. Thursday at the home of one of the men on Rogers Circle in Lenoir City. Henry Jenkins Jr., 31, died moments after he was struck in the chest by a charge fired from a 12 gauge shotgun. The shot was reportedly fired by Ray Allen Parks, who was in the kitchen of his home. The victim was apparently standing in front of a window outside the kitchen.

Investigating the incident are Loudon County Sheriff Freeman Russell, Lenoir City Police Chief Wayne Chambers, Attorney General Kenneth Deatherage and TBI Agent Leon Miller.

The story of the fatal shooting was pieced together from statements officers took from Parks, who was charged with murder, his brother-in-law Robert Gray (Bud) Covington, and other members of the family at the house. Sheriff Freeman Russell said that information taken from most witnesses agrees with statements taken from others. He said that Gray, Covington and Jenkins had been at Don's Place, a beer tavern near the Parks home about 10:30 p.m. Wednesday night. He said there the two men had apparently had words concerning statements Gray reportedly made to Covington's wife about him seeing another woman.

Sheriff Russell said Parks left later and went home and Covington and the dead man went to another tavern for a while. About 12:30 a.m. the two men went to the Parks home. Covington reportedly knocked on the front and back doors and on a kitchen window. Mrs. Parks told her husband, (who apparently was expecting Covington, because he had his shotgun loaded and in his possession, the officers said) that "Bud was trying to get in the back door." Parks told officers he fired the shotgun through the kitchen window "just to scare Bud," and that he did not know Jenkins, who he said was "my best friend," was standing there. After being hit

Highway Reorganization On May 4 Election Balot

If a projected timetable goes through, Loudon County voters will decide at the May 4 Primary election whether to reorganize the County Highway Department to a Board of nine Commissioners who would then hire a single county-wide road superintendent.

County Court Monday voted to ask Rep. Benny Stafford and Sen. Houston Goddard to issue a private act to that effect and to have it come back to a referendum of the people for ratification.

Squire James M. Hartsook made the motion to request the private act be passed. It was seconded by Court member L.D. Conner.

Vote on the measure followed district lines, 5-4. Voting in favor of the proposal were Squires Conner, Hartsook, Henry Foster, Curtis Williams and R.P. Hamilton. Voting against it were J.J. Blair, Roy Bledsoe, Jack Lefter and J.C. Hatsook.

An amendment offered by Squire Foster after the initial motion passed, however, was approved by an 8-1 vote with only Bledsoe voting against it. The amendment would delay the effective date of the measure to Sept. 1, 1974 at the end of the terms of those who have already announced their candidacy for Road Commissioner.

The present Highway Commission is made up of three members, each of whom serve as a working supervisor over his own road district. Lillard Bledsoe serves the First Road District, made up of the First and Fourth Civil Districts (Loudon-Philadelphia area), Lee Malone serves the Second and Fifth Districts (Lenoir City, Eaton area), and Joe Greenway is Road Commissioner for the Third District (Greenback, Glendale).

However, the Road Commission structure is embroiled in a pair of lawsuits-one of which attacks its validity on the one man one vote basis-and the proposed reorganization would satisfy that complaint.

If the people should approve the reorganization the Road Commission would be composed of nine men on the same organizational basis as County Court. Their function would be to establish policy and to hire and direct the activities of a single, county-wide Road Superintendent. The reorganization plan would permit operation of a central county garage, a central equipment pool, and other consolidated operations instead of each Road District operating separately.

Road Commissioner Malone spoke up at the Court meeting. "We don't represent just one district. The three of us together represent the whole county," he insisted.

County Judge Harvey Sproul pointed out, however, that the three of them are elected from separate districts and that, for example, Mr. Greenway represents about 2,700 people while Mr. Malone represents almost 12,500 people.

Contacted in Nashville Tuesday morning, the next day after the Court meeting, Rep. Benny Stafford agreed to introduce the measure and Sen. Houston Goddard agreed that if Mr. Stafford favored it, he would push it in the Senate as well. Deadline for introduction of private bills for passage, Mr. Stafford said, is Friday, Thursday, but he thought he could get the necessary paper work done in time.

Assuming passage by both Houses of the State Legislature and signing by the Governor, the measure will come directly back to the Loudon County Election Commission to be included in the May 4 Presidential Primary.

Court Moves District Lines In Remap, Still 9 Squires

The line previously had been generally along Sugar Limb Road and included about 300 people on the East side of the bridge in the First (Loudon) district.

The boundary line also was redrawn between the Second and Fifth Districts. The new line follows 1 1/2 miles from the river to new Highway 92, then to Shaw Ferry Road, to Highway 11 and to the Knox County line. The line formerly had followed Hotchkiss Valley Road.

Boundary lines for the Third District - Greenback and Glendale - were not disturbed.

And except for the new lines, the make-up of the Court was not changed. The First and Fourth Districts - Loudon and Philadelphia area - will elect three members, the Second District - Lenoir City area - will elect four, the Fifth District - Eaton Cross Roads - one, and the Third District - Greenback, Glendale - one member, for a total of nine.

State law requires each county to reapportion itself in accordance with population figures shown by the 1970 census. The resolution shows that each Justice of the Peace should represent 386 people. Mr. Foster told the Court in presenting his resolution that the new boundaries would accomplish that goal within plus or minus five percent.

Some of the Loudon area Justices after Monday's Court session were looking into the possibility of bringing a lawsuit to set aside the reapportionment. They objected to losing the 300 people on the east side of the bridge from the First District to the Second.

The change in boundary between the Second and Fifth Districts apparently was by agreement, however. Adoption of the proposal was moved by Squire Foster and pay the tax. He mentioned the fact that surrounding counties did not have the tax and that this would cause business to by-pass Loudon County motels after it became known that the tax existed. He said that Memphis and Nashville, who do have the room tax, could not be used as examples because both areas were convention centers and had tourists attractions.

Lawson said that he and others thought that when the court adopted the additional half cent sales tax that the motel tax idea was being dropped.

Bill Hildebr, cited sale tax collection figures that he said would prove to be enough to pay off the bond issue over a 15 or 20 year period, making the room tax unnecessary. He also mentioned that business growth in the county was undergoing unparalleled growth which would further add to sales tax collections. He said retail sales in the county last month were more than three million dollars and that it was possible for the county to reach 40 million in sales this year, which would be a 50 percent growth in two years. He predicted that the county was getting ready for an economic explosion, even if the Tollco Project is not completed.

Squire J.J. Blair asked why the motel owners waited until now to express their opposition to the measure. He said that at the time the measure was decided on the access roads were a dead issue unless this was adopted. Squire J.D. Conner made similar statements saying that the combination of the motel tax and what money was left from schools and the cities share from the half cent sales tax would be needed to pay the road bonds to keep from putting additional burden on the taxpayers and he would never vote for this. Squire Henry Foster agreed that if the motel tax was needed to keep the property taxpayers from paying for the road bonds the court would have no recourse but to adopt it.

Squire Jim Hartsook, who introduced the motel tax idea in the court last year, stood firm behind the proposal, but said if there was a way out later, if the sales tax could pay the bonds, and if the motel tax did indeed hurt the local motel industry, then he would be the first to find a new means to try to raise the money. The court is expected to vote on the adoption of the private act at the April

Pantherettes Pull Region Upset With Sizzling 51-49 Conquest Of Bradley

The Lenoir City Pantherettes, a predominate sophomore constructed team and Cinderella finisher in District Nine, is no longer considered a team riding out their success for later experience.

Coach Glenn Williams' antics proved to be the unexpected surprise in the regular season of District Nine by playing tough in the clutches and sliding into the third seeded spot of last weeks playdowns. The Pantherettes could not better themselves in gaining a berth in the Region Five this week. The young Lenoir City cagers, one senior and one junior provide the only real upper classman label, were matched against the third best team in the Region (reared wise) and for the most part dominated long before tip-off.

Midway, District Nine's strongest power suit with a 30-0 record, was given the nod as the team to beat for Region Five honors. Cleveland was considered the top challenger holding a 29-3 season record and at least one victory over every team in the Region field but Midway, a team that never crossed paths in regular season. Bradley County figured into the title routine with a 18-4 record, twice falling to Cleveland in three meetings. District 10's Copper Basin stood in the pack with a 20-7 slate and the teams to be met are on paper with two of the top four expected for duty in the state's traditional tourney powers in the Bradley Bearettes. The Bearettes had toyed with the Pantherettes during mid-season and posted a rather easy 12-point victory. The game started with Lenoir City holding a 30 game season and clobbered Copper Basin. Cleveland responded to the idea as the new tourney favorite with a sound drumming of crippled McKees County, playing with out services of star forward Kathy Campbell. Lenoir City, marking time with a modest 14-12 record, prepared with little fanfare in challenge one of the state's traditional tourney powers in the Bradley Bearettes. The Bearettes had toyed with the Pantherettes during mid-season and posted a rather easy 12-point victory. The game started with Lenoir City holding a renewably hot hand so do before falling back to a more experienced team. (And not to prolong the game but Bradley carried more tourney experience in name than all six teams in the entire Region.) The Pantherettes bolted to a 10-3 score before the Bradley offense countered. Lenoir City held firm with its bid to stay alive and was in control 10-13 by the end of the quarter. Marjetta Blackburn and Mary Ruth Dunsmore, hitting on every beat kept the Pantherettes rolling on offense, while Janet Leeper was playing as a one man destruction crew in out rebounding and defending all three Bradley forwards. By halftime Lenoir City had gone from an eight point margin to a four point lead. Bradley opened the second half with a serious nature to their play and cut the Pantherette difference to a field goal. Lenoir City countered with a basket by Dunsmore and after a Bradley turnover Marjetta Blackburn banked in a basket to run the lead up to six. Try as they might Bradley County could not pick up a point on the poised Lenoir City.

Arp's Sextet Post LHS's 1st Girls 20-Game Winner In Over Two Decades

Loudon has a team in the semifinals of the Region V Tournament at Athens. Coach DeWayne Arp's Lassie sextet, runner-up to Midway in District Nine, notched its 20th victory of the season Monday evening with a 39-30 thumping of District 10's third place finisher Copper Basin.

for Loudon in bucking the scoring of Miss Smith. Janet Shubert was nearly as effective bucketing nine points. Loudon hit but 32.5 of its field goals with success on 13

The Monday night win was the only victory for a District Nine team in the opening night festivities featuring four games. Little Marilyn Smith, sophomore sharpshooter, continued her peppering of the nets with 19 points in leading the Loudon offense. Miss Shubert an All District Nine selection, has taken charge of the Lassie forwards in the last half dozen games of the season with her hustling play and deadly shooting and has teamed with Lynn Dorsey and Jane Shubert in making Loudon one of the better sextets of the area. Lynn Dorsey had 11 points of 40 team shots. The Cogarettes were even worse, shooting 20 percent for the night (12 of 60). The big difference came from Loudon's outstanding foul shooting. The Lassies hit a calm 86 percent of its tosses with 13 of 15 shots zipping through the twine. Copper Basin hit only six of 14 free throw charity line for 43 percent.

Coach DeWayne Arp turned the game over to worthy reserves in the fading minutes of the game. After the Lassies had vaulted to a seven point lead and chose to put the ball on ice early in the fourth quarter. The freeze resulting in easy baskets and foul shots which boosted the score to a uncatchable difference opening the way for the "Lassie wrecking crew" to finish up.

Subpar Play Eliminates Lenoir City

Lenoir City left its "game" at home Tuesday night in opposing McMinn County in the Region Five boys action. The Panthers managed but three points in the first quarter, foul shot and tips by Tim Cunningham, while the Cherokees collected 23 points and the tempo of the contest.

The Cherokees raced to a 32-14 halftime score. Lenoir City failed to register a single rebound in the second eight minutes of play and got off but eight shots, hitting four.

Lenoir City hit a higher field goal percentage for the game by connecting on 17 of 37 shots for a 46 percent. The Cherokees out scored Lenoir City by 13 points from the field and shot nearly twice as much. The McMinn Five finished with a 37.7 field goal percentage on 23 of 61 shots. McMinn won the backboard tussle with 39 to 25 difference.

spark of the type play they are capable of in the third canto with a 16-9 scoring budge over the McMinn team. Tim Cunningham tallied seven points and Randy Tatham four in the Panthers brightest showing.

The Panthers finished the season with a 17-11 record.

Loudon Passes Opening Round Test In Region

Loudon advanced to the semi-final round of Region Five Tuesday night with a no-frills easy win over Calhoun. The Minks, considered the probable weakest boys team in the tourney, spotted Loudon an 11 point lead and then stormed back to go ahead with 1:32 left in the half. Loudon regained the lead by intermission 25-23 and settled the issue in the third quarter with a scoring burst that had them ahead by 21 points at site point.

Calhoun damped in nine straight points in 39 seconds of play to narrow the Redskin count to 61-50 at the close of the third period. The Redskins before fouling out late in the game.

The Redskins got a balanced scoring game from its starters with Bill Collins hammering the hoops for 18 points and Mike Messamore joined the double figure group on five of eight field goals and five foul shots for 15 points. Bill Collins and Mike Messamore ruled the backboards with 17 and 16 stray shot recoveries respectively.

Loudon ran its season record to 25 victories as opposed to six defeats in presenting Coach Hugh Watson with a teasing birthday win, that had the crowd buzzing with the possibility of a Calhoun upset in the first half. Editor note: It appears everybody at Loudon High School has birthdays during basketball season.

matched the Minks point for point to the final eight minutes and won going away 79-64.

Yancy Hampton turned up for the semi-final round with 29 points. The Redskins' All State candidate was once again the center of attraction of several college coaches on hand for the game. Mr. Hampton hit on 11 of 21 shots and added seven foul shots

Some 900 odd teams embarked on the trail to the Tennessee boys' and girls' basketball crown last week in 22 districts across the state. There were 296 cage teams led for regional playdowns and at this writing there remains but 120 teams from which by Saturday night there will be 16 boys' teams traveling to Vanderbilt's Memorial Gym for the final leg of the quest to be the Tennessee's all overall State Champ. The girls sub-state will be over by Monday night with the final 16 girls' teams moving to Jackson for the state meet.

DISTRICT NINE'S MR. OFFENSE—The Calhoun Minks found Yancy Hampton a tough competitor in the Region Five game played Tuesday night. The All East Tennessee guard poured 29 points through the nets in leading Loudon into the semi-finals. The Redskins won the game over Calhoun 79-64.

Although I had nothing to do with the District Nine selections last week, and feel every boy on the all star teams were worthy honorees, I failed to see how Mike Hooks of Lenoir City missed the teams with a 20 point plus tourney average for three games. Or how did Mike Messamore of Loudon get left out with his contribution to the first Loudon District title since 1961?

Bob Reffner, Cleveland Newspaper, took a healthy swipe at the way all tournament teams are constructed. Appears there was much controversy as to who should be on the recent District 10 date.

Loudon High basketball is on cloud nine. The boys are 25-4 for the season and the Lassies 20-12. The 30 game victory by both teams is the first since 1950 when Marvin Mitchell was the boys head mentor and Shorby McCall coached the Loudon sextet.

Lassies Drop Lenoir City Into District Consolation

The Loudon Lassies got their second season loss Wednesday night with a heart-pounding 43-38 decision over county rival Lenoir City. The narrow victory landed Loudon a berth in the District Nine finals against undefeated Midway. Lenoir City, thus became the challenger for consolation honors and third place in the tourney.

Loudon hit a sharp 42.5 percent of its shots with all three starting forwards (Miss Blackburn, Miss Dunsmore, Miss Shubert) shooting percent scoring best among forwards of the District Nine.

FINAL INSTRUCTIONS—A battered Lenoir City quintet gets some second half encouragement from Coach Willie Joe Smalley as the fourth quarter opened with the McMinn Cherokees leading the Panthers. McMinn won the game to end the Lenoir City season.

Loudon has copped the District Nine Championship with a 64-55 triumph over Harriman. The Redskins seeded number one in the tourney with a 21-6 mark added three more victories to its total in the playdowns and will be a darkhorse challenger for Sub-state honors in Region V with a 24-6 mark.

Loudon, forced to play without the services of Ray Simmons, trailed but once, 6-2, on an opening tip field goal by the Blue Devils.

Loudon roared back with two baskets by Yancy Hampton, and field goals by Mike Messamore and Bill Collins to lead 8-2. Harriman cut the gap to four, 8-4, but the game quickly became all down hill for the Redskins in rolling up a 22-12 first quarter score.

Harriman fought determined, again whittling at the Loudon point spread which measured 13 at one stage. The Blue Devils reeled off seven straight points and had Loudon looking down the barrel of a comeback, 33-27, when Dale Amburn, Hampton, and Collins once more rescued the Loudon offense to protect a 10 point lead.

Harriman produced spurts of brilliance in the second half with two heart-stopping comebacks which had them within one point of the lead, but Loudon always managed to rally and out fox the Blue Devils.

Harriman's big 6'5" Tony Hall provided Harriman with its third quarter effort, pouring in 10 points and gathering eight rebounds, while Loudon as a team just got eight points and five rebounds for the entire quarter.

Mike Messamore carried Loudon over the rocky part of the second half with ice-water foul shooting that had the Redskins breathing with gasping breath.

Loudon led by three, 43-42, going into the final frame of the Championship. The Blue Devils were just about to pull the string that would deny the Redskins an honor not enjoyed since 1951, a District Title, when David Birkslopp slipped in a missed shot from three feet out.

The play seemed to reverse the game momentum. Yancy Hampton cannot a pair of foul shots and Mike Messamore struck for five consecutive points and the lead was again up to 10 at 60-50.

Loudon took all the air out of the ball in the last two minutes with a protective four corner offense which gathered four more points and the final count of victory 64-55.

Yancy Hampton led all scorers for the game with 28 points. The All East Tennessee guard played with the abandoned fury of a machine. Hampton hit from every point on the floor and surprising enough led the Redskins in rebounding. The 5'11" gunner hit on 10 of 23 shots and added eight foul shots to arrive at his game total. Hampton's clutch shooting and team play won him a place on the All District team and the top offensive performer in boys' play.

Mike Messamore backed Hampton with a tremendous 20 point showing. Thirteen points coming in the second half. Mike's pick up of the offensive slack lost by the absence of rebounding and scoring ace Ray Simmons must register high in the success of Loudon's Championship performance.

Other heroes for the game went to the inspired play of Bill Collins. The 6'4" reserve was thrown into a starting role and his play was beyond expectation by everyone but possibly two people, Bill and ex-Loudon Coach Mac Pety. A jubilant spectator for the Friday night finals Collins, a junior, ripped off rebounds and hit back-breaking baskets through out the first half to propel Loudon with its largest lead.

Coach Hugh Watson, proud as punch over the way his team responded to the pressure and task at hand, thought Collins was the first half difference while praising Yancy Hampton whose 17 first half points and 11 counters in the last two quarters was another usual Hampton performance. Coach Watson was of high tribute to the gutsy play of Mike Messamore and his 13 second half points. "Mike saved us from going under during that six minute drought," stated Coach

Watson. Then he added "Mike has been steady for us all season and can do most any job asked of him. He is just like the rest of the team, all playing for one thing a chance to take this trophy

GETTING THE TREATMENT—Ray Simmons, star center and Co-captain of the Loudon basketball team, sits patiently while his swollen elbow soaks in a bucket of hot water. The slow treatment is hoped to have Simmons ready for the climax of the Region semifinals and finals.

STORY BOOK HERO—Loudon's Bill Collins drags in a rebound during the District Nine Tournament finals won by the Redskins 64-55. The hustling Collins proved a worthy substitute for the injured Ray Simmons as he sparked the inspired Loudon triumph with clutch shooting, rebounding and defensive play.

symbolizing number one team) home to Loudon.

Loudon used but six players in the finals with freshman Donnie Thearp spelling the front line from time to time.

Dale Amburn the hard playing point man and quarterback of the Redskins five played a fantastic role in coming through with steals of all sorts, rebounding, and setting the offensive tempo of the Loudon attack. His timely passing and five points were of unlimited value to the success of the triumph.

Loudon hit 48.4 percent for the final game of the tournament. The Redskins hit 21 baskets in 52 attempts.

Harriman had one more field goal with 22 but shot a lower percentage with seven more misses than Loudon. The Blue Devils fired a 36.7 offensive percentage with a 22 of 60 night.

Loudon won the game with timely foul shooting. The Redskins hit 15 straight at one point. Thirteen straight in the first half. The Loudon team ended up with 22 of 31 from the charity stripe for a 71 percent.

Harriman was not as effective with 11 of 19 for a 57.9 percent.

Harriman did win the battle of the back boards collecting 38 as compared to 29 for Loudon.

Blackburn Leads LC To Third Spot

The Lenoir City Pantherettes hit a scizzling 54 percent of their shots Thursday night battering the Meigs County Tigerettes 83-41 for third place in the District Nine playdowns.

Meigs County, playing without ill-fated star forward Kathy Campbell whose 30.4 scoring average was missed tremendously, was never any closer than two points and that coming at the end of the first period 19-13.

Marjetta Blackburn, redeeming herself for the semi-final off night on Wednesday, hit 13 field goals out of 23 floor attempts and added seven foul shots to claim game scoring honors with 33 points.

Marcy Ruth Dunsamore continued her torrid assault on the goals with 20 points in again proving strong support for Miss Blackburn. Miss Dunsamore's eight of 13 shooting percentage for a 61 percent scoring effort was the best among the starting forwards of both teams.

Lenoir City steadily pulled away from the weakened

SCORING DRIVE—Loudon's Lynn Dorsey escapes the defensive efforts of Lenoir City's Vicki Morgan en route to the basket in semi-final action Wednesday night in District Nine girls' play. Loudon's Marilyn Smith, 23, and Lenoir City's Diane Duclap appear frozen by the offensive move of Miss Dorsey.

Diane Duclap. The trio collected 23 stray shots in cutting off the offensive hopes of the Meigs County forwards. Vicki Morgan had the highest number of rebounds with nine.

She also was lost in the late stages of the contest with five fouls due to her spirited, aggressive play.

Janet Leeper had eight rebounds for her night's work and three recoveries.

Lenoir City ended district competition with a 14-12 workahet.

The predominate Pantherette team was to face the Brantley County sovret Tuesday night in Region V first round play.

Green Wave Splash Loudon In Girl's Finals

The mystic idea of being a 30-game winner seems to have momentarily eluded the Loudon Lassies and Coach DeWayne Arp. The Lassies, rolling along like a bowling ball in an attempt for a 300 game, met unbeaten Midway in the finals of District Nine Friday night.

The Lassies had dropped two regular season contests to the state's winningest set, but through the semi-final round of tournament playdowns the Lassies appeared groomed to be the first cage unit to soil the Green Wave record.

Loudon did little wrong in turning out a 12-10 first period lead in the championship round.

Midway slid back into the lead by halftime, 19-17, as Loudon turnovers and mistakes hampered their upset plans.

Midway unleashed a tenacious defense in the second half that had the Loudon forwards playing as off key as if it was the first day of basketball practice. The Lassies managed but two field goals and two foul shots in the hectic second half.

The second half turn about was a sure disappointment and mental let down from the way things had started from the Loudon netting 11 straight points in the first quarter and then having to watch their lead steadily decline. Loudon scored the last time the Lassies enjoyed an upper hand of any measure before being swept under.

Marilyn Smith paced Loudon's scoring with 10 points, eight in the first half. Neither double figure performer Lynn Dorsey or teammate Jane Shubert, who had had a splendid showing in two previous tournament outings could find the range with five and four points respectively.

The Loudon offensive percentage was a low 26.4 for the night with nine field goals in 34 attempts. Midway hit just one more field goal (10) but attempted eight less shots from the field for a 38.4 shooting mark.

Midway's success of 20 foul shots in 27 attempts as opposed to five of seven charity tosses for the Lassies opened the game to its final margin of difference 40-32.

ALL-TOURNAMENT—These players were named to the girls' all-tournament team by a vote of the coaches following the conclusion of the district tournament at Lenoir City Friday night. From left are Marilyn Smith and Lynn Dorsey, both of Loudon; Marietta Blackburn, Lenoir City; Ester Francis and Patsy Houston, both of Midway; Mary Graham, Loudon; Janet Leeper, Lenoir City; Cindy Narramore, Midway; Diane Shelton, Meigs; Gloria Brown, Loudon; and Donna Johnson, Midway.

DEFENSIVE GEM—Loudon's Mary Graham displays a defensive gem in blocking the shot of Lenoir City forward Mary Dunsmore. The Lassies won the semi-final game 43-38. Miss Graham named to the District All-Tournament team, enjoyed a victory celebration after the game honoring both the crucial win and her 18th birthday.

Houston set the tempo for the Green Wave with 20 and 18 points respectively.

The Loudon defense played its best or at least one of its top games this season. Helen Gentry turned in her best game this season with a two interceptions.

Loudon got 12 defensive rebounds but the tight play simply prevented the Green Wave forwards any scoring routes and no open shots.

Loudon had nine turnovers for the entire game and Midway was guilty of but six mistakes but the defensive struggle was definitely in favor of the taller Midway sextet.

Loudon will still be in quest of a 20 game victory season as the Region play opens. The Lassies are 19-12 for the year. Midway continues to roll along with a 30-9 worksheet.

Lenoir City hit a commendable 49 percent from the field with 33 goals out of 67 shots taken for the game. Rockwood hit a respectable 40 percent of their shots with 21 of 52 field attempts.

Lenoir City ended District Nine play with a 17-16 season win-loss mark and was to meet District 10's second place finisher, McMinn County (21-6) Tuesday night at 8:45.

Miss Smith hit on eight of 16 shots for the night, while Loudon hit 17 field goals in 40 attempts. Lynn Dorsey rattled the hoops for 15 points and Jane Shubert collected 11 as the Lassies escaped the semi-final round block.

Lenoir City playing an inspired game from start to end, was led by high scoring Marietta Blackburn with 16 points. The sophomore gamer fell short of her season average of 29 points a game as the Loudon defense worked overtime in giving the Pantherettes ace special attention.

Miss Balckburn hit five of 17 shots in directing the Lenoir City defense.

Mary Ruth Dunsmore was the best support for Blackburn with 12 counters on six field goals for the game in just nine tries.

The Pantherettes hit 40 percent of their field goal attempts with 16 baskets in 40 shots.

Loudon out rebounded the Pantherettes 32-19 with the Lassies "Birthday girl" Mary Graham controlling the defensive backboards with eight rebounds. Gloria Brown had seven rebounds and four interceptions to follow Miss Graham.

Lenoir City was led in rebounding by the combined play of Janet Leeper and Vicki Morgan. Both girls pulled down five rebounds. The Pantherettes had a real team loss late in the fourth period when Miss Morgan left the game via the foul route with five.

Loudon had a better floor game for the semi-final round with nine turnovers. Lenoir City had 15 mistakes during the contest, which probably contributed more to their setback than any other factor of the ball game of near equal assists.

opposition in the Thursday night tip-off for third place in the tournament. Lenoir City broke on top 19-8 after one quarter and never once fell behind the rest of the game. Rockwood made challenging starts in the second period and briefly at the start of the second half when they trailed 35-26. The Panthers coasted down the stretch with Mike Hooks, Randy Tatham, and Tim Cunningham burning the twins in posting a 77-52 win.

Mike Hooks paced the Panthers for the evening with 21 points. Mike collected 19 points in the first half and 11 points in the last two quarters.

The Tigers held forward Tim Cunningham and center Randy Tatham to a combined total of two points in the first half but the Panther marksmen opened up in fine fashion after intermission. Cunningham first in 10 points and ended the game with 12 counters. Tatham hooped nine points and had 11 rebounds in round on the play of the Lenoir City front line.

Jefferson Subject Of DAR History Theme

This is the last of a series of articles written by members of American History classes of Loudon High School who participated in American History Month sponsored by Hiwassee Chapter of Daughters of American Revolution.

This week's article was written by Pam Moore.

THOMAS JEFFERSON
Near the foot of the road that leads up to Monticello, a granite obelisk, visible through the gates of a graveyard, bears these words: "Here was buried Thomas Jefferson, author of the Declaration of Independence, of the Statute of Virginia for Religious Freedom, and the father of the University of Virginia."

This epitaph, written by Jefferson himself, was modest for a man who had also served as minister to France, governor of Virginia, the first Secretary of State, the second Vice-President, and for two remarkable terms—the third President of the United States.

Perhaps Jefferson knew that history would read and write between the lines, and it did. According to Abraham Lincoln, "The principals of Jefferson are the definitions and axioms of a free society."

As most of us already know, Jefferson was appointed to write or draft the Declaration of Independence. He also introduced the Act of overhauling, making it impossible for us to thank everyone individually. Because Loudon citizens were willing to take the time and effort, a little four year old girl will have the blood she needs in her fight against leukemia.

We collected almost 15,000 empty cigarette packs in Loudon.

We must issue a special Thank You to Girl Scout Troop 77, which our club sponsors. Those young ladies worked like trojans collecting, counting and packaging all those empty packs.

Please accept our thanks on behalf of the little girl.
Sincerely,
Judy Stogner, President

Establishing Religious Freedom; reasoning that "Our civil rights have no dependence on our religious opinions" in physics and geometry.

It was also Jefferson who suggested the adoption of the national dollar, subdivided into tenths and hundredths, although Alexander Hamilton carried it through. He was Secretary of State, the first in the U.S., and then the President of the United States for two full terms.

As I see it, Jefferson carried out these acts and responsibilities of office in the interest of the people of the United States, thus making him the man, who in my opinion, did more in the interest of our country than any other man in the history of the United States.

Dialing direct is easy. Here's how: First dial "1," plus the area code (if it's different from yours), plus the number. If by chance you get a wrong number, just call the operator and tell her what happened. She'll make sure you're not charged. So keep in touch the personal way. Dial long distance direct and save.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

The people of Loudon from the Good Old Days are very familiar with the section of our town called "Greasy Corner". Where it got its name, I have no idea, but at one time a few years ago, it was a very busy part of our town because of the Harrison Sanatorium and the Ferry, which was on the main highway through town. To our area newcomers, we will identify this section. It is where the Garden Spot Market was located or the intersection.

Anyway, our reason for writing about this section of our town is an old picture of a character who at one time was as well known to our townspeople and travelers coming through our town as any person or thing we can think of. The person we have reference to is "Hambone", who I am sure was named after the old time cartoon character which appeared in newspapers around the country for many years. Our Hambone of Loudon was quite a buck dancer and he stayed around the old Grubb Motor Company establishment, which was located where the Garden Spot Market was. Hambone would approach tourist waiting in line to cross the ferry and offer to dance for money and more often than not he got the money and provided a little entertainment for the waiting tourist.

Members of the Brown Family Reunion in 1948. From left to right: Cecil Julian, Roy Julian, Hambone and the lad on the right end is not known. The last report we had on Hambone was living in Knoxville, but someone was telling me a short time back that he was now deceased.

During my years of growing up I live in this area part of the time and played with Ham and the other boys who lived there. This picture shows Ham with some boys from the days on Greasy Corner.

We believe we are right in saying the line up is as follows, left or right: the late Cecil Julian, Roy Julian, Hambone and the lad on the right end is not known. The last report we had on Hambone was living in Knoxville, but someone was telling me a short time back that he was now deceased.

Our other picture we have this week is a hambooming picture. We always like to run group pictures and our readers seem to like them very much.

This is of the Brown Family Reunion in 1948. This picture was made in front of the Warren Robinson Home on Brown Town Hill (Bacon Highway). We have a partial list of those in this picture. Many we can't identify. Possibly many are now deceased. Those we have are Warren Robinson, Pete Fleming, Elmer McBroome, Roy Russell, Myrtle Robinson, Mrs. Wright, Callie Hughes, Shorty Robinson, J. Collins, Delmer Fleming, Ruth Collins, Hazel Craig, Margaret Milsaps, Aunt Laura Brown, Babe Worley, Bessie Pope, Barlie Franks, Mr. Clinton, Mary Robinson, Elsie Robinson, Doble Franks, Bessie Brown Pope, Erskine Milsaps, and that is all of them we can identify. Give us a call if you know more of them.

Our many thanks to Mrs. Erskine Milsaps for the loan of these and some other very interesting pictures.

A couple of weeks ago we ran a picture of an old touring car which we thought possibly was an old Baby Overland. Well, we had several calls over the past few days confirming this. It was an old Baby Overland and was a 1923 model, which was quite a car in it's heyday. The Overland Company built a sport model called the Red Bird or Blue Bird, depending on what color it was painted. I should have stated this was the Willy's Overland Company, who also built the Willy's Knight, and later the popular Whippet and Overland Six.

Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

And when you figure out your own, you may be entitled to deductions you're not taking and taking deductions for charity or on casualty losses? Or, that their cost increased over the last few years, you may save tax dollars by "income averaging"? And even if you did, would you know how to begin with? Probably not. It's true, you know. Some families just naturally fit into a car. But when a car fits into a family, that's something else.

That's Chrysler Newport Royal for 1972. It's the kind of car that gives a family what they want. It gets them where they want to go, without a lot of trouble. It's built with a deep-down commitment to quality. It's built to last. And its design offers more comfort, too. Automotive Industries reports that Chrysler has the largest interior of any 72 U.S. car.

Best of all, perhaps, Chrysler Newport Royal fits into the family budget. It's our lowest priced Chrysler. Yet it's every inch a Chrysler. So for only a little more than a so-called low-price car, you get a lot more - Chrysler big-car room, big-car ride and big-car style. Doesn't that fit the kind of car you want? See for yourself! ## Breakin Loot Recovered, Five Charged Loudon County Deputies J.C. Hamontree and Lucian Kent this week arrested five Loudon men and charged them with receiving and concealing stolen property. A number of items stolen in two break-ins at the home of Tom Lynn, Calloway Road, Rt. 4, Loudon on February 21 and 25 were recovered.

Charged are Terry Julian, 25, Jimmy Hicks, 19, Gary Adkins, 18, Ray Lawton, 18, and Bobby Stevens, 20. All are free on $1500 bonds pending a preliminary hearing in sessions court Friday. A sixth warrant for a juvenile has been issued but no arrest has been made.

Recovered items from the break-ins include a .22 automatic rifle, 20 gauge shotgun, stereo tape and radio combination, and 12 tapes. Taken but not recovered is a tape recorder.

RECOVERED PROPERTY—Loudon County Deputies J.W. Mashburn and J.C. Hamontree are shown with some stolen property that was recovered this week. The items were taken in two separate break-ins at the Tom Lynn Home. Five men have been arrested in connection with the break-ins.

Roberson Farm Home Entered, Reward Posted

Mrs. Otis Roberson reported this week that her farm home near Loudon had been broken into several times in the past few months. She said a large number of household items, and personal family items, that could not be replaced had been taken.

She said that under the Farm Bureau Reward program a $50 reward was being offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of those responsible.

LC Man Charged With Armed Robbery Of Woman

L.D. Daffron, 36, of Lenoir City, is being held in Loudon County Jail under $500 bond for the alleged armed robbery of Mildred Huffine. The woman, told deputies that she was robbed of $14 by Daffron. Daffron, who waived the case to the grand jury, was arrested early Tuesday morning by Deputy Sheriff

Planners Aware Of Zoning Law Problems

"The Loudon County Planning Commission is aware of some of the problems that are arising concerning the new Loudon County Zoning Regulations," stated John W. Cardwell, Jr., Chairman of the Loudon County Planning Commission in a recent interview.

"As is true in starting anything new, there are some 'bugs' and inequitable situations that could not be foreseen when the regulations were first passed, that are coming to the attention of the planning commission, and in the next few weeks the planning commission will be studying the problems that have arisen, and will be making recommendations for changes where necessary or desirable," Mr. Cardwell said.

He stated, "these regulations have been in effect since August 1, 1972, and were enacted based on a recommendation of the Loudon County Planning Commission after public hearings and after a study of the proposed regulations for approximately one year. "These regulations divide the county into 'zones', in an effort to help guide the future growth of Loudon County." "What zone a piece of property is in determines what the various requirements are as to the use of that property in that particular zone.

Kenneth Brown. The alleged robbery is reported to have taken place about 9 p.m. Monday night.

"For example, junk yards, automobile grave yards, and beer taverns, cannot be established in an agricultural or residential zone.

"If it were not for the zoning regulations, any kind of business or activity could be put on any piece of land in the county."

"Part of the reason for the need for Loudon County to enact regulations was because the neighboring counties of Anderson, Knox and Blount either have, or will have, zoning regulations; and the need to have orderly growth at the five Interstate Interchanges, and to be in position to help govern the growth of the proposed Timberlake development, as well as to maintain a high standard of growth for Loudon County's existing communities.

"If you have questions or problems, you may see any member of the planning commission, or the Building Inspector at his office in the Court House," said Mr. Cardwell.

TENNESSEE'S 12TH ANNUAL
Profitable Farming
AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

The Herald

Loudon County

Published weekly by the L.C. Publishing Co., Inc. Second Class Postage Paid at Loudon, Tennessee 37774. Subscription rates: $4 per year in Loudon County - $5 per year elsewhere

VOLUME 87, ISSUE NUMBER 11 LOUDON, TENNESSEE, THURSDAY, MARCH 16, 1972 TEN CENTS PER COPY

PROFITABLE FARMING — For the 12th consecutive year the member newspapers of the Tennessee Press Association are saluting the farm industry of Tennessee with the publication of the Profitable Farming issue.

This issue of THE HERALD contains a 10 page special section for this purpose. The theme of the issue, which is also co-sponsored by the State of Tennessee is based on the economic impact the farm industry has on the state. As the front page feature story in our Profitable Farming effort indicates farming is certainly a major contributor to the economy of Loudon County. In excess of $5 million annually.

As you will see in this section there are many articles and advertisements directed not only to the farm community but to gardeners and the youth of the farm and 4-H organizations. Many persons contributed to our efforts including Charles McCall, County Extension Leader, his assistants, Thelbert Hicks of the Soil conservation Service, Martha Blair of the ASCS and others. We appreciate their work in helping us make this special issue a success.

We also offer our salute to the farmer, for they are the ones this effort is directed to and about. Many times we forget the important roll the farm community plays in our lives not only in their production of food, but their contributions to many community and civic affairs.

The full-time farmer probably has one of the largest investments in his business of any group of businesses. We appreciate this opportunity to salute the farm community of Loudon County.

REALLY HOT SPORTS—

If the sports pages of the Herald smell of smoke this week it is because Sports Editor Danny Gibson made a mad dash back into his burning apartment building last Saturday morning to save his notes on the Regional Basketball Tournament play.

Gibson was asleep last Friday night in his Knoxville apartment when awakened and told the building was on fire. He grabbed a few clothes, TV set, and a pair of shoes and fled the building. Later against the advice of firemen, he reentered the second floor apartment, found it in flames, full of smoke and the ceiling falling in, but he saved his sports notes, typewriter and a few more clothes before being forced out.

One thing for sure, there was a little extra effort in the sports this week.

This week also, Gibson is announcing the first all-county basketball team. Members of the team include players from Loudon, Lenoir City and Greenback High Schools. In addition to the recognition they receive in this issue the players will receive certificates and trophies at their school sports banquets.

Work Underway On I-75 At Philadelphia

I-75 AND INTERCHANGE STARTED—Work is now underway on Interstate 75 near Philadelphia and the Philadelphia Interchange. The picture above was taken on the farms of N. R. and Arthur Simmons. Some heavy equipment is shown in the background. Crews have already built temporary fences along the rights-of-way of the project and a number of condemnation lawsuits are scheduled for the March term of Circuit Court for land taken for the project.

I-75 Land Suits, Damage Cases On Court Docket

The March-April term of Circuit Court in Loudon County will get underway Monday with 37 cases to be tried during the three week session before Judge Willard W. Kirtrell, Jr.

Heading the docket are several land condemnation cases for rights-of-way for Interstate 75 and several damage suits resulting from automobile accidents.

The docket as released by Court Clerk Billy Joe Atkins is as follows:

The funds appropriated will help Loudon County Schools to meet their expenditures for the current year.

Scenic River Bill Bottled Up

A bill designed to outlaw the Tellico Dam project here, introduced in the Tennessee Legislature last week, will probably be bottled up in committee, Loudon County State Representative Benny Stafford said.

Chattanooga Representative Al Edgar, a Tellico opponent, introduced the measure to include the Little Tennessee River in the state's scenic rivers system. If it becomes law, the measure would outlaw any dams at all on the Little Tennessee - including Tellico.

Rep. Stafford said that he saw little likelihood that the bill would get out of committee for scheduling on the house calendar.

Parks Waives Murder Charge To Grand Jury

Ray Allen Parks of Lenoir City waived preliminary hearing in General Sessions Court last Friday taking the charge of murder against him direct to the Criminal Court Grand Jury in May.

Parks had been charged with the shotgun killing of Henry Jenkins, Jr., 21, outside the Parks home early on Thursday, March 2. A second defendant in the case, Robert Gray (Bud) Covington, charged with breaking and entering the Parks home was handed over to the grand jury. Both men are free on bond.

The incident reportedly occurred after Parks, Covington and Jenkins had been drinking together at a tavern near Lenoir City. It was reported that Parks and Covington had had words and later left. Officers said the men told him that Covington and Jenkins went to the Parks home on Rogers Circle and Covington tried the front and back doors to get in the house and Parks told officers he fired a 12 gauge shotgun through the kitchen window to scare him away. The shot struck Jenkins in the chest. His body was found about 30 feet away. Parks told officers he did not know Jenkins was outside the window when he fired.

Five Placed On Probation

Five Loudon men have been placed on probation after being found guilty of receiving and concealing stolen property. The men had been arrested last week by County Deputies J. C. Hammon and Lacia Kent following recovery of items taken in break-ins from the home of Tom Lynn on Galloway Road, Rt. 4, Loudon.

The five men were identified as Terry Julian, 23, Jimmy Hicks, 19, Gary Adkins, 18, Roy Lawton, 19, and Bobby Stevens, 20. They were sentenced to six months in jail, and fined $50 each. The sentences and fines were suspended and they were placed on six months probation.

Man Dies Of Self Inflicted Head Wound

Dave Justice, 79, Rt. 2, Hines Valley Road, Lenoir City, died Saturday at U-T Hospital after undergoing surgery to remove a .32 caliber bullet from his head. Mr. Justice was found shot in the head at home by his son, A. J. Justice, a week earlier. No ruling on whether the incident was intentional or accidental self inflicted has been made. Sheriff Freeman Russell said early this week.

Survivors of the retired Union Carbide employee include his wife, Mrs. Elsie Frees Justice; two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Perry, Spar-tanburg, S. C. and Mrs. Edna Miller, Moreland, Ind.; sons, Arthur Justice, Tacoma, Wash., A. J. Justice, Lenoir City; 17 grandchildren; nine great-grandchildren; brother, Mac Justice, Lenoir City; sisters, Mrs. Sally Sherwood and Mrs. Tilda Coley, both of Lenoir City.

When Mr. Justice was first found his family thought he had fallen in the home and hurt his head. He was taken to Loudon County Memorial Hospital where x-rays showed he had a bullet lodged in his head. He was taken to U-T Hospital.

Local Share Of National Debt Increase $1,908,000

To what extent will the multi-billion increase in the national debt ceiling, recently asked of Congress, affect pocketbooks in Loudon County?

How much will the local population be paying during the next fiscal year, through taxes and other levies, to meet its share of the interest charges on the debt, which has now reached $430 billion?

The answer is approximately $1,908,000. That is merely for the carrying charges on the debt. It will not reduce by a particle the capital amount that is now owned.

The figures are based upon the new budget submitted by President Nixon, listing interest costs of $21.2 billion for the fiscal year.

For the average family in Loudon County it means that some $240 of the amount collected from them by the Federal government will go for interest on the debt.

The Administration's request for an increase in the debt limit, coming as it did on the heels of the budget it submitted with an indicated deficit of $38.8 billion, has received only secondary attention.

It is of importance to taxpayers, however, because the steadily increasing debt load is imposing added burdens upon them.

Since 1960, according to the Treasury Department, their bill, just for the interest on the national debt, has soared from $9.2 billion per year to the present $21.2 billion.

For the average family stated today in a report on eye research progress.

Although Lefler noted that research into the cause and prevention of blindness has been hampered by a lack of funds directed into these channels, he said that remarkable progress has been made in the development of techniques used in corneal transplant surgery.

The $21.2 billion required for interest is three times as much, for example, as will be spent for education, $7 billion.

For pollution control, $1.5 billion is budgeted for space programs, $3.2 billion, for aid to agriculture, $6.9 billion and for aid to veterans, $11.7 billion.

There would be only one way to wipe out the interest costs, which have become second only to national defense as an expense item. That would be to pay off the debt, which would be practically impossible and is never even considered.

Mrs. Nicks To Speak To Greenback Club

At its next dinner meeting on Thursday, March 23, the Greenback Community Club will be addressing on Traffic Safety by Mrs. Ida Nicks of the Tennessee Department of Safety. Mrs. Nicks is the first woman safety consultant for our state. She has a long list of honors for her work in the field of safety, ranging from honorary membership in Future Homemakers of America to the title of "Fair Lady" given by the American Airlines. She will come to Greenback from a series of meetings promoted by the Sweetwater Jaycees.

Mrs. Nicks was appointed to represent Tennessee at a Safety Meeting in Washington, D.C. Then Governor Ellington made the appointment, and the present governor has continued the recognition. She has received the only certificate awarded a woman from the Tennessee Law Enforcement Training Academy, where she took the safety course along with thirty policemen. It is likely that a State Trooper will accompany Mrs. Nicks to Greenback.

The March meeting of the Community Club is scheduled for the Loudon Electric Cooperative Building. The date, Thursday the 23, is a week earlier than usual, so as to avoid conflict with Church Services during Holy Week, which begins with Palm Sunday, March 26. Mrs. Glen McTeer and Mrs. Kenneth Cary are hostesses for the carry-in dinner.

Lefler Reports Advances In Eye Research

Loudon—Advances are being made by medical science in the quest for both prevention and cure of blindness, Jack Lefler, Chairman of the Eye Research Council, reported today in a report on eye research progress.

Although Lefler noted that research into the cause and prevention of blindness has been hampered by a lack of funds directed into these channels, he said that remarkable progress has been made in the development of techniques used in corneal transplant surgery.

Such sight-restoring operations, Lefler stated, have now become commonplace and the incidence of sight-restoring success is exceptionally high. Almost every day, somewhere in the country, said Lefler, corneal transplants are bringing restored sight to individuals blinded by damaged or diseased corneas.

The cornea is the small lens like covering in front of the pupil of the eye. By transplanting the clear cornea from the eye of a deceased person to one whose cornea has become clouded through damage or disease, full restoration of sight can often be effected.

It is estimated that between 5 percent and 10 percent of all of those who are blind can be helped by corneal transplant operations.

The only limiting factor, said Lefler, is the inadequate supply of human eye tissue. Lefler urged all citizens to sign pledge forms, donating their eye tissue, on death, to this humanitarian cause. Eye donor forms are available from any local Lions Club member or write the East Tennessee Eye Bank, P. O. Box 3042, Knoxville, Tennessee 37918.

Speaking of Sports

By DANNY GIBSON
Sports Editor

The Loudon County Herald is naming its first All Loudon County sports team with the announcing of the 1971-72 All Loudon County Basketball team, boys and girls. The Herald hopes to make the season ending event a long and lasting thing for both basketball and football.

The players selected annually will receive a trophy and certificate of merit for their outstanding play of ability, sportsmanship, and leadership best symbolizing the perfect athlete.

The first annual All County page was made possible with the cooperation of the Loudon County High School coaches and 12 sponsors from the Greenback, Loudon and Lenoir City areas.

The team was selected not by the Loudon County Coaches or by the Sports Department of the Herald. But through a season long poll conducted by The Herald from teams and coaches providing the opposition for the Loudon County schools basketball teams. The opposing basketball teams picked the players they felt was most instrumental in providing victory or challenge for the course of the game itself. The Loudon County coaches provided the behind the scene attitudes and leadership their respective players contributed in making each game team a bonded unit.

The football players of the county to be honored at the end of football season in November will be done just like the basketball team honorees.

The reason for such an honor page is that the Herald Sports Department feels too many good athletes are overlooked for their contributions to the success of a team's respective sport season. Therefore, The Herald hopes to recognize some of these athletes who provide the top assist ratios, defensive skills, and team play not always mentioned in a short synopsis from a daily paper or honored at tournament playdowns involving schools from all around the area.

The 1971-72 All Loudon County Basketball Team follows:

Loudon's All Tri-State, All East Tennessee, All District Nine, All Region Five, and top career scoring leader in the school's history with 1747 points, YANCY HAMPTON, a senior, leads an impressive list of boys for All Loudon County honorees. Hampton, a starter on the Redkins quintet as a freshman, has what college coaches regard as a perfect spin shot. The offensive king of the school led the District this season with a 24.4 average and his team to the semifinals of the Region tournament with a 25.7 record.

Joining Hampton is Greenback's outstanding junior guard JOE MAINOR who was a member of the All Blount County District Six team and paced the Cherokee in scoring this season.

ED SHIPLEY, Lenoir City is one of the top team performers of District Nine. His tenacious defensive skills gained him a berth on the All District Nine quintet and the top defensive recognition of the tournament. A center forward, Shipley had several outstanding offensive nights for the Panthers.

RAY SIMMONS of the Loudon Redskins is the top frontliner to be honored. The Loudon rebounding ace was the Redkins' second leading scorer in double point plus average. The 6'2" senior continued to bring college coaches and fans to their feet with his uncanny jumping ability permitting him to out-rebound and score over much larger defenders. His defensive skill at blocking shots makes him one of the most complete ball players of the area.

TIM CUNNINGHAM, a junior wingman for the Lenoir City Panthers, kept a solid double figure average throughout the season and with his 6'10" frame was a clutch rebounder for Coach Willie Joe Smalley this season. Cunningham was named to the honorable mention list of several area polls for outstanding season and tournament play.

MIKE MESSAMORE, junior forward for Loudon, rounds out the boys selections. Mike's team play and hustle gathered him a double figure average for the season and top percentage shooter on the Redkins roster for the season. Messamore's timely positioning and ability to take rough treatment around the basket enabled him to be a big competitor for every rebound available.

The girls team is just as competitive as the boys and equally laden with basketball talents. Lenoir City's MARIETTA BLACKBURN, a sophomore forward, leads the offensive group of players. Her near 30 points per game season average was second in the district and region. A member of the All District Nine and Region Five sextet, the hard playing blonde ranked high among leading scorers in the State, but her ability to handle the ball and pass to teammates has made her ticketed as one of the top girl prospects to be followed in the years to come.

Loudon's LYNN DORSEY led her team in scoring this year with a 16.7 average. The senior forward was one of three Lassie starters to shoot in double figures throughout the season. Her long range bombs and driving jump shot had opposing guards sitting on the bench with excessive fouls.

Greenback's junior guard BETH HAMMONTRETT is one of the top forwards to wear a Cherokee uniform in many moons. Her 20 foul shooting range is considered to be one of the most deadly of any forwards in the Blount County District. Miss Hammontrette will be the nucleus of the Cherokee's offense next year in the "S" division play.

Hampton Closes With 36 Pts.

Loudon Falls To McMinn Co. 66-61 In Region

All-East Tennessee guard Yancy Hampton departed from the high school ranks Wednesday night with a blue ribbon performance. The senior gunner blistered the nets for 36 points as Loudon bowed to McMinn County in the semi-finals of the Region Five by a tearful 66-61.

Loudon had defeated the Cherokee by five points in a regular season final for both squads.

The Redskins, Champions of District Nine, played a close nip and tuck game for the first two quarters. McMinn led by one point 21-20 after the first eight minutes. Hampton, hitting with machine gun accuracy, never permitted the buzzer, but McMinn caught game with complete domination of the Region Five quarterfinal upset of highly touted Bradley County. Miss Leeper's quickness and strength on the boards has given the Pantherettes a high respect of toughness for the 1972-73 campaign.

Loudon's MARY GRAHAM, senior defensive standout, is the probable most underrated guard in District Nine, with her smooth playing ability. Capable of playing forward Miss Graham is quickness and tenacious defensive work drew her top assignments in containing the best forward of the Lassie opponents. Miss Graham was an All District Nine performer this season and did a splendid job in the Region Five meet. She was also named to the All Tri-State team of Tennessee, Alabama, and Georgia.

"Making the All Loudon County elite does not mean that person will be an automatic selection the following season if the player is an underclassman," stated Sports Editor Danny Gibson.

The Herald salutes the players honored by their fellow competitors and coaches and hopes that next year's team is just as outstanding and worthy as this group of basketball performers.

Football is quickly taking the spot light off the settling dust of the basketball courts around the area.

Loudon and Lenoir City will get started this week with the handing out of gear and physical conditioning.

Greenback has set its spring practice date opening to April 1, so that spring vacation does not interfere.

Greenback has decided on a April 29 date for its All Sports Banquet to be held at the Esquire Inn near McGhee Tyson Airport.

Most of all the Loudon County basketball mentors will be journeying to Nashville by Wednesday to catch the wrap up of the Boys' State Tournament. The Tournament is being played in Vanderbilt's Memorial Gym.

Coach John Brannon has announced his baseball schedule for the spring at Lenoir City. The Panthers have 27 regular season games on tap with five exhibition matches slated to make up a 32 game schedule. Exhibition games will be for practice only with a wide alteration of the rules being used.

The Panthers will field a young team but several experienced players from last year's diamond squad should smooth the edges in what Lenoir City followers think might be a highly successful season.

Ray Simmons, unbelievably made his first playing appearance since the semi-finals of the District playoffs. The high leaping pivot man showed signs of the layoff with only two points from the field and a season low night rebounds. Simmons gritty effort to play in nothing shy of medical magic and the strong desire and determined performance displayed throughout the season by the Redskin basketball team.

Collins gathered 10 to lead the Redskins. Hampton's 36 points for the game was the only Loudon performer in double figures and had the Redskins been able to get a double figure showing from Collins, Simmons, Birchholz or Messamore the game could have very easily been a turnabout of the season ending defeat.

Loudon finished the season with a commendable 25-7 record.

Coaches Hugh Watson and Bill Marcus are to be praised unlimbly for the fine job they turned in with the number one seeded position in the district and Championship preparations. The team exhibited in coping the first District Title in 21 years.

Loudon was beaten continuously on the boards, and especially late in the game when McMinn forced through the front line of the Redskins for layups after missed floor shots.

Loudon Lassies 'Foul Up' In Region Semi-final Game

The Loudon Lassies dropped a 58-46 Region Five affair with Cleveland Thursday night to conclude the season.

Loudon playing the Raiders for the third time this season, losing each time, scored the District 10 sector power from the field 38 points to 32 points.

Cleveland made up for the shooting difference with 20 points at the foul line. The Raiders hit a sizzling 86.1 percent from the foul line for the game, missing but five charity tosses.

Game & Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game & Fish Commission

The striped bass (locally called rockfish) is an evolutionary strain of the salt water striped bass. The life cycle of the rockfish is spending its entire life in salt water except for the migration into fresh water to spawn then returning to the sea.

With the creation of the Santoe-Cooper lakes in South Carolina in 1942, rockfish which had entered fresh water to spawn were trapped. They adapted and spent their entire life cycle in fresh water.

The rockfish do not reproduce in Tennessee because most rivers they use for spawning do not have sufficient lengths of free-flowing water. Fertilized eggs must be suspended in moving water for approximately 48 hours and lengths of rivers in Tennessee do not permit this. As a result, the fish must be raised in hatcheries.

In 1964, the Game and Fish Commission obtained 1.5 million eggs and fry from South Carolina and released them into Watts Bar below Fort Loudoun Dam. These fish had a great migrating tendency and traveled through the TVA chain of lakes. A 22 lb. 4-oz. rockfish caught below Watts Bar Dam last summer was from this release. The new state record for rockfish, which was caught below Pickwick Dam on Feb. 18, 1972 weighing (26 lb. 12 oz.) was also from the 1964 release.

In the spring of 1971, approximately 40,000 rockfish ranging from 3 to 8 inches in length were released into Watts Bar at the Bell Cove Access area by the Game and Fish Commission.

Most of these fish will not exceed the fifteen inch minimum size limit during this fishing season. The larger of the fish should weigh approximately two to five pounds by next spring.

The Game and Fish needs 1,265,000 3 inch fingerlings each year to maintain a first class fishery. Watts Bar needs 150,000 of this amount. The Game and Fish at present are able to produce only 125,000 fingerlings per year at the Morristown Hatchery with 25 percent of these being returned to South Carolina for fry.

A new hatchery will cost between 1.5 and 3 million dollars depending on type, size and production capacity. In 1970, the Game and Fish purchased land near Clinton for a hatchery site, but construction will not take place until the money becomes available.

The striped bass program should benefit other game fish by thinning out gizzard shad.

The Santoe-Cooper lakes in South Carolina, where striped bass have been since 1942, enjoy some of the best largemouth bass and crappie fishing to be found.

FISHING REPORT FORT LOUDOUN

Crappie is "fair" using minnows and small flies in treetsops and rockyshore lines. Several small stringers of crappie are being taken along with a few bass. One fisherman, Bill Birchfield of Maryville, while fishing a plastic worm caught a nine pound largemouth bass.

Below Fort Loudoun Dam, Stripper fishing is "good" but "poor" success for Sauger. Not so good for Stripes being the Little "T" downstream from the double dams and the Ponds of Sweetwater and Round Creeks.

WATTS BAR
Crappie "fair to good" on minnows fishing treetsops and rockyshore lines. The Blue Springs and Little Emory sections are producing the best results. Bass fishing is "good" with only a few being taken on plastic worms.

Below Melton Hill Dam, Sauger is "fair" using large minnows and jugs. Stripper fishing is "good" downstream in the vicinity of the islands.

WILD IDEA PROMPTS WILDLIFE CELEBRATION

The celebration in Tennessee of National Wildlife Week, March 19-25, focuses on the fact that wildlife is a part of the environmental crisis and is dependent upon quality natural surroundings.

Wildlife Week is sponsored in Tennessee by the Tennessee Conservation League, with assistance provided by the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission. The celebration is endorsed by Governor Winfield Dunn.

The bald eagle, emblem of the United States, is in serious trouble, and its plight symbolizes the fate of 100 other American wildlife species threatened by extinction due to man's interference with the natural world.

The theme for National Wildlife Week is "Ecology - a

WILD IDEA PROMPTS WILDLIFE CELEBRATION

Don't forget Chillowee opens to fishing March 15. The lake has been stocked with 20,000 trout and should produce good fishing.

Below Chillowee Dam, "good" Trout fishing with several limits being taken on small spinners, corn and worms. Sauger fishing is "poor" not many being caught.

New Launch Underway At Bussell Ferry

A joint effort by the Loudon County Rescue Squad, the Tennessee Valley Authority and Second District Road Commissioner Lee Malone is underway to construct a boat launch and parking area at the old Bussell Ferry Landing below Fort Loudoun Dam on Watts Bar Lake at Lenoir City.

Rescue Squad Captain John Parris said this week work is now underway to complete the project within the next few weeks.

The TVA is improving the road leading to the landing and building a parking lot for 20 cars. Commissioner Malone is grading and preparing the boat launch. The Rescue Squad will place a 20 by 50 foot concrete boat launch to complete the project.

Captain Parris said that a number of donations have been received by the Squad to help pay for the concrete, but more are needed. Anyone who may be sent or given to any Rescue Squad member he said.

AND SEVIER COUNTY STOPPED FRIENDSHIPS, 31-44.

Stephanie Johnson hit two free throws with a minute to play, snapping a 37-37 tie, and Bonnie Gregory's charity toss with 30 seconds left was the clincher for Porter, now 26-8. Cosby had erased a seven-point deficit in the final period and taken a 37-36 edge with 2:07 to play.

Susan Vaughn tied it for Porter at the 1:02 mark.

Miss Johnson dropped in 33 points for Porter while Judy Whaley paced Cosby (24) with 27.

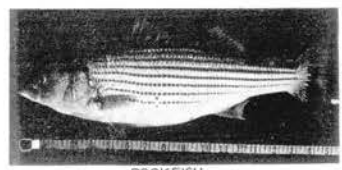

Sevier County (31-3) led most of the way against Friendsville, the Region 4 runnerup. The winners were on top, 28-23, at halftime.

Farm Peck's 20 point effort fired Sevier County and Freda Delozier tossed in 20. Friendsville, winding up with a 25-8 record, was led by Sandy Shierlin's 27.

Porter will play Nashville McGavock in its opening State test. McGavock is coached by Jarmy Porter star Doris Rogers.

CLOSE BASKETBALL—OBSERVERS: The Loudon Herald's Sports Department would like to take time out and say "THANK YOU" to the many people who helped provide information and statistics on the basketball games this past season, so that we might give The Herald readers as good a sports roundup as possible. Pictured from Loudon High School are left to right, boys statisticians Larry and Garry Ivens. The Loudon girls chart keepers and managers were Bobby Jo Oddy and Leatrice Tyler. The Greenback Cherokees were checked for game progress by Vance Kinser, Trisby Henry, Elaine Sands, Donna Tallent, and John Ogle. Lenoir City had the girls play recorded by Faith Westmorland and Peggy Jenkins. The Panther boys shooting and rebounding statistics were kept by Larry Chick. The Herald would also like to thank Lenoir City Baseball Coach John Brannon for his weekly District Nine standings and individual scoring records. Also much appreciation is in line for Lenoir City's Gary Hamby and his well done job of keeping the run down of games in the District Tournament. Although countless others have contributed their time and efforts so that The Herald might have Junior High Sports, Wrestling, car racing, hunting, and other sports features we cannot name them all but they are to be likewise "thanked" and remembered for being interested in making The Loudon Herald Sports section of the paper a full coverage weekly of the county sports scene—DANNY GIBSON—SPTS. ## Pantherettes' State Tournament Bid Foiled By McMinn Central 50-41

Lenoir City girls lost their tournament Thursday night bid to qualify for the state when McMinn Central

Chargerettes downed the Pantherettes 50-41. Lenoir City had reached a semi-final berth in the Region Tournament by upsetting pre-tourney favorite Bradley County. McMinn Central, fourth place finisher in District 10, had beaten the Pantherettes by 12 points earlier in the regular season. Lenoir City, a sophomore led team, did not play the keyed up form displayed against the Bearcates. The Pantherettes failed to gain an upper hand as they had done early against Bradley County. The Central girls took the lead

Thursday night and neither Marietta Blackburn or Mary Dunsmore, usual top point producers for the Lenoir City team, were able to make a difference. Lenoir City had 13 points and Marietta Blackburn's total of 20 points for the contest was the only double figure performer for Lenoir City. The Pantherettes hit a respectable 35 percent of the game with 16 of 45 shots from the field. The Chargerettes hit a hot 47.5 percent with 19 baskets in 40 attempts. Lenoir City had but 15 rebounds for the game, nine defensive and six offensive. The lack of rebounding and several turnovers in getting the ball from one end of the court to the other proved the probable breaking point in closing the season for the Pantherettes. Lenoir City had difficulty in fouling for the ball in the late stages of the final quarter but the point spread was at such a length it is doubtful the Pantherettes could have pulled the game out. Coach Glen Williams and his gifted squad will be heard from for a long time to come as his team certainly came of age in the last month of the season and with what new freshmen that will be arriving on the scene next fall may very well be the team to beat in District Nine next season.

Coach Glen Williams and his gifted squad will be heard from for a long time to come as his team certainly came of age in the last month of the season and with what new freshmen that will be arriving on the scene next fall may very well be the team to beat in District Nine next season.

At Nashville Riverside Favored To Take State Title

Chattanooga Riverside figures to become a three-time champion in the State (TSSAA) basketball tournament this week at Nashville.

The Trojans, who won titles in 1968-69, are solid favorites to chalk up No. 3. A new champ is assured since Nashville Cameron, after taking tourney honors the last two years, no longer exists as a high school. It's now a junior high. The 16-team State meet opens with two games Tuesday afternoon at Vanderbilt Memorial Gymnasium. Another pair of contests will be played that evening.

Afternoon-evening rounds also are scheduled Wednesday and Thursday. Semifinals are Friday; the championship round Saturday. Riverside, No. 1 in the regular-season state polls, carries a 10-1 record into the TSSAA event.

General admission tickets, for both students and adults, sell for $1.50 per session. Reserved seats are $2 and $2.50.

Brownsville carries a 22-game victory streak into the tournament. Heraldized Chattanooga Riverside, edged McMinn County, 36-34, and Chattanooga Howard defeated Bradley County, 68-60, in Sub-State basketball action Saturday night.

Central, Cleveland, Win Sub-State Rounds

McMinn Central and Cleveland have earned berths in the TSSAA (State) girls' basketball tournament. Region 5 champion McMinn Central dumped Sody-Daisy, 54-39, and Cleveland, runner-up in Region 5, trimmed Red Bank, 41-38, in Sub-State games. Karen Armstrong bucketed 26 points and Kay Green hit 16 to propel McMinn Central (19-9) over Sody-Daisy. Terry Privette registered 21 for the losers. Cleveland (28-5) advanced when Kay Smith dropped in two free throws with one second to play. Debbie Park's 19 points fired the Cleveland attack. Judy Boyd tallied 20 for Red Bank. The girls' state playoffs begin March 22 at Jackson. McMinn Central (54): P-K. Armstrong 28, K. Green 16, Barrett 16, G-Harrell, S. Armstrong, Maxwell. SODDY DAISY (39): F-Blessing 8, Elliott 10, Private 21, G-Hindman, Roberson, Wilson. Halftime score: 25-18, McMinn Central. CLEVELAND (41): F-Smith 14, Park 19, Jarrett 8, G-Benton, Penney, Lovelace. RED BANK (39): F-Boyd 20, Chadwick 9, Seaforth 16, G-Brown, Maler, Styler. Halftime score: 22-17, Red Bank.

FUTURE LASSIE STAR—Freshman Debbie Hawkins came into the game to spell foul plagued Marilyn Smith of Loudon Thursday night and scored eight points for the Lassies. Miss Hawkins firing a jump shot against two defenders in the picture will be one of several reserves to fight for starting jobs left by graduation.

Court Hears Committee Reports, Give Deputies Temporary Raise

DELAYED FROM LAST WEEK

In other action, the Court reactivated a previously standing committee to see about building a new jail. Members of the Committee are Sheriff Freeman Russell, Staff Planner Donnie Martin, Squires Roy Bledsoe, J.J. Blair and County Judge Harvey Sprad. By motion, Squire Henry Foster asked the committee to bring back a report to the next Court meeting.

The Court also authorized a three-man committee composed of the County Judge, Purchasing Agent Arnold (Buddy) Jenkins and County Maintenance Man John Holing to negotiate with the contractor on renovation of the Courthouse on several items considered unsatisfactory or not completed.

Judge Sprad and Squire Foster brought the Court up to date on the status of a reorganization move in the Community Action Agency program. Loudon and Roane Counties have been operating a two-county program, but now Federal pressure is pushing toward consolidation with more counties. Consequently, the Court was told, eight counties, Loudon, Roane, Anderson, Scott, Morgan, Campbell, Claiborne, and Union Counties, have been looking into a joint organization. If all eight counties join, a 24-member Board would direct its activities.

At the suggestion of the County Court of Campbell County, the Loudon County Squares endorsed the payment by the State of a Veterans Bonus. The resolution, moved for adoption by Squire I.D. Conner, seconded by Curtis Williams, stated that the State has 300,000 veterans and that it has never paid a Veterans Bonus. No figures were mentioned.

Schools Supt. Albert Dukes told the Court that final inspection on Steekee School has announced last year their plans to discontinue ambulance service.

Judge Sprad also told of a conversation with the operator of a private ambulance firm in Knox County who had expressed an interest in coming into Loudon County. Considerable discussion was given to a proposal to modify zoning restrictions and subdivision regulations to reduce the five-acre minimum lot size in some areas of the county for residential building. Staff Planner Donnie Martin pointed out that this applies only to a very small portion of the county and is intended to preserve forest and primary agricultural areas for that purpose.

Squires J.J. Blair and J.C. Hudson expressed strong opposition to zoning. Property owners should have the right to do what they want with their property, they insisted.

Squire Hudson urged diplomacy in administration of zoning regulations, as well. "There's no use in making everybody mad," he complained.

Reporting for the Little Tennessee Valley Educational Cooperative, of which he is a board member, Squire James M. Hartsook said that an auto mechanics course in Lenoir City and an office practices course in Loudon are scheduled soon. Similar programs are planned for Blount and Monroe Counties. Adult Learning Laboratories are being proposed for Blount County and a program of office practices and cosmetology, as well as training of para-professional teacher aides is under consideration for Monroe County.

The Cooperative is made up of seven school districts in the three counties and is an outgrowth of the Educational Charrette held in October, 1970.

Squire R.P. Hamilton—who missed last month's meeting because of surgery which removed one of his kidneys—recommended members for the County Agriculture Committee. The included Mrs. Claude Smith, Squire Hamilton, Squire Williams, Squire Roy Bledsoe, Bob Shell and one other to be named from the Greenback area. The Court approved the list.

On recommendation of Squire Blair, the Court authorized the lease of the old Buck Quarry, just east of the Tennessee River Bridge, to Julian Ogden, who lives adjoining it, for $1 per year. Squire Blair reported that Mr. Ogden had expressed the desire to fence it and clean it up. "It's just a dump now," he said.

Road Commissioner Lillard Bledsoe asked that a portion of the property be excepted from the lease. He is using some of it, he said. The Court approved.

Loudon County's Sanitary Landfill program—which was moving forward full steam for a while—has come to a temporary halt. Committee Chairman Jack Laffer told the Court that several proposed landfill sites had been selected and the list submitted to the State Health Dept. for inspection and approval. "But the man who does that work has resigned and the State has not replaced him yet. We don't know when we can get anything further done," he said.

"And meanwhile, the State deadline imposed by the state for action is rapidly approaching," reminded Judge Sprad. "But I don't know anything we can do but wait on the state." Squire Conner, giving the monthly Loudon County Memorial Hospital Report, told the Court:

1) Daniel Arthur Rehabilitation Center is bringing a rehabilitation program for stroke patients into the hospital.

2) Plans are being drawn to connect the old and new units of the hospital.

3) Medicare and Medicaid inspectors gave the hospital a good report and were particularly complimentary of retiring Administrator Thomas Foster.

4) Another doctor has expressed an interest in coming to Loudon County to do general practice.

5) A National Health Corps examiner is coming to Loudon County March 22 to see if the county qualifies for government assistance in hiring additional doctors.

Squire Hartsook, chairman of a committee to obtain additional doctors, told the Court that one doctor who has shown strong interest in coming here will be here this week with his wife to look for a home and to look over a possible office suite in the old hospital.

The Court approved temporary payments of an additional $100 per month to deputies on Sheriff Freeman Russell's staff. The sheriff explained that because he has been unable to keep a full complement of six deputies employed, he has saved about from Federal funding agencies that counties bind themselves together into larger groups. The eight-county organization was the result.

New officers of the organization were elected at a meeting of the new Board of Directors which met Tuesday, March 7 at Clinton. The Board also approved by-laws and a tentative administrative budget of just under $500,000.

Establishment of the new organization will face approval of each of the eight County Courts, but those close to the proposal say this is virtually certain except, possibly, in the case of Morgan County.

Officers elected to head up the new organization are: Chairman, Judge Bill Hurst of Claiborne County; Vice-Chairman, Judge Harvey Sprad of Loudon County; Secretary, Tom Eldridge of Roane County; Treasurer, Tom Ward of Roane County, representative of Judge Frank Qualls.

Commission Meeting Postponed

The regular monthly meeting of the Loudon City Commission, slated for Monday night, was postponed due to a lack of attendance by Commissioners.

City Administrator Gary Hensley said that only Mayor Joe Carter and Commissioner Bernie Ray Swiney were able to attend and the meeting was put off to a later date, probably the middle of this week.

Commissioner Hamil Carey was vacationing in Florida. Commissioner Gene Lambert had to be in Oak Ridge on business and Commissioner Mrs. Henri Richesin was ill.

Tuesday by Governor Winfield Dunn, State Representative Benny Stafford and State Senator Houston Goddard.

The total cost of the project is $1,200,000 with the ARC grant funding 20 percent. A grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development, funding 50 percent and the remainder coming from local sources.

Last week, through the efforts of the Loudon County Arts Association, an exhibit of art development throughout the life of civilization, "Art and Civilization" shows the different concepts of art form used at specific times. The exhibit was well mounted and easily viewed. It is available from the Tennessee Arts Commission. It has been sent to the Loudon Junior High where it will be for a few days before being sent to Loudon City and to Greenback.
Plans for the trip to the Bahamas are progressing according to plan. Approximately 60 seniors have made final reservations. Seniors were measured for caps and gowns on Monday.

BILLBOARDS

Isn't something to be a great number of new billboards that are springing up on the interstate highway between here and Knoxville?

With it appearing apparent that something is going to be done by the State Legislature toward billboard controls so that Tennessee will save a considerable amount of highway funds, there is a great number of billboards being erected immediately and apparently so as to beat the deadline.

Of course, this is going to be a great expense to the taxpayers inasmuch as any passing of legislation calling for the control of billboards will have to provide a way to pay for any billboards that are ultimately torn down.

It appears to me to be a shame to make "billboard alley" out of our interstate highways, far several reasons including the danger involved and aesthetic reasons.

OREGON TRIP

My trip to Portland, Oregon as a delegate to the National Association of Regional Councils of Governments was very pleasant, and rewarding insofar as the purpose of the meeting was concerned.

I was very surprised to find that the climate in the far Northwest is very similar to our climate here. There was no snow on the ground although you could see a lot of snow on the mountains and peaks in the background, but it is very rainy, and even a little will be "Mid-East Community Action Agency," or "MECA" by using initials. I will write more about this later, because the organization is not yet complete inasmuch as each county Quarterly Court will have the question facing it of whether or not it will approve participation in the new district. Apparently, however, it is true that a county will either participate in this agency or not participate at all.

REAPPOINTMENT

Well, this question of reapportionment of the Quarterly County Court, in accordance with state law, and subsequent to the 1970 census, and preliminary to the election later this summer, has turned out to be very controversial.

Of course, reapportionment of anything anywhere is going to be controversial, because any action that is changed from one place to another is probably going to be dissatisfied. But to meet the requirements of "one man one vote" is very tough!

Some changes had to be made in order to meet the "one man one vote" requirement, and it is only natural that the group that has the majority power, will make the changes in accordance with their own best judgment, which may not be the same as someone else's on the Quarterly Court.

For example, where would the new lines have been drawn if the First, Third, and Fourth District Squares had had a majority of the votes-not in the places where the lines were drawn. Of course, I did not know where the final lines would be drawn, but it was apparent from our discussion in Quarterly Court meetings, and in the Reapportionment Committee meeting, that there would have to be a few changes. I did not personally know where these changes would be.

Of course, one of the main questions in Quarterly Court in the event there was a legal dispute concerning the way the lines were drawn, would be whether or not the districts were approximately equal in population, and whether or not the drawing of the voting districts' line (the Civil Districts remain the same, inasmuch as voting districts could change after every census) were drawn to be justly and completely unreasonably.

These are questions, I suppose, that each person must answer for himself, but it is easy to see that the persons involved in having to vote at a new precinct could very well be upset.

I just got some fresh information from Nashville which makes it appear, as if proposed legislation should go through exempting food from the local sales tax, that Loudon County would have to make up approximately $81,000 that would go on to the property tax-so there is another hard decision!

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Many times we are loaned school group pictures and forget to ask the year it was made. In many cases the date is not known. But with an old Loudon High Class which is really not too old, we should know the date ourselves but we don't.

We are always glad to have school group pictures, which create a lot of interest along the way. If you have any we could use, give us a call. We regret that we cannot give you the date this picture was made, give us a call if you know.

This week we say that for several reasons. One is the fact that this picture has the date the wreck occurred written on the picture, February 12, 1903, which we had not been able to determine before. This means the wreck happened about 70 years ago which implies that it is more years ago than the age of most of our Loudon citizens and this is surely way back in the Good Old Days.

Another interesting thing about this picture is that it was taken shortly after the wreck happened and the engine is still smoldering and give off smoke and steam.

The torn mass of steel, which was the engine, is just beyond the combination baggage and passenger car where men are shown in the process of removing bodies from the wreckage. Just below the trees is the river. We have a question for any of our readers who might happen to know how many people were killed in this wreck? Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

Importance Of Farm Industry To State And Local Economy Theme Of 12th Annual Profitable Farming

By Charles F. McCall
Extension Leader

"We've come a long way, baby" since the days of the one horse plow of the early twenties to the present day computer. Our agriculture economy has changed about as fast. Who would have thought that agriculture income of this county would be over five million dollars. Our latest information shows the farm income for Loudon County at $5,464,270.

We don't know what the percentage of the total county income this would be. Certainly it is of importance when we look at the total picture. It isn't the income from total sales that tell the true picture. It is the overall structure of farming that makes it so important to our economy.

Farmers are top spenders when it comes to purchasing the things they need to operate. Thousands of dollars are spent each year in the purchase of items needed on the farm. No other industry spends as much. For an example, nation wide farmers spend over $2 billion dollars a year for auto and truck sales. The output per man hour on farms has gone up 84 percent compared to 28 percent in the same period for industry.

I am disturbed to hear many uninformed people, some of the professional peddlers of doom and doom, about that the Farm Family is being wiped out by what they call big operators. I am disturbed to hear some of them describe farming as our greatest problem and I hear some of these same people caution our young people to stay away from or get out of farming, that it's not a good life, that it's too risky. What other industry has the broad over all scope that agriculture does?

The new look in agriculture if you wish to call it that, has changed some things down on the farm. Look at the 79 Grade A Dairy farms in Loudon County. Milk goes directly from the cow to the consumer's table without being touched. Every barn has a pipe line milking system under very rigid sanitation requirements. This segment of agriculture in Loudon County furnished 3,281,724 pounds of wholesome milk for the many marketing faucets in this area. This farm enterprise brings in over two million dollars a year to the total economy of Loudon County.

The thing that makes the biggest impact is the fact that capital requirements for agriculture has continued to grow since those early twenties days. This is true for each farm and farmer. Particularly has this been true for the last two decades. Our present day Loudon County farmer will tell you that it's inevitable. Total assets for all farms in the county is at its highest figure in history. About 80 percent of the farmers assets are tied up in equities and about 11 percent in assets. The average investment per farm will be over $50,000. The investment on some of our larger farms will run higher. The investment per worker is over $15,000. Compare this to the investment per industrial work of around $14,000. This means it takes three to four times as much capital investment to create one agricultural job on many of our family operated farms in the county.

The trend in Agriculture in Loudon County has been like that of other businesses in that they require more and more of their goods and services rather than having them produced on the farm and consumed there. Therefore in a sense our farmers have become managers of a manufacturing operation almost over sight. New electronic tools have made it possible to chart ways of highest possible profits.

Agriculture is in the midst of a far-reaching scientific and technological revolution which is shaking the very foundations of some old traditional institutional patterns.

Loudon County Agriculture is changing from a way of living to a way of making a living. It is changing from business of arts and crafts to a business undergirded with large amounts of science and technology. The present day farmers in any area of the county is resting on a basic science of advanced automation in both production and distribution. Whether you like to believe it or not your traditional job as owner-manager-operator is being threatened. What other industry has a person that can do all three?

Like one rural citizen told me the other day, Loudon County's countryside is being "urbanized." It took a while for this to soak in. However, I got to thinking about what was taking place. The changes in the thinking and actions of a vast number of our county citizens has almost done away with the "country hick" and "city slicker." The line that was once drawn between people living in rural areas of Loudon County and those in town is fast becoming obliterated.

The city limit sign at the edge of the City of Loudon doesn't mean the same thing it did a generation ago. It's now just a tax boundary. It's no longer a cultural boundary, or a social boundary. The same kind of people live on one side of that city limit sign as on the other. They have the same newspaper, the same radio and TV Programs, the same recreational opportunities the same educational opportunities, the same social and cultural opportunities.

A new agriculture is emerging, not only in Loudon County but also in America. The big problem is that its changing at such a rapid pace that it is hard to keep up with what is going on. In other words, we are having difficulty in adjusting to it economically, sociologically, and politically.

Although there has been a declining trend in agriculture and the farm population, this is a sign of strong agriculture. This is the age of science and technology in Loudon County, agricultural. Brainpower has replaced horsepower as the central ingredient of success on our farms.

Frightening as it may seem to some of us, very few farmers would want to go back to the economic ways of the twenties. We believe that you are looking at changes being constructive and beneficial. The problem is trying to go in the right direction in the future. Some of us will look back on 1972 and be a little amused that we were fearful of change, rather than directing our energies toward increasing the agricultural income of Loudon County to seven million dollars. The proponents of the "status quo" are often the villains of history. This is a role that not too many citizens would like to play.

If we are to direct our energies toward the future of Agriculture in Loudon County it should be given in intelligent direction toward changes that will make this great industry even better than it is now.

Fish Pond Management Essential

By: Thelbert J. Hicks
Soil Conservation Service

Fish ponds that have become overpopulated with small fish or have an undesirable fish population which causes poor fishing may be renovated and restocked for improved fishing. James I. Messler, of the Greenback Community, is one of several pond owners in Loudon County who renovated a fish pond last year. He used the chemical rotenone (5 percent active ingredient) in the liquid form which was obtained from the Tennessee

Game and Fish Commission. The chemical was sprayed on the top of the water evenly and mixed throughout the pond at the rate of 3 pints of liquid rotenone per acre - foot of pond water. The rotenone suffocates the fish by interfering with the respiratory mechanism at the gills and they are unable to use the oxygen in the water. Best results are obtained usually during the summer months or early fall when water temperatures are above 50 degrees F. Before restocking with fish allow time for the deactivation of the rotenone. Water temperatures of 70 and 80 degrees F., you would be able to restock within 10 days. During colder weather or water temperatures below 50 degrees F. you would need to wait approximately a month before restocking.

Cooperation Brings Success

Greenback's successful Future Farmers of America's soil judging team said that cooperation is the key to winning contests. The Greenback Team won first place in the recent East Tennessee Soil Judging Contest at the University of Tennessee. Members of the Greenback Team are Bill Hall, George Sarten, Kim McNeilly and Kenny Keelie. They won first place among 30 F.F.A. Chapters in East Tennessee, including 120 contestants in the event. Greenback will represent East Tennessee in the State Soil Judging Contest at the University of Tennessee at Martin in West Tennessee on April 17, 1972. State winners will go to the National Soil Judging Contest in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, in May. Wilson G. Belcher is advisor and coach of the team. Thelbert J. Hicks and Roy M. Brooks, Jr. of the Soil Conservation Service assisted in training the team. The purpose of this contest is to teach soils, soil management, and conservation of our natural resources. Everybody depends one way or another on the soil.

Tennessee Agriculture Working Toward

GOAL

That's right . . . agricultural experts are now predicting that Tennessee farmers could market ONE BILLION DOLLARS worth of crops and livestock by 1985.

Persons not directly involved in agriculture might say, "this sounds good indeed, but what does it mean to Tennesseans not involved in agriculture?" In fact, it means something to nearly all citizens of Tennessee.

It is estimated that every $1 OF ALL FARM INCOME WILL GENERATE $3.33 IN LOCAL NON-FARM INCOME. There is no doubt that the success of the Tennessee economy is directly related to the success of Tennessee agriculture.

Nearly half of all Tennessee residents are employed in a capacity that depends directly on agriculture and its products. Undoubtedly, a billion dollar agriculture market would play an important role in the overall Tennessee economy. Essentially, this market will mean more products, more services, more jobs, and greater spending power.

The Tennessee Department of Agriculture is proud to be a part of this dynamic force in the state and national economies. The success of the annual "PROFITABLE FARMING Agricultural Development Program" is evidence of the outstanding progress that Tennessee agriculture is achieving.

But the term "PROFITABLE FARMING" means more than just economically sound agriculture . . . It means a higher standard of living, a sound economy, and A BETTER TENNESSEE.

"In our nation the farmer is often a forgotten man. This administration pledges not to forget him. Never has agriculture in Tennessee provided such a plentiful and varied supply of agricultural products. Agriculture in Tennessee is a vital industry, growing to nearly a billion dollars a year. It is the backbone of our economy. I wholeheartedly support the agricultural industry in Tennessee."

Winfield Dunn
WINFIELD DUNN
Governor, State of Tennessee

"In 1971, the sale of all agricultural products in Tennessee went over Eight Hundred Million Dollars. The producing farmers in our State have the potential to reach this One Billion Dollar goal. It will take the best efforts of producing farmers, agricultural workers, as well as suppliers of goods and services to agriculture, working together to realize our full potential. WE CAN DO—AND WILL DO."

Tips On Home Gardening

By: Charles F. McCall
Extension Leader

The vegetable garden is becoming a more important part of family living in many areas, of Loudon County. Gardening is a project the entire family can enjoy doing together. It provides an economical source of fresh vegetables.

It's not too early to begin planning for your 1972 vegetable garden. We suggest that you begin by selecting a garden site that is well drained and has good, deep soil. Then draw a sketch of the plot on paper.

You may want to consider the number of people in your family and their likes and dislikes as you sketch the rows of different vegetables on paper. Another decision you will want to consider is whether you will use the vegetables fresh, canned or frozen.

You may want to sketch two or three plans for the garden plot and have a double or triple cropping rotation for parts of the garden. Start with a cool season crop that are subject to light frost damage and follow these with early crops to be planted after frost. This plan permits year-round planting, and as the early crops are harvested, other summer and early fall crops can be planted.

When you have all of your plans on paper and know the amount of each vegetable that you will grow, you can order the seed or buy them. It's important that you get only varieties that are adapted for growing in this area. A complete listing of these recommended varieties is available at the University of Tennessee Agricultural Extension Service Office at the County Office Building in Loudon.

The garden seed can be purchased locally or ordered from a number of seed catalogs. If you haven't already taken a soil test on the garden plot, you are late. But it can still be done in time, if you will hurry!

Start working the garden plot as soon as the weather permits. Do not work wet soil. Work the soil, apply fertilizer, and bed the rows as soon as possible for early planting.

Crops such as tomatoes, peppers, and egg plants are grown from transplants rather than seeds. It is usually more practical for most home gardeners to buy these transplants rather than grow their own.

HOME GARDENING has always been a profitable undertaking for citizens in Loudon County. The supply of fresh vegetables provides economical food for family living. The example in this picture at the Greenback Fair shows what you can do when you try.

"Pick-Your Own" or fresh market crop.

A few growers displayed their skill during the 1971 season by producing 500 to 600 sixteen-ounce crates per acre. This kind of production requires the application of recommended practices plus a good growing season.

Recommended practices include:

Early fall selection of field to be planted.

Start working by fall turning.

Soil test. Lime to 6.5 pH if needed.

Obtain high quality refrigerated or dormant plants from a reliable source.

Plant before March 15.

Apply fertilizer according to soil test recommendations, plus nitrogen addressing at the proper time.

Control weeds and grass regularly.

Follow schedule for controlling diseases and insects.

The above points, when carried out, are often the difference between failure and success.

Beetle Again Threatens County Crops

The Japanese beetle, nearly eradicated in the state some time ago, is emerging again as a chronic pest.

This insect now is a serious problem in Loudon County and is rapidly spreading. Beetles have been found all across the state.

The adult beetle mainly attacks trees, shrubs, flowers, and garden crops. It also attacks field crops such as tobacco leaves and corn where it destroys pollinating silks on the ear.

The insect is damaging both the adult beetle stage and the worm stage. The beetle in foliage color. The worm stage is a grub that lives in the soil and destroys plant roots.

Lawns and sod areas are primary targets of the grubs.

The adult beetle appears in June. It is copper and dark green in color with white spots along the sides; it is about one-half inch long, half as wide as it is long, and is oval-shaped. It usually appears in swarms and stays around about six weeks. The grub stage lives in the soil the rest of the time of the life cycle which lasts one year.

Adults can be controlled with applications of malathion or sevin insecticides. Grubs are controlled by soil application which require several months to become effective, as the chemical must leach into the soil. Soil-incorporated chlordane acts in two or three weeks.

SCS Has Broadened Interests

By: Theibert J. Hicks
Soil Conservation Service

The Loudon County Soil Conservation District, assisted by the Soil Conservation Service have broadened their interests during the years to the "now" issues of the people. Responding to the "now" needs of the people to include working on conservation problems with city as well as rural people and farmers, watershed protection, water and air pollution in town and county planning along with other things that improve the environment.

The Soil Conservation District is interested in the whole spectrum of resource development includes soils, one of this country's most widespread and troublesome pollution problems. The sediment pollutes our streams, destroys growth, mars the beauty of the landscape and does many more untold damages.

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service is the administrator of federal programs designed to help in pollution control measures.

The Rural Environmental Assistance Program is designed to encourage farm operators to preserve environmental quality and our natural resources. The program offers to share the cost of needed conservation measures on each farm and encourages the farm operator to select the most needed practices to be carried out each year.

Practices covered by HEAP for 1972 include the establishing of permanent vegetative cover and the improvement of permanent vegetative cover already established to assure that washing of land does not occur. The planting of forestry trees is also encouraged.

The measures designed to control the flow of water include the construction of ponds or dams to prevent erosion and provide water for livestock and fire protection. The development of sod waterways and of chemical runoff control measures will prevent or reduce erosion and pollution from sediment and chemical contaminated runoff.

The control of animal waste by the construction of lagoons, pits and ponds will reduce pollution of streams and air from large animal feeding operations.

The application of liming materials to permanent type grasses and legumes to extend the life of the cover and the controlling of competitive shrubs on permanent pastures to permit growth of desirable forage plants are other practices included in the program.

These practices prove of benefit to the general public as well as to farm operators. The protection of our natural resources of soil, water, air, wildlife and timber will mean coming generations of Americans will be well fed from our land.

water, wildlife, land use and resource planning. They are interested in the quality of the environment, cleaner air, cleaner water, solid waste disposal, and a more beautiful surrounding. In light of today's emphasis on pollution and ecological control the town and country people are more tied together both physically and economically.

Waste Disposal Important To Environment

While looking for ways to reduce costs of farming operations, don't overlook the possibilities in disposal of animal wastes.

With emphasis on protecting the environment, it is pertinent that one evaluate the various options for waste disposal. Otherwise, the cost of disposal may unduly burden the operation.

Most farmers have enough land to dispose of livestock waste without causing pollution problems. Livestock producers can put 20 to 25 tons of animal waste annually on each acre of land where feed is produced. Any more than that could reduce crop yields due to a buildup of salts. An excessive application could also provide a surplus of nitrogen that could reach into water systems in addition to possibly causing a toxic effect in the crop being produced.

Returning the waste material to the land can fit very well to the crop production program. When using a figure of 20 tons per acre of waste material being recycled to the land the following land requirements for waste disposal compared to land required for crop production can be observed.

A 1,200 pound dairy cow will produce about 15 tons of waste material annually. It would take only 3/4 of an acre to spread this material, using the 20 ton per acre criteria established above. But this cow will consume 6 tons of hay or its equivalent per year. It will take about 1 1/4 acres of land to produce that amount of feed, or twice as much land as required for the waste disposal.

A steer that produces 8 tons of waste during a 300 pound gain period will consume about 6 tons of corn silage or its equivalent. While less than 1/2 acre is needed to dispose of the waste, the land requirement for feed production is from 1.3 to 1.2 acre, or just about a 1 to 1 ratio.

When feeding a hog from 50 to 215 pounds, there will be about 5/8 ton of waste produced, requiring a spreading area of 1/8th of an acre. This hog will eat 12 bushels of corn that can be produced on 1/7 of an acre. The ratio is 1 to 6 in favor of waste disposal.

These comparisons show that if the animals are near the land from which the feed is produced, the land can serve a double role as a medium for recycling the waste produced by the animals. It requires precise coordination to find LITTER ON ROADSIDE—A Sanitary Landfill for use of solid waste is one of the greatest needs in Loudon County at the present.

Tobacco Growers 4-H Speaking Winners Named

Like New Quota Program

By Martha Blair
County Director

Loudon County farmers have completed a year of tobacco production under the marketing quota program voted into effect last spring and seem well pleased with the results. This program placed tobacco quotas under the poundage system and made possible leasing of additional quota from other farms.

Growers seem to like the insurance the program offers against under production. Pounds of tobacco not sold in 1971 will be added to the farm quota for 1972.

The 1971 basic quota was computed by averaging the four highest yields produced on each farm during the past five years, multiplying this average by the 1970 allotment quota and reducing the quota by approximately 5 percent. The basic quota available for Loudon County farmers amounted to 1,282,367 pounds. Farmers in the county sold 742,488 pounds of tobacco which left 539,879 pounds of the right time to apply the waste material to avoid conflicts with weather and cropping operations.

Loudon County 4-H Public Speaking winners are: Robin Kizer and Roger Goddard Junior Division (grades 5 & 6); Teresa Goddard and Kim Barnette, Junior High Division (grades 7-8-9); and Teresa Hickey and Ray Rudd Senior Division (grades 10-11-12). The Junior High and Senior Division winners are eligible to compete in the District Contest in Knoxville on March 11.

There were 26 participants in the County Contest with 15 in the Junior Division, 9 in the Junior High Division and 2 in the Senior Division.

This year there were 188 4-H'ers who participated in the local Public Speaking Activity. These 4-H'ers were practicing one of many now widely used skill-talking. The words Public Speaking often make many people cringe 1971 quota that may be produced in 1972. When this quota is added to the basic 1972 quota, farmers may sell 1,787,368 pounds this year.

Producers with adequate facilities and labor may increase income by leasing poundage from other producers who do not plan to grow the crop. This gives income to both families that would not have been possible under previous programs.

The production of tobacco contributed approximately $60,000 to the economy of Loudon County in 1971.

with fear at the thought of standing before a group and talking.

With a little training, some a poised, confident speaker, practice, encouragement, and a real desire to master the talent, the 4-H'er may become

Producers Know When Pests Likely To Attack

Growers in Loudon County need to know when insect pests are most likely to attack and be ready for them. Severe injury often occurs before an infestation is detected.

Many insects have established patterns of preferences for specific host plants. The occurrence of a specific insect pest each year is an adaptation to the prevailing environmental conditions which regulate the activities of the plant.

Eggs are deposited on or in a part of the plant to which the developing insect has adapted its feeding habits. The egg-laying activity occurs during a period when climatic conditions are favorable for the insect pest. Normally the plants are in or beginning a stage of growth favorable to the feeding habits of the newly hatched insects.

Egg-laying activities usually occur over a period of two or more weeks. Under favorable climatic conditions hatching of eggs and beginning of the feeding activity overlaps. Some of the eggs may hatch two weeks or more after the first hatch of insects started to feed.

The activity of the overwintering insects begins when favorable climatic conditions prevail. The hibernating insects roll out of their bed when the prevailing temperatures are in the range to which the pest and host plant have adapted. Those that overwinter in a more protected situation may be awakened more slowly.

Spring and warm weather may vary its arrival date two weeks or more from one year to the next. The automatic alarm clock of the insect pest readily adjust to either a delay or an early arrival of spring. This is how the insect always knows when you are setting his table in your fields.

Raise More Beef On Fewer Acres

Beef is a very popular food with per capita consumption reaching a new high of some 115 pounds in 1970. This demand along with normal population growth requires a continuing increase in beef production. Meeting this consumer demand will require some intensification in production methods.

From a producer standpoint, beef production is basically composed of three phases: (1) feeder calf production, (2) stocker grazing or growing phase and (3) cattle finishing.

Loudon County beef production to date has been largely limited to cow-calf operations and the production of feeder calves. More beef per acre through intensification appears to offer some new opportunities. Larger cow herds, keeping calves to heavier weights, winter grazing with light-weight calves and stocker grazing permanent pastures all seem to have potential where land acreage is limited.

Minimum Tillage

Corn Is Usually Higher Yielding

By Charles F. McCall
Extension Leader

Corn raised by minimum or no-tillage methods generally outyields corn raised by conventional methods. Yield increases have averaged 20 percent in a Virginia study over a period of years. Why then has the practice not been more widely adopted?

One of the reasons is certainly the poor plant populations obtained on early trials. Many farmers using rebull or pieced-together planters were unable to get enough seed in the proper environment to get a good stand. Lack of knowledge concerning effective chemicals and rates of application is another reason that adoption of this practice has not been more widespread. A final reason is that in some cases the added costs of minimum tillage are greater than the added returns.

The first two problems mentioned have been largely resolved from experience over the past few years. No-till or seed planters are available from most machinery dealers today usually at slightly higher prices than conventional planters. There is also guideline information available from several sources on effective chemicals and recommended rates of application. One of the good sources is, of course, the local Extension Office.

Determining the added costs of minimum tillage must be done largely on an individual basis as each farm presents its own situation. Weed and insect control, for example, will vary from farm to farm depending on infestation and inherent soil fertility levels. Fertilizer costs will always be higher for no-till corn, as it is necessary to fertilize for the expected higher yield. Planter costs will vary depending on the number of ac. planted. And, of course, extra chemicals, usually paraquat, are required to kill the sod or cover crop. In total, extra costs will average out to be about 10 to 15 dollars per acre when producing no-till corn. Added returns will include the extra yield and the saving of labor and machine costs involved in the preparation of a conventional seed bed. Using a corn price of $1.25 per bushel and a labor cost of $2 per hour, added returns would likely fall somewhere between 20 and 30 dollars per acre. As mentioned earlier, each farmer must make his own estimates to learn if the no-till or conventional till method will yield a higher return. He may want to try the practice on a few of his corn acres the first year or two to acquaint himself with the technique and see if it improves his returns. Most farmers that have mastered the practice are convinced that it does increase their yields, improves water and soil conservation, makes harvesting easier, and reduces labor requirements.

Records Are A Must In Farm Management

Accurate farm records can be one of the most valuable multipurpose tools a farm operator has under his control. But similar to any other tool, farm records are valuable only if they are used, and used properly.

The main reason for keeping records is to improve the management of the farm business. In turn, improved management leads to an increased farm income. Good records can aid the farm manager in locating strong and weak points in his operation. Proper analysis of the records provides the basis for profitable decisions which will help the farm manager reach his goals.

In some cases the total farm business is profitable, but there could be enterprises that are losing money. For example, one enterprise may make $10,000 while a second enterprise may lose $2,000.

The total farm shows an $8,000 return, but if the second enterprise was not produced, the total net farm income would be $10,000. A good farm record will show which enterprises should be produced.

Tax management is an important phase of farm management. Frequently, the farmers income tax liability can be reduced by using the available records involving tax management questions. Many farmers over-pay their taxes simply because they do not have complete records.

Agriculture in the 1970's is requiring additional capital. Obtaining adequate credit is an important management decision facing today's farmer. To obtain credit on a sound basis it is imperative that the lender become acquainted with the farm business. Among other factors, a lender is interested in the assets owned by the farmer, the growth of his business, and the earnings. Complete records will reveal all three factors and provide additional information on the wise use of credit in the farming operation.

THOSE CONFOUNDED RECORDS—From outward appearance this lad is in about the predicament as some of our local farmers. It requires a lot of record-keeping, a lot more than in the past. But the rewards can be great. (The lad in the picture is Richard Waller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Waller, Philadelphia Community.)

Dairy Herd Records

By Charles F. McCall, County Agent

The Dairy Herd Improvement Program in Tennessee has grown from 13 associations with 190 herds in 1947 to 26 associations and 631 herds in 1969. The number of cows being tested for dairymen in their associations has grown from under 4,000 to nearly 30,000.

The average production per cow has nearly doubled during this period. The average DHIA cow produced 11,230 pounds of milk last year. This compares favorably with the under 7,000 pounds of milk that the average Tennessee cow is producing.

Today in Loudon County there are 16 herds on DHIA that averaged over 12,000 pounds of milk per cow per year and over 450 pounds of butter fat. In 1969 Loudon County Dairymen averaged shipping 1,495 pounds of milk each day. This compared to the 870 pounds shipped per farm each day in 1964 is quite an increase in any one's book.

Today's DHIA cow in Tennessee is much better fed than were her ancestors of two decades ago. In fact, three times as much silage and nearly twice the grain was consumed by cows on test in 1969 as compared to the 1947 model.

This increase in feed, coupled with the rise in value of the food, caused the feed cost to nearly double. However, the encouraging item in these statistics is that the income over feed cost was up by 239 per cent on a per-cow basis. In other words, the money left after providing the feed for the cows was $441 per cow in 1969. In 1947 it was $139.

The improved job of feeding and managing that dairymen are doing on better cows is resulting in more profit per cow for the members of Tennessee's Dairy Herd Improvement Association.

Adequate Supplies Important To Dairy Profits

The inadequate supply of quality feed, particularly pasture, hay and silage, fed to dairy cows in Loudon County has been reflected in the amount of milk produced per year by the cow.

An analysis of the feed intake for cows on DHIA (record keeping program in Loudon County) clearly points out that some cows are not being fed enough quality feed. For example, the group of cows producing in the range of 13,800 on the average 16,200 pounds of silage, 1,900 pounds of hay and 5,100 pounds of grain which accounts for approximately 8,620 Therms of energy.

On the other hand, the group of cows producing in the 6,000 pound range received on the average 7,900 pounds of silage, 2,000 pounds of hay and 3,000 pounds of grain which furnished only 5,000 Therms of energy. The amount of feed the cows consume not only reflects in the total milk production but in the feed cost per 100 pounds of milk.

For the high producing group, the feed cost per 100 pounds of milk was $2.19 and required 42 Therms of energy compared to $3.03 for the group producing at the lower level which required 78 Therms of energy.

If milk production per cow is to be increased and if cows are not on pasture, the dairyman should plan to make available to each cow every day at least 2 pounds of good quality dry forage per 100 pounds body weight. Silage may be substituted for dry forage at the rate of 2 to 1. This would mean that a cow weighing 1,400 pounds should be provided with 28 pounds of dry forage or 84 pounds of silage daily. However, if the forage is of exceptionally good quality, the cow will eat daily as much as 5.5 pounds of hay, or hay equivalent, per 100 pounds of live weight. In addition to planning his feeding program to meet the nutrient requirements, the dairyman should include sufficient grain to balance the ration.

No Pesticides

By Martha Blair, County Director

The ASCS Office is again reminding farmers that they will be required to certify that they have not used pesticide products containing DDT and TDE on their 1972 crop tobacco planting if they wish to be eligible for price support.

Growers are being urged by USDA tobacco program officials to use alternate materials which are available and demonstrated to be effective in controlling plant pests.

The exclusion of tobacco treated with DDT or TDE is necessary in order to maintain the U.S. export market for tobacco.

SILAGE FEEDING BUNK—Whether its corn silage or grass silage, when fed or stored, it must be covered. This picture of silage feeding bunk on the Charles Harrison farm will keep silage dry while the cows are eating.

A SOUND FERTILITY PROGRAM is the basic needs for a good silage program such as shown in this picture by Fred Sharp and Charles Harrison. Without it very little silage and low milk production.

Best Management Practices Urged For Herd Health

By Charles F. McCall, County Agent

Health management of a beef cattle herd means using the best of management practices, veterinary service and research knowledge during each complete cycle of production. It begins with the addition of replacement females, carries through weaning season.

Application of proper selection procedures and appropriate nutritional intake appear to be the best curbs against calving difficulties. Protection against infertility and abortion is most nearly accomplished by prevention of trichomoniasis, vibriosis, leptospirosis and brucellosis. The newborn calf needs better protection through management, sanitation and immunization than we now give it against scours. At the same season of the year, the dams of these calves need protection against one of our serious cow killers, grass tetany.

Present knowledge and future research should allow us to expand our blackleg vaccination routines for calves into conditioning programs which can improve the already good reputation of Tennessee Feeder cattle. Better control measures that we can now recommend are definitely needed against foot rot and pink-eye. In fact, improvement in all aspects of beef cattle health management is needed if we are to prevent the expanding cattle industry from getting into serious difficulty.

Day Of Spring

Means Planting Time On The Farm

Mister Farmer, if you need assistance in purchasing new equipment, seed or fertilizer, see the First National Bank of Loudon, first.

Then when the crops are in this fall have a second planting - Plant some cash in a Golden Passbook or Regular Savings Account and be money ahead for the next planting season.

to Loudon County and can widen the marketing season by increasing the volume of heavier feeder cattle in early spring and mid-summer. The demand for heavier cattle is excellent during these two periods.

Small grain pastures can be grazed with light-weight calves during winter and early spring with gains of 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 pounds per day. Winter pastures with good growth will support about 3 calves for 2 acres. Out-of-pocket costs run from $20 to $25 per acre. Beef gains of 300 to 350 pounds per acre can be expected.

Permanent pastures can be improved by fertilization, balancing legumes and grass and weed control. Grazing from early April until early July with heavier feeders (600 pounds) will produce another 200 to 250 pounds per acre of cheap gains. These pastures can then be utilized by cow herds during summer and fall. At reasonable pasture changes, these gains will cost only 12 to 15 cents per pound.

Numerous research reports indicate beef gains of 1,000 to 1,500 pounds from an acre of high quality corn silage at costs of 14 to 17 cents per pound. Not all farms in Loudon County can produce silage but many can expand operations by producing silage for feed.

Wintering and grazing operations will produce more pounds of beef on Loudon County farms. The gains can be made cheaply. These programs permit greater flexibility in taking advantage of favorable forage production seasons and market fluctuations. The end result will be more beef produced with more gross and net returns for Loudon County farmers.

Increase Okra Returns

Okra producers in the Greenback Community have found that fertilizer use, based upon recommendations from soil tests, pays good dividends. This was shown by grower experience in several demonstrations.

Garland Barnery conducted one of the demonstrations with excellent results. He took soil tests, tested seed for germination, and fertilized one of his plots according to soil test recommendations. On another plot he applied the same amount of fertilizer as he had in previous years.

The plot fertilized according to soil test gave a gross income of $46.50. On the plot fertilized as in previous years he had a gross income of $20.43.

The gross income difference of $26.07 points up the fact that vegetable production can be greatly improved by soil testing. Proper amounts of fertilizer materials will aid in greater net return.

TENNESSEE'S 12TH ANNUAL

Profitable Farming

AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

ALFALFA IS QUEEN—The Queen of all forage crops is still alfalfa. Farmers in Loudon County are missing a good supply of hay, pasture and silage by not growing alfalfa like the field in this picture, on Mr. Oden Largen's farm in the Glendale community.

Feeder Pig Production Popularity Still High

Feeder pig production continues to be a popular livestock enterprise with Tennessee farmers. Established feeder pig markets are located within a reasonable distance of nearly all producers. Something over 30 percent of the annual pig crop is now being marketed through organized sales.

Tennessee feeder pigs have established a reputation for health and thriftiness along with quality. The bulk of the pigs marketed have gone to out of state feeders through order buyers.

The common denominator between buyer and seller is centered around USDA feeder pig grades: 1, 2, 3, 4, and Utility. The number 1 and 2 grades are usually combined for volume effect and are acceptable on this basis to out of state shippers, but at a lower price. The Number 4 and Utility grades are severely discounted in price regardless of where they go.

A comparison of sale summaries for October, 1971 and October 1971 reveals the consistency of price spread between grades for 40 pound pigs. Number 1 and 2 pigs averaged $9.56 more per head than Number 3 pigs and $2.25 more than Number 4 pigs. Utility grade pigs have generally been minimized and are unattractive to buyers. As a result they average $4.57 less than Number 3 pigs of the same weight.

Producers have become increasingly aware of price spreads between grades. Better breeding stock, along with improved management and feeding programs, resulted in 25 percent fewer pigs in Number 4 and Utility grades in the latter part of 1971.

WILT HAY-CROP SILAGE

Watch the way you handle water in the feed on your farm!

To feed 30 pounds of dry matter, 200 pounds of silage with 85 percent moisture are required, where with wilted silage containing 70 percent moisture and 30 percent dry matter, only 100 pounds of silage are needed.

Wilted silage can save 10 to 15 percent more feed per acre

Vegetables Offer Students Income From Summer

Students in many colleges of Tennessee help pay their expenses by growing and selling vegetables during summer months.

Produce managers of supermarkets are willing to buy locally produced vegetables when demands are high and supplies are low. Student producers for local markets watch the markets and try not to be in peak production in competition with commercial producers. They also try not to compete with their neighbors for a market.

If a neighbor is supplying the local market with very early or very late tomatoes, a student producer tries his hand at supplying some other vegetable rather than competing by offering tomatoes. The chances are small that the produce manager would switch from a steady supplier to a student supplier without some price competition. This often results in both suppliers losing money and going out of production.

The college student studies the production and marketing opportunities for such fresh vegetables as southern peas, horticultural (shelly) beans, pole beans, lima beans, squash, tomatoes, okra, sweet corn, greens, and the list could go on. These crops require a relatively low initial investment and most work is done during the summer months, which fits into the schedule of a college student.

If the student has access to some land, vegetable production can provide the summer job.

Mr. and Mrs. Holloway paneled a room in their home for the girls to use as their sewing room. In the sewing room you will find two sewing machines, ironing board and iron, and shelves for storing patterns and sewing notions. The girls not only sew for themselves, they made ten inside pillows for the Veterans Hospital in Johnson City. If you would like to see the certificate the American Red Cross sent them, they would be happy to show you.

The 4-H Clothing Project has been sponsored nationally by Coats & Clark, Inc. for more than 30 years. During this time company officials have personally congratulated some 1,500 teenage girls from excellence in making their own clothes.

Each year Coats Coats and Clark Inc. offers a maximum of four gold-plated medals of honor for county winners in the clothing project. On the national level they offer six educational scholarships of $700 each.

Bedding Plants May Be

The high cost of building material for many years discouraged farmers from constructing conventional type greenhouses for growing plants during the cool seasons of the year.

When polyethylene film was developed, it changed this and made it possible to construct greenhouses at a relatively low initial cost. They can be

Good Plant Bed

Needed To Grow Tobacco Plants

Do It Yourself Reporting Is Widely Used

The success of a tobacco crop depends largely upon an adequate supply of good healthy plants available for transplanting at the recommended time.

A good plant bed is necessary to furnish these plants. The plant bed site should be located on a deep, loamy, well-drained soil. If possible, the bed should be located near a water supply since young plants frequently need water.

Growers who did not use a chemical fire weed control last fall will need to sterilize the bed by fumigating with methyl bromide.

Just prior to sowing the bed, apply 50 to 75 pounds of 4-12-8 fertilizer, or its equivalent for a 9 x 100 foot bed.

If possible, seeding of the bed should be completed by March 15. A good tobacco canvas should be placed on the bed immediately after seeding to increase soil temperature and to give protection from unfavorable weather. A ditch around the bed will remove surface water which might carry weed seed and disease organisms into the bed.

For more detailed information on preparing the plan bed, visit the County Extension Office in Loudon and secure a copy of Publication 358, Burley Tobacco Production in Tennessee.

framed with wood and covered with polyethylene film for about one-tenth of the cost of aluminum framed glass greenhouses. Growth of plastic greenhouse acreage in Tennessee over the past year is almost triple that of glass and fiberglass.

This cheap construction provides an excellent opportunity for farmers to supplement their income by cashing in on the growing demand for bedding plants. The majority of the bedding plant production is concentrated around the large metropolitan centers, but there are many opportunities for smaller producers in the small populated areas of the state.

The bedding plants that are grown include all vegetable plants. The type and variety of bedding plants that grow will depend on your local markets and the popularity of particular plants in your area.

Do It Yourself Reporting Is Widely Used

By Martha Blair
County Director

Farmers in Loudon County who are participating in farm programs can report required acreages by a do-it-yourself method which has been in effect in the county for the past four years. This method helps farmers avoid inconvenience during busy seasons since they may stop in the ASCS office and report the acreage as convenient.

Each farm operator has been furnished a copy of a photograph of his farm which shows the farm boundary and the field acreage. Farmers should know the acreage of crops or the set aside acreage before certification is made.

Farmers participating in ASCS programs are familiar with the "spot check" system which means certain farms are picked at random, visited and the program acreages measured. The accuracy of the certification is determined by comparing measured acreage with that certified by the farm operator. Farmers found out of compliance by spot check may not dispose of crops to bring themselves back into compliance.

Help is available at the farmers request and expense to determine acreages of any farm area.

IN ONLY A FEW SHORT WEEKS scenes like the above picture will start appearing on many farms in Loudon County. Whether you have a large number of bales will depend greatly upon how well you have used lime and fertilizer on these fields.

Fertilize Pastures For Higher Production And Earlier Grazing

Fertilizing pastures in late winter and early spring means earlier grazing and more feed per acre.

The least costly feed can come from good pastures properly fertilized and managed to hold stands of clovers and grasses. Pastures of the four "S" — sagesgrass, sassafras, saw-briers and

"Simmons" — will not do the job.

Many farmers will be needing pasture in the early spring because of low supplies of hay and silage. When the feed gives out, milk production goes down and the livestock farmer has to buy hay at a time of highest prices.

The best way to find out how much fertilizer is needed on your pasture is to take a soil test. You can't look at soil and tell what it needs. However, if you don't take a soil test, use general fertilizer recommendations which are available at your county agent's office.

For the average pasture of orchardgrass, or fescue with clover, use 300 to 400 pounds of 16-16-6, or its equivalent, per acre. Broadcast this fertilizer on the pasture the last of February or the first 10 days of March. For early grazing, the fertilizer needs to be there, ready to feed the pasture plants when the weather warms. The fertilized pastures will produce more feed as well as give earlier pasture.

For pastures with good clover and grass stands use 250 to 300 pounds of 9-20-20 per acre. Fertilizers containing only phosphate and potash may be broadcast any time.

Horse Barn Plan

By Charles F. McCall,
County Agent

In recent years Loudon County has experienced a rising popularity in the horse industry. More people than ever before are using the horse for pleasure and sport rather than for the plow.

Many farmers are finding that raising and training horses for show ring or hunting can be a profitable business. In some places, stalls, feed and tack rooms can be built in existing barns, but in many cases new facilities will be necessary.

When building a new barn, put it near or in your pasture. It is a time consuming chore to move horses from pasture to barn every time you want to ride. However, many horses can be trained to go from pasture to barn.

In selecting and equipping a horse barn, many factors need to be considered. Some adjustments of space allowance will be necessary, so keep these principles in mind when building.

For working cattle the horse should be trained to react to the cattle and the rider. A good cutting horse is hard to find. Also a good cutting horse is worth his keep to any farmer according to James Pope Jim has some horses that he has trained for this purpose.

Riding Horse Barns and Equipment plans shown in Publication E.C. 746 will help you solve your housing and training problems. See your county agriculture agent for this bulletin.

Late Winter,

Early Spring

Are The Best

Around March 1, cattlemen across the state will be turning their bulls with the cow herd and will be seeing their calves being dropped in January 1973.

Feeder calf records from Tennessee cow herds show that calves born in late winter and very early spring net the cattlemen up to 30 percent more profit than cows calving in summer months. Cows are efficient users of pasture forage, and can be wintered much cheaper, and most important, they are usually on good pastures during the spring breeding season.

Brood cows should be in a gaining condition when the breeding season starts. The cow's body processes are being stimulated when they are on new spring grass and legume pastures. This seems to help the cows settle faster and with fewer services. Because of this, the calves are born about the same month of the year and will be fairly uniform in size and feeder value in the fall. These more uniform, attractive feeder calves at selling time will command higher prices.

Plant Without Plowing

This Is The Year

By Theibert J. Hicks
Soil Conservation Service

Several Loudon County Conservation farmers have used "no plow" or minimum tillage methods in the production of corn for silage or grain and soybeans for several years. This is your year to try planting without plowing, if you have not taken the big step.

Frank King and his sons of the Greenback Community, say they like minimum tillage of corn silage mainly because of lower production cost. Other advantages include, better (easier to plant on time, improved erosion control and better water absorbent with reduced tillage.

It appears at the present that the corn blight scare is past with a supply of resistant and tolerant seed corn. Along with the seed corn, we have better machinery and a more reliable chemical weed control for use in minimum tillage.

There are some problems that several farmers have experienced in the use of "no plow" or minimum tillage. The single biggest cause of trouble seems to be weed control. There may be a buildup of weed growth after several years or with a certain kind of weed. This underscores the need to use chemical weed killers properly, possibly change chemicals if you find certain weeds are becoming a problem. Once you have started a tillage system, whatever it is, change as problems change.

HOME OF VINES—Kudzu vines or Crawns from the vines grow very fast and they will stabilize erosion on banks or gullied areas. They may be set after the last killing frost.

WHERE IS EVERYBODY GOING?
Last year we said we couldn't see how traffic could get any worse ... but it has. Friday, Saturday and Sunday this past week was a nightmare to businesses along the Highway 11 strip from Lenoir City to Sweetwater.

From the looks of things there couldn't be anybody at home in Ohio or Ontario, Canada. Talking to businessmen along the stretch on our regular calls Monday, everybody said the traffic really hurt their regular business. Local folks just would not get off the highway and face the impossible task of getting back into the southbound traffic, much less try to cross from one lane to another.

A small boy was struck by a car while trying to get across the highway near Lenoir City. He saw an opening in the bumper to bumper southbound line and darted right into a car going north. A second tragedy to this story is that an ambulance, once it got to the boy, had to turn around and take the youth to a Knoxville hospital for treatment. There was just no way to get to Lenoir in less than 30 or 40 minutes. We were riding with Sheriff Russell to the accident and back and it took us that long to travel the four miles from the accident scene to the jail. One woman said it took her an hour and 35 minutes to make the Lenoir City to Loudon trek Saturday afternoon. Loudon police were manually operating traffic signals to try and ease the problem, but they were fighting a losing battle.

One woman called the county jail and demanded that the Sheriff do something about the traffic. If anyone has any suggestions I am sure they would be welcome. We did notice more tourists cutting off on Highway 72 to reach 411 on the east and Highway 58 on the west.

Just think we have two more years of this to come before the Interstate will be opened.

Thursday Is Deadline For Primary Candidates

Official notices of the State Presidential Primary Election and the County Republican Primary were given this week for the elections to be held on Thursday, May 3.

The five offices will be open from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Ad Valorem Tax Is Back

The merchants ad valorem tax is back. Or at least that is the implication from a letter received this week by Loudon County Property Assessor Emmet Carter from Precedy B. Cook, director of Division of Property Assessments of the State Comptroller's Office.

The letter stated that the part of the Business Tax Act concerning the exemption of personal property taxation such personal property owned and used in business by those paying taxes under the Business Tax Act was found in violation of the Constitution of Tennessee in a Davidson County lawsuit.

The ruling in the lawsuit further held that although the General Assembly did not repeal Title 67, Chapter 47 dealing with the assessment of the so called merchants ad

City Approves Employee Retirement Insurance Program

Loudon Mayor Joe Carter and the City Commission this week announced the adoption of what they termed one of the best, if not the best, retirement and insurance programs for city employees in the state. The program will cover all 27 of the City's regular employees and all future employees.

The program was established under the Tennessee State Retirement System and is funded by both the employees and the city.

Concerning the retirement program the city adopted 10 year prior work plan and paid the entire amount of the program for up to the past 10 years the employee has been in the city payroll. If the employee had been there less than 10 years it also covered that period of years. This cost the city some $44,000 which is being paid back over a 20 year period.

The program which was renewed to March 31 has the employee contributing three percent of his monthly salary to the program and the city then adds 5.21 percent of the employee salary. Should an employee leave or be terminated after going under the plan he would get back all he had contributed to the program. If the employee has more than five years service he would draw interest on that amount. And after 10 years a service would get back both his investment and the city's contribution to the plan. The retirement program also includes return of benefits in case of death or disability.

Upon retirement the monthly retirement benefit is figured on the five highest salary years of the employee in conjunction with the number of years of service all which is computed with a formula to determine the monthly benefit.

At current wage scale a policeman retiring after 20 years service on a salary of $500 a month would draw a retirement benefit of $141.75 per month plus social security of $197.40 per month. The program will cost the city approximately $3500 per year based on current work force and salary scales. On the same scale if the employee would be 35 years his benefits would be $235.20 a month plus social security of $197.40 per month.

Insurance benefits in the plan are called the best in Tennessee, Mayor Joe Carter

City Calls For Public Hearing

Loudon City Commission last Thursday night passed resolutions calling for two Public Hearings. One is on changes in the City Zoning Map which includes five areas mainly along Mulberry Street where changes in zoning designation are proposed. The other hearing concerns annexing the Carter Lumber and Builders Supply property into the corporate city limits.

Both Public Hearings are scheduled for Monday, April 10 at the Utility Building preceding the regular Commission meeting.

Two citizens present at Thursday's meeting made comments concerning a letter they received informing them that the City Garbage Department Trucks would no longer come into their driveways to pick up trash. In all about 20 letters were sent to residents where the garbage trucks had been going onto private property to make pick-ups.

Those appearing before the Commission on the matter were W. C. Patton and Raymond (Boney) Lyle. Mayor Joe Carter told them that the move was necessary to give equal treatment to all citizens. He said that the city was giving twice weekly trash

Speaking of Sports

By DANNY GIBSON
Sports Editor

Basketball is dribbling itself right out of the spotlight with the Boys' State tourney over and only the Girls' playdown remaining to be concluded this weekend.

Chattanooga Riverside was no big surprise in turning away cross town rival Chattanooga Howard for the coveted title Saturday night 60-53. Riverside finished the season with a 3-1 record and Howard 29-6. Riverside handed the Huslin "Tigers" their fifth consecutive loss in the finals. The Trojans had won two regular season games and then won championships in both the district and region over Howard. The first four games were decided by a total of 15 points. The final showdown was the widest of margins and it was a close seven points. The State title contest was not really the best exhibition the two superior quintets had put on this season. In an earlier meeting won by Riverside 72-70 both teams hit over 50 percent of their team shots and the lead changed hands 13 times.

Riverside is the fifth straight Negro school to win the Tennessee Championship.

Riverside won its third title in the last five years and will be the last school to win a State title in Tennessee with all size schools taking part.

A look at school sizes in the tournament tells why the small schools were pushing classification so hard. There were only two schools with enrollments under 550 in the 16-team meet. There were only three with enrollments above 550 and under 1000.

Eleven of the 16 teams in the tournament represented schools with enrollments of 1000 and more.

The smallest school was Kenton, with 162 students, and the largest was McGavock, with 2650.

One of the two schools which would be qualified for S classification next year, Alcoa, is not likely to play in that division.

Four of the schools in the meet, one-fourth were all black. They were Riverside, Howard, Mem. Manassas and Mem. Booker T. Washington.

There was not an all-white team in the tournament.

Requests for changes in the new district setup of "S" and "1" schools are getting so numerous that the TSSAA is appointing a special committee to investigate the individual schools requests before granting approval. One request granted by the Board of Control was the changing of Bradley County from District 10 (Chattanooga) to District 8 (McMinn County, McMinn Central, Loudon, Alcoa, Maryville, Everette and Maryville). Lenoir City was granted a change from District 8 to District 7 (Kingston, Oak Ridge, LaFollette, Clinton, Scott County, Harriman, and Rockwood). All the Districts above will be "L" districts.

Greenback received permission to move to the Porter, Knoxville Doyle, Knoxville Catholic, Townsend, Walland and area school local over a month ago. The Cheerokees were first placed with Sweetwater, Vannoy, Madisonville, Tellico Plains, Polk County, Cleveland Day School and such schools of this area local. All these teams are of the "S" division.

The TSSAA Board of Control voted to reinstate Knoxville's Austin-East, after a one-year suspension from athletic play, provided it repays the state organization about $3000 for damages done to UT's Stokely Center during the 1971 Regional tournament there.

Knoxville City School Board has agreed to loan A-E the money, but it probably won't go to the TSSAA until about April 20.

The Board, acting unexpectedly, awarded the 1973 State boys' tournament to Knoxville, the girls' tourney to Murfreesboro, where Middle Tennessee State University is building an 11,000-seat arena.

"Since three Board members were away, I did not anticipate selection of the State sites," said A. F. Bridges, TSSAA executive secretary. "I thought the Board would wait until our meeting at Henry Horton State Park in June. But the six remaining members, who constituted a quorum, decided to go ahead with the business. Most already had conferred with the three gentlemen who did not attend."

"Though voting to continue rotation, the Board did not designate Memphis and Nashville as

Sweetwater Boys, Etowah Girls, Capture Loudon QB Club Jr. High Tournament Titles

The Loudon Quarterback Club's Elementary School Basketball Tournament just concluded has been tabbed as the best and most successful ever.

The eight day affair attracted some 30 teams from Loudon, Monroe, Roane, Anderson, McMinn, Polk, and Bradley Counties.

Over seven hundred dollars in trophies left the Old Loudon High School gym Saturday night as the showcase of upcoming high school basketball stars made their way to center court for individual and team honors.

Arnold Junior High Boys and Loudon Junior High Girls were the tournament hosts as reigning champions of last year's hardwood gala.

The Saturday night finals boiled down to defending champs Loudon Junior High Girls matched against Etowah. The Etowah sextet jumped to an 11-6 first quarter lead and was never headed in gaining a 23-16 half time margin and holding down the stretch for a 41-38 conquest. The loss was the first of the season in regular season or tournament play for the Loudon lassies.

Cleveland girls downed Benton for third place in the playdowns by a score of 56-26.

The Sweetwater boys proved the superior of the boys division with 67's eighth grader Charles Billingsly pacing a 44-31 title round victory over Union Grove of Athens. The tall Sweetwater pivot man hammered in 22 of his team points with teammate Flyvay adding 10 counters.

Athens Junior High slumped midway with a 50-26 thumping in the consolation game.

The tournament action for the week went something like this for the girls play. Midway dropped a 39-20 game to Benton. Highland Park advanced past Ten Mile 38-16. Cleveland blew past Philadelphia 70-38. Steekee eliminated Cedar Valley 43-22. Loudon used strong first half play to stop Sweetwater 37-31. Etowah notched a 32-24 decision over Highland Park in the quarterfinals. Benton rallied in the closing minutes of the final quarter to hand Steekee a disappointing 36-35 loss. Lenoir City fell to an explosive Cleveland sextet 49-33. Benton bowed to Etowah in the semifinals with a 47-34. Loudon used a tenacious defense in containing Cleveland's high scoring offense and managed to come from behind in reaching the tourney finals with a 46-37 triumph.

The boys action was just as exciting and rewarding with Athens Junior High opening the playdowns on a high scoring victory over out-manned Ten Mile, 85-51. Loudon passed Fairview 44-38. Sweetwater started its victory path with a 45-20 drilling of Etowah. Steekee made the quarterfinals with a 47-34 triumph over Hubbard. Union Grove had little trouble of eliminating Benton 51-32. Midway caught the eye of many tournament followers with its opening round win over Lenoir City 61-30. Eastview fell back from a run and gun duel with Union Grove 58-48. Cleveland gave Clinton a ticket home with a 53-31 decision. Steekee challenged Sweetwater only briefly in its loss to the Monroe County quintet 50-28.

Loudon failed to get off to a good start in its game with Midway and the Baby Green Wave rode to a 39-22 semifinal berth. Athens and Cleveland locked themselves into a defensive battle that finally saw Athens pull it out 39-30 to advance into the semifinals. Union Grove outscored Highland Park 19-8 in the final quarter to reach the semifinals with a comeback behind 42-39 victory. Midway could do little with the overpowering strength of Union Grove on the backboards and fell determinedly 51-38. Athens, could not keep up its first period play in an effort to tame the Wildcats and the big Sweetwater roundabouters edged into the finals with a 44-39 win.

Loudon, Lenoir City, Greenback Look To Spring Grid Work

Spring football is quickly becoming the sports chatter around the local eating places and service stations where sports fans often spend idle time.

Lenoir City with a big line and experienced backfield closed out its spring work this week with a scrimmage at Knoxville Holston.

Loudon has only been working for about a week. A turnout of 65 plus has dwindled some to a 50-55 man work force. The Redskins have several open spots to be filled before next fall with the loss of quarterback Yancy Hampton via graduation causing most of the tussle for field generalship. John Lovelace and Greg Watson, a couple of hardworking sophomores are the chief candidates for the job. Freshman Dennis Queen could push at the position.

The Loudon team will be a young group with only about 15 performers figuring into the picture at this stage of practice. The backfield should have such faces as Tim Guider, a sophomore at fallback or Johnny Colvin a junior. Jerry Mode, Ernie Denny and Preston McQueen are top choices for halfback, flanker, and split end.

Tommy Watkins, C. P. Chabaux, and Steve Kiser are top candidates to muscle for starting assignments in the line. Returning men up front

TOP INDIVIDUALS—Top individuals standouts for the Quarterback Club's Junior High Tourney were girls' defensive standout Curtis of Etowah and top girls' offensive performer was Abel of Cleveland. The top boys' stars was Armstrong of Union Grove as the best offensive player in the meet, and the best defensive star was Smith of Athens.

411 Dragway "Miss Universe" Race Sat.

Drag racing drivers will be battling for a purse of nearly $3000 Saturday night at 411 Dragway.

Headling the weekly program will be the "Miss Universe" eliminator bracket which will feature eight of the East Coast's fastest super stock class women drivers.

The strip opens for practice at 6 o'clock and final eliminations start at 8.

"Miss Universe" entries include Nita Blaylock of Baltimore, who will be manning the "She Bull" Camaro. Miss Blaylock in a short time has become one of the top female drivers and will rate as one of the favorites to capture firstplace money of $750. Second place will be worth $500 and third and fourth finishers get $250. Admission for this special event is $4.

The "Miss Universe" circuit drivers will be making their first appearance in East Tennessee. They'll be running next Sunday at Charlotte, N.C.

Besides the special program, the regular program of top stock, modified and elapsed time (e.t.) brackets are expected to attract nearly 120 machines. Entry blanks have been mailed to drivers in nine Southeastern states.

Strapping lanes are being installed at the strip to help in the flow of cars from the pits to the starting line.

Game & Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game & Fish Commission

RABIES CONTROL

Rabies is a viral disease affecting the nervous system of certain mammals, including fox, skunk, cat, dog, bat, and man. In foxes, the disease results in death in approximately three weeks. When fox populations are high, rabies is nature's way of thinning numbers.

During winter, the disease is often spread by foxes which are going through the annual mating season. Rutting activity causes them to become quite active in their travels, thereby increasing the incidence of disease spread.

Because wild animals are involved, the Game and Fish Commission is allowed to conduct programs to reduce wildlife (fox) populations and thereby retard the spread of disease.

A fee of $800 to $1000 must be charged to a county before a control project can start. Rabies control is an extraordinary situation which is not covered by our regular budget. Additional activities such as this project must be financed from supplements provided by each county which requests this service.

The control measures consist of four to six man crews (depending on size of county and severity of outbreak) being dispatched to concentrate their efforts on areas where high populations of foxes are expected. Poison baits are placed in marked locations and a regular check is made of the immediate area for tracks and dead animals. Strychnine is used in beef chunks. The formula used will kill an animal approximately 80 pounds or less in weight, and is aimed mainly at wild

FISHING WAS GOOD—John Morris and Mike Wilson of Norris caught these ten Sauger and one stripe last week. They fished the mouth of the Little T minnows.

FISHING REPORT

Fert Loudon: Fishing for crappies is slow but the ones being caught are decent size. Fishing minnows deep in brush and tree tops are producing the best results. Bass fishing is "Poor" below Ft. Loudon. Sauger fishing is "fair" using minnows on the bottom. The fish are sluggish but several nice ones have been caught. For the best results, fish the mouth of the Little T by bumping minnows on the bottom. Stripe is "good" using yellow or green jigs. Several nice fish have been caught in the Little T as far up as Jackson Ferry.

WATTS BAY

Bass fishing is "slow" only a few small fish being caught. Crappie "fair to good" using minnow fishing treestops and trolling small flies.

Below Melton Hill Dam, Sauger is "Fair to good" using decent size. Fishing minnows downstream is still producing "good" Stripe fishing.

CHILHOWEE

Trout fishing is "good" using worms and minnows. Opening day produced fish for almost everyone with several limits of trout being caught. The best spots were Abrahams Creek, Caulderwood Powerhouse and near Chilhowee Dam.

Bass fishing is "good" using worms, corn and small spinners.

OPENING DAY AT

Opening day was a success for Chilhowee Lake anglers. As daylight broke March 15 on Chilhowee Lake, some 100 fishermen cast their lures into the waters and had a successful day of fishing.

The morning was cold and frosty, some stood around fires as they fished, and others not prepared for the cold just stood and shivered.

The catch was a variety of catfish, bass, bream, crappie, but mostly trout.

Several people chose to try to get around the Game and Fish laws by fishing for trout without a trout stamp, no fishing license, and catching over the limit. These people were given citations to court.

Mayor Carter said that the city garbage crew and equipment were being stretched to the limit to maintain the level of service now being given and the time saved by picking up garbage on the streets.

without going onto private property would save several hours a week in man-hours and equipment-hours. The Mayor pointed out that the garbage service is one of the largest problems facing the City Commission because of the increased tonnage of garbage and because of the state regulations on landfills. He said that Loudon would continue to have a high level of service as long as possible and he would be the last person to suggest putting a garbage fee on the citizens because this service should be provided as part of their property tax benefits. The Mayor said if the city and county cannot find an approved site for a landfill operation the city might be forced into trucking garbage into another county, which he said would be a tremendous expense on the city.

Of the letters telling citizens who were having trash picked up at their houses, not on the street, Mayor Carter said if one citizen received this treatment others had the right to get it also. And if this happened the City would have to buy more equipment and hire additional crews, which he said would be justly criticized by property taxpayers.

same manner as other personal property of persons engaged in business. In other words, merchants inventory should be assessed as personal property and according to the value of such inventory as of January 10 of each year.

In view of this, Cook's letter instructed the Property Assessor to prepare property assessments for all persons engaging in business and include the inventories of merchants in these assessments of personal property. It also said that persons engaging in retail and wholesale business will also be liable for privilege taxation according to provisions of the Business Tax Act.

Cook said that further changes in the Business Tax Act may be made by the General Assembly currently in session; however, it is doubtful that such changes will affect the duty of assessors of property to assess personal property and inventory of persons engaged in business.

Through the passing years one of the most often mentioned names in regard to doctors in Loudon County was

Dr. Joe Harrison. But the reference was not always to the man that many of us knew and who operated Loudon's first sanatorium. This was the name commonly used in those years in reference to what we know today as hospitals. It was an unexpected surprise to this writer when Mrs. Erskine Millsaps loaned us a picture of the colorful old time doctor, Joe Harrison. This was old Joe. I am not sure, but I don't believe he was the father of the younger Dr. Joe Harrison. This is something our readers can possibly

Steekee Class Spends Week At Treemont

by Calvin Lunford

The fifth grade class of Steekee Grammar School will long remember the week of March 6, 1972. It was a week of adventure, learning and entertainment. And it all took place in and around the Maryville College Environmental Center, Treemont in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

The activities included hikes, lectures, nature studies and a variety of sports. The Treemont center, which was formerly operated by the Government as a job corp center. After the government closing, the facilities were obtained by Maryville College to be as a center where youngsters of all ages could go for on the spot learning about nature. The mountains, streams, water falls, animal life and other things only are to be found in a protected area such as the Smoky Mountain National Park.

The Steekee group which arrived at Treemont on Monday, March 6, consisted of 23 students and four staff members. Their first day began with orientation and from then on it was hikes, lectures, class room activities and eating and sleeping. Breakfast was at 8 a.m., lunch at noon and the evening meal at 5:30 p.m. On the hikes the students carried a bag lunch and ate along the way.

The hikes were up to nine miles in length and covered some of the interesting and unique beauty of mountain streams, water falls, hiking trails as well as historical spots along the way. The end of each found a better informed but tired group of youngsters and faculty.

A highlight of the week was a night hike and the appearing of the great horned owl. All of this was in part made possible by the hard work of the students, who had to raise a large part of money to finance the trip.

Students making the trip were Cindy Tilley, Channing Dotson, Roger Howard, Kim Shoemaker, Angie Hickman, Sandra Maples, Ruth

RESTING BY MOUNTAIN STREAM - Observing life along the mountain streams was a part of the study of the Steekee students at Treemont.

CHECKING THE ELEMENTS - What in the world is this might be the question asked by these Steekee students as they stop to examine a bit of the rawest nature.

McMahan, Tamela Boone, Youness Allman, Rick Hembree, Randy Humphreys, Tracy Cross, Patti Smallen, Conway Tuck, Margaret Ann Henry, Ricky Cook, Ricky Noser, Kenneth Schriener, Joseph White, Ronnie Shope, Darlene Nix, Eugene Maples, Carlin Cornette.

The fifth grade teacher was Mrs. Sue White. Others making the trip to assist in varied capacities were Rev. Virgil Turley, Mrs. Betty Shoemaker and Mrs. Cassie Maples. Friday, March 10 the trip ended and the group returned home, but not before obtaining a lot of knowledge and memories which would last for many years to come.

JUNIOR PIONEERS RETURN HOME - A tired and much better informed group of youngsters and faculty arrive back at the home base of Steekee School.

TIRING MOUNTAIN HIKES - A nature study along one of the trails taken by the Steekee students was well worth the tiring effort.

CLOSE OBSERVATION - The Steekee Students got their heads together on many of the unusual acts of nature observed during their week at Treemont.

LOUDON GIRL IN WHO'S WHO

A Loudon High School graduate is one of Thirteen Students who have been nominated by Hiwassee College, Madisonville, to Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges for 1972.

This honor is awarded each year to outstanding students from approximately 800 junior colleges in the United States. In making this selection, the nominating committee must choose students whose academic standing, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities, and future potential are decidedly above average.

Named to represent Hiwassee College is Rita Kaye Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleam L. Collins, Route 4, Vance. She is a 1970 graduate of Loudon High School. Kaye is a secretarial science major at Hiwassee and a member of Phi Theta Kappa. She was a candidate for Homecoming Queen during her freshman year at Hiwassee.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

This is an open letter to Senator Howard Baker.

Senator Baker, you will know that the Association for the Preservation of the Little TVA was very active in the sixties and that you and former Senator Albert Gore had drafted cuts in these people as you are doing now. We deeply resent anyones statements concerning Senate Bill Brock and Governor Winfield Dunn concerning the Little T. Dam. These men know the true state of affairs here and are not afraid to make an honest assessment.

It is a crime to spend waste! $40,000,000 more of tax payers money on the Tellico Project vainly trying to prove that TVA never made a mistake of the $30,000,000 already used only $1,000,000 was wasted to date (the cost of the concrete in the river). There are tangible and useable assets for the remainder $29,000,000 approximately 22,000 acres of the best farms in Tennessee. (Much of this land bought below actual value) Also badly needed bridges and road why not stop the Tellico Project with only an absolute loss of $7,000,000 rather than invest much more of tax payers money in a project with electrical benefits of less than 11 percent return on investment. The other promised benefits are completely imaginary and unrealistic. This is proved when the history of all TVA Projects and promises are studied. A UT study (not the Phillips one) found an increase of 81 percent to a loss of 11) one job for

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
Notice is hereby given in accordance with Section 13-701 of the Tennessee Code Annotated of a public hearing to be held by the Mayor and Board of Commissioners of the City of Loudon, Tennessee, to be held at the Loudon Utility Building at 7:30 p.m. on April 19, 1972, upon the question of amending the zoning ordinance for the City of Loudon pursuant to the authority granted by the Tennessee Code Annotated.

Areas to be affected by the proposed changes in the Loudon Zoning ordinance are as follows:
1. Central Business District - Generally speaking, the proposal would reduce the size of area presently zoned Commercial - Central Business District. This would be accomplished by allowing the property in the CBD South of Church Street to revert back to residential.
2. Vicinity of the Intersection of Mulberry and Ward Streets - This area would be rezoned from residential to Professional (P-1) except for the area presently zoned Commercial, which would remain the same.

3. Extension of the present General Business District along Mulberry Street - This change would involve a slight extension of the present C-2 district in the area of the Ross Street-Mulberry Street Intersection. The extension requires rezoning six parcels from R-2 residential to C-2 general business.

4. Northwest side of Mulberry across from the High School to Roberson Spring Road - This area from the Highway back to the Railroad would be rezoned from R-2 Residential to M-1 light manufacturing.

5. Northwest side of Mulberry from Roberson Springs Road to new Highway 72 - This area from the Highway back to the Railroad would be rezoned from R-1 Residential to C-2 General Business.

The proposed ordinance and map as certified by the Loudon Regional Planning Commission may be examined at the office of the City Recorder.

OPEN BEER BOARD MEETINGS...

It's hardly something a newspaper editor wants to admit but in my 11 years in Loudon I have never attended a Beer Board meeting. Why? Because I have never known when they were having a meeting.

There is a bill in the state legislature that is expected to pass which would require public notice, to be published in the newspaper, when the Beer Board would meet, where, what time, name of beer permit applicant and the address of the location for such permit.

In Loudon County the Beer Board does not meet on regular basis, just when they have an application or when a hearing is held for violations.

We hope that this legislation is passed to give the public more knowledge of the actions of the Beer Board.

Easter Sunrise Services

The annual Easter Sunrise Service will be held Sunday Morning, April 2 at 8:30 a.m. in the auditorium of Loudon High School. Bernie Ray (Inky) Swiney will have charge of the Music. Rev. O.C. Rainwater will bring the message. Rev. W.H. Horner, President of the Loudon Pastor's Association preside. This service is sponsored by the Loudon churches and Pastor's Association. Secretary, O.C. Rainwater, invites everyone to attend this special service.

Two Murder Suspects Returned From Kentucky

Two of the defendants charged in the October 25 shooting death of Ronnie Swiney, Philadelphia, have been moved from the Kentucky State Penitentiary to the Blount County Jail.

Arnold Carter, 22, and Danny Barnes, who along with Leslie Joe Lynn, 20, are charged with the October slaying, were brought to the Blount County Jail for arraignment.

The duo had been serving a prison sentence in Kentucky for armed robbery convictions. Judge James C. Witt is expected to call a special session of the Blount County Criminal Court at which Carter and Barnes will be arraigned in this event their trial will be held at the next term of court which begins May 1 in Madisonville. The incident occurred in Monroe County.

Swiney, a 1959 Loudon High School graduate and former Philadelphia recorder, taught school at Highland Park the previous year and was taking training to become a male medical nurse at Baptist Hospital in Knoxville at the time of his death.

GOP Has Near Full Slate For Primary

Twenty-four men have qualified for the Loudon County Republican Primary, slated to be held May 4, the same date as the Republican and Democratic Presidential Preference Primaries. Last Thursday was the deadline to file for the primary election where the GOP candidates for the county General Election will be nominated.

The only race for a county wide office is for Sheriff where the incumbent Freeman Russell is opposed by his former Chief Deputy Fred Sheppard. Property Assessor Emmett Carter is unopposed in his bid for re-election.

In the races for Justice of the Peace there is a full slate of Republican candidates except in the second district. There the district is entitled to four squares but only three Republicans are in the primary race.

For Road Commissioner there are races in two of the three districts. Lee Malone is opposed by Clarence Brackett, and Joe Greenway faces Howard Brooks. First District Commissioner Lillard Bledsoe is unopposed in the primary.

For Constable there is a heavy race for the two nominations in the first district. Five men are in the race. All other districts have just one candidate, except in the fourth district where no one qualified.

A full slate of GOP candidates is as follows:

SHERIFF

Fred Sheppard
Freeman Russell

PROPERTY ASSESSOR

Emmett Carter

ROAD COMMISSIONER

1ST & 4TH DISTRICT

Lillard Bledsoe

ROAD COMMISSIONER

2ND & 5TH DISTRICT

Clarence E. Brackett

ROAD COMMISSIONER

3RD DISTRICT

Howard Brooks
Joe Greenway

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

Two Charged In Kidnapping

Two men, both in their early 20's, have been charged with kidnapping and contributing to the delinquency of a minor, according to records at the Loudon County Jail.

The two, Larry (Doby) Brown of Loudon and Terry Johnson of Loudon City, are free under $3,500 bond on the kidnapping charge and $500 on the contributing charge, pending preliminary hearings in General Sessions Court Friday.

The two men reportedly picked up two girls at Loudon High School early Thursday morning. They were arrested late Thursday afternoon. Warrants were taken by the parents of the two girls.

Bids For Final I-75 Leg In Loudon County Asked By State

The Tennessee Highway Department will open bids on the last section of Interstate 75 in Loudon County on April 21 in Nashville, Highway Commissioner Robert Smith announced late last week.

The 5.1 mile section of I-75 extends from the present end of I-75 at Old Highway 95 to a county road near the Tennessee River.

This project will be the final leg of I-75 in East Tennessee and will have all sections of the super highway between Knoxville and Cleveland under construction.

It will mean that three separate I-75 projects in Loudon County will be underway at one time. Currently the section from the Monroe County Line to the Tennessee River at Loudon is started as is the 2.1 mile section which includes the river bridge at Loudon. The cost of the project to be let on April 21 is six million dollars, meaning that almost 20 million dollars of I-75 construction is underway in the county. All phases of the construction are slated for completion by July 1, 1974.

Arrest Made In One Of Three Breakins

Three break-ins were reported to the Loudon County Sheriff's Department over last weekend.

A 19-year-old Loudon City youth, Ralph Wheat has been charged with one of the break-ins. That was at Eaton's School last Friday night. Principal Larry Duff reported the break-in Saturday morning. Only about $5 in change was reported taken but the building was reported to be in a shambles from being vandalized. It was reported that almost every room of the school was entered, books strewn about, drawers emptied, cafeteria supplies overturned or spilled and hallways left cluttered. A warrant has also been taken for a second suspect in the case.

Thieves reportedly made off with 11 pocket knives, two rods and reels and a battery operated light after breaking into Matlock Hardware at Eaton's Crossroads over the weekend.

Nine cases of beer were reportedly taken from the Midway Service Station on old highway 95 near Loudon City sometime between Saturday night and Sunday morning.

Investigations into all three break-ins are being handled through the Sheriff's office.

Public Hearing Slated On Design, Route Of Philadelphia Interchange

Representatives of the Tennessee Department of Highways will be in Loudon May 4 to discuss their proposal for constructing a connector route from Interstate 75 to State Route 2 north of Philadelphia.

The plans for the 2.2-mile connector route call for the construction of two 12-foot-wide traffic lanes with eight-foot-wide shoulders within a 60-foot-wide minimum right-of-way, Smith said. He added that access will be provided to all abutting property owners. The exact date for the hearing will be announced next week. The department expects to let a contract for the construction of the estimated $407,000 project in 1973. Maps, drawings and other pertinent data developed by the highway department are available for public viewing and copying at the office of C.R. McAmis, regional engineer, at 711 Concord Street in Knoxville.

Upon request to the regional engineer, Smith said, the data will be made available at a more convenient location. The objectives of the hearing will be to provide all interested citizens with complete information about the proposed project and to acquaint the public with the relocation assistance offered by the state to those persons whose homes or businesses may be affected by the project.

Jaycettes Plan Little Miss, Miss LaPetite Pageants

The Loudon Jaycettes, with the cooperation of the Loudon Jaycees, announced that they will sponsor two pageants for young girls. Both pageants progress from local to state and national competition. The "Miss LaPetite" contest will be for girls aged three through six years. These young ladies will compete in party dress and sportswear. No swimsuit or talent competition will be required of this group.

The "Our Little Miss" pageant will be for girls aged seven through 12 years. There will be competition in party dress, sportswear (no swimsuit) and talent. Talent will count one-third in judging and can be anything that shows a girl's poise before an audience: pantomime, humorous songs, poetry or dramatics, singing, dancing, musical instruments, baton twirling, etc.

The winner of both pageants at the local level will be eligible to enter the state pageants. Entry fees for the official state pageants will be paid by the Loudon Jaycees and Jaycettes. Mrs. Joyce Ridenour, publicity chairman, said that there will be a limit of ten entrants in each pageant. Both pageants will be held the same night and, due to time limitations, it will be necessary to hold the number of entrants to ten.

Maude Weaver Suffers Attack

Mrs. N.A. (Maude) Weaver, Sr., City of Loudon Deputy Recorder for the past 19 years, suffered a heart attack at her home in Loudon Saturday night. She is now a patient at Loudon County Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Weaver, 81, is reported to be in fair condition and responding well to treatment.

Courthouse To Close Friday

All offices in the Loudon County Courthouse will be closed for Easter on Friday, March 31 and Saturday, April 1, Judge Harvey Sprout said this week. However the County Court Clerk's office will be open on Saturday, April 1, for the purpose of the sale of automobile license.

Land, Damage Awards Given In Circuit Court

Although a heavy docket fronted the current term of Circuit Court far more than half the cases during the first two weeks of the session before Judge Willard Kittrell have been settled out of court. Heading the cases that have been tried are two highway land condemnation suits. A jury last Wednesday awarded Mr. and Mrs. Noah R. Simmons of Loudon $25,630 for 55 acres of land taken for Interstate 75 and an interchange and connector at Philadelphia. Besides the land award the Simmons were given $20,000 for damages to their farm for a total award of $45,630.

In another I-75 land suit Ellis Johnson, Ola Johnson, Charles H. Clark and Mione J. Clark of the Hotchis Valley community were awarded $9426 for 15.7 acres of land taken and an additional $2,000 in damages. Another I-75 condemnation was mistried by Judge Kittrell due to statements made by witnesses. This was property owned by Sam Barr, J.D. Barr, Gene Barr, John Gibson, Inaste and Herbert Tilly. The condemnation suit for land belonging to J. Robert and Annie Lee Barr was scheduled for Friday but continued to the next term of court.

Melvon H. Coley was awarded $1346.42 in an auto accident case against Harold C. Bowers and B.W. Moon. In another auto accident case of O.R. Bacon and Ruth Bacon vs. Lawrence D. Murphy the court found in favor of the defendant. The case of United Realty Company vs. William McCall and M.L. McCally, breach of contract, ended in a hung jury. A non suit was taken the case of Estate of John B. Wooten, Martha Isabelle Wooten, Executors vs. Billy Wooten, exception to claim, after the case was underway. All other cases scheduled for trial last week and those for the remainder of this week have been settled out of court. Circuit Court Clerk Billy Joe Akins said. Court will reconvene on Monday, April 3 and cases are scheduled through April 7th.

BAHAMAS BOUND - Most of the 61 Loudon High Seniors who are now vacationing in the Bahamas are shown here Sunday night as they prepared to leave the school by bus for Miami on the first leg of their week long trip. Two of the boys are holding a flag representing the island.

Landfill, Traffic, Road Law On Big Court Agenda

Several matters considered "urgent" by many Loudon Countyans are on next Monday night's County Court agenda, but indications this week are that the Court will not take definitive action on them. In fact, there is little Court can do about some of them. Included are the matter of a county-wide sanitary landfill, what to do about traffic congestion coming from I-75, a report on the private act providing for the reorganization of the Loudon County Highway Commission, and a public hearing, set an hour before regular Court meeting, on zoning changes in the Greenback and Erie communities. The Squires will meet Monday night at the Courthouse, beginning at 6:30 for the hearing on rezoning and at 7:30 for the regular meeting. Following a meeting of the Loudon City, Loudon, and Loudon County Sanitary Landfill committee last Tuesday night, the Court will be presented a proposal from David Witherpoon to receive and dispose of garbage and other solid waste from Loudon City, Loudon and Loudon County for a fee of about $5,000 to $40,000 per year. Witherpoon, who operates a salvage business in Knoxville, has opened a sanitary landfill in Monroe County and has one of a very few State Health Dept. approvals for a landfill site. His proposal provides that he would station a large packer unit at a central point in the county and Loudon City, Loudon, and other garbage trucks would haul to it. When filled, the packer would be hauled to the landfill and dumped. Another phase of the solid waste collection project would place Dempster Dumpster collection units at 44 selected points throughout the county. This and part of the Witherpoon contract cost would be at County expense. At a Loudon City Council meeting Monday night, however, Squire Henry Foster expressed concern about how to find the money to finance the county's portion of the cost. He did not favor putting it on the tax rate. "I don't think County Court will do anything in a rush," Mr. Foster said. But there may be reason to be in somewhat of a hurry. City Council member Tommy McNabb pointed out that if a county-wide program is developed soon, and submitted to the State for approval, the State will reimburse the county at 75 cents per capita. But funds are limited and will be allowed to elapse and counties on a first-come, first-served basis.

In other action, the Court will consider the problem of severe highway and traffic congestion in Loudon County during peak periods of travel in Spring and Summer, and other holiday week-ends. The Court may ask the State Safety Dept. to help divert some of the I-75 traffic to other routes between Knoxville and Chattanooga. No County Court action will be involved in the requested Private Act to reorganize the County Highway Department. The matter is to come back to a referendum of the people instead of being ratified by the Court. The complete agenda: 1. Pledge of allegiance, opening of Court, and roll call. 2. Reading and approval of the minutes of the March 6, 1972, regular meeting of the Court. 3. Recognition of visitors and denatations, and open discussion period. (All this time any visitor of the Court.) (Continued on Page 9)

At a time when television experts predicted that some 65 million United States viewers watched the classical "Super Bowl" game in January's final wrap up of football play, the latest Gallup Poll reveals that the pig skin sphere has become the chief object in America's number one spectator sport.

Such an analysis comes at the cross roads of the three major sports of today. Spring football practice has put a quite muzzle to the indoor charm of a spirited battle on the boards in basketball, and baseball flavors the warm air with the loosening-up of the old soup bone for summer.

Baseball, a game long considered the major American spectator contest, has now fallen behind football as the game Americans are most likely to mention when asked which sport they enjoy watching most.

Today's results show 36 per cent of all American adults naming football as their favorite sport to watch, compared to 21 percent who name baseball. In a Gallup sports survey reported were almost the exact opposite in March 1961, the figures—34 per cent named baseball and 21 per cent named football.

Basketball continues to be named the third most popular sport, but it ranks considerably behind both football and baseball in its appeal to the fans.

Today's results reveal that football has made its greatest gains in popularity with American men. Basketball and bowling, however, remain more likely to be named as the favorite spectator sport of women.

Interest in football has no doubt been affected by the steadily increasing coverage the sport has received from the major television networks. The "Super Bowl" game, for example, was viewed not only by an estimated one of every three Americans, but was also viewed live in Canada, Mexico, and Puerto Rico and via delayed satellite transmission to most of Europe.

Today's Gallup Poll results were obtained at a time in the year similar to other Gallup sports surveys, thus assuring that no sport would benefit from seasonal bias.

Today's findings are based on personal interviews with over 1000 adults, 18 and older, conducted during the period March 14-17.

Here is the question asked and the 20 year Gallup Poll trend:

What is your favorite sport to watch?

Favorite Sport To Watch	1972		1961		1948
	per cent	per cent	per cent	per cent	per cent	per cent
FOOTBALL	36	21	37	21	37	21
BASKETBALL	21	34	39	39	39	39
BOWLING	1	9	10	10	10	10
WRESTLING	3	5	1	1	1	1
HOCKEY	3	3	2	2	2	2
SKIING	2	1	X	X	X	X
BOXING	1	3	3	3	3	3

SWIMMING	X	1	2	2	2	2
HORSE RACING	1	X	4	4	4	4
DON'T KNOW	10	13	12	12	12	12

X—Less than one percent.

Here are the results from today's survey broken down by men and women:

	MEN		WOMEN
	per cent	per cent	per cent	per cent
FOOTBALL	44	28	28	28
BASKETBALL	24	17	17	17
BOWLING	6	10	10	10

Past Gallup International surveys have shown that skiing is the most popular spectator sport in the Scandinavian countries, while soccer captures the top rating throughout other parts of Europe.

Bill Meyer Stadium Ready For New Sox

Bill Meyer Stadium has been renovated and, according to Recreation Administrator Maynard Glenn, "it's going to be in the best shape ever" for the return of professional baseball after four years.

Knoxville's Southern League club, the Knoxville Sox, will open the home season Friday, April 14, with Asheville. The Tourists will be here for Saturday and Sunday games, also.

The Sox open the season Tuesday, April 11, in Birmingham, facing the A's in a three-game series before coming home.

A new public address system, amplifier, purchased by the baseball club, also has been installed.

"For the first time," Glenn said, "we've installed a warning track around the fence. It starts about 20 feet from the fence and will be completely covered with marble dust. I think the outfielders will like it."

Track Discontinued At Loudon High School

Loudon High School has dropped track from its spring sports schedule. The Redskin Athletic Department discontinued track at the school for the past three years, but due to coaching problems and the prolonged basketball season, the sport has been discontinued.

Loudon had its best year on the cinders in 1960 when they finished high in the Knoxville News Sentinel Relays and were one of the top district finishers.

DeWayne Arp had been the track team coach all three years of its existence. Coach Arp took over the head coaching duties of the girls basketball team this year and the Lassies turned in the best record the school has experienced in over 20 years.

With 20 victories and 14 losses the Loudon sextet also registered the longest season ever in the history of the school. Thus coach Arp, who receives no pay for coaching the track unit, was excused from the coaching ranks of the spring sport.

Coach Arp had really not had time to start a program for the team this spring in conditioning and with the basketball tournaments lasting into March the job was just too demanding.

Loudon took part in 100 yard dash, 200 yard dash, 400 yard dash, 800 yard dash, the mile run, mile relay, two mile relay, 800 yard relay, hurdles, shot, put, and discus, during the spring meets.

The team had but three seniors last year and the prospective 20 to 25 member team that would have been available this spring had the makings of a good team.

Lewisburg Wins Girls Title

Lewisburg ran its season record to 12-1 with a 26-41 victory over Warren county last in the TSSAA Girls State Basketball Championship Saturday.

Lewisburg, with Jerris Mitchell hitting 23 points and Lela Williams posting 20, shot a sizzling 67.7 percent. Gallatin took third place by topping Jackson Central-Merry 59-41.

Lela Jones of Gallatin was named the tournament's Most Valuable Player. She was joined on the All-Tournament team by the following:

Tom Grizzle and Linda Campbell of Sevier; Linda Williams, Betty McCallie, Kay Lemaire and Pat Collins of Loudon; Kay Bost, Nancy Wynn, Susan Tate and Bernice Stovick of Warren; County and Sally Johnson of Jackson.

Jr. Redskins Practice Mon.

The Loudon Junior Redskins (130 pound) football team will begin their spring football practice Monday, April 3 at 4:45 p.m. at Bacon Field. Harrison Henry asks that those interested to please attend this practice.

Glenn said the playing field, even now, "is in great shape." It has received a new crown since last fall and, Glenn said, it is draining well, both in the infield and outfield.

Meanwhile, Club President Neal Ridley said Mayor Kyle Testerman is anxious that Knoxville win the league's President's Trophy for the top attendance on opening day.

"This is something that Knoxville never has done and it would be a real shot in the arm for baseball to get such a fine start," Ridley said. Opening-day tickets are selling at a special $1 price (the regular price is $1.50).

Both Police and Firemen are selling tickets to the opening-day which will be observed as "Honorary Mayor Testerman" Night.

All types of tickets—opening day, season, general admission, books, are available at the Bill Meyer Stadium office. General Manager Bill Reep is available for ticket information at 534-0234.

Adolph Rupp To Lead Basketball Phase Of TSSAA Coaches School Set For University Of Tenn.

Kentucky's Adolph Rupp will handle the basketball part of the annual TSSAA Coaches' School to be held at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville July 26-29.

Three of America's outstanding football figures—Bill Battle, John Majors and Jake Gaither—were named this morning as the football speakers for the clinic.

Ken Dugan of Nashville David Lipscomb College will be the featured baseball speaker. Thad Talley of Arkansas State will be the principal track speaker.

Clemson's Fred Hoover will return for his second straight year as the clinic's trainer. The response to Hoover's talk and demonstrations last year was the greatest ever at the University of Tennessee Athletic Department, and a lot of the UT athletic and Physical Education facilities.

It would be a welcome addition again this summer. Dr. Ed Howley of the University of Tennessee will talk on the "Physiology of Exercise" and will give demonstrations.

Also on the program is Edward Villella, premier dancer of the New York City Ballet. Villella was featured recently in a "Sports Illustrated" article. He and his dance partner will demonstrate "Balance and Coordination by Dance".

Also slated for the Coaches' School is the annual Fellowship of Christian Athletes Breakfast, a bar-becue sponsored by the University of Tennessee Athletic Department, and a test of the UT athletic and Physical Education facilities.

Cruising Tennessee River Popular In 1971

Cruising on the Tennessee River showed continuing popularity in 1971 with a record 18,656 recreation vessels locked through TVA dams, about a thousand more than the previous year's total. Nine dams on the Tennessee River form a continuous chain of lakes 830 miles long, from Knoxville in east Tennessee down through northern Alabama and back north through western Tennessee and Kentucky. The river empties into the Ohio at Paducah. The distance between dams varies from 16 miles on Wilson Lake to 184 miles on big Kentucky Lake. All the main river dams plus Melton Hill Dam on the Clinch River are provided with navigation locks, and recreation craft may lock through without charge. A bell rope has been provided on the downstream wall a short distance below the lower gate at each lock, so the boater approaching from downstream can signal the lock operator that a boat is ready to lock through. Services for boaters are available at numerous docks and marinas along the lakeshore. A recreation folder available from TVA includes a directory of these docks and the services they offer. Navigation charts may be purchased through TVA at Knoxville or Chattanooga, or by mail. The largest number of recreation craft locking through dams last year was 3,436 at Chickamauga Dam. Totals at other dams included 3,127 at Guntersville, 2,716 at Watts Bar, 2,520 at Port Loudoun, 1,494 at Wilson, 1,098 at Nickajack, 1,068 at Wheeler, 1,038 at Pickwick, and 718 at Melton Hill.

TSSAA Coaches Clinic To Have Tennessee Flavor

The 1972 TSSAA Coaches' School will have a Tennessee "flavor" this summer when three of America's outstanding football coaches—Bill Battle, John Majors and Jake Gaither—will highlight the football part of the July 26-29 program. The annual event will be held at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville and will conclude with the three annual TSSAA All-Star games on Saturday. Bill Battle in two years as the head football coach for the Volunteer's of Tennessee has won national fame for the Vols and himself with bowl victories in the Sugar and Liberty.

Johnny Majors, a graduate of UT and a member of the famed athletic family of Shirley Majors, Sewanee, Tenn., is presently head coach at Iowa State. Majors took the Cyclones to their first bowl game in a number of years and his name has been mentioned prominently as possible successor to a number of other major college coaching positions.

Any person after he reaches his 18th birthday who fishes with minnows or artificial bait or lures or who fishes for or takes trout.

Q. Can I fish in my county of legal residence without a license? A. Yes, if you do not use minnows or artificial lures. You can use worms, crayfish, dough balls, cut bait. Q. Where can I obtain a fishing license? A. At most sporting goods stores, hardware and county clerk offices. Q. My brother is coming in on furlough. Does he have to have a license to fish? A. He can fish without a license if he is on leave or furlough. He must carry a copy of his leave or furlough papers with him. A three-day pass is not valid. Q. I am 65 years old. Where can I get a free hunting and fishing license? A. Take proof of your age to your game and Fish license agent and he will fill out a form and mail to Nashville and you will receive your free license from the Nashville office. FIRST LADIES - Mrs. James (Pearl) Elam, left, is the recipient of the honor of "Loudon County's First Lady - 1972." She was presented the traditional sterling silver bowl by retiring "First Lady," Mrs. C. F. Barnett. At right are Dr. and Mrs. Jerome Hughes of Berea College, Ky. Dr. Taylor was principal speaker for the program and Mrs. Hughes is the former Phillis Jean Campbell of Lenoir City.

Mrs. James Elam Selected As Loudon County First Lady

Mrs. James (Pearl) Elam of the Eaton Crossroads community is "Loudon County's First Lady - 1972." Her selection by a panel of judges was announced Saturday night at the annual "First Lady" banquet, sponsored by Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Mrs. Elam, nominated by the Eaton Crossroads Home Demonstration Club, was selected from among 10 nominees for the honor. The choice was made by a panel of judges from a questionnaire form write-up.

But the wonder is that this very diverse lady wife, mother, and community worker found time to attend the banquet which turned out to be in her honor. A quick study of the write-up submitted for her judging raises this question, since most of her time seems occupied with one project or another.

But a further reading brings another impression. This is a person who "makes" time for all her activities, and if there is an area of duty or responsibility which is sacrificed in favor of civic work, it is not apparent.

Her many activities include sewing and cooking, both for her family and for the community; boating and fishing and stock car racing; 4-H projects, water skiing and collecting rocks with the family; leadership in Cub Scout and Girl Scout; 4-H, Home Demonstration Club and church activities; design and construction of costumes and sets for first and second grade stage productions of Eaton Crossroads School; making of clothing for patients at Eastern State Hospital in Knoxville and many, many more.

She does creative sewing, sometimes doing original design, sometimes putting three or four patterns together to make something which doesn't look like any of them individually, she works with all paints with a preference for nature scenes; she plays volleyball three mornings a week, participating on a championship team last year and receiving a personal trophy; she enjoys horseback riding, and finds time for gardening to help provide her family with fresh vegetables, canning and freezing some for winter.

She is a Loudon County June Dairy Month recipe award winner; she holds four clothing superior certificates; and holds other awards in church, Red Cross, Cub Scouting, Home Demonstration and other activities.

Currently she is Director of the Loudon County Baptist Association, is President of the Loudon County Council of Home Demonstration Clubs, is Clothing Leader in her Home Demonstration Club, is a Project Leader in 4-H work, is a Den Mother in the Cub Scouts and Junior Leader in the Girl Scouts.

For five years Mrs. Elam has designed and made numerous sets, and costumes for the annual first and second grade play at Eaton Crossroads School. She has written script for these plays, directed scenes, and secured parent support for her elaborate stage settings.

And she is just as quick to respond to less widely-known needs. After hearing about a need at Eastern State Hospital for dresses for larger women, she solicited material, designed and made 31 dresses size 50 and over. While she was at it, she also secured other dresses from various clothing stores in the community for patients at the hospital.

Mrs. Elam was presented the traditional silver bowl by Loudon County's First Lady 1971, Mrs. C.F. Barnett, who extended congratulations and expressed appreciation for the honor during the past year.

Speakers for the occasion was Dr. Jerome Hughes, professor English at Berea College, Ky., and husband of the former Phillis Jean Campbell, formerly of Lenoir City. Assisted by his wife, Dr. Hughes presented a serious-humorous discussion of "Fine Arts for All in the Family," illustrated by color slides and recorded music.

Mrs. Walter Shea sang a medley of songs of the South.

$273,000 Locally For New Highways

Car owners in Loudon County are beginning to realize that Uncle Sam's 42,500-mile Interstate Highway System, now three-quarters finished, has become a more costly undertaking than expected.

They know that because they, along with the rest of the motoring public, are footing the bill through their purchases of gasoline, tires and other items.

At the present time, the Federal government is collecting some $273,000 a year from car operators in the local area. The bulk of it is derived from the four-cent tax levied on every gallon of gas.

The revenue is deposited in the Highway Trust Fund, which pays 90 percent of the cost of construction. The other 10 percent is borne by the states.

For the typical driver in Loudon County, who covers 10,000 miles a year and gets 14 miles to the gallon, the annual cost is about $30, according to government figures. For those who travel more or less than this average, the cost varies proportionately.

Based upon the 2,100 cars in operation in the local area during 1970, it adds up to $273,000 a year.

She was accompanied at the plans by Vernon McKinley, Deputy Eastern served as Master of Ceremonies.

The increasing cost is attributed to the expansion of the highway system from the original 41,000 miles to 42,500 miles and to the fact that the expected completion date is now 1978 instead of 1972.

As a result of the changes, the ultimate expenditure will be about $75 billion, it is estimated. That is nearly double the figure set in 1956, when the project was started.

Because of the extended construction time, car owners in Loudon County will be contributing an additional $1,638,000 before it is finished, six years hence.

There is special interest in the Highway Trust Fund at this time because of the demand by many civic groups that it be used, in part, to support some public needs that they consider more urgent.

They contend that there is a pressing need to refurbish other transportation facilities, such as railroads, airports and mass transit generally, and that some of the money should go in that direction.

Consumer Ed. Project Scheduled

The University of Tennessee-Knoxville will be responsible for a 16-county consumer education project announced Monday in Nashville, Bill J. Radcliff, assistant professor of business education, said today.

Radcliff is project director for the 16-county region.

The program which will run for three years, aims at promoting better utilization of household income by the low-income consumer and at increasing income. The target population for the program will be some 1,200,000 people in Tennessee at or near the poverty income level, Radcliff said.

It will be available to low-income citizens, both rural and urban, through specialists trained as consumer educators.

Counties included in the UTK region are Knox, Sevier, Jefferson, Grainger, Monroe, Loudon, Roane, Anderson, Morgan, Scott, Campbell, Union and Claiborne.

Training sessions will begin April 19. Those attending the workshops, which can include anyone working with low-income families, will work on the approach to be taken and will receive materials already prepared on use of credit, installment buying, food and nutrition, clothing, housing, automobiles, insurance, and recreation.

The consumer education project was developed as part of the Community Service and Continuing Education Program under Title I of the Higher Education Act of 1965. It will be coordinated by UT-Nashville. A federal grant under Title I will provide two-thirds of the total cost of the project while participating institutions will furnish the remaining funds, Radcliff said.

said. A total of 15 colleges, universities, and state and service agencies are participating.

During the first phase, colleges and universities will train about 1,000 persons from state agencies and volunteers from the community as consumer specialists. The number will increase as the program develops. These consumer specialists will work directly with low-income consumers in improving their economic status, Radcliff said.

Julie Burnette celebrated her ninth birthday March 30. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Burnette of Philadelphia. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lester Cross, Loudon and the late Rev. and Mrs. Burnette of Acworth, Ga.

GOAL IS NORMAL LIFE—Handicapped Vietnam veteran, Billy Joe Wilson, pursues what he strives to maintain, a normal life, as a local service station attendant.

Handicapped Vietnam Vet Making It On His Own

By Calvin Lanford

Although plagued with a severe physical handicap which was suffered in Vietnam combat and would make it difficult to obtain employment, the smiling determination of Vietnam veteran, Billy Joe Wilson, has proved beyond a doubt the old and time worn adage that where there is a will, there is a way. With the help of Claude Wicker, placement officer of the Tennessee Employment Service, and an employer who was willing to give this young man a chance has proved there is a way.

The events that were to bring drastic changes to the life of this young man began when he dropped out of Loudon High School and joined the Marines. (He obtained his High School diploma while in service.) After his basic training he was weeks of trying, he realized he needed professional help in getting a job. So he took his problem to the Tennessee Employment Service and the office of Mr. Claude Wicker. Mr. Wicker began immediately to try to help Billy Joe. The Pilot Oil Co. in Loudon was willing to give Billy Joe a chance and although handicapped as he was, this was all Billy Joe needed. His drive and determination proved to his new found employer that he could handle the job and they have stated their complete satisfaction with him. Billy Joe was quick to express his very sincere appreciation to Pilot Oil Co. and to Claude Wicker who opened some doors for him.

Billy Joe said he would like to pass on some advice to those who like himself might have a handicap. Don't try to do it yourself, seek professional help. It will save a lot of time and disappointment.

Billy Joe, who earned the Purple Heart, Two Vietnamese Bronze Stars, the Good Conduct Medal and National Defense Medal in his role as Marine Lance Corporal stated that he has no regrets and believes deeply that his sacrifice was worthwhile and as one individual, he believed the help given to the people of Vietnam was deserved. He stated that everyone may not agree with him but this was his own personal belief. He went on to say that the young man serving our Country deserved the whole hearted support of the American people.

Married to the former Chris Moore, this young man states that all he wants is the chance to build a normal life for himself and his family. Billy Joe Wilson's experiences with Army Hospitals and further adjustments in his life are not over. In July, he returns to the Veterans Hospital in Nashville to have his right arm amputated. But he faces it, not with remorse, but looks forward to the day when all this will be behind him and he and his wife can settle down to what he wants more than anything else in life—to be an

Tax Take Here $6,889,000

How much money will pour out of Loudon County, bound for Washington, when April 17th, which is tax day this year, rolls around?

Will local residents be tapped for more than they were last year, when their payment of personal taxes, including what they contributed through withholding, amounted to $6,868,000 approximately?

That was the total turned in, as estimated from statewide collections announced by the Treasury Department, and from an unofficial breakdown of the figures, based upon local earnings.

They show that personal income taxes collected throughout the State of Tennessee came to $1,164,000,000 and that residents of Loudon County produced some 0.59 percent of the total.

Although the nation was in a period of recession during most of 1971, with many people partially or wholly unemployed, the 95 percent or so of the working force that did have steady jobs earned considerably more than they had in 1970.

As a result, the government counts on the tax haul this year reaching about $86.5 billion, which is nearly $300 million more than was collected last year.

As for each individual community, the returns will be larger or smaller than before depending upon the change in the number of taxpayers and the change in total earnings in the period.

In Loudon County, in line with the relative stability shown by the local area, this year's tax payments are expected to reach nearly $6,889,000.

The Administration's budget for the next fiscal year, submitted to Congress in January, forecasts an expansion of the economy this year. It figures that personal income, nationally, will be around $924 billion, up $67 billion from 1971.

On that presumption, it concludes that personal income taxes for the fiscal year beginning July 1st should reach $93.9 billion, or $7.4 billion more than is being collected this year.

In Loudon County, overall earnings have to rise by about 8.6 percent, it is calculated, for the local population to meet its share of this increase.

Charles McCall Extension Leader

I doubt if there is a parent in Loudon County that isn't interested in their children. Every parent does all they can to prepare their children for the future and productive life. In the process, they make sure they receive a good education. When Johnny brings home the poor report card or makes a poor mark on an achievement test, invariably the remark is made "you failed to do your homework."

Many of the farmers in the county are failing to do their "homework." Much of the action that is going on around the farm at the present time involves plant food. Without a doubt, the most popular practice going on is applying fertilizer to pasture and hay fields. Thousands of dollars worth of plant food are being used every day.

First of all, I'll have to admit that it's quiet the thing to do when fertilizer is applied to pasture and hay fields. The ability of those fields to produce depends on you. You don't have to be a professional on the other hand, there is more to it than applying fertilizer. Who knows how those fields are going to perform. The farmers who know the fields should, providing he has taken the necessary steps such as taking a soil sample of those fields to find out how much fertilizer has been removed last year and what needs to be applied this year in order to get enough production for hay and pasture for those dairy or beef cattle.

When a farmer is having trouble producing enough

Rotary Hears Of Alaska Pipeline

The effect of the Alaska pipeline on the environment, the state and the country was discussed in a side-illustrated talk to the Loudon Rotary Club, at their noon meeting Tuesday (March 21), by Douglas J. Schelp, area manager for Mobil Oil Corporation in Nashville.

Schelp pointed out that "the Alaska Pipeline Company, which was chartered to act as prime contractor for the design, construction, operation and maintenance of the entire oil pipeline system, has put in four million man hours and $15 million in Arctic environment and engineering research."

"In fact, the Alaskan pipeline is one of the most highly researched and inspected construction projects in the history of man."

He told the group that the protection of the environment has been of paramount importance in all of the planning and explained a number of specific safety measures.

Pardon
I would like to say, too, that in reference to any issue that comes up concerning county government, and it seems that there are plenty of issues that keep coming, and most of them are controversial, that I do not intend to engage in personalities to any degree whatsoever.

I respect the opinion of other persons concerning any issue. But of course naturally have to weigh each opinion on the basis of any personal interest involved, on how much study has been given to a particular issue, and other factors surrounding it. But I certainly respect any person's right to have their opinion.

With particular reference to a discussion of the proposed re-organization of the Loudon County Highway Department, one of the Highway Commissioners expressed his opinion to me that he felt I had misrepresented or misquoted the feelings of members of his family and possibly of the families of other road commissioners without any basis for this statement.

In re-reading the statement in my column last week, I agree with the commissioner that my statement could be misconstrued, and I want to apologize in this regard. It very well may be that some of the members of the road commissioner's families have no opinion whatever concerning the proposed re-organization, or it may be that some of the members of the family may be in favor of the proposed re-organization. My statement was made on the basis of an assumption and again I apologize.

Restated
I guess it would be better to state it the other way and that would be that from the best of my observations there are a great number of people who feel that we need to consolidate our three road departments into one organization, with one superintendent, and with a board of commissioners to govern the operations much as a school board, or a board of directors of a company would do.

There are then some disagreements as to how large the board should be, and how that sort of thing, but it seems to me that we should keep in mind that we cannot all agree about all points of anything, and that the proposed re-organization has some compromise measures in it, that it will not go into effect for two years anyway, and to pass it now will be plenty of notice to all candidates for office, and to other county officials, to have plenty of time to prepare for the re-organization.

Hopefully, there can be a place for all present employees of the highway department, and the highway commissioners, in any future re-organization.

Again, I have tried to work on with the present road commissioners on a day to day basis and assist them in any way that I could, and I have no personal grudge against them in any way, and in fact feel that the present commissioners have done a much better job than many of their predecessors; but that does not mean that we cannot seek to improve the efficiency and operation of our county highway department in the future.

If the proposed re-organization passes the public referendum, it is defeated, either way—I will continue to work as closely as I can with them.

Reapportionment
I might also say one other thing about the recent action of the Quarterly Court in re-aligning county voting districts.

There are certain people who formerly voted for Squires in the First District who will now be voting in the Second District.

Also there are people in the Fifth District who will now be voting in the Second, and people in the Second District who will now be voting in the Fifth District.

The point is this: Even though you may vote in a different place, as I understand it now, the only real difference in voting will be for County Squires.

For all other elective offices, you will be voting for the same people as if you had been voting in your old voting precinct.

After 40,000 Pictures Old Camera Still Going

By Calvin Lunsford

One of the highly respected and valuable tools of the newspaper business is the Press camera. Its shutters record the tragic, the controversial and happy events in the lives of people it's newspaper serves.

My editor (who was unaware of my intentions of doing this article) and this writer have talked many times about the service this particular camera has rendered to this newspaper and community over the passing years. We are both in agreement that when it's condition reached the point where it was no longer deemed serviceable, it should be in some way set aside in a special place for its role in the history of this newspaper and community.

This old camera has not only recorded pictures for publication in the Herald, but on many occasions as a public service, recorded events for civic, community and church organizations of this area.

A few years back on my first newspaper feature assignment, I found that it would be necessary for me to do my own pictures. After a few trial shots and some last minute instructions from my editor, a very nervous and very inexperienced newspaper photographer was on his way. I think it was that day when I fully realized the role the Press camera plays in a newspaper story. The faithful and efficient camera came to my rescue. I returned my pictures of suitable quality for publication.

This camera has been in service for the Loudon County Herald for 10 years with an average of six rolls of film used in it each week with 12 exposure per roll. This would give a total of 37,440 pictures which may or may not be a record, but would make a sizeable truck load of photographs.

Due to exposure to the elements, rain, snow, heat and cold, it's once shiny leather cover has long since deteriorated away. But it is still in service and doing a good job.

At one time this camera was used by all of the Herald Staff, and was almost constantly in use. The Herald now has four cameras, but the editor of the Herald uses this camera many times in preference to a possibly much more modern one which he has, not that it doesn't do a good job, but we have the feeling that there is definitely a very sentimental attachment.

I have a very limited knowledge of the value of cameras, both new and used, and possibly for sentimental reasons of my own would value this camera far above the going market price. But, somehow I have the feeling that my worries about it's future after it's retirement are unfounded. I feel that one day it will be retired from service, but will take it's place among other things which have played a role in the Loudon Herald, it's editor and staff as well as the people of Loudon County.

LEAVE US ON DAYLIGHT SAVINGS TIME-

The last of this month we are scheduled to roll the clock ahead an hour and go on daylight savings time for the summer months. After getting used to this we came to like the extra hour of daylight at the end of the day.

Now we hear that the legislature is to be asked to exempt Tennessee from the time change. Our personal preference is to go on daylight savings time as we have for the past couple of years. It gives the working man and woman a chance to complete their days work, go home, eat, work in their gardens, lawns, take the family for an outing, play golf, etc. with daylight hours to enjoy these things.

We for one hope they leave well enough alone.

NOW WE KNOW.....

Sometimes something you try to say does not come out the way you mean it. Last week we were trying to convey support for legislation requiring the local beer boards to run notices of their license applicants, locations and names prior to hearings and somewhere along the way we got off track.

We were wrong in saying that the beer board does not have regular meetings. They do! The group composed of five members meets at 4 p.m. every second Thursday and we have received several personal invitations. If we accomplished one thing it was finding out when they meet and where. Our information came from what we thought was a reliable source, but we recognize we should have tried to verify this information.

Anyway we think this new legislation should be passed and the boards required to give information pertaining to applicants prior to any decision on issuing licenses.

City Buys 11 Acres For Pool And Park

After months of negotiations the City of Loudoun has cleared the first hurdle toward the construction of a $150,000 Swimming Pool and recreational park in the city. County Court Monday night approved the sale of 11.350 acres of land at the Loudoun High School to the city for the project.

A written proposal from Loudoun Mayor Joe Carter was presented to the court by Loudoun City Administrator Gary Hensley in that the city would pay for the land on the basis of appraised value and also included other considerations such as annexing the entire high school property and the land for the swimming pool and park into the corporate limits.

Mr. Hensley said that the city was making application for a federal grant to pay for half of the project. When completed the swimming pool and other facilities in the park would be made available to the school system. During the summer months the City of Loudoun would operate the park as part of its summer recreation program.

Mr. Hensley said the city hopes to have the swimming pool completed sometime next year. He said details of other facilities in the park are not complete but earlier reports indicated that picnic areas, bath house facilities, refreshment centers, softball fields and lights for night use were included.

The entire facility will be open for public use and not restricted to Loudoun High School and residents of Loudoun.

County-TVA Sign Contract On 22 Miles Of Tellico Roads

Loudoun County Court Monday night approved a contract between the county and the Tennessee Valley Authority for the construction and replacement of roads involved in the Tellico Dam and Lake project. The contract, which has been under study and negotiation between the county and TVA for more than four years, contains 13 roads of some 22 miles in length. Under the contract TVA will build new roads where needed around the dam area and relocate roads or portions of roads which will be affected by the lake.

Loudoun County will be responsible for the construction of two of the roads. These are the River Road-Baker Creek to Sinking Creek, a length of 4.5 miles, and Gap Road which is 1.3 miles in length.

The TVA responsibilities include the new Tellico Parkway starting just southwest of the Tellico Dam and extending to relocated Highway 72. This project is 9.5 miles long. Another major TVA road is the Tellico Dam Access road which begins at State Highway 95 crosses the Little

Squires Say Local Doctors Part Of Problem Getting Physicians

Squire Jack Lefler, late in the midnight session of Loudoun County Court Monday night, said "you have smoked out the real problem" when Squire I.D. Conner set the blame for the county not getting new doctors on the attitude of some of the doctors currently practicing in the county.

Card Benefit Next Saturday

The many door prizes for the Loudoun Woman's Club Benefit Card Party were put on display at Richesin's Loudoun Pharmacy this week. The door prizes include a Sylvania Television set which will be the main door prize.

The Benefit Card Party will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, April 15 in the cafeteria of Loudoun High School. Tickets for the benefit are on sale by members of the club.

Proceeds will be used to purchase a lighted flag pole and erect a cheerleaders stand at the school football field.

As part of the hospital committee report Conner said that the county was proceeding well into the National Health Service Corps program toward getting doctors under the federal program when the local medical society turned thumbs down on the matter.

He said that a study by the agency handling the federal program was made and it appeared the county could qualify for two or three doctors under the National Health Service program. The hitch was that before making application the local medical association, or the local doctors, had to give their approval. Conner said not all, but a majority of the doctors were not in favor, thus the program was dropped.

Other remarks were made to the effect that the doctors were screaming help but when the county court found assistance they fought it, thus the doctors are as much to blame for the shortage of physicians as anybody.

However it was also pointed out that the Tennessee Medical Association has not given its approval to the Health Corps either.

Mr. Conner stated that soon Dr. Tucker Montgomery, a Knoxville physician, will be on duty full time in the emergency room of the Loudoun County Memorial Hospital three weekends of each month. Conner said he had a firm commitment from Dr. Montgomery to provide

Court Remap Presents Voting Problems

A two-horned voting dilemma presented itself to members of County Court as the meeting opened Monday night at the Courthouse. The problem came about as a result of new voting district boundary lines established at last month's meeting of the Court.

The Court's action changed voting district lines, but left Civil Districts - for the recording of deeds, etc. - unchanged.

It was pointed out Monday night, however, that Constables are elected by Civil Districts, not the new voting districts, and Road Commissioners are elected by Road Districts, which also follow the Civil District boundaries.

The new district changes - which were made to comply with the one-man, one-vote Supreme Court ruling based on new data from the 1970 Census - moved the boundary between the First and Second Districts from Sugar Linn Road down to the Tennessee River. Changes also were made in the boundary between the Second and Fifth Districts. Rex Barnett, a resident of the area across the river from Loudoun which was changed from the First to the Second Voting District, told the Court Monday night he and his neighbors objected to the change. He presented a petition which he said contained 172 names of residents, 18 years old and older, requesting that the Court reconsider and leave the area in the First District.

Atty. John Gibson, Chairman of the Loudoun County Election Commission, pointed out the voting confusion which will result. Those people who live across the river from Loudoun, whose voting precinct was changed to Loudoun City, will still be eligible to vote for the First District Constables and the First and Fourth District Road Commissioners. The same problem will exist for those changed from the Fifth to the Second Voting District.

One possibility would be to hold the Road Commissioner and Constable elections on paper ballots, Mr. Gibson suggested.

"But we need names," he said. "We will have to have an official list of voters affected."

County Judge Harvey Sproul suggested that it would be the business of the Court to provide for a voter survey to accomplish this, if it becomes necessary.

Another spokesman, Boyd Duckworth, of Philadelphia, cast another fly in the ointment. He said he had heard a report that the State Supreme Court has ruled that such a change in voting precincts cannot be made closer than 90 days before an election. Judge Sproul said he had not received such a ruling but he would check on it.

In that case, the May 4 primary election for County Court members might have to be postponed, since to conduct it on the basis of the old voting districts would not be in compliance with the one-man, one-vote requirements.

Something may be worked out. County Court Member Henry Foster, who proposed the re-districting plan, last week asked for a County Court recess and a caucus to discuss the matter, but no further action was taken when Court recessed. Indications were that something may be done at the next meeting.

Help Sought On Traffic

The traffic problem in Loudoun County due to the dump-off of 1-75 traffic onto U.S. 11 through the county was the topic of two resolutions passed in County Court Monday night by Squire Jack Lefler.

In the resolutions Lefler requested the State Highway Department place notations on its permits to wide-loads pertaining to the heavy traffic on U.S. 11 and the problems confronted in getting across the Tennessee River Bridge at Loudoun when there is extra heavy traffic and to inform the permittees for wide load Chattanooga and Knoxville.

The other resolution was to the Public Service Commission to allow Common carriers authorized to use Highway 11 to use other routes to help them avoid the traffic problems. Lefler said these two resolutions would not cut down on the tourist traffic but could help eliminate the bridge tie-up at Loudoun with wide loads and further lighten the traffic volume if the carriers used other routes.

Loudoun Man Charged For Assaulting Policeman

Loudoun City Police Sgt. Jesse Buttram is confined to Loudoun County Memorial Hospital with injuries sustained when he was allegedly beaten over the head by one of two men he was attempting to arrest.

The incident occurred late Saturday afternoon on Browder Hollow Road near the intersection with Highway 11 at Williams' Store.

The man, Richard Massey, of Loudoun, has been charged with resisting arrest, public drunkenness, felonious assault for the reported attack on the policeman, and for destroying public property after a mattress in his jail cell was set afire.

Police Chief Wayne Chambers placed the charges. A constable, Robert Clark Taylor, also of Loudoun, is charged with resisting arrest and public drunkenness.

Buttram continues to be hospitalized while doctors are observing for possible complications.

Reports indicated he took two, and perhaps three, severe blows across the back and the front of the head. Several stitches were required to close a wound across his forehead. The weapon, according to witnesses, was a surveyor's rod.

Chief Chambers said this way. Policeman Lanny Tinnell answered a call Saturday afternoon to investigate a disturbance at a home in the Oakwood Housing Project. Buttram, who was also on patrol, was on his way to assist Mrs. James Sidmore, occupant of the home, told Policeman Tinnell an unknown assailant had struck her over the head, knocking her out.

When she revived she said she found her house had been fired on by her assailant. She was wearing had been slashed. The assailant, however, had fled before she awakened.

She said she was in the back of the house and heard someone going through some kitchen drawers. Thinking it was her husband, she went into the room and the next thing she knew she "saw" a man. She said she was cut in two and the slacks she was wearing had been slashed. The assailant, however, had fled before she awakened.

Driving at the housing project in his cruiser, Buttram found a pickup truck with three people in it, one of them a woman whose face appeared to have been beaten. The other two were men who appeared to be in their twenties.

He approached the truck to investigate and heard one of the men, later identified as Massey, say to the driver, Taylor, "Let's go."

The truck sped away with Buttram in the police cruiser in pursuit, to Browder Hollow Road and toward Highway 11. There the truck was unable to exit onto the highway because of the heavy traffic congestion and because of several vehicles waiting in line when the police car pulled up.

Witnesses said Sgt. Buttram

Game & Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game & Fish Commission

OPENING TROUT SEASON !!! TELLICO

"T" day is Wednesday, April 12, which is opening day of trout fishing on the Tellico Wildlife Management Area. According to Price Wilkins, Supervisor of Hatcheries and Trout Management for the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission, 20,000 trout will be released for opening day. Before the season is over, 125,000 trout will be released. Regulations are basically the same as last year with one exception. The North Fork of Clinch Creek will be open for the first time in 18 years and will be a wild trout stream. The daily limit of trout is seven, possession limit 14; one pole or rod allowed per person.

Henderson Creek has no open season. All other Tellico streams and Green Cove Pond (except the wild trout streams) will be open to fishing on Wednesday, Thursday, Saturday, Sunday and National Holidays. Use or possession of minnows in Green Cove Pond is prohibited.

Under the wild stream system, North Fork of Clinch Creek, North River, Bald River, Sycamore Creek and all tributaries of these streams will be open to trout fishing on opening day (April 12) and thereafter only on Mondays, Tuesdays, Saturday, Sundays and National holidays. Lures are restricted to single hook artificial flies. Daily limit on wild trout streams is three (3); size limit is nine inches on rainbows and brown and six inches on brook trout.

All streams are closed on Fridays. Cap Price of the U.S. Forest Service says all roads will be open and camp grounds will be ready for opening day.

GAME AND FISH STOCK TROUT

Tennessee farms can support more small game such as rabbits, quail, and doves according to Larry Safley, Game Biologist for Tennessee Game and Fish Commission.

Commission

The new program to be conducted by U.T. Extension Service and Tennessee Game and Fish Commission will be in the area of 4-H Club work, test demonstration farms, and instructional educational program in certain counties.

Since more than half of Tennessee's land has multiple use possibilities we are trying to start a new way of thinking that much of the land can be used for small game production as well as crops and pastures.

Both farmers and hunters will benefit from this program because of more small game through wise management.

In the 15 counties already involved, the response to the 4-H part has been overwhelming. Both rural and urban youths are learning basic wildlife management.

About 50 farms will be chosen to demonstrate the best known methods of wildlife production management and harvest.

GAME AND FISH CAN'T CONTROL RABBIT SKUNK POPULATION
A large population of skunks apparently causing rabies problems in upper East Tennessee is beyond the immediate control of the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission, according to Commission officials.

"Population control measures such as we recently used on foxes during rabies outbreaks in the mid-state area will be ineffective on skunk populations," Commission Director David M. Goodrich said.

Goodrich pointed out the following reasons for being unable to control skunk populations:

No presently known baiting technique is selective enough to eliminate only skunks. A bait consisting of raw eggs injected with strychnine and honey is available, but would also be taken by non-target species, such as raccoon, bobcat, and other mammals.

There would be a definite human danger because of the inability to distinguish a treated egg from untreated eggs. Skunks do not widely roam, therefore, a tremendous number of personnel would be necessary to place baits.

"Considering these factors, any population control measure we might attempt in the affected areas would be of little use and would probably cause an even greater problem."

Director Goodrich said, emphasizing that a program would probably result in reduction of wildlife species other than those intended.

Game and Fish fox control operations in Cannon, Dekalb, Warren and Rutherford counties during February and early March were recognized as being largely successful in retarding a rabic problem centered in the four-county area. In those operations, a strychnine pill hidden in a beef suet chunk appealed to foxes, however, this method is not effective in reducing skunk populations.

BEST COON DOG--Bob Purdy of Loudon is shown with his coon dog, Jug after the dog was named Best Grade Dog in the Loudon County Coon Hunters Association NRC Hunt last weekend. To win the title the dog collected the most points during the hunt.

TREESING WINNER--Cooper Climber, owned by David Erwin of Jonesboro won the Registered Class in the Treering Contest of the Loudon County Coon Hunters Association NRC Hunt last weekend.

BRUCE WINS--Bruce, owned by Jim Blount of Philadelphia won the Treering Contest in the Grade Class of the Loudon County Coon Hunters Association NRC Hunt last weekend.

Goodrich pointed out that the Game and Fish Commission can only enter population control programs at the request of the health board of the county involved, and with approval of Tennessee Department of Public Health, when a health hazard exists.

"Even though the east-state rabies problem has been linked to skunks by Department of Health officials, we have not been formally contacted with regard to any population control programs," Goodrich stated.

Women Lib?

The New Jersey State Intercollegiate Athletic Association has approved a one-year pilot program to allow girls to compete with boys in varsity high school sports.

The association's president, George Fallings, said the pilot program would cover all sports in which a school did not offer a separate intercollegiate team for girls.

Here we are. Right back where we started from.

We crawled out of the sea and it looks like we're crawling right back again. Half the world's known oil, huge mineral deposits and tomorrow's dinner are down there. It isn't easy to go to work underwater. There's a lot of pressure. At only 200 feet with compressed air you feel like a senseless drunk. Go deeper and it can kill you.

Union Carbide's Ocean Systems, Inc. has developed a helium oxygen mixture that allows divers to do a job even below 600 feet. We're experimenting with other gas mixtures to eliminate the squeaky duck-like voice that hampers underwater talk.

We designed and operate habitats that allow men to swim in for a little coffee break 600 feet under. And then go back to work without wasting time with decompression until the return trip home.

Ocean Systems has a lot of men under a lot of water a lot of the time. And not just fishing around. But working on practical jobs.

We have divers assisting in oil exploration off the coast of four continents, welding pipelines at the mouth of the Mississippi, inspecting cables sitting on the ocean floor.

We've even devised an underwater dry welding process that's as effective as welding on dry land.

The world knows more about the back of the moon than about the bottom of the sea. But if we can help put a man a quarter of a million miles away, we're not going to let a little water keep us up.

1972 Basketball Rules Have Minor Changes

The full impact of two rules changes adopted by the National Basketball Rules Committee of the United States and Canada won't be felt until next November but fans can see the more significant rule in action at the Olympics.

The big difference in the game next year for college and high school players will be what some have called the "profit foul."

The offended team gets the ball out of bounds for all common fouls committed against it until the bonus rule goes into effect.

Thus a player all alone on a fast break could be fouled and the ball would be turned over to the other team.

Loudon Scene Of Live Wrestling

Wrestling returns to the Loudon County scene Saturday night with a high explosive group of wrestlers to take part. The double main event will carry a wild, unpredictable evening of top match ring competitors.

A tag match of Ron Wright and Dandy Jack Donovan (one of the hottest duets in the Southeast at the present) will oppose a crowd favorite "Bearcat" Brown and Corsica Joe. Also on the wrestling card will be the matching of Roy Lee Welch against Don Wright, brother of Ron Wright.

Harriman Golf Tourney Set

Emory Golf and Country Club will hold its annual invitational golf tournament May 27-28.

In the past the tournament has been held on the weekend of July 4, said tournament director Charles Suddath.

from behind by the defense, thus saving a basket, and the fouled team mostly gets the ball back out of bounds.

For that reason, UCLA Coach John Wooden doesn't like the rule. He says it could lead to more violent play because players could stop almost sure baskets with intentional fouls and the opposing team doesn't even get a free throw.

The other rule change requires a player who commits a foul to raise one arm above his head then lower it without displaying resentment.

The rules changes were announced Tuesday by rules committee secretary Cliff Fagan.

The "profit foul" rule has been part of the international rules used in the Olympic Games for years.

With the combined presence of the Wright brothers the Saturday night event could be a classic for the area fans to witness.

The first match is scheduled to get under way at 8:15 p.m. with prices of $1.75 for adults and $.50 for children. Special ring side seats are available for $1.50.

The live wrestling event is sponsored by the Loudon High School Band Booster Club with advance ticket sales available through its respective members.

Tickets will also be available at the door.

Madisonville All Stater On "Dixie" Team

Madisonville's Barry Dyer has been named to the "Dixie Dozen" all-star basketball team, selected by the Orlando, Fla. Sentinel.

Players from 12 states are among the honorees.

Other Tennesseans on the team were Clarence Flemings of Knoxville, Eddie Davis of Morristown, West Anthony Roberts of Chattanooga, Riverside, and Bill Cook of Memphis White Station.

Loudon High School's super scoring guard Yancy Hampton was among Tennesseans listed as honorable mention for the star-studded hoop team.

LC Opener Monday To Mark Brannon's 24th Campaign

Baseball season has finally arrived despite the rainy-cold weather which has hampered the preparation of the spring gala.

The Major Leagues are scheduled to open this week with a couple of games on tap for Wednesday and the rest of the teams following with games on Thursday (today). The first players strike in professional baseball history may prolong the start of the major league debut for 1972.

Down about four or five runs on the diamond level of play the Lenoir City Panthers will try to get their season off to a successful start. The Panthers have already had to alter their schedule due to the weather with a postponement of the season opener with Norris High School.

Lenoir City was able to play but four of six exhibition games and with Spring Vacation interrupting the Panthers have been strapped to complete any true construction for opening day jobs.

Coach John Brannon embarking on his 23rd season at the helm of the Lenoir City baseball squad will support an impressive .727 winning percentage when his team takes the field for the real thing Monday at Lake City. The foxy Panther skipper has won 137 games and lost but 119 during his reign over the Lenoir City diamond crews.

Coach Brannon is optimistic of this spring's horsemide hopefuls. The pitching is young and inexperienced, but has looked better than the hitting which was expected to be the early forte of the Panthers.

Junior Tim Cunningham (4-4) last spring, on a team which lost but four of 18 games and finished second in the district playoffs, is expected to be the ace of the mound staff. In support of Cunningham, Tommy Edmonds is considered to be high on the list for a starting role. The remaining rotation for the Panthers in combat of a torrid 25 game schedule not counting tournaments will be Tommy Cook, the only lefty on the pitching roster, Lee Arnold, Sammy Dunlap, and Gary Hamby.

The Panthers are still in question as to the starting assignments on defense. Dwight Cusick or Tommy Cook could be the first baseman. Both will probably see plenty of action there. The keystone appears in excellent hands with Gary Chambers and Charlie Dye at second base and short stop respectively. With these two positions pretty well nailed down for the season the Lenoir City team should be rather solid up the middle. Buddy Walker has an inside track on winning the third base position to complete the infield. The outfield is definitely unsettled for now and probably will be a puzzle for Coach Brannon to piece together three competent fielders with ample strength at the plate in the few days left before the season gets underway.

Several catchers will be used in regard to who is on the mound for the Panthers. Neal Foster, Mike Walker, Rodney Graves, and Bobby McCullah are all bidding for playing time.

Coach Brannon says he will definitely have some answers by Friday as to who will fit where for the Lenoir City nine.

The Panthers must play on foreign soil at Lake City (doubleheader), Harriman, and Rockwood before previewing before the Loudon County fans Monday, April 17 against Kingston.

Coach Windle Takes Head Grid Post In Georgia

Loudon High School Athletic officials announced this week that the Redskins are losing assistant coach Buddy Windle.

Coach Windle, 31, has taken over the head coaching duties of Chattanooga County High School of Summerville, Georgia.

Coach Windle was a star half back for Loudon in 1967, the first year as head coach for Bert Ratledge. Windle prep'd a year at Tennessee Military Academy in Sweetwater and then played four years of college football at Mars Hill North Carolina.

Coach Windle was an assistant at Chattanooga High from 1969 thru 1969 in which the Georgia school won its respective state title his last year there.

Coach Ratledge acquired his services in 1969 and the championship charm must have followed Coach Windle back to his alma mater as the Redskins marched to the Tennessee State Title.

Coach Windle has been defensive back and wide receiver coach for the Redskins for the past three years. He was also health and physical education instructor at Steekee Elementary.

Coach Windle is married to the former Sherri Capps of Erwin and has three children, a son, Dee, six years old and twin daughters, Danna and Kim, two years of age.

The Windle's will remain in Loudon through the current school term but plan to move to their new home in Summerville, Ga. in June.

Coach Bert Ratledge had this to say when contacted about the loss of Coach Windle, "Coach Windle will not easily be replaced. He has done a fine job for us for the time he has been here and I hate to see him leave but I wish him a world of success, as I know every coach learns to have his own head coaching assignment."

Coach Windle is presently helping the Redskins through spring drills but with his departure the Loudon team will have to head Coach Ratledge and assistant Gary Dutton, line coordinator.

Loudon Athletic Officials are understood to be screening several possible replacements for Coach Windle but no names have been released as to whom will fill the vacancy on the athletic staff.

Atomic Speedway Hopes For Sunday Opening

Atomic Speedway officials try for the third time Sunday to launch the 1972 season at the first third-mile dirt oval. Rain and snow forced cancellation of the season's first two events, but track owner and operator Bob Martin feels Sunday's competition will be some of the best ever at the speedway.

Sunday's program, which calls for time trials to start at 1 o'clock, includes a 35-lap feature for late model sportman drivers, a 25-lap semi-feature for those not making the main event, a 20-lapper for bobby drivers and four heats for the sportman machines.

The opening race will get the green flag at 2 o'clock. Admission is $2 for adults. Children under 12 years will be admitted free.

More than 40 late model sportman cars, which will be powered by unlimited engines, are expected to battle for top honors and additional prize money. There'll also be a contest to determine the best looking race car and a cash prize for the owner.

The total purse is in excess of $2,000.

Among the top drivers entered are Joe Lee Johnson, Snooka DeFure, Herman Goldard, Zeke Buchanan, Johnny Gibson, Bob McDaniels, Ken Phillips, Leon Brindle, Preston Thurman, Lynn Slinger, Dee Justice, Tommy Fryer and Otis Wiley.

The Herald was a little surprised to see but one provision of its January 27 prediction of things to look for in basketball in 1972 to become official. A "profit foul" rule was adopted for the season to come. The Herald's early source to the possible change of the rules in the hoop meetings concluded last week, indicated a strong force of a 30 second shooting time. This rule may follow next year in the high school ranks alone as a test for the use in the college ranks. The change in raising the goals is doubtful for the present.

Your County In Action

BY HARVEY L. SPROUL
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

They say that you can prove almost anything with statistics, and we have to realize that this is true. Nevertheless, I observe statistics very closely because they at least do give indications and trends in certain fields.

Most governmental and educational offices have recently received the "Annual Statistical Report of the Department of Education" for the scholastic year ending June 30, 1971.

For our information and enlightenment, I thought some of these statistics might be very interesting.

Teachers Trained?
How well-trained are our teachers?

Loudon County had one person in the school system who had a Masters Degree plus 45 hours. Loudon City had none.

Loudon County had 5 men 4 women who had Masters Degrees, while Loudon City had 8 of each.

On the other end of the scale Loudon County has 18 teachers with 2 years of college, while Loudon City has 4, and Loudon County has 1 person, apparently in a teaching position of some kind, with less than 1 year of college.

Salaries
How about the average annual salary for all teachers:

Anderson County	$7,178.57
Loudon City	$7,181.32
Loudon County	$6,564.56
Monroe County	$6,597.96
Morgan County	$7,066.90
Oak Ridge	$8,933.78
Roane County	$7,034.12
Tennessee	$7,694.73

ADA
As to average daily membership in the school system, Loudon County had 3,447, while Loudon City had 1,908, or a total of 5,350. Monroe County had 5,580, Sevier County had 6,569, Jefferson County had 5,383, and Cocke County had 6,098. All of these counties have about the same population.

Total Budget
Loudon County's educational budget was $2,666,000, and Loudon City's was $1,061,000.

Sevier County's total educational expenditures are $3,063,000 (no separate city system involved), and Jefferson County's is $2,061,000 (no separate city system).

Net Per Pupil
Following are statistics on some Tennessee counties as to the average amount of money spent per pupil:

Anderson	$591.11
Monroe	$231.91
Morgan	$460.37
Roane	$15.07
Loudon	$49.33
Loudon City	$48.48
Hawkins	$55.16
Cocke	$99.63
Blount	$74.63
Sevier	$33.90
Jefferson	$27.06

CELEBRATES 80TH BIRTHDAY—William Columbus Hardy of Route 1, Loudon, celebrated his 80th birthday, Friday, March 31 at his home with a dinner given by his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Cleveland. Mr. and Mrs. Hardy celebrated their 62th Wedding Anniversary December 28, 1971. They are the parents of ten children. They have 29 grandchildren, 47 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandson. Shown with Mr. and Mrs. Hardy are their daughter, Rose Sadler, their granddaughter, Mary Floyd and great-grandson, Derric Floyd.

Court Has Long Public Session, Hears Committee Reports

Loudon County Court considered a number of weighty matters in a session Monday night which lasted until beyond midnight.

Bank of Lenoir City Vice President Ed Bell was introduced to raise a question about Trustee J. V. (Slim) Schrimsher's investment of county money. He told the Court the Bank of Lenoir City had offered to pay higher interest rates for the short-term investments than the county is receiving, provided the County would also move its checking account there also.

Mr. Bell's letter outlined a proposal to pay interest rates ranging from 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 percent interest on a total of $700,000 considered temporarily surplus money, for periods of 30, 60, and 90 days and one year.

By contrast, he said, the money is being invested in the other three banks in the county, at interest rates varying from 4 to 5 percent over the same periods.

New County-State TVA Tax Agreement

Loudon County may get approximately twice as much additional money from the state in "in lieu of tax" funds paid by TVA as had been indicated previously.

County Judge Harvey Sprout reported to the County Court Monday night that new negotiations carried out by Atty. Don McMurray, representing the County, and participated in also by Judge Sprout, have resulted in a new proposal which will be presented to the Judge in the case.

The matter is before Davidson County Chancery Court as a class action representing all Tennessee Counties which share in "in lieu of tax" payments from TVA through the State.

County Judge Joe Magill of Anderson County originally brought the lawsuit asking for a better break for counties in the division of funds paid by TVA. The suit was successful and under terms of a proposed settlement agreed to by Judge Magill, Loudon County's share of such tax funds would have been more than doubled, from $3,441.50 last year to a new total of $7,964 this year and approximately that amount in future years.

Condemnation Awards Given

Two more Interstate 75 land condemnation lawsuits have been tried in Circuit Court in Loudon this week and more than $22,000 awarded to property owners in the cases.

Mrs. J.C. (Mattie) Bacon, AT & T, was awarded $11,144 for land taken for the highway and jury added $2100 to the award for damages to the property.

County-TVA Sign Road Contract

Invested - could safely be placed on interest-bearing deposit.

Subsequently, $100,000 was deposited in the Merchants and Farmers Bank of Greenback at 5 percent for 12 months; $200,000 in the First National Bank of Loudon at 4 percent for 30 days; $200,000 in the First National Bank of Loudon at 4 1/2 percent for 90 days.

Mr. Bell's proposal called for investing the entire $700,000 - $100,000 at 5 1/2 percent for one year; $200,000 at 4 1/2 percent for 30 days; $200,000 at 4 1/2 percent for 60 days and $200,000 at 4 1/2 percent for 90 days.

Mr. Schrimsher was not present at the meeting, but Judge Sprout said he had understood that he had turned down the offer because "his feeling was that he could not take all the money and give it to one bank."

The Court called public hearings on two important:

County-TVA Sign Road Contract

Tennessee River downstream from the dam and joins the Parkway.

Other roads and their lengths are River Road at Adley Cemetery 0.4; County Road West of Tennessee Highway 85, 0.2; Sinking Creek Road, 1.4; Blalock-Smith Road 0.5; Morganton Ferry Road, 0.2; Watkins Lane Road 0.1; Poplar Springs Road 0.3; Davis School Road 1.3; and Watkins Road 0.2.

Both the TVA and County will be involved in the Davis School Road and Poplar Springs Roads.

In presenting the final draft of the contract to the County Court Judge Sprout said the county attorney and himself and the Tennessee State Planning Commission, namely Denny Martin and Lee Scribner had spent many hours with TVA officials in working out details of the project, including width of roads, right-of-way, sidewalks, pavement quality and many other items.

The total contract involves millions of dollars of work being done with TVA being responsible for the majority. The county plans to use federal secondary road money for the construction of roads it has responsibility for.

Another measure, which would give the county authority, if it ever chose to exercise it, to adopt building electrical and plumbing codes, was postponed until next term.

No action was reported from the Ambulance Study Committee, although Judge Sprout told the Court that the feared State legislation setting up stringent operating requirements for funeral homes operating ambulances,

Man Charged With Assault

Massey pulled the driver out from under the wheel and locked him in the patrol car and then began struggling with the other man to get him in the car. During the activity the woman left the truck and apparently started toward the police car and the policeman turned his attention to her.

At that point, Chief Chambers said he was told, Massey pulled a surveyor's rod from the back of the truck and struck Buttram two, or perhaps three, blows across the head with it. The attack knocked him down, broke his glasses, and laid open an ugly gash across his forehead.

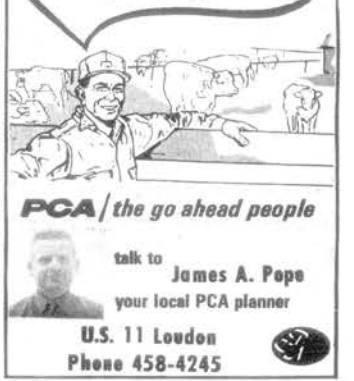

At some point during the exchange, Buttram managed to radio for help and Policeman Jack Rogers, who was just coming on duty, arrived shortly in his private car. Chief Chambers and Police Commissioner Tommy McNabb also rushed to the scene and the Chief picked up the injured man and rushed him to the hospital in Loudon.

The woman, later identified as Mrs. Ursula Guider of Loudon, was also taken to the hospital in Loudon for treatment and she told officers a story of having been attacked in her home by Massey, her former son-in-law, and having been forced to accompany the two men to search for her daughter, Massey's former sister.

Following the attack on the policeman, witnesses said Massey ran from the scene, was seen to get in a car, leave Sugar Limb Road and he was arrested there by Policeman Jack Rogers.

TVA Plans Wildlife Survey Of Southeast

Over 10,000 families in the Southeast will receive personal calls in the coming weeks from a survey team asking questions about their enjoyment of wildlife.

The interviews will be making all of the calls during the months of April and May. Residents of the Tennessee Valley counties as well as southern United States are encouraged to cooperate.

The end result could mean more wildlife-oriented recreation opportunities throughout the region.

The study is being conducted by the environmental research group of Georgia State University under the joint sponsorship of the Tennessee Game and Commission, the Southeastern Association of Game and Fish Commissioners and the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The primary purpose of the survey is to evaluate the social and economic benefits from wildlife and determine the need for more wildlife oriented recreation opportunities.

The findings from the survey will be used by game and fish commissions and by other state and federal resource management agencies to plan future programs for protection and conservation of wildlife in the Southeastern states.

Sgt. Morrison At Holloman AFB

Technical Sergeant Howard C. Morrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe R. Morrison, Thorntown Drive, Concord, has arrived for duty at Holloman AFB, N.M.

Sergeant Morrison is an aircraft support equipment technician with a unit of the Tactical Air Command which provides combat units for air support of U.S. ground forces.

He previously served in The 37th Tactical Fighter Wing, Tennessee, until 10:00 o'clock A.M., April 2, 1972.

Palmer To Play Fox Den

Arnold Palmer will be moving at a faster pace here April 11 than when he starts his "charge" before his enthusiastic Army's Army.

He'll zip into Municipal Airport in his private jet, hop aboard a helicopter, conduct a 30-minute press conference at Fox Den Country Club, join trick-shot artist Paul Hahn in a 45-minute golf clinic and play 18 holes of golf in an exhibition with touring pro Preston Hutchings and UT golfer Mickey Malby.

Where? And that's just about what Palmer will feel like saying at that point. Even after his exhibition round at Fox Den, Palmer is expected to attend a party for those who purchased patron tickets at $25 each.

Mrs. Sam (Ann Baker) Furrow, chairman of special events for the 1972 Dogwood Arts Festival, said about half of the 3000 available general admission tickets have been sold. They sell for $5 each and may be purchased at area pro shops in Dalton and Knoxville area banks.

Holders of patron tickets will have parking and patron privileges, and bleacher seats at the clinic.

Mrs. Furrow said between 300 and 500 patron tickets have been sold.

"Many who have worked with Arnold Palmer in exhibition matches and clinics in the past say he's most cooperative," said Mrs. Furrow. "We're certainly looking forward to working with him."

The Palmer-Hahn clinic is to start at 12:30, the exhibition match at 1:30.

Burley Tobacco Transfer List Posted At ASCS

Burley tobacco growers in Loudon County can find names of growers who want to transfer their quotas and those who want to acquire quotas listed at the County ASCS Office.

A special bulletin board is posted, listing burley tobacco producers' names, the amount and amount of quota each producer wants to transfer or acquire, said Fred Flins, chairman of the Loudon County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

As soon as agreement is reached between producers, the farm owner or operator of each farm should come into the County ASCS Office to sign the official buying agreement. Legislation enacted by Congress last year provides burley tobacco farm poundage may be transferred or leased between farms in the same county. It also provides that the transaction be recorded in the County ASCS Office and approved by the County ASC Committee.

Any burley tobacco grower who wants to offer his quota for transfer or acquire additional quota, should get the information to the ASCS Office as soon as possible so it may be posted.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Once in a while in the pictures we have loaned to us, we will find one that is of a place or person that is inseparable from our town during a given period of time. It may be because of events long past or of people with outstanding personalities.

This week we have a picture of a man whom we liked very much and a man who was well known. We have reference to the late Johnny (Skipper) Julian. For many years he worked for the telephone company. We recall his working with the telephone company when the central office was located upstairs over the building in which Jimmy Burnette operated an appliance store a good many years later. As a lad, I used to pass this way as I went home from school, and Johnny would stick a claw hammer out the window like it was a gun and I thought it was. When I grew up, Johnny and I laughed many times about this Johnny worked for the Ford Garage years ago and in his later years he worked for the Government. He was a man I liked very much and will be remembered by many from the Good Old Days in Loudon.

Another picture we have this week is of a yesteryear mode of transportation and as many people have told me, anyone who owned a good horse and buggy were considered pretty well off. Anyway, we pose a problem for our readers with this old photo. Can any of our readers identify either of the men in the buggy?

I hardly know how to express my appreciation for the tremendous response we got from our readers on the late pictures we used of the late

Dr. Joe Harrison, Sr. and Dr. Joe Harrison, Jr. Our impression has been that these two men were possibly as well known generally as any two people we have ever used in the Good Old Days effort. We say this after more telephone calls and personal comments than we were able to keep count of. We were very pleased with the response.

We have definitely established that Dr. Joe, Jr. was the son of Dr. Joe, Sr. and that the picture of old Dr. Joe on his horse was taken in front of the old Mainfield home, which stood on Main Street, where the White Store is now located. Mrs. Sam Clark called and stated that when she was a little girl, she would take a stick and run it along this old picket fence, which would venture a guess was something a lot of the youngsters growing up in Loudon at that time did. It seemed to be something kids really liked to do.

Mrs. Clark, who is the daughter of the late Charlie, who was a well known Loudon blacksmith, stated that she had some pictures of her father's blacksmith shop which she would look up and loan to us for the Good Old Days. We will be looking forward to this very much.

Another call we had which offered some side lights to the Dr. Harrison pictures was

Voters To Cast Ballots In Regular Precincts

The recent reapportionment of Loudon County Court to balance representation in the nine member body which saw changes in voting district lines will have no effect on the coming county Republican Primary, Election Commission Chairman John O. Gibson announced this week. Mr. Gibson said there had been considerable confusion about the change and where the people in the first and fifth districts who had been changed into the second voting district.

He said that all these people will vote in the precincts where they had always voted, at least in the Primary elections. The chairman said this was determined because the candidates running in the Justice of the Peace Primary are all unopposed and will be nominated anyway and this was the only race affected by the voting district matter. It will further simplify the civil district vote where road commissioners and constables are concerned he said. There could be some changes in voting districts for the August General Election, Mr. Gibson said, but before that time the Election Commission will take a census of that area to determine which persons will be included in any changes.

Sanders Elected County Demo Chairman Fund Raising Event Set

DEMOCRAT LEADERS-Don McMurray, sitting chairman of the Loudon County Democratic Party, hunts the gavel to newly elected Chairman Ivo W. Sanders shortly after his election last Friday night. First and second vice chairmen, Penny McNabb and Ross Wilkerson are at right.

Loudon County Democrats elected Loudon attorney Ivo W. Sanders to a two year term as County Party Chairman Friday night at a county-wide party meeting at the courthouse. About 40 persons attended. Sanders succeeds Lenoir City attorney Don McMurray at the post. Other officers elected were Penny McNabb, first vice chairman; Ross Wilkerson, second vice chairman; Mrs. Irene Dickerson, secretary; J. V. McNabb, treasurer; and Bart Eldridge, agt. at arms. In accepting the Chairmanship Mr. Sanders, a former Attorney General, said that for Loudon County Democrats to continue to be an effective force in county politics the party members must think as Democrats and fight their differences in primary races, such as for Governor and President, forget district and regional conflicts in the county. He said the party has a responsibility to the county and that responsibility can only be met through unification and a willingness to work in harmony.

Homer F. (Pete) Littleton, long a party leader, announced that a fund raising dinner will be held by the Democrat Party at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, April 27 at Lenoir City High School. He said speakers for the dinner will be Jake Butcher, Lake City banker, who has been prominent in state Democratic circles for several years. Tickets for the dinner will go on sale this week for $10 each. Five separate district meetings of Democrats will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday, April 17 for the election of district members on the County Democratic Executive Committee. The size of the Executive Committee is determined by the number of persons to be named to the Democratic candidate for Governor in the previous election.

County Granted Waiver On Old Hospital Use

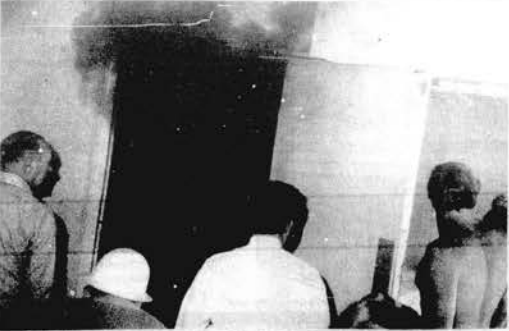

A meeting of county officials with the Tennessee Hospital Licensing Board in Nashville last week has resulted in the county receiving a waiver to use a wing of the old Bacon Hospital for patient rooms as part of the Loudon County Memorial Hospital operation after a fire wall is built between the wing and the older units of the hospital. Hospital Administrator Thomas Foster, County Judge Harvey Sproul and D.H. Howell appeared before the board seeking the waiver. This will be connected to the new hospital via a covered walkway. The board approved the remainder of the building being used for "related" health uses. The local hospital board has proposed using part of the old hospital building for doctor's offices and other county offices and using the newer part of the building for nursing or intermediate hospital care rooms. Under the waiver this would be possible if a "four hour" fire wall was constructed and could mean about 20 beds for nursing care, which the board said is badly needed by the county. There are other fire regulations which would also have to be met before the unit could be used for nursing care. The decision of what uses are to be made of the older portions of the building will determine how many nursing beds would be available. The number could go as high as 50 if most of the structure was used for that purpose. Following the Nashville meeting the officials reported back to the hospital board and they are asking for a study of these proposals in reference to what the cost would be and how the county could get the greatest benefits. It is understood that federal grants for renovation can be obtained on portions of the building is used for nursing facilities.

School officials said that someone apparently set the blaze. Smoke can be seen billowing out of the door of the rest room. A tennis shoe was set fire on a toilet seat. Heavy smoke spread throughout the school forcing the students to evacuate the building for about 30 minutes. County Per-Capita At $2,128 In 1969

Loudon County had a per capita income of $2,128 in 1969, an increase from $1,760 in 1968, and an increase from $1,719 in 1967, a publication from the University of Tennessee-Knoxville shows.

The report, "Personal Income Estimates: Tennessee, the Southeast and the Nation, 1929 to 1970," is from the University of Tennessee-Knoxville's Center for Business and Economic Research. Data for the study are from the Bureau of Economic Analysis of the U.S. Commerce Department.

Personal income is the current income of persons from all sources before deductions for taxes but after deduction of contributions to social security, government retirement and social insurance programs, said George Kronbach, author of the report.

Tennessee's total personal income was $12.13 billion in 1970, eight percent more than the 1969 estimate, the report says.

Total personal income for the nation as a whole was approximately $799 billion. The publication shows that the source composition of income since 1929 have been similar for Tennessee, the Southeast and the nation as a whole, the report says.

The relative importance of income from farms has declined markedly for all three regions, it continues.

"The share from transportation, communications and public utilities has advanced somewhat, but manufacturing has increased in importance, especially in Tennessee.

Figures for the state are available through 1970 but only through 1969 for the individual counties.

The publication gives individual figures for the four standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSA) and all non-SMSA counties in the state.

Davidson, Sumner and Wilson Counties in Middle Tennessee are included in the Nashville SMSA figures, Crittenden County, Ark., and Shelby County in the Memphis figures, Walker County, Ga., and Hamilton County in the Chattanooga total and Knox, Blount and Anderson Counties in the Knoxville statistics.

Sullivan County, at $3,811, had the highest per capita income of any individual county or SMSA in the state, followed by Chattanooga at $3,388, Memphis at $3,260 and Knoxville at $3,109.

Kronbach's research for the Center for Business and Economic Research, points out that if estimates for individual counties in the SMSA groups had been made, some would also have been above the national average.

Tennessee counties and SMSAs showed increases from 1968 to 1969, and Kronsbach says the Southeastern states with lower per capita incomes continue the trend toward source composition of income since 1929 have been similar for Tennessee, the Southeast and the nation as a whole, the report says.

"The estimate of Tennessee per capita income rose from $3.8 percent of the national average to 3.7 percent in 1970," the report says.

"Since 1969 the Tennessee share has increased by about one percentage point per year."

Copies of the report are available at $4 from the Center for Business and Economic Research, University of Tennessee, Knoxville 37916.

Rabies Case Reported In Knox

Dr. Carolyn Beard, director of the Loudon County Department of Public Health stated that rabies has returned to East Tennessee. The vector is rabies in skunks. This species presents some special rabies problems in which you should be familiar.

1. Skunks normally live closer to human dwellings than foxes. Often their dens are under sheds, barns and outbuildings.

2. The title of the virus is 100-1000 times greater than the virus from a rabbit fox. A bite from a rabid skunk would be a more serious exposure than a bite from a fox or a dog.

Location and destruction of the skunk dens under sheds and outbuilding is encouraged. Destruction of the den's occupants should be accomplished.

To buffer any anticipated problem, Dr. Beard, said the annual rabies vaccination clinics are starting early this year. The schedule appears in separate article elsewhere in this newspaper. She encourages everyone to continue to respond and keep our county free from any cases of rabies.

Free Knox Sox Tickets Available At Dean-Simpson Olds

Dean-Simpson Oldsmobile of Lenoir City has a terrific offer for the people of Loudon County this summer.

Announced by the Lenoir City automobile firm last week by way of owner "Red" Simpson, that Dean-Simpson Olds will give away a limited number of tickets each week to Loudon Countians to home games of the new professional baseball team in Knoxville, the Knox Sox.

The limited number of weekly tickets to be given away by the asking are free and may be gotten from "Red" Simpson or any of his salesmen. All people purchasing a new car from the Dean-Simpson firm will be given a quantity of tickets for the summer also.

Simpson, a father of four children all grown and married, has led a vivid sports life. His first son was an All state basketball performer, all Southeastern Conference baseball catcher for the University of Tennessee for two years and later named to the All European Basketball team.

His second son attended East Tennessee State University as a football player. He later coached in the high school ranks and is now the assistant principal at Knoxville Hulse.

His third son was a shortstop at Cumberland College.

A daughter, winks "Red" never played much sports but was a majorette once.

The "Red head" is now a lighter shade in color

Cunningham Whiffs 12 In 12-3 Panther Opener

Lenoir City opened the baseball season Monday at Lake City with a surprisingly easy 12-3 victory.

Tim Cunningham went the distance for the Panthers. The tall lanky junior gave up but one hit in seven innings and had just one bad inning. Cunningham struck out 12 and walked only three batters while hitting one in posting his team's first season win.

Tommy Cook and Mike Hooks led the Lenoir City team at the plate with two hits each.

Every Lenoir City player getting a chance at the plate got a safe hit in the game except for first baseman Dwight Cusick who had two walks and two runs scored for the day.

Lenoir City tallied a run in the first inning as Charlie Dye slammed a baseset. Third sacker Buddy Walker hit a sharp single to advance Dye and a fielding error on Tommy Cook's hit scored Dye.

Lenoir City was held in check through the third inning but staged a rally in the fourth frame to all but decide the game. Dwight Cusick got things moving with a walk. Tim Cunningham helping his own cause added a hit, Buddy Williams walked and Rodney Graves delivered the hit of the day tagging a stand up double to clean the bases. Mike Hooks promptly scored Graves with his first hit of the game. The hitting barrage accounted for five runs and a 6-0 score.

Lake City had its brightest minute in the bottom of the frame with three runs on a lone single. Cunningham, having control trouble, loaded the bases on two walks and a hit batsman after two were out. A third walk of the inning forced in one run and a follow up single gained the Laker's two more. Still another walk had Cunningham with runners on base but a inning-ending putout by third baseman Buddy Walker ended the up rising that saw nine men come out but for Lake City.

Lenoir City continued to add to its lead in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings with three, two and one run respectively.

The Panthers scored three runs on three walks, an error and Mike Hooks second hit.

The sixth inning was ignited by Buddy Walker's hit. Wayne Stamey, seeing reserve action in right field, drilled a clean single, and Cunningham reached base on an error.

Doug Williams finished the excitement with a two run lick which left him standing on with the resemblance of white hair in place of the once red. But the sports savy is still very much with in him. A professional baseball umpire for over 16 years, the colorful head of Dean-Simpson Olds has many sports stories to relate. He was Chief Umpire of the Tri-State league for eight years. He also umpired in the Eastern League, Carolina League and the Southern League. The Southern League will be the league the Knoxville Sox will be playing this summer.

Mr. Simpson who has backed various types of athletics in Loudon and Knox Counties for years came upon the idea of the free tickets for his customers and friends when the call went out for the chance to bring professional baseball back to East Tennessee area.

A note to the user of the tickets is that there is a fifty cent revenue charge at the gate of Bill Mayer Stadium that is collected by the Internal Revenue and not the Knoxville team for the soliciting of such a type of pass.

UT Sets Kid Day Saturday

Tennessee's football team belongs to the little people Saturday.

Starting at 2 p.m. at Neyland Stadium, the Volunteers will be available for photographs and autographs. Young fans are invited to bring their cameras and visit with the Vols on Shields-Watkins Field.

Coach Bill Battle says there'll be free autograph booklets, free color pictures of last year's Liberty Bowl champions and spring brochures telling about the team.

Fans may stay for Saturday's scrimmage.

Hardin Sets Torrid Play

L.C. Golfers Sink Everett, Kingston

Lenoir City has opened its golf season with a rousing start. Under the Direction of Coach Joe Hall the Panthers are undefeated thus far.

The Lenoir City golf team is in its third year of varsity competition and the long wait for team perfection appears to have arrived. Winner of only three games last spring and no great wins turned in during the first campaign of pasture pool the Panthers have worked hard in constructing one of the better teams of the area.

George Hardin, a senior, heads the team with consistent par golf performance. Coach Hall has six members on his squad with but two seniors. Hardin and number three man Chuck Easter will be the only losses from graduation. Tim Galyon, number two man, David White and Steve Henry are the usual game participants. Charlie Dye is a member of the team also but also plays shortstop on the baseball team which usually plays on the afternoons of the golf team.

Lenoir City opened the season with a 167-176 win over Maryville Everett. George Hardin led the play and had low honors for the match with a 39. Tim Galyon 41, Chuck Easter 42, and David White 45, followed in the scoring.

The Panthers continued to roll with a 178-187 win over Kingston on Monday with George Hardin again being low medalist with 39. Chuck Easter 45, Steve Henry 46, and Tim Galyon 48 carried the Lenoir City colors. Under TSSA's rules golf matches among high schools are won-loss on the overall team score compiled by all the players taking part in the match (usually four players per team).

Lenoir City plays all its home games at Cedar Hills Golf course in Lenoir City. The Panthers end their home stand this week and travel to Nolichucky Country Club Friday to play McMinn County.

Lenoir City will play a 14 game regular season and then take part in the Regional Tournament at Beaver Brook Country Club the second week of May. The top high school team will advance to the state meet along with the top 10 individuals finishing in the tournament.

Knoxville Sox At Home Friday

Southern League baseball (Class AA), gone from Knoxville for four seasons, returns this week.

After a three game series in Birmingham Tuesday through Thursday nights, the Knoxville Sox open the home season Friday night at Bill Meyer Stadium against the Asheville Tourists at 7:30 p.m.

"I am eagerly awaiting it," said Knoxville Baseball Club

President Neal Ridley. "We're going to observe 'Honor Mayor Kyle Tester Night' in the same time."

"Kyle has been a big help in getting baseball humming. He has invited all his friends to come out and help win the President's Trophy which is given to the league city with the highest opening-day attendance. Knoxville never has won this award and Kyle is asking his friends to help bring it here.

"If we get a break in the weather, I believe we'll have a park full of people."

Special opening-night tickets have been selling for weeks at $1. They will be sold (policemen and firemen have them and they also are on sale at the ball park) all week. But the regular $1.50 general admission will be charged at the gate.

Congressman John Duncan, influential in Knoxville baseball in the past, will be among the dignitaries. Ridley also personally invited First District Congressman James H. Quillen, Senators Howard Baker and Bill Brock and Gov. Winfield Dunn.

Southern League President Billy Hitchcock, successor to the late Sam C. Smith Jr., will make his first official visit here for the opener. Hitchcock is a lifetime Atlanta Braves manager.

Gates will open at 6:30 p.m. Opening ceremonies will commence at 7:10, then the umpire will call "Play Ball."

WETE announcer Ken Johnson will act as master of ceremonies. He will introduce members of City Council in the stands, recognize Hitchcock, then call Mayor Tester onto the field to do the "First Pitch" honors.

The first "bitter" will be Miss Pam Gray, a UT coed, who has been selected by club officials as "Miss Knoxville Baseball '72."

Hoston High's band will play the National Anthem and entertain between innings.

Meanwhile, Manager Joe Sparks, who piloted Appleton (Wis.) to a divisional pennant last year in the Class A Midwest League, has assembled what he believes is a "winning team" at the Chicago White Sox complex in Sarasota, Fla. "We have some experience, some youth, some speed, some power and an overall group I believe area fans will enjoy seeing play ball," said Sparks.

THE OFFICE at Bill Meyer Stadium will be open today, 12:30 to 5 p.m., and tickets—all varieties—may be purchased. Reservations also may be made—call 637-9494 and 534-0234.

A NEW PUBLIC address system bought by the baseball club, will be in use for the first time Friday night. The park has been cleaned, painted and put in excellent shape.

About 25 million Americans, one in every four, bowled at least once last year, according to a survey conducted for the National Bowling Council.

Game & Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game and Fish Commission

A BIT ABOUT POLLUTION BY Bob L. Harmon Game and Fish Officer

In this age of the ecological revolution, we are outraged at many segments of the industrial community as well as our various government services for their apparent lack of concern for our decaying environment. We, as citizens and voters, have united in a common cause and have achieved legislation which puts stringent controls on these polluters.

Now we need to unite and exterminate the ever evasive litter bugs and habitual roadside dumpers. These two environmental parasites have already accounted for our State being rated as the third dirtiest State in the Union. They have also left huge, ugly scars on our environment and have severely damaged our county's valuable scenic areas.

Here are a few facts concerning the problem in the area. I have found 15 roadside garbage dumps in Loudon County. Another interesting fact is that the people who patronize these dumps seem to live close by. These dumps are slowly but surely destroying the quality of the habitat which our wildlife needs in order to survive, and they are creating a breeding ground for rats and disease. In many cases the litter is dumped along lakes and streams, thus rendering them undesirable for fishing or swimming.

I wonder how the people who utilize these dumps would feel if someone dumped waste in their backyard. This problem cannot be blamed entirely on government even though there have been littering and dumping laws on the books for the last decade. The fault lies with the citizens. The responsibility of enforcement has to be ours. Conventional law enforcement agencies have a multitude of other priorities relative to law and order and protecting our social environment. To effectively combat the problem, we all must get involved if we intend to leave a quality environment not only for the wildlife and fish but also for our children and our children's children to inhabit. We, as Loudon countians should be proud, for we are blessed with an abundance of outdoor recreational areas such as our TVA reservoirs and vast wilderness land in east Tennessee. With these areas, we should be ashamed when a tourist takes a nature hike throughout one of our scenic roadside garbage dumps or has to clear away the litter in order to have a picnic on our lake shores.

Please request your village or your local law enforcement agency and assist them in keeping our roadsides, lakes and streams from becoming public dumps.

Loudon, Lenoir City Bands Excell In Dogwood Parade

Loudon and Lenoir City High School bands were among 67 bands taking part in the annual Dogwood Arts Festival competition this year. The festival which is in its 12th year had bands from seven states taking part in four divisions.

Each band had to participate in three events; a street drill, a street parade, and a concert.

The Loudon band made its second appearance in as many years with a 56 member group braving the wind and rain to score a "good" in all three of its events. The Redskin marching band competed in grade four with some 25 other bands. The grade four competition had the largest number of participants.

Band Director Ronald Kyle was most pleased with his musicians and labeled their performance the best of the year for their overall showing. Lenoir City was among the bands of grade five and brought home trophies in two of their three events. A third place trophy with a superior rating was achieved in their street drill portion of their competition in which they presented the American flag.

The high stepping Panthers recorded another superior rating and a third place trophy in the mid-day parade.

Lenoir City barely missed still another third place honor in the concert part of the day long festivities. A close fourth place finish failed to gain any trophies but a superior rating was again awarded.

Lenoir City, with 105 marching musicians, took part in the Dogwood attraction for the first time in the school's history.

Band director, Rick Best, is joyous over the performance of the Lenoir City band displayed in the festival. Mr. Best in his first year at the helm of the Panther musicians has brought the Lenoir City band to a high competitive pitch and has won several trophies in the musical gathering for band competition over the course of the school year.

Both Loudon and Lenoir City bands have finished their marching season for this school year. Each will fashion a spring concert for their respective schools in the latter part of May.

Loudon's Band Director, Mr. Ronald Kyle was more than just a band leader in the interest of the Dogwood Arts Festival. Mr. Kyle, who was involved in the Knox County school system before coming to Loudon two years ago, once was one of the chief consultants and organizers for the "Band Day" gala that has gotten bigger and better with each festival.

The Loudon Herald would like to salute the musicians and directors of the schools of Loudon and Lenoir City for their outstanding achievements this past year. Their Dogwood showings were very commendable and hope better heights are in store for next year.

PANTHER HARDWARE—Lenoir City Band Director Rick Best (at right) and his assistant Ted Reeves (at left) stand proud in showing off their latest addition to the Lenoir City High School trophy case. Two third place trophies and a participation trophy array the desk for their superior effort.

LOUDON REDSKIN MARCHING BAND—The Loudon High School band struts down Gay Street to the tune of a "Choral to St. Antony" in the Knoxville Dogwood Arts Festival Parade last Friday.

Art Display Exhibited Here

Because of a delay in delivery, the "Portrait of a Community," photographic display announced to be on exhibit at the Loudon Utilities Building April 5-14 will be exhibited at a later date, April 11-17.

The exhibit then will be moved to the Lenoir City Utilities Building for display April 18-25.

This traveling art exhibit is sponsored locally by the Loudon County Arts Commission with the joint support of the Tennessee Arts Commission and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Mrs. E. C. Swenson, County Arts Association President, said this week that after having seen the exhibit, she believes that anyone interested in photography as an art will be especially interested in the display.

It is made up of photographs taken in the city of Greenville.

"SUPERIOR" PANTHERS—Lenoir City steps in time to a version of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" in gaining a superior rating from parade judges and a third place trophy in grade five.

Gospel Quartet Appearance Set

The Gospel Aires Quartet of Athens will be featured singers at a special singing at the Loudon House of Prayer, Saturday, April 15 at 7:30 p.m. On Sunday, April 16, the Supernals of Lenoir City will be singing and Rev. Johnson will bring the message for the morning service. Rev. Charles Powell, pastor, invites everyone to attend these services.

WHITEWAY FABRICS—A new store, Whitteway Fabric Center, will open today in the Lenoir Shopping Center in Lenoir City. The new store will be managed by variety store manager Kenneth Esell who is pictured here with two of the store's employees. The store on the west end of the shopping center will carry a complete line of fabrics, patterns and notions.

Archer Sweeps Junior Beef Show

By Charles F. McCall
Extension Leader

A very energetic group of FFA and 4-H boys arrived in Lenoir City, Thursday morning determine to show their piers what they had accomplished during the last year. To them this was the climax of their project. This was what they had been working for. To win the Loudon County Junior Beef Show is a big achievement to them.

After working for a half hour to get their animals in tip top shape for the judge, the moment that everyone had been waiting for arrived. The Show Superintendent had called for the Hereford Class. Show Judge, Robert Slinger, gave a long hard look before he decided that John Archer was declared Champion and Reserve Champion. Other standings in the Hereford Class was John Archer second, Bart Iddins 4-H member Loudon High School, third.

In the Angus Class, Archer was again declared Champion with his 1,060 pound Angus. Second place also went to Archer, Bart Iddins third, Tony Christian fourth, Nicky

At the District Show in Knoxville all of the Loudon County Steers were shown. They gave others something to think about. In the Junior Hereford Steer Class, John Archer continued his winning ways. His Hereford steer was Reserve Champion of its class. His Senior Angus Steer was 10th in the Class and his Junior Angus was 13th in its Class. Bart Iddins placed 12th, with his Hereford Steer and Rickey Bettis placed 13th, with his pen of 3.

There were nine halter steers shown in the Loudon County Junior Beef Show and two pens of 3 for a total of

Producers Reminded Of No Grazing Period

Loudon County producers participating in the 1972 Feed Grain and Wheat Programs are reminded that the "no grazing" period is now in effect for cropland being set aside from production to conserving uses for 1972, Fred Fipps, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, said today. According to Chairman Fipps, the no-grazing period became effective Saturday, April 1 and will extend through August 31.

Mr. Fipps urged that the some 170 county producers who are setting aside close to 120 acres for 1972, use extraordinary care to see that the land set aside is not grazed. Failure to comply with the non-grazing provisions could result in the loss of all or a part of the payment.

When asked about accidental break-ins or inadvertent access to set-aside land by livestock, Mr. Fipps said: "situations of this nature should be promptly reported to the County ASCS Office for a determination by the County Committee."

The Chairman also emphasized further "That the harvest of any kind of crop is prohibited throughout the entire year."

Setting aside cropland in the National interest eliminates great fluctuations in supplies and market conditions and thereby helps insure adequate supplies and reasonable prices. The Chairman explained.

Delegates Return From State 4-H Congress

By Roger L. Perkins
Assistant Extension Agent

"Those Were the Years, These Are the Days" was the theme of the silver anniversary of the Annual Tennessee 4-H Congress.

Sherry Phillips, Carolyn Hickey, Steve Kirby, Ray Rudd and Mrs. Betty Thomas, (adult leader) from Loudon County were among 500 4-H members and their leaders who met at the State Capital in Nashville for a three-day study of Government, April 9-11.

Each of the Tennessee's 95 counties were represented by 4-H Senators and Representatives selected from the more than 150,000 4-H'ers in the State. These Junior Congressmen occupied the seats of the State Legislators as they learned how their state government functions. Their sessions were moderated by a 4-H Governor, Speaker of the Senate and Speaker of the House.

4-H Congress also provided a time for recognizing outstanding 4-H'ers and Leaders. State finals in competition for awards in public speaking, citizenship, essays, leadership, and Camp Minnow were held during Congress.

ATTENDED STATE 4-H CONGRESS—Pictured are the delegates which attended the State 4-H Congress in Nashville this week. They are Mrs. Betty Thomas (adult leader), Roger Perkins (Assistant Extension Agent), Sherry Phillips, Carolyn Hickey, Steve Kirby and Ray Rudd.

Local Stores Join DrugCenter Group

Four Loudon County pharmacists have affiliated with DrugCenter, a new pharmaceutical marketing organization which already includes over 100 other pharmacies in a six state region.

Included in the area group are: in Lenoir City, Calvin Atchley of Atchley's Drug Center, Harry Goodwin of Goodwin Drug Center, Joe Grayson and Bill Prater of Lenoir DrugCenter, and in Loudon, Bob Hudson and Tom Myers of Myers-Hudson DrugCenter. The group of individually and locally owned pharmacies combine purchasing and marketing power by advertising under the name DrugCenter.

"The object of the group is to be able to offer customers better prices on what we call ADVALUES," said a local spokesman for the local group of independent pharmacists. "In this way the pharmacy will be able to offer special incentives on top selling items plus a fair price policy on everyday items and prescriptions. In addition DrugCenters, through personal professional services, will strive to be even more of the community center for all products related to better health and living."

The DrugCenter organization operates in the states of Tennessee, Kentucky, West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina and Georgia and is sponsored by Albers Drug Company in Knoxville.

Library Circulation 14,655 For 1971

By Calvin Lunsford

Probably the greatest source of knowledge to the people of the Loudon area is the public library, which is striving to grow and develop into a more worthwhile tool for a growing city, and needs warrants the support of all age groups. The interest of these groups in the library is a major factor in its development and growth. Requests for material and books, both technical and general interests as well as historical publication help the library staff to better serve the reading needs of those in their service area.

National Library Week which will be observed April 18 through 22 permits the library to explain its available service, its improvements and to extend a welcome to all Loudon area people to come and look at the Library. It's available materials and possibly request a specific publication. Mrs. Norman (Billy Joe) Mead, the Loudon Librarian, stated that the Library hours were 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday and Friday, 9 to 5 p.m. She extended an invitation to all to come, check out a book and make use of this modern facility available to the public.

The Loudon Library, which is supported by the City of Loudon and Loudon County, had a circulation during the year 1970-71 of 14,655 books, the slogan adopted for National Library Week is "Reading Makes the World Go Around" and "You've Got A Right To Read". The average circulation per month from the Loudon Library is 700 books per month. Available to the readers are: Best Sellers, Current Magazines, Reference Books, Records, Childrens books, and use of the Microfilm Reader. Anyone desiring a specific publication can have it obtained from the Regional Library and have it available in two days. Also film for the Micro Reader can be obtained by the Library from the State Archives in Nashville. This film covers a variety of subjects and listing are available at the library.

New in the Loudon Library are the recordings for the blind, as well as reading material in Braille. The talking books are not only for the blind, but are also available to other people suffering handicaps which make it physically impossible for them to read in the normal manner. Current issues of magazines such as Newsweek, Readers Digest, Ebony, Saturday Review and Good Housekeeping are part of the collection of talking books located within the Library and included as a part of its service to the community is a section devoted to Genealogy. This section of the Library is provided by the DAR.

Among the 5,000 books available is the best seller of the year, "The Library obtains many of the current and popular best sellers. Also in the library is an elaborate collection of congressional records, which cover a wide time span and many historical as well as informative accounts of our statesmen in action in the Congress of the United States.

Besides the Loudon City Librarian, Mrs. Norman Mead, there are devoted efforts of others who contribute much toward making this service available to the public. The Loudon City Library is represented by Mrs. Leroy Custead, who also serves as Assistant Librarian and Mrs. M.C. Anderson. These ladies are Loudon's representatives on the Loudon County Library Board, the local regional Library Board member is

Mrs. Rhea Alexander

The books, publications and special services are available to the people our Loudon City Library serves. The invitation is extended to all to pay a visit to the local library during Library Week and form a habit of being a regular visitor.

Vote For FREEMAN RUSSELL For Sheriff

Thursday, May 4, 1972 - Republican Primary

I have served you as Sheriff for the past three and one half years. During this time many improvements have been made in the department - with better trained men and modern equipment. To obtain these accomplishments I have cooperated with and had the full cooperation of the Federal, State and Local law enforcement agencies.

As your Sheriff, I, have enforced the laws of Loudon County to the best of my ability. I am constantly looking for ways to increase the effectiveness of the Sheriff's Department. The Department has six completely equipped patrol and emergency vehicles and a staff of well trained and schooled officers who are on duty throughout the county 24 hours a day.

In my 17 years of law enforcement Loudon County has never had better trained men or a better equipped department. I ask for your continued confidence by seeking your vote and influence in the coming election. It is my desire to continue to serve you as your sheriff for one more term. I hope you feel my past record deserves your support and vote.

Many Thanks

Your County In Action

BY Harvey L. Sproul
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

The City of Loudon has a proposed swimming pool and recreational project which has taken a considerable amount of negotiation and preparation, for which I'm sure the City owes Gary Hershey, City Administrator, much credit.

The City of Loudon is jointly facing and studying the question of what to do about a sanitary landfill, with the County having to make the decision as to whether or not to go into this at all or not, and whether to set up a container collection system.

The City of Loudon City and Loudon, and Loudon County decide whether or not to abandon it's school system and turn it over to the county... The County is facing the question of what to do about a sanitary landfill...

The County has to do something about providing local detention facilities (the Jail), and this must be done in the reasonably near future.

All of these things, and many others unnamed, are attempting to work out a solution.

To give you an example of the time that it takes to work with some of these things from my own recent experience...

The next day, Tuesday, I was up at 5 a.m. to go to Nashville with Hospital Administrator Tom Foster...

While in Nashville I was in touch with other agencies concerning various county problems. We got home late and the next day there were meetings with highway engineers...

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

As we have said many times before, possibly the most colorful place in our town a few years ago, was the area we now call downtown Loudon, extending from the Good Old Days. It would be impossible to ever record all of them. But some things stand out in a general nature and possibly have meaning to all of us who grew up around Loudon a few years back.

Our memory was stirred by a very interesting and very valuable picture loaned to us by Mr. Sam Clark. This old picture was made of the section in the block where the old Lyric Theater operated for many years. As we examined the old picture, we found some things that existed during our boyhood days. Although, this picture was made before our time, a lot of the things shown in the picture were still there when we first remember that this section of town looked like.

building says Oldsmobile. Does anyone know if there was an auto dealer at this location. Of course, we know that on down the street on the same side was Kimbrough Motor Company, Loudon's Dodge dealer, but we didn't know about any other car dealer on this side of the street. There are so many interesting things about this picture, we couldn't begin to relate all of them but if you see something we missed, give us a call.

Our other picture this week is of a couple of World War I soldiers. One on the right is the late Gillup Julian. The other man is not identified.

We know of two others who were in the inductee picture we ran week before last. One was Booth Mills and another was Glade Walls. We stated it was his brother.

Last weekend we ran into Hugh Sitzer, formerly of Loudon, and now living in Miami, Florida. Hugh said he enjoyed the Herald and the Good Old Days effort. He said that the people of Loudon were very fortunate to live in a town like ours without the problems of crime found in many of the large cities like he lived in. He stated that he loved Loudon and its people and was only away in order to make a living. We would guess this is true of many of our people now living in other places in this world of ours. We appreciate Hugh's comments about the

As we mentioned here back in October of last year there is a strong possibility that the Lenoir City and Loudon County school systems might be consolidated. For several weeks now more public mention of this possibility or Lenoir City turning its schools over to the county has been made. In fact the matter has been the main topic of discussion at the last two City Council meetings in Lenoir City.

Such a proposal, in whatever form it might take, is one that will be very delicate. The City of Lenoir City is in over its neck trying to support their system. The school system in Lenoir City is the object of much pride and indeed it should be. The problem in Lenoir City, as far as the City Council is concerned is pure and simple, they just don't have the local funds to continue the city owned system. The other side of the coin is not as simple to see. The fierce pride the people have, the many problems with salary level, students, parents and what would happen if the system was abandoned are all questions being asked.

Then there is the county to consider. What would it mean in way of property tax increases to the county, could the county make adjustments in its school program, teacher tenure, pay scale and many other things that would be necessary if they should suddenly find the Lenoir City schools in their hands.

The word SUDDENLY is probably the key. Such a consolidation move should not happen suddenly. A lot of people are involved, not to mention the children, property and money.

To this point the City of Lenoir City has not made any formal mention of its thinking to the county or the County School Board although they have met with the Lenoir City area squires. We suggest that a representative study group be formed, composed of various committees to look into various aspects of such a move, then a report of feasibility be made outlining the impact such a move would have on the Lenoir City schools and Loudon County alike.

The mention of having the question on the August election ballot in Lenoir City has been heard. We believe at this point it would be soundly defeated. The people of Lenoir City want to have more answers before they say to consolidate.

It is possible for the two systems to merge smoothly if handled properly and it is even possible that through proper study a way might be found for the city to maintain its system.

We have long advocated that the county should have an elected school board and an appointed Superintendent. If this consolidation came about we think it would be proper to have this type of administration.

GETS FATHER'S BADGE—Loudon Police Chief John Lennox, left, looks on as J. E. Mills, who retired from the Loudon Police force recently after 20 years service pins his badge on his son, John, who succeeded him on the force. At right are Tom R. Russell, who also retired after 14 years on the force and his replacement Doug Ballard.

Two Retire from Police Force, One Is Replaced By Son

You could say like father-like son due to recent happenings within the Loudon City Police Department. J.E. (Boss) Mills retired recently and was replaced on the force by his son, John.

Shortly after the City adopted its retirement program two members of the force retired, Chief John Lennox said. These were Mills, 65, who had 20 years service on the force and Tom R. Russell, 68, who retired with 14 years service on the force.

Mills was replaced by his son John, 24. John is married and lives on Webster Court in Loudon with his wife and child. The other new member of the force is Doug Ballard, 23. He had been on the force as a part-time officer. Ballard is married and lives on Rio Vista in Loudon.

The second generation Mills on the police force is wearing the same badge that his father wore for 20 years.

State Action Blocks New TVA Tax Move

Loudon County will not get an additional $42,000 in State Funds originating from TVA "in lieu of taxes," after all, at least not this year.

County Judge Harvey Sproul told County Court members at the last meeting about negotiations which at that time held promise of that much additional money from the State.

"But we were shot out of the saddle on that," the judge said this week.

A bill was passed in the State Legislature, introduced by Rep. Leonard C. Dunavan, Republican of Shelby County, the effect of which was to cut out the basis of the argument of the counties and cities that they should have more of the TVA tax money, Judge Sproul said.

The matter is before Davidson County Chancery Court and earlier Anderson County Judge Joe Magill, who filed the action in behalf of all Tennessee Counties with TVA lands, had agreed to a proposed settlement which would give Loudon County about $25,000 additional money annually from the TVA funds.

However, Judge Sproul said.

appeared before State officials with the argument that the agreement does not take into consideration the fact that Loudon County has had a property tax reappraisal; that local property owners are paying taxes on the basis of new taxable land values and the TVA "in lieu of tax" payments to counties should be computed on the same basis.

It is in this point which the Dunavan bill cut out, it was understood. However, Judge Sproul said, the bill also had the effect of affirming the earlier settlement, assuming the Chancellor agrees to it.

"We will just have to see if we can get an amendment passed next year," said Rep. Benny Stafford. "I think the TVA lands should be on the same tax base as private property."

Actually, TVA pays many times the amount of money in contention into the State Treasury, in lieu of taxes, but under state law only a small percentage is returned to the cities and counties as a replacement for tax revenue lost when the land was taken from the tax rolls. The Magill settlement will shake loose approximately $1 million of these funds annually to be returned to local governments and the contention which Judge Sproul was advancing would have released an additional $80,000 back to counties and cities, but the Memphis legislator's bill stopped that, at least for now.

Murder Suspect Hospitalized

The Loudon Herald was informed by sources at the Monroe County Jail this week that Arnold Carter Jr., one of the three men charged with the October 25, 1971, murder of Ronnie Swiney of Philadelphia, was taken from the Blount County Jail last week to a Nashville hospital after Blount County authorities said Carter had suffered a collapsed lung. Monroe County Deputy Sheriff George Hunt accompanied Carter. Another defendant, Danny Barnes, is being held in the Blount County Jail, while Leslie Joe Lynn, 30, is a prisoner at the Monroe County Jail. No other details concerning Carter's illness were available.

$650 Raised At Card Benefit

More than 250 persons attended the Loudon Woman's Club Benefit Card Party Saturday night making it what club officers said was the most successful of the annual events.

The club reports a net profit of some $650 from the benefit, more than enough to erect a lighted flag pole and fountain stand at the Loudon High football field. Winner of the portable television set given away as the main door prize was Chuck Moore of Loudon.

Club President Mrs. Mike Coffman said the club is indebted to the persons who attended the benefit and to the area merchants, businesses and individuals who contributed door prizes, table prizes and other items for the benefit.

Loudon Class Plans Reunion

The 1963 Graduating Class of Loudon High School will meet at the Loudon Branch Bank of Loudon City Sunday, April 23 at 2 p.m. President, Gary Woodard, urges all class members to attend as plans will be made for a class reunion.

Road Department Off May Ballot. Reset For August

Legislation calling for a reorganization of the Loudon County Highway Department will be on the August General Election ballot, not the May 4 Presidential Primary as originally planned.

"We got tangled up with the 45-day deadline," said State Rep. Benny Stafford, who is back home after the adjournment last week of the State Legislature in Nashville. It was a complicated route getting the issue to that final determination.

First of all, Loudon County Court adopted a resolution asking Rep. Stafford and State Sen. Houston Goddard to pass the private act calling for the reorganization of the Loudon County Highway Department. The act calls for a nine-man Highway Commission, named on a one-man one-vote basis, and provides that the Commissioners then would employ a single county-wide Road Superintendent.

The bill calls for the matter to go to a referendum of the people for ratification and in its original form it was to appear on the May 4 Primary ballot. However, although Mr. Stafford got it passed in the House in time, it did not get through the Senate in time for the Loudon County Election Commission to have it 45 days before the election.

Then a dispute in interpretation arose. County Election Commission Chairman John Gibson, relying on advice from Shirley Theurer, State Coordinator of Elections, ruled that the matter could not properly go on the May 4 ballot because it was not presented 45 days before the election.

Mr. Stafford had advice from Joe Mynatt, attorney for the Legislative Council, that the 45-day deadline does not apply to individual items on the ballot, but to the election itself.

After consulting with County Judge Harvey Sproul, it was decided to avoid the problem by amending the bill, and even though it had already been passed by both houses, Mr. Stafford retrieved it from the Governor's desk, prior to its being signed, had it amended by passage in both the House and Senate and re-submitted it for the Governor's signature.

All this activity took place the last week of the legislature, Mr. Stafford said. Final passage of the amendments was accomplished Thursday and the Legislature adjourned Friday.

Proponents of the measure say it will allow for better coordinated road maintenance, will encourage central purchasing of materials and operation of a central garage, and, in short, will set up one, instead of three, road departments in the county.

Opponents say the present system, with the Road Construction Commission serving as foreman over work crews in his own district, gives closer, better attention to road maintenance problems.

A lawsuit is pending, however, calling for reappointment of the road commission on a one-man, one-vote basis, which is expected to disrupt the three-man Road Commission anyway.

DAC Sees Civil War Collection

The first anniversary of the Henrietta Ramsay Lenoir Chapter No. 2371, United Daughters of the Confederacy, was celebrated at the April meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Snow, College Street, Loudon.

A highlight of the meeting was the presentation and explanation of one of the most complete and colorful Civil War collections in the South. The collection is owned and was presented by Gene Purcell of Clinton. Mr. Purcell is the nephew of Chan Rhea of Loudon.

Mr. Purcell who has been collecting Civil War material for the past twenty years has done extensive research in this period of history, and could well be classed as an authority on relics, battles, officers, etc.

Possibly the most valuable and most prized item in Purcell's vast collection is the personal flag of the South, Robert E. Lee. Mr. Purcell has had the flag authenticated by the Library of Congress, Washington, D.C.

Other items in his collection consist of coins ranging from the late 1700's to the early 1800's, Belt buckles from both Confederate and Union uniforms, Confederate money, buttons from Revolution uniforms, Georgia Pike which was used by the Confederates to fight with because of the lack of guns, uniform from Rhode Island State Militia, (From Civil War), Civil War swords and knives, cannon balls, commissioning Pendant that flew U.S.S. Hartford, flagship of battle of the Mobile Bay that Admiral Farragut was on, whose expression "Damn the Torpedos full speed ahead" is quite famous.

Mr. Purcell also has many newspapers of Civil War period. One which tells of the death of Abe Lincoln. He also has bullets and leather pieces of Civil War period and lots of personal items, dog tags, letters, pictures and etc.

Each item on display was explained by Mr. Purcell. This display is only a small portion of the vast collection of this Civil War Authority.

The business portion of the meeting was devoted to a review of the Chapter's activities over the past year, which consisted of an essay contest on Robert E. Lee, which sponsored two girls for UDC Scholarships to Peabody College.

During the year two of the Chapter's members attended State Convention in Chattanooga.

The president of the Chapter, Mrs. Carolyn Perky, was in the east of the Pano Drama at the Dogwood Arts Festival this year and last year.

The president also attended the District Meeting in Johnson City, April 7, accompanied by members, Mrs. Louise Icom and Mrs. J. R.

HISTORIC FLAG—Mr. Gene Purcell and Mrs. Carolyn Perky, Chapter president, displays valuable personal flag of General Robert E. Lee, which has been authenticated by the Library of Congress.

DISPLAY OF CIVIL WAR ITEMS—Mr. Purcell holds the famous Georgia Pike used by Confederate Army because of the shortage of guns to fight with. The large table holds a variety of Civil War items on display by Mr. Purcell.

The chapter is still seeking unmarked graves of Confederate soldiers buried in this area. Anyone who desires more information or has located an unmarked Confederate grave are asked to contact Mrs. Carolyn Perky, 886-8942.

The Chapter wishes, if possible, to complete this project this year.

Coach Hugh Watson, head mentor of the Redskins, was very pleased of his ace "big" man's decision to play under Dwin Farmer and for the Bulldogs. Watson was a standout performer for the Tennessee Wesleyan coach during his college playing days.

Coach Farmer is expecting a bright and promising future for his prize signee. "With dedication and play like he gave Loudon High School Ray will certainly push to become a possible starter in his freshman year", stated the smiling Farmer.

Enthusiastic Loudon Countians Find Bowling Fun And Rewarding

Bowling has become a major sport of many adults in the Loudon County communities. To the surprise of The Loudon Herald last week we were informed that numerous people are traveling to Athens, Maryville, Knoxville, and Oak Ridge to bowl.

Maremont Corporation has the largest number of representation with its own league. The Loudon muffer firm has nearly 40 employees, men and women, taking part in weekly meetings. The Athens Classic Bowling Lanes on Highway 11 Bypass is the local headquarters for the majority of Loudon Countians.

The Classic Lanes has monthly competition with a winner in both men and women classes. Recent winners from Loudon in the bowling year just completed were Bill Sowards, top bowler for the Month of May 1971, Eugene Presley, top bowler for June 1971, and Ray Murr topped the April bowlers. Mrs. Reba Murr was the only woman to qualify for the year's top roll-off with a strong showing in February.

The monthly winners are placed into a tournament roll-off at the conclusion of the bowling year and the persons (man and woman) with the best three game series which surpasses their year long average are given trophies and a trip to Washington, D.C. to the National Roll Off. The winner of this event (one man and one woman) are given free vacations for two to Europe.

Saturday was the weekend for the Center roll-offs all over the United States. A grand total of 191 centers will be represented in the National tournament the weekend of May 26-28. Ray Murr, Maremont Corporation, won the men's division with 40 pins over his average. He was hard pressed by Etowah's Bobby Sanford, who had a close 38 pins over his normal play. Lenoir Citian Jack Packett, was the Classic Lanes representative last year in the men's division.

John Nelson, owner of Classic Lanes, named the top two women bowlers of the year with trophies. Josephine Duggan of Lenoir City was the honoree in the "200" Club and Ruth Delaney of Loudon was named the best of the "500" Club participants. The two outstanding bowlers are members of the Athens Oil Company's team which finished fourth in the State Tournament this past year. The State roll-off was composed of 229 teams. Also the two Loudon County women were the winner of the City Doubles play this past season.

NAMED BOWLERS OF THE YEAR—Mrs. Josephine Duggan of Lenoir City and Mrs. Ruth Delaney of Loudon were presented with trophies as the Classic Lanes Women Bowlers of the Year Saturday by the owners of classic Lanes Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson. Mrs. Duggan won the top honors of the "200" Club and Mrs. Delaney is top series bowler in the "500" Club. The two Loudon Countians bowl for the Athens Oil Company and their team placed fourth in the state among 229 other teams this year. They also won the City Doubles championship.

1971 BOWLING CENTER WINNERS—Jack Packett of Route 4 Lenoir City and Mrs. Geraldine Smith of Etowah were recognized by Classic Lanes owners Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson as the 1971 Roll-Off winners and participated in the National roll-off in Washington, D.C. last year. Mr. Packett is an employee of Jim Robins Seat Belt Company of Knoxville.

Rockwood Falls 5-2 As Edmonds Is Pitching And Hitting Star

Lenoir City continued to combine strong pitching with timely hitting in avenging a couple of exhibition losses to Rockwood Thursday with a regular season triumph of 5-2. The win was the Panthers second without a loss.

Tommy Edmonds, a right handed junior pitcher, picked up the mound decision for Lenoir City. The hard throwing hurler gave up five hits and four walks while striking out nine in going the full route.

Edmonds also proved a big man with the bat, collecting a home run and a single in three official times at bat.

Lenoir City got the first base knock of the game when shortstop Charlie Dye hammered a single in the first inning. Dye was thrown out on an attempted steal to clean the bases.

The Panthers, who placed men on base in every inning but the seventh, had center fielder Tommy Cook stranded on second base in the second inning after reaching base on an error.

The third inning was the Panthers big inning, totaling three runs and leaving the bases loaded. Dwight Cusick, held hitless in the season opener, unloaded for a hit to start the inning. Tommy Edmonds defied the rule that says pitchers are not hitters by tagging a home run for a quick two runs and give Lenoir City the lead. The long cloud must have shaken the Tigers as both Gary Chambers and Charlie Dye walked. Buddy Walker banged a single and catcher Neal Foster squeezed Chambers home with a sacrifice bunt.

Rockwood held the Panthers in check during the fourth inning with only Tommy Edmonds safe hit giving Lenoir City a base runner. The Tigers had their best inning against Edmonds in the bottom of the fourth by loading the bases on an error and two straight safeties. The Tigers got on the score board with two run producing sacrifices. Edmonds escaped with a strike out for the third out.

Lenoir City added insurance scores in the fifth and sixth innings.

Gary Chambers led off the fifth with a hit and scored on a stray peg to second base when he attempted to steal. Neal Foster tripled to open the sixth frame and with one out junior left fielder Doug Williams sacrificed him home for the final score of the afternoon.

Lenoir City got some top defensive play in the second inning with a base cleaning double play by way of Chambers to Dye to Cusick. Lenoir City left a total of four men on base as to nine for the Tigers and out but their best eight safeties to five. The Panthers made but one error in the field. Rockwood had two mistakes.

The Panthers doubleheader at Norris on Friday was called off due to weather conditions.

The first home game of the season is scheduled for a twinned this Thursday night against Coalfield. Game time is six o'clock. A Friday night encounter with Harrison is also at home with the game starting at seven-thirty.

ACTIVE CHEROKEE CAMP—The Greenback Cherokees were far from resting on Cooper's field Monday when they embarked upon their third week of spring drills. The Cherokee line got in some teeth jarring ticks while the offense worked on perfecting its smoothness of getting the ball to backfield personnel. Junior-to-be quarterback Tony Lingenfelter has his arm in excellent shape to surpass his 1300 yards passing he had last year as a sophomore. Lingenfelter is considered to be one of the better underclass athletes destined for a college scholarship.

Greenback To Host Lanier For Spring Football Scrimmage Thursday

Greenback started its third week of spring football drills this week in preparation for a Thursday scrimmage with Lanier on the Cherokees Cooper Field.

Coach Keith Bailey is looking for a favorable fall in his seventh campaign at the lone Class "A" Loudon County school.

A good turnout of 40 would-be players have taken part in a high spirited spring training that is expected to set the stage for a turn about of last year's 2-8 season.

Coach Bailey's top season of 9-1 will be a hard one to match but the Cherokees head boss feels he has some individuals that may well be of college material and their achievements could well surpass his best mark.

Some of the individuals probably in the mind of Coach Bailey are of sophomore quarterback and passing wizard Tony Linkinfeiler. The 6 foot 3 inch, 180 pound field general had over 1500 yards in the air last season and college scouts have already gotten the word.

Tom Hammonree another sophomore is picked for a star runningback role to complement Linkinfeiler. The line is the most favorable department with depth and size at all positions.

Overall team speed is a problem for the team at hand and this plus only nine returning letter men has the Cherokees working determinedly to meet the tests of its district pre-season front runners Townsend, Walland, and Porter.

Loudon Softball Tourney Dates Set

The Loudon Recreation Softball League has set Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, May 3rd, 4th, and 5th as the dates for its early bird tournament. Teams from Knoxville, Kingston, Maryville, and Oak Ridge have already joined the field of diamond participants along with those entering from Loudon and Lenoir City.

The entry fee is $25 a team and any team wishing to take part may do so by contacting:

Glenn Russell of Loudon at 458-2905.

The regular season for City League play in Loudon will pick up on May 9th. There will be games on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday nights plus a weekly doubleheader every Saturday night.

The Loudon Recreation League had announced that TSSA umpires from Athens will be used this summer rather than local people of factuating the games.

Union Carbide Golf League Underway

The Union Carbide Golf League is in full swing now and the team of Charlie Helms and Tootsie Carver are the front runners with 13 team points to date. The team of Ed Swenson and Gerald Cole and the team of Dick Huff and Art Hamill are in the runner up spots with a total of nine team points.

There are 14 teams taking part in the Golf League with matches played each Wednesday at the Madisonville golf course in Monroe County.

The first league match of the season was played on April 13 and the matches will carry through to Wednesday, October 11.

An inter-league tournament is scheduled for the week of July 12, at Madisonville. Jack Ferguson '94 is currently the low score medalist for the league with a 34.

Lenoir City Fielding Errors Constitute Loss

Roger Kennedy, a senior baseballer at Kingston who recently turned his first high school start into a perfect game, buried the Jackets to a 5-3 victory over Lenoir City Monday. The loss put the Panther record at 2-1 and lifted the victors to 3-1.

Tommy Cook hit a sacrifice fly to right field to score Chambers, and Walker went to third. A relay throw to third got away and the error allowed Walker to come in with the second run.

In the fourth frame Cook was safe on an error, stole second and Doug Williams smacked a singled to score the run that tied the game.

That set the stage for the Kingston rally in the sixth, both runs coming after Cunningham was relieved by Donnie Stamey with a man on.

Kingston got its 5 runs on 5 hits. The victors committed 5 errors. Lenoir City got its 3 runs on 4 hits, and committed 4 errors.

and a single tally, the tying marker, in the fourth inning. In getting the two quick runs an error put second sacker Gary Chambers on base and a wild pitch sent him to second. Then Buddy Walker singled Chambers to third.

Game & Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game & Fish Commission

Anti-Litter Law To Be Enforced By Q and F
As the weather warms, more and more people will be turning to the outdoors for their recreational activities and littering of our landscape will compound accordingly. Officers of the Game and Fish Commission will be making every effort to enforce the "litter law" this spring and summer. But whether or not there exists a litter law, we can't clean up Tennessee, and keep it clean?

Hunter Safety Program
We wish to gratefully acknowledge the many inquiries concerning the status of one hunter and firearms safety training program and to express thanks to the many persons who are volunteering their services as instructors.

Our kick-off date for both instructor and student training are dependent upon federal governmental approval of the program which should come sometime in late April. From that point we will begin training material production, begin investigating firing range possibilities, and aim all our efforts to begin instructor training by July 1, 1972.

Once again, it must be emphasized that all these plans are subject to Federal Government approval so that the funds for the program can be obtained.

Game and Fish Laws
Q Can I take bullfrogs with a fishing permit?
A No; the taking of bullfrogs is defined as hunting so you must have a hunting license.

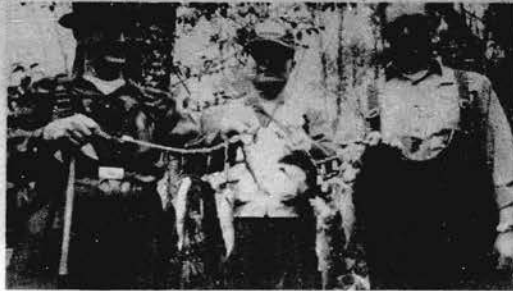

Q When does the season on bullfrogs open?
A The season on bullfrogs is open year round, but the limit is 10 per person.

Q Do I need a fishing license if I go with my husband and sit in the boat while he is fishing?
A No; if you do not run the motor, paddle the boat, or offer any assistance to him in fishing.

Tennessee To Be Surveyed
Some 1200 to 1500 Tennessee families will receive personal calls in the coming weeks from a survey team asking questions about their enjoyment of wildlife.

The study is being conducted by the environmental research group of Georgia State University and is jointly sponsored by the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission, the Southeastern Association of Game and Fish Commissioners, and the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Concurrent with the Tennessee survey will be similar studies in the other southeastern states. Designed primarily to evaluate the social and economic benefits from wildlife and determine the need for more wildlife oriented recreation opportunities, the survey is scheduled to be conducted during the latter part of April and the month of May.

Findings will be used by game and fish commissions and other state and federal resource-oriented agencies to plan future programs for protection and conservation of wildlife in the Southeastern states.

Smoky Mountain Park
Opens for Fishing and Camping

The Smoky Mountain National Park Service announced that fishing in the Park would open April 15, 1972 and close September 15, 1972.

They also said that most all of the campgrounds will be open by April 15 and the rest will be open by May 1, 1972, with the exception of Look Rock which will remain closed until better sanitary facilities are provided.

Little River and Middle and West Forks of Pigeon River get tunker trout.

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service decided to get rid of a lot of their brood stock at the Pisgah hatchery, and Little River in Blount County and Middle and West Fork of Pigeon River in Sevier County received the bonus fish.

Some 600 trout weighing between 2 and 6 lbs. were stocked. Another stocking of about 4,000 trout (rainbows) will be made April 18, 1972 of 3 to 10 inches in size in the same streams.

Lenoir City Golfers Bow Twice, Even Record

The Lenoir City Golf Team ran into misfortune last week with a sudden death playoff loss to Alcoa on Tuesday afternoon and a top-sided defeat to McMinn County High School at Niota on Friday.

The two losses evened the Panthers record at 2-2. Lenoir City led the Tornadoes by some seven strokes at one stage of their match at Cedar Hills Tuesday.

The Alcoa team struggled back to within a four stroke deficit with just one hole remaining and a Lenoir City victory nearly assured. The bottom fell out of the Lenoir City play and the Tornadoes managed to knot the final score at 174-174.

A sudden death playoff was necessary with the Tornadoes number one player Wayne Watson chipping in a 75 yard shot for an eagle on the first playoff hole for the victory.

George Hardin led Lenoir City with a sparkling 37, one over par, and was followed by Steve Henry's 43. Chuck Easter and David White had a 46 and 47 respectively.

McMinn County jumped to a quick lead over the Panthers at the strange surroundings of Niota's golf course and never let up in posting a 178-188 triumph.

Lenoir City coach Joe Hall was not at all pleased with the Lenoir City showing and feels the shoe may be on the other foot when the Cherokees come calling May 11.

Vineyard Favored To Repeat At Atomic Speedway

H. E. Vineyard will be the driver on the hottest Saturday night at Atomic Speedway after capturing last weekend's Dogwood 100 for late model sportsman cars.

Vineyard will have his Chevy II back at the third-mile dirt oval seeking first place money of $400. Another top contender will be Tommy Fryar, victor in the season-opening event at the track two weeks ago.

Saturday night's competition gets under way at 8 o'clock. The schedule calls for a 40-lap feature, 25-lap semi-feature and 20-lap event for hobby car drivers.

"The Dogwood 100 show was one of the best we've had," said Bob Martin. "The same cars will be running this weekend. I believe we pleased the fans."

Admission this week will be $3 for adults with children under 12 free.

Vineyard took the lead with nine laps to go and outdueled Johnny Gibson for the Dogwood triumph. Herman Goddard and Ted Gibson also were leaders during the race. The semi-feature went to Kenny Wright in a Corvair.

UT Spring High School Football Clinic Starts Friday

An expert on motivation will join Tennessee Coach Bill Battle, his staff and five standout high school coaches as featured speakers at the eighth annual University of Tennessee spring coaching clinic Friday and Saturday, April 21 and 22.

"The addition of Dr. C. A. Roberts to our program will give a new twist to our clinic and provide coaches with material that should be useful when they return to their schools," said Battle.

Dr. Roberts is president of Church Systems Inc. Before joining Church Systems, an organization that provides creative church ministries through data processing, he was on the staff of Rice University as assistant athletics director. Earlier he had served as pastor of First Baptist Church in Andrew Lewis.

Battle will moderate the discussion, and the 30-year-old producer of two bowl winners in as many years at college coaching will speak at 9 a.m. Saturday on the subject of "Tennessee's Winning Program."

Vol assistants with speaking roles in the clinic are Jim Wright, Ray Trull, Lida Huggins, Lou Herzbrun, Gary Wynant and Jerry Elliott. The clinic will open with registration at 12:30 p.m. Friday and will continue through the Vols' Saturday afternoon scrimmage, concluding the team's third week of spring practice.

The clinic is open to high school, junior high school and college coaches without charge.

Battle chose him as a clinic speaker in connection with Dr. Roberts' association as a consultant with Success Motivation Institute in Waco, Texas. He is the author of four books and a play.

Dr. Roberts is scheduled as the first speaker on the two-day program. From 1:15 to 3 p.m. Friday, he will discuss "Today's Problems in Football Motivation - The Individual Athlete."

Another highlight of the clinic will be a panel discussion Friday night in which Dr. Roberts will exchange ideas with high school coaches Tom Pugh of Kingsport, Dobyns-Bennett, John Tucker of Milan, Jim Smeicher of Knoxville Bearden, Louis Catignani of Nashville, Falter Ryan and Eddie Joyce of Salem, Va.

52 Drown In TVA Lakes In 71

Fifty-two people drowned in 1971 while using TVA lakes for recreation, seven more than in the previous year, according to William F. Wilson, Chief of the TVA Safety Staff in Chattanooga.

"Most drownings occur because people fail to take common-sense precautions," Wilson said. "Almost all drownings from boating accidents could be eliminated if boaters would wear life jackets. Small boats turn over easily, especially if they are overloaded, overpowered, or operated improperly. If occupants don't have on life preservers or don't know how to swim, their chances for survival are slim. People who drink while boating or stand up in boats also contribute to the number of drownings."

Fish Commission plans to add a sandy beach for swimmers in the near future.

Wilson said several drownings a year occur because swimmers go out alone, or because children are left to swim or wade without close supervision. Waders who suddenly step in deep water and "floaters" whose rubber rafts or inner tubes lose air are part of the drowning toll each year, he said.

Each year TVA makes available throughout the system of lakes, in cooperation with other water safety programs.

Over half the 1971 drownings involved swimming or wading. Factors contributing to these tragedies included unsafe acts, swimmers unaware of hazards, victims unable to swim well, wading into a hole or deep spot, and trying to swim beyond endurance.

TSSAA All Star Basketball Coaches Announced

Coaches for the annual boys and girls TSSAA high school all-star basketball games in July have been selected.

The boys coaches are Buck Van Huss of Kingsport, East; and Joe Dan Wooten, Haywood High of Brownsville, West.

The girls coaches are Jack McMahan, Sevier County, East; and Pat Webb, Gallatin High, West.

Van Huss was named for the second time as the East coach. The successful Dobyns-Bennett mentor was coach of the team in 1970.

He has posted a career record of 546 wins against 174 defeats. Last season his team had a 38-3 mark and ended the year by winning third place in the State basketball tournament. His Hampton team won the tourney in 1960 and finished fourth in 1966.

Wooten was named West Tennessee's Coach-of-the-Year last season when his club posted a 32-2 record and reached the TSSAA State tournament in Nashville. His overall record is 97-42.

Coach McMahan has an overall coaching record of 366-83 in his 11 years of coaching girls at Sevierville. He has taken his team to the State tournament seven times. His club last year was 31-4. Coach Webb has been coaching Gallatin girls for three years, but in two of those seasons his teams have played on the final night of the State tournament. In 1971 Gallatin finished fourth in the state and this year Webb's team placed third. His overall record is 78-19 and this season the team was 31-3.

The all-star games will be on the U-T campus July 29. The girls will play at 3 p.m., followed by the football game with the boys' cage clash the final game of the program.

Vineyard Wins Atomic Speedway Dogwood Race

In the feature attraction, where the first eight qualifiers stated in inverted order, Vineyard pulled out of the number 8 position, and number 8 qualifier, Gibson, rolled off the pole.

Gibson led most of the first half of the race before losing control coming off the number two turn and spinning out on the back straightaway.

Joe Lee Johnson, who drives a Chevell out of Chattanooga and who was one of the top money winners at the Atomic last season, started back in the field and had moved into third spot when his engine let go in the number one turn.

Also, Tommy Fryer, last week's feature winner was forced from the race with mechanical difficulties.

In excess of 8000 fans at Atomic Speedway Saturday watched as H.E. Vineyard drove his Chevy Nova to victory in the main event. He came across the finish line in the 72-lap event of the Dogwood 100 ahead of Johnny Huggan, also in a Chevy, and captured the $1,000 purse.

Other finishers in the main event included Johnny Gibson of Maryville, in a Chevrolet; and Truman Padgett of Chattanooga, in a Chevy. Vineyard, of Knoxville, also won $25 for the best looking car and $50 for the fast qualifier.

A semi-feature, for cars not qualifying for the main attraction, was won by Kenny Wright in a Corvair. Don Justice of Oak Ridge, in a Ford, was runnerup.

LONGSTREET'S CROSSING—The marker in the Loudon Square tells of the famous Longstreet's Loudon Crossing on his way to Knoxville.

CAMPSITE FOR SOLDIERS—The peaceful area along the old Huffs Ferry landing, mentioned in Longstreet's Crossing, was also a campsite for Civil War soldiers. It is possibly the campsite mentioned by the soldier in the story.

Letters Tells Of Civil War Events At Loudon

The peaceful serenity of the Tennessee River at the old Huffs Ferry landing, as it exists today, bears nothing to indicate its role in the Civil War. From the pages of history unfolded an account of Longstreet's Crossing at this point on his move northward and this event was noteworthy of being recorded and given its rightful place in Civil War history. There is quite possibly much color and activity of a minor nature that just didn't get recorded. The other day we came into a copy of a letter written by a soldier crossing the Tennessee at Huffs Ferry. But this soldier, (and maybe hundreds of his buddies) was headed south. His comments in the letter indicate that he was a member of the northern forces.

The letter dated April 11, 1864, comments on many things of a general nature such as would be of interest to his family except for the signing of his name as Ed. There is nothing else to identify who he was. The letter was started with My Dear Judy, which indicates the writing was to a female. Possibly his wife or sweetheart. The letter, which was found in the pocket of an old uniform, was never mailed. Whether or not the young soldier survived the War it is not known. At the time the letter was started this soldier and his buddies had arrived on the shores of the Tennessee River and were awaiting transportation to bring them to the Loudon side. This was five months after Longstreet's Crossing on his way to Knoxville. It is quite possible that this soldier had been in battle with some of Longstreet's men north of Loudon.

The second portion of the letter was written on Tuesday, April 12, 1864. The soldier tells of the troops crossing the river and that they are camped one mile from the town of Loudon. It could well be assumed (because of other accounts) that this group of soldiers were incamped along the river bottom of what is now the McQueen farm at the Huffs Ferry landing. At that time the land was owned by the Mason family. A Mason daughter later married a McQueen. The land has been in this family well over one hundred years. The soldier expressed a desire that his group would get to ride the train to Cleveland. Evidently they had been marching overland for many days. Possibly this was after the Loudon Railroad Bridge had been burned to prevent Northern troop movement. We have come across material which indicates the bridge was burned twice during the Civil War and possibly the trains only came to Loudon and turned around. In the letter he relates they are on their way to Chattanooga to Dalton to encounter the Troops of General Joe Johnston, and states that they have enough men to five this General and his forces one of the best whippings they ever had. Unknown to this Northern soldier at the date of his letter, General Joseph Johnston of Middle Tennessee had already lost his life in a battle. He also mentioned that Grant is going to take Richmond and that the Rebellion will be nearly over then. Of course it was a year later before the war ended. The remainder of the letter deals with minor details. Possibly the letter adds no significant historical facts, but it does help to piece together the events of the Civil War that took place in the vicinity of Loudon.

ASC Spring Seeding Date Extended
Because the late, wet spring has made seeding pastures difficult, the Loudon County ASC Committee has extended the final date for completing spring seeding approved under the Rural Environmental Assistance Program to April 30. Fred Pippy, Chairman of the Committee has announced. This will give farmers 13 extra days to complete the work if they feel it advisable to do so. Farmers who do not want to make seedings this late may request the approval to be extended to the fall seeding period or cancel the request. Requests for assistance on practices to be carried out in the fall will be accepted by the ASCS office at any time. Farmers are urged to submit soil test samples now for these fall seeding practices.

Your County In Action

BY HARVEY L. SPROUL
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

As time goes on and we gradually become more accustomed to the zoning regulations, we are beginning to see more of the protection that can come to our community and we can begin to see that the true intent of the regulations is to help and protect our people, and not to hurt them in any way.

Of course, the natural reaction of land owners or citizens when they feel restricted in any way from doing something, is to be upset—you know—zoning is great, as long as it doesn't bother me. An example of protection for the future could very well be shown in that the Little Tennessee River corridor

Republican Women Slate Meeting

The Republican Women's Club will meet Monday, April 24 at 7:30 p.m. at the Loudon County Courthouse. Guest speaker will be State Senator Houston Goddard. Delegates to the State Convention will be elected at this meeting. Mrs. L.C. Henley, president, invites all members to attend.

Fritts Named Top NonCom

U.S. Air Force Staff Sergeant Archie V. Fritts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Fritts of 1006 E. First Ave., Lenoir City, has been named Outstanding Noncommissioned Officer in his unit at Pope AFB, N.C.

Sergeant Fritts, an aeromedical evacuation technician, was selected for his leadership, exemplary conduct and duty performance. He serves with the 1st Aeromedical Evacuation Group.

A 1960 graduate of Lenoir County High School, the sergeant attended Carson-Newman College in Jefferson City. His wife, Shirley, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Carter of 730 Beauregard St., Savannah, Ga.

Some specific matters along this line include a consideration by the Loudon County Planning Commission at its meeting this evening of petitions for rezoning of property presently in an A-1 (Agricultural-Forestry) zone which is located right next to the Sugar Limb connector interchange on I-75 for a hot-mix asphalt plant and for a rock quarry.

Citizens in the specific community, and in the entire county, have the opportunity to be heard on whether this is the type of development which would be good for the long-range plans of this community and whether it is desired by the people of this community.

This is certainly going to require a balancing of the equities, but the principal point is that our community will have a say so in what is being or will be done.

Without zoning regulations, we would have no, or at least very little, voice in the matter.

Some of the specific questions that arise concerning this particular use, and which will be considered by the planning commission, include whether or not, and how much noise there will be from this operation, the effect of the dynamite blasting, how much dust and air pollution there will be from the quarry as well as from the hot-mix plant, will this type of use limit other uses of this particular property five, ten, or fifteen years from now? Would this type of use damage

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

When a person does something good, I think we should express our appreciation.

May I take this method to publicly express my thanks to Judge Sproul, for the good and timely report on our County Schools in the April 6 edition of the Loudon County Herald.

If and when the people see the conditions of our county educational system and know of the many teachers that have left Loudon County to teach in other counties and states, they (the people) will begin to wonder why.

Many of our teachers that have left the county have the best of training and are regarded by other systems as excellent teachers.

Thanks, Judge, but please finish the report. Why employ a teacher with two years of college or one with less and let degree teachers and Master degree teachers go to Georgia or elsewhere to teach?

Thanks,
F.A. Gunter.

Story Behind The Name Of Matlock Bend Road

By Lee Price

INSTALLS ROAD SIGN—Edward (Ed) Matlock, great-grandson of the original Jesse Matlock, is shown by the new Matlock Bend Road sign the County Road Department installed. Ed is a construction contractor and lives on Roberson Springs Road in Loudon.

ORIGINAL HOUSE—Shown are Robert Frank Matlock and his sister, Lois Matlock James, as they appear today in their home, the house where they were born and reared some 80 years ago.

Recently, with the assistance of the Regional Planning Commission, a new map of Loudon County was approved by the local County Court. This map shows an index listing of the roads in Loudon County. One of these roads is Matlock Bend Road. In one way Matlock Bend Road has recently become unique. It has the standard, state approved sign or marker identifying its entrance and exit. These signs have a green background ("Keep Tennessee Green") and white letters, and reflect light from cars at night so that they may be seen easily.
 The history of a road is history of people. The history of Matlock Bend Road is an example.
 On July 16, 1867, Jesse Matlock registered a State of Tennessee grant of title to 600 acres of land in the Records Office of Roane County, Kingston, Tennessee. According to the description of this land, given in the grant of title, it was located in the 6th civil district of Roane (now Loudon) County, Tennessee, along the South bank of the Tennessee, including an island in the river. It is from the name of this man, Jesse Matlock, that Matlock Bend Road got its name.
 Just where Jesse Matlock came from, before he arrived in this area, no one seems to know. His grave marker, now (married to Mary Jane Oliphant, Sara (married to Odum, McMin Co., James (killed in Civil War), and Thomas (went to Texas).

MATLOCK SCHOOL HOUSE—Shown above is the old Matlock School house as it appears today located on Matlock Bend Road.

 John C. Matlock (who acquired by inheritance and purchase his father's land) and his wife, Mary Jane, had the following children: James J. (Uncle Jim), Bruce, Willie, Salley, John S. (Sam), Edna, Robert F. (Uncle or Mr. Frank), Calladonia (married Robinson, Harriman, Tenn.), Lavina E., Mary J. (married Robinson), Minnie, and Lois M. (married Deat James).
 Lavina E. married a Matlock and is the mother of Walter and Bruce. Walter Matlock married Gladys Dial, of Spanish descent, and daughter of Dr. Dial of the Paw Paw Plains community of Roane County. Dr. Dial represented Roane County in the Tennessee legislature, 1829, 1830. Walter and Gladys Matlock's children, Jesse, Nell, Ed, and Tom are very well known in Loudon County today. Most of these people were born in or near the Matlock Bend Community.
 After recently having read Ramsey's Annals of Tennessee, I can visualize the beginning of Matlock Bend Road as at first an animal (buffalo, bear, deer, etc.) trail. Then came the Indian hunters, white men hunters with pack horses, followed by wagons, buggies and then modern day vehicles. From the varied and many Indian artifacts found along the river banks and bottom land in Matlock Bend, there is no doubt that an Indian Village was there at one time.
 Do you live on and daily use a Loudon County road? If so, are you proud of it enough to help get an approved Tennessee standard sign with name of road, placed at entrance or exit? These signs may be had by placing an order for them with your Loudon County Purchasing Agent, Mr. Buddy Jenkins, at his office in the old Loudon County High School building. The cost is approximately $3 per sign. The three Loudon County Road Commissioners, Mr. Lillard Bledsoe of District One, Mr. Lee Malone of District Two, and Mr. Joe Greenway of District Three, have promised to install these signs at appropriate places, if the signs will be made available by the people who live along the road, or others. May be a business enterprise might supply the signs if asked.
 The new Loudon County Road map may be had by applying to the Bank of Lenoir City, who were kind enough to pay the cost of printing and helped with the distribution.

GRAVE MARKER OF JESSEE MATLOCK—Shown is the grave marker of Jesse Matlock (1796-1877), who was the original Matlock in Loudon County for whom Matlock Bend Road was named.

GRAVE MARKER—Shown is the grave marker of Elmoer McPherson Matlock (1862-1883), wife of Jesse Matlock.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

In making our rounds talking to friends and fans of the Good Old Days, we are constantly having this or that highlight pointed out to us concerning events from the or personality from the days gone by in our area. The other day when we went by Christian Barber Shop (now Clark Barber Shop) to pick up a picture loaned to us by Sam Clark, Mr. Clark was telling us that this was the oldest barber shop in town and if my memory serves me right, it has been in this building ever since the building was built. Of course, it was located at other places prior to moving in this building. The old timers in Loudon will recall that this shop was once located where the Anderson Insurance Agency office is now located. I believe I am right on this. Anyway, at that time I believe the late Barber White was working there. The name Christians Barber Shop came into being from the late Joe Christian, who was a rural mail carrier and barber on the side. The name Joe Christian is not strange to any of us who grew up in Loudon. In regard to this barber shop being the oldest shop in town, I am sure that Mrs. Clark has been cutting hair and shaving Senator Hugh Callaway. Just how many years ago this old picture was made we have no idea. As far as I know, the late Senator Callaway was the only State Senator we ever had from the Loudon Area. Our many thanks to Mr. Clark for this picture. Our other picture this week is a family group. We always enjoy using family group pictures. They create a lot of interest with our readers. This old picture is of the John T. Oody family and those in this old picture are identified as follows: John T. is holding Johnny, next is Lizzie Oody Jenkins, who lives in Royal Oak, Michigan and Mrs. Sissy Oody. The little boy is Lonnie W. Oody, who lives in the Steeple Community. John T. Oody died at age 90 in 1905.

people longer than any other barber in town. I would guess that down through the years he has worked with most of the old time barbers such as the late Joe Christian, Barber White, Casey Hawkins, Dusty Johnson, Charlie Easter, John L. Robinson and many others. Our thinking about this was motivated in part by Mr. Clark's talking about this and by an old picture taken in the Christian Barber Shop many years ago. The picture shows Sam cutting the hair of who Mr. Clark thinks is the late

ALL OF I-75 UNDERWAY AT LAST

With the opening of bids in Nashville last week the final section of Interstate 75 in Loudon County is finally underway. In the minds of us who live here we are 10 years behind in the Interstate program and we are more than unhappy that we were left to last in the construction program on the super highway.

We are happy that Governor Winfield Dunn has kept his campaign promises to us in saying he would get these projects started on a high priority basis. We think he has kept this promise by getting these projects started in just over a year after he took office.

The highway is to be completed all the way through the county, including the river bridge by August 1974. If you travel in the sections of the county where these projects are going on you will see a rapidly changing landscape.

Knowing that this work is at last underway it will make it easier to take the snarling traffic in the county.

DON'T FORGET TO CHANGE YOUR CLOCK

When you go to bed Saturday night don't forget to change your clock. You advance the time one hour. Example - If you go to bed at 11 p.m. move the clock forward to 12 midnight.

We are glad to see Daylight Savings Time arrive, maybe we can get in some golf and flying. What are you going to do with the extra daylight hour?

No Party Crossing In May 4 Elections

There will be no crossing over in next Thursday's elections in Loudon County. Election Commission Chairman John O. Gibson has received instructions from the State Election Commission in how to set up the three ballots on the voting machines that would prohibit a person from voting in the Democratic Presidential Primary and then voting in the Republican Primary or such other cross over combinations.

Mr. Gibson said the machines would be set up in the following manner: Column one on the machines will have the local sales tax question on increasing the maximum tax on a sale of a single item from $5 to $7.50 and the constitutional questions.

The second column will have the Republican Presidential Preference Primary at the top, followed by the County Republican Primary.

In the third column of the voting machines will be the Democratic Presidential Preference Primary.

As Commission Chairman Gibson explained it, everybody will be able to vote on the matters in the first column on the machine and would tell the election officials at the precinct which of the two

Bank Of Lenoir City To Change Name To Bank Of Loudon County

Beginning on Saturday, July 1st the name of the Bank of Lenoir City will be changed to the Bank of Loudon County. The name change was announced this week by bank president A.M. Beeman Jr. Approval of the name change to the Bank of Loudon County was received on April 14 from the State Department of Banking. The stockholders of the bank approved the change in a special meeting on March 21.

Mr. Beeman said the stockholders felt that since the bank was county oriented and had offices in both Loudon and Lenoir City and since their customers and services were county-wide that the new name would best serve the interest of the bank and customers. In further describing this he said that 90 percent of the bank's stock, held by 378 stockholders, were residents of Loudon County, making the bank the only home owned bank in the county. Mr. Beeman said that since the bank opened its branch in Loudon in May of 1967 that branch has played a major role in the growth of the bank and the new name would fit better in that community.

Besides the name of bank being changed another major service change is also going into effect on July 1, Ed Bell, vice president and cashier, said that the bank will be offering its customers the latest and most modern method of bank bookkeeping and the design to be placed on computer at that time. For some time now savings accounts and installment loan operations of the bank have been on computer. Mr. Bell said having the checking accounts on computer will enable the bank to give the most efficient bookkeeping procedures to their customers.

Bank President Beeman said that the change of the name is a major move by the bank and that a large public relations and advertising program will be conducted to inform the public of the change. The Public Relations and Advertising firm of Hogan and Rose, one of Knoxville's largest, has been acquired to handle this program.

The bank employs some 32 people in its three branches and has resources totaling some $12,300,000. They offer a complete range of banking services including Master Charge, Bank Americard, Golden Club savings accounts, Christmas Clubs, plus regular savings, checking and loan services. Officers of the bank are J.W. Wilburn, Jr., chairman of the board; A.M. Beeman, Jr. President; Ed F. Bell, Vice President and Cashier; J.Y. McNabb, Assistant Vice President, manager of the Loudon Branch; James E. Stewart, Assistant Cashier; Scott Collins Jr., Assistant Cashier and manager of the Central Branch; and Roy Cook, Assistant Cashier.

Directors are Beeman, Bell, Wilburn, W.L. Curtis, Cecil Cusack, Charles T. Eldon, Dr. Harold Freedman, Dr. W.B. Harrison, Jack Randolph and Harry Wampler. Members of the Advisory Board of the Loudon Branch are J.J. Barret, John L. Brown, Jack Feekey, Raymond Lyle, Julian Ogden, Harry Pease, William H. Russell and Ben Surrett. The Bank of Lenoir City opened for business for the first time on Jan. 4, 1964 at 122 West Broadway in Lenoir City under a State Bank Charter with a capital stock of $100,000, surplus of $50,000 and undivided profits of $50,000 and a total of 1000 shares of stock issued.

The officers of the bank when it was first chartered were W.J. Hamilton, president; J.W. Wilburn, Sr., vice president; C.H. Everett, cashier; and Jack E. Lee, assistant cashier. Members of the Board of Directors were W.H. Hamilton, J.W. Wilburn, Sr., Hughes Johnson, J.W. Wilburn, Jr., W.H. Cobb, Samuel O'Domtrek, Cecil Cusack and W.K. Freedman. Since that first opening and at the end of the first month of operation when the bank had total assets of $57,062.63 the Bank of Lenoir City has continued to grow, expand and offer new services to its growing numbers of accounts. The growth of the bank is shown in the following figures representing total assets at the end of the year dated: 1956 - $1,049,770.59; 1963 $3,246,981.73; 1969 - $7,282,215.65; and at the end of 1971 - $12,300,284.06.

The first major expansion of the bank came in May 1967, when the Loudon Branch was opened in a trailer while construction of the present facility was underway on the corner of Wharf and Atlanta. The new building was placed in use in 1968.

The bank outgrew the original bank premises at West Broadway, Lenoir City, 35, last year lost election as State Treasurer by one vote. Last I-75 Bid Let, Completion In August 1974

The final section of Interstate 75 in Loudon County, also the last leg in Tennessee, has been let on contract. The State Department of Highways last Friday awarded a $5,041,089 contract to Hot Mix, Inc. of Nashville for the construction of a 6.6 mile section from old highway 95 at Lenoir City to the Tennessee River at Loudon.

The contract calls for the section to be completed by August 1, 1974, the same time the state has slated completion of the $7 million I-75 bridge across the Tennessee River.

The letting of the bid Friday brings a total of three I-75 projects underway in the county at this time, totaling almost $20,000,000.

Work is already underway on the Monroe county to the river section, and the bridge itself. These projects have been under construction for about six weeks.

Jake Butcher Is Speaker

MR. BUTCHER

Loudon County Democrats are expecting from 300 to 400 persons to attend a fund raising dinner at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Lenoir City High School Cafeteria. Guest speaker at the $10 a plate affair will be Jake Butcher, prominent Tennessee Democrat, banker and businessman.

There will also be a live band to provide entertainment at the dinner.

Chairman Sanders said other than being a fund raising affair the dinner is being held to get Democrats in the county together for fellowship and start working toward the coming elections.

The speaker, Mr. Butcher, 35, last year lost election as State Treasurer by one vote. The popular speaker is a native of Maynardville, he is President of CAC Holding Corporation of Knoxville; Chairman of the Board of First National Bank of Anderson County; President of City and County Bank of McMinn County; on the Board of Directors of the First

Duncan Says County To Get $600,000 In Sharing

Sharing on the Second Congressional District. Second District Representative John J. Duncan, a member of the House Ways and Means Committee, announced today that the state and local governments in Tennessee will receive added revenue under the revenue sharing bill which the House Ways and Means Committee recently voted to report to the House.

Congressman Duncan, who played a major role in the formation of this bill, said the state will receive $14.1 million, while under the distribution formula local governments will be allotted $65 million. This bill is in keeping with Congressman Duncan's belief that "the best way to develop greater responsibility at the state and local level is to give greater responsibility to state and local government."

Revenue sharing takes into account the frustration experienced by state and local officials who must depend on Washington bureaucrats for money to solve their local problems. "As a former mayor," Congressman (Continued on Page 5)

Duncan Gives Sharing Figures

Duncan stated, "I know first hand the frustration of having too little to solve too many problems."

State and county area allocations are based on three factors:

1. One third on the basis of population.
2. One third on the basis of urbanization.
3. One third on the basis of population inversely weighted for per capita income.

The county and city revenue sharing breakdowns for Loudon County is as follows:

	Total Amount	Grant Per Capita
Co. Area	$329,529	$15.21
Co. Govt.	236,011	9.37
Lenoir	49,858	9.36
Loudon	31,799	8.35

If this bill is passed, it will be retroactive to January 1, 1972.

Congressman Duncan said, "Today when the responsiveness of government is being tested, it is essential that once again every citizen should begin to feel a sense of participation in his government. Revenue sharing is a major step in this direction."

Russell Receives Myers Scholarship

Danny Lee Russell has been awarded the first annual Tony Myers Memorial Scholarship by Hiwassee College.

The Tony Myers Memorial Scholarship, established in 1971 by the Collegiate Civitan Club at Hiwassee in memory of Tony Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer O. Myers, Wildwood Road, Maryville, is in the amount of $300 and is awarded to a baseball player who possesses ability, leadership, and who has a need for financial assistance. This is a continuing scholarship and anyone wishing to contribute or who desires further information may contact Damon B. At mid-season his freshman year, Danny was in the number two spot on the team with a .370 overall batting average and a 6-2 pitching record. Danny is seeing a lot of action this season on the pitcher's mound.

Panthers Brave Cold For 11 Hits And Win

Lenoir City bounced back from the shock of Harriman's tremendous pitching display on Friday night to cut down their neighboring high school Rockwood 6-0 on 11 base hits.

Tim Cunningham pitched the entire game for the Panthers (3-2) yielding four hits and breezing for the most part of the game with the Tigers having a strong sixth inning with five runs.

Lenoir City took a commanding three run lead in the bottom of the first frame when Cunningham doubled to right center field with the bases loaded with two outs. Catcher Neal Foster slammed a deep sacrifice fly for another Panther run in the third inning.

The Panthers added a single score in the fourth inning and added three more scores in the fifth inning to lead by a top-side 8-1 count.

Rockwood sent 10 men to the plate in the rocky sixth inning against Cunningham as the rangy right hander struck the first man out but an error, a single and a home run by the Tigers Jerry Wheeler, who had two of their four safeties, had Tim off his pitching style.

Still another hit and two straight base on balls loaded the bases but Cunningham managed to gain another strikeout before an error provided two more runs. Cunningham struck out the 10th man of the inning for the second time and the Tigers better days came to an end.

The Tigers found Cunningham at his best in the seventh frame and the game was quickly over. Lenoir City collected 11 hits for the game paced by Cunningham at the plate with two doubles and a single in three trips. Gary Chambers had two hits as did Buddy Walker. Walker currently is the leading hitter for the Panthers with the most hits for the season.

Neil Foster, Doug Williams and Stamey all had clean safeties in the game. Rockwood played errorless ball for the night while the Panthers had two errors yielding unearned scores.

Dutton's Bandits Cop Red-White Game 22-14

Loudon High School football coaches found little relief in their decision to the number one quarterback for fall. The Redskins held their annual Red-White game Monday night in surprisingly chilly football type weather.

Coach Gary Dutton's Red team ran up a convincing 22-0 halftime score on the running of Tim Guider and the passing of Greg Watson. Only to experience a fiery comeback on the part of Coach Buddy Windel's White unit which accounted for 14 second half points and finalize the spring drills with a 22-14 score in favor of the Red squad.

Quarterback John Lovelace ignited the White team's second half play with scoring series of 40 yards and 30 yards to R. L. Brannam and Preston McQueen.

The Red Team used the all around skills of Tim Guider, who had two touchdowns and an extra point. The hard powering back also added a two point conversion. Sam Lytle added the third score on a 40 yard pass from Watson with Anthony Johnson adding the extra two points.

John Colvin scored the extra point for the White team.

The game was of near even play with the Red dominating most of the first half but glad to weather out the White team's blue ribbon effort to fight back and make a real game of the event.

Coach Bert Rutledge an observer was impressed with the improved play of several individuals who showed poorly in their blocking and tackling assignments in a scrimmage with Crossville last week.

But feels a large gap to fundamental improvement and team unity must be achieved before the Redskins will be ready for grid battle with any team in the regular season next fall.

HANDY HEAD GEAR—Loudon's White team defensive back R. L. Brannam and Red Team ball carrier Scott James meet head on in the Red-White intersquad scrimmage to end spring football practice. The Red team coached by Gary Dutton won the grid match 22-14.

MORRIS WILSON, A HIWASSEE JUNIOR COLLEGE STAR this past season, is the second former Loudon eager to sign a grant-in-aid with Tennessee Wesleyan College this year. The 6-2 Wilson inked a two-year scholarship last week, joining former teammate Ray Simmons at the Athens school. In high school at Loudon, when Simmons was a sophomore, Wilson was the most valuable player in the district tournaments and a leading scorer of the team. At Hiwassee he hit 51 per cent of his field goal attempts and averaged 16.7 points. Wilson's mother, Mrs. Mabel Wilson and TWC coach, Dwan Farmer, observe the signing. The star eager will have two years of eligibility at TWC. Wesleyan lost only one player by graduation and looks forward to a much improved season next year.

ROADSIDE TRASH - Since I started this campaign, I have been very much aware of the ever increasing problem of trash, garbage, papers, cans, bottles, and other waste materials dumped along the roadways in every part of the county. This must be corrected! If elected I plan to attack the problem two ways: (1) I will Catch and Prosecute those responsible for illegally dumping trash along the roadways. It can be done. There is new legislation on the books which helps greatly. (2) I will place trash receptacles at convenient points (road crossings, etc.) throughout the county so that citizens will have somewhere to put their waste and will not be tempted to violate the law by dumping trash along the roadside.

DRUG TRAFFIC - I will work diligently to eradicate the Drug Traffic among our young people! Professional help is available to attack this problem and I will use every means possible to attack the problem through strict enforcement of the laws and through education. I will work with School Officials and all other City and County Officials concerned to promote an effective educational campaign on the harmful effects of drugs.

EQUAL ENFORCEMENT - I will cooperate fully with the City Police of Lenoir City and Loudon, with the Rescue Squad, the Auxiliary Police, Constables, Highway Patrol and all other law officers for the greatest efficiency and effectiveness in law enforcement for ALL Loudon Countians.

Panther Golfers Experiencing Slump

The Lenoir City Golf team has run into a mid season slump that may extend throughout the rest of the week. The Panthers lost a match in sudden death some weeks back to Aloc and since the disappointing setback the Panthers have not been the same.

McMinn County caught the Lenoir City team at Noto County Club and the poor showing carried into a match last week with Maryville. The Red Devils of Blount County played Cedar Hills Golf Course like it was their own practice course. The Maryville team thus won with surprising ease 186 to 183. Chuck Easter was the pacer for Lenoir City with a 43. George Hardin had a 45 while Steve Henry had a 50 and David White a 43.

Lenoir City used their day off Friday from match play to practice and everyone seemed to have their shaperoops of the early spring. George Hardin even recorded a hole-in-one on the 145 yard sixth hole. But a stern test lay in store for Monday at Emory Golf Course in Harrison. The Harrison High School team with eight players capable of shooting under par golf on every outing was the opponent.

The Blue Devils were every bit the tough team they were billed as winning without much challenge 150-137. The score was Lenoir City worst showing of the spring and Coach Joe Hall hopes the dark cloud has passed as his team must play three games in a row this week and start next week off with a home match against Harrison at Cedar Hills.

Lenoir City Scores in the Harrison match had George Hardin with a 42 followed by Chuck Easter's 48, David White fired a 53 and Tim Galyon a 54.

Harrison's top golfer had a blistering 32 with his fourth man closing out with a high of 40.

Game & Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon, Game & Fish Commission

SUBJECT: FARM POND MANAGEMENT

Bill Seawell, District II Fisheries Biologist, says that although most of the fishing interest in east Tennessee is centered around reservoirs, the properly managed farm pond can provide some excellent fishing. Catching a one pound bluegill is a rare feat in the TVA reservoirs, but it can be a common occurrence in well-fertilized ponds. Fishing success is much more consistent in ponds, too. While the fisherman's luck varies with the seasons of the year and the individual's skill, fishing is usually good throughout the warm months in ponds.

Proper pond construction is important. A pond with few shallow areas and properly sloped sides will have many aquatic vegetation problems. The size of the waterbed is a factor that should be carefully considered. Excessive runoff flowing through the pond can make fertilization impractical. A good method of draining the pond is also desirable. Technical assistance in pond construction is available from your local Soil Conservation Service office.

Two main stocking combinations are used to stock Tennessee farm ponds - largemouth bass-bluegill and channel catfish only. Channel catfish are often added to the bass-bluegill, and bass are sometimes put in the channel catfish pond. Minimum size for a bass-bluegill pond is 1/4 acre. These species will do well in a pond smaller than 1/4 acre, but channel catfish may be stocked in the ponds down to one-tenth acre. The pond must be free of fish before it is stocked. Wild fish in the pond are responsible for many futile attempts at pond management. The proper number of each type of fish is necessary to insure good growth rate and proper "balance" between bass and bluegill. Wild fish should be removed by draining or by treating with rotenone. Any pond that is severely out of balance should be completely renovated and restocked.

Channel catfish are a good pond fish. They normally don't reproduce in a pond so they don't overpopulate. They can be restocked periodically. Catfish grow rapidly and will take pellets fish feed.

You can obtain fish to stock your pond without charge from the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission or the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Contact your local Game and Fish Officer or Soil Conservation Service Office for recommendations. Bluegill and channel catfish are stocked in October, November, or December. After they are well established, bass are stocked the following spring (June).

A good fertilization program helps maintain "balance" in the pond. It provides food for small fish which are in turn eaten by larger fish. Fish grow faster, and a fertilized pond produces up to four times the fish production of an unfertilized pond. Another benefit of fertilization is that green "blooms" shades out rooted aquatic plants.

Apply fertilizer in shallow water starting about April 1. Use one hundred pounds of 8-2 or an equivalent amount of any good non-acid forming fertilizer per surface acre of pond for each application: Eight to ten applications are usually needed during the warm months of the year. Discontinue fertilization about the middle of September.

Harvest in farm ponds must be controlled. Bluegill should provide the bulk of the fishing. Harvesting too many bass can throw the fish and can result in too many small bluegills.

Just a little time and effort can bring excellent fishing to your doorstep and the rewards are well worth the effort.

Two informative booklets, The Management of Tennessee Farm Ponds and Catfish Farming in Tennessee and several circulars are available from the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission. District fishery biologists provide technical assistance in pond management. Contact your local Game and Fish Office for details.

Greenback, Ianier Register 1-1 Deadlock

Greenback closed out its major portion of spring football drills Thursday afternoon with a rousing scrimmage with Ianier High School. The Cherokees battled the Eagles to a 1-1 tie in touchdowns but had near double the total offense of their opponent.

There was no kicking game used for the afternoon, with each team having the ball moved 30 yards when it became necessary to give up the ball on downs.

Greenback won the toss and received the ball at their own 30 yard line. The Cherokee offense clicked like a well oiled machine on the first series of downs. A run off tackle for four yards and a short bullet pass had the ball a yard shy of a first down. Darrell McColough picked up three yards from his running back position to secure the ball for four more plays.

Greenback quarterback Tony Linginfelter loosened up after the first down and with his free wheeling leadership the Cherokees had the Ianier defense backing anything that moved out of the offensive backfield.

Tim Hammetree (fullback) and Linginfelter used the triple option to gain a second first down at the mid-field stripe. Linginfelter cranked up his passing game on the following offensive maneuvers with Larry Ritchey (tangler) and Joe Mainor (split end) hauling in the aerials for a first down at the Ianier 30 yard line.

Lanier's defense finally broke through the offensive line of the Cherokees on route to trapping Linginfelter deep in the backfield. The foxey junior-to-be field general accepted the challenge and scrambled about until he spied flanker Larry Ritchey, a third choice receiver on this particular offensive pass play. The strong armed Linginfelter, who accounted for a near 150 yards in passing as a sophomore, whipped a 40 yard strike for a touchdown and a 1-0 lead.

Lanier failed to move the ball on the Cherokee defense in its first four tries with the football, but a few alterations on defense prevented Greenback from maintaining a full head of steam.

Lanier received the ball at the 50 yard line and struggled to its first down of the day on a stray pitch out which just luckily took an Eagle bounce.

Greenback's defense became too tough for the Eagle inside the 30 yard line and the Cherokee offense took over. A busted play lost 10 yards for the Greenback eleven and quickly forced the ball to move again over to Lanier. The Eagles had excellent field position and with momentum working in their favor plunged across the goal line for a tie 1-1 score.

The two teams swapped offensive chances but the spring heat was beginning to tell on both teams and a rest of starting units was welcomed.

The junior varsity of each team enjoyed a spirited chance to show their skills of the future with Lanier's reserves punching out a score before the regulars had caught their breath and cooled off a bit.

Greenback's junior varsity is made up of mostly seventh, eighth, and ninth graders which is a bright spot for Coach Keith Bailey to look forward to in the coming years.

Neither team could ever regain its sharpness for the final round of the afternoon. Greenback did move the ball but never was able to get everything together enough for a touchdown.

The Cherokees coaches, Keith Bailey and Jerry Masingo, felt that they have accomplished a lot this spring with a few new found performers capable of becoming corner posts in the stabilizing of what looms as a consistent winner in the fall.

Other entertainment will be used by the Quarterback Club to continue the athletic programs for this area.

Lenoir Diamond Crew Victimized In Perfect Game

The way to assure victory at most anything is to be perfect, and baseball is no exception. Phil McCollough reached perfection Friday night at Lenoir City and hurled his Harriman baseball team to a 2-0 victory as he posted a no-hitter.

The senior pitcher struck out the first 12 men he faced and allowed only 21 batters to get up in the seven inning battle. He allowed the ball hit into fair territory only four times, two to the mound and two to first base.

It was McCollough's second no-hit game in his high school career.

In all the right handed fanned 17 Panthers enroute to the second win of the season. The victory put his season record at 2-3.

Lenoir Tommy Cook yielded only five hits. Neither team committed an error.

Chris Martin and Neal Flemmons knocked in runs for Harriman. The hero of the night, McCollough, also got a double.

Harriman got his first run in the third frame, about the time McCollough started to get stronger and stronger. The Devils added their other run in the sixth, and from there it was downhill for the team and for the perfect pitcher.

Bird Hunter Trials Held

On April 22 and 23, the Fort Loudon Bird Hunters Club held its Spring Field Trial on the farm of Mrs. Red Robinson. The grounds located 7 miles north of Loudon were in excellent condition as 10 dogs from seven states vied for honors. As "progress" invades Loudon County this trial marks the demise of one of the best Field Trial Grounds in all of Tennessee. The 1-75 complex intersects this beautiful property and one would be remiss if he did not thank the gracious and lovely Mrs. Robinson for her support and patronage over the years.

Action Getting Hot For $1,800 411 Purse

With the advent of newer more modern cars racing in the Late Model Sportsman 411 International Raceway the general consensus among railbirds is that, a red hot battle will be waged this season long on any given Friday night.

The $1,800 purse posted for each race is reason enough for the drivers to give it their best even in the Hobby ranks, but the fantastic cash points award at the end of the season is creating a "race as hard as you can attitude" among those drivers in attendance, with never a sure-fire winner until the checkered flag falls at the end of the race.

James (Jimmy) Foster, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Foster, Sr., 818 Rosedale Avenue, Loudon, will receive his B.S. Degree in the College of Pharmacy from the University of Tennessee on June 4.

JAMES FOSTER, JR.

Jimmy, a graduate of Loudon High School, has been accepted for admittance into the Doctors Doctors Program (Pharm-D) at UT. The Pharm-D Program, which is relatively new at the University of Tennessee College of Pharmacy, was started in the summer of 1968. To date there have been 33 degrees awarded.

The Pharm-D Degree is a professional doctorate, which is similar to the MD or DDS and is not a research oriented degree. The program at the University of Tennessee requires a minimum of 18 months of training after completion of a B.S. Degree in Pharmacy. The program is designed to produce practitioners with a patient oriented attitude and increased professional decision making capabilities. These people should not only be capable in the areas of drug distribution and control, but they should be capable providers of all types of drug information to patients, physicians, nurses, etc. They should possess the ability to monitor a patient's drug therapy, to evaluate, detect and prevent various drug problems, such as adverse effects (side toxic effects, allergic responses, etc.). These students also participate in many other activities and courses such as seminars, teaching labs, supervising senior students, clinical training at the Satellite Pharmacy and in the Clinical Pharmacy in the Gator Unit and presenting case studies to the Senior Class. In summary, the Pharm-D Program is an extensive clinical program with emphasis on individual student effort, patient care, communications and expanding roles for the Pharmacist. Jimmy served as the Drum Major of Loudon High School's Marching Band until his graduation in 1967.

Farmers Reminded Of Regulations

Loudon County farm producers who are participating in the 1972 Feed Grain and Wheat Programs are reminded that cropland set aside under the provisions of the program must be equal in productivity to other land on the farm. To be eligible for payment the land set aside must be capable of producing crops equal to the other fields on the farm and must be well cared for and mowed. The land must not be pastured after April 1 and will be released for pasturing on September 30.

Your County In Action

LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

"Question 3"
One of the things that we are going to be hearing more and more about as the time comes on for the voting on the proposed constitutional amendments ("Question 3") in August is whether or not "Question 3" should be approved by the voters of Tennessee, and thereby amend our constitution.

At the East Tennessee Development District executive committee meeting last week, a representative of the Knox County League of Women Voters discussed this question in some detail with us. This group seems to have made a quite thorough study of the whole situation, and has come up with their own recommendation. Of course, other groups have made through studies also, and have come up with a different conclusion. But the only way those of us who haven't studied it can come to any conclusion, is to look at all of the points raised by both sides.

Good Points
This lady stated that there are some good points to the proposed amendment, and those points are as follows:
(1) It would classify property into real, personal, tangible, and personal intangible.
(2) The Property Assessor's job will be much more complicated, and it will be easier for classifications of property to get out of kilter.
(3) It will be more expensive for the average taxpayer to find out whether his assessment is just.

(4) It may keep industries from locating in some counties in Tennessee.
(5) The amendments are too limiting to be part of a constitution, and it takes seven years to amend the constitution again.
(6) It is possible that the classification of property may be illegal under the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment of the U. S. Constitution.

Study Needed
We will hear more and more as we go along, and possibly become more and more confused. I still have not made my mind up, although on the face of it, it looks to be a very good thing for politicians to support, because it lowers the property assessment percentage on personal residences.

But if the net effect of this is to raise utility prices, and to keep industry from locating thereby limiting the job opportunities, and if it causes rents to increase—if all these things are true, then the net effect must be very closely examined to see whether or not we are pulling the wool over our own eyes.

I nearly fell out of my chair when I read the Herald last week, and there was a letter to the editor thanking me for some information in my column. (This happened a few days far between and I appreciate it.)

I read with great pleasure and interest in last week's NEWS the story of the birth of the Regional Library System in the State of Tennessee, and the role that Mrs. T. E. Mills played in this story. There is really no way to thank enough those citizens who have taken special projects like this, and promoted, and pushed, and kept with it until the goal has been attained.

We have other important problems, and needs, facing us now, and it is hopeful that we will continue to have citizens who can follow in the footsteps of outstanding citizens like Mrs. Mills.

As you will probably read in this newspaper, the recommendation from the Loudon County Planning Commission concerning the matter about which I wrote last week (pertaining to the potential location of a quarry near the proposed Sugar Limb interchange on I-75) is to rezone this area for quarry and hot-mix asphalt plant.

Considering all the angles, this course of action appeared to be best to the Planning Commission Staff, and was adopted by the Planning Commission itself, and will be considered by the Quarterly Court at its next meeting.

On another matter, the recommendation of the Loudon County Planning Commission that the area zoned industrial in the Shaw Ferry and Simpson Road area, just north of the present Mustang Plant, remain industrial, was followed by a certain extent by the County Planning Commission in its recommendation to the Quarterly Court, in that almost all of the residences in the area would be rezoned to industrial, but that the balance of the large tracts would be retained as industrial. This matter will also be considered by the Quarterly Court at its next meeting.

The important point is that the community has a voice in these decisions. I think we are lucky to have a Planning Commission and Zoning Regulations as we look toward the future, and hopefully the planning function will gain more support as we go along.

I noticed Wilma Dykeman's column the other day wherein she stated "The rural slums which infest East Tennessee, Southern Appalachia, and large portions of America are a blight, a shame, and a disgrace," indicated in her column, I think that the planning for the future and the efforts toward cleaning up our "garbage strewn" roadsides are a necessity.

ATTEND CHURCH EVERY WEEK

The Church is God's appointed agency in the world for spreading the knowledge of the love for sin and for the sinner. It is our duty to attend to the things of God, to be diligent in our attendance, to be faithful in our contributions, to be obedient in our service, to be united in our fellowship, to be zealous in our witness, to be pure in our lives, to be holy in our hearts, to be kind in our words, to be gentle in our spirit, to be patient in our suffering, to be steadfast in our faith, to be courageous in our witness, to be meek in our spirit, to be lowly in our hearts, to be humble in our service, to be obedient in our service, to be united in our fellowship, to be zealous in our witness, to be pure in our lives, to be holy in our hearts, to be kind in our words, to be gentle in our spirit, to be patient in our suffering, to be steadfast in our faith, to be courageous in our witness, to be meek in our spirit, to be lowly in our hearts, to be humble in our service.

She also loaned us other pictures which we will be using later. Our many thanks to both of these ladies.
Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

Possibly one of the most interesting and very important parts of our area a few years ago was the old time blacksmith shop, which has now passed from the everyday scene. But it's one of existence left many imprints in the shifting sands of time. These imprints are an important part of history and the memories of many people.

When I was growing up in Loudon, just about every section of town had it's Blacksmith Shop. Most of the work came from farmers in outlying sections of our area.

I would like to mention some that we remember. There was the old George Hart Shop on Greasy Corner, not only a Blacksmith Shop but also produced many outstanding violins, which many of them are possibly still around. This was also a place where you could get into a checker game if you were good enough. Some of the games would last for several hours. Mr. Hart would always put aside his jobs for a good checker game. He would get upset if you asked him to do a job when he was engaged in a game of checkers.

Also on Greasy Corner in a section along the edge of the Loudon Baseball Park, stood another old Blacksmith Shop. I remember when the late Cracky McNabb operated this old shop. Mr. McNabb was a very strong and healthy man who could shoe the roughest and wildest horses and mules they could bring him. He later operated a shop over near his home on Brigham Street. If I am not mistaken, his son, Buck, worked with him.

Another name that is well known in Loudon County in the field of Blacksmiths is the Edwards name and possibly retired Smithy. Huisell Edwards is the only one of the old time Blacksmiths still living. Mr. Edwards operated the old shop which still stands on the Half farm.

Of course, our thoughts are usually motivated by the conversation of old timers or what use to be known as Mexico. This brings up something as mean as Leonard is a resident of this area. Maybe he could do us a favor by finding out how this area got this name and who named it. O.K. Leonard, let us hear from you.

We received two of the Blacksmith Shop pictures just alike. One of them was loaned to us by Mrs. Clifford Stead, a daughter of Charlie Jaynes and she also loaned us the Lanter picture. The other one came to us from Mrs. Arrie Jaynes of 1609 Grove Street.

Mr. Charlie Jaynes for many years had a shop in back of his home on Church Street. This old picture, which was made at the shop of the father of Mr. Jaynes, was taken many years ago. We think this shop used to be located on Main Street or nearby. There is another one of the Jaynes boys in the picture.

Our other picture this week is of a well-known Loudon family of many years ago. Of course, one of those in this picture is living in Loudon today and is well known. The family is the Lanter family, who lived for many years on Steekee Street in Loudon. The young lad in the picture is a little older today and is Leonard Lanter who lives over near the Greer's Warehouse in

FOR SHERIFF Thursday, May 4, 1972 Republican Primary

I am a life long resident of Loudon County and have been active in the Republican Party of the county for 40 years. I am a Veteran, having served in World War II.

In my profession of law enforcement I am a graduate of the FBI School of Officer Training; graduate of numerous law enforcement training schools; graduate of the Tennessee Law Enforcement Academy at Donelson and a vice president and member of the board of directors of the Tennessee Sheriff's Youth Town at Jackson.

As your sheriff I have averaged 16 hours a day, seven days a week on duty trying to make Loudon County a better and safer place for you to live. I have done this because the job demands it if you are to adequately serve the people who have placed their confidence in you.

I am asking you to nominate me in the Republican Primary next Thursday on the strength of my record as sheriff during the past three and one half years. I am proud of the record of my department during this time. If you agree that I have fulfilled my duties in the past I ask you to let me have two more years in this office.

If nominated in the Republican Primary, then elected in the August General Election it would mean I would have held the office of Sheriff for six years when the term expires in August of 1974. This would be three terms in the office, all that is allowed by present law. At this time, of course, I would retire.

I pledge to you, if nominated and elected, I will continue to improve the effectiveness and image of the department, through continued hiring of the most qualified men who will be trained to handle the difficult duties that face them in their day to day activity.

As I have stated before, in my 17 years of law enforcement I have never seen a better staffed and equipped Sheriff's Department in our county. I am proud of it and wish to continue in my present capacity as Sheriff.

Due to the heavy work load as Sheriff it has been impossible for me to make a door to door campaign to get to talk with many of you personally. I hope you will take this message as a personal request from me to give me your vote and support in the May 4, Republican Primary.

TWO KILLED—State Trooper Kenneth Cox and County Deputy Kenneth Brown survey the wreckage of two cars that collided head-on on U.S. 11 near Lenoir City last Friday afternoon killing both drivers. Driver of one of the cars, Charles Lane, was said to be driving on the wrong side of the road at the time of the accident.

Cars Collide Headon, Drivers Killed

A head-on collision on Highway 11 just north of Lenoir City about 4:25 p.m. Friday in front of David Denton Motors left the drivers of cars dead. Charles H. Lane, 27, Hi. 3, Lenoir City, was dead on arrival at Presbyterian Hospital in Knoxville. There were no passengers in either car. State Trooper Kenneth Cox said the Lane car a 1969 Pontiac was traveling south in the wrong lane when it struck Mr. Jenkins' 1972 Chevrolet at an apparent high rate of speed. The vehicles, both demolished, had to be pulled apart by wreckers.

STOLEN GOODS RECOVERED—Sweetwater Police Chief Glenn Carter, officer J.R. Althart, Loudon County Deputy J.C. Hammonree and Venable Police Chief Reid Lindsey are shown with a 1971 Mustang, Honda Motor Cycle and a variety of power and hand tools that were recovered in Loudon County this past week. The three law enforcement agencies cooperated in recovering the items, all stolen in Monroe County and arresting two young men who have been charged with larceny.

Deputy Recovers Stolen Car, Tools, Cycle, Youths Arrested

Sometimes patience pays off. At least this is what Loudon County Deputy J. C. Hammonree found out this past week. Hammonree spotted a 1971 Mustang hidden in a pine thicket near Greenback in the Trigona Community last week and decided somebody was up in something. So he just kept the car staked out for about a day. In the meantime he learned that the car had been stolen in Monroe County and was believed used in a break-in at

H & V Motor Sales there last week. The wait paid off. Two young Greenback men have since been charged in the theft of the car, that of a motorcycle and the break-in at the motor company, and most of the tools and stolen property have been recovered. Hammonree notified Venable Police Chief Reid Lindsey of the situation and the two of them hid out in the trees near the car. Last Thursday night two youths, identified as Melvin Long, 19, and David Sharp, 17, both of Greenback showed up at the car carrying two containers of gasoline. Both were arrested on the spot and were said to have keys to the car in their possession. In the same vicinity, some of the more than $1500 in tools taken from the Sweetwater car dealer's garage were found stashed in the woods. Later a 350 Honda motorcycle also stolen from Sweetwater was found nearby Monday of this week more of the tools taken in the break-in were found in the possession of a Greenback man who said he bought them from the boys. Also recovered were some stolen license plates and a car tape player. The two youths are being held in Monroe County Jail under charges of larceny.

Sweetwater Police Chief Glenn Carter said the action by the Loudon County Deputy was to be commended and had not been for his patience much of the merchandise might not have been found and the charges brought against the defendants. Venable Chief Lindsey also complimented the Loudon County Sheriff's Department for their cooperation in the arrest and for planning the operation that led to the boys' arrests. The officers are anticipating that other arrests will be made in connection with the case.

Squires Seek Solution To Ambulance Question

In special session last Wednesday night Loudon County Squires ordered a committee of its own members to develop a plan and make a recommendation to give the citizens of the county emergency ambulance service prior to the July 1 deadline that local funeral home owners have established for going out of that service. In May of last year the funeral directors first told the court they were being forced out of the ambulance service, a sideline service of their business, because of wage and hour regulations and proposed safety regulations. During the past year the county has made a study of possible ways to operate an ambulance service or offer a subsidy to the local funeral homes to continue the service. Nothing concrete or workable using the local funeral homes has been found. Funeral directors Harvey Hawkins and Cecil Karnes, present at the meeting, both stated that they did not want to leave the public without ambulance service and did not want to quit. They urged the court to take some immediate action.

Judge Harvey Sprout presented a copy of state legislation pertaining to ambulance services which sets high requirements on equipment and personnel, but said that should the county want to it could exempt itself from the measure.

Squire I. D. Conner said that he could well understand the plea of the funeral directors, one of which told him that out of 71 calls made in one month only 14 were collected. Mr. Karnes said that the safety and equipment proposals were not the main problem, but the wage and hour laws were the main reason that funeral homes were being forced out of the ambulance business.

The Squire said that Loudon and Monroe County were the only counties in the state that did not now have some type of ambulance service, other than the independent operations of the funeral homes.

Little Miss-LaPetite Events Reset For June

Two important changes were announced this week by the Loudon Jaycees and Jayettes concerning the "Our Little Miss-Miss-LaPetite" pageant. Because of unforeseen difficulties in staging the pageant, the clubs have postponed the date of the pageant to June 9. The pageant chairman, Mrs. Tom Elliott, stated, "Since this is our first official 'Our Little Miss-Miss-LaPetite' pageant preliminaries, we felt that we needed more time in which to prepare ourselves. We hope that this extra time will enable us to stage a more enjoyable show for our audience." "There is a very thick manual with which we must familiarize ourselves and many pageant rules to which we must adhere. This is proving to be quite a learning experience for us. In addition, we need more time in which to prepare our program for the printer." The event is still scheduled for the Loudon High School Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. The Jaycees also received notification that they may accept entrants who are sponsored by a business. Each contestant is responsible for obtaining her own sponsorship, however. The $15 entry fee includes two dollars which buys insurance coverage up to $5000 for the local preliminary and extends through all higher levels of the pageant. The officers are anticipating that other arrests will be made in connection with the case. (Continued on Page 7)

Sheriff's Race Of Biggest Interest

It appears that the race for the Republican nomination for Sheriff will have the most interest among voters in Thursday's election, despite the fact that the Democrat and Republican Presidential Preference Primaries are being held at the same time. Most all election watchers in the county concede that George Wallace will take the Democratic vote and President Nixon will sweep the Republican vote.

The top local GOP race is between incumbent Sheriff Freeman Russell, who is seeking his third term in office and Fred Sheppard, a former Chief Deputy with the Sheriff's Department.

Polls for the election will open throughout the county at 9 a.m. and will remain open all day. The Luttrell Precincts until 7 p.m. The Luttrell precinct will close at 4 p.m. because of the use of paper ballots.

A composite sample ballot showing machine ball setup, with the various district races added as it is published as a separate insert, listing all the candidates and issues in the election.

Besides the local primary and the two presidential primaries, there are two other issues on the ballot. The first is called the "Busing Amendment" which asks for the "for" or "against" vote on the adoption of an amendment to the United States Constitution forbidding busing of children out of their neighborhoods for the primary purpose to achieve racial balance. The other is a resolution by the Quarterly Court of Loudon County for increasing the maximum tax on a single article from $5 to $7.50 under the local one and one half cent sales tax law.

As shown on the ballot there are several district races. Two men are running for Road Commissioner in the second and fifth districts and two others in the third district. There is also a race between five men for the two constable nominations in the first district.

Other races in the local primary are for Justice of the Peace where all candidates are unopposed, as are the candidates for constable in the second, third and fifth districts. Property Assessor Emmet Carter is also unopposed for the GOP nomination.

As was announced last week the voting machines are being set up in a method that will not allow voters to learn of extra charges in certain areas and avoid them. He said it would take four or five days to set up the machines and it would be impossible for a person to vote in the Democratic Presidential Primary and also in the local Republican Primary.

After more than an hour of impassioned pleas from motel owners and their supporters Loudon County Court Wednesday night in a "called" session ratified the controversial five percent transient room occupancy tax on motel and hotel rooms in a six to three roll vote.

The adopter came just two days before the private act passed in the State Legislature at the request of the court would have been voided. Although the act was adopted the court did not pass the necessary resolution to require the motel and hotel owners to start collecting the tax from customers.

The proceeds from the tax earmarked to the court to help pay for the county share of the construction of connector roads to I-75 interchanges at Sugar Limb and Philadelphia.

The sentiment of the court at the roll call vote was to adopt the act, which would give the county the authority to collect such a tax, but to wait and see if the one half cent sales tax, which is also being passed in referendum, would be enough in itself. Voting for the measure were Squires J. J. Blair, Roy Blount, D. Conner, James Hartsock, Curtis Williams and H. P. Hamilton. Voting no were Jack Leller, Henry Foster and G. Hudson.

About 50 persons were in the courtroom supporting the motel owners in trying to get the court to kill the measure, which they say is a "discriminatory tax."

Motel owner Norman Lawhorn, first to speak to the court said, "The motel industry honestly feels the five percent tax will hurt our business and the business of other related businesses." He said the tax was a discrimination against the local motel owners and he would rather pay a toll for the use of the roads and if the court wanted to be fair they would vote against the motel tax. Billy Ray Summit, who says he travels extensively in the northeast and plans to build a restaurant and motel here in the near future, said his travels have taught him that travelers learn of extra charges in certain areas and avoid them. He said it would take four or five days to set up the machines and it would be impossible for a person to vote in the Democratic Presidential Primary and also in the local Republican Primary.

Soil Stewardship Week, a nationwide observance which places emphasis on man's obligation to God as stewards of the soil, water, and other resources, will be observed, May 7-14, according to Mr. and Mrs. Paul K. Arp, Co-Chairman of the Soil Stewardship Committee of the Tennessee Association of Conservation Districts.

"Creative Conservation," the theme of this year's observance, underscores the responsibility which each citizen has in fulfilling his or her role as caretaker of the realm. The Loudon County Soil and Water Conservation District and some 3,000 conservation districts throughout the nation along with their State and National Associates are sponsoring the observance for the 18th consecutive year.

Sermons by ministers may be submitted (handwritten or typed up to 250 words) to the office by July 1st, to be eligible for awards up to $50.00. Sermons to be delivered between the dates of April 30th - May 21st. This year the judges will be selected by the Tennessee Association of Conservation Districts.

Meinda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kirkland, Loudon.

To be eligible for the Honor Roll at Hiwassee, the student must be registered for twelve or more quarter hours and maintain a grade point average of 3.00 (B) in all academic subjects.

To be eligible for the Honor Roll at Hiwassee College, the student must be registered for twelve or more quarter hours and maintain an overall grade point average of 3.00 (B) in all academic subjects.

Knoxville U. T. was at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Myers at the weekend.

participating in County Day followed the same schedule as in the past, the invocation by W. McMurray, Pledge to the Flag led by J.V. Schrimsher, the introduction of Delegates and outline of day by Ed Bailey, the introduction of delegates to the duties of their respective offices, the delicious luncheon at the First Methodist Church, and further activities with the officials. Charles F. Braxkell, U.T., was the main speaker at the luncheon. One of the points he emphasized most was commitment. He gave several examples of people in Tennessee committing themselves not because of money but because of their care and their want to do it.

More Single Men In County Survey Shows

Calling all single women. Now hear this. Loudon County is loaded with single men. Bachelors abound in the local area to the extent that there are, according to the official count, some 111 of them parading around unattached for every 100 single women.

The ratio is quite different locally than in many other sections of the country. In some communities, in fact, the surplus is in the other direction. The figures on the marital status of the population come from nationwide data gathered, in connection with the recent census, by the Department of Commerce. They show that the number of single men and boys in the local area over the age of 14 is 2,024, while the corresponding number of single women and girls is only 1,825. This is exclusive of divorced or widowed persons. Taken into account are only those who have never been married. Nationally, according to the report, 28.6 percent of the men over 14 and 22.4 percent of the women are single. In the State of Tennessee, some 26.6 percent of the men and 20.3 percent of the women are in that category.

Despite the considerable number of men and women of marriageable age who are still single, the institution of marriage is stronger than ever, the figures indicate. Its growing strength, notwithstanding the large number of divorces taking place, is brought out in a recent government study.

It shows that more than two-thirds of the population over age 14 are now married but that, at the turn of the century, no more than one-half in that age bracket were. In Loudon County, the Census Bureau reports, 6,125 of the men and 6,199 of the women are married. Although the latest national statistics show a near-record number of weddings last year, partly due to the fact that the population is greater, a paradox exists in that the number of single persons remains relatively large.

The explanation, in part, is that marriages are taking place at a later age than they did in the 1960's.

3,000 Year Old Indian Site Uncovered By 75 Bridge Construction At Loudon

EXCAVATING SITES—Two University of Tennessee students work on their hands and knees to excavate one of two prehistoric Indian sites within the Interstate 75 right-of-way in Loudon County. Preliminary indications are that the sites are 3,000 to 4,000 years old. The work will not delay completion of the super highway.

Giant bulldozers have given way to digging with hand shovels and tablespoons on a section of Interstate 75 in Loudon County, but the change will not delay completion of the important north-south expressway.

The Tennessee Department of Highways and the University of Tennessee at Knoxville have entered into a contract to permit the archaeological study and salvage of two prehistoric Indian habitation sites discovered within the 1-75 right-of-way on the north bank of the Tennessee River.

Dr. Charles H. Faulkner, associate professor of anthropology at UT and technical director of the study, said preliminary indications are that the site is at least 3,000 to 4,000 years old. "Nothing that old has been excavated in the East Tennessee area before," he said. "We are not so interested in the actual artifacts being uncovered as we are in the story they have to tell us."

"The soil is very acid so we have not found any bones nor have we found any characteristic artifacts, but we have uncovered some pottery and it appears to be of a pre-ceramic era."

Dr. Faulkner said there are many fire blackened rocks in the area indicating a "living fire," but no tools have been excavated. On site excavation is being conducted by Dr. Major McCollough of Pennsylvania and a party of seven students from the university. Dr. Faulkner has also taken some of his classes to the site. All artifacts are being returned to UT for study and display.

The work is being financed through a $35,500 grant from the Federal Highway Administration for the preservation of antiquities.

Digging began in the area March 29 and is expected to be concluded in July. It is currently at the three to four-foot level.

Both sites are located along the north approach to the planned bridge structure to carry the 1-75 roadway over the Tennessee River and on land acquired from Catherine Josephine Doughty Higgs.

The first site is approximately 150 feet by 150 feet and is situated on the east side of 1-75 centerline. It extends westerly into the right-of-way and is located on the river's north bank adjacent to the river channel.

The second excavation is also located on the east side of the Interstate project, extending along the east right-of-way line approximately 100 feet, and is situated on higher ground about 400 feet back from the river bank.

The river bank site was exposed and led to the additional excavation. The sites were first surveyed by UT officials in 1967 in company with representatives from the highway department and FHWA. Completion of the interstate is scheduled for 1974.

UT CONCERT BAND

U-T Concert Band In Loudon Friday

The University of Tennessee Wind Ensemble and Concert Band, under the direction of Dr. W. J. Julian, will present a special program at Loudon High School auditorium Friday night, May 5, at 7:30 p.m.

The appearance here is sponsored by the Loudon County Arts Association with the joint support of the Tennessee Arts Commission and the National Endowment for the Arts.

The general public is invited. Tickets, at $1 for adults and 50 cents for students, are available at the three downtown drug stores in Lenoir City and at several business places in Loudon, Mrs. E. C. Swenson, president of the local Arts Association said.

Also expected to accompany the band on its trip here will be Walter McDaniel, UT Assistant Band Director and formerly Loudon City High School Band Director.

On Friday night's program, the Wind Ensemble will present, "Pageant," by Persichetti; "Variations on America," by Charles Ives; "Concerto for Saxophone," by Paul Creston, featuring Douglas Masek, saxophone soloist, and A. Richard Rogers Symphonic Portrait.

Following an intermission, the band will play "Washington Grays March," by C. S. Grafulla; "Overture to Rienzi," by Richard Wagner; "Incantation and Dance," by John Barnes Chance; "Australan Up-Country Tune," by Percy Grainger; "March for the Sultan Abdul Medjid," by Gioacchino Rossini, and "American Salute," by Morton Gould.

With a history dating back to just after the Civil War, the University of Tennessee Band is most famous for its "Pride of the Southland," marching appearances at all home football games and three out-of-town games. The marching bandmen also have appeared on national television and in all the major post-season bowls. The band has represented Tennessee at the Eisenhower, Johnson and Nixon inaugurations.

On this particular question I suppose you have to go back and say whether or not we need, or could use the additional interchanges.

Originally the idea was that this would help industrial development and tourist development, thereby increasing the economy and the tax base of the County in general.

In addition it would be a great convenience to local citizens in getting to other places; and being able to have this additional type of access would help to limit somewhat the radical division that the Interstate Highway has the effect of doing. You know, you can't cross it any better than you can cross a wide river, if at all.

Next Question If the two additional interchanges are desirable, or necessary, then how do you pay for them?

Will a property tax on all the people be the best way? Special taxes are levied on gasoline, whiskey, cigarettes, income taxes, and other taxes, but there are very few that are allowed to be levied by a local government, or if allowed, that are practical to collect.

The figures that we have received so far on the additional 1/2 cent sales tax which was passed by the voters of the County last summer indicate that it will be sufficient to pay from 1/2 to one-third of the cost, with there being some speculation as to how soon it would be able to take up the full cost of paying the principal on the interest of the bonds necessary to build the connecting roads.

To the best of my knowledge there was no one who knew what was going to be proposed on the day that the special meeting was called last summer to determine whether or not the County would get the additional interchanges. Squire James Hartcock at that meeting proposed the possibility of handling the cost of the proposed roads by using a Hotel-Motel tax which in the meantime would be supplemented by the 1/2 cent sales tax. His explanation was that most of the people using the hotels and motels would be

Cancer Drive Slated Here In May

Mrs. Harry Pease has been named Chairman of the Loudon County Unit of the American Cancer Society's 1972 educational and fund-raising Crusade.

The 1972 Crusade is under the national chairmanship of Joan Crawford, the celebrated movie actress who is also a successful business woman.

"Our theme is, 'We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime,'" declared Mrs. Pease "and we will be calling on our friends and neighbors to make a generous gift to the Society as well as to bring them a life-saving message about cancer."

Mrs. Pease brings to the post a dedicated commitment to help win the war against cancer.

"During the past year the war against cancer began to receive high national priority," declared Mrs. Pease. "Let us back up the scientists with a vigorous effort to get all Americans to have a regular health checkup, including cancer tests."

The theme of "We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime" grows out of the great advances that science has made in recent years in combating cancer with new drugs, and more advanced methods of surgery and radiation. Also it reflects the judgment of many eminent physicians that we may be approaching the staging area for a major assault on these dread diseases, Mrs. Pease said.

"Every dollar that is given to the American Cancer Society, helps support vital programs of public education, research, and patient services," declared Mrs. Pease.

The local fund raising campaign will be held the week of May 21-27 Mrs. Pease said, and many volunteer workers are needed. Those who might want to volunteer a few hours of their time may call her for further information.

"The war against cancer has reached a new stage and we hope to see new victories in the '70's," declared Mrs. Pease, 1972 Crusade Chairwoman of the Loudon County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

Mrs. Pease said the priority placed on the conquest of cancer by the nation has moved basic research to a level at which organized and adequately funded research may pay off more and more.

In the stepped up struggle, she said, ACS will increase support to research projects as well as the training of medical and cancer research personnel. Mrs. Pease pointed out that the American Cancer Society has spent altogether more than $250-million to support research.

"As the research forges ahead some cancers considered incurable only a few years ago are becoming manageable - even curable," Mrs. Pease pointed out.

Retinoblastoma, a childhood eye tumor as well as Wilms' tumor (a childhood kidney cancer) have yielded steadily to drug therapy during the past 20 years. Leukemia is beginning to yield to scientific discoveries that enable physicians to control some forms of leukemia five to 15 years.

Another example of the work of ACS-supported cancer researchers are efforts to determine what role viruses play in triggering cancer, while others are seeking an answer to the question, "Is there natural immunity against cancer? Can immunity against cancer be acquired?"

"Diagnostic tests for certain cancers are being sought that would enable a physician to detect the disease before symptoms appear, as the Pap test now can do," Mrs. Pease said.

Three Go On Trial For Swiney Murder Monday

The murder trial of three men charged in the kidnapping and shooting death of Monte Swiney of Philadelphia in October of 1971 is scheduled to begin in Monroe County Criminal Court Monday. All three defendants are now said to be in Monroe County Jail awaiting the trial.

Two of the defendants, who were charged with armed robbery in Kentucky, just a few days following the Swiney murder, have been extradited to Tennessee from a Kentucky prison where they are serving a life sentence for the crime there. They are Arnold Carter and Danny Barnes. The third defendant Leslie Joe Lynn has been in jail in Madisonville since being released by Kentucky officials.

Mr. Swiney, a former school teacher, and civic leader in Philadelphia, had been working as a night attendant in a service station near Sweetwater when he was kidnapped and was later found shot to death along side a Benton rural road, some 50 miles from the place he was last seen alive.

The victim's wife and three children reside in Philadelphia.

LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

$7.50 Item

Some people may be wondering, or may have known and forgotten, why the matter is on the Presidential Ballot concerning the raising of the single item limitation on articles subject to the local sales tax from $5.00 to $7.50.

The $5.00 limitation for a single item is used in those situations where you have a 1 cent local sales tax.

Loudon County last summer passed an additional 1/2 cent sales tax, but by error the wording was left at $5.00, when in fact it should have been raised to $7.50, to be consistent with State-wide practice where the additional 1/2 cent tax has been passed, and to simplify the bookkeeping for the State Revenue Department.

The thinking is that the single-item limitation should be proportionately raised in accordance with what is being raised on all other articles being purchased by consumers.

Of course, there are some who argue that there should not be any single-item limitation at all, but we will leave that discussion to another day.

Hotel-Motel Tax

Our last Quarterly Court meeting, the Special Meeting called for Wednesday a week ago for the purpose of considering the ratification of a Private Act which would authorize the Quarterly Court to levy a 5 cent Hotel-Motel (tax on transients (people staying overnight) was well-attended by those opposing ratification of the act.

The use of this tax was the basis on which the necessary number of the Quarterly Court members had agreed last summer to go ahead and build two connecting roads in order to get two additional Interchanges on Interstate 75.

The prospective cost of this $1,000,000 at the time, of which half would be a Federal grant, but it now looks as if Loudon County's prospective portion of $500,000 will be increased because of the change of the location of the Sugar Limb connecting road route which involves the moving of a great deal of dirt.

I suppose people who attend Quarterly Court meetings, or City Council meetings, on a fairly regular basis often wonder why a person would ever offer himself to run as a square of city councilman because there is just no way that you can satisfy everybody and still get the things done that have to be done.

Any way he votes there are going to be a substantial number of people who are going to say that he should have gone the other way (which ever way that was) and sometimes his vote may be in direct opposition to requests and advice from his best friend.

So we are going to continue to have controversy if we are going to be doing anything for not doing anything, and about

Court Adopts Motel Tax, Delays Levy

The sales tax money available for the road is much less than the total amount received by the county. He said after the cities get their part, education gets their share only about $8,000 has been set aside for the roads in the four months of collections that have been received.
The Judge agreed that the sales tax collections have been increasing at a good rate, some 17 percent last year, but that this growth might not last. He said the state average was only six to eight percent. He said at the present rate it would be about five years before the sales tax income could carry the bond service on the issue for the roads and it was this reason that the Squires felt the motel tax would be necessary.

Squire J. J. Blair and I. D. Connor both mentioned that when the motel tax was brought up last summer none of the motel people said a word about being unhappy over it and it was only after the court had voted to ask for the legislation and after the legislation had been passed in Nashville in February that the motel owners started their move to fight the effort.
Squire Blair said that the court was in the middle, that they had committed themselves to the people to build the connectors and not to put the burden on the property tax rate to pay for them. He agreed that if the sales tax would pay for the bonds it would not be necessary to use the motel tax law, but if it didn't he thought the court had no other recourse but to levy the tax.

In Cherokee Game Orange Whips Black

Greenback held its Orange and Black football game to officially conclude spring grid work at the Cherokee camp. The Orange team, coached by junior varsity aid Jake Chapman, a Greenback standout in 1968, won with surprising ease over the Black squad 44-0.

Assistant Coach Jerry Masingo was the boss of the startled Black team.

Tony Linginfeller, a junior-to-be in the fall, quarterbacked both teams.

The entire Greenback student body got a chance to view the spring clash. The game was held at 1:00 p.m. Wednesday afternoon with playing conditions most favorable as temperature remained in the low 60's.

The Orange team wasted little time in striking up a cheering gallery and testing the score board as Linginfeller directed the victors down the field with a high degree of smoothness. Joe Mainer got the first touchdown on a 27 yard screen pass that caught the Black defense flat footed. Tony Linginfeller ran a booting to his left for the two point conversion.

The Black team without the established receivers of the Orange unit had to depend much on the workhorse running of Tim Hamontree. Thus the Black offense was fairly well contained for the first half and never crossed the Orange team's 40 yard line.

Three fumbles by the Black team in the first half were claimed by tackle Bill Joe Kyker, guard Rick Hadder, and Jeff Disney of the Orange defense possibly had a lot to do with the early tie and eventual one-sided score.

Gene Kimbell, a rugged 236 pounder, created a Orange fumble to give the Black team possession of the football but the damage had already happened and recorded on the score board.

Tony Linginfeller fired a touchdown to Larry Ritchey for 30 yards and when the two point pass attempt failed the Black took over and produced two first downs only to have a fumble half the drive. This time Larry Ritchey slipped free from the 10 yard line with a Linginfeller aerial for the last touchdown of the half and Linginfeller used his shifty ball handling to keep the ball and unnoticably stroll into the end zone for a two point conversion.

The second half was much the same as the first half had been with the Orange team dominating almost every phase of the game.

Larry Ritchey proved his all around worth with a sparkling 65 yard run to open the third period for the Orange. Linginfeller powered the ball over from the 10 yard line with Ritchey pulling in a two point conversion.

The Orange defense was the same stubborn group that shut the door on the Black team in the first two quarters, with little signs of fatigue or weakness from the persistent running game they had to defend against.

The Black team constructed its best defense of the afternoon midways of the second half with three consecutive hits of offensive series by the Orange. The blanket defense on the Orange offense's top individuals, Larry Ritchey, Joe Mainer, and Linginfeller, caused a change of direction for the Orange team.

Linginfeller launched a 17 yard scoring bomb to Harold Hawkins and legged in a two point conversion. The Black defense head the Orange offense pushed back to its own 30 yard line late in the scrimmage when Linginfeller spied Randall Banks breaking from his end position like a fleeing deer. The strong armed field general toted his longest and final touchdown aerial of the day to Banks and the score read 44-0.

The Black team's top defensive performer was Tim Hamontree in the second half with several tackles and a pass interception. Joe Mainer had an interception for the Orange team.

The Junior Varsity Orange team was just as offensive minded as their upper class buddies. The Orange unit winning their period of play 17-0.

Sandy Graham, a promising eighth grader that will be a freshman this fall called the plays for both Black and Orange.

The Junior Orange team opened up a six point lead with David Bealer gaining entrance into the end zone for the five yard stripe. Mark Carver knotted the score with a 10 yard pass reception from Graham and Sandy ran for the conversion to give the Black team a monetary lead. The Orange offense regained the upper hand just as time ran out with Graham sneaking over from the four yard line. David Bealer accounted for the extra points with a pass reception from Graham.

The afternoon workout brought to an end what Greenback coaches termed a good spring. The Cherokees have the personal which could be a real winner for Coach Keith Bailey this fall. Fall practice will pick up in August and the assurity of first team positions will become more definite before a September 1 opening date with Gathriburg-Pittman High School at the Cherokees Cooper field.

PRIME RECEIVER—Orange pass receiver Larry Ritchey dives determinedly to pull in a pass from Tony Linginfeller by the shoulder pads while Randall Banks goes for the ankles. In pursuit with the would-be tacklers are Kike Evans, Kenny Evans, and Rick Radder.

Panthers Edge Friendsville 7-5 In Extra Innings

Lenoir City has gained its latest baseball victory at the expense of an extra contest with Friendsville. The Panthers carried home a 7-5, eight inning victory.

Tom Edmonds started for the Panthers but needed relief help from Tommy Cook in the seventh frame. Cook got the win.

Lenoir City opened the first inning with two runs on Buddy Walker's hit and a home run by the first baseman Tommy Cook.

The Falcons matched the Panthers in the bottom half of the frame with a base on balls and Wayne Stamey turning in a pinch hit single. Dye Walked to load the bases. Buddy Walker then rifled a shot past the Falcon third baseman for a two run error on the Falcon fielder.

Cook wrapped up the decision by cutting down the first three men in the bottom of the extra frame.

Edmonds, while not getting credit for the win gave up but seven hits in seven innings and struck out 10. He walked six. Cook had four strike outs in his brief but impressive relief showing.

Friendsville: 200 002 10 1 2 2

A sacrifice fly to knot the score and catcher Neil Foster did likewise to regain the Panthers a one run margin.

Edmonds gave up two straight hits in the bottom of the seventh and was promptly relieved by Cook. The lefty struck out the first batter he faced but a fielding error yielded a run and again the score was tied.

Lenoir City once again rallied for two scores in the top of the eighth with Doug Williams gaining a base on balls and Wayne Stamey turning in a pinch hit single. Dye Walked to load the bases. Buddy Walker then rifled a shot past the Falcon third baseman for a two run error on the Falcon fielder.

Cook wrapped up the decision by cutting down the first three men in the bottom of the extra frame.

Edmonds, while not getting credit for the win gave up but seven hits in seven innings and struck out 10. He walked six. Cook had four strike outs in his brief but impressive relief showing.

Lenoir City: 200 010 10 2 2 3
Friendsville: 200 002 10 1 2 2

The Panthers regained the lead in the fifth inning with a walk to Edmonds and Gary Chambers followed by a run scoring single by Charlie Dye. Friendsville eased back into a one run lead in the bottom of the sixth inning as Edmonds balked to fire. The Falcons added two runs on a walk, a hit, another walk and two straight hits all with two outs.

Lenoir City rallied in the seventh inning on a hit by Chambers. Charlie Dye lived on an error. Walker walked and Tommy Cook, coming out of a warty season slump lofted

L. C. Golfers Defeated 199-214

Lenoir City's golf team had but one match last week with highly touted Harriman High School. The Blue Devils are one of the top high school golf teams in the state this year and defeated the Lenoir City team by nearly 40 strokes in their first meeting of the season.

Lenoir City, with some subpar performances in recent weeks, all but pulled the upset of the year with a rousing 15 stroke loss to the Blue Devils.

Despite the seemingly wide range of victory this is really one of the closer matches played against the Harriman team.

Lenoir City posted a 214 for five players while Harriman had a 199. David White sparked the Panthers with his best showing of the year with a 40. George Hardin had a 41 followed by Mitch Keebler 43 and Chuck Easter and Tim Galyon with 45's.

Harriman's players were led by Wright and Gardner with 37's. Ninkle had a 40. Holston 42, and French 43. Lenoir City plays Thursday and Friday of this week.

Dunlap Shuts Out Bobcats With No-Hitter

Sophomore Sammy Dunlap was a surprise starter for the Lenoir City diamond crew against Oliver Springs last week but the Panther hurler welcomed the pitching task with a 10-0 no-hit victory.

Dunlap had not pitched any this season until the face off with the Bobcats.

The game moved fast with each team playing superb scoreless ball through the first three innings.

Lenoir City finally got Dunlap a single run in the fourth inning on a hit by Tommy Cook a stolen base and the hustling Panther slipped home on a fielding error.

Dunlap helped his own cause in the game deciding fifth inning with a hit. Chambers hit into a fielders choice, Charlie Dye had a single, but Buddy Walker's grounder was handled for a fielder's choice and with two out Cook made first base on an error, as did Foster. Doug Williams capped the inning with a hit and the Panthers had four runs and a 5-0 lead.

Dunlap rolled right along and his team mates continued to supply the offense with four more scores in the sixth frame.

Bobby Mitchell, right fielder, singled and with one out Gary Chambers advanced him with a hit. Dye and Walker hit back-to-back doubles and Cook and Neil Foster drilled satellites as 11 batters went to the plate in the inning.

Lenoir City added a final run in the seventh inning to bring the score to 10-0. The Panthers collected 14 hits for their top offensive hitting game of the season.

Dunlap struck out four and walked three in going the route on the mound.

Florida State Assistant, Bolton, L. C. Hoop Speaker

Lenoir City held its basketball banquet Monday at the school's cafeteria.

Bill Bolton, assistant basketball coach at Florida State University and 1959 graduate of Lenoir City High School was the guest speaker.

Coach Bolton played on the 1968 state championship team at Lenoir City and was a standout on the 1969 cage team. Coach Bolton played his college ball at the University of Mississippi and later was an assistant there.

Coach Bolton has since moved to Florida State University as assistant coach and chief recruiter. The Seminoles finished second in the NCAA Tournament to UCLA this past season and feel a National Title is soon to follow under the masterful recruiting job being turned in by Bolton.

Coach Bolton had a most inspiring program and speech enjoyed by all. The youthful Seminoles assistant stressed the price of a winner and the work involved in maintaining a top position in sports.

The will to win and the belief of an individual and by a team constitutes a foundation for winning. An athlete must express total desire to bring out his talents and discipline those talents into a sharp, well-mechanized, fundamental striving to improve daily.

An athlete who weathers frustrations and believes in succeeding at the cost of great hurt and pain when the end looks dark and impossible illustrates the All American performer admired by his teammates and respected by his opponents, and most of all blessed through God for his goal of attaining success.

Coach Bolton provided a short film on the features of Florida State University with its academic and athletic program for the graduating high school senior.

The Lenoir City boys and girls lettering this past season were honored by Coach Willie Jo Smally and Coach Glen Williams.

Top trophy presentations went to Marista Blackburn and Janet Leeper of the girls team.

Miss Blackburn was named the Top Offensive Performer with a 27.8 season average.

Miss Leeper received the Top Defensive Award with 160 rebounds for the season and top grade among the guards.

Both girls are sophomores and were named to the All Loudon County team.

Ed Shipley, senior

playmaker, gathered most of the top awards among the boys presentations.

Shipley, who was a modern day assist record at Lenoir City during his three year varsity career with a sparkling 106 total, and was so honored with a trophy.

Randy Tatham was given the TOP Rebounding trophy and Mike Hooks received the Best Foul Shooting Percentage trophy.

Tatham had 217 rebounds this past season and Hooks hit 78.4 percent of his foul shots.

The Best Attitude Trophy went to Charlie Dye.

Randy Tatham copped the Lenoir City News Trophy for Outstanding Player. Tatham ranked second on the rebounding list among players having played under Coach Smally in his 12 seasons as head coach.

Ed Shipley was awarded a Distinguished Trophy in honor of the late Clarence H. Littleton, a standout on the 1930 state championship team.

The trophy is a new award for the Panthers and will become a permanent fixture with a plaque going to the yearly recipient and his name engraved in a trophy to stay at the school.

Shipley and Tim Cunningham were honored at members of this year's All Loudon County team.

Loudon Dragway Looks For Friday Night Overflow

Loudon Dragway is expecting its largest crowd and car participants of the season Friday night with a race in three eliminator divisions.

Prize money and trophies will go to the top two finishers in each division.

Time trials start at 6:30 p.m. with the main racing card to begin at 8:30 p.m.

Some 500 racing fans attended last week's races which featured 60 cars. An overflow crowd is anticipated this Friday night and over 80 cars are listed to take part.

At least six national record holders will be in the field of entries this week and several entries that took part in the IHRA Nationals last week at Rockingham, N.C. are to be in the running for the top trophies.

Jim Mize of Harrison won first place in the street eliminator race last week in his semi-powered Anglia a 1961 English Ford running in a "C" gas class.

Gerald Whitehead of Maryville won first place in the Top Stock run off.

Whitehead's 1969 Hemi Dodge Charger was hard pressed by second place finisher Elmer Blanken of Kingsport in his 1968 Camero.

All tickets for the Raceway's Friday night program are sold at the gate with a $2.00 charge per person attending.

Vineyard Loses Atomic Race

The impossible task at Atomic Speedway has been, and is still, winning three consecutive late model sportsman feature races.

Marion Tipton has become the latest driver with an opportunity to accomplish the feat on the third-mile high-banked dirt track.

Tipton, driving a Corvair, halted H.E. Vineyard's bid for three in a row last Saturday night.

Tipton will assume the role as the driver on the hot seat when action continues at the speedway Saturday night.

A field of more than 50 sportsman drivers is expected.

Since the speedway, located at the Mellon Hill exit on I-40 west of Knoxville, open three years ago no driver has been able to capture the feature three straight weeks.

Vineyard, driving a Chevy II, had won the Dogwood 100 two weeks ago and last week won the 50-lapper.

Shipley's seven-event program gets going at 8 o'clock. The menu includes four heat races for sportsman drivers, a semi-feature for drivers not making the main event (40-lapper) and hobby drivers are to run 25 laps.

Admission will be $2 for adults with children under 12 admitted free.

Tommy Fryar, winning in the season's opening feature race, also will be back to try for win No. 2. Joe Lee Johnson, who missed last week's competition, will return along with such standouts as Leroy Vann (Camaro), Ken Phillips (Chevy II), Herman Goddard (Mustang) and Archie Freeman (Chevrolet).

Helms And Carver Cling To Golf Lead

Dick Rosenbaum has taken over the low net score in the Union Cartridge golf standings.

Mr. Rosenbaum recorded a 21 in last week's play at the Madisonville Golf Course.

The team of Rosenbaum and Eldon White have taken the low net score for the league play with a 66.

Charlie Helms and Tootsie Carver remain on top in point standings for the league play with 26 points.

Helms and Carver have held the top spot from the start of spring play but have received continuing pressure from the team of Rosenbaum and White with 24 points.

Halt Summers and Mike Oody, team mate, and Ed Swenson and Gerald Cole, team 10, with 21 points each are both in a contending position and might very well take the lead after this week of play.

L. C. Dimond Squad Trounces Norris

The Lenoir City Panthers pushed their baseball record to 7-2 for the season Friday night with a whopping 16-5 slaughter of visiting Norris.

Three Lenoir City pitchers worked the game. Tim Cunningham started and pitched four innings. Tom Edmonson came on in the fourth frame and was relieved by Tommy Cook in the fifth. Cunningham got credit for the victory, his third against one loss.

Tommy Cook led the hitting charge with three hits in four times at bat. The left handed batter rapped two triples and a single in driving in four runs and scoring three himself.

Teenage Spenders

There is more spending money on tap in Loudon County these days and it is not only the adult population that has it.

The teenagers are better off, too. These young tycoons, with an impressive amount of cash at their disposal, have come into their own. They have become an economic force of considerable size.

Equally important, if not more so, from the point of view of local merchants, is the influence they wield over family spending in general.

They help decide the kind of car that is purchased, the type of appliances that are bought, the food they eat and the clothes they wear.

As a result, local merchants have been paying closer attention to their particular tastes in fashions, food, entertainment and the like.

On the basis of the latest figures, the teenage market in Loudon County reached an estimated $2,321,000 in the past year.

LTVEC Sets Six Groups To Supervise

Little Tennessee Valley Educational Cooperative (LTVEC) has organized six committees to operate under the supervision of LTVEC Planning Commission in developing a broad base of educational programs for the tri-county area served by the cooperative. Planning Commission Chairman Joe H. Sberin announced.

A Model Adult Learning Center is planned at Hiwassee College in Maconville under the chairmanship of Dr. James Amburgey. He will be assisted by Dr. Jere Farley of TVA and Dr. John Peters of UT. The center will develop educational programs and means of implementing them.

Elmo Johnson, Regional Coordinator, Vocational-Technical Education for the State of Tennessee Department of Education and his staff, will advise the chairman of the vocational-technical programs committee. The chairman, William F. Henry, is both a member of the Planning Commission and Mr. Johnson's staff. The committee will be concerned with development of vocational education programs, and will be cooperating with the State in efforts to plan the State Vocational-Technical School authorized for this area by the state legislators.

A new field, Career Education, is being studied in the tri-county area by Mrs. Jerry Smith. She is gathering material from numerous sources throughout the U.S. to provide LTVEC with information upon which to base this kind of program. Although a chairman has not been selected for this committee, professionals in this specialty at UT have agreed to assist.

Dr. Ray Brahmans of Maryville College will head the committee on environmental education. A large amount of work in this field and is expected to be able to provide significant knowledge upon which to base these programs. Dr. Brahmans will be assisted by Jonathan Went, an environmental educational adviser with TVA.

Brenda Graves of Alico City School system will head the in-service training program. This committee is charged with responsibility (or developing programs which will insure that area teachers are kept informed of latest techniques of education.

The Boeing Company, who is conducting the Timberlake study, has agreed to assist in a transportation study. Ham Carey of Loudon will chair the committee and will be assisted by Dr. C. Kenneth Tanner of UT. Dr. Oakes said, "Boeing's computer system, if fed the proper data, will give school boards and county courts accurate information upon which they can analyze their transportation situations and be able to make some rational choices for meeting those requirements."

The main problem, according to Oakes, is gathering information. He said that all elements of LTVEC, including the Planning Commission and its sub-committees, will be "searching for a way to establish effective communication between the cooperative staff and the public it serves."

Dr. Oakes stressed the need for the public to make its desires and needs known to the committees. He said this could be done by calling his office (606-218) or by writing to LTVEC, P.O. Box C, Greenback, Tennessee 37422.

In this realm by a picture loaned to us by Brenda Carnes. It is of an old time whistle stop and railroad crossing. The question is, where in the world was a whistle stop named "Duncan". It is quite possible it is well known to many people. For some reason, it sounds familiar. Could have been in our area. Maybe someone has the answer. We hope so.

Some months ago, we ran a picture of the big Boone County flood, which was caused by a bursting dam in Oakdale. Somebody was talking to me the other day and said with all the recent publicity on cracked dams, that I should run a picture if I had another one. Well, here it is. I was a small boy when this happened but my father took me over to see the damage. It was the most frightful thing I ever saw. It was amazing that more lives were not lost than was. I could be wrong, but as I recall the death toll was very small.

Our other picture this week is one which was taken in downtown Lenoir City. It is of one of the old business places. The Station and Duff Grocery Store. Those in the picture are: Will Bailey, John Spraker, George Station, Carl Barry and Uncle Billy Duff. This reminded me of the early Brock Freight Line, which was possibly the only one Loudon County ever had. If somebody has a picture of this, would like very much to borrow it.

We happened to be over at Hill's Ferry landing the other day and our thoughts went back to when this old ferry was in operation. It wasn't a motorized ferry, but depended on the water currents to take it across the river. It was slower than plans Ferry (which was motor driven), and carried only a small amount of traffic.

As best I can remember, it went out of operation before Bill's Ferry. I guess several things brought this about, but to ride this type of old ferry was a unique experience as the only sounds you could hear was the creaking of the old wheels that controlled the cables or the splashing of the water on the hull of the boat.

When I was a small boy I would go with my dad fishing along the river at the Ferry, and would ride across as they ferried a car or wagon to the other side. This is a beautiful section of the Tennessee River and would make a beautiful recreation area.

We had a request the other day to list the names of the winners we have in the Spring such as Dogwood, Blackberry, etc. We need help on this. We would greatly appreciate some of our readers sitting down and making a list of these, and then we could write about them when we got what we thought was a complete list. I would appreciate some help from some of our old timers on this. Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

Years ago during the time of passenger trains, there were little stations with a little building for passengers to wait for the trains in. There were several that we can recall. In thinking back we came up with one right off. The old Heagan's Station which was located below the town of Sweetwater. We are sure, you our readers of the Good Old Days, will recall this part of a yesterday way of life, which, somehow, as we look back was sort of challenging. Anyway, our thoughts were prompted

Russell, Wallace, Nixon Win Here, 4676 Vote

Some 4676 persons cast ballots last Thursday in the Presidential Primaries and in the Republican Primary in Loudoun County, a considerably higher turnout than election officials had expected.

In the main races in the local GOP primary, incumbent Sheriff Freeman Russell won the nomination 1986 to 1181 over his former Chief Deputy Fred Sheppard. In other contested local races incumbent Leo Malone won the second and fifth district Road Commission nomination over Clarence Brackett 1001 to 839. In the third district Road Commission race incumbent Joe Greenway defeated former Commissioner Howard Brooks 204 to 195. In the first district where five men were seeking nomination in two positions for Constable O'Dell Justice won re-nomination with 294 votes and in the second slot was Dewey Russell with 221 votes. Others in the race were Jack Rowe 209 and William Sowards 114.

Editors note: For complete precinct by precinct vote in both the presidential primaries and the local Republican Primary see charts elsewhere in this issue.

As expected in the Presidential Preference Primaries Richard Nixon and George Wallace swept Loudoun County as they did state wide. President Nixon collected 1990 votes compared with 96 for Paul McCloskey and 72 votes for John Ashbrook.

Alabama George Wallace did about as well in the Democratic vote getting some 1016 votes followed by Hubert Humphrey with 281 and George McGovern with 190. All eleven candidates in the Democratic race collected some votes in the county, but most with as few as four.

The Amendment on busing carried in Loudoun County, as well as across the state, but there was considerable confusion on the matter. In Loudoun County 1866 voted for the amendment to prohibit the busing of school children to achieve racial balance and some 884 voted against the amendment.

Officials in the various precincts reported that voters in many cases thought they were voting against busing when they voted "against", when actually to vote against busing they had to cast a "for" vote on the amendment.

The proposal to increase the maximum collectible local tax on a single item purchase from 45 to 47.50 was soundly defeated 1658 to 671. When the additional half cent sales tax was passed last fall the county failed to provide in the resolution increasing the maximum tax limit. In the uncontested races in the Loudoun County Primary Property Assessor Emmett Carter received 1435 votes; Road Commissioner of the first and fourth districts Lillard Rhodes 586; three nominated for Justice of the Peace of the first and fourth districts Roy Bledsoe 311; Boyd Duckworth 481; and Ben Gayton 351. Second District Justice of the Peace, all three nominated, I.D. Conner 582, Jack Henry 481 and John Moats 352. Third District Justice of the Peace J.G. Hudson had 269 votes and fifth district Squire R.P. Hamilton 310. In the uncontested Constable races the second district A.C. Brown 624; third district, Shorty Rogers 274 and fifth district, Hoy Hooper 260.

In County Court Motel Tax Collection Begins In October, May Face Lawsuit

Loudoun County Court Monday ordered the new five percent hotel-motel transient occupancy tax to go into effect Oct. 1.

The date will give motel owners the summer with freedom from the tax, said one Squire after a caucus Monday morning and more maneuvering among the Court members at lunch.

Squire Idus Conner, who asked the indulgence of the Court to review a speech he made at the special Court session two weeks ago, said the delay also would begin collection of the tax at about the time when it will be needed.

Proceeds from the hotel-motel tax, as well as from the additional one-half cent sales tax are scheduled to the county's portion of access roads to interchanges on I-75 at Sugar Limb and at Philadelphia.

Meanwhile, motel owners this week were looking at one or more angles to possibly bring a lawsuit on opposing the tax. In several sessions with County Court they have contended the tax discriminates unfairly against a single industry and will make it difficult for Loudoun County hotels and motels to compete with others in neighboring counties which do not collect the tax.

The vote was the same 6-3 margin which two weeks ago rattled the private act passed by the State Legislature giving Loudoun County authority to levy the tax. The Court at that time deferred putting it into effect.

Voting for the measure were Squires Idus Conner, Curtis Williams, R. P. Hamilton, J. J. Blair and Roy Bledsoe. Voting against were Jack Letter, Henry Foster and J. G. Hudson.

The measure was originally Squire Hartsook's proposal and he made the motion Monday for implementation. Curtis Williams seconded.

Squire Foster said he had been against the tax to begin with, and he added that he felt the Court should give the hotel-motel owners a year's time to see if the sales tax would produce enough revenue as they have contended. "That's why I'm voting 'no,'" he said.

Conner said he had been asked by a great many people to support the interchanges, but that he was opposed to putting the cost on the property tax. Consequently, he favored the additional half-cent sales tax and looked with favor on the hotel-motel tax as a supplement. "When the sales tax will pay for the interchanges, I'll vote to take the hotel-motel tax off the books," he said.

In other action, the Court voted unanimously to cut from five acres to one acre "or more, based on a percolation test," as a requirement for residential construction in either A-1 or A-2 zones. Squire Hamilton, who made the motion, said the percolation test, to be made by the Loudoun County Health Dept., must precede issuance of a building permit.

The County Planning Commission had recommended that the requirement be held at 2 acres for A-1 zone and one acre for A-2.

The Court also approved rezoning approximately 170 acres near new I-75 and State 72 interchange from A-1 (agricultural) to C-2 (commercial).

Earlier in the meeting, County Judge Harvey Sprout said efforts are being made for a settlement of the lawsuit in Chancery Court brought by the County against certain landowners said to be encroaching on a community cemetery at Loudoun. The settlement would preserve titles granted by the Cemetery Association for land sold several years ago, he explained.

The Judge also reported on the status of the lawsuit in which Loudoun County and other counties are seeking a greater share from the State of TVA "in lieu of tax" funds. He explained the effect of a bill which passed the legislature which had the effect of removing one of the County's arguments - that it sharing rights should allow for increasing land values as well as increasing assessment percentages.

The Court ratified a Private Act of the Legislature which gives the County authority to adopt construction, electrical, plumbing and other such codes at some time in the future.

A report of complaints from citizens concerning dogs and cats running loose in the county brought no action.

"I think we ought to pass it up until we get some more complaints," said J. J. Blair.

"I've had several complaints," offered Squire Conner.

"You have to have a place to keep them, you have to have a dog catcher to catch them, and you have to keep them five days before you dispose of them," Squire Foster said.

"And besides, you can't catch them."

A new "no smoking" rule was adopted for the use of the Courtroom. Squire Hamilton offered the motion, seconded by Squires Blair and Conner.

Judge Sprout asked for time to coordinate the rule with the Judges who preside Criminal, Circuit and Chancery Court here.

No action was taken on the question of providing ambulance service for Loudoun County after the July 1 date when funeral homes owners here say they are going to go out of the ambulance business. Judge Sprout said some informal meetings have been held and a meeting of the MURDER SUSPECTS GOING TO TRIAL—Monroe County Sheriff Kenneth Davis, right, and deputy Homer Sweeten escort Arnold Carter and Danny Barnes, two of the three charged in the murder of Henry Swiney of Philadelphia from the Monroe County Jail Monday morning. The murder trial of the pair, and another man, Leslie Joe Lynn, blocked out of view in the picture, started Monday in Criminal Court in Madisonville.

Death Penalty Sought For Two Murder Defendant Tells Of Swiney Killing

One of three men charged in the kidnapping murder of Henry Swiney, prominent Philadelphia resident last October, has turned state witness and spent a long while Tuesday telling a Monroe County Criminal Court Jury how he and the other two defendants robbed the victim, later killed him and dumped his body on a rural Polk County Road.

The trial of Arnold Carter of Tellico Plains and Danny Barnes of near Lake City began in Madisonville Monday. All of the first day of the trial was taken up with the selection of the jury. Before the all-male panel was seated more than 150 persons had been interviewed by the lawyers.

Mr. Swiney, married, the rather of three small children, was formerly a Highland Park school teacher, city recorder at Philadelphia and an active church and civic leader in the community. His brother, Bernie Ray (inky) is a City Commissioner at Loudoun. He was framing to become a male nurse at the time of his death.

One of the three charged, Joe Lynn, 21, of Sweetwater, told the jury how he and the other two men held up a service station where Swiney worked as a night attendant, forced him to accompany them. He said one of the defendants, Arnold Carter, shot Swiney in the head with a pistol as they were driving down U.S. 411 out of Madisonville the night of the hold up. They later dumped his body on a rural Polk County road near Benton, some 50 miles from Sweetwater.

Lynn's trial on the murder charge has been separated from the other defendants at their request after it was learned that he was going to appear as a state witness in the case. He will stand trial on the charge in August court official said.

The victim's wife, Evelyn, his mother, Mrs. Bernie Swiney, and brother have been present during the trial. Mrs. Swiney was the first state witness in the case.

The state spent the entire day Tuesday presenting their case and expected to complete presenting some 20 witnesses sometime Wednesday, at which time the defense would present their case.

In all some 15 state witnesses were called to the stand Tuesday. These included Monroe County Sheriff Kenneth Davis, Tennessee Bureau of Identification Agent Leon Miller, FBI agents, and others involved in the investigation of the murder.

Estimates of the case would go to the jury and when a verdict would be handed down ranged from late Wednesday to Thursday. The prosecution is expected to ask for the death penalty.

The defendants were arrested several days after the murder in Kentucky where they were charged with the armed robbery of a service station there and the beating of the station attendant. Carter and Barnes were sentenced to life in prison in that case and have been serving their sentence in Kentucky State Prison prior to the trial in Monroe County. Lynn was cleared of the Kentucky charges and has been in jail in Madisonville since that time awaiting trial.

Judge James W. Will established maximum security concerning the defendants might attempt to escape. Carter has one escape from the Monroe County Jail on his record. Madisonville Patrolman Hoy Phillips was ordered by Judge Will to guard the back door of the Courtroom while members of the Sheriff's staff were positioned at the other doors, along with Trooper Johnson of

Deputies Credited With Saving Soldier's Life

A young New Jersey man can give thanks today that two Loudoun County deputies checked his car Saturday morning alongside U.S. 41, two miles from Loudoun. The deputies, J.W. Mashburn and special deputy Rolan Braddshaw, found Robert I. Zaborak, 21, unconscious, overcome by carbon monoxide poisoning.

Deputy Mashburn said that the Volkswagen, driven by the army private, was seen about 8 a.m. Saturday parked near the railroad overpass. He said that when he and Braddshaw saw it was still there at 11:15 they stopped to see if something was wrong.

The Sheriff's office contacted the man's parents in South Amboy, N.J. and his base, Fort Polk, La. The victim's father flew to Knoxville late Saturday night.

It was learned that Pfc. Zaborak had been home on leave and was returning to Fort Polk when the incident in Loudoun County occurred.

He regained consciousness Sunday and was reported improving at the hospital in Knoxville.

Among the cases are a murder charge against Ray Allen Parks stemming from the shotgun shooting death of Henry Jenkins Jr. in Lenoir City on March 2.

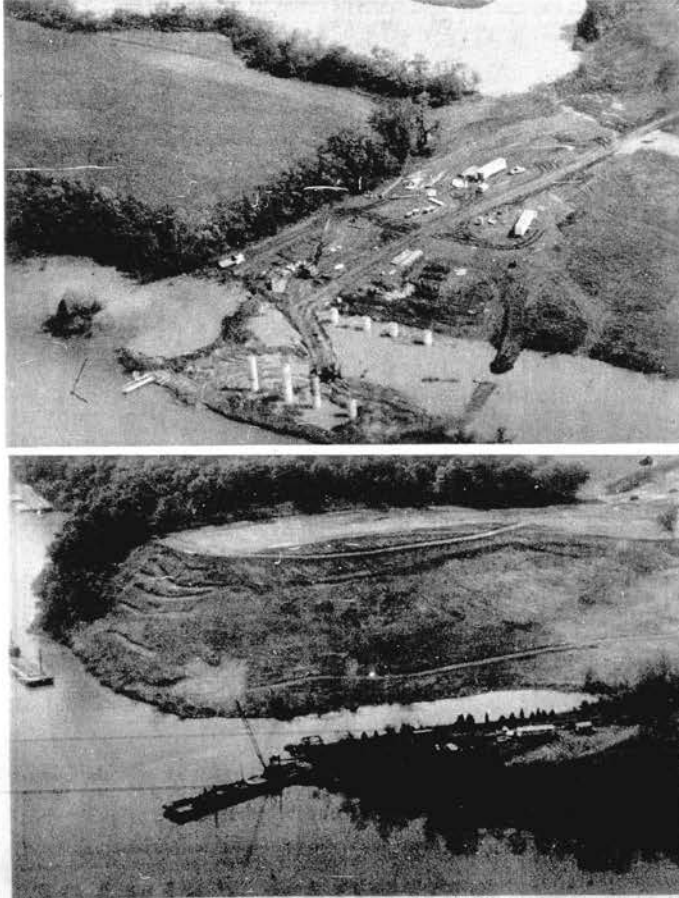

Some of the other cases on the grand jury docket are Richard Massey charged with the felonious assault of Lenoir City policeman Jesse Buttram and Lewis Dalfrum charged with the armed robbery of Midway Tavern near Lenoir City.

Criminal Court Opens Monday

The Loudoun County Grand Jury will start considering 33 bound over cases Monday as the May term of Criminal Court begins. Criminal Court Clerk Billy Joe Akms said that several more cases will probably be added to the docket before the proceedings are completed.

Grain Barges Used In Interstate Bridge Construction

Three large barges being used in the operation are visible in the lower, middle and upper left portions of the picture. The project is to be completed in August 1974 when the remainder of the highway is to open through Loudoun county.

Arts Association Sends Teachers To Conference

By Lyda McCurry

The keynote address, given by Dr. Ann Shaw at the statewide Creative Drama Conference held at the University of Tennessee Student Center on April 7 and 8, was an inspiring introduction to what creative drama is and what it can do to develop the imagination of the individual child and to stimulate academic and social growth and sense awareness, according to Mrs. Sylvia Sproul, a member of the Loudon County Arts Association and librarian at Nichols Elementary School.

The morning session was highlighted by a demonstration by Mrs. Elizabeth Rike with a group of lively elementary school children who were completely oblivious of the audience as they, for the first time, were introduced to creative drama. "They loved it," said Mrs. Sproul, "and were completely believable as they pretended to be an animal or other character."

The afternoon hours were workshop sessions involving the participation of the people attending the conference. Mrs. Harriet Eberich conducted the session on "Creating Drama in Language Arts, Social Studies, and Science," and Mrs. Virginia Koest conducted the session on "Theater in the Classroom."

the Highway Patrol.

Dr. Fenton Scruggs Bradley, county pathologist, testified Tuesday afternoon that Swiney's death was caused by a .22 caliber bullet which entered his head from the back and lodged in the brain's stem. He said he had been dead from 12 to 24 hours.
A Burlington, Ky., police officer testified that when he talked to Danny Barnes after Barnes had been questioned by the Monroe County Sheriff and FBI agent, Leon Miller, that he said "I was in the wrong place at the wrong time."
Wayne Williams testified Tuesday afternoon that he and Hilda Bearfield were parked on Parker Chapel Road in East Sweetwater the afternoon previous to the murder and that Barnes and Carter drove up in a Buick automobile. Williams said they had been drinking beer.
Mrs. Bearfield said that the men said "Someone will buy these guns or die" and they mentioned a service station.

Earlier she said Barnes had come over to their car and fired a pistol into the ground near her feet. She said Carter took a .22 caliber rifle from the car and said he was going to shoot into her car. She said they then tried to pawn or sell the gun to Williams for $15. "I told them Constable Reid Lindsey might take them but they said we don't want to get mixed up with him."
Wilma Gibson, 21, testified that on the afternoon previous to the murder, a crowd made up of Don Robertson, Shirley Queen, Barnes, Carter, Lynn and Lynn's younger brother, James, drove through Sweetwater in two cars. She said the defendants were still together when she and Don went home about 8 p.m.
Members of the jury are Raymond F. Atkins, Harold Wade, Robert L. Cowan, James Dalry, James E. Courtland, Cleatus Donaldson, Edward Cameron, Allen Davis, Beecher Colvin, Blark Cardin, Charles Frank, Clifford Costner and N. F. Ervin, alternate.

Barnes and Carter, the only defendants in the case, are represented by William E. Howe II, Lewis Kinnard and Edwin Harris. Earl Murphy and Kendrick White, assistant Attorney Generals, are the prosecutors.
Agent Miller told of going to Boone County, Ky., where Carter, Barnes, and Lynn were in custody on Oct. 29. He introduced items which were taken from the car in which they had been riding. They included the blood stained shirt worn by Swiney on the night he was kidnapped from a service station which is located north of Sweetwater on Highway 11 and a .22 cal. target pistol, and others. The vehicle, a 1955 Buick, was owned by Lynn. Miller testified that a hole made in the windshield on the driver's side by bullets had been taped over when he examined the car parked behind the Boone County Sheriff's Office. He also introduced a quilt from which a corner had been torn which he said was taken from the trunk of the car.

10th Annual Arts And Crafts Festival Slated For June 3

It's time again for the very popular Arts and Crafts Festival held annually at the Lenoir City Park by the Suburbia Junior Woman's Club.
This year the Lenoir City Chamber of Commerce has adopted the Festival as an object of major publicity effort. President Bland Winfrey pointed out that the festival is a tremendous asset to the community and a tremendous drawing card for visitors.
Already arrangements have been made with area businesses for the use of five billboards which ordinarily would be used for those firms' commercial messages, to promote the festival.
Mayor Joe Grayson, serving as Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Committee for the Festival, has arranged for the May issue of the Tennessee Conservationist, a magazine published by the Tennessee Dept. of Conservation, to carry a story about the festival.

Each year members of the Suburbia Junior Woman's Club provides plate lunches, short orders, and homemade pies and cakes. Chicken halves, barbecued on the spot by husbands of club members with the help of such experienced hands as Charles McCall, Jerry Park and Charles Matlock, has become a drawing card.
Free buses will be provided again this year from the downtown Lenoir City area and from the Lenoir Shopping Center to alleviate traffic congestion. A bus schedule and stopping points will be released later.
Anyone planning to enter work in the festival should contact a Suburbia Club member—Mrs. Bob DeLoach, chairman or Mrs. Howard Murriel, co-chairman, as soon as possible. The deadline for entries is May 20.

Bleeping Ball To Aid Slicing, Hooking Golfers

Scottish heather holds no more terrors for bad golfers. If they slice their ball into the rough, they just listen for a bleep-bleep-bleep and get it back.

The bleeping ball was invented last year by Stephen Horchler, 39-year-old Hungarian-born scientist who has settled in Scotland. He has formed a company which is turning out 2,500 bleeping balls a week.

The ball contains a tiny radio transmitter which is powered by a hearing-aid battery.

"It needs a bit of practice to use this ball successfully," Horchler said. "I advise golfers to knock it around in their garden for a while before taking it out on the course.

"It's a question of tuning your ear to hear it. The average person should first pick it up when they are about two lengths of a golf club away from the ball."

Horchler pointed out the annual world production of golf balls is around 25 million. "So my 2,500 a week are just a small drop in the ocean," he added.

"I would like to aim at 2 percent of the world market eventually. Since there are far more bad golfers than good ones, there should be a big demand for my bleeping ball."

Horchler is exporting the balls to the United States, Canada and Japan and is now starting to sell in Europe.

Cunningham Sharp

L. C. Baseball Record Soars To 10 - 2

Lenoir City swept a double header from Oliver Springs Friday night by scores of 4-0 and 4-3.

Tim Cunningham won the first game on a no-bitter while the Bobcats proved a more pesky lot for sophomore Sammy Dunlap who needed relief help from Tommy Cook in the night cap. Cook got credit for the win.

Cunningham breezed to his fourth win of the season with a 10 strike out master piece over the 50-beaten Oliver Springs team.

The Panthers got the lead in the third inning on a walk to Gary Chambers and a hit by Charlie Dye. Third baseman Buddy Walker followed the two Lenoir City base runners with a beauty of a squeeze bunt which delivered both runs. Three Oliver Springs errors in the fourth frame netted two more scores and Cunningham closed the door in the fifth inning to notch the victory.

In the second game the Bobcats took advantage of Sammy Dunlap's early control problem and tallied a run in the very first inning on a walk, an error and a hit before the prospective sophomore hurler could retire the side.

Lenoir City scrambled back with a run on the life of a fielding error of Charlie Dye's grounder and two stolen bases capped by Tommy Cook's RBI hit.

A third inning walk and a screaming double regained the lead for the Bobcats but the Lenoir City baseballers fought back in the bottom of the fourth frame on Randy Tatham's free pass to first base via way of getting hit by the pitcher. Tommy Cook again blasted a base knock and Mike Walker tied the score with a neat sacrifice. The Panthers took the lead on Bobby McCallan's hit which resulted in a fielding error by the Bobcats.

Oliver Springs managed to knot the score off Dunlap in the top of the fifth inning and had runners on base when Tommy Cook came on to pick a runner off first base and strike out the next batter to halt the rallying Bobcats.

The Panthers failed to score in the last of the fifth and Cook was just as effective in the extra inning, sixth.

Randy Tatham on a hitting tear for the Panthers in recent games collected the third Lenoir City Bill of the game in the sixth. After a stolen base Tommy Cook, who had a perfect night at the plate in the second game got his third safety and won the game to pick up his second pitching decision in two days.

The left hand throwing Cook now has a 4-4 pitching mark and after a three hit batting performance, of which only four base knocks were gotten, has a 4-06 batting average.

The Panthers have but three more game remaining on its schedule before embarking upon the tournament playoffs to be held at Oak Ridge.

The Lenoir City Panthers will carry one of the top team records into the District 4-Region II baseball tournament starting Monday at Ridge View Park in Oak Ridge.

Fifteen teams will be competing for the right to go to the State playdowns.

Oak Ridge is the defending champion of the tourney via way of defeating Lenoir City 4-3 in last year's finals. The Panthers are much better this spring as young ball players have become seasoned veterans in a year's time and another season under their belt. Of course there will be equally tough opposition for the Wildcats as well as for the Panthers in this year's tourney.

After the quarter final round the tournament will go into a double elimination affair.

The Herald spoke with Lenoir City Coach John Brannon on his teams season to date and their

The witty Brannon said, "I think we are better than last year in depth and knowledge for the upcoming tournament but that does not always produce a winner in a tournament such as this one. A pitcher has a good game and a superior team may find themselves on the bleachers watching."

The Panthers have just such a first round challenge in Harriman. The Blue Devils got a tremendous pitching performance from their ace moundsman during the early season and held the Lenoir City team hitless to record a 2-0 victory. Thus the salt has definitely been rubbed into the wounds of battle for this key game.

CHALLENGER READY FOR SHOW—Doug Lyle's Marine will be adding a new wrinkle to its boat sales this summer with the showing of a new 1972 Challenger in area boating events. The 15 foot fiberglass speed merchant will reach speeds in excess of 70 miles an hour and will be featured in time trial races. The water racer has a 140 horse power Mercury motor with a super speed master lower unit. Bobby Bivens, who has been skiing and boating for the past 20 years will do the driving. The boat and motor is approximately 850 pounds lighter than a normal ski boat of its caliber and deploys a rooster tail spray of some 14 to 20 feet in height.

with just three hits given up and seven walks issued. Lenoir City will carry a respectable .288 team batting average into the playdown. Randy Tatham leads the Panther hitters with a .454 hitting mark in 11 plate appearances. Tommy Cook has a 406 average in 32 times at bat and two home runs. Neal Foster (.361) and Buddy Walker (.314) are capable stick men among the regulars for Coach Brannon. Charlie Dye hitting in the second position of the line up has a team high of 12 runs batted in equaled only by Cook with a dozen. Panther followers are keeping their fingers crossed for the grand finale and with the balanced play shown in the last few weeks it appears the Panthers are a definite contender to bring home the bacon.

Lenoir City's Tommy Cook was sharp on the pitching mound. Kingston displayed an equal effort to contain the Lenoir City hitting through the first two innings. The third inning had the Panthers sending 14 men to bat and as a result eight runs were accounted for. The big inning was the top offensive display by the Panthers this season. Charlie Dye started the third frame with a double. Buddy Walker pounded a hit and Tommy Cook helped his on pitching cause with a tremendous home run that went far out of the stadium. Catcher Neal Foster did not give the Kingston pitcher time to catch his breath by drilling a crisp single. Tim Cunningham followed with a safety as did Doug Williams. Tommy Edmonds drew a walk and Randal Tatham supplied a run with a sacrifice. Gary Chambers clubbed a hit and Dye, Walker, and Foster all drew walks before the final third out could be gotten. Cook continued to roll with pin point throwing and an 8-0 lead.

The Panthers added two more runs in the bottom of the fourth inning to run the count to 10-0 and when the Kingston team failed to score in the top of the fifth the game was called on the 10 run lead rule in high school baseball effective after five innings of play. Tommy Cook struck out four and gave up only two hits and two walks in picking up the win. He also had three runs batted in as did Charlie Dye who had two hits. Randal Tatham had two hits to equal Dye's batting mark but all the Panthers had at least one safe hit in the game.

Game & Fish Commission

The release of six deer on the Cherokee Wildlife Management Area this week brought the total number of deer released to 44. Seventy-five European boar were stocked during the fall and winter months. This new wildlife management area is a joint venture of the Cherokee National Forest and the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission. Comprising some 604,000 acres of federally owned lands, this area will extend from the Virginia State line in the east to the Georgia State line to the south.

Ten counties in east Tennessee will be affected by this move. Under the general agreement reached by the two agencies, the Cherokee National Forest Service will improve the habitat on this wildlife management area and the Game and Fish Commission will provide the biological aspects of management and the enforcement of laws and regulations. The plan at this time is to begin the development on the southern half of the Forest, which is located in Monroe, McMinn and Polk counties. The Forest Service has already begun a program to provide openings for wildlife plantings; some one hundred and fifty acres have been completed to date. This will be a continuing program whereby additional openings will be added until approximately 3 percent of the area is in wildlife openings and plantings. These plantings are necessary to insure a surplus of wildlife which can be harvested by the hunters. At the present time the wildlife populations are to a great degree dependent on the mast crop. These wildlife plantings will provide food at all times but will be essential when the mast crop fails.

The Game and Fish Commission has closed the area to all hunting but is formulating plans for a limited season for small game this fall. The restoration of deer and the introduction of the boar will continue as these animals are available for stocking. The trapping of deer in other parts of the State where there is a surplus and releasing them in the new Cherokee W.M.A. will continue until the does become too heavy for safe handling and transporting. The trapping will then be suspended until the fawns are old enough to care for themselves. The boar received from the Great Smoky Mountains Natl. Park through a cooperative program with the University of Tennessee will be used to establish population in areas where the boar has not previously existed. The present Tellico and Ocoee Wildlife Management areas located within the Cherokee W.M.A. will continue to exist as subunits of the Cherokee W.M.A. until the wildlife populations in the new area reach a harvestable surplus. With added and effective enforcement of the laws and regulations that apply to this wildlife management area, the wildlife should expand and populate the entire area. The future of hunting in the east Tennessee area, not only for big game but small game as well, depends greatly on the success of this program. Officials of both agencies are optimistic that the program will be successful.

Panther Golfers Trip Everett

The Panthers landed the Everett Bulldogs a 169 to 173 setback last week in a golf match completed in a thunderstorm at Lambert Acres in Maryville.

The storm struck with the league's highest contested group of golfers with as many as five teams battling to reach the top of the heap.

Seaman leaders Charlie Helms and Tootsie Carver found themselves in a first place tie with the surging team of Dick Rosenbaum and Eldon White. Both teams have a total of 33 team points.

Close on their heels with outstanding progress last week were the teams of Hall

Dick Rosenbaum still registers the low net for the season with a 31 but top individual honors for last week went to Chell Miller with a 31. Chell Miller and Jack Miller took the low team honors for last week and have registered the highest point gain of any team in the past couple of weeks.

Carter and her three year old daughter, Lisa, were injured about 8 p.m. Monday when their car, 1969, collided with a Michigan car at the intersection of Sunnyside Road and U.S. 11 at Philadelphia. Mrs. McCarter was admitted to Lowry-Hinshaw clinic where she is listed in satisfactory condition. The daughter was treated and released. No one in the Michigan car (bottom) driven by Jan Frazier of Ann Arbor, was injured. Witnesses said McCarter pulled from Sunnyside Road onto U.S. 11 in the path of the northbound Michigan car.

Loudon Thespians Slate Arsenic And Old Lace

The Thespian Club of Loudon High School is presenting the mystery-comedy "Arsenic and Old Lace" Thursday May 11th at 8 p.m. Admission is $1 for adults and 75 cents for students. Heidi Gebert and Judy Witt are the two old aunts who have poisoned 12 old men because it's one of their "charities". Everett Rausin plays Jonathan Brewster who has all the characteristics of Boris Karloff. Tommy Robinson plays Teddy Brewster who thinks he is really Teddy Roosevelt. Aaron Dilts is Doctor Einstein, the plastic surgeon who helps Jonathan avoid the police by changing his face. And Larry Arp and Brenda Anderson as Mortimer Brewster and Elaine Harper, the two lovebirds who are torn between marriage and breaking up because Mort thinks he is crazy, too.

The rest of the cast is made up of Ronnie Hackney, Jim (Peabody) Stewart, Ray Hudd, Bill Marrs and Ricky McJunkins. For a laugh a minute, don't miss "Arsenic and Old Lace."

Also tables were provided for spectators on the landing. Pictures were made in the main foyer. Members of the Steering Committee and the class sponsors are to be commended for the very successful event. The date for the Senior Play, "Cheaper By the Dozen", has been changed from May 18 to May 26. See "Special on 'Arsenic and Old Lace'" elsewhere in the Herald.

April Rainfall Below Average

April rainfall averaged 3.3 inches across the Tennessee Valley, a little below the normal 4.4 inches for the month despite some locally intense rains that caused flooding on small streams, TVA reports. TVA shut off the flow of the Tennessee River at Kentucky Dam near the river's mouth to help reduce a flood on the lower Ohio and Mississippi Rivers. As a result, big Kentucky Lake in western Kentucky and Tennessee filled to its third highest level on record by the end of the month. Preliminary estimates indicate that operation of the TVA reservoir system reduced the flood crest by about 3.3 feet at Paducah, Kentucky, and 2.5 feet at Cairo, Illinois. Several storage reservoirs on tributary rivers in the eastern part of the Tennessee Valley also reached unusually high levels as a result of heavy streamflows. South Holston and Watauga Lakes in the eastern tip of Tennessee reached their second and fifth highest levels on record, respectively. Norris Lake, which had not reached its spillway crest level for 13 years between 1958 and 1971, went above that level in late April for the second year in a row. Cherokee Lake reached its highest level in five years.

Association lost a considerable amount of money on the project, but hopefully as other programs are offered in the future, attendance and participation can increase - it is possible a more concentrated advertising program might help, but I believe there were a lot of people who never really understood the hand was coming.

My son, Daniel, at the age of 11 years, began his business career last Thursday. There is no school, and he had heard that there was a "gold mine" available by the sale of the Loudon City News on the street.

So he was out early, and got a good stack of newspapers and sold them all, and made a little money.

Now the reason I tell this, is because it shows how good it is for youngsters to begin to realize the value of money at an early age, and how hard it is to earn.

Always before, he was making money from people some of his money from gifts from relatives, and from his allowance, but last weekend saw a big change in attitude, because every time something came up where something had to be bought, he didn't offer his money any more, because he wanted to see if there was some other way he could get somebody else to pay so that he could save his money.

Susan and Jane Anne, his younger sisters, have been very upset since Dan made a profit of $1.50, because they are girls, and too young, and have no way to make money of their own.

(Of course, I think Dan has bragged a little and rubbed it in a little too).

There may be something in this little story that our problems with people who receive welfare payments, but are able to work, possibly have arisen because of a family tradition to be on welfare - and it is hard to break the chain.

Many of the new Federal programs we have had for the past few years have been theoretically aimed at getting to the root of the problem, feeling that is people were trained to work, and had a trade at which they could make money, then they wouldn't want to be on welfare.

From the best I can determine, so many of these programs have had a great deal of success. Some have not.

A part of the problem of those that have not come from the fact that some people simply do not want to work - it's much easier to receive assistance, than it is to work for it.

SIMPSON RECEIVED DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARD-Homer H. Simpson, center, from the Loudon Community, is shown receiving a Distinguished Service Award for his 16 years (1956-1972) as Vice Chairman of the Board of Supervisors of the Loudon County Soil Conservation District at the April meeting. The award being presented to Mr. and Mrs. Homer Simpson by Paul K. Arp, Chairman of the Loudon County S.C.D. Simpson retired from the Board of supervisors April 1. Mrs. Simpson has been very active in the Ladies Auxiliary.

Of course, many people are not really to work, and that is another point or problem, and that is in determining who is actually able to work, and who is not.

But the chain has to be broken somewhere, and if something can be done to get children at an early enough age and help them to learn and achieve, and to emphasize for some people vocational programs as opposed to academic programs, then maybe some progress can be made in the long run.

LOUDON HIGH CLASS OF 1929—Pictured are classmates of the Loudon High School graduating class of 1929, in the earlier days of school. The class will have a reunion Saturday, May 13 and this will be the first time they have all been together since graduation night 43 years ago.

The class ushered in many firsts for the school, which are now a part of graduation activities.

Another thing that possibly sets this class apart from many others is the fact that after a span of 43 years they are all still living and are planning to be present for a class reunion on Saturday, May 13. This will be the first time the classmates have all been together since graduation day. Some have spent the pasting years in their beloved Loudon, while others of the class have spent the years in distant places.

Many changes have come about in our way of life in these past years but whether it be a class reunion of a class that graduated five years ago or one that can count back 43 years, they all have one thing in common, and that is to get together for a reunion. A reunion where they can renew old friendships, recall events that took place during their school days and possibly point out the many changes that have taken place across the span of years.

In order to be able to "tell it like it was" we sought the help of some of this class. Mrs. Lucy Steele Harrison, with possibly some collaboration with others, gave this writer the following complete history of this class from 1917 to graduation day of 1929.

Mrs. Harrison related the following: On a September morning, 1917, six bright eyed little girls and boys made their appearance at the old Loudon High School on the hill to begin their school years with Miss Isaacs as their teacher.

They were, Mary Sue White, Aileen (Kimbrogh) Richens, Mary Katherine Mize, Mary Gay (Thompson) Lomax, Randle Johns and Jim Kline. As years came and went they were joined by M.C. Anderson Jr., Woody "Pete" Miller, Helen (Lansing) Smith, Pearl Isabel Henry and Lucy Steele (Blair) Harrison.

There were many others that came and went but the above 12 weathered the storm together.

In 1919 we moved into the new school (now used as the Grammar School) and the gym was built about the time we entered high school.

Our class was one of many "firsts." We were the first Loudon High School class to graduate in caps and gowns; first to change from the well known basketball "bloomers" to shorts; first Juniors to entertain the Senior class, which I believe is now known as the Junior-Senior Prom; first to wear school pins and the first class to graduate an even dozen. Let me say here that there were school books that showed much more wear and tear than ours but our specialities were parties, picnics and recess. In those categories, we became "past Masters." We always felt that it was too bad that they were non-credit courses.

Each month one of the girls entertained with a class party. Picnics were held at the noon hour and when the new "Tennessee Theatre" opened in Knoxville, the boys entertained with a "theatre party", a very big deal for us as well as the chaperones, yes, we had those as an added attraction.

We were certainly an "active" class if nothing else. In fact I think a little too much for our professor, Dan T. Rogers and our teachers who were: Miss Ruth Nichols, Mrs. Felton Luck, Miss Mary Sue Forrest, Miss Martha Blair, Miss McCain, Mrs. Cannon LeNoir, Miss Margaret Hall (music), Mrs. Carl Hand (expression), and Coach George Eckstein.

A Hi-Y club was organized by the boys, with M.C. Anderson Jr. as president, Pete Miller, vice pres., Randle Johns, secretary, and Jim Kline, treasurer.

We had football, basketball, volleyball, and tennis teams. A Coylean-Delphian literary society presented a program each Friday afternoon which included Readings, Declamations, Debates, and Stunts. Some of our town citizens were usually the judges.

Chapel was conducted each morning by Professor Rogers and one thing was for sure, "You'd better not lay out of that."

All of our programs, carnivals, plays (we took our turn at writing and directing. Latin plays) were presented in the gym.

On October 29, the year that we were Seniors, the issue came up to change the school colors from red and white to purple and yellow. Feeling run high and there were many heated arguments but the staunch old 12 held their ground and that, my dear high school students is the reason that you still sail through under the beautiful red and white. We too have always MIRROR, MIRROR—A female red bird, shown flying against the bumper of a car parked in the Herald parking lot Monday, might be saying "mirror, mirror on the wall" as the bird became attracted to its own reflection in the chrome bumper. Finding that there was not another bird the little feathered flirt was not daunted for she kept up her antics for several hours and was back again Tuesday morning.—Talk about struck on yourself!

With our classes and all of our outside activities it seemed that we always found time during the month of December to write a letter to Santa and have it published in the County paper. The following is a copy of the one we wrote when we were Seniors.

Dear Santa: Here we are again, only one year advanced. There are only 12 of us and here is what we want: Jim Kline wants an airplane so he can go to France to see his girl. Randle Johns wants a few more dates. Woody Miller wants a watch so he can get to school on time. M.C. Anderson wants some car insurance. Helen Lansing wants some new chewing gum for what she has in stinging. "Daring I am Growing Old," Mary Sue White wants a good supply of groceries. Edna Rogers wants some "Orange Blossom" powder. Mary Gay Thompson wants a man. Aileen Kimbrogh wants some "Golden Giant." Lucy Steele Blair wants a "Beauty Book." Pearl Isabel Henry wants a new facinator. Mary Katherine Mize wants a hair net and as a class we want a ton of coal to heat the gymnasium.

Your loving children, The Seniors of L.H.S.

Time moved on and before we knew it we were getting ready for that long looked for day, Graduation.

We elected our class officers: M.C. Anderson, president; Pearl Isabel, vice; Mary Katherine Mize, secretary-treasurer; and Aileen Kimbrogh, scribe. We selected our Motto: Let the ropes of the past ring the bells of the future. Our class flower was the Daisy and our colors were yellow and white.

On May 26, 1929 at eight o'clock we donned our caps and gowns and were led by our little mascot, Marjorie Luck, down the aisle of the old address and Mary Katherine Mize gave her Salutatory address after which Alceus Kimbrogh, Edna Rogers and Lucy Steele Blair played a piano trio from Schubert. Dean F.M. Massey of the University of Tennessee was our speaker. This followed the delivery of our long looked forward to diplomas.

It was with diplomas in hand and mixed emotions that the 12 of us stood together and sang.

"Right joyously we hail thee, O long expected day, but there's a thrill of sadness, that will not pass away. For Autumn's golden weather, no more for us will tell. The day of glad returning, to scenes we love so well."

No more the good old friendship, no more the well known ways, for a new path must open, new duties fill our days, but time can never alter devotion tried and true, And Memory will make sweeten the friends that here we knew.

So classmates stand together as heartily we fare, Our loyal song of parting in Alma Mater praise, Mary fortune smile upon her, may never her name enthrone, And we forever cherish her honor as our own.

Then fifty years' voices loud and strong, Hope glids the sunsets way, Love lights the path we've loved so long, Hail to Commencement Day."

As the years have passed, we have all gone our separate ways but there has and shall always be a tie that binds us.

On May 13th, for the first time since the night of graduation, the 12 of us will all be together again for a class reunion and you can believe what I say that it will be a happy time for all of us.

P.S. There will be no delay of report cards.

Ambulance Service Study Committee will be called and a recommendation prepared "at least by the July term of Court." He noted, however, that action in the June term would be necessary to beat the July 1 deadline.

that application for the grant would not be final and that the Court would still have the opportunity to modify or cancel the proposal.

possibilities for the center include a General Sessions Courtroom, Highway Patrol office, central dispatch communications center for Loudon City, Loudon, and Loudon County police and Sheriff's officers, central records room, a lock-up, and other facilities.

Property Assessor Emmett Carter told the Court that the State's computer lost about $5 million in assessments from the Fifth District, but that he and his staff found it. He reported pick-ups this year of $3.6 million, pushing total appraisals over the $100-million mark.

On solid waste disposal, Committee Chairman Jack Letler told the Court negotiations are still in progress with David Witherspoon, Knoxville salvage firm, which has offered to establish a central compact station at the old rock quarry at the Loudon bridge to receive garbage from Loudon City, Loudon, and from Martel Garbage Disposal Co. The committee was to have another meeting

John Parks Enlists With US Coast Guard Coast Guard Seaman Recruit John T. Parks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Parks of Loudon City, enlisted in the Coast Guard at Louisville, Ky., and is receiving basic training at Alameda, Calif. He is a former student of Robert E. Lee High School, Houston, Tex.

During the open discussion of County Court records, H.M. Adams displayed a map of alternative routes for the Sugar Limb connector road to intersect U.S. 11. It was suggested that the court ask the state to change their intersection to save most motorists about a mile in driving to get to the interchange. He said this would cut the length of the connector road about one-tenth of a mile also.

Squire J.J. Blair asked that the county judge look into the possibility of getting a surplus vehicle from the state for the use of the building inspector. Blair said he was against the idea of a building code and inspector, but thought the county was being unfair to the man since he was only paid $175 a month in salary and $60 in car expense. Blair said the man was working hard at the job and had greatly increased the number of building permits purchased and could not maintain or replace his vehicle at the rate the county was paying him. Squire Henry Foster said that the City of Loudon City was also paying the man a salary and $40 in car expense, but agreed it would be nice if a county vehicle could be loaned to him.

After an explanation by Judge Sprout the court voted to drop the Passive Liability insurance carried on the county buildings, county road equipment and the sheriff's department. The court grant of about $18,000 if the garbage program is instituted.

On motion of Squires J. G. Hudson and J. J. Blair, the Court approved a revised contract between the County and TVA for the relocation of county roads in the Tellico Project area. On motion of Squire Connor, a 40-mile per hour speed limit was established for Martel Road and Shaw Ferry Road was made a four-way stop.

IN MEMORY In Loving Memory of Rev. Clifford Norris who went on to be with Jesus on May 8, 1969. Sadly missed by his wife, children, grand-children, mother, Mrs. H.L. Norris, sisters, brothers, relatives and friends.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Over the past years we have ran many pictures of the older houses in our town and it is always interesting to look at these old photos of houses which have been around than any of us living today can recall.

We have a picture this week of a house that has stood many years in our town. It has a very warm place in my heart as well as many other boys and girls who grew up in Loudon. Many a boy or girl has visited the kitchen of Mrs. John L. Mize whose greatest delight was to feed hungry boys and girls her delicious homemade cookies. Not only were they good to growing kids but also to adults. I tried them as a kid and also as an adult. Therefore, I know from experience. Both Mr. and Mrs. Mize (both now deceased) were wonderful people. Their roots are deep in Loudon's past family history and set wonderful examples for Christian home life.

A few years back we ran a picture of an old Tennessee River Steamer similar in some respect to the one we are using this week. This old steamer is docked under the old Gay Street Bridge in Knoxville and you can see the cargo on the river bank. In this era of history, shipping freight by the old steamer was a very popular means of transportation to towns along the river from Knoxville to Kingston.

Mr. Vaughn Browder called us awhile back and stated that he had a picture for the Good Old Days. As of this date we haven't had the time to go to his home and pick it up. We will try to do so real soon. We can accomplish two things, getting the picture and spend some time talking to Mr.

Browder. He is well informed about the Good Old Days era and like myself, he enjoys it very much.

We wish that we had more time to roam around the country side and visit with old friends and make new ones. We do appreciate the calls and letters from our many readers, as well as the personal comments we get from those whom we are fortunate enough to meet along the way.

Quite often in this effort we ask for our readers to help us with some information which we have need of, and our requests are usually granted by some who can help us. Well, the reason for mentioning this is, we would like to ask any of our readers who might by chance know of someone who has an unusual hobby or is doing something unusual enough to warrant a story about their activities. If you know of such person or persons we would appreciate a call from you. You may live in Lenoir City, Loudon, Philadelphia or Greenback areas, let us hear from you. We were talking the other day about things automobiles used to have but now are a thing of the past, and in most cases, thank goodness, all cars used to come with a screwdriver, pair of pliers, a crank, tire tools, (for doing your on the road tire repairs), a set of side curtains, and some of them had a small grease gun included with the other tools. In those days a lot of this stuff was stored in the front seat, which was

DEMOCRACY AT ITS WORST

Just a couple of hours before we started writing this column Alabama Governor George Wallace was shot down in Maryland as he campaigned for votes in that state's Presidential Primary. The horror of such acts continue to shock the American people, but they continue to happen. Such acts as this can lead to the destruction of our democracy.

In the past 10 years men who cannot be satisfied with the ballot box and the freedom of speech and the freedom of choice have spoken with guns. In their wake are the dead - John Kennedy, Robert Kennedy, Martin Luther King and others - and at this moment George Wallace, a man who is receiving the vote and confidence of millions in our land, even though it might not be a majority, is fighting for his life in a hospital in our nation's capital.

The American people have the right to conduct campaigns, the politicians should be able without fear to campaign to the people. Such acts as these can lead us to a political system where the average voter would not get the chance to meet the leaders of his country. These acts have already damaged the American image as much as any acts of war. People see our political system as a violent, savage jungle much like the underdeveloped nations where dictators are forced to live in seclusion.

Many times right here in Loudon County I have had people to say about our own political leaders - "somebody should kill him".

George Wallace has as much right to campaign and speak as the President himself. Our country is so divided on many issues and political violence is so commonplace, it might come to the point where many good men and women will shy away from public service for fear of their own safety.

What does the future hold? At this point it is hard to say.

Local Cancer Crusade Week Slated, May 21-27

Leaders in the American Cancer Society's Crusade and Fund Drive in the Loudon and Philadelphia areas are hoping to raise $2000 during the fund drive week from May 21 to May 27. Mrs. Harry Pease, area chairman of the Loudon County Chapter of the Cancer Society said this week.

The campaign, which will see a door to door fund drive during the week will be kicked off at 7:30 p.m. Friday with a rally of all volunteers, area captains and others at the Loudon United Methodist Church. Speaker at the Kick-Off will be John Arnold of Oak Ridge, a member of the State Board of Directors of the American Cancer Society. Also on the program will be the showing of a Joan Crawford film.

Last week, with Mrs. Pease, Nancy Edwards and Betty Ruth Harrison looking on, Mayors Joe Carter of Loudon and Roy Bledsoe of Philadelphia signed proclamations denoting the week of May 21-27 as Cancer Fund week in their towns.

Some of the area captains who will be directing the fund raising campaign next week are Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Hudson, Mrs. Jack Lester, Mrs. Dan Carnes, Mrs. Sam Johnson, Mrs. Betty McCallister, Mrs. Ray Birkholz, Mrs. John Jones.

Mrs. Rex Burnette, Mrs. Bob Morris, Mrs. James Randle, Miss Betty Harrison, Miss Nancy Edwards, Ben Surrent, Mrs. Rufus Waller, Mrs. Spencer Watkins, Mrs. Carl Slamey, Mrs. D.K. George, Mrs. Sam Tucker, and Mrs. Kenneth Wolfe.

Cancer Society Chairman Mrs. Pease said the Crusade theme is "We Want to Wipe Out Cancer in Your Lifetime." She said that goal will be reached in two ways - by research and by cancer prevention and control using knowledge now in hand.

Referring to point number one, she said that the A.C.S. supports a wide variety of research programs determined to unlock the mysteries of cancer, a disease more complex than polio. "Everyone understands the need for research but my second point requires explanation."

"Take cancer of the uterus. Death from this form of cancer could be virtually eliminated if every woman had a Pap test on a regular basis. This test is simple, quick and painless but it can detect cancer of the uterus before its symptoms appear, when it's most curable. We want every woman in the nation to have a Pap test by 1976. That's our goal," she said.

Two Sentenced To Death In Swiney Murder

Two of the men charged with the murder of Ronny Swiney of Philadelphia have been sentenced to die in the electric chair on October 28th, the first anniversary of the killing of the well liked Loudon Councillor. The third man tried separately, after turning state's evidence in the case was sentenced to 20 years and one day after entering a plea of guilty to first degree murder.

Armed Carter of Tellico and Danny Barnes of Lake City were transferred to death row in the state prison in Nashville Thursday morning after the jury returned the verdict Wednesday afternoon after less than an hours deliberation on the case.

MR. SWINEY
The trio was found guilty of robbing, kidnaping and then murdering Swiney, a community leader at Philadelphia worked as a night attendant near Sweetwater, robbed him and took him with them. The witness said Mr. Swiney pleaded with Carter not to shoot him because he would like to see his children again.

Leslie Joe Lynn, the defendant who testified for the prosecution, was found guilty by the same jury just minutes before handed down Monroe County's first death penalty since May 11, 1955, just one day short of the 23rd anniversary of that event.

Lynn told that the three had been drinking all day, had stolen a car, stripped and burned it in Loudon County, sold the tires and wheels to a buyer. Later stole a shotgun and sold it to buy more beer. He said at about midnight they went to the service station where Swiney worked as a night attendant near Sweetwater, robbed him and took him with them. The witness said Mr. Swiney pleaded with Carter not to shoot him because he would like to see his children again.

Lynn said Carter shot once through the windshield of the car to scare Swiney and moments later shot him through the head. His body was dumped on the side of a road in Polk County near Benton.

The trio then made a long trip through the south and then north to Michigan and on their way back held up a service station in Kentucky. They were arrested the next day for that incident which left the service station attendant there hospitalized from the beating he received. Carter and Barnes received life sentences in Kentucky on that charge and had been serving the term until brought here for the murder trial.

Carter, the main defense witness, said on the stand that he agreed with most of the testimony of Lynn up through the stealing of the car and gun, but said he and Barnes separated from him about 6:30 that afternoon and started hitchhiking to Atlanta. He said about midnight Lynn picked them up in the Tennessee-Georgia line and then began the cross country trip that led to their arrests in Kentucky.

He said that Lynn must have killed Swiney and that they were not with him when the incident happened.

The 12 man jury, heard some 15 prosecution witnesses that placed the trio together and testimony from Lynn about the incident led to the verdict.

Defense attorneys were given 90 days to file a notice for a new trial by Judge James Whit.

The two convicted murderers become the 11th and 12th men awaiting execution on death row in Tennessee. Currently a lawsuit is pending in the U.S. Supreme Court on the constitutionality of the death penalty. A decision on the case is expected in June.

Philadelphia Interchange Hearing Next Thursday

Representatives of the Tennessee Department of Highways will be in Loudon Thursday, May 25 to discuss their proposal for constructing a connector route from Interstate 75 to State Route 2 north of Philadelphia.

Commissioner Robert F. Smith said they would be in the Loudon Utilities Building after 11 noon in order to explain the plans informally. The formal hearing will begin at 1 p.m.

The plans for the 2.2-mile connector route call for the construction of two 12-foot-wide traffic lanes with eight-foot-wide shoulders within a 60-foot-wide minimum right-of-way, Smith said.

He added that access will be provided to all abutting property owners. Following the presentation everyone will be afforded the opportunity to participate in the process of determining the need for, the specific location, the major design features and other effects of alternate designs. Written statements and other exhibits in place of, or in addition to, oral statements at the public hearing may be submitted to Henry Buckner, department attorney, at the State Highway Building, Nashville, within 10 days following the hearing.

Upon request to the regional engineer, Smith said, the data will be made available at a more convenient location. The objectives of the hearing will be to provide all interested citizens with complete information about the proposed project and to acquaint the public with the relocation assistance offered by the state to those persons whose homes or businesses may be affected by the proposed project.

The department expects to let a contract for the construction of the estimated $407,000 project in 1973. Maps, drawings and other pertinent data developed by the highway department are available for public viewing and copying at the office of C.R. McAnis, regional engineer, at 711 Concord Street in Knoxville.

READY FOR SHRINE PAPER SALE - These three members of the Loudon Shrine Club, along with other members of the organization and some 200 other volunteers, will conduct their annual Shrine Paper Sale Sunday to raise funds for the Shrine Children's Hospitals. Last year the local drive raised more than $6000. The Shriners pictured are Charlie Arp, Freeman Russell and Claude Hines.

Shriners Hope To Raise $7000 In Paper Sale

When someone knocks on your door Sunday morning, don't turn over and go back to sleep - or be too busy to answer. The Shriners will be out selling their paper and helping the lives of crippled children.

Approximately 200 volunteers will cover the county. These will include the some 50 members of the Loudon County Shrine Club, Blue Lodge Masons, boy scouts, Rescue Squad Members, members of the Loudon High Interact Club and others. They try not to wake people up, but they want to finish by church time so they have to work fast and efficiently. The Shriners say some people who do not want to be disturbed leave an envelope with their contribution attached to the front door.

Their busy day begins with each district's workers having breakfast together before they make their rounds. But their work really begins the day after last year's paper sale.

Two breakfasts are scheduled for 6:30 a.m. One at the Philadelphia Lodge and another at Twin Lantern Restaurant.

Money received from the sale of papers goes to the Shrine Crippled Children's hospitals. Recently, they have added three more mercy hospitals to their list. These specialize in the care of severely burned children. They are in Cincinnati, Ohio, Baltimore, Maryland and Galveston, Texas. When you buy your Shrine Paper you can be sure that 96 cents of every dollar goes directly to help some child walk.

The Loudon County Shrine Club has long been the leader in raising money for the Shrine Hospitals. Last year more than $6000 was raised during the day of sales and this year the Shriners have set themselves a goal of $7000 and see no reason that it cannot be reached.

Throughout the years dozens of children from Loudon County have been assisted by the Shrine Hospitals. Another of those helped is a young Loudon girl, Wanda Cox, daughter of Mrs. Robert Cox, who will be helping to sell the papers.

Wanda's young lady has received treatment over a four year period that has corrected almost completely a bony defect in her ability to walk.

Coy Gossage is the Loudon County Chairman for this year's paper sale. He will be assisted by group leaders, who in turn are assisted by the many workers who make the sale such a success in Loudon County.

Besides the door to door campaign the Shriners will set up road blocks in Loudon, Lenoir City and Greenback to give everyone an opportunity to contribute. During the past years they have been conducting their campaign in the business areas of the county.

Grand Jury Clears Parks Of Murder

Ray Allen Parks of Lenoir City, charged in the March 2 slaying of Henry Jenkins Jr., 21, was freed of the charge when the Grand Jury returned its "true bill" after considering the case Tuesday.

At the time of the shooting, Parks told arresting officers he saw through a kitchen window and did not know Jenkins was outside.

He explained that he had heard a noise, thought it to be Robert Gray (Bud) Covington trying to get in the house, and he fired the shot to scare Covington away.

Other Grand Jury action included true bills against Mary Ann Barron on five counts of uttering and passing a forged instrument, against Alvin F. Barron for two counts of larceny (bad check), against Richard Massey on charges of assault and battery, assault with a deadly weapon, resisting arrest, assault with intent to commit a felony and destroying public property. Trial on the Massey case is set for May 30.

Other true bills include, against L. D. Daffron, alias, on a charge of armed robbery, against Donnie Tate and Ralph Wheat for breaking and entering (set for trial May 25); against Allen R. Winton and James M. Hawkins on a charge of felonious assault.

True bills were returned against Buford Palmer on a charge of drunk and disorderly, against Paul M. Ledbetter, charged with violating the driver's license law, and with no driver's license, against Moore D. Scott on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Trial is set May 23 on true bills returned against Larry Brown and Terry Johnson on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and kidnaping, and against Larry Debbie Brown on charges of Assault and Battery.

True bills were returned against David Goodman, charged with larceny; against John T. Moses and Charles Moses on charges changed from larceny to robbery; against D. C. Naze on charges of receiving and concealing stolen property, and against Kenneth Smithers on charges of larceny, auto, and larceny. However the Grand Jury returned "no true bills" abounding charges in the following cases: William Snyder, charged with violation of building permit regulations; Ted Porter, charged with violation of zoning resolution; Gene Crawley, charged with violation of building permit regulations; Robert Clark Turner, charged with resisting arrest and felonious assault; Mike Young, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor; Lester Dale McCarter, alias, charged with attempted rape; and Howard Gibson, charged with possessing an untaxed deer.

Dunn Speaks Here June 9

Governor Winfield Dunn will be guest speaker at a Republican Fund Raising Dinner in Loudon on Friday, June 9, it was announced this week.

The dinner, to be held in the Loudon High School Cafeteria from 8:30 p.m. to 8 p.m., is being sponsored by the Loudon County Republican Executive Committee.

Governor Dunn's address will follow in the school auditorium. Tickets for the event are on sale by members of the GOP Executive Committee and in the offices of Republican officials in the courthouse. Tickets are $5 each.

New Court House Hours Proposed

Court House officials are continuing to work on a proposed arrangement for the revision of business hours for the summer on a trial basis. This possibility has been discussed off and on for several years, and has arisen from the request of employees in the various County Offices to be in the same status as many other County employees, including the Health Department, Welfare Department, and the School Department, insofar as Saturday working hours are concerned.

It is also understood that the governmental offices in Anderson County, Knox County, and Blount County, as well as the City of Lenoir City, are closed on Saturdays.

Class Of 29 Has Reunion

By Calvin Lansford

Last week we ran a story of the Class of 29 of Loudon School and of their planned reunion. This is the first and only reunion the class had attempted to hold since their graduation day forty three years ago.

THREE YEARS AGO, The reunion was held Saturday, May 13, at the Lacy Hotel in Lenoir City. All but one of the original twenty members were on hand to join in the festivities. The absent member could not be present for business reasons.

Last week Mrs. Lucy Steele Harrison gave us a very factual rundown on what Loudon High was like forty three years ago. We thought she could possibly offer a more complete description of this group would be like. So the following is Mrs. Harrison's blow by blow account:

1929 LES HONOR STUDENTS—Miss Mary Katherine Mize, salutatorian and Mrs. Pearl Henry, valedictorian are shown at the 43rd anniversary Class Reunion of the Loudon High School graduates. The dress worn by Miss Mize was the one she wore at her graduation from grammar school, high school and from Maryville College.

"At 6:30 p.m., Saturday, May 13, Pearl (daddy) Henry, Edna (Fogers) Lady, Mary Katherine Mize, Helen (Lanston) Smith, Lucy Steele (Blair) Harrison, M.C. Anderson, Jr., Jim Kline and Randal Johns were met in the lobby of the Lacy Hotel in Lenoir City by Mary Gay (Thompson) Lomas, Helen (Kimzrough) Richiesin and Woody "Pete" Miller, our planning committee."

"In spite of the fact that there were some missing teeth (replaced) grey hair, change of hair color, and in some cases no hair at all, our spirits were not dampened. The only thing that marred the completeness was that there were only eleven of us there instead of the round dozen that we had hoped for."

"Mary Sue White of Nashville had planned to come but at the eleventh hour found that on account of a busy school schedule she could not make it. Our President, M.C. Anderson, Jr., read a letter of regrets from her."

"Pearl (daddy) Henry, our valedictorian and Mary Katherine Mize, our Salutatorian in her green organza dress were photographed together and several group pictures were made."

"Old scrapbooks were passed over, poetry such as "Maude Muller", "Anna Belle Lee", "Thanaopsis", etc. were quoted and "do you remember" this or that was said many times."

"As we were always a great class for projects, we gave $56 for a book of books to be placed in the library in memory of Professor Dan T. Rogers, who had guided and "put up" with us for so many years. Edna (Rogers) Lady, accepted the gift and since she is a Librarian, she will select the books."

"After we all told all we her rows) when we graduated from High School, then four years later (1933) she again wore it under the gown) when she graduated from Maryville College. Folks, if that's not what you call "keeping your finger" I don't know what it is."

"You will note that we went out with the Roaring '20's."

$317,661 Revenue Sharing Plan Explained By Baker And Brock

Loudon County and its two major cities would receive a total of $317,661 from the Federal Government in Revenue Sharing funds if a bill being proposed by Sen. Howard Baker becomes law. Rep. John Duncan told a reporter for this news paper several weeks ago that chances for the legislation appeared good. "Since I was elected to the U.S. Senate more than five years ago," Sen. Baker said, "I have actively sought passage of legislation which would return a percentage of federally collected revenue directly to the fiscally hard-pressed cities, counties and states of our country.

"It now appears that this bill, commonly called revenue sharing, will be approved during this session of Congress. The bill would authorize it appropriate for the next five years. Federal funds for direct distribution to the state and local governments, Tennessee and its local governmental units would receive approximately $79 billion the first year," the Senator said.

Sen. Bill Brock, however, was less enthusiastic about the revenue-sharing proposal under consideration. It will virtually force Tennessee and other states like it to enact a state income tax, he complained.

The proposed bill bases the amount of revenue to come to each state on a complicated formula which takes into consideration the amount of taxes that state imposes locally. This is to discourage states from reducing local taxes and just relying on the federal return. The proposed bill gives a lot of credit for local taxes collected by way of a state income tax.

"I am a strong backer of the revenue-sharing concept, but I can't support this 'so called revenue-sharing plan," Sen. Brock said, "because it would eventually necessitate the imposition of a personal income tax in Tennessee."

"This would mean that the people of Tennessee, unless they revised their whole taxing structure, would end up receiving very little federal assistance.

"I plan to work in the Senate for an amendment which would eliminate the state individual income tax collections as a major factor in the Revenue Sharing formula.

"This approach would penalize those states like Tennessee whose citizens choose to generate state revenues by means other than state individual income taxes. Under this plan, of the $600 million allocated to state governments, Tennessee would receive $12.79 million instead of the House plan of $4.97 million," Sen. Brock stated.

According to a tabulation released by Sen. Baker, the $317,661 to come to Loudon County would be broken down as follows:
Loudon City—$49,808
Loudon—$31,797
Loudon County—$236,041

The amount for each county and city is determined by a complicated formula which includes population, tax burden, relative tax paying ability, and other factors.

Bacon Wins Sears Award

Citers expressed appreciation to the firm's employees for doing an "outstanding job." The Bacon Company is one of 204 firms, out of more than 20,000 suppliers, selected by Sears for the award. Presentation was made at the company offices here by L. W. (Bud) Stevens of Sears' New York buying office, who explained that the award is based on production of high quality merchandise and meeting delivery schedules. Also present to receive the award was Clarence Wall, Vice President of the firm and Loudon City plant manager.

Sears buys Misses' Knee-Hi socks, manufactured at the Loudon City plant. "Sears has been a customer of ours for, I don't know without the records in front of me, but it must be 40 years," Mr. Citers said. "They are fine people who do business with."

In making the presentation, Mr. Stevens said, "Specifically, it is based on the general excellence of your performance in such matters as shipping goods on schedule, providing merchandise free from service or replacement problems, a minimum of customer returns, and your initiative in developing new and improved merchandise."

Speaking to all the employees, he concluded: "On behalf of Sears and the millions of Sears customers, I take pleasure in presenting this award, which all of you have helped to earn - the Sears Symbol of Excellence."

The award this year takes the form of a smaller medallion attached below the original framed award presented last year. It is hanging in the entrance lobby of the firm's central office at Loudon City.

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor:
Seat belts, when used, save lives. 2,800 to 3,500 men and women and children are alive today because they buckled up their seat belts last year.

Interestingly enough, however, slightly more than one out of every three automobile occupants use their seat belts regularly. If everybody used their belts, it could save 8,000 to 10,000 lives each year.

Facts indicate that interstate highways save approximately 3,300 lives each year. That puts interstate highway safety features into the same class as seat belts when it comes to saving lives. But interstate highways make up only 1 percent of America's road mileage. Therefore, we need to apply interstate safety technology to the existing roads in Tennessee in order to save even more lives and provide better transportation.

Approximately 35,000 people died on America's highways last year. That's inexcusable. Something has to be done to reduce that number. Strong legislation and enforcement to get drunk drivers off the road would be an excellent start since it has been proven that alcohol is responsible in over half the traffic fatalities.

Automobiles are being made safer than ever. That's fine. But we must not ignore the place better highways have in accident prevention. Sharp curves, narrow bridges, blind passing zones, blind intersections, etc. can make life treacherous for even the best driver.

We must support our highway department in its efforts to make driving safer. Much of our safety depends on our highway system.

We thought your readers would be interested in our ideas on this important subject.

Sincerely,
Harry B. Dyer
President

New Court

House Hours

under discussion at this time would include working all day Wednesday. The Court House for years has been closed on Wednesday afternoons. The new hours would be 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Tuesdays through Fridays, with the hours being lengthened from 8 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. on Monday evenings so as to accommodate those persons who have business to undertake but who cannot get to the Court House during normal business hours.

Various of the Court House officials have emphasized that they continue to consider themselves as "on call" 24 hours a day, and that when necessary demands, they are on call and will make the necessary accommodations.

LOUDON TOURNAMENT SCENES-Action in the Loudon Softball tournament last week was a display of mid-season hustle and effort as shown in the above panel. Kingston Mules third baseman Billy Moore, former Hiwassee performer, races to beat out an infield hit against North Shore Baptist. The tourney runner-up North Shore Baptist gets a extra baseball from one of its power hitters and he scores later in the inning as the umpire watches close that he tags home plate. Tournament directors Glenn "Fang" Russell and Jerry "Baldy" Simpson take a brief timeout from their many tournament duties to show off the handsome trophies the first place Maryville Lakeview team and second place North Shore Baptist (Knoxville) received from the week of playdowns.

Lakeview Lumbers To Loudon Tourney Title

Maryville Lakeview emerged from the loser's bracket to cop the Loudon invitational softball tourney last week. The Maryville team did not play until the third game of the final night's championship round but when they did get into action the Blount Countians erupted for 43 runs in three games.

In early games the Northshore Baptist team dealt the Kingston Mules a 13-2 defeat in the winners bracket play. The Mules eked out a close 5-4 game over once beaten Eaton's to remain alive in the tourney.

The victorious Mules scored one run in the third and four in the sixth as to one in the third frame for Eaton and two scores in the fifth and one in the sixth.

Lakeview eliminated the Kingston Mules 10-1 in their game and then faced the unbeatens of Northshore Baptist. The Lakeview team bombed the Knoxville team 15-2 and thus another game became necessary.

Since the tourney had been rained out one night the two teams chose to play the final game on the same night to end things up. The Lakeview hitting assault showed no mercy as they exploded for a 18-4 triumph and the championship.

Cunningham No-hits Norris

Tim Cunningham struck out five and walked five, but refused to yield a hit in blanking Norris High School 6-0 last Wednesday. The hard throwing junior ace was never in any serious trouble in posting his fifth win of the season against one loss.

Gary Chambers, Charlie Dye, and Doug Williams led the Panthers at bat with two hits each.

Lenoir City tallied two runs in the second frame to give Cunningham a victory margin. Randy Tutnam started the inning by reaching first base on an error. Doug Williams and Gary Chambers walked to load the bases and Charlie Dye delivered a two run single.

The Panthers added a single score in the fourth on Williams single and Charlie Dye's RBI double.

Lenoir City wrapped things up in the sixth inning with three runs on a hit by Williams, Charlie Dye hit into a force play, but Chambers hit safely and Buddy Walker provided one run with a sacrifice and Tommy Cook extending his batting streak lashed a two run base knock to top the day.

Speaking of Sports

By DANNY GIBSON
Sports Editor

The Loudon Softball City League got off to a fast start Monday night with four games being played. The summer schedule has games for Monday, Tuesday, and Friday nights with a probable Saturday night double header each week.

Eleven teams are entered into the men's division of play and four teams in the women's league.

The Kingston Mules and the Bank of Loudon County are early season picks to battle for the league championship. The Mules won the season championship last summer.

Teams in the men's division are Bank of Loudon County, Kingston Mules, Maremont Number One, Maremont Number Two, Smith

P-A System Sought For Loudon Ball Park

A campaign is underway in Loudon to raise about $200 for a public address system for the Legion Ball Park in Loudon.

Persons wishing to donate to the project may contact Betty McCallister. It is hoped the public address system can be installed in the next two weeks.

The monthly meeting of the Loudon Quarterback Club will be held Monday, May 22 at 7 p.m. at the old Loudon High School building on Fort Hill. All members are urged to attend.

Chair Company, Union Carbide, Huntsville, Loudon Co-op, Loudon Recreation Center, Garden Spot Lenoir City, and Loudon Texico.

The women's teams will not start playing until after school is out and no team strength is known about any of the four entries. Sweetwater, Smith Chair Company, Loudon VFW and Philadelphia make up the women's division.

Maremont Number Two will play its games on Saturday night only due to the teams work shift at Maremont.

Games start at six o'clock for the season and a schedule designed that each team will play every team in the league at least three times.

On the baseball front the Loudon Merchants will start practice this week with their first game of the season scheduled for Saturday May 27.

The Merchants are expected to be one of the stronger teams of the Stan Musial League this summer with an array of talent coming to play from around the area.

Benco Plastic, Jefferson City Magnavox, Oak Ridge, Knoxville Merchants, Luttrell, and the Knoxville Reds going under the sponsor of the Smart Shop will join Loudon in the summer play.

A final note must go to the outstanding directorship of the recent Loudon softball tourney. The gala event came off with out a hitch and all players and teams were very impressed at the efficient way Glenn Russell and Baldy Simpson handled the tournament. Lakeview of Maryville carried home the tourney title.

Lenoir City High Golfers End Season In Regional

Knoxville Hills won the Region two golfing tournament at Knoxville's Beaver Brook Country Club Monday by edging Harriman 307-306 for team honors.

One hundred and four golfers took part in the 18 hole tournament which represented 28 high schools.

Bimbo Wright was top medalist for the event with an extra hole playoff win. Wright is from Harriman.

Lenoir City's golfers took part in the Monday tourney for the right play in the State Tournament at Nashville's Harpheth Hills June 7-8. The Panthers golfers posted a 274 team score which gained them 34th among the teams entered.

George Hardin a near par to low 40 golfer had his worst day of the spring with two 50's for both rounds. The senior is a much better performer than his region debut indicated and was considered by many regular season opponents as a possible contender for an individual berth in the State meet.

Chuck Easter led the Lenoir City team with a 88. Easter had a 42 for the first round which put him close to the early tourney leaders but finished the second round with a 46 to end the day in the middle of the heap.

David White was just a stroke behind Easter with a 89

as he fired a 44 and a 45 for the two rounds of play.

Mitch Keebler, who broke into the starting foursome at mid-season had a 97 for the day, registering a 50 on the first nine and improving to a 47 on the back nine for his total.

The Regional tourney concluded the season for the Lenoir City team.

Boat Check Sunday

A three boat safety inspection by the Coast Guard will be conducted Sunday afternoon at the Lenoir City boat launch in the Port Loudoun Park.

Truman H. Colder, of the Coast Guard Water Patrol will conduct the free inspection to give summer boaters an in-chance check of their water crafts. Should a boat fail to pass the safety requirements in any way the boat owner will have his attention called to the particulars and will be permitted to correct this.

There is no charge for the inspection and no penalties imposed on any boat not meeting the full safety requirements but a charge check will be given the boat owner to aid him in equipping his boat for the summer. All boats passing the inspection will receive a sticker to go on your boat symbolizing your boat has met all safety features for safety boating on the waterways of Tennessee for 1972.

Panthers Lash 16 Hits to Defeat Lake City 8-0

No hitters are becoming as common as traffic jams in Lenoir City now days. Sammy Dunlap was the first to turn the trick far back in the season but since then Tim Cunningham has mastered the feat twice and Tommy Cook has joined the group at the expense of Lake City Thursday.

The Panthers supported the sharp pitching of Cook with a 16 hit bombardment of the Lakers for eight runs. Every starter for the Panthers collected at least one hit for the game.

Four runs in the bottom of the inning got Cook off to a good start and the hard throwing lefty never let up in extending his season pitching mark to 5-1.

Charlie Dye got a hit to open the first, Tommy Cook lived on an error by the centerfielder and three straight base hits by Neil Foster, Randy Tatham, and Doug Williams had the game all but salted away in the score book.

A single score in the third on Tatham's hit and with two 40's Mike Hooks struck an RBI safety to score Randy, to make the count 5-0.

A big three run fifth saw Doug Williams start with a hit and race to third on Cunningham's double. Hooks lived on an error, while Gary Chambers registered a run batted in with a ground ball to the second baseman. Charlie Dye cleaned the bases with a triple and Buddy Walker and Cook each hammered a hit before the Lakers could put out the fire.

Tommy Cook not only pitched well but led his mates at the plate with three hits and scored on run and and drove in a score in four official trips to the plate.

Gary Chambers, Charlie Dye, Randy Tatham, Doug Williams and Mike Hooks all had two hits in the contest while Buddy Walker, Neil Foster, and Tim Cunningham had timely hits to round out the night's play.

Cook struck out eight and limited the Lakers to just two base on balls for the seven inning game.

Lenoir City Wins In Tourney 2-0

BULLETIN:

The Lenoir City Panthers scored two runs in the first inning Tuesday night as Gary Chambers walked and went to third on Charlie Dye's double and scored on a one out sacrifice fly by Tommy Cook and an error by the Harriman Blue Devils in the District Four Baseball playdowns.

Tim Cunningham picked up the win for Lenoir City, now 12-3 for the season, and placed them into the quarterfinal round tonight at 7:30 against Jellison.

Cunningham struck out nine and walked two in registering a two hit shutout. Cunningham is 6-1 on the year. Harriman had defeated the Panthers early in the season at the Panthers home field but the 2-9 triumph averaged the loss and eliminated the Blue Devils.

Stabilization of Lakes Underway

The annual spring stabilization of water levels for fish spawning in TVA lakes is getting under way. Fisheries biologists and engineers have been preparing for the process to help ensure a successful spawn.

Twice a week, hydraulic engineers have been measuring water temperatures at depths down to five feet below the surface in twelve lakes to determine lake reaches between 60 and 65 degrees Fahrenheit, nest-building fish such as bass and crappie begin the reproduction process.

Game & Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game & Fish Commission

It used to be that sulphur and molasses was the standard remedy for spring fever. Then someone decided that a good fishing trip had equal therapeutic benefit.

Both these cures probably have value - they do clear the head and can still the restless urge brought about by winter's confinement. But we've hit upon another tonic that may surpass both the old standards.

When the earth warms, folks who've never studied the color of their thumbs yield to an inborn desire to dig and rake, plant and sow. It's as natural as eating and breathing. While some folks are elaborate in their ritualistic springtime rites, others are content to scratch a few flower seeds into the ground here and there, set out a bare minimum of tomato plants, then search for relief in other activities. But the common denominator is the fact that all of us, actively or passively, city-bred or country-born, have an urge to assist nature's springtime beautification program.

Perhaps this urge could be extended beyond our city lot or suburban half-acre, and at the same time help Tennessee wildlife.

Dwell with me a moment in devotion to a hobby of 100,000 Tennesseans, each with a few hours to spare and a desire to dig and plant and sow, spent this spring planning for wildlife if each of them produced as little as one-eighth of an acre of wildlife food and cover, 12,300 acres of wildlife habitat could be added to Tennessee's present supply.

RECEIVED FOOD PLANTING MIXTURE-Sgt. Bob Harmon of the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission is shown with Geo Hendrick, Jeff Canaler and Jody Crabtree, members of the Loudon City Junior High School 4-H Club. The 4-H classes received approximately 800 pounds of Wildlife Food Planting Mixture.

Now our game biologists tell us one-eighth of an acre will support one covey of quail, or a hatch of rabbits, so our hypothetical 100,000 people would produce a theoretical 100,000 additional coveys of quail or 100,000 hatches of rabbit, or a more reasonable combination of both.

The idea isn't as fanciful as it seems, although actual practice would be more complicated.

To start with, not everyone has one-eighth of an acre to devote to wildlife, and if he did, its location would weigh heavily on the success of the venture. But 100,000 isn't a lot of people, really. That number represents only 2 1/2 percent of Tennessee's population, and only 4.7 percent of Tennessee's adults.

It stands to reason that 100,000 Tennesseans could take it upon themselves this spring to improve Tennessee's wildlife habitat. Perhaps they own a few acres of Tennessee's countryside. It would be a simple and inexpensive matter to set aside and develop a fence-row or two, or the corner of a field, for wildlife.

Perhaps city-dwellers know someone who does have the land and would welcome an extra hand to put in a wildlife food crop.

WILDLIFE SEED MIXTURE
In order to promote the production of food and cover for wildlife, each year the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission distributes free of charge to farmers a mixture of annual seeds. It is normally comprised of 50 percent buckwheat, 15 percent Korean Lespedeza, and 10 percent corn peas. This material is designed primarily during the latter part of May, it will provide food for wildlife from the middle of July on into the fall and winter months.

Your County In Action

BY HARVEY L. SPROUL
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

In trying to operate County Government (or any Government so far as that goes), one of the things that you have to look at, and which is involved in almost every decision, is how will this affect our County 10, 20, and 30 years from now?

Too often we have only thought only about the present and what the effect is today, and tomorrow, or this year.

What will our citizens 20 years from now say about what we are doing today? This is one of the reasons that Planning Commissions are so important today.

With a Planning Commission you have a body which has the specific function of looking to the future, and making recommendations, and carrying out regulations that will help make the community 20 or 30 years from now a desirable place in which to live.

Protect Ourselves
How can we protect our growth when we are involved so closely with the metropolitan area of Knoxville, Anderson, and Blount Counties on our North and East, not to speak of the prospect of a model community on the shores of the new Tellico Lake?

We have a deep responsibility to our children and grandchildren, and by using a little sense, and taking things as they come, our descendants hopefully will be able to look back and say those parents and grandparents of ours did a good job!

Federal agencies and planners seem to realize that our present rural areas will be changed in the future, and that they should plan now to have the things that make for a good community in the future. This would include good jobs and good industry, adequate educational facilities, including schools, water and sewage systems, police protection, fire protection, flood, recreational facilities, etc.

I just thought I might list here excerpts from the "Local Planning News" which is a News Letter issued by the Tennessee State Planning Commission, to give you an idea of what other Counties (consulting references to what many of the smaller towns are doing, which is plenty):

Other Counties
"Working with TSPC and West Tennessee Office Principal Planner Larry Cox, the recently reactivated DYER COUNTY Planning Commission adopted a major road plan for the county in their December 15 meeting in Dyersburg. The road plan is a prerequisite for adoption of subdivision regulations."

SULLIVAN COUNTY
"SULLIVAN COUNTY Planning Commission discussed the status of the proposed County zoning ordinance and reviewed future plans concerning meetings with county magistrates to explain the plan in detail. The chairman also briefly discussed the Kingsport-Creek flood control project as it relates to Sullivan County."

MOORE COUNTY
"MOORE COUNTY has adopted subdivision regulations. The regulations were drafted by the Moore County Regional Planning Commission assisted by TSPC."

Moore County has started construction on a new high school and a new recreation area."
CAMPBELL COUNTY
"A $9,000 grant from the Farmers Home Administration to the Campbell County Regional Planning Commission has recently been approved for the preparation of a comprehensive water and sewer study. TSPC has signed a contract to aid the planning commission in the preparation of the study."

MAURY COUNTY
"The Maury County Administration has approved a $9,500 grant to the Regional Planning Commission for planning the development of rural water and waste disposal services."

HICKMAN COUNTY
"The Hickman County Regional Planning Commission has received a grant from the Farmers Home Administration for preparing a comprehensive water and sewer development plan."

SULLIVAN COUNTY
"The Sullivan County Planning Commission signed the Airport Zoning Ordinance which will go now to the County Court for approval. A lengthy discussion was also had on recreational facilities required in the county."

MEIGS COUNTY
"Mrs. Neva O. Legg has been appointed to the Meigs County Regional Planning Commission."

MADISON COUNTY
"The Madison County Regional Planning Commission began reviewing the initial draft of new subdivision regulations in March."

HICKMAN COUNTY
"A clean-up campaign underway to help the County combat solid waste pollution."

TAZEWELL - NEW

TAZEWELL RECEIVE HUD GRANT
"A joint effort has once more paid off for Tazewell and New Tazewell. The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) recently announced a Neighborhood Facilities grant of $24,962 for the two cities to be used in the development and construction of a $300,000 community center."

The community center project is one of only several successful joint projects undertaken by the two cities. More than three years ago, Tazewell and New Tazewell, which have a joint planning commission, joined with the county in applying for, and receiving federal, state and local funds for help in the construction of an airport."

ROBERTSON COUNTY
"At the recent meeting of the Robertson County Quarterly Court, the court approved both a county zoning resolution and a mobile home park resolution."

DYER COUNTY
"Planning Commissioners for Dyer County approved new subdivision regulations after a January 27 public hearing attended by 13 persons other than commissioners."

MADISON COUNTY
"Both a major road plan and a county-wide water and sewer plan are being reviewed by the Madison County Planning Commission. Eight members of the WTO staff attended the American Institute of Planners meeting in Memphis January 28."

POLK COUNTY
"Martin Kell of Copperhill and J.T. Qualls of Denton were recently appointed to the Polk County Regional Planning Commission."

MC MINN COUNTY
"Earl Lockmillier and Homer Johnson have been appointed to the McMinn County Regional Planning Commission."

RHEA COUNTY
"Ray Phillips and Elmer Longmore have been appointed to the Rhea County Regional Planning Commission."

MONROE COUNTY
"REACTIVATES PLANNING COMMISSION—The reactivation of the Monroe County Regional Planning Commission took place last month when several new members gathered for the first reorganizational meeting at the Monroe County Courthouse."

BRADLEY COUNTY
"The Bradley County Regional Planning Commission has adopted the first set of Subdivision Regulations in the county's history. A workshop was held in early March to familiarize local developers with the regulations."

us by Loudon Mayor Joe Carter and we thought our readers might enjoy it. But bear in mind this happened years ago.

It seems that down near Philadelphia the drinkers threw their empty bottles and jugs in a pond. This pond was supposed to be on the road between Morganton and Philadelphia. There was an old log house near the pond and for some who can't remember the pond, you may remember the house. It seems that this was a favorite spot for years and was an ideal place to hide the evidence.

The story goes that a fellow was driving 40 or 50 head of steers in Philadelphia one warm afternoon and he stopped at this pond to let his cattle rest a bit. He laid down under the shade of a tree and went to sleep. Late in the afternoon he awakened to find his cattle standing around. As he counted them to see if they were all there, he saw something which made him wonder if he was still a little bit full to know everything.

Because there where the pond was before he went to sleep now was just a big heap of whiskey bottles, jugs and demijohns. This fellow rubbed his eyes, he pinched himself but no matter he still could not see the pond.

He jumped on his horse and loped into Philadelphia and found Matt Robinson, a cat-have this week was possibly made a decoration. These we know are the late T. Henderson, Glenn Henderson and Paul Henderson. Paul Henderson, who now lives in Detroit, Michigan is a weekly reader of the good old days. The other week we ran a picture of the awful Roane

County flood, and we stated that the flood was caused by the breaking of a dam at Oakdale. Now we find we were wrong. The flood was caused by high waters which washed drift of all kinds into a bridge at Oakdale and this formed a dam. As the water continued to rise and after an Oakdale cloudburst the bridge gave way. Thanks to Mrs. Paul Arp for providing us this information. To Mr. Richmond of Florida. Received your letter and will write about it at a later date. That's it for now. See you next week.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

This week we have some pictures represented by these pictures who are well known in this area and many of them still live here. One of the pictures is of Bo and Lynn Scarbrough, certainly well known family in Loudon. Of course, Bo is now Mrs. Frank Roberts and we believe Lynn still lives in this area.

More pictures later, but now I pause to relate an interesting story from way back in the good old days.

Quite often we have a story come our way which we feel is worth repeating. This week we have such a story passed on to

By Calvin Lunsford. From time to time we run random pictures of people who are well known to folks from the good old days. These pictures are passed on to us by our readers to use when we have the space available. We are always proud to get these and to use them when we can.

Two Escape Jail, Caught Within Hour

Freedom was short lived Tuesday morning for two inmates at the Loudon County Jail. Sheriff Freeman Russell said that two prisoners, Ralph Wheat of Lenoir City and Charlie Moses of Bradley County were captured by City of Loudon police about an hour after they ran from the county jail.

Sheriff Russell said that the pair, both waiting for trial in Criminal Court, ran right past jailer Lester Gaston and trustee Carl Grimes when they opened the cell block door on the main floor of the jail to take breakfast trays to the seven prisoners upstairs about 6:15 a.m. The two escapees ran out the front door just as deputy J.W. Mashburn was driving into the jail parking lot. They ran around the side of the jail and were gone before Mashburn could give chase. The sheriff said he thinks the two ran along the railroad tracks out to Highland Avenue and then were spotted on Webster Court by Loudon patrolman Kenny Russell who took Wheat into custody. Sheriff Russell said when he arrived Chief John Lennox had the second escapee in custody. They were returned to county jail about 7:15 a.m. where a charge of escaping jail was added to their charges.

Wheat is scheduled for trial in Criminal Court Thursday on charges of Breaching and Entering Eaton's School. Moses, is waiting trial on a robbery indictment, plus being intoxicated, no drivers license and for desertion from the armed forces.

Boeings Timberlake Report Encouraging

A brief status report on a current study underway by TVA and the Boeing Corporation was made last week at Greenback at a regular meeting of the Tellico Area Planning Council (TAPC).

John Doig, chief engineer, presented a brief explanation of several reports concerning the industrial potential of the Timberlake-New River project that the majority of the reports agreed that industry could be attracted to Timberlake in order to establish a stable economic base for the community.

He also explained that the Boeing-TVA study team was currently investigating health care needs for Timberlake, the physical plan for and the social needs of the new town, a governmental-institutional concept for the community and electrical power distribution requirements for the Tellico project.

Doig also presented findings of a report concerning the potential housing market in Timberlake.

In other matters, the chairman of the recreational sub-committee of TAPC, Walter Lamaden, reported that the design work and planning for the Ft. Loudoun State Park has been suspended until the Tellico injunction is settled and until a suitable plan for the use of the park's lands can be agreed upon by the State Department of Conservation, TVA and Boeing.

Shrine Sale

Surpasses Goal

As usual the Loudon County Shrine Club went over the top in raising money for the Shrine Crippled Children's Hospitals through their annual Shrine Paper Sale held this last Sunday.

Coy Gossage, chairman of the sale, said that the goal of $7,000 was exceeded and not all reports are yet in. He said that the club thanks all Loudon Countians for their generous support and help in helping the Shrine Club in maintaining their record of meeting and exceeding their goal. Some 200 persons were active in the solicitation Sunday.

TVA officials reported to the group that $15 million had been appropriated to the Tellico budget by the U.S. Government for the fiscal 1973. The group also outlined the need and bridge construction currently underway and explained what highway work would be initiated during the coming year.

The representatives also announced that 70.7 percent of the total lands needed for the Tellico project had been purchased.

It was also reported that a serious problem with vandalism (Continued on Page 11)

Offices Close Saturday

Open Late On Monday

Loudon County Court House officials announced this week that they have completed arrangements and have jointly agreed to establish revised summer business hours for all Court House offices. Under the agreement, the Court House will be closed on Saturdays, except for such special arrangements as might be made in specific circumstances by individual County offices affected, but that the Court House would be open until 6:30 p.m. on Mondays and all day on Wednesdays.

It was pointed out that these hours were on a trial basis, and that the offices will actually open more hours per week than they are at present.

The Court House officials emphasized that their employees have requested some consideration inasmuch as most other offices in County Departments are closed on Saturdays, as well as governmental offices in Anderson County, Knox County, Blount County, and Lenoir City.

It was pointed out that staying open until 6:30 p.m. on Monday evenings would give County citizens who are personally employed a chance to do Court House business after their own regular working hours.

Election Commission Chairman, John Gibson, announced that the Election Commission office tentatively would also be operating under revised hours.

He stated that the office would be open on Mondays from 1 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. and Friday morning from 8 a.m. to 12 noon. The Election Commission office previously had been open on Monday and Saturday mornings.

$160,000 Project Ready In 1973

Loudon Mayor Joe Carter received word Monday from Senator Bill Brock that the office of Housing and Urban Development that the city's application for an $80,000 federal grant for construction of a swimming pool and park complex had been funded. The pool and park complex, located on an 11 acre site adjacent to Loudon High School, is expected to cost approximately $160,000 with half the funds coming from the federal government.

City Administrator Gary Hensley said that about two months more of planning and getting specific about the project are needed before construction bids can be called for. The project calls for construction over a 10 month period, indicating that the pool and park complex will not be ready for use until mid-1973.

Mr. Hensley said that the City Commission had been working on the project already for more than a year and many people have had part in getting the project to its present point. They are the County Board, the Planning Commission, State Planning Commission, County Court, the County School Board and others who have purchased the land for the project from the county.

Architects and engineers on the project are Bargo, Waggoner, Sumner and Cannon, who have offices in Knoxville and Nashville.

The swimming pool, which will be open to the public, will be dominate feature of the park complex. The pool is expected to cover about 3,000 square feet, have a wide concrete bordering the pool, bath houses, lockers and concession stand. A small building for an infant bath and play area is also included in the plans. Other areas of the complex will be kept by physical activities with tennis courts, basketball courts, shuffle board, horse show, an open area for softball and playground. There is also to be an area for picnicking.

Mr. Hensley said the entire project will be designed around multiple use and will be operated as part of the high school physical education program during the school months and operated by the city in its recreation program in the summer.

344 Local Seniors Prepare For Graduation

Some 344 Seniors in Loudon, Lenoir City and Greenback High Schools are beginning their final weeks of activity leading to their receiving diplomas at their respective high schools in just over a week. Lenoir City High leads with 177 candidates for diplomas followed by Loudon with 134 and Greenback with 33.

Graduation will take on a new look at Loudon High this year with the traditional Class Night and Baccalaureate services being dropped from the Commencement exercises by the 1972 class of 134 seniors.

Another new twist is that the Graduation Services slated for 8 p.m. Monday June 26 will be held in Dukes Stadium, weather permitting. In case of bad weather the services will be moved back to the school auditorium. The outside move was made because the 900 seat auditorium is not large enough to seat all who wish to attend the graduation.

In addition to the presentation of diplomas by Superintendent of Education A.C. Dukes and principal William Napper, a large number of awards and scholarships will be awarded at the graduation exercises. Among these will be the Charles H. Bacon Company scholarship, to be presented by Bacon Board Chairman W.V. Kirkland, the DAR awards, Rotary Award and others.

Members of the class honor society will be wearing gold tassels on their caps instead of blue as in the past. Speakers for the night will include class Valedictorian Everett Housein and Salutatorian Joan Morton. A number of other students will also participate in the program.

LENOIR CITY

Some 177 seniors at Lenoir City High School will receive their diplomas in services in the J. Guy Buckner Auditorium.

The first event for the 1972 class is Awards Day to be held Friday, May 26 at 8:40 a.m. in the auditorium. The stage will be decorated with baskets of spring flowers and greenery.

The program will include an insert with names listed, including a list of their awards. Reverend Wayne Fritts will open the program with the invocation and Steve Spears, president of the Student Council, will lead the Pledge of Allegiance. Kathy Hines, salutatorian, will play the theme song of the 1972 seniors from "Love Story." Becky Ernst, valedictorian and president of the senior class, will give the farewell address to the seniors and the student body. Awards will be presented by the sponsors of the clubs and classes.

The seniors' colors are blue and white; the motto, "Where Shall I Begin?" from the song "Love Story"; and the flower, a spring bouquet, representing the vast variety of individuals in the class.

Dr. Nat. C. Bettis, director of extension education for Christian Service at Carson-Newman will deliver the commencement address. The 177 graduates will receive their diplomas from Principal Edward Osborne and Superintendent Ross Wilson. The Speaker Dr. Bettis received his BA and MA degrees from Baylor University, Waco, Texas. He was granted the B.D. and Th.D. degrees from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas. Since April, 1967, Dr. Bettis has made four tours overseas to the Middle East and Europe. He is currently a member of the International Program Committee of the Carson-Newman faculty which offers several foreign travel study programs to the students as well as the general public throughout the year.

GREENBACK

Class Day, slated for Wednesday, May 31, from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., leading in graduation for 33 seniors in Greenback High School's 55th annual Commencement Program.

At Class Day the class will be read and many awards and honors presented to members of the class. The Class Day service is open to the public. The first event of the Commencement program is this Sunday with Baccalaureate Services at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The Prelude to the service will be by Nancy Brooks. Invocation will be by the Rev. R.M. Everett. The Baccalaureate Sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Billy Joe McCown, pastor of Springhill Baptist Church. The Rev. Clarence Seaton will deliver the benediction.

The Commencement Program will be held at the school at 8 p.m. Tuesday, June

Arts Festival To Be Trip Of Month

The Lenoir City Arts and Crafts Festival will again this year be promoted, as a "Knoxville News-Sentinel Trip of the Month."

News-Sentinel roving columnist Willard Varrubough, who conducts the "Trip of the Month" promotion through the Knoxville newspaper, was in Loudon City last week working with the Arts and Crafts Festival Committee, representatives from the sponsoring Suburban Junior Woman's Club and the Loudon City Chamber of Commerce.

The Festival has been a very popular Trip of the Month on two previous occasions, but to avoid too much repetition, was not designated as such last year, although it did receive wide publicity both through the Knoxville newspaper and other media. Plans call for a "News-Sentinel Trip of the Month" welcoming booth at the entrance to the Lenoir City Park, and other evidences of local hospitality for "trippers" are being worked out.

More and more exhibitors are registering for the 10th annual Arts and Crafts Festival, sponsored each year by the Lenoir City Suburban Junior Woman's Club.

The event, attended last year by an estimated 12,000 persons, is scheduled for Saturday, June 3 from 10 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. on the lake-side pavilion setting in Lenoir City Park.

But stand-by arrangements have been made, in case of rain, to hold the affair at the new Lenoir City Senior High School.

This year the Lenoir City Chamber of Commerce is marshalling its efforts to promote the Arts and Crafts Festival. "It brings thousands of people to Lenoir City," said Chamber President Bland Winfrey, "and it gives Lenoir City a good name throughout the area."

Already five billboards have been erected at the entrances to the city and along the Interstate Highways to attract both local and distant travelers. In addition, the First National Bank also is donating four billboards for the month prior to the event.

Mayor Joe Grayson, who is serving as chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Committee, said plans call for the May issue of the Tennessee Conservationist, a magazine published by the State Conservation Department, to carry a story about the festival. It is hoped that

Local Rents Up 48 Percent

In Loudon County, for home owners and for apartment dwellers alike, housing costs have been on an upward spiral in the last ten years, the figures show.
The home owners in the local area—there are 5,912 of them—have been confronted with bigger and bigger bills for fuel, repairs, taxes and the like.
For the 1,917 families who are living in rental units, costs have been zooming similarly. They have seen their rents rise from a median of $31 a month to $46 in the last ten years. This is exclusive of the cost of utilities and fuel.
For half of them, the rents have been lower than those contract amounts and, for the other half, higher.
They show how rentals in Loudon County have been moving as compared with the changes that have been taking place in other parts of the country.
In the local area the rental increase in the ten-year period was 48 percent, according to the findings. Elsewhere in the United States the rise amounted to 50 percent, the average in the East South Central States it was 56 percent and, in the State of Tennessee, 59 percent.
By the same token, for those who have been buying homes, prices went up sharply in the period. In Loudon County, the median value of occupied homes climbed 33 percent. Inflation was the culprit. Because housing is the most heavily weighted component of the Consumer Price Index, it has been a principal victim of the rising costs. It has had to cope with bigger fuel and electric bills, with tax hikes, with higher insurance rates and with increases in other operating expenses.

Because of the growing concentration of people in urban and suburban areas, the price of land has been pushed higher and higher. The economic pressure upon builders, therefore, has been to stack family units upward rather than to produce one-family homes far from job centers.
Loudon County families, for the most part, have been able to take the rising costs in stride. Their incomes, since 1960, have gone up 114 percent, on average, the figures show.

Your County In Action

BY
Harvey L. Sproul
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

There are three or four items of interest which I have on my mind at the time I am writing this column, and thought I might just mention them to you:

New Name

Did you know that we no longer have an office of Civil Defense on the Federal, State, or local level?

The Civil Defense function is still carried as a part of governmental problems, but it is now charged (as it really has been for some time) not with merely preparing for war on the home front, but also with preparing for and coping with natural disasters such as floods, hurricanes and tornadoes.

The new national title will be D-fense Civil Preparedness Agency (DCPA).

I think that possibly on the local level the name will be the Office of Civil Preparedness, or something of that kind. We have been fortunate on our own local level to have a very dedicated man who has served for almost 6 years as our Civil Defense Director, Ted Randolph of Loudon; and his fine assistant for those years has been W. C. Beeler of Lenoir City.

The Director's office position carries a small part-time salary (a part of which is paid by the State Civil Defense office) which I feel has been repaid to Loudon County ever the years many times by the work and suggestions that Mr. Randolph has made for the good of Loudon County citizens.

Hunting

I just read a very interesting article in my law partner's magazine "The Tennessee Conservativist."

It is in reference to the problem of hunting on private land.

I really had never thought about it much, but almost anyone who goes hunting is hunting on someone's land, and generally it is private land.

But apparently, as is true in many situations, there are a few hunters who have about destroyed this privilege for the many people who enjoy hunting as a sport.

The writer of the article indicates that the people who are going to be affected by the closing of private land with "No Hunting" or "No Trespassing" signs are the middle- and low-income classes—the average weekend small-game hunter.

The reason for this is that they cannot afford the fees of private sporting clubs or to pay to hunt on leased lands. What has happened is that hunters have done such things as shooting cattle, or having clipped wire fences with their clippers to be able to get from one field to another, and things such as, to the point that private landowners no longer are willing to let hunters use their lands.

Saturday Closing

There has been a growing sentiment and request from employees of elected County officials that the Loudon County Courthouse, as in the case of many other courts, be closed on Saturdays.

Of course, there are many reasons which back up doing this, although there are definitely some factors which would militate against this practice in Loudon County.

For several years now I have been approached by various County officials along this line, they reviewed some considerable pressure from their employees, but I have always personally discouraged undertaking this unless there was complete agreement among all the elected officials.

Now it appears there is unanimous agreement of the Courthouse officials, maybe principally because it is being done in most all other offices in the County, and in many of the neighboring Counties to try revised office hours this summer.

This means the Courthouse being closed on Saturday, but would call for evening hours on Monday, with the offices being open more hours under the summer schedule as contrasted to what they are open now.

Trial Basis

The thing that I have tried to stress the most is that if it is to be done, then this should only be done on a trial basis to see if a great majority of citizens of this County do not object and will cooperate with the new arrangement, and if it appears at the end of the trial period that it is not satisfactory and a great majority are not satisfied, then the new hours should not be continued.

After all, we are all elected by the people, and we should be willing, within reason, to do whatever it takes to do this. On the other hand, I believe that a lot of our citizens understand that anything that can be done to make public service more desirable should be done, and if at the same time equal or better service can be provided, then this possibly would be acceptable to them.

It now looks as if the new summer hours will go into effect with the Courthouse being closed on Saturday, June 3, 1972, and open late on Monday, June 5, 1972 (to 4:30 p.m.).

Good News

We are hoping to have a wonderful announcement to make after this next weekend. It involves something I have been working on ever since I have been in office, and will be of great benefit to the county if things continue to work out.

Lenoir City Bats Hammer Out 16-1 Tourney Rout

Lenoir City made quick order of the quarterfinal round of the District Four Baseball Tournament at Oak Ridge Thursday night with a one-sided 16-1 victory over Jellico.

Tommy Cook gained the pitching decision going just five innings for his sixth win of the year. The hard throwing lefty struck out nine and five of the first six batters in the game came on third strike whiffs by the Jellico batters. Cook walked five but was never in any real trouble due to the Lenoir City batting assault.

Jellico did all their serious offensive play with two outs. With two down in the fourth inning Jellico placed men on first and second on back to back base on balls but Cook regained his poise and struck out the side.

Again with two out Jellico attempted to get its offense off the ground in the fifth inning this time on back to back doubles by the shortstop and catcher which produced one run and prevented a shutout for the Panthers. Cook retired the next batter and the game was over in a minimum five innings.

Lenoir City used the inspired pitching of Cook and back to back whiffs on errorless ball in the field while lashing 15 hits in mauling the Jellico team.

Gary Chambers, a tough leadoff hitter and fine second baseman, gave the Jellico pitching a fit all evening as he collected a third of Lenoir City's hits for the game with a sparkling five for five performance. The right pitcher-first baseman had but two scored two runs and had three runs batted in to definitely lock things for this night.

Everybody hit safe for the Panthers except Tommy Cook, who had his hitting streak finally stopped. The pitcher-first baseman had but two official times at bat and scored a run.

Randy Tatham collected two hits in three times at bat and scored three times with one run batted in. Neil Foster also had an enjoyable night with two hits and three runs scored. Mike Walker had but one hit for the night.

"We've had some of the best races this season since the track opened three years ago," said owner Bob Martin.

"This weekend should be a real treat for the fans. The drivers really go all out, especially in the Shriners race."

Vineyard holds a narrow lead over Tipton in the points race and, with back-to-back races, the top 10 could undergo a big shuffle.

Loudon Merchants Open At Home Saturday

The Loudon Merchants will kick off their Stan Musial home opener Saturday with a home encounter with Luttrell.

The Merchants are coached by James (Baldy) Simpson. The Merchants are considered to be one of the better teams in the league this summer with its returning surplus of young talent which missed going to the State Tournament last year by a single game. Manager Simpson has been working diligently in landing some new pitching strength which has been on the weaker side in the last few years.

"We have just out been able to find a good quantity of established pitchers in recent years," states Simpson. "We have always had a team stopper but not a good corps of dependability."

The addition of Jack Cox, a Hiwassee performer and pitcher for Health Kait last year should help the dependable Gary Joe Gibson, a lefty and Danny Russell, a right hander as the better hurlers in the league.

Loudon has been practicing on Wednesday afternoon. The league teams and managers: STAN MUSIAL; Oak Ridge FM, Bob Bailey; Knoxville Merchants, Rick Privette; Benno Plastica, Jim O'Brien; Jefferson City, Magnavox, Luke Morgan; Bankers, Phil Hatcher; Smart Shop, John Fenderson; Loudon Merchants, James Simpson; Fernont Reds, Doug Coleman; Luttrell, Ray Kitts; Madisonville, Gordon Tucker.

Rain Gives Helms And Carver Edge In Union Carbide Golf Play

The Union Carbide golf league is moving despite the possible idea to change the sport to water polo if the weather does not start showing some kindness to the out doors man.

Charlie Helms and Tootsie Carver are once more back in first position of the league standings after a week of sitting behind Dick Rosenbaum and Eldon White who held a 43-40 advantage in last week's play.

Helms and Carver rallied for 10 team points for a total of 50 points for the season and regained their first place standing as action starts this week. Jack Miller and Clell Miller moved up to the second place spot with a 10 point surge and a total of 48 points. Hall Summers and Mike Oody are again in third place after trailing Rosenbaum and White by just two points a week ago with 41 points now have 47 points and are in position to catch any of the top runners.

Dick Rosenbaum and Eldon White did not get to play last week and thus have lost ground for the present, but has a chance to reach the top with a make-up match.

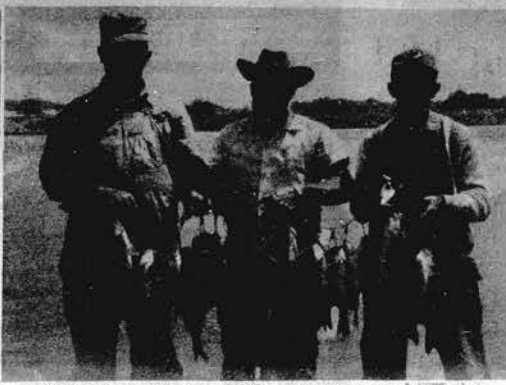

Mike Oody has tied Dick Rosenbaum for the low net score of the season with a 31 two weeks ago. Oody and teammate Hall Summers had the low team score for the night also with a 70.

Dick Huff and of team number two and Hall Summers of team number nine tied for individual honors last week with 33%.

Ed Swenson and Gerald Cole pulled the surprise of the week with a sparkling round of 70 and copped the team play for the past week. Swenson and Cole trail the first place team by 10 points and could easily move into a contending role this week.

Game & Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game & Fish Commission

Boar Trapping

The trapping of surplus wild boar from Catoosa Wildlife Management Area should relieve range management problems there while helping to build a huntable boar population on the Cherokee Wildlife Management Area, according to officials of the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission.

We plan to remove some 40 to 50 of Catoosa's estimated 700 boar population," Commission Director David M. Goodrich said, adding that the trapping is already underway. Catoosa has almost reached the point where the habitat can stand no more increase in hog population, according to Game Management Division figures. Last year some 121 hogs were taken from the area by hunters. Catoosa's hog population began in the late 1960's with the planting of 46 hogs trapped in the Great Smoky Mountain National Park.

"The five year increase of Catoosa's wild boar population to present levels is a positive of the contention that game populations will increase naturally if a suitable and protected habitat is available," Goodrich stated. "We hope the same results will occur on the Cherokee Wildlife Management Area."

No Wake Law

The Tennessee Game and Fish Commission reminds motorboat enthusiasts to watch for "No Wake" signs which have been posted near boat docks.

Dock operators have placed these notices in accordance with the 300-foot regulation adopted by the Commission. Boaters will see "No Wake" markers on a floating base.

The sign points out that "all motorboats being operated within 300 feet of a dock will be operated at a slow, no-wake speed." Violators may be fined up to $50 if found guilty of throwing a sizable wake within the posted area. This regulation will help prevent speeding in these areas which are usually congested," states David M. Goodrich, Game and Fish Commission Director.

"Our Law Enforcement personnel will continue to protect the safety of all afloat by enforcing this regulation." The "No Wake" rule has been in effect since 1969.

Turkey Hunts

According to Karl Rogers, Area Manager of Chuck Swan WMA, and Captain Ray Henry, Area Manager for the Tellico Unit of Cherokee WMA, turkey hunters had one of the best hunts in the past several years. Rogers said 740 hunters bagged a total of 38 turkeys; and on Tellico Captain Henry said 183 hunters killed 7 turkeys.

In Union County on the open hunt, 3 turkeys were killed and brought through the checking station. All the hunters who participated said they heard several gobblers and saw several blue turkeys.

Baseball Tourney Into Double Elimination Stage

The District Four, Region Two Baseball Tourney has reached the double elimination stage with four teams left. All the teams are unbeaten in tournament play and will be equally strong for the championship drive as the weekend layoff has given each team extra time for ace pitchers to rest.

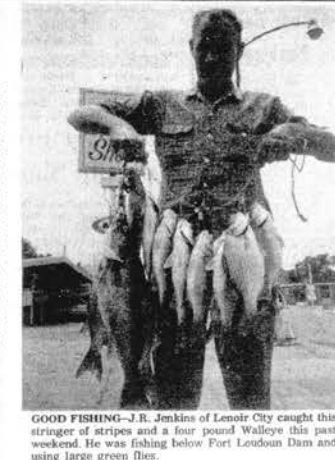

Lenoir City, Oak Ridge, Claiborne County, and Norris are the remaining teams of which one will be forwarded to Chattanooga's Engle Stadium Tuesday, May 29 for the right to go to the state tourney. Other teams to be in Chattanooga for the double elimination sub-State will be the representative from Murfreesboro District, the winner of the Northern-Southern division of the Maryville District and the McMinn-Bradley District, the Chattanooga District winner and the Oak Ridge District champ.

Lenoir City stands as a team to be reckoned with for the Oak Ridge honors as all the teams extending their regular season defeats have long been eliminated in their respective tourneys.

Coach John Brannon had only this to say of his teams play as to date, "they have worked hard and are a good bunch of boys, but it's a new show now and I only hope we get a ticket to play next watch."

NICE CATCH—Gary Robinson formerly of Lenoir City caught this six and one-half pound Walleye fishing with flies below Ft. Loudoun Dam.

GOOD FISHING—J.R. Jenkins of Lenoir City caught this stringer of stripes and a four pound Walleye this past weekend. He was fishing below Fort Loudoun Dam and using large green flies.

Boeing Timberlake Report Encouraging

 The Loudon Jaycees are planning to sponsor the July 4th parade again this year. We will be calling on various organizations and groups to participate and/or help organize the parade and other events.

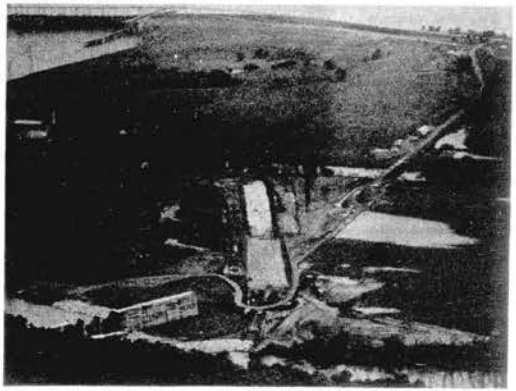

We'd like to have all parts of the county represented and involved in this gala occasion. All the people who plan to be in the parade should be making plans. We would like to have some unusual entries this year so talk to your friends and make some plans to help us out.

Sincerely,
 Earl Ridenour
 TAPC is composed of 30 members, 10 members each from Blount, Loudon and Monroe counties. The Council was set up so that local governments could play a major role in working toward the best possible development of the Tellico project and so that local citizens would have, as a sounding board, an organization to work and cooperate with TVA.

property purchased. TVA officials promised to discuss the situation with their security personnel.
 In other business, Joe Sherlin, the director of the Monroe County Industrial Development Association, gave a project report on activities of the Little Tennessee Educational Valley Cooperative (LTEVC) Planning Commission.
 He announced that an adult educational program at Hiwassee College would soon begin and that the LTEVC was organizing a driver's education program for the summer for Blount, Loudon and Monroe counties which are the three counties most directly involved with the Tellico project.
 Sherlin also outlined prospects for educational television programs.
 The next meeting of the TAPC is scheduled for June 21.

BEFORE... Lines superimposed on this aerial photograph made before construction was started on Tellico Dam, shows the location of the new dam in relation to the existing Ft. Loudon Dam (upper left) and the Tennessee River mainstem. The broken line shows the Z-shaped centerline of Tellico Dam, starting at the south end of Ft. Loudon and running westward (toward the bottom in this photo) across the plain and across Bussell's Island in the Little Tennessee River. The solid white lines show the shoreline of the new reservoir behind Tellico Dam. At upper right is the site of the canal which will link the new CCC reservoir with Ft. Loudon reservoir, diverting the flow of the Little Tennessee River through Ft. Loudon Dam and allowing barge travel on the new lake.

Arts Festival To Be Trip Of Month

 The magazine will be out in sufficient time before the festival to attract state-wide attention.

Among the exhibitors registered for this year's Festival is portrait painter Miss Joyce Wiles of Knoxville, fifth grade teacher at West Hill School in Lenoir City. Last year she taught at Nichols and the year before she taught at West Hill.

She will exhibit a number of portraits she has done and will be available to take commissions at the festival for anyone wishing to have a portrait done.

Miss Wiles attended the University of Tennessee where she majored in art and received a B. S. Degree from East Tennessee State University.

She has always been interested in doing portraits, she said, and when she meets a person, the characteristics she remembers are the lines and colors of the face.

"When I do a portrait," said Miss Wiles, "I usually like to have the person sit for me for about half an hour and then I can finish it from a photograph. When I accept a commission for a portrait, I promise it in about a week. This gives me time to get it exactly as I think it should be."

Portraits are not her only work. At the new Twin Lanterns Restaurant and the adjacent Red Carpet Inn, there are on display several floral prints she has done for motel owners Mr. and Mrs. Bob Porter.

Highway Sign Project Complete

C & D Safety Co. of Nashville has completed installation of guardrails and signs on a 3.6-mile section of Interstate 75 in Loudon County. State Highways Commissioner Robert F. Smith announced this week.

Work on the section extending from old State Route 95 to the I-40, I-75 interchange began Aug. 9. It cost $145,792, Smith said.

Houston Gets Jaycee Honors

Gilbert Houston, a former Loudon resident and former Loudon Jaycee, was presented the Jaycee's highest honor last weekend at the State Jaycee Convention in Knoxville. Houston was presented with a Jaycee International Seniorship for his outstanding contribution to the Jaycees and his personal achievement through the Jaycees. He was sponsored by his local club, West Knoxville Jaycees, for the award.

Jaycees in 1965 in Loudon, was named Tennessee Jaycee number one National Director. Other offices he has held in the Jaycees include Director of the Loudon Club, President at West Knoxville, Region III State Jaycee Vice President and National Director.
 Houston is married to the former Judy McCollier, also of Loudon. He is employed by Holston Curtis as a territorial sales manager for Tennessee, Kentucky and Virginia. The couple resides in Knoxville.

Interesting Census Figures

The 1970 Census of Housing counted 8,439 housing units in Loudon County, and 7,592 households had at least one television set (4,733 UHF-equipped), the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce, announced today. The figures are from the first report for Tennessee which presents detailed statistics on housing for each county.

The report shows that in the county: There were 3,353 housing units with air conditioning (3,080 with room units and 503 with a central system), 6,259 units with a clothes washing machine, 3,351 with a clothes dryer, and 549 with a dishwasher.

The 1970 population was 24,266, with an average of 3.1 persons per housing unit. A total of 4,871 housing units were built before 1949, 1,543 during the 1950's, 890 during 1960-64, and 1,126 within the five years preceding the April 1970 census.

Utility gas was used to cook the meals in 121 households, electricity in another 7,474, and bottled, tank, or LP gas in yet another 168.

There were 7,775 housing units with complete kitchen facilities and 7,155 with complete bathrooms, both for the exclusive use of the households. The number of bedrooms in all housing units ranged from none (in 94 units) and one (in 808 units) to four or more (in 639 units).

Owners occupied 5,924 units, renters 1,901 units, and a total of 605 units were vacant year round with 49 for sale and 136 for rent.

This may be the year for many things and possibly will be. But we have information which says it is the year for the 12th year Locust to hit. In the past, from some of our older citizens, we have heard many stories about the Locust and the terrible damage it has done to crops.

The Locust is a member of the grasshopper family and so is the katydid. Some people say they are all the same. While others don't agree with this. Some say that the locust as we know them in this country, are a different species to the ones mentioned in the Bible. Anyway, we speak with no authority, maybe you would like to help us out. We would like more information and maybe a Locust we could take a picture of.

Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

readers. We always appreciate a call or letter from those across the way that our paper serves.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Possibly one of the better known local names in the Greer name. For many years it has a connection with a business establishment in our town. A few years back, just prior to his death, the late Bart Greer was talking to me about some of the events from years past. We always enjoyed talking about things from the Good Old Days. I recall him telling me about some of his people, I think it was his father, but anyway, Bart said they ran a produce house at the location of the 'Toe Jewellers' at the time. He told me how many years it was but I can't recall. Anyway, our thoughts about this well known Loudon family was motivated by one of our pictures this week. We are not sure which member of this family this is, but it gave us a chance to say some things about this family that I have known as long as I can remember.

We have a picture this week of an old log house being torn down. We don't have any idea where it was made or who the house belonged to. What triggered our imagination is what a crowd at the tearing down of an old house. Possibly there is an answer and maybe by chance one of our readers can help us. I have heard of crowds gathering to build a house but not to tear one down.

In our Good Old Days effort, we always enjoy running pictures that bring back memories. In some cases it is places, and as we mentioned last week sometimes it is people. But in either case we are happy to run the picture our readers loan us.

One of our pictures this week is of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Randolph who lived out from Philadelphia. The Randolph's were a well and old family from a few years back. This picture was taken beside Mr. Randolph's A-model Ford. The Ford is a 1930 model, so it possibly was taken in the middle thirties. Our many thanks to Homer McNabb of Detroit, Michigan for the loan of this picture of his grandfather and grandfather.

THE STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT last week erected signs along on I-40-75 listing alternate routes for southbound tourists in an effort to get some of the traffic off of overburdened U.S. 11. Some of the signs between the state weigh station and the I-75-40 intersection are shown above.

Most Tourist Traffic Taken Off U.S. 1 Here

The State Highway Department last week took steps to take some of the tourist traffic off of U.S. 11 by placing signs suggesting alternate routes above the I-40 I-75 intersection above Lenoir City and on I-75 near Cleveland.

The new signs were installed last Friday and the results were immediate. Last Memorial Day Holiday the highway through Loudon County was choked with tourist traffic and there were reports of it taking from three to five hours to travel from Lenoir City where I-75 ends to Cleveland.

Although the action was received warmly by some several businesses say that due to the more than 50 percent cut in tourist traffic their businesses have suffered.

The signs tell southbound traffic of an alternate route by continuing down I-75 to Kingston, then taking State Route 58 to State 60 near Cleveland and then back on I-75 at Cleveland. Signs below Cleveland indicate the same alternate route for northbound traffic.

The signs do suggest that truck traffic continue to use U.S. 11 to reach I-75 from Lenoir City and Cleveland.

State Highway Department Public Information Director Charles Appleton said this week that the state had made a continued study over several months, during regular traffic periods and in holiday periods. He said the alternate route is 10 miles longer than using U.S. 11 around the unfinished section of I-75, but on regular traffic days it takes about 15 minutes less to reach Cleveland and in heavily traveled holiday periods motorists save from one to three hours in travel time.

Mr. Appleton said that since I-75 will not be completed between Lenoir City and Cleveland until 1974 it was necessary to suggest alternate routes for motorists not only to save time but for the safety of travel. He said that almost immediately after the signs were put up that motorists started taking the alternate and the phones in Nashville started ringing with complaints from motels, restaurants, and service stations in Loudon County saying the cut back in traffic was causing business hardships.

He said that the move was not made to cause anyone any hardships but to try and save lives and to expedite traffic north and south. He said the position of the Highway Department was that although it might mean a slow down in business until the remainder of I-75 is completed but the more uniform flow of traffic and safer travel would be worth it. He said the alternate is not a directive to motorist, it just gives them a choice and that the state believes that each route will get about 50 percent of the tourist traffic.

County Considers Garbage Contract With Witherspoon

Loudon County Court may be ready to sign a contract with the David Witherspoon firm, a Knoxville salvage operator, for disposal of all collected garbage in Loudon County.

If the contract is approved, Witherspoon would place at the old rock quarry, east of the Loudon Bridge a central garbage compaction unit and both Lenoir City and Loudon garbage trucks would haul to the central unit. Then, as the unit is filled, Witherspoon would haul it to his state-approved landfill site in Monroe County where it would be dumped and covered in accordance with state regulations.

County Judge Harvey Spruell, asked about the item which appears on the meeting agenda, said the solid waste committee, with representatives from Lenoir City, Loudon, and the County Court, has hammered out the contract with Witherspoon and probably will recommend its adoption to County Court.

"Both Lenoir City and Loudon are under a state order to do something about their garbage dumps by July 1," the Judge explained, "and in an effort to help them, the County Court committee has worked diligently on this contract."

Total cost to Witherspoon would be $36,000 per year, with about $18,000 of it coming from a 75 cents per capita grant from the state. A requirement for the grant is that the cities and county work together on a landfill project.

The remaining $18,000 would be divided, approximately on a population basis, primarily between Lenoir City and Loudon, with independent contractor Martel Garbage Collection service also paying part of the cost.

Lenoir City would pay about $9500, Loudon about $7500 and Martel Garbage about $1200, it was explained.

In other action, the Court's Ambulance Service Study Committee may have a report. Judge Spruell said the group has been meeting, and that a meeting has been WELCOME READERS—These members of the hospitality committee for the Lenoir City Arts and Crafts Festival try out a sign at the entrance to Lenoir City Park, scene of the festival, a Knoxville News-Sentinel Trip of the Month, Saturday. From left are Mrs. Bob McCurry, publicity chairman, Mrs. Bob DeLoach, festival chairman, Mayor Joe Grayson, and Mrs. Grayson, president of the Suburban Junior Woman's Club, sponsors of the annual event.

Thousands Expected At 10th Arts-Crafts Festival Saturday

By Lyda McCurry
When the usual inhabitants of Lenoir City Park — the birds, ducks, squirrels, etc. — begin to awake Saturday morning, June 2, they will find that for one day in the year, at least, they are not the first to stir.

For this is the day of the Lenoir City Arts and Crafts Festival, and much work is to be done making ready for the thousands of visitors soon to arrive.

Pitched on the banks of the lake will be a row of pup tents, there by special permission, for this is not normally a camping area. As the first streaks of dawn appear, heads and shoulders of Boy Scouts will begin to emerge. From over campfires reminiscent of an earlier time when Indians were inhabitants of these parts, the odors of breakfast will arise, and quickly, figures will begin to move about the peninsula of Lenoir City Park setting up tables, stringing clotheslines, placing chairs, and otherwise making ready for the upwards of 100 exhibitors in this year's festival.

Soon the odors of breakfast will be replaced with the scent of barbecuing chicken as members of the Suburban Junior Woman's Club, their husbands and other friends of Arts and Crafts Festival begin preparing the chicken and charbroiling hamburgers, hotdogs, making coffee, tea, and displaying pies, cakes, and other goodies for the thousands of visitors.

Meanwhile, at the entrance to Lenoir City Park, at the Ft. Loudoun Dam Overlook, and elsewhere along the route into the festival site, members of the Lenoir City Chamber of Commerce will be setting up welcoming signs and an information booth, for this is a Knoxville News-Sentinel "Trip of the Month" and the Chamber of Commerce has determined this year to redouble its efforts to make visitors welcome.

Merchant Taxes Are Delinquent

County Court Clerk Ed Alexander this week reminded local merchants and businesses that have not filed their annual Gross Receipts Act papers and purchased business license that these items are now delinquent and are subject to interest and penalty.

After six months if the county court clerk has not collected these back taxes and license fees the State Department of Revenue takes these matters over as collection items and are subject to prosecution. These taxes and fees are delinquent 60 days after the expiration date listed on the license.

Speaking of Sports

By DANNY GIBSON
Sports Editor

The Lenoir City baseball team failed in their bid to cop the district title last week, as they were eliminated from farther spring competition by Oak Ridge. The two teams were by far the cream of the tourney field and it would be nice to let both the district champ and the runner up go on in region play.

Oak Ridge has represented District One for the past three years and it appeared after last year's battle to the wire by the Panther diamond crew that this could just be the season Coach John Brannon's boys' would come home the big winner. But it was not to be this spring as the Wildcats defeated the Lenoir City group two out of three times by a close 6-5 extra inning score and 8-4. The 8-4 loss might have been different had the Panthers not exhausted their pitching. A sad consequence you sometimes face in a tournament such as the one at Oak Ridge.

The Panthers while not setting in the victor circle have several achievements to be proud of from their determined play. The most runs ever scored in a district tournament. The Panthers scored over 60 runs during the week of play. Three times totaling 16 scores. The Lenoir City batters hammered out some 60 base hits with Tommy Cook hitting for power, and for clutch RBI singles that won him the top individual hitting mark of the tourney.

Tim Cunningham had 14 innings of scoreless ball at one stage and registered three wins, his entire season output last year. Cunningham gave up just two hits the whole tournament and the seven games played in the tourney tied a record.

Thus the Panthers although not the champs have the credentials of being the equal of the best in the area. Coach John Brannon said all season he felt that he was still a year away from being ready to go after a district, region and maybe a state berth. Nevertheless the Panthers played with the poise and confidence of a veteran group all year and considering the team is made up of predominate juniors and sophomores next year could very well be that banner season we have all been looking for.

The Panthers are to be commended for their concluded season as they carried themselves outstandingly as a team and as a powerful representative for the people of Loudon County.

Lenoir City Again Finishes Second To Oak Ridge

The Lenoir City Panthers have again placed second in the District One, Region II Baseball playdowns as they buckled to Oak Ridge Friday night 8-4 in the night cap of a winner take all game.

Lenoir City had battled from the loser's bracket to defeat Oak Ridge in a two-night contest 4-3 on the pitching of Tim Cunningham and the 375 foot, two run home run of first baseman Tommy Cook.

The Panthers tallied a single run in the second inning to erase a 1-0 Oak Ridge lead and pad their margin with a score in the fourth frame.

Tommy Cook scored the first Panther score with a base on a fielding error and hits by Neil Foster and Mike Hooks. Cook's homer after Randy Tatham's double gave the Panther's a 3-1 lead and Gary Chambers squeezed Neil Foster home in the fourth inning.

Oak Ridge never really got to the pitching of Cunningham other than filling the bases on two hits and two walks in the opening frame that produced a single run. Cunningham took complete charge after that and with pressure packed defensive play held the Oak Ridge team in check.

The three all star performers are holding the runner-up trophy for the tournament won by Oak Ridge.

Oak Ridge and Lenoir City swapped three run outbursts in the third inning of the deciding night cap and again matched scores in the fifth inning but a four run explosion in the top of the seventh inning disposed almost all chances of the Lenoir City team of qualifying for the Sub-State play in Chattanooga this week.

Lenoir City miscues and timely hits by the Wildcats kept the Lenoir City victory hopes in catch-up fashion for

Gibson Twirls 6-Hit Shutout For Merchants

The Loudon Merchants got off to a fast start in the Stan Musial League play Saturday, turning back Luttrell 10-0. The triumph was only the second in five years over the Luttrell team and the actual second win in a row over the losers.

Gary Gibson was the winning pitcher scattering six hits for the seven inning game. Tommy Cook fresh from the high school baseball wars in the district and region playdowns hit a pair of two run homers to pinch the Merchant hitting. Cook came into the game as a pinch hitter in the fifth inning and promptly smacked a 360 foot home run. His second time at bat again saw the muscular senior-to-be at Lenoir City High School pound a 380 foot shot over the fence.

Gene and Kenny Rattledge shared in the batting spot light with two hits also and Kenny clubbed a double in his second appearance of the day.

Loudon will play the Knoxville Cubs at home Saturday in their only game this week. The Cubs will bring Harry "The Cat" Wilson and former Knoxville Smokies pitching star John Fenderson to oppose the probable pitching of either Jack Cox or Danny Russell. Both teams will be unbeaten.

Girls' Track Coming As TSSAA Sport

Girls' track - complete with regional and state meets - probably will be added to the TSSAA sports program soon. "It's on the way," said Bob Neff, South High assistant principal who serves on the State Games Committee. "Our group discussed the matter Friday and the TSSAA Board of Control is expected to take it under consideration next month (June 10 at Henry Horton State Park)."

"Sentiment among Games Committee members is that girls' prep track will begin with the 1973-74 school year. "Since participation probably would be limited at the beginning, I doubt that district meets will be necessary. Post-season competition would begin with the regional, and from there the top finishers would go on to the state."

"Of course, many details must be worked out, but I think the TSSAA Board will sanction girls' track and many schools will begin competing on a regular basis within the next two years."

THE STATE track meet for boys will be held in Knoxville next year but no specific site has been officially selected. "Actually," said A.F. Bridges, retiring TSSAA executive secretary, "we're planning on holding it at UT, with Sam Venable serving as director."

"The university has invited us to hold it there, and the Board was scheduled to vote on the site at our March meeting. But, to tell you the truth, we had so much business to take care of, I neglected to put the track meet on the agenda. So now we must wait until next month to officially select the site."

THE STATE cross-country championship race may be extended from two to three days in 1974. The Games Committee agreed Friday to put such a proposal before coaches across the state next spring. An affirmative vote is anticipated.

IF THE Board of Control gives its approval, junior high schools will run 180 yards in the low hurdles, instead of 120, starting next season. The Games Committee voted in favor of the move Friday. The Board also will be requested to permit junior high sprinters to run in three races instead of two.

Panthers Clout Tazewell 16-0

Lenoir City jumped back into the thick of the District I, Region II Baseball Tournament Thursday night with a three inning 16-0 win over Tazewell in the finals of the loser's bracket.

The win placed the Panthers into a do-or-die match-up with Oak Ridge the defending tournament champion.

Tommy Cook had two double and three runs batted in for Lenoir City against Tazewell and Mike Walker was two for two in the hitting department and received a walk in accounting for four runs batted in his night's work.

Five errors and 10 walks helped the Panthers gain a six run lead in the first inning and 10 more scores in a wild second frame. The Claiborne County team batted in third inning but left after retiring

6-5 In Extra Frame

LENOIR City fell to Oak Ridge in the winners bracket finals of the double elimination Region II play last week 6-5.

Oak Ridge took a 1-0 lead in the first inning off Panther hurler Tommy Cook and held a 5-0 count after six-and-one-half innings of play.

Gary Chambers hit in the bottom of the first lining was the only hit the Panthers had for five innings.

Mike Walker, right fielder, and third baseman Buddy Walker reached base on a hit and walk respectively in the fifth frame but no runs were scored.

In the bottom of the seventh the Panthers pulled the rally of the tournament with a wild run outburst that knotted the score.

Mike Walker flied out to center field but Buddy Walker slammed a hit. Mike Hooks hit safely on the next

Hampton Named To TSSAA East Football Squad

Loudon High School's versatile athlete Yancy Hampton will once again add a high school football uniform before seeing an illustrious college career at Middle Tennessee State University this fall. The graduating senior has been named to the East All Stars for the annual TSSAA Coaches Clinic held in Knoxville the weekend of July 29.

In Hampton's three year varsity career with the Redskins he played quarterback, halfback, wide receiver, defensive cornerback, defensive safety, and was the team's punt returner. During his senior year Hampton, six foot and 180 pounds, earned All-State honorable mention honors, was first team All East Tennessee, and named on various standout teams of the area.

During his varsity years Hampton had an offensive average of 5.3 yards per carry on 312 individual offenses for 1673 yards. He passed for another 1000 yards Hampton's seat-back moves produced him with 29 touchdowns and 180 points.

On defense Hampton was credited with 216 tackles in three seasons with 94 in his senior year. He intercepted 13 passes during his varsity play.

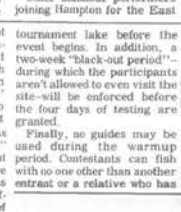

Other standout performers joining Hampton for the East tournament take before the event begins. In addition, a two-week "black-out period" during which the participants aren't allowed to even visit the site - will be enforced before the four days of testing are completed.

Grated, no guides may be used during the warmup period. Contestants can fish with no one other than another entrant or a relative who has traveled to the contest site with him.

"Sure, our rules are getting stricter but we feel they're making the situation that much more competitive," Scott said.

"Watts Bar looks like one great place, too. It'll be interesting to see how the experts - both local as well as those from far away - will handle themselves."

Merchants Zip Past Astros, 11-1

The Loudon Merchants blasted the Lenoir City Astros Monday afternoon in a Memorial Day exhibition game at Loudon by a 11-1 score.

The Merchants fielding one of its better teams in some years, with an array of college talent on its roster, scored a single run in the first inning only to have the Astros Arnold Hawkins blast a 385 foot home run over the right center field fence, tying the score.

Winning pitcher Jimmy Steasman, a freshman at Cleveland State Community College and former Kingsport player, toughened after the home run not letting an Astro past second base.

The Merchants continued to collect runs and ran up a 10 run difference before the game finally ended. Gene and Kenny Rathledge led the Merchant hitting as Gene had a perfect day with three hits in three times at bat. Kenny, a Hiwassee performer, collected two hits in four official bats one hit being a double.

Pictured in the afternoon contest is Astro catcher Yancy Hampton taking a healthy swing at a pitch by the Loudon pitcher. Loudon's catcher Mack Coley awaits the ball while umpire Bob Nix eyes the situation from behind the plate.

$15,000 Prize Pot

Watts Bar Given Bass Tournament

Bass Anglers Sportmen Society (BASS), will bring its first national fishing tournament to Tennessee this summer with a three-day contest on Watts Bar Lake.

Site of the tournament will be New-Port Resort, off Highway 27, according to Ray Scott of Montgomery, Ala., president of the 60,000 member organization.

Some $15,000 in prizes will be awarded at the June 22-24 contest, said Scott. The overall winner will pocket $1500 in cash, plus a $1700 Ranger bass boat and heavy-duty trailer. Thirty-four other cash prizes, ranging from $1200 to $150, also will be made.

In addition, the big fish purse has been padded. Catcher of the best fish in the contest will get $1000, while $750 will be awarded to the runnerup. The third-best fish will earn $250.

Scott said he expects to have about 150 bassmen from throughout the country on hand for the contest, but added that "the large number of bass fishermen in the East Tennessee area could put us up to 200."

"Those who enter will have to make their fishing pretty seriously. It costs $150 just to get in the door. Cut-off date for entries is 10 days prior to the tournament."

BASS members who normally follow the tournament circuit will be getting entry forms within the coming weeks, Scott said. Persons who wish to join BASS and enter may do so by contacting the society at Box 30 34, Montgomery, Ala., 36109.

Several changes have been made in BASS contest rules this season, the president noted. "First, and most important, we've made it mandatory for each fisherman to have and use an aerated live-well on his boat," he said. "That way, we hope to be able to release almost every fish taken after it has been weighed and measured."

The live-well requirement was drawn up after some critics of fishing tournaments leveled bars at contest officials about the "waste" of fish involved.

"Actually our fish never were wasted, since they were filleted, used and donated to charitable institutions," Scott said. "In addition, biologists have long agreed that anglers don't harm fish populations that much, anyway."

"But you've got to admit that a pile of dead fish isn't a very pretty sight. Even better, the fish we catch and release will be there to fight again another day," he said.

At the weighing station, bass will be placed in a 55-gallon tank which will control water temperature as well as oxygen levels. Once the tournament is over, the whole works will be dumped back into the lake. Scott says he expects to release at least 90 per cent of the bass taken by contestants.

Officials also have cut down from six to four the number of days a contestant may fish a

Game & Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game & Fish Commission

Two men were arrested and convicted by officers of the State Game and Fish Commission on charges of possessing and transporting a wild boar during closed season.

Lom Ellis, Star Route, Tellico Plains, Tennessee and Lake Brendle, Turtletown, Tennessee pleaded guilty before Judge Albert Martin, Monroe County, May 25 and were each fined $50 plus costs of $18.55. Confiscated was a 1965 half-ton pick up belonging to Ellis.

Game and Fish Commission Law Enforcement Captain Ray Henry said Sgt. Bob Harmon and Officers John French, Bill Holladay, James Roberts, Charles Mountain and Ray Besty made the arrests in Monroe County on the Tellico Unit of the Cherokee Wildlife Management Area.

FOR SAFER BOATING MAKE SWIMMING A FIRST!

Of the millions of people who go afloat each year, those who have the confidence and personal lifesaving talent, which the ability to swim well provides, enjoy boating the most.

Be certain you are ready for boating before going aboard.

Learn how to survive when you unexpectedly find yourself overboard.

Acquire basic personal lifesaving skills so you cannot only save yourself, but also be of assistance to your friends who might suffer the same misfortune.

Learn to stay with the boat in the case of capsizings and swappings.

Make your clothing serve as survival gear by knowing how to use it for emergency flotation.

If you are not now prepared by being a good swimmer, take the necessary steps to qualify as a good swimmer by taking advantage of the instructional opportunities afforded by organizations such as the YMCA's, Red Cross Chapters, Scout Camps, and other facilities spread across the State.

The Tennessee Game and Fish Commission reminds you that there is no need to become a boating fatality statistic.

BOATING ACCIDENTS
Boating accidents must be reported.

Many Tennessee boaters are not aware that boating accidents must be reported to the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission.

Ray Henry, Captain of the Second Law Enforcement District for the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission, states that the operator of every boat involved in an accident is required to file a written report in duplicate to the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission within a life or lost or when an injury is sustained that causes incapacitation in excess of 72 hours or property damage in excess of $100.

In cases of death a report must be filed within 48 hours. Damage or injury must be reported within 5 days.

Any person failing to file a report within the required time is in violation of the boating laws and is subject to being arrested.

Boating accident forms may be obtained from your local Game and Fish Officers and the Game and Fish Commission office in Knoxville, Tennessee.

Arts And Crafts Festival Saturday

 about the culture on display. Others, their excitement generated by thoughts of this painting in the living room, that carving on the mantle, this piece of eggshell decoration added to an existing collection, that piece of ceramics as a dining table centerpiece, this watercolor in the den, will stop, buy, and take the treasures home with them.

As in previous years, exhibitors will be happy to entertain both kinds of visitors — the browsers and the buyers — for they get from both what every artist requires, the applause, the appreciation of their artistry.

Lunchtime arrives and from the tents conveniently set up for the women of the Suburban Club begin serving plate lunches featuring the ever-popular barbecued chicken, or for those who want to eat more lightly, they will have hamburgers, hotdogs, deserts, coffee, tea, and soft drinks.

From 10 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. the 10th annual Suburban Junior Woman's Club Arts and Crafts Festival will be fully staged.

Mrs. Bob DeLoach and Mrs. Howard Murrell, co-chairmen for the festival, along with Mrs. Joe Grayson, club president, will be welcoming participants and visitors. Other official committees these to help will be:

Food committee: Central Buying, Betty Bennett and Hilda Porter; Plate lunches, Jackie McBride and Lottie White, co-chairman; Lib, Barnett, Betty Kemper and Gerri Matlock; Hamburgers, hotdogs, chips, etc., Pat Gouge and Betty Wolfe, co-chairmen; Pat Grayson and Nancy Orrin; deserts, Maxine McKinney and Carole Black, co-chairmen; Mary Ann Bailey and Joy Kirkland. Tents, tables, and chairs for food and exhibitors, Ann Vondy and Reba Casick.

Posters for pre-festival distribution, Betty Jenkins and Gayle Marsh.

Signs, Arrows, etc., Kathleen Linginfeller and Kay Dutton.

TV and radio publicity, Laurie Jones and Janice Rogers.

Newspaper publicity, Lyda McCurry and Brenda McMurray.

Correspondence, Evelyn Rainwater and Willette Murrell.

Name tags, exhibitor lists, official car tags, food booth posters, etc., Nelle Beeler and Barbara Cardwell.

Chamber of Commerce President Bland Windley and others from the Chamber will be there. So will Mayor Joe Grayson. The Knoxville News-Sentinel has indicated a reporter and photographer will be on hand and editors Vernon McKinney of the Loudon City News and Larry Cate of the Loudon County Administrator Gary Henley will be on hand taking pictures, interviewing, observing, as always.

Radio Stations WLIB and WBLC have been invited to set up mobile units, to interview exhibitors and visitors, to describe activities as they take place and to promote the festival throughout the day.

But all this assumes pleasant rain-free weather. That might not happen. If it should be raining early Saturday morning, the Festival will be set up in the new Lenoir City High School building, along the corridors, lobbies and classrooms, and food will be served from the cafeteria. If extensive rain should occur between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., the festival will be restaged again on Sunday, June 4, from 1 to 6 p.m.

"Y'all come, won't you?"

County Considers Witherspoon Garbage Contract

 requested with the Loudon County Memorial Hospital Board of Directors.

Indications are that the State is about to come up with a plan for paying maybe 75 percent of the cost of acquiring ambulances and other equipment, but it may be July 1 before the news is known, the Judge said.

Meanwhile, funeral directors in the county have notified the Court they intend to stop ambulance service July 1.

The full agenda follows:

Following is the planned agenda for the regular June meeting of Loudon County Board of Supervisors to be held at 7:00 p.m. Monday, June 5, 1972:

1. Pledge of allegiance, opening of Court, and roll call.

When she revived she said she found her nose had been ripped off, her brassiers cut two and the slacks she was wearing had been slashed. The assailant, however, had fled before she awakened.

She said she was in the back of the house and heard someone going through some kitchen drawers. Thinking it was her husband, she went into the room and the next thing she knew she "saw stars." The only description she could offer was that he was "chunky built" and black headed.

Arriving at the housing project in his cruiser, Buttram found a pickup truck with three people in it, one of them a woman whose face appeared to have been beaten. The other two were men who appeared to be in their twenties.

He approached the truck to investigate and heard one of the men, later identified as Massey, say to the driver, Taylor, "Let's go."

The truck sped away with Buttram in the police cruiser in pursuit, to Broadner Hollow Road and toward Highway 11. There the truck was unable to exit onto the highway because of the heavy traffic congestion and because one of several vehicles waiting in line when the police car pulled up.

Witnesses said Sgt. Buttram pulled the driver out from under the wheel and locked him in the patrol car and then began struggling with the other man to get him in the car. During the activity the woman left the truck and apparently started toward the police car and the policeman turned his attention to her.

At that point, Chief Chambers said he was told, Massey took a surveyor's rod from the back of the truck and struck Buttram two, or perhaps three, blows across the head with it. The attack knocked him down, broke his glasses, and laid open an ugly gash across his forehead.

The trial took the entire day Tuesday. Massey was also charged with kidnapping the Skidmore woman, but was found not guilty on that charge. He was released on $2500 bond shortly after the trial and his attorney was given 30 days to file motions for a new trial.

Your County In Action

BY HARVEY L. SPROUL
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

That good "surprise" news is not ready for announcement yet, but hopefully things will continue moving in the right direction so that an announcement will be made in the very near future.

I noticed during the Presidential Primary Election this morning that many Cities and Counties had many different types of referendums that were carried out at the same time.

In Hamblen County, one referendum was the question of whether or not the County should adopt the County Purchasing Act of 1967, which would call for a complete Purchasing Department as we have had here in Loudon County since the early 1960's. The referendum failed by a fairly close margin, and this is somewhat tragic for the people here.

Of course, no one who is not familiar with the actual situation in Hamblen County could know the reason why the proposal was defeated, because it might be because of some issue completely set apart from the merits of the adoption of this system. Sometimes people get mad about something, or don't understand the reason why they vote against it for that reason, and not on the merit of the proposal.

The Quarterly Court Budget Committee has been having Budget Hearings, and I noted with interest the comment of Sheriff Russell in reference to the great assistance that the Loudon County Purchasing Department has been to him, and the amount of money and the economy that has come from having this assistance.

I believe that any Quarterly Court member, especially one who is familiar with the way the system operates, and how bids are sent out or obtained on almost every item, and the handwritten bids are obtained on any item above $300, will testify that this has saved the people of Loudon County a considerable amount of money over the years, and has enabled us to have better services and products without a corresponding increase in prices and taxes.

I also noticed from a Monroe County Democrat newspaper article that the auditors for Monroe County in their audit for the past year recommended strongly the adoption of the Central Accounting, Budgeting, and Purchasing Act as allowed under the State Legislation.

Of course, here again, we are ahead of the game and these recommendations not put in our audit because we have had the total system since 1966-67.

Our audit did mention some other things that we should work on, and although I would rather mention all the good and leave out the bad, I believe my obligation to you is to indicate to some extent at least the areas which have been criticized and where we should attempt to improve, which I will do in a later column.

In the "Did You Know?" category did you notice recently what the employment at Oak Ridge is of Lenoir City residents? The recent announcement did not have it broken down into Counties, but it did indicate that 41 percent of the employees at Oak Ridge ABC are from Lenoir City (and that would be a few more Countywide) and that the total payroll per year is in the neighborhood of $6,000.

We all know what affect the Oak Ridge payroll has on Loudon County, and have some idea about how many workers are employed there that we know, so it's really something to me to know that in gaining our new industry of Merament in Loudon we have obtained an industry that must have a local payroll having approximately the effect of about half of what Oak Ridge is.

We continually are trying to improve our prospects of getting new industry for the County in the hope that another industry the size of Merament, or several smaller industries, can help improve our economy and living conditions.

Of course, herein also lies some of our problems, because Loudon County increasingly has younger families who are living here, expecting some progress to be made in various areas, expecting better schools, expecting to have those desirable characteristics of a good community that costs money to others.

But, on the other hand, the things that cost money mean an increase in taxes, which have already been increased tremendously by the State Reappraisal Program, the suits by the Utilities, etc., and this is a tremendous burden on the retired people of the County and the older people who are living on fixed incomes.

So the real difficulty of any person who is involved in City and County Government is to be able to balance the equities and get some progress but yet do it in such a way as will protect our older people on fixed incomes.

So the real difficulty of any person who is involved in City and County Government is to be able to balance the equities and get some progress but yet do it in such a way as will protect our older people on fixed incomes.

Loudon City Regional Planning Commission and the Loudon Regional Planning Commission on such things as planning for adequate streets, housing and community facilities and working on zoning and subdivision regulations for the county and its municipalities.

Platt is well equipped for the post of providing technical assistance, having previously worked as a planner with the Westchester County Department of Planning in New York. He also holds a B.A. in Political Science from Mississippi State University and an M.A. in Public Administration and Political Science from the University of Tennessee. He is a Mississippi native.

Platt is assuming the former position of Dennis Martin who has been promoted to the post of Regional Director of the Knoxville office of TSPC.

was out of curiosity or the persons were truly interested in promoting a plan to start an investigation into seeing if they really are in the river or not. It seems to me that this would take little effort to conduct a preliminary investigation into this matter. It is our belief that the engines as well as some other valuables are there. We cannot offer any absolute proof, but some very reliable facts.

We hope that this summer we can create enough interest among some groups to promote this project for our town. We would desire experienced people, so as to avoid an accident in searching for this engine.

Yes, the locust are here. And if you don't believe it, you can call Kaye Lindsey, the Herald's Secretary. Kaye was the recipient of a package of them brought to the Herald office for us by Mr. Schrimsher, who we had talked to about these insects. Anyway, our information is that Kaye just plain don't like locust or any other insect racing around her desk as she tries to work. We hear she was glad when we picked them up. Just may have a picture of them next week. Wouldn't mind a picture, would you, Kaye?

Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

Platt Named Loudon Planner

There's been a changing of planners in Loudon County recently with Tom Platt taking on the responsibilities of helping to plan for Loudon County.

Platt is the new representative for Loudon County from the Tennessee State Planning Commission (TSPC), an agency which provides technical planning assistance to Tennessee's counties and municipalities.

In his new position, Platt will be working with the Loudon County Regional Planning Commission, the

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

A few weeks back we ran a picture of a person from the Good Old Days who was well known back when I was growing up. This person's age was often guessed by many people but I don't think anybody ever knew. In fact, I have heard it said that this person didn't know himself how old he was. Many of you have already guessed the person we are having reference to. It is the old Greasy Corner's Hambone. I think we mentioned before that some one told us he was now deceased. Anyway, we don't know for sure, but this week we have another picture of Ham, which was taken when he was very small. We don't know how old he was at this time.

The man Ham is with was possibly as well known in the Good Old Days as Ham was. Many of you will recognize him as the late Dave Kelso. Dave Kelso and the late Carl Kelso operated the Kelso Brothers Grocery in Loudon many years ago. The store was where the American Legion Building is now. Well, fact of the matter, it is the same building which has been remodelled.

This old picture shows Ham eating a piece of watermelon and Mr. Kelso holding his arms. This old picture was possibly made in Loudon's old Depot Park. We are not sure but it is someplace in Loudon taken long ago.

We bring up something this week which we haven't mentioned in quite a while in this column, but it is something that is mentioned very often to us. That is the time the River froze over. We don't just mention this for the sake of having something to write about, because it happened like this, and some more pictures came our way. We have not had any of this kind before. They were loaned to us by Mrs. Paula Cathey. Paula left her phone number for us to call her. We tried several times and got no answer so we decided to go ahead and use them. Maybe she can call us and give us more information later.

The dates on the back of the pictures are January 28, 1940, which we agree with from previous information. Our many thanks to Paula Cathey.

We had a call from some interested people who wanted to get information on the old civil War Locomotives, which are supposed to be in the River at the railroad bridge. We don't know where this inquiry

TRAFFIC - THE GOOD AND THE BAD -

To most the posting of alternate route signs by the state highway department taking much of the tourist traffic off of U.S. 11 was welcomed by many people and on the other side was taken as a slap in the pocket book by others.

Granted something had to be done. There was just too much traffic on U.S. 11, but the alternate route, plus the listing of U.S. 11 as a truck route has returned the highway back to the way we remember it back in the early 60's.

The entire economy of business along State Highway 95 from 1-75 to Lenoir City is geared around the tourist traffic and thusly has been dealt a severe blow. The truth is even the state has been surprised at how much traffic is using the suggested route through Kingston, along Routes 58 and 60 instead of 11.

Looking at the other side many merchants both on and off of 11 were glad to see the slow down of out of state traffic because the local business was coming back that had stayed closer to home because of the heavy traffic.

The state expected about 15 to 25 percent of the traffic to use the alternate route, but it seems that about 70 percent is doing so. A group of businessmen directly affected by the traffic slump were in Nashville this week trying to get some of their business back. One suggestion has been to take the truck designation sign off of 11.

The whole matter is a two-sided affair and what helps one hurts another. Perhaps something can be worked out to help everybody, but for the time being at least the State Highway Department is caught in the middle.

ARTS FESTIVAL SALUTE

Congratulations are certainly in order for the Lenoir City Suburbia Junior Woman's Club, the City of Lenoir City and all the people who were involved in the 10th annual Arts and Crafts Festival.

The event was a resounding success from all viewpoints - that of the club, the community, the artists and craftsmen and the more than 12,000 to 15,000 who attended.

This event has grown into one which is looked forward to across East Tennessee and is reaching out to the states. Such events that bring good press notices to our county are the kind that bring our good fortune.

Our hats are off to the ladies of the Suburbia Club and to Lenoir City...It was splendid.

Ambulance Deadline Near, Still No Plan

Loudon County may be without ambulance service after July 1st unless the local funeral homes extend their announced deadline to go out of ambulance service. County Judge Harvey Spruell announced Monday night at the county court meeting that the county ambulance service committee, composed of county court members and officials from the cities of Loudon and Lenoir City had not been able to come up with a plan where the county could take over this service by the July 1 deadline. He did say, however, that the county committee had a meeting slated with the Loudon County Memorial Hospital Board later this week to discuss the entire matter to see if they might jointly be able to work out some plan to offer ambulance service in the county although he said this did not necessarily mean the service would be provided directly through the hospital. Judge Spruell said it seemed it would be impossible to have some system in operation by July 1.

The funeral homes notified the county court more than a year ago that they were going out of the ambulance business because of wage and hour law regulations, which made it impossible for them to continue the service. Twice the funeral homes have extended previously announced deadlines. There were not representatives from the funeral homes at the meeting Monday night.

Squires Refuse Road Lawsuit Compromise

By a 5-4 vote County Court Monday night refused to compromise on the motion for dropping the suit on a roll call vote. Squires I.D. Conner, Henry Foster, Jim Hartsook, Curtis Williams and R. P. Hamilton voted to continue with the suit. Joining Hudson favoring the motion were Squires Jim Blair, Roy Blocker and Jack Leder.

Commissioner Greenway said that he has placed the $12,000 involved in the lawsuit of current fiscal year funds in escrow and he only has $600 to operate his road department for June forcing him to drastically cut back road maintenance. Chancellor James Phillips in an earlier ruling in the case

Stafford Asks Reelection To State Legislature

Loudon County State Representative M. F. "Benny" Stafford, who for the past two years has been Florida Representative for Loudon and Blount County announced this week that he is seeking reelection to the State Legislature in the new 21st Representative District which includes most of Loudon County.

Mr. Stafford, manager of the Russell-Shields Insurance Agency in Lenoir City and vice president of the firm which operates offices in Maryville, Alcoa, Loudon and Lenoir City, qualified for the August 3 Republican Primary on Thursday, June 30. The seat he is seeking is made up entirely of area he had formerly represented. The 21st District has all of

Election Commission Refuses To Make Vote District Changes

The voting districts in Loudon County ordered changed by the County Court when it reapportioned itself earlier this year will not be changed according to a letter Judge Harvey Spruell received from Election Commission Chairman John Gibson.

of county court.

When the court reapportioned it moved voting district lines that affected several hundred persons in the area just across the river from Loudon and in a portion of the fifth district on the northwest side of Lenoir City. This would have meant these people would be taken from the first and fifth districts and placed in the second district as voters in county elections.

"After the County Court took its action Election Commission Chairman Gibson wrote the State Attorney General David Pack for an opinion on their action. The attorney general's reply was that the county court was in violation of the state constitution which requires at least two squares from each district when the county has from one to four squares from the various districts. The letter said the court action was not legal under the provision of the state constitution.

It was pointed out that the county court had apportioned itself on the federal guidelines of one man, one vote which does not require two squares per district. But on the strength of the state reply, Mr. Gibson said that he was not going to move any voters from one voting district to another.

Monroe Landfill To Get Loudon County Garbage

County Court Monday night approved a contract with the David Witherspoon Company of Knoxville for the disposal of all collected garbage in Loudon County. The contract was a three-way affair involving the county and the cities of Loudon and Lenoir City. There were some technical questions concerning the contract with the cities which were incomplete and the final execution of the contract was left incomplete until cities completed their agreements, which should be complete by Wednesday of this week. Under the contract Witherspoon would place a central compacting unit at the old rock quarry near Loudon to act as a transfer station. Both the City of Loudon and Lenoir City, now operating illegal landfill operations would haul their garbage to the compactor and any person in the county not having their trash collected by the cities or a private contractor could take their refuse to the compactor Witherspoon then will compact the refuse and haul it to their licensed sanitary landfill in Monroe County for disposal.

Under a state program the county has until July 1st to get the program into operation to receive a state grant of $18,000, based on 75 cents per capita, which is to finance the county portion of the project. The total contract with Witherspoon is for $36,000 per year. The City of Loudon and the City of Lenoir City would pay the second $18,000 per year in the five year contract on a percentage formula that was still incomplete Monday night. A formula of 51 percent for Lenoir City and 47 percent for Loudon was mentioned.

Former Herald Owner Dr. Charles Morgan Dies

Dr. Charles T. Morgan, who for seven years (1959-1961) was publisher-owner of the Loudon County Herald and later founded the Loudon County Arts Association, died at 7:49 p.m. Monday, June 5 in Loudon County Memorial Hospital. Dr. Morgan, 75, had been ill for quite some time.

CHARLES MORGAN

Dr. Morgan and his wife, Jimmie, moved to Loudon in 1959, where they joined their son, William J., in the operation of the newspaper, where Dr. Morgan was active until the Herald was sold to its present owners, Mrs. Morgan was a teacher at Loudon High School, retiring two years ago.

Dr. Morgan also operated the Village Playhouse, movie theatre, in Loudon for several years.

He was an author and university administrator for many years before moving to Loudon. He was President of Woods Junior College in Mississippi and held administrative positions at Peabody College in Nashville and Centenary College in Louisiana. He was connected with Berea College in Berea, Ky., for 24 years as a student, alumni secretary and director of admissions.

Both cities involved are now operating landfill operations that do not meet state specifications and are costing them many more dollars at present than the amount they would pay for solid waste disposal under the Witherspoon contract. The cities have also been given a deadline by the state to be in an approved landfill operation by July 1 or face possible court action by the state.

Road Bids Scheduled

Two highway resurfacing projects are slated in Loudon County by the State Highway Department. Bids on the two projects will be opened on June 23. The projects are a total of 4.5 miles in length, and are expected to cost about $25,000.

The projects include surfacing of two miles of Big Pines Road and resurfacing of 2.5 miles of Meadows Road.

ARTIST AT WORK—The young artist shown here was busy all day at the Arts and Crafts Festival doing pencil portraits of many who attended the event.

The sun shined and the temperatures were in the high 70's and low 80's Saturday and the people streamed into the 10th annual Lenoir City Arts and Crafts Festival. Unofficial estimates ranged from 12,000 to 15,000 people who crowded into the Lenoir City Park on Fort Loudoun Lake Peninsula. They all came to see and many bought some of the thousands of arts and crafts exhibited by more than 100 artists and craftsmen.

One of the men assisting in the parking of cars said he counted license plates from more than a dozen states and more than 35 counties in Tennessee.

Members of the sponsoring Suburbia Junior Woman's Club said the crowds Saturday were far greater than expected and certainly a relief after the past two years when the weather caused some people to stay home.

Parking was next to impossible as the park began to fill up by 10 a.m. Shuttle buses were operated from downtown Lenoir City all during the day. The lunch lines were long and the visitors and exhibitors devoured more than 400 chicken halves and thousands of hot dogs and hamburgers during the day.

The exhibitors reported that the sales were good as many people came and took home art or craft items.

There were 101 participants in the arts and crafts this year. Mrs. Bob Deloach, chairman, said the thought there was a wider variety and higher quality of arts and crafts this year than every before. When the event started 10 years ago some 25 exhibits were shown and some 300 persons visited the park. Since that time the event has grown into a major East Tennessee attraction.

The occasion was also a Knoxville News-Sentinel Trip of the Month and Mayor Joe Grayson and Mrs. Grayson, president of the sponsoring group said that event has added to the publicity for the event and has contributed greatly to the growth and interest it receives.

HAD A GOOD BUSINESS DAY—Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bridges and Sheila are shown at Mrs. Bridges' display of handmade ties and stuffed animals at the Arts Festival Saturday. Mrs. Bridges reported a good day of sales.

JEWELRY DISPLAYS POPULAR—The craftsmen who displayed jewelry at the Arts and Crafts Festival Saturday did a big business as the crowd of women around this display indicates.

SURE BEATS WALKING—One of the thousands of visitors at the Arts and Crafts Festival Saturday had a better view than most. This small dog was seen perched on his master's shoulder as they look at some musical instruments displayed by one of the craftsmen at the event.

DUNCAN VISITS—Congressman John Duncan is shown visiting with some voters during lunch at the Arts and Crafts Festival Saturday.

McMinn County; and includes Alesca, Friendsville, Louisville, Misor Station, Lakemont and Rockford in Blount County.

In announcing his reelection Mr. Stafford said he feels his experience in the last two years in Nashville will allow him to be more helpful and useful to the county in the next term of the legislature. He said when he was elected in 1970 he pledged to represent all of the people and feels he has done so and makes the same pledge in this campaign. Representative Stafford says he has been able to help get many major road projects for Loudon County while he has been in the legislature. He mentioned the scheduled repaving of highway 72, highway 86, speed up of 172 and improvements in the Dixie Lee Junction Area.

Mr. Stafford said the new districts are to stand only one year and he will work to get all of Loudon County placed back into one representative district with Blount County. He said he has always had an open door to the public to discuss matters concerning the county and state government and would appreciate the opportunity to talk to anyone concerning matters of legislative interest to the county.

held that the county court had no right to change the budgets of the road commissioners without their request. This matter is being challenged by the court members favoring the road change and a hearing is slated in Chancery Court in Loudon on June 21.

The court approved a vesting officer, said the accident occurred about 9:30 p.m. Thursday on State Highway 86 about nine miles north of Sevierville.

Mrs. Smithers is survived by father, Herschell Smithers; sister, Shirley Williams; brother, Ronnie Smithers; two half-brothers, James and Bobby McCloud; grandmother, Mrs. Mattie Smithers.

resolution instructing Judge Harvey Spradley to make application through the East Tennessee Development District for grant funds to hire a full-time Youth Services Officer (probation officer) for Loudon County. The program would cost some $10,587 a year but the county contribution of $2800 would be shared in part by the cities of Loudon and Lenoir City. The program would be a pilot program for one year to see if the county could benefit from it. The Youth Services Officer would be a county deputy sheriff with qualifications to work with youths in the community who had been placed on probation by the various city-county and state courts in the county.

Moses Gets Two Year Prison Term

Criminal Court in Loudon County is adjourned until Monday June 19 after deciding four cases in the latter part of last week.

Charles Moses was sentenced to two terms of one to two years in prison after entering a guilty plea to petty larceny. Two other defendants in the case had charges dismissed after agreeing to pay $22 in costs. They are David Goodman and Johnny T. Moser.

The court directed a verdict of not guilty in favor of Robert "Bud" Covington charged with breaking and entering. A jury found Wayne Green not guilty of a charge of hill and run. A not guilty verdict was also returned in favor of Larry "Doby" Brown charged with assault and battery.

When court reconvenes on June 19 Mary Ann Barron is scheduled to stand trial on four counts of forgery and littering. Larry Brown and Terry Johnson are scheduled for trial the same day on charges of cohabitation. On June 20th, the last day of the scheduled court session Harry Bell, Jr. is slated for trial on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Use Of DDT, TDE Discouraged

This year, tobacco will be taken from the market place to determine if producers used pesticides containing DDT or TDE on their tobacco. Fred Fipps, Chairman of the Loudon County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, announced.

Random samples will be taken from the tobacco at the time of marketing. These samples will be chemically analyzed to determine DDT-TDE residues. If any Each producer will be asked to certify whether or not DDT or TDE was used on the tobacco after it was planted in the field, before a marketing card will be issued for the farm.

As in the past two years, tobacco producers using DDT or TDE are not eligible for government loans on their 1972 crops. False certification concerning use of these materials is a violation of Federal law.

Both domestic and foreign buyers are concerned about the level of DDT and TDE in their purchases in certain areas last year. Some have indicated that they may reduce their purchases in these areas this year.

"It is important for every tobacco grower in general use of DDT and TDE," Mr. Fipps said, "because these pesticides are a serious threat to the market outlets for our tobacco."

On recommendation of the School Board, the County Court rescinded its earlier action regarding the sale of the Luttrell School property and agreed, instead in now set, that the school building have its title transferred to the school board.

Funeral directors have notified the County they plan to go out of the ambulance business July 1. The Court, through the Study Committee, is considering whether, and how, to provide emergency ambulance service in that event.

Supt. of Schools Albert Dukes told the Court the building projects of Eaton, Highland Park and Steeple Schools were virtually complete. A final meeting involving the contractor, subcontractors, architect and the school administration is set for Friday, he said, to work out several details which have not been completed satisfactorily.

The project would be paid for by borrowing against future capital outlay payments from the state and repaying it at a rate of about $10,000 per year.

Mr. Dukes told of a pilot program, which has received State Board of Education approval, to move the Educable Mentally Retarded classes from Eaton School to the former New Providence School building. There will be three classes—about 40 children—in the program there.

He reported State approval for another kindergarten in the system, for a total of eight.

Storm Causes Widespread Damage, Barn Burns At Loudon

A storm with all the elements, heavy rain, high gusty winds, lightning and thunder struck Loudon County in the mid-afternoon Tuesday causing widespread damage. Lightning is believed to have started a fire which destroyed a large barn on the Carl Robinson farm near Loudon. The barn filled with hay burned to the ground and smoke and blaze from the fire were visible for several miles when the fire was at its peak.

There were widespread reports of power outages because of knocked out transformers and lines downed by tree limbs blowing into them. There were a number of large trees that were either partially or completely blown down or struck by the lightning.

Local power companies reported that the number of trouble calls indicated that crews worked all night Tuesday and into Wednesday to restore all the outages reported. The telephone company was reporting a high number of phones out of service due to the storm also.

The heavy rains were welcome to many but the force of the fall and heavy amount caused some erosion damage along roads and in fields due to the high run-off.

Several persons reported that garden plants were flattened by the wind and rain and the roofs of several buildings were damaged when the force of the wind ripped shingles off.

Temperatures which were in the low 90's just before the storm fell about 30 degrees in a short time.

$28,000 Approved For School Projects At Eatons-Highland Park

Loudon County Court Monday night worked on a long and involved agenda but they postponed most of the rest of the meeting at least on two issues—until Wednesday night.

Several important matters were concluded and separate transactions which are included in this week's newspaper.

The Squires called a joint meeting Wednesday with the Loudon County Memorial Hospital Board of Directors, the Hospital-Physician Coordinating Committee, and the doctor of the hospital staff, to "see if we can all join hands together," according to Squire Idus Cunniff who is chairman of the Hospital Board. Also called for Wednesday night is a joint meeting of the Court with the Ambulance Service Study Committee. It is anticipated that the ambulance problems also will be discussed with the hospital and medical people at the same meeting.

Funeral directors have notified the County they plan to go out of the ambulance business July 1. The Court, through the Study Committee, is considering whether, and how, to provide emergency ambulance service in that event.

Public Hearing On County Budget Set

A public hearing on the proposed 1972-73 fiscal year budget for Loudon County will be held at 7 p.m., Tuesday, June 13 in the Courthouse at Loudon. The hearing will be conducted by the County Court Budget Committee. At that time any citizen of the county shall have the right to appear and state his views on the budget.

Formal notice of the public hearing and a department-by-department breakdown of the proposed budget and a comparison with the current year budget are published elsewhere in this issue.

The notice urges citizens who wish to comment on the budget to attend the public hearing and give the budget committee members their views. The new budget, which dictates the county property rate, is scheduled to be adopted at the July meeting of county court.

The proposed budget, a record high amount for the county, is said to be based on a probable tax rate of $2.94, which is the current rate on a property assessment of 40 percent, as compared with 35 percent last year.

There are three regular kindergartens, three more funded under Title I and two operated under the Head Start program, he said.

Read Construction Damage Squire J.J. Blair asked if anything could be done about damages he said have occurred to private property where new Highway 72 is under construction. One property owner, he said, reported having sold almost an acre of land for the highway for $200 and that subsequently the contractor had torn down a private fence not even on that property. And in the same area, he said, the contractor has torn out a private water line which serves several families, costing several hundred dollars to repair.

County Judge Harvey Spradley reported he had already written the State Highway Dept. about the matter and had received the answer that the State could not be responsible because it is not a part of the contract. In addition, he reported the State said that whoever owns the water line—if it is on highway right-of-way property—will have to move it at their own expense.

"It looks like we ought to be able to do something," said Mr. Blair. "I just can't see a contractor tearing down fences and tearing out water lines without somebody being responsible." It was agreed that if the fence has, in fact, been damaged on private property, the owner has a cause for legal action.

Speaking of Sports

By DANNY GIBSON
Sports Editor

It is a funny sports world these days. It used to be that football was never mentioned before the middle of August and once you got old enough to understand and play the game in the neighbor's backyard or at school you had to have a football suit for Christmas.

Girls I guess are still playing with dolls at this age or have taken a sudden interest in older sister's baton or the family musical group.

Basketball always managed to catch the interest of most by the time cold weather had set in and a spirited wind-blown game on the backyard court was a big thing in March.

Baseball caught the fancy along with church league softball by the last month of school and an afternoon spent at a nearby creek, where it was doubtful a fish had ever been, beat horse chores.

But times have changed no more do we play a sport just because it is the season for it. I drove over most of Loudon County last week and observed the sports' nature of the area.

Summer League Basketball is now a strong demand if you are to compete on a competitive basis next winter with area high schools. Men who used to be of the better basketball vintage now find softball their game. Boys wanting to earn that varsity football letter is working out continually with bar bells that a hydrolic lift might find strenuous to support.

Of course, swimming, bike riding, tennis, badminton, little league, pony league, boys and men division baseball play, along with girls softball are still summer recreation, but who ever thought of playing softball on the back of a deck?

Everyone either plays golf, bridge, or enjoys an occasional game of pool it seems.

Hence with professional sports influencing the young and old alike it matters little anymore as to the time of the season we are experiencing but simply the sport or recreation that suits your fancy at the time the mood hits.

Loudon High School it was learned last week has a favorable chance of landing the new District 3 Tournament in basketball after next year on a permanent basis. The Tourney will be held in Bradley County's new gym this year as a special send off for the new facility.

Oliver Spring's head basketball coach, Frank Lewery, who came from Copper Basin High School last season to pilot the Bobcats, has been quoted as declaring he will not return to Oliver Spring in the fall. Lewery had problems with his team last year and ended up dispersing with all of his seniors for the entire year.

Loudon Recreation Registration Monday

The Loudon Recreation Program for the summer will kick off a 10-week affair this Monday.

Registration for various sporting interests is scheduled for Monday at 9:00 a.m. Registration sites are at the Loudon baseball field and Loudon Junior High School.

The girls will go to the Junior High and the boys will all go to the ball field.

The summer program will consist of tennis, swimming, bike riding, and baseball teams for boys 6-12 years of age and 13-14 years of age.

Loudon football coach Clint Ratledge will be the supervisor in charge of the summer planning for recreation.

Nancy Marcus, Hugh Watson, and Gary Dutton will assist Coach Ratledge in the weekly directing of supervised recreation.

The Recreation Program will last for 10 weeks, Monday thru Friday, with the hours of 9:00 a.m. to 12 noon designated for the planned events.

10th Inning Homer Knocks Merchants From Unbeatens

The Loudon Merchants fell to the Knoxville Cubs Saturday 8-7 in 10 innings despite collecting 13 hits and blasting five home runs.

Jack Cox started for the Merchants and went nine innings giving up seven hits and striking out eight.

The Cubs scored early with two runs in the first inning and after the Merchants tied the score 2-2 on solo home runs by Cox in the bottom of the third and fifth innings the Cubs liated two runs in the top of the eighth inning as Ratledge

Kenny Ratledge, Merchant centerfielder, opened the bottom of the sixth with a screaming double and Gary Gibson knotted the score with a 330 foot home run to centerfield.

Loudon finally gained the lead in the seventh frame as Mac Coley hammered a long fly over the left field wall.

Kenny Ratledge and David Hightower accounted for two more Loudon runs in the eighth inning as Ratledge singled and rode home on Hightower's home run smash.

The two runs shot was the fifth of the game for Loudon and the Merchants failed to come back in their half of the tenth and thus dropped an exciting, but heart breaking 8-7 decision.

Gene Ratledge was tagged with the loss while former Knoxville Smokie John Fenderson picked up the win for the Cubs in relief.

Loudon cut hit the Cubs (2-1), 13 to eight but simply let the Knoxville team take advantage of walks and costly fielding miscues.

Mac Coley, catcher, led the Merchants at the plate. The stocky Cleveland State athlete gathered three hits in five times at bat and one going for a home run.

Gene Ratledge had two hits in four trips to bat and Kenny Ratledge was successful on two of five occasions with the stick.

Loudon will practice Wednesday and travel to Knoxville's Chilhowee Park for a night game with the Knoxville Merchants. Game time is set for eight o'clock.

Loudon will return home on Saturday to face defending league champ Jefferson City Magnovox at three o'clock.

Loudon Girls' Basketball Team To Attend Walland Basketball Camp

The Loudon Lassies are going camping for a week in July.

The Loudon High School distaff hoopers are not just going camping like many outdoorsmen and families do each summer, but to basketball camp.

The Lassies will attend the annual Walland High School Clinic July 24-26, to cap their summer league season play.

The Loudon girls are presently taking part in the Kingston Girls' Summer League play and will do so for the next five weeks. Upon completion the Lassies will hurry off to Walland where they will join some of the top teams in the state in playing a 10 game schedule. Games will be as early as 10 o'clock in the morning and as late as 10 o'clock at night.

Between 30 and 40 teams are expected to participate.

Game & Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game & Fish Commission

1972-73 hunting and fishing licenses, trip permits and other licenses, including trout stamps and archery stamps, are now on sale by license agents, according to Game and Fish Commission Director David M. Goodrich.

"Licenses and permits for next year have been mailed to almost 1200 license agents, and they may begin selling them upon receipt," Goodrich said.

The various licenses were mailed from Commission headquarters May 30, and should now be in the license agents hands. The big game license will be issued in several weeks.

"Licenses purchased now become valid immediately, and remain so until their normal expiration time," Director Goodrich said, pointing out that an annual hunting and sport fishing license purchased this week is good for 15 months.

Legislative action this spring increased the costs of the 2-day and 10-day fishing trip licenses. The 3-day license now costs $2.00, while the 10-day license will sell for $3.00. All other licenses and permits retain their former prices.

"We encourage sportsmen to take advantage of this extra month in which to buy their license and avoid confusion at the end of the month," Director Goodrich said.

CONVICTIONS IN LITTER CASES
Ten persons from Knox County were arrested by Tennessee Game and Fish Officer, Harry Williams, on charges of dumping garbage on someone else's property.

After hearing evidence from Officer Williams, Session Court Judge Jewell Watson found seven guilty and gave them a choice of cleaning up the garbage dump or paying $50 fines and $17.25 cost and spending ten days in jail.

One appealed his case to higher court and the rest said they would clean up the dump. As a result of Judge Watson's actions, Knox County should be a cleaner place to live.

The trees and plants of nurserymen and orchardists suffer from heavy cicada outbreaks. Homeowners in Loudon County can expect some damage to their trees and shrubs. The egg laying process starts about five or six days after the cicadas emerge from the ground and lasts for two or three weeks. Sevin insecticide is a safe and practical spray chemical for protecting trees and plants against egg-laying damage. It is about the only effective, safe material available for the control of this insect. Small, valuable trees and shrubs around the home can be protected by covering them with cheesecloth or similar material. The following counties in East Tennessee are known to have had, from past records, infestation of the 13-year cicada: Blount, Cocke, Greene, Hamblen, Hamilton, Jefferson, Knox, Loudon, McMinn, Monroe, and Sevier. Counties will not be blanketed by the insect, but many thousands will appear in parts of them. We have already had reports about their appearance in the Glendale Community. When you hear them, you'll remember. There's no other sound like it.

Madisonville Rally Whips Rockford In CM Game

Madisonville came from behind in the seventh inning Monday night to defeat Rockford 7-5 on the combined four hit pitching of Wayne Hammonds and Gordon Kelley. Trailing 4-2 with one out in the top of the seventh Madisonville got a single lowering RBI single in deep center field that would have won for extra bases had the base runner not missed first base. A follow up double off the right field fence and a 300 foot home run by Madisonville

High School's Don Davis provided a one point difference and a triple and a base hit squeeze but by Lenoir City's Neal Foster assured the victory. Madisonville played without the services of regular second baseman Tommy Roberts of basebase home for summer school break pitcher Fred Chaney involved with graduation pitcher Tim Cunningham who was playing summer league basketball and Tommy Cook who had previous commitments for the evening.

Madisonville is expected to be at full strength for a crucial Saturday night game with the Maryville Bankers at Madisonville. Neither team has had a game this spring. Madisonville will have a fresh pitching staff for the game with Tim Cunningham a probable starter. Madisonville was led in the hitting department Monday night by Don Davis (three hits in four trips at bat) and Neal Foster with two hits and a walk in three official times at bat.

Madisonville collected 12 hits for the game as opposed to four for Rockford. A near fatal third inning which saw Rockford take advantage, six walks was the only bad timing experience by the winners.

Around The Farm

Charles McCall
Extension Leader

Cicadas or locusts which ever you prefer are here after a thirteen year lapse. Some of the older farmers raise them then their thirteen year locust. The cicadas which are commonly called locusts are not the insects referred to in the Bible. This insect last made its appearance in Loudon County in 1959. Our entomologist reports that they will appear in large numbers this year.

Some of the cicadas appear every year and are called jar flies or harvest flies and have a one or two year life cycle. Male cicadas made the rasping noises you hear from the trees. This year's cicada is smaller and blackish instead of green colored like the jar fly.

The female cicada deposits eggs in twigs and branches of trees. The eggs hatch into tiny, grub-like worms which drop to the ground and burrow into the soil where they attach themselves to the tree roots. Then, on some mysterious 13-year signal, the grubs begin to emerge from the ground.

These grub-like forms crawl to a tree, bush or weed to shed a cabbage-like skin. The winged adult cicada emerges much like a butterfly coming out of its cocoon. These empty skins can be found stuck to all varieties of trees and plants.

Cicadas do their damage during the egg laying. They make severe incisions in rows down twigs and branches from the tips back. These eggs usually destroy the plant areas that are attacked. However, the cicada does not attack nor is it poisonous to people or to the fruit of crops of any kind.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:
The morning of the recent Primary Election, I went to a lot of trouble getting ready to go to the polls to vote and dragged my old mother and wife along. We arrived at the polls around 9 a.m. It was some time before the Election people were sworn in. We had agreed before we left home to all vote for two people, one a Democrat, the other a Republican. So at the polls, the law denied us the right to vote for both of these people. It said we could only vote for one of them. So we had to give up our county choice, if we got to vote for Governor Wallace. We always as many people do, make our choice of local people in the Republican Primary. If you don't in this county you may not get another chance. So denied our right to vote for our county office holders, we went in and voted for Governor Wallace. He won the election by a big landslide. Now the Democratic machinery got together the other day and picked 40 people just as good as said the people of Tennessee are not capable of making a choice for President of the United States and they say they are not voting for Governor Wallace. So there goes our other vote down the drain.

I think when we were denied the right to vote in the Republican Primary, that was done to try to cut down on the Wallace votes. The Press and so many others have tried to cut this man down and to influence the people to vote the way they want them to. Some even tried to kill the man I think the blood of Governor Wallace is on the hands of more people than the Nut that pulled the trigger. It took it strong enough not to vote for any man our little delegation picks. I'll vote for Richard Nixon first.
My father and his father and grandfather were staunch Democrats and probably even further back. But what was good for my grandfather might not be any good for me. I know we gave the Democrat Party our vote for one hundred years and didn't ask nothing in return and we didn't get anything.

I saw on TV the other day Mr. George Meany of the Giant AFL-CIO Union announce their platform for President and bussing and mouthed off some junk about some one being a Demagogue. After the laboring class of people of Michigan and Maryland voted for Governor Wallace as they did, it could be Mr. Meany could be the Demagogue, as the people showed he isn't their God. If he had to face the people in an election every four years as the President of the United States does in order to keep his job, he'd be one Demagogue that wouldn't be around long.
R.C. Millsaps, Route 4, Loudon.

Huskey Trains

Navy Airman Recruit James K. Huskey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Huskey of 722 W. Broadway, Lenoir City, graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center in Orlando.

Rausin Gets Digest Award

John Everett Rausin, valedictorian of the graduating class at Loudon High School, has been given the Annual Award of the Reader's Digest Association for students who by their successful school work give promise of attaining leadership in the community. It was announced this week by William S. Napier, principal. Mr. Rausin will receive an honorary one-year subscription to the Reader's Digest in any one of its 13 language-editions which he chooses, and a personal certificate from the Editors "in recognition of past accomplishments and in anticipation of unusual achievement to come."

The Reader's Digest Association is presenting these awards in senior high schools throughout the United States to the highest honor-student of the graduating class.

The award to Mr. Rausin, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Rausin, Route 1, Philadelphia, was made possible through the cooperation of Mr. Napier and his teaching staff. They selected Rausin to receive the award, designed to stimulate scholarship, citizenship, and continued contact with good reading after graduation.

No Rate Increase

Frank Arden, Bud Thornburg, also now deceased, Jackie Scott, next one is not identified, Joe Wilson, the Foreman, Rodney Williams and Reed Mangus.

We appreciate the loan of this picture by Rodney. He tells us he has some more which he is going to look up for us. We appreciate his thinking of us as we always appreciate the untiring help our many readers give us.

While we are on this subject, we have spent some time this week talking to a good many readers of the Good Old Days. We had many good comments, which we greatly appreciated. And also many of those we talked to said they had pictures for us. This is a reminder, if you were one of those who promised us a picture, please don't forget to get them to us. We will greatly appreciate it.

Our other picture this week is of a place long since passed from the scene. The old Philadelphia Depot. But, although it is gone, it like so many other things will continue to live on in our memories. These things are always a joy to write about. This old picture was possibly made just a short time before this old landmark disappeared from the place where it had stood so many years.

Those in this picture, all well known in Philadelphia, are (top row) Bill Brannon and Earl Grimes. There was a safe beside Mr. Grimes' name as Daddy Cat. Probably a Creamer, of course, as most know, was owned also by the Bacon Company. I guess one of the things I recall best was the knitting room and the boarding room. These employees always enjoyed getting a joke on someone, especially new employees. They always managed to cook up something that would promote a good laugh.

Most everybody who grew up in Loudon was in one way or another effected by the Loudon Hosiery Mill, better known today as the Charles H. Bacon Company, a division of Genesco Corporation. Regardless of what it's name is today or what it was called back when, we still say that possibly events at this Loudon manufacturing plant were far reaching. For one thing, for many years, it was the largest employer in our area. Many of our young women and men started working here as soon as they finished school. Of course, some quit school to go to work before they graduated. Many families had both the father and mother and children who worked there. This writer never worked in the mill but we worked a while in the old Creamery and was in all sections of the mill. The

THE TRAFFIC IS BACK—
Efforts by area motel, restaurant, service station and tourist attraction owners to get the state highway department to make some change in the signs they erected recently that was taking most of the tourist traffic off of U.S. 11 has met with very visible success.

For the week the signs were up, traffic through the county was sparse. Then Tuesday of last week a large delegation went to Nashville to get the tourist traffic back on highway 11 and they did.

The state had erected alternate route signs for 175 travelers, listing highway 58 as an alternate and they were using it. They listed highway 11 for trucks. This apparently is what sent the cars, campers and station wagons of vacationers the alternate route. On Wednesday after the delegation was in Nashville, two of the three truck signs were covered up by state crews and here came the tourist again.

Another move is afoot to get some relief from the traffic on peak weekends and holiday weekends. The proponents of the effort are going to see if the highway department will uncover the signs on these extra heavy weekends where the traffic jams usually occur. They are suggesting the signs be uncovered during most of the day and then uncovered in the late afternoon so the motels and restaurants along highway 11 can get their fill in the evening.

Candidates Announce For August Elections

The races for the nine seats on the Loudon County Court are of the main interest in the local general election August 2. All but one member of the present court is seeking reelection. First District Squire Jack Leifer did not qualify with the election commission and had said earlier that he would not run because he needed to devote full time to the management of his business.

The Republican nominees Freeman Russell for Sheriff and Emmett Carter for property assessor are running unopposed in the only county wide races.

Five men are seeking the three Justices of the Peace in the first district. They are Republican and Democratic nominees Roy Bledsoe, Boyd Duckworth and Ben Galyon, Democrat J. J. Blair and independent Rule Wilson.

In the second district where four Justices are elected there are seven candidates. The Republican nominees are I. D. Conner, Jack Henry and John J. Moats. Democrats are Henry Foster, Curtis Williams and Jim Hartsock. A. Mathis is running there as an independent. In the third district Squire J. G. Hudson is unopposed as are the three Commissioners in the county.

Lillard Bledsoe of the first and fourth district; Lee Malone of the second district and Joe Greenway in the third district are all running unopposed and all three are the Republican nominees.

The only other local race is for constable in the second district where Republican nominee A. C. Brown is opposing Charles Settles. Other constables unopposed in the county are O'Dell Justice and Dewey Russell in the first district where two constables are elected; Raymond Rogers in the third district and Roy Hootch in the fifth district. ### Council To Review Nursing Home Plan

A special meeting of the Loudon County Health Planning Council will be held on June 15 to review a project proposal concerning the reopening of the old Charles H. Bacon Hospital as a nursing home. The meeting, which is open to the public, will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Lenoir City Utility Building in the auditorium, according to Mrs. R. E. Presley, Loudon County Health Planning Chairman. County Judge Harvey Sproul, Thomas Foster, Administrator of the Loudon County Memorial Hospital and Squire I. D. Conner, chairman of the hospital board, will be on hand to explain the project application, which seeks funds from Hill-Burton and the Appalachian Regional Commission for the proposed nursing home. The project application has already been authorized by the board of Loudon County Memorial Hospital. The Loudon County Health Planning Council's comments will be attached to the application as it continues on its review route to the East Tennessee Health Planning Council and then to the funding sources.

NOSTALGIC MEMENTO—Gov. Winfield Dunn, here for a Republican rally Friday night, was presented with a walnut case containing the bunting which decorated the platform when he first announced his candidacy for Governor two years ago in Nashville. Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Cardwell, who made the presentation, retrieved the bunting, preserved it, and had the inscribed case made after his election.

Administration Good To Loudon County, Dunn Says

Gov. Winfield Dunn came back to Loudon County Friday night and drew cheers from the local Republican Party and now faithful as he praised state and national GOP office holders and pointed to accomplishments in his own administration.

The Governor addressed a Republican fund-raising dinner and rally at Lenoir City High School cafeteria and auditorium. U.S. Senator Howard Baker and Congressman John Duncan sent representatives who told the audience that the two men had commitments elsewhere.

Tennessee needs a state-wide kindergarten system as a guard against drop-outs in the 8th, 9th and 10th grades, the Governor said. It is in kindergarten, he elaborated, that the children's learning defects can be detected and given special attention. "They can be nourished where they need nourishment," he explained, and insisted that such pre-school training must be available to all children.

He also pointed to current efforts toward prison reform as an effort toward "salvaging humanity" and the establishment of a Dept. of Economic and Community Development to take "what has been a good program and make it into an outstanding program."

Prison reform should be directed to rehabilitation of the criminal, he said, but he emphasized the need for strict administration of law and order. He emphasized the need for cooperative effort between the State and local governments in industrial development. The new program calls for every county to evaluate its resources, accumulate statistics and place them on file with the State office so that "when business interests come asking about our resources, we can tell them where to go and what they will find there."

He called attention to the fact that his administration—the first in the State held by a Republican in more than 80 years—is now 17 months old and emphasized that "the people of eastern Tennessee know that there is a State Highway Department... Loudon County, he pointed out, has received more money in contracts for 1972 this year than any other county through which the highway passes, because of the many things necessary to complete the route. The State will continue efforts to make roads safer in East Tennessee, he promised.

First National Bank Adopts Hamilton Name

The stockholders of the First National Bank of Loudon approved a resolution to change the name of the bank to the Hamilton National Bank of Loudon, according to Donald L. Carter, President. Mr. Carter stated that by changing the name, the bank can be more readily identified with others in the Hamilton Baneshares group so that customers moving from one area to another can recognize a familiar name. He further stated that only the name will be changed, and the bank's customers can continue to expect the same friendly bank to serve them in their financial needs.

The First National Bank of Lenoir City stockholders have also approved changing their name to Hamilton National Bank of Lenoir City. Morristown, White Pine, Jefferson City, Harriman, Rockwood, Spring City, Copper Hill, South Pittsburg and other in Georgia will also be adopting the familiar Hamilton name. Each bank will continue to operate under its management team and will be managed by its own local board of directors.

July 4th Weekend Events Are Scheduled

The tradition of a busy weekend of events during the 4th of July is continued this year in Loudon. With the 4th falling on Tuesday there will be events held both on Monday and Tuesday.

Monday the 3rd Loudon Quarterback Club will hold their second annual Horse Show. This day long event will be held at the Rotary Show Ring at Loudon High School. More than 100 horses are expected to participate and entrants are expected from several surrounding states.

On the 4th events will start about 10 a.m. and run until midnight with the Loudon Jaycees and Loudon Lions Club sponsoring several events. The Jaycees will kick off the day with a parade, complete with horses, decorated bicycles, wagons, cars, trucks, floats and anything that will move. This event will start at 10 a.m. and will form on Carter Street at the High School, move down Steekee Street, to Ward Avenue, on to Cedar Street, to Grove Street and diaban at the Legion Building. Starting at 11 a.m. the Lions Club will have their annual carnival at the Lions City Park at Robertson Springs. The Carnival includes games and prizes. Food will also be served by the Lions. The Lions are also going to give away a 500 pound beef. Proceeds from the beef will be used in the Lions' night conservation program in helping pay off a note the Lions have on the property where the park is located.

At 8 p.m. on the 4th the Jaycees will hold an outdoor Square Dance on the Maremont Corporation parking lot. Music will be provided by Bob Brackett and the Country Raiders. This event will last until midnight. A bid was awarded to Millard Truck and Implement Company of Lenoir City for the purchase of a new cub tractor and two mowers. Millard's low bid was $1900. A second bid of $1800 was submitted by Maryville Motor and Equipment Company. The Commission agreed to pay for an assistant supervisor in the girl's recreation program for the summer at a salary of $30 a week for up to 10 weeks. Other salaries in the boys' and girls' summer recreation program are provided through a United Fund agency. A high frequency of vandalism in the new Lions City Park at Robertson Springs was discussed by the commission. It was reported that vandals had been destroying bathroom fixtures, breaking out light bulbs and tearing down a pay phone in the park. Mayor Joe Carter asked City Police Commissioner Gene Lambert to have the police check on the park increased and said the city would try to place a watchman on duty at the park in the late afternoon and night hours when the facility is open. It was also reported that girls using the picnic tables for places to sunbathe in the mini-park on Steekee Street had been causing some problems.

DAR Wins Publicity Award

An award has been received by the Hiwassee Chapter from the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution for first place in the Southeastern Division for best press coverage of Junior American Citizens.

Mrs. Hamil Carey, publicity chairman, said "To give proper credit, the honor should be shared with the Loudon County Herald and its editor, Larry Cate. Through the excellent cooperation and interest in the aims of JAC shown by the Herald staff, this award was made possible."

"The JAC clubs enjoyed an eventful year making reporting an easy and pleasant task. During the past school year there were three clubs made up of Mrs. Charlotte Alexander's first grade, Mrs. Margaret Petley's third grade, and children from Mrs. Lucille Purdy's eighth grade social studies classes. More cooperative, enthusiastic, and imaginative children and teachers could be found and the Chapter looks with pride on the many accomplishments of the participants in this program," Mrs. Carey stated.

Among the accomplishments is the winning of first and second place in the State essay contest by Kim Burrette and Mona Arnold of the eighth grade class at Loudon Junior High School.

Mrs. Carey also said "The Hiwassee Chapter would like to express sincere appreciation to all JAC's and their directors and to those from the Loudon County Herald who contributed toward earning this award."

Fire Flies the Scientists

Once more the scientists at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, Maryland, need lightning bugs for research on enzymes and will pay YOU the going rate of 40 cents per 100 insects. The first collection in Loudon will be on the Monday evening of June 26 from 5:45-9:15 p.m. at Arp's Grocery. At least one other collection will be held two weeks later on July 10.

Last summer the local collectors set new town records by bringing in 7633 fireflies for the cause of science. Anyone can join the fun and profit at helping science by collecting fireflies. The insects are best caught at twilight with a net, such as one which can be made at home from a coat hanger and cheesecloth. After catching the insects, the collector is to freeze them solid so as to preserve the precious chemical that the scientists need. Once frozen, the bags are to be counted by hand to know exactly how many there are. The best procedure, the old pros advise, is to keep a nightly count with a record in a "Night Sheet." When bringing in the bugs with the total count, collectors are requested to bring in their Nightly Record. The only thing which remains is for the bags to be delivered where they will be purchased for 40 cents per 100. For any questions, please write Dwight Sullivan, P.O. Box 3014, Oak Ridge, TN 37830.

LOUDON RECREATION TURNOUT—Loudon Basketball coach Hugh Watson is seen lining out respective baseball teams for the summer in the boys' youth group. A turnout of some 40 boys were on hand for the first day of the summer program.

ROUGH AND READY—Gene Cate steps away from a high inside pitch in Monday's baseball action in the Loudon Recreation program. Loudon Football Coach Gary Dutton was the umpire in charge of this game. Coach Dutton had to call balls and strikes behind the pitcher's mound so he could call balls also.

Loudon Clips Blue Raiders 63-62

Loudon had to hold off a rally by Cleveland Thursday night to capture its first summer league win at Cleveland's High School Gymnasium.

The Redskins, playing in their second summer league this season, were unbeaten thus far. Loudon raced to a 38-23 first half advantage, only to have the Blue Raiders charge back for a 46-45 third period lead.

Mike Messamore and Bill Collins, who just returned from Atlanta where he had prospects for a summer job, totaled 38 points between them and led the fourth quarter comeback for the narrow triumph. Both seniors-to-be scored 19 points each.

The Spring Nationals at Bristol International Dragway this weekend will have the top cars and drivers in the drag racing field from all over the nation. Included in this field of professional race cars and their respective drivers will be the entrance of a 1969 Camaro by Loudon Automotive Supply.

The Super Stock Camaro, with its 302 cubic engine, has undergone a complete break down and refinishing check of its motor and owners Leroy Cathey and John Cobb of Loudon state the car is in excellent running shape.

The car ran three tenths under the world record at a recent drag meet in Rockington North Carolina. The car was number five qualified from a field of 16 of the fastest cars in the United States. A rear end problem removed the car from competition after two rounds of elimination. The car has been beaten only one time all season with the exception of having to halt further competition under mechanical difficulties.

The car is sponsored by Loudon Automotive Supply and is redied for each drag meet by Leroy Cathey Automotive Repair. A driving crew of eight will make the trip to the Thursday through Sunday major car event.

John Housley of Lenoir City will be the driver of the car. John is the service manager at

Ran three-tenths under world record at Rockington

Howard Pontiac in Knoxville. The 30 year old driver has been driving professionally since age 18 and his experience has been a real asset to the Loudon Automotive car.

Like all great running cars, the Loudon Automotive car has plenty of hard work and good mechanics behind it. Other than Cathey, Cobb, and Housley, John Bevin and Rick Thomas are also a vital link in the pit crew which anchors the running of the car.

The entire Loudon Automotive crew has over 40 years of racing car experience to their credit. And this is a definite plus in favor of a potential high finish at the prestigious Bristol showing.

Two other cars of which Cathey is affiliated with in regard to mechanical servicing will make the trip to Bristol with the Loudon group.

Jim Kyker and Alvin Shoemaker, both of Niota, will have a 1968 Baracuda and a 1967 Camaro respectively joining the 1969 Super Stock Camaro. Forster Valley Dairy Farm is the sponsor for the Niota cars.

The Loudon car will return to Knoxville for a drag event on Monday night before returning to Loudon on Tuesday.

Loudon Drops Third Straight Game 12-4, As Pitching Collapse

The Jefferson City Magnavox baseball team could do no wrong and Loudon could do no right as they dropped their third straight game Saturday afternoon 12-4.

Jefferson City battered five Loudon pitchers for 17 base hits, five walks, and used four fielding errors to remain unbeaten in Stan Masial play.

Magnavox, the defending AABC league champion, scored one run off starter and losing pitcher Tommy Cook in one and two-thirds inning of pitching. Cook gave up two hits and two walks in his brief appearance.

Cleveland State pitcher George Stedman, the preplanned starter for Loudon, arrived late from Kingsport and came on in the second inning with two out to pitch.

The tall right hander lasted three more innings and gave up two runs on four hits and two walks.

Jim Patterson, a pitcher-centerfielder for Hiwassee the past two seasons, hurled two and two-thirds frames yielding seven runs, six hits and one walk. Two errors also contributed to the Magnavox rally.

Gene Ratledge faced three men in the wild eighth inning and gave up three hits and one run. Jack Cox came on to put out the fire and giving up a ninth inning home run.

Loudon got two runs in the bottom of the fifth inning to narrow the score to 3-2 but after a four run Magnavox sixth the Merchants tallied only single scores in the seventh and eighth innings.

Loudon got eight hits with Tommy Cook blasting two hits in four times at bat and Henry Ratledge picking up a couple of base knocks in three official tries.

Ray Petty with one hit in two hits and a walk, Jack Cox (1-4), Gene Ratledge (1 for 3 and a walk), and Donnie Darnell managed to round out the rest of the Loudon hitting.

at the plate. Madisonville had but six hits for the game but combined them with 10 walks for their 10 runs.

Four of Madisonville's six hits were for extra base hits (two home runs, a double, and a triple).

Maryville had 11 hits for the night but the Madisonville pitching permitted but three walks.

The win left only Madisonville and Athens unbeaten in league play with a Thursday night game between the two scheduled at Athens this week.

Madisonville's ace Wayne Hammonds, Hiwassee College hurler, is expected to oppose Tennessee Tech's top, freshman pitcher Mike Moore. Game time is 8:00 p.m. at the McClain High School field.

Madisonville will return home in Madisonville for a game Saturday night with Rockford. Fred Chaney or Tim Cunningham will

Irwin Finishes Second At 411

Maryville and Cleveland drivers scored victories in the top two eliminator brackets last night at 411 Dragway.

Robin Whitehead of Maryville drove his Dodge to first place in the top stock competition and Cleveland's Jewell Patterson took the modified eliminator crown in a Camaro.

Homer Irwin of Lenoir City placed second to Patterson in the modified division. Irwin drove a Camaro and received $50.

Lenoir City Trips Loudon Hoop Team 62-57

The Lenoir City Panthers used a torrid last quarter surge to hand Loudon its first defeat in summer league basketball Monday night at Kingsport. Lenoir City trailed 55-57 at the half and 64-61 after three periods, but came to life in the final eight minutes to out score the Redskins 21-11 to cap a 62-57 decision.

Gary Bracket paced the Lenoir City attack with 18 points while Melton had 10, Tim Cunningham and Mike Hooks contributed nine and eight points respectively.

Butch Brown exploded for his best offensive night of his varsity play with 22 points. Bill Collins with nine counters and eight point performances by Donnie Theard and William Casler rounded out play by Loudon.

Cook's Homer Caps Connie Mack Triumph

Tommy Cook blasted a sixth inning homer of mammoth distance Saturday night to give Madisonville Connie Mack baseball team a 10-9 triumph over the Bank of Maryville.

Cook's homer was his first hit of the night as he had walked in the first inning and scored on Don Davis's three run blast to right field for an early Madisonville lead.

Fred Chaney started on the mound for Madisonville going four innings and giving up six runs. Chaney struck out four and walked only one in his first pitching start. The Bankers touched the strong throwing righthander for a single run in the first inning and four runs in the third.

Chaney also gave up a score in the fourth.

Madisonville trailed 6-3 going into the bottom of the fourth and rallied to account for four runs and again take the lead.

Madisonville High School's left-hander David McDaniel came on in relief of Chaney, who had a chance to be the winner until the Blount County team tied the score 7-7 in the fifth frame.

Madisonville added two runs in the bottom of the fifth only to again watch the Bankers register two runs in the top of the sixth for a 9-9 ball game.

Tommy Cook promptly erased the score with a screaming liner over the right field fence and McDaniel retired the side in order in the top of the seventh.

Neal Foster failed to register a time at bat as he walked in every appearance

The electric heat pump is a heating and cooling system combined into one unit that regulates the comfort level in your home every day of the year, regardless of the season. And it does it all automatically.

The heat pump dehumidifies (in the cooling cycle) and ventilates. It filters the air it circulates throughout the home, too.

Game & Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game & Fish Commission

A flock of Giant Canada Geese may well be calling Melton Hill Lake home if a joint project of the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission and the Tennessee Valley Authority meets with success.

The aim of the project is to establish a huntable population of Giant Canadas—hopefully before 1990—in the Melton Hill area. The young geese being set out this summer will be the first of ten planned permanent flocks to be established throughout Tennessee.

"The resident flocks will be comprised of Giant Canadas that spend their entire life on Valley reservoirs, ponds, rivers and adjacent uplands," TVA waterfowl biologist Jim Burbank said in announcing the initial project. Goslings, hatched and raised at the Commission's Buffalo Springs Game Farm near Morristown from adult geese acquired from several sources, will be put in open pens where they will live for about six weeks until they attain full flight capability and can spread out along the Melton Hill shoreline.

"The fact that Melton Hill rarely fluctuates more than 12 feet, and that virtually the entire north shore of the lake is owned by AEC makes Melton Hill an attractive site for the development of this geese flock," Game and Fish Commission Director David M. Goodrich added.

Biologists of both agencies tend to discount potential human disturbance at release sites. "The nearness of a center of human activity would seem to be desirable in a number of ways since geese will be readily visible from the shoreline. It would be reasonable to expect that poaching and unauthorized disturbance could be held to a minimum," TVA biologist Jim Burbank said, adding that public cooperation is imperative if the program is to be a success.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Some things in our town past or present stand out in our memories for various reasons. The place we would like to write about this week is the (now gone from the daily scene) Southern Methodist Church. At one time Loudon had two Methodist churches but today they are combined into one church, the Loudon United Methodist Church.

We know a lot of the things about this church and its people that possibly don't warrant recording in the church history. But there are also things we recall as a small boy when my family attended this church. The church had several pastors through the years but possibly I best remember the late Rev. T.O. Marshall, who was a good friend of my family.

Possibly two people in this church stand out in my memory more than others and there is good reason for this. The first of these was a man called Uncle Jessie Cosner. He possibly was instrumental in getting more children into Sunday School than any other man in Loudon. He took a large group of children to Sunday School each Sunday. The other person I recall

At the Scouts Court of Honor held recently we had the very delightful pleasure of meeting and talking for some length of time with the parents of Hamil Carey. The elder Carey's are the residents of the Memphis area and very ardent Good Old Days fans.

Mrs. Carey stated that although they didn't know most of the people we wrote about, but the era and its events were similar to those years in their lives and both she and Mr. Carey stated that they looked forward very much every week to the arrival of the Loudon Herald at their home.

We are very grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Carey for their kind remarks about the Herald and the Good Old Days efforts.

When we are in error about some information which we pass on through our efforts in this column, we are always glad to be corrected and to pass on the correct information to our readers.

We, of course, were unaware last week that the person with the late Dave Hambone was not the well-known Hambone. We have learned since, that he was a Mr. Brown who worked at Kelso Brothers Grocery many years ago. In fact, our source of information stated that at the time this picture was made, Hambone had not been born. Hambone, who was a Hackney boy, is not dead, but very much alive and is working in Knoxville.

We are grateful to Mrs. Swaney Wilson for her help in providing the information which permits us to make this correction. We always appreciate the help of our readers.

Years ago people saved everything, just in case they might have need for it in the future. Then we went through a period when we disposed of things we didn't have need of at the moment. Well, we can now see how valuable they would be now, if we had saved them.

We are reminded of this by a conversation we had the other day with Clyde Wagner out at Loudon High School. Clyde was telling me about a lot of people trying to find horsecollars to mount mirrors in for hanging in their homes. We also talked about milk cans and how much an old beat up can would bring.

Maybe if I start saving now, but the basement is already running over, and none of the things are worth much. Oh well. That's it for now. See you next week.

WE'RE NUMBER TWO BUT HAPPY

Everybody likes to win. This past weekend the Herald won second place among the weekly newspapers of Tennessee in sportswriting. The award was presented at the summer meeting of the Tennessee Press Association.

This past January we hired a full-time Sports Editor, Danny Gibson. It is through his efforts and work that the paper won this award. We are proud for the paper and for Danny.

Herald Wins Award For Sportswriting

The Loudon County Herald won second place among weekly newspapers in sportswriting. The award was presented at the Tennessee Press Association Summer Convention in Gatlinburg in last weekend.

The annual awards for outstanding performance by Tennessee newspapers is sponsored by the University of Tennessee and the Tennessee Press Association. U-T President Dr. Edward J. Boling presented the awards. The contests were open to weekly, semi-weekly and to dailies published in the state.

The contests were judged by journalism professors at South Dakota State University, Oklahoma State University and West Virginia University.

President Boling reported there was a record total of 638 entries submitted by 67 different newspapers entering the contests for make-up and appearance, editorials, local features, public service, greatest improvement, best single editorial, best single feature, local pictures, women's news, best use of color, advertising campaign, best single advertisement, sportswriting, best picture story, best special edition, and Sunday edition.

Herald Editor Larry Cate said that the addition of Danny Gibson as Sports Editor of the paper and placing of heavy emphasis on sports was primarily responsible for the Herald winning the award.

First place in the Sports-writing competition was won by the Springfield Herald with an Observer placing third.

Editor Cate said, "It is always a thrill to win an award in your profession, especially where there is the competition from your fellow newspapers."

THIS DETROIT, MICHIGAN car ended up on the other side of the four-lane Highway 95 just inside the Lenoir City limits Monday afternoon after it went out of control and overturned three times. The driver, thrown from the car, was in critical condition at UT Hospital in Knoxville.

Michigan Man Critically Injured In Wreck Here

A Detroit, Mich. man may have gone to sleep, officers speculated, after his car went out of control Monday afternoon, overturned three times on Highway 95 before coming to rest across the median in one of the opposing traffic lanes.

The driver, Luther L. Mason, 49, of Detroit, Mich., was seriously injured. He was listed in critical condition in the Intensive Care Unit at UT Memorial Hospital in Knoxville after undergoing surgery Monday afternoon to repair some of his injuries.

Lenoir City Police Officer Johnny Guider, who investigated, said indications were that the car, traveling south on new Highway 95 toward Broadway — apparently at a high rate of speed, went out of control, skidded into the median, back onto the pavement, then back into the median again, overturned three times, according to witnesses, and finally came to rest in one of the northbound lanes 220 yards from where it first left the highway.

The driver, traveling alone, was thrown out of the car. No other vehicle was involved.

Evans Seeks Senate Seat

Leonard O. Evans, 62, former Commissioner of Department of Labor of Tennessee announced that he would seek the Democratic nomination for state senator from the 8th Senatorial District which includes Loudon County.

Born in Williamsburg, Ky., he attended schools in Newport and in South Bend, Indiana making Blount County his permanent home since 1939.

A retired Alcoa employee, he held numerous positions in the local union including trustee, vice president and president. While president of the union, he served as a member of the Wage Policy Committee of the International union, United Steelworkers of America. He was also elected by the delegates to the District 35 Conference.

In June, 1956, he was appointed to the international headquarters staff of the United Steelworkers of America and thereafter received assignments from the international union located in Pittsburgh, Pa. Primary assignments were the handling of disputes arising in the aluminum industry.

He also served as a union (Continued on Page 4)

Two Get Prison Term For Kidnapping

Larry (Dobie) Brown and Terry Johnson were found guilty of kidnapping and sentenced to one year and a day in prison Monday in Criminal Court in Loudon.

The pair had been indicted for kidnapping of a 17-year-old girl at Loudon High School early this spring.

The trial lasted all day and the jury brought in its verdict about 8:15 p.m. Monday.

Much of the testimony in the case consisted of reported inter-racial dating and sex acts between the defendants, both black and white girls, including the girls who's parents were prosecuting the case.

The jury returned a verdict of not guilty on the abduction charge and guilty on the kidnapping charge. Judge Lloyd McChuen, on recommendation of the jury, set the sentence on each to one year and one day.

Immediately after the trial Brown was served with parole revocation papers. He had been serving a one to three year parole for an earlier conviction of petit larceny. A hearing for motions on the trial verdict and on the parole revocation are scheduled for July 19. Both defendants are free on bond pending the hearing.

Indictments against Harry Bell Jr., charging two counts of contributing to the delinquency of a minor were quashed by order of Judge Lloyd McChuen. Mr. Bell's attorney, Ed Bailey, contended in his motion that the indictments failed to even show a violation of law. He also emphasized that the charges were totally without foundation.

More July 4th Event Details Announced

More details were announced this week on the July 4th Celebration slated for Loudon.

Earl Ridenour and Jimmy Lindsey, co-chairmen of the Jaycee sponsored parade, slated for 10 a.m. on the 4th announced that all kids are invited to enter decorated bicycles in the parade and win cash prizes. Five prizes will be awarded for the best decorated bicycles. Prizes are $5 for first, $4 for second and $3 each for third, fourth and fifth place.

Jaycee Lindsey is contacting persons in the county about entering riding horses, wagons and other types of animal drawn vehicles, but he said free to come on for the parade is not contacted. Line-up time for the parade is 9:30 a.m. on Carter Street next to Loudon High School.

The Jaycees say that antique car owners are also invited to participate in the parade and that they had proven to be one of the most popular entries. Business, political groups and civic clubs are also invited to place cars or other entries in the event.

Mr. Ridenour said that unusual entries are invited such as the one entered by Sam Bolt last year, who had a rubber seat on the back of his motor bike.

Loading the parade will be the Loudon High School band. The Redskin cheerleaders are also expected to be in a convertible in the parade.

Marching units such as boy and girl scouts are also asked to join the parade lineup.

On Monday, July 3rd the Loudon Quarterback Club is holding their second annual Horse Show and more than 100 entries are expected for the big show.

Starting at 11 a.m. July 4th at the Lions Municipal Park on Baberson Springs Road the Lions Club will hold a day-long carnival. Games for the entire family with prizes, bingo and plenty of food are being planned by the Lions. Also at 4 p.m. the Lions will give away a 500 pound beef. Proceeds from the Carnival will be used to pay on the debt the Lions owe on the land where the park was built.

At 8 p.m. on the 4th the Jaycees will hold a Square Dance on the Marmont Parking Lot. Bob Brackett and the Country Raiders will provide the music. There will be round dancing and rock dancing in addition to the square dances. Refreshments will also be available. Admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12. Cake walks will also be held at the dance.

Philadelphia Park To Honor Ronny Swiney And Lynn Barger

Philadelphia Mayor Roy Bledsoe announced this week that a memorial plaque will be placed on the entrance of the Philadelphia Community Park in honor of Ronny Swiney and Lynn Barger, two prominent and popular community residents who met tragic deaths by murder.

Mayor Bledsoe said architects have completed drawings for the impressive brick entranceway of the park. Sculptured brick walls on each side will contain plaques, one memorializing Swiney and Barger and the other with the names of city officials. Across the top of the entranceway on a prestressed concrete slab will be the park name "Philadelphia Community Park," and the drive into the 17 acre facility is to be blacktopped.

It is understood that several persons have made memorial gifts honoring the two young men to help pay for the park entrance. Mr. Swiney, former city recorder, and young Barger, who was 17 at the time of his death, son of Bar Knit Hosiery Mill official Earl Barger, were both murdered.

Much of the $60,000 park facility is now open and construction is underway on many other features at the facility. The entire park is to be completed by fall of this year and formal dedication services will be held.

The city has received $26,300 in federal grants toward the construction of the park and is now applying for another to help complete work.

A lighted and fenced softball field is now in use by a community softball league as is a little league field. Fenced tennis courts are also completed as is the driveway and parking lot in the front section of the park.

The park is located on Fort Creek Road near Philadelphia.

On the backside of the property the grading for a playground and picnic area is now completed and ready to have grass planted. A picnic shelter will be constructed there also.

Work is now underway on restroom facilities and concession stands near the ball park. The Council plans to drill a well for the park water supply.

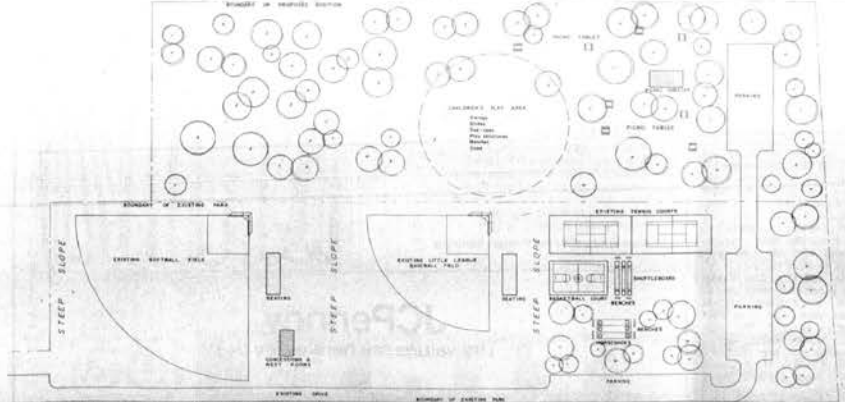

Loudon VFW Post 5190 plans to erect a flag pole and war memorial plaque in the park.

Re zoning petitions are considered. Two rezoning petitions were the major consideration at last week's regular monthly meeting at the Loudon County Regional Planning Commission.

Representing the Tri-County Stockyard, Inc. was Beryl Ryan, who requested the Loudon County Planning Commission to consider a rezoning petition which would change an area lying in Greenback from "Rural-Residential," or zone A-2, to an area which would permit land to be used as a livestock sales yard.

The land Ryan wants rezoned is a 10 acre tract located on Miles Ferry Road, across from the R & R Tractor Sales. It is located in sight of a church on US 41 and also lies near residential development.

The R & R Tractor Sales lies on property which is zoned for "Rural-Center" or zone C-1, of development and maturity. Never in the history of the United States, have its citizens enjoyed a better quality product; plus milk is a cool, coal refresher. This combination of quality and taste appeal is hard to beat.

Milk returns many times over its original cost in terms of bodily benefits plus it is an economical food around which to build nourishing meals suitable for every member of the family. Remember, too, that milk is ever fit as beneficial and good when served in one of its other forms. Butter, cheese, and ice cream are all good ways to "eat" milk - and all of them rich in many of the same valuable nutrients found in milk.

Try this taste-tempting recipe and celebrate June Dairy Month.

Six "Threes" Ice Cream 3 cups MILK 3 cups CREAM 3 cups SUGAR Juice of 3 lemons Juice of 3 oranges 3 bananas, mashed Combine milk, cream, and sugar and stir until dissolved. Place in tray, and freeze until mushy, or place in ice cream freezer and freeze until mushy. Remove from freezer. Add juices and bananas. Whip together if placed in refrigerator tray and freeze.

If done in ice cream freezer, use freeze until firm. For good health and well being, whether one wishes to gain or lose weight, dairy products should be included in the daily diet!

That a commercial feed lot could begin operation. Bettis wants to have the Kenneth Phifer farm on Hines Valley Road rezoned so that he can operate a hog feeding lot.

The property also lies within the "Rural-Industrial" zone livestock feeding yards. The Commissioners agreed to study the matter.

In other matters discussed in the meeting was a road intersecting with Antloch Church Road on the east side of Highway 98 north of Lenoir City was a county road.

Two Tennessee State Planning Commissioners, Dennis Martin and Tom Platt, who work with the Loudon County Planning Commission providing technical assistance, reported that the road was built in 1950 but because of substandard width, it did not meet requirements for a county road.

The next meeting of the Loudon County Planning Commission is set for 7:30 p.m. on July 20 at the Loudon County Courthouse.

Tempt Your Taster With Dairy Foods

By Bonnie F. Shreeley Assistant Extension Agent. One likes to be "short changed." Yet many people are short changing themselves on an essential of good nutrition everyday because they do not include enough milk and other dairy foods in their diets.

Milk, a centuries old food, has been described and praised by hundreds of writers almost since the beginning of man. Because milk products are of vast importance in the everyday diet, it could be stated that milk is a remarkable food! It stands out as a source of calcium, protein, of vitamin A and riboflavin. It gives us some of all other known nutrients and is fundamental to good living at all ages. Milk excels for its delicate flavor, easy digestibility, and its many uses.

Men, women, boys and girls of all ages need milk and other dairy foods. The nutrients provided by milk are essential to anyone who wants to look fit, and do their best. Milk and milk products help supply the necessary food substances for smooth skin, healthy teeth, bright eyes, and glossy hair; for pep and energy; for growth and development of children and teenagers; for body maintenance of adults; and for enjoying good health as "senior citizens."

No one ever outgrows the need for milk. Milk contributes more to good nutrition than any other single food. It supplies a wealth of food elements which are vital to human fitness at every stage of life.

which would permit land to be used as a livestock sales yard as Ryan and the Stockyard Company desire.

The Planning Commissioners voted to study the matter.

In the other rezoning request, Edward Bettis discussed with the Commissioners the requirements for rezoning a parcel of land so that a commercial feed lot could begin operation. Bettis wants to have the Kenneth Phifer farm on Hines Valley Road rezoned so that he can operate a hog feeding lot.

The property also lies within the "Rural-Industrial" zone livestock feeding yards. The Commissioners agreed to study the matter.

Speaking of Sports

By DANNY GIBSON
Sports Editor

There are 855,000 high school football players in the United States. With regular football shoes, more than 140,000 eventually will suffer knee and ankle injuries. Recent studies have disclosed that the rubber cleated soccer-type shoe would reduce injury to 95,000. Now a new type football shoe is about to go on the market. The swivel shoe, which is supposed to reduce injury to a mere 45,000.

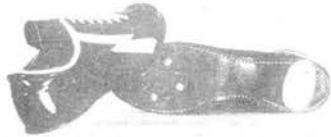

Don't be embarrassed if you never heard of the swivel shoe. It is just going on the commercial market, under the trade name Wolverine Swivler. It was invented by Dr. Bruce Cameron, an orthopedic surgeon on the staff of Baylor College of Medicine in Houston, with the help of Otho Davis, the Baltimore Colts' trainer. The final shoe to go on the market is the result of some 20 years of work. About 500 different shoes were constructed over the period of reaching the final product.

Dr. Cameron, who does knee surgery, says, "You can not stop injuries even if players played barefooted. But cutting them to a minimum is the object of the swivel shoe." It has been noted that other types of injury received in football already have been reduced by equipment such as face masks.

Football cleats were first placed on football shoes around 1899 and were nailed on the bottom of the shoe.

The result of having cleats on the bottom of the shoe went against 50,000 years of evolution so says Dr. Cameron. "Had Mother Nature thought cleats were a good idea, we'd have warts on the bottom of our feet instead of smooth soles."

The thing about cleats over the years is that they cause the foot to be planted when the body turns. Such a maneuver makes the thigh bone go in, the bone out, and the torque or twist, works like a gigantic screwdriver. The knee is the weakest weight bearing joint of the human body. Thus the force placed on it forces the ligaments to pull and tears them.

Two Views of the New Swivel Shoe

Hence the new swivel shoes are supposed to reduce the forceful twisting and turning required for football players. The swivel on the front of the new shoe will make a 360 degree turn, but not a free-swinging turn. The wedge joint sets with the body weight for maneuverability. It is supposed to take about a week for the average football player to get used to the new type of shoes. After getting accustomed to the shoes the player is supposed to be able to cut faster than conventionally shod opponents, and feel less muscle fatigue. Despite the fact that the player becomes faster on his feet the idea behind the shoe is for safety.

As far as The Herald knows no Loudon County high school football player has been introduced to using a pair of the new type shoes. But as soon as they make the common market and sport shops, the players from Loudon, Lenoir City and Greenback are sure to have some feelers in hopes of exhausting their football abilities with the new Wolverine Swivler.

Chaney Pitches, Bats Madisonville To 16-6 Rout

Loudon's Fred Chaney pitched five hit ball through five innings Saturday night, led the Madisonville hitting with four hits in five trips to the plate. Two of his hits were for extra bases. Tallent's bases loaded triple in the fifth inning proved to be the deciding blow of the game.

Chaney's two hits and two runs scored combined with the two runs scored early by battery mate Neal Foster and Tommy Cook supplied ample support for the big victory. Madisonville moved to with in a half game of first place with the win. The Madisonville Connie Mack team will play Harrison Construction Company Saturday at Madisonville at 7 p.m.

Hiwassee's Wayne Hammonds is the expected batter. Hammonds was formerly the ace of the McMinn Central Chargers two years ago. His Connie Mack play in the past two seasons has gained him the respect as the top pitcher in the league.

Hiwassee center fielder, Brian Tallent of Madisonville, led the Madisonville hitting with four hits in five trips to the plate. Two of his hits were for extra bases. Tallent's bases loaded triple in the fifth inning proved to be the deciding blow of the game.

Loudon Automotive Balks In Second Round At Bristol

The Loudon Automotive entry to the IHRA Spring National's at Bristol turned out to be one of cheer and disappointment. The modified stock Camaro which has run so well for Leroy Cathey and John Cobb, qualified sixth among the best professional cars and drivers in the land.

The car went out in the second round of competition as the motor went down. Had the car made it through the second level of running it stood a good chance of getting into the big money for the annual car event at Bristol.

Gene Dunlap, running out of New York, won the final runoff and is currently the top point getter in the modified division of drag racing.

Loudon Automotive is planning to enter the July 22 running at Pelton, North Carolina in the next big IHRA meet.

Greenback Whips Lanier, 68-32

Greenback raced past Lanier last in their first summer league basketball game at Maryville High School. The Cherokees, with all five starters back from last season, posted on a 68-32 drubbing of the Eagles.

Team Captain Joe Manior led the play for Greenback with 21 points. Larry Ritchey popped in 19 points while Bill Joe Kyker swept the back boards and scored 12 points. Tony Linginfelher and Tim Hammonree added nine and six points respectively. Greenback plays again this Thursday night.

four straight hits in the top of the fourth inning with Tim Cunningham sparking the fire with a lead off single. Madisonville could score but was run from the hitting base as Cunningham was thrown out at the plate and a mix up on an attempted double steal lost an out and a base runner. Leading 9-3 Madisonville appeared in excellent shape when Cunningham began to fire and the Athens left fielder blasted a home run over the 340 sign. Athens touched Cunningham for a walk and McDaniel was brought in. A hit and a perfect timing roving double play ball to the shortstop appeared to have saved the day for Madisonville. The hopes were quickly extinguished when the throw to second went into right field. Athens took advantage of the costly error and with another hit and a second fielding error five runs crossed the plate and

Lassies Breeze To 48-28 Triumph

The Loudon Lassies rolled over Midway in summer league basketball last week at Kingston 48-28. The Lassies are unbeaten for the summer. Debbie Hawkins recovered the lead was back in the hands of the McMinn team. Two runs in the bottom of the sixth gave the Athens team 10 runs for the afternoon and only a bases loaded rally cut short by the final ground out of the game did Madisonville ever appear back in the game.

Madisonville registered 12 hits for the game, while yielding only five hits to Athens. A disastrous six errors accounted for nine unearned Athens runs and the eventual loss.

Panthers Drop First Hoop Game

Lenoir City dropped their first game in summer league basketball Monday night. The Panthers lost to a second half rally by the Harriman Blue Devils which gained them a 72-60 triumph.

Tim Cunningham was the only Lenoir City player in double figures, totaling 13 for the night. Gary Brackett and Mike Hooks had eight and nine points respectively for the Panthers.

Lenoir City was ahead by nine points at the half but due to excessive fouling lost several of their first 10 regulars and thus the game. The Blue Devils shot 28 foul shots for the game and hit on 22.

Lenoir City will play a tough Clinton team next Monday night.

Summers And Oddy Lose Leadership Of Golf League

Jack Miller and Clell Miller have gained a one stroke lead in the Union Carbide Golf Standing after last week's play. Runner-up to Hall Summers and Mike Oddy last week by a single stroke the new leaders cut scored their closest rivals this past week 10 to 8 to slip into the lead. Summers and Oddy are in second place with Toostie Carver and Charlie Helms 14 strokes off the pace and in third place.

Dick Huff and Art Hamill, last week's defending champs, made the biggest surge in points last week with a 14 stroke team effort. As the top medalist team for the week they gained considerable ground in their bid to over take the leaders and are now in fourth place in the standings.

Dave Hamill was the low individual medalist last week. Hamill had a low 32 for the afternoon play while Dick Rosenbaum and Mike Oddy are the season leaders with 31's. Mike Oddy is still the top individual player to date with 45 1/2 points. Dick Rosenbaum and Jack Miller continue to stay neck-and-neck. For the second position of individual effort and a point and one-half off the pace by Oddy.

Oak Ridge Trims Loudon, 5-3.

The Loudon Merchants lost a disappointing 5-3 baseball game at Oak Ridge Sunday. The loss was Loudon's fourth loss in Stan Musial play and their fourth straight loss of the season.

Gary Gibson pitched seven innings of outstanding ball, yielding only five hits. Poor backing and the lack of strategic hitting with men on base proved the unhappy end for the Merchants.

Jack Cox relieved Gibson in the eighth inning and finished the game.

Worleys Tell Of Mission Work In Australia And New Zealand

BY CALVIN LUNSFORD

A span of several thousand miles, eight years on the mission fields of Australia and New Zealand have made up the lives of a former Loudon couple, Rev. and Mrs. A.S. Worley. The Worleys grew up in Loudon and are graduates of Loudon High School.

Today, it is a new venture in the lives of the Worleys. Just outside Walthalla, South Carolina, in a big white house on 50 acres of rolling land, classes are in full swing at Faith Training Center, which is an interdenominational school and was opened by the Worleys several weeks ago.

The school, which has been operating since February, has nine full time and 50 night and part time students. These students are attending classes taught by Rev. Worley and missionaries on leave from such places as Kenya and aided by local ministers. Also included in course work is training in such practical skills as sewing, mechanical work and first aid.

There is no tuition charge although students are asked to contribute and the organization is non profit.

REV. WORLEY

MRS. WORLEY

Rev. Worley says they also receive contributions from local churches and local groups interested in their work.

The school conducts two terms a year. One from February through June and the other from August through December.

MISSION SERVICE IN NEW GUENIA-Rev. Alvin Worley is shown as he conducts a service in the outback area, one of the stations from Gono Mission in New Guinea where he served for a number of years.

AT MISSIONARY CONVENTION-This scene is a Missionary Convention in the Eastern Highlands of New Guinea where the Worley's served. The Rev. Alvin Worley is kneeling in the front row, second from the right.

Students first come to the school for an 18 week primary course. After which they leave for six months to assume more definite leadership roles in churches and communities and try to put the theories they have learned into practice. They then return to the school for an advanced course of 18 weeks, after which they commence whatever work they have chosen.

Rev. Worley has many plans for the development of the school, youth camps, expansion of the Physical plant to include auditoriums, classroom buildings and dormitories and anticipation of a larger student body.

Wynette and Allen Vandenberg came to the school from Australia and becoming convinced during an intense prayer period that the Lord wanted them to come. Neither of the Vandeborgs know what the future holds for them and they decline to make any plans. They say that when the time comes for another step, God will show them what to do.

Faith Training Center was founded on Faith, the same trust which all the students possess. A basic faith that the Lord will provide the means if they supply enthusiasm. Those who have witnessed the enthusiasm of the students agree that faith and enthusiasm abound on the campus of Faith Training Center.

Rev. Worley is the son of the late George Worley and the late Mrs. Flora Foster Worley. Mrs. Worley is the former Lorraine Lane, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dane Lane. She is the sister of Gerald Lane and Miss Pauline Lane, both of Loudon.

Elkins Seeks State Seat
"Send A Message To Nashville" is the by-word and campaign slogan of Jack Elkins of Kingston, Tennessee who has announced as a candidate for Representative to the Legislature from the 26th District. He is a candidate of the American Party. He is unopposed for the August 2nd Primary, but voters outside of Roane County will not see his name on their ballot until November. This comes about because the American Party although quite organized in several areas of the state, has not yet created Party Primary boards in Loudon, McMinn and Cumberland Counties.

I guess you could say, "I'm fed up with being fed up," Mr. Elkins states. "You can classify me as a conservative." "My campaign will treat the issues in depth and hit very hard upon issues that are vital to Tennesseans as well as all other straight thinking Americans," he says. He feels his chances of being elected are excellent. It is true that traditionally people still identify with either the Democrat or Republican parties, but the ranks of people who classify themselves as independent voters is expanding all the time he feels.

Jack Elkins is 37 years of age, married and the father of four sons. He is a 1965 graduate of Tennessee Technological University. He holds a B.S. Degree in Physics and is employed by Union Carbide at Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

Committee Explains Amendment On Property Tax Classification

A spokesman for the Tennessee Constitutional Convention's Information and Elections Committee said today that his group hopes to promote widespread voter interest between now and August 3 in a proposed amendment to the state constitution permitting classification of property for tax purposes.

Roy E. Barker, Franklin businessman and chairman of the 18-man committee, told a gathering of newsmen at the State Capitol.

"The purpose of this committee is to conduct a public information and education campaign across the state to inform Tennessee voters of the proposed constitutional amendment that will appear on the ballot on August 3."

On that date, Tennessee voters decide whether to keep their state constitution the way it is now or to amend it to permit classification of property into three classes — real property, tangible personal property, and intangible personal property.

The amendment, a product of the Constitutional Convention which met last year at the direction of the Tennessee General Assembly, further proposes to subclassify property according to its usage and assess it at varying rates, ranging from 25 percent of value for homes to 50 percent of value for public utility property such as natural gas transmission lines and railroad right-of-ways.

The Tennessee Constitution does not currently provide for classification or subclassification of property. All property, regardless of its usage, is supposed to be assessed at the same rate.

Barker appealed to state newsmen to aid the committee by "making Tennessee voters aware of the amendment and generating interest in it."

Barker told newsmen that his committee "was not established for the purpose of attempting to persuade voters to cast their ballots either for or against the amendment."

He said, "We are carrying out our duties as elected representatives of the people of Tennessee to present the tax question, with the hope that the people will carefully consider the alternatives between the proposed amendment and the present provisions of the constitution regarding assessment of property for tax purposes, and to encourage them to go to the polls and vote on August 3."

He continued, "An important issue is at stake in this election, because its outcome will affect every citizen of our state in one way or another, whether that person by a

"It is, of course, desirable that all registered voters of our state make an informed choice on this important question on August 3."

Barker said a number of projects are underway to inform the electorate. Among these are public service radio and television announcements, pamphlets that are being distributed throughout the state, news stories for the state's newspapers, public service outdoor boards across the state, and a speaker's bureau.

Earlier Barker announced the appointment of Dr. George W. DeHoff, Murfreesboro publishing executive, former county president and committee vice chairman, to head the speaker's bureau which will be responsible for providing qualified persons to discuss the proposed amendment before civic, business and professional organizations.

Other members of the committee besides Barker and DeHoff are: W.H. Westbrook, Murfreesboro; Sandra L. Clark, Halls Cross Roads; George H. Darden, Jr., Nashville; Earl W. Gutlip, Sr., Memphis; J. Kyle Holley, Jr., Lookout Mountain; Tom; Glenn L. Miller, Jr., Memphis; L.H. Murphy, Memphis, and William M. Leeb, Jr., Columbia, convention president.

96 Percent of Homes Here Have Television Sets

There is more good-living today in Loudon County than there was ten years ago.

Despite inflation, higher taxes, unemployment and the other economic pressures and uncertainties of recent years, most families in the local area have managed to upgrade their standard of living.

Evidence of it is to be seen in the greater number of cars owned by local residents as well as in the array of air conditioners, dishwashers, clothes dryers, blenders and other household gadgets and conveniences that are to be found in homes in the area.

The number of local households that are equipped with such appliances has increased considerably since 1960.

The findings are based upon a survey of household ownership of durables, conducted in each section of the county by the Department of Commerce, and upon data from other sources.

One indicator of the more expansive living is the rise in the number of two-car families. The figures indicate that approximately 21.8 percent of the households in Loudon County now have two

Cigarette Sales Here Total 2,583,000 Packs

Compared with people in other sections of the country, how much are Loudon County residents smoking these days?

To what extent, if any, has the ban on cigarette commercials by broadcast stations, in effect since January, 1971, altered their consumption during the past year?

According to the various surveys and reports, the big decrease that was expected never materialized. People went on smoking just about as before.

Nationally, as a matter of fact, no less than 360 billion cigarettes were smoked in the past year. This was an increase of nearly three percent over 1970, according to the Department of Agriculture.

These findings are echoed by the Tobacco Tax Council, an industry group. Its figures show that consumption rose four packs per capita in the year.

The conclusion reached is that the number of young people who have taken up smoking more than offsets the number of older people who have quit.

Cigarette sales in Loudon County amounted to approximately 2,583,000 packs last year, according to a breakdown of regional totals reported by industry sources.

In terms of the local population over age 18, this was equal to 163 packs per person.

In the United States as a whole, by way of comparison, the average was 202 packs and, in the East South Central States, 160.

Not included, however, is the considerable quantity of cigarettes that are being bootlegged to evade payment of the taxes which have now reached an average of 19 cents per pack, nationally.

Smoking has become a more expensive habit, as a result. It cost residents of Loudon County an estimated $1,075,000 in the past year, or approximately $68 per smoker.

The recent increase in cigarette consumption is attributed in part to the absence of the anti-smoking commercials that warned of the health dangers involved. They dropped off sharply when the ban on the broadcasting of smoking advertisements went into effect.

County Gets $1 In Federal Aid For Each 70 Cents Tax

How well is Loudon County making out, from a dollars and cents standpoint, under the Federal government's grants-in-aid programs?

How much do the grants to the local area amount to in relation to what local residents are paying toward the programs?

A new study of the grants and their state-by-state distribution has been made by the Tax Foundation, a nonprofit organization that keeps watch over public spending and taxation.

It shows that in some localities the cost of the assistance exceeded the value of the aid received in the past fiscal year. For others it worked out favorably. They got back more than they put in.

Of the $29 billion in grants distributed nationally in the year, $65,000,000 of it went to the State of Tennessee and its

THE SIGN OF GROWTH IN LOUDON COUNTY

Your County In Action

By Harvey L. Sproul
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

This week I intend to continue the discussion and summary of the points brought out in a recent informal meeting between the Hospital Board of Directors, the County physicians, and the Quarterly Court.

Road-Side Dumps
But before I get into that, I would like to see if there are any citizens who know of any real bad road-side dumps in Loudon County.

There is a possibility that under a Federal program I may be able to get some assistance with some labor to begin to clean up road-side dumps, and we also have some assurance that TVA will furnish us with a dump truck so the next question will be as to which are the worst dumps which we should work on during this summer program.

Lenoir City and Loudon were able to agree on the provisions of a joint contract with the County that there will be a County-wide transfer station, operated in the old quarry just on the Lenoir City side of the Tennessee River Bridge at Loudon.

The contract has been signed with David Witherspoon, Inc. who will have the garbage and trash from transfer station to the Witherspoon landfill site.

It is contemplated, although the final rules and regulations have not been set, that any resident of the Cities or the County can use this transfer station on a private basis.

Therefore, any person who lives in Loudon County will now have a place where he can dump anything that he wants to that comes within the regulations, and there should be no excuse for littering and dumping on the County roads.

Possibly in the future a container-collection system can be set up so there are containers throughout the County which will be emptied if more convenient for County in a small County. The physicians stated that many times the complaints that a citizen may have about the Hospital or about the doctors can be traced back, if questions are asked about the true background about the situation. In other words, they say the complaint may be a person who owed money to a particular doctor, or who was examined by a nurse and found that the complaint was plainly not an emergency, or possibly was the patient of another doctor, or other reasons.

The hospital board has been working on another situation that may be of some help. That is the possibility of a young physician who is going to be going to law school in Knoxville but who wants to do some work in the Emergency Room on weekends if this works out, it may mean considerable assistance to the Hospital physicians and give some emergency care that we have not been having to this point.

The Hospital Board and Administration has been working on this for some time and it is hoped that this will materialize.

The only way absolutely to have someone at the Hospital to take care of emergencies when they actually arise is to have a doctor on the staff and paid by the Hospital, which would require 3 doctors in order to cover around the clock.

If such persons to man this position could be found, it would cost at least $800 a day or over $100,000 a year, which could cause a considerable increase in the rates of the Hospital, and this would eliminate some of the advantages that poor people have in using the County Hospital.

The physicians stated that they, like anyone else, wanted more physicians to come to Loudon County, but that they encourage any physicians to come to the County were based on several factors.

One was that they felt that any physician should be a licensed physician, that he should have a good reputation and background and be a good doctor (they say that we don't need any bad doctors), and that he should be willing to take his chances in making a living just as they have; but that in fact there should be enough practice here for any man who is willing to work and that he should not have to expect a subsidy from the County.

They indicated their willingness to continue to help new physicians have been previously discussed, and could possibly take some time to overcome, but on the other hand it might be possible to obtain new physicians in fairly near future.

At least, I think the informal meeting was a way of helping to get some understanding and discussion going back and forth concerning the problems that each group has to face, and hopefully some improvement will come along that line.

days when we attended Bible School. We, of course, have as a reminder a picture not too old but the children in this picture are now grown up. Some are married, some are in college. This Bible School was at Loudon First Baptist and those in the picture are: Ann Randolph, Linda Sanders, Tommy Littleton, two Julian girls, Steve Kincaid, Lynn Black and John Priemore. One person is unidentified.

Back in the Good Old Days or the present, it is the same this time of year with our farmer friends. "Make hay while the sun shines." If you don't, you might have a sizable loss due to a sudden shower. Getting up hay is usually a hot job and one which stretches the day into the last sounds of daylight.

Of course, we were reminded of all this by the season of the year and an old picture we had loaned to us the other day. It depicts a past era. An era when farmers depended on mules and other livestock to do the chores of farm life. This included pulling the hay wagon, mowing machine and hay rake. Of course, modern day equipment makes the job easier and possibly much quicker. But somehow with most of our older people, there is a very warm spot in their hearts for some of the mules and horses they grew up with on the family farms.

This old picture was made in 1935 and was made at haying time on the George Otis Robertson Farm near Loudon.

The late Mr. Roberson is holding the team while Mr. Bob Smallen stands on the wagon.

Mr. Roberson was well known in the south as a mule trader and he always kept a barn full of mules which he would trade on the markets of Atlanta and Birmingham and other southern cities that were in the heart of the south's vast cotton centers where mules were much in demand to farm the vast cotton plantations.

We express our many thanks to Mrs. George Otis (Miss Alma) Roberson for the loan of this interesting old photo from the Good Old Days on the farm.

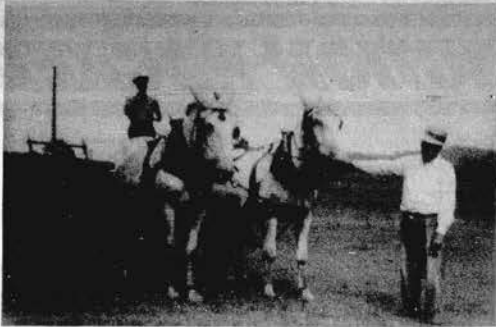

We have had several people tell us that they had pictures for the Good Old Days, but in cases where we didn't put the name down we have let it slip our minds. Give us another call and we will come and pick them up.

Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

Aboard Raleigh

Navy Seaman Apprentice Roy F. Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Nelson of Route 5, Lenoir City, is aboard the amphibious transport ship USS Raleigh in the Mediterranean Sea.

The Raleigh has taken part in several amphibious exercises, joined with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces in Operation Dawn Patrol, and visited Athens, Greece and Valencia, Spain.

276 In County Over Age 65

The span of life, for the average Loudon County resident, is measurably greater now than it was 40 or 50 years ago.

Each generation of local people born since the middle of the last century has experienced a better survival record than the one before.

The accumulated gain is such that a child born to local parents at the present time has the prospect of living about 10 years longer than he would have if he had been born 40 years ago.

The general life expectancy at birth is now 79.5 years, according to the Institute of Life Insurance. This compares with 68.2 in 1950 and 59.7 in 1930.

In Loudon County, the latest official count shows a total of 1,067 men and 1,509 women at age 65 or over. For those who are just 65, the additional life expectancy is greater than ever before—12.8 years for men and 16.4 for women.

The latest actuarial figures indicate that the 160 or so men in Loudon County who are now 23 have an 88 percent chance of living to the year 1996, which is the year when their youngest children would normally be getting married. This compares with 83 percent for those who married in 1940.

Sometimes back we ran a picture of an old Corn Mill, or maybe it ground flour too. Anyway, it created a lot of interest with our readers. So we thought we would run another one. Where this mill is, we have no idea. It operated in our area many years ago. If you know where it is, please let us know. Come to think of it, this possibly was a mill that ground what as well as corn. We say this because it was a two story building.

This reminds me, I was out at the old Jackson School site and I am sorry to say the old building is gone, but we noticed the old mill building down below it is still standing. Just wondered if any of the old machinery was still in it. Would like to get a picture of it from the inside. If you know about this, give us a call. It's Bible School time again and a time when we can recall many memories from the

INDEPENDENCE DAY

Next Tuesday there is a lot of activity designed for family fun in Loudon all being held in conjunction with the July 4th Holiday. This is all good and everybody has fun, and besides it is a holiday from work and a time of vacation for many people.

But we wonder how many people stop to think about that July 4th back almost 200 years ago in 1776. During your celebration of July 4th this year think back and remember the birth of our great nation. This was the turning point for both America and its people. On this day, July 4th, 1776, the Declaration of Independence was adopted, making our country free and securing for all citizens "certain unalienable rights ... among them ... Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness." Today, as then, Americans affirm these rights.

VACATIONING? -- GUARD AGAINST BURGLARS --

Without fail during the summer vacation season a number of Loudon County homes are burglarized while the occupants are away on vacation. Sheriff Freeman Russell this week listed some tips to help guard against break-ins and burglaries of homes useful anytime a person is away from home but certainly suggested while on vacation.

His suggestions are leave at least one light on in the house that can be seen from the outside. Leave an outside light on if possible. Tell your neighbors or a relative you will be gone and ask them to check the house. And of course lock all doors and windows.

The Sheriff's Department will also check the house during the day or night while you are away if contacted and given the dates the family will be away.

HOME BURGLARIZED—Carl Stamey, Steekee Road in Loudon, surveys the ransacked bedroom of his home that was burglarized of several thousand dollars in furniture, household and personal items while the family was on vacation last week.

Family Away, Thieves Clean House

Several thousand dollars worth of furniture, household items, clothing and personal effects were stolen from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stamey, Steekee Road, Loudon, last weekend while the family was on vacation.

The break-in was discovered Sunday by Mr. Stamey's brother, who in turn notified the family, who had stopped in Atlanta to visit relatives as they returned from Florida.

The thieves hacked what appeared to have been a large truck to the back patio of the house. They forced the lock on a sliding glass door to gain entrance.

The entire house was ransacked, even the attic, and the sofas around the kitchen cabinets was torn loose. Apparently the break-in took place Sunday morning. The house had been checked Saturday.

Sheriff Freeman Russell is investigating. Several other homes in the area have been broken into in the past two months.

Modernization Of Bacon Hospital Wing 'Impossible'

The question of whether to make a hospital, a nursing home, or an extended care center out of the old Charles H. Bacon Hospital in Loudon was answered last week.

Man Charged For Shooting Brother

A Lenoir City man was charged with felonious assault late Tuesday afternoon after he allegedly shot his brother with a shotgun James Turpin, 24, Rt. 4, Silver Ridge community near Lenoir City, was admitted in Loudon County Memorial Hospital about 6:15 p.m. with shotgun wounds in his right shoulder and arm. Sheriff Russell and members of the Lenoir City Police Department were involved in the investigation of the incident.

Sheriff Russell said the brothers had gotten in an argument earlier in the afternoon over an incident between their two daughters, one 11 and one four years of age. A fight followed, reportedly at the home of Billy Turpin, who lives right behind his brother, James.

The two reportedly had resolved their differences, Sheriff Russell stated he was told by James. But later Billy came to James' home and asked for a 12 gauge shotgun that had belonged to their father. He told Sheriff Russell he gave him the gun and four shells. James then said he went to feed his hogs and as he walked out the road his brother came up with the gun and shot him.

Throughout the activity at the park the Lions will be serving sandwiches, soft drinks and other refreshments. Also at 4 p.m. the Lions will hold a drawing for a 500 pound beef to be given away. Should the winner not want the beef they could collect $200 in prize money.

Bond Sales Here $23944 In May

Cash sales of Series E and H Savings Bonds in Loudon County during May amounted to $23,944, county savings bonds chairman C.T. Burdett, reported today. Through May the county has attained 38.8 per cent of its dollar goal as set by the Department of the Treasury. Savings Bonds sales for the state amounted to $3.6 million during May, a significant increase over the same month last year.

On Dean's List

A student from Greenback has been named to the Dean's List for the Spring semester at Sanford University. Freda Mae Hill McCallie, daughter of Mrs. Ellis A. Hill, Rt. 2, Box 187, Greenback, was one of 187 Sanford students cited for recording scholastic averages of 2.5 or better (3.0 possible).

With a new high of $56 billion in Savings Bonds outstanding nationally, sales of $975 million during May exceeded redemptions, at cost price, by $213 million. Sales of Series E Bonds alone set a 77-year record for the month, the announcement said.

Fire Destroys Fort Building

Fire, of mysterious origin, has destroyed the administration building and museum at partly restored historic Fort Loudoun on the banks of the Little Tennessee River.

The blaze occurred about 9 p. m., Thursday, but authorities withheld information while checking into reports of arson.

The frame administration building, which also housed the museum, was leveled. All the contents, including Indian and frontier artifacts, were lost.

Fort Loudoun Association, a nonprofit group, organized to restore the fort built by the British in the mid-18th century, during the French and Indian War.

Jack Jones, Sweetwater industrialist and association director confirmed the fire. The Tennessee Bureau of Criminal Identification and state fire marshals have been on the scene since last week.

One report said authorities are tracing ownership of a car seen speeding from the scene the night of the fire.

Jones said insurance protected $600 in property and $1500 in contents. The loss, however, is considerable.

The association operated the tourist attraction for the state, which owns it, from admission fees and the sale of trinkets associated with the fort.

After an announcement that TVA would build Tellico Dam at Loudon City, a new entrance to the fort was erected farther south of the Little Tennessee River.

The main entrance had previously been at the south end.

Your County In Action

BY HARVEY L. SPROUL
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

Would this be direct competition with existing nursing home facilities? Could the building be converted to some other use that would be of more benefit to more of the County?

The Old Hospital
I am not a member of the Hospital Board, but meet with it to nursing home, but several things happened then, including the fact that the Johnson Nursing Home expanded to 100 beds, and it was also felt that possibly the County could use a 100-bed hospital and that maybe the old building could be connected up with the new building.

But considerable problems arose concerning getting the old building approved as a hospital including fire regulations, new standards for hospitals required by Federal programs, and the building of a new hospital in West Knoxville not too far from the Loudon County line.

In addition, the 100-bed Johnson Nursing Home has been operating at almost 100 percent occupancy, and it has been difficult in many situations to get a bed when needed.

In some cases Loudon County's harmony, he was prejudiced in favor of Mayor Joe Carter, Ed Arnold, Burt Idersus, and others of the Union representatives.

Do we need Additional Nursing Home Facilities?
Since we have been talking about medical problems, and hospital problems, it might be well to discuss another matter that has come up recently.

Approximately two weeks ago, the Loudon County Health Council had a public meeting concerning the proposal of the Hospital Board to convert the old Charles H. Bacon Hospital into a nursing home.

There was a considerable amount of discussion concerning this, and some opposition to it. What would be the best use of the old Hospital? Should the County renovate the old Hospital into a nursing home?

County patients have had to go to other Counties, and of course there are many people from other Counties who are in the Johnson Nursing Home.

Johnson's Position

Mr. Johnson was at the Health Council meeting and stated that the reason he had to accept out-of-county people in the nursing home was that Loudon County itself could not support a 100-bed nursing home, and in order for him to keep the nursing home open he had to take persons from other Counties, which sometimes makes it impossible at a specific time to get a Loudon County resident in the nursing home, but that wherever possible he always gave preference to Loudon County patients.

He stated that if the County wanted to attempt to make nursing home facilities available for persons who did not have the money to pay the full charge at his private nursing home, that it would be much cheaper for the County to subsidize those patients in his nursing home, rather than opening up a nursing home of its own.

The Hospital Board had considered many of these problems, and had discussed the matter with State officials and the Hospital Licensing Board which also licenses nursing homes.

It also appeared that if the County applied for a Federal grant to renovate the old building that it might be possible to raise some of the cost of the renovation paid with Federal grants if it could be done now.

It was thought that the County could renovate the old building and provide a facility that could operate at a lesser cost and a lesser room rate than a private nursing home because the County does not have to make a profit.

Public Health personnel at the meeting indicated that there were many people in Loudon County who needed to be in a nursing home and would go if there was any chance of it having an amount within their reach. This then would have taken the burden off the Johnson Nursing Home from having to consider or turn down patients who could not afford the regular price.

Back to the Board
But this matter will now go back to the Hospital Board of Directors for additional consideration and recommendation as to the use of the old building and if looks as if the recommendation will almost have to be not to use the old building as a hospital, or as a nursing home.

But maybe all in all at least some good can come from having had the meeting and discussing back and forth the pros and cons of this important problem.

Maybe both sides of the question, that is, those who feel that we need more nursing home facilities in the County, and those who feel we don't have a better view and outlook of the total situation.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

With the Fourth of July Horse Show coming up in Loudon, we are reminded of the past horse shows in our town and some of those who could always be depended on to offer their support. Some we recall, possibly others, have slipped our minds but are not omitted on purpose. Those we remember are Dr. Joe Harrison, Brandy Robertson, Don F. Grobe, Dave Marr, Sr. and we believe the late George O. Johnson and Dr. Halbert Robinson were involved in these old horse shows.

We were reminded of all this by a picture we have of Mr. Scott of Charles H. Bacon Co. with two very beautiful and possibly very valuable horses.

They were possibly from the farm of the late Col. Charles H. Bacon and while we are on this subject, since childhood we always admired the home of Col. and Mrs. Bacon and would like very much to do a story on this house. I'll tell this time we have not been able to find out who has charge of this property so we could ask permission to do a story on it. Maybe some of our readers can help us. If so, please give us a call.

Another picture we have this week is what we believe to be an old Lenoir City family. This picture was loaned to us by Brenda Carnes, who is related to the Greens of Lenoir City. We would like for the lady from Lenoir City whose name was Green to please give us a call. She sent us her phone number for us to call her about some pictures she had for us. Somewhere along the way we misplaced the number and would appreciate application of the County to renovate the building into a nursing home.

This visit occurred after the County Health Council meeting, and it certainly would have saved a lot of discussion if it had occurred before the meeting.

Of course, we couldn't mention Doc White without recalling his years with the late Norman McQueen, who for many years ran a service station in Loudon and the words "Hurry Back" a common phrase among Loudon people.

Do you recall a gasoline called "wooc pep"? Well, for many years this station was the dealer for this well known gasoline brand of that era. We believe we are correct in saying that these two men ran the first service station in Loudon. Of course, stores and some of the garages sold gasoline, but only a sideline and not devoted to gasoline, oil, tires, etc. This brings back some fond memories, doesn't it?

Well that's it for now. See you next week.

Ambulance Service Uncertain As July 1 Deadline Nears

Saturday, July 1 is the deadline that Loudon County's funeral homes had set for going out of ambulance service business, but it appears they will continue operation until the July meeting of the County Court, set for July 19. More than a year ago the three funeral directors in Loudon and Loudon City informed the court that they were going out of the ambulance service because of wage and hour regulations and because they had continually lost money on the service over the years.

After months of study the court has taken no affirmative action in establishing an ambulance service for the county and the funeral directors in conversations with reporters this week indicated they would appear before county court one more time and if they have not found an answer to the problem by that time they would stop answering ambulance calls.

Two possibilities are also in the making to provide ambulance service in the county. A Loudon City man, Ray Houk, is reported to be in Nashville this week trying to obtain equipment and information necessary to establish an ambulance service. Also Luttrell Ambulance Service of Knoxville is reported to have offered to place two ambulances in the county at all times provided that the county make them the same offer they did the local funeral directors. This was a guaranteed payment of $25 per local ambulance call and one dollar a mile for all calls that included travel outside the county.

Two Charged For Drag Racing

Loudon County Deputies Kenneth Brown and J.C. Hammon broke up a drag-racing party on State Highway 95 across from the Fort Loudon Dam about 3 a.m. Sunday morning. Deputies said about 12 to 15 cars were involved. The drivers of two cars were caught and charged in the county. Sheriff Freeman Russell said that drag racing is a problem in that area and also on Martel Road and in the Eatons Crossroads areas. One of the drivers charged Sunday morning ran from deputies after his car was first stopped and a high speed chase through Loudon City and to White Wing Road past Elites Crossroads followed before the car blew a tire. The driver Ben Summers, formerly of Loudon City, now living in Jefferson City was charged with drag racing, reckless driving, and resisting arrest. He paid fines and costs totaling $102.50 and lost his drivers license for a year.

County To Get $70,000 More In TVA Taxes

Loudon County will receive some $70,000 more a year in TVA annual tax replacement funds as a result of a decree by the Chancery Court of Davidson County. It has been learned. Under the new settlement Loudon County is to receive about $112,010 a year from the state share of TVA taxes paid by the state, with some coming directly from TVA. In the past the county had received about $40,000 a year.

The new increase in income is largely due to work done by Loudon County Judge Harvey Sproul and county attorney Don McMurray with the approval of county court. Last year Anderson County Judge Joe Magill filed a lawsuit which was settled earlier in the courts but Loudon County refused to accept the settlement and with some other few counties entered a new lawsuit which has led to the new, much larger settlement. The new decree applies to Loudon, Roane and Monroe Counties under a formula for the allocation and distribution of the funds as established by the State Board of Equalization.

The question of payment of a fee of $60,000 sought by Judge Magill from the earlier lawsuit was along with an assessment of the costs in the case, was expressly reserved. When Judge Sproul took office almost six years ago one of the first things he expressed to county court was to try and get a more fair tax replacement formula for TVA property in the county.

The method used to compute the allocation of Tennessee Valley Authority tax replacement funds to counties is in accordance with a resolution of the State Board of Equalization follows: The former assessments of TVA-acquired property held as of June 30, 1970, were furnished this office by the Tennessee Valley Authority. This statement included the former two-year average assessed values of reservoir lands and the former two-year average assessed values of purchased power property at the time of purchase by TVA. Reservoir lands were assumed to be assessed at 15 percent of actual value, except for Hamilton County, which was assumed to be at 37 percent of actual value and Knoxville County, which was assumed to be at 25 percent of actual value, the assessment in these two counties being the same as the level established by the Tennessee State Board of Equalization.

Horse Killed, Rider Injured

A horse was killed and the rider injured in Loudon on U.S. 11 Saturday afternoon according to reports at the Loudon Police Department. Injured was Kyle H. Ward, 21, Rt. 4, Loudon who was admitted to Loudon County Memorial Hospital after the accident.

Modernization Of Bacon Hospital Wing 'Impossible'

(Continued from Page 1) The Charles H. Bacon Hospital building into a nursing home. "A decision was reached by this office not to approve this facility for a home until such time the safety deficiencies have been corrected. This facility must meet the safety standards set forth in Section 10 of the 191 Life Safety Code, Vol. 4, 1969-70 National Fire Code.

There was some concern that if this building was licensed as a hospital in 1971, why would it not meet the standard for a nursing home in 1972. The fact that this office would not have approved this facility for a license in 1972 might help to clear up this question.

Man Sought For Ft. Loudoun Fire

Long Losing Skien Should End

The long road of defeat appears to be drawing to an end for the Loudon Merchants, and no one can be more happier than the Merchants themselves and Manager Jerry Simpson. Not counting any chickens before they hatch or wishing to put a jinx on the hard luck Merchants but their next two opponents are winless for the entire season.

Loudon plays Luttrell at Chilhowee Park Thursday night at 8 p.m. and the refreshing thought is that Loudon trounced them 10-0 in the first meeting June 1, at Loudon. The win was only the second for Loudon over their respective opponents in five years. Luttrell has surely improved in their first of the season play, but Loudon has not been going in a real reverse of themselves. Despite starting out like gangbusters the Merchants sudden losing skien has had people giving up a trifle too soon. The competition is rather strong in the format of the Stan Musial League this summer. Maybe more so than in a number of years. Loudon has got some good talented all players that have plenty of knowledge of their positions and thus for the most part the Merchants are probably better on paper this season than they have been in years. Bad breaks and the slowness for the group of players brought together for the Merchant team to jell appears to be their worst foe to date. The pitching has been relatively strong with Jack Cox, Gary Gibson, and Danny Russell a fine threesome for any team. The tragic fielding lapses which have almost always follow a couple of walks, hits, or errors which places runners on base makes it tough for any pitcher's confidence.

Hence Loudon will face a better team than they defeated earlier but with the elimination should be highly capable of turning the trick for the second time this summer.

Loudon will host Marlbedale Saturday at Loudon. Game time is scheduled for 3 p.m. The meeting is the first for the two teams this year. The team from suburban area as of Knoxville near Carter has long been a door mat for other teams of the league.

So in due respect for the efforts of the Merchants to climb back into the thick of the Stan Musial standings it is urged that all that can turn out for the Saturday home game and show the boys Loudon is very much behind them.

Hamp Russell, who has been a right arm to baseball in Loudon for countless years and keeps in touch with as many players and ex-players to wear a Loudon uniform over the summer, says Chris Zachery is making himself a home with the Detroit Tigers. Zachery pitched for the last Loudon baseball team to make the state AABC playoffs. His pitching record was of clutch victories for the Bacon Hosiery team. Since the days of milk and honey, 11 years ago, Chris has long been signed to a professional baseball contract. The ex-Knox Central pitcher has been much of a journeyman in the majors but appears to have found a home with the Tigers as a relief specialist. In 10 innings this season he has given up but one run and seven hits, an outstanding quality for a relief pitcher.

Morris Wilson Receives Sportsmanship Trophy

Morris Wilson, former Loudon High School basketball star and recent Tennessee Wesleyan signee, is still receiving recognition from his outstanding two years of basketball play at Knoxville Junior College.

Wilson, son of Mrs. Mabel C. Wilson of Loudon, was chosen the outstanding athlete of the year at Hiwassee. The award is given by the Madisonville Optimist Club. The prestigious honor is voted on by the members of the Optimist Club who has shown outstanding sportsmanship, team spirit, and ability during the year.

Waland's Lead Handles Greenback

Greenback fell nine points behind Thursday night in a summer basketball game with 26 Walland at Maryville High School and was never able to catch up. The loss was the first for the Cherokee.

Waland spurred to 15-4 first quarter margin and the Cherokee cut the difference to eight and that is where the point spread remained through out the second half with the final score reading 64-

Larry Ritzhey led the Greenback attack with 26 points. Joe Minor added 15 and was the only other Cherokee to hit for double figures.

Sox, Home For 7 Games

The Knoxville Sox Southern League game with the Montgomery Rebels was rained out Sunday.

The Sox, trailing the Rebels by seven games for the lead in the Western Division, return home Monday to open a four-game series with the Columbus Astros. The Birmingham A's come into town

Thursday for another four-game series.

Knoxville is currently playing 500 ball, 36 wins and 36 losses. Montgomery has the best record of any club in the Southern League with a percentage of .597, 43 wins and 29 losses.

Phil Garner, former University of Tennessee slugger, will be making his second return to Knoxville when the A's and Sox play. Garner, playing third base for the Oakland farm club, has hit 12 home runs and driven in 28 runs prior to Sunday's action. He is batting .278.

Gibson Victimized With 2-Hit Effort

Merchants Throw Scare Into Vulcan Materials

The Loudon Merchants have continued to be blessed with the disappointing efforts of returning to the victory column, as they have failed to win a game in the past month.

The Thursday night game with Vulcan Materials (formerly Benco Plastics) proved to be a double defeat. Not only did the Merchants lose the game 3-2, but lost a heated 30-minute discussion in the fifth inning which resulted in a 2-1 Merchant lead being knotted.

The uneventful dilemma came with runners on first and third base for Vulcan and one out. The runner on first base broke early for the second base but a prospective double steal but Loudon pitcher Gary Gibson had yet positioned himself on the pitching rubber. His move to throw the runner out resulted in a called balk and the runner on third scored. The questionable play probably was the turning point in the contest as a fatal seventh wild pitch produced the winning run. Gary Gibson pitched the entire game for Loudon and gave up just two hits. The hurling performance is one of the best by a Loudon pitcher in several years.

The pitching exhibition by Gibson was also magnified by the fact that the Vulcan team has lost but one game in the past two years and this is the closest any team has come to upsetting them this summer.

Loudon had seven hits in the game and scored all their runs in the top of the second inning as Donnie Darrell reached first base on an error and Mac Coley lined a single to the outfield. Both runners advanced on a slow fielding attempt by the Vulcan outfielder and Bruce Brannon followed with a hit that brought both Darrell and Coley across the plate.

Vulcan Materials scored a single run in the bottom of the first inning on three walks by Gibson and a infield out. Gibson worked out of the trouble and pitched brilliantly until the fifth frame and the balk was called.

Gary settled to sit the side down in order in the sixth but a walk and a fielding error which has beaten the Merchants more than once this summer put runners at first and third thus an intentional walk was imposed and Gibson let the next pitch get away for a wild pitch in trying to be too careful and the runner on third stole home for the deciding score.

Loudon loaded the bases in the bottom of the fifth with one out but a change in pitchers resulted in retiring the next two Loudon batters on a strike and the Merchants never threatened there after.

Wears No. 13

Shortstop Dave Conception of the Cincinnati Reds is the only National League player wearing number 13 on his uniform.

Reds Are Loudon Recreation Leaders

The Loudon Summer Recreation program is moving steadily along with heated races in both the 13 thru 16 league and the 8 thru 12 league.

Butch Brown's Red team is on top of the standings of the 13-16 group. Brown's team has 30 mark to date and the only team to be unbeaten in summer play.

Gary Gibson's team has a 2-2 record. His team is called the Athletics.

Mark Harper's Pirates are 1-3 for the season. Butch Brown is the top pitcher for the league with a 2-0 mark. Jerry Mode and Greg Watson are 1-0. Jimmy Berry is 1-1 for the league.

In the 8-12 league the Mets and the Orioles are tied for the league lead with a 4-3 mark. Doug Russell and Eddie Estes are the Mets and Orioles team captains. BooBoo Hawkins, Freddie Starritt, Donnie McCollister, and Cart Wayman have been the top batters for the early part of the Recreation season.

Two Teams Share Union Carbide Golf Lead

It's neck and neck in the Union Carbide Golf play. Hall Summers and Mike Oody find themselves sharing the lead in league play with Jack Miller and Chell Miller. Both teams have 94 team points.

Besides the two front runners trying to outdo the other last year's defending champs Dick Huff and Art Hamil are starting to make their move for the head of the pack. Huff and Hamil are in second place this week with 78 points equalling the front pace slitters in team points last week.

Charlie Helms and Tootsie Miller have fallen to fourth while Dick Rosenbaum and Eldon White are in fifth position. Ed Swenson and Gerald Cole are attempting to remain in contention with a seventh place team score. Ed Swenson and Gerald Cole are presently in the sixth slot with 58 points.

Art Hamil collected top medalist honors last week with a routing 32 for the afternoon. Homer Stanley and Carlos Evans shot up in the lower division of the standings with a high team play of 14 team points to beat all teams by at least four points. Art Hamil and Mike Oody are battling for the individual point honors with 49 each. Dick Rosenbaum has picked up 47 points to date while Oody's team partner Hall Summers is holding pace with 46 points.

Avenge Harrison Loss 3-1

Madisonville To Play Six Games In Next Eight Days

Madisonville of the Region 11 Eagleton Connie Mack League averaged one of its season losses Saturday with a 3-1 victory over Harrison Construction Company diamond team. The win was only the third over the Blount County team by Madisonville in three years. Madisonville lost to them three times last year.

Harrison had tripped Madisonville 1-0 in the first meeting of the season.

Wayne Hammonds recorded his second win of the season with out a loss in the nip and tuck game. Hammonds, righthander from McMinn Central High School and now a regular for Hiwassee College, scattered four hits for the game and struck out five.

Don Davis, third baseman, got Madisonville on the score board early with a lowering 410 foot home run to start the bottom of the second inning. The drive was guessed to have been the longest ball hit in Madisonville the past 15 years.

Madisonville added another run in the bottom of the third frame on three hits and an error. Harrison tallied an unearned run in the fifth inning on an error, a sacrifice, and another hit. Hammonds worked his way free of the jam and was never in trouble the rest of the game.

Madisonville added an individual hitter on the team and in the league. Tallent is hitting at a .356 mark. He won the league batting crown last year with a .480 average.

Wayne Hammonds is hitting the ball at a .400 average, some 175 percentage points over his average last summer.

Tommy Cook is in 10th place in the league hitting records with a .364 average.

Both Hammonds and Tallent are 18 year olds and will conclude their Connie Mack eligibility this summer. Cook is only 16 and is last becoming the talk as the best all around first baseman the league has seen in several seasons.

Donnie Darnell, Gary Gibson, Jack Cox, and Danny Russell were the only Loudon players to hit safely for the day.

On June 30, at midnight, the 1971-72 Hunting and Fishing licenses will expire. The 1972-73 combination license can be purchased for a fee of $5 from area boat docks, sports shops and hardware stores.

Dean Simpson Oldsmobile in Lenoir City. Ted informs the Loudon Herald that he has books and books of advertising tickets for any one or family who might like to attend a Knoxville game. The tickets are free for the asking and I am not going out on the street to give them away because I have people wanting them in the Knoxville area. I got the tickets for the Loudon County people.

The free offer is a great chance for little league teams, Babe Ruth, or recreation groups to attend a professional game at little expense.

Simpson has already treated the Madisonville Connie Mack team to a game and the Region Two baseball team really enjoyed the kind service.

The Sox are home for the week so go by and pick up a few tickets for the wife and kids.

Wild Seventh Inning Slaps 10-4 Loss On Loudon

The Loudon Merchants fell prey to the Knoxville Reds Saturday afternoon at Loudon 10-4. The defeat was the Merchants seventh of the season.

Jack Cox was tapped as the loser in relief of Danny Russell.

Loudon had but four hits for the nine inning game, nevertheless supported a 2-1 lead by the end of the fourth inning.

The Reds scored a single run in the first frame on a walk, an error, and the only second and scooted home on a error of Gary Gibson's drive to the field.

Loudon edged into a 4-3 lead in the bottom of the sixth after Cox had retired the side in the top of the inning. Jack Cox walked and advanced on a fielding error of David Hightower's ground ball. Danny Russell also reached base on a Red's fielding miscue and Cox scored.

The margin of victory was short lived as the Reds exploded for seven runs in the seventh inning on four Loudon fielding errors two walks and three base hits all sandwiched together to wreck the Merchants hopes of ending their unexpected tail spin.

Gene Ratledge hurried the final two innings with much success. The right hander fanned four of the seven men he faced and was touched for a single hit.

Loudon rallied in the bottom of the fourth inning for two runs on a walk to Gary Gibson and a walk to Mac Coley. Jack Cox hammered a RBI single scoring Gibson and Coley came on for the go-ahead run on the fielding error of David Hightower's grounder.

Russell's arm became tight on him in the fourth and Jack Cox took over and gave up a couple of runs in the fifth. Loudon tied the score at 3-3 as Danny Russell walked, stole

Game & Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game & Fish Commission

The Tennessee Game and Fish Commission, in an effort to better the hunting in east Tennessee, is continuing the program of developing resident non-migratory waterfowl in the State. One hundred and fifty young mallard ducks were released in east Tennessee, according to Larry Safley, Game Biologist. Thirty were turned loose at Cove Lake State Park near Jacksboro and the remainder were set free on Nolichucky Lake near Greeneville.

The young ducks were hatched out this spring at the Buffalo Springs Game Farm near Rutledge. In addition to mallards, the Commission is also working with Giant Canada geese and wood ducks. This program is an effort to develop waterfowl populations that will nest in the local area rather than migrate each year between nesting and wintering areas.

The success of this program depends on many factors, the chief one being protection from unnecessary human disturbance throughout the year. For this reason the Commission requests that observation of the waterfowl by the public be kept at a reasonable distance.

It is anticipated that as problems are solved with these three species of waterfowl, similar species may be raised and released to bolster our fall population. With increased management efforts by states north of Tennessee, many flights of waterfowl no longer migrate as far south as they once did, necessitating our need for "home-grown" ducks and geese.

Safe Boating Week .....

SAFE BOATING WEEK PROCLAMATION-David M. Goodrich, Director of the Game and Fish Commission, witnesses the Safe Boating Week Proclamation signing by Governor Winfield Dunn. This year's safe boating emphasis will take place on July 24.

BOATING SAFETY PROCLAMATION
WHEREAS, July 2 through 8 is being observed throughout the Nation as National Safe Boating Week; and
WHEREAS, this year's theme is "Safe Boating is No Accident"; and
WHEREAS, boating on Tennessee's waterways has become a source of recreational pleasure for a rapidly increasing number of Americans; and
WHEREAS, increased use means more enjoyment for more people, but carries with it an increased responsibility as well, and those who use our waterways must take greater care to observe the rules of good seamanship and of boating safety; and
WHEREAS, many boating accidents could be avoided through education and public awareness of safe boating standards;
NOW, THEREFORE, I, Winfield Dunn, as Governor of the State of Tennessee, do hereby proclaim the week of July 24, 1972, as SAFE BOATING WEEK IN TENNESSEE, and urge all who use our waterways to acquire those skills essential to their own safety and that of others and to apply them accordingly.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Tennessee to be affixed at Nashville on this 25th day of May, 1972.

Winfield Dunn, Governor
State of Tennessee
Donovan's teammate for the title bout.
The Caldwell-Donovan combo defeated the Wrights in two straight falls last week when, according to Donovan, Jon tried to bribe him to throw the match and leave Caldwell opposing both the Wrights. Jon denied the accusation and said he would give Donovan a real Tennessee "whuppin'" Friday night.
Three singles matches will complete the tag program with Robert Fuller facing Spunk Monroe, Tommy Gilliver going against newcomer Norvell Austin and Anthony Charles tangling with Frank Martinez.
Rapid reservations for the all star wrestling program may be made by calling 525-9111.

Game & Fish Cracking Down On Littering

General Sessions Judge James W. Buckner's court is definitely not the place for those who litter Tennessee's countryside. The Rubenford County jurist believes in keeping the Volunteer State clean and green.

Recently an officer of the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission investigated a littered area near Percy Priest Lake and found eight piles of refuse. Evidence found there resulted in charges of littering being placed against William T. Uersery, Route 1, LaVergne, Tennessee.

When arraigned in General Sessions Court, the defendant pleaded guilty to dumping the litter. Judge Buckner, after hearing the evidence, found the defendant to be guilty of violating Tennessee's anti-litter statute and assessed $257.75 in fines and court costs.

A high price to pay? Not when compared to the millions of dollars spent yearly by cities, counties, state and federal agencies cleaning up careless littering.

Many boaters in Tennessee have equipped their craft with ski-belts for use as life saving devices. These devices, however, do not conform to State or Federal requirements which insist on Coast Guard approval. Such devices allow an unconscious or exhausted swimmer's head to submerge, and there is no guarantee that these devices are made according to any tested safety standards.

The only personal flotation devices which comply with the present safety regulations are: life preservers, buoyant vests, special purpose buoyant devices, ring buoys and buoyant cushions. Each device must be readily accessible and in good condition, and each must bear the Coast Guard approval stamp. This is assurance that the manufacturer has followed rigid safety standards.

"Many deaths can be prevented if each non-swimmer would wear a personal flotation device when on the water," says David Goodrich, Game and Fish Director. "And everyone, including the expert swimmer, should don these devices when adverse conditions are present."

DeFore Heads Field For 411 Twin 50s

The fastest late model sportsman - field ever assembled on a third of a mile dirt track is expected for the Stars and Stripes Twin Fifty's Monday, July 3, at 411 International Raceway. According to speedway Manager Jimmy Boyd, "The speeds here should provide plenty of excitement for this event". Boyd adds, "We'll have the fastest field assembled here with any one of the 42 starting cars capable of winning the race".

It will take a speed of better than 80 miles per hour to hit the pole position, a speed that should be faster than the pole position for the recent 411 Championship 200 event. Less than a second separated the top twenty cars in a field of 46 cars sorted out from some 60 entries.

An even larger entry list is expected for the July 3 Championship event. This giant race at Knoxville is the second richest race of the year on the ultra high banked dirt oval. Paying an announced purse of $4,000, the 411 International event will be one of the most competitive races of the year.

The big money should attract all the hot dogs of the late model Sportsman ranks including Herman Goddard, Tootie Estes, Otis Milley, Brooks DeFore, and H.E. Vineyard among the regular entries, the "Flying Nun" Falcon from Rome, Ga., along with Cat Davis from Dalton, Ga., the Foster Brothers and their Ford Fairlane from Johnson City, Joe Lee Johnson and Jerry Meadows from Chattanooga. Great competition is expected from such popular hard chargers as Buddy Rogers, Ken Phillips, Marion Tipton, Johnny Brooks, Wilson Rogers, Little Bill Coram, Herb Garner and Zeke Buchanan. Fans will also be keeping a sharp eye out for long time favorite Henry Frankenburg of Knoxville and his strong Chevrolet. Frankenburg has come into his own of late by running with the leaders.

On July 9th Richard Petty Will Seek 2nd Bristol Win

If it were not for Charlotte Motor Speedway, Richard Petty might look upon Bristol International Speedway as a nightmarer.

The all-time leading winner and money-earner in NASCAR has never been victorious at Charlotte. His record at BIS isn't much better—only a single triumph to show for 21 starts.

But Petty will be back at BIS on July 9 searching for No. 2 here. As yet, the North Carolina superstar hasn't decided whether to chauffeur a Plymouth or Dodge in the 12th Veler 500.

Petty's lone success here came in the 1967 when he finished second in the 500. International track will be open for practice at 5 p.m., with drivers getting a chance to sort out their machinery until 7 p.m. Heat races to determine the 24 car field in each of the 50 lap features gets underway promptly at 8:30 p.m.

Further information may be had by calling the 411 International Raceway office 615-573-8431.

triumphed over a strong field after starting from the pole position. This has been the one short track in NASCAR which Richard has not been able to master.

His 15-year career shows multiple victories at Martinsville, North Wilkesboro, Maryville and Macon. Richard can't explain his Bristol record.

"I don't know what to say...it's just one of those things. It seems that I always end up in some sort of trouble at Bristol," says Petty.

Richard has driven more miles (385) and ranks second to David Pearson in money won ($30,500) at the .53-mile track. On four occasions he's started from the pole position. Petty's hopes of another win won't be easy. He'll have to fight off such stand-out drivers as Bobby Allison in the Junior Johnson-prepared Chevrolet and the Dodge of Bobby Isaac.

The Volunteer 500 is scheduled to start at 1:30 p.m. Only the fastest 30 qualifiers will earn starting berths. Tickets ($7, $8 and $9) are on sale in Knoxville at Eddie's Auto Parts.

Keep Summer Cooling Costs LOW

To operate your central air conditioning system for greatest efficiency and least expense this summer, follow these tips. You'll save money without spending a cent.

Keep the return air grill and outdoor section of the system clear of obstructions. Blocking either interferes with the air flow.

Partially close drapes on the sunny side of the house during the day.

If going away for more than a day, set the thermostat up about five degrees. When you return, a normal thermostat setting will cool your home rapidly.

Keep windows and outside doors closed.

Turn off unused lights.

As always, we want to help our customers get the most service for the least expense.

Tulsa Man, Roland Martin Wins National Bass Tourney

"This is the roughest tournament lake I've ever fished," said Roland Martin, the winner of the $15,000 Tennessee National BASS Tournament on Watts Bar Reservoir, Saturday.

The seven-time second place finisher, said he would have taken any bass that had eyes and fins on Saturday.

Martin of Tulsa, Okla. settled for four largemouth bass that weighed 4 1/4 pounds to hang onto his second round lead and win the $3,000 first prize with a three-day total of 37 pounds 6 ounces.

Don Sprinkle, a 39-year old Virginia Beach, Va. contractor, made a run at the title, but fell short with 33 pounds even. Sprinkle had the day's only limit catch of ten bass that weighed 11 lbs. 4 ounces.

First-round leader Bobby Murray of Hot Springs, Ark. was only two-ounces further back with a three-day creel of 32 lbs. 14 ounces. Blake Henscott of Hickory, N.C. ranked fourth with 26 pounds even.

Martin in winning his third national tournament sponsored by the 87,000 member Bass Anglers Sportsman Society took the year's lead for the year's professional bass fishermen. Tom Mann of Eufaula, Ala. who was tied with Martin, finished 13th with 19 lbs. 4 lashed. He used 21 gallons of gas in the trials.

ROLAND MARTIN was hung in second it seemed until he came to Tennessee for the National Bass Tournament at New Port Reservoir. He had won second place seven times in national competition, but Saturday was crowned king of the fishermen. Here the Tulsa, Okla. angler is awarded the first place trophy by Ray Scott, president of BASS, the sponsoring organization.

The champion said he'd discovered three fish producing patterns. "I'd fish a spinnerbait in the grass beds shallow in the early morning. Then moved into small pockets with cover." His biggest fish, the largest for him was 5 lbs. 2 oz. largemouth.

Helibender (diving bait) fished deep along the bluffs and plastic worms.

Sprinkle said he fished only one bait, a black flippit plastic worm in muddy water. He won $1,200 in only his second national BASS tournament after finishing 48th at Florida.

Top home-state angler among 57 Tennessee entries was Don Carter of Greenville, who finished ninth with 21 lbs. 11 oz. Billy Joe Hall of Dayton ranked 12th among the 196 anglers with 20 pounds even. Oliver Springs' Mickey Cox was 16th with 17 lbs. 5 oz.

Biggest fish among 982 tournament bass scored was a 7-pound largemouth caught the opening round by Wall

Sawicki of Chicago, Ill. He earned a new Ranger bass boat and trailer valued at $1,500. Larry Hill of Winston-Salem, N.C. pocketed up $750 bonus money for his 6 lbs. 10 oz. largemouth, and Bill Motley of Oak Ridge pocketed $250 for his 6 lbs. 2 oz. hunker.

The country's fishing pros rated Watts Bar a "good tournament lake," but one of the toughest they've fished. Fish caught in the tournament will be released after a study is conducted by the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission. A total of 982 bass were scored. The fish weighed 1,326 lbs. 5 oz.

An awards banquet was held at the Newport Resort to climax the week long activities. A crowd of over 1,200 fishing fans turned out for the final weigh-in. The Newport Resort was praised by national BASS president Ray Scott of Montgomery, Ala. as one of the finest tournament facilities in the country.

Scott said Watts Bar and the Newport Resort most likely would be a repeat stop on the 1973 BASS Tournament. Over $100,000 in awards are being fished for on this year's Tournament Trial. Next stop is the $15,500 Rebel Invitational at Ross Barnett Reservoir near Jackson, Miss. on Aug. 24-26.

THE TOP

Midway Bumps Loudon Lassies

The Loudon Lassies fell to the Midway "A" team in Summer League basketball at Kingston last week. The Lassies had not lost a game before meeting the defending District Nine champions.

Midway won the game with surprising ease 54-35. Marilyn Smith with 16 points was the lone Loudon scorer in double figures. Loudon's lack of hustle had them 27 points down at halftime and a strong second half made a respectable score of the contest. The Lassies made just one basket in the first seven minutes of play.

Loudon scored more points in the final seven minutes than they managed in the first 21 minutes of the entire game.

County Judge Harvey L. Sproul announced this week that in accordance with the County Court Resolution he had completed the execution of the proposed Contract with David Witherspoon, Inc. for the disposal of all solid waste in Loudon County in a certified sanitary landfill owned and operated by the Company.

By doing this, Loudon County feels that it will be eligible and will receive a 75 per cent per capita grant from the State of Tennessee. Judge Sproul explained that the real reason for the County becoming involved in the matter was pressure from Lenoir City and Loudoe who are operating illegal dumps, and who like all other municipalities in the State which are operating illegal dumps, stood the chance of being closed down on July 1, under a State order.

It was explained however that this would give City and County residents, and Martel Garbage Pick-up, the opportunity of using a registered landfill so that these services could continue, and that in addition the County would get the State grant which will pay approximately one half the cost of the Contract with Witherspoon.

Judge Sproul explained that this also gives the benefit to any resident who lives in Loudon County to use the landfill on an individual basis, and that this was a good service being offered to the people of the County and that hopefully in the future, when county finances permitted, that containers could be placed throughout the County which would be more convenient, and would help clean up the littered roadsides.

The Quarterly Court Resolution had authorized the County Judge to proceed with execution of the Contract with Witherspoon provided that the two Cities could get together on the proportionate share of the cost.

Under the agreement between the Cities and the County, the County will operate a transfer station at the old County quarry just North of the Tennessee River Bridge near Loudon.

The Witherspoon trucks will pick up the trailer loads of refuse from the site after it has been compacted, and then haul it to the landfill which is located in Monroe County.

Judge Sproul stated that the Contract is a five-year Contract at a "fixed-price" per year which will be in effect no matter whether the waste or population of the County increases, but that the "tight" contract, which had been negotiated by a joint committee between the cities and the county also gives the Cities the County the right to withdraw from the Contract at the end of any year.

He stated that Loudon

County industries will be treated on a separate basis, according to state law, but that every effort was made by the County Committee to co-ordinate with the industries, and it was felt that they would be adequately protected under this Contract, in view of the new State regulations.

Judge Sproul explained that he felt that one of the reasons that a favorable contract was reached was that Loudon

County was one of the first to contract with Witherspoon, and that the Loudon County operation will be used as a model or "pilot" demonstration.

Family Assets In County Increasing

What is the net worth of the average Loudon County family at the present time?

Taking into account all its assets, such as bank accounts, the family home, furniture, automobile, insurance, pension reserves and other valuables, how much does it add up to?

Most local families are aware, vaguely, that they are in better financial shape than they once were, but they have never taken the trouble to figure it out in dollars and cents.

They have been concerned with matters of a more immediate nature—weekly income, food bills, taxes, medical expenses and the like—and they take stock of the assets they have accumulated over the years, they would probably discover that they are richer than they imagined.

On the basis of the latest economic studies, the net worth of local families has been on the rise in recent years, despite the recession from which the country is emerging.

Since 1969, it is shown, asset values have increased by about 13 percent. As a result, the net worth in Loudon County population is now estimated at approximately $41,200,000.

Although the figure is not an exact one, admittedly, it is based upon national studies of consumer finances made by the Federal Reserve Board and others.

Their findings reveal the relationship that exists between a family's income and its assets. Those with big earnings, year after year, generally have accumulated assets equal to several times their annual income. Those in the lower brackets have relatively less.

In Loudon County, where incomes have been on the rise for some time, the assets of local families have been growing proportionately.

The average net worth in the area is estimated, from the Federal Reserve's overall survey and from local income data, at approximately $18,500 per family.

This represents all assets minus all indebtedness, such as payments on the car, the mortgage on the house, bank loans and installment debt. In general, it is pointed out, whatever people acquire in the way of assets comes from their own efforts. Only in one instance out of 30 does inheritance play a major part.

This is where we stand

You knew us as the Bank of Lenoir City. But that name didn't tell it like it is. Didn't say we're a bank in business to help Loudon County grow. With branches county-wide. And offering most of the services you'll find in banks everywhere.

Our new name says it. And our new mark tells you how. The three arrows stand for money circulation. Money going out for business and home loans that make your county a better place to live and make a living. And money coming back into the bank as you make it. Money that helps all of Loudon County grow.

No other bank has a bigger stake in our county's future than we do. And no other bank uses so much of your money to help our county grow. So when you select your bank, we hope you'll choose to stand with us. Where you see our new sign.
