Shaver Murder Trial To Start Monday

The trial of two Loudon teenagers indicted on first degree murder charges in the death of a 79 year old Loudon City widow is scheduled to begin Monday in a special session of Criminal Court.

The defendants Alvin Dean Shaver, 17, and Margery Sue Chastain, 18, are charged with the slabbing death of the Shaver youth's grandmother, Mrs. J. H. (Granny) Shaver at her home on the night of March 28. The woman's body was found in the kitchen floor of her home on the following day.

The defendants were arrested on Tuesday of the following week by Sheriff Freeman Russell and FBI Agent Leon Miller. During the investigation officers were working on the theory of robbery for the motive in the killing. The victim's purse and billfold were reported missing from the home.

Although the Shaver youth was 17 at the time of the crime, he was adjudged delinquent and ordered to stand trial as an adult. In addition to the charge of murder against both defendants, Miss Chastain, who worked in Loudon as a waitress, had an additional indictment as being an accessory to murder returned to stand trial by the grand jury. During the General Sessions Court preliminary hearing on this matter Sheriff Russell introduced a statement he claimed to have taken from the Shaver youth where he admitted to using LSD before allegedly going to the home of his grandmother on West Second Avenue in Loudon City the night of the crime.

About 200 prospective jurors have been summoned for the selection of the 12 member panel in the case. A full week on the court calendar has been allowed for the case, but most observers think it will last three or four days to conclude.

Change In Water Flow Causes Problem, Not Treatment Plant

Loudon Utilities manager Charles Burnett said this week that he hopes that the problem of murky or rusty water in the Loudon Water System will be cleared up in the next few days.

The problem arose when the Utilities had to put the new water treatment plant into emergency use after the main line at the old Roberson Springs treatment plant was broken by highway construction on July 28.

Burnette and Water System operator William (Butch) Early said for 42 years water had flowed in one direction from the Roberson Springs plant and suddenly the direction of flow from the Vonore Road plant moved water in the opposite direction disturbing the settlement in the lines causing the rusty appearance. Also the Roberson Springs plant produces a 500 gallon per minute flow and the new system 1400 gallons per minute.

The emergency use of the plant was absolutely necessary because the entire water supply to the system was cut off by the construction accident and the reserve supply was fast depleting through normal usage and loss at the break. Water was pumped from the new plant for about a week while Utility workmen replaced the main line at Roberson Springs. Because of the depth of the line from fill at the highway construction it was impossible to find the break and replace just the broken section. Instead cutoff valves were installed about 100 feet apart and the entire section of main line replaced.

Now the Roberson Springs plant is being used entirely to provide water for the system, but Burnett said it will be necessary to limit the flow into the new million gallon system back into use during the dry months of summer and probably no longer in increasing use because the old plant can no longer meet the water needs of the community.

Concerning the rusty water lines, he said that the water lines are continually being flushed through fire hydrants and this situation would soon be corrected.

Early said that some citizens were concerned over

WHERE WOMAN WAS KILLED—It was at this farm barnyard gate on the Cam Hall farm where Mrs. George Young of Loudon was struck and killed by a tractor last Thursday. The tractor rolled backward down a hill from the barnyard and struck the woman as she and her husband attempted to close the gate.

Tractor Brakes Fail To Hold, Woman Killed

Mrs. George (Maie) Young, 59, of Webster Court, Loudon, was killed late Thursday afternoon in what Sheriff Freeman Russell described as a freak accident.

Mrs. Young and her husband, an employee at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory, kept a pleasure horse at the Roberson Springs farm of Cam Hall. The couple went to the Hall residence Thursday afternoon to get a tractor and were going to mow off the barnyard area where the horses were kept.

Mr. Young drove the tractor from the Hall home to the barnyard, about a mile away and was followed by Mrs. Young in their car.

Mr. Young reportedly told friends later that he pulled the tractor through the barnyard gate and up a hill into the barnyard. Mrs. Young parked the car on the road and attempted to lock the gate.

Mr. Young noticing her having difficulty, put the brakes on the tractor and started for the gate. She got off the tractor and went back to help her close the gate. He said he caught a glimpse of the tractor rolling back down the hill. He then tried to get back on the tractor to stop it, but was unable to do so.

During this time the bushing struck Mrs. Young who was still at the gate, knocked her down and a wheel of the tractor rolled over her. The tractor continued through the gate across the farm road and onto a bank on the other side.

Mr. Young immediately put his wife's body in the backseat of their car and started for the hospital. He stopped at the home of Game and Fish Commissioner L. Edwin Witt who went with him to the hospital. The woman was pronounced dead upon arrival at the hospital.

Survivors other than Mrs. Young's husband are two daughters, Mrs. Bill Hess of Rossville, Kansas, Mrs. Hugh Fulford of Mobile, Alabama; one son, Bob of St. Charles, Mo.; one brother Howard Rube of Oswego, Kansas and eight grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Sunday at Kernes Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. Winstead and Hugh Fulford officiating. Burial was in Loudon County Memorial Gardens.

The final hurdle in the two year effort to get two connector roads financed for I-75 interchanges at Sugar Limb Road and at Philadelphia was crossed by Loudon County Court Monday.

The Justices of the Peace in a 6-2 vote authorized Cumberland Securities, the county bond agent, to sell immediately $900,000 in county general obligation bonds to pay the county's share of the two connector roads.

State Highway officials had been holding up on the two projects pending county action that would guarantee financial assistance from the county. The county is to pay one half the cost of the two connector roads. The state will pay all the costs of constructing the two interchanges.

Acquisition of rights-of-way for the two road projects is expected to begin this summer.

A 15 year amortization schedule to retire the bonds was proposed by Cumberland Securities bond counselor Tom Ayres who was present

Interstate 75 Completion Is Delayed

The State Department of Transportation had hoped to complete I-75 through Loudon County and open it to traffic in December of this year. But Governor Winfield Dunn has said that heavy rains during much of the recent construction season and now the national energy crisis, have limited the amount of diesel fuel available for roadbuilding equipment and delayed the completion.

Road Builders Inc., Nashville, is expected to complete a 1.75 mile bridge and paving on I-75 from Dickey Road interchange in Monroe County to the I-75 bridge over the Tennessee River in August of 1974, eight months later than projected, according to a joint announcement by Dunn, State Senator Carl Koella Jr. and State Representative M.F. (Benj.) Starford.

A contract for a roadway base and paving on I-75 from the Tennessee 68 interchange to Dickey Road interchange near Philadelphia was awarded in February to Hot Mix Inc., Nashville. It is expected to be completed next May.

The grading, construction of a drainage system and four bridges on I-75 in Loudon County from the Monroe County line to North of relocated Tennessee 72, also under construction, is expected to be completed in October.

A contract for work on the 5.6 mile project was awarded in November, 1971 to Wright Brothers Construction and McKinnon Bridge Co. of Franklin.

$3.96 Tax Rate Set, Teacher Raise Fails

With the adoption of the first budget and property tax rate under the recently adopted Question 3 amendment, classifying property for tax purposes, Loudon County will notice a decrease in their property taxes while owner of commercial and industrial property will get a healthy increase in their tax bills.

County Court Monday near the conclusion of their day long meeting adopted the county 1973-74 fiscal year budget and the property tax rate of $3.96 per hundred dollar assessment. This is eight cents lower than the proposal made by the budget committee for the court's consideration.

The eight county funds on motion by Squire J. J. Blair, seconded by Justice Jim Henshaw, the vote was 10-2 of the county's primary surplus accounts for the General Fund and the Road and Public Works Funds.

The adopted tax rate structure is as follows:

General Fund	.58
School Fund	2.75
Public Works Fund	2.63
Height of Way	.02
Total Tax Rate	$3.96

At the beginning of the session a public hearing was held on the budget. Speaking from the public was Dobson Newman who objected to having the public hearing during the day when most of the taxpayers could not be present to express their views on the budget. He said the intent of the Question 3 amendment was not being carried out by the court because the home owner and farmer was not getting the tax break that was intended because of big increases in county spending.

Also speaking was Mrs. Carolyn Bledsoe, chairman of the County Teacher's Association Salary Committee. The teachers were seeking a pay raise through an increase in the county teachers salary index scale, which was denied by the Court Budget Committee and the court.

The budget committee recommendations for the school budget was cut by more than $70,000 which included pay raises for classroom teachers, principals and school bus drivers.

As the court reviewed the budget Squire Blair made recommendations which removed $3700 from the proposal. These included $200 from a line item in the school budget, $2500 from the Welfare budget, $500 from the rescue squad and $500 from the jail food budget.

An additional $4600 was taken from the Highway Department budget but will be replaced when a private act is passed in the state legislature raising the price of the three road commissioners from $2 an hour to $3 an hour based on a 48 hour work week. Money for these raises comes from state sources and not the property tax.

Included in the budget was a pledge of $6000 a year from the county to assist in the development of a full-time industrial development program. The Loudon County Committee of 100 had sought a $30,000 budget from the county. Under the present proposal the cities of Loudon and Lenoir City along with the Utility Departments of both and the Committee of 100, with their individual memberships in the Question 3 property development program, with county participation will finance the program.

How the average Loudon County taxpayer will be effected by the tax rate under the Question 3 property classification is best explained by these examples.

Last year when the property tax rate was $2.88 per hundred property was taxed on a 40 percent of value assessment. A $10,000 homeowner and farm land owner paid $103.20 in property taxes. Under the new classification the assessment was cut from 40 percent to 25 percent. This means under the $3.96 tax rate that same home owner will pay $29.60 in property taxes, or 29.6 percent of the value of the property.

At the same time commercial and industrial property remained at a 40 percent of value assessment for taxation. If a business had property valued at $10,000 it paid $103.20 in property taxes. With the assessment left at 40 percent by Question 3 this business or industrial property will pay $158.40 under the $3.96 tax rate. Public Utilities, who pay a big hunk of the property taxes in the county will tax on a rate based on 55 percent assessment.

IN OTHER COURT ACTION: SQUIRE ROY BLEDSOEO reported that a dispute over a right of way of some 300 feet was holding up a contract to repave Steekee Road at Loudon. He said that a deed where a property owner had conveyed right of way several years ago when the road was rebuilt could not be found and the property has since been sold and the new property owner has a fence built on the county lands in the right of way that was

Road Officials Told To Run County-Wide, Serve Areas

The long-waged lawsuit over the division of funds in the three county road districts has apparently ended with the county court being told they had no authority to make the change in the division of money, but a new order was made on how the three county road commissioners would be elected.

The announcement of these events was made Monday at the meeting of the County Quarterly Court. The lawsuit had been pending in Chancery Court of Loudon County since October of 1971, since it was filed by Third District Road Commissioner Joe Greenway. His action followed a directive by county court that cut his portion of the state two cent gasoline tax for road maintenance from 20 percent to 14 percent. The court added the six percent to the second and sixth districts (Lenoir City and Eatons areas) giving them 46 percent of the total tax and left the first and fourth districts (Loudon and Philadelphia) at 40 percent.

Chancellor James O. Phillips made the following judgement:

The actions of the Quarterly County Court in changing the allocation of funds for the three Districts from 40 percent of the Gas Tax Fund to the First and Fourth Civil Districts, 40 percent of said funds to the Third Civil District to a ratio of 40 percent of said Gas Tax Funds to the First and Fourth Civil Districts, 46 percent of said Gas Tax Funds to the Second and Sixth Civil Districts and 14 percent of the Gas Tax Funds to the Third Civil District is unlawful, and the actions of the Quarterly County Court on October 4, 1971, in directing the Director of Accounts of Loudon County to change such allocation is likewise unlawful and the Board of Road Commissioners has jurisdiction of the distribution of said funds.

The section of Judge Phillips' decree that was somewhat a surprise was that which dealt with the matter of apportionment based on the federal court ruling on one-time, one-vote.

Judge Phillips ruled that the districts were malapportioned, but ruled out plans offered by both the county court and Commissioner Greenway on correcting this issue.

The Judge decreed that all three Road Commissioners shall be elected from the county at large and not by districts as has been the practice. And that each Commissioner will be a resident of the district in which he runs for public office.

This means that although a candidate will serve in only one of the three road districts he will run and be voted on by the entire county electorate.

During the morning session of the Court meeting mention was made concerning an appeal by the county court on the decision of the Chancellor concerning the election of the Commissioners. After apparent discussion of the matter during lunch the court voted unanimously to accept the decree of Judge Phillips without challenge. This motion was made by Squires J. G. Hudson and Roy Bledsoe.

You'll be away from home on your vacation trip for several days. Perhaps longer. Here are some suggestions, well tested and effective, to protect your home and hearth from burglars and vandals while you are gone.

Let neighbors and close friends know that you will be away and have them watch for strange cars, especially trucks, in the driveway or out in front.

Take all firearms to the local police station and leave them there until you return.

Hide all small items of value where they would be difficult to find without a long search, for burglars hate to spend any more time in a house than they have to.

Install bolts and chains to the insides of doors, in places where they can not be reached by simply breaking a nearby pane of glass. Put them high, at top of the door or down near the floor. Burglars will not take the time or risk the noise of breaking out a whole door window to open such hard-to-reach fasteners.

Leave a couple of low watt bulbs burning around the house. Some 23 watters here and there will give the impression of occupancy. You can control the hours of illumination with inexpensive timers from your local radio store or appliance dealer. Give a close friend or neighbor a house key and ask him to check the place out each day.

If you usually leave your garage open while at home, remove valuable items and leave it open while you are away. Burglars look for houses where garage doors are closed only when the owners are away. Have your neighbor change the door from time to time as the pattern varies.

Stop all mail, paper and mail deliveries. Very important!

If you have a phone answering device, disconnect it, for its institution to leave a message is an open invitation to a burglar to pay a visit. Some vacationers leave a child's cart or other toy in the driveway to give the impression that folks are inside.

Leave your vehicle's description, license number, make you are taking and place you will be staying with a friend or police so that in an extreme emergency, you can be traced down while you are away.

Remember, most burglaries take place during the daylight hours. As simple a thing as a small radio, plugged in upstairs and playing the top 40, will send a burglar on his way unapprehended. They just don't like surprises.

The Loudon United Methodist Church is now supporting their missionary in Singapore. He is The Rev. Gunar J. Tellmann a United Methodist minister. He has been pastor of a multi-racial church in one of Malaya's larger cities and director of the churches' Counseling Service in Singapore.

In addition to organizing and directing the Churches' Counseling Service in Singapore, he is the founder and director of the Samaritans of Singapore, a 24-hour telephone crisis service for those in despair and tempted to suicide. With over 100 volunteers manning the telephones, interviewing, counseling, the service is operated in five languages. These services are believed to be the first of their kind in Malaya or Singapore.

Mr. Tellmann is a founding member of Singapore Association for Mental Health and a member of the American Association of Pastoral Counselors.

It is hoped that when Mr. Tellmann is home on furlough that the United Methodist Church can share him with the entire community. Especially since he is a staff member of the church in Loudon working in Singapore, it is desirable that he become acquainted with the people of Loudon.

A RESOLUTION OF SUPPORT was passed by the court asking that the State Pollution Control Board allow the Loudon Car Works another year to get equipment installed to meet the pollution control laws. The motion was made by Squires Conner and Williams and adopted without opposition.

A 16 TON LOAD LIMIT was passed for Niles Ferry Road in the third district at the request of Road Commissioner Joe Greenway. A similar limit was approved for Sunnyside Road in the fourth district. A 20 mile per hour speed limit was approved for Gregory Road in the third district and a 45 mph limit for Popular Springs Road in the first district.

THE HELEN HOSS MC-NABH CENTER in Knoxville informed the court by Judge Sprout that they would no longer accept Loudon County patients because of budget cuts in their operation. They said that all patients (they treat mental and emotional problems) must apply for treatment at Eastern State Hospital, but county patients presently being assisted there could continue.

CHRISTEE J. V. SCHUMSHER reported that motels in the county were all paying the motel room occupancy tax and those that were behind because of the lawsuit were now catching up on their payments.

A PROPOSAL TO SPEND about $15,000 in county federal revenue sharing funds to install central air conditioning and heating system in the area of the courthouse not now air conditioned died for lack of interest. Some squires suggested using the 20 room air conditioners taken out of the old Bacon Hospital, but were told they were 110 volts units and would not do the job in the offices which had high ceilings. One square said "we are going to catch enough for the budget and tax rate anyway without adding this to it."

THREE NEW MEMBERS were named to the County Library Board for three year terms. They were Mrs. Audrey Murr of Greenback, Tom Matlock of Loudon and Walter Hodge of the 11th district. They replaced Mrs. T. E. Mills, Mrs. June Custard and Mrs. P. K. Greenway who had served for three year terms and under law cannot be reappointed.

TO POINT UP the importance and responsibility of Notary Publics the court adopted a new policy for accepting applicants for the office. In the future applicants must fill out an application which points up the responsibility of the office and gives the court more information as

Loudon 4-H'ers Participate

By Roger L. Perkins
Assistant Extension Agent

In recognition of the role youth play in Tennessee's Livestock Industry, Governor Winfield Dunn has proclaimed the week of July 22-28, 1973, as Junior Livestock Week in Tennessee. The week will be observed in conjunction with the Tennessee Junior Livestock Exposition at the State Fair Grounds in Nashville.

Loudon County 4-H'ers who will be participating in the Livestock Exposition are Jackie Hall, Sally Blair and Sybil Franklin-Greenback 4-H Club, Mark and Randy McCulloch-Lenoir City Middle School 4-H Clubs and Vanessa Elam-Eaton 4-H Club. These 4-H'ers have entered lambs in the Tennessee Junior Lamb Show.

Show, the Tennessee Junior Beef Heifer Show and the Tennessee Junior Lamb Show. This year marks the second time such a state-wide event has been held in Tennessee.

On Wednesday, July 25, junior livestockmen will show about 500 steers in the finished cattle show, climaxed by an auction sale of the steers that evening, commencing at 7:00 p.m. On Wednesday afternoon, following the steer show, about 275 market lambs will be shown. The lambs will also be sold at auction the same evening in conjunction with the steer sale. Commissioner of Agriculture, Gil Thorton, will serve as auctioneer for the grand champion steer and lamb.

Beef heifers will be the main attraction on Thursday and Friday. Nearly 500 heifers of the major beef breeds will be exhibited. Judges for the cattle events will be Dr. Ronald H. Nelson, professor and chairman of the Animal Husbandry Department at Michigan State University. Dr. Nelson is one of the most respected cattle judges in America. Dr. David Kirkpatrick, assistant professor, Food Technology and Science Department, University of Tennessee, will place the market lambs. Dr. Kirkpatrick has served as coach of the UT Livestock Judging Team and was himself a member of the collegiate judging team at Oklahoma State University.

According to Dr. Haley M. Jamison, UT Agricultural Extension Service, the purpose of the Exposition is to give 4-H and FFA members an opportunity to compete and gain profit.

According to Dr. Haley M. Jamison, UT Agricultural Extension Service, the purpose of the Exposition is to give 4-H and FFA members an opportunity to compete and gain recognition for their efforts in livestock projects. They also gain skills in selecting, feeding, training, showing, marketing and evaluating livestock. In his proclamation, Governor Dunn pointed out that the some 20 thousand 4-H Club and FFA members who conduct livestock projects are not only developing good citizenship, but are also contributing much toward keeping our country provided with an ample food supply. He said that the livestock industry of Tennessee is a leading component of the total economy and that the industry offers youth many possibilities for citizenship and resources development.

Governor Dunn then urged every citizen of the state to support the event in every possible way. The entire Exposition is free to the public.

1-75 Completion Is Delayed construction of two bridges on I-75 from north of relocated Tennessee 75 to one-half mile east of the Tennessee River is expected to be completed in July of 1974. McKinnon Bridge and Saltman Construction of Franklin has that contract. The grading, drainage, construction of 11 bridge, roadway base and paving on a section from east of the river to Tennessee 96, where the present I-75 is completed, is due for completion in August 1974. Hot Mix has that contract.

Change In Water Flow Causes Problem, Not Treatment Plant

the use of treated water taken from the Tennessee River. He said actually the water was cleaner than that taken from the spring. He stated that purity of the water was better than the spring. The Tribidity Units, measure of solid particles in the water, was far less than the spring water and that bacteria measurement was zero as required by the state.

Constant state tests of the water from the new treatment plant are being made and there has been no problems found in the tests.

Burnette said that although there has been some inconvenience due to air in the lines and the rusty color of the water from settlement in the old lines the system customers were saved from a real disaster because the new plant was available.

TESTING WATER QUALITY—Loudon Water Treatment operator Hutch Early is shown in the laboratory at the new plant testing the quality of treated water against government standards. He said the quality is much higher than minimum standards. He calls Loudon's water "pretty."

4-H Poultry Sale Slated

By Roger L. Perkins
Asst. Ext. Agent

There will be a 72 sex-link pullets in the county poultry show and sale. These pullets will be 22 weeks old the day of the show and sale. No doubt some of these pullets will already be laying eggs. The sex-link is a cross between a Road Island Red and a Barred Rock. The pullets have such characteristics as an exceptional early large egg size, superb livability, and a sustained high rate of production on a minimum amount of feed.

This year the following 4-H'ers raised chickens and each will be entering six in the show and sale: EATONS CLUB: Stanley Elam, Chester Wright III, Tim Daniels and Greg Daniels; HIGHLAND

CLUB: Billy Wade; LENOIR CITY CLUB: Randall Kilby, Debbie Daily and Steve Dishner; LOUDON CLUB: Leroy Ibes, Jr. and David Simpson; and STEEKEE

CLUB: Bonnie and Leslie Awood. Each 4-H'er raised fifty chickens. For many it was their first time they had ever cared for chickens of their own.

ORDERS FOR THE DAY—New Loudon High School Band Director, Mr. Ray King, is pictured with head majorette Debbie Thomas before the morning practice session. Mr. King has been holding summer band practice at the Loudon High School in an attempt to get familiar with his new musicians and ready them for the fast approaching football season that strikes up in August.

Sewell Top Collector

The Loudon lightning bug collectors "wound up" getting some 5,785 fireflies this summer for enzyme research, delivering some 475 in the concluding collection.

The top collector for the town and area was the veteran catcher, John Sewell of Rt. 1, Philadelphia, who has won top honors for three straight summers. This summer he solidly won the title of being the hottest catcher in town with his tally of 4085 bugs. In second place for the area was Elizabeth Gaydeny of Cox Rd., who contributed 1700 for the cause of science.

At the research of the scientists it is a long-term nature, it is very likely that bugs will again be purchased. However, collectors are advised to pay attention in early June of next summer for any announcement concerning the light collections.

Speaking of Sports

By DANNY GIBSON
Sports Editor

The ever fast and certainly one of the most popular competitive summer sports is the game of slow pitch softball. Despite the use of 10 players instead of the normal nine used in baseball and the fact that the ball must arch across home plate from an underhand delivery by the pitcher projecting the ball approximately 10 feet into the air before it reaches the batter, the game is very fast moving and more times than not exciting.

Softball has become the way of life for many, both men and women, in summer recreation programs and industrial leagues all over the United States. But the Southeastern Zone of the U.S. is considered the power hub of the sport. Chattanooga has been known as the softball Capitol for the past three years with their all out assault on teams within the state and on the national level. The Tennessee city hosts one of the top drawing tournaments in the nation with the Pick-of-Dixie tournament bring in some 150 teams to compete in mid-summer for a three day playdown of the top quality teams in the nation. Chattanooga, which held a record number of tournaments last year will host only the Women's State Meet this year.

Phil Daniel, assistant state softball commissioner, has announced that Athens will host the men's state playdowns this year with the Athens Bankers, a long time state tournament power and former champs will be the host team. The sub-district tournaments are currently under way across the state and with their completion the district and regional tournaments will follow in weekly progression enroute to the best talented teams arriving in Athens for the right to represent Tennessee in the quest of the national title.

After viewing the brackets of the Sub-District III being played in Philadelphia and Lenoir City, one would have to speculate that of the eight teams to travel to the district tournament that the probable best teams will be headed by Lenoir City's Eaton Number 1, Loudon's Bank of Loudon County and the Vonore team from Monroe County out of the Philadelphia meet. The other teams to join them will undoubtedly not carry the talent these teams have displayed in both the regular season and in the two tournaments now in progress.

Each team advancing will be permitted to pick up three players to beef up their line-up weaknesses, but still the top two teams from Lenoir City and Vonore, which is no shoe in for the Philadelphia title, carry the strongest overall weapons of victory and should do well in the district play.

A quick glance at the area and national level of

Sub-District III Softball Action Ends Saturday

The Sub-District III championship finals Slowpitch Softball Tour- The Sub District III is being played at two sites, Lenoir City and Philadelphia, with Loudon County are working their way to their respective top four finishers in each play we find that teams from Chattanooga, Knoxville, and Decatur are among the nation's best.

As for the official slow pitch softball ratings, Don Linnehan's County Sports of Levittown, New York, moved to the top of the National Slowpitch Rating, on an impressive victory in the fast Town of Hempstead Tournament in New York. They beat out Howards of North Carolina in the finals.

Duggan-Duggan beat Thurman-Bryant in the all-Chattanooga finals of the Carpet Capital Tournament in Dalton, Ga. Jiffy Club won the Fort Walton Beach, Fla., invitational, defeating Mobile Southern Fasteners in the finals. The ratings (with previous rating in parentheses):

- 1-County Sports, Levittown, N.Y. (9) (Leading in 4 leagues in its area); 2 of 4 tourney losses were to Duggan-Duggan and Knoxville Rudder).
- 2-Howards of Denver, N.C. (1).
- 3-Detroit Little Caesars (2).
- 4-Chattanooga Duggan-Duggan (4) (6-2 over T-B and 6-15 for full season).
- 5-Chattanooga Thurman-Bryant (5) (47-20 for season).
- 6-Panama City Commanders (6) (4th in Fort Walton meet).
- 7-Levittown (N.Y.) Post (unrated) (3rd in NY meet, had a win over Howard).
- 8-Mobile Southern Fasteners (21) (an impressive 2d in Fort Walton).
- 9-Louisville Jiffy Club (26) (champs coming up fast; 2d in recent Louisville, won in Florida).
- 10-Chesapeake, Va., Virginia Doors (10) (4th in NY meet).

journey advancing to the district tournament in Athens. The district playdowns start Monday night, July 23.

The Vonore team, sponsored by the Sweetwater Valley Bank Vonore Branch, which won their regular season league race and received an automatic first round bye in the Philadelphia meet topped TGA in convincing fashion to reach the quarterfinals and could very well be the class of the tournament.

Vonore battles Luttrell in a Thursday night game to gain the rights to the winners bracket finals. Point Rock, with a sound showing in the Philadelphia Community Invitational two weeks ago, has continued to roll along at a winning clip and will face East Sweetwater in the semi-finals of the winners bracket.

East Sweetwater came from behind in the last inning to down the tournament host Bar-Knit winner of the Philadelphia Community Club League Championship.

The Madisonville Raiders and Bar-Knit appear to be the favorites now in the loser's bracket in an attempt to survive the double elimination run and again challenge for the tournament's top four teams.

In Lenoir City the overall defensive play of each team has kept the games close and interesting, with two contests already going extra innings before a winner could be decided.

Eaton Number 1 escaped an opening round upset last night in Lenoir City A&W by a score of 4-2 to go off to a winning start. Eaton's has now advanced to the semi-finals of the winner's bracket and will oppose the Bank of Loudon County.

The Bank of Loudon County had to struggle past the Hamilton Bank of Loudon and Cedar Hills in nip and tuck duels to reach the winner's bracket semi-final berth.

In the loser's bracket both Piney and Hamilton Bank of Loudon remained alive with Tuesday night victories.

The Women's District Tournament will also start and end this weekend. The six team league which has played its regular season at the Lenoir City High School softball field, will send four representatives in the Sub State in Etowah and the winners there will travel to the state tournament in Chattanooga.

Hollymatic and Loudon VFW drew opening round byes in the ladies' tourney with Elm Hill playing Philadelphia in the first game of the tournament Friday night at 7 p.m. Miller Motor Company will face the Bank of Loudon County in the second game starting at 7 p.m. Hollymatic

Townsend and Stackup Join Loudon City League Golf Chase

Larry Millsaps and Lynn Millsaps once again scored their maximum in the Loudon City Golf League to stay atop the league standings with 110 team points in date. Larry Townsend and Jake Lane likewise held on in their second place position, but scored only seven team points and are possibly starting to show signs of weakening under the continual hot pace being set by the Millsaps duet. Bridges and Lane have 91 team points thru far this summer. But like a train out of sight has appeared the team of Dennis Townsend and Ralph Stackup. A 19th place follower last week with 62 team points, Stackup and Townsend stacked up 27 big points this week for top team honors and a sudden rise to third place. Stackup and Townsend fired a 72 to take the top team low net score for the week and to increase their quota of points. Stackup carved out an individual round of 33 to win individual medalist honors. With only four weeks left in the regular league play either Bridges and Lane, Stackup and Townsend, Buck Kirkland and John Lemery, or Mark Miller and Buddy Sweeney must play with team total point scores like those posted by Ralph Stackup and Dennis Townsend this past week if any team is to diver Larry and Lynn Millsaps a run for the league championship.

Scarborough And Hodge New Golf Leaders

After a month and one-half of trailing the team of Hall Summers and Mike Ody in the Union Carbide Golf League standings the league has finally recorded a new leader. Ody and Summers, who have led the league in team points since early May, are now in second place behind Herb Hodge and Austin Scarborough.

Hodge and Scarborough posted a season total of 154 team points after last week's competition round and are on top of the standing by nine points over Summers and Ody with 145 team points.

Edwin White and Dick Flowerbaum held third place in the standings with 143 points in date. Jack Delaney fired an individual low of 33 for the week to capture the low individual medalist top honors. His outstanding play combined with that of his team partner, Charlie Helms, gave their team the best low net team score of the week also and 24 points for their round of play. The team score boosted Helms and Delaney into a three way tie for sixth place with 126 total season points.

Game and Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game and Fish Commission

DAVID M. GOODRICH, Director of the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission, and G. Edward Carlson, Regional Director of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife in Atlanta, said in a joint news release that investigations of illegal fur and big game traffic in East Tennessee had been underway for the past fifteen months. "To date there has been no evidence presented which leads to indicate that Tennessee Game and Fish employees or Federal employees were involved in this illegal traffic in any way," said the two Directors.

Goodrich said that the Law Enforcement Department of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife was requested to assist in undercover work when the illegal trade became evident and that fees from several states were found to be moving through Tennessee. Investigation is being conducted and will continue cooperatively through the supervisors of Law Enforcement of the two agencies.

At this point, neither agency nor the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife has evidence which indicates Game and Fish involvement in the illegal trade of furs and big game.

GOOD OLD DAYS

In our quest for old school group pictures, we often find one that goes back many years but yet has most of the people in the picture still around and well known to their age group as well as those younger in years. Such is the picture we have this week. The picture is of the Class of '17 and has quite a large group for classes in those years. We should know all of them, but there are several we cannot identify. We had some help from Mrs. Mae Cox who loaned us this old school group picture. Those we can't identify, we would like to hear up. John always had time to talk to me and the other boys. The other day at the Class of '43 reunion, we talked with people we hadn't seen in a number of years. Among them was Frank Wynn, who grew up in Loudon and is now teaching in the State of Florida School System. We never see Frank but what we don't think of the time he tried to teach me to chew tobacco, and how sick I got in the process. I don't chew now and I don't think Frank does, but we sure did get a kick out of it back in the Good Old Days. We were down at Bill Butler's visiting the other Sunday afternoon and we began talking about Loudon in the years when Bill first came in Loudon. He always tried to help boys who would work for him and we know this well because we were one of those boys. We worked at Bill's shooting gallery, which at first was located in the old Kimbrough garage building, then late was in the fire hall which now housed the former Ed Watkins Store. Bill's shooting gallery was a big success and possibly made some money. Later it was moved beside old Loudon Feed and Grain building. It put a little noise in downtown Loudon and sounded like the Fourth of July every day.

Cancer Drive Exceeds Goal

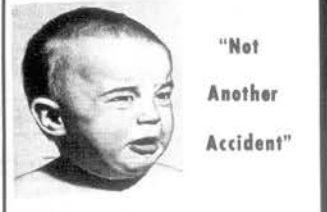

In Parting You've kept alive by a third of your earnings, the other two thirds keep the doctors alive. Since I lost my money half of my friends don't speak to me anymore, and the rest don't know yet that I have lost it. Cancer Drive Exceeds Goal

Mrs. Harry Pease, chairman of the Loudon County Cancer Crusade earlier this year announced this week that the campaign exceeded its announced goal of $3500. Mrs. Pease said that this is the first time in which Loudon County has met and exceeded its goal. She expressed her talked about some of the people around our area who have been ardent hunters and hunting dog trainers. Possibly one of the better known of these was the late John Cox. Mr. Cox, along with his wife, Mae, operated the Cox Cafe in Loudon for many years. But John always found time to go bird hunting during bird season and to spend time training some outstanding bird dogs. John not only was well known in the Loudon area but was well known all over East Tennessee for his ability at training bird dogs. We have a picture this week of John and one of his prized dogs. We never did any hunting with John but he was our friend. We recall, as a little boy growing

POWER BLOCK SHOWS SPLIT—

Perhaps the power block of the second district in Loudon County's Quarterly Court is not as solid as we had thought. Look back to last week's meeting of County Court and you will see an even division of votes on the matters of the county budget and tax rate.

Without mentioning names one member of the budget committee of the court (from the second district) had his feelings hurt over the County Justice Center operations committee, and just plain refused to have anything to do with the preparation of the budget. It's a shame too because this court member has always been the "granddaddy" of the tax rate. But last week he sat mute and voted against the entire matter. One of the second district votes against the adoption of the budget last week we believe was sincere because the Squire had been out of state due to the illness of his wife.

Men will often be boys and this especially true in politics. Some of our court members at times are so busy tripping over their own hurt feelings they lose site of the reason they were elected to the court.

Although the county budget is higher than we would like it to be, there really was little room for cuts and there was a whole lot of requests for funds that remained on the cutting room floor.

There is much room for consolidation of various county services and duties. One of these important steps has been taken with the beginning of operations at the county garage, which will service all county vehicles. Perhaps the future will hold more of these good moves.

$50 Prize Each Week Cashword Puzzle Starts This Week

Cashword, one of the most popular crossword puzzles promotions of newspapers and merchants in the Southeast, begins this week in The Loudon County Herald.

Cashword is a simple crossword where all the answers are right in front of the player if they can get the right combination. Twenty-one Loudon County firms are sponsoring this contest which will run for 13 weeks and see some $750 in Cashword Bucks (that's the same as money) given away to the winners.

Everyone can play. This is the way it works—You read the puzzle—then read the advertisements in the Cashword advertisement and find the words. There are at least two words that could fit in each vacant slot.

When the puzzle is complete take it to any of the Cashword merchants and place in the special Cashword entry box. Each Monday the Herald staff will pick up all the entries and mail them to judges in Alabama.

The puzzle is worth $50 each week. If there is no winner in a particular week the amount of the winning award for the next week will be increased by $50. All prize money will be awarded. The prize money, in the form of Cashword Bucks will be given the winners and these Bucks may be spent just like money at any of the sponsoring merchants.

All the rules are printed in the Cashword advertisement and there will be a new puzzle to challenge players each week.

Local Pilots Set Meeting, To Organize

A meeting of all persons interested in flying and the promotion of general aviation in Loudon County is scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, August 1 in the main courtroom at the courthouse.

Promoters of the meeting said that in the past couple of years interest in private flying for sport, pleasure and business has grown rapidly and that an organization of pilots, student pilots and aircraft owners could do more to promote flying in the county.

It is believed that there are about 50 pilots, student pilots and some 10 aircraft owners in the county. If interest is shown a Flying Club may be formed at the meeting. All interested persons both men and women are invited to attend.

expressing a pre-conceived opinion in the case. ASSISTANT IN THE prosecution were Assistant City Gen Edwin Arnold of Loudon and John Crawford and David Black, both of Maryville. Defense attorneys were Leo Sanders of Loudon for Shaver youth and Arthur Foster and John Gibson, also of Loudon, for Miss Chastain. Alys Ten Deatherage called as his first witness Mrs. J. D. Ouida Cick, granddaughter of the murder victim, who established she had last seen her grandmother alive when she returned here to her home shortly before 7:30 p.m. on March 25, after taking her on a shopping trip and stopping by the building site of M.J. and Mrs. Cick's new home.

"She always kept her doors locked at night," she said in response to a question, "and everybody had to knock to get in."

"Would she ever let strangers in?" Deatherage asked. "No sir," she replied firmly. Her grandmother, she said, always turned on the porch light and looked through the glass window of the front door before opening it at night.

Later testimony indicated "that the porch light was, indeed, on when her body was found the next day, indicating she may, in fact, have turned on the light in response to someone's knock."

Three Hurt, Driver Charged

Three Loudon residents were injured when the car they were riding in left Highway 79 near Hickory Creek Road, struck a tree and spun to a stop back on the highway.

Driver of the car, as identified by Highway Patrolman George Pierce, was Mary H. Bishop, 22, of 410 Pine Top in Loudon. She sustained broken ribs and leg injuries. Others injured were Robert G. Bishop, 27, also of Pine Top, minor leg injuries and Larry David Costner, 20, Stockee Street Loudon who sustained back injuries. All three were taken to Fort Sanders Hospital for treatment. Costner was reportedly admitted and Mr. and Mrs. Bishop were treated and released. Trooper Pierce said.

Mrs. Bishop was charged with reckless driving.

Readings, writing and rhythmic will be taught to the student dressed in the time of a classic look in back-to-school fashions. Traditional shapes, colors and patterns dominate fall fashions for girls and guys. But this time around they make the grade in very today man-made knits and weaves that are machine washable and care an A+ for easy care.
Returning this year is the skirt-pleated, short and kicky. Plaids are the rule, and many traditional tartans are in bright acrylics and polyesters. Most of the fall fabrics require no more care than a trip through the washer on a permanent press or knit cycle, then machine drying. A quick pressing to restore crisp pleats is hardly necessary. For a passing grade, check care labels permanently attached to the garments.
Pants and skirts team up with a first string of coordinated tops. Jackets and vests are characterized by cinched waists or a short, cropped length. They are forest green, rust, ruby, plum and navy, in plaids or solids this year. Joining the color roster for fall are the paintbox brights—clear reds, yellow, royal blue and green. Heathers are always popular, too, coordinating handsomely with classic plaids.
The shirt appears under everything. Revisited in plaid, it is the perfect chum for jackets, vests or the old, but new, varsity sweaters. Sweaters are influenced by mom's school days, as the tennis look, traditional tweeds and cables, fisherman knits and the little sweater sets, all are brought to class with skirts and trousers. All lengths of sweaters are seen, with many neckline and sleeve variations as well. These classics now return in washable acrylic and acrylic-wool blends with the look and feel of 100 percent wool, but with care requirements as simple as AIR.
Dresses show up after summer vacation as updated classics in shirtwaists, jumpers and sweater dresses. Little jackets and sweaters are thrown over the shoulders for a casual, All-American look. The dresses and jumpers all have tight waists, and sleeves are popular in every imaginable style.
Waiting for the school bus on muggy fall days, students can keep warm in outerwear of any length—from cropped jackets to boot-length coats. Cined waists are the rules here, too. Big plaids continue, and lots of lake fur and moose leather will carry through fall and winter.

To what degree are residents of Loudon County affected by a condition that is plaguing most areas of the country—the shortage of doctors, dentists, nurses and other health personnel? What is the ratio of health workers to population locally, as compared with the ratio in other communities?

According to the most recent government figures, although there has been some increase throughout the United States, during the last few years, in the number of people engaged in health services, it has done little more than keep pace with the change in the population and with the added load created by medicine and medical.

A persistent problem, also, has been and continues to be the concentration of medical facilities and personnel in the big cities, leaving a severe shortage in rural areas.

In Loudon County, based upon the latest tabulation by the Census category designated "physicians, dentists and related practitioners," which includes, when there are any, chiropractors, optometrists, podiatrists, osteopathic physicians and the like.

Another 98 locally are termed "health workers." This group is made up of dietitians, registered nurses, therapists, hygienists and technicians.

The remaining 172, called "health service workers," include nurses aides, practical nurses, dental assistants and lay midwives.

To what extent do they fulfill Loudon County's needs? From a numerical standpoint alone, it means that there is one person employed in the health field locally for every 74 residents.

This compares with an average of one for every 69 elsewhere in the United States and with one for 75 in the State of Tennessee.

The geographic imbalance with respect to health care is indicated by the government's figures which show that in urban America there is a health worker for every 63 people while in rural America, the average is only one for every 97.

In some areas the shortage is even more pronounced, so that sick people are forced to travel great distances to get medical or dental attention.

Series To Explain New County Building Code

Most citizens have at one time or another encountered a building that made them wonder how it ever managed to pass an inspection. Until the adoption of a code this year, the building just might have escaped that inspection in Loudon County.

Also, with construction proceeding at such a rapid rate in Loudon County, the present part-time building commissioner has simply been unable to cover the entire county adequately.

In a move to solve these problems, the County Court constituted the Southern Standard Building Code at their regular June meeting and instituted a full-time building inspection program to take effect September 1.

What will a Southern Standard Building Code and the expanded building inspection program accomplish? According to a recent study completed by the Loudon County Regional Planning Commission, "The primary objectives to be realized by providing an expanded building inspection program in Loudon County are:

1. To provide minimum standards for the construction of both new buildings and the alteration of existing structures.
2. To help insure that residents of Loudon County are protected from the hazards of living and working in unsound, unhealthy, or otherwise dangerous structures.
3. To provide a higher standard of service to persons who are initiating new constructions with a more efficient and less time consuming inspection program, and with technical inspection and advice in the early phases of construction."

The building code was adopted under the authority of private act which was passed by the Tennessee State Legislature last year and which was ratified by the County Court.

After the code becomes effective September 1, failure to obtain a building permit prior to beginning construction will result in a doubling of the building permit fees. Building permits are already required under the Loudon County zoning resolution.

In addition, as of September 1 a full-time building inspector will be appointed. This will result in more equal enforcement of the law, and will help prevent unsafe buildings from being constructed. Installing a full-time inspector should also help the citizen who wishes to apply for a permit and finds that he has to endure a waiting period before the commissioner has time to help him.

NEXT, a look at the Southern Standard Building Code.

Loudon County Softball Teams Start District Play In Athens

The sub-district III softball tournament is over and the final results has five men's teams going from Loudon County to Athens to compete in the two district affair.

Eaton's Number 1 kept their power rating in fact as the probably best team of the lot to represent Loudon County in an effort to land a state tournament berth. The Eaton's team powered its way through the sub-district finals without a single setback and was not scheduled to play in the Athens journey until Wednesday night.

The Bank of Loudon County, minus some team regulars due to vacation trips, finished second in the Lenoir City tournament and was followed by Easter Ford of Lenoir City and Maremont Corporation in respective order and all qualifying for the double elimination district meet.

In the Philadelphia sub-district only one Loudon County team made the final cut off. Prospect, a second division finisher in the regular season of play, put its best effort of play together for the sub-district and finished fourth. The surprise team of the Philadelphia Community League turned back both league champs Bar-Knit and hard playing Paint Rock enroute to the trophy division of the tournament.

The Bank of Vonnore won the Philadelphia sub-district and was pressured by runner-up East Sweetwater. C and R Market captured the third slot of the tourney.

The sub-district III girl's play finished up on Sunday afternoon with Loudon VFW having to play an extra game with runner-up Hollymatic of Lenoir City for the championship title. Hollymatic emerged from the loser's bracket finals in down the unbeaten VFW 14-7, before the VFW won the championship game 9-7.

Elm Hill and Bank of Loudon County finished third and fourth respectively and all four teams will move to the district tournament in Etowah this week starting on Thursday night.

Game and Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon

Don't be caught without one of the 1973-74 hunting-fishing licenses that is. The new licenses are required after July 1, 1973, so plan a trip to your nearest license agent now.

The hunting-fishing license is the main source of funding Tennessee's wildlife management programs. Each year, sportsmen contribute to the improvement of wildlife resources through the purchase of license and special permits. It's a good investment for the future.

Two model state laws to protect and enhance wildlife were adopted and recommended to the Council on State Governments during the recent National Symposium on State Environmental Legislation. The Tennessee Game and Fish Commission reports.

One of the measures adopted was a Non-game and Endangered Species Conservation Act, developed by the International Association of Game, Fish and Conservation Commissioners. It calls for the states to assume greater responsibility for non-game and endangered wildlife and suggests potential sources of funds to carry out the needed programs.

The other measure adopted was a State Fish and Wildlife Coordination Act. This legislation was developed by the National Coordinating Committee on Conservation and Enhancement of Fish and Wildlife in the National Water Resources Program. It provides for state policy whereby fish and wildlife would receive equal consideration and be coordinated with development projects.

The laws now go directly to the Council of State Governments which will consider them for inclusion in the Council's highly regarded publication on suggested state legislation. This publication is expected to be released early this fall and the new laws should be before state lawmakers next year. Conservationists are urging state legislators to give the proposals serious consideration.

BOATING GETS BOOST
The Tennessee Game and Fish Commission's boating program will get a boost from newly named Boating Chief Philip Tidwell and Boating Safety Coordinator Michael Clark. Tidwell will leave his present Hunter Safety duties to take over the new job as Chief of Boating on July 1. He has been employed in the Game and Fish Commission Division since 1968, most recently as the Hunter and Firearms Safety Coordinator. He will direct the boating program for the Commission and coordinate boating activities of the Law Enforcement and Information-Education Divisions.

Clark, who joined the Commission earlier in June, will handle the chore of developing a state-wide boating safety education program.

TENNESSEE BOATING
DAVID M. GOODRICH
Director

Tennessee, like most other states, is experiencing the "boating boom." We have been witnessing the rise of this recreational pastime which has more than doubled the number of registered pleasure craft over the last ten years. Of course, along with its rapid growth, boating has created its problems, also.

Today, boating safety is being promoted by the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission as a means of solving some of the water-oriented conflicts. This organization along with agencies such as the U.S. Coast Guard and Coast Guard Auxiliary, Power Squadrons and others are developing services and facilities which will increase the opportunities and enjoyment of boating.

Boating has skyrocketed in recent years and today there are more than 100,000 boats registered in Tennessee. The Game and Fish Commission is in charge of registering these vessels. We are also involved in patrolling the streams and reservoirs and promoting a public water safety program. Providing access to public waters is also an objective of our organization. Over 200 access areas are built and maintained by the Game and Fish Commission and many of these are being reconstructed to accommodate modern pleasure craft.

Increasing the amount of surveillance during heavy use periods on our waterways is one way by which we hope to decrease accidents. This service is a welcomed assist in boating in trouble. Also, the development of a comprehensive boating education program will broaden services of our boating public.

Area Fishing Report

This report is based on present water and weather conditions and is subject to change. This information is compiled by the Game and Fish Officers from the lakes listed.

Most all fishing activity is in early morning and late evening.

CHEROKEE LAKE-clear and falling. Rockfish and hybrids are extra good in the lower end of the lake around islands and points using large flies and/or minnows in late afternoon and at night. Largemouth is fair, using topwater lures. There is some break activity on stripes.

NORRIS LAKE-clear and falling. Smallmouth is good off deep rocky points using bushwhackers. Bluegill is good to excellent on red worms and crickets. Some walleye, stripes and crappie are being taken at night under lights.

NORRIS TAILWATER-good for trout on flies, corn and worms.

LT. ED WITT of Loudon and Wilbur Vaughan will appear on WATE-TV's program, TODAY IN TENNESSEE, July 30 through August 2. Tennessee wildlife will be featured from 6 a.m. to 7 a.m. on the daily show.

G&F Adds 45,000 Rockfish To Watts Bar Lake

Watts Bar Lake on the main Tennessee River has just been stocked with some 42,000 rockfish, according to Dave Bishop, fisheries biologist for the Game and Fish Commission. The fish, ranging in size from one to three inches, were released near the confluence of the Tennessee and Clinch rivers and were raised at the Commission's hatchery in Morristown.

The first release of rockfish in Watts Bar was made in 1964. The initial plantings of STOCKING ROCKFISH-Bill Sewell, fisheries biologist for the Game and Fish Commission, is shown placing 45,000 one to three inch rockfish in Watts Bar Lake at Bell Cove Access area near Kingston last week.

DOUGLAS LAKE-clear and stable. Activity on bass is light, but a few are being taken on topwater lures or plastic worms. Crappie and sauger are good trolling deep running lures. Catfish-fair on cut bait.

FORT LOUDON LAKE-full and murky. Bass is fair on medium to deep running lures. Bluegills are good on popping bugs, worms and crickets. Catfish good on cut bait and shad minnows.

WATTS BAR LAKE-clear and stable. Bass is fair to good. Those catching fish are using plastic worms or minnows. Stripes are good at night with lights. Bluegill is fair on worms.

CHILHOWEE LAKE-clear and stable. All species poor.

LITTLE TENNESSEE RIVER-Trout is good on corn and spinners.

MILTON HILL LAKE-clear and stable. Stripes and bass are fair on minnows and plugs. Bluegill good on popping bugs and worms. Catfish is fair on worms and cut bait.

Estes Gets Atomic Win

When you're hot, you're hot. This phrase apparently can be applied to any individual or team in sports competition. Presently, it is permissible to use it when referring to race driver Toole Estes.

The Knoxville jockey has been the hottest item in recent weeks in late model sportsman racing at Atomic Speedway. It seems that Estes is able to get just enough horsepower from his Camaro in the late going to beat back all challengers.

By taking last Saturday night's 40-lap feature at the three-mile dirt track, Estes strengthened his hold on first place in the battle for the points championship.

When the cars return to the oval Saturday night, Toole will be the driver to beat. However, it won't be just a couple of challengers. The number will be more like a dozen.

Estes displayed his driving skills in his most recent win when he zipped under the checkered flag less than a car length ahead of Little Bill Corum's Chevy II. Toole ran third or fourth until the three-quarter mark when he made his move.

In all, the first 10 finishers were running in the same lap, keeping the fans on their feet most of the time. Saturday's program gets under way at 7 p.m.

Joe Malloy Is Oak Ridge Track Coach

Superintendent of Oak Ridge Schools, Kenneth Loftin has announced that Joe Malloy, Track and Junior Varsity Coach at Oak Ridge High School has been appointed as Coordinator of Athletics and Physical Education for the Oak Ridge Schools.

LOUDON RAILROAD BRIDGE (East end) during the rebuilding by Federal troops in 1863. Note guards at the end of bridge. The engine and cars on bridge are of the type which was in the river when burned. This picture was made as the bridge was rebuilt.

RAILROAD BRIDGE TODAY—The steel structure of the railroad bridge replaced the old wooden structure in 1905 and has not changed in the past 68 years. The rock foundation approaches to the bridge are the same as they were when the bridge was originally built in the mid-1800's.

Photos Show Bridge Work In 1850

Standing as a silent symbol of its impact on the history and lives of the people of Loudon County and the Tennessee Valley, the railroad bridge which in the North-South railroad passenger train service. Prior to the building of the bridge, trains coming into Loudon were turned around at this point and returned South. The link between Knoxville and Loudon was by steamboat. This was supposed to aid Loudon's growth. It was predicted that Loudon would grow into the largest city in East Tennessee, but the bridge had adverse effects. Knoxville began to grow because of the North-

South rail link and the river traffic gradually dwindled away. The stage coaches stopped, many of the hotels closed and this important East Tennessee town a link between north and south travel and a town which had overcome terrific odds, would be left with only a colorful memory of its days as a railroad center and important river port. The end result was the building of the railroad bridge. But the colorful role of the Loudon Railroad Bridge was not ended after its original construction was of wood, which made it easy prey for the enemy during the War between the States. Heresay has it that the bridge was burned twice during the Civil War, but we believe we are correct in saying that history only supports one burning and this occurred in the fall of 1863. At this time, the Confederates, who burned the bridge, ran one or two locomotives and some rail cars in the river. In December, 1863, the bridge was rebuilt by Federal troops on the photos taken of the bridge rebuilding shows troops around the area. Those rare photos, which were found by Dr. John M. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chet Miller of Loudon, were given to Loudon County Historian Ed McQueen and were loaned to us for this story. The photos show the wood construction of the bridge and pin points its location at the same site as it is today.

The history account of the burning of the bridge and the running of rollingstock into the river has created an interest in the possibility that these priceless historical pieces of railroad equipment are laying at the bottom of the river today. After much research, no account of their recovery was ever recorded. It is highly possible that this mystery will be solved this summer and if efforts are successfully rewarded, once again the railroad bridge across the river at Loudon will again be in the limelight.

Of course, the bridge as we see it today, is constructed of steel. What year it was converted from wood to steel, we don't know but whether it be of wood or steel, it's prominent role in history and its impact on the city of Loudon will fare with time itself.

Chastain Statement Says Shaver Choked, Beat Grandmother, Prints On Vase Says TBI Agent

Monday afternoon, with the machine working at least well enough to record the testimony, the prosecution called Paul Marine, a part-time employee of Click Funeral Home. He described finding the body the next day. He had been passing by Click Funeral Home on the afternoon of March 29, he related, when he was asked by J. D. Click, who is a brother of the owner of the firm, to "drive him to Granny Shaver's house. It was about 1:10 or 1:15 in the afternoon," he said.

"I stayed in the car and J. D. went into the house. He came back and hollered for me. I went into the house and we found Mrs. Shaver lying on the floor," he testified. "I saw two knives on the floor. Later I saw a vase lying on its side," he told the court. He said Lemur City Police Officer Floyd Williams was the first officer to arrive and that after an examination by Police Chief Wayne Chambers he took the body to Loudon hospital. He said he returned the body to Click Funeral Home after Officer Blair Harrison finished his examination. "When you arrived, were there any lights on?" he asked by Assistant Atty. Gen. Ed Arnold.

"Yes, the porch lights were on and so was the television," answered Marine.

Mr. Marine identified the scene he had described as shown by six pictures which were introduced in evidence. J. D. Click was questioned by assistant prosecuting Atty. David Black. Mr. Click explained that he had had to call Mrs. Shaver to relay her information he had received about one of her grandsons in Kentucky who had successfully undergone an operation. He got no answer. He said his car was blocked in at the funeral home and he got Paul Marine to take him to the Shaver home. "What was the first thing you observed as you arrived?" he was asked. "The porch light was on," he answered. "How did you get in?"

"The front door was unlocked. I just walked in. I saw her lying on the floor. She was on her back. There was a broken vase to her left, a broken door was open, another knife to the right. When we rolled her over she had stab wounds on the back," he testified. He described going through the house and finding the only things apparently disturbed were some things on the bed and the closet door was open. "What things were on the bed?" asked Mr. Black. "A candy box and a sewing box were on the bed." HE DESCRIBED the two knives found beside the body. One he said was small, with about a four to six-inch blade, and was bent. The other was a larger one with about an eight-inch blade. He identified one knife, a bent one as being the one he had seen, and testified that the other knife was similar to one he saw beside the body, although he could not positively say it was the same knife. He identified a pair of glasses bent on the left side and a hearing aid standing on the floor as Mrs. Shaver. They also were admitted as evidence. Her clothing, a slip, a gown and a pair of slippers bearing blood stains, also were identified as being those of the victim. When the court convened Tuesday morning, after an hour's delay for the repair of the recording device, the prosecution called Lemur City Police Officer Floyd Williams to the stand. The first police officer to arrive at the scene, Officer Williams testified he received a call at 1:24 p.m. to go to 113 West Second Ave. When he arrived, he said he was met at the door by J. D. Click, whom he described as being "shook up."

He said he found Mrs. Shaver lying on the floor with her head toward the wall. A vase was lying to the left of her head and "I found parts of the vase were imbedded in the temple of Mrs. Shaver's head."

He told the court that "J. D. seemed to think she had had a heart attack. We rolled her over and saw stab wounds in her back. Her eye was black. I told everybody not to touch anything," the policeman said and noted that Deputy Sheriff arrived about 10 minutes later. BROWN TESTIFIED that he examined the body and called for County Coroner Dr. Blair Harrison. He said he used a ligature to draw an outline of the body on the floor. In a few minutes, he said, Lemur City Police Officer Clifton Williams arrived and asked if Brown wanted a sketch of the room. Officer Williams made measurements. "Did you ever go into the bedroom?" the Atty. General asked. "Yes sir. The closet door was open and a sewing box was turned upside down on the bed. There was also a small cedar chest. Both items were closed."

He said when he left the house he went to the hospital to watch the examination of Mrs. Shaver's body. "There was one stab wound in the center of the chest and two in the back," he testified. He identified two photographs showing the stab wounds which were entered as evidence.

IN CROSS EXAMINATION, Mr. Sanders asked Deputy Brown if he had arrested many people for robberies.

Mr. Sanders continued his cross-examination. "How long have you known the defendant?" "All my life. We went to school with each other." "Could you not have murdered this lady yourself?" he was asked. "No sir." "Is it true you knew where she lived?" "No sir." "Hadn't you been in the house before?" "No sir." "Did you not like Dean Shaver?" "I didn't have anything against him."

"Did you and Dean ever have fights?" "No sir." Mr. Sanders had no more questions. Alan Coker and Carl Gard, who employes at Hockaday Iron and Metal plant, confirmed that the two boys and Mr. Correll had been there on March 28 to sell scrap iron. TBI AGENT Leon Miller told the court he found fingerprints on the broken knives near the bedroom, he said. "All the fingerprints were delivered to Douglas Woodlee, fingerprint expert in Nashville," he reported.

"We continued our investigation into early April and after talking to Mr. Hamner we arrested Mr. Shaver and Miss Chastain. We arrested Shaver at the Loudon pool hall and advised him of his rights," Agent Miller said. "Have any of the other grandchildren visited her?" "Yes."

Loudon County Coroner Blair Harrison testified that he sent the body to Blount County Hospital for an autopsy. AFTER LUNCH Tuesday, Dr. W. E. Ellis, a pathologist at Blount County Hospital, testified that in his opinion Mrs. Shaver's death was caused from a knife wound which penetrated through the breast cavity and wounded the pulmonary artery. He said that while the small knife could not be accountable for the fatal injury, the width of the butcher knife and that of the most severe stab wound were almost the same.

Larry Hamner, 16, was brought here to testify from the "Tad" Youth Center at Pikeville, where he is assigned. He said he had been in Loudon County on March 28 and had ridden with Dean Shaver and his grandfather, Henry Corbett when they had come to sell some scrap iron. Prosecutor Ed Arnold asked Hamner if he had any conversation with the Shaver boys about his grandmother that day. "Yes sir, he said she had a lot of money and suggested we go there. I asked him what she didn't want to give it to him, and he said he would knock her in the head if he had to."

Mr. Sanders attempted to get into Hamner's reason for being at the "Tad" Youth Center. Pikeville Judge Judge Smith prevented it. With the jury sent from the room, the matter was discussed and the judge ruled that the witness's juvenile record could not be inquired into. With the jury returned, Mr.

JULY 26 1973

Your County In Action

By Harvey L. Sproul

As most everyone knows, the State Law requires that County Courts set the budget and the tax rate for the fiscal year, which begins on July 1 of each year.

Of course, by law, all Quarters Courts met in July for one of their meetings of the year and so the newspapers have been reporting on the actions of various Quarters Courts.

It was a little bit surprised because the local news story concerning the Loudon County Quarters Court meeting related some of the criticisms and objections that were stated by one citizen who was present at the public hearing, but did not report any of the responses that were made to the statements made by this citizen.

In addition, the story did not fully explain the position of the Quarters Court concerning the denial of the request by the County Teachers Association for another change in the teachers' salary index scale.

On the first item, an objection that was made by the citizen mentioned above was that the amount in the system up to a certain number of years, and increasing, and that the home owner and farmer were not getting the tax breaks that were intended by the passage of Question III and the classification of property wherein utilities and bed room were paying at a greater assessment percentage.

One of the obvious answers is that everyone is spending more money to live on. All wages for employees everywhere are going up. Prices and costs are spiralling upward.

This means that a County or local government has to have more money coming in to pay these expenses.

That was passed by Loudon County is tight enough and close enough to so that the residential and farm property owner will pay something less than what was paid last year (unless possibly the property has been improved or divided and reassessed).

Additional explanation might help concerning the teachers' requested pay raise. Although it seemed to be fairly clear that there was a discrepancy in opinion as to between the amount of "new money" that would be required to pay the County teachers the requested increase, and the change in the scale was not approved it should be noted that teachers will receive a built-in increase not getting any increase at all.

The County Board of Education and the Quarters Court had approved several years ago an "index scale" which provides that teachers will receive a built-in increase to come from County sales tax money for each additional year of service that they stay in the system up to a certain number of years, and for certain levels of personal educational achievement.

The Board of Education and the Quarters Court have raised the "base" on this index scale a time or two since it was first approved so that teachers are getting an additional increase over the base. If approved, as well as the new increase for those years.

So even though the Quarters Court did not approve an increase in the "base" and change the base for this year, the teachers will still get the natural index increase that they would receive under the scale from last year.

In addition, many Counties are finding out that Question III and the classification of property is not exactly all it was cracked up to be.

In other words, classification is a fairly good thing for those Counties which have very high industrial areas as to utility companies, and have a lot of industry, but is not so good for counties which are mostly in farming and residential counties.

For example, Hamilton County has a lot of industry and have been able to keep its tax rate fairly low because of the substantial increase in taxes being paid by the higher assessments on industry.

Planners To Help In Knox Development

The Loudon County Regional Planning Commission voted at their July 19 meeting to cooperate with Knox County planners in order to prepare for the future development of West Knox County and the impact of such growth will have on Loudon County.

The commissioners were advised by the Tennessee State Planning Office's Dave Booher that East Loudon County in particular should prepare for the expected growth of the West Knox Corridor, which the Metropolitan Planning staff predicts will experience a population growth of up to 40,000 by 1980. The MPC staff has been drawing up alternative growth plans, five of which have been made public (so far, and all of which would result in a greatly increased level of development in West Knox County).

The County Board of Education and the Quarters Court had approved several years ago an "index scale" which provides that teachers will receive a built-in increase to come from County sales tax money for each additional year of service that they stay in the system up to a certain number of years, and for certain levels of personal educational achievement.

The Board of Education and the Quarters Court have raised the "base" on this index scale a time or two since it was first approved so that teachers are getting an additional increase over the base. If approved, as well as the new increase for those years.

So even though the Quarters Court did not approve an increase in the "base" and change the base for this year, the teachers will still get the natural index increase that they would receive under the scale from last year.

In addition, many Counties are finding out that Question III and the classification of property is not exactly all it was cracked up to be.

until the matter could be given more consideration. The commission refused to approve the location of a 900kw transmission line proposed by TVA. The line would have been constructed in Northwest Loudon County. The commission decided to request that TVA give them more time to study alternative locations.

Transmission lines should be better thought out than they have been in the past, said commissioner Charles Harrison. "Perhaps two or three could be put in a channel."

Elected as officers were Ben Galyon, chairman, Ross Wilberson, 1st vice-president, Charles Harrison, 2nd vice-president, and Harvey L. Sproul, secretary.

In other action, the commission gave preliminary approval for the Griffith Farm Subdivision of Highway 99 near Greenback, reviewed copies of a proposed Road Acceptance Manual for Loudon County which it has been working on with TSPC assistance, and made a recommendation to the Quarters Court that Henry Mitchell be appointed to the Loudon County Board of Zoning Appeals.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Through the passing years, the people and places of their particular time play an important role in the make-up of a town. They are recalled much more easily and readily than those things which are recorded in history books, because they depict an era of a town's daily life.

We have a picture this week of two men. Possibly they were pals in their senior citizen years and several years ago, both of them were daily visitors to downtown Loudon just to talk and pass the time of day with old friends. They are both now deceased.

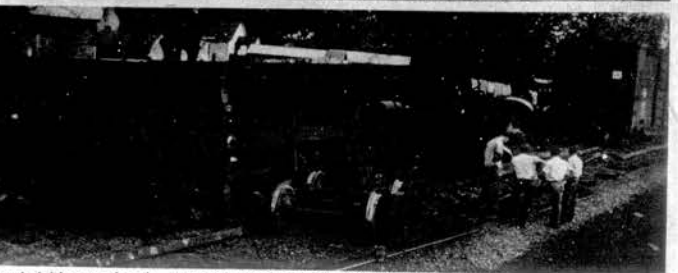

The men are Mr. Rousin and John Thompson, who stopped in front of Cox's Cafe to have their picture made. We recall, when we were growing up in Loudon that we would see these two men often on the main street. At that time they were senior citizens and retired.

We have another picture of a well-known downtown Loudon business. This picture was taken many years ago, possibly in the thirties. The business is the interior of the Cox Cafe, located on Highway 11. Mae Cox, who loaned us this old photo, said the picture was made the first Christmas after they opened for business. We failed to ask her what year this was. Mae and her husband, the late John Cox operated this business for many years. Mrs. Cox told us who the man behind the counter was but we have forgotten.

We have also a picture of a train wreck in Loudon. Just where this happened, we are not sure and we can't identify it as any we can remember. It could very well be one we have had a picture of before but has been taken at a different angle. Anyway, it looks like a pretty bad one.

While we are on the subject of train wrecks, we haven't given up on finding a picture of Memphis Special train wreck which occurred east of Loudon between the bridge and where Cole's Drive-In Theatre is now. Possibly somebody took some pictures of the biggest passenger train wreck to ever happen in our area. It may have been the only passenger train wreck in this area. Anyway, if you can recall anyone having any pictures of this wreck, we would appreciate knowing about it.

A few years back, we ran a Dispute Between Court, Road Men Over Gasoline

Loudon County's Central Garage is in operation, but a dispute over its operation has virtually shut down the three Highway districts in the county.

The issue came to a head last Thursday night at a meeting of the County Court's Purchasing Committee with representatives of other County departments to explain and work out details of the operation.

Everything went smoothly until the question of gasoline came up. Highway Commissioners Lillard Bledsoe, Lee Malone and Joe Green were demanded gasoline by virtually shut down the three Highway districts in the county.

"I'm not going to send trucks up there to fill up," Mr. Bledsoe said. "I'm not going to send trucks up there to fill up."

for Judgens Motor Co. and have never been out of automotive service since," he said. Mr. Kerley spent time with TVA, with the Army, overseas, on the famous "Red Ball Express," keeping trucks rolling to supply Allied invasion troops in Europe, and with several General Motors dealers in the area since then. He is an antique car buff and owns 18 cars of various degrees of antiquity.

The two mechanics are Pat Weatherly of Lenoir City, R. 2, and Larry Shepherd of Martel community. Weatherly is experienced in diesel and gasoline engines and worked for several years at Knoxville Truck Sales as a mechanic. He came to the County Garage from Dinwiddie Distributing Co., where he was responsible for maintenance and repair on 23 trucks.

Shepherd spent three years as a heavy equipment mechanic with Central Coal Co. in West Virginia, and more recently was a refrigeration and diesel mechanic for Colonial Refrigerated and Transport Co. in Knoxville.

Mr. Kerley said some $6000 worth of equipment already has been purchased for the garage and "what we don't have we will get. We are going to be ready to repair anything, from a grader or bulldozer to a police car, either here at the garage or wherever it is broken down."

Extensive remodeling was done at Riverview School, using the eastern side of the building for the repair shop and the western side, with its lower roof and ceiling for offices and storage facilities.

"We can get anything the county has inside the building except one of the highest grades, and if we have, we can remove the top of the cab to take care of that problem," Mr. Kerley said.

So far, a Civil Defense Jeep, an ambulance, two Sheriff's patrol cars, an Education Dept. truck, and several other vehicles have been in the shop for either minor or major repairs.

Under the guidelines, repairs on the ambulances or the Sheriff's cars get priority, he explained, "and we had a mechanic on your ambulance five minutes after it came in the door." Mr. Kerley pointed out to Hospital Administrator Gay Hamilton at Thursday night's meeting.

Meanwhile, this week, the three Highway Commissioners remained adamant. They say they cannot economically take their trucks and other vehicles to the central garage to fill them with gasoline and this week they were doing little or no work on County roads.

"It is not a problem concerning our cooperation on the matter of a central county garage," said Third District Commissioner Joe Greenway. "It is just a hardship for us to stop in a middle of a job in Greenback and run to Lenoir City and get gas." He said it would take at least an hour.

Greenway said, "We have kept gas in our district for 40 years and can't see any reason

Shaver Convicted Of First Degree Murder

"And you call this justice," said Alvin Dean Shaver after Criminal Judge H. C. Smith sentenced him to the recommended term of 20 years and one day in prison soon after a five woman and seven man jury found him guilty of the first degree murder of his 78-year-old grandmother, Mrs. J. H. (Granny) Shaver, on March 28.

Shaver's co-defendant, Margory Sue Chastain, both are 18, received a directed verdict of not guilty on the murder charge and then was found not guilty on the charge of being an accessory after the fact.

The verdicts came shortly before 7 p.m. Thursday, concluding the four day trial. The jury received the case about 3 p.m. after hearing strong arguments of prosecuting and defense attorneys in the case.

When the jury first came in to report their verdict, Foreman Ralph Eblen reported that the defendant Shaver was found to be guilty of murder in the first degree, and the jury recommended a sentence of 20 years. He further reported that the jury found Miss Chastain not guilty of the charge against her. Judge Smith, who observed his 74th birthday Thursday, told the jury that their sentence would have to be reconsidered for the first degree verdict to stand. He stated that the sentence for first degree murder had to be more than 20 years. After

Girl Found Not Guilty

After about 75 minutes the jury returned to the courtroom with an inquiry. One of the jurors wanted to again examine the statements of the defendants. Judge Smith instructed them that this was not allowed by law after they had once started deliberations.

Again at 8:15 Judge Smith called the jury out to find out about progress in the case. Foreman Eblen said that progress was being made and that the jury would be able to reach a verdict. The jury decided not to stop their work for supper, but returned and stayed until they returned the verdicts shortly before 7 p.m.

As the defense took the stand Wednesday morning attorney Sanders asked that the testimony of Larry Hamms, a state witness, be stricken because it violated the rights of Mr. Shaver. Judge Smith overruled the motion.

Then Alvin Shaver took the stand. Responding to questions asked by Sanders he told the court his grandparents were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cornett, Rt. 1, Lenoir City, that he completed his sophomore year in school and then went into a description of his day activities on March 28, the day of the stabbing death of Mrs. Shaver.

The youth said he went to school, but he had to go to work for scrap metal and that Larry Hamms was along.

Then Alvin Shaver took the stand. Responding to questions, said he expected to get money from the Veteran's Administration and Social Security at age 18 as his brother had.

Later on the 28th he said he went to his mother's house in Loudon, changed into his brother's clothes, red shirt, green pants and tennis shoes. That about 7 p.m. he and sister Karen went to the Lenoir City Pharmacy, had a Coke and then went to a friend's house, then to the A&W in Loudon. On the way Bryan Brown joined them.

At the A&W, around 8 p.m., they got with Miss Chastain and started talking to her car. He described the night-long ride as starting out toward Randall's Mill, by Davis and started heading to her car. Vonore, came back to Loudon and took Karen and Brown home between 9:30 and 9:45. He stated he was with Sue Lovin, then went toward Lenoir City on Highway 11, turned off on Sugarlimb Road, to Harrison Road, out old 98, to Highway 70 and went to Ernie's Place. He said they left there around midnight and went to the Highway 95 Truck Stop where he had a hamburger and Coke. After leaving there Shaver said they came back to Loudon to pick up Brenda Gagley at the A&W, but the restaurant was closed and Brenda was gone and they started for Knoxville.

He said they stopped at a Lonas gas station, bought gas and he started driving. They went to the "strip" on Cumberland Avenue near U-1, got some beer and drove around the strip, went to a bowling alley, but it was closed. He said he drank two beers. He stated they picked up a hitchhiker and took him to Kingston, came back to Lenoir City to his grandmother Cornett's about 5:30 a.m. Thursday, March 29, to let her know he was alright. They next stop, he said, was at the residence of Reed Gardner on Highway 72 near Loudon where they talked to Mr. Gardner and his son, Randy. After this they picked up Karen and took her to school, close to 8:30. He said Miss Chastain's car had a flat and

In the agenda released this week by Judge Harvey Sproul there are several major items concerning the County Planning Commission which might be acted on. These include reports on the Easton and Luttrell parks, the possibility of a full-time office for the institution of the new county building codes, the hiring of a building inspector and others.

The court is also expected to name a replacement for Charles Eblen to the County Board of Education. Mr. Eblen resigned earlier this year and his term expired in June.

The following is the complete agenda for the meeting:

Many homemakers are really concerned about the amount of money they are spending to feed their families. If you are already planning menus, shopping for specials, attempting to change your eating habits to include less of the high cost protein foods and more of the less costly kinds of protein plus more milk, fruits and vegetables, then here are two other things you might try—substitutions and price comparisons.

Because of increased prices for food, many homemakers need to review their food management and food shopping habits. For most of us, food represents a sizable expenditure. In fact, for a family of four (mother, father and two school age children) the cost of food over a year's time on a moderate cost menu plan is about as much as the cost of a small car! Few of us purchase cars without comparison shopping and much thought and planning—but do we give food buying the same consideration? The point here is that it has become necessary to be as levelheaded and business-like about food management as it is possible to be. We need to learn to think hard about what we do and consider alternatives rather than to continue doing something a certain way just because we've always done it that way.

Most homemakers have recipes for family favorites that they use frequently. Sometimes the ingredients in these recipes can be purchased in different forms—canned, frozen, dehydrated or fresh. By changing from one form to another, it is sometimes possible to save money.

The only way to know for sure is to be your own "researcher" and do some cost comparisons. Granted, this may be time consuming, but if keeping your food bill within a manageable limit for your budget is very important, then your time will surely be well spent.

The second meeting of interested senior citizens will be held Thursday, August 9 at 2 p.m. at the Lenoir City Memorial Building. The purpose of this meeting is to organize a Chapter of American Association of Retired Persons (AARP). All persons 55 years or over are eligible for Charter membership.

McCulley of Philadelphia and Mr. and Mrs. William Russell, Route 2, Loudon. Great-grandfather is T. L. Standifer of Philadelphia. Travis has a brother, Sean Ray, age four.

Alicia Karen Littleton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Littleton of Loudon, celebrated her first birthday July 26. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Bob) Easter of Loudon and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Littleton of Lenoir City. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Magill of Lenoir City.

Grocery Sales Here Put At $9.7 Million

Incomes were up in Loudon County in the past year and the rise was reflected in the amount of business done by local retail stores. Sales of cars, food, wearing apparel, furniture and other merchandise were at a high level. To a considerable extent, however, inflation contributed to the increase in the dollar volume.

Just how well local merchants made out is detailed in a new report on consumer buying, released by the Standard Rate and Data Service. It shows how area residents, as well as those in other communities across the country, spent their money during the year.

In Loudon County, a large part of their dollar went for food. Some 24 cents of each dollar spent in local retail stores was for such purchases.

By comparison, only 21 cents was so spent elsewhere in the United States and 22 cents in the East South Central States.

For supermarkets, grocery stores, bakeries, butcher shops, delicatessens and other food emporia in the area it added up to a sales volume of $9,792,000, as against the prior year's $9,091,000.

This was solely for take-home food. Not included is the amount spent in restaurants and other eating and drinking places.

If the outlay for take-home food were divided equally among the local population, it would be equivalent to $1,194 per family.

Stronger consumer buying was also in evidence in other local stores, the report shows.

Sales of automobiles, motorcycles, trailers, boats and other automotive equipment came to $10,443,000, as against the previous year's $8,999,000.

Variety stores and department stores carrying general merchandise recorded a total of $2,032,000. Their 1971 figure was $1,776,000.

Apparel shops and specialty stores, including those selling hats, dresses, coats, shoes and other articles of clothing, grossed $1,894,000, compared with the prior $1,758,000.

Furniture and home furnishings stores accounted for $2,056,000. The previous total was $1,759,000.

Nationally, the surge in consumer spending this year has been such that the experts are fearful of an overheating of the economy, which could be the groundwork for a letdown later on and a possible recession.

Penny Favors Changeable Patterns For Fall 1973

Fall and winter 1973 will be the season of the "great put-together" according to women's fashion experts at JCPenney.

Big things are fore cast for "changeable partners"—tops especially sweaters and skirts and bottoms (mainly slacks)—but can be mixed to provide seemingly endless varieties of outfits.

The look for fall and winter will be soft and easy, casual and comfortable, the Penney experts believe.

Shirts and turtlenecks will continue to provide the basis for the outfit, with cardigans, sweaters or blouses being worn over them. While dresses and skirts are being shown, pants will continue to be the key, especially high-waist styles with wide legs.

Nature will continue its influence with women favoring earth tones such as browns and greens.

Military, especially jackets and boots, will be in vogue, while cloggy, thick-soled shoes will complete the picture.

Jackets featuring strong texture interest are expected to have a good season, with long lengths from waist to hip being shown.

JCPenney's fall and winter catalog, now being distributed primarily to families in the eastern two-thirds of the United States, has 1,208 pages—12 more than the comparable 1972 book. Some 67 per cent of the catalog, or 861 pages, are in full color. Copies of the book are available at the catalog sales desk in the Penney store here.

The "changeable partners" theme is not limited to the women's pages, but also provides men's and children's fashions.

The fall and winter book marks the introduction of a new service for catalog shoppers. JCPenney Home Colors, designed to help take the guesswork out of coordinating home furnishings colors.

Basic to the program is the grouping of colors into 29 families, each in 4 or 5 shades. Penney identifies home furnishings merchandise as being available in various color families. A decorator can achieve favorable results using the shades in only one color family or, getting daring, can use two or three families for dramatic results.

The book continues Penney's emphasis on clothing especially proportioned for extra-tall and big men in the "Big Men's Shop." An ongoing feature for the clothing are 50 professional football players, Verlon Biggs, defensive end, and Diron Talbot, defensive tackle, both of the Washington Redskins. The Inn Shop for young men includes two pages of highly styled fashions featuring a slaid belted midt coat. Slacks in the collection have high-rise waists and wide-flared bottoms.

THE FASHION-conscious young man may well top off his outfit this fall and winter with a slaid belted midt coat from JCPenney's new catalog for the season. Underneath the coat, he will be comfortable in turtleneck sweater and slacks with cuffed wide-flared bottoms and high-rise waists. The crowning touch is the wide-brimmed hat. The outfit is featured in the catalog in two pages of highly styled fashions from Penney's Inn Shop.

Wins Award

Navy Airman Apprentice James K. Huskey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Huskey of 722 W. Broadway, Lenoir City, is a crewmember of Patrol Squadron Five, winner of the Chief of Naval Operations Aircraft Maintenance Award.

His outstanding performance of duty enabled his squadron to establish a record for long-term aircraft availability in an "Orion" aircraft-equipped patrol squadron.

Young Must Still Register

Young men must still register with Selective Service at the time of their 18th birthday even though there is no draft, Arnold L. Malone, State Director of Selective Service, announced today. He urged those men who have not registered to do so promptly. "Failure to register is a violation of the law," Mr. Malone emphasized, "and could result in prosecution by the Department of Justice." The President's authority to induct men into the service expired on July 1. The Administration does not plan to seek an extension of this authority, and the Defense Department is relying on volunteer enlistments to supply military manpower. Only induction authority over those not previously deferred expired on July 1; Malone said. All other provisions of the Military Selective Service Act remain in force. The annual lottery will be held. Young men must continue to register and their local boards will classify them as to their availability for possible military service should Congress authorize the resumption of inductions in the event of a national emergency.

Malone said the law requires that all male persons, except certain nonimmigrant aliens, in the United States must register with Selective Service within the 60-day period commencing 30 days prior to their 18th birthday. He stressed that young men actually have three legal obligations: (1) they must register at age 18, (2) they must notify their local Selective Service boards when they change addresses, and (3) they must carry their draft cards with them until their liability expires, which for most men today is at age 26. Selective Service is undergoing a major reorganization at this time, Malone said, as the System reverts to a standby operation with no inductions taking place. Many local boards are being relocated or consolidated at a fewer number of administrative sites across the State. To eliminate the need for young men to travel to these administrative sites, Mr. Malone said Registrars and Advisors to Registrars have been appointed in many communities. With no inductions now planned, few problems should arise for the registrants which would require them to visit the administrative sites, Malone reported.

Lenoir City's Galyon To Start For East All Stars

Tim Galyon, outstanding center and defensive performer on Lenoir City's powerful grid team last year, is one of 104 top high school standouts gathered this week in Knoxville for the seventh annual TSSAA All Star games. The contests—two basketball girls and one football class—are held in conjunction with the annual coaches clinic which begins Wednesday. Some of the principal speakers include Gene Bartow, Memphis State's NCAA Coach of the Year, Vanderbilt's Larry Schmitt, Florida State's Larry Jones, North Carolina's Bill Dooley, Ed Temple of Tennessee State and Tennessee's Bill Battle and Ray Means.

But most eyes, including the money-conscious TSSAA Board of Control, will be on the all star games. Burdened with financial troubles since their inception in 1967, the games are being played on a year-to-year basis and TSSAA is at the rope's end at finding the solution to its problems. Perhaps the final measure will be tested this week. The basketball games will be played Friday night at State Athletic Center at 7:30 and 9. The feature attraction—football—is scheduled Saturday night at 8 at Neyland Stadium.

Tickets for this weekend's TSSAA high school allstar games are on sale at the UT Athletic Department. Admission to the basketball doubleheader at State Center is $2.50 per person, and tickets to the football game at Neyland Stadium are $2.50.

The East has never lost a football game, although all six of them have been cliff-hangers. A seven-point spread is the largest in the series and twice the East has won by 7-0 scores—the first and last games.

In the boys basketball series, the East won two in a row and then the West reeled off three consecutive victories in impressive fashion. But ex-Chattanooga Riverside star Frank Jones, now playing at Middle Tennessee State

University, helped break the string last year with one of the most memorable performances in the history of the edition, bolstered by state champion team representatives, are given the nod as favorites for the game.

Second Place Up For Grabs In Loudon City Golf Play

With Larry and Lynn Millsaps apparently in the driver's seat to capture the first year championship of the Loudon City Golf League team play, a host of teams are battling to finish second.

Larry Bridges and Jake Lane have been the most consistent challengers for the season holding tightly to second place in the standings. But in the past three weeks with the Millsaps team steadily pulling away from the

Larry Bridges and Lane are still in second place this week with 101 points, 23 behind the pace set by Larry and Lynn Millsaps. But joining in the fight for second place is Paul Brakebill and Ed Arnold with 100 team points to date and Dennis Townsend and Ralph Stalcup with 100 team points also.

Buck Kirkland and John Lennex are in fourth place with 98 team points and behind them in Bert Ratledge and Ciel Miller with 96 team points.

Ciel Miller and Bert Ratledge won the top team recognition for last week with a round of 72 and 14 total team points.

Three individuals tied for low medalists honors during the week. Buddy Swiney, Glenn McNabb, and Ted Lomax all had 34's for the week. Top individual golfer for the season to date has been Larry Millsaps with 72 individual points. Ralph Stalcup is in second place with 71 and two-thirds individual points.

Cherokee's Larry Ritchey Shrine Game's Most Valuable Player

Approximately 2,500 area football fans were treated to an outstanding Blount County sponsored East-West Shrine football game Friday night at Porter High School.

Sparked by the defensive thievery of Greenback graduate Larry Ritchey, the East collected a 14-0 triumph in the annual confrontation. Ritchey proved a thorn to the West offense throughout the game. He grabbed four pass interceptions, recovered a fumble and scored the East's go-ahead touchdown early in the game.

Statistics were evenly matched, except for turnover. The West's offense lost six pass interceptions and two fumbles during the game. The East had only three turnovers, all on fumbles.

The West had 113 yards rushing and completed four of 15 pass for 56 yards. The East had 127 yards rushing, and 76 yards on a single pass completion. The West won the first down battle, 9-8.

The East All-Stars took the opening kickoff, but fumbled the pigskin away on the first play. The West took over at the East 33, but failed to cash in a 15-yard penalty and back-to-back losses against an aroused East defense forced a punting situation.

The East squad took possession at its own 24-yard line and immediately scorched the West with a bit of trickery.

A fake run to Townsend's Jerry Myers ended up as a pass play. Ritchey streaked 15 yards behind the West defense and the play ended up 76 yards away for six points.

Townsend's Ken Myers ran the two-point conversion over the goal and the East team led by an 8-0 tally with 8:33 left in the first quarter.

The West came right back with a scoring threat. A 35-yard pass completion from Bo Alley to Dennis Pershing put the West on the East's 23-yard stripe. But, Everett's David Smith picked off a pass attempt to stop the drive.

The West got possession at the midfield stripe minutes later, but this time Ritchey grabbed an interception to halt a scoring drive. At the end of the quarter, the West was on the move again, but Ritchey collected his second interception of the game.

The second quarter brought more of the same for the West's frustrated offense. Ritchey and former Townsend teammate Ike Effer picked off pass interceptions and Ritchey added a fumble recovery that completely choked off the West's offensive attempts.

The East put six more points on the scoreboard late in the first half. Ritchey's third interception of the game came at the West's 45-yard line and he returned the theft to the West's 19.

Porter's Bill Evans attempted the two-point conversion, but was stopped inches short.

Hard-nosed defense highlighted the second half. The West threatened late in the game on several outstanding runs by former Lanier standout Dennis Hatcher, while the East countered on the running of Jerry Myers. But, neither team was able to put addittional points on the scoreboard.

Greenback, a member of the Foothills Athletic Conference was represented on the East team by Ritchey, Joe Malnor, Danny Evans and Tommy McNeiley. Miss Shirley Dotson, graduated Cherokee basketball star, was Greenback's East-West football queen candidate.

BOATING SAFETY GROUP MEETS

The Tennessee Game and Fish Commission's Boating Safety Advisory Board will convene at Elizabethton on July 28. This is a regularly scheduled public meeting. Specific information can also be obtained by phone or mail from the Hunter Safety Commission Director, David M. Goodrich, announced that the meeting will be held at the Watauga Lakeshore Resort on Watauga Lake. The upper east Tennessee boating safety session will begin at 10 a.m. (EDT). Dr. J.J. Range, Chairman of the Board, is in charge of arrangements.

HUNTER CERTIFICATION REQUIRED

Hunter safety certificates will be required for youngsters under sixteen who participate in juvenile hunts on four Tennessee Game and Fish Commission wildlife management areas this fall. The four areas including hunt dates are: Chuck Swan, Junior Archer Deer Hunt, October 26-27; Kingston Refuge, Special Juvenile Squirrel Hunt, September 15-16; Percy Priest, all juveniles participating in Rabbit and Quail hunting during the regular statewide season; and Shelby Forest, Juvenile Squirrel Hunt, August 18 and Juvenile Deer Hunt, October 27.
Hunter safety instructors in these areas are now being trained, and special classes will be set up in August to train and certify students interested in participating in these hunts.
Interested persons are urged to watch their local media, or contact the nearest Game and Fish office or district office for information. Specific information can also be obtained by phone or mail from the Hunter Safety Commission Director, David M. Goodrich, P.O. Box 40747, Nashville, Tennessee 37204, phone 615-741-1421.

DRIVER LICENSE FORLITTER

Tennessee Game and Fish Commission Director David M. Goodrich reminds automobile and boat operators that they are responsible for seeing that all passengers obey the litter laws.
"Litter thrown from vehicles is an eyesore on our nation's highways and waterways," Goodrich commented, "and we are doing something about it."
The Game and Fish Commission is one of the state's agencies which can enforce pollution laws. Last year, over 400 litter cases were tried in Tennessee's courts due to Game and Fish efforts, resulting in over 30 percent convictions.
"It is just as easy to collect refuse in a car or boat for disposal in proper facilities," Goodrich added. "Remember, the operator of the vehicle is liable regardless of who throws the trash."

54 Canada Geese Distributed By G&F

Fifty-four adult Canada geese were released last week on farm ponds in Blount and Loudon Counties by the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Game and Fish Commission. The release of twenty-four birds in Loudon County is the first step in establishing a resident flock of geese in East Tennessee. Two or three pairs of adult geese were released on private ponds of two or more acres in size. The birds are wingclipped to prevent leaving the ponds until next year at which time they should remain in this general area rather than migrating north for nesting purposes.

STOCKING GEESSE-TVA and Game and Fish Commission personnel are shown releasing Giant Canada geese on the Harrison Farm in Hines Valley. A total of 24 geese were stocked on private farm ponds in Loudon County last week.

PROFESSIONAL WILDLIFE STUDY TEAM SCHEDULES HEARING

A public hearing has been set for Tennessee sportsmen and other interested citizens by National Wildlife Federation Executive Vice President, Thomas Kimball. Kimball is chairman of a committee which is scheduled to evaluate the Game and Fish Commission.

The meeting will be held at the Game and Fish Commission headquarters on the Ellington Agricultural Center grounds on August 1, 1973. Kimball announced that the hearing will be held from 9:00 A.M. (CDT) to noon and the committee will listen to public views on the Commission's programs and operations. He noted that all who are interested in being heard should notify his office, 1412 - 18th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20006; phone (202) 483-1550; or Tennessee's NWF affiliate, the Tennessee Conservation League, 2010 Church Street, Room 215, Nashville, Tennessee 37203, phone (615) 227-9492. The committee will accept written statements until August 15, 1973, by those who wish to comment but are unable to attend the hearing. Kimball stated that the committee would also appreciate written statements by those who attend the meeting in case time limits the number to speak. The team of wildlife professionals will begin work on July 30. Members of the group are Charles D. Kelley, Director for the Division of Alabama Game and Fish; John S. Gottschalk, Executive Vice-President of the International Association of Game and Fish Commissioners; Dr. Douglas I. Gilbert, Assistant Dean and professor in the wildlife school

GOVERNOR DUNN PROCLAIMS NATIONAL HUNTING & FISHING DAY

Governor Winfield Dunn has proclaimed September 22, 1973, as National Hunting and Fishing Day in Tennessee. The second annual celebration will be promoted by sportsmen across the state.

National Hunting and Fishing Day was initiated last year to emphasize the benefits from hunting and fishing. Individual sportsmen and clubs will be participating in activities to show local residents what they are doing to promote conservation of America's wildlife resources.

Governor Dunn has issued the following proclamation which officially declares NHF Day in Tennessee:
"WHEREAS, it is evident in the fact that more than fifteen million hunting licenses and twenty-five million fishing licenses are issued each year; and

WHEREAS, the income from the issuance of these licenses provides a rich source of funds for fish and wildlife conservation and management and for the salvation, preservation and propagation of vanishing species; and

WHEREAS, hunters and anglers traditionally have led in the effort to preserve our natural resources; and

WHEREAS, outdoor sportsmen also have led in the promotion of proper respect for private as well as public property of country in the field and forest and in boating and firearm safety programs;
NOW, THEREFORE, I,

Winfield Dunn, as Governor of the State of Tennessee, do hereby proclaim Saturday, September 22, 1973, as NATIONAL HUNTING AND FISHING DAY in Tennessee and urge all to recognize the aesthetic, health and recreational virtues of hunting and fishing.

IS WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Tennessee to be affixed at Nashville on this 25th day of July, 1973.
Sportsmen interested in helping promote and plan activities for this event should contact the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission, Box 40747, Nashville, Tennessee 37203 or NHF Day, 1075 Post Road, Riverside, Conn. 06878.

Shaver Convicted Of First Degree Murder Of Grandmother

he changed the tire and she took him to the Loudon pool room about 10:30. After this he said he went to his grandmother's house.

About noon, he said his mother picked him up and his brother and sister up at Corbett's and took them to Knoxville where he and the brother took an Air Force examination. He said he thought he passed the test. It was after returning from Knoxville late that afternoon that Shaver said he first learned of his grandmother Shaver's death. Sanders said the indictment reads that you killed Mrs. Shaver on March 28. Did you hit your grandmother with a vase? Shaver replied, "No sir."

Sanders: "Did you stab her in the back with a knife?" Shaver: "No sir."

Sanders: "Did you have any involvement in the killing of your grandmother?" Shaver: "No sir."

Sanders then went into the statements that Shaver had given Sheriff Freeman Russell and TBI Agent Leon Miller when he was picked up for questioning on April 3.

Sanders, looking at the statement, which was introduced by the state, asked, "Did Sheriff ask if you had given money to Jimmy Bingham to hold?" "No sir," he replied.

Sanders: "Did you tell Sheriff Russell you had taken LSID?" Shaver: "No sir."

Sanders: "Did you tell Sheriff Russell you hit your grandmother with a vase?" Shaver: "No sir."

Sanders in answering other questions said he did not hate his grandmother, as state proof had stated, that he did not will toward her, that he was right or left handed. The reply was, "left."

In replying to Sanders the defendant said he was never given copies of any of his statements by Sheriff Russell of Agent Miller. Here Judge Smith asked if he had ever asked for them. Shaver replied, "No sir."

In his last question Sanders again asked Shaver if he had anything to do with his grandmother's death. He again replied, "No sir."

At this point Attorney General Kenneth Deatherage entered into a very long cross-examination of Shaver which went into a point by point series of questions concerning Shaver's and Miss Chastain's activities on the night of March 28 and about Shaver's denial of the statements that he was attributed to him.

Under cross-examination Shaver said he did sign and initial written statements, but denied that he ever added anything to them later. Denied that he said, "I may have killed my grandmother Shaver, I don't remember all I did that night." He also denied that he offered to take a lie detector test.

General Deatherage then moved to April 6 when he and Sheriff Russell took another statement from Shaver at Blount County Jail. Shaver denied having answered the following questions that were on the statement:

"Did Margery go in the house?" "No sir he did not ask."

He denied being asked how much money he got, or that he was asked if he got the billfold.

After continued denials about being asked things that were in the written statements, General Deatherage asked how did Sheriff Russell know that he had received the $6 he claimed he had that night. Shaver replied, "I am trying to remember, but it has been awhile."

He again denied taking any LSD pills on that night and that he did not tell officers that he had.

When General Deatherage asked Shaver if his signature was on the bottom of the statement, he replied, "The 'S' is not mine." When asked to compare it with other signatures and initials on the statement he still denied the signature. He also denied telling the Blount County Sheriff he had been on LSD for two months.

Asked if he planned to buy a car with money he received from the VA and Social Security at age 18 as his mother, he said no that he had a motorcycle.

Deatherage asked if he and Hamms have any reason to be mad at each other and he said no. He denied again telling Hamms he knew where.

Deatherage: "Did you say your grandmother had money and you would hit her in the head to get it?" Shaver: "No sir." Asked if he had gotten a dollar from his grandfather and $5 from Jimmy Bingham as stated in the statements, he said he did. Shaver said he was in Miss Chastain's car and that both bought gas and he thought he spent a total of $3.75 during the night.

General Deatherage then began questioning Shaver about the route he and Miss Chastain took from Loudon to Frises place on the night of the 28th. Shaver had testified that they did not go through Lenoir City, while Miss Chastain's statements did.

Deatherage: "Did you tell Sheriff Russell you took money to the world on the big sailing party."

"When you came back to the car was Sue asleep?" "No sir."

"When you left Granny's house you went back to Broadway and out to Ernie's place?" "No sir."

Shaver then responded that he and Sue got to Ernie's about 10 p.m. and left about 11:45 and went to the 96 Truck Stop where they stayed until about midnight. He said they then went back to Loudon to pick up friends, but she was gone and they went back to Lenoir City and stopped at Louisa Oil and he bought gas, and started driving.

His testimony about the activities in Knoxville agreed with that introduced earlier in the statements until they returned to the Eatons area. He denied going to the cemetery where his grandfather was buried.

He denied that while driving to Ernie's he asked Sue how it would feel to be choked and that he did not say he killed her or that he hated his grandmother.

After the lunch break General Deatherage continued his cross examination by asking Shaver if he went to the office of Dean Shavey on 10:30 p.m. on March 28. He replied, "No sir."

Deatherage took out a blood stained gown and asked if Dean had wiped a knife off on the gown. He said, "No sir."

"Did you stab her in the back with this small knife?" "No sir."

"When the small knife bent, you got the big knife and stabbed her in the chest." "No sir."

"You hit her in the head with this was holding it vase?" "No sir."

"You went to the bedroom to get the billfold and took her billfold and money and a jar of pennies and ransacked her clothes?" "No sir."

At the end of the cross-examination General Deatherage gave the jury the written statements and other evidence of rights that Shaver had signed for comparison of signatures. It took almost 20 minutes for them to complete their comparison individually.

Miss Chastain's attorney, Arthur Fowler, asked only a few questions pertaining to the fact that he and his sister, Karen and Bryan Brown met Miss Chastain at the A&W and left in Sue's car.

Shaver left the stand at 2:10 p.m.

For the next two hours the witnesses called a number of witnesses including Shaver's mother, Mrs. Helen Grubb Shubert. Their testimony mainly dealt with when they were with Dean on the night of the 28th and day of the 29th.

Miss Chastain took the stand at 4 p.m. and answered questions by attorney Fowler concerning the statements she gave, also concerning where she and Dean Shaver went on the night of the 28th.

The first thing that Fowler asked his client was if the statements she gave the sheriff, Agent Miller and the attorney general were completely truthful. She answered in the affirmative.

Sue said she worked at Coles A&W in Loudon on the nights of March 29, 30, 31, April 1 and 2.

On April 3 she said she slept late, got up and did her laundry and went to pick up Karen Grubb at school (3 p.m.), came back and they talked and listened to records. She said she did not read newspapers or have a television set. Sue stated that about 4 p.m. Deputy Kenneth Brown knocked on her door and asked her to come to the county jail that Sheriff Russell wanted to ask her some questions.

On arrival at the jail Miss Chastain said she was told to sit down. That about an hour later Sheriff Russell came out of a back office and asked her to come in. She said as she went in the office Dean Shavey came out. She said Leon Miller was in the room also.

She stated that her rights were read to her and she signed a waiver, was offered use of the telephone but said she had no reason to call anyone and refused.

She said she made two statements about an hour and forty-five minutes apart, that was photographed and fingerprinted.

She said it was after dark and raining when she and Dean Shaver were taken to the courtroom and appeared before the judge (General Sessions Judge Thomas Ingram). She said that Ingram read charges against them, advised them of their rights and said she had been taken to Madisonville jail. Then she said she was taken to a car in the jail parking lot where she asked to get some things from her apartment and was refused, then taken to Madisonville.

She said her aunt, Mrs. Faye Everett, visited her the next day and brought clothes and told Margery her parents had been notified and were on the way.

The next day (Friday) she said that her mother, brother and aunt came to the jail and told her to tell the sheriff everything she knew about the case and it might go easy on her. She said she did not know anything.

She said that Sheriff Russell (talked to her for about four hours at the Madisonville jail and said that her parents had differences in this statement and the first two, according to what was introduced in court, is that the girl told of going to the Shaver house in Lenoir City and of the statements that Dean made to her after he came out.

She answered Fowler that she did not see Dean bring anything back to the car when he came out of the house and that the first time she saw the jar of pennies mentioned by the state as taken from Mrs. Everett and Mrs. Chastain to the stand for a brief time, and then Mr. Fowler rested his case.

Then before the final arguments, about five witnesses were recalled for brief statements of rebuttal and all sides rested at 10 a.m.

Final arguments lasted more than two hours with Assistant Attorney General John Crawford and Deatherage speaking for the prosecution and Sanders and Fowler for the defense.

Mr. Crawford said the jury, armed with the evidence in the case had to find that Shaver was guilty in the first degree. That testimony had been introduced that showed that he had killed his grandmother for money he believed she had and because of the hatred he had for her.

Crawford said the state believes, and only Dean Shaver knows for sure, that he being refused money took up the small knife and started stabbing his grandmother in the back and the knife hit her bone and bent. With the woman struggling he picked up the flower vase that was on Miss Chastain's side of the kitchen cabinet and struck her in the head. Then with the woman lying on the floor he took the big knife and struck the fatal blow of the knife near the heart. That he then went to the bedroom, took her money, ransacked the closets looking for the $100 he believed her to have and found only a small amount of pennies.

"Fear and guilt took over Alvin Dean Shaver after he left the house and he had to talk to someone. He told his companion Sue Chastain about it and finally days later she too had to tell it."

After the opening state argument Sanders pleaded the argument that Shaver was a 17 year old boy, on trial as an adult, had never been in trouble, had heard another boy say that he planned this terrible crime and that the prosecution should look into the motives of his witness. That after four hours of intense questioning by the attorney general and sheriff Margery Chastain probably would have said anything to get out of jail. That the officers had denied the right to see his family or let him talk to them, but spent hours questioning him without the benefit of the advice of counsel."

Sanders attacked the state fingerprint expert, wondering why the court was not shown the waxing, charts of the prints, instead the jury was asked to take the word of the state correct. He said a "no called expert" did not hide, he had no reason to hide, because he did not kill anyone. He asked the jury to see his own found guilty of first degree murder, second degree, manslaughter or involuntary manslaughter. The jury that they should not take the fact that the witnesses were the only facts. That his client did not refuse to testify and she answered completely and truthfully.

That Sue did not harbor or conceal Dean Shaver, that she was willing when asked and told officers all they asked. That she did not know what Dean Shaver did, and that she did not know what she later and he assured her he did not stab his grandmother.

"There is no case at all proving that Margery Sue was your verdict after the fact. Your verdict should be not guilty."

The final argument was presented by General Deatherage who said all the proof in the case pointed that the charges of first degree murder and accessory to murder were clearly proved and the verdicts should reflect the fact.

Deatherage said that like most criminals, Dean Shaver made a big mistake when he tried to hide his fingerprints off the vase that he struck his granny with as he did the keys. That he made voluntary statements to officers then got in a court of law and denied the statements. That he was charged with first degree murder as in granny's house since last fall. That vase was given to her with roses in it on Feb. 17. How did his fingerprints get on it if he had not been there?" Deatherage asked.

He said all the officers do is gather the evidence, then bring them to court and present them to the jury. "It is your decision of guilt or innocence. And the facts in this case were presented. You said you had no difficulty in bringing back a verdict of guilty and set punishment in line with the scope of the crime committed."

him. Asked by her attorney why she did not mention the statements Dean made about hitting his grandmother, she said she did not want to pay any attention to what he said.

General Deatherage said that she did drive to the 28th, but did not know who lived there at the time. She said that she did not turn off Sugar Limb Road, as Dean Shaver said, and turned off on side streets at his directions. Asked why she did not tell this in her first two statements, she said she did not remember.

Deatherage said, "You knew what he had done and you did not think it important to tell Sheriff Russell about it?" Miss Chastain replied, "I didn't remember."

"You gave five pages of the third statement before telling what he did. That was five days after the killing, Alvin were protecting Alvin?" Shaver replied, "No sir. When he said I didn't believe him."

Deatherage: "You knew what he had done and you did not think it important to tell the sheriff?"

Chastain: "That's correct."

Deatherage: "Isn't it a fact you discussed the killing while you were riding around?"

Chastain: "No. He talked about it. I did not say anything."

Deatherage: "Why didn't you talk about it?"

Chastain: "I had no reason to."

Deatherage: "Dean's sister Karen spent the night with you on Saturday after the 28th and there was no mention of her grandmother's death, let alone the fact she had been murdered?"

Chastain: "That's right."

Deatherage: "Didn't Dean tell you he killed her?"

Chastain: "Yes."

Deatherage: "Did that not interest you enough to tell officers? You were trying to shield Dean Shaver."

Chastain: "No sir."

Deatherage: "Did he ever say he hated his granny Shaver?"

Chastain: "Yes sir. Because she wouldn't let his mother go to his father's funeral or something like that."

Shaver's attorney then asked Miss Chastain if the officers were putting pressure on her for a statement or implicating his client. She said no that she had no complaints about her treatment while in jail.

Sanders said, "Do you believe Dean killed his grandmother?" Miss Chastain replied, "No sir I do not."

Asked why she did not tell what she said about Dean until the end of the third statement, Miss Chastain replied that she was never asked.

Court recessed on Wednesday about 5:30 p.m.

At the beginning of the fourth day of the trial Miss Chastain's lawyer called Mr. Everett and Mrs. Chastain to the stand for a brief time, and then Mr. Fowler rested his case.

Then before the final arguments, about five witnesses were recalled for brief statements of rebuttal and all sides rested at 10 a.m.

Second District Commissioner Lee Malone said, "It's just not fair to us to send a truck and crew of three men to the county garage to get gas. It will cost us a lot of money that could be spent on the roads."

First District Commissioner Lillard Bledsoe said he had no advance knowledge that he would not continue to have his own fuel supply until he tried to order gas last weekend and found that all the county fuel supply was being stored and being disbursed at the county garage.

The Commission will determine need for construction or expansion of Health Care Institutions including facilities and services. Certificates of Need will be issued, denied or revoked in accordance with the Law.

Mr. Bledsoe is currently President of the Hospital Trustees Council for the State of Tennessee. He is also President of the Mid-East Tennessee Hospital Council and Chairman of the Board of Trustees Woods Memorial Hospital District.

Your County In Action

BY Harvey L. Sproul

LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

Somewhere somebody is going to come up with a good definition of this process of the people governing themselves. The way this has been approached is by the formation of cities and counties on a local level, then going on up to the state, and federal governments.

But people, being people, and time having its way of moving on and changing things, it seems that there is no end to the problems and the struggle to provide services to citizens at the lowest tax cost possible.

In the time that I have been in office in this my first term, it seems that there is always four or five things going on which are somewhat controversial but nevertheless is something that has to be considered by the governing body and a decision made for the benefit of the people.

Sometimes these benefits are decisions that "step on the toes" of individuals or certain interests which have become vested over a period of time. Anyone knows that when a change is suggested, there is going to be a certain number of people who are going to be opposed, sometimes legitimately and sometimes illegitimately.

I have about come to the conclusion that if you ever see a government that seems to be going along smoothly without any disagreement or upset or criticism, then the officials involved are probably not doing their jobs.

This is not to say that there the organizing operation, and the central garage is now almost a reality.

But as usual, in the course of trying to do something new, there are departments that are going to have to be doing things differently than what they have in the past, and sometimes they resist very vehemently.

But the only way that you can try out a new system is to go ahead and do it, and then try to make adjustments as time goes on.

A central county garage has great potentiality to save the taxpayers a lot of money and we will hope that any problems that crop up will be overcome in the near future.

Other things that are in the process of being done involve a fair share of the Building Program and the adoption of a Building Code.

Here again, there have been some objections to the adoption of a Building Code by the County, but it was recommended by the Planning Commission for the purpose of protecting the

Government Seminar Set

Two seminars were held recently on classification and compensation for local government administrative and personnel officers from across the State of Tennessee.

One seminar was held in Knoxville and the other was held in Jackson, Tennessee.

More and more counties are becoming interested in equalizing duties, and responsibilities, in comparison to the compensation structure, and the objectives of these seminars were to explain the procedures and background of these plans.

The Town of Loudoun adopted a classification compensation plan earlier this year, and the County of Loudoun adopted a plan to be effective July 1, 1973, for many County employees.

MEMORY CARD: In memory of Juanita Lanham, who died July 21, 1973.

This month comes with deep regret, it brings a day I'll never forget. Your end was so sudden, it made us all cry, but the saddest part of all, you couldn't say goodbye. You were gone before I knew it and God only knows why. To someone may be forgotten, to others, just of the past, but to me that loved and lost you, your memory will always last. Sadly missed by mother, Molly Barr.

AUGUST 2 1973

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Things and places from years ago in our area take an important place in the realm of our memories. But the personal touch of the memories of people we knew years ago seem to take top place with us and our many readers. This way, sooner or later, each of us take our place in the roster of the Good Old Days era.

ture we have this week of a couple of Loudon boys from the Good Old Days era. They are Oford Moore, who many of us went to school with. Mr. Moore now lives in the West. The other boy is Mr. Sharp, son of Ellis Sharp, who operated Sharp's grocery in Loudon for many years.

We have said many times that school groups created as much interest as anything we use, and we are always glad to have folks loan them to us for the Good Old Days.

We have one this week that will be of interest to those in the Loudon City area. It is many years old and we cannot identify all in the picture but a few of them are Maynard to graduate from Loudon High to that date and Mrs. Ball stated that many of those in the picture stayed around the Loudon area to make their homes. This being the first class to graduate on the hill and now that the new high school has been built, we feel that copies of pictures of this type which depict a bit of our area history should somehow be preserved for future generations. We tried at one time a few years back to get something started on this but we were not successful at that time but maybe it could be initiated now.

Fine, Edward Fine, Fred Byrum, Lacy Spoon, Flora Limburg, Nannie Carmichael, Kathleen Sanders, Mae Sherwood, Ester Freeman, Laura Hudgins, Sylvia Upsteen, Edna Babby, Nell Wheat, Howard Jarvis and many others we cannot identify. The teacher of this old class was Lois Brezauz. A couple of weeks we ran the Loudon High School graduation class of 1935, which was the first class to graduate after the high school had been moved to the Hill. We now have a list of those in this old picture which was supplied to us by Mrs. Essie Ball. We are very grateful to Mrs. Ball for her help. Those in the picture are (first row) James Long, Willis Ishill, Jack Campbell, Harold Pardo, Leonard Catcart, Babe Huffine, Marie Moore, Eunice Porter, Hazel Alexander, Maxwell Blankenship, James McNabb, Ralph Prestley, Robert Custard and Kenneth Courtney. Second row, Pauline Hall, Anna Bell Cox, Martha Robinson, Jeanette Gray, Juanita Watts, Alma Jones, Annie Reeves James, Lois Delagg, Eugene Ward, Essie Miller, Elizabeth Kline, June Wintle, Margaret Jones, Francis Huffine, and Blanche Purdy. Third row, Eugene McMahon, James Oscar Harrison, Joe Crowder, Stanley Davis, Johnny Rhines, Fred Tullack, W. E. Huff, Osborne Allen, Larry Griffiths, Clarence Cox, Raymond Smullen and the two who were not present when picture was made are George Purdy and Eugene Watkins.

Next week we have some pictures that will be of interest to many of our readers so don't miss these next week.

social security benefits were being paid to residents of Loudon County at a rate of $56,000 a month at the close of 1972. William McClure, social security manager in Knoxville said today.

Of the social security beneficiaries living in Loudon County, 2,548 are retired workers and their dependents. Another 1,002 are receiving benefits as the survivors of workers who have died, and 654 are getting benefits as disabled workers or their dependents.

William McClure pointed out that although most social security beneficiaries are older people, about one out of every four is under age 60. In Loudon County, 1,158 people under age 60 are collecting social security payments each month. Nearly 592 are under age 18, receiving payments because a working father or mother has died or is getting social security disability or retirement benefits.

Beneath this soft and warm exterior, there lies a heart of plastic.

So far, it's only a valve. Eight-year-old Janet Hernandez has one.

It may not be long before a whole working heart will be made out of plastic.

Men in plastics research at Union Carbide are working on the almost impossible job of designing plastics compatible with the body.

Their most crucial job is making an ultra-thin polypropylene fabric for lining the inside of the heart. A fabric coated with parylene that will allow human tissue to grow into and around it to keep blood from clotting.

A plastic heart isn't the only part of the body we're working on. Maybe someday there will be a little plastic in all of us.

Right now, we've got you surrounded by our plastics. We were in plastics before most people knew the word. We make more plastics than anyone else. We haven't scratched the surface yet.

Why is a great big company like Union Carbide so concerned about a little bit of plastic for the body?

Because.

Beneath our corporate exterior, there beats a heart.

BAD MANNERS IN COURT—

Squire Henry Foster lost his cool Monday night in County Court, something he probably wishes he hadn't done. Squire Foster made some very sharp remarks and charges to County Judge Harvey Sproul concerning the changes that are proposed in the OEO programs that are discussed elsewhere in this issue.

We are not defending Judge Sproul, certainly the things that were said in court Monday night were not favorable to the judge, but at the same time we probably did not hear the whole story. Perhaps we will get the full impact Thursday night.

Squire Foster, who holds to elected jobs (also Lenoir City Recorder), not only embarrassed himself, whether or not he realizes it, but many other members of the court.

Tuesday morning two members of the court, including one that sides with Foster on the particular issue, called us and indicated the distaste they felt by Foster's remarks. In our eyes Judge Foster has displayed very poor actions in the last two court meetings.

We are at least glad that the County Judge had the ability to hold his temper, and surely he was boiling, and did not engage in the type of debate Squire Foster was itching for.

We were also proud of Squire Jim Blair for moving into the controversy and getting a couple of days delay in any action so all the cards could be put on the table with hopes some members of the court could act more their age and cast their vote with more information.

Even if Judge Foster wins his point, and we are not saying he is wrong, his actions Monday night were disgraceful.

STATE ARSON INVESTIGATOR Marion Wampler (center) and Deputy Lake Bright are shown talking with Jim Linginfeller of Greenback at a barn the man has charged a renter with attempting to burn down as the result of an argument between the pair over an eviction notice on the renter.

Woman Charged With Attempted Arson, Man With Assault

A Greenback woman has been charged with attempted arson and the man she rents a house from with felonious assault after an incident between the two last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lindamood and Jim Linginfeller are both under $2500 bond pending a hearing in General Sessions Court at Loudon Friday.

Man Sought For Rape At Greenback

Loudon County law enforcement officers are looking for a man about 40 years old, six foot tall, 200 pounds, with black wavy hair, driving a two tone blue Mustang with Illinois license plates who is believed to have raped an 18 year old Greenback woman last Friday afternoon.

County Deputy Lake Bright said that the victim, who lives with her parents near Greenback, said the man came to the back door of her home about 1:30 p.m. Friday as she was cutting corn in the den.

She said the man asked if anyone else was at home and that he wanted to talk to her father. She reportedly told the man she was alone and he would have to come back after he said he wanted to wait. At this point she told officers he pulled a gun, came in the house and raped her on the den floor.

A man answering the same description was also reported to have attempted to enter another house in the area the same afternoon.

Both made appearance bonds of $2500 to Sessions Court. A hearing is slated for Friday.

State Arson Investigator Marion Wampler went to the farm Saturday and said that definitely someone had poured diesel or some similar type of fuel in one of the barns but that there had been no fire.

Controversy Erupts Over OEO Programs

Loudon County Court will meet Thursday night to hear "both sides" of a question of whether to pull out of the Mid East Community Action Agency, made up of Loudon and Roane Counties, and seek to preserve the county's NYC and Manstream programs for another year.

The decision to call an adjourned session came early in Monday night's regular session after both Supt. of Schools Albert Dukes and Squire Henry Foster leveled charges against County Judge Harvey Sproul that he had allowed the county to lose 44 percent of its funds for the program.

Dukes then proposed a resolution calling for Loudon County's withdrawal from the Community Action Agency with Roane County and seeking alliance, instead, with Morgan, Scott and Anderson Counties.

The move, Supt. Dukes told the Court, would be the county's only chance of saving $48,000 in OEO funds which otherwise are now slated to go to Roane County for a Manpower Development Training Agency school in Harrison.

JUDGE SPROUL told the Court he had spent "hours and hours" in meetings in which all sides of the question had been explored and that the change reflects new policy coming down from Washington.

Discussion revealed that recent meetings of the Executive Committee of the East Tennessee Development Council have resulted in a decision to divert 44 percent of funds which otherwise would have gone to NYC and Manstream to training school programs such as the Manpower Development Training Agency school in Harrison.

ETDD had been told, Judge Sproul related that in the Atlanta region 44 percent of local funds be derived from Manstream programs, NYC and Manstream; to training programs. "It now appears that this information was not correct," he said.

He pointed out, "We are facing a national policy change coming down at us." Squire I.D. Conner attempted to get a motion on the floor to adopt Mr. Dukes' resolution, but Judge Sproul ruled him out of order.

"This matter is not on the agenda," he told the Court, "and is almost directly opposite of what the County has been doing for the past eight years."

"AFTER A RECESS, Squire Conner again moved adoption of the resolution and Judge Sproul ruled it out of order a second time, holding that the resolution proposed "extensive changes" and not being on the agenda, and the Squires had not had advance notice as required by guidelines under the court operates.

Mr. Foster protested bitterly Judge Sproul's actions in ETDD meetings "I begged you to set up a meeting of people from Loudon County and Roane County to look into this thing, but you just ignored me. Now that the Court is ready to do something about it, you say we ought to have a meeting, and you won't let us vote on it."

Hagler Elected To School Board, Neal Building Inspector

In what turned out to be an abbreviated business session, after lengthy discussions on the gasoline dispute between the court and the Road Commissioners and over the placement of funds in county OEO programs, County Court did act on several major items and delayed several more to an adjourned session slated for 9 p.m. tonight (Thursday).

On a vote of 5 to 4 the court named John B. Hagler, an Internal Revenue Service employee, of Lenoir City, to the County Board of Education replacing Charlie Edden who had resigned.

Hagler, nominated by Squire James Hartsook, was elected over A.J. Smith, a member of the county equalization board, who was nominated by Squire Curtis Williams, by one vote. Voting for Hagler were Squires J.J. Blair, I.D. Conner, Henry Foster, Hartsook and J.G. Hudson. Smith's votes came from Roy Bledsoe, Boyd Duerkworth, Williams and R.P. Hamilton.

After the roll call vote Williams made a motion that the vote be changed to show unanimous support for Hagler. The motion carried on voice vote.

Hagler, nominated by Squire James Hartsook, was elected over A.J. Smith, a member of the county equalization board, who was nominated by Squire Curtis Williams, by one vote. Voting for Hagler were Squires J.J. Blair, I.D. Conner, Henry Foster, Hartsook and J.G. Hudson. Smith's votes came from Roy Bledsoe, Boyd Duerkworth, Williams and R.P. Hamilton.

"I've been sitting here listening to all this, and I've always been a Democrat, but I can't help but feel like I've just heard one side of this thing," he said. "The Court could come back here Wednesday or Thursday night of his week and we could have everybody here from both sides and then make a decision."

The meeting was set for 7 p.m. Thursday.

Court Refused To Yield On Gas, Road Dept. Closed

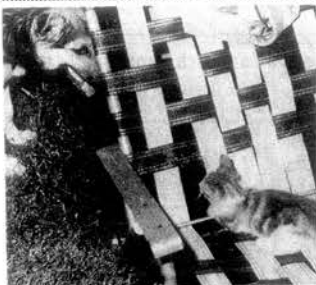

Loudon County Court heard long and loud complaints Monday night about gasoline for county vehicles being available only at the County Garage, but the Squires said little in response, and took no action to change the policy.

The issue came up last week with the opening of the County Garage in the old Riverview School building at Lenoir City. A 6,000 gallon gasoline tank located there has been designated by the County Court Purchasing Committee as the single point from which gasoline distribution for all county vehicles is to be made. The three Road Commissioners, Lillard Bledsoe of the First and Fourth Districts, Lee Malone of the Second and Fifth, and Joe Greenway of the Third announced immediately that they would not take their trucks or other vehicles to the County Garage as he filled up and that they were "shut down" until County Court takes some action.

THE ISSUE WAS the first to be raised in the public discussion portion of Monday night's meeting of County Court. Ralph Bradshaw of Loudon wanted to know "by whose yardstick" was it SLIGHT OVERMATCH—From their actions apparently there was not much difference in the ages of the cat and dog in the picture above, but size makes the friendly confrontation a mismatch favoring the dog. Herald editor Larry Cate got these shots while attending a political meeting at the home of William H. Russell last week. Note the determination of the kitten. Finally owner Russell had to rescue the kitten from the dog who became annoyed with the kitten and started playing for keeps.

Murder Suspect Moved

Loudon County Sheriff Freeman Russell reported that last Friday he moved Fred Allen Berry, who is awaiting trial here for murder, from Blount County Jail to the Knox County Jail.

The action came after Russell said that Blount County officers reported that Berry, 30, was causing problems and was believed planning an escape attempt.

Berry is being held in lieu of $20,000 bond. He was arrested in Georgia on a Loudon County warrant charging him with the murder of his ex-wife, Carolyn Gentry Berry of Caralyo.

Loudon Mrs. Berry disappeared from her parent's home in Loudon on Feb. 14 and her decomposed body was found on April 13 in a barn at Loudon.

Berry is scheduled to go on trial in Criminal Court on August 27.

It is understood that Berry wrote a letter to a Maryville newspaper saying that he was being mistreated, not allowed phone calls and was afraid.

Pilot Group Sets Meeting

Some 15 Loudon County pilots and others interested in flying took the initial step last Wednesday night in forming The Loudon County Flying Club and Pilots Association.

At the meeting a committee of four men were appointed to work out details for the formal organization of the group at a meeting to be held at 7:45 p.m. Thursday, August 16 at the courthouse.

Those named to the committee were Larry Cate, chairman, Don McMurray, Gerald Cole and David Denton. The committee is to draft a set of by-laws, establish the purposes and goals of the organization to be presented at the August 16 meeting.

In all some 30 pilots, student pilots and others interested in General Aviation were mentioned as possible members of the group. Those who's names were mentioned will receive special notice of the meeting and all others interested are invited to attend.

One main topic of the meeting was a discussion concerning the possibilities of a general aviation airport for the county. Loudon is only one of the few counties in the state that does not have a "publicly owned airport."

Condemnation Suits Tried

$150,000 Wreck Case Slated

Two days are scheduled on the Circuit Court docket this week for the trial of two lawsuits that resulted from a tire auto accident on Highway 72 West of Loudon last year where one man burned to death and several others were injured.

The trial is scheduled for Thursday and Friday of this week. In the case Betty J. Williams, widow of Billy W. Williams, who was killed in the accident, is seeking $150,000 in damages and $5000 in property damages from William F. Ward, owner of one of the other vehicles involved.

At an award of $4,500 was given to Charles and Eleanor Mason for 5.45 acres taken for 1-75 from their property. There were no incidental damages.

Jacob W. Mashburn received an award of $327.32 against State Farm Insurance Company for Breach of Contract. A directed verdict was given in favor of a co-defendant, John B. Millsaps in the same case.

have the contractors and the County Planning Commission have joint meetings to work out a county building code that all parties could live with.

He stated that a state official had recently rated the Loudon County Ambulance Service as the second best in Tennessee behind only the Memphis Ambulance Service.

I-75 Paving Starts Here

Road Builders Inc. of Nashville has begun the first stage paving and other work on the 5.3 mile section of Interstate 75 from Dickey Road to the bridge over the Tennessee River in Loudon County, Transportation Commissioner Robert F. Smith announced today.

The contract awarded Feb. 16 by the Tennessee Department of Transportation calls for completion of the project by August 1974.

The contract provides for the construction of a roadway base, first stage paving, the application of deck sealant to three bridges on the section and the installation of guard-rail and signs. It will cost $2,300,496, Smith said.

Court Refused To Yield On Gas, Road Dept. Closes

Commissioners over a recent Chancery Court lawsuit which was ruled in favor of the Commissioners.

Squire J. J. Blair attempted to explain that the program was worked out before the present gasoline shortage and at that time it was found that gasoline could be bought for 14 cents per gallon—a savings of about six cents if the county would sign a contract with a single supplier to make tanker-load deliveries to a single point.

The gasoline and the repair services at the garage are for more than the three highway districts. The Sheriff's Dept., the hospital and the schools also are involved, he said.

The gasoline shortage spoiled these plans. It was pointed out, and the county's contract is for 19.11 cents per gallon. Lenoir City, it was noted, is paying about 22 cents per gallon.

The Road Commissioners said, however, that they have been told the gasoline supplier will deliver the fuel to their individual tanks for the same price.

Road Commissioner Lee Malone complained bitterly about the plan. "I figure my gas will cost me 20 to 30 cents per gallon if I have to run a truck with three men in it all the way around in the County garage to get gas."

"I think we're throwing away money," he said.

"WIDE-SHIRT DOWN. And we'll be shut down for a month if it does it," he threatened.

County Judge Harvey Sproul pointed out that Purchasing Agent Arnold "Buddy" Brinkman was on vacation and had served as "administrator" of the central garage program since it was decided by County Court to set it up.

"Nobody on the Court, nobody in the County wants to do anything that will hurt the people. But the position of the Purchasing Committee, as I understand it, is to let it for a while and see how it works."

He mentioned a proposal to install saddle tanks on county trucks so they would need less frequent refueling. Another proposal calls for the possibility of a service truck to take fuel where it is needed.

ATY John Gibson, speaking for the Road Commissioners, said the county's contract calls for delivery to three locations in the county at the same price.

It would take an hour to send a truck from either the Philadelphia or the Greenback area to Lenoir City to refuel, he said. "Gentlemen, you're just losing money."

"PAUL KERLEY, head mechanic and general manager of the County Garage, said "We realized here would be some complaints" when it was contemplated making a change "this big." But he insisted that "preventive maintenance offers the chance to save the county money. He cited a 44 percent discount on repair parts the county is getting."

"I will take time to iron out some of the problems," he said. "So far as the distribution of gasoline, we're going to have to work it out."

At one point, Judge Sproul stated that "perhaps the best deal" he could get is a Friday morning when I run out of fuel," he said.

Judge Sproul, noting again that the purchasing agent was on vacation, promised to try to find a solution to the problem.

But the Court took no action on the matter. The situation remains the same, with gasoline available at the County garage and the Road Commissioners continuing to refuse to use it.

decided that the county could save money by running trucks all the way from Philadelphia to Lenoir City and back every time they need gasoline.

Concerning the proposed add floor addition, Connor said some of the necessary surveys and studies are being made before action of the County Health Council can be taken.

Their approval is mandatory before securing state and federal grants for the project.

Connor reported that this far this year the Ambulance Service is about $1,900 in the red and collections averaged about 29 percent. He said this was about normal in the first year of operations but experienced elsewhere showed this would increase to about 60 to 65 percent in three years.

He stated that a state official had recently rated the Loudon County Ambulance Service as the second best in Tennessee behind only the Memphis Ambulance Service.

Judge Sproul received authorization to make application for the purchase of two ambulances through a state program whereby the state would furnish 75 percent of the funds. In discussion it was mentioned that the program is allocating only one ambulance per county, but if there were some funds not used the county might get authorization for two vehicles.

Henry Mitchell, a member of the Loudon Regional Planning Commission, was named the Loudon representative of the Board of Zoning Appeals.

requirements of the Tennessee Valley region. The past year's increase brought sales back up to about the level they would have reached with normal growth over the three-year period.

TVA said this spurt in power use means greater urgency in completing new power facilities on schedule. Three nuclear power plants and a pumped-storage peaking power plant are under construction and scheduled to go into operation on the TVA system during the next five years.

Projections by power system planners indicate that these additions to generating capacity should be adequate to keep up with the expected rise in power demands and avoid shortages—unless these projects are delayed beyond present timetables, or pollution control compliance schedules disrupt the operation of existing power plants.

TVA power sales grew to 8 billion kWh by 1943, 24 billion by 1953, 64 billion in 1963, and the more than 103 billion kWh sold in fiscal year 1973. TVA is the country's largest power producer, supplying electricity at wholesale to 160 municipal and cooperative systems that serve local consumers in most of Tennessee and parts of six adjoining states.

Loudon Countains Attend Conference

Loudon County representatives were among hundreds of individuals concerned with planning and the problems of sediment control in Tennessee who gathered in Nashville July 24 and 25 to attend a Sediment Control Conference. The conference was sponsored by the Tennessee Association of Conservation Districts and the State Soil Conservation Committee in cooperation with the National Association of Conservation Districts and the Environmental Protection Agency.

Jones Assigned

Army Private First Class Michael E. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Jones, route 2, Lenoir City, was assigned to the 60th Air Defense Artillery in Pirman, Germany.

PFC Jones is a Vulcan crewman in Battery A of the 2D Battalion Artillery.

The conference focused on the problem of sediment control which is created by urban development and agricultural activities and the possible remedies for these problems to be found through planning. Among measures discussed were contour stripcropping, terraces, windbreaks, tree planting, improved cover, improved construction practices and other land treatment practices.

According to the State Sediment Control Institute, sediment is one of the largest single pollutants of our streams and lakes by volume. Because of widespread interest in this subject, and spurred by public concern over environmental matters, the National Association of Conservation Districts (NACD) was awarded a contract by the Environmental Protection Agency to provide assistance in conducting a series of conferences to explore the problems of sediment control. This conference was one of several which are being held across the country.

DRIVER INJURED—Mary Huff, R1, 4, Loudon sustained a possible broken nose about 3:25 p.m. Friday when her car ran off Steeple Road, jumped a culvert and came to a stop in a ditch. Ambulance attendants are shown preparing to take the woman, 23, to the hospital after the accident. She told Deputy Kenneth Brown that she swerved to miss a car that was turning off the road when the accident occurred. A small child in the car sustained a cut mouth in the accident.

TVA Sales Up 14 Percent

Tennessee Valley Authority power sales rose by 14 percent in the fiscal year ended June 30, to a new high of 103.5 billion kilowatt-hours.

That was an increase of more than 12.3 billion kWh over the previous year. To put that in scale, out of the hundred largest electric power suppliers in the United States only about the top third have annual sales of more than 12 billion kWh.

L.C.'s Galyon Performs For East

West All Stars Surprise East In Two Of Three Games

LENOIR CITY'S GALYON CHECKS WEST DEFENSE—Lenoir City's Tim Galyon (50) checks the West All Star defense before departing from the East's offensive huddle. Galyon performed well as the East's center.

COLLEGE STARS OF THE FUTURE—Tim Galyon, 1972 standout football player for Lenoir City and named to several news media all star units, rests on the side line while the East All Star defensive team is on the field. Pictured from left to right is George Heath (32) Bristol running back named to several high school All America teams and headed to VPI to play college ball, McMinn County's Kayro Arwine (42), Galyon (50) a MTSU football signee, and East Coach King Herrog and his son Rick, who served as team manager and will be a returning starter on this year's Sweetwater football squad.

The East All Stars, favored in all three TSSAA games during the weekend, were caught napping in two of them.

The East girls, playing superb basketball, dropped a 56-52 decision in the first All-Star encounter Friday night. The East boys basketball team lived up to expectations, handing the West an impressive, 108-96, setback.

But, the football surprised the shocker of the weekend. The West used its tough defense to stun the favored East, 14-6, ending a six-year domination of the series by the East.

Scoring began in the football game, played under the lights at the University of Tennessee's Neyland Stadium, with a first-quarter touchdown by Terrell Middleton of Memphis Southside. Middleton sparked the West throughout the game.

The West upped its lead to 14-0 in the second quarter on a pass from Hory Ferrell of Battle Ground Academy to Randolph Williamson of Nashville Pearl.

The East's highly explosive offense scored its only touchdown in the third quarter on an eighty-yard plunge by Sweetwater's Kippy Brown. The West defense kept the East in check during the remainder of the game.

Ferrell, who will attend the U.S. Naval Academy, was named the most valuable player in the game. Middleton was high in the balloting.

The West had a total offense of 43 yards, 41 rushing and 41 passing. The East had 103 yards, but got only 18 on the ground. Approximately 7,000 fans watched the game.

Lenoir City's Tim Galyon performed well for the East team as the offensive center. Galyon was in on every East offensive series but two.

The hard playing Panther will report to Middle Tennessee State University August 16 for fall workouts. The Raiders signed Galyon to a four-year scholarship at the close of the regular high school season. District Three (small) and District Eight (large) teamed to spark the East girls' basketball game. Townsend's Sharon Godfrey and Everest's Sue Thomas accounted for 30 of the East's 52 points.

Godfrey had an outstanding night, hitting eight of 16 shots from the field and pacing the East squad with 18 points. Thomas had an off night from the field, hitting six of 12 shots for 12 points.

Bradley County's Debbi Varner and Porter's Linda Vaughn were perhaps the most outstanding defensive players for the entire game. The duo forced several turn-overs and pulled off numerous steals when the East was trying to battle back from a 10-point deficit late in the game. Kim Grizzle of Gallatin was named the game's most valuable player, directing the West offense. Teammate Teresa Hale sparked a third-quarter surge by the West that eventually won the game. Hale finished the contest with 27 points, high for both teams. Grizzle added 16 points.

sextet clash. The final picture catches Mary Louise Ledbetter, East chaperon and Loudon City P.E. Instructor, far back in her chair as she watches the East team fall for the fourth time in the seven year series.

League Leading Millsaps Duet Capture Low Team Honors; Share Best Individual Score

Larry and Lynn Millsaps with the Loudon City Golf League Championship under foot applied a bit of insult to injury to their challengers by combining for a team low net score of 68 and take top team honors for the week. The championship play, capped them 14 team points and 138 total points to date in the league.

To make things even more outside for last week's play was the fact that both Larry and Lynn shared top medalist honors with matching rounds of 34. This is the first time a team and both members of the team has won all the league honors. Harrison Henry and Kenneth Brown had 34's to slip into the medalist group with the Millsaps brothers.

Hodge And Scarbrough Way Out Front In Union Carbide Golf Play

Herb Hodge and Austin Scarbrough appear to be enjoying their position in the Union Carbide Golf League Standings. The golfing duet climbed to the top of the league on July 11 and have not budged since. Herb and Austin really got into gear last week with 20 points for their round of competition. The high point total came as a result of a low team net score of 77 and the individual medalist efforts of Hodge, who fired a 36. Mike

Goody, back from National Guard Camp, appears back in his old playing form with a share of the low individual medalist honors by notching a round of 36. Jack Randolph and Carlos Evans are in second place in team play with 182 team points, but picked up just 11 points in last week's outing and now stand 23 points shy of first place.

Handolph is the current individual point leader in the league with 70 points to date. Herb Hodge with 68 points and Mike Goody, 51 points, are the challengers in this phase of the league.

Boyeck Kirkland and John Lennox are back in second place in the league with 106 team points to date. Cliff Miller and Bert Ratledge moved to third place with 106 points, while Paul Brakobill and Ed Arnold share the position with 106. Five teams have 100 points or better in the heated battle for second place.

Hank Maxwell Wins Fourth Cedar Hills Pro-Am Invitational This Weekend

In the days of the cave man the male displayed his superiority over woman with brute strength — and stories have it that sometimes even used a club when necessary. All right, girls, you have a chance to get even. You can "club" right back at the guys in the Cedar Hills Invitational golf tournament Saturday and Sunday.

A Budweiser pro-am—which has almost a full complement of teams — is to be played this week with shotgun starts at 9 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Qualifying for the 36-hole tournament—open to men and women—ends Friday. Entries must be submitted to Pro Bill Johnson by Friday. Those who wish may declare "for the championship flight."

"If a woman's qualifying score is good enough, she can play in the championship flight, first flight ... right along with the men," Johnson said.

"Of course, they'll be allowed to hit from the ladies' tee."

Entry fee is $20. Included in the fee is a practice round, the 36-hole competition, a party Saturday night. Each player will receive a dozen Maxwell golf balls. Seven prizes will be awarded in each flight.

Hank Maxwell, driving the familiar red, white, and blue Chevrolet of Briggs Body Shop in Newport maintained the lead throughout the fifty-lap feature from his pole position at Smoky Mountain Raceway last Saturday night. Maxwell had earlier worked his way through an inverted field of Sportman cars to win the last 10-lap race.

Jack Hannah of Chattanooga completely totalled his car, a Chevelle sponsored by Ed Wright Chevrolet, while qualifying. He lost control on the back straightaway and careened into the hobby pit wall. Although shaken up somewhat at first, he did not appear to be injured.

All victories of the night were by half a straightaway, but the second and third place finishes were hotly contested in every event. Chet Williams of Morristown and Jim Hunter of Knoxville were side by side during the last few laps of the feature, with Williams nosing out Hunter on the front straightaway just before crossing the flagman's stand at the finish. Drivers finishing fourth, fifth, and sixth were Bud Ledford of Johnson City, Dick Garrett of Chattanooga, and Gary O'Dell of Newport.

Paul Lewis of Johnson City dropped out early in the race with mechanical problems. On the eighth lap Charley Rogers of Knoxville and Jim Hunter grazed each other as Rogers tried to pass Hunter in a try for second position. Rogers developed transmission linkage trouble later and was forced to pit with a shower of sparks pouring from under his car.

Jimmy Hillard of New Market blew a tire during the 23rd lap and was forced to drop out of the running.

In the heat race, Paul Lewis, driving the Don Rader car out of Johnson City, easily won with Jimmy Hillard and John K. Williams of Narginville battling it out for second and third place to finish in that order.

The second heat race, held among the fastest qualifiers, was inverted. Maxwell came all the way from the rear of the field in four laps to take the lead for an easy win. Rogers passed Garrett on the last lap for the second place position.

In the hobby event, J.T. Kerr of Maryville maintained the lead all the way for an easy victory to widen his points lead at the Maryville track.

K.L. Green of Harriman was running second until he spun out. Regaining control, he got back in the race but again spun out on the next lap in an effort to catch up with Kerr. He retired to the pits and did not reenter the race.

Darrell Parrott of Maryville spun out on the 15th lap but moved back through the field to finish third behind Lynn Smallen of Loudon. Fourth and fifth places were taken by Bob Smith of Cherokee, N.C., and Ernie Phillips of Friendville.

Several door prizes, donated by local merchants, were given away as part of the annual Family Night activities held that night.

Several out-of-town drivers are expected this Saturday night to participate in a fifty lap feature event, with two ten-lap heat races. A twenty-five lap Hobby race will be held for the Hobby drivers also. Gates open at 6 p.m. at the NASCAR-sanctioned oval located ten miles south of Maryville on Brick Mill Road. Qualifying will commence at 7:00 p.m. with the racing program to begin at 8:30 p.m. Admission will be $2 and $3 with children under twelve admitted free.

Loudon's Ken Phillips After Atomic Speedway Point Lead

Ken Phillips, who established a record at Atomic Speedway earlier this season when he captured three straight late model sportman feature races, appears ready to make a run at the points lead.

Phillips tries for a second straight win Saturday night at the dirt facility. Ken finished strong to take last week's event after a misfortune struck the early front-runner, H.E. Vineyard.

One of the biggest programs of the season is on tap. In addition to the regular weekly show, there'll be a demolition derby and the final qualifying for the $100 bicycle race will be held.

Time trials start the action at 7 p.m. The first wheel-to-wheel competition is to get the green flag at 8:30.

To be in the hand to challenge Phillips and Vineyard for top prize money will be the Corum boys—Little Bill and Melvin, points leader Tootle Estes, Johnny Hogan, Tex Gibson, Snooks DeFoor, Buddy Rogers and a host of others.

The hobby action is getting keener each week with Tony Presley and Jerry Vineyard battling for top money week after week. Bomber division drivers will be going 15 laps this weekend. More than 25 cars were on hand last Saturday night.

Latest qualifiers for the bicycle race are David Bruce, Jimmy Lowery, Jack Price and Steve Todd. The live-lap championship race will include 16 riders.

The speedway is located east of Kingston on I-40 at the Melton Hill exit.

Polish your marksmanship because dove season is just a few weeks away. This elusive feathered target will tax the patience of Tennessee hunters beginning September 1 from noon until sunset.

Dove season will be divided into three phases: September 1-30; October 1-28 and December 22-January 14. Daily limit has been set at 12 birds.

Duck season will also open in September on blue-wing, green-wing and cinnamon tail. Opening date will be September 22 with a daily limit of four. The season ends on September 30. Shooting hours will begin one hour after sunrise and close one hour before sunset.

Squirrel season is just around the corner and hunters can expect to find the bushy-tailed galore. Roy Anderson, Game and Fish Management Chief, says "the squirrel crop across the Volunteer State makes the hunting prospects very promising."

August opens the door on Tennessee's hunting season with squirrel hunting getting underway on the fourth Saturday, August 25. Daily limit for squirrel will be six. Hunting dates for wildlife management areas are contained in the 1973-74 edition of the "Guide to Tennessee Hunting," available at any local license agency.

Broken Any Records?
Records are meant to be broken, so here are some to aim for in Tennessee: Rockfish, 30 lbs.; Largemouth bass, 14 lbs., 8 ozs.; smallmouth bass, 11 lbs., 15 ozs.; bluegill, 2 lbs., 8 ozs.; rainbow trout, 14 lbs., 8 ozs.; channel catfish, 34 lbs., 3 1/2 ozs.; and walleye, 25 lbs.

Commission Meeting Set

The 19-member Tennessee Game and Fish Commission will hold a regularly scheduled meeting on August 18, 1973. Commission Director David M. Goodrich announced the session will be held in Nashville at 9:30 A.M. (COT). The public is invited to attend the meeting which will be held at the Ellington Agricultural Center, Commission headquarters. One of the main items for discussion will be the waterfowl hunting regulations. Comments and selection of duck blind projects will also be conducted. The public is invited to witness the process.

Director Goodrich stated that those wishing to appear before the Commission should contact his office by writing Box 40747, Nashville, Tennessee 37204 or call 615-741-1431.

Skating After Dark Prohibited

Tennessee water enthusiasts should be aware of the dangers of skating after dark. Philip Tidwell, Boating Chief for the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission, points out that it is illegal because of the hazards involved. Tidwell notes that that underwater obstructions may create hazards to the skier and boater during daylight. Darkness not only compounds the problem but also makes it difficult to see a fallen skier.

Boating regulations can be obtained from District Game and Fish officers or by writing Box 40747, Nashville, Tennessee 37204.

Chief Tidwell also stated

Roane State Has New Fall Program

This fall, Roane State Community College will begin another new program under its division of Career Education. The new program offers the Associate Science Degree in Recreation Management and Administration.

Recreation Management and Administration Technology at Roane State will take a basic core of recreation courses. Following the basic courses, students may select an emphasis in one or more of the following career areas: Camp Administration, Park Administration, Marine Management, and Recreation Leadership.

The primary objectives of the Recreation Management and Administration program are to provide the student with: (1) the basic background information required to understand the environment within which he will work, (2) the basic technical training and experience needed to be a productive employee, and (3) the educational foundation needed to undertake further study through in-service training, professional advancement, or enrollment in a four-year program.

The re-training and upgrading of people already employed in recreation-related fields is another objective of the program. The program is aimed not only at recent high school graduates, but persons who are working with pre-school groups, school-age children and young adults, adults, senior citizens, clientele of commercial resorts, and public and private recreational programs, as well.

We were pleased last week to use a picture of the old Grammar School in Lenoir City and were equally pleased with the comments we had of this well known school era. We regret that we could not identify those in the picture. We were able to do this only in part, but are hopeful that someone will come through with the information. The picture we are using this week is the same school a few years later. Again we have only partial identification. Included in the photo are Mattie Browder, Nannie Carmichael, Mae Sherwood, Addie Hudgins, Laura Hudgins, Edna Rabb, Lucy Spoon, Fred Byrum, Flora Lintburg, Kathleen Sow, and the teacher a Mrs. Foster. The picture was made on August 2, 1919.

However he did project some ideas we will discuss in the future. We were delighted to have him call and this occasion he promised some interesting pictures for future publication.

A couple of weeks ago we asked if anyone just by chance would have a picture of the 20's Memphis Special train wreck which occurred across the railroad bridge. Several called and asked if the Herald had a copy of the paper of this date. Up until the paper became the property of its present owners, it contained few pictures and most of the time, not any at all. The reason being that the old type of printing made the publication of pictures expensive.

Anyway, we also got some letters, one from Mrs. Ruth Peters Thomas of Lapel, Indiana, stating that they didn't have pictures of the train wreck but they did send along some other train wrecks in our area. Thanks.

We won't be able to use them at one time, but we will scatter them through the next several weeks. Two of these pictures were made near the crossing at the Loudon Depot and show quite a mess. These pictures were made in 1929, possibly during the winter months. One of the pictures shows the utility men on the power poles. Looking left to right, the first is Charlie Varner, the other is unidentified. The other photo was made looking west just beyond

Court Asks Change In NYC Sponsorship At 4 Hour Session

Loudon County Court, after listening to four hours of discussion - marked by charges and counter-charges between Squire Henry Foster and Mid-East Community Action Agency Director Jack Smith - Thursday night adopted a compromise resolution calling for sponsorship of Neighborhood Youth Corps and Mainstream programs to be returned to the City of Lenoir City.

Dukes, who raised the issue Monday night, withdrew his proposal and asked that County Court vote, instead, to ask that sponsorship be placed back in the hands of the City of Lenoir City, where it has been for the past eight years.

When the issue got into dispute at Monday night's meeting, the Court voted for a special session Thursday night to go into the matter in depth.

The emphasis is on training, the Court was told, not direct employment programs, such as NYC and Mainstream. Squire J. J. Blair wanted to know, "Regardless of where the County goes (whether Mid-East Community Action Agency or the Anderson, Morgan Scott organization) we are still under the authority of the Manpower Planning Board?"

Search On For Missing Youth

Loudon and Roane County authorities are conducting an investigation and search into the disappearance of 14 year old Creed Wright. The youth was reported missing late Saturday night by his brother Edward Wright of Paw Paw Springs Road.

For about three hours Thursday night, County Court members were treated to an in-depth seminar on the philosophy and procedures of the "new look" in Community Action programs, brought about by President Nixon's "New Federalism" approach.

Armed Woman Robs Lee Heights Store

Lee Heights Grocery on Highway 11, east of Lenoir City, was robbed for a second time this year last Wednesday night about 10 o'clock. A lone woman took $500 at gunpoint from the cashier.

The money is for Loudon County and the training slots are to be filled by Loudon Countians, he explained. Mr. Cook was challenged on that point by Orvil Clark, who has been serving as director of the NYC programs for Loudon and Roane Counties. Once the program is set up, he insisted, and staff hired, it would be difficult to recapture the $48,000 which has been committed from Loudon

Loudon Adopts $2.35 Tax Rate

Loudon City Commission Monday night adopted a tax rate of $2.35 for the current fiscal year. Mayor Gene Lambert explained that under the Question amendment property assessments on residential property was lowered from 40 percent to 20 percent of value for taxation, but the lack of a large industrial and commercial base, wiped out much of the savings that home owners were intended to receive under Question 2.

The average city tax payer will see a drop of about $3 to $5 in his city tax bill this year. Mayor Lambert said that the tax rate will bring in about the same amount of funds to the city as last year's rate.

He said how Question 2 affects a city depends on the industrial and commercial growth and the economy. He stated in Loudon where there is little taxable industrial and commercial base the property owner still accounts for much of the property tax, accounting for the very slight decrease in the taxes of the homeowner. On the other hand he said this decrease to the home owner is being picked up by the commercial and industrial tax payer who under Question 3 pays taxes on a 40 percent assessment under the same tax rate. A commercial or industrial tax payer who paid about $400 in taxes last year can expect about a 50 percent increase in taxes.

The commission will ask the State Highway Department for assistance in getting the contractors of the I-75 bridge to repair or pay for repair to city streets that have been damaged by trucks taking equipment and materials to the construction site.

Commissioner Doug Lyle asked that the City Police Department make a study of needed no parking and stop signs in the city saying that many of the signs now are in bad repair or down. He also cited the need for new City Limit signs on Highway 11 and Highway 72.

A resolution was passed which seeks approval from the Federal Government to make city residents eligible to buy flood insurance under a Government Subsidy Program.

Commissioner Joe Carter said that the problem of wide loads blocking the River Bridge was getting worse and he thought that perhaps it would help get the drivers of the wide loads to stop for escort if the city posted the amount of the fine ($50) on the warning signs.

Later the Commission voted to adopt two ordinances for violations, one making it mandatory that a wide load get a city police escort even if they have their own private escort in addition to making it a violation to cross the bridge without an escort. This would mean a violator could be fined as much as $100 for blocking the bridge.

30 Pigs Taken At Lenoir City

Someone apparently decided to help their own pocket book in light of the current meat prices and shortage. Thirty pigs were stolen Thursday from the farm of Louis Idom, Rt. 1, Bird Road, Lenoir City.

Mr. Idom, who values the stolen Hampshire pigs at between $1300 and $1400 said they disappeared between 8 p.m. Thursday and 5 p.m. Friday.

GENERAL ULYSSES GRANT is shown seated at right in the foreground of this historical picture that is being published for the first time it is believed.

by Calvin Lunsford

The annals of history record sometimes accurate, sometimes scrawny and disputed accounts of the Civil War. Yet the present day Civil War buffs continue their search to uncover some fact that will fill the many existing gaps. And in some cases have been successful to a certain degree.

Just recently a copy of what is said to be an original and possibly heretofore unpublished picture of General Ulysses Simpson Grant, Union General, as he held a staff meeting at Point Lookout near Chattanooga came our way through the courtesy of Loudon County Historian Ed McQueen. A friend of Ed's of Chattanooga, has the original, which is definitely a valued collector item as well as a possible link in Civil War activity around Chattanooga. Ed, who is well versed on Civil War history, says he has no proof that the picture has never been published, but states he has not run across it in any of the many books he has read on the period. It is his belief it has not been used before.

Historical fact has it that one of Grant's major engagements occurred in and around Chattanooga. At the time Chattanooga was under siege after the defeat of Rosecrans by General Braxton Bragg. Grant was called upon to rescue the city for the Union Army and was successful. On November 24, General Joseph Hooker cleared Lookout Mountain of Confederates and on the following day Thomas' men stormed Missionary Ridge. Bragg, demoralized, moved to Dalton, Georgia.

We would assume that the picture was made as Grant and his staff moved into the area. As the picture indicates it is probably winter, with light snow covering parts of the surrounding area. Close observation points out some solemn looks on the faces of Grant and his men. Was it a meeting to plan other phases of Grants move? Or possibly the men were being reprimanded for some error in battle.

The surrounding trees show battle scars. The small building could have been an outpost. Evidently extreme caution was being exercised as one might think from looking at the sentry at the top of the hill. Looking at the picture brings many possible actions and theories of one day more than 100 years ago. Certainly the picture brings to mind many thoughts of one of the most violent and well remembered eras of American History.

On August 12, 1973, 40 years later, a Tulogahler School reunion was held in the Fellowship Hall at Fork Creek. Present were Mrs. S. H. Boyd, members of the class who were Pauline Smith Galyon, Mary Ruth Smith Stephens, Sibi Fletcher Collins, Billie Blackman Curtis, Margaret Blackman Davis, Harrison Smith, Bill McLendon, Gay (Buck) Nichols, Charles (Ott) Nichols, Roy Stalcup and Jean Fletcher.

High School Football Practice Indicates Summer Almost Gone

A touch of autumn begin to ease its shadow into the summer atmosphere last Friday as the first official day for high school in Tennessee passed. Some teams waited until Monday to restart full operation, while most every team either issued practice gear or had a team meeting during the weekend.

On the local front Lenoir City has issued full practice and official game uniforms to its 38-man squad and are practicing twice daily. The Panthers work out from 8:30 in the morning till 11:30. An afternoon session starts at 3:30 and ends around 6 p.m.

Coach Dale Brown was expected to continue his two-day drills through Friday with the afternoon practice on Friday tentatively set for a scrimmage with a Knoxville eleven.

In Loudon, Redskin head grid mentor Bert Ratledge, welcomed a team of about 40 for fall workouts. The Redskins are practicing but once a day with the evening dunk finding the Loudon camp most active from 5 p.m. until 9 p.m.

Loudon has no team scrimmages scheduled at this time for the fall preparation of the season opener with Alcoa in September.

The Loudon freshman

REDSKIN SKULL SESSION—Loudon High School football coach, Bert Ratledge, conducts a brief "class room" session with his prospective football squad before releasing them to the active wars on the practice field.

footballers will meet this Friday afternoon with the varsity with practice starting at 5 p.m.

The Greenback Cherokee checked in some 30 players on Monday and all reports have the Orange and Black prospects in better than expected condition. The Cherokees are believed to have excellent senior leadership in their ranks this fall and return some of the top individual high school performers in the county.

The Cherokees are currently going with one practice a day from around 3:30 in the afternoon until about 7 p.m. Greenback will meet Porter in the annual Foothills Conference Jamboree at Maryville College Field on August 31. Neither Loudon or Lenoir City will be involved in a jamboree and must wait till September 7 to unveil their 1973 editions.

Paul Brakebill Fires 33 For Standout City Golf Round

Paul Brakebill fired a crisp 33 for the week in Loudon's City Golf League last week and in fashioning the low round captured the individual medalist honors and 10 individual points to increase his season total to 66 for the summer. The individual effort enabled him and his partner Ed Arnold to hold down third place in the league standings with 116 points.

Arnold and Brakebill also teamed to win the team low net honors for the week with a combined round of 71. Meanwhile Larry and Lynn Millsaps are high down third place in the league standings with 144 team points. Larry is also the individual point pace setter with 83, while Ciel Miller is just a few points behind with 80.

Back Kirkland and John Lennex protected their second place spot with 10 team points last week and even picked up four points on the league leading Millsaps duet, but it is doubtful any team will be able to over come the 26 point lead held by Larry and Lynn.

Larry Bridges and Jake Lane faded back to fourth place after fighting to challenge the Millsaps team for most of the summer in second place. Ciel Miller and Bert Ratledge are in fifth place, with Mark Miller and Buddy Swiney moving into the sixth position during the week with nine team points and 101 for the season.

Knoxville Man Wins Cedar Hills Golf Crown

A.C. Cooper of Knoxville won the first Cedar Hills Pro-Am Invitational Golf Tournament Sunday with a final round of 71 and a 36 hole total score of 137.

Benny Crass of Athens, best known to area sports fans as a highly respected basketball official, finished second in the championship flight with a 141. Lenoir Citizen George Turner was just a stroke behind and finished third with a splendid 143 for 36 holes. A total of 226 players took part in the tournament with strong indication that once the new Cedar Hills club house and swimming pool are finished the Loudon County golf facilities will be one of the more plush family clubs in the area.

224, J.C. Raper 227. Second Flight (54 holes)—J.H. Jones 227, J. Hatley 231, Dan Hawkins 235, Woody Pritts 235, Rick Labow 235. Atomic Slates Bicycle Finals Saturday Night

If the number of race cars continue to increase at Atomic Speedway, owner Bob Martin will be looking for more pit area. The total soared to 101 for last week's competition, including 55 late model sportsman machines.

H.E. Vineyard will be going for a second straight sportsman victory Saturday night. Vineyard outduelled Buddy Rogers last week in what Martin described "One of the finest races ever held at this track."

This week's regular program is scheduled to start at 7 p.m. with qualifying runs. The first action will get the green flag at 8:30. Also on tap will be a 10-lapper for bombers, a 20-lap run for the hobby class, a semi-feature covering 20 laps, as many as four or five heats and the 40-lap main event.

Also to be run Saturday night is the 5-lap bicycle championship race. The event brings together the top four finishers in four weekly qualifying races. The champion will earn $60, the runner-up $30 and the No. 3 rider $10.

Tootle Estes will be trying to hold on to his points lead Saturday night. The Knoxville driver has a narrow margin over Snooks DeFoor.

Other leading sportsman drivers will include the Corum brothers—Little Bill and Melvin, Ken Phillips, Claude Donovan, Wayne Fielden and Zeke Buchanan.

In the hobby division, Mike Trentham and his Chevrolet will be seeking another victory. Atomic is located at I-40 Melton Hill exit, east of Kingston.

Cleveland Skiers Planning Water Show

Those "Yankee water-skiers" are back again and they're whipping up a free show for East Tennessee water-lovers.

West Shore Ski Club of Cleveland, Ohio, which makes a pilgrimage to Norris Lake each summer, is back to perfect its portfolio of tricks, stunts and other skiing capers. Members are staying at Hickory Star and Andersonville docks on Norris Lake.

About 150 skiers along with some 20 high-powered tow boats—made the trip this year, according to President John Ham.

"We've put on three shows this summer for audiences up North," Ham said, "and we've got a couple of new things to show East Tennesseans."

Included in the new bag of tricks are nine and 11-man pyramids. "We're working on that now," Ham said. "Right now, our biggest is a seven-man."

West Shore will perform at 2 p.m. Saturday just outside Hickory Star, Ham said. The show is expected to last about two hours.

Bill Bradshaw of Hickory Star recommended that persons wishing to see the event arrive by boat if possible. There will be space on the bank, though, for spectators coming by car.

In addition to pyramids, the skiers will display kite-flying, barefoot skiing, clown acts and possibly ski-jumping.

"We don't know about the jumping yet," Ham said. "The UT Ski Club has a ramp but it'll have to be towed 25 miles up here. That's a mighty long way."

Ham said several members of UT's group have been working out with West Shore and some probably will perform with the Ohioans.

Three Car Pileup Mars SMR Race

Last Saturday night's race at Smoky Mountain Raceway in Maryville was marred by a three-car pileup in the Hobby race that sent one driver to the hospital and left three cars completely totaled. Don McCoy of Cherokee, N.C., was treated in the emergency room at Blount Memorial Hospital for possible hip and leg injuries as a result of the mishap which occurred midway thru the 25-lap event.

McCoy lost control coming out of number two turn on the back straightaway and spun out in front of Benny Humphries of Maryville, Humphries, unable to dodge him, hit McCoy in the side and knocked him into the traffic flow. K.L. Green of Harriman, leading the race at the time, apparently did not see McCoy and plowed into him at full speed. Green and Humphries, although shaken up, did not require medical treatment.

When the green flag dropped, Harold Moats of Maryville was in front, having passed J.T. Kerr, Maryville, in a race back to the caution flag. Four laps later, Moats spun out in the front straightaway while trying to fight off a strong bid by Kerr for the lead position. Darrell Parrott, Maryville, made several strong attempts for first but Kerr was able to hold the lead for the checkered flag, followed closely by Parrott, second and then Moats, third, who had fought his way from the rear after his spin-out.

The fast heat race was won by Jim Hunter of Knoxville, followed by Hank Maxwell, Newport, second, and Dick Garrett, Chattanooga, third.

One half of the net proceeds from this Saturday night's race at SMR will be donated to the Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc., during the Jerry Lewis MD Telethon on Labor Day weekend according to Smoky Mountain Raceway officials.

Record Number In Ski Tourney

The largest field of water skiers in the history of the competitive sport is anticipated for the four-day 31st annual National Water Ski Championship beginning Thursday at Picture Lake, six miles south of Petersburg.

More than 450 skiers filed entry applications with the American Water Ski Association by the Aug. 7 deadline. Some of them later failed to qualify in regional tournaments, but a record field of well over 300 skiers appeared certain to compete for national titles in slalom, jumping and tricking in 11 age divisions.

Most of the name skiers will be competing in open divisions for the first time. They will include the 1972 men's and women's over-all champions, Mike Snyderhous of Petaluma, Calif., and Liz Allan Smitter of Groveland, Fla.

In addition to the open divisions, the remaining men skiers have been further divided into two groups, ages 17 through 24 and 25 through 34. Top honors in these two groups, as well as among the women not qualified for open competition, are already up for grabs.

Game and Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game and Fish Commission

Gray squirrels in Tennessee inhabit the dense, hardwood forests throughout the state. Their staple food source is hardwood mast (the fruit of nut-bearing trees). The favorite food is the sweet mast: hickory nuts, pecans, walnuts, beechnuts and white oak acorns.

To survive the long, lean winter months, squirrels hoard nuts and acorns in caches in the forks and hollows of trees, and by burying single nuts and acorns in the ground. Come fall, squirrels seem dedicated to eat or bury every nut and acorn in the forest. In spring, when the caches are nearly exhausted, squirrels feed heavily on buds, flowers, and early greenery. Favorite summer foods are fruits, cherries, blackgum and blackberries. Squirrels regularly eat grubs, larvae and insects found under tree bark and in the soil.

Squirrels live in nests, sometimes called dreys, and dens in hollow tree trunks and limbs. Nests are made of leaves and are used for loafing, escape or nurseries. Squirrels sometimes live as long as six to 10 years of age in the wild. Adult squirrels usually breed twice a year. Mating occurs from December to February and from May to July. Gray squirrels pair up for only one or two days. Forty two to forty five days following mating, birth is given to a litter of one to six young. They are born hairless and blind, and usually weigh about one-half ounce. The sow (female) bears full responsibility of rearing the young and weans them at eight to nine weeks of age. The young squirrels leave the nest for the first time at that age. Most young squirrel from spring litters leave the nest in April and May and summer litters emerge during September and October.

The squirrel is one of the most frequently observed wildlife species and provides pleasure to non-hunters. It is also an important game species because of sporting and food qualities. Over 75 percent of all Tennessee hunters hunt squirrel. This amounts to over 200,000 squirrel hunters who make over a million squirrel hunting trips and bag from one to two million squirrels annually.

The squirrel's practice of storing nuts in the ground results in new trees to benefit succeeding generations of humans and wildlife.

Secretary of the Interior Rogers C. Morton has announced the addition of 8 native animals to the Department of the Interior's List of Endangered Fish and Wildlife.

"I take this action with both pleasure and sorrow," Morton said, "because we recently learned two U.S. animals we are adding—the eastern cougar and the Northern Rock Mountain wolf—are not extinct; and sorrow because we are giving still more creatures the dubious distinction of being placed on our lists of endangered species."

The eight animals added to the List of Endangered Native Fish and Wildlife are the Utah Prairie Dog; Northern Rock Mountain Wolf; Eastern Cougar; Mississippi Sandhill Crane; Puerto Rican Whip-poorwill; Santa Barbara Song Sparrow; Desert Slender Salamander; and the Okaloosa Darter—a tiny minnow found only in Okaloosa County, Florida.

TVA environmental biologists are asking that fishermen and boaters in the vicinity of the agency's steam plants take special care

Can your budget stand a big boost in electric rates?

That's why railroads are essential.

Over half of America's electricity comes from coal. And most coal comes by rail. Because rail shipping is especially cheap for heavy items travelling a fixed route.

To take advantage of this, Southern Railway innovated the coal shuttle train. A train is assigned to do nothing but shuttle coal from a coal mine to a power plant. And that saves money.

Which is why you need railroads. And why you need Southern.

SOUTHERN
THE RAILWAY SYSTEM THAT GIVES A GREEN LIGHT TO INNOVATIONS

ATTENTION

All Loudon County Contractors, Builders, and Suppliers will meet at the Loudon County Rescue Squad Building at 7 p.m. Friday, August 17.

At the meeting a committee will be formed to meet with the Loudon County Regional Planning Commission to discuss the Southern Standard Building Codes, their effects on the building industry and to recommend possible changes.

All Builders, Contractors, and Suppliers are Urged to Attend.

AUGUST 16 1973

Loudon County could have more people working in those programs. The present plan calls for eight in-school NYC positions, six out-of-school NYC positions and 11 in the Mainstream program. This would be increased to 31 in-school, 12 out-of-school and 15 Mainstream if the $400,000 could be used for that purpose instead of being assigned to the school at Hartman.

Revival Will Start Sunday

Revival services will begin Sunday, August 19, at New Macedonia Baptist Church, Rev. Chester Latham of Mountain View Baptist Church in Sevier County will be the evangelist. Services begin nightly at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Elmer Hurst, pastor, extends a cordial invitation to everyone.

"We've wiped them all out and started all over," he said. "The emphasis now is on training, not on direct employment," he said. "It was made clear that regardless of what resolutions County Court might pass, any change in the program would depend, first, on the recommendation of the County Judge, as the chief elected official of the county. Following that, the East Tennessee Manpower Board would have to favor the change and forward it to Nashville, where the Governor would have to approve it and forward it to the Federal authorities in Atlanta, where it would have to be considered favorably and forwarded to Washington for final approval."

Late in the meeting charges were swapped by Squire Henry Foster of Loudon City, who has been in charge of the NYC program for the City of Loudon City, the sponsor, and by Jack Smith, Director of the Mid East Community Action Agency.

Mr. Foster complained that Mr. Smith had failed to keep a number of promises he had made to him concerning the change-over in sponsorship from the City of Loudon City to MESA. His principal complaint was that under the new program, Mr. Clark's salary would be cut "approximately $2700 on the year."

Mr. Smith, in turn, charged that Mr. Foster had threatened to "see you driven out of Loudon County and I'll see that the program is done away with."

Mr. Foster denied he had made such a threat. In the meeting, Mr. Smith agreed that his proposal does call for Mr. Clark's salary to be reduced. The salary schedule for directors, he said, would be from $8700 to $9000 per year, instead of the $11,500 Mr. Clark is now being paid. It was pointed out as Executive Director, Mr. Smith's salary is $11,000.

Concerning the proposed salary cut, Mr. Foster said, "I told him I would never go along with this. That was not our agreement and it was not fair to cut a salary $2700 for a person who was doing a wonderful job with seven to eight years experience just because he had a director with one to two years experience and he wanted them to be equal."

The decision on the allocation of funds authorized to Loudon County for Manpower Development was made in April, it was pointed out, and has already been approved. The motion adopted by the court passed by a 4-1 vote with only Squire J. J. Blair voting against it. It called on the East Tennessee Manpower Board to approve and recommend retaining the sponsorship of local NYC and Mainstream programs to the City of Loudon City instead of the Mid East Community Action Agency.

In other action Thursday night, the court voted to obligate $50,000 in Federal Revenue Sharing funds for the Loudon County Justice Center for an expected grant from the Civil Defense Preparedness Agency.

Judge Sprout was authorized to sign contracts for HUD grants for the Loudon County Board of Public Utilities in order to expedite applications for additional funds from the Appalachian Regional Commission. The Public Utilities Board hopes to install a water system in the Vonore-Greenback area.

Agreement was reached that the recently-established Southern Building Codes will not be enforced until contractors, suppliers and the Loudon County Regional Planning Commission come up with modifications which all can live with. Squire Reece Paul Hamilton announced that the State Dept. of Transportation has set up Matlock Bend Road and Fletcher Valley Road as "bush roads" for 175 construction and they are to be rebuilt after 175 is completed.

Man Charged After Shooting

A man identified as Joseph Morino was charged with felonious assault early Sunday after an alleged shooting incident and hold near the Highway 95 Truck Stop at Loudon City.

According to records at the county jail Morino was identified by James Turpin as the man who shot into his truck and then robbed him at gunpoint. Bond for Morino was set at $500. Further information on the incident was not available.

The woman forced him to get behind the counter with Mr. Shubert and Mrs. Rather. She then put her pocketbook on the counter and ordered Mrs. Rather to fill it with the money.

"It was a big cream-colored leather pocketbook, which didn't seem to have anything else in it," Mrs. Rather related. "I put the bills in it, but she didn't want any of the change."

The woman then calmly took the pocketbook full of money, warned the people not

Knox Man Hurt, Charged After Wreck

A Knoxville man received an arm injury in a two car accident at the intersection of State Highway 95 and U.S. 70 about noon Tuesday. Trooper Joe Littleton identified the injured man as Arthur Griffin, 68, of Knoxville, driver of one of the cars.

Littleton said that Griffin apparently ran a stop sign on U.S. 70 and struck a car driven by Charles Johnston of Longview, Texas. Johnston nor his wife were injured. The couple was on their way to Oak Ridge on vacation and a visit with relatives.

Griffin was charged with passing a stop sign. He was taken to Loudon County Memorial Hospital for treatment.

Your County In Action

By Harvey L. Sproull
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

The recent controversy concerning the required reduction in the Federal of Manpower Programs, such as "Mainstream, Neighborhood Youth Corp.," has been somewhat upsetting to the personally, and to many other people.

It is particularly upsetting in matters that go to the place where they appear to be based on personalities rather than on issues and merit of total programs.

There were some problems, accusations and disagreements that arose at a recent meeting of the Quarterly Court which I was sorry to see happen.

I feel that some allegations and accusations were made at the adjourned session to take a position on one matter involved in this, with which I have had to take somewhat of a different position.

But I feel I have good reasons for doing so because of my having been more closely involved with these matters from my position as County Judge, and which position is still reasonable under the circumstances.

Maybe the best way to explain that would be to reproduce the letter that I sent to Mr. John Anderson, Chairman of the East Tennessee Manpower Planning Board, officials giving the Board notification of the action of the Quarterly Court, and also explaining my position in the matter.

The letter follows:

August 13, 1973

Mr. John Anderson, Chairman
East Tennessee Manpower Planning Board
1000 North Avenue
Knoxville, Tennessee 37916

Dear John:

On August 6, 1973, at a regular meeting of the Loudon County Quarterly Court, a matter which was not on the planned agenda in accordance with the regular County Quarterly Court, was brought on the floor and a resolution introduced which provided among other things, in general terms, that Loudon County apply for membership or association with another Community Action Agency and that Loudon County's $49,000 scheduled for FY 74, in relation to the new program under the Department of Labor, be shared equitably with the other Tennessee Manpower Planning Board, be instituted so as to be shared with all other counties in Loudon County into NYC and other programs in accordance with the majority report submitted by me in April 1973. Because the matter was not on the stated agenda and was of such importance that it needed more information before attempting to make a decision, an adjourned session was set and held August 9, 1973, with your presence being present, along with Bill Cook, the State Manpower Coordinator from Nashville, the East Tennessee Assistant, Bonnie Hammonette, Jack Smith of the Mid East Community Action Agency, and with Avel Cook, Director of the NYC Program, and its "Coordinator", Spouse Henry Foster, both of whom had been present at the previous meeting on August 9, 1973. In the adjourned meeting, after a comprehensive explanation from Mr. Cook was given, with assistance from yourself and Mr. Hammonette, as to the procedure under which the Manpower allocations had been made, the entire process had gone through Nashville, Atlanta and Washington, and a detailed explanation of the MDTA funds and how the slots were allocated, and used, was given. A thorough question and answer period resulted.

At the conclusion of this adjourned meeting, a motion was adopted by the Quarterly Court, pertinent part of which is as follows:

It was moved by Squire Cook, seconded by Squire Williams, that the Loudon County Quarterly Court go on record as recommending that the NYC program, as a part of the new District Manpower Plan be continued to be sponsored by the City of Loudon City, which has operated the NYC program since its inception in 1965, and that with eight members being and Squire Blair voting in the affirmative, the resolution adopted.

During the meeting it was pointed out in some detail by Mr. Cook that the Loudon County Quarterly Court was only in a position of making a recommendation for the County to take the job as the chief elected officials as the determining factor in the decision. It was basically continued to be favorable toward the application and sponsorship of Manpower programs through the Mid East Community Action Agency, which has been for many years the successful sponsor of human resource programs for both counties. This meeting was based on previous plans which I had already approved that Loudon and Boone counties should continue a joint agreement, with the Mid East Community Action Agency to become an arm of the revenue sharing program as the year developed, including the home health care program, other youth assistance programs, and programs for senior citizens. The purpose would help give us a professional delivery system for the programs of a minimum cost. A reduction of the expected cost structure in the Mid East Agency, I also explained that although I had initially submitted a minority report recommending for a "split" of the MDTA funds for Loudon County that the proposal had not been approved by the East Tennessee Council, along with other minority reports which had not been approved and which had been approved by the State Manpower Planning Council and the Governor, and now was official advice, as a part of the State plan, and Spouse Henry Foster, both of whom had been present at the previous

LETTER TO THE EDITOR
Dear Editor:

The citizens of the Park Creek Valley Community would like to express their appreciation to the Loudon County Rescue Squad and the Philadelphia Fire Department in their efforts in helping to save the classrooms of the Park Creek School in a recent fire.

Without their efforts, the classrooms would probably have been lost along with the gymnasium, which was completely destroyed.

Again, we express our sincere gratitude for their concern.

Park Creek Community Citizens.

JULY RAINFALL

LENOIR CITY BOARD MEMBER ELECTED CHAIRMAN OF COOPERATIVE

A member of the Loudon County Board of Education and a member of the Little Tennessee Valley Educational Cooperative since 1961 was organized has been elected Chairman of the organization. Mr. Bill Jo Littleton was elected Chairman of the Cooperative at the regular monthly meeting held at Vantage last week. Mr. Littleton is well qualified for the position and will provide outstanding leadership as the Cooperative moves into many areas of educational endeavor during the coming school year. He has served as Vice Chairman of the organization and has been quite active in promoting cooperative activities among the seven school systems. Certainly we wish him full speed ahead as he chairs this organization at a time when advancement in educational endeavor is so important. It is quite a difficult task to provide leadership and win approval for doing things in a different manner, even though there is a need for change.

GOVERNING BOARD FOR VOCATIONAL EDUCATION IN LOUDON COUNTY

The Governing Board for Vocational Education in Loudon County will be the Loudon County Board of Education and the Loudon City Board of Education according to action taken last Tuesday evening by both boards. The organization and the education met jointly at the Loudon County Board of Education in Loudon and agreed that both boards meeting jointly would constitute the Governing Board for Vocational Education for Loudon County. This governing board will be charged with the responsibility of the operation of a vocational training center for the county.

The General Assembly passed legislation during the last session that requires the State Department of Education during the 1973-74 school year to survey each county, including the city and special school districts within, to determine the needed expansion of vocational and technical education programs for the students of high school and post high school ages and the most feasible method of meeting this need. The Governing Board will work with the State Department of Education to conduct the survey as well as operate the vocational and technical programs that will follow as a result of the survey and future action to be taken by the General Assembly. All capital costs and operating costs of the programs will be borne by the state.

The two boards meeting jointly elected Mr. James Bailey, Chairman of the Loudon County Board of Education, to be the Chairman of the Governing Board for Vocational Education. The Governing Board will meet again on Tuesday, August 14, 1973 at the Board Room of the Loudon City Board of Education in Loudon City. At the second meeting of the Board it is anticipated that the Advisory Council for implementing the act will be appointed as well as deciding the alternative as the most feasible means of providing vocational education for the youth of Loudon County.

In memory of Mrs. Ted Hickey who died August 18, 1972.
 One year ago in August, The golden gates swung wide. She left her pain and suffering, And took her home to rest. God saw her growing weary, He always knows what's best. He came in cloud of glory, And took her home to rest. We see her in a vision, She seems to smile and say, Don't grieve for me, I'm happy. We'll meet again some day. Dear Lord, please take this message, To our loved one up above. Tell her how we miss her, And give her all our love. Sadly missed by husband, Ted Hickey, son, Hugh Hickey and family and sister, Mrs. Ernie White.

CARD OF THANKS
 Mrs. Ben Ritchey wishes to thank all her friends and neighbors for the cards and lovely flowers sent to her during her stay in the hospital. A special thanks to the Rev. David Stephens for the prayers for her recovery.

Sam Forkner Named To PC

Samuel F. Forkner of Greenback has been re-appointed to the Loudon County Regional Planning Commission.
 Forkner, an industrial landscape contractor, and his wife Mary have been residents of Loudon County for approximately four years. Carrying on the planning "tradition" is David Forkner, a planner in Virginia Beach, Va.
 One of the things he is most anxious to do, said Forkner, is to "get" better communications with the community. "Perhaps one method of doing this, he added, would be meeting with the community in groups, at commission meetings and elsewhere, in order to explain our goals and what we are trying to do.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

The other day we ran into Bill Thornburg and he asked us to come by his home sometime because he had some good school group pictures for the Good Old Days. Well, we finally found some time and went by his house and much to our surprise, he had some pictures we had never seen before. They were taken at the old location of Steeple School many years ago and we were thrilled to have them to use in the Good Old Days.

Mary Nell Gray, Virginia Giles, Edith Casteel, Trula Bright, Lois Jenkin, Helen Watts, Viola Lindsey, Billy White, Wennie Missapa, Frances Casteel, Georgia Rayder, Edward Collins, Willie McDonald, Dorcas Giles, William Kerr, Junior Gray, Johnny Kerr, and R.L. Connor. Some we could not identify, but maybe with the help of our readers, we can add them in a later column. So if you can help us, give us a call.

School groups have always been one of our most popular type of pictures. We are sure many memories are recalled of years gone of the happy days at this old school location. Those in the picture, which we had some help on by Helen Watts, are: James Massengill, Harold Howard, Raymond Casteel, Sammie Watts, Glen Henderson, Paul Henderson, Everett Collins, deceased, Ray Lindsey, Arthur Lindsey, Ruth Grimes, Another picture which we have this week brings back memories of the '30's. This picture, which was taken July 4, 1934, was made on what used to be called the square where the fountain is now located. Note the vintage cars and the Ed Watkins Store in the background. We believe he car in the right of the picture is a 1927 Chevrolet. The one on the left is either a 1924 or 25 Chevrolet. Likely it is a 1924 model!

Not as recorded history, but as history of our city and its growth. We will have it to run in the near future.

Next week we have a group of young boys all of whom are now grown with families of their own. We are sure you will enjoy this one. Also we will have another school group.

IN PARTING

In order to have a second car, second color TV, etc., it takes a second job and sometimes a second mortgage.

"Can you explain to me the difference," asked the teacher, "between caution and cowardice?" Little Charles answered, "Caution is when you are afraid, and cowardice is when the other fellow is afraid."

Catholic Church Dedication Set

Mrs. T.E. Mills has waited since she came here with her husband in 1916.

Other leaders in the Lenoir City and Loudon Roman Catholic congregations have waited for 30 years; some have waited 10 years.

And for all of them, Sunday, Aug. 26, will mark a memorable occasion when they, and other Loudon Catholics, gather to dedicate the new St. Thomas The Apostle Catholic Church, located on Harrison Road, Lenoir City.

Bishop Joseph A. Durick, chief prelate of the Nashville Diocese, will be here to conduct the dedication service, scheduled for 4 p.m.

Bishop Durick also will celebrate the first mass in the new church at noon on Sunday.

Mrs. Mills, who was termed "Mrs. Catholic in Loudon County" by Bishop Durick when he was here in April to preside over the groundbreaking ceremony, emphasized this week that the public is invited to the dedication service -- and, for that matter, to the mass at noon.

The dedication will have an ecumenical flavor. Other ministers are being invited to participate and will be specifically represented by the Rev. Phil Ernst, pastor of Central United Methodist Church and president of the Lenoir City Ministerial Association and by the Rev. Jack Ferguson, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Loudon and president of the Ministerial Association there. Music for the service will be by the Loudon County Choral Society, directed by Roy G. Cardwell Jr., Bishop, W.M. Sanders, leader of the Episcopal Church in East Tennessee, has been invited and is expected to attend.

The principal address will be by Msgr. Edward M. Dohlan, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Gallatinburg.

Pastor of the church is Father James V. LaFresne, who also serves the Harriman and Deer Lodge churches.

Mrs. Tom Keener, one of those in the congregation who have actively promoted and worked for a building fund for the new church, especially since the land was purchased for it in 1944, acknowledged gratefully that "everything in the church has been donated." She listed the altar, the Crucifix, the pews, statues and other chancel articles, the public address system, and downstairs, the kitchen, chairs, vestment cabinet, and many other appointments.

"We've been very fortunate," she said.

Mrs. Mills pointed out that contributions from $1 to $2000 have been received from Catholics and non-Catholics alike to make the building possible.

General contractors were Cusick Builders, Bob and Burket Cusick, and designer of the building was Glenn Ellis.

The 4,480 square foot structure, with seating for about 140 communicants, was built at a cost of about $65,000. Mrs. Mills and Mrs. Keener expressed appreciation for the Association.

Pilots Elect Don McMurray

Don McMurray, a Lenoir City Attorney, airplane owner and private pilot was elected President of the Loudon County Flying and Pilots Association last Thursday night. About 30 persons from across the county attended the organizational meeting of the Association.

Other officers elected were David Ferguson, vice president; Larry Cate, secretary-treasurer; and other directors, Gerald Cole, David Denton, Kenneth Brown, Jim Cardwell, Tommy McNabb and David Grissom.

President McMurray said that interest in the Association is the greater that had been expected and it is hoped that the club will have 50 to 60 members and have several active programs in flying, promotion of general aviation, and hopes to work with government officials in securing an airport for Loudon County sometime in the future.

A membership drive is currently underway. To join a person does not have to be a pilot but just have an interest in aviation or flying. Membership dues are $10 per year. Applications are available from either McMurray or Larry Cate.

The next meeting of the organization will be at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 13, at Ferguson's Flying Circus, a private 2000 sqd landing strip owned by David (Butch) Ferguson. All aircraft owners are invited to attend and bring their planes. The strip is located on Robertson Springs Road about two miles from the Lions Municipal Park.

Association Secretary Larry Cate said a newsletter concerning the fly-in will be mailed to all members and about 60 prospective members, new known to the Association.

Berry Murder Trail Starts Monday

BROWDER HILL FATALITY—The injured form of James Godsey is removed from his overturned car after a collision with a tractor-trailer truck on Browder Hill about 6:30 p.m. Tuesday. Godsey's wife and an unborn child she was expected to deliver in "just days" were killed in the accident. Three other persons were injured.

Fred Allen Berry, 30, of Philadelphia will go on trial charged with the first degree murder of his former wife, Carolyn Gentry Berry, in a special session of Criminal Court at Loudon starting Monday.

Judge Lloyd McCluen is scheduled to hear the case. The badly decomposed body of Mrs. Berry, 24, of Loudon, was found in a barn left on the W. E. Huff Farm in Loudon on April 13 by Sheriff Freeman Russell. The woman had been the object of a two month search by authorities in Loudon County, throughout the state and Georgia.

MR. BERRY

Mrs. Berry, the mother of three small children, disappeared from the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gentry, Mulberry Street in Loudon, on St. Valentine's Day, Feb. 14 of this year. The woman reportedly left her parent's home about 9:30 a.m. to look at apartments in the public housing project at Loudon and was not seen alive by her family again.

The woman had been back in Loudon for several months following her divorce from the defendant, who had just been released from prison there on bail charges.

Berry was arrested in Dalton, Georgia, on June 8, after he was spotted by authorities there. He had previously been indicted on a sealed indictment by the Loudon County Grand Jury. Sheriff Freeman Russell said that it took about three weeks after the indictment was returned to find Berry. He had been known to reside in Austell, Georgia, but disappeared from there about the time the indictment was returned.

The defendant, who will be represented by court appointed attorney Don McMurray, has been held in Blount and Knox County jails in lieu of $20,000 bond. He was recently moved to Knox County jail after Blount County officers complained of him being a problem prisoner and was believed planning an escape.

Expectant Mother Killed, Four Injured In Browder Hill Wreck

A Sweetwater woman who was expecting her second child at any time was killed in a spectacular three vehicle accident on U.S. 11 at the North end of the three lane known as Browder Hill about 6:30 p.m. Tuesday.

State Trooper George Pierce identified the dead woman as 25-year-old Carolyn Moss Godsey of Sweetwater. The unborn child was also lost in the accident. Ambulance attendants said the woman died while enroute to the hospital and doctors said there was no heartbeat from the woman or the child when brought into the emergency room.

Trooper Pierce said that a 1965 Plymouth driven by James Hunt of High Point, North Carolina was traveling North on 11 when it sideswiped a tractor trailer truck, driven by Hobly L. Miller, 45, of Vanilla, Ohio.

Miller said that after his truck was hit by the car his right end of control crossed into the Southbound lane and struck the car driven by the dead woman's husband, James R. Godsey, 35.

The impact, according to witnesses, caused the car to flip over on its top coming to rest in the ditch on the right side of the road. The truck also overturned just a few feet from the car.

Mr. Godsey was taken to Sweetwater Hospital where he was admitted with rib, head, leg and chest injury. The couple's three year old daughter, Tammie, sustained a cut lip in the accident.

Mr. Hunt was treated at Loudon for an arm injury and the truck driver had a cut on the head and bruises. Both were released after treatment.

A witness told Trooper Pierce that the Hunt car was passing on the yellow line when it struck the Beeson Van Lines truck that was subleased to Young Van Lines of Ohio.

A Loudon man, Eddie Sizlar, gave first aid to the Godsey's until Loudon County Ambulance service attendant arrived.

The dead woman is the daughter of Sweetwater contractor Inman Moss. Her body was taken to Kyker Funeral Home in Sweetwater.

Trooper Pierce charged Hunt with improper passing. It took almost two hours to clear the wreckage from the highway and just as traffic was being opened up another accident occurred in the backlog of traffic. This involved out of state cars and no one was injured, trooper Pierce said.

Burglars Hit Farm Home

Burglars entered a home on the W.T. McPeake farm, Rt. 2 Loudon over the weekend according to a report filed at the county jail by Deputy Jake Chapman.

Listed as stolen was a set of carving knives, electric hand saw, radio, three electric heaters and a vacuum cleaner.

Entrance was gained through a side window. The burglary was discovered about 2 p.m. Sunday.

Interstate Connector Bonds Are Sold

Loudon County sold $900,000 in bonds last Thursday for the construction of two connector roads to Interstate 75 at Sugar Linn Road and Philadelphia.

There were five bids with the low bid going to Equitable Securities Corporation, First National Bank of Memphis, and Cumberland Securities Corporation on a joint bid.

The net interest over the term of the bonds was 5.448 percent.

The four other bids ranged in net annual interest cost from 5.473 percent to 5.711 percent.

Tom Ayres, President of Cumberland Securities Company, who handles the bond sales for Loudon County stated that he thought this was a very good sale in view of the current bond market, which on the date of the sale was close to 5.7 percent.

As an example, he stated that Hawkins County had sold more than 1.3 million dollars of bonds on August 1 at an interest rate of 5.6 percent, at a time when the Bond Buyers' Index was 5.48 percent.

He further stated that to the best of his knowledge there had only been one other issue sold since July, insofar as municipal type bonds are concerned, that had equaled the percentage rate obtained on this issue, which was Wilson County Tennessee School Bonds on July 10 which sold for almost the same interest rate as the Loudon County Bond Issue.

County Judge Harvey Sproul stated that Loudon County had again been awarded a very high rating by Moody's Investors Service, being a "BAA," and an "A" rating through Standard and Poor.

Stolen Pigs Recovered, Two Charged

Two Lenoir City men were arrested about 2 a.m. Friday, after 23 pigs reported stolen from an Eaton Crossroads farm were found at their residences.

The two are identified as Bud Covington and Don Waldrop, both of Lenoir City.

Thirty Hampshire pigs were reported stolen from the Louis Iden farm, Bird Road, Lenoir City on August 9.

Sheriff Freeman Russell and deputy Kenneth Brown reported that they found 17 pigs at Covington's home and six at Waldrop's. Sheriff Russell said he does not know what happened to the other seven.

The pigs were returned to Mr. Iden shortly after they were recovered.

Both defendants waived preliminary hearing and are bound to the Criminal Court Grand Jury which meets in September. They were released after posting $1300 bond each.

THE BRICK EXTERIOR of the new St. Thomas The Apostle Catholic Church is marked by a simple cross. A covered entrance leads to a paneled narthex which gives pause before entering the sanctuary.

THE INTERIOR of Loudon County's first Catholic church, is marked by simplicity and warmth. The altar, central object of the chancel, is more than 50 years old and was hand carved by Bishop Adrian, then chief prelate of the Diocese of Tennessee.

CRUMPLED REMINDER—The crumpled car of a young Sweetwater family is shown on its top in a ditch after colliding with the tractor-trailer at right. One woman and her unborn child were killed, her husband and daughter were injured.

Greenback Community News

By Mrs. S. B. McCollum
Phone 856-3017 - Greenback

The 19th Annual series of Interdenominational Gospel meetings at the National Campground located on Highway 96 off the Greenback Lenoir City Road, will begin Friday evening Aug. 24 at 7:30 p.m. and last through Sunday, Sept. 2.

The Rev. Raymond Smith, pastor of Maryville Broadway Baptist Church will have charge of the meetings and preach at each service. The song leader will be Mr. Dennis Wester and pianist, Jerry Guinn, both of Maryville.

Special music will be furnished each night by choirs from Maryville Broadway Baptist, Oakland Methodist, Greenback Baptist, New Providence Baptist; Springview Baptist; Morganton Baptist; Clover Hill Presbyterian and Pine Grove Presbyterian churches. At the Sunday School hour on Sept. 2 the Pine Grove members will conduct the Sunday School.

It is believed the first sermon preached at the Campgrounds on a Friday night in September of 1873 was preached by the Rev. Stamper of Athens and that Rev. Benjamin Criss a minister of the M.E. church conducted the remainder of the two weeks services. The Rev. W. B. Brown, Presbyterian held the first service in the new shed in 1874. People came a foot, mule back, horseback, in wagons filled with straw, hacks, surreys, perhaps a few with fringe on top. In those days some would walk as much as ten miles each direction, eating an early supper, returning home from the service by midnight. Cabins were built and many families stayed for the entire period of services. A boarding house was built and one or more ladies of the area had charge of bringing in and cooking and serving the food.

It was not only a time for Christian fellowship and rejoicing but one of relaxation and meeting old friends and even relatives who had not been seen for a year and might not be seen again for another year, a time for showing off the new babies and telling of those who had attended their "last campmeeting"; a time for exchanging news about crops, new breeds of stock and of droughts and floods; of the many things that made up the lives of the people of that time.

The building committee of 1873 composed of Donaldson, Matthews; Jackson Davis; Enoch Hughes; J. B. Griffith; J. C. Wyler and Andy Carpenter. The tent meeting had been held where the Peeler Hughes place joined the Will Alexander place on a gently sloping hill with two springs and a road leading to Jacksons Ferry and Coytes.

School Lunch Program, Prices Outlined

Mrs. Ruth Ridenour, director of the school lunch program in Loudon County announced this week that the price of a school lunch for elementary and junior high students this year will be 40 cents and 50 for high school students.

She said that if the cost of food continues to increase that a hike in the price of school lunches may be inevitable. In conjunction the Loudon County Board of Education announced a free meal policy for school children unable to pay the full price of meals served in schools under the National School Lunch Program.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size-income criteria for use in determining eligibility.

Income Scale for Determining Eligibility for Free Meals for Fiscal Year 1973-74:

Family Size	Free Meals
4	0-5,210
5	0-6,100
6	0-6,850
7	0-7,600
8	0-8,310
9	0-8,950
10	0-9,600

1. For each additional family member add $640.00 per year to the income level.
2. Eligibility determinations are made on a family basis, that is all the children in the same family attending school

CAFETERIA TRAINING SESSION—Some 85 Loudon County School Cafeteria employees met for a one-day in-service training program at Loudon High School Tuesday. The group is shown here listening to Mrs. Ruth Ridenour, County Lunch Program Supervisor, Mrs. Lena R. Huffman, Area Specialists with the Tenn. are to receive the same benefits from families whose income is at or below those shown are eligible for meals free. In addition, families not meeting this criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expense, shelter cost in excess of 20 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply. They may do so by filling in the application forms sent home in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year. In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has such children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals for them, they should contact the school. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of his race, sex, color, or national origin. Under the provisions of the policy the local school principal will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official he may make a request either orally or in writing to A.C. Dukes, Sr. County School Superintendent whose address is Drawer D, Loudon, Tennessee 37774 for a hearing to appeal the decision.

PREFER ONLY SMALL QUANTITIES OF FOOD IN HOME FREEZERS

Your home freezer may balk if you load it with too much unfrozen food at one time. Only the amount of food that will freeze within 24 hours should go into the freezer at one time. This amounts to two or three pounds per cubic foot of freezer space. For a twelve cubic foot freezer, this would mean adding no more than forty pounds of unfrozen food at one time.

Few home freezers can lower meat temperatures fast enough to assure top quality. For best freezing of meat, and the least drain on your freezer, sharp freeze meat at a locker plant where the equipment is built for the job. Then the frozen product can be transferred for storage to a home freezer.

Even freezing fruits and vegetables in too big a quantity can be too much of a load for your freezer.

Because the freezer cannot cool fast enough to sharp freeze a big load, the temperature of the entire freezer storage area is raised. Consequently, any frozen food that is already stored will also become warmer, damaging the quality of this food, too. So, plan to add foods to your home freezer in small quantities if you want good keeping quality of the product. Or, have it sharp frozen at a locker plant and use your freezer as a storage place only.

GOOD CUTTING KEEPS BOUQUETS FRESH LONGER

Using some special know-how in cutting flowers will help keep summer bouquets fresher for a longer period of time.

The tools, the time and the water temperature are all a part of this know how. As for the tool to use in cutting, the sharper, the better. Either pruning shears or a knife will do. With a clean cut, stems heal faster and absorb water better. And cutting stems on a slant helps, too. The slant gives a larger surface for water up-take.

The time? Late afternoon, between four and six o'clock is best. After producing food for themselves all day, the plants are then full of starches that will add to their keeping quality.

And water temperature? Warm water moves up the stems faster than cold. Take a container of warm water right to the garden with you so you can put the flowers in it immediately after cutting.

Flowers when the buds are a quarter open. This goes for most flowers except those in the daisy family and they must be

Teresa Goddard 4-H Safety Winner

By: Bonnie F. Sheeley
Assistant Extension Agent
State 4-H Roundup was held August 6-10 at the University of Tennessee Campus in Knoxville. District winners and alternates in all 4-H projects were invited for the week's activities. The approximately 500 four-H'ers and leaders attending were involved in a campus tour, a trip to the Great Smoky Mountains and Hunter Hills Theater, a campaign and election for state 4-H Council, and various other learning experiences.

The climax of the week was the announcement of the state winners in the 4-H projects. Teresa Goddard, of Greenback, was named the State 4-H Safety Winner. It has been over five years since Loudon County has had a state 4-H project winner.

Carolynn Hickey also attended Roundup in the Dress Revue Activity.

In full bloom or they won't open. Foliage left under water will rot and, of course, give off a foul odor. So it's best to take the leaves off the lower two-thirds of the stems. This can be done while still in the garden.

Give flowers an overnight treatment before arranging them. Toss them loosely in a couple of sheets of newspaper and stand them newspaper and all-in a pail. For best absorption, cover the stems with water up to the lowest blossom. The newspaper absorbs water and builds up a layer of humidity around the flowers. Set the pail in a dark, draftless area for its overnight treatment.

It is extra cutting care like this that keeps your summer garden bouquets fresh longer.

Green Greens

John Green of the University of Tennessee, a noted archeologist and a Cherokee Indian, laid Tuesday spoke to the club about the work he is doing among the Indian ruins at Choto.

Mr. Green is the author of the book "Forgotten Trails."

His talk was accompanied by slides of the actual work and recovery of these Indian relics. Since it was also his birthday the club sang Happy Birthday and presented him a cake, according to Rotary Public Relations Chairman Rick Postroy.

I recently received an unsigned letter, with no return address. This is not the usual type of unsigned letter I receive, most of which would look like the ones I read that Howard Baker has been receiving lately.

But this particular one is about a real concern of one of our citizens, and is hitting at a point that probably needs to be discussed more openly, so that more of our citizens would know more about the problem.

Governing Board for Vocational Education Meets in Lenoir City

The Governing Board for Vocational Education for Loudon County met at the Lenoir City Board of Education Building on Tuesday Evening of last week. In attendance from the Loudon County Board of Education were James H. Bailey, Chairman of the Loudon County Board and the Governing Board, A. C. Linton, Superintendent of Loudon County and Assistant Agent of the Governing Board, J. B. Hagler, John M. Hutton, Leonard Liles, Ted Wampler, and Lester Thomas. In attendance from the Lenoir City Board were Mayor Joe Grayson, Bill Littleton, Gerald Hamby, Bob Cusick, and the writer. Mr. Max Edwards and Mrs. Geneva Bishop were in attendance and represented the State Department of Education. Mr. Lenora Goforth represented the Little Tennessee Valley Educational Cooperative.

The Governing Board spent considerable time in the selection of members to serve on the Advisory Council. The purpose of the Advisory Council is to assist in the county survey, advise in the development of initial plans, participate in evaluations of programs in progress and advise on program revisions and future offerings. Membership on the Advisory Council must represent all areas and be having representative of the geographic areas and of various economic and cultural segments of the population as well as being knowledgeable of training needs in all occupational areas.

The following were appointed and have agreed to serve on the Council:

The Governing Board decided that the most feasible means of providing vocational education for the youth of Loudon County was a Vocational Training Center. This Center will be located separate from any existing school in the county and in a location that is easily accessible and convenient to the residents of the county.

Chairman Bailey appointed the following committee to select a site for the Center and to report back to the Governing Board in the immediate future:

J. B. Hagler, Chairman, Gerald Hamby, Bob Cusick, Billie Jo Littleton and Leonard Liles.

The Governing Board must submit a Prospectus, which will include the suggested alternative, estimated cost of land, estimated number of square feet in required construction, type and number of programs to be offered at the Training Center by September 10, 1973. Prospectus must be submitted to Dr. Max Vann, Special Assistant to the State Commissioner of Education.

School Lunches To Cost More at Lenoir City Schools

Inflation and the rising costs of food have made it necessary to increase the price of school lunches in all Lenoir City Schools. The Lenoir City Board authorized a five cent per plate increase at all schools effective on the first day of school. With this increase the cost at each school will be as follows:

Nichols and West Hill - 40 cents per day if paid by week

Middle School - 45 cents per day if paid by week

High School - 50 cents per day if paid by week

If students pay for lunches by the day an additional five cents is charged.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR
Dear Editor:

Until this summer, Loudon has been without a public swimming pool. Because of this, one very kind and interested lady has opened her pool for several years to as many as she could accommodate. She has taught them swimming and has provided them with training in water safety. Many young lives have been influenced by the patience, love, understanding, and knowledge of Mrs. Nell Harrison. Loudon is truly fortunate for her devotion and Mrs. Harrison deserves a sincere "Thank You" from grateful parents.

Mrs. Melvin Woody and daughter, Laura of Loganville, Ga., formerly of Loudon, are much improved after being seriously injured in an automobile accident recently in Loganville. Mrs. Woody is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Shelton.

Loudon 1973 Gridiron Picture Much Improved Over 1972 Play

The quickest way to dissolve a bad taste in your mouth is to wash it out. Hence the 13th edition of Coach Chig Ratledge's Loudon Redskins are hoping to do something similar, but the taste is the remembrance of a 1-8 won-lose record in 1972. The 1973 Redskins are in serious hopes of dissolving the thoughts of dissolving the thoughts of last year with a brighter and rosier start of the grid campaign at hand.

Loudon's Ratledge just eight men via way of graduation and return a dozen senior lettermen. "We should be improved," says Coach bell, 200 pound senior are figured to play left tackle and right guard, respectively. One in the construction of the Loudon front wall will be tackles Kenny Skinner, a 200 pound junior and Lonnie Brewer, a 228 pound senior. Floyd Morton will be used plenty in the offensive line as a center. Floyd is a 160 pound junior, Steve Hill and Roy is certain to see duty on defense. The remaining three backfield positions are stacked four deep with each and every candidate showing signs of first team ability. Tim Guider is the current full back but John Deatheridge a hustling 195 pound junior could roll the senior runner. Guider, 175 pounds, is listed as a strong linebacker and defensive leader. Dennis Rowe, Steve Kiser, and sophomore Dicky Colvin are matched with Guider on defense in backing the line. Deatheridge has regained his quickness and overall speed he once had as a 125 pound freshman. Sophomore Marlon Brown and Danny Russell a returning senior are also on the depth chart at full back but most likely will be used more in the defensive secondary. Jimmy Long a 150

Gary Dutton Retires From Loudon Coaching Ranks

The Loudon Redskins with an all out spring and fall effort by both returning lettermen and team coaches to regain the school's football status as a long time winner, was dealt a severe blow last Thursday when chief assistant coach Gary Dutton announced his retirement. Dutton, a standout tackle on the Loudon football teams of the late '60's and early '60's, went on to play varsity football for Maryville College. After graduation Dutton coached one year of football at

Maryville Junior High School. Coach Dutton returned to

Loudon in 1967 as Coach Chig Ratledge's chief assistant and handled the line forces and defensive linebackers. It was in 1969 that Dutton shared one of his most cherished rewards as a coach. The strict, fundamentalist viewed with glee as his front wall of blockers opened hole after hole for the Redskins backs to carry his alma mater to victory after victory en route to a AA State Championship. Coach Dutton's sudden decision to retire from the educational and coaching ranks resulted from a scholarship grant from the University of Tennessee for him to get his Doctorate in the field of education. A task requiring his full time and attention.

Dutton, who also served as a social studies teacher at Loudon High School, is married and has two young sons. Rated by his students and teaching colleagues as one of the top instructors and youth directors, Coach Dutton will leave a giant shadow to be bridged by his absence. "Not only is he a good teacher, but he has been the inspiration to many a young man in developing his mind and attitude to meet the world as an adult," said Loudon High School Principal William Napier. "Coach Dutton will not be replaced easily as he was more to the school than just a teacher, he is a worker. We are proud of him getting an opportunity such as he has, and hope him much success." No announcement has been made as to a possible replacement for Coach Dutton. Loudon High School hired Jim Gibson last winter as a teacher and assistant football coach to add Coaches Ratledge and Dutton with the Redskins Football Program. Thus it is expected that the coaching duties of Dutton will be shared by Ratledge and Gibson this fall with no new assistant being hired at this time.

DEATHERIDGE FIGHTING FOR LOUDON'S TOP RUNNING BACK ASSIGNMENT—Johnny Deatheridge is showing signs of outstanding potential this fall for Loudon as the 185 pound junior fullback has labored over the summer to get his speed and strength ready for the 1973 football campaign. John has fashioned speeds of 4.6 and 4.7 seconds for the 40 yard dash and has shown power in his workouts that far this fall.

DUTTON RETIRES FROM COACHING—Loudon's assistant football coach Gary Dutton, who has been a member of the Redskins athletic staff since 1967 has resigned his post to accept a scholarship grant to work on his Doctorate degree in education.

Linginfelter To Spearhead Greenback Football Fortunes For '73

The Greenback Cherokees lost just five seniors off their team which fashioned a 4-4 season record and a second place finish in the balanced Foothills Conference in 1972. For most football teams to construct a winning season and have the bulk of their team returning the following year would have most coaches picking their chops for a conference championship.

Linginfelter's fastest man on the Cherokee squad will also play defensive safety when he is not launching aerials or legging out yardage on offense. For Linginfelter to go, and so will go the Greenback ship, big and rangy Bill Joe Kyker, 6'6", 185 pounds must make the change from a starting tackle in 1972 to a sure handed offensive end in his senior year. Freshman Harold Hawkins, 185 pounds, looks like the probable starter at split end. Roddy Kizer, who is labbed as a promising senior and 180 is the returning starting guard on the left side and is expected to get a lot of help from junior Jeff Tipton at 180 pounds.

The center will be Mike Evans, a senior, rated one of the best all round performers in the conference and certain college credentials. The 190 pounder will also work as a linebacker on defense. Kenny Evans a junior weighing 175 will be sharing the offensive center duties and should see other line duties during the season.

Senior Rick Rader will use his quickness to fulfill the duties at right guard. The 160 pounder is backed by Bobby McNeilly a 150 pound senior. Gene Kimbrell is back for his senior year at right tackle. The rugged tackle is the biggest man on the Cherokee team at 225 pounds. Rick Russell, a 215 pound sophomore, will provide excellent replacement efforts when Kimbrell is not on the field.

Rounding out the line will be defensive starter Keith Hall, a 170 pound tackle made many big plays for the Cherokee defense last year and is figured to be an active tackler in 1973.

The Cherokees are thin in the backfield with several new faces battling for starting positions. Linginfelter, a strong candidate for all state laurels, is fixed at quarterback and Tim Hammontree will suit up in the fullback spot behind Linginfelter. The 100 pound senior will again be the team's defensive leader and should star with Evans at linebacker attacking opposing running backs. Hammontree is still another prime member of the Greenback team which has had college scouts checking the Cherokees camp almost daily.

The remaining backfield positions are wide open with Mark Carver listed in the lead at first team flanker. The sophomore back weighs 190 and should prove worthy at his young gridlers rounding out the varsity squad David Brewer a junior, Gary Brookshire, and sophomore Tom Rader are working out at the mid positions. Interior linemen are Frank Mitchell, Rocky Anderson, Lonnie Neely, Lyon Tucker, Jess Beskos, Roger Hampton, Eric Beher, Tony Chambers, and Steve Linginfelter. Frank Mitchell and Chris McNeilly are also being used in the line.

The Cherokees basically have all the tools for a highly productive season. Nevertheless the single A school will have plenty of conference competition from Walland and Porter for the Foothills title. Greenback with enough wins and a successful home field mark, all their conference battles are scheduled to be played on Cooper Field.

How well the Cherokee keep their offensive backfield healthy and the type of team execution in the early stages of the season will fairly well mark the season for Greenback in 1973 and their chances at making a run for conference and region honors.

GREENBACK HINGES GRID SUCCESS ON LINGINFELTER—The football fortunes of Greenback High School will stem from the senior play of quarterback Tony Linginfelter. The rugged 200 pounder, who has accounted for 1000 yards of individual offense in his past two varsity seasons, gets a first hand tape job from head football coach Keith Bailey as several of the Cherokee players watch approvingly.

Cherokees To Test Panthers In Third Quarter Of Jambooree

The 1973 Foothills Athletic Conference Football Jambooree is scheduled for Friday, August 31, at Maryville College.

The annual jambooree, a kickoff for Blount County and Region One, Class A schools, is sponsored by the conference coaches each year to help defray the cost of insurance for players on the participating teams.

Each team will compete for a quarter against an opponent selected at an earlier drawing. Seymour has joined with the usual nine teams which take part in the fall grid premier to give the jambooree five quarters of gridiron competition.

This year's Jambooree will get under way at 7:30 p.m. with Alcoa (London's Sept. 7 home opener) tangling with Foothills Conference member Townsend.

Should rain postpone the Friday festivities, the Jambooree will be held Saturday night, September 1.

Tickets to the game are available at all participating schools and from individual team players. Tickets are also available at several Maryville merchants, Giff's Sporting Goods, Cate's Barber Shop, Lowe's Drugs and Clabough's IGA. Advanced tickets are $1.25, but will be $1.50 at the jambooree on the night of September 1.

The Jambooree schedule:

First quarter: Alcoa vs. Townsend

Second quarter: Walland vs. Everett

Third quarter: Porter vs. G

FOURTH QUARTER

Fourth quarter: Maryville vs. Friendsville

Fifth quarter: Lanier vs. Seymour

15 Lettermen Anchor Lenoir City Football Team For 1973 Season

The Lenoir City Panthers will be hard pressed to duplicate in 1973 the Panthers were 8-1 and lost only to Kingston twice and eventual double-A title winner Hartsville. Coach Dale Brown lost 16 seniors to graduation and all were exclusive starters which performed important roles in making the Panthers down the best grid effort.

The school has had since 1968.

The 1973 team has 15 returning lettermen with fullback Mike Walker back for his senior year in the Panther backfield. The hard running Walker, a 190 pounder, has led the Lenoir City offense in yardage the past two seasons. He will be counted on heavily as a defensive stalwart at linebacker.

Mike McConkey, who finished the last five games as the starting quarter back when Tommy Cook broke his collar bone is looking sharp at the position this fall.

Senior Howie Lindsey is the top candidate to move into the backfield at the vacant fullback spot. Bobby Smith has got the inside track on the fullback job. Smith is a 185 pound sophomore and will play linebacker on defense.

Junior Johnson and Jeff Conner are a couple of junior fullbacks that will see two way duties on offense and in the defensive secondary.

The Lenoir City line will be hit once again but do not have a lot of experience or varsity depth. "Some of these guys are just going to have to get tough," says Brown. "They can't play all year but they must mark the season for Greenback in 1973 and their chances at making a run for conference and region honors."

Loudon County Ahead In Buying Power

Loudon County stood out as a better-than-average market during the past year, according to a national survey of business activity, just released.

Its relative strength was manifest in the rising level of earnings in the area and in the amount of consumer spending in local retail stores.

The figures bearing this out are contained in the new, copyrighted "Survey of Buying Power," released by Sales Management, the marketing publication. It presents comparable data on income and spending for all parts of the country.

It shows that the amount of disposable income in the hands of Loudon County residents was above average. Their total net income, after payment of personal taxes, came to $62,619,000, as against the previous year's $58,778,000. Just how much this came to, on a per family basis, is indicated by the median cash income per household, which is the midpoint on the local income scale. It amounted to a net of $6,218, as against the previous year's $6,116.

As a result, the demand for cars, furniture, TV sets and household appliances zoomed. Retail sales in Loudon County reached a grand total of $29,492,000, as compared with the previous year's $26,619,000.

Life seem to bring. This picture is of the Lennex boys. They are identified as Hubert, Troy, Bill and John. We are always glad to have family groups or pictures of boys in their stages of growing up. Note the old car the boys are sitting on. Couldn't make picture like this today because there are no running boards. We believe this is an old A-model Ford.

$1,575,000 Spent Yearly for College Educations

We are grateful for the loan of this interesting picture which was loaned to us by the Lennex family. If you have a picture you would like to have in the Good Old Days, just give me a call. We will be glad to come and pick up pictures anywhere in the county.

The bank accounts of Loudon County families who have sons or daughters bound for college will be taking a severe jolt this year. Tuition costs have advanced sharply since last year. In addition, there have been proportionate increases in the cost of room and board. On the basis of a federally-conducted study of more than 2,000 colleges, it is found that the biggest jump will be at private institutions, where the average cost will be $5,281, or $206 more than it was in 1972. Among publically-supported colleges the increase will be more modest—from $1,414 last year to $1,492 this year.

For the number of Loudon County residents expected to attend college, it adds up to a total cost of $1,575,000. The figure covers tuition, room and board but does not include books, transportation, clothing, laundry and pocket money. They could come to an additional $500 or more per student. The data on costs and enrollments are based upon surveys made by the U.S. Office of Education, the Department of Commerce and others.

The colleges, too, find themselves in a financial squeeze. Their costs, for faculty salaries, supplies, maintenance and the like, have been mounting steadily. At many colleges, enrollments have been falling behind. And, at the same time, because of economic conditions, their new endowments have been falling behind. As a result, several colleges have had to close their doors. Among the reasons given for the drop in the enrollment rate, are the ending of the Vietnam war, which has reduced the proportion of young men entering college, the lag in Federal aid for students and the inability of more and more families to meet the rising cost of higher education. However, there will still be about 8.3 million in college this fall, according to the latest figures.

IN PARTING

The best way to keep a young girl out of hot water is to put some dirty dishes in it.

Nowadays the youngster who wants to hide behind his mother's skirt has to get upon his high chair to do it.

D's ever stop to think... freight in a car is shipment; in a ship it's cargo.

The number of young men and women in Loudon County who will be college-bound is estimated at 660. The $1,575,000 cost that local parents will have to meet, exclusive of extras, is based upon the expectation that half the students will be going to public colleges and the other half to private ones.

Revival Services

Revival services are now in progress at Blairland Baptist Church. Rev. E.M. Sherwood, pastor of Dixie Lee Baptist Church, is the evangelist. Services begin each night at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend.

Those who can identify are as follows: Sammie Gray, Doyle Pruitt, Wilma Oody, Murrell Pruitt, Betty Lindsay, Melvin Castel, and Robert McJunkins. We are sure we know many of the others but just can't recall them by looking at the group.

We know that through the years this old school was in this location. The school now has a new building on Get Good Road. Many things happened that can be looked back on as being very amusing.

Jimmy Massengill who grew up in the Steekee area and attended this school, was relating funny things they recalled from their school days there. One thing they had a big laugh over was the recalling of some of the boys who in cold weather would get to the school house before the teachers and fill the stove pipe full of paper. When the teacher arrived and built a fire in the stove, the whole school building would fill with smoke and all the students were kept outside until it cleared up.

Another picture we have this week is of a group of Loudon boys. All are well known in our area. I am sure this will bring back many memories to them and to a lot of other people who will reflect on their childhood days; the time of life without responsibilities and worry that adult

When we used the picture of the old Steekee School last week, we stated that we had some more groups taken at this old school. Well, we're going to use another one of them this week. The one we used last week is a different group that we got a very nice response from the picture we used last week and we do appreciate it.

As everyone will note, this was Mrs. Pauline (Watkins) Davis class. She taught at Steekee and other county schools for a number of years. I am not sure of the years she taught at Steekee and we don't know exactly when this picture was made. We did not think to ask Bill Thornburg, who loaned us these old pictures, but we think it was possibly in the forties.

We were only able to identify a few of those in the group. We need the help of our readers, so if you can help, let us know.

Whether or not to allow abortions in the Loudon County Memorial Hospital will be a topic of discussion and possible action by the Hospital Board of Directors at their meeting in September, it has been learned this week.

Rumors of the action have been circulating among members of the hospital staff for a couple of weeks and it apparently has caused quite a stir among the nurses and other staff members.

From what has been learned the medical staff (doctors) of the county recently voted to request the hospital board to change the by-laws of the hospital to allow abortions to be performed surgically at the hospital.

Although, according to a Supreme Court ruling, abortions are legal on the basis of individual conscience, very few hospitals have opened their doors and facilities for that purpose.

From what we have learned there are no hospitals in this area that are now performing the service. Clinical abortions are allowed outside hospitals in doctor's offices during the first three months of pregnancy, but the law stipulates that beyond three months the surgery must take place in a licensed hospital.

Although we have limited our investigation into the matter, because it is a very delicate situation involving the doctors, the hospital employees, administration and hospital board, we have learned that all the regular nurses at the Loudon hospital have refused to participate in the surgery and said they would resign first should the hospital board approve the request of the doctors.

To the nurses it is a moral question and they do not wish to participate in ending the life cycle of a human although they are not yet born. This can be seen from several views, but we can understand their objections and certainly it is one that the hospital board should consider. There is already a critical shortage of nurses and aides at the hospital. This is due to the patient growth at the hospital.

Should the hospital be opened up for abortions several other problems could arise. If the Loudon hospital is the only hospital or even only one of a few that offer abortion services, it might be possible that it would become an abortion clinic with a high volume of its capacity taken up in this service, thus limiting its capacity to serve other medical and surgical needs.

No doubt it would be a money maker for the hospital and for the doctors but this would not result in the best interest of the hospital.

It would seem that the hospital board has to look at the matter from several angles.

- 1-The personal view on the moral aspects.
- 2-The view of the nurses and what could result if the nurses stick to their statements about resigning and refusing to participate in the surgery.
- 3-If they approved the doctor's request, what would be the impact on the hospital and what attitude would the citizens of the community have that depend on the facility for medical services?
- 4-Does the hospital board have the right to deny the use of the facilities for the purpose of abortion?

The question of abortion is a "hot potato" everywhere. Doctors can't agree on it and this is proved by the fact that a great majority refuse patient requests and refer them to abortion clinics in New York and Washington, D. C.

In making this report the Herald decided to hold no personal interviews with doctors, nurses or hospital administrators. Mainly because the problem is first an internal affair at this point and the hospital is a public facility that requires that the doctors, nurses, administrators and others work together to give the best possible service.

A controversy over the subject of abortion is something that the Loudon County Memorial Hospital does not need. It is a good hospital with good personnel and some of the best equipment that can be found in the area.

What the hospital and doctors need to do is further improve their services and capabilities and leave the "hot potatoes" to someone else.

$450 Stolen From Drive In Restaurant

Apparently the thieves who made off with $450 in cash from Carl's Drive In Restaurant in Loudon sometime between Sunday night and Monday morning had a key to the building and knew where the money was hidden.

County Deputy Jake Chapman, who investigated said that there was no forcible entry to the building and that only the place the money was hidden was discovered about 9:30 a.m. Monday morning. Taken was $200 in ones; $28 in twenties; $100 in fives; $80 in twenties and $20 in tens.

Woman Killed When Car Hits House, Brakes Fail

Mrs. Alpha Yates Shubert, 70, of Loudon Rt. 3, died enroute to Loudon County Memorial Hospital after a car in which she was riding crashed into a house about 10 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 25, on C St. in Lenoir City.

Mrs. Yates was a passenger in a car driven by her daughter, Mrs. Nettie S. Long, 42, of 405 West Second Ave. The car, traveling south (downhill) on C St., had just crossed First Ave., onto the steepest part of the street, when a hydraulic brake cylinder burst, throwing the car out of control.

The vehicle careened to the right curb, crossed the sidewalk and crashed into a brick house at 107 C St., causing serious injury to both Mrs. Shubert and Mrs. Long. Mrs. Shubert died on the way to Loudon County Memorial Hospital. A Loudon County Rescue Squad ambulance answered the call. It was on stand-by duty because the regular ambulance was in the wreck until Service unit was on another call. Mrs. Long was taken to Ft. Sanders Presbyterian Hospital, where she was recovering from a compound fracture of the upper right leg, injuries to her ankle and elbow, and severe head lacerations.

Lenoir City Policeman Donald Watkins, who investigated, said examination of the car after the accident showed a hydraulic brake wheel cylinder had ruptured, leaving the car without brakes, and throwing it to one side. He and Policeman Johnny Guider found a puddle of what appeared to be brake fluid opposite Calvary Baptist Church and he speculated the malfunction occurred there.

One hundred twenty-three feet of tire marks traced the path of the car from there to the house. Policeman Watkins said a third occupant of the car, 15-year-old girl, was apparently unharmed. "I didn't even know she was in the wreck until later," he observed. He had not completed the investigation and did not have her name.

Allen Berry Convicted Of Voluntary Manslaughter

A 30-year-old Philadelphia man was convicted of voluntary manslaughter and sentenced in Loudon County Criminal Court Tuesday to two-to-ten years in the penitentiary, in connection with the death of his former wife.

Fred Allen Berry, a veteran of three terms in prison, was found guilty by a 12-man jury, which recommended a sentence of 10 years.

The verdict came about 4:50 p.m. Tuesday, ending a two-day trial in which the accused man's sister testified he told her he killed his wife. The jury had been charged with the case shortly before noon.

Court officials reported that the sentence for voluntary manslaughter is, by law, a minimum of two years and a maximum of 10 years. Under the law, Berry will be eligible for parole in 18 months.

Berry had been charged with murder in the first degree, but under the law, the jury could find him guilty of that, or of the lesser charges of either second degree murder, voluntary manslaughter, or involuntary manslaughter, or they could find him not guilty, according to the charge read by Criminal Court Judge Lloyd McCluen.

BERRY SHOWED no emotion when the verdict was read. Immediately after Judge McCluen pronounced sentence, set bond at $2,500 and gave Berry's attorney, Don McMurry, 30 days to file a motion for a new trial, the defendant was taken to Knox County jail.

Berry also is facing a charge of receiving and concealing stolen goods, involving the theft of a television set from a Loudon home about a week before his arrest. That case is scheduled for the September term of the grand jury.

"I don't want to tell on my brother," was the tearful statement made by Doris Lowe, sister of the defendant. "I saw him on Wednesday about five. No one was with him. He stayed about 15 to 20 minutes," Mrs. Lowe told the court. She was obviously reluctant to answer questions and once turned and looked at her brother before saying anything.

"We took him to mother's house."

"Was there anything that he did unusual to what he said or did?" asked Attorney General Kenneth Deatherage.

"Yes, he was nervous," Mrs. Berry answered slowly.

"Did he say anything bad happened?"

"I just can't!" was her unhesitant reply.

Deatherage then asked her what she had told Sheriff Freeman Russell and FBI Agent Leon Miller when they had come to her house questioning about Carolyn's disappearance.

Defense attorney Don McMurry rose to request that the jury be sent out before she answered. His request granted, the questioning started again.

"All we are interested in is truth and justice," the Attorney General said. "Now what did your brother say?"

"HE SAID he killed her," was her strident reply.

Defendant Berry and his attorney both jumped up and protested. Berry yelled out at the Sheriff, "How much did you pay her to say that, Russell?" He was ordered to be seated, but he answered, "This is my life they're talking about!"

Talking became more difficult for Mrs. Lowe. She was crying and having continued problems keeping her composure. She finally was able to go on and testified that Berry had told her he had killed his wife and put her out on Steeple Road somewhere. She said he told of choking his wife with his hands.

The jury returned and she made her statements again. This time she testified that Mrs. Lowe told the court that her family had been threatened with arrest if she didn't tell

400 Attend Catholic Church Dedication

CATHOLIC CHURCH DEDICATION—Some 400 persons of all faiths and from various government and civic organizations joined with members of the new St. Thomas The Apostle Catholic Church for the dedication of the new church on Harrison Road near Lenoir City Sunday. The dedication of the new church marked the first time the 100 member parish has had a church building. In the upper left photo the consecration of the brick church is being dedicated. Upper right photo the consecration is entering the church and in the lower left the packed sanctuary of the church is shown as the services begin. The lower right photo shows Mgr. Edward M. Dolan making the main address at the dedication. Pastor of the church is Father James V. LaFrento, who also serves the Hartman and Deer Lodge churches. Bishop A. Durick, chief prelate of Nashville Diocese conducted the services. Music for the services was provided by the Loudon County Choral Society. Following the dedication service refreshments were served at a reception in the Hall of Mary in the basement of the church. Weekly Sunday Mass will be held at the church on Sunday at 9:30 a.m. during September, but will soon be changed to a morning service. Members of the church expressed gratitude for the many who attended giving it a "community" welcome. Priests from about 15 other churches in the East Tennessee area attended along with church officials from as far away as Memphis.

Harris Home Broken Into

Thieves took more than $375 in possessions from the Fred Harris home, Rt. 2, Loudon sometime Saturday morning.

Deputy Luke Bright reported that the Harris' left home about 9:30 a.m. and returned two hours later to find the home had been broken into.

Missing was a Magnavox tape player, 25 tapes, a tool box and tools, 32 caliber pistol and guitar and amplifier.

Entrance to the home was gained by cutting a screen and going through a window at the side of the house.

Patsy Davidson Is Bride

Miss Patsy Ruth Davidson and Larry Wayne Miller were united in marriage Saturday, August 4, at 4 p.m. at the Philadelphia United Methodist Church. The afternoon ceremony was performed by Rev. Riley Huffstetter, brother-in-law of the bride, from Hillsville, Virginia.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Lee Davidson of Philadelphia. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miller of Sweetwater.

Special music was presented by Miss Bill Lindsay, aunt of the groom, organist, and Miss Etta Faye East, aunt of the bride, soloist. Special selections included "Whither Thou Goest," "The Wedding Prayer," "We've Only Just Begun," and "Theme From Love Story."

The double ring ceremony was performed before an altar decorated with an arch of candles and centered with a greenery ball. On each side of the arch was a candelabra decorated with greenery and a basket with a flower arrangement of white gladioli, blue daisies and white roses.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white dotted swiss trimmed in lace. The gown featured long puffed sleeves, a ruffled V-neckline, empire waistline and an A-line skirt trimmed in lace. The chapel length veil was trimmed in matching lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses, blue carnations and baby's breath with white ribbons tied in love knots. Her only jewelry was an engraved necklace, a gift from the groom.

Miss Gail Williams of Galax, Virginia, was maid of honor and Mrs. Riley Huffstetter, sister of the bride, from Hillsville, Virginia, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ben Galyon, Jr. of Loudon and Mrs. Allen Miller, sister-in-law of the groom, and David Toomey, uncle of matching gowns of powder blue sheer polyester dotted swiss which were lined in blue and trimmed with white lace, designed by the bride's mother. Each carried a long stem white rose tied with blue ribbons. Leslie Toomey, cousin of the groom, from Sweetwater, served as flower girl. She also wore a matching gown of blue dotted swiss trimmed in white lace, which was made by the groom's mother, and carried a basket of white rose petals.

Mr. Mike Presley of Sweetwater served as best man. Ushers were Joe Davidson, brother of the bride, from Grissom Air Force Base, Indiana; Allen Miller, brother of the groom; and David Toomey, uncle of the groom, both of Sweetwater. SNACKS CONTRIBUTE HIDDEN BENEFITS

Snack time can have many hidden benefits for children, especially when they help with the preparations.

Most snacks should be easy to fix, easy to eat and provide an important portion of nutritional needs. Something as simple as pouring juice and spreading peanut butter on a cracker are good for developing muscle control.

Children learn to work together as a team by taking turns mixing, measuring and peeping in the oven. They may learn about time as they watch a clock or a timer waiting for an egg to cook or a cookie to bake. They learn new words and their meaning, such as stir, broil, bake, mix or taste.

Children should start their snack preparation with simple things. Putting cheese cubes on toothpicks can be a difficult job for chubby little fingers at first. Spreading peanut butter on a cracker might be the next step.

From here children can learn to prepare instant pudding, scramble eggs or no-bake cookies then advance to more complicated recipes requiring more steps and accurate measurements.

Most fresh vegetables, especially after picking or digging them from a garden, are well liked by children. Carrot sticks or celery stuffed with cheese or peanut butter is easy to prepare and can be eaten without adult help. Making potato or vegetable soup is an interesting project for children who have had some previous cooking experience.

Protein is especially important for fast growing young children. When a child devils his own egg it is almost sure to be eaten. A rotary egg beater is great fun to operate and develops skill when preparing scrambled eggs. Individual hamburger patties or meat loaves can be nice and squishy to mold with little hands.

Children will have a lot of questions which need to be answered as they cook. Close supervision, especially if they are working with sharp knives, a hot stove or boiling water, will be necessary, too.

Children Needed For West Hill Kindergarten Class

Registration of kindergarten children at West Hill School has been slow and unless additional children register within the next few days the class will have to close since the State Department of Education requires a minimum of 20 students for the operation of the class. We will enroll students for this class regardless of where the students live since it is quite important to Loudon County and Lenoir City to continue this class. Parents of children of Kindergarten age are urged to enroll their children in this class immediately. There is no tuition for attending the class and the class is open to anyone who enrolls whether he lives in the city or county.

Since we have 101 students enrolled in the first grade at Nichols and West Hill Schools, it was anticipated that we would have a minimum of 60 to 75 children who would attend public kindergarten. However, to date only about 50 students have enrolled for kindergarten.

The kindergarten class at West Hill is taught by a teacher who is a college graduate and also has an aide to assist her. The class will meet all the requirements for a state approved kindergarten class.

Since enrollment figures at West Hill School dropped below the required Average Daily Attendance figure of 110 required for four teachers, the fifth grade at West Hill was transferred to the Middle School effective on Monday, August 27. Since 78 students in the fifth grade were enrolled at the Middle School, the transfer of 17 students from West Hill made the total enrollment at the Middle School only 95 students for the fifth grade. This made it possible for the fifth grade teachers at the Middle School to be within the state required minimum of not more than 25 students enrolled in grades 1-5.

Your County In Action
BY
Harvey L. Sproul
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

For "old folks" like Sylvia (my wife) and me, we have become involved in quite an undertaking.

All of our children, and particularly our daughter Susan, have kinds been like Priscilla in "Priscilla's Pop" wherein all that could be heard was "we want a horse". Well Sylvia and I have always been "city dwellers" and were quite happy in our nice house in a nice neighborhood just on the outside of Loudon City, although we, as many people, had thought about and even worked toward building a brand new house, but the expense just looked to be more than what we thought we could afford.

Then an opportunity came open concerning a farm house and about 11 acres (where we could have a horse) on Martel Road, and we completely changed our plans, borrowed the money and bought the farm house, and have been in the process of remodeling it, and attempting to become accustomed to the idea of living "a farm" life complete with our horse, three dogs and two cats.

Dan, our oldest son at age 13 now, our daughter Susan at 12, and Jane Anne at 9, had agreed to help keep up some of the chores in order to have a place to have a horse, etc. All summer we have been in the process of trying to keep all of the various contractors who are assisting us including carpenter, electrical, plumbing, heating etc. co-ordinated, and it looks like it is still going to be a few more weeks before we can move.

How is all this going to affect our total living style?

Well, Sylvia is quite a "MGM" (she favors some of this women's lib thing).

She has always wanted to have her own career, and to make a contribution in life, and had started to work as a teacher several years ago, and sometime before I had decided as a young lawyer to run for public office.

She is a good teacher too, having quite an education including a liberal arts background in English and history, together with her certificate in Education, and a Master of Science in Library and Media Supervision.

And when I compare scholarship with her - well I've never been able to compare with the grades that she has made.

Now, in addition, we have (as you can tell from above) three fairly young children, for whom she has been mother and teacher, she has been very active in our Church as teacher, Chairman of Commissions and Committees, member of the Administrative Board, etc. In the process of pursuing her chosen vocation in library field, she has been one of the organizers of the East Tennessee Library Association, and only this last year during her term as President of Loudon City Teachers' Association was involved in several projects including the establishment of a Fort Loudoun Credit Union available to all city and County employees in Loudon County.

Now all of this is to say that it seems that the strains and pressures of the past few years, and particularly this spring and summer, (and having to live with my controversies) are not going to let up for her, because now (in February) we are expecting another child.

I guess it is a good thing that we had already decided we needed a bigger house and lot!

And it appears that she is going to have to do a little "retiring" from many of her interests and activities for a period of time, and I expect there will be more expected of me too, huh?

Industrial Growth Up

Again in 1972, industry grew in the area served by TVA power.

During that year, especially the last few months, there was a pronounced upsurge of building and expansion.

A wide spectrum of industries announced the construction or expansion of 484 plants, for a total investment of $568 million.

Approximately 34,500 new jobs will be provided by these plants.

Area Food Costs Reported To Be Up Almost 6 Per Cent

With the price freeze off on everything but beef, food costs in Knoxville rose 5.8 percent in August over the same items in July.

The food cost situation is not much better in other cities within the East Tennessee Development District. Between July and August food costs rose 4.6 percent in Morristown and 2.3 percent in Oak Ridge.

These are the results of a market basket study started in May by the staff of the East Tennessee Development District. The first Saturday of each month three staff members price a market basket of 38 items ranging from staples to snacks. The list specifies brands and quantities, and all shoppers use the same national chain store in each city.

Not all prices are rising. The cost of canned goods and dry goods, such as flour and sugar, are remaining stable. But the cost of everything else, including fresh produce, is creeping upward. Meat remains the fastest increasing item. The increase in meat prices in August was the worst since the ETDD study began with an average rise of 27.8 percent in the three cities over May prices. The price of eggs jumped 34.2 percent between May and August.

Morristown was the least expensive of the three cities for buying food when the study began. If the ETDD market basket cost $20 to buy in Morristown in May, the table below shows how the price compared to the other cities in May and the months of July and August in all cities.

	May	August	May-August	Percent Increase
Morristown	$20.00	$22.48	12.43
Oak Ridge	20.72	21.76	5.0
Knoxville	20.64	22.09	10.0

The increase in food prices has the greatest impact where food was cheapest to begin with, Morristown. While the market basket still costs less there than in Knoxville, the gap is closing, and it already costs more than in Oak Ridge.

The East Tennessee Development District intends to continue the study until food prices stabilize.

Low Income Homeowners Said Hit Hardest By Tax

Due to the regressive nature of the Tennessee property tax system, the low income homeowner will pay four to seven times the percentage of his income in taxes as the high income owner, a University of Tennessee study says.

The report, "Tennessee Homeowner Property Tax Burden," is the latest publication from UT Knoxville's Center for Business and Economic Research. It includes property tax tables for each of the state's 95 counties and the 30 Tennessee cities with a 1970 population of 10,000 or more.

Both city and county governments have highly regressive residential tax structures, the report says. In cities, homeowners with the least income (under $3,000) pay about 11 per cent of their income as residential property tax. The comparable figure in counties is 4.7 per cent.

In the more than 120,000 per year income category only 1.8 per cent of income is paid in taxes by city owners, while county residents in that income group pay one per cent.

The authors of the report, Dr. Kenneth E. Quindry and Mary G. Curran of the CBER research staff, define a regressive tax as one in which the ratio of tax to income decreases as income itself increases.

"The average tax paid by county homeowners is $153, substantially different from the average of $321 paid by city homeowners. Home value is slightly lower in the counties but the major variation is in the tax rates," the report continues.

"At every income level, the percentage of income paid in taxes by city homeowners is roughly double that paid by county homeowners. Information used in the report is from unpublished

You're Part Of 'Complex Trade Network'

The American consumer is now part of a complex trade network that extends far beyond the supermarket or department store and into the affairs of other nations around the world.

That point was stressed today by Kenneth E. Frick, Administrator for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), the agency that administers the federal government's farm commodity programs.

"The U.S. consumer is a world consumer," Frick said.

"His monetary and commodity needs are only a thread woven into a worldwide economic system. That's why the causes of our rising food prices are more complex than at first apparent."

Frick told the ASCS East Central Regional Conference here that a major part of the food picture is a growing food appetite around the globe. He noted that not only is the world growing by about 80 million people a year, but the world's affluent. And increased buying power, he said, brings increased demand for more and better food.

For example, he said that since 1960, America's overall food consumption - per capita - has increased nearly 8 percent, while during the same period our consumption of beef increased by nearly 40 percent. He said other countries are experiencing similar trends, as reflected in our heavy exports of soybeans, grain and other feeds to help meet international demand for more meat and livestock products.

Information used in the report is from unpublished data on the percentage of income paid in taxes by city homeowners is roughly double that paid by county homeowners.

man's complete control," Frick noted. "World food production has suffered some devastating setbacks the past couple of years. Russia's 1972 grain crop was frozen by the worst winter in half a century, then scorched by a summer drought. India's monsoon rains petered out, and Peru's fish supply diminished. Here in the United States, an incredibly wet fall caused problems and last winter's hard freezes cut into our cattle and swine herds. Then in many areas, persistent rains brought severe flooding - which delayed or even prevented the planting of many 1973 crops."

This unpredictable chain of events, Frick said, has contributed to food and farm product supply problems around the world.

"Some people ask why we don't just forget about the world situation and keep all our products at home," Frick said. "But we must realize that our current standard of living would simply dissolve without an import-export system. We need fuels and raw materials that other nations produce. We've grown fond of their bananas, coffee and shoes. We've developed strong appetites for foreign automobiles, television sets and other low-cost goods. When we keep demanding all these foreign products - and we do - we should remember that American farm products are popular elsewhere in the world too. The strong world prices on food we gain since our farm products are among the most attractive commodities we have to trade."

Even with domestic food prices on the rise, Frick said, the American consumer has been spending only about six percent of his after-tax income on groceries, compared with 23 percent in 1962. It should be remembered, he said, that there has been a phenomenal rise in the consumer's disposable income. In other remarks, Frick reminded the ASCS Conference that Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz is determined to remove all restrictions from American farmers and encourage all-out production to meet strong market demands.

Evidence of that determination, Frick said, is that in 1974 there will be no set-aside of land for feed grains, wheat, or cotton and maintenance of conserving base acreages will not be required. Moreover, he said, long-term retired land under the Cropland Adjustment and Cropland Conservation Programs may be used for crops next year.

Frick also noted that during the 1974 crop year there will be a Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP) to provide cost-sharing assistance for farm practices that provide long-term conservation and environmental benefits.

Gas Problem In 1922 Also

"It is a matter of common knowledge that this year will see a revival of (gasoline) consumption which will tax the physical reserves of the oil industry to the utmost," says Petroleum Age.

Do you know when Petroleum Age made that statement? It could have been April 15, 1973, but it wasn't—it was April 15, 1922 and was carried in an advertisement of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in the July 20, 1922 issue of Chicago Evening American.

The newspaper was among several furnished the News by John Cline, operator of Gateway Auction at Rockwood and will be placed in one of his regular auctions in about two weeks.

The advertisement in the 1922 newspaper, which might have fit today with a few changes in automobile registration figures, continued:

Present conditions indicate that the prediction of April 15 will be fulfilled. The estimated increase of automobile registrations in the state served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) for 1922 will approximate 600,000, making a total probable registration of 3,850,000 cars.

Reports show that during the spring of 1922 large stocks of gasoline were accumulated, due to two principal factors, both transitory: first, the seasonal production of the Mexia and Haynesville fields, a production which, however, has already fallen below half its peak and is diminishing rapidly; and second, the heavy and prolonged rains which have been touring almost impossible.

These reserves of gasoline have served to keep the market steady. Nevertheless, the vast increase in the number of automotive vehicles and the extraordinary average mileage per car are depleting the reserve stocks rapidly.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana), following its established practice of anticipating the needs of the people in the territory it serves, has increased its facilities to an extent which enables it to guarantee that it will be in position to supply its patrons wherever they may be located.

The entire organization, realizing that it is dealing in a commodity essential to all the people is bending every effort to keep the supply ahead of demand, that the obligation of the Company to the consuming public may be discharged completely.

We thought it rather interesting that more than 50 years ago there was a depletion of gasoline reserves, in peacetime!

Television Set Stolen

Loudon County residents were warned to watch for a white van truck with an RCA emblem on the side. Mrs. C. E. Mowery, Dixon Road, Dixie Lee Junction, said this week that a neighbor reported seeing the truck at the Mowery house last week at the apparent time their color console television set was stolen.

Mrs. Mowery said that a neighbor also said that there was a Volkswagen seen with the van that she believes would have been the look-out car.

A member of Loudon County residences and businesses have been broken into in the past several weeks.

by her husband, Merril Shubert, of Loudon; sons, James Shubert of Cleveland, Ohio; Ruben and Mitchell Shubert, both of Kingston; Joe Shubert of P. Funeral services were held on Monday, Aug. 27, at Hawkins Mortuary Chapel with the Rev. Eli Estes and the Rev. Paul Shoemaker officiating. Burial was in Lenoir City Cemetery.

WHEN A BRAKE CYLINDER burst, this car, traveling down C St. toward Broadway in Lenoir City, swerved out of control, to the right curb, crossed the sidewalk and crashed into the brick wall of this house at 107 C St.

CAR FLIPS, TWO INJURED—Two of four persons riding in the car above were injured when it flipped on its top on Steekee School Road in front of the school about 8 a.m. Monday morning. The driver Tommy Overton, 16, was taken to Loudon County Memorial Hospital for treatment. Another passenger Terry Jaynes, 15, had a bad cut on the head and was treated. Two passengers not injured were Johnny Coffman, 16, and Henry Purdy, 13, according to Deputy Jake Chapman. Chapman said Overton apparently lost control of the car. He was charged with driving without a license.

what she knew. "They came twice before I told them about what he said," Mrs. Lowe declared. "They threatened to arrest us and my mother if I didn't own up to the truth."

After finishing her testimony, Mrs. Lowe slugged as she left the stand. A deputy caught her before she fell and two women helped her from the courtroom.

"I was completely," Carolyn Berry's cousin, Tommy Jamerson, testified he had identified the body from the clothes.

DR. WILLIAM Elliott, pathologist at Blount Memorial Hospital, told the Court he examined the body on April 13. He said much of the soft tissue was gone.

He was asked if there is a bone in the neck which can be examined to determine if a person has been strangled.

"Yes," he answered, "there is a U-shaped bone in the upper neck, but I could not find that bone on this body."

He said he had been unable to determine the cause of death, because of the condition of the body.

TBI agent Leon Miller told of assisting in the hunt for Mrs. Berry and described the scene at the barn. He said he had taken written statements from Mr. and Mrs. Lowe on May 9.

DEPUTY SHERIFF J. W. Mashburn testified that he had searched the Huff barn about two or three weeks after her death, but found nothing at that time. "Someone had called the Sheriff's office and said she was buried there," he testified. "I checked out the bottom of the barn and didn't see anything. I don't recall seeing a ladder when I was there."

As the State rested its case, defense attorney McMurray asked to have the jury removed and then entered a motion for an instructed verdict of not guilty. He contended the State had not been able to prove that a crime had been committed. He pointed out that the medical examiner had not been able to give the cause of death. Judge McCluen overruled the motion.

McMURRAY THEN rested the defendant's case. He called no witnesses.

In summation, Assistant Attorney General Ed Arnold warned the jury that the defense would raise a question of law that the state had failed to prove that a crime had been committed. "But how are you going to identify the cause of death after that?"

long a period?" Arnold asked. Attorney McMurray conceded that the death of the woman in the barn is a tragic thing, "but it would be even more tragic if a man was convicted when not enough evidence was presented."

He stressed that the State had called a number of witnesses but had not produced much evidence. "A man saw a girl getting in a car, someone saw a couple get out of a car and go into a barn, and other witnesses saw a girl and a man together," McMurray said. He noted that many of the witnesses had mentioned a car, but his client had no car, and in fact had hitch-hiked everywhere he went.

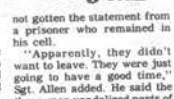

The Lowses' statements came after the body had been found and the case had come out in the papers," he said. "She (Mrs. Lowe) stated she had been threatened with prison."

And he reminded the jury that when Deputy Mashburn had been to the barn the first time to investigate, there had been no ladder. When Sheriff Russell went to the barn, there was a ladder. He advanced the possibility that somebody had killed the girl sometime after Feb. 14 and had brought a ladder to carry her to the left.

Attorney General Deatherage countered with the suggestion that the ladder might have been covered up the first time.

ference that they didn't leave the courthouse," Sgt. Allen said. "When they stepped outside their cells, they had legally escaped from jail."

Sgt. Allen said the prisoners evidently thought they "could take advantage of the jailbreak by the other three who returned from a Mini-Fest at the courthouse without being discovered." They might have been successful if officers had not gotten the statement from a prisoner who remained in his cell.

"Apparently, they didn't want to leave. They were just going to have a good time," Sgt. Allen added. He said the three men vandalized parts of the courthouse and took a case of beer that was evidence in a trial.

Berea Dancers To Appear At Schools

The Loudon County Arts Association will sponsor an appearance of the Berea College Country Dancers at Loudon High School and Nichols Auditorium.

The dancers have just returned from a Mini-Fest at the courthouse without being discovered. They might have been successful if officers had 24 people in the groups and they will be accompanied by two to four professional musicians and other students. They will offer American Folk dances, singing games and folk songs in addition to Danish and English country dances.

The performances will be during the day for students but the public is invited to attend. The exact date will be announced in next week's paper.

Speaking of Sports

By DANNY GIBSON
Sports Editor

With the course of summer running short and the fast approach of both high school football and college seasons getting underway we have done a bit of digging and come up with what is said to be the straight salaries of the SEC football coaches.

Coaches contracts at state schools are public information except in Alabama, Georgia, and Kentucky. In addition to the straight salary figure, several coaches have some fringe benefits and in the various contracts:

David Davidson of the Atlanta Journal has done a bit of digging and come up with what he calls "the straight salaries" of the SEC football coaches.

He says coaches' contracts at state schools are public information except in Alabama, Georgia, and Kentucky. In addition to the "straight salary" figure, Davidson has added some information on fringe benefits in various contracts:

"ALABAMA—Bear Bryant gets $24,000 in salary and has a television contract said to net approximately $20,250,000; plus a house, car, gasoline credit card and access to school planes.
"AUBURN—Shug Jordan is said to receive a sound $28,000 per year. He is free to negotiate his own television contract. He has a radio show, too.

"FLORIDA—Doug Dickey receives an annual salary of $26,500 plus a car. His television contract, which he negotiates himself, nets him some $10,000 annually.

"GEORGIA—Vince Dooley receives an annual salary of $28,000. Although it may or may not be in his salary, sources say Dooley is guaranteed a certain amount of television and other income. Estimates range up to $25,000. He also is provided use of a car by the school.

"KENTUCKY—Fran Curci is paid $29,000 per year. Kentucky officials refused to give any other details.

"LSU—Charlie McClendon is paid $26,500 annually. He has a 10-year contract, renewable each year for five years. He also has television negotiating rights but not car, house, etc., is provided.

"OLD MISS—Although athletic director Bruiser Kinard denied such matters as contracts were a part of public record, it was easy enough to find out at the capitol in Jackson. His younger brother, head coach Billy, receives $28,000 per year plus the right to negotiate his TV contract. Bruiser's salary is $31,000.

"MISSISSIPPI STATE—New head coach Bob Tyler admitted his contract was a matter of public record and readily revealed his base salary of $25,000 per year, plus $6,000 in other income from the university. He also receives two cars per year and the right to negotiate a television contract.

"TENNESSEE—Bill Battle receives an annual salary of $25,000 plus a guarantee of $14,500 in television income. Although it is not in his contract, sources (unidentified) say there is an understanding between Battle and alumni groups on matters such as house, ars, life insurance, etc.

"VANDERBILT—New coach Steve Sloan will receive an annual salary estimated at $30,000, plus a car and membership in the posh Belle Meade Country Club. Sloan probably is in line for at least the same lucrative television arrangement set up for Pace and Roy Skinner which reportedly pays approximately $40,000 over four years."

Almost four months ago—on March 23, to be precise in a point of time—an article about Pepsi Cola asking sports journalists to help the generational soft drink choose "the most important sports news events of the past 75 years."

It was noted then, and is repeated in the time frame, that Pepsi is 75 years old this year. Well, the results are in. The polls have long since closed. The curtains have been drawn on the voting booths. Tally sheets have been canvassed.

The results of the balloting are now officially announced from a voter turnout of 187 respondents.

- The Top Ten:
1. Jesse Owens' four gold medals and treatment he received in the 1936 Olympics, (112 votes)
 2. Roger Bannister's four-minute mile. (105)
 3. Bobby Thomson's 1951 playoff home run. (93)
 4. Mark Spitz's seven gold medals in the 1972 Olympics. (85)
 5. UCLA's basketball dynasty. (67)
 6. Don Larsen's perfect World Series game in 1956. (61)
 7. (tie) Frazier-All heavyweight title fight (60) and Jets' 1969 Super Bowl upset. (60)
 8. Babe Ruth's 60 home run record. (58)
 10. Dempsey-Tunney long-count fight. (50)
- Did you find any shockers there, you oldtimers?
And is that about the way the tops were passed to you, youngsters?

Greenback has fashioned a spirited scrimmage with one of the pre-season Footballs Conference favorites, Walland. The Cherokee managed to match the Indians 33 in a 10 down guideline scrimmage session. When the action became more liberal with each team getting only his required number of four downs to move the ball 10 yards the Greenback eleven was stopped 3-4. The Cherokee failed to have the services of linebackers Tim Hammonree and Mike Evans in the final stages as both were injured, but should be ready for Friday night's jamboree at Maryville College.

Lenoir City has challenged two East Tennessee triple-A powers over the past week in Knoxville Holston and Morristown. The Panthers were defeated in both contest, but by only slim margins. Thus the Lenoir City team while small in number this fall could well be ready to challenge for the Region III title as an unsuspecting darkhorse. The Panthers lost 10 seniors by way of graduation and all were starters at some time during the 1972 season.

Carl Thompson received a sprain in the Holston skirmish. The big lineman is expected to be sidelined for a few days but should be ok in plenty of time for the Panthers journey to McMinn Central, Sept. 7.

Millsaps Team Wins City Golf Title

Larry and Lynn Millsaps captured the Loudon City Golf League Championship last week as the regular summer competition came to an end.

Larry and Lynn finished with 145 total team points as compared to league runner-up Clell Miller and Bert Ratledge, and Paul Brakebill and Ed Arnold, who tied for the second place team position with team scores of 132.

Buck Kirkland and John Lenex finished fourth with 128 points and Larry Bridges and Jake Lane fashioned a final 127 point total. Buddy Swiney and Mark Miller occupied the top six ranking teams with 116 points over the course of the season.

Clell Miller was the top individual golfer of the summer with 91 individual points to his credit. Buck Kirkland finished second in individual play with 83 points, one half of a point above Larry Millsaps, who finished third. Joe and Gene Watkins took top team honors in the final round of weekly play with a round of 70. Gene also won the low medalist recognition with a sparkling 31 to his credit. In all Joe and Gene collected 14 team points for the week.

Ken Phillips Is Top Driver At Atomic Raceway

This has been Ken Phillips' year at Atomic Speedway, that is if you're talking about main event victories.

The Loudon driver has chalked up another record at the third-mile dirt track. Phillips' narrow triumph over H.E. Vineyard last Saturday night was his eighth this season—most with ever for a driver at the speedway in a single campaign. Earlier, Phillips, who drives a Camaro, became the first driver to take three consecutive wins in weekly 40-lap runs.

Despite his winning habit, Phillips is running third in the points race behind Tootle Estes and Little Bill Corum. He trails Corum by two points.

Competition, which seems to get tighter each Saturday, continues this weekend. Time trials are scheduled for 7 p.m. The opening heat race starts at 8:30. A semi-feature for sportman drivers and hobby driver features also will be run.

"We'll go back over the records, but I'm sure that Phillips' eight wins are a record for one year," said Atomic owner Bob Martin. "If he hadn't run into some bad luck during the middle of the year, he probably would have had the point title locked up, too."

Following Saturday's program, drivers will have only one points race remaining—Sept. 8. "I don't know whether anyone will be able to catch Tootle or not," said Martin. "But, I'll say one thing, you won't find a closer battle than we've got going for the next four or five positions."

Atomic is located east of Kingston at the 1-40 Melton Hill exit.

Loudon Indians Romp To 44-0 Victory

The Loudon Indians continued their winning streak Friday night at Loudon by defeating Tellico Plains 44-0 in the first series of plays with Eddie Estes throwing a 40 yard scoring bomb to Freddie Starritt. Chuck Johnson added the extra point and Loudon led 8-0. The Indian forced Tellico Plains to punt and Freddie Starritt behind a wall of blockers returned the punt 60 yards for a touchdown. Mark Moore converted the extra point try and Loudon led 16-0. Loudon's next possession saw quarterback Eddie Estes pass to David Black for a 50 yard touchdown. Carl Hawkins ran over for the extra point and Loudon led at the end of the 1st quarter 24-0.

The second quarter started with a bang when Carl Hawkins behind a solid wall of blockers returned a Tellico Plains punt 45 yards for a touchdown. The extra point try failed. A reverse by Freddie Starritt provided the next Loudon touchdown. Freddie scampered 40 yards to make the score 36-0. The extra point try failed. The final Loudon touchdown came on a 45 yard reverse by Chuck Johnson. Eddie Estes ran for the extra point and Loudon led 44-0.

Bar-Knit Industry Growth Stems From Footwear, Athletic Apparel And Casual Dress

Ever wonder where the design or manufacturing of an appealing outfit has originated? With wardrobe appeal and individual dress at an all time peak in this world of continuous social gatherings and group events we seldom give a lot of consideration where anything is made anymore, other than to pay Japan its dues.

Ever watch an athletic event on television or attend a local sandlot game and wonder who was responsible for the vibrant and colorful uniforms which aid the viewers in distinguishing the two opposing teams?

More times than not if you are a Loudon Countian, some part of the athletic uniform for which you think is so sharp and beautiful is manufactured and shipped from Philadelphia, Tennessee.

The small Loudon County community has long been an active part of the garment world, but never as broad as it is today. Philadelphia became an industry site in 1923 with one of the largest nation wide hosiery mill outlets in operation. The sock plant was an active way of life for many of the labors of Loudon County until the large mill liquidated its stocks in 1965.

In 1966 the old mill was reopened under the name of Bar-Knit Hosiery Mills. Its main line of production, hosiery of course. But this was only to be the initial start for an operation that is still in such an infant stage of growth that the end is beyond site. Nevertheless we are getting ahead in our story.

The old hosiery mill as it stood in 1965 was collecting nothing but dust when Mr. Earl Barger, president of Richmond Hosiery Mill in Rossville, Ga., got with the people of Philadelphia and with the guide lines laid and the stocks and investment coming solely from the community itself the doors were reopened and the knitting machines installed and started to work.

The new hosiery organization incorporated themselves under the name of Tennessee Valley Enterprises and took the trade label of "Bar-Knit" in distributing their finished products on the open market. Barger, a native of Dayton, Tenn., was elected president of the corporation. Mr. W.E. "Dub" Edwards, a Philadelphian and hosiery worker since 1946 was elected secretary and treasurer of the industry and has become the right arm of Barger in all phases of the plant operation.

The hosiery mill was concentrating its work force on just top line socks for all ages and the production of tights for children until 1972. Along during this time the corporation took on more growth and Mr. Barger's son Ben, a graduate of Hiwassee Junior College, became a member of the plant administration. Ben, who is now Vice President of Tennessee Valley Enterprises, Inc., was on a selling trip to a mid-east city in 1972 when he was approached by a leading sporting goods distributor if his company could manufacture a football jersey for a professional football team. The idea had never been considered, although the Philadelphia mill had been supplying sanitary hose for baseball teams for years. But football jerseys were something else. Ben got on a fast plane home and the Philadelphia stock holders began to put their heads together. The football jerseys were turned out and plant employees got a rather satisfying thrill from seeing their product on television that winter.

With their initial comment fulfilled the Philadelphia factory began to consider pioneering its own athletic wear. The new line of production of athletic apparel has now given the Philadelphia based mill three categories of production. Established already in the top brand of sock distribution, the plant now turns out casual dress apparel, body suits for women and children, blouses, shirts and shorts. In athletic wear the complete manufacturing of basketball uniforms, football jerseys, men and women softball uniforms, baseball uniforms, and men and women tennis outfits. The athletic branch even turns out coaches apparel.

The one time Philadelphia hosiery mill has unwavering its 40,000 square feet of floor space in to a manufacturing and labor force exceeding four times its level of production in 1966. The plant has gone from the use of some 10 machines to the continual operation of over 150. The locally owned and operated mill provides a three shift full work week running year around. The mill's workstaff resides from a three county area. All design and layout for plant production is handled by the factory's administration force without the help of specifically trained designers.

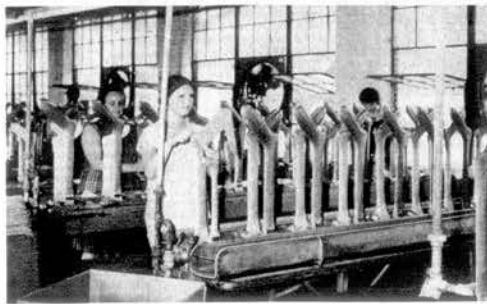

Tennessee Valley Enterprises, Inc. has a nation wide distribution of all its manufactured apparel. All production goes major brands exclusively by way of truck, airplane, parcel post, and UPS. Barger, his son Ben, and Mr. Edwards also double from their management of the company to serve a sales representative for their socks, casual wear and athletic apparel. Hence the industry minded community of

The administrative hub of Bar-Knit is made up of left to right Ben Barger, who handles the athletic apparel development and is vice president of the corporation; Earl Barger, who is the president of the Bar-Knit Hosiery Mill and director of all plant operations; and W. E. Edwards, secretary and treasurer of the corporation and handles the mill knitting operations.

Boarding

Knitting

Finishing

The finishing room sorts the various colors of socks by shipping order and size. Frankie Grimes, Secarlene Hill, and Loretta Kaiser handle the various types of socks in the processing operation.

Seaming

After the knitting room the socks are taken to the seaming department for the finishing touches. Mrs. Lucille Cunningham is pictured at one of the seaming machines.

Dye House

The dye house applies the desired colors for the finished socks. Monty Barger and an unidentified worker are being checked by Jerry Kiser (right) who is in charge of the dyeing.

HAVE RISING BUILDING COSTS MADE YOU CHANGE YOUR MIND ABOUT BUILDING A NEW HOME OF YOUR OWN OR BUILDING HOMES TO RENT OR SELL?

Conventional building costs have risen markedly in the past two years, and there is no end in sight according to the surveys and studies available. The only way, it seems, for ordinary people with ordinary incomes and ordinary needs to have a new home then is for the hopes and plans for that new home to involve other than conventional building materials and methods. And that is what this is all about.

Read on. In Spring City (in Rhea County near US Highway 27 and State Highway 68 there has just been completed a new home that was built with materials older than recorded time almost. It is a monolithic concrete home. (Monolithic simply means that the four walls, the roof and the floor are one all-masonry structure). It was built with a patented engineering system that this year has become operational after years of study and research, and it was built with reinforced concrete, the strongest construction material known to man. The CONQUIK home, developed in accordance with FHA and HUD specifications, offers you structural durability, plus the privacy and individuality of a single-family residence at a cost comparable to that of the most efficiently factory-assembled modular house. Because, with the unique CONQUIK System, the factory can be brought to the building site. Your CONQUIK home will be comfortable and dry, surprisingly easy to maintain for years to come, pleasingly distinctive—thanks to the versatility of concrete and the techniques of on-site construction. Your home will be almost fire-resistant because the outside walls are 8 inches thick—7 inches of solid concrete and one inch of insulation and dry wall on the inside.

The roof is four inches of solid concrete on top of 3 inches of cementitious decking. The interior walls and partitions are standard dry-wall materials fastened to the monolithic concrete walls and roof on a solid concrete slab will withstand violent storms. It will also eliminate heat losses that drive up heating and cooling costs and waste fuel energy in ordinary wood frame or assembled houses. It has been reliably estimated that the heating and cooling energy requirements will be 40 percent less than that of conventional construction of the same size and location. These factors plus others that have to be seen to be believed all add up to one thing: ECONOMIES. And to quality never before available to the home-building industry. And to a comfortable, beautiful and maintenance-free home you can be proud to own. And also to one that you can build at a cost which enables you to rent it profitably. You'll just have to drive to Spring City now and see the new CONQUIK display home. (But, be prepared for a surprise. Everyone who has seen it just cannot believe it.) We'll be looking for you during the next 30 days that the home will be on public display. If you would like some information before actually viewing the home, just write us: RW Industries, Box 337, Spring City, Tennessee 37381

Philadelphia, is growing by staying abreast with the demands and needs of the consumer. Not only is Tennessee Valley Enterprises' products found in stores all over the nation, but their types of events, and their athletic wear has been used in such athletic events as the World Series of Baseball and Pro-football's Super Bowl.

Certainly the small community of Philadelphia has developed a proud, wide scope operation of service that has brought distinction to them and Loudon County.

Packaging

Packaging is the final step before shipment of any apparel manufactured by the Bar-Knit whether it be socks, athletic wear, or casual wear. Packaging room employees are left to right Hazel Humbert, Barbara White, and Brenda Lambert.

Athletic Wear Production

The manufacturing of athletic wear and casual outfits are handled by a staff of well trained sewing machine operators. Mrs. Lafon Brown puts the hem in a football jersey manufactured by Bar-Knit.

The boater has become negligent in boating operations. Boating should not be taken for granted, but should be treated as privileged. Seeks Cut In Pollution Cost

As part of its efforts to hold down the cost of electricity, TVA is studying the possible use of low-interest local government bonds in financing pollution control facilities at its power plants, the agency said today.

This method of financing pollution control installations was specifically authorized by Congress in 1968 and is being used increasingly by industries, including electric power companies, TVA said. Under this approach a pollution control installation needed for a TVA power plant would be financed with bonds issued by a city, county, or special authority, which could then lease or sell the facility to TVA. TVA in turn would obligate itself to make payments covering all interest and principal payments on the bonds, so there would be no cost to the local authority.

Because local bonds are tax-exempt they carry comparatively low interest rates, and this approach could help offset some of the increasing interest expense for TVA that has been a factor in causing higher power rates to consumers, the agency said.

The firm of Slyph Eastman-Dillon and Co. incorporated has been selected by TVA as an advisor to assist in exploring this approach and preparing the initial financing plan.

Construction of additional air and water pollution control facilities at TVA plants to meet new air and water quality standards is expected to require a total investment of some $300 million in the next few years, with more likely in the future as new generating plants are added.

Loudon-Knox Planners To Coordinate Efforts

By 1990, the Knoxville Metropolitan Planning Commission predicts that West Knox County will experience a population growth of 45,000.

According to the Loudon County Regional Planning Commission, this growth in West Knox County will have a decided impact on East Loudon County. Therefore, plans outlining this situation were presented by Gene Burr of the Knox County Metropolitan Planning Commission and reviewed by the Loudon County commission at their regular monthly meeting on August 16.

The three alternative plans which were presented included:

1. Stopping or limiting the population growth in West Knox County.
2. Allowing present growth trends to continue.
3. Creating new growth areas and allowing existing areas of development to stabilize.

The Loudon County Planning Commission agreed that they would work with Knox County planners in formulating guidelines for development in this area.

In other action, the commission reviewed and gave its final approval to the Griffith Farm Subdivision in its revised form.

A TSPD staff report dealing with a petition by Earl Crist to rezone his property on US 11 in the Highland Park community from suburban residential to general commercial was reviewed. Three possible approaches to the requested rezoning were discussed in the report, but only one was recommended as a possibility pending further study.

A public hearing and meeting will be held on August 30 so that interested citizens can air their views on possible amendments to the Southern Standard Building Code. The chairman of the Loudon County commission, Ben Galyon, expressed confidence that agreement could be reached on appropriate amendments.

The commission discussed the large number of requests for variances to allow mobile homes to be placed on lots with other houses, and members decided to recommend amending the zoning ordinance to allow a temporary use of mobile homes in cases of severe hardship. These cases would involve situations where it was determined that this temporary use would not result in unsanitary or unsafe conditions. A temporary permit would be issued in these cases with the possibility of renewing it after a six-month period. It would be up to the Board of Zoning Appeals to review each request for a variance.

A committee was appointed by the commission to meet with representatives from TVA to consider alternative locations for a proposed transmission line to be located in northwest Loudon County.

Commissioners also voted to recommend an amendment to the zoning resolution in order to allow government buildings and community centers as a use permitted on review in rural residential districts.

Loudon Countians Spend $1,113,000 For Soft Drinks

Residents of Loudon County are going in for bubbly beverages—the non alcoholic kind—in a big way. They are also spending a lot of money in that direction.

According to the latest figures, consumption of these soft drinks is breaking all records in the regional area. It is estimated from the reports that local people are downing the fizzy beverages at the annual rate of 478 eight-ounce bottles and cans per person.

Which is a lot of pop. It is about 13 more than in 1970, when the average in the area was 465.

By way of comparison, the average throughout the United States was nearly 400 bottles per person in the past year, an increase of 12 in the two-year period.

As for the Loudon County population as a whole, it consumed approximately 11,711,000 eight-ounce containers, or the equivalent, in the year.

The estimates are based on figures for each regional area of the country, obtained from the National Soft Drink Association and other industry sources.

They show that different areas of the country vary greatly in their addiction to soda pop. People in the Southern part of the country, where it is generally warmer than elsewhere, drink more than those in other sections. They put away three bottles for every two in the Northeastern states.

Flavor preferences are also quite different. In the East, for example, cola drinks represent less than 50 percent of the market as compared with more than 75 percent in the South. On the other hand, more people go for fruit drinks and ginger ale in the East.

What soft drink consumption in Loudon County amounts to in dollars and cents is to be seen from the figures. They indicate that local residents spent an estimated $1,113,000 for such beverages in the year, a big increase over former years. In part, the rise reflected higher prices.

Nationally, also, there has been a sharp upswing. During 1972 the American public consumed over 90 billion (yes, billion) eight-ounce containers of soda pop and paid in the neighborhood of $7.6 billion for them.

Plow up your tobacco stubbles to destroy insects. Do yourself and next year's tobacco crop a favor by plowing up your tobacco field after harvest. You'll have fewer pest problems, save yourself control time and expense, and make a better 1974 crop.

As all tobacco growers well know, the tobacco plant keeps on growing after it is cut. When fresh suckers provide a new food supply for budworms, hornworms and flea beetles. This increases the potential supply of these insects for next year. And if you have nematodes in the roots in the soil, they keep right on multiplying.

Plowing up the tobacco field has a three-fold effect. One, it stops further reproduction of this year's insects. Two, it slows out and destroys budworms and hornworm cocoons from the 1973 crop already in the soil where they spend the winter. Third, it cuts next year's treatment needs by one or two applications, thus saving time and money.

Manage these pests so they don't manage you.

The Corinth Home Demonstration Club met Monday, August 20, at the home of Mrs. O.V. Thompson. Mrs. Gerald Campbell, president, led a planning meeting in which the project leaders for 1973-74 were selected. The club also discussed plans for individual entries in the Monroe County Fair to be held in Sweetwater.

The Tribe Speaks

BY LOUDON HIGH SCHOOL JOURNALISM CLASS
 by Tim Brewster, Darrel Tuck, Allen Maddox

Again the Journalism class will be reporting the happenings of L.H.S. Since we have been in classes such a short time we have only a few facts to report.

The changes in the faculty include the addition of Richard Callahan replacing Ralph Alexander who retired. Larry Collins replacing Gary Dutton who has a fellowship to work toward his doctorate at U. of T. Ray King replacing Ronnie Kyle who left the teaching profession; Phillip Betts, transferring from the Loudon

Junior High to General

There are several new students whom we will introduce at a later date. Approximately 50 students are taking advantage of the vocational courses offered at the Loudon City High School. Several Faculty members have been absent for various reasons: Mrs. Crabtree received her Masters degree. Mr. Callahan received his Bachelors degree at U.T. on Friday, Mr. Betts was called for jury duty on Monday. Mrs. Bradley suffered a broken leg in an accident at her home.

If looks like the Redskins are really going to have a fine football team this year. To make this team good they need support and that means they need your support. So please come see the Redskins.

All too often, some of the things that have deep roots and real meaning are overlooked in our daily lives. This is only human for this to happen. Of course we have a specific thing in mind. The City of Loudon Fire Department. We know it is there and available if we need it. But the efforts that go into or have gone into making it the efficient service it is, is sometimes overlooked.

PAMPERED PETS

Supplies in fish, birds, dogs, and cats.

The Fire Department was born out of a tragic event. In the middle 20's Loudon suffered from a very dry summer and suddenly one night the town started to burn. The people stood helpless. No fire department or any other fire fighting equipment. The dawn brought the sight of smoldering, smoking ashes of what the day before had been a section of the main business district of the town. Some houses were also destroyed. The thoughts and efforts of the townspeople turned to promoting efforts to prevent this from happening again.

The town was incorporated for the second time and a new fire truck was ordered. It was a red letter day when it arrived in town. The truck was named the I.L. Miller honoring the late Mr. Miller, who we understand was instrumental in promoting and obtaining the truck. The pumper was the latest thing in its era, but manpower was needed too and the Loudon Volunteer Fire Department was born.

For two reasons, first to point out the efforts of those who made the department one to be proud of, but in the good old days realm, a picture of Loudon's first fire department crew and the old I.L. Miller truck. Those in the picture are all now deceased. They are Ebb Webb at the wheel, seated in front of him is Floyd Storie, man on front fender is Frank Grimes, on the running board is Floyd Robinson, then Coy Vairs and Al Arden.

Many followed then in serving as firemen or chief and represent almost a half century of work in this field. The oldest living member of the past volunteers is Boss Wallace who loaned us these two old pictures. The city still has the old truck in storage and it is a collectors item. But far more valuable as a part of the past history of the city. We feel it would be worth keeping and showing on occasion. Charles Jones, the present Fire Chief told us he believed in progress and was updating the Department as rapidly as possible, but would like to see the old truck preserved for its past role in the history of the Department and the town. The City may have plans to keep the truck but we certainly hope they do. It would be good if they had copies of these pictures and others to maintain a historical file on the department.

The other picture was taken in front of the old fire hall, located in the Watkins Store building. A lot of the guys in our town in those years hung around the fire department. These two boys, Joe White and the late Hugh Foshee were no exception.

IN PARTING. People are funny, they want the front row of the bus, the back of the church and the middle of the road.

This would be a fine old world if all men showed as much patience all the time as they do in waiting for fish to bite.

There should be music in every house, except the one next door.

Miss Williams Graduates From MTSU

There were 379 students at Middle Tennessee State University who placed on the 1973 summer school Honor Roll and 603 on the Dean's List, according to Dr. Frank Glass, dean of admissions and records. Those on the Honor Roll have a cumulative scholastic average of 3.5 or above while those on the Dean's List have maintained the 3.5 average only for the current semester.

There were 144 men and 235 women out of a student body of above 5,000 during the summer who maintained the 3.5 average for all the work they have had. Women also led on the Dean's List 358 to 245.

Those on the Honor Roll from Loudon County were: Linda Anne Williams, a graduate student with a 3.80 average. She was also placed on the Dean's List.

Mrs. Thompson Receives ETSU Degree

Kathryn Faye Blankenship Thompson of Loudon received a Baccalaureate Degree from East Tennessee State University on August 17 at summer convocation at the Johnson City School.

Mrs. Thompson was one of 588 persons to receive degrees.

The graduates heard Dr. Thomas G. Voss, president of Tusculum College, say that commencement is a time of reassessing life's values. He said that the value of a college education was not so much in learning facts and gathering information as it was learning to think, solve problems and make decisions.

Manpower Fund Hassle Back On Court Agenda

Although the Loudon County Court met in a special session last month to thrash out the controversy over the Manpower programs and the relationship of the programs with the Loudon and Roane Community Action Agency the matter has found its way back on to the September Court agenda. The court will meet Monday beginning at 8:30 a.m. The agenda includes several items concerning roads one of which is a right of way problem on Steeles Road at Loudon that is holding up the repaving of the road. Another is consideration of requesting the State to straighten Queener Road where it enters new Highway 72 to eliminate a possible traffic hazard. The three County Road Commissioners have also requested the court to release funds that were frozen during a lawsuit over the distribution of road funds so that they can be used in road projects. The agenda as released by County Judge Harvey Sprout early this week is as follows:

- County Judge:
- (1) Report concerning implementation of the new personnel policies, classification and pay plan, retirement, and group insurance for County employees, including selection of insurance plan if recommendation is ready.
 - (2) Consideration of establishment of personnel committee in lieu thereof of designating the Merit Board as such.
 - (3) Appointment to County Board of Public Utilities - Edward B. Byerley recommended for reappointment.
 - (4) Report on lawsuits filed against the County.
 - A. Gordon A. Moore et ux vs Loudon County, Tennessee et al.
 - B. Rebecca Faith Grander vs Loudon County, Tennessee et al.
 - (5) Status of lease of truck from TVA.
 - (6) Report concerning Steeles Road right-of-way problem.
 - (7) Progress on funding for (Continued on page 7)

Letter To The Editor

Dear Mr. Cate:
After reading your editorial on the question of abortion being performed at the Loudon County Memorial Hospital, we would like to clarify the statement that the doctors on the staff voted for the approval of this procedure, which has been legalized by the Courts and State Legislature. The vote on the motion was four to two, and we, the undersigned, voted against this procedure.

P.S. Since your clipboard discussion of the above matter was published on the front page, we would appreciate very much if the above additional information would appear on the front page of the Herald.

Herald Grid Contest Starts 11th Year

Plans of attack have been formulated. The X's and O's on the blackboards have been erased. Coaches' ulcers are churning. Butterflies are beginning to flutter in stomachs of quarterbacks and tackles, and guards and linebackers from the professional ranks to the pee wee leagues as the football season goes on stage for 1973. With the curtain going up on the high school season Friday night the Loudon County Herald will again attempt to provide area sports fans with an up to date coverage of grid action in Loudon County and the respective area. To aid the many readers of The Herald and test their sports authority too, the annual football contest which has been so popular with Loudon Countians will again be featured weekly. The marks the 11th consecutive year it has been a part of The Loudon Herald Sports Forum.

Twenty-eight gridiron clashes are scheduled for the Southeast Tennessee opener, and on that first agenda, one two-time state Class A champion, a two-time state Class AA runnerup and a former Class AAA state semi-finalist help kick things off. What a kickoff!

Sweetwater's Wildcats, who have won 21 straight games and 31 of their last 33, open their bid for a fourth consecutive Region 2 Class A crowd against Monterey. The 'Cats are trying to catch Bristol which has the state's longest winning streak at 25. Kingston, a bridesmaid for the past two years, opens with arch rival Harriman. The Yellow Jackets have an explosive backfield primed for action, but the questionable defense will get a quick test from the Blue Devils.

Franklin County's Rebels, who lost in the 1969 state semifinals to Morristown East, begins the campaign on foreign soil at Fayetteville. The Rebels lost to Baylor in the 1972 regional playoff game.

Up-and-coming Bradley County, one of the schools picked by many as a serious AAA contender, opens at home against Knoxville Bearden. Meanwhile, another AAA school which could make some noise this season, McMinn County, starts the season on the road at Maryville Everett. The Cherokee boast one of the area's top runningbacks in senior Lawrence Vera. Rhea County hits the action trail against Soddy-Daisy.

Oak Ridge's Wildcats, sporting some of the top linemen in East Tennessee, tackles Knoxville Austin-East in the friendly confines of blankenship Field.

Cleveland's Blue Raiders, coming off their worst record (5-5) in history, travels to Ringold, Ga., to take the BARN DESTROYED-A fire at midnight Monday destroyed a barn on the W.E. Huff farm in Loudon. The big barn burned to the ground in less than 30 minutes as heat from the blaze kept firemen at a distance. It was in this barn that the body of Carolyn Gentry Berry was found in April. Her ex-husband, Allen Berry, to two 10 years in prison Loudon Fire Chief Chull Jones said that he is not sure how the fire started but it could have been accidentally set by someone throwing a cigarette in the grass near the barn. An alley runs next to the barn that is a popular lover's lane.

Constable's Wife Admits Armed Robbery Of Store

Mrs. Emma Lee Settles, wife of Second District Constable Charles (Fatty-Pop) Settles, turned herself in to Loudon City police and County Sheriff's Deputies last Thursday morning stating she was the woman that was responsible for the armed robbery of Lee Heights Grocery near Lenoir City on the night of August 8.

According to officers Mrs. Settles called the Loudon City Police Department Thursday morning about the armed robbery. Officers went to the Settles home at 509 East First Avenue in Lenoir City. She was brought to the county jail at 9 a.m. and booked for armed robbery. The woman was released under $3000 appearance bond 30 minutes later. A hearing in General Sessions Court on the matter is scheduled for Thursday at 9 a.m.

Mrs. Settles reportedly told officers the $278 recovered in Muddy Creek not far from the store is all that was taken in the robbery.

Mrs. Mina Rather, co-owner of the grocery store, who was in the store when a woman with a .38 caliber pistol demanded the money, reported that about $100 had been taken.

In describing what had happened during the robbery Mrs. Rather said the woman approached the checkout counter with a six pack of beer. Mrs. Rather took the beer from the woman, described as well-dressed in six inches tall and weighing about 165 pounds, with short strawberry hair. She was dressed in yellow shorts and

Subject Of Dragging Operation Turns Up OK

A dragging operation in the Tennessee River about a half mile below Fort Loudoun Dam was called off about 10:10 p.m. Sunday when the man who was believed to be in the river walked out of a heavy undergrowth into a crowd of some 50 to 75 persons who had gathered to watch the operation.

About 2 p.m. Sunday the Lenoir City Police Department and the Loudon County Sheriff's Department were notified that William (Bud) Jenkins might have drowned after falling in the river during a fight. The supposed incident occurred on the river bank behind Ready Mix Concrete Company in an area where several men reportedly live in tar paper shacks and abandoned cars.

One of the men Frankie Akins reported that a fight broke out between him, and Bud Covington and that Jenkins who was in the front seat of a car entered the fight and he was knocked out and when he woke up that Jenkins was no where to be seen and that Covington and Billy Ray Parks, who was with Covington were gone.

Akins said he became concerned when he noticed that Jenkins' boot, truck and son were still at the location, but there was no sign of Jenkins.

Police arrived and called the Loudon County Rescue Squad who began a dragging operation.

While the dragging was underway officers contacted Covington and Parks who said that Jenkins did fall in the river but crawled back out on the bank before they left.

About 10:10 p.m. Jenkins walked out of a heavy undergrowth with a bruised and cut face and head into the arms of his wife and family claiming he did not know what had happened, but he had just woke up freezing to death.

Officers said that from what they learned there had been quite a bit of drinking taking place on the river bank during the day.

Rescue Squad Captain John Parris said that 13 men were involved in the dragging operation and spent a total of 32 hours on the call. After the mission was cancelled the Squadmen were treated to MISSING MAN GREETED-William (Bud) Jenkins (center) is embraced by his wife after walking into a search area where Rescue Squadmen, law officers and others had gathered to drag the Tennessee River for him after another man reported that he might have been knocked in the river during a fight Sunday afternoon.

One other customer, T.L. Mills, was in the store at the time.

The woman forced him to get behind the counter with Mr. Shubert and Mrs. Rather. She then put her pocketbook on the counter and ordered Mrs. Rather to fill it with the money.

"It was a big cream-colored leather pocketbook, which didn't seem to have anything else in it," Mrs. Rather related. "I put the bills in it, but she didn't want any of the change."

The woman then calmly took the pocketbook full of money, warned the people not to move, and left the building. She got into a 1965 green Oldsmobile sedan and drove off down Muddy Creek Road.

"She was just as calm as she could be," Mrs. Rather related. "She walked right out the door, stared at the people in the parking lot who had watched her rob the store, and got into her car."

"The only thing I was worried about was the kids getting hurt. The parking lot was full of kids, and I didn't feel it was worth the money to let one of the kids get hurt."

8 Guns Taken From Home

Eight guns were stolen from the Ray Evans home on Rt. 2, Lenoir City over the past weekend. Deputy Jake Chapman, who investigated the break-in Sunday afternoon said that the thieves got in the house by breaking out a basement window.

Taken was a .38 caliber police special, Savage over and under 22-30, Savage over and under 22-410, Savage 300 lever action, 44 caliber cap and ball pistol; 25 automatic; 22 pistol; and an 8 mm World War II Mauser Automatic Rifle. Also taken were 700 rounds of reload 12 gauge shotgun shells and two ladies sapphire rings.

Harrison Home Hit

The William Broadway Harrison family returned to their home in the Fork Creek Community Sunday night after church to find that it had been broken into.

Taken was two old pocket knives, two AM-PM radios, cigarette lighters, a tape recorder and three canned Cokes.

FIGHT SCENE-Lenoir City Police Chief Wayne Chambers (with cap) is shown talking with Frankie Akins after Akins reported he thought Bill Jenkins was knocked in the river during a fight with Bud Covington at the scene Sunday afternoon.

LOOKING THINGS OVER-Sheriff Freeman Russell, Lenoir City Police Chief Wayne Chambers, and Rescue Squadmen Brent Davi and Clyde Peazell look down a bank into the Tennessee River while a search was underway for Bill Jenkins, who later turned up beaten up but alive.

WORTH THE EFFORT—Loudon County Judge Harvey Sprout is shown presenting County Trustee J. V. Schrimsher with a $125,000 check from the State representing the county TVA tax replacement payment. Several years ago the County Court authorized Judge Sprout to seek an equitable payment of in-lieu of tax payment from TVA for land owned in Loudon County. Until that time the county received between $20,000 and $25,000 annually. In an early settlement an increase of $40,000 was offered but Judge Sprout and the County Court went back to the courts and received a final settlement that would give the county almost $100,000 more from the TVA taxes paid to the state each year. The county contended that the state was keeping money that really belonged to the counties where TVA bought land for its projects.

LOUDON CITY GARAGE—City Administrator Cary Hensley is shown talking with two city employees who are involved in the construction of the new City Garage being constructed on the old city dump site. When completed the garage will house all city street and sanitation equipment and offices for the departments.

chute and pour the required amount, according to cattle weight, down the middle of the cow's back. This also provides fly and louse control.

You can also treat dry dairy cows and heifers in this manner, but DO NOT treat milking dairy animals.

The main damage caused by grubs is to the loin cuts of the carcass. Eventually the grub cuts a hole in the cow's side for breathing and escape, and ruins good shoe leather.

A word of caution: Do not treat cattle for grubs after November 1. The reason is that grubs have gotten into the back by this date. If a lot of grubs are present and are killed, you may get a protein reaction that would make the animal sick or paralyze it. Apply controls now and not after November 1.

TVA Suggest Programs For Women

"New Directions" is the theme for a series of programs to be held in mid-September at five locations across Tennessee, to help more women become acquainted with the wide range of opportunities available to them in education, employment, and community service.

The program is aimed at women who are looking for constructive ways to invest their time—from the housewife who finds she has time for volunteer community service or for resuming her education, to the recently widowed or divorced woman who must begin a career after being out of touch with her earlier education or employment.

"New Directions" approach has been organized by the University Evening School at UT Knoxville, with support from TVA. This year's statewide program is an expansion of a "New Directions" Fair for women that drew wide-spread attention last November at a Knoxville shopping center. Some 2,000 women attended the Knoxville fair, and more than 50 educational, community service, and professional women's organizations provided exhibits or information on opportunities for women.

STUDENTS USE LOUDON POOL—The new Loudon Swimming Pool is being used as part of the Loudon High School Physical Education instruction. The young people shown in the photos above are one of the Phys Ed classes that are using the pool daily while the summer weather lasts. Several county schools have also bussed in students to use the pool. The city has made the pool available to the school free of charge for instructional purposes.

It's cattle grub control! You may call them "woolies" season for your beef cows, or warbles, but they are insect worms that migrate through the cow's body in the summer and fall and end up as a lump on the back in the winter.

Three effective chemicals are available to control this pest—Co-Ral, Ruzelex, and Warben. Spray the cattle with any of these materials. Probably the simplest way is to use a pour-on strength mixture.

News of the sweet cherry season is always sweet...but short. California leads the pack in the production of sweet cherries, but not by a large margin. Oregon is a close second, and Washington follows closely in third place.

Cherries are not a new crop. In the early 1800's, long before gold was discovered, the Russians were growing cherries at Fort Ross, and the Spanish padres had cherries at some of their missions. But commercial production was slow in getting started. Varieties were introduced from eastern nurseries, but it was not until 1865 that the first carload of cherries was shipped east by fast freight. If you think food costs are high now, just think what the Easterners thought when these cherries sold for $1 per pound...in the "good old days".

It may not occur to you to figure "how many cherries make how many cups?" You buy what you feel you are hungry enough to eat and that's that. However, just in case you wondered, only cherry pits and stems are waste...so one pound makes two and a half cups, stemmed and pitted.

Even high quality cherries are not good keepers. High water content that makes them juicy makes them spoil easily. Tempted to wash and put them in the refrigerator for easy snacking? DON'T. Refrigerate them. Save the washing until you are ready to eat. With such treatment their crispness and crispness will be kept intact and their keeping qualities prolonged.

SWEET CHERRY IDEAS THAT TEMPT

SCRIBE FROSTED CHERRIES: Dip sweet cherries in egg white and roll in sugar. Chill for about 30 minutes. Elegant when served atop a tossed fruit salad.

CHERRY SHERBERT AS MEAT ACCOMPANIMENT: Add the juice of one lemon to two cups of pitted sweet cherries, ground. Freeze until mushy and combine with beaten whites of two eggs and one quarter cup of sugar. Freeze until stiff.

ADD DARK SWEET CHERRY BEAUTY TO SALADS: Combine them with a medley of fruits and toss lightly with French dressing at the table.

Local Offices Receive Manual From Deatherage

Through the joint efforts of the Bank of Loudoun County, Loudoun Bank of Maryville and Blount National Bank, Marvillie, First National Bank and Trust, Rockwood, Hamilton National Bank of Harrison, Hamilton National Bank of Lenoir City, Hamilton National Bank of Loudoun, Kingston Bank and Trust Company, Kingston, and District Attorney General, H. Kenneth Deatherage, law enforcement officers of the Fourth Judicial Circuit have been provided a Law Officer's Pocket Manual designed to provide law enforcement personnel with an operational knowledge of current constitutional law developments affecting every day police practices.

The manual provides police officers, and others involved in law enforcement, with guidelines on what they can, and cannot do, lawfully if covers routine police procedures, and many of the legally sensitive areas of law enforcement, such as hot pursuit, police surveillance with electronic devices, consent searches, and the degree of force to be used in making an arrest.

District Attorney Kenneth Deatherage expressed his appreciation to the banks, sheriffs and police chiefs for their splendid cooperation in this project. The manual will become the property of the department, that is the County or City, and hopefully passed on as personnel may change. The principles involved are the more settled principles of criminal law and are unlikely to change drastically in the near future. Deatherage presented the manuals to Sheriff Freeman Russell, Loudoun Police Chief John Lennox and Lenoir City Chief Wayne Chambers earlier this week.

There is one section in the manual on entrapment. This section does not apply to Tennessee law. Tennessee does not recognize entrapment as a defense except in a specially defined and factual situation. Other than that I feel the manual, frequently and properly used, will be of tremendous value to our progressive and dedicated officers of the Fourth Judicial Circuit.

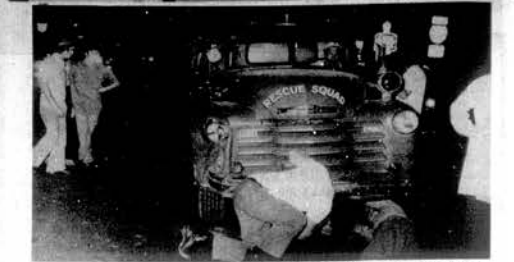

OFFICERS RECEIVE MANUALS—Attorney General Kenneth Deatherage is shown presenting Sheriff Freeman Russell, Lenoir City Police Chief Wayne Chambers and Loudoun chief John Lennox with copies of the Law Officer's Pocket Manual for each member of their forces. The manual is designed to provide the officers with an operational knowledge of current constitutional law developments affecting every day police practices.

Mr. and Mrs. Danny Wayman and Curt had as their Labor Day guests her parents Mr. and Mrs. H.C. Renner and her sister Denise of Calhoun, Ga.

NEW HIGHWAY PATROL SGT.—Tennessee Highway Patrol Sgt. Wallace Mills, who was recently promoted to that rank has been assigned to Loudoun County. Sgt. Mills has been with the Highway Patrol for 23 years, serving most of that time in the East Tennessee area. A Navy veteran of World War II, having served in the South Pacific, Sgt. Mills and his wife hope to move to Loudoun in the near future.

DRIVER CHARGED—Lloyd R. Quillen, 18, of Lenoir City was charged with not having his drivers license with him and failure to yield to State Trooper Joe Littleton last Wednesday night after his car collided with a Loudoun County Rescue Squad fire truck on an emergency call. Trooper Littleton said that Quillen was treated for a head injury at Loudoun County Memorial Hospital after the accident where the car apparently trying to mist cars that had stopped on 85 to let the fire truck cross to the 172 entrance ramp catching the right fender of the truck. Quillen's car was demolished. The fire truck, driven by Clyde Feazell, was answering a call to a burning car on I-40 at the Loudoun-Knox County line.

Your County In Action

BY HARVEY L. SPROUL
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

Much of our time in Quarterly Court meetings, as well as my individual time, has been spent recently in looking at the past, present and future of our Community Action Agency program, which involves the Manpower programs, etc. I am sure that it has been containing to the general public as to what the real issues are. So far as I am concerned, the issues are what would be the best thing for the people of Loudon County. Naturally, this ends up being a question of judgment, and people's opinions very well can differ, and what people's opinions are depends a lot on their own background and experiences, and how they may be personally affected by the particular situation. Do you know what the Mainstream and Neighborhood Youth Corps Manpower programs are? The Manpower program has helped a lot of people who were otherwise unemployable, and gave them jobs, particularly older people over the age of 55.

As the Government is concerned it is that having special programs like these gets jobs for people, but they are "taxpayer-paid" jobs and the people are paid by the Government. Of course the job these employees perform are for Governmental agencies, and theoretically it is the type of work that has to be done for the cities, counties, school systems, etc.; however, as you know, a lot of times you can get along without that extra work and this helps to hold the spending down.

But when the Federal Government says "I'm going to pay for it," then you go ahead and use that kind of help. Sometimes that kind of help is in a "hurry up" situation where you are really able to utilize the people as effectively as you could.

These manpower programs have been carried out on a tremendous scale nationwide, and the President has now determined that he wants to cut down on Government "make-work" programs, and attempt to train more people so that they will be employed by the private sector, and make good salaries, and pay taxes instead of being paid by taxes.

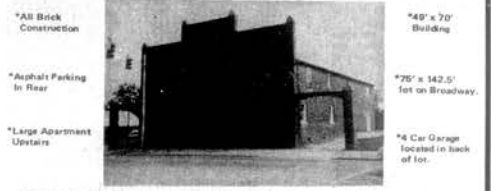

So we have been involved in a changeover process, and thousands of agencies that have been operating these programs have had to consolidate with other agencies. This question came up in the East Tennessee area, and recommendations were made as to sponsoring agencies by the East Tennessee Planning Board.

The Manpower programs were to be a part of the programs to be offered by the Mid-East (Loudon and Roane) Community Action Agency as a part of several programs which the agency was already sponsoring, together with new special revenue sharing programs that will be coming through in the near future.

of Sports

By DANNY GIBSON

Football fans at high school games in Tennessee this year are going to be satisfied, by official ruling. There will be no stalemates in TSSAA games this year. A winner will be determined by a sudden-death method. And this will bring on more and more concentration on the goal-line defense as the team that can stop a score inside the 10 yard line will have the best chance at winning those tie games.

And that brings up the question of whether as many teams will "go for broke" in the final minutes of play many yards short of the goal and a tie-game starting them in the face. Why not wait until the end of the regulation game and get the ball on the ten-yard line. The new rule will undoubtedly bring about some new strategy sessions on the side-lines.

What will be the effect of the new TSSAA ruling on teams that surprise a stronger team and hold them to a tie, which in the past might have been considered a moral victory for the weaker team? Questions like these must await the season and a few of these situations to see what the real effect will be.

On the surface, the solution to this age-old question about tie games appears to be a good remedy, at least in the record books. Many have doubts about it. But only a year's experience can give the answer.

What is the new rule all about? Basically, the rule says that if the score is tied at the end of a regulation game, each team will get the ball on the 10-yard line and have four downs to make any kind of score. After each team has had this one four-down opportunity, the one which has scored the most points is acclaimed the winner. If they are again tied after this procedure, they go into another set of downs the same way.

This rule will apply to any high school game under TSSAA jurisdiction played in the State of Tennessee, even if the visiting team is from another state. The home team's state rules apply.

Each team will have its four downs on the small end of the field so the same conditions will prevail. A flip of the coin will determine which team gets its chance first. The coin flip winner may choose whether it will play defense or offense on the first series and then the offensive team will be given the choice of which end of the field to use.

The National Alliance Football Rules will apply to all play situations with one exception and that is that the goal line is always the "line to gain". The rules for loss of possession of the ball are the same as during the regulation game. Rules pertaining to offensive and defensive pass interference remain the same.

If a touchdown is scored the team scoring will have its usual try for the extra point or points and field goal attempts may be made on any of the four downs. (The rule will bring up all kinds of interesting situations with a team that has an exceptional field goal kicker.)

If the defensive team gains possession of the football by recovering a fumble or intercepting a pass, the ball is not dead until the down is ended. This provides them the opportunity to score a touchdown with the recovery. After loss of possession the defensive team becomes the offensive team with the ball on the 10-yard line.

Looking at a few situations that might come up in the framework of the four-down possession, the offensive team will be awarded a new series any time the penalty for defensive pass interference is accepted; there is a change of team possession during a down and the ball belongs to the team that had the ball when the play started at the end of the down, or the offensive team recovers a scrimmage kick (field goal) between the goal lines that have been touched first by the defensive team beyond the line.

If Team A scores on the second down of its four-down overtime series, is it entitled to use the other downs to attempt to score again? No. When a team scores either a field goal or a touchdown, it gives up possession of the ball following the field goal or a try for point (s). This could even end up in getting the Team A defeated. Say Team A scores six points on a second play and then kicks the extra point to make it seven for the overtime period. It loses its two additional downs and Team B gets the ball for its four tries. Team B then scores a touchdown and runs the ball over for two points on the conversion for eight points. Team B would be declared the winner of the game since it scored one point more than Team A in the overtime.

Take a play where Team A is on Team B's four-yard line on third down and defensive pass interference is called on Team B. If Team A accepts the penalty, it will be first down with four downs to go for Team A on the two yard line.

Again say Team A fumbles the ball on its first play from scrimmage in the overtime. Team B recovers and runs the length of the field for a touchdown. The extra period ends after Team B has tried for the extra point (s) and the game is over with Team B the winner even though only one play had been executed in the overtime.

On third down a player on Team A fumbles the ball and a Team B player recovers on his two-yard line and advances the ball to the four-yard line but fumbles and a second player on Team A recovers the ball at that point. The Preview football action was spotty, with Foothills Conference Football Jamboree teams only scratching the surface as to their abilities in the annual sneak showing at Maryville College Friday night.

Greenback And Porter Battle To Defensive Deadlock

A capacity-plus crowd, estimated at over 5,000 attended Friday's jamboree. Walland, Maryville, and Seymour won decisions, while Greenback and Porter battled to a scoreless standoff. (Ties are out remember, or will be in actual games.)

The night's biggest surprise came in the second quarter when Walland's Rick Campbell dashed 30 yards with a minute to play to startle Everett, 8-7. Al Debuty's two-point conversion run, that caught the Bulldogs short handed, provided the victory. Maryville displayed that it will again be an AA power, to reckon with. Tailback Steve Tibert sparked in his brief appearance for the Rebels as they had little trouble with Friendsville.

Alcoa's Reggie Watson

paved the way for the Tornadoes' 6-0 win over Townsend.

Seymour turned back Lanier on Rocky Snow's 50 yard dash up the middle for a score.

Porter and Greenback slugged it out around midfield in their 12 minute exhibition.

Greenback's senior P-backer Tim Hammontree popped leather the entire quarter and stood out as one of the better individual performers of the night.

Loudon entertained McMinn County and Knoxville Holston last Wednesday in a three way scrimmage. The Redskins had a number of interested fans seated in the west stands as the "Red Machine" steamed onto the field in near 100 degree temperatures. Loudon and McMinn County opened the afternoon skirmish, renewing their meeting from a spring football workout at the Cherokees home field that ended in a 2-2 deadlock. The Redskins, who had worked only 10 days in the spring

Loudon Hosts Alcoa

Loudon County Football Seasons To Kick Off Friday Night

All three Loudon County high school football teams, Loudon, Lenoir City, and Greenback were active in pre-fall scrimmages or jamborees this past week in preparation for their respective 1973 regular season opens this Friday night.

Loudon is the home of Loudon County team to start the season on home soil with the Alcoa Tornadoes visiting the Redskins camp for an eight o'clock kickoff. The Loudon County team was 8-2 in season play a year ago and started the Redskins off on a dreary note of a 1-8 campaign with a 33-13 thumping. Loudon has regained some of its traditional zip since last fall and exhausted themselves in both spring and fall practice to try and improve their play for 1973. Alcoa was hard hit by graduation and do not have a lot of experienced lettermen returning. Nevertheless, the Tornadoes picked up five first downs and 63 yards rushing in a 4-0 Friday night jamboree win over Class A Townsend.

The Tornadoes will carry a pre-season favorite role into the Friday night battle at Dukes Field, with odds makers giving the Loudon County double A eleven a touchdown advantage. Lenoir City will journey to McMinn Central for an all important double-A clash. The Panthers went 10-2 last fall and must win Friday night if they are to equal or better their 1972 showing. The Chargers are under a new coach this fall and are minus the backfield talents of an established running back. Many of the Chargers return from last year's team but the squad is small on an overall basis. The Panthers should prevail in this one despite losing 10 solid seniors to graduation in the spring. The Lenoir City defense is still their triumph suit when the going gets tough. The Panthers have a big first team, but lack the experienced depth to start with, still Mike Walker is no easy runner to contain any day. Long, Thompson, Blakney, Sam Thompson, and Walker will anchor the defense long enough to give others time to mature into varsity players.

Greenback also must face the task of seeking a season opening victory on foreign grounds. The Cherokees travel to Gatlinburg to face the Gatlinburg-Pittman Highlanders. On normal years the Highlanders are usually sub-par for the first two or three outings due to having to wait until school starts to collect in all their football players. But word has it that the Gatlinburg-Pittman crew this year are cut from a different bolt of cloth. Supposedly most of the Highlander team has worked out on their own during summer months and are in better shape than they have been at this stage in a long while. With such speculations being true the Cherokees may have to rally early to land the knock-out punch that will bring back a win. Tony Linginfelter, Tim Hammonette, and Mike Evans give the Greenback defense a defensive nucleus that is tough to beat, but still the Cherokee offense needs to have consistent play from Shepherd and Graham at running back to aid Linginfelter in lifting the air game.

Greenback has the depth to pull it out but don't figure on a wide margin since the game is before enemy fans.

GREENBACK OFFENSE GEARED FOR HIGHLANDER BLOCKADE—The starting Cherokee backfield will be constructed around the running and passing of senior quarterback Tony Linginfelter, aiding him in the Friday night invasion of the Gatlinburg-Pittman Highlanders will be flanker Mark Carver (82) (160 pound sophomore), 190 pound senior fullback Tim Hammonette (52), and either Sandy Graham (22) (140 pound sophomore) or Kyle Shepherd (41) (160 pound junior) at the halfback position. Mike Evans a strong 190 pound senior letterman will be the offensive center.

Atomic Raceway Points Championship On Line Saturday Night

This is the big payoff week at Atomic Speedway, fastest third-mile dirt track in the country.

With Saturday night's late model sportsman race, the season winds up for drivers battling for dollars in the track points championship. A check for $2,000 awaits the champ. Track owner Bob Martin expects to have checks ready for the next two or three finishers in the points derby.

Atomic fans have become the first at a East Tennessee race track to kick in and make the points fund more lucrative.

"During recent weeks we've passed the bucket and fans have really shown their appreciation for a season of keen competition," said Martin in revealing the added dollars which will make it possible for other drivers to share in the payoff. "As far as I know this marks the first time in this area for fans helping boost the point fund."

Although this week's program closes out the points race, Martin is planning additional events for the popular facility as long as weather and fan support permits.

Knoxville's Tootle Estes heads the points race going into this weekend's competition.

Time trials will get under way at 7 o'clock and the first racing is set for 8:30.

started their offense from the 35 yard line. The Greenback team, which is picked a contender behind Walland and Porter in the Foothills race, rolled off three first downs in keeping the ball much of the quarter. Quarterback Tony Linginfelter was the top ground gainer with two carries for 25 yards. Tim Hammonree, working from the fullback slot hit Porter line on four tries for 14 yards, as Greenback tried to establish a running attack. Linginfelter then hit on two of three passes before the Cherokees stalled on the Panther 28 yard line. Porter moved the ball slowly back across the mid-field stripe until Greenback's defense became stingy and ended the drive to close out the period.

Greenback picked up 23 total yards rushing and 10 yards passing in gaining three first downs. Porter had but 12 yards rushing on the tough Cherokee defensive line, but added 30 yards to their offense on two of five passes. Thus setting the stage for a real defensive struggle when the two teams meet for real at Greenback September 28.

Indians Blast Midway 36-0

The Loudon Indians with an impressive offensive show defeated Midway Saturday night at Midway 36-0. Loudon got on the board early in the first quarter with quarterback Eddie Estes firing a 30-yard scoring strike to David Black. The extra point try failed. Mark Moore on a 5-yard gallop put Loudon ahead by 12-0, again the conversion attempt was missed. The defense scored 2 by tackling the Midway quarterback in the end zone while attempting to pass. Midway having a free kick after the safety punted the ball, and it was returned to the Midway 44 yard line. Mark Moore on the first play ran the remaining 44 yards to give Loudon its third touchdown. Chuck Johnson scored the extra point on an end run. The outstanding Loudon defense again forced Midway to punt. Loudon took over on the Midway 45 where Q.B. Estes immediately fired a short pass to David Black who quickly lateraled to Freddie Starritt and Starritt went all the way for the Loudon touchdown. Carl Hawkins added the extra point and Loudon led 30-0. The final Indian touchdown looked like an instant replay as Estes again passed to David Black who again quickly lateraled to Freddie Starritt and Freddie galloped 43 yards for the final touchdown making the score 36-0.

Loudon Mustangs Get Second Win

The Loudon Mustangs overpowered Midway Saturday night for their second win of the season by a score of 28-0. The Mustangs received the opening kickoff and promptly went for a touchdown. John Cardwell and Greer Carey contributed the yardage with Cardwell finally going over from the three. Donnie Elridge ran for the extra points.

Then the closing point of the Mustang eleven went to work; its defense. The Midway Greens, as have all of the previous Mustang opponents were held without a first down with the starting defense in. This defense is led by Waller Henry, Perry Purdy, Rusty Campbell, John Cardwell, Greer Carey, and Carl Johnson.

Soon after the start of the second quarter, Greer Carey blocked a Midway punt attempt and the Mustangs took over on the Midway thirty. After four plays, John Cardwell scored from the four. Carey made the extra point. After half-time, Quarterback Jeff Purdy turned a busted play into a 40 yard scoring jaunt. The extra point attempt was no good. The next time the Mustangs got the ball, Donnie Elridge made an impressive 43 yard run to set up Cardwell's final TD.

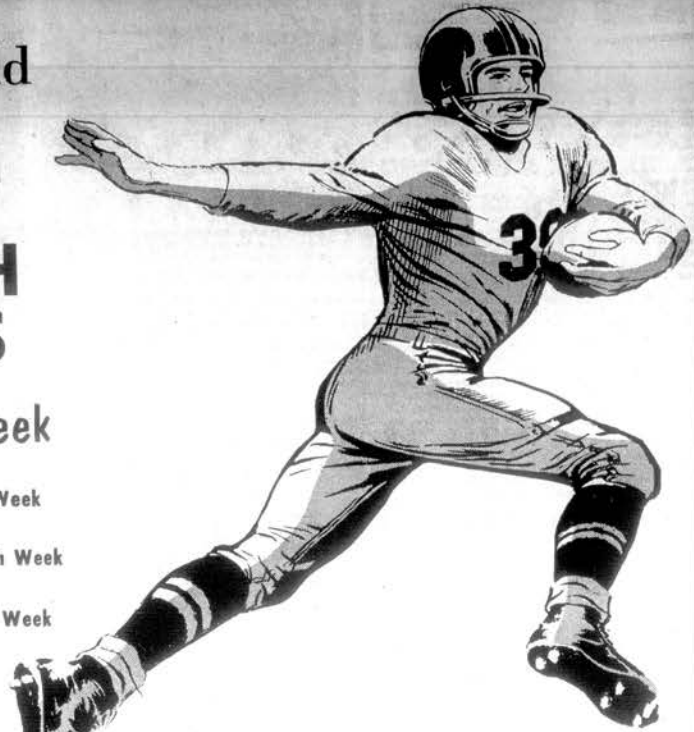

The offensive line, which did a much better job than in previous outings, consisted of Kerry Brant Hoover, Steve Buchanan, Kent Everett, Waller Henry, Perry Purdy, Carl Johnson, Rusty Campbell, and David Matlock. The bench received substantial playing time also.

OLDEST DEER DIES

Death has claimed Old Alice, Tennessee's oldest known whitetail deer. She died in Ossa Mitchell's barn in Overton County, despite the best efforts of Dr. Jolly, the veterinarian, and two members of the Overton County Sportsman's Club.

Mitchell and Joe Brown were driving home from a deer hunt near Standing Stone Park when Alice bounded across the road ahead of them, closely pursued by a dog. The male gave chase, and caught up with the pair of animals in a small creek. The dog was successfully beaten off the deer with the assistance of the dog's owner, a squirrel hunter, who later punished the dog severely.

Taken to Livingston, Old Alice was given glucose and other medication in an attempt to bring her out of shock, but all efforts failed.

According to Game and Fish Commission records, Alice was released in Jackson County in 1952 as part of the deer restoration program there. At the time of release, she was estimated to be between one and a half and two years old. Her death made her more than 19 years old.

According to literature available on the subject, only two deer, one in Wisconsin and one in New York State, have been known to attain an equal age, and both were domesticated deer. In the wild, the normal longevity is eight years.

THE MOURNING DOVE

Mid-March marks the beginning of the nesting season and the pleasant, plaintive cry of the mourning dove can be heard throughout Tennessee. After pairing, the male drive the female to a flimsily built nest that is usually located within seven to eight feet off the ground. A clutch usually consists of two eggs that hatch on successive days two weeks after laying. Both the male and female take turns incubating the eggs. The male usually take the mid-day shift.

The weak, newly hatched squabs are fed "pigeon milk" manufactured by the milk glands located in the throats of both the male and female dove. This pigeon milk is gradually supplemented with seeds regurgitated from the adult's crop. After about 10 to 15 days the young leave the nest with their parents to learn to fend for themselves.

After this brief training period, young doves leave their parents and begin forming large flocks. The adults will then raise another family. Some doves may raise three to four families a year. After the nesting season, the adults join the larger flocks of juveniles. The staple foods of doves are a wide variety of agricultural and weed seeds, supplemented seasonally by insects, mostly grasshoppers and worms. Favorite agricultural seeds are wheat, oats, rye, barley, buckwheat, corn and millet. Favorite weed seeds are foxtail, wild millets, ragweed, morning glory, poke weed, dock and wild mustard. Doves feed only in open, clear area where an abundance of these foods exist. Doves migrate during the winter in search of these types of areas for feeding.

The dove is the most frequently observed game bird in Tennessee, thereby providing considerable pleasures to non hunters. It is the favorite game bird in Tennessee. Over 125,000 doves hunters harvest over three million doves annually.

Researchers To Mark Bass For Tournament

The upcoming BASS fishing tournament on Watts Bar Lake near Spring City, Tennessee, will be the focal point of a study designed to estimate the number of large bass in the reservoir and determine the impact of fishing tournaments on reservoir fish populations.

Participating in the study will be TVA; the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission; Tennessee Cooperative Fisheries Unit; Environmental Sciences Division, Oak Ridge National Laboratory; and Division of Fishery Services, Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife. Fisheries biologists will put distinctive marks on some of the reservoir's larger bass—over 12 inches before the tournament begins September 26. Then, as the fishermen bring in their catches, the bass will be measured and checked for marks before they are released back into the reservoir.

"By comparing the number of marked fish they catch to the number we have marked, we expect to be able to statistically estimate the total population of large bass in the lake," said Jack Holtbrook, TVA fisheries biologist in charge of the project.

"Last year the fishermen participating in the tournament sponsored by BASS (Bass Anglers Sportsman Society) caught almost 1,000 fish during the course of the 3-day tournament. We hope to mark at least 500 bass before they start fishing this year," Holtbrook said.

The marking operation will begin next week and will involve five or six boats equipped with electronic equipment to determine the fish's long enough for biologists to catch and mark them.

"The shocking does not harm the fish," Holtbrook said. "It just stuns them and during the time they are unconscious we can measure and mark them so we will be able to identify them when the tournament fishermen bring in their catches."

While the tournament is under way anglers will be lifted from the fish caught for growth studies. The distribution of the growth rings on scales is used by scientists to determine how fast the fish have grown.

"After we find out the number of larger bass in the lake and their rate of growth, then we can more clearly define the impact of fishing tournaments on the bass population," Holtbrook said.

Keach of Hobards, Ky., took the reserve championship. The third spot went to Another Masterpiece, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moore of Monroe, Ohio, with Jay Cook exhibiting.

Before the Celebration got underway, show officials began a campaign to enforce the 1970 Horse Protection Act's anti-soring provisions. Soring is an illegal means of forcing a horse to high-step by hurting its hooves, either with sharp pieces of metal or with chemicals.

The people of the walking horse industry have made an honest effort to clean up.

Panther Defense Grades High In Final Fall Scrimmage

The Lenoir City Panthers put the finishing wraps on what they hope to be the solutions in stopping the football forces of McMinn Central Friday night with a three-way pre-season scrimmage at Knoxville Farragut this past Thursday.

The afternoon resulted in a defensive tussle that saw only Farragut register touchdowns and those against Clinton. The Lenoir City offense kept mostly to a patterned ground attack with senior Mike Walker getting a vigorous workout from his left halfback position. Quarterback Mike McConkey appears to be established as calling the shots for the Panthers after finishing out the final five games for the Lenoir City eleven in 1972.

Even though Walker and McConkey performed like veterans the day was dominated by top defensive play. For Lenoir City it was Bobby Smith, a promising sophomore, Walker, rugged Tony Long, Sam and Carl Thompson, and Mike Hayes which had the Lenoir Coaches excited and opposing running backs aching. Buddy Jones, Reed Lindsey, sophomore Steve Arnold, and juniors Jeff Walker, Junior Johnson, and Jeff Cantler all saw extensive playing time as the three teams shared scrimmage times.

was used sparingly, but their time was in come soon. Nevertheless the Redskins retired to the sidelines to view Holston and McMinn in action. The two Triple-A teams matched equal defensive efforts before Knoxville Holston tallied on a long run of 45 yards. The scoring play had the Redskins ready for a red and Loudon returned to the trenches for more contact. It did not take long for the Redskins offense to construct an offensive march that had the ball in Warrior territory. The Holston defense dug in tighter and a good defensive stop aided by the failure of Loudon to connect on a pass from John Lovelace. Sam Lyle had the Redskins facing a long yardage third down play. Loudon failed in their efforts to collect a first down and Holston took the offense.

The Redskins defense appeared ready. Danny Russell, Jimmy Rivers, and Steve Kiser turning in fine tackles. Despite the fine defensive work being turned in the Warriors connected on a pass to the Loudon nine yard line as Dennis Queen was out fought for the ball. The Loudon defense was called on by linebacker Tim Guider and Dennis Rowe to steady their play. In four consecutive downs Loudon's defense rose to the occasion with front liners Mike Yates, Brad Brewster, Nat Campbell, and Bivens all doing a bang up job. When the dust had cleared on fourth down Guider and his defensive pals had pushed the Loudon offense back to the 15 yard line.

Loudon's offense still could not find a dirt as Holston turned the action back over to McMinn County. The Redskins offense perked up as David Sarrett, Purkey Campbell, Rick Tucker and Rick Melton escaped would-be tacklers for sizeable gains. Tim Guider and Johnny Deatbridge battered the Cherokee defense for short yardage plays and the march was on. The Cherokee defense balked at their own 20 and Loudon lost the ball on downs.

Danny Russell, Steve Kiser, Lonnie Brewster, Kenny Skinner, Bill Presley, and Floyd Morton all shared in the defensive chores to regain the football for Loudon. McMinn was forced to punt but a spirited rush by Buddy Swiney, Melton, and Tim Guider foiled the effort. Guider was the first to reach the punter on the ball. The punt was blocked into the end zone with a host of Loudon players piling on the ball for an undisputed touchdown by the defensive team.

Loudon once more was matched against Holston as the afternoon sun slid farther into the west. This time the Redskins broke the scoring drought established by the Holston defense, but the advantage was not to last as Holston took a layer of the polish off of Loudon's gleaming exhibition by blocking a punt which resulted in a touchdown. The day of labor finally ended for Loudon with McMinn falling to the Redskins 4-1 and Holston settling for a 3-1 stand off.

Loudon Coaches Bert Rattledge and Jim Gibson found a lot of praise for their team's scrimmage showing. "Our offense shows a lot of improvement, thanks to the work and efforts given by our tailbacks, Sarrett, Melton, Tucker, and Campbell," said Rattledge. "We can go with any one and not feel a loss for ability." The defense looked sharp in certain phases, but we still need to execute our team tackling and pursuit better before getting into a "real live game."

REDSKIN DEFENSE GOES TO WORK—The Loudon defensive unit stops McMinn County's senior running back Lawrence Versa, for a small gain in a three way scrimmage last Wednesday afternoon at Loudon. Loudon Coach "Big" Rattledge (foreground) watches approvingly.

AIRIAL BATTLE—Loudon's junior pass receiver Sam Lyle goes air borne to battle for this pass in a three way scrimmage between Loudon, Knoxville Holston, and McMinn County. Lyle is in the white uniform while he is being checked by an unidentified Holston defensive back.

next down will be first down for Team A on the four-yard line. But if on any of the first three downs Team A fumbles the ball anywhere on the field and Team B recovers it in its own endzone it is a touchback and Team A's series is over. Team B puts the ball at the 10-yard line.

An instance where the offensive team would have further than 10 yards to go would occur if Team A fumbles the ball on any of the first three downs and Team B recovers and runs the ball out past the 10-yard line and fumbles with Team A recovering. Team A would have the ball first and goal from the point of recovery even if it is one yard away from the opposite goal.

Now, say on second down a Team A player fumbles the ball on Team B's two-yard line. A Team B player recovers there and then retreats into his own end zone where he is tackled. This is ruled a safety with two points going to Team A then Team B will get the ball at the 10-yard line to take four downs to try to get more than those two points.

The spot of enforcement for live ball fouls, after a loss of possession, shall be the 10-yard line. The spot of enforcement for dead ball fouls, following a down in which a loss of possession occurs, shall be the designated 10-yard line.

There you have it. That's a capsule rundown to the new no-tie rule and you can form your own conclusions. A 49-minute superlative effort can be dashed within the space of four downs inside the ten-yard line. There'll be new emphasis on special overtime scoring plays and the 0-0, 6-0 or other scores in the Saturday morning papers will be a thing of the past.

Delight Bumin Around Is Walking Horse Champion

A six-year-old black stallion, Delight Bumin Around, stepped to the walking horse world's top honor Saturday night at the 35th Annual Tennessee Walking Horse National Celebration.

The big horse, son of the 1963 grand champion, was reserve grand champion last year. "Right now I don't think there is any other horse with the conformation and the ability he's got. In my lifetime, I think he's the greatest walking horse that's been around," said rider-trainer Billy Gray of Lewisburg, Tenn., who exhibited Bumin Around to owners Mr. and Mrs. John C. Miller of Anchorage, Alaska.

Sooner or later we feel that we will, through the efforts of our many kind readers, cover about every aspect of life in our area, and hope to have pictures of most of our people in our area.

This week, we have a group picture of some boys. One of the boys was well known and very well liked. The man in the group at the extreme left is the late Dr. Goins Harrison, son of the well-known Dr. Joe Harrison. Dr. Goins Harrison was a pharmacist in the East Tennessee area for a number of years with some time spent in the Loudon area. I can recall the beautiful old cord automobile he used to drive. It was not only quite an automobile in it's day but would be quite an automobile in comparison with our modern cars.

As a boy growing up in Loudon, we like Dr. Goins Harrison very much. We always thought of him as being a king soft spoken gentleman. We are fairly sure some of the other boys in the picture are local boys. If you know any of them, give us a call.

Speaking of the Dr. Joe Harrison family, I guess I was never as scared in my life as I was when the late Jim Harrison rode his motorcycle down through downtown Loudon standing up on the seat. He was an excellent cycle rider. But I think I was scared he was going to fall off and the others watching were just as scared as I was.

We have two more pictures this week, both are of well known Loudon People. These pictures were taken many years ago. One of them is of Frog Williams who works at Loudon High School. This picture was sent to us by Charlie Ridge, Church St. Loudon.

The other picture is of Irene Stinnett (Mrs. Boss Wallace) and was taken in 1914. We are always glad to have pictures of our people when they were younger.

We were talking to some people the other day and the real hot weather we are having prompted them to bring up the subject of the old time hand fans which funeral homes used to give away at either funerals or church services.

Somebody said that it possibly would distract the minister's today if everybody in the church would start fanning away at the same time, but it used to be done.

I remember when about the only electric fans you saw were the old ceiling fans in the drug stores and barber shops.

Sure, I know things are better in a lot of ways today, but it brings back memories to think back.

Now that our area has a flying club, and we are very proud of this, we would like to have some pictures of flyers, planes and riders of our area with local people in them. So please look through those old pictures and give us a call.

Lenoir City Schools

ANOTHER VOCATIONAL COURSE FOR LOUDON COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS TO BEGIN

The sixth vocational education course for high school students will begin at Loudon High School this week.

The course, Health Occupations, will be administered by the Lenoir City Board of Education at facilities provided by the Loudon County Board of Education. All facilities at Lenoir City Schools have already been assigned to five new vocational courses that began at the opening of school.

These courses have taxed facilities at Lenoir City to the point that further expansion at Lenoir City is impossible. Since the Loudon County Board had some four thousand sq feet of space not being used, a program for Health Occupations was submitted by the writer to the State Department of Education in Nashville early last week. Approval to begin the program was granted by Assistant Commissioner William Harrison at the end of last week by telephone. Under arrangements already agreed upon by the Loudon County Board and the Lenoir City Board, the cost of the program not borne by the State Department of Education will be shared equally by the two local boards of education. It is anticipated that the state will bear the cost of the equipment for the Health Occupations laboratories as well as pay half the cost of the salary of the nurse who teaches the course.

The new course is open to juniors and seniors who are interested in training for many of the technical jobs in the field of health occupations. The program will continue for two years with the students spending most of the first year at Loudon High School. Most of the second year will be spent in area hospitals and

Social Security Offers New Security Program

The Knoxville social security office is now taking applications from Loudon County residents for supplemental security income payments, a Federal program scheduled to start in 1974 that will establish an income floor for people in financial need who are 65 or over, or blind, or disabled, according to William McClure, social security district manager.

But people already getting State old-age assistance, or State aid because they are blind or disabled, don't have to apply, he said. "They'll be getting more information later this year about how the program will help them.

"The first monthly payments under the Federal program will be made in January 1974," McClure said. "Until then, State and local public assistance offices will continue to make payments in the usual way."

"Federal supplemental security income payments will be made by the Social Security Administration," McClure said. "But the program will be financed by Federal general revenues—not by social security contributions from workers and employers. It's not the same as social security."

The aim of the new program is to provide supplemental payments in cases of need so that people 65 or over, or blind, or disabled will have a basic cash income of at least $10 a month for one person and $15 a month for a couple.

"This doesn't mean that every eligible person or couple will be getting that much from the Federal Government every month," McClure said. "The amount of the Federal payment any person gets will depend on how much other income he has."

"If you're single—or married but not living with your husband or wife—you can own things worth up to $1,500 and still get Federal payments. If you're married, you can own things worth up to $2,250 and get payments. Not everything you own has to be counted toward your total assets, however."

"A home of reasonable value will not be counted as an asset," McClure said. "In addition, the Federal Government will not put liens on the homes of people getting Federal payments. Personal effects and household goods won't count in most cases. Insurance policies or a car may not affect eligibility either, but it will depend on their value."

Certain income also will be disregarded in deciding on an application for supplemental security income. The first $20 a month of income generally won't effect the Federal payment at all, McClure said.

"In addition, people who are working part time should know that the first $65 a month of earnings won't be included in counting their income and only half of the rest of their additional earnings will be counted," he said.

Apart from earnings, other income above the first $20 a month generally will reduce the Federal payment. "This includes social security checks, veterans payments, workmen's compensation, pensions, annuities, and gifts," McClure said. "And if you live in someone else's household, your basic Federal payment will be reduced by one-third before other income that may affect your payment is deducted."

People in Loudon County who need more information to decide whether they might be eligible for the Federal payments should complete and mail the questionnaire below to the Knoxville Social Security Office, he said. "Or, a friend or relative can complete the questionnaire if the person in need isn't able to, he said.

"Even though payments cannot start until January 1974, we're starting to take applications now so we can process them ahead of time and avoid delays that might occur if there's a rush of applications right at the end of the year," McClure said.

CITY MANAGEMENT

The operation of city government is just like that of a business. Even when a town is small, less than 4000, its government handles hundreds of thousands of dollars each year in developing programs and maintaining its streets, sanitation, police and fire departments. And like business, government needs professional paid executives to coordinate, plan and supervise.

Many people lifted eyebrows when the City of Loudon hired its first full time City Administrator, Gary Hensley Joe Carter, who was mayor at the time, and other members of the city commission were all industrial and business people, serving without pay and without the time necessary to do many of the things they recognized would benefit the city.

Since that time, almost two years ago, Gary has earned nothing but praise from members of the City Commission and many other citizens alike. Gary will be the first to say that not everyone accepted him or his ideas, but for a young man in his mid-20's, his common sense approach has overcome most of the skeptics and by his neighbors and across the state.

One of the many things he can take much credit for is the new swimming pool-park complex. This summer the olympic size pool was opened, a first in the city and certainly the largest expenditure on recreation. Now the second phase of the development of the $300,000 ten acre park is underway. In other areas of recreation Gary had a big part in putting together the first "real" summer recreation program for the city that consisted of activities for all ages. It would be safe to say that 500 persons participated in the various programs that were practically self supporting. This has led to the creation of a Recreation Department and Governing Board of citizens to improve and expand the program.

Working with other governments in the county for the successful agreements on solid waste disposal, a county-wide juvenile service officer and a County Justice Center where the cities and county will combine their communications and record systems are other achievements where the City Manager took much of the load from the elected officials.

In areas of internal government Gary developed and had approved the conversion of the Volunteer Fire Department into a professional force; a retirement and insurance system for the city employees; and the creation of the first personnel policy for the city. There is also a new municipal garage for the city services departments under construction.

Loudon's City Commissioner made a wise move when they decided to enter the city management program and their decision on the person to fill the job was just as wise.

Dress, Behavior Codes Adopted

The introduction of a dress code and behavior code at Loudon High School was approved by the Loudon County Board of Education last Thursday night.

Most of the teachers at the school and a number of parents were present at the meeting seeking the support of the board in the matter. The code was drawn up at the end of the last school year by members of the school faculty and the Student Council but has revised somewhat this year by the school faculty.

It had been reported that the lack of discipline and a uniform code of punishment had caused problems at the school throughout last year and after several problems during the first day of the current school year the teachers agreed to enforce a strict code which is broken.

Supreme Court Denies Appeal

The Tennessee Supreme Court Monday upheld the conviction of Richard Massey of Loudon who was sentenced to three years in prison last May by a Criminal Court Jury for the felonious assault of Jesse Buttram a Loudon City Policeman.

Buttram was later killed when struck by a car on Broadway in Loudon City. Massey was picked up by County deputies Monday afternoon and placed in Loudon County Jail pending execution of the sentence.

Court Meeting Postponed

The scheduled meeting of Loudon County Court Monday was postponed until 7 p.m. Tuesday, September 18. County Judge Harvey Sprout could not attend the meeting because his wife was suddenly hospitalized.

Court convened with Chairman Pro-Tem Curtis Williams presiding and the nine squires asked to postpone the meeting because Judge Sprout had information on several major items on the agenda that they felt was necessary before any decisions could be made.

Lenoir City Footballer Killed When Motorcycle Strikes Car

YEEBAGER KILLED—Steven Earle Landrum, 16, a Lenoir City High School football and basketball player was killed when his motorcycle and a car collided on Martel Road at the entrance to Martel Estates Saturday. The cycle and car are shown in the photos above. Landrum died of head injuries.

Sixteen year old Steven Earle Landrum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Landrum, Lakeland Drive, Lenoir City, died of head injuries about 6:45 p.m. Saturday when the motorcycle he was riding collided with a car on Martel Road at the Martel Estates Subdivision entrance.

State Trooper Joe Littleton said that Landrum was apparently traveling North and struck a car driven by James T. Williams, 17, Rt. 5, Lenoir City, as Williams, also driving North, attempted to turn off

LANDRUM

Martel Road into the subdivision. The cycle struck the door and left front fender of the car. Landrum, who was a Junior at Lenoir City High School where he was a member of the football and basketball teams, was thrown about 20 feet from where the cycle came to rest.

Trooper Littleton said he did not know for sure that the victim was wearing a helmet but he had been told that he was seen a few minutes before the accident riding without one. There were no lags on the cycle either, Littleton said. Young Landrum attended Calvary Baptist Church in Lenoir City.

Williams was taken to Loudon County Memorial Hospital suffering from shock, but had no physical injuries in the accident, it was reported.

Trooper Littleton said the dead youth apparently tried to pass the car as it was turning off Martel Road. No charges were placed against Williams.

Funeral services for Landrum were held Tuesday at Click Funeral Home Chapel in Lenoir City with Rev. Clarence Sexton and Rev. Ben Landrum officiating. Burial was in Lakeview Cemetery. Survivors include the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Landrum; three brothers, Harry Jr., Roger and Mack, all at home; grandmother, Mrs. Naomi Jean Landrum, Atlantic Beach, Fla.

Divers Find Old Bridge Span, Think Trains Are In River

By Calvin Lunsford
For several years a number of Loudon area residents have been interested in finding out whether or not that one or possible two Civil War era locomotives and several cars were buried under sheets of copper are on the bed of the Tennessee River at Loudon. It is thought that two trains were blown up on the railroad bridge at Loudon during the war between the states.

Last weekend professional divers and treasure hunters were at the site to start their underwater investigation which should lead to a settlement of the question. Their efforts revealed portions of the old wooden spans were still intact on the river bottom after more than 100 years in the water. The divers offered encouragement that the locomotives were still there and they said they will soon return to the river bottom to look for the railroad cars and locomotives.

All this activity has come about after a committee was appointed by the city of Loudon to look into the matter. Members of the committee are Ed McQueen, Joe Watkins, Calvin Lunsford and Mrs. Alleen Richesin. Besides the recovery of one of the trains the committee is looking into the possibility of

If you allow flowers to go to seed they may not keep blooming. Plants use up lots of nutrients in forming seeds and they just don't have the ability to produce both flowers and a heavy crop of seeds. Remember to snip off the old flowers and seed structures so no seeds will form.

Annals such as petunias, marigolds, zinnias and verbenas have been producing flowers and seed most of the summer. Comb through them about once a week to remove seeds that are starting to form. This keeps the annuals blooming profusely until fall.

Some perennials such as garden lilies and sweet peas bloom only once a season. After the flowers have faded and died, snip them off with scissors or pruning shears so the plants can build up food reserves for quality flowers next season.

If you think that letting your plants go to seed will have buying seeds next spring, you may be mistaken. Especially with annual hybrids like petunias.

There will be volunteer petunia plants next year. However, the second generation won't look like the first-off colors will predominate.

It is best to start with new seeds every season.

BY LOUDON HIGH SCHOOL JOURNALISM CLASS

The entire faculty and student body were delighted with the performance of the Beroa College Dancers and the music of the McClain Family. The dancers seemed to enjoy doing the intricate patterns as well as the audience enjoyed watching. It is easy to understand why the McClain Family has won such wide acclaim. Their music was superb. Perhaps the highlight of the program was the "audience participation". A number of our students and faculty proved to be quite good dancers.

On Friday the International Thespian Society elected these officers: President Tommy Hall; V-Pres. Ricky McJunkins; Secretary, Sonya Tuck; Reporter Rita Ritchey; Treasurer Susan Simpson; Rep to Student Council Nancy Cordwell.

Monday, most of the students attended the Tenn. Valley A&I Fair.

The Cheffina Staff hopes to publish the first issue of the paper the last part of this week.

The Lou-Hi-San Staff is busy planning the '74 year book. The price will be $8 which is an increase caused by increased cost to the company. If any of our readers anticipate ordering a copy, you should do so immediately.

Speaking of Sports

By DANNY GIBSON
Sports Editor

Don't bother to pucker up, sister. Coaches won't be coming around this year. Most of them didn't like you looks anyway. Alabama football master mind Bear Bryant said it first. "A tie football game is like kissing your sister."

The TSSAA has done away with Sis and installed a tie-breaking rule which makes gridiron deadlocks a passing thing. The belief of the majority of football coaches over the state is for ties to be worn, not played for on the football field.

So fans in Tennessee are going to get a winner every Friday night if they have to sit there all night to get it. The people in Dandridge may have thought just that when Maury High had to play three overtime periods to capture their first win of the season, a 12-6 verdict over Wartburg. The game ended in a 0-0 stalemate. Each team scored in the first overtime exchange. Neither team could score in the second and Maury finally added six points in the third overtime for the win.

And who would have thought the fans in Loudon would likewise be first week witnesses to the newest of high school football amendments in our state? The Redskins, who had outplayed their visitors, Alcoa, for the entire game, but just could not out score them, won the game on a field goal in the first extra stanza.

Interestingly enough The Herald prompted itself to check out some of the thinking on the issues of a tie rule that would result in all games having a WINNER and a loser.

Alcoa's Coach Bill Cochran had a tad of a negative attitude on the rule AFTER the Loudon game. "I voted against the overtime tie-breaker rule back in December because of the very things that happened to my team in the game."

Cochran, a former Greenback High School coach, said he was proud of his team. "I only have 26 men on the squad and the biggest man we play weighs 175 pounds. It would have been a tremendous boost for us as small as we are to have tied Loudon 6-6."

He said he had voted against the rule change for this reason: figuring that the feeling of a tie is as good of a morale booster as a win in certain circumstances. He also said the injury problem caused him to vote against the rule. In the overtime Terry Hicks, who had been a stalwart for the Tornados in the game was injured with a bad neck spring that may keep him out of the next few games to follow.

Cochran said besides taking away the opportunity for a not-so-good team to get a tie with a better club, and the injury problem, the club who wins the loss at the beginning of the overtime also has an advantage. He said they will automatically go on defense. If they hold the opponent, then after their third play they have not scored that team can attempt a field goal from where ever they are and pick up an easy win. He said he was taking nothing away from Loudon because that is the way the game was won, because he felt Loudon overall was the stronger team, but his team could not afford to try a field goal on fourth down, then let Loudon have four running plays. "It's just a bad rule and in our case this was proved at Loudon Friday night," he said.

A quick opinion poll around the county and with some opposing teams to face the Loudon County grid squads go something like this:

BERT RATLEDGE, Loudon, I like the rule. We never did put much stock in a tie. A team should work and be ready on Friday night to play for victory. That is the idea behind competing with other schools in any sport.

LENOIR CITY'S DALE BROWN, I think it can come time be costly in the difference of a team that once got five points in the overall point standings for a chance of getting into the playoffs. But I still like it and feel that a team is either a winner or loser with ties just being a respectable way out for a team that has been out hustled.

KEITH BAILEY, Greenback, A tie can some times help an underdog but by rights a team should either win or lose. I am glad to see the rule although it may cost me some time. But a team that can out man a superior team for 48 minutes should not mind a four down series as they apparently would have the game's momentum.

EDDIE RICK, McMinn Central, "I like it in a way. Sometimes a tie game is a moral victory. But I like it for the playoffs. Tie games hurt schools in the region point standings."

KEITH BEATY, CHARLESTON, "I really don't know. We haven't thought that much about it. Of course, a tie is better than a loss. It's here, so I guess we'll have to like it."

BOBBY SCOTT, CLEVELAND, "I think it makes for a little more excitement. You know, if you go to a football game and you leave and it's tied, you really haven't accomplished much. I like it. It's good because somebody's gonna win and somebody's gonna lose. Makes it harder on a coach. Biggest thing I can see, these coaches gonna be working on that 10-yard line on in more than before. They'll work on that goal line defense a little more, too."

HULAND DRAPER, RHEA COUNTY, "Well, I like it better than this two-point deal. I also like it better than the penetration deal they have in some places. I wish they'd do away with the two-point rule and keep this. Lots of times I'm glad to have a tie, but I like to see a winner."

JESS FLEMONS, KINGSTON, "It really doesn't make any difference to me. Larry, I kinda don't like it in a way because I've always figured it's better to tie than lose. This way you're either going to win or lose, no question about it. Personally, I think it gives the underdog the advantage, because the reason I say that, you play a team that you don't prepare for well and they get up there and you tie them and your mental attitude's not ready and they throw an old wobbly pass in the end zone and you get called for pass interference and they beat you. I believe we've had four ties since 1959, if I can remember correctly. And with the two-point thing in now, you usually don't have many because if they're tied they'll go for two. So, really, they had a sort of a tie-breaking procedure in dispute. I personally would prefer it like it was."

New Tie-Breaker Rule Used In Home Opener

Skinner's 23 Yard Field Goal Gains Loudon 9-6 Win Over Alcoa Tornados

The Loudon Redskins used the controversial "tie breaker" rule Friday night to turn back a fired up Alcoa Tornado eleven 9-6 on Dukes Field. The Redskins coming off a 1-8 record in 1972 that produced few scores, totaled only 61 points in nine games, hit the score board early with a six spot. The Redskins marched 73 yards in four plays. Senior quarterback John Lovelace started the drive with a five yard sprint. A 12 yard pass to Preston McQueen gained a first down. David Sarrett ran for seven yards to the Loudon 40 yard line, before sophomore speedster Rick Melton bolted through the left side of the line and raced 21 yards for a touchdown. The try for extra point was no good as Loudon had a penalty to wipe out the initial extra point placement and the second effort from five yards back was wide. Loudon held the Tornados in check for the first half as Jimmy Bivens, Tim Guider, and Preston McQueen led an air-tight Redskins defensive effort. But offensively the Redskins failed to hit pay dirt again despite numerous long runs being turned in by Loudon backs. Penalties hampered the Redskins offense, which by rights could have salted the game away early had mistakes not figured in.

Alcoa, without a first down in the first half, took advantage of a Loudon fumble in the third quarter to put their only points on the score board. A 14 yard pass by the Tornados produced a touchdown with 7:46 left to play in the third stanza. The extra point try was blocked by the hard rushing Loudon defensive line. Loudon dominated play the rest of the game, but still drew a blank in registering a score. The Redskins got a tremendous break in the final two minutes of the game when Raymond Watkins intercepted an Alcoa pass inside the Tornados 20 yard line. Loudon moved the ball to the Alcoa five yard line before attempting a last second field goal by the Redskins Kenny Skinner. The best was no good bring on the use of the newly adopted TSSAA tie breaker rule. Loudon won the loss and chose to be on defense first. The strategy paid off as Tim Guider latched on to an Alcoa pass in the end zone on their second offensive play from the 10 yard stripe. Loudon promptly moved to the Alcoa three yard line on runs by the Guider and Melton and an incomplete pass that was batted down at the line of scrimmage. Thus Loudon again chose to go for the field goal. This time the ball was touched down from the 13 yard line with Kenny Skinner sending the ball straight and true through the uprights of the goal post for a 23 yard three point strike. Loudon had captured their first win of the season.

Loudon plagued by mistakes for the course of the evening dominated the statistics and the game with the exception of crossing the Guider and Melton and an goal line with any sort of consistency. Rick Melton led the Redskins offense with 88 yards of real estate. The feet

Watson To Accent Sewanee Fall Football Fortunes

There was a story in a Nashville paper this summer about small college football, and included a section which said in effect that football in the pleasant little mountain top community of Sewanee was played primarily for fun. Winning and losing didn't really matter that much.

GORDO WATSON

Very rewarding season, because the younger boys progressed so much," he explained. "We certainly don't want to get used to losing because it'll destroy you if you do."

Games last season. Majors is counting on the Chattanooga to continue where he left off. "Being realistic, I feel we should be improved this year," the man with the legendary football name continued. "A lot of the boys doing good jobs last year were freshmen. Our season will depend a great deal on how we fare in our first game. That's an important game in more ways than one."

Sewanee in total offense as a sophomore and with a strong junior campaign could be in line for Little All American honors. He also handles the team's punting.

Only four seniors are listed on the Sewanee roster, as an example of the team's youth. Gordo Watson, a familiar name in Tennessee high school circles for his play at Loudon, is the Tigers' top running back. The former Redskin quarterback led

The Greenback Cherokees behind the running of senior quarterback Tony Linginfeller and rugged defensive play by the Cherokee line, turned back Gatlinburg-Pittman Friday night 26-8 at Gatlinburg. The season opener for the two Region One Class A schools took the form of a defensive struggle in the first 12 minutes of action with neither team able to score.

The Cherokees scored the opening loss of the game moved the ball inside the Cherokee 20 yard line twice before Greenback's defense could halt the marches on downs. Tim Hammonree, Mike Evans, and Keith Rollins were instrumental the entire game for Greenback in stopping the Highlander ball carriers. Also tough on defense was Jimmy Brooks, Bobby McNeilly, Bill Joe Kyker, and Harold Hawkins. Greenback finally cracked the Gatlinburg-Pittman defense in the second quarter on a 45 yard scoring drive knock out punch of the game on a third period pass interception by Keith Rollins, which the senior defensive tackle returned 40 yards for a touchdown. The extra point was again denied. Greenback scored again on their next possession. The Cherokee defense forced the Highlanders to punt to the Greenback 33 yard line. Senior running back Kyle Shepherd was the work horse of the scoring 67 yard scoring drive. The 195 pounder had back to back carries of 21 and 23 yards in getting the ball to Evans all had pass interceptions for the Cherokees.

First Half Break Down Gives Chargers Boost Over Lenoir City 28-6

The Lenoir City Panthers were untraced early Friday night as their football players' has had over an hour and a half delay in journeying to McMinn Central to a flat tire. While Lenoir City was waiting for repairs the Chargers were preparing for the kickoff with thoughts on the 17-0 shutout the Panthers handed them in 1972. The game started on schedule but the Panthers never got in gear until the second half. By that time McMinn Central running back Donnie Anderson had returned the first part of the game for 70 yards and a touchdown followed by two more scoring jaunts of 19 and seven yards that had the Panthers down at the half 21-0.

The Chargers rolled to 108 yards of total offense in the first half, 105 rushing, Lenoir City could manage but 76 yards rushing and 28 passing on a free reception by end Carl Thompson for the first half.

Lenoir City countered with a fumble recovery by Jeff Walker on the Central 42 yard line for an eight play drive that ended in Mike McCookey lifting halfback Mike Walker with a seven yard scoring strike. The try for the conditional kick was fumbled and the game ended with a final 28-6 note. Lenoir City was the second half battle, out maneuvering the Chargers live first downs to three. The Panthers had 62 yards of total offense in the second half and limited the McMinn Central ball carriers to 51 yards. Senior Mike Walker led the Panthers offensively with 62 yards on 16 carries in the game. First year variety running back Junior Johnson

C.A. Robertson Is Top Money Winner

Judges in the Herald Football Contest knew it was the first week of the season because of the number of incorrect entries in the contest. It was not unusual for a contestant to miss six or seven games.

The winner of the $12 first prize was C.A. Robertson, 412 Perry Street Loudon, the only contestant to miss only one game. The point tie-breaker decided the second and third place winners among the six contestants who missed two games in the 10 game slate.

Arthur Hamill, Rt. 2, Loudon had 21 points on the Loudon-Alcoa game where a total of 18 points was scored in the overtime game. He wins $8. Third place money of $3, with two incorrect games and a tie-breaker score of 26 is Deanna Sue Blankenship, Green Acres, Loudon. Winners may pick up their cash prizes at the Herald office.

Others who missed two games, but missed on the prizes were Dan Buckner, Franklin D. Grimes, Phil Watkins, Ted Grimes and Donnie Russell.

The wins that seemed to fool most of the contestants was the Everett win over McMinn County, McMinn Central over Lenoir City, and Rockwood over Young.

A new slate of 10 games is ready for contestants this week and is located in the contest ad in the sports section.

Loudon Grasshoppers Victimize Lake City, 14-8

Saturday Lake City fell victim to the Loudon Grasshoppers at Lake City by a score of 14 to 8.

Loudon started off with the loss and mounted a 60 yard scoring drive that resulted in some outstanding yardage from running backs Jimmy Brewster, Derrick Richens, and Archie Costner. The extra point attempt failed and Loudon had the lead 6 to 0.

The first quarter ended with L.C. diving for a TD and was completed early in the second quarter Sexton carrying it over and Smith adding the 2 point conversion making it 6 to 8 Lake City. The next series of downs Loudon was stopped and punted away. Lake City was then stopped by the strong defensive plays of Clayton Slamy, Boyd Cathey, Roger Grimes, Coley Woody, Reggie Brown, Kevin Cannon, Greg Brown, Randy Arp, Mark Roberts, Tim Lennex, Randy Campbell, Mike Viars, John Hutten, Archie Costner, Jimmy Brewster and Derrick Richens.

In the second half the only score came when Loudon's Jimmy Brewster ran 37 yards and QB Randy Campbell's pass to Tim Lennex set it up as Campbell plunged over for the score and Brewster added the 2 points making it 14 to 8.

Head Coach Frank Henson and his staff including C.E. (Dude) Everett and Bill Lennex, were real impressed with the way the Grasshoppers contained the Lake City offense and with the fine performance of their running backs and linemen. Their next game is this coming Saturday at South Clinton. This should be a good ballgame and these players are something else to see.

Atomic Raceway Schedules "Rich" 200-Cap Race

You can bet on the chargers being up front for the Glenn's Auto Parts 200 at Atomic Speedway on Sept. 29. With $1,000 in lap money up for grabs, they cannot afford to lay back.

The richest payoff in the speedway's history will be made with the champion having a chance of taking home $3,000. The winner is guaranteed $1,500 for the race, which is sponsored by Glenn's Auto Parts of Rockwood.

Total purse for the 200-lap run is $8,000, including $1,000 in lap money. The runnerup is assured of $1,000, and says $700 and fourth $500.

Field for the race will be limited to the fastest 24 cars. The first 18 will start in the order of qualifying speeds. The remainder will come from a 15-lap qualifying race. Time trials are scheduled to start at 7:15 and the 200 at 8:30. Advance tickets are $4.50 and $5.

Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., Hoosier Racing Tires, Franklin Quick Change rear end, West Haven Auto Parts and the sponsor have posted $1,000 in contingency awards.

Early entries for the richest race in the speedway history and probably the richest for a dirt track event in East Tennessee include Georgia standout Jody Ridley and the Atomic regulars. Top drivers from throughout the South are anticipated.

Meanwhile, regular weekly late model sportsman action continues Saturday night at the speedway. Admission is $2.50 and $5.

Knoxville's Tootle Estes wrapped up the track points title with a fifth-place finish in last Saturday's 40-lap feature.

Game & Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game and Fish Commission

Free access to Game and Fish lakes and management areas will be offered to sportsmen September 22-23, according to Larry Richardson, Information Education Chief.

"As a part of the National Hunting & Fishing Day celebration, Richardson said, "the Commission is lifting the normal fee for Game and Fish Lakes and Wildlife Management Areas. This will allow hunters and fishermen to use these areas for the entire weekend without charge."

National Hunting and Fishing Day will be celebrated across the nation by hunters and fishermen. Various programs are planned to show local communities how sportsmen have been essential in wildlife conservation.

hunting/fishing license may participate in this opportunity," Richardson noted. All species which are in season may be taken during the weekend of September 22-23.

Sportsmen need to remember a few basic rules on shot sizes and load limits while hunting in Tennessee. Regulations allow shotgun hunters to have only three shells in their guns. This includes the shell in the barrel of semi-automatic and pump shotguns. A "plug" must be in the magazine which prevents overloading.

Dove hunters usually shoot small shot sizes. Popular sizes range from No. 7 1/2 to No. 9. The same is true for quail. Squirrel and rabbit hunters like the heavier shot like No. 5 and No. 4. Ducks and geese are hunted with No. 2, 3, and 4. Shot sizes larger than No. 2 are illegal.

A word on economy - if the target is missed with the first two shots, save the third for the next one that comes along. The third shot is usually in desperation and is a wasted expense for the hunter. Also animals are often crippled with the third shot and may be wasted if they cannot be brought down quickly.

hour to sunrise-sunset tables which are prepared for Standard Time. Hunting regulations will adhere to Standard Time after the usual conversion in October.

LIFE PRESERVERS REQUIRED

Personal flotation device requirements will change on October 1, this year, according to the Game and Fish Commission. New life preservers may be needed by some boaters when the new regulation takes effect.

Game and Fish officers will be notifying as many boaters as possible of the new requirements before the deadline. After October 1, citations will be issued to those who do not comply. New regulations require all boats 16 feet and over to have on board at least one Type I, II, or III wearable personal flotation device per person. Also one Type IV throwable device must be in the craft.

All vessels under 16 feet in length and all canoes and kayaks must have at least one Type I, II, III, or IV device per person on board.

CRAPPIE FISHERMEN—J.E. Miller, Claude Shubert and Cy Jaymes all of Loudon caught well over 100 crappie on Watts Bar Lake this past weekend.

These new standards have been adopted due to U.S. Coast Guard restrictions which will go into effect nationwide on October 1, 1973.

CONSERVATION GIFT

It may be a little early to think about Christmas, but a conservation gift for all seasons is the "Tennessee Conservationist" magazine.

Subscriptions for the joint Game and Fish Conservation Department publication are now being offered for $2.00 annually. Twelve issues full of conservation topics can now be ordered by writing: "Tennessee Conservationist," 2611 West End Avenue, Nashville, Tennessee 37203. Q. Can I use a paint remover on my Fiberglas boat?
A. Occasional use of a paint remover on a Fiberglas boat will be rare. In our experience the need for removers which are freshly applied every season and may develop up to a thick, uneven film.

Paint removers have been made stronger and more effective in recent years. Some of them could affect the surface coat of resin on a Fiberglas-reinforced plastic hull. For this reason many people prefer to mechanically sand away a bottom paint.

We feel, however, that chemical removers can be used if precautions are taken. A test should be first made on a small area of the bottom to see how it works. The solution should be left on only long enough to do the job of dissolving the paint and then be wiped away and the surface neutralized.

Q. How can I counteract condensation in my boat?
A. The type of construction used in your boat has a bearing on condensation. Many decks and cabin tops, for example, are of sand-wich construction—perhaps a balsa core with Fiberglas-reinforced plastic skins or some light, synthetic core material. This provides ideal insulating properties.

No Electric Rate Hike Yet TVA Says

TVA electric rates will remain unchanged through December, but cost trends indicate that a rate increase may be necessary before the current fiscal year ends next June, the agency announced last week.

TVA has completed its quarterly review of power costs and revenues, including detailed discussions with representatives of the 100 local electric systems that distribute TVA power. Following this review, the TVA Board of Directors determined today that rates can remain unchanged for the time being.

TVA is required by law to charge power rates sufficient to cover its costs plus a necessary margin each year. Estimates for the current fiscal year, which began July 1, indicate that if present trends continue revenues would fall short of costs by about $10-15 million, not including the margin. However, these estimates can change upward or downward with normal variations during the year in power sales, fuel prices, interest rates, hydroelectric power available from dams, and other factors affecting cost trends for the TVA system.

TVA will hold a series of information meetings on power system costs and rates next week at six locations across the Tennessee Valley region. Any comments received will be considered at the next rate review in December.

In the past fiscal year TVA power revenues covered costs and left a margin of $49 million for investment in the power system. This reinvestment is needed to help finance construction of new power facilities, and saves on interest costs by offsetting part of the large amounts of capital TVA must borrow for this construction program.

With annual capital requirements running about $50 million in recent years, only a small part has been supplied by the amounts available for reinvestment. Under present estimates, revenues for the 1974 fiscal year (which began July 1) would total $885 million but the costs TVA is required to cover would total $894 million. Instead of leaving a margin available to reduce additional borrowings, this would leave a deficit in meeting the required costs.

The estimated revenue are up $136 million over last year, mainly because of a projected increase in power sales, but costs are expected to increase by $196 million. Most of this difference comes in the costs of fuel and interest expense.

Fuel and related expenses are expected to increase by $125 million, to $302 million. The average cost of coal burned in TVA plants has nearly doubled in the past four years and is continuing to increase. It streamflows this year are about normal, but year's windfall of extra waterpower from dams (due to unusual streamflows) will have to be made up from coal this year at an estimated $20 million increase in cost.

The new nuclear power plants scheduled for operation on the TVA system in coming years offer the best possibility for offsetting the upward trend in fuel expense because of their lower fuel cost per kilowatt-hour generated, TVA said. But only one nuclear generating unit is scheduled to begin operation this fiscal year, and it will be some time before nuclear plants make up enough of TVA's power supply to have a major effect on fuel costs.

Debt service costs are estimated at $13 million this fiscal year, an increase of $4 million. Since most of the capital needed in building power facilities must come from the sale of bonds and notes, interest expense on these borrowings increases each year. High interest rates are adding to this expense. Payments to the U.S. Treasury will total about $84 million, up $10 million because of an increase in the Treasury interest rates that determine the amount of the dividends paid by TVA.

Payments in lieu of taxes by TVA to state and local governments are based on power revenues, and are expected to rise about $4 million to $21 million. Other operation and maintenance costs, such as labor, are expected to rise by $11 million to $307 million. This is less than the proportionate increase in power revenues, so it is not a factor in the possible need for additional revenue to meet the requirements of the law, TVA said.

Although TVA's power generation has increased some 50 percent in the past ten years, the power transmission system is actually operated with fewer employees today than in 1962. And the number of employees at generating plants, in proportion to system generating capacity, is lower today than in 1962. Environmental protection measures to meet new pollution control regulations are a necessary part of the cost increases, TVA said.

The writer would like to thank the individuals who participated in the survey and especially those who gave of their time to aid in putting the results of the survey together in the Prospectus.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:
After reading your Clip-board in the Herald for Aug. 30, I found a problem Loudon County has faced for years.
The attitude of the citizens of Loudon toward their hospital could change for the worse. But the people are not foolish enough to make the decision and form opinions on their own.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

It seems that our Good Old Days pictures come in groups related to a certain subject or theme. This holds true with our many school group pictures. We usually have several from one specific school at a time. In running true to form, we have another picture of Steekee School which we are sure will be of interest to many of our readers.

We are plagued with the same problem we face quite often with group pictures. Through passing years, names fade from memory as our minds take on the task of coping with life's problems. Some of our readers can recall some of the names. Others will recall others and in many cases we wind up with a fairly good identity of the people in the groups. In the picture we are using this week, we have been able to identify a portion of the group. We would greatly appreciate a call from some of our readers on this one. A few weeks ago, we ran another group picture from Steekee. Many of those who were in that picture are also in this one. But there is a span of several years between them and this is why we made the decision to use it. Of course, there are some in this picture that are not in the other one.

The ones we can identify in this picture are Carl Stamey, Betty Lindsay, Harold Markwood, Wilma Gody, Iva Lee Bright, Ruby Gody, Freda Arden, a Guider girl and a Hill boy. We wish that we could recall some of the others, but we can't. We need your help on these. We are grateful for this picture and express our thanks to Bill Thornburg for the loan of this and some other pictures. Bill has some other pictures which he is looking up for the Good Old Days and we greatly appreciate this week. Our other picture this week is one we greatly appreciate. We are sure many of our readers will enjoy it. We are grateful to Jim Roberts for the loan of this and some other pictures for the Good Old Days.

I guess our greatest emphasis in the Good Old Days has been toward the childhood days, ours and others. This picture points out an aspect of childhood days of a few years ago.

Davis School in 1946. The boys all were students at the school and are identified as follows: Henry Vance, Jim Morgan, deceased, Ed Estes, Herby Akias, Glen Eiler, Jim Roberts, James Chaney, J. H. Smallen, Merle Davis and Gene Curti.

When Jim loaned us this picture, he also loaned us one of a graduating class at the Davis School. We have never had a school group picture from Davis School and we will be using this class picture next week.

A good friend of ours from down Philadelphia way is in the process of putting together a book. We have been asked to have a part in it. Our thanks to Rev. Dillard Hagan.

IN PARTING
School had been in session six weeks and already the young boy was two months behind. The teacher visited the father and suggested that he buy the boy an encyclopedia. "Encyclopedia nothing," the dad said as he blew his top, "let him walk to school like I did."

The more things a man is ashamed of the more respectable he is.

An interior decorator is someone who can choose an impossible color combination and get away with it.

Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

Karen Rausin Named To Student Who's Who

Karen Ann Rausin, a senior at Loudon High School, was recently notified that she is to be featured in the Seventh Annual Edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students, 1972-73, the largest student award publication in the nation.

Students from over 18,000 public, private, and parochial high schools throughout the country are recognized for their leadership in academics, athletics, activities or community service in the book. Less than two percent of the Junior and senior class students nationwide are awarded this recognition.

Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Rausin of Rt. 1 Philadelphia. She is active in the LHS Christian Prayer Group, National Honor Society, Future Homemakers of America, Junior Classical League, Science Club, Math Club, a teachers aid, and a member of the Team For Christ at Fork Creek Presbyterian Church.

Listed as awards are Chapter Degree in Home Economics, Junior Degree in Home Economics, and Participation in Math Contest. Her selection to the Who's Who honor makes Ann eligible for one of 10 $1,000 scholarships awarded by the publishers to be awarded later this school year.

Miss Rausin plans to attend the University of Tennessee and major in mathematics.

Federal Suit Over Tellico Underway

The long awaited Federal Court lawsuit over the Tellico Dam Project in Loudon County got underway before Judge Robert Taylor in Knoxville. The suit filed over two years ago has halted construction on the controversial project.

Environmentalists representing the plaintiffs, The Environmental Defense Fund and others took the stand during the first two days of the suit, which is expected to continue for several days. Whatever the outcome of the suit, it is certain to appeal again to the Cincinnati court and on to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Taken At Eaton

A safe belonging to the ARA Service (industrial caterers) was stolen from a store room at the Eaton Corporation's Lenoir City plant cafeteria over the weekend records at the Loudon County Jail show.

Dr. Roberts, like two earlier witnesses, attacked TVA's environmentalists to block completion of the $69 million project on the Little Tennessee River. He was the third witness offered on behalf of plaintiffs, the Trout Ltd., the Association for the Preservation of the Environment, and Thomas Burt Moser, a Vonnore resident.

Bank Branch Approved

Merchants and Farmers Bank of Greenback Executive Vice President and Cashier Edward Green this week announced that the bank has received approval from regulatory authorities to establish a branch bank in Lenoir City.

When Dr. Roberts sought to explain one of his theories on the cost of the project—that of the inundation of the Cherokee Village of Tusculum—he said the average man would not understand the answer.

Fly-In Slated For Thursday

Heavy rain Thursday grounded the planned fly-in of the Loudon County Flying and Pilots Association that was set for Ferguson's Flying Circus at Philadelphia.

The economist said he had reached the conclusion that TVA would "sink" only the $5 million figure, because the land acquired, and the roads and bridges already built would not be a loss.

Play Ca$word

Two winners split the $250 prize from puzzle 7B. They are Mrs. Lora B. Miles, 948 Mulberry Street in Loudon and Mrs. Martha Hiefler, 509 A Street, Lenoir City.

Dr. Roberts sought to explain one of his theories on the cost of the project—that of the inundation of the Cherokee Village of Tusculum—he said the average man would not understand the answer.

NINE PERSONS HURT—Nine persons were injured, four seriously, when three cars collided on U.S. 11 (Browder Hill) last Wednesday afternoon. Four persons were riding in the car in the top photo, believed to be passing against the yellow line on the three lane section of the highway. Four were also in the pickup truck in the center photo and one person in the car shown in the bottom photo.

Nine Hurt On Browder Hill

Nine persons including one Loudon woman were injured in a three vehicle accident on the three lane stretch of U.S. 11 known as Browder Hill near Lenoir City about 5:30 p.m. last Wednesday.

Dr. Joseph Carroll, head of the transportation division at Pennsylvania State University and a former TVA employee, said TVA's cost-benefit ratio in the report, but he admitted later he had consistently disagreed with the ratios on other projects.

Two Women Win $125 In Cashword

Two women, both widows, have won $125 each in the Cashword Bucks crossword puzzle promotion sponsored by 21 area firms and the Loudon County Herald.

Another $300 in prize money to be awarded. Anyone can enter and all the answers to the puzzles are contained in the advertisements of the 21 sponsors. The trick is to pick out the right combination since there are a choice of answers which could be correct. After the puzzles are completed they must be deposited in a Cashword container at any of the sponsoring firms.

Shaver Denied New Trial, Sentenced To 20 Years, 1 Day

Special Criminal Court Judge J. H. Smith Monday overruled a motion for a new trial for Alvin Dean Shaver, who was found guilty last July in the slaying death of his grandmother.

Judge Smith ruled separately on nine points that Shaver's attorney Ivo Sanders argued in the two hour hearing held in Loudon Monday afternoon. After denial of the new trial Judge Smith sentenced Shaver, who was present for the hearing, to 20 years and one day in prison. He gave Attorney Sanders 90 days to file an appeal to the Criminal Court of Appeals if the defendant decides to appeal. He also gave Shaver until October 1st to make a $20,000 appeal bond. If the bond is not made he will be sent to the state prison to begin serving the sentence pending any appeals.

Loudon Man, David Gilley, Murdered In South Carolina

David Gilley, 30, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gilley of Loudon, was shot and killed in Columbia, S.C., where he was making his home, Thursday, Sept. 13.

A 30 year old West Columbia man Steven Earl Strober, 27, was charged with murder in the incident, according to Lexington County Coroner B. B. Shumper, quoted by the Columbian newspaper, said that Mrs. Gilley (Sheila) had gone to her mother's, Mrs. Patricia Richardson in South Carolina, before she and Gilley had a quarrel. She said Gilley followed and was met by Strober at the Richardson home. The two argued and Gilley was shot once in the chest, the paper said.

At County Court ... Going Ahead With Site Grading For Justice Center

Loudon County Court Tuesday night in a meeting delayed from Sept. 10, voted to go ahead with grading for the proposed County Justice Center to be located near the Rescue Squad Building.

The $500,000 project will provide a jail, general Sessions Court, and radio dispatch facilities for the Lenoir City and Loudon departments as well as the Sheriff's deputies.

THE QUESTION of abortions at Loudon County Memorial Hospital was apparently laid to rest for now by Board Chairman J.D. (Babe) Conner. In his report to the Court from the hospital Board of Directors, he emphasized that the Board has taken no action on a request from a 4-2 majority of the hospital staff to permit performance of non-therapeutic abortions and that there is little likelihood the Board will change that position at least until other areas hospitals do so.

returning four persons to Riceville from the TVA rail at the time. Two young boys riding in the rear of the truck were seriously injured. They are Charles Cordell, 11, who sustained serious head injuries and his 12 year-old brother Mike Cordell. Both were thrown out of the truck onto the highway. Driver of the truck, Gayle Housley, 21, Riceville, is still confined to University Hospital with multiple injuries. The fourth person in the truck, Mary Lobbie Miller, 19, of Athens, has been released from Loudon County Memorial Hospital.

identified as the driver of the car believed to have caused the accident was Elmer Worthy, 54, of Englewood. He was taken to Loudon County Memorial Hospital, but has since been released. Trooper Litterton charged Worthy with Driving While Intoxicated and Driving without a drivers license.

established to handle personnel matters for the Sheriff's Department, to act as a personnel committee for other County employees. The Board, made up on Squires Curtis Williams, J.J. Blair and R.P. Hamilton, will consider such questions as classification of positions, holidays, vacations, hours, compensatory time and wages.

trooper Litterton said the car hit the truck almost head on after crossing the double yellow line. The Housley vehicle hit the rear of the truck and went over the embankment.

AN EXPECTED renewal of last month's hassle over administration of the county's Manpower and other OEA programs failed to materialize. Squire Henry Foster of Lenoir City, who had asked that the issue be put on the agenda, said the Court, "I don't have anything to bring up. I just asked to have it on the agenda in case any member of the Court wanted to bring up anything. But it's nice to have a crowd here and I'd like to have it on the agenda again next time."

Judge Sprout told the Court that the new personnel policies, classifications and plan have been implemented with a considerable degree of satisfaction. In further discussion, he revealed that some disagreement has come up over some of the job classifications. The committee from the State of Tennessee office of personnel, which established the classifications originally, has been called back to review some of the positions and a new report is being prepared.

Jack Smith, Executive Director of the Mid-East Community Action Agency (MECCA) which covers Loudon and Roane Counties, and several from his office, were present.

Earlier, Lee Price, speaking for the newly organized Association of Retirees, Persons in Loudon County, supported MECCA for the work it already has done in preparation of a grant application for federal funds for programs for the aged here.

A new retirement program for all County employees has been installed, he reported, with credit for all previous time being paid for by the County.

Deputy Luke Bright said someone apparently went right into the barn lot and took the young calf.

On motion of Squire Blair, the Court ratified a proposed contract with the State Welfare Dept. for $4500 annual rent for the agency's quarters in the County Office Building and $1800 for the Food Stamp office in the old Loudon High School building. The State still has to approve the agreement. Action was deferred to a least until next meeting on a question of the County

WHAT'S A HOUSEWIFE WORTH NOW?

Today, even the word "Housewife" is in dispute. The term has recently come in for much lively discussion among its practitioners, their husbands, and other interested parties. While suggested alternate terms have ranged from "household engineer" to "domestic economist," many a housewife will tell you it's not so much the terminology as its interpretation that's at stake.

An ongoing study under a grant from the U.S. Department of Agriculture now gives a measure of what it would cost to replace the work at home with hired services. Some of the figures in that study reveal that an average family with two children, one a 3-year old, the other an infant, the mother puts in 79 hours a week. The dollar value of her labor amounts to $146 on a weekly basis.

A woman with three older children between the ages of six to 11 would be performing services worth $108 a week. If there are four children between six and 11 years of age, the value of the wife's labor would amount to $117 a week.

Yet another word in this study which may have to undergo some scrutiny is "leisure." Some wives will tell you that their definition of spare time covers exclusively the period after the dinner dishes are put away and they get to put up their feet in late evening. Some in fact, claim they have clocked this "leisure" cycle and they have come up with anywhere from 30 to as much as 45 minutes a day.

As a housewife, what is your worth in time or money?

LC Planners Look At Recreation

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of articles on Loudon City's Community Facilities Plan compiled by the Loudon City Regional Planning Commission with the assistance of the Tennessee State Planning Office.

Loudon City's residents are finding they have more leisure time.

That's really not so unusual when compared to the rest of the nation's residents, nor when you consider the shorter working hours that most employees have.

But what effect will all this extra leisure time have on the habits of Loudon City residents?

Some persons will spend it on vacations, on different hobbies, traveling or perhaps reading and enjoying the pleasant surroundings of a city park.

Others will involve themselves more in community activities and perhaps spend more time at community centers in the city.

This is where the Loudon City Regional Planning Commission comes in. They are responsible for "planning" for the city so that the community will have facilities available to them to use in their leisure time.

The commission consists of seven individuals who are each appointed for four-year terms by the mayor, who also serves on the commission, and a representative from the city council who is elected by the council to serve in an ex-officio capacity. The commissioners meet monthly to plan for the needs of the Loudon City community.

One aspect of their planning entails preparing plans to improve community facilities. Community facilities include hospitals, libraries, schools, parks, community centers, swimming, water and sewer facilities, garbage collection and fire and police facilities.

To meet these needs, which are expected to increase for Loudon City residents as their leisure time increases, the planning commissioners have prepared a "community facilities plan" for the city to cover the period from the present time up through 1980.

Dave Booher, a planner for the Tennessee State Planning Office, is assisting the commission with their work. Helping with the original plans was Dennis Martin, who is now regional director of TSPCO.

In order to adequately plan for the present and future educational needs of Loudon County youths, the planning commissioners had to first study the population trends for the city and then look at and analyze projected trends. This is to ensure that there will be enough schools to accommodate all the Loudon City school children in, say, ten years. The commission also had to determine how many hospitals and parks would be needed in the coming years. The report predicts that Loudon City will experience a slow but steady growth in the future.

A figure of 4,470 persons was recorded here in 1930. That figure rose to 5,334 in 1970. However, several municipal annexations over the 40-year period have lessened the impact of this increase somewhat, since larger areas with more people were later included.

Generally, the county's population growth has also been "slow but steady," going from 17,865 in 1930 to 24,266 in 1970.

The Loudon City planners attribute this kind of slow growth, according to the community facilities plan, "to the substantial rate of out-migration of Loudon County residents to larger urban areas."

Why did people move?

Well, for several reasons. For instance, there are frequently better paying jobs and more opportunities in larger cities. Persons can find a wider choice there of neighborhoods to live in and a greater variety of ways to spend their leisure time.

As now, there was a shifting away from farming, which formerly included the majority of the working force. When they could no longer practice their "trade," many farmers migrated to the cities in search of new jobs.

However, the picture is beginning to change somewhat.

Nowadays, thanks to efforts by community leaders, there are more industrial and manufacturing plants locating in the county and city. While in 1950 only 36 percent of the working force in the county was employed in manufacturing, the current figure has jumped to 47 percent in 1970.

With a greater number of jobs thus made available, a larger economy has been created which generates more money and more investment opportunities.

Realtors began to see the need for more and better housing facilities, with the result that more construction took place. New residents were attracted to the area by the increased number of homes and jobs to select from.

Also, at the present time people are increasingly attracted to smaller towns and cities. Many seek a slower pace than the hustle and bustle of city life, and others just want to "return to nature." This is economically feasible since people can buy large lots in the smaller cities which lie close to the mountains.

By 1980, it is predicted that Loudon City will have 6,270 residents, and by 1990 that figure should jump to 7,200.

Obviously, the needs of all these new residents, in addition to the former ones, are going to have to be met and planned for. The Loudon City Planning Commission has tried to do this in the manner it thinks will be the most profitable, both socially and economically, for Loudon City.

One of the most direct ways of improving the city is through the community's schools. The planners have taken this fact into consideration and have analyzed these facilities carefully. City schools and plans for them will be described in next week's article on community facilities in Loudon City.

An example of one way to achieve this end is a class for the Deaf and Severely Hard of Hearing who is being offered this year at Alcoa Junior High School. The program is for elementary age children and is being offered in cooperation with Alcoa City Schools, although Alcoa City Schools do not have a single child enrolled in the class. The current enrollment includes children from the City of Maryville, Blount County, and Monroe County. For certain severe handicaps, this is one way the participating seven school districts anticipate they can meet the needs of the handicapped.

If anyone has questions or desires more information about the programs to meet the needs of the handicapped, please contact the offices of LTVEC in Alcoa at 964-5610.

Special Classes Open To Loudon Youngsters

During its 1971 session, the Tennessee State Legislature passed Public Law 839 which mandates special programs to meet the needs of the handicapped child in Tennessee. To identify these needs, the 1973-74 school year will be used for psychological screening of referred students as well as consultations with parents, teachers, and the appropriate agencies or individuals concerned with the problems. The next two years are to be spent in designing and implementing programs and services to meet the identified needs.

The Little Tennessee Valley Educational Cooperative serves the seven school districts in Blount, Loudon, and Monroe Counties. Due to the prohibitive cost of such programs, the State Legislature authorized the creation of Special Education Service Associations. Through pooling of resources, the smaller school districts can band together to meet the demands of Public Law 839 and to meet the needs of the handicapped children in their districts.

These seven school districts authorized the creation of such an Association through the Little Tennessee Valley Educational Cooperative. A School Psychologist has been employed to direct the program, and with a staff of eight, screening of children referred by the respective school systems began during the month of August 1973. As a provision of PL-839, LTVEC will assist the seven school districts in designing programs and services to meet the needs of their constituent children.

exempting itself from a new State law which would make it subject to liability claims up to $50,000. "We need more time to study it," Squire Conner said in making his motion for delay.

The County Judge reported that the Judge Advocate General's unit of the U.S. Army Reserve in Knoxville has agreed to help assist in inventorying and arranging old County records located in the basement of the Court House. Reserve personnel will be here one week-end a month for the next several months, he said.

IN CONNECTION with the proposed Luttrell Community Recreational Park, the Court voted to donate the old Luttrell School building to the Community Club there with permission for them to tear it down to use any of the building materials they can in development of the park.

Under Squire J. Blair's motion, seconded by Boyd Duckworth, the gymnasium is to remain, in use as a voting precinct.

Planning Commission Staff representative Dave Bohler reported funding on both the Luttrell and the Eaton community parks has been approved and final plans are proceeding.

In his report, he also told the Court that new Building Inspector Harry Neal has established his office in the old High School building and is spending much of his time out in the field. "Prior to coming to work Sept. 1, he spent two weeks going around with the City of Knoxville Building Inspector becoming acquainted with procedures."

A PUBLIC HEARING was called for Nov. 5 to consider rezoning the property on Highway 11 across from Dalton Trucking Co. from residential to commercial. Earl Crisp, who bought the property and cleared it recently, was represented by Atty. Charles Eblen, who pointed out to the Court that the property has always been commercial.

Enforcement of the Southern Standard Building Code, adopted recently by the Court, was suspended until Jan. 1, 1974, to allow time for the Planning Commission and a committee of builders and suppliers to prepare a substitute code. Squire Conner made the motion, which was adopted in spite of Squire Blair's complaint that the Code ought to be done away with completely.

Highway Commissioner Joe Greenway was given permission to transfer $20,000 from his surplus account to a machinery account to buy a grader. "The grader I have is around 21 or 22 years old," he explained.

However, the Road Commissioners were rebuffed when they attempted to bring up again the question of having to fuel their trucks and other vehicles at the Central County Garage. The item was not on the agenda, although Commissioner Lee Malone insisted he had requested it be included. Judge Sprout told Malone he did not get the request.

Mr. Greenway also requested that the Court release "frozen" money to the Road Dept. He explained he was talking about $12,000 each for Commissioners Malone and Lillard Bledsoe and $6,000 for himself which had been recommended not be spent except in emergency. Judge Sprout explained that the State auditors have recommended holding that much in surplus.

LOUDON TIRE DEALER Paul Hawkins complained strongly during the Purchasing Committee's report by Squire Hamilton that his firm should have been given the tire contract which went to Goodyear. Service Store because of a higher quality. "Our specifications called for a 'first line' tire," said Purchasing Agent Buddy Jenkins. "and they'll have to live up to that." Squire Hamilton said the Goodyear bid was lower on the tire sizes which the County buys the most of.

The Court voted to decline a request that the County participate in the salary of a nursing supervisor for the Health Dept. The supervisor would have worked in Loudon and Roane Counties.

On motion of Squire Blair, seconded by Mr. Foster, the Court voted to relieve the City of Loudon of $9,908.31 final payment for the land on which the new municipal pool is built in consideration of the city's spending about $12,000 to fill and a deep ditch there.

"It's the area between the school house and the swimming hole," Squire Blair explained, to the laughter of his colleagues.

Notaries elected were Jerry W. Park, Mrs. Charles B. Burns, M.G. Goodwin, H.L. Easter, Dave Douglas Williams, Ralph P. Tallent, Bryan King and Judy B. Odell.

Woman's Club Has Picnic

The Loudon Woman's Club began its current club week Thursday, September 13, with a picnic at the Kirkland Farm. Mrs. Jim Cardwell, Program Chairman, presented the program "Our Community at Work—The Welfare Department" after which the club had appeared before the tribal council of the Eastern band of Cherokee and had urged their opposition to the Tellico project. He admitted he had promised to recommend jobs for the Indians in the Tellico area if the project should be cancelled and become a state park.

The proceedings touched off a debate, with Judge Taylor firing questions at Mr. Brown concerning the project.

"What can they (TVA) do to salvage nearly $25 million? What else can they do in place of the dam?" Judge Taylor asked.

Mr. Brown countered that the area had been recommended for a national historical and archeological park.

Judge Taylor said he would like to see the alternatives of the Tellico project drawn out in some detail.

Judge Taylor asked Mr. Brown, "Would any impact statement satisfy the act?" referring to the National Environmental Protection Act.

Mr. Brown countered that the plaintiffs feel the statement does not reflect a full or honest disclosure of the impact to the project.

"The impact statement reads very well if you don't know any better," he added.

A letter from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to TVA was a point of contention Tuesday in the case. EPA attorney Jon Brown introduced the letter. It states that TVA's final environmental impact statement addressed, in the opinion of the agency, the construction of Tellico Dam and not the further detailed assessment of possible environmental problems which might arise from locating certain major industries in the area, the largest concentration of people and associated activities contemplated.

Dr. Edward Clebsch, a professor of botany at UT, argued that the environmental impact on industrialization in the area could cause a serious pollution problem, depending on the number and type of industries involved.

In order for people to know what is in the future and the long term impact on the area, he said TVA's impact statement should detail the type of industry planned for the area.

Judge Robert L. Taylor asked Dr. Clebsch, "How can you expect TVA to know this? How can they possibly know what industries will be there?" Dr. Clebsch maintained, however, that "if TVA can predict the economic future of the area, to which they have assigned $700,000 yearly benefits, they should be able to predict the type of industries."

Brogan said TVA had taken into consideration the possibility of a rapid urban sprawl and the pressure it would place on educational standards in the area. For these reasons, he said, TVA is planning the town of Timberlake which will follow construction of Tellico Dam.

Dr. Clebsch took issue with TVA's statement that public hearings called for in the National Environmental Policy Act, were not required since the project was so near completion.

"Whether or not TVA has acted in bad faith, I don't know," he said. "I cannot look into their minds, but I personally could not in good conscience release this statement. TVA has prepared."

Rather than a cross-examination of Dr. Clebsch, TVA's statement that public hearings called for in the National Environmental Policy Act, were not required since the project was so near completion.

Among the indictments returned was one against Fred Allen Berry for receiving and concealing stolen property. Berry, who was sentenced to two to 10 years in prison for voluntary manslaughter in the death of his ex-wife, Carolyn Berry, in a special Criminal Court trial last month, Berry was charged with selling a stolen television set to a Lenoir City woman about a week before her arrest on a murder charge.

The armed robbery charge against Mrs. Charles Settles, who recently turned herself over to authorities stating she was responsible for the hold-up of Lee Heights Grocery early in August, was continued on the bound over docket because she is undergoing hospital treatment.

Grand Jury Returns Thirty Indictments

taxable property values in Loudon County changed in the last five years? What effect has it had on the local tax situation?

According to a government survey, just released, the assessed value of realty and other holdings subject to local property taxes has increased appreciably in the period. It has climbed 388 percent.

This compares with a 43 percent rise in the United States and with 91 percent in the State of Tennessee.

In Loudon County, the figures show, the assessed value of locally taxable property came to $35,133,000, as against the total in 1967, $7,193,000.

In general, throughout the country, the assessed value is the base against which tax rates are applied. But it is not necessarily the true market value of the property. More often than not, property is assessed for tax purposes at well below the actual value.

Related to population, the tax base in Loudon County was equivalent to $1,434 for every man, woman and child in the local area. The report states that "for local governments, property taxes remain their preeminent revenue source. Collections exceed anything in the past, even though property taxes now constitute a smaller percentage of total revenue than they did 10 years ago."

Currently, it shows, local governments are getting $36.7 from property taxes, equal to 84.6 percent of their total revenue.

When the TSSAA adopted the high school football tie breaking rule for 1973 in Tennessee, Loudon's head football coach Bert Ratledge was not very concerned about the issue. In 17 seasons his teams had been stalemated just 12 times, so the expectation of having to prepare for the tie situation at the end of a regulation game was the least of concern for Ratledge in spring and fall drills.

But now, just two weeks into football season Loudon and Ratledge find themselves the talk of the "tie subject" in coaching and sports related discussions.

Coch Ratledge has long been known for his ability and knowledge to turn out strong winners at the helm of the Redskins. Winning over 100 games in his 17 years as head mentor. Captured the state "AA" championship in 1969 and has been honored as head coach and performed assistant duties to the TSSAA summer All Star East-West Game held annually in conjunction with the TSSAA Coaches Clinic.

Michigan and Kansas are two of the pioneer states in the use of the "tie breaking rule." Statistical study has proved that the team getting the ball last in the overtime period wins 70 percent of the time. Coach Ratledge and his Redskins, who are 500 on the possible outcome have won a game and lost a heartbreaking thriller to the "tie rule" this fall. Thus making Ratledge the dean of the situation over the state and prompting many coaches and sports writers to call and interview Ratledge on his experiences and to see what benefit the incidents could have for them.

"We have not been working on anything special for the tie rule," says Ratledge. "But you can certainly be assured we figure to do more on the issue in practice now that we are making the rule so popular."

Getting away from the tie rule discussions and to the poor hand dealt by fate to the Loudon football team Friday night at Kingston has got to be a classic to remember. Loudon out performed their host at every junction and yet when the game was over the score read 3-3 and Kingston had come from behind in four plays from the Loudon 48 yard line with less than 50 seconds showing on the clock to knot the score. The big mystery was the art of the Yellow Jackets to get off two plays, one a scrambling pass maneuver and the other a 30 yard field goal in the time span of four seconds. And still a bigger puzzle was the interpretation of whether Loudon's Dennis Queen had crossed the plane of touchdown before coughing up the football for Kingston to grab and escape with a victory in the second overtime. The game is over but anyone interested in watching the play-back of the game film will have to concede that the score board may have worn out before the game's scoring was over.

At any rate, despite the initial score, no one denied the choice of who was superior in the course of the evening head-knocker. With the exception of those who would have people believe Loudon made the game into an early September Christmas gift. Maybe the Redskins will not be so hearty to give away "gifts" should they be eligible for the double-A playoffs in November when Phase IV is off and the Christmas spirit is really catching on.

Bad times was in more places Friday night than just in Kingston. Several hundred of Father Ryan High School football fans drove all the way to Clarksville and didn't get to see their team win its first and very probably most thrilling football game of the season.

Many of the Irish spectators had already filed out of Municipal Stadium with their team behind 12-7 and 11 seconds remaining.

But Ryan won 14-12. It was senior halfback Coveak Moody who took a Clarksville Northwest punt that nobody else seemed to want and ran 89 yards to score, much to the surprise of everyone on the field.

Eleven seconds showed on the clock when Northwest punted from its own 42-yard line. The ball rolled to the Ryan 11 where an official dropped his hat to mark the spot.

Four Northwest players surrounded the football, apparently thinking the officials' hat indicated the play was dead. Moody thought otherwise. He alertly scooped the ball up, swept around the end and down the sidelines while the Northwest defenders stood dumbfounded.

The loss was a particularly disappointed one for Northwest, which had won the game easily in statistics. The Vikings ended up with 302 yards rushing and 99 passing to Ryan's 30 yards rushing and 32 passing. Ryan started the game by scoring on its first possession after Northwest fumbled on the Irish 16 yard line.

Baylor, which whipped Memphis Central 28-0 Friday night, Monday retained its lead in the Roberts Ratings with 100.1 rating.

Rossville, 28-6 winner over Dalton in a Region 5-AAA opener, held on to the Bulldogs' runnerup position. Sweetwater, which walloped Vonore 59-0, advanced from fourth to third. Franklin County was bounced out of the top 10 after losing to Manchester 21-6.

Hixson vaulted from eighth to fourth following the Wildcats' 27-0 victory over LaFayette. Spring City leaped from 10th to fifth after the Bulldogs crushed Taft Youth Center 40-0.

Kingston, 13-10 victory over Loudon fell from fifth to sixth while Chattanooga City dropped from sixth to seventh, even though the Dynamos beat Red Bank 13-7.

Lenoir City Hosts Redskins In 45th Grid Meeting

This is the week that turns black and white for the teams in Loudon County. Loudon and Lenoir City meet face to face on the gridiron. The local series dates back to 1923 with Lenoir City supporting a 24 to 30 advantage over the Redskins in their 44 previous encounters. There has never been a tie. And with the new TSSAA tie rule being observed there will never be one now. The Redskins will have the favorite role this time and should prevail by a narrow margin. Lenoir City has won the past two meetings and will again fashion a tough defense for Loudon to conquer. Both teams are 1-1 on the season with the game being most important for each to remain in the Region Two title race with such unbeatens as Cleveland, McMinn Central and Kingston. Greenback will host Friendsville (0-1) in a footballs Conference clash. The Cherokees will be seeking to improve their passing attack as they find them selves high atop the Conference standings with unbeaten Walland, who stopped Conference pressman favorite Porter 26-20 last Friday night. The Friendsville-Greenback game will start at 7:30 p.m. while Loudon and Lenoir City kick things off at 8 p.m.

Loudon Victimized By Kingston In 13-10 Double Overtime Loss

Loudon flirited with a strong upset bid of highly regarded and state ranked "AA" power Kingston Friday night through four quarters and two nerve shattering overtimes before losing 13-10.

Loudon had dominated the game from the opening gun and held a slim 3-0 lead going into the last 50 seconds of regulation play. The Yellow Jackets managed to pull off a story book ending to tie the score 3-3 on two long pass completions and a 30 yard field goal.

Both teams scored in the first overtime, and in the second Kingston had to settle for a 26-yard fieldgoal by Keyton to take a 13-10 lead. Loudon, on its series from the 10, quickly rushed to the one yard line, but on third down quarterback Dennis Queen lost the exchange with the center and Kingston's Elaine Pickett pulled the ball up to the end zone to seal the important AA victory.

Loudon had broken the defensive battle to take a 3-0 lead with 6:19 left in the game. When Kingston got a late chance with its offense, the clock showed 1:41 left after Bechtel had tossed two incomplete passes. With slightly over one-minute left Kingston punted and it looked doubtful if it would have another opportunity.

Then the believe it or Not program came on the air. Loudon with the game under their thumb had the misfortune to fumble on third down and Kingston recovered. The Yellow Jackets struck for two pass completions one at the Loudon 29 and the other at the 27 yard line before the Redskins defense held strong. Kingston with no timeouts remaining, threw an incomplete pass that killed the clock with one second showing. K.L. Branum almost picked off the pass attempt and had he done so the game would have been all wrapped in red.

In the first overtime Loudon drew the initial series. David Surrett, who carried 19 for Loudon, lost 5 yards when linebacker Steve Hankins snatched him down. Then Surrett was stopped for no gain by Stout, but on the next play pass interference put the ball at the 7 and gave Loudon an automatic first down. Surrett was stopped at the line of scrimmage, and then Queen went to Sam Lyle with a pass for the touchdown, giving the Redskins a 10-3 lead.

Tommy Cook, freshman defensive back on the Northeast Louisiana University football team, is the star of the week. There are seven other Northeastern recruits on the team and his head hunting grid gang from Northeastern.

Tommy is fast making a name for himself despite the fact his team is winless in two games. Both ended in ties. A 7-7 deadlock with Troy State and last week's Southeastern Conference shocker a 21-21 stalemate with Mississippi State. The Bulldogs had to come from behind to catch Northeastern as Cook fought to recover a loose fumble and set up a go-ahead touchdown for the Louisiana school. Cook also suffered a broken nose in the battle, but got the ball. He will have a week to rest up as

Panther Defense Makes Angles Out Of Harriman 12-0

Lenoir City put together a stingy defense and scored when the opportunity presented itself Friday night in turning back Harriman 12-0.

The Panthers with Carl Thompson, Jeff Walker, and Jeff Blakely and Mike Walker sticking the Blue Devils on every turn refused to yield a first down to the visitors before the third quarter and then allowed but four.

TWO POINT CONVERSION FALLS—Lenoir City's Mike McConkey is tripped up shy of the goal line by the Harriman defensive line in an attempt to score a two point conversion on the Panthers second TD of the first half. Lenoir City won the game 12-0.

Meanwhile safety man Mike McConkey picked off a Harriman pass early in the first quarter and returned the ball to the 15 yard line of the Blue Devils. Two carries and a loss of five yards set up a third down situation for the Panthers. McConkey fired a first down pass to the feet Junior Johnson for a first down at the four yard stripe. Mike Walker took over from there and plunged in for the touchdown.

The Panthers threatened to break the game open in the second quarter moving from their own 49 yard line to the Harriman 24 behind the running of Walker and Johnson. The Harriman defense finally prevailed but the Lenoir City defensive unit was not to be cut down and stopped the Blue Devils on three straight plays forcing a punt. The snap was bad and the punter had to kick on the run for a 13 yard effort. Lenoir City needed no instructions from here, as they got a extra boost on a 15 yard first down penalty against Harriman to the 17. Four plays and Walker had tallied another touchdown. McConkey was stopped short of the goal for the two point conversion.

Greenback Comes From Behind To Down Pesky Eagles 8-7

The Greenback Cherokees have parlayed a hard-nosed defense and a fine kicking game into their first Football Conference victory of the 1973 season.

The Cherokees kept friend and foe alike biting their fingernails until the last minutes of Friday night's 8-7 conquest of visiting Lanier. Throughout the game, field position football played a major role. Greenback punter Tim Hammontree's long, booming spirals kept the Eagles on their own end of the field almost the entire contest, forcing the Lanier team to play cautious, ground-oriented football. Neither team was impressive offensively. During the first half, which ended in a 0-0 deadlock, the deepest penetration by either was by Lanier which advanced to the Greenback 22 following a 30-yard punt return by Randy Beasley. A penalty thwarted this advance.

The Cherokees fans thought they had something to cheer about on Greenback's first possession of the second half. After returning a short kickoff to their own 46, Greenback ran three plays. First Downs: 12-12-1. Passes Attempted: 12-12-1. Passes Completed: 2-1-1. Passing Yards: 51-6-6. Rushing Yards: 29-6-6. Penalties: 7-10-5. Fumbles: 1-1-2. Punting: 1-1-2. Punting Avg. Yds.: 10-37.1-9-30.3.

West scooped up the football and galloped 28 yards into the end-zone behind an escort of blockers. The tight end kick by Danny Webbs was good, giving the Eagles a 7-0 lead. The teams swapped punts for the remainder of the third quarter and most of the fourth, with Greenback slowly gaining a definite field-position advantage.

A punt which rolled dead on the Eagles' three-yard line gave the Cherokees the break they needed. Greenback forced a punt which went out of bounds on the visitors' 20. A run was stopped for no gain, and then Cherokee quarterback Tony Linginfeller dodged back and hit flanker Harold Hawkins at the 15. Eluding a tackler, Hawkins danced into the end zone for the touchdown.

The all-important two-point conversion followed, with Hawkins again taking an aerial from Linginfeller to give the home team an 8-7 lead

CHEROKEE PASS GRABBER—Harold Hawkins, Greenback pass receiver, shows his form on this pass reception. The sure handed end accounted for both the touchdown and two point conversion in Friday night's 8-7 victory over Lanier.

Atomic Speedway To Host Large Sportsman Turnout

The largest field of sportsman cars ever assembled in East Tennessee is expected for the Glenn's Auto Parts 200, Sept. 29 at Atomic Speedway.

Interest in the $2,000 event, richest dirt track race ever at an East Tennessee track, continues to mount and a full house of fans is anticipated.

The 200-lap run over the third-mile track promises to be a battle up front from start to finish. That's because of $1,000 in lap money—$5 per lap. It's possible for the runnerup driver to win more than the champion. That could happen should he lead as many as 175 laps.

Of course, the victor is guaranteed $1,500 and the champ has a chance to take home $3,000. Second place finisher is assured of $1,000. Meanwhile, Ken Phillips has established himself as one of the favorites among the drivers who run weekly at Atomic.

After a mid-season slump, Phillips has come on strong. He's the big winner at the track this year, compiling the most victories. Tootle Eston is another solid contender after capturing the points championship. Phillips drives a Chevy II and Estes a Camaro.

The weekly action continues Saturday night at the speedway with drivers battling for a purse of $3,000. Besides the 40-lap sportsman feature, four heats and semi-finals, there'll be main events for hobby and bombier classes.

Qualifying for the weekly show begins at 7 p.m. and the first race gets under way at 8:30.

Tickets for the 200-lap race are on sale at the track and West Haven Auto Parts on Oak Ridge Highway.

Knoxville Woman Wins Grid Contest

Carolyn Hill, Hunterhill Drive, Knoxville, had the only 100 percent correct entry in the second week of the Herald Football Contest. Miss Hill had all 10 games correct and was only four points away from a perfect tie-breaker.

The winner can pick up the first place prize of $12 at the Herald office.

Second and third place money, totaling $13 is shared by three contestants, who will receive $4.33 each. All three missed only one game, interestingly they all missed the Young win over West, and all were only one point from a perfect 23 point tie-breaker. Loudon and Kingston battled to a 12-10 decision with the Yellow Jackets winning. The winners are Mike Hall, Rt. 2, Lenoir City; Rodney Best, Rt. 1, Sweetwater; and Kathy Kirkland, Steekee Street, Loudon.

A new slate of 10 games has been picked to challenge contestants for a third week and is located in the sports section of this issue.

Loudon Grasshoppers Win Over Clinton 14-0

The Loudon Grasshoppers were really rolling Saturday after a victory over Lake City last week. Loudon started by winning the toss, building up yardage from the line running backs of Tim Lennox and Archie Costner. But on an incomplete pitch out S.C. forced the hoppers to punt.

South Clinton started their move but ran head on into the strong defensive plays of Handy Arp, Roger Grimes, Clayton Stamey and John Hutton. Held S.C. to yardage. The hoppers took the ball with a hand off to Jimmy Brewster who raced for a 10 yd gain. Then Brewster with a beautiful play picked up a fumble in Loudon's own backfield and raced for another 15 yd gain, with Archie Costner and Randy Campbell adding extra yardage setting it up for Derrick Richensin to go over for a touchdown. Randy Campbell ran in the extra points, the half ending 8-0, with the second half starting the tough and steady defense of Kevin Cannon, Coley Woody, Mike Viars, Mark Roberts and Boyd Cathey, held S.C. to 1 yd gain. Loudon with the ball on their own 45. Fullback Tim Lennox raced 11 yd for a first down, on a fast pitch out from Q.B. Randy Campbell Archie Costner scampered for 25 yd gain to S.C. 20 yd line. S.C. Defense held taking the ball on downs, but with Q.B. Campbell shooting through the line dropped S.C. for a 10 yd loss. With Clayton Stamey dropping them for another 2 yd loss, but with the strong defensive plays of Greg Brown, Archie Costner, Clayton Stamey and Roger Grimes forced S.C. to give up the ball. The hoppers with the ball on S.C. 47 yd line handed off to Derrick Richensin, who raced 47 yd for a T.D. extra point no good. The score now 14-0 S.C. with the ball and only seconds to play was no competition for the hard nosed defense of the Grasshoppers holding them to no gain, with the game ending the Grasshoppers now stand 2 wins 1 tie-1 loss. They will be playing Lenoir City Sat. night and a try for win number 3.

Grasscutters Clip Madisonville 28-6

The Loudon Grasscutters are back on the track after being upset by Sweetwater last week. The cutters scored a convincing victory over the Madisonville grasscutters by a score of 28-6.

Loudon began the scoring on the first possession, with a reverse to Pat Brown who went 20 yds. for the score. The 2 point conversion was also added by Brown behind beautiful blocking by Jeff Wood, Billy Lawson, Mark McCallie and Billy Moore.

In the second quarter Billy Moore took a perfect pass from Barry Cooper and raced 35 yds. for 6 more.

Fancy footed Kevin White scored 6 in the third period on a 15 yd sweep behind beautiful blocking of Lloyd Cook, Michael Franklin, and Phillip Green.

In the final period the hard running fullback, Billy Moore passed to Eddie Brewster who raced in for the score for the 20. Eddie made two key receptions earlier in the game on passes from quarterback Barry Cooper. The 3 extra points were added by Kevin White.

Loudon's defense, led by mean nose-man Jeff Wood, showed strong play by Billy Moore, Mark McCallie, Tony Lennox, Dale Teague, Ricky Wiggins, Billy Lawson, Bobby Jo Fritis and Joe Pointer.

After being upset by Sweetwater a week ago, the Loudon Grasscutters record now stands at 5 wins and one loss. This includes victories against Harriman and Spring City in exhibition games. The cutters stand 3-1 in the Volunteer Conference with wins over Lenoir City, Midway, and Madisonville.

Loudon travels to Lenoir City next Saturday seeking their fourth win.

Indians Smash Madisonville

The Loudon Indians continued rolling down victory lane with a convincing 38-0 win over Madisonville. The game was led by Freddy Starritt's 3 touchdown performance. Starritt also had 132 yards rushing to lead all rushers.

The Loudon team ended the game with 302 total yards. Madisonville didn't run an offensive play till the 2nd quarter and they were trailing 22-0.

The Indians have a 30 game winning streak and are leading their division now. The Loudon offense was led by Starritt, Estes, Black, Moore, and Johnson. Bobo Hawkins also learned in a fine game of down field blocking and leading the specialty teams. Defensive efforts were put forth by Fields, Watkins, Howe, and Moore. This past win was Coach Buster Costner's 97 victory as a coach for the Indians.

GET THE BIG MAN—Two unidentified Loudon Freshmen hit Maryville's Danny Spradlin during the Frosh contest at Maryville Saturday. The big 6-2, 265 lb. Spradlin led his team to a 14-10 win over Loudon.

Game & Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game and Fish Commission

HUNTERS FOOT THE BILL.
Do you know that hunters have contributed over $2.2 billion for conservation in less than 50 years?
Right now hunters pay over $145 million a year for conservation.
Lots of anti-hunting people who have organized to outlaw your sport would change their stands if they knew who was picking up the bills for conservation. Let's get the facts across to them before it is too late. Help celebrate National Hunting and Fishing Day, September 22.

BIG GAME GETS NEW LOOK
The Tennessee Game and Fish Commission has prescribed some new procedures for big game species which will help manage the state's wildlife resources. After a long, hard look at the system used in the past, Game Management Biologists have developed new innovations which will aid in managing deer, bear, boar and wild turkey.

First, a new checking system will be initiated this month as the archery hunts for deer begin. The management area regulations have always required hunters to check their kills before leaving. This is essential in determining the number, sex, age and other characteristics of game populations.
Now, big game checking stations will be established in each county that has an open season to check the open gun and archery hunt success. These "Stations" will be set up at grocery stores and other businesses that have volunteered this service.

The second new feature is a realignment of big game management districts. The state has been placed into nine units instead of three. This will aid biologists in developing better management plans including hunting regulations.

ARCHERS READY
Archers will take aim on September 29 for the state open deer and boar season. The season extends through October 13 in Units I, II, and III. The remaining six units will be open until October 27.
One deer, buck only, will be allowed for Units I, II, and III. One deer, either sex, is permitted in Units IV through IX. Wild boar can be hunted also in Units IV and V during deer season. There is no limit on boar. Archery stamps and big game permits are required for both species. All kills must be examined at county checking stations.

FOX HUNTER'S TRIALS
The Loudon Cedar Crest Fox Hunters Club will have their annual fall hunt this week on September 19 through 22.
According to James "Red" Galyon, vice-president, they will sponsor a bench show on Wednesday evening followed by three days of judged hunts. Approximately 50 trophies plus ribbons will be presented to the winners of the different events. The bench show and special events will be held at the Clubhouse which is located on Dunn Ridge Road, east of Loudon City.

GEORGE PRUITT AND SON, Randy, of Loudon City, are shown with a 30 pound catfish that was caught while fishing below Ft. Loudoun Dam.

OFF HIS FINGER TIPS—Greenback flanker Mark Carver just can not find the handle to this pass as the ball slipped off his finger tips for an incomplete aerial. The Cherokee came back on a later pass to win the game 8-7 in the fourth quarter.

Redskin Frosh Battle Back To Drop LC 14-8

Maryville Frosh Stop Loudon 14-0

Loudon's Freshman football team could not get their offense to going Saturday and took a 14-0 loss at the hands of the Maryville Freshmen.
After Maryville picked up one first down in the first quarter, Loudon managed the effort on running plays by Quarterback Carter Cardwell and running backs Greg Deathridge, Jackie Jones, and Kenny Starritt but then both offenses sputtered and the quarter ended at midfield with the score 0-0.
Maryville's big tailback Danny Sprattlin, 6-2, 205 lbs, who accounted for more than half the Red Devils 204 yards in offense carried on seven of nine plays that was capped by a three yard score by Phillips. The point after failed and Maryville has a 6-0 lead.

Toward the end of the half Loudon had a drive going that took them from their own 47 to the Maryville 18, their deepest penetration, when the half ended.
The third quarter started big for Loudon as Jones got the biggest gain of the day for Loudon on a 35 yard scamper, but the drive ended when Loudon failed to pick up a first down on the Maryville 26.
Sprattlin again sparked Maryville by racing 47 yards for a score then carried in a two point conversion to put his team ahead 14-0.
Cardwell, Deathridge, and John Sweet led the Loudon defense.
Statistically Maryville dominated the game with 11 first downs to seven for Loudon. Maryville piled up 204 yards in offense to 96 for Loudon. Loudon lost three of four fumbles and Maryville lost two of two. Maryville penalized three times for 33 yards and Loudon once for 15 yards.

Loudon Freshmen came from behind to defeat cross-county rival Loudon City 14-8 Tuesday night before about 500 fans at Dukes Field to give them an 1-1 record.
Loudon City took the kick off and drove to the Loudon one before the defense led by Danny Isbell stop the visitors on the one. One series later the Loudon City frosh banged down deep into Loudon territory again but were stopped on the six yard line.
Late in the second quarter Loudon City picked up a Loudon fumble and took it in for a touchdown from about the 15 yard line. A two point conversion gave Loudon City an 8-0 lead with about 30 seconds remaining in the half.
On the second play from scrimmage Quarterback Carter Cardwell pitched out to Jackie Jones who went straight up the field for 70 yards as the half ended. The extra point try failed and Loudon City held an 8-6 half-time lead.
Loudon's defense held the visiting Panthers to zero offensive yardage in the second half while racking up more than 100 yards themselves.
In the final quarter Loudon kept Loudon City backed up. Fullback Greg Deathridge, along with Jones, kept hammering at the Loudon City defense.
Deathridge returned a Loudon City punt to the visitors 18 yardline with about four minutes left. Deathridge capped the short drive with a two yard plunge with Jones adding a two point conversion to give Loudon a 14-8 edge which stood up through the end of the game.
Loudon's defense was led by Isbell, Deathridge, Cardwell, Sam Thearp and John Sweet. Leading the blocking on offense was Zack Spoon, Junior Iulien, Isbell, Mike Moser and Gene Cate. Sam Stewart was credited with a fumble recovery that stopped a Loudon City drive in the second quarter.
In the numbers department Loudon had eight first downs to six for Loudon City. The Red men also led in yardage with 173 to 79 for Loudon City.

Friday Night Picture Action of Loudon County High School Teams

QUEEN PICKS UP SEVEN YARDS—Loudon quarterback Dennis Queen picked up seven yards on this run off tackle against Kingston Friday night.

TOUCHDOWN FOR LOUDON—Loudon Redskin Sam Lyle cradles this pass away for a Loudon touchdown in the first overtime of the Loudon-Kingston football game Friday night at Kingston. The Yellow Jackets matched the score and finally squeaked out a 13-10 decision in two overtimes.

74 Mercury Outboards At Lyle's Pleasure Island

Additional corrosion proofing, improved operating performance and greater component reliability are among the benefits provided by nearly 100 refinements in the 1974 Mercury outboard line.

Significant improvements have been incorporated in every one of the ten models. The horsepower range extends from 4 to 150-hp. All engines are of in-line design with configurations varying from one to six cylinder.

"Power-ported" a recent development of the Mercury factory racing program, supplements the Direct Charge powerhead in the Merc 1500, 850 and 650. "Power-ported" pistons provide an additional fuel-air source for greater engine performance at or near maximum speed.

Several developments enhance the fishing qualities of the "Mini Mercs," 4 to 20-hp. A fishline cutter, integral with the lower unit hub seal on the Merc 75 and 110, effectively chops off tough monofilament line before it can damage the seal.

Approximately six pounds were shed from the Merc 75 and 110, due mainly to a completely redesigned cowling. The molded fiberglass cowl provides quick access to the powerhead and is corrosion resistant. A convenient front trigger release disengages a rear latch to permit easy removal for inspection and maintenance.

Pulse-tuned exhaust, on the 65, 85, 115 and 150-hp Mercs, increases power and fuel efficiency without increasing engine displacement. The design takes advantage of alternating pressure waves from adjacent cylinder exhaust ports, coupled with tuned length exhaust tubes inside the driveshaft housing, to supercharge the cylinders.

Smoother, quieter trolling is a major benefit of a relief valve bypass and thermostat combination in the 40 and 65-hp cooling systems. The engine will reach and maintain optimum operating temperature from idle to full throttle. A large diameter diaphragm-type valve opens and closes depending on cooling water velocity. Extended valve travel, up to 1/2-inch, from the seat, eliminates sticking or obstruction by salt encrustation and silt.

Breakerless Thunderbolt capacitor-discharge (CD) ignition has been extended to the Merc 75 and 110. The improved ignition system is standard on all Mercury outboards except the Merc 40 which has Thunderbolt Phase-Maker CD ignition. In the breakerless system, solid state components are sealed from moisture and dirt.

Mechanical triggering devices are eliminated with no parts to adjust or wear, eliminating ignition tuneups and minimizing timing adjustments.

Perma-Gap long-life spark plugs are used in every Mercury outboard. The Perma-Gap design, with a tungsten center electrode, requires no gap setting, extending its useful life many times over conventional plugs.

Thunderbolt ignition can fire spark plugs considered "fouled" by conventional standards. A fast voltage rise, up to 40,000 volts in millionths of a second, forces the plug to fire so rapidly that minimum energy loss occurs through electrical leakage. Sure starting under a variety of adverse operating conditions, plus virtually no lead fouling or pre-ignition problems, are major advantages.

Mercury's Thunderbolt ignition and Perma-Gap spark plugs allow the use of regular automotive gasoline at a 50:1 gas-oil mix, using QuickSilver Formula 50 or Formula 50-D outboard oil. Lead-free or low-lead gasoline without phosphorus additives is also recommended.

Electric starting is a standard feature on all Mercury outboards from 40 to 150-hp. Additionally, manual starting is available for 40 and 60-hp and an electric-starting kit is optional for 20-hp. All production electric-start models are equipped with an alternator to charge the battery while the engine is running. Every production Mercury outboard has an internal fuel recirculating system which returns unburnt fuel or crankcase residuals to the firing chambers and also increases internal bearing lubrication.

An improved rubber valve replaces the conventional ball check valve. It is self-cleaning and clog resistant to positively recirculate unburned fuel. Mercury Power Trim is now offered as standard equipment on the long shaft 150 and 115-hp models. Designated as the "Merc 1500 ELPT and Merc 1150 ELPT, both feature an improved factory-installed double-acting hydraulic system which provides the boater with remote push-button trimming of the motor for a more level ride despite changing water and load conditions.

Single Story Rustic House Has Privacy in Family Room and Terrace

The living room allows two functions to be in progress at the same time without conflicting with each other.
The front porch allows entrance to a central foyer and hall which lead to the sleeping quarters on the front of the house. There is a walk in closet in two of the bedrooms and each room has ample usable wall space. There is a disappearing stair in the hall outside the bedroom and a bath across the hall from them is convenient to both.
The master bedroom features a bath and adjacent dressing room from which is a spacious walk in closet. Stairs to the basement separate the master bedroom from the adjacent living room. The dining room is immediately off the living room and is easily accessible from the kitchen. Convenient placement of appliances helps make the kitchen a valuable feature of this house and it also has an abundance of wall cabinets. The breakfast area is next to the kitchen and has an exit to the family room.
A raised hearth in front of the fireplace in the family room is a highlight and there is a laundry and half bath off the family room. The laundry also provides access to the garage with its separate storage room.
Attractive siding on the exterior of the house and the cupola on the garage add immensely to the appearance.
There is a total of 2,098 square feet of space in the house and the garage and storage room contain 482 square feet. There is an 88 square foot porch on the dwelling and the terrace has 206 square feet of space. The basement contains 1,841 square feet.

SEPTEMBER 20 1973

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Last week we mentioned that we had a picture of a Davis School group and that we had never had a picture from this well known Loudon County School. We were very happy to receive it and wish we could find more group pictures from this school.

The Davis School is a point used for references many times in explaining locations to someone unfamiliar with this location. We are glad that it has not been the victim of consolidation as so many of our other rural area schools have been. We hope it continues to operate for many years to come. We have not had a lot of response to the Good Old Days in the form of pictures lately. But have had lots of calls and comments from our readers in this area. There are many things of interest in this community and we would like to have pictures. We have heard many stories of ghosts which were seen along the road from Highway 73 to the school house. We would like to hear more about his if anyone knows.

The No. 1 Chain Saw Buy

Now to our school group picture. This was the graduating Class of 1944 and those in the picture are identified as follows: left to right, Allen Clinton, Hazel Sutton Akens, Ernie Jacobs, deceased, Gene Roberts, deceased, Leon Brown, Arthur Russell, and Pat Hicks. Several years ago, when one finished the eighth grade, graduation exercises were held just as high school graduations are held today. I don't know exactly how long it has been since this was stopped.

Our many thanks to Jim Roberts for the loan of this picture.

Pictures of family groups or pictures of friends who have gathered for a visit always create interest with our readers. We have a picture this week of a group of well known ladies from this area. We will identify them a little later, but first we would like to talk about some other things. The old time items in the background of this picture. The house where this picture was made had an old time water barrel, which was a very common item at all houses many years ago. We talk today about the depleting clean water supply, well, these people who are screaming for clean water should have lived back in the days when you had to catch your water in a rain barrel or let the rain wash off the dirt on the roof and drain into an old time cistern for drinking water. Well, so much for that. Anyway, kids used to like to play in rain barrels, when they could get away with it. Remember the tadpoles the boys said that if you put a horsehair in the water, it would turn into a snake. I tried this but it didn't work for me. It is amazing how things we see out of a past way of life brings back memories of things that were common place in those days.

Husband to friend—"It's terrible to grow old alone—my wife hasn't had a birthday in six years."

A father we know says he is sick and tired of arguing with his son over borrowing his car. "Next time I want it," he says, "I'm just going to take it."

The old woman who lived in a shoe, had so many children because she didn't know what to do. Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

Bill Stafford Receives U-T Alumni Scholarship

William F. Stafford of Route 1, Loudon, has been selected as a recipient of a valedictorian scholarship sponsored by the University of Tennessee General Alumni Association, State Rep. Larry Bates of Martin, association president, has announced.

Stafford, a graduate of Loudon High School, will attend UT Knoxville.

These scholarships, valued at $600 each, are given annually by the General Alumni Association to those students who are the number one graduates of Tennessee secondary schools and can be used at the UT campuses at Knoxville, Martin, Chattanooga or Nashville.

"The General Alumni Association is extremely pleased that 110 of Tennessee's valedictorians will be attending a campus of the University of Tennessee this year," Bates said. "We offer nearly $100,000 in scholarship aid to deserving students on all UT campuses and feel that this is a very worthwhile way for the contributions alumni and other friends make to the University's Annual Giving Program."

In addition to the valedictorian awards, the General Alumni Association funds more than 200 other scholarships for students.

In Fact We Go An Extra Step

Due to the fact Roane County High School officials would not permit broadcast of the Loudon-Kingston football thriller the Hamilton Bank Sports Team of Don Carter and Inky Swiney with guest spotter Edwin Amold did a live broadcast from a lawn overlooking the Yellow Jacket football field. Although the final score was sad and shocking for Redskin fans we hope that we made this extra effort to bring you a live broadcast shows just how far we will go to prove that THE HAMILTON HELPS.

Your County In Action
BY Harvey L. Sproul
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE
A couple of weeks ago I published an unsigned letter I had received, which made a suggestion that something be done to help those children and young adults who are slow learners or mentally retarded. The problem is that there is some help for those people when they are very young, but after they reach a certain age there is no help.
Since the time of publishing the letter I have found out much more concerning this problem, and it does seem that help is on the way.
For example, our Little Tennessee Valley Educational Co-operative is in the process of implementing Public Law 94-142 throughout our tri-county area (Blount-Loudon-and-Moore).
A special study is being made this year as to what the need is, and what programs it will take to meet the need.
Next year the recommended program itself will be instituted, if it is hoped.
In addition, the Vocational Technical Center being established throughout the State will carry learning laboratories which will be of some assistance to mentally retarded, and physically handicapped people.
Probably not many of us realize how many people fall within this category in our Counties, but there are several, and many of course more than 18 years of age, for which there is presently no program.

There was an appointment set up on my schedule for last Friday and the appointment turned out to be with a very attractive young lady. When I found that she was from the Planned Parenthood Association of the Southern Mountains, I felt that someone might have been pulling my leg because my wife is expecting again. I figured that someone felt that Sylvia and I needed counseling and was trying to get a point across to this. But it turned out that this young lady's interest was genuine concerning this problem in general.
More and more emphasis is being put on family planning, and this particular organization based in Anderson County, now has received a grant to carry out a program in several Counties around Anderson County through the Public Health Department.
Again as in many other things, I personally can testify that the need in this particular area is great.
Although there have been several problems and obstructions from the national and state level, planning continues for the Nation's Bicentennial Celebration in 1976.
There will also be special grants available to help carry out the programs that each county may propose, and I am hoping that we can begin our planning in Loudon County soon.

The July issue of the Office of Local Government Newsletter describes in some detail the assistance that office is giving to County Government and officials throughout the State concerning the institution of a personnel program for county employees.
Of course we have already completed the program in Loudon County and it has brought several new benefits that County employees were not receiving before, and it was costing the County several thousand dollars per year to implement.
You may recall that as a part of this program all County employees received paid benefits for all their past service time as a County employee insofar as retirement is concerned, and that the County then will pay its share of the retirement.

The Tribe Speaks
LOUDON HIGH SCHOOL JOURNALISM CLASS
Darrell Truck Allen Maddox
A new vocational course related to Health Occupations was started on Monday, Sept. 17. This is under the same program as the courses taught in the Lenoir City school. The instructor for the course is Mrs. Charlotte Hall. Students from Loudon High and from Lenoir City High are enrolled in the class.
For the past two weeks, the Junior class has been assigned to sell candy for the prom. Not enough of the class took part in it so the Sophomores plan for the future years.
It is hoped that by the time you read this that a County group insurance plan will be established for employees, for which the County will be expected to pay approximately half the cost.
The other parts of the program and not as acceptable, involve classifying employment positions, setting corresponding wage scales, and establishing personnel policies.
As stated, there are some elements of this program which some employees and officials are not satisfied with, but you have to start somewhere, in order to accomplish any new program, and it is hoped that the kinks can be worked out in the future so that the general program will be acceptable to all concerned.

and Seniors have helped. Mrs. Brenda Crabtree is in charge of the promotion and she says 3000 bars are expected to sell. These bars must sell for a good profit for the Seniors. The price is 50 cents per bar.
We are concerned with the election of class officers. In order that you may know the qualifications for officers and some of the details of election we quote from one of the Student Handbook: At the beginning of each year the sophomore, junior, and senior classes shall be organized under the leadership of their sponsors. On the fourth Friday of the school year each class shall elect by ballot, a president, a vice-president, a secretary, and a treasurer to carry on any duties assigned to the class as a whole. Freshmen will elect their officers at the beginning of the second nine weeks.
At least two and no more than five candidates will be nominated for each office. The election shall take place one week following the nomination.
No one shall be elected who has a citizenship grade lower than a "B" and no academic grade below a "C".
If there are more than two candidates for each office, a plurality shall be required for election. Our election is Friday.

Cards Mailed Tobacco Growers

All farmers having a 1973 tobacco marketing quota established for the farm were mailed a double post card on September 17, asking if tobacco had been grown this year. Fred Pippo, Chairman of the Loudon County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, says, "This is the method used to determine if farms will need a tobacco marketing card to sell the crop grown. The card also asks if pesticides containing DDT or TDE had been used on the crop since it was planted in the field and if any Maryland Tobacco is being grown on the farm."

It is very important that all farmers return the card as soon as received, Mr. Pippo says. If the cards are not returned, the crop will be ineligible for price support and no marketing card will be issued.

Blighted Areas Pointed Out In Neighborhood Analyses

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series on the Loudon Neighborhood Analyses report which is available at the Loudon Municipal Building.)

A blighted area is a costly burden for any city, and Loudon is no exception. According to a Neighborhood Analyses report prepared by the Loudon Regional Planning Commission with the assistance of the Tennessee State Planning Office, "such areas are an eyesore, a financial burden, and may also be the source or root of some of a community's socially unacceptable behavior."

The report defines a blighted area as "an area in which more than half of the structures are substandard," and further adds that in such a case, "the area is in a state of serious decline."

The study points out that it is often difficult to determine the original cause of blight. "Many social and physical characteristics are jointly responsible. For example, low incomes are usually found in areas of substandard housing. Dilapidated structures, sanitary deficiencies, inadequate community facilities, and unfavorable social characteristics are excellent indicators of the level of blight and blighting influences."

Yet there is hope for such an area. Four types of treatment are suggested in the report. These include conservation, major conservation, rehabilitation, and redevelopment.

The first type of conservation includes "all normal maintenance procedures, as well as a continued strict adherence to various building codes and zoning and other ordinances which are designed to safeguard a neighborhood's environment."

Major conservation is needed "whenever blighting influences are evident. Conservation is combined with spot clearance of dilapidated structures and major repair to structures. Heavy emphasis on code enforcement is required to focus on the structures requiring special repair or clearance."

Rehabilitation means "to restore a structure to a useful livable condition. It is also a type of treatment required in areas of serious structural decline." Finally, redevelopment "is a process used in areas of most serious decline. Often, clearance of the entire area may be necessary before the area can be properly and economically redeveloped."

This process is often difficult since "substantial financial aid such as urban renewal is usually needed to undertake and complete a redevelopment project."

In the study, nine residential neighborhoods are identified, and each is analyzed in terms of the social and economic characteristics of its residents, the community facilities and services available, the physical characteristics of the neighborhood, attitudes of the residents about the surrounding environment, neighborhood stability and areas of the neighborhoods in need of treatment.

The results of these neighborhood analyses indicate that 20.4 percent of the families in Loudon live in substandard housing. These 278 families differ from the remaining families in Loudon in a number of ways.

For example, the number of persons living in substandard housing is higher per household and the age of the average household head is older than those living in the average Loudon household. A greater number of household heads in substandard housing classify themselves as unskilled laborers or unemployed, and a greater number were disabled or retired. It would seem to follow that average income would be less for those in poor housing, and the study bears this out. In addition, fewer individuals living in poor housing owned their own homes. Also, the characteristics of race and education are related to substandard housing in that more non-whites were found to live in poor housing, and the majority of those in poor housing had completed less formal education than the average Loudon resident.

According to the report, since families affected by poor housing differ from others so significantly with respect to occupation, race, education, income and home ownership, "Efforts should be made in the future to upgrade living conditions of these persons."

3,000 Pills Taken At Bevins Drug

Thieves made a double hit in Loudon sometime Wednesday night when the same people apparently broke into the Bevins Drug Company and the law offices of Arthur Fowler and John Gibson. Both are located at the corner of Grove and Mulberry Streets in Loudon.

About 3000 pills of various types were taken from the drug store, including about 1200 Percodan tablets.

The thieves apparently crossed the roof of Greer's and entered the law offices through a bathroom window. While in the office they picked up about $10 in cash left in the office.

Although there was thousands of dollars worth of merchandise, cameras, watches and other merchandise in the store, none was reported taken.

Loudon Police Chief John Lennox called TBI Agents Leon Miller and Wade Ingram to help in the investigation. Lennox said Friday that about 700 of the pills had been found scattered throughout the city, mostly from the downtown area through West End.

Chief Lennox said although it appeared to have been a well thought out burglary he believed that it was done by amateurs looking more for money than drugs.

The night before someone broke into Coles A&W restaurant, forced the juke box open and made off with about $100 in change. A window at the rear of the building was broken out.

A broken window was also found in the rear of Bill's Grill in West End but no signs of entrance to the building was found, police said.

MR. GIBSON
Jim Gibson
Named LHS Principal

James Howard Gibson, 38, was named principal of Loudon High School Tuesday night by the Loudon County Board of Education. Mr. Gibson, an assistant football coach and history teacher at the school since November of 1972, succeeds the late William S. Napier, who was killed last week in a traffic accident.

The election of Gibson as principal came on a unanimous vote near the end of the hour long special meeting on a motion by board member "Gill" Miller and Leonard Liles.

Mr. Gibson is a native of Morristown. A graduate of Morristown High School class of 1954, received his bachelor's degree from Carson-Newman College in 1960. At Carson-Newman he was a guard-tackle on the Eagles football team. He received his Masters Degree from Tennessee Tech in 1970.

His teaching experience began in 1960 at Coalfield High School.

Curtis, who is presently employed with the Hamilton National Bank of Chattanooga, will assume his new duties on October 1 and is expected to move his wife and three sons to Loudon in the near future.

MR. CURTIS who has been with the bank for six years, was promoted to Assistant Vice President by the board of directors last week. Swiney is also manager of the bank's Philadelphia Branch. He is a member of the Loudon Lions Club, president of the Loudon Jaycees and a member of the Loudon City Commission.

Loudon Principal Bill Napier Killed

Hits Truck Head-on, Truck Driver Serious

A grinding car-truck crash on Highway 11 at the north end of Browder Hill took the life of Loudon High School Principal William S. (Bill) Napier about 2 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 20. The 59-year-old Napier, principal at Loudon High for 17 years, was riding alone in the car and was apparently in the wrong lane at the time his car hit head-on with a tractor trailer truck.

State Trooper Joe Littleton said that Napier was apparently killed instantly, sustaining a broken neck and a crushed chest when the impact threw him into the steering wheel of the car. He was taken to Loudon County Memorial Hospital and was pronounced dead on arrival at 2:45 a.m. by Dr. W.B. Harrison.

The impact drove the front of Napier's late model Chevrolet back into the passenger compartment.

Driver of the tractor-trailer, Curtis Edward Langston, 32, of Cedartown, Ga., was taken to a Knoxville hospital and later transferred to a Georgia Hospital. Trooper Littleton said he understood the man was in serious condition with chest injuries.

A heavy patchy fog covered much of the area at the time of the wreck, but Trooper Littleton said he did not know what the conditions were at the accident scene at the time of the crash. A St. Louis man told Trooper Littleton that he had seen Napier in the wrong lane just prior to the accident.

Littleton also said that the truck driver told persons at the scene he saw the car coming sounded his horn and was almost stopped at the time of the impact.

Mr. Napier and six other members of the Loudon Lions Club and a member of the Loudon County Teacher's Association. Also a member of the Gideons International. In 1962 he was recognized as one of the outstanding personalities of the South.

Classes at Loudon High were dismissed Friday to allow students and faculty members to attend the funeral held at the First Presbyterian Church of Lenoir City where Napier was a member and elder. Burial was in Jackson Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, Martha Jackson Napier; two sons, William J. of Indianapolis, Ind., John S. of Loudon; sister, Mrs. Cain Gay Harard, Ky.; four brothers, Cleon Napier, Hyden, Ky.; Bige Napier, Dayton, Ohio; Henry Napier, Hamilton, Ohio; Earl Napier, Ball Ground, Ga.; one half-brother, Fred of Dayton, Ohio; and two granddaughters.

Students Plan Scholarship To Honor Napier's Memory

A permanent scholarship in the memory of Loudon High School Principal William S. Napier, who was killed in a traffic accident last week, has been established by the Student Council at the school. Student Council President Connie Hankey and Guidance Counselor DeWayne Arp said the student council felt the memory of Mr. Napier, who was principal of the school for 17 years, could best be preserved through a scholarship fund with an annual scholarship to be awarded a deserving Loudon High student. The campaign to raise funds for the William S. Napier Scholarship began at the school Monday and a total of $408 was raised in one day. The Student Council plans to name a committee to administer the scholarship fund. They have not decided the amount of the annual scholarship, but if the amount raised in any one year is more than the scholarship amount the extra funds will be placed in a savings account to insure the continuance of the scholarship. Most of the money raised Monday was from students but a number of teachers, individuals in the community and other cities have made contributions. Mr. Arp said that anyone wishing to make a donation should make the check payable to the William S. Napier Scholarship Fund and mail it to Loudon High School. Among the earlier con-

UFO Sighted Here

A woman called the Herald office Monday morning and reported that she and her daughter saw an unidentified flying object while on their way to Knoxville Saturday.

The woman said the object was round, silver in color, had a big propeller on the front and two bright lights. She said as their car approached the I-75 and I-40 junction the object, making no sound, seem to come out of the bank and right for the car and just disappeared. She said a friend made a similar sighting earlier thinking it was a very strange airplane.

Several sightings of UFO's were reported across the state over the weekend but the Federal Aviation Administration reported that no unusual objects had been picked up on their radar units.

Gibson Elected Principal

School in Morgan County. His other teaching experiences were in Elizabethton from 1962-64; Central High in Morgan County in 1965; Kingston High School from 1966 to 1969; and at Erwin High School from 1970 to 1972 when he came to Loudon High. He was head football coach at Coalfield and Erwin.

Mr. Gibson, his wife Margaret and two children, Mark, 12, and Debbie, 11, reside on Mulberry Street in Loudon.

Upon his election Mr. Gibson said that Loudon High School was a good school with a good faculty and student body. He said that he will do his best to see that the school keeps improving.

Board Chairman James Bailey assured Gibson that he would have the support of the board and from what he has heard that he felt sure that Mr. Gibson had the full support of the faculty. Superintendent of Education Albert Dukes said that the principals and superintendents in the systems where Gibson had taught and coached had all highly recommended him, saying that he was a man who had the respect of students and fellow teachers. That he was a strict disciplinarian but a very fair person.

A special assembly program was held Wednesday morning at the school when Superintendent Dukes introduced Mr. Gibson as the new principal. He was to assume his duties immediately.

"He will continue as head defensive coach of the football program, but his teaching duties will be taken over by a new teacher," Mr. Dukes said, that a substitute teacher will take Gibson's classroom duties until a new teacher can be hired.

Tax Relief Forms Now Available

Emmett Carter, County Assessor of Property and J. V. Schrimsher, County Trustee announced today that application forms for property tax relief are now available in their offices and may be picked up during normal business hours.

The last session of the General Assembly enacted legislation to provide tax relief to elderly low income taxpayers, homeowners totally and permanently disabled and disabled veterans.

Refunds shall be paid from Loudon and Lenoir City teachers following their scheduled teacher's meeting. On October 3, she will be at Nichols and middle schools during the morning and at Eatons in the afternoon to work with students there. On October 4, she will be working in the Loudon schools.

Miss Capps services are furnished free by Berea College but her travel expenses are financed by the Loudon County Arts Association. During her visit in the county, Miss Capps will be staying with Mrs. Charles T. Morgan, widow of the late T. Morgan, a professor at Berea College for many years.

The State to eligible low income taxpayers and homeowners totally and permanently disabled in an amount equal to the combined county and city taxes actually paid on the first $5,000 worth of the market value of property owned by these taxpayers and used as their residence.

To be eligible for a refund an elderly low income taxpayer, the taxpayer must be 65 years of age or over and the annual income of the taxpayer and his spouse must not exceed $4,800. If a person is considered totally and permanently disabled by either the Tennessee Department of Welfare, Social Security Administration or Veterans Administration and the income of the taxpayer and his spouse does not exceed $4,800, he is eligible for a refund from the State in the same amount as an elderly low income taxpayer.

A disabled veteran is eligible for tax relief up to an amount equal to the property taxes due on $25,000 worth of the market value of property he owns and uses as his residence. Property of disabled veterans has previously been exempted from taxation but the State law has now been changed to provide that the taxes due on such property up to its value of $25,000 shall be paid from the State funds to counties and cities where the property is located.

Low income elderly taxpayers and homeowners totally and permanently disabled must pay their taxes before application for their refunds can be made; however, the law provides that disabled veterans can

Industrial Head To Tour County

Dr. Pat Choat, Tennessee Commissioner of Economic and Community Development will be the guest of area business leaders Friday for a day-long tour of several proposed projects.

Some 35 to 40 local business leaders from Loudon and Monroe Counties are expected to take part in the tour by bus of the Highway 411 corridor where a new water system is proposed, the Loudon industrial park, the Lenoir City industrial park and other points of interest in the area. All local area State legislators have been invited.

Hart Idkins and Ross Wilkerson, co-chairmen of the Loudon County Industrial Committee of 100, are in charge of arrangements here. County Judge Harvey Spruiell helped to coordinate plans with Commissioner Choat.

Joe Sherlin, Executive Secretary of the Monroe County Industrial Committee, is handling plans for Monroe County participants. Dick Wood, Chairman of the Tellico Area Services System (TASS), the joint operation between Loudon and Monroe Counties to build the Greenback and Vonore area water system, also is active in preparations.

Plans call for a bus to leave Lenoir City at 9 a.m. Friday, picking up others in the tour party at the Loudon industrial office at 8:15 and at Sweetwater at 8:35. Commissioner Choate will join the tour at the Monroe County Airport at 9 a.m.

"We plan to look at Madisonville where there is a dire need for water which could be supplied by the TASS water system," Judge Spruiell said. He indicated that if there is time, the tour also will visit at least part of the Vonore and Greenback area which would be primarily served by the system.

One of Commissioner Choate's strong interests is tourism, the party intends to stop at the Lost Sea, Monroe and Loudon industrial sites.

To Distribute Information

"IT'S TIME RUNNING OUT FOR MANKIND!" This is the theme of a four page tract that will receive an unprecedented distribution throughout the county in the next few days.

Paul McNabb, newly appointed President Overseer of Jehovah's Witnesses in Loudon County announced that the local group would be joining the other 28,000 congregations of Witnesses in this work which will be done between September 21 and 30.

Mr. McNabb is planning on reaching the households of one-seventh of the earth's population within that ten-day period. "The urgency of the times and the Bible's answer to problems that mankind is facing," Mr. McNabb said, "is the reason behind the distribution of the tract."

are on schedule for tour before stopping for lunch at the VFW Club in Loudon at 12 noon.

After lunch a tour of the Lenoir City industrial site, west of the Eaton Corporation plant is scheduled before Dr. Choate goes on to an appointment in Knoxville.

Election Of School Board On Agenda

The agenda will discuss several highway department items including proposals from the highway commissioners concerning special items at the County Garage, including the distribution of gasoline.

Probably one of the biggest items on the agenda is the discussion of electing County School Board Members by popular election. Squire J.J. Blair had the item placed on the agenda. The election of school board members and the appointment of a superintendent has long been discussed in private but this will be the first time it will be brought out in court. of Sports

It's been 15 months since the largest professional fishing tour has been in Tennessee, but that period ended Wednesday as some 189 touring "pros" finished their final three-day practice session before the Tennessee All-America BASS Tournament on Watts Bar Lake.

Beginning Wednesday, and lasting until Friday, Watts Bar Lake will have enough bass boats on it to make it look like a used boat lot. Most of the pros fish by themselves during the three days of practice, putting almost 189 boats on the lake at the same time. Some, however, buddy-up with another angler.

Then, when tournament time rolls around, there is a drastic cut — 91 boats — to be on the lake since there will be two fishermen per boat — tournament rules.

Big names in tackle manufacturing, big names in using big-name manufactured lures, and just plain good fishermen will be involved in this tournament sponsored by the Bass Anglers Sportsman Society of Montgomery, Ala. It'll be three days of hard fishing, of battling the elements (such as the late-end of a hurricane last year), and outwitting the other anglers for the 189 fishermen from 22 states.

Tennessee, as expected, leads the long list of anglers with a total 59 going to the starting line. Next in line would come North Carolina with 18 and then Georgia with 16. States represented include Kansas, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, New York, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, plus all of the southeastern states, including Texas.

Why are all of these fishermen on Watts Bar Lake?

Mostly they are searching for the three biggest daily stringers which will lead them to first place and the biggest share of the $21,000 pot. Many, however, are just looking for enough points to add to what they already have, which when totaled up, would be enough to place them in the October Bass-master Class — an all-expense-paid week-long trip to an unknown lake for the top 24 tournament fishermen. The winner gets $10,000. As it stands right now there are at least 35 anglers within striking distance of the special trip, but there are others, who could, if they happen to win this tournament, gain a classic berth.

Here's the way the point standings look going into this final Tennessee All-America BASS Tournament on Watts Bar Lake.

- 1. R. Martin, Tulsa, Okla. 342; 2. S. Sloan, Nashville, 216; 3. Tom Mann, Fayetteville, Ala. 165; 4. E. Nell Jackson, Miss. 132; 5. D. Lockhart, Ft. Mitchell, Ala. 123; 6. W. Lea, Powersville, Mo. 122; 7. J. Morris, Springfield, Mo. 122; 8. B. Murray, Hot Wells, Greenbrier, Tenn. 102; 9. B. Westmoreland, Celina, Tenn. 118; 10. G. Arke, 89; 12. B. Meador, Beard Rouge, La. 97; 13. B. Dance, Memphis, 95; 14. D. Mead, Hollister, Mo. 91; 15. R. Cook, Knoxville, Ark. 83; 16. B. Gresham, Florence, Ala. 76; 19. A. Emmett Chiles, Joiner, Ark. 71; 25. P. Chambliss, Raleigh, N.C. 66.

The Region 2 Class AA chase thinned out at the top last week, but there still remains two massive logjams in the Class AAA and Class A title chases. The week's biggest shocked occurred in Class AAA where the two-time state champion Sweetwater Wildcats bit the dust for the first time in 24 games. Cleveland went by the way side in the AA race while Kingston, winners of the past two regional cups, and upstart McMinn Central stayed tied for the lead with 3-0 records and 30 points.

Six clubs are deadlocked for the Class AA lead. Defending champion Baylor, Brainerd, Bradley County, Hixson, Warren County and Shelbyville all have 3-0 slates and 30 points. Soddy-Daisy, a spine-tingling 26-21 victory over Cleveland behind it, is also unbeaten (3-0), but picked up only four points for the win over Cleveland.

Polk County, Meigs County, Sequatchie County and Whitwell, four teams unfamiliar to the top surroundings, all have 3-0 records and 30 regional points.

REGION 2 CLASS AAA

- 30 Points — Baylor (2-0), Brainerd (3-0), Bradley County (2-0), Hixson (3-0), Warren County (3-0), Shelbyville (3-0).
- 24 Points — Soddy-Daisy (3-0).
- 20 Points — McCallie (2-1), Crossville (2-1), Manchester (2-1), Franklin County (2-1).

REGION 2 CLASS A

- 10 Points — Chattanooga City (1-2), Red Bank (1-2), Fayetteville (1-2), Sparta (1-2).
- 4 Points — Rhea County (1-2).
- Zero Points — McMinn County (0-2), East Ridge (0-2), Howard (0-2), Kirtman (0-2), Riverside (0-2), Cookeville (0-2), Chattanooga Central (0-2), Tullahoma (0-2), Tyner (0-2).

REGION 2 CLASS AA

- 20 Points — McMinn Central (2-0), Kingston (3-0).
- 10 Points — Notre Dame (2-0), Cleveland (2-1), Loudon (2-1).
- 10 Points — Lenoir City (1-2), Rockwood (1-2).
- Zero Points — Harriman (0-2), Grundy County (0-2).

REGION 2 CLASS A

- 30 Points — Polk County (3-0), Meigs County (3-0), Sequatchie County (3-0), Whitwell (3-0).
- 20 Points — Marietta County (2-1), Midway (2-1), Madisonville (2-1), Spring City (2-0), Sweetwater (2-1), Tellico Plains (2-1).
- 10 Points — Charleston (1-2), Lookout Valley (1-2), Oliver Springs (1-2), South Pittsburg (1-2), Vonore (1-2).
- Zero Points — Copper Basin (0-2), Doolick (0-2), Bledsoe County (0-2).

Bradley County's chances at the Region 2 Class AAA championship are quite dim even if the Bears reel off a 10-0 record. Why? Two Class AA teams are on the Bears' 1973 schedule, affording coach Eddie Buck's crew only eight points for those

Greenback Risks Perfect Mark Against Porter

Its Panther week in Greenback this week as the spring sessions are over for the Cherokee football team. Greenback has brushed by three opponents in as many weeks with only arch rival Lenoir posing any sort of trouble for the Cherokees, and that one had to be fished out of the fire in the final six minutes by a 67 score. Other wise Greenback has been in the drivers seat almost from kickoff against season opener Gatlinburg-Pittman and Friendsville. But this week the stakes are a lot higher. Porter comes calling at Cooper Field, and the Panthers are fresh from a 20-0 win over highly respected Region One power Lenoir. The win ended a 14 game win streak for the Panthers a big slap on the back for confidence in preparing for the Cherokees in a Foothills Conference headliner.

Porter is 2-1 for the season having lost a 26-20 game to Walland two weeks ago in what was billed as the battle of the giants for the Foothills Conference title. Greenback was picked to finish third in the conference race in pre-fall analysis with a dark horse chance of surprising some people. So far the Cherokees defense has been adequate and know what to expect from the veteran Porter team. The two squads battled to a 0-0 tie in the football jamboree at Maryville College in August. But the Greenback offense will have to be at its best with few turnovers and a powerful lot of blocking that has not been consistent in the first 100 percent efforts just won't get the Cherokees by despite being only a two point underdog come kickoff time. Porter has probably the biggest team in average weight of any team in the area. The starting seven man front wall balances the scales at over 300 pounds per player. Nevertheless Greenback has the caliber of team personnel that believes strongly on this being the year that Greenback makes the other teams in the conference take notice. Should Greenback win the Cherokees would be in excellent form to give Walland, also unbeaten in three outings, a fit for a berth in the Region One State playoffs. While Greenback is holding down Loudon County with the top Class "A" battle in East Tennessee, Loudon and Lenoir City will carry their colors to Knoxville for grid skirmishes at Knoxville Karus and Knoxville Carter respectively. Loudon will be facing an old alumni in the way of former head football coach Jim Mike Watkins. Watkins is a former student of Loudon High School, graduating in 1953. He later returned to coach at Loudon Junior High and assist Loudon football Coach Bert Ratledge with the Redskins in 1962 and 1963. Watkins moved to Knoxville and coached at Moreland Heights Junior High one year before going to

Bearden for a five year stint with the Bulldogs. Jim Mike has been at Karus for four years two as assistant coach and is starting his second season as head Coach. He is married to Mary Louise Purdy formerly of Loudon. Mr. Watkins parents are Mrs. Ray Watkins and the late Mr. Watkins of Loudon. Thus the Redskin followers will have some mixed emotions this week when Friday night rolls around. Loudon is figured a loss up

CHEROKEES BECOME MOHICANS.—Two of Greenback stellar defensive performers Tim Hammontree (32) and Jimmy Brooks (64) have altered their tribal head-dress of school nickname of Cherokees to Mohawk hair cuts in preparing themselves for the "heavy big" war party from Porter to arrive in Greenback on Friday night.

Golf Tourney In Final Week

Ferguson is currently on top with a three week score of 212. Henry has a three week total count of 213. Inky Swiney is battling for third place with a 220 mark followed closely by Jack Hodge (221) and Ed Arnold (222).

possible victories. Of course, Cleveland is one AA school. Athens, Ala., which is a Class AAA team in that state, comes up to only AA standards in the Volunteer State. Athens has an enrollment of 894 and the cutoff here is 1,000 for AAA schools. When the team was scheduled, Bradley officials thought it to be another AAA opponent. But Bob Baldrige of the TSSAA informed Buck otherwise.

Campbell, Brewster, Kiser Lead Loudon Defense

Redskins Catch-Up To Sweep Past Panthers 20-14

ALMOST CAUGHT—Loudon's R. L. Bramum almost pulls this pass down for a sizable gain but the ball slipped through his fingers as Lenoir City's Buddy Jones (25) is on the scene for the Panther defensive secondary.

Loudon continued to be plagued with fumbles and momentum killing break downs in both the offensive and defensive line Friday night, but came from behind to defeat Lenoir City 20-14 for the first win over the Panthers in three years.

Loudon had seven fumbles in the game and lost two to bring their three game total to 18 fumbles with seven lost to enemy hands. The Redskins entered the game a touchdown favorite and a third place power rating among class double-A teams in Region Two football, but had to struggle all the way in coming from behind scores of 7-0 and 14-7 to and finally take charge 20-14 with 11 minutes and 18 seconds left in the football game.

Lenoir City lost the toss but held Loudon in check at the Redskins 25 yard line. The Panthers took a 35 yard Sam Lyle punt and drove from their own 41 yardline for a touchdown in 14 plays. The improving young Panthers rolled to four first downs with Mike Walker and Junior Johnson getting most of the real estate on up the middle power slants. Walker plunged into the end zone with 3:41 to go in the first quarter and also scored the conversion point for a 7-0 early Panther lead.

Loudon got off a 23 yard kickoff return by Dennis Queen only to have the junior back racked for a fumble at the Loudon 29 yard line by a host of Lenoir City tacklers. Jeff Wiskeyer recovered the football and Lenoir City was in excellent field position once again. A 15-yard pass interference call on the Redskins secondary moved the ball to the 15 yard line. Walker knocked on Lenoir City. Loudon was just as determined with Nat Campbell, Brad Brewster, Tim Guider, Mike Yates, Dennis Rowe, and Steve Kiser stopping the Panthers for seven yards in three carries on the ground. A 32-yard punt had Loudon operating from the Loudon 30 yard stripe. A bullet pass to

Sam Lyle from Queen moved the football past mid-field and down to the Lenoir City 40 yard marker. A Rick Melton run of 10 yards had still another first down at the Panther 30. From here the Redskins need just six plays for Dennis Queen to find Sam

Cherokees Clip Friendsville 31-8 To Remain Unbeaten

Greenback's senior fullback Tim Hammonree scored two touchdowns and senior quarterback Tony Linginfeller passed for one TD and scored another on a 60 yard punt return as Greenback retained its first place hold on the Foothills Athletic Conference standings with a 31-8 trouncing of Friendsville.

Greenback, very much in contention for the Region One, Class A division title this fall as well as possible conference honors fell behind early in the game on a 23 yard pass play by the Falcons. Friendsville made the score 8-0 as they successfully went for a two point conversion.

The Cherokees cut the score to 8-7 before the first period closed as Tim Hammonree ramblined over the goal line from the five yard line and kicked the conversion attempt. Greenback's defense found Friendsville inside their own 30 before taking the football on a fumble recovery by Bill Joe Kyker. Greenback started to move the ball but a fumble, one of three lost in the game, ended the drive momentarily but Harold Hawkins intercepted a Friendsville pass on their first offensive try to give the ball back to the Cherokees. Tony Linginfeller propelled the Cherokees down the field missing his maneuvers masterfully in a combination of runs and passes that got Greenback over the Friendsville goal in seven plays. This

77 yard parade was capped by seven yard scoring strike to Harold Hawkins. Greenback got the ball back for one more scoring drive in the waning minutes of the first half with Tim Hammonree fighting his way into the end zone from the Friendsville seven.

Greenback substituted freely in the second half as they carried a 19-8 lead through much of the third period. A 25 yard return of a pass interception by Sandy Graham made the score 25 to 8 at the close of the third quarter.

The Cherokees rattled the score board one more as Tony Linginfeller put the crowd on its feet with a sparkling 60 yard punt return for a touchdown to start the fourth quarter.

Friendsville managed to managed to get but one yard as Loudon's defense began to dig in. In the conversion pass plays had the Panthers attempted a field goal on fourth and nine. The attempt was a diversion in foot the Loudon defense and Lenoir City quarterback Mike McConkey rolled out to pass. Loudon's defensive back R. L. Bramum was ready and picked off the aerial and returned it up to the Loudon 42 yard line.

Loudon could get but six yards on three tries by senior fullback David Surrett and Lenoir City's offense also stalled and in the punt exchange managed to launch but a 17 yard lead under a heavy Loudon defensive rush.

Loudon started to roll with Rick Melton gaining six yards and Junior quarterback Dennis Queen hitting classmate Sam Lyle with an 18 yard pass and a first down. A 15 yard holding penalty had Loudon back into their own territory and after three incomplete passing attempts were again on defense.

Lenoir City tacked on 15 yards and a first down off the efforts of Walker and senior steed Lindsey. A 15 yard holding penalty wiped out the Panther march and forced the Lenoir City team to pass. A spirited rush resulted in a fumble by McConkey some 16 yards behind the line of scrimmage and Loudon's Jimmy Bivens was quick to recover the ball. Preston McQueen accounted for the turnover with a crashing

Contest Perfection Strikes Again

For only the second time in its 11 years the winner of the Herald Football Contest had a perfect entry including the exact score on the tie-breaker. Mary Stevens, Rt. 1, Loudon, along with eight other people correctly picked the winners of all 10 games in the contest, but she also had 34 points in the tie-breaker game (Loudon 20-Lenoir City 14). You can't get any better than perfect and it is worth 12 first place money.

Second place with 10 games correct and a 30 tie-breaker is a previous winner this year C. A. Robertson, 613 Ferry Street, Loudon. He wins $2. Third place is shared by Gary Hall, Lenoir City and Lee Hill of Knoxville. Each had 28 points on the tie-breaker and 19 correct games. Each will receive $2.50. All winners must pick up their cash prizes at the Herald office.

Others who had all the games correct this week were Myrtle Robertson, Phil Watkins, Solmer Maynard, Charles Helms and Mrs. Gary Atkins.

A new slate of games is ready for the fourth week of the contest as is $25 in cash for the winners.

Squirrel hunting is fair to poor in most counties. The best results are in early morning and late afternoon and in oak and hickory thickets. Dove hunting is fair in most counties but as more fields are being cut birds are not as concentrated.

Hunters may get a chance to lose their "duck fever" during the teal season, September 22-30.

Reports from Game and Fish biologists say the teal concentrations are spotty and some flocks have already moved on southward. Aerial surveys show large flocks may contain 500 teal, mainly blue-winged.

Commission Game biologist Ron Fox reports that Tennessee's Barkley Reservoir, Hestwood Lake and outflows along the Mississippi may offer the most birds. He said recent cool weather could drive more restless teal toward Tennessee.

Bag limit for teal is 4 per hunter daily and possession limit is 8, except on opening day when both bag and possession limits are 4. Shooting hours are one hour after sunrise until one hour before sunset local time.

CANADIAN CATCH-Tim Clabough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilcox caught these two Northern Pike weighing three and half pounds and four and one quarter pounds and measuring 29 and 36 1/2 inches respectively while fishing on St. Joe's Island, Canada at Whiskey Bay. Tim vacationed on his fishing trip with his uncle, Emerson Holt, in Wisconsin, Michigan, Canada, and Niagara Falls.

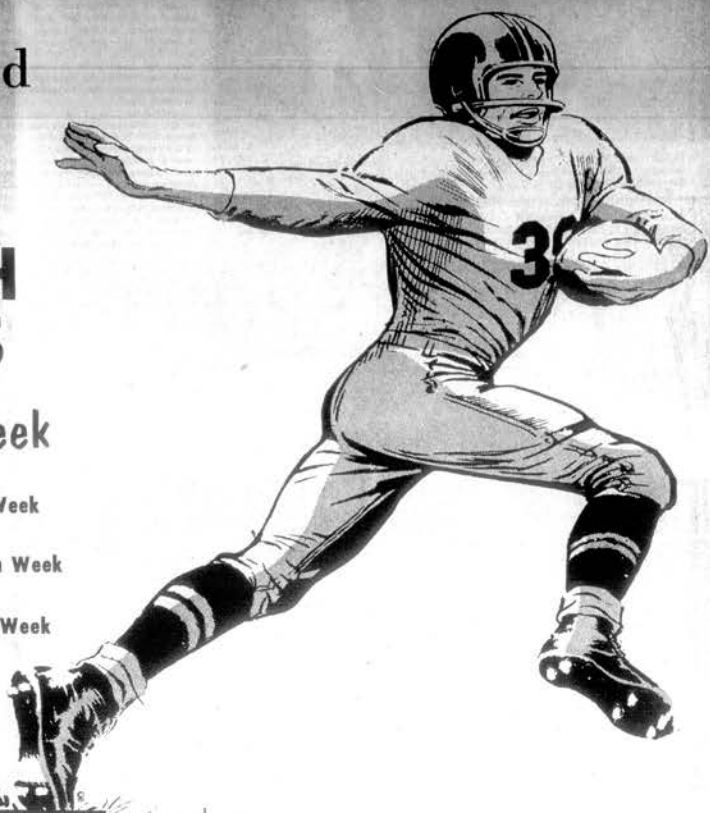

BARRY PEADEN of Loudon is shown with a 5 lb. 3 oz. Largemouth Bass that he caught last week while fishing in Watts Bar Lake.

Greenback Rumps Past Friendsville

dent the Greenback defense only once in the second half and that late in the third quarter. The Falcons drove to the Greenback eight yard line but a determined defensive front wall thrown up by the Cherokee line caused a fumble and Kyle Shepherd recovered for Greenback to clip the Falcons wings.

Offensively Greenback balanced their attack with Linginfelter carrying three times for 52 yards, Tim Hammontree had 44 yards on 10 carries, Sandy Graham rolled up 32 yards on three plays from scrimmage and Kyle Shepherd had 23 yards on six lots of the ball. Harold Hawkins was the top receiver with four catches for 63 yards.

Greenback's stellar defense was set in motion with Keith Hollins again the chief head hunter with 13 tackles. Bobby McNeilly and Jeff Tipton had 11 stops, while Kenny and Mike Evans assisted on a combine 20 tackles.

GRAHAM HEADS FOR PLAY-DIRT—Sandy Graham, Greenback running back and defensive back, returns a pass interception for a Cherokee touchdown out distancing the would-be Friendsville tacklers.

NO ESCAPE FOR THE FALCONS—An unidentified Greenback defensive man holds on to the ankle of this Friendsville ball carrier while waiting the help of Cherokee defenders Keith Hollins (80) and Mike Evans (50).

FIRST DOWN FOR CHEROKEES—Greenback tight end Bill Joe Kyker, a rangy 6'3" senior, takes this pass from quarterback Tony Linginfelter despite the defensive coverage by a would-be Friendsville defender and heads down field for a first down.

ON THE MONEY FOR LC—Lenoir City quarterback Mike McConkey used a swing pass to halfback Mike Walker in keeping the Loudon defense on their toes. Loudon won the battle of county rivals 20-14.

ROUNDING THE CORNER—Loudon's David Surret scrambles around a block by Nat Campbell to move the football past mid-field in the Friday night County headliner between Lenoir City and Loudon.

Loudon Rolls Over Panthers 20-14

Lyle roaming free in the Lenoir City end zone for seven yard touchdown pass. Kenny Skinner kicked the conversion attempt for a 7-7 score and only 38 seconds left in the first half.

The second half opened with both teams staging impressive defensive stands. Lenoir City's Mike Walker hit a booming 34 yard punt that Dennis Queen returned seven yards before fumbling. The Loudon offense register but eight yards in three plays and Lyle hit a return punt of 35 yards with Junior Johnson getting an eight yard return. Penalties plagued the Lenoir City offense and forced another punt, but Loudon's Porky Campbell failed to audible the pugin clean and Thompson pounced on the ball for Lenoir City at the Loudon 20 yard line.

Mike Walker booted the extra point for a 14-7 Lenoir City lead with 9:38 showing in the third stanza. Loudon quickly responded by the come from behind test with a six play 68 yard scoring drive. Dennis Queen returned the kickoff 30 yards to the Loudon 52. Johnny Deathridge lumbered off tackle for 22 yards to the Lenoir City 46 yard line. Deathridge again carried for six yards and a pitchout to David Surret gauged a nifty 20 yards and a first down at the Panther 18. Nelson tried the left side of the Lenoir City defense for six yards and Deathridge followed with a 12 yard power run up the middle for a touchdown. Skinner hit the extra point conversion for a 14-14 deadlock and the game had suddenly changed into a fast moving scoring exhibition.

PICKING UP REAL ESTATE—Loudon's fleet running back Rick Melton turns the speed as he totes the football for a neat 15 yard gain and a Loudon first down at the Lenoir City 30 yard line.

The fired up Loudon defense got strong tackles from Nat Campbell, Bivens, and Preston McQueen, while G.L. Braum, Danny Russell, and Surret stuck the Panther pass receivers on the ensuing drive. Lenoir City. The Panthers had to punt and with 1:30 left in the third quarter Loudon started to exercise their superior strength with a seven play scoring march that ended with a halfback touchdown pass from Dennis Queen to Jimmy Bivens covering 25 yards on the second play of the fourth quarter. John Lovelace was the quarterback on the maneuver as Loudon drove from the Lenoir City 46.

Lenoir City could do little with the Loudon defense in the final 11 minutes although they did manage to reach the Redskin 20 on a pass to Mike Walker. Loudon met the challenge head on and turned the Panthers back with Tim Guider stealing a pass with 2:23 to play. Lenoir City got the ball back for one last try with two minutes showing but kept the ball only for two plays as Danny Watkins got his second interception of the year and erased any doubt as to who would win the important "AA" tassel.

Both teams had outstanding individuals for the entire game. In the 1973 season Loudon was led by three backs on offense. Johnny Deathridge had the best night with 49 yards in six carries. David Surret moved the ball nine times for 30 yards, and Rick Melton, a sophomore, had 22 yards on eight tries from scrimmage. Sam Lyle was the big pass receiver in the game setting 52 yards on three catches and one touchdown.

Lenoir City got a stellar showing from Mike Walker who caught all evening and had 50 yard totals on 12 carries. Walker also had 22 yards on pass receptions. Junior Johnson was equally impressive with 76 yards and 10 calls to carry the football. Defensively Loudon was credited with 56 tackles. Steve Kiser and Brad Brewster had 11 and 10 respectively for the Redskins while Nat Campbell, G.L. Braum, Mike Yates, Tim Guider, Jimmy Bivens and Preston McQueen all handed some jarring leeks on Panther ball carriers.

Lenoir City was paced on defense by Jeff Walker. The tough 175 pound junior lineman was in on seven tackles and was assisted much of the night by Mike Walker, Buddy Jones, Sam Thompson, Carl Thompson, Jeff Blakney, and Steve Arnold.

The win for Loudon gives the Redskins a 2-1 record while Lenoir City slips to 1-2 for the early going of the season.

Divers Find Train Wheel

The Chattanooga based diving team, brought to Loudon by the City appointed Fort Restoration Committee, made their second attempt to locate the Civil War locomotives which are thought to be resting at the bottom of the river at Loudon.

In the first attempt of a month ago, certain factors observed by the highly skilled crew bore out the fact of the bridge burning and other related details. But limited time made it impossible to complete their investigation. A second try this week uncovered other possible confirming bits of evidence worthy of planning another exploratory diving expedition. It is planned for the near future. They found a train wheel which might be attached to a locomotive covered with silt.

The divers, who are highly experienced in diving and underwater treasure expeditions have been highly encouraged by some of their discoveries in the past two tries. They are very enthusiastic about future efforts in the project.

The Fort Restoration Committee feels that possibly someone has dates or other related information pertaining to this Civil War incident which might be helpful to them. They request that anyone having this type of information to please contact any member of the committee as soon as possible.

Tellico Trial Ends, Judge Taylor To Give Decision Soon

The Federal Court trial over the controversial Tellico Dam project ended last Thursday in Knoxville. Judge Robert Taylor gave John Brown, Environmental Defense Fund attorney and Beauchamp Brogan, TVA attorney, 10 days to file briefs to aid in his decision.

The court battle which has been two years in taking place, since an injunction obtained by the EDF and others stopped construction of the dam, located at the mouth of the Little Tennessee River at Lenoir City, lasted four days with the environmental groups on the stand for two days and TVA witnesses taking the final two days of testimony.

As the trial ended Mr. Brown received a final order of summary judgment from Judge J. Fay Guin Jr.'s Federal District Court of Northern Alabama. It was a ruling against the U.S. Soil Conservation Service preventing the organization from channelling Blue Eye Creek, a tributary of the Coosa River.

Judge Taylor asked for a copy of the order to read before handing down his opinion.

The stream-channellization case was decided on two issues raised against Tellico Dam—object life and interest rate.

The project life of Tellico Dam was given as 100 years, according to Mr. Brown. That is the maximum, he said, and benefit-cost ratios become more and more favorable as the project life is extended.

The other is interest rate. The interest rate charged in the SCS on the Blue Eye Creek project was 3 1/2 per cent—the same as TVA pays on the Tellico project. Opponents say the rate is an unfair advantage in that it causes the cost portion of the benefit-cost ratio to be very low.

It is expected that Judge Taylor's opinion on the Tellico project will be given close attention throughout the country by environmentalists and water-control structure builders alike.

No matter what his opinion, it is sure to be appealed to the U.S. Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati. Both sides freely admit that.

Both attorneys waived final argument Thursday afternoon as the last witness stepped down.

Greer Tidwell, Nashville, employe of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), told the court that his agency felt TVA should have gone into more detail on the industrial impact phase of the environmental statement.

He was called as the environmentalists' final witness to effect a clarification of a letter from the EPA to TVA. The letter contains a paragraph congratulating TVA on its cooperation and diligence in preparing the environmental impact statement.

TVA took that to mean the EPA liked its statement. The other side called Mr. Tidwell to the stand to make it clear. He said TVA could have done better.

TVA General Manager Lynn Seeber was TVA's final witness. He told the court that when the question of the statement came up, he knew he would have to do the final balancing between comments of all department heads.

Like all other TVA witnesses Mr. Seeber vowed the agency had examined alternatives given full study to the impact of industry, loss of agriculture and flooding of the valley, and said to the best of his knowledge the statement was made in good faith and had been done in a spirit of objectivity.

TVA chose Federal Court testimony yesterday to disclose formally that Boeing Aerospace Co. and the agency will combine to draw up a master plan for the proposed village, Timberlake, which is to be built on the shores of proposed Tellico Lake.

Dr. M. J. Foster, director of the agency's Division of Navigational Development and Regional Studies, continued testimony he began Wednesday. He went into detail about Timberlake economics.

Boeing would invest $62 million in the place, he said, while tract developers and other speculators would be expected to invest another $22 million to make the total $84 million.

Dr. Foster told the court the annual payroll for the area, if the dam and town are built, will be $100 million a year. The impact statement gives the projected population as 50,000.

When TVA took the stand Wednesday Dr. M. J. Foster, director of TVA's Division of Navigational Development and Regional Studies said he believed the benefits of the project in the projects Environmental Impact Statement are real.

He said his division helped justify the project by estimating just how much transportation cost would be saved by building the dam on the mouth of the Little Tennessee River and a canal between the resulting Tellico Lake and existing Fort Loudoun Lake.

The estimate was made on the strength of another supposition—that barge-oriented industry would locate on the shores of Tellico Lake.

His division took comparable areas with waterfront industry and—in effect—mentally transported it to the shores of the projected lake.

Dr. Foster said special placement opportunities and increased fish and wildlife incidence. Environmentalists insist it is now the best trout stream in the Southeast, a perfect family fish stream and a good fly-fishing stream in season.

He exhibited maps and slides which showed Tellico

Dam could have reduced Chattanooga flooding in March by over two feet. He would have reduced losses about $15 million, he testified.

Mr. Brown, on cross-examination, asked why TVA didn't include the 1939 Chattanooga Flood Plan's suggestions in the environmental impact statement. The plan calls for levees and dikes along the Big Branch and Bragan, TVA attorney, countered by reminding Mr. Sliger that farm price figures used in the statement come out only once every five years and that the figures were not available when the statement was being composed.

Mr. Brogan—over objections by the opposing side—asked Mr. Sliger "if jobs brought in 100 million over the $10 million you say would be caused by agricultural loss, that would still be an improvement, wouldn't it?"

"Yes," Mr. Sliger answered, "if that were the case."

He asked Mr. Elliott if he considered the National Environmental Policy Act a "new national need and objective," and charged that the environmental impact statement was written from 1968 data and not reevaluated in 1970 when the NEPA was put into effect.

Mr. Elliott argued that the agency had reviewed the project in the light of NEPA and that TVA Attorney Beauchamp Brogan came to his feet to declare that NEPA "doesn't require continuous reevaluation of an ongoing project."

Mr. Elliott testified that the Western Band of Cherokees, in Oklahoma, had offered no resistance to the project and had written a commending letter to the agency for its concern about preserving ancient burial sites and burial places.

Mr. Brown angrily objected to the letter, written by Tribal Counsel Earl Pierce. He said Mr. Pierce had been one of the original plaintiffs in the suit when it was first filed in Washington and that he and Mr. Pierce had discussed the environmentalists' side of the case in confidence. At recess the objection precipitated an argument down the aisle and into the hall between opposing lawyers.

Wallace Duncan, associate of Mr. Brown, said outside the courtroom, "He (Pierce) waffled! It's not fair to introduce testimony from someone who switched sides like that."

TVA contends industrial and lake-oriented recreation would be more than compensated for losses.

Robert Sliger, UT Agricultural Extension Program director in Monroe County, was the final witness for the plaintiff.

Mr. Sliger disputed TVA's assertion that production of Class I, II, and III land in the 38,000-acre valley is $48 per acre. Class IV is pasture land and makes up the rest of the agricultural portion of the valley.

Mr. Sliger described the riverbottom land as "extremely fertile." He also testified that TVA's statement had not taken into account the loss of revenue from farm-related businesses like feed and machinery.

Beauchamp Brogan, TVA attorney, countered by reminding Mr. Sliger that farm price figures used in the statement come out only once every five years and that the figures were not available when the statement was being composed.

Mr. Brogan—over objections by the opposing side—asked Mr. Sliger "if jobs brought in 100 million over the $10 million you say would be caused by agricultural loss, that would still be an improvement, wouldn't it?"

"Yes," Mr. Sliger answered, "if that were the case."

The testimony began with Wallace Guin, director of the Division of Planning and Development of the State Conservation Department, advising on scenic river status for the Little Tennessee River and parks and archeological development for the valley. He challenged TVA on a dozen points that fall within his expertise. He said he could understand TVA's "very optimistic" predictions for the area around the river be damned since, "we all tend to look to the side that will make us look better." He noted that TVA was "half-done with the project when the statement was called for and composed" and that it is only natural that the agency submit a statement favorable to itself.

He argued with TVA's position that the Little T is not suitable for a scenic river because it is not wild and dangerous.

"That is not the criteria," he said. "The Buffalo is an example of a pastoral river in the Sevier River System."

TVA, Boeing Working On Timberlake Plan

The Tennessee Valley Authority and the Boeing Aerospace Company have agreed to jointly prepare a general plan for the new town of Timberlake on Tellico Lake.

The agreement also provides for preparation and negotiation of a detailed contract that would define TVA and Boeing responsibilities in a public-private "partnership" envisioned for carrying out the Timberlake plan.

The agreement is subject to the outcome of the current legal action in U.S. District Court involving the Tellico project, TVA said. Actual physical development of Timberlake would await completion of the Tellico project itself.

Since 1971 the Boeing Company has studied the feasibility of its participation in development of the new town. Earlier this year TVA invited Timberlake proposals from firms nationwide with community development experience. Although several firms expressed interest, TVA said, only Boeing offered a detailed and specific proposal.

The Tellico project will create a 33-mile-long reservoir on the lower Little Tennessee River, and the new lake is expected to attract industrial, residential, and recreation development.

In 1969, the Tellico Area Planning Council, representing the area's local governments, recommended to TVA that a "model new community of national significance" be created to accommodate this development.

Timberlake planning has involved TVA, state and local agencies, and private consultants.

jobs. Combined with recreational growth and population growth trends, planners believe this would support a self-sufficient, water-oriented community of about 30,000 people along the lakeshore.

A basic goal of the Timberlake planning is to create a livable community that demonstrates innovative solutions to various urban problems—control of air and water pollution, a natural setting with convenient access, high-quality services, and other objectives—TVA said.

Upgrading City Seen As Means Of Keeping Stable Tax Base

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second article in a series on the Loudon Neighborhood Analyses which is available in the Loudon Municipal Building.

If you want something done, do it! The Loudon Regional Planning Commission knows this, and they have already started the ball rolling. Their action has taken the form of a Neighborhood Analyses report in which, with the assistance of the Tennessee State Planning Office, they have made "concrete" recommendations for the improvement of blighted areas of Loudon.

According to the report, "the upgrading of Loudon is essential for several reasons: 1. To maintain the city tax base. 2. To keep Loudon a desirable place for people to live. 3. To make the city a suitable location for new industry."

Neal Brings Experience To Inspectors Job

A new, full-time building commissioner for Loudon County has been appointed by the Loudon County Planning Commission and the county court. He is Barry Neal, 22, of Lenoir City.

As building inspector, Neal's duties involve issuing all building permits; issuing all certificates of occupancy; issuing and renewing, where applicable, all temporary use permits; maintaining and keeping current zoning maps; making and maintaining records pertaining to these duties; and conducting inspections as required in the Zoning Resolution. The building inspector is authorized to enter any premises for the purpose of making inspections of buildings or premises

Sorority Sets Rummage Sale

The Gamma Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority will hold its annual Rummage Sale October 5 and 6 at the Matlock Building in Lenoir City.

The many items will include a set of cookware, some chairs, clothes, shoes, and some real good junk.

Sorority members have been gathering items for months; there will be a good choice of items from which to choose.

goals, however, the commission will need the cooperation of all branches of local government and citizens.

The report notes two basic approaches that should be considered in any plan of action; that is, the "prevention of new blighting conditions" and the "elimination of all existing blighting conditions."

Since the report notes that "the principle factors contributing to blight in Loudon are conflicting land uses, lack of adequate building code enforcement in the past, poor structural maintenance, low income, unsanitary conditions, low educational levels, over-crowded lots and lack of adequate employment opportunities," it makes a number of recommendations geared towards solving these problems.

These recommendations are: 1. Continued enforcement of the following code to prevent new blighting conditions in both residential and non-residential areas; building, plumbing, electrical, and gas codes.

2. Continued enforcement of the subdivision regulations. The proper enforcement of Loudon's Subdivision Regulations will provide reasonably good streets and building lots of adequate size.

3. Enforcement of the zoning ordinance. Strict adherence to the zoning ordinance will prevent an increase in conflicting land uses and the blighting factors associated with them, such as noise and traffic congestion.

4. Continued recruiting of new industrial development so that low incomes, which are one of Loudon's most significant blighting factors, can be raised.

Eliminating Blighting Conditions
In order to eliminate existing blighting conditions, the report recommends that the city government "eliminate all vacant dilapidated structures; have them rehabilitated and are safety hazards. Owners of vacant structures are encouraged to make needed repairs. The city can aid in this by strictly enforcing its housing code compliance program."

Right now, funds are needed for 75 units of public housing to replace structures in blighted condition. Approximately 125 units will be needed in the near future. These funds should be sought from the federal government as soon as possible so that work can begin in this area.

Substandard structures should not be re-occupied after becoming vacant until they meet the requirements of existing codes. Existing structures could also be used to eliminate such nuisances as abandoned automobiles, junk piles, weeds, garbage, etc.

Finally, a program should be established to inform property owners whose homes are in need of major repair about the low interest loans which are available from the F a r m e r s H o m e Administration.

Urban renewal aimed at preventing the spread of blight into good areas, rehabilitating areas that can be economically restored, and clearing and redeveloping areas that cannot be saved is needed in several areas of Loudon. To do this, coordination of available public and private resources must be sought.

Caring for your community takes effort and cooperation from all sectors, both private and official. If you are interested in working to improve your community, copies of the Neighborhood Analyses report are available at the Loudon Municipal Building.

Cpl. Liles In Marine Exercise "Deep Furrow"

Marine Lance Corporal David W. Liles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard L. Liles of Route 1, Lenoir City, is participating in a NATO amphibious training exercise named "Deep Furrow."

Activities include naval maneuvers, a multi-nation amphibious landing and air support operations. The annual exercise, being held in the Eastern Mediterranean, includes units from the U.S., Greece, Turkey, Italy and the United Kingdom.

A 1971 graduate of Lenoir City High School, he joined the Marine Corps in September 1972.

ready to catch the school bus, gets her baby up and buses herself with household activities. She is usually home when her children return from school. She is active in the PTA of the Philadelphia Elementary School, having worked with the school cheerleaders extensively.

This sounds like a typical lifestyle and it is, except for one more activity, she is a full time student at Tennessee Wesleyan College majoring in elementary education and hoping to get her degree in three years.

Judy Millsaps, wife of Homer Allen Millsaps, Route 1, Philadelphia, Tenn. is a second semester sophomore this fall at TWC. She has been on the Honors List and Dean's List for academic achievement and hopes to do graduate study in learning disabilities and related areas.

Her husband and his two brothers have a 350 acre dairy farm and she and her husband have a 200 acre beef farm to care for. Her daughter is a Girl Scout, in 4-H, and a member of the Children's Choir at the First Baptist Church of Philadelphia. Both Judy and her husband sing in their church choir. Judy admits she could not keep up the pace without help from her husband.

"It has made us closer," she said, "because we are all committed to a goal. I must budget my time to get everything in, and when I get discouraged, Homer and the children give me support."

"There were problems and fears at first," she continued, "but one by one these are overcome. Our parents and friends help a lot. The adjustment to college life would have been much more difficult without them." Judy's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Ross of Loudon and Homer's parents are Mr. and Mrs. D.C. Millsaps of Philadelphia.

Price Support Hinges On Certification

Price support on 1973 tobacco crops in Loudon County hinges on producers certifying that pesticides containing DDT and TDE were not used on their crops after they were planted in the field, says Fred Pippis, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.
Mr. Pippis said certification forms have been mailed to each tobacco farm operator. It was in the form of a double post card and one section was to be completed and returned to the County ASC Office. Each producer is asked to complete the certification as to whether or not DDT or TDE was used on the tobacco before a marketing card is issued, he stated. Producers using the prohibited pesticides or mixtures thereof, or those failing to file a certification, will be ineligible for price support on their crops.
As in 1972, random samples will be taken from tobacco at the time of marketing. These samples will be chemically analyzed to determine DDT-TDE residue. If any false certification concerning use of these materials is a violation of Federal Law, the chairman cautioned.
Both domestic and foreign buyers continue to be concerned about the level of DDT and TDE in their purchases. Some have indicated they may reduce or curtail their purchases in these areas this year. "All of us must do our part to keep our tobacco program and market strong. The cooperation of all tobacco producers is needed," Mr. Pippis said.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Once in awhile we have our readers send us pictures which are similar to some we have used before. Sometimes there is enough difference to make it possible to run them and not be a disappointment to our kind readers. Such is the case this week with an old Blair's Ferry picture. This picture was taken many years ago and has some very unusual things about it that depict the history of this area. This bus was the first bus on an old bus line which was started by Roy Gibrath of Lenoir City. It was later sold to the Tennessee Coach Co. The Stafford boys of Lenoir City which included Jim and Moody and their brothers were the drivers. Anyway, this is pictorial history of a high point in transportation in our area as well as all of East Tennessee. Also, note how small the river was then in comparison to its size today. Another picture we have this week is one loaned to us by Mrs. Mae Cox. The occasion of the picture is the birthday of Mrs. Cox's father, the late Mr. Moore. We can only identify one of the young ladies in the picture. The one on Mr. Moore's right is Mrs. James (Wanda) Stewart. The other picture this week reminded us of something from the Good Old Days. We have had the good fortune of having been a part of the lives of boys growing up in all sections of our town and we will elaborate on some of these briefly. We are sure they will bring many memories back to our readers who grew up in Loudon.

We will begin with the Talliferd (or as you might know it) the Tollyver Dip area. The boys were the Jones', the Johns, the Jettis, the Steeds, the Scarbroughs, the Williams, the Fox's, the Hauns and the Courtneys. The old Mexico area had Beans Hooker, Den Deford, the Presley boys, and the Williams boys who lived on Ferry St. but played with the Mexico boys most of the time.

I suppose the old swimming hole on Steekee creek just below the Dr. Joe Harrison spring was the point most attractive to all boys including myself. Of course, the Simpson boys and many others made up this group. The three boys in this old picture who grew up in this section of our town and most likely went swimming at this old location. The boys in the picture are T.L. Morgan, Biggin Morgan and the late Don Morgan. There were all brothers. This picture was left at the Herald office.

The fall season is here again and it won't be long until the coats and sweaters will make the daily scene. Some of our old time weather prophets are predicting a lot of snow this year. They claim the cycle of some recent mild winters put us in line for snow and cold temperatures. We sure hope not.

4,104 Locally With Limited Education

How many Loudon County residents are unable to earn an adequate income because of insufficient education? How many lack the basic reading, writing and arithmetic skills that are needed in better-paying jobs? Most local people have no such problems. Their educational background has been relatively good and has been rising steadily. It has reached the point where the median amount of schooling being acquired is now 9.1 years, a gain over 1960, when the median was 8.3 years. For those with little or no education, however, making a living is much more difficult. The problem is national in scope but is more pronounced in some sections of the country than in others. According to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, almost 19 million adult Americans are totally or functionally illiterate. By functionally illiterate is meant those who do not read and write well enough to understand a help-wanted ad, to fill out a job application form or to apply for unemployment insurance. In Loudon County, according to the latest figures from the Department of Commerce, there are 268 adults who have failed to complete at least one year of school. Another 1,395 completed from one to four years and 2,441 from five to seven years. The total who have not gone beyond that point is 4,104 in Loudon County. The illiteracy problem is brought into focus at this time because of the announcement of "Right to Read" grants to various states by HEW's Office of Education. They are intended to help in the national effort aimed at eliminating illiteracy. Funds for the grants have been authorized under the Cooperative Research Act. Thus far, they have gone to 31 states. The target for the aid is the 19 million adult Americans who are totally or functionally illiterate and another 7 million elementary and secondary school students who have severe reading difficulties.

Could you afford a big hike in furniture prices?

That's why railroads are essential.

Almost half of the furniture Americans buy is shipped by rail. Why do the furniture industry and so many other industries ship by rail? They know it's usually the most economical way to go. What's economical? Well, consider these figures for the thousands of things delivered by rail. The average cost per-ton-mile by truck is five times as much as by rail. Air shipping is fifteen times more expensive. And shipping by rail is dependable too. Put that together with economy and you have a good idea why you need railroads. And why you need Southern.

LET'S DINE IN STYLE

If you have ever been puzzled about setting up for a formal dinner party or a buffet for the crowd, attend a local Home Demonstration Club meeting the month of October and learn the details. I will be demonstrating table fashions and napkin folds at the clubs in October.

Buffet table appointments will be discussed. Setting a table for a buffet-style meal is a bit trickier than setting up for a formal dinner, because there are no fixed rules. A buffet table is informal because guests serve themselves. Yet this style of serving can be just as elegant as a formal dinner, depending upon how you decorate the table and how you serve.

One of the main reasons for serving buffet-style is that it's less work for the hostess than serving a sit-down meal. But less work is justified only if guests serve themselves and the buffet line moves along smoothly. To insure this, set up the buffet to make the best use of your space and in such a way that guests can serve themselves in a logical sequence. A guest should not be expected to carry napkins and silver when he's not ready for them—he needs one hand to hold his plate, the other to serve food.

INTERIOR DESIGN LEADERS—RUG DEMONSTRATION
 The Home Demonstration Club Interior Design Leaders will give demonstrations on Choice of Rug and Floor Coverings at the October Meetings. Come and bring a floor covering sample or question.

LATEST FASHION IS WRAP-AROUND

The wrap-around or side-wrapped closing is one of the latest fashion notes. This fashion emphasis—garments wrapped and tied at the left—shows up in coats, dresses, palazzo pants, halters, sweaters and blouses.

This style, reminiscent of the 30's and 40's, is being updated with new fabrics and colors. The raglan or dolman sleeves take star billing.

The soft, clinging look of many of the wrapped fashions is achieved by use of bias. When working with bias, certain construction steps are necessary to get a good fitting garment. To avoid stretching the bias areas, handle the garment as little as possible during construction. Stay-stitch true bias seams in the direction of the grain. Areas which are apt to stretch badly, can be stabilized with tape.

Skirts cut on the bias should be allowed to hang overnight before hemming. Fabrics with excessive stretch or give are not suitable for bias-cut garments. To reduce bulk and eliminate the necessity of facings, edges of wrap-around, garments are often bound. Self-binding can be made by cutting strips of the desired width on the true bias.

To cut a true bias, fold the fabric so that the crosswise threads lie on top of lengthwise threads. Mark strip the desired width, then cut carefully along the markings.

If the strips have to be joined together, place the bias strips at right angles to each other with the right sides together and stitch. Seams should be pressed open.

For a further look at new fall fashions, plan to attend the Fashion Show and Tea sponsored by the Home Demonstration Club's of Loudon County. The Show will be at the Lenoir City High School Cafeteria Thursday night, October 4 at 7:30 P.M. Four-Hers in the county will be doing the modeling. Cost of admission to cover refreshments will be 50 cents. I hope to see you there.

State Official Tours County

A visit by Dr. Pat Choate, Tennessee Commissioner of Economic and Community Development, last Friday left the feeling that state aid for the proposed water system along the Highway 411 corridor is a very real possibility.

The invitation to Dr. Choate was to show him the need for the water system, Tellico Area Services System, and to illustrate the need regardless of the result of the Tellico Dam project which Governor Dunn opposes.

Dr. Choate told the group at lunch, "you don't have to convince me of the need for a water system in this area."

He added that he does not believe the TASS project "is in conflict with the governor's position on the Tellico Dam project."

The two counties have received a $1-million grant, $500,000 each, from the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The water system will cost about $2.3-million and the counties have applied for an additional $450,000 from the Appalachian Regional Commission.

State Rep. Benny Stafford pointed out that the TASS project is not dependent on the resolution of the Tellico Dam project.

"Regardless of what happens to the Tellico project," he said, "the water system is still needed and will have to be developed."

JOHN HAYS, engineer for TASS, added that the water plant is "designed as an expandable plant. We can go ahead without the results of the Tellico project."

The plan could be built now and it would be adequate to service the area's need for water. If Tellico is approved, the plan could be expanded.

The Appalachian Regional Commission is part of the Federal government, but recommendations from the state are usually followed. Dr.

Choate's department makes the recommendations for the commission.

Greenback and Vonore have no public water facilities and Madisonville's water system serves only 63 percent of the city's needs. The plan originally was to build a system for Greenback and Vonore, but Madisonville has an acute water shortage and a lie-in is the logical move, it was pointed out.

Loudon County Judge Harvey Sproul said that eventually, "over a 20 to 30 year period", the water system could tie part of the South Blount Utility District, Greenback, Vonore, Madisonville, Sweetwater, Loudon, and Lenoir City together for the benefit of the entire area.

Judge Sproul recognized the differences of opinion over the Tellico Dam project and said, "The two counties have been planning for all the contingencies of Tellico comes and if it does not."

THE TOUR ALSO included areas for possible industrial growth and a short tour of Do Loat Sea, since Dr. Choate's department is interested in tourism.

The group visited industrial sites in Loudon, Lenoir City, Sweetwater, Madisonville, and looked at some of the construction being done on Interstate 75.

Judge Sproul, in talking about the industrial potential of the area said, "The area is situated so it is bound to develop."

Its location near major transportation routes—the Tennessee River, Interstate 75, Highways 11, 70 and 411, and easy rail connections were cited as favorable conditions.

There are 7640 acres of industrial land in Monroe and Loudon Counties and another 2650 acres in south Blount County, Judge Sproul said.

During the tour, the projected site of the water plant was observed.

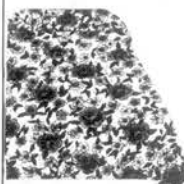

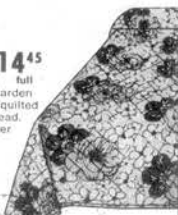

Plans call for the plant to be built at the 411 Bridge over the Little Tennessee River on the eastern side of the Highway and bounded on the north by Highway 72.

Hawkins Snags 3 TD Passes

Cherokee Line Plays Outstanding

Greenback Streaks From Behind In Last 1:34 To Upset Mighty Porter 29-21

Greenback exploded for two touchdowns in the last 1:34 of the football game Friday night to hand defeat to the Panthers. Conference grid champions and Region One Class A power, Porter, a 29-21 setback. The Cherokee, unbeaten in four games to date, vaulted into the title chase for the state playoff berth in Region One with unbeaten Lake City, Coalfield and Walland as a result of the important win. Walland and Greenback, both members of the Foothills Conference, will put the conference championship on the line in two weeks with the winner probably facing Coalfield in the State Playoffs. Lake City plays four double-A schools in their final four games of the regular season and appear doubtful in keeping their record clean from one or more defeats.

The punt was fumbled by Porter recovering at the Greenback 36 as safety man Tony Linginfeller and Harold Hawkins ran together. Porter needed but four plays to tally a touchdown and extra point conversion for a 7-0 first quarter lead.

Greenback got the football out on the 27 yard line on the kickoff and a pass to Kyker from Linginfeller got the Cherokee moving. Three consecutive Cherokee first downs and a 23 yard scamper by Linginfeller had the ball resting at the Porter 12 yard line in two weeks with the winner probably facing Coalfield in the State Playoffs. Lake City plays four double-A schools in their final four games of the regular season and appear doubtful in keeping their record clean from one or more defeats.

and Hammontree plunged for the touchdown and booted the extra point as the first quarter ended in a 7-7 deadlock.

The eight play scoring drive of 63 yards gave the Cherokee the confidence that they could penetrate the tough Porter defense.

The Cherokee, who had not won in football against the Panthers in four years, got off to a slow start in recording their fourth win of the season. The Cherokee had to come from behind twice to turn back the favored Panthers, but never had their spirit broken as the Greenback student body and boosters encouraged their team to not yield to the big Porter edge. Many Greenback boosters never left their feet in the second half.

The Cherokee won with excellent passing game. Not known for their aerial strength the Panthers quickly ran into trouble with Greenback's Harold Hawkins picking a stray pass at the Porter 47. The Cherokee moved the ball past the 40 yard line and the Porter line failed to deny the passing game himself. A home run bomb to the feeting Harold Hawkins to cap a five third quarter surprise quick kick by Greenback altered the game from three downs and punt format. Nevertheless the physically stronger Panthers began to display a trace of their over-powering weight and muscle. In the fourth period as Greenback's defense started to show signs of being drained of their holding power.

With 3:27 left in the ball game the Cherokee faced a fourth down punting situation and the boot went to the Greenback 45 where a Porter player waited and returned the kick down the right sideline for a touchdown and what appeared to be the right breaker in trimming the Cherokee's hard playing effort. But Greenback quickly hustled out to take the kickoff as the Cherokee boosters gave the cheerleaders a sounding of their own horns.

practically stole the offensive show for Lenoir City as they combined for 274 yards of the Panthers 387 yards of total offense. Walker, the dazzling senior running back had 171 yards rushing on 26 carries for the night and scored three times. He also made six tackles.

Junior Johnson was just a few steps behind Walker with 103 yards rushing on 19 carries and one touchdown and one two point conversion run.

Other Lenoir City ball carriers figuring into the victory were Reed Lindsey, Bobby Smith, and Jeff Conner with a total of 73 yards of offense.

Defensively Lenoir City had several standouts with Mike Walker spear-heading the defense. Sam Thompson and Jeff Blakney were in on 10 tackles respectively with each turning up with a fumble recovery. Steve Arnold and Jeff Walker played well on defense and had a fumble recovery and pass interception for their rewards on defense respectively.

Lenoir City 8 5 5 8 - 26
Knox, Carter 7 0 7 0 - 14

LOWERING HIS HEAD—Lenoir City's workhorse senior running back Mike Walker lowers his head for still more yardage Friday night as he was a one man wrecking crew in barraging over Carter tacklers in the Panthers 26-14 triumph.

ALL PUSH TOGETHER—Lenoir City running back Junior Johnson, who ran for 101 yards appears to be getting an extra push from the blocking of teammate Mike Walker.

Walker And Johnson Carry Panthers Past Carter 26-14

Lenoir City had to come from behind twice Friday night as stubborn Knoxville Carter refused to buckle under a constant battering by Panther running backs Mike Walker and Junior Johnson. The Panthers finally put the game out of reach in the fourth quarter with a touchdown and two point conversion for a 26-14 victory. The win left Lenoir City all even for the season at 2-2. The Green Hornets dropped to 1-3.

Walker's one yard dive into the end zone. The try for a two point conversion was no good as Carter deflected a Panther pass attempt. Knoxville Carter rallied early in the second half to regain the lead from the Panthers on 13 yard pass maneuver. The PAT kick was good and the Hornets were on top 14-12.

Lenoir City behind the 1-2 running punch of Walker and Johnson marched down the field on the ensuing kickoff for 81 yards and the go-ahead touchdown in the winning minutes of the third quarter. Junior Johnson raced the last six yards of the scoring drive to give the Panthers an 18-14 lead as the try for a two point conversion was denied on an incomplete pass.

with a first quarter touchdown on a 14 yard aerial. Lenoir City fought back to make the score 7-6 as Mike Walker knifed his way for a touchdown from the Hornet two yard line. Walker missed the extra point conversion giving the Carter eleven the edge after one period.

The Panthers continued to stay with a grinding ground game in forging to 12-7

Contest Editors Get Even

The Herald Football Contest Editors got even this week after so many persons correctly picked all the winners the previous week. No one of the hundreds that entered last week got all 10 games correctly and only six persons picked nine winners. Of the six, five share in the $25 cash prize and all are familiar names in the contest.

First place with nine correct and a 33 point tie breaker is Mrs. D. E. Thompson of Philadelphia. She wins $12.

Second place money of $8 with nine right and a tie-breaker of 30 points (a correct tie-breaker would be 32) was Helen Lawson of Loudon. Three persons had 28 points on the tie-breaker and each will receive $1.67. They are Maurice Hill, Knoxville; Garlin Moser, Jr., Madisonville; and Bruce Lawson of Loudon.

The only person who got nine games right and missed on the money was Jim Sitar. He picked 27 points.

Super-Charged Vols Skin Tigers, 21-0

In a strange sort of confrontation, packed with emotion, the undefeated Tennessee Vols crushed Auburn, 21-0, and reaped sweet revenge for the indignities of the past three seasons.

"For the first time since I've been head coach, we're 1-0 in the Southeastern Conference," Tennessee's elated Bill Battle said.

Shug Jordan, the Auburn coach, did not meet Battle at midfield after the game to shake hands, one of the protocol gestures of college football.

making 10 individual tackles and returning an intercepted pass for 38 yards and a touchdown to add fourth quarter frosting to a lousy victory.

Auburn partisans, since last season, had hurled a barrage of insults toward the Vols, and it backfired.

"I can't begin to describe how much we wanted this one," said Vol fullback Haskell Stanback.

Ex-Lanier star Larry Satterfield, starting his second game at guard this season said there was nothing special about the pregame instructions in the locker room.

"It's been kind of tough for me to shake his hand for three years," Battle remarked.

The game turned on the first play, an Auburn fumble which set up a Ricky Townsend field goal. Eddie Brown's pass interception early in the second quarter triggered a 42-yard drive, climaxed by a seven-yard drive, climaxed by a seven-yard touchdown pass from Coudredge Holloway to Emmon Love.

Tennessee made it 13-0 on another field goal late in the half—before torrential rains began. After that, the Vols put on their hat of conservatism and twice punted on first down.

"I didn't want us to play around with the ball in that rain," Battle said.

So time and again, the Vols gave the ball back to Auburn in a situation which almost defied Auburn not only had the rain to combat, but it also had the inspired Tennessee defense.

Linebacker Hank Walter had a great day, recovering the fumble on the first play.

Linebacker Hank Walter had a great day, recovering the fumble on the first play.

"He saw on the films that Auburn came with a power play up the middle on the first play of the game," Elliott said. "Lon told us I'm going to run my linebackers through the guards, knock the fullback into the tailback and cause a fumble on that first play."

"By golly, they did and fumbled, just like Lon said," Elliott said.

Elliott played at Auburn. "I respect 'em and love 'em, but I wanted to beat 'em so bad," he said. "And we beat 'em bad. It feels good."

Ex-Vol Baseball Great Dies

Former teammates of the 1951 Tennessee Volunteers baseball team which finished as runner-up for the NCAA baseball championship, will be pallbearers today for the funeral of John Huffstetter, one of the all-time Vol diamond greats.

Huffstetter, who still holds the record for most pitching victories in the 1940s (16) for an 800 average, died in San Francisco, La. Sunday after a heart attack.

B. B. Hopkins, Herky Payne, Ace Adams, and Sid Hatfield—all members of the '51 team—will be pallbearers for the services at Carpenters United Methodist Church in Blount County.

Huffstetter, born near Greenback, pitched and batted the Vols to the SEC championship in 1961. The Vols won 26 games that season, 16 among SEC foes, for school record. The 16 SEC mark and 25-4 overall mark are still UT records.

After graduation, he signed with the Knoxville Smokies of the Tri-State League.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, three daughters, and his father, Charlie Huffstetter, of Maryville.

Cherokees Defeat Porter seconds showing. An incomplete pass to Kizer stopped the clock with 15 seconds showing in the game.

On the second play from scrimmage Linginfelter looked to his favorite target of the night, Harold Hawkins, and for the third time during the game whipped a scoring pass to the ace receiver.

Linginfelter handed his way for a two point conversion and Greenback was back in the driver's seat with seven seconds left to play.

Just to add insult to injury (Greenback's Jimmy Brooks recovered the kickoff for Porter as the Panthers were never able to find the handle on the ball for a run back.

The final gun brought forth a Cherokee celebration that saw one of the most earth shaking victory dances by both players and fans.

Senior center Mike Evans, physically battered and worn out long before the game ended, was so moved by the comeback that he was racing up and down the field leading cheers of victory and skipped merrily into the dressing room before passing out while trying to remove his uniform to shower.

Greenback exhibited one fine performance Friday night, combining all the loose ends of their first three games of the season to look almost brilliant for four hard fought 12 minute quarters.

The Cherokees rolled to 13 first downs to just five for Porter. Controlled the ball for 57 of offensive plays to just 41 for the visitors and displayed class in weathering Panther leads.

Tony Linginfelter led the Greenback offense with 54 yards rushing on 13 carries. The talented senior field general passed for 177 yards, three touchdowns and a two point conversion. Harold Hawkins was the prime receiver for the night with 19 catches, more than he has caught in the first three games of the season all total.

Hawkins scored three touchdowns and registered 140 yards on passes caught.

Tim Hamontree rounded out the offense with 23 yards on 13 rushes from scrimmage.

Defensively the Greenback team played probably as great as it is capable. Keith Rollins, Dennis Childs, Rick Rader, Mike Evans, Tim Hamontree, Bill Joe Kyker, Bobby McNeilly, Jimmy Brooks, Harold Hawkins, and Sandy Graham all gave 110 percent plus in checking the Porter offense.

Loudon Freshman Football Team Blasts Chargers

JONES STOPPED—An Alcoa defender has Jackie Jones (40) by the face mask as another Alcoa player drags him down from behind in the Loudon-Alcoa freshman game last Thursday won by Loudon 30-8.

Loudon High School's Freshman football team ran the season record to 3-1 Tuesday night by defeating McMinn Central freshmen 18-7 at Athens.

The game was mostly a defensive battle with scoring coming on big plays. Loudon scored first in the second quarter with Greg Deathridge scampering 45 yards on an off-tackle play to put the Redskins out in front 6-0. After an exchange of punts Loudon fumbled and a Central player ran the ball to the one yard line where the Charger frosh scored on a one yard plunge and made their extra point.

Loudon tallied again before halftime as Quarterback Carter Cardwell returned the McMinn kick-off 75 yards to the Charger one then scored on an option. The extra point failed giving Loudon a 12-7 halftime edge.

The third quarter was scoreless, but Loudon got the final score of the game following a McMinn punt attempt that was blocked by Redskin end Sam Stewart. The score came on a pass from Deathridge to flankerback Kenny Starrit covering 25 yards.

Coaches Larry Bridges and Larry Collins said the win was a team effort, one of the best of the year and the team got good defensive play from ends Stewart and John Sweet and nose guard Sam Therap.

The Loudon freshmen host these same McMinn Central freshmen Tuesday night in a game to be played at DuKes field at 7:30 p.m.

Alcoa Tumbled By Redskin Frosh

After a spluttering first quarter the Loudon Freshman Football team caught fire and racked up 18 points in the second quarter and went on to defeat the visiting Alcoa Freshmen 30-8 at Loudon Thursday night. The win gives the Freshmen a 2-1 record.

Alcoa did all they could to help the Redskin Frosh fumbling the ball six times with Loudon getting possession five of those times.

With 4:18 remaining in the half Loudon led 18-0 with 57 seconds remaining in the half. On the first play Deathridge went upchucked into the Alcoa goal and Loudon led 18-0 with 57 seconds remaining in the half.

After an Alcoa punt early in the third frame with a blocked punt down and long yardage, Deathridge shot through a big hole on the left side of the Loudon line and raced 64 yards for the next score. Loudon led 24-0 with 6:38 remaining in the third quarter.

Quarterback Carter Cardwell completed a 31 yard pass to flankerback Kenny Starrit to put the ball on the one. Cardwell punched out two yards and Deathridge got the final yard to give Loudon a 12-0 lead.

Loudon defensive end Sam Stewart got the next Alcoa fumble at the visitors 21. On the first play Deathridge went upchucked into the Alcoa goal and Loudon led 18-0 with 57 seconds remaining in the half.

After an Alcoa punt early in the third frame with a blocked punt down and long yardage, Deathridge shot through a big hole on the left side of the Loudon line and raced 64 yards for the next score. Loudon led 24-0 with 6:38 remaining in the third quarter.

With 1:11 left in the third period Deathridge got another score on a 30 yard run giving Loudon a 30-0 advantage.

Alcoa's lone score came with Loudon two men short on the field. The play covered 46 yards. The visitors added two more points by running in their extra point try to bring the final score to 30-8.

Loudon came close to scoring twice more in the final quarter and kept Alcoa deep in their own territory.

Coverage of the game was provided by Darrell Tuck and photos by Tim Brewster.

Game & Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game and Fish Commission

Roland Martin picked up his third 1973 Bass Anglers Sportsman Society tournament win Friday, but his most important casting came after the event.

Martin, of Tulsa, Okla., was an easy winner after leading the contest since its beginning Wednesday. His total for the event was 10 fish weighing 21 pounds, six ounces. He added four bass weighing five pounds, three ounces, on Friday.

It was after the tournament had ended, though, that the golden-haired former fishing guide had to get down to the "nitty gritty" with his casting rod. He was tied with Robert Smith, Buckley Lake, Ohio, for second place in the luncheon contest. Both had six-pound, six-ounce Bigmouths.

Roy Scott, BASS president, decided to break the tie with a casting contest. Martin was able to put two casts into a ring life buoy at 40 feet out of 20 attempts. Smith fell to 19.

For his efforts, Martin won $3700, along with $750 for the big fish. Second place was Ricky Green, Arkadelphia, Ark., who struck nine pounds Friday to boost his total to 21.

Andy Seerurman, Newark, Ohio, finished third at 18.4, while Larry Hill, Winston-Salem, N.C., took fourth with 18.7. Fifth was Billy Westmorland, Celina, who carded 15.

Seerurman secured a $4000 bass boat and trailer with his seven-pound, one-ounce Largemouth that took contest luncheon honors. The fish was caught in the waning hours of the tournament on a blue plastic worm.

Tennesseans showed well among the 179 who participated. Sixteen Volunteer anglers placed in the top 35.

Some 12 bass were boated during the last day competition on Watts Bar Lake. They weighed just two ounces shy of 300 pounds. Contest officials reported that 148 arrived at the check-in station alive.

For the third straight day, no limits were caught. In fact, ninth-place Darrell McConkey of Englewood creel the most fish during the event. He had 10.

The team of internationally known experts engaged by the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission to review and evaluate its programs and operations has completed the second phase of its study according to Commission

Drum Majorette Rated Superior

WINS SUPERIOR AWARD—Miss Connie Huskey, senior drum majorette for the Loudon Marching Band, is pictured with Loudon Band Director Ray King in displaying her superior rating trophy she won at the Mid-South Band Festival this past weekend.

The Loudon Redskin Band and Color Guard received a "good" rating in performances held last weekend in Gadsden, Alabama. They were among over 40 bands from four different states to enter the competition.

The Redskin band were judged in the Class "C" division of bands with school enrollments of 400 to 500 students.

Miss Connie Huskey, drum majorette, received a trophy and a "Superior" rating with the other majorettes receiving an "excellent" plus rating.

Director Ray King stated he was very pleased with the ratings the band and majorettes received and would use the same show once more for the halftime show of the Loudon-McMinn Central football game Friday night.

Since coming to Loudon for his first year, Mr. King has built the band program up to a total of 160 people between grades five and 12.

He also stated that the band will compete in street drill competition at Sweetwater for Veteran's Day Festivities on November 11 and will perform in the Christmas Parade in Albion on December 3. The band will present their annual Christmas concert in December and hopes to help in presenting a Christmas parade for Loudon.

WHEN THE MATTER of the Mid East Community Action Agency came up on the agenda, Squire Foster asked Judge Sproul to report on a letter he had received from Roane County Judge Qualls suggesting a compromise between Mid East Community Action Agency Director Jack Smith and Arvill Clark who had been in charge of manpower programs. Judge Sproul said had not taken any action on the letter because "some of the assumptions it contained are not valid, at least as I see them."

He told the Court the controversy over the Manpower Programs "has been a source of great distress to me." He said it is "bad when people get crossways with each other."

Squire Blair again raised a question he had brought up early in the meeting. "We (Squires) signed this petition to get the money back ($48,000) slated for use for Loudon Counties at the Area Vocational Training School in Harritani and now I understand the petition is being used in Nashville to hold up the funds from being used at all."

Asked to explain the situation, Judge Sproul said he understood that Rep. Benny Stafford had asked the Governor's office to hold up programs in Loudon and Roane Counties until the controversy could be settled. "Mr. Stafford to tie up the program," Squire Blair protested.

"This Court didn't authorize the money to go to Roane County either," Squire Connor remarked.

Judge Sproul passed around copies of a resolution he had

Crawford Full Time Assistant To DA

District Attorney General Kenneth Deatherage announced last week that Assistant District Attorney John C. Crawford, III, is now a full time member of his staff.

Crawford, a Maryville attorney, has been working part time for the Attorney General's office since 1970.

In making the announcement, Deatherage said, "I am tremendously pleased to make this announcement. General Crawford has distinguished himself as a part time assistant, both during the time he served with the late District Attorney James P. Watkins and with me. He is an excellent legal scholar as well as a trial lawyer. His decision to broaden his service to his community and the people of the Fourth Judicial Circuit will insure to the betterment of law enforcements in this Circuit."

Training Seminars For Police Planned

More than 150 East Tennessee law enforcement officers are expected to attend regional in-service training seminars that are being held in three area cities through the month of November.

The seminars, coordinated by the East Tennessee Development District (ETDD) have been financed by a $34,000 grant from the Tennessee Law Enforcement Planning Agency. Sites for the classroom portions of the seminars include Alcoa, Maryville, Morristown, and Oak Ridge.

Topics of study include firearms training, scientific methods of investigation, patrol techniques, communications, state and federal laws, court procedures, community relations, and other areas of interest. Lecturers for the 48-hour seminars include local police officials, FBI agents, government and private attorneys, and additional officials with expertise in various other fields to be covered.

The seminars are available to all City and County law enforcement agencies throughout the 16 counties of the East Tennessee Development District. A breakdown of the seminar sites, and the counties they will serve, is as follows:

Oak Ridge—Anderson, Campbell, Claiborne, Morgan, Roane, and Scott Counties.
Alcoa—Blount, Knox, Loudon, Monroe, and Sevier Counties.
Morristown—Cocke, Grainger, Hamblen, Jef-

erson, and Union Counties.

Precursor training at the Oak Ridge site has already gotten underway. The first training session was held at the ORN, 7:30 p.m. range on September 25. Additional sessions, which last for eight hours will be held on October 2 and 16.

The classroom portion of the Oak Ridge sessions will consist of 32 hours of instruction, to be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, Mondays through Thursdays. The three sessions of the school will start on October 29 and November 5 and 12.

Specific details on both the firearms training and the classroom instruction at the Alcoa and Morristown seminars will be made available to county and city officials involved as soon as they are formulated, according to John W. Anderson, Jr., Executive Director of the East Tennessee Development District.

In addition, Anderson announced that Frank Erickson, a recent graduate of the University of Tennessee Law School, has been hired by ETDD as training manager of the seminars. As training manager, Erickson will be responsible for coordination with all law enforcement agencies within the District to ensure maximum attendance.

All officers attending the seminars will receive certificates of training upon successful completion of the training sessions. The certificates will become a permanent part of each officer's personnel file.

Barbs Fly At Court Meeting

Commissioner of Economic and Community Development Pat Choate, industrial development leaders from Loudon and Monroe Counties, as well as leaders in the Tellico Area Services System proposal to build a water plant to serve the Greenback and Vonore area. The trip may result in approval of an additional $450,000 in a supplemental Appalachian Regional Commission grant, the Judge told the Court.

The Court voted to ask the County Judge to write a letter to Woodrow Munsey, resident of Old Stage Road, asking him to move a fence he is in process of building back on to his own property and off the road right-of-way.

Squire Connor asked the Judge to write to the State Highway Dept. requesting a study of how the three-lane section of Broadner Hill could be made safer.

The architect hopes to have construction started on the proposed County Justice Center to be located between Lenoir City and Loudon on Highway 11 near the Rescue Squad building. The Court at the last session authorized the letting of bids on site grading for the building, but Judge Sproul explained that problems have arisen in regard to State Highway Dept. plans to improve Highway 11 at that point.

However, he told the Court, the architect is "getting close" to having the whole project ready for bids. "He is hoping to let bids in two weeks and expects to have some kind of construction under way by Nov. 15," Judge Sproul reported.

Reporting for the County Sanitation Committee, Squire Duckworth outlined new rules and regulations for the use of the garbage transfer station located at the old quarry near the Loudon Bridge. No more than 10 tires nor two large appliances will be allowed in one compacted trailer load of refuse, he said. Materials not allowed to be deposited at all include: no dead animals, no demolition debris, no timber, bushes, brush, etc.; no automobiles and no sewerage materials.

Squire Connor, reporting as chairman of the Loudon County Memorial Hospital Board of Directors, told the Court the Board at its last meeting authorized purchase of a new telephone exchange system, heard a report on new and pending legislation affecting hospitals, discussed laws for the medical staff and approved personnel policies. The Ambulance service, he said, now has more than $24,000 in deficit, including $12,000 in accounts receivable, 35 percent of which are considered uncollectable. Collections for

PCA Lowers Costs In 12 Counties

Russell Polston, President of the Chattanooga Production Credit Association, has announced that recent action by the Board of Directors reduced the amount charged to the members by the association to one-half of one percent above the association's cost for the month of October, 1973.

This will result in no net earnings to the association for the month of October. It is felt by the directors of this association that this savings can best be passed on to the members as reduced cost during the period of high interest rates.

This reduction will take place in the twelve counties served by the Chattanooga association with offices located at Chattanooga, Cleveland, Athens, Sweetwater, Loudon, Dayton and Pikeville.

Health Council Study On Hospital Needs

SCOUTS GET FLAG—Congressman John Duncan, in Loudon Friday, presented Highland Park Boy Scout Troop 750 with an American Flag that was flown over the capitol at Washington. In the picture with Congressman Duncan are scouts Tim Reid, Ronnie Ford, Mike Lee and Mike Kloasid.

The East Tennessee Health Planning Council (ETHPC) will take action on a major study concerning the future need for short-term general hospital beds at its quarterly meeting on October 11.

The study, which was prepared by the East Tennessee Development District (ETDD), was recommended for approval by the ETHPC's executive committee on September 17. The bed study concluded that a majority of ETDD's 16 counties now have enough beds, based on current usage patterns, to meet the estimated need for the year 1980.

The study's recommendations come on the heels of reports that Knoxville's four major hospitals are currently experiencing bed shortages. Concern has been expressed that the reported shortages could develop into a more serious problem during the winter months, when hospitals are traditionally the busiest.

But, as the bed study points out, the highest annual occupancy rate among Knoxville's general hospitals takes place at St. Mary's Memorial Hospital, which has maintained an average daily occupancy rate of 83.8 percent. Occupancy rates of all other hospitals within Knox County are lower.

Although the study does not attempt to establish the occupancy rates throughout the District, it does point out that higher occupancy rates reduce total bed needs and lowers daily fixed-rate costs to the hospital patient.

The plan, which utilized six methods of projection and two population definitions to determine bed needs, concluded that the following counties should not, given present conditions, need additional beds during the projected period: Claiborne, Hamblen, Knox, Monroe, Roane, Scott, and Sevier.

Study estimates for counties that should need additional beds, and their numbers, include: Anderson, 0-9; Blount, 24-48; Campbell, 0-4; Cocke, 5-20; Jefferson, 4-20; and Loudon, 0-6.

Three other counties, Grainger, Morgan, and Union, presently have no hospital facilities at all, but the ETDD study, based on present need, does not recommend the construction of new hospitals for these counties in the immediate future.

Throughout ETDD as a whole, the bed study determined that there are presently 3,915 general hospital beds in use within the District's 27 general hospitals. This figure exceeds by 548 the most liberal estimate of the 3,371 beds projected to be needed in the District by 1980.

The bed study plan points out that these bed-need estimates should be regarded as reasonable ranges rather than absolute figures. While it discourages those counties with current bed complements above estimated future needs from constructing additional beds, the six counties with fewer beds than projected need are encouraged to build the recommended number of additional beds by 1980.

The plan also recommends that a continuing study be conducted to further refine the need for specific types of beds throughout the District. Tentative completion date for the continuing study is December 31, 1974.

The final recommendation calls for a repetition of both complex studies at five-year intervals in order to re-evaluate bed needs due to changes in hospital usage patterns.

In other business, the council will be addressed by Dr. David Allen, assistant commissioner for Local Health Administration, Tennessee Department of Public Health. Dr. Allen will discuss last year's legislation which provided $500,000 for the construction of primary care centers throughout the State. Dr. Allen will present certain guidelines that the ETHPC may wish to follow in order to facilitate the establishment of such a center in East Tennessee in the coming year.

The ETHPC is designated by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare as the official statewide health planning agency for the 16 counties comprising the Tennessee Development District. The council, which is composed of 26 members representing both consumers and providers of health care, strives to improve health care in the East Tennessee area.

Court Modernization Meeting October 18

Citizens for Court Modernization, a 200-member organization of rank and file citizens which was formed seven years ago as part of a grass-roots rebellion against the inequities of an antiquated Tennessee court system, will hold its seventh annual meeting October 18 in Nashville. The meeting will be open to the public.

Having successfully worked for years to pass legislation which eliminated partisan politics from the election of judges and created a judicial standards commission to insure that judges remain competent and willing to do their jobs, the citizens group is now urging pressing for legislation which would reduce the long waiting periods between arrest and disposition of many court cases.

A bill, which would accomplish this by redrawing the judicial districts to equalize population according to the number of judges and thereby equalize the case loads among judges, will be the main topic of discussion at the October 18th meeting. If the bill is not passed in the next legislative session before judges begin their new terms on September 1, 1974, a similar legislation could not again be enacted until the judges' terms expire in 1982.

Highlighting the October meeting will be Gov. Winfield Dunn, who will explain why change in the present Tennessee judicial system is desperately needed, and Judge Robert H. Hall, the presiding judge of Georgia's Court of Appeals, who will then describe what Georgia has done to improve that State's judiciary.

A panel of experts on judicial redistricting from across Tennessee will discuss the provisions of the proposed judicial redistricting bill. Included on the panel will be Senators William D. Baird of Lebanon and Ed Blank of Columbia, who are members of the Senate Judiciary Committee; William Underhill, President of the Tennessee Trial Lawyers Association; and Frank N. Bratton of the Tennessee Bar Association. Also on the program will be T. Mack Blackburn, executive secretary of the Tennessee Supreme Court, Knoxville Chancellor of the District, who will moderate the panel discussion, Judge James Parrott of the Tennessee Court of Appeals, and Chief Justice Ross Dyer of the Tennessee Supreme Court.

Since the boundaries of Tennessee's judicial districts were drawn, population has grown disproportionately in the various districts, creating long delays between arrest and disposition of court cases in the over-crowded districts.

Members of the citizens group point out that the workload of some judges is now more than seven times that of judges in other districts. In one Chancery Division in 1972, 1732 cases were concluded, compared with only 242 cases concluded in another Chancery Division. The redistricting bill would equalize case loads among judicial districts by redrawing boundaries to more equally distribute work among the judges.

The annual meeting will begin at 10 a.m. October 18 at the Hilton Inn near the Nashville airport. Reservations for lunch may be made by sending $6 to Ellen Tate, 3000 Hillsboro Road, Nashville, 37215.

4-H GETS IT ALL TOGETHER

By: Roger L. Perkins and Bonnie F. Sheeley
 Assistant Extension Agents

"4-H Gets It All Together" is the theme of the 1973 National 4-H Week, October 7-13, and in countless ways, 4-H has "gotten it altogether" by involving more young people and adults than ever before. We congratulate the 1,450 four-H'ers enrolled in 4-H work in Loudon County.

4-H exists in nearly every U.S. County, and in some 85 countries around the world. Latest figures show that some 5.5 million young people are reached by 4-H.

4-H today brings together both rural and urban boys and girls, of all racial, economic and social backgrounds. No matter where they live-city or county-4-H is there. 4-H is reaching out to bring more people together "to make the best better" in new ways.

Helping 4-H'ers to "get it all together" are parents and local volunteer leaders who help to make many of their achievements possible. Business organizations and civic groups also aid the 4-H program. We especially appreciate the sponsors listed below and this newspaper for helping to make this week's 4-H publicity possible.

We encourage all Loudon County youth to explore the many available opportunities for developing their talents and skills through 4-H. We feel that through 4-H, young people and adults can "Get It All Together" for the benefit of all Americans.

First Baptist Slates Showing New Film

ISN'T IT GOOD TO KNOW, a new film that abandons traditional story lines to involve the viewer in the life-experiences of real people, will be shown on 7th and 8th of October, at First Baptist Church of Loudon. The latest film from arid Wide Pictures, producers of TIME TO RUN, will be shown once each evening beginning at 7:30.

ISN'T IT GOOD TO KNOW brings provocative new techniques to his first major film. Using a varying number of images on the same screen, Hooser creates a multi-media effect that draws the viewer into the picture. Included are scenes from the Dino De Laurentiis production of "Barabbas" through the courtesy of Columbia Pictures.

By shifting the viewer's attention from the true stories of the people who lived them, to brief appearances by Billy Graham, to video-cigarettes coupled with original new songs—"Isn't It Good to Know" and "Gone Away" by Todd Smith and "The Soapbox Song" by Judy McKee-

Hooser created a film conveying ultimate drama—the drama of change. Purpose came out of emptiness. Silence becomes communication. And from the disillusionment of drugs, violent protest, and witchcraft, there comes a new beginning—new life.

ISN'T IT GOOD TO KNOW is currently being shown in thousands of locations across the country each month. First Baptist Church who has made the arrangements for these special free showings of ISN'T IT GOOD TO KNOW, extends a cordial invitation to all families in the area to attend.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

This week we are going to visit by picture an area not yet a part of the good old days. That is, we have never had a picture from this section that we can recall. Many of the people in this old picture are well known in Loudon and Lenoir City. Many of these people are now deceased.

In the days when this picture was made the schools of the area were the hub of community activity. It was, in most cases, aside from the churches, the only place the people could gather. We are reasonably sure this old school was no different. Of course, it along with so many others is now passed from the scene. But as we have so often said, it's deep roots and memories will last for ages to come.

Many of the names of those we were able to offer identification for are names well known across our county. Possibly many of those in this old picture are related to some of your people or those friends. A few of the people in the group are Harm Eblen, teacher, Elmer Babb, Ada Babb, Lennie Babb, Eloy Babb, Wilkie Babb, Ocie Duff, Jessie Duff, Rosie Babb, Clemmie O. Bell, Willie Dale, Inez Dale, a Smith girl, a Spraker girl and a McNew girl. This picture was a group of the old Tallahoma School near Oral and was made around 1903.

We are very grateful to our mother-in-law, Mrs. Lennie Wats, for the loan of this old picture. This is where she

Letters To The Editor

Mr. Larry Cate, Editor
The Loudon County Herald
Loudon, Tennessee

To the People of Loudon County:

For some time there has been a growing concern among Loudon County parents who feel that our public school system needs to be improved. We have wondered whether all efforts are being exhausted to provide the best for our children. At a time when there is a surplus of educators, why is there a scarcity of qualified administrators in this county? At a time when there is a surplus of teachers, why is Loudon County still employing uncertified teachers who are not fully qualified for their important positions? Dedicated teachers and administrators do not choose education as a career because of money, so money alone is not the answer although it is an important factor. Perhaps the answer is that Loudon County citizens have not shown much interest in their school system.

Except for PTA organizations, there has been little opportunity for parents to participate. Loudon County is one of the few counties in East Tennessee where the school board is not elected by the people. Under our current system, the parent's only voice is a vote for superintendent, and this race has been uncontested for many years. Hence the parent has essentially had no voice at all. Why do our County Court members feel that we cannot elect school board members? Do they believe that they are smarter than the general public, the same voters who put them in office? Or is this just another power that they want to have on their own? A few years ago I recall one squire saying that no one would run if the school board were elected by the people. We have never had vacant positions on the County Court. I can't see that the school board would be any different. Surely there are enough concerned parents who will offer themselves for school board positions. I challenge all of you who believe in our democratic system of government to make your feelings on this subject known to our squire.

Yours very truly,
Spencer Watkins

The swing to new materials

Those new graphite shafts for golf clubs are getting a lot of attention. Union Carbide's THORNE graphite yarn, composited with epoxy plastic, makes possible a lighter shaft—lets you hit the ball with more speed. Without sacrificing weight at the club head, where it counts.

THORNE yarn has meant a unique new material for golf club designers. People are looking at it for other uses, too. Fishing rods, tennis rackets, high performance parts for industry. Developed for some of the toughest jobs in aerospace, it's stronger than steel—yet lighter than aluminum.

Graphite yarn is just one of the new materials Union Carbide is working with. There's UDEL polysulfone, a plastic so tough and heat-resistant it's used in coffee percolators, hair dryers, and baking and serving dishes for microwave ovens. We're a partner in a company that makes paper from plastic. And we've come up with new technology in rigid foam materials that replace wood in furniture.

You know, people are going to be using a lot more of these new materials. We think you'll recognize the quality we put into them—because it's the same high quality Union Carbide people put into all our products.

Looking At Loudon County's Future

BY DAVID BOOHER

Editor's Note: David Booher is a planner with the Tennessee State Planning Office who is assigned to work with Loudon County and its municipalities.

Whenever someone asks me what I do for a living and I say I'm a community planner, frequently I get a blank look in return and then a statement like, "Oh, really, well, what do you plan?" A much older professional friend tells me that many years ago when he told questioners the same thing, the reply frequently was "Oh, really, what do you plan?"

Several weeks ago, I was discussing some of the exciting projects going on in Loudon County with one of the newspaper editors and the topic came up of how many people don't understand what planning is and what it means to them in their everyday lives. Out of that conversation came a commitment for me to write a series of articles about planning and some of the specific aspects of planning in this community.

Of course, anything that is written in this series is completely my responsibility, not that of the newspaper, the state, or the local government's. For the most part, I'll rely on facts, although I'm sure a few personal opinions are certain to emerge. In return, I hope that readers who wish to take issue with something I say or who want to just be heard on a relevant topic will write me in care of this newspaper.

But back to the original question. Just what is "planning?" One frequently hears this word thrown about. Insurers speak of "planning an estate." Real estate developers speak of "planned subdivisions." And navigators speak of "flight planning." Probably the best way to understand planning is to think of three questions: Where are we now? Where do we want to go? And, how do we propose to get there? A planner's job is to help a community answer these three questions.

Perhaps this would be clearer if we return to the Cemetery Work

Day Slated

An all day working and clean-up day will be held Saturday, October 13 at Prospect Cemetery. In case of rain, the clean-up will be held the following Saturday, October 20. Everyone with relatives or friends buried at the cemetery are urged to bring their tools and help in this clean-up project. Dinner will be served. Work begins at 8 a.m. continuing throughout the day.

Rummage Sale

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Valley View Freewill Baptist Church will sponsor a Rummage Sale, Saturday, October 6 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Davis School, Route 2, Loudon.

Food and drinks will be sold along with many other items. The proceeds from the sale will be used for the building fund for the church.

navigator and his flight planning. As a navigator in the U.S. Air Force Reserves, I've done my share of "flight planning." And as everyone who is a pilot will tell you, this is one of the most critical aspects of flying. During flight planning, the navigator asks the three same questions as the planner. "Where are we now?" Not just our location, but what are the existing conditions, such as weather, aircraft capabilities, available fuel, and so on. Where do we want to go? Not just location, but how far as it away?

What is the weather there like? and so on. "How do we get there?" What is the best route given the answers to the first two questions? After these questions are answered, the flight crew makes every effort to follow the flight plan while they watch for changes in the situation. If things change, then it may be necessary for the navigator to change his flight plan.

Basically, the planner does many of the same things. He or she studies the existing situation, helps the community make decisions and express these decisions about their goals for the community (where they want to go); and finally, the planner suggests ways by which these goals might be achieved and helps the community select one.

In the coming weeks, we will look at this in more detail as it relates to this community. Next time, we'll look at some of the concrete accomplishments that wouldn't have been realized without the planning efforts of planning commissions in Loudon, Lenoir City, and Loudon County.

Education Needs Pointed Out In Facilities Plan

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a series on Lenoir City's Community Facilities Plan compiled by the Lenoir City Regional Planning Commission with the assistance of the Tennessee State Planning Office.

Education in America has come a long way since the days of the one-room school house. Yet the importance of that education has not diminished in the least. In fact, it is more important in today's fast-paced technological society than ever before that our children receive a good education.

Lenoir City has at least one notable group planning for its long range needs in the area of educational facilities. This group is the Lenoir City Regional Planning Commission; individuals who are, as their name implies, responsible for planning for the future needs and continued welfare of their community.

As part of their attempt to help the Board of Education plan for the education of Lenoir City's youth, the commission has prepared a plan, called the Lenoir City Community Facilities Plan, which covers the period from 1975 to 1990. The commission was assisted in their work by the Tennessee State Planning Office.

The report notes that when the community selects a site on which to construct a proposed school, it should bear in mind the accessibility of the school to the area served and any conflicts that might arise from heavy traffic for school children. The initial purchase price, it states, is less important than the potential of the area for future development.

Comprising the Lenoir City educational facilities is a total of four public schools and the Lenoir City Public Library. These public schools include one high school, which handles grades nine through twelve, one middle school, which includes grades five through eight, and two elementary schools, West Hills and Nichols, which handle grades one through four.

The Community Facilities Plan considers the schools in terms of "age and location, type of facilities, composition of academic staff, and adequacy of site and structures."

Taking this analysis of the educational facilities into consideration, and keeping in mind projected population and school enrollment figures, the plan recommends that a number of steps be taken to improve the educational facilities in Lenoir City.

First, the plan recommends the closest possible cooperation between the city and county school systems and states that "a workable arrangement should be reached between the Loudon County school system and the Lenoir City school system which would allow students to attend the nearest facility."

Also, a joint program "should be encouraged so that maximum utilization of all facilities could be accomplished, and redundancy in such needed programs such as vocational education could be avoided. Also, the Lenoir City school system should encourage and participate in the development of the proposed tri-county cooperative among Blount, Loudon, and Monroe counties so that schools, services, and programs that are mutually beneficial to the three counties could be developed."

Since the plan was originally written, a number of changes have been made in the school facilities. For instance, the Little Tennessee Educational Cooperative has been established in the tri-county area and Lenoir City is an active participant. "Library Important, too!" Lenoir City schools are not the only educational facilities considered in the study. The Lenoir City Public Library is also an important resource for studying the educational needs of Lenoir City residents.

The library is staffed by one librarian who keeps the facility open approximately 20 hours a week, Monday through Saturday. The library contains approximately 6,000 volumes at present and receives periodicals on a regular basis.

The study points out that the library has serious space limitations. The current seating capacity (approximately 14 seats). In addition, there is an absence of adequate parking facilities and the building itself is in only fair condition and will probably be abandoned by 1990.

Based on a consideration of standards suggested by the American Library Association, the expected increase in the population of Lenoir City and the expected use of community library facilities, the plan proposes a number of changes for the library.

One suggestion is that a book acquisition program should be undertaken to increase the number of volumes owned by the library to level sufficient to meet suggested A.L.A. standards by 1990, and a program should be designed to stimulate the annual circulation of the library.

A new community library should be constructed to accommodate the increased demands for research and library facilities in Lenoir City. It is recommended that this facility be located in a community center, which is proposed by another section of the plan.

Education is an important part of our lives, and it is up to the citizens of a community to see that their children are provided with adequate facilities to meet their educational needs.

But all work and no play doesn't make for a balanced or healthy community, so the Lenoir City planners are also making sure that Lenoir City has plenty of recreational facilities. These will be considered in next week's article on recreational facilities in Lenoir City.

Greenback Battles Walland For Foothills Conference Crown; Loudon, Lenoir City Host Homecoming Festivities

Speaking of Sports

By DANNY GIBSON
Sports Editor

What's that you say? Feeling kinda strange? A virus may be. Symptoms range from a tingling from your toes to the top of your head. A slight dizziness followed by a surprising good feeling all over.

Oh! Your just being swept under by some stray vibes of "Cherokee Fever". Everyone of the Greenback football fans, students, and followers are "heat up with the fever", and why should it not be a fast spreading virus. The Greenback football team is mowing down opponents like a farmer in his final cut of summer hay.

The Cherokees are 5-0 for the season, tied for the Foothills Conference lead and sharing Region One Class A honors with unbeaten Walland and Coalfield. The Cherokees are ranked in the top 10 of state "A" division powers.

Greenback is off to their best grid start in 18 years, but the victory trail has not been all that rosy. Take the night the tribesmen had to battle from behind to had stubborn off-beaten Lanier and 8-7 loss. Or how about that whooping 29-21 conquest of highly respected Porter just two weeks ago. The film of that game may be cased in a bronze film reel case.

The fever has really hit and not with out warning. The seniors of this year's Cherokee football edition tipped this writer off as early as last spring that they would be remembered around Loudon County for a long time. The brave talk did not end with words. The Greenback eleven was fortunate in having a senior field general with two years of varsity experience. A passing whiz in the form of Tony Linginfelter. But the Orange and Black had lost all of their established pass receivers to graduation.

Spring practice was an adventure of its own states 6'6" senior tight end Bill Joe Kyker. Kyker was converted from a tackle to pass receiving duties. A freshman, Harold Hawkins, worked daily in laboring to find handles on Linginfelter bullets. Spring practice ended with no real accomplishments evident. Only an idea of who might catch the football for Coach Keith Bailey's team.

The summer was hot, but the Greenback seniors refused to be bothered by the heat. They ran an average of 30 to 40 miles a week on their own. Some attended football camps to gain improving techniques.

Fall practice time arrived and the Cherokees showed up in prime condition. Linginfelter, Mike Evans, Tim Hammtreee, all seniors liked to have wore the underclassmen out in conditioning drills.

Coach Bailey reports he had to slow his leaders down for fear some of the team might quit from the extra toughness. "We are a small team in number as it is and a few lost early in the season could have us in bad trouble," related the Coach. But the team stuck together, declaring to better their 6-4 mark the year before.

The seniors, Bill Joe Kyker, Dennis Childs, Mike Evans, Keith Rollins, Rick Rader, Gene Kimbrell, Bobby McNeilly, Hammtreee and Linginfelter, have led the team as a family. "We believe this year," says Linginfelter. "We get behind and suddenly we get just that much more serious," Hammtreee the chief head-hunter of the defensive unit states.

The seniors are certainly proving the leaders and inspiration to the Greenback success story, but the underclassmen are just as dedicated and thrust to win just as bad. Sophomore Jimmy Brooks, Mark Carver, and freshman Harold Hawkins are just a sample of the underclass players carrying their own weight. Running-backs Kyle Shepherd and Sandy Graham are hard runners when Linginfelter is not whizzing passes toward the end zone.

Greenback will have its toughest test of the regular season Friday night. The Cherokees host unbeaten Walland in a battle of region powers. Both teams are similar. Greenback has scored 132 points in five games on a balanced passing and running offensive mixture. Walland, leans more to the running game, but has had success with the pass in collecting 123 points. Greenback's defense is solid and has won recognition for its stout play yielding only 40 points. The Indians are not as experienced in defense and has given up 47 points.

Greenback has showed improvement through each game and could well be peaking for the Friday night ultimate test. Walland has had to struggle for more than one of its victories, coming from behind in the late stages of the fourth quarter to tack up three of their five wins.

The Cherokees are a three point favorite with a home field advantage. For the winner will go the conference championship, not held by Greenback since 1966 when they were co-champs. A loss will not be the end for either team as both teams stand excellent chances of making the play-offs with one loss in regular season. The season will be down hill for both teams after Friday night with only an unforeseen let down or slip-up costing them excellent 1973 campaigns.

A few statistics on the Cherokees finds

One of 10 Loudon High School seniors will be crowned Homecoming Queen before the start of the Loudon-Porter football game Friday night.

The homecoming activities include the pre-game crowning ceremony, a parade and homecoming dance after the game.

The 10 Homecoming Queen candidates were nominated by the Redskin football team. They are Connie Huskey, Jane Shubert, Mary Tyler, Marilyn Smith, Nancy Lowe, Karen Murrell, Paula Green, Debbie Gibson, Quinn Nichols and Debbie Thomas.

The members of the student body will vote later this week and the winner will be announced in a pre-game ceremony starting at 7:40 p.m. at the stadium.

Prior to this the homecoming queen candidates will be presented in the Homecoming parade which will also feature floats of the four classes and some of the clubs at the school. The parade will start at 6:45 p.m. at the American Legion building and take a route down Grove Street, Cedar Street to Ward Avenue and to the stadium via Steeple Road.

Crowning the new Homecoming Queen for 1973 will be the 1972 Homecoming Queen Pat Turbyfill Foster and the 1963 Homecoming Queen Patsy Largent.

Following the game the Humbucks will provide dance music for the Homecoming Dance in the school cafeteria. All students at the school may attend. Admission is $1.50 each.

Lenoir City is likewise observing homecoming festivities this Friday night. The Panthers will entertain Knoxville High in an 8 p.m. kick off. Ten senior girls have been nominated by the senior class to compete for homecoming queen honors. They are Susie Conner, Condie Smith, Becky Easton, Debbie Housley, Karen McMiller, Donna Quenerer, Wendie Freedman, Jessie Stanley, Cheryl Veal, and Terri Henry. The Panthers will have an after the game dance in the school gymnasium with "Four-Play" a band from Knoxville providing the music until midnight. The theme for this year's Lenoir City Homecoming is "Clear the Halls, The Panthers Are Coming". There will be no downtown parade at L.C. As for the football games (Continued on Page 8)

Loudon Record Slips To 2-3, Bow To Chargers 17-6

McMinn Central celebrated the return of six varsity players Friday night to trip Loudon for the second week in a row 17-6 and remove the Redskins from any chance of reaching the region playoffs with a mid-season 2-3 mark. The Chargers had six of their regulars, four starters and two first line reserves, to walk off from practice last Monday over a team grievance. But the Central nucleus was back in uniform on Friday night.

Loudon, upset a week ago, got off to a good start. Took the opening kick off and from their own 41 struck for three first downs and 59 yards. The extra point kick was wide of the goal post and Loudon led 6-0.

The two teams settled down to a defensive struggle with neither team making a worth while advance in three offensive swaps with the football.

The Redskins finally got a drive going to start the second quarter, moving the ball from its own 23 yard line to the McMinn Central 46.

The Chargers stiffened on defense and finally got the pigskin at the 36. Three plays and a blocked punt on fourth down by Brad Brewster had the Loudon offense in business at the Charger 14 yard line.

Two plays lost five yards and a halfback pass from Marlon Brown to Jimmy Bivens failed to gain but one yard, thus calling for a field goal attempt. The boot was short of its mark and Central seemed to gain momentum from the defensive effort.

The Chargers swiftly moved down the field on an 80 yard march in nine plays for a tying touchdown with four minutes left in the half. The extra point kick gave Central a 7-6 half-time edge.

A roughing the kicker penalty on fourth down sparked the Chargers on a drive to the Loudon 18 yard line to open the second half.

The Redskins got a big defensive play from Mike Tate, who recovered a fumble to stop the drive.

Loudon moved the ball past mid-field before having to punt on a fourth down maneuver. The game rocked along with the contest resting between the 20 yard lines.

McMinn Central received a 37 yard Sam Lyle punt to open the fourth quarter at the Charger 18 yard line. The Chargers got untracked for an 11 play 82 yard drive and a touchdown on the Loudon defense with 8:26 left in the game. Two first down airtials of 27 yards each prompted the lengthy march.

Loudon carried the kickoff back to the 32 yard line. A spirited march to the mid-field stripe was halted by the Chargers on a pass interception. The Chargers used a time consuming offense to move the ball to the Loudon 11 yard line before settling for the 28 yard field goal that put the icing on the game.

The Redskins got the ball for just one more series on offense and that was short lived as the Chargers again picked off a Redskins pass to run out the clock and win the game.

Tim Guider, Steve Kiser, Preston McQueen, Nat Campbell, Brad Brewster, and Jimmy Bivens carried the weight of the Loudon defensive effort while the offense was shared between nine players with plus yardage.

Rick Melton led the pack with 43 yards in nine carries. Other offensive leaders were as follows: David Surr 36 yards on six carries, Tim Guider 15 yards on three carries, Johnny Deaithridge 14 yards on four carries, John Lovelace six yards on 10 offensive plays, Dennis Queen three yards on two carries and Forky Campbell three yards on one carry.

Jimmy Bivens and Sam Lyle had the bulk of passing yardage with Bivens catching two passes for 15 yards and Lyle one for 12.

Atomic Racing This Weekend

It's back to a regular weekly late model sportsman racing program Saturday night at Atomic Speedway, east of Kingston on I-40.

Most of the drivers who competed in the rich Glenn's Auto Parts 200 last Saturday at the track are expected back to battle for the top prize of $500.

Georgia ace Doug Kenimer won the 200-lap Glenn's Auto Parts event in a Camaro and took home a check for $3,000. Kenimer started from the pole position and led every lap.

H.E. Vineyard, who ran second to Kenimer, will be one of the favorites this week in a Chevy II. Time trials get under way at 7 o'clock and the racing program is scheduled for 8:30. Adult admission is $3 (reservists) and $2.50 (general admission). Children under 12 will be admitted free.

Linginfelter passing for 426 yards to date, hitting on 34 of 77 and one interception. Rushing the Cherokees have gained 810 yards with Tim Hammtreee logging a 4.1 yards per carry average. Hammtreee has gained 260 yards on 64 carries.

Linginfelter's 7.7 yards per run attempt leads the team. Tony has carried for 353 yards on 46 rushes. Harold Hawkins has the bulk of the passes with 23 receptions for 306 yards and seven touchdowns.

The Cherokees are on the war path and their following is growing with each weekly blockade that stands in their path to answering a dream.

Late Panther Rally Falls Shy As Cleveland Prevails, 22-14

Lenoir City discovered too late that they could play on even terms with highly regarded Region Two Class AA football power Cleveland Friday night and as a result bowed by a score of 22-14. The Blue Raiders (4-1) for the season and in the thick of the running for a state playoff berth took the opening kickoff and ran with authority in marching down the field for a quick 7-0 lead. Lenoir City's defense strengthened and stepped the Cleveland ofensive efforts at every corner for the remainder of the half. But the Panthers could not find the weak spot of the Blue Raiders' defense losing a fumble and pass interception to the Cleveland team by half scoring bids.

Undefeated Greenback Romps Over Blue Devils 43-6

Undefeated Greenback clubbed homesteading Vonore 43-6 Friday night for the Cherokee's fifth consecutive victory this season and first over the Blue Devils in 10 years.

Greenback Coach Keith Bailey used the services of his entire squad in the one-sided game with regulars resting much of the second half after posting a convincing 27-0 halftime advantage. The Cherokees lost the toss of the coin and had to kick-off to open the game. Vonore used half of the first period in board against the Greenback tacking two first downs on the

Upsets Catch Grid Contest Contestants

Upsets in the 10 game football contest slate threw the contest into a guessing game with contestants getting some of the poorest grades since the first week.

The winners all missed one game. The games that threw most people off was Chattanooga City win over Oak Ridge, Maryville's conquest of Kingston, Alcoa over Karna and McMinn Central over Loudon.

There was 23 points scored in the tie-breaker game. Loudon beat McMinn Central 17-which decided the placement in the contest.

First place money of $12 belongs to Selmer Maynard who had 20 points on the tie-breaker. With 28 points was Mrs. Kate Purdy of Loudon who won $5. Third place with 23 points and $3 is Lewis McDaniel of Sweetwater.

All winners may pick up their cash awards at the Herald office.

A new slate of 10 games with several "toughies" appears in the Football Contest this week.

Panthers Lose To Raiders

pulled down in the Lenoir City end some attempting to pass for a two point. Cleveland safety and a 16-0 deficit. But the Panthers suddenly came to life with a good defensive showing. Behind the power running of Mike Walker, Jeff Canaler, Bobby Smith, and Reed Lindsey the Panthers paraded to a touchdown. Mike Walker scoring from three yards out.

A recovered fumble on a fourth down punt by the Panthers' Steve Landrum set up a second Lenoir City touchdown. Lenoir City again running head long into the Cleveland defense. Mike Walker scored from the three yard line after Lenoir City had set up shot at the Cleveland 34 yard line.

A frustrated Cleveland eleven led by only 16-14 with 3:34 showing on the clock and Lenoir City once again had held defensively. The Panthers got the football at their own 19 yard line and advanced the ball for a first down to the 38 yard line on hard earned running maneuvers. With what would have been the go-ahead touchdown drive underway the Panthers changed offensive tactics and tried to surprise the Blue Raiders with a long pass on first down. The pass was picked off to halt the Lenoir City comeback and with only seconds remaining in the game Cleveland managed to punch out a time killing drive for a touchdown and assured lock on the game with a 22-14 count.

The two teams had near equal statistics for the game with each recording 12 first downs and rolling to over 200 yards of rushing offense. Lenoir City had the edge in passing with Carl Thompson making the lone catch of the night for a 25 yard gain.

Offensively Lenoir City was led by Mike Walker, who had another terrific game with 110 yards of real estate on 25 carries. Reed Lindsey contributed 40 yards on six tries from scrimmage. Bobby Smith gained 40 yards on five carries, all in the second half. Jeff Canaler displayed some fine moves in collecting 34 yards on seven runs.

The Lenoir City defense played outstanding, despite yielding the Blue Raiders a first quarter touchdown without much argument. Jeff Walker, Mike Walker, Gary McNabb, Dewayne McNabb, Reed Lindsey, Jeff Blakey, and Sam and Carl Thompson stood out most of the game. Steve Landrum and Curtis Menger had fumbled recoveries while defensive back Buddy Jones intercepted a Cleveland pass.

Loudon will face a hard-luck Dayton team with an identical 2-3 work slate. The Yellowjackets have lost 6-0, 7-0 and 27-6, while winning over two Roane County teams, Rockwood and Harriman. Only Chattanooga Red Bank with an explosive passing game has been able to outpace the Dayton eleven by a wide margin. Crossville and Soddy Daisy have barely slipped by. The game is rated a toss up with the Redskins having a slight edge on home field surroundings.

Second Half Drive Wins For Loudon Frosh 6-0

A drive that covered 80 yards spanning most of the third quarter and 1:50 in the fourth quarter gave the Loudon Freshman Football team their second straight win over the visiting McMinn Central frosh, 6-0.

The drive started on the Loudon 20 and seemed stopped when Loudon's Greg Deatridge punted from McMinn 45 and the ball was fumbled by the McMinn receiver and recovered by Loudon's Conway Dukas at the McMinn Central 27.

From there, Deatridge, Quarterback Carter Cardwell and back Jackie Jones combined to carry the ball in for the score. The big plays on the drive was a 15 yard pass to John Sweet for 17 yards and a 15 yard run to the McMinn two yard line by Deatridge, who on the next play plunged over for the score. The extra point run was stopped just inches short.

Late in the game McMinn Central returned a Deatridge punt 24 yards to the McMinn 44 where they started a drive in 10 plays carried the ball to the Loudon 12 where the defense stiffened and held. Deatridge made the big tackle with an assist from the ball. The Redskins then maintained control of the ball for the remaining three minutes of the game driving to the McMinn Central 20 when the final gun sounded.

The first half was a physical game with only Loudon getting across the mid-field stripe one time on a drive that was stopped on the McMinn 38 yard line.

Defensively the Redskins were led by Sam Theary, John Sweet, Sam Stewart, Deatridge, Cardwell, Jones, Wendie Davidson, Zack Spoon and Kenny Starritt.

In the offensive line Junior Roles, Spoon, Davidson, Gene Cate, Mike Moser, Danny

Isbill, Mike Moser, Sweet and Stewart provided good blocking for the backs. Deatridge had a total of 108 yards in the game as came in rushing. In the second quarter a 28 yard TD pass from Deatridge to Kenny Starritt was called back on a penalty.

Cherokees Climb In Prep Ratings

They're some new faces in the weekly AP high school football poll. But the names at the head of the list are the same.

Chattanooga Baylor, Hartsville and Dyer County remain No. 1 in Class AAA, AA and A, respectively.

New to the poll this week are Memphis Christian Brothers and Warren County in Class AAA and Chattanooga Notre Dame in Class AA.

Christian Brothers, 4-0, edged Warren County, 5-0, for the fourth ranking in Class AAA. Nashville Overton, 4-0 after an impressive 29-6 victory over Father Ryan Saturday night, before 15,000 persons at Vanderbilt's Dudley Field, remained a strong second behind Baylor.

Knox County, 6-5, jumped one spot to No. 3 this week. It week Ryan, which was third last week, and Oak Ridge, fifth last week when it lost to Chattanooga City 20-0.

Dyersburg and Johnson City fell a few votes short of cracking the top five. Chattanooga Notre Dame, now 4-1, tied Kingston for fifth in Class AA, Kingston was second last week but lost to defense. The Cherokees finally stiffened and the Blue Devils punted to the Greenback 12 yard line. Greenback, behind the senior direction of quarterback Tony Linginfelter, never looked more impressive as they drove the ball down the field in nine plays for a touchdown. The 88 yard march was capped by a 32 yard TD pass to end Harold Hawkins from Linginfelter for the first points of the night. Tim Hammonree booted the extra point to make the count read 7-0 as the first quarter came to a close.

The Cherokees, refusing to yield defensively to the Blue Devils who upset them 12-8 last year, not only scored on their first offensive series of the night but tallied touchdowns on their first five offensive series.

Greenback got the ball on their own 20 yard line for the start of the second quarter. Nine offensive plays with tight end Bill Joe Kyker snagging two passes for 25 and 20 yards highlighted the Cherokees scoring drive. Kyker's 20 yard reception being the final play of the drive for a touchdown. Hammonree kicked the PAT.

Greenback got its best field position of the night on its next series with the ball. Operating from the Cherokee 46 yard line Linginfelter needed but six plays to find end Harold Hawkins for a four yard scoring strike. Hammonree ran the count to 21-up with the PAT.

The Cherokees took advantage of a fumble recovery to score their final TD of the first half. Linebacker Mike Evans claimed the first of four fumble recoveries grab by the Cherokees. The senior leader at the Greenback 40 yard line and turned things over to Linginfelter and tailback Tim Hammonree, who lumbered the ball down to the Vonore one yard line. Linginfelter scored on a one yard sneak to close out a 10 play march and a 2:09 halftime score.

Greenback received the second half kickoff and returned the ball to their 37 before establishing a 63 yard seven play drive for a third period touchdown on Bill Joe Kyker's 14 yard pass reception and run. Tony Linginfelter carried the ball for a two point conversion and a 35 point advantage.

Reserves were shuffled to and from the game from this point on. Senior Bill Joe Kyker having a field night at the expense of the Blue Devils stopped a Vonore scoring drive at the 31 yard line with a fumble recovery. Kyker again turned up with the ball at the Greenback 48 yard line on a Vonore fumble of its next offensive series. Reserve quarterback Roddy Krue used but two plays in hooking up with Kyker for a 48 yard touchdown bomb down the left side lines. Krue, who has not fired an incomplete pass the entire season, topped the explosive Greenback attack with a two point aerial to teammate Randy Evans for the final points for the night.

Vonore found the Cherokee reserves no easy prey as they too lit with determination. Rick Russell stopped a Vonore march at the 36 yard line with a fumble recovery and only a late fourth quarter Blue Devil aerial of 50 yards was the team's landing. Monte Ccontinians able to light up the home side of the score board.

Greenback had a complete team effort in protecting their high "A" division ranking in the Region One standings. Jimmy Brooks, Keith Bullins, Bobby McNeilly, Tim Hammonree, Mike Evans, and Danny Dodson all played well on defense. Offensively Hammonree led the Cherokees on the ground with 102 yards on 15 carries. Linginfelter added 93 yards to the ground attack in 11 tries from scrimmage. Kyle Shepherd rounded out the rushing game with 23 yards in six carries. Bill Joe Kyker and Hawkins had big nights on the receiving end. Kyker catching four passes for three touchdowns and 107 yards, while Hawkins caught four passes for 53 yards and two scores.

Legislation Sought For Local Mobile Crime Lab

Sheriffs, Police Chief and other police officers from all cities and counties in the Fourth Judicial Circuit met in Loudoun last week with Attorney General Kenneth Deatherage to hear his proposal in securing and using a mobile Crime Scene Search Unit.

About 15 law enforcement officers from Loudoun, Roane and Blount Counties were at the meeting.

General Deatherage reported that a bill had been introduced to the state legislature at his request, which would create a regional mobile evidence collecting unit. The bill was sent to committees of both houses for study and recommendation.

The unit sought by Deatherage would be a van-type truck equipped to provide lighting at a crime scene, contain cameras and even roof platform for photography of an area. Other devices include latent print equipment, casting kit, test material, metal detectors, vacuum sweepers, narcotics detection devices, thief detection kit, recorders, sketching kit and equipment to handle cadavers.

Some 20 law enforcement agencies are now using this particular type van as well as four foreign countries as law enforcement officials move into scientific and technical means of supplementing evidence gathering at a crime scene, Deatherage explained.

He proposes that the three counties, with a total population of about 140,000 could be served with such a unit, taking calls on a first call first served basis, but with the more serious crimes such as murder having precedence over a breaking and entering crime.

Under the attorney general's proposal, the unit and two trained technicians would be under his supervision. These technicians would drive the unit to a crime scene and then be available to assist the local officers handling the investigation.

He proposes that each sheriff and police department have officers especially trained to work with the unit when it comes to a specific location.

Kingston Police Chief John Schaefer told that he had previously worked two years with a similar unit in another location. He said the collection and preservation of evidence for presentation to the courts was of utmost importance.

Morris Best, East Tennessee Development District (ETDD) director of Law Enforcement was present along with Nick Norwood executive director of Tennessee Law Enforcement Agency both endorsed the concept as presented by the district attorney general with the exception that Norwood thought an attorney general should not have to operate a police function.

A poll of 10 men representing various departments showed all in favor of the jurisdiction being a part of the attorney general's office and officers from individual departments in charge of the actual investigative process.

Chief John Blaford of Maryville suggested that more ground work be done on securing funds to buy the mobile unit and train two specialists assigned to it.

Concessions of the group was that to make the plan work it would require central administrative control, trained driver, have locals do investigations, and have trained men for the work in each department.

Sgt. Jim Gillespie and Morris Best were appointed to work together in making a grant application, working up cost factors, and establishing facts on past work loads of various departments to get an estimate of the unit's future use.

The Deatherage bill calls for the state to supply necessary funds, about $45,000 to buy equipment and pay salaries of two for the first year. The bill also specifies that if federal money is obtained on the project, the state could be reimbursed. It further proposes operational costs to meet through state funds in succeeding years.

Presently, some 27 district attorney generals have special investigative units working with them, Deatherage said. He added that the fourth judicial circuit has less than 100 misdemeanor charges in its annual work load of 550 to 650 cases he prosecutes each year, the remainder being felonies.

Some 11 felonious assault charges were heard in Blount County during the most recent term of criminal court.

DISCUSS CRIME LAB—Attorney General Kenneth Deatherage and Loudoun County Sheriff Freeman Russell are shown talking with other sheriffs and police chiefs from Loudoun, Roane and Blount Counties in a meeting at Loudoun last week to discuss possible legislation to obtain a mobile crime scene search unit.

Scholarship Fund Grows To $1642

Contributions continue to be received for the William S. Napier Scholarship Fund. The scholarship, established to honor the memory of the former Principal at Loudoun High School, who was killed in a traffic accident last month, is being administered by the Student Council at Loudoun High School.

A committee of students and faculty members will probably be selected by the Student Council to determine who the recipient of the scholarship will be. The amount of the annual scholarship has not yet been decided, but the Student Council intends that it will be permanent and any funds left at the end of each year will be placed in savings and applied toward future years.

To date $1642.50 had been received by the Student Council for the scholarship fund.

Among students who contributed this week are Julie Harper, Sharon Bradshaw, Debbie Plemons, Kathy Johnston, Paul Grimes, Tim Murrell and Richard Love.

Judge L.C. McCluen, completing his first eight-year term as judge of the criminal court of the fourth judicial circuit, announced today he has filed qualifying papers for nomination as Republican candidate for reelection.

A.J. Smith Elected To Dairy Board

A. J. Smith of Route 3, Sweetwater, was recently elected Advisory Board Director for Dairymen, Inc., Tennessee Valley Division. Dairymen, Inc. is a milk marketing cooperative owned by over 8 thousand dairy farmers in eleven Southeastern states. The milk of one thousand Dairymen, Inc. members is marketed by Co-op facilities in Knoxville and Chattanooga.

As a Director, Mr. Smith will represent Loudoun County. Mr. Smith will be seated as Director at the Tennessee Valley Division annual meeting on October 18. This Division meeting will be held in the Plant Sciences Building at the University of Tennessee at Knoxville beginning at 10:30 a.m. A luncheon will be held at 12:30.

subject to convention December 8 in Loudoun. The fourth judicial circuit is made up of Blount, Loudoun and Roane counties.

Deadline for qualifying for nomination is Oct. 20. Judge McCluen, of Rockwood was elected to the judgeship in 1966, becoming the first Roane Countyan elected as a judge of criminal court in more than 50 years. Prior to his election as Circuit Judge, McCluen practiced law in Roane County for 30 years in the firm of McCluen and Cooley at Rockwood.

Judge McCluen said when he was elected there was a backlog of some 300 cases in each of the three counties, and today cases are current. "The average time from arrest to trial today in the fourth circuit is 90 days, which is well below the national average," Judge McCluen pointed out.

Judge and Mrs. McCluen are parents of two children, William Glen McCluen, a Boy Scout executive stationed in Athens (Tenn.) and Mrs. Jerome T. (Leann) Smith of Knoxville, whose husband is associated with Valley Fidelity Bank. Judge McCluen is not expected to be opposed for the Republican nomination to reelection.

Your County In Action

BY Harvey L. Sproul
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

There has been quite a bit of discussion recently concerning the Central County Garage, with particular reference to objections from the County Road Commissioners.

For those of you who are not familiar with the Loudon County road system, there are three road commissioners who are elected from certain Districts in the County.

Basically these are like this: First and Fourth Civil District: Greenback, Philadelphia, Piney, etc.; Second and Fifth Districts: Lenoir City, Eatons Cross Roads, Dixie Lee Junction, Martel, etc.; Third District: Fort Loudoun Estates, Glendale, Greenback, etc.

The special Act under which the Road Commissioners were elected originally provided that this Board of Commissioners would hire a Superintendent.

Later this law was changed (several years ago now) to allow the Road Commissioners to work on the highways themselves rather than requiring them to hire a road superintendent.

The road commissioners have worked on the roads themselves for these many years, with the net result being that we have what amounts to three road departments in Loudon County.

With the advent of the County Ambulance Service, and the County owning the Deputies' vehicles, and with miscellaneous other vehicles under County control including the School Department as well as heavy equipment for the highway Department and all the vehicles that the Highway Department has, it was decided that having some centralized control and purchasing power would cause the County to save considerable amount of money.

Of course, this meant that the various departments could not continue to buy gasoline at places where they had been buying it, that repairs would be done in one place, but that hopefully better service could be obtained by having mechanics on duty at all times who had the capability of handling all kinds of equipment and motors.

Metal tile (culverts, etc.) would be purchased at one time and stored at one time and it would be designated when it was picked up that as to whom it was going and where it was going, etc.

Now it was further recognized that all of this would not necessarily work real smoothly in the beginning, but there would be some kinks that need to be worked out as there is in any new operation, and the co-operation of all departments was requested.

Basically there has been pretty good co-operation, with the most objections coming from the Highway Officials, although in some ways they have also co-operated.

Insofar as gassing up the trucks and equipment in the various Districts over the County is concerned, however, arrangements are being made so that the Highway Commissioners have saddle tanks and will be able to fuel their various vehicles on the job rather than having every piece of machinery brought to the Central Garage for gassing purposes.

Another thing that many people do not understand about the County Road Commissioners, is that they are elected by the people.

Basically, they have no boss except the voters, and whether or not they do their job adequately and properly done is a matter of wide decision by the voters and there is no day to day supervision.

It basically does no good to call the County Judge or the Sheriff, or the Squires, about a road, because they have no supervisory responsibility over the Road Commissioners.

The Quarterly Court does have the power of appropriation of funds, but after the appropriation is made then the Road Commissioners decide whether they are going to spend their gas money, where they are going to spend their tile money, where they are going to send their machinery, how much machinery they are going to buy, etc.

It has been suggested that the Highway Commissioners should have regular public meetings so the public can come and discuss their road problems, that they should have advance planning so that there is definite program planning which roads would be fixed, improved, maintained, etc. each year, and so that we will know where we are starting now and where we should end up say in five years from now.

There has been votes on changing our highway system on referendums previously, and the people have decided to leave the system the way it is now.

However, the last time the vote was taken there were only about 35 votes short of adopting a new system.

TREET UDON -2233

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Sometimes we take leave of our normal pattern in The Good Old Days to meet with something special that arises. Such is the case this week. Our reason—a good friend and ardent reader sent us a picture which we feel will be of great interest. It was wonderful for us to receive this old picture of the Loudon Seventh Grade made in 1929. They are identified as follows:

 1. Chas. B. Blair, Jr.; 2. William H. Jones; 3. Kenneth Galyon; 4. Frank Lintbury; 5. Billy Bradford; 6. Donald E. Robinson; 7. Joe Crowder; 8. Willis Isbill; 9. Charles ("Bossy") Kelso (Deceased); 10. Rosford Chase; 11. Betty Bradford; 12. Lucille Watkins; 13. Edith Roberson; 14. Helen Baker; 15. Ina Ross; 16. Mildred Harrison (Deceased); 17. Clara Chaney; 18. Margaret Osborne; 19. Almetta Watkins (Deceased); 20. Viola Costner; 21. Thelma Farrow; 22. Lala Harrison; a. Imogene Chaney; b. Harold ("Shimmy") Miller (Deceased); c. Clarence Cox; d. Clifford Barger; e. Ernest ("Skeet") Miller (Deceased); f. Dan C. Remion (Deceased); g. Henry ("Boss") Huff (Deceased); h. "??"; i. June Dickerson; j. Winnie Smaller; k. Mary Sue Robinson; l. Margaret Bright; m. Anderson Cox; n. Dorothy Rhines; o. Joe Courtney; p. Willie Galyon; r. Willis Sammers; s. Charles Smith; t. Sammy Crawford; u. Barksdale White; v. Don Blount; w. "Ted" York; x. Prof. Dan T. Rogers (Deceased); z. Dora Mae Kirby; A. William Isbill

(Deceased) B. Roy ("Rosy") Grimes (Deceased-7); C. Laura Belle Smith; D. Glyndon Calhoun; E. Carrie Mae Thomas (Deceased).
 Following is some excerpts from the letter sent along with the picture.
 "On the enclosed photograph, I have shown by number and letter the name of each member of the class, and have been able to identify all except one boy. His face 'comes back to me', but to save my life I cannot put a name with it. If he sees the photograph, I sincerely hope that he will forgive this lapse of memory.

 "As I recall, this was the first 'junior high school' class (7th grade) to be departmentalized. Some of our teachers were, as follows: Miss Una Armstrong, mathematics; Miss Forrest, English; Mr. Dan T. Rogers, principal and history; and Mrs. Betty H. Luck, studyhall (and later Latin in the 8th grade). I am certain that I have omitted someone and beg their forgiveness.

 "During the first 13 years of my 35 years of teaching experience, I was a high school teacher and principal, and the influence of my teachers at L.H.S. played an important role in my success in these areas. I only wish that I could find some adequate way to express my gratitude to them. I can attribute my success in this field to having patterned after 'professor' Roger's strong disciplinary methods (I had the feeling that he'd literally beat the 'living hell out of me' if I misbehaved, and in later years done just that to 'misbehaving students!!!'); to Mrs. Hall's belief that a student couldn't learn unless his mind was entirely devoted to the subject at hand; and to Miss Alma Roberson's feeling that 'love and understanding' played an important role in the teaching profession. (Miss Alma taught us in the 6th grade, the year that I have for those very dear people!

 "If you should find the desire to publish this picture or any part of this letter in the local paper, I shall be very happy. If you do, will you please add the note that I'd love to hear from all of them."
 "During the past summer, I have been working intermittently on my homestead at Loudon, restoring and maintaining it in a habitable condition. I hope to be able to retire to it after another 9 years of teaching. Sooner or later, I shall have the house in some condition for visitors, and I should like to hold a "Class of '24 Reunion" there. Many of our classmates are deceased, but in my memory still live in the halls of the old high school building.
 Incidentally, let me close on a personal note. I enjoy your column of the Loudon paper very much. Everytime that I get up to the homestead, I always buy the most recent copy of the paper and it is only the desire to read your column which prompts this.
 My sincerest regards,
 "C.B."

September Rain Normal

September rainfall averaged 2.1 inches across the Tennessee Valley, about normal for the month, TVA reports.
 Local rainfall reports ranged from a high of 8.86 inches at Chickamauga Dam near Chattanooga, Tennessee, to a low of .75 of an inch at Lawrenceburg in middle Tennessee.
 After the generally wet weather trend of the past year, September was the first month since June 1972 that did not produce above-normal streamflows in the Tennessee River. Tennessee Valley runoff, as measured at Kentucky Dam, was slightly below normal for September.

Four Newsmen Added To Newspaper Hall Of Fame

Four more newspapermen who contributed greatly to the history of journalism in the state and nation during their lives have been named to the Tennessee Newspaper Hall of Fame.

The selections, made by a committee of past presidents of the Tennessee Press Association, were announced by TPA President W. T.

Franklin, Jr. of Lexington, as the state's 189 general circulation newspapers began observance of National Newspaper Week.

The honorees are:

John W. Finney (1900-1963) of Columbia.

Edward J. Meeman (1889-1961) of Memphis and Knoxville.

Ralph L. Millett (1876-1941) of Memphis.

Edward B. Stahlman (1843-1936) of Nashville.

Portraits of the four will be hung at ceremonies in connection with a Tennessee Press Association meeting in Knoxville November 3.

Finney, longtime editor of the Columbia Herald, worked tirelessly on the local, state and national levels to improve education. He campaigned through the editorial columns of the Herald and The Maury Democrat to improve city and county schools. The library at Columbia State Community College is named in his honor.

Finney's career parallels that of his father in many ways, including membership in the Hall of Fame. James F. Finney was named to the Hall of Fame in 1971.

Meeman was a forceful champion of causes during his nearly 60 years as a newspaperman. He fought corrupt city governments in Knoxville and Memphis, advocated civil rights against public sentiment, and was a tireless battler for conservation of natural resources. Meeman founded the Knoxville News in 1921 and edited it and its successor, The Knoxville News-Sentinel. He became editor of the Memphis Press-Scimitar in 1931. As conservation editor of all Scripps-Howard newspapers from 1932 until his death in 1966, he urged his readers to be aware of the values of natural resources.

Millett's career spanned five newspapers, four of them

In Memphis. He moved to Memphis from Dallas in 1916 and became editor of the Memphis Press. He became political editor of the Memphis Press-Scimitar in 1926 and associate editor in 1932, a position he held for 23 years. Millett used his writing talents against political corruption. Despite a stroke in 1920, which caused partial paralysis, he continued to write editorials championing the cause of "the little people."

Stahlman, former publisher of the Nashville Banner, was one of the founders of The Associated Press. He was an advocate of a free and independent judiciary and used the Banner's editorial influence to work for judicial reform in the state. Although he had once been elected an alderman and served on the Board of Education in Nashville twice, Stahlman declined an appointment to the U.S. Senate on the grounds that no newspaper publisher should hold elective office.

The new honorees are the third group of Tennessee newspapermen to be selected for the Hall of Fame. The first group of ten was inducted when the Hall was dedicated in 1969. A second group of four was installed in 1971.

The Hall of Fame is in the College of Communications section of the Communications and Extension Building at The University of Tennessee in Knoxville. It is jointly sponsored by UT and the TPA.

The new members were selected from nominees submitted last year. Selections are made every two years with no more than four persons selected each time. All nominees must have been newspaper journalists, distinctively identified with Tennessee, and must have been dead five or more years. Biographical sketches of the honorees follow:

What Do All Front Pages Have In Common?

News.

And the news that's printed on the front page of your newspaper is written as factually and as objectively as humanly possible.

Each news story on the front page contains as many facts about an event as space and time allow.

Your front page is a collection of news stories which the editors of your newspaper think are the most important of the day.

Inside your newspaper you'll find other news stories about usually less important matters. But they're written with the same dedication to accuracy and objectivity.

Read all of the news. It will keep you informed and help you be a better citizen.

Your newspaper.

It's yours. Use it for you.

Can You Read Your Newspaper In 5 Minutes?

Yes.

It's not something you do if you want the details of today's news.

But you can get a lot of facts from your newspaper in only five minutes if that's all the time you have.

Skim the headlines. They'll tell you only the most important information in each story. And if you want to learn more, read the first couple of paragraphs.

Then, if you want still more, read deeper.

A newspaper is organized so that if you're interested only in a particular subject—such as sports—you can spend your five minutes getting more and more information about it.

A newspaper is designed to help you get as much news as you want as quickly as you can.

Your newspaper. It's yours. Use it for you.

The Herald

Loudon County

Can A Newspaper Make Up Your Mind?

No.

But your newspaper can help.

In addition to the factual information which occupies most of your newspaper, there's an editorial page.

And on that editorial page you'll find editorials and columns representing the way your newspaper feels about specific issues. Quite often your newspaper may print an article that represents an opposite point of view.

If you put together the factual news stories in your newspaper and the opinions on your newspaper's editorial page, you'll have a lot of help in making your own decisions about current issues.

But you still have to make up your own mind.

Your newspaper.

It's yours. Use it for you.

Nobody Reads The Ads. Right?

Wrong.

There's all kind of evidence that readers read advertisements as much as they do other parts of their newspapers.

Why?

The ads tell what's new for the consumer.

They are also the best source of information about local entertainment.

Classified ads answer the needs of almost everybody.

Ads can help people make a lot of important decisions every day.

Your newspaper.

It's yours. Use it for you.

Milk Increases
Second Time This School Year
The wholesale price of homogenized half pints of milk to school cafeterias has increased twice this school year. Last year, 1972-73, the wholesale price of half pints to schools was seven cents. The price was increased to eight cents at the beginning of this school year. Cafeterias have already been notified that the price will advance to nine cents on October 29, 1973.

Along with milk, school cafeterias have also had many other price increases that make it difficult to operate without increasing the price of school lunches. For instance, bread has increased some four cents per pound since school opened in August.

The Federal Government has done away with the subsidy for free milk since the beginning of the 1972-73 school year. Last year and for many years the Federal Government has paid a four cent subsidy on all milk consumed by school cafeterias. This subsidy made it possible last year to sell milk to all students at four cents per half-pint. Under the present rate of reimbursement from the Federal Government, milk has to be sold for ten cents per half-pint.

Immunization Program Underway Here

Dr. Carolyn Beard of the Loudon County Health Department said this week that the local Health Department is cooperating in a national campaign during October to get more than four million pre-school children immunized against a wide range of diseases.

Parents, physicians and public health officials are urged to determine whether small children have been protected against polio, measles, rubella, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare said national surveys indicate that more than a third of the nation's nearly 14 million pre-schoolers have not been immunized.

Dr. Beard urges parents to protect their children starting at age two months on their immunizations, but if they have children any pre-school age that have not been immunized to take them now to their doctor or to the Health Department to obtain the protection.

"One of the problems," Dr. Beard said, "is that many parents wait until their children are approaching school age to get their vaccinations. As a result, many children four years of age and under susceptible to the diseases. Therefore, if an epidemic were to start, it could spread quickly through this age group, with possible devastating results to its young victims."

SCHOOL BOARD PETITIONS—

For about three weeks now a number of persons in the Loudon area have been circulating petitions asking the county court to take necessary steps to change the method of naming school board members for the County Board of Education. The petitions, signed thus far by about 1000 persons, asks that the school board members be elected by popular vote instead of appointed by the court as is the current method.

The petition says this would give the people a more direct voice in the supervision of the county school system.

This matter has been discussed off and on as long as we have been in Loudon and for the first time we can remember was brought out in an open meeting of the county court early this month, although no action and little discussion was held.

This issue like most will not be settled immediately after the promoters of the petitions present them to county court. Although we may be surprised if and the court direct the necessary legislation introduced and passed in the state legislature which would clear the way either for court ratification or for the matter to be ratified by a vote of the people, we expect it will take more than the petitions to bring on the action.

We would hope the County Court would give serious consideration to the requests of the citizens in this matter and should they decide to give the people an elected Board of Education it might be apportioned on the same basis as the nine member county court.

The present membership of the School Board includes some very capable individuals that are doing a good job, but we can see where the parents of children would rather see the school board be responsible to the voter rather than the county court.

The odds for success are not good, but we have seen worse.

Divers Fail To Find Old Trains, Do Get Something

BY CALVIN LUNSFORD

"I am bewildered by some of the things we have found, but we haven't given up hope of locating the old Civil War engines," said Toby Ayres the spokesman for the three divers who spent Saturday afternoon in their continuing search for the highly prized Civil War trains in the Little Tennessee River.

The fruits of a trining day lay at their feet at the ferry landing and Charley Harris who is well versed on this type of expedition, as well as an authority on Civil War items could offer no clue as to what they were. The items, which were extremely heavy, were unfamiliar to the group of spectators who had gathered at the landing as they were pulled from the river with the aid of a truck. Ideas came and passed as they were eliminated but no one would dare say proof positive what they were. Harris took scaled pictures of the items to make a search for their identity. No one could say they were or were not parts of an old Civil War locomotive, but, quite possibly the time and the efforts of Mr. Harris will be fruitful and the mystery solved.

Both Mr. Ayres and Mr. Kary stated that they had been approached by a man who came to the diving scene and the man stated that they were searching on the wrong side of the island. The man stated that the engines were run in from the Lenoir City side of the river and that his grandfather had mentioned seeing them there. Mr. Ayres felt that it might be worth the effort to take a look on that side, which due to the nature of the water, would not be as hard to work in as the area where they have been concentrating their efforts.

At this writing, according to our knowledge, no decision has been reached as to continue the search or to cease the efforts. Possibly the confirmation of the true identity of the recovered objects could have a bearing on this. Of course, this remains to be seen.

There is encouragement in the statement of the team which is "at present we can offer no confirmation that the locomotives are there, neither can we say they don't exist. We need more time." These statements afford a ray of hope to the people of the City of Loudon.

Man Shot Thrown Out Of Car Here

The FBI is investigating the finding of an Atlanta man shot and located on the side of Highway 95 near Interstate 75 in Loudon County about 5 a.m. last Thursday morning.

Hank Curley, 26, of Atlanta, is in U-T Hospital still in serious condition although he had at first been listed as critical from two gunshot wounds, one in the head and another in the chest near the midarm area.

At a service station attendant at the Exxon station at the Highway 95 and I-75 intersection was putting gas in a 1973 White Cadillac about 5 a.m. Thursday he heard someone in the trunk kicking. He went in the trunk and called the Loudon County Sheriff's office. While he was gone two black males in the car got suspicious and drove off leaving the third man standing at the station. He ran and apparently caught up with the car just across the 95 bridge. It was here that Curley was later found beside the road.

Detectives Guy Russell and Voyd Corrahn went to the station to investigate the call about the time Curley was found. Unable to talk he was taken to U-T Hospital and a bulletin on the three men, the car and its license number was broadcast. The car continued toward Oak Ridge on 95 and has not been spotted since. The car belonged to the victim.

The FBI told Sheriff Freeman Russell that Curley told them Monday that the three blacks jumped in his car with a gun in Atlanta, shot him and put him in the trunk and drove away and that he was in the trunk the entire trip from Atlanta to Lenoir City.

UFO????????? Sighted Here

It was a UFO or something, two calls came to the Loudon County Sheriff's office Tuesday night about 10:15 p.m. about unidentified flying objects hovering in the area of the 1-75 bridge over the Tennessee River.

Sheriff Freeman Russell along with Bill Fox and Brent Davis, both officers in the Loudon Sheriff's office, went to Blalock Bend and the area of the 1-75 bridge. They saw red, green and white light glowing over the bridge. Fox said the lights were such that you could not make out any physical object and that the lights would move from side to side in erratic motions and it was hard to tell about the altitude. The UFO moved up and down the river

Body Of Murdered Man Found Here

CHARGED WITH MURDER—A Knox County detective guards Jimmy Hurley, 30, Eddie Lee Junction, as they return to a small mobile home Friday night where Hurley said he beat his roommate James Duff to death Wednesday night.

A woman called the Loudon County Sheriff's office about 12:30 a.m. Thursday saying she had some information about a murder. Acting on the information officers from Sheriff Freeman Russell's office, Knox County Detectives and Roane County officers began an all night and all day investigation that resulted in the location of the body of the dead man and the charging of the man he shared a mobile home with for the murder.

The woman, Patricia Patton, who was living with Carey Rader, Rt. 3, Loudon in Hines Valley, a part-time lavern waitress and driver for an escort service, called the Sheriff's office and later met with Deputies Guy Russell and Voyd Corrahn at Tweedy's Motel at Dixie Lee Junction, just over the Loudon County line in Knox County.

After Sheriff Russell called Knox County Detectives James Smith and D.L. Hobbs to the scene the woman said that Jimmy Hurley, 30, came to the Rader house about 8 a.m. Thursday morning driving the car of the dead man, James Duff, 32, reportedly of Michigan. Both men had been working in contractors in housing developments and roomed together in a mobile home at the motel.

She said that Hurley wanted to know how to get rid of a dead body and that she saw the body in the trunk of the car and that it was Duff. She said Hurley then left and came back about an hour later and said he threw the body off a bridge into the lake. She said Hurley gave Mr. Rader a pair of shoes and threw some clothes into the yard that Rader made her take into the back yard. When Hurley returned she said he cleaned out the trunk of the car, washed it out and left.

She urged Rader to call authorities, she said, but he refused and said he didn't want to get involved. Late Thursday night the woman left Rader's home with Kenneth Belcher of Lenoir City and called officers.

When the officers entered the trailer they found Hurley passed out on the bedroom in an incoherent state. He was taken to Knox County jail.

About 2 a.m. Sheriff Russell and the Knox County Detectives went to Rader's home and he reportedly showed them the clothes and shoes and confirmed the woman's story.

About 9 a.m. Thursday Loudon and Roane County Rescue Squads started dragging operations under the Hines Valley Road Bridge and continued throughout the day with Roane, Loudon and Knox County officers looking on.

The dragging continued until about 4:45 p.m. when Detectives Hobbs and Smith called to cancel the operation saying they had a confession from Hurley and he was being brought to the scene to show them where the body was.

While they were waiting Eugene Jacobs, Rt. 4, Lenoir City, came to the bridge and told Sheriff Russell and Deputy Lake Bright that his dogs had found something. He took them about three miles from the bridge to the Loudon County near Rader's home where his dogs stood near the body of Duff.

Sheriff Russell then cleared the area and allowed Knox County officers to bring Hurley to the scene. He took the body to the body Coroner Dr. W.B. Harrison was brought to the scene to examine the body. It was turned over to Knox County and taken by the Roane County Rescue Squad to U-T Hospital for an autopsy.

Detective Smith said that Hurley told him that about 10 p.m. Wednesday night that Duff came in the trailer and asked him for some money and he refused. He said then Duff started getting ready for bed, took his clothes off and turned out the lights. He said then he noticed a shadow, arm held high with a weapon about to swing at him. He said he kicked Duff to the floor, took a tire-trot away from him and beat him in the head until he was dead.

He reportedly said he then put the body in the trunk of a Duff's 1966 Pontiac. On Thursday morning he drove to Rader's house and later dumped the body.

When he returned to the motel he took transmission fluid and cleaned the tools that were in the trunk of the car, took a bucket of water and cleaned up the blood in the trailer.

Hurley was charged with first degree murder and is being held in Knox County Jail in lieu of $25,000 bond. His preliminary hearing is set for 2 p.m., October 24 in Knox County Sessions Court.

Little information concerning the family of the dead man was available. Hurley apparently is married and has two children living in middle Tennessee.

United Fund Pledges Nears 20% Of Goal

Additional pledges of $388.20 were reported at the first weekly report meeting of the current Loudon County United Fund Campaign Monday bringing the total pledges to $7969.32.

Campaign Chairman Tom Matlock told those attending the report meeting at Loudon Junior High Cafeteria that the first week's report puts the campaign to raise $48,000 slightly ahead of the pace set last year. He said although the campaign is less than 20 percent completed at this time he is hopeful that the half-way point will be passed at the next report meeting, Monday at 12:30 p.m.

New pledge reported Monday came from the following areas:

- Loudon Residential 1135.00
- Loudon Business 4193.00
- Maremont Corp. 1720.00
- Union Carbide Loudon 9750.00
- Bacon Company (Loudon) 1943.32

Unit chairmen from the Loudon Corporation and Union Carbide at Loudon both said their campaigns were just getting underway and that they should have a sizeable report next week. J.E. Greenway of the Charles Sig's Restaurant in Lenoir City at 12:30 p.m.

Past Fund Chairman Charlie Davis commented that the death of Mrs. Bess Greer in Loudon was a great loss to the United Fund. He said that she had handled the residential solicitation in Loudon since the Fund began and that she had great pride that the Loudon residential campaign was the most successful of any in the county. He said every effort is being made to maintain the success that Mrs. Greer had attained in the campaign.

Workers to continue to remind residents that when they make a pledge or contribution to the United Fund that they are making one donation which is shared by 15 charity and service organizations.

Three Hurt At Dixie Lee

Three persons received minor injuries in a two car collision on Highway 11 near Dixie Lee Junction about 3:30 p.m. Friday, according to State Trooper Joe Littleton.

According to Trooper Littleton, a car driven by Kathy Walsh, 21, of Lenoir City struck the rear of another car that had stopped for a school bus. The driver of the other car Charlotte E. Drake, 25, and two passengers James Drake, 6 months, and Dixie Looney, 60, were all treated for injuries at Loudon County Memorial Hospital and released.

Doyle Earls Starts Serving Prison Term

Doyle Franklin Earls, who was convicted almost four years ago, for the second degree murder of 17 year old Richard Lynn Barger a popular Loudon High School student and son of a prominent Philadelphia family, has gone to prison.

Earls, 50, a part-time farmer, produce peddler and carrier, was arrested about a week after the beaten body of the young man was found in a farm pond about two miles from the driveway of his girlfriend's house where he was last seen alive.

Earls was sentenced to 10 to LOUDON COUNTY CORONER Dr. W.B. Harrison and Sheriff Freeman Russell examine the fatally beaten body of James Duff in a field in Hines Valley where it was discovered late Friday afternoon ending a three county search for the body. The man's roommate has allegedly confessed the killing at a motel at Dixie Lee Junction just inside Knox County.

DEPUTY LAKE BRIGHT examines a blood smudge on a porch post as Sheriff Freeman Russell talks with Carey Rader at Rader's home in Hines Valley. Information which first gave officers an indication that a man had been murdered came from a woman that was living at the Rader home.

15 years in prison in January of 1970, but until now has not served any of the sentence. Earls successfully obtained a reversal of the sentence in the Tennessee Criminal Court of Appeals, which later was reversed by the Tennessee Supreme Court.

This past summer Earls indicated that he would appeal the decision to the United States Court of Appeals in Cincinnati, but the appeal was not perfected and he was ordered sent to State Prison in Nashville on Oct. 18 to begin serving the sentence.

When he returned to the motel he took transmission fluid and cleaned the tools that were in the trunk of the car, took a bucket of water and cleaned up the blood in the trailer.

Hurley was charged with first degree murder and is being held in Knox County Jail in lieu of $25,000 bond. His preliminary hearing is set for 2 p.m., October 24 in Knox County Sessions Court.

Little information concerning the family of the dead man was available. Hurley apparently is married and has two children living in middle Tennessee.

Loudon Hosts Cleveland Blue Raiders

Greenback (6-0) To Close Home Grid Stand With Homecoming Activities

Lenoir City Travels To Kingston

Speaking of Sports

By DANNY GIBSON
Sports Editor

The Lenoir City football team was stunned to no end last Wednesday night when ace running back Mike Walker was sidelined with a badly bruised right thigh. The first assumption was that of a pulled muscle or simple bruise. But after a whirl-pool treatment failed to relieve any of the pain Walker was taken to the doctor for a check. The analysis proved almost a fatal blow to Coach Dale Brown's offense when told that Walker had a blood clot in the thigh and would be out from two weeks to possibly the rest of the season. Walker, a senior, has led Lenoir City offensively since his sophomore season. The hard running back had 486 yards of total offense for the Panthers in the first five games of 1973 season. Lenoir City had 1027 yards total team offense through the first five contests. Other than fashioning a sparkling 4.6 yards per carry average for the season, Walker handled the strong linebacking job and placement kicks. The Panthers certainly will miss their premier runner in the upcoming Kingston and Knoxville Rule gridiron battles.

GREENBACK HOMECOMING COURT—Eight pretty senior girls make up the homecoming court for Greenback High School this year. The initial queens will be selected by the football team and announced at halftime festivities of the Friday night home final for the

Greenback will be celebrating homecoming this Friday night by hosting the Townsend Tigers. The Cherokees will be a sure three touchdown favorite of Foothills Conference rivals. But the conference championship is on the line for the Cherokees and Townsend would like nothing more than to be a spoiler.

Greenback is undefeated in six games to date and is considered at least a tie for the conference crown should they lose. The Cherokees last taste of a Foothills grid title was in 1967 when they were co-champs with Porter. Friday night will close out the Cherokees home stand for 1973. Greenback plays their last three games on the road in hopes of landing a berth in the state A division playoffs. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Lenoir City will entertain tonight Cleveland, a two-time loser and darkhorse candidate for a spot in the Region II A playoffs. The Redskins are underdogs but are showing a more consistent game as a team and with few errors could pull the Blue Raiders on an even basis. Lenoir City will travel to

Loudon Performs With Solid Team Effort To Overpower Dayton 14-7

WALKER BROWN

Loudon assembled one fine team effort for four quarters Friday night in posting a 14-7 upset win over visiting Rhea Central High School of Dayton Friday night in the Redskins homecoming grid clash. "It was one of our better consistent games of the season," remarked a happy Loudon Coach Bert Halledge. "We needed the game in preparation for upcoming roughness of Cleveland and Maryville on the stretch drive of our schedule."

The Loudon triumph was not without some bad break mistakes in the nature of Loudon's defense, inspired by the touchdown stopped the Dayton eleven cold after the ensuing kickoff, but Dennis Queen fumbled away the fourth down, punt and Dayton

Its good to see the Redskins back on the right track with an impressive victory. The Loudon team certainly has the raw talent to be a powerful eleven if only they could put things together for four quarters without yielding to both the opposing defenses and their own needless bobbles.

The Redskins got a fine showing from sophomore Marlan Brown a bright prospect for the future, in the Dayton game and with a solid team performance of everyone giving a little extra to the cause might end the stretch drive of the season with a big slice of the pie and a consideration for a possible post season bowl bid. Wins over Maryville and Cleveland would definitely turn some heads toward the improvement of the Loudon Red Machine.

Not wishing to count your chickens before they hatch, but here is one for confidence. The fathers of the Greenback football players got together during last week and ordered steaks for the football teams in preparation of a victory celebration for the Walland game. The Cherokees were barely a three favorite in the game of unbeaten and won by a slim 13-12 margin. Nevertheless the steaks were on the stove by halftime and Greenback trailing 12-6. Wonder if that is what inspired the Cherokees to land the knockout punch in the third quarter and rely on a stout defense in waiting for the steaks to cook. "It would have been a shame to have wasted all those steaks," barked one hungry, but victorious Cherokee regular.

—It'll be Shriners Night when Lenoir City and Kingston clash Friday night. Roane County Shriners are sponsoring the annual battle between the long-time football rivals. Kickoff is set for 8 o'clock.

The Shriners will award a trophy to the winning team and individual plaques to the outstanding offensive and defensive performers. Proceeds will help finance the Shrine activities.

Cherokees Bump Indians From Share Of Region 1 Lead With 13-12 Win

Greenback dug in and on the second play of the series Hammontree came up with Walland's first turnover of the night a fumble at the 25. Greenback pushed to the Walland's line only to be denied a touchdown as Linginfelter was intercepted for only the second time this season.

Walland had the ball for only four plays as Bobby McNeilly grabbed up a loose fumble at the Walland 25 yard line. Linginfelter quickly went into action sending freshman end Harold Hawkins down the left side lines on a fly pattern. The senior field line and Tony Linginfelter the Indian secondary in on a cut by Hawkins and let the ball go. Hawkins ran under the serial with ease and the count was cut to 12-6 as the extra point placement was bobbed and the kick no good.

The two teams played the half out in strong defensive form and opened the second half with the same tempo.

Greenback failing to move the ball to start the third period punted but Walland managed to run only two plays as the Cherokee defense popping leather from the -going kickoff, knocked the ball free at the Indians 18 yard line and Tony Linginfelter poached on the recovery for Greenback.

Linginfelter ran for three yards, a nine yard pass to Hawkins got a first down at the Walland six. Linginfelter powered into the line for a couple of yards and senior fullback Tim Hammontree finding a soft spot in the Walland defensive wall bulled his way for the final four yards and a tie game at 12-12. Hammontree made the placement kick for the go-ahead point and Greenback was in control 13-12.

Walland got the ball for only two more offensive tries before Bobby McNeilly and Jimmie Brooks teamed to cause another fumble with Brooks recovering at the Indian 25.

Greenback was denied a possible touchdown due to a 15 yard penalty and Walland got the ball back at their 12 yard line.

The mark of a good football team is its abilities to capitalize on the other teams mistakes and errors. And when you are helping things along with some sound crisp tackling then opportunities are sure to materialize. The Greenback Cherokees, edged by the statistical stand point of the Friday night Region One headliner between them and previously unbeaten Walland, used four fumble recoveries and two pass interceptions to hang a 13-12 setback on the Blount County team.

The victory kept Greenback high atop the standings in the region race for a berth in the season ending state playoffs and assured them of no worse than a tie for the Foothills Conference Championship.

Greenback, 6-0 for the campaign, equaled defensive stands with the Indians in the first quarter. Walland had the ball for 14 plays and rolled up two first downs, while Greenback had the ball for 13 plays and also made two first downs.

Walland opened the second period of their own 47 yard line. A three yard run had the ball perched on the mid-field stripe. A second down pass, which Cherokee safety Tony Linginfelter appeared to have in his sights for an interception from the start of the play, somehow slipped through his grasp and into the surprised receivers arms. The Walland receiver wasted no time in fleeing to the end zone and a 50 yard touchdown. The try for a two point conversion pass was incomplete. Greenback still a bit stammered from the scoring maneuver failed to get a first down at their own 47 yard line and was forced to punt. A break down in the left side of the Cherokee line resulted in a blocked punt.

Walland found pay dirt in just four plays, moving from CHEROKEES ARE UNDISPUTED REGION ONE LEADERS—Flashing smiles that spread from ear to ear and waving arms high above their heads with index fingers, reaching for the sky, was a common sight for the Greenback football team and partisan followers Friday night as the Cherokees turned back previously unbeaten Walland 13-12 for the lead in Region One of Class A football. The win also assured the Cherokees at least a tie for the Foothills Conference title.

NOT ENOUGH INDIANS—Walland's defensive Indians find Greenback's senior quarterback no easy man to tackle as the elusive field general sheds off this would-be tackler to gain a first down for the Cherokees.

State Playoff Berths Start To Materialize

The race for berths in the IHSAA Football Play-off Series gets a little tighter each week.

Knoxville Central sits atop the Class AAA Region 1 race with several clubs right behind them. Chattanooga Taylor and Warren County of McMinnville are in the Class AAA Region 2 driver's seat. In Region 3 Nashville McGavock, Overton and McFreesboro Oakland are in a hot three-way race. In Region 4 two of the leaders CBHS and Hamilton, will clash this week and the winner still has tough competition from Whitehaven and several West Tennessee clubs.

Jefferson leads the pack in Class AA Region 1 with Keaton, Rule and Maryville tied for second. Maryville lost a big game this last week to Maryville Everett 24-7. The Class AA Region 2 race got a helping hand last week as two of the leaders knocked off two top opponents. Kingston beat Central of McMinn 13-9 and Notre Dame beat Cleveland 13-0. Goodlettsville, Hartsville, Lafayette and Livingston are all still tied for the Region 3 lead. Underdog Humboldt edged Milan 8-6 to throw the Region 4 race into a two-way tie between Bolivar and Lexington (these clubs meet on Nov. 2). McKenzie still undefeated in Region 4 played a Class A team and now had only 54 points to the leader's 60 play-off points. Another Memphis team, Fairley, is undefeated in five games and is still in the race. Greenback's 13-12 win over Walland gave Greenback the lead in Class A Region 1. There are still four teams running hard in Region 2 and they are Meigs County, Polk County, Sequatchie County and Spring City. Westmoreland and College Grove lead Region 3 after Westmoreland edged White House 10-9 in overtime and Joelton lost to Brentwood. Dyer County is far ahead of the pack in Class A Region 4.

Brenda Thompson Is This Week's Football Contest Winner

Not many people thought that Everett would defeat Maryville and not too many more figured Jefferson to beat Karns, but they did and that figured heavily in the Herald's Football contest last week.

There was only one 10 game winner. That was Brenda Thompson of Philadelphia who was the $12 first prize.

Second and third place money was split three ways, $4.33 each. The three all missed one game and had 21 points on the tie-breaker, Loudon 14, Dayton 7. The winners are Mrs. Kate Purdy, Cedar Street, Loudon; Pat Foster, Townview Apartments, Loudon and Geneva Foster Rt. 4, Loudon.

Others who missed only one game, but missed the points were Rodney Best, Paul Alexander, D. E. Thompson, Sherry Atkins, Mrs. Gary Atkins, Bill Thompson, Cecil Smallen, Clinton Helms, and Annie Davis.

Walker Out With Leg Injury Cheryll Veal Is Panther Queen Jones, Lindsey, And McConkey Star As Panthers Pin 14-0 Loss On Halls

Senior defensive back Buddy Jones, thrown into a 14-0 victory was the third return specialist on punts and kicks for the first time. The senior responded to the task with a first quarter 33 yard scamper of Knoxville Halls first punt of the game. Jones was tackled at the Halls 12 yard line, but running back Junior Johnson, who had 105 yards rushing for the game in 19 carries, rambled for a touchdown on the second play of the offensive series. Carl Thompson latched on to a Mike McConkey pass for a two point conversion and the score read 10 Lenoir City.

Lenoir City failed to generate any more of an offensive threat in the first half as the Knoxville team limited the Panthers to barely more than 20 yards of offense for the remainder of the first half and denied them a single first down.

Lenoir City's defense while not as stingy, proved just as rugged when the Red Devils got near the Panthers goal line. Knoxville Halls got as close as the Lenoir City nine yard line in the first period, but were stopped on a 53 yard penalty to null the drive.

Lenoir City put the game on ice in the second half with a 65 yard scoring march to open the third quarter. Senior Reed Lindsey, running from the slot left vacant by Walker's absence, capped the drive with a two yard burst into the end zone. The Panthers had several big offensive plays to highlight the scoring drive. Junior Johnson had two sparkling runs of 75 and 23 yards on first downs and Carl Thompson set up the score on a beautiful pass reception on a crucial third down and 10 for the Panthers.

The two point conversion effort was on good. Lenoir City had a full out effort in the game with Jeff Casler (13 yards on six carries), Reed Lindsey (12 yards on six carries) and Junior Johnson sharing the rushing duties, sparking the offense. Carl Thompson, Jeff Walker with a fumble recovery, Mike McConkey one pass interception, Reed Lindsey, Steve Arnold, Jeff Hakkey, Landry Long Hayes, and Buddy Jones all pitched in to spearhead the tough defensive showing.

The game turned to a defensive standoff in the final quarter with Loudon getting as close as the Dayton 12 yard line on one occasion, while the Yellowjackets got in closer than the Loudon 37 yard strike. Martin Brown and A.L. Branan turned in big defensive saves for Loudon with Brown intercepting two passes for a total of three for his in the game and Branan recovering a fumble.

Defensively Loudon was led by the play of Brown, Jimmy Rivers, Preston McQueen, Brad Brewster, Kiser, Watkins, and Guider, Donnie inclusion to regain the lead. The big play of the scoring march was a 31 yard touchdown pass from John Laddage to the speeding Rick Taylor. Kiser's 34-yard pass completion made the count 14-7.

The game turned to a defensive standoff in the final quarter with Loudon getting as close as the Dayton 12 yard line on one occasion, while the Yellowjackets got in closer than the Loudon 37 yard strike. Martin Brown and A.L. Branan turned in big defensive saves for Loudon with Brown intercepting two passes for a total of three for his in the game and Branan recovering a fumble.

Defensively Loudon was led by the play of Brown, Jimmy Rivers, Preston McQueen, Brad Brewster, Kiser, Watkins, and Guider, Donnie

Theop, Dickie Colvin, and Buddy Swiny back in action after battling a bad case of the flu, all had individual efforts to spark the Loudon play.

On offense Johnny Deatridge was the big ground gainer with 90 yards in nine carries. Rick Melton rushed for 28 yards on 11 tries and David Surrent picked up 23 yards on five opportunities from the line of scrimmage.

Cleveland Stops Redskins JV's

The Cleveland Blue Raider freshmen were too much for the Loudon Frosh as they suffered their second loss of the season at the hands of their hosts 28-0 in Cleveland Tuesday night. The Redskins Frosh now have a 4-2 record and face the Oak Ridge Freshmen at Oak Ridge next Wednesday night.

Cleveland moved the ball freely against the Loudon defense in the first quarter but could not get any points. Except for one play, a 25 yard run by Greg Deatridge, Loudon was held in vein by Cleveland in the first quarter.

The second quarter saw Cleveland explode for three touchdowns (one a 64 yard run) on the first play of the quarter. Three minutes later they scored again on a 35 yard run. The final score of the half came on a 31 yard halfback pass to give Cleveland a commanding 21-0 halftime lead.

The second half was much closer with Cleveland adding seven points and Loudon collecting a six point score late in the game. Running backs Greg Deatridge, Jackie Jones and quarterback Carter Cardwell carried much of the offensive punch with Loudon's big plays coming on two screen passes from Cardwell to Deatridge. The biggest covered 64 yards with 39 seconds to go in the game as Deatridge moved the ball to the Cleveland five. There Cardwell swept right end for the score.

Defensively Loudon was led by John Sweet, Junior Rolan, Cardwell, Deatridge, Windell Davidson, Danny Isbill, Kenny Starrett and Sam Theop.

the Greenback 34 yard line. The two point conversion run was again turned back by the Cherokee defense.

Greenback was stymied by the Walland defense and forced to punt. The Indians had the ball at their own 23 following a 48 yard boomer by Hammontree.

Walland threatened only one time in the second half and that was on a 10 play drive that started on their own 22 yard line and was halted at the Greenback 34 yard line. The Indians kept the ball in Greenback territory by stopping the Cherokees but Linginfelner intercepted a Walland pass returning it to near mid-field.

Greenback retained the ball just long enough for the clock to begin to favor them. A 41 yard punt had Walland operating from their own 17 and was time running out. Linginfelner again intercepted the Indians last gasp try to null the game out of the fire at the Greenback 30 yard line.

Milk Increase Second School Year
The wholesale price of Homogenized half pints of milk to school cafeterias has increased twice this school year. Last year, 1972-73, the wholesale price of half pints to schools was seven cents. The price was increased to eight cents at the beginning of this school year. Cafeterias have already been notified that the price will advance to nine cents on October 29, 1973.

Along with milk, school cafeterias have also had many other price increases that make it difficult to operate without increasing the price of school lunches. For instance, bread has increased some four cents per pound since school opened in August.

The Federal Government has done away with the subsidy for free milk since the beginning of the 1972-73 school year. Last year and for many years the Federal Government has paid a four cent subsidy on all milk consumed by school cafeterias. This subsidy made it possible last year to sell milk to all students at four cents per half-pint. Under the present rate of reimbursement from the Federal Government, milk has to be sold for ten cents per half-pint.

PUT ELECTRICAL SAFETY FIRST

Following the rules of electrical safety can help prevent accidents. Here are some electrical safety tips.

• Electric appliances should be approved by the Underwriters' Laboratories and should carry the UL seal.

• Appliances should be grounded properly. Most portable appliances and all power tools should either use a three-pronged plug or be double insulated.

• When unplugging appliances, pull the plug, not the cord.

• Do not hang electric cords or wires over radiators, pipes, or other metal objects.

• Have frayed or worn cords repaired. Do not overload convenience outlets. "Octopus" outlets are a sign of inadequate wiring.

• Knowing these electrical safety tips should help you put electrical safety first at your house.

The Senior color picture was made on Monday.

This has been the best homecoming we've had in four years and everything went smoother than it ever has. We want to thank everyone who worked on the homecoming for this year.

Congratulations to Miss Paula Green, daughter of Mrs. Ella Mae Green, for being elected Homecoming Queen. Paula's escort was Paul Bivens. When asked what being nominated as candidate meant to her, she replied "It's the greatest honor in the whole world."

All candidates and escorts are to be congratulated for their participation in the activities.

The band continues to show improvement, and the majorettes turned in an outstanding performance to "Smoke on Water."

The floats were especially good and all showed much work. The results of competition are 1st place was won by the Seniors. Their float was sponsored by Robert's Exxon, Loudon Farmers Co. op. Myers-Hudson, Richesin's Pharmacy, Carter Lumber Co.

2nd place was won by the Juniors. It was sponsored by Lyle's Pleasure Island, Hawkins Mortuary, Curtis-Tipton Motor Co., Hamilton National Bank, and State Farm Insurance.

Your County In Action

LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

The East Tennessee Development District formed by local government, as a tool and aid to local governments of the sixteen Counties of East Tennessee, is becoming more and more important.

The Law Enforcement staff has recently completed a draft of our proposed Criminal Justice Plan.

Included in this plan are a considerable amount of statistics.

From statistics much can be determined that would help improve the services to our citizens in the Cities and the Counties at a more economical cost.

In addition, a locality can check itself against other Cities and Counties in the general area.

To give you an example of some of the statistics listed in the plan and now available through the effort of the East Tennessee Development District:

Total reported offenses: Loudon - 6,339; Lenoir City - 7,774 (of which 7,100 were traffic offenses). Of Loudon's, 5,809 were traffic offenses. Loudon County was 2,943 of which 738 were traffic offenses. (Apparently parking violations are carried in the cities' total).

It was emphasized in the report that many police departments and sheriffs' offices do not keep very good records with particular reference to offenses observed or reported but wherein arrests are not made.

What about police chief salaries? Loudon is $7,044, Lenoir City's is $7,284, Sevierville is $7,248, Clinton is $9,560, Madisonville is $5,040; Kingston is $6,600.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

We have a school group picture again this week, but one quite different in many ways to the one we had last week. I guess the biggest thing is the span of many years between the dates they were taken and the fact that one is a town school which we ran last week and this one being a rural school. This one represents as great a cross section of local people as the

We have another picture which was taken on the Loudon River bank. We don't know who the kids are but someone loaned us this picture along with some others which they identified. Maybe some of our readers can help us.

We have a picture of an old time steamboat docked under the Gay Street Bridge in Knoxville at the same location as the recent picture in the News-Sentinel of the new excursion boat now running between Knoxville and Chattanooga. This picture was made over 75 years ago.

There seems to be an ever increasing interest in Nostalgia. Here and there in this busy world of ours. Someone is recreating something out of the past, which they hope will create enough interest to make a buck or two. There's nothing wrong with this because in most cases it means a tremendous investment.

Possibly one of the most recent of these (at least in our area) is the old Steamboat. (Which is not really a steamboat.) It's power is from two twin diesel engines, which I am sure is the best for dependability and much easier to set up to meet the Coast Guard Safety requirements. Other than this, it looks authentic, and brings back memories of an era long ago passed from our way of life, but not from the memories of those still living who recall this era of river travel.

Last week we ran a very interesting picture sent to us by Dr. C.B. Blair. Well, we were talking to Squire Jim

Blair, who as most Loudon's old timers know, is C.B.'s brother. Jim told us he had some very interesting pictures he was going to loan us for the Good Old Days. Of course, we will appreciate this very much. I would like very much to have a picture of the old 30

Model A Ford Jim used to drive to school. It was always loaded down as it made its way up High School hill.

We will be looking forward to Jim's bringing us these old pictures. I am sure the family albums contain many pictures known to our Loudon folks from the Good Old Days.

Anyone having information or pictures on the Coyte area please contact us. We have an out of state reader who has need of this and would appreciate your help in this matter.

VOLUME 88, ISSUE NUMBER 43 LOUDON, TENNESSEE, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1973 TEN CENTS PER COPY

HIGHWAY 72 INTERCHANGE—Relocated Highway 72 cross over I-75 near Loudon. The interchange is now being paved and 72 is ready to be paved. The construction of 72 will be completed in November according to a state release.

PHILADELPHIA INTERCHANGE—Grading is completed and paving is slated soon at the Philadelphia I-75 interchange shown above. The interchange and section of I-75 is scheduled for completion in May of next year.

UFO IN ACTION?—The Herald has been flooded with calls wondering if they had pictures of UFOs. The photos above were taken by Herald Editor Larry Cate Monday night.

UFO Watching Is Popular Local Sport

UFO hunting and watching is getting to be one of the biggest sports in Loudon County. The Loudon County Sheriff's office has received calls almost every night from persons seeing strange things in the sky.

Last Friday night was their busiest night when more than a dozen calls came from Matlock Bend, Davis, Martel, Poplar Springs and Highway 41 areas.

Last Wednesday night Deputy J.W. Mashburn said Mrs. Sam Thompson of Poplar Springs called about 10:30 saying that something was just over her mobile home with revolving lights of various colors. Mashburn said that the woman called several times and was really scared.

Loudon County's chief UFO watchers Brent Davis and Bill Fox said that they think they saw the lights in the Poplar Springs area also.

Teens and adults are forming UFO hunting parties at night and going to secluded places such as Goodman's Woods near Loudon, long a place that many believe is haunted, to look for UFO's and their occupants. It was reported that some have left quite hurriedly after hearing strange sounds and spotting something with a white head and big eyes.

Hundreds of persons attending the Loudon-Cleveland football game Friday night reported seeing an oblong blue glowing light in the sky. The light got brighter and then dim and bright again. It was expected it was a gas pocket being reflected by the moon.

Other sightings could have been some local pilots getting in some night flying during the clear nights of the past week.

Still others are unexplained and Loudon County like areas all over the eastern portion of the nation has been the site of some strange things.

Just to clear the air the pictures above this story are not of some out of space visitor. Editor Cate made time exposure photos of the paper's police monitor lights which seem to fit the description of what people have been seeing—but we are still looking for the real thing...

Completion Schedule Of I-75, Interstate Announced

The grading, drainage and construction of four bridges on Interstate 75 from the Monroe County Line to north of relocated State Route 72 in Loudon County is expected to be completed this month.

A contract for the 5.7-mile project was awarded in November 1971 by the Tennessee Department of Transportation to Wright Brothers Construction Co. and McKinnon Bridge Co. of Franklin.

The announcement was made today in a quarterly status report on road work in Loudon County by Gov. Winfield Dunn, State Sen. Carl Koeltz Jr. and State Reps. M.F. (Benny) Stafford and James Melton.

They also announced that the grading, drainage and construction of two bridges on the section of I-75 from relocated State Route 72 to one-half mile east of the Tennessee River is expected to be completed next August.

Construction on the interstate from east of the Tennessee River to State Route 95 is expected to be completed next August, the state officials said. The paving and installation of guardrail on I-75 from the Philadelphia interchange to the bridge over Watts Bar Lake is also expected to be concluded in August.

Paving of the 8.1-mile section from the interchange near Philadelphia in Loudon County to the State Route 68 interchange in Monroe County is expected to be completed next May, Governor Dunn and the lawmakers said.

Right-of-way acquisition, they said, is now under way for the Sugar Limb Road connector from State Route 2 to the interstate and for the connector at Philadelphia.

The engineering study is under way for State Route 95 from north of State Route 1 to Interstate 40.

Construction on State Route 72 from west of I-75 to west of State Route 2 is expected to be finished this month, the state officials said.

Repaving of Hines Valley-Walls Road from near Pine Grove to State Route 1 at Easton Crossroads and Steekee Road from the Monroe County Line to Loudon is expected to be finished this winter.

Bradshaw Wins Handicapped Award, Others Are Honored

Four awards were presented at the annual Hire the Handicapped Month program at the Loudon Lions Club meeting Thursday night.

The top award known as the Achiever Award was presented to Elbert Bradshaw. About four years ago Bradshaw lost a leg in a chain saw accident. The award is in recognition for his being considered the Outstanding Handicapped Citizen of Loudon County for the year.

The award was presented by Jerry Archer, Counselor for the State Vocational Rehabilitation Service.

James E. Campbell, Executive Director of the Governor's Committee on Hiring the Handicapped, presented the Loudon Lions Club with the Distinguished Volunteer Award for their work with the visually handicapped in Loudon County.

Jack Lefler, County Coordinator for the Governor's Committee presented Mrs. Henry Mitchell with the Distinguished Service Award for conducting for the Lions Club eye examinations on school children in the county.

A fourth award, the Achievement Award was presented to the Loudon County Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Campbell, main speaker at the program, said the Loudon Lions are doing a big job in assisting the visually handicapped and are helping to discover visual handicapped children through their eye examination program.

ACHIEVER AWARD—Elbert Bradshaw of Loudon an employee of the Don P. Smith Chair Company, who lost a leg in a wood cutting accident on his farm, is shown receiving the Achiever Award as Loudon County's outstanding handicapped citizen of 1973 from Jerry Archer, Counselor of the Vocational Rehabilitation Division of the State Employment office.

United Fund Report Shows $23,000 for 47.6 Percent

United Fund workers this week recorded a $15,181.38 increase in cash and pledges over last week's report to reach a $23,141.70 total, or 47.6 percent of the goal.

The report was made Monday noon at Sig's restaurant in Lenoir City. The Loudon County United Fund is seeking to raise $48,000 to be used to support 15 different agencies which serve local people.

Largest single item in Monday's report was $7,299 from Union Carbide in installations in Oak Ridge. Indications were that the campaign there is about 99 percent complete. Last year $14,365 came from Loudon Countians working in the Oak Ridge plants.

Another significant report came from the Eaton Corp. plant at Lenoir City. The campaign among employees there has raised $3,276 since last week's report. Added to the corporate contribution of $2,000 reported at the kick-off breakfast, the lock plant's total stands at $6,276. Plant personnel estimated the drive there is about 75 percent complete.

Other new contributions reported included:

- Marionette Corp., $476 new money, for a total of $1,214. The campaign there has just gotten started. Last year $7,472.12 came from that Loudon plant.
- Union Carbide, Loudon, $1,233.40 for a total of $1,965.60. The drive among hourly employees has just gotten underway, reports indicated.

- Charles H. Bacon Co., Lenoir City, $1,174, new money, the first reported. Indications were that the campaign there, too, is about 75 percent finished.

The next report meeting will be at Loudon Junior High School at 12:30 p.m. Monday.

Questions and Answers About Your United Fund

WHO DECIDES HOW MUCH EACH AGENCY WILL RECEIVE?

Each agency prepares a budget estimating their requirements for the coming year. The Budget and Administration Committee considers these requests and make recommendations to the Board, granting, within reason, what they feel is an equitable amount. Final approval of allocations is made by the United Fund Board of Directors. Payments to the agencies are made according to their needs, seasonal, quarterly, etc.

Loudon, I-75 Study Near Completion

Survey work for an Economic Growth Potential Study of the area between Interstate-75 and Loudon will continue for the next few weeks announced Loudon City Administrator Gary Hensley recently.

Hensley stated that "I have had several calls recently about this survey work and want to assure residents of the area that the study is being undertaken primarily to determine the feasibility of extending water into this area."

He added that "by comparing cost estimates for the utility improvements with an estimate of potential demand from the area, we can determine the feasibility of building additional improvements."

The Tennessee State Planning Office's East Tennessee Section is assisting local planners with the study. The study will attempt to determine the economic growth of the area by studying both natural factors, such as soil, geology and slope, and man-made factors, such as I-75, and by taking into consideration the immediate plans of property owners in the area.

LIONS HONORED—Loudon Lions Club President Randel Johns receives a plaque for the Loudon Club for Distinguished Voluntary work for the handicapped. The award is presented by James E. Campbell, Executive Director for the State Governor's Committee for Hire the Handicapped and county coordinator Jack Lefler, Campbell said the Lions work in sight conservation in the county won them the award.

Duncan Tells Results Of County Survey

Representative John J. Duncan (R-Tenn.) today announced the results of his 1973 Legislative Questionnaire. The questionnaire was distributed earlier this summer throughout the Second District, and the results were recently tabulated and evaluated on a county-wide basis. The poll asked for constituent response to major issues of the day such as amnesty, capital punishment, gun control, Federal governmental influence, and impoundment which have demanded the interest of citizens all across the nation. According to Congressman Duncan, constituent response to this yearly questionnaire provides a sounding board by which the opinions of the average citizen in his district can be voiced and brought to bear on the legislative process. This year, as in the past, the 1973 Legislative Questionnaire received an enthusiastic response from concerned citizens in Loudon County.

One question which received an emphatic response indicated that the citizens in Loudon County overwhelmingly would oppose the establishment of a relief fund for the postwar reconstruction of North Vietnam. Over ninety percent said they would not favor such an expense to be laid out by the United States. In Greenback, however, a higher ninety-three percent of the citizens opposed any subsidy to North Vietnam. By the same token, the poll showed that ninety-two percent would not approve of granting amnesty to those who avoided military service during the war years. In Philadelphia, the percentage against amnesty went as high as ninety-five percent.

Another question of major importance to Loudon County citizens concerned the passage of a Constitutional amendment to reinstate the death penalty. Eighty-seven percent of the respondents said that they would favor a Constitutional amendment permitting the death penalty for certain major crimes. The percentage supporting capital punishment went as high as ninety percent in Greenback. Eighty-nine percent of the respondents in Loudon supported capital punishment for major crimes.

Gun control legislation has always been an issue of major importance to the citizens of Loudon County, and the results of the questionnaire confirm this high level of interest. Over sixty-nine percent indicated that they would not favor stricter gun control laws at the Federal level. Seventy percent opposed additional gun control laws in Loudon County, and the percentage went as high as seventy-five percent in Philadelphia.

Response to several questions on the poll indicate that the citizens of Loudon County strongly feel the Federal government's influence over local affairs should be greatly reduced. For example, sixty percent of the respondents did not feel that the Federal government should assume a major share of the cost of health care for all Americans. In Loudon County sixty-one percent opposed such Federal health care plans. An even greater majority, seventy-five percent, opposed Federal funding of child day care centers. Continued farm controls and subsidy programs were also opposed by a sixty-two percent majority. In Loudon, opposition went as high as sixty-six percent, and in Loudon County, sixty-two percent opposed such subsidies. Favoring a reduction in such excessive Federal spending, eighty-two percent of the respondents consequently felt the President should be allowed to impound funds in order to hold down the Federal budget. In Greenback and Philadelphia about fifty-eight percent favored allowing the President to have this power.

Other concerns of Loudon County citizens were reflected in the remaining questions. Eighty-nine percent of the respondents felt that Social Security payments should be automatically adjusted upward with the cost of living. A substantial sixty-nine percent favored the establishment of a national no-fault automobile insurance plan. Protecting the environment continues to interest Loudon County citizens as fifty-eight percent indicated they would be willing to pay higher prices for some consumer goods and services to help combat air and water pollution. Also, a little over half of the respondents felt that newsmen should not be permitted to keep their sources of information confidential under all circumstances. Opposition went as high as sixty percent in Loudon. Fifty-two percent in Loudon City and fifty-one percent in Loudon opposed complete secrecy for newsmen.

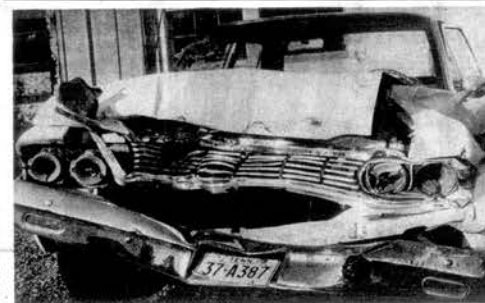

Representative Duncan was very encouraged by the enthusiastic response to his 1973 Legislative Questionnaire. "I feel constituents want to have a say on important issues," Mr. Duncan said, "and these questionnaires are an excellent way for the people in

AN OLD HOUSE at Riverside Cemetery in Loudon which was being torn down caught fire and burned Friday afternoon. Loudon Fire Chief Chili Jones said since the house was being demolished it was allowed to burn, but the fire department equipment and men stood by to prevent the fire from spreading to other nearby residences.

LOUDON COUPLE INJURED—An elderly Loudon couple were taken to Fort Sanders Hospital Monday after they were injured in a two car accident at the intersection of Ferry and Main Streets in Loudon. Loudon Police officers Darb Oody and Jesse Conner said that the car driven by Marion E. Hope, 60, (above) was attempting a left turn from Main to Ferry when a car driven by Franklin Snyder, traveling East on Main struck the Hope car. Mr. Hope sustained chest injuries and his wife, Virgie Ethel Hope sustained a broken leg and head injuries.

Loudon County to let their voices be heard." Congressman Duncan feels that close contact between citizens and their elected representatives should always be maintained as a means to make the government responsive to individuals, local communities, and to the Nation.

ASC Taking Nominations

Nominations for candidates for Community Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committees will be open through Monday, October 29, reports Fred Pippa, Chairman of the Loudon County ASC Committee. Mr. Pippa says that so far as is known, no petitions have been signed nominating candidates. The petition period began October 4. Under the ASC farmer-elected committee system programs such as Tobacco, Feed Grain and Wheat and other Federal farm programs are administered by local farmers. Elections are held annually by mail and newly elected committee members take office on January 1 of each year. Preceding the Nov-Dec. mail election, any three farmers may nominate a candidate by signing a petition. Farmers may sign as many petitions as they like. The petition may be on any sheet of paper as long as it includes a statement that the nominee has agreed to serve if elected. Nominating petitions must be turned in at the Loudon County ASCS Office, not later than Oct. 28.

If fewer than six candidates are nominated by petition, the community committees now in office will fill out the slate.

We are NOT saying that election of the school board by the people will immediately make Loudon County's educational situation better. WE ARE SAYING that the people of Loudon County deserve to have a more direct voice in the administration of the Loudon County School System. We are not critical of the present board, of the current administration, or of the teaching staff. But we believe that more direct participation by parents and concerned citizens can only strengthen our schools. IF WE BELIEVE IN DEMOCRACY, LET'S MAKE IT WORK IN LOUDON COUNTY!

Greenback, LC Play Tonight

Loudon-Maryville Rivalry To Spot Light Friday Night Grid Play

Redskin Kickoff At 7:30

All three Loudon County football teams will be trying to rebound from last Friday night's defeats this week in high school grid action.

Lenoir City and Greenback will play their games tonight (Thursday) due to Friday being a school holiday for students as teachers attend the East Tennessee Education meeting in Knoxville. Loudon will play on Friday night as scheduled. The game at Lenoir City is the only county team to play at home this week. The Panthers will host the Rockwood Tigers. The game is set to start with a 7:30 p.m. kick-off rather than the usual 8 p.m. start. Lenoir City with a 3-4 record, will be a solid touchdown favorite to even their record despite playing without Mike and Jeff Walker.

Greenback will be trying to rebound from their first loss of the season with a strong showing at Charleston. The Panthers are 16 point underdogs as compared to Townsend, the team who upset the Cherokee Friday night, who were 21 point underdogs upon arrival to Greenback Cooper Field. Hence the Panthers are being laid in wait for the Cherokee delegation tonight. Kick-off is set for 8 p.m.

Loudon will hit the road for a big game at Maryville, to be played as custom on Friday night at 7:30 for those following the Redskins. Loudon is 3-4 for the year, a modest record as to their team capabilities. Maryville on the other hand has lost but once this fall and are ranked fourth in the state in AA classification. The Red Rebels rivals tangle. The game is one of the top headlines in the state this week.

are six point favorites but anything goes when these two star this week.

Speaking of Sports

By JANNY GIBSON
Sports Editor

"I support the Amateur Athletic Bill of 1973 which would remedy the very conditions that have now produced the United States' deficiencies in international sports at the amateur level. And what do ya get for it?"

"You get a bunch of sports writers around this country who tell you that they don't want government control, and they don't even know what the bill says, that's before the Senate and the House right now. That's what's wrong with amateur sports. Our athletes are no less good than they ever were. But they have no leadership, and no chance to develop themselves."

That's Howard Cosell, speaking on his ABC show.

For those who are not familiar with the bill, it is one the Commerce Committee allowed to be introduced on the floor of the Senate after allowing Cosell, a few players and a couple of organizations to testify in its behalf. In short, the bill would put all amateur athletics under federal control, create a national board to govern amateur sports and cost you, the taxpayer, thousands of dollars to support it.

I remember an experiment in history similar to what Cosell wants to become law here, either guy's name was Adolph Hitler and he nationalized Germany's entire sports program to become an integral part of his dream of creating a super race. You know the rest of the story.

You are right, I don't want the government tampering with our amateur athletes and I don't believe the average American does, either Tennessee Sen. Howard Baker agrees the bill has been handled badly and that the committee reported the bill without sufficient hearings. And, in a letter to Sen. Tunney, Sen. Baker has expressed a desire to give other organizations an opportunity to testify before the bill is considered on the Senate floor.

Illinois Sen. Adlai Stevenson II says he would hate to see the federal government become involved through legislation and Sen. George McGovern said, "The Federal government has no role to play in amateur sports."

I do not agree that our program is without leadership. I do agree the NCAA and AAU are having problems that should be solved in some manner, but not through a bureaucratic nightmare this bill would produce for those organizations which are not having difficulty.

When Don Porter, the Amateur Softball Association's live-wire executive director was in Tennessee for the Women's National Slowpitch Tournament, he reviewed some of the things he has been doing in a relentless effort to defeat this terrible bill. The American Broadcasting System did give him equal time on national radio to offer a rebuttal to Cosell's remarks. A question Porter asked Cosell was, "Why were only a few select witnesses chosen to appear at the hearings? Why were only two national organizations invited to testify when there are some 20 to 30 national organizations representing millions of competitors and participants that should have been heard?"

In all honesty, I'm sure the Senators believed what they were hearing and assumed that all amateur sports were having the same problems and needed to be rescued by the Federal government.

This bill, if passed, would cause irreparable harm to the amateur sports structure as we know it and I hope every sports fan from across the nation that is with us today will write his congressman and senator, requesting they vote against it when the time comes. Many Tennesseans have voiced their opposition to the bill to Sens. Baker and Brock and those who haven't, should.

Sen. Dewey Bartlett, of Oklahoma, said, "I do not favor the Federal government getting into sports business. I am satisfied that our nation's schools and athletic organizations can run their own affairs without the assistance of the Federal government."

Sen. Tunney says those of us who oppose his bill "live in a cocoon. They don't know what the real world is all about." He thinks you, the administrators and the volunteer workers who contribute your time, money, effort and dedication, are doing a lousy job.

Right now I do not question the moral integrity and honesty of those in amateur sports that I am privileged to associate with. But, the way things are going in Washington these days, there seems to be a question about some of our leaders' integrity and honesty.

Stay in your ivory tower, Mr. Cosell. We will win some and lose some. That's what we teach in our American way of life. We found out the world really didn't come to an end when our basketball team lost to the Russians and it didn't come to an end when Mark Spitz won his seven gold medals, either.

Cleveland Comes From Behind To Slip By Loudon 12-7

Loudon turned in another good game Friday night in opposition to the forces of Cleveland's highly ranked and successful football team, but dropped the defensive tussle 12-7.

Both teams battled to a stalemate in the first 12 minute stanza with neither eleven finding an outlet to the others end zone. Cleveland possibly had the edge in performance as they managed to land a 38 yard punt on the Redskins one yard line late in the first quarter to restrict the Loudon offense to conservative plays.

Loudon finally moved the ball out to their own 36 yard line before going to the passing game. The Blue Raiders were ready and intercepted a Redskin pass returning it to the Loudon 40 yard line. Eight plays enabled the Cleveland team to cross the double stripe on a 17 yard

Skinner added the extra point and Loudon had overtaken the visitors 7-6 with 7:32 left in the contest.

Jimmy Bivens and Tucker each had two pass receptions in the Loudon drive. That proved to be clutch plays for the Redskins. Tucker's last one of course being for the score.

The Redskin lead failed to last as Cleveland returned the kickoff 18 yards to their own 41 yard line. Nine plays later the Blue Raiders struck pay dirt from the Loudon two yard line. The try for a two point conversion was no good as the Loudon defense proved too strong.

Loudon returned the kickoff 15 yards to their own 36 yard line. A 17 yard pass had the Redskins in Cleveland territory with 1:56 remaining but four incomplete passes forced the Loudon effort to be cashed in for another night as Cleveland ran the final seconds of the clock to win a tough 0-6 12-7.

Offensively Loudon had several men with large chunks of real estate. Rick Melton had 65 yards on nine carries. John Lovelace ran for 21 yards on five carries. David Surret moved the ball 11 times for 42 yards and Tim Guider thundered for 19 yards on seven tries with the ball.

Defensively Brad Brewster, Kiser, Dennis Rowe, Danny Watkins, Danny Russell, Donnie Thearp, Jimmy Bivens, and Tim Guider were consistent minute men. Several others gave extra team efforts: Nat Campbell, one of the defensive hubs of the Loudon line was injured in the first quarter with a severe shoulder injury that could possibly keep him from playing in the Maryville game.

Loudon got the ball for only two plays after the ensuing kickoff. Tim Guider punched out two yards and quarterback John Lovelace rambled for 21 yards before yielding a fumble during the Cleveland tackle. The Blue Raiders kept the ball for the majority of the remaining minutes of the second quarter, moving to the Loudon 49 yard line and finally dropping a punt dead at the Redskin nine yard line.

Loudon moved swiftly in time with the game clock, rolling from their own nine to the Cleveland 21 yard line in 11 plays. Loudon was threatening to score but a pass was picked off by a Cleveland defensive back at the Redskin goal and preserved the first half play, favoring Cleveland 6-0.

The third quarter was a three offensive series swap out with Loudon's R.L. Branson spearheading a Cleveland pass and returning it for 18 yards for the big play of the entire period.

Loudon opened the final quarter on their own four yard line but displaying a portion of their ability to completely dominate the opposition drove 96 yards in 13 plays for a touchdown. The initial scoring maneuver coming on a pass from Dennis Queen to Sam Lyle, who could not find the hands on the ball, and as the playkin was baited around, Loudon's Rick Tucker happened to be in perfect position to snag the football and step into the end zone. The Loudon Volunteer football teams divided four games last Saturday with the Grasscutters and Midgets winning over Madisonville by 14-8 and 48-6 scores respectively and the Mustangs

Townsend Upsets Greenback 20-15 As Cherokee Fall From Unbeaten Ranks

Greenback, enjoying a plateau of football supremacy over their first six regular season foes, buckled to a first up Townsend eleven Friday night by a score of 20 to 15 for their first loss of the season. The setback lowered the Cherokee into a tie for the Footbills Conference Championship with Walland, each fashioning a 4-1 conference mark. Greenback also dipped into a low way tie between Walland, Coalfield, and Jackboro for a Region One state title playoff berth. The upset, Greenback was a three touchdown favorite, was a combination of Greenback doing so right in the first half and Townsend doing, no worse. The Tigers got on the score board early with a 68 yard touchdown scamper. Greenback had a flash of their usual play by bouncing back to snag a 34 yard scoring drive. Tim Hammontree led the parade down the field with some bone-crushing rush. Tony Linginfelter nooded his way over the goal line from for six more points as they moved the ball to mid-field on two plays and when a teeth-jarring tackle by Linginfelter and McNelly freed the ball from a Townsend ball carrier, the pickup bounced into the arms of a speedster. They moved the ball from their own 16 to the Townsend 20 in three plays covering the last 41 seconds of the contest.

Bill Joe Kyker played his best complete game for the Greenback catching all but one pass thrown to him for over 100 yards in offense and handling the right side of the defensive line almost individually. Hammontree and Evans also chipped in on the Greenback defensive play, but as a team the Cherokee were not ready to play and yielded badly to the game efforts of the Townsend eleven.

only time the Cherokee would be ahead the rest of the game.

Greenback 22 yard line set up still another first quarter TD and the score read 20-8 as the second quarter 208 underway.

Both teams threatened to score in the second period but fine defensive play would yield no more points before halftime.

Jeff Walker Lost For Season

Injury plagued Lenoir City fell to their fourth set back of the 1973 football campaign Friday night to once beaten Kingston 29-7. The Panthers minus the services of senior running back and defensive star Mike Walker, out with a blood clot in his right thigh, lost the other half of their Walker family, sophomore linebacker Jeff Walker Friday night. The hardnosed lineman was injured in the second half and had to be taken to UT Hospital in Knoxville for knee surgery. The repair of torn ligaments in a late Friday night to early Saturday shooting operation was reported a success with Walker being in a cast for six weeks and having the rest of winter to strengthen the leg and knee. The loss of the Walker boys has been a severe

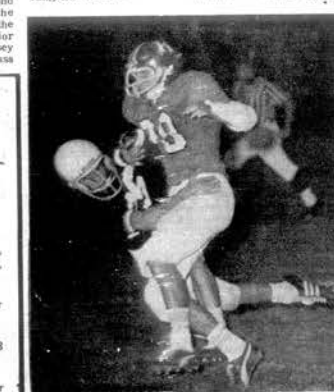

Kingston Rolls Past Panthers 29-7

Kingston wasted little time in getting the game under control once they had got into the drivers seat. A 55 yard-four play scoring march gave the home team a 12-0 count on the Panthers. Lenoir City produced their strongest drive of the first half in the second quarter, moving the ball from deep in their own territory to past the mid-field stripe. Kingston forced a punt but Lenoir City's defense checked the Yellow Jackets on three downs and followed the effort with a fourth down blocked punt by defensive stalwart Carl Thompson. Cousin Sam Thompson was "Johnny on the Spot" to pick up the loose ball and race 33 yards to pay dirt for the Panthers. The extra point kick was good and Lenoir City had cut the gap to 12-7. Kingston pushed the ball to the Lenoir City 27 yard line before the Panther defense again made a stand, but the Yellow Jackets struck with a 37 yard field goal to increase their lead, 15-7. Lenoir City got an unexpected break in the waning minutes of the first half and could have took the momentum of the game to the dressing room as senior defensive back Reid Lindsey intercepted a Kingston pass and raced to the Yellow Jacket four yard line. The Panthers failed to get across the goal line despite moving yards in 10 carries, while Junior Johnson moved the ball 33 yards on 19 carries. Defensive Sam and Carl Thompson played gallantly as open on their first two offensive series of the second half driving 64 yards on five plays and 46 yards in six intercepted passes. Blakney, Walker, Arnold, Smith, and Lenoir City refused to fold Menger also had bright spots in the Panther defensive quarter drive that ended in a lost pass interception inside the Kingston end zone.

Knox Central, Oak Ridge Shape Up In Region 1, AAA Standings

While Baylor and Warren County appear to be odds-on favorites to play for the Region 2 Class AAA championship in 1973, the Region 1 race is turning into a real dogfight between front-running Knoxville Central and a host of dangerous challengers, one being Oak Ridge.

The Baylor-Warren County winner is scheduled to play the Region 1 kingly in the state playoff semifinals. Meanwhile, in Region 3 powerful Nashville Overton, is causing talk of "another Bristol in the mid-state" with its impressive showings after losing to Bristol in the 1972 playoffs.

The top-ranked Red Raiders and Placers are far in front of the other Region 2 clubs. And looking at the Raider schedule, it's doubtful that Baylor will lose before, if then, the state playoffs.

Oak Ridge, Morristown East, Bristol and Knox remain deadlocked for the Region 2 Class AA lead. Both clubs are 6-1 with 60 points. McMinn Central and Cleveland are technically alive, but have rough roads ahead to make the playoffs.

Greenback Defeats Walland

The Greenback-Walland football report in last week's Loudon County Herald edition was an out of sequence as is how it was supposed to appear in the paper. The corrected version is being run again this week for those people who failed to make any sense from the write-up which appeared last week. The Herald is happy to make the correction and is sorry for the mix up.—SPORTS EDITOR.

The mark of a good football team is its abilities to capitalize on the other teams mistakes and errors. And when you are helping things along with some sound-crap tackling then opportunities are sure to materialize. The Greenback Cherokees, edged by the statistical stand point of the Friday night Region One season between them and previously unbeaten Walland, used four fumble recoveries and two pass interceptions to hang a 12-12 setback on the Blount County team.

The victory kept Greenback high atop the standings in the region race for a berth in the season ending state playoffs and assured them of no worse than a tie for the Foothills Conference Championship. Greenback, 6-0 for the campaign, equaled defensive stands with the Indians in the first quarter. Walland had the ball for 14 plays and rolled up two first downs, while Greenback had the ball for 12 plays and also made two first downs.

Walland opened the second period at their own 47 yard line. A three yard run had the ball perched on the mid-field stripe. A second down pass, which Cherokee safety Tony Langinfelter appeared to have in his sights for an interception from the start of the play, some how slipped through his grasp and into the surprised receivers arms. The Walland receiver wasted no time in fleeing in the end zone and a 30 yard touchdown. The try for a two point conversion pass was incomplete.

Greenback still a bit stunned from the scoring comeback failed to get a first down at their own 48 yard line and was forced to punt. A break down in the left side of the t-broke line resulted in a blocked punt. Walland found pay dirt in just four plays. The two point conversion run was again turned back by the Cherokee defense.

Greenback was stymied by the Walland defense and forced to punt. The Indians had the ball at their own 25 following a 49 yard boomer by Hammontree.

Greenback dug in and on the second play of the series Hammontree came up with Walland's first turnover of the night a fumble at the 25. Greenback pushed to the Walland 10 and was denied a touchdown as Langinfelter was intercepted for only the second time this season.

Walland had the ball for only four plays on Bobby McCollister grabbed a loose fumble at the Walland 26 yard line. Langinfelter quickly went into action sending freshman end Harold Hawkins down the left side lines on a fly pattern. The senior field general pumped once to draw the Indian secondary in on a cut by Hawkins and let the ball go. Hawkins ran under the aerial with ease and the count was cut to 12 as the extra point placement was bobbed and the kick no good.

The two teams played the half out in strong defensive form and opened the second half with the same tempo. Greenback failing to move the ball to start the third period punted but Walland managed to run only two plays as the Cherokee defense opening kickoff, knocked the ball free at the Indians 18 yard line and Tony Langinfelter popped the ball to the recovery for Greenback.

Langinfelter ran for three yards, a nine yard pass to Hawkins got a first down at the Walland six. Langinfelter powered into the line for a couple of yards and senior fullback Tim Hammontree finding a soft spot in the Walland defensive wall bulled his way for the final four yards and a tie game at 12-12. Hammontree made the placement kick for the go-ahead point and Greenback was in control 13-12.

Walland got the ball for only two more offensive tries before Bobby McCollister and Jimmy Brooks learned to cause another fumble with Brooks recovering at the Indian 35.

Greenback was denied a possible touchdown due to a 15 yard penalty and Walland got the ball back at their 12 yard line.

Walland threatened only one time in the second half and that was on a 10 play drive that started on their own 22 yard line and was halted at the Greenback 34 yard line. The Indians kept the ball in Greenback territory by stopping the Cherokee, but Langinfelter intercepted a Walland pass returning it to near mid-field.

Greenback retained the ball just long enough for the clock to begin to favor them. A 41 yard punt had Walland operating from their own 17 and with time running out Langinfelter again intercepted the Indians last gasp try to pull the game out at the tire at the Greenback 38 yard line.

Indians Win

The Loudon Indians sparked by a dazzling performance by Hobo Hawkins crushed the Sweetwater 41-34 this past Saturday night. This win was number 100 for coach Buster Custead.

Coach Custead was honored at a party after the game. The Loudon Team was led by Starritt, Black, and Hawkins on offense as they combined for 306 yards total offense. Hawkins and Starritt led Loudons scoring with 2 TD's apiece with Black adding the other. This win was Loudon's 44 straight enroute to another conference championship. Coach Custead said that he couldn't expect his team to have played any better. The whole team had an outstanding effort and game.

Upsets Catch Grid Contestants, 4 Win

The upsets put the Football Contest into a tail spin last week, with no contestant getting all games correct. Four of the nine persons who got nine games correct share in the $25 prize money.

The games that caused the most trouble was the surprise upset of Townsend over Greenback and Newport over Sevier County.

The tie-breaker (Cleveland 12 and Loudon 7) for 15 points decided the winners.

With 21 points and missing only the Greenback game was Frank Lynn who wins first place money of $12. Second place with 24 points missing the same game is Sharon Grimes, of Vale Street, Loudon. She wins $8.

Third place is shared $4.25 each by Mrs. Kate Purdy and Cindy Atkins.

Mrs. Purdy, who has won a share of the contest cash for three weeks in a row was the only contestant to pick Townsend over Greenback, but she missed a perfect score by missing the Newport win. They had 27 points on the tie-breaker.

Others who were close were Lee Hill, D.E. Thompson, Jimmy Thomas, Mike Hall, and Tim Moore.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

My name is Joe Brannon and I am very much concerned about this election of School Board members by popular vote. I certainly think this should be the best way and only fair way to do something such as School Board members.

Some areas of the county are almost completely left out as far as a school representative is concerned. And this hurts because the areas left out deserve good schools as well as any other part of the County.

If the school board members thought they might not get stay on the School Board because of election, don't you think he would get out and start looking and listening. If a School Board member doesn't get out and look and visit who does he know what is going on.

I wouldn't even have any objections to a woman Board member. Sometimes a woman can keep things straightened out where men don't because a woman has just a little different view from her standpoint where a man might not.

No, I wouldn't mind electing a good hardworking woman and being a good School Board member would be hard to work.

I am advising everyone I can to be sure and either call their Squire or any other Squire they know.

The people in Loudon County need to let their Squires know how they feel about this, one way or the other. Even if you are against popular vote election, let it be known.

This is still a free country and I, for one, would like to see it stay that way for a long time to come. So let everyone get out and work in the direction they believe in.

This may be the public's last chance for a long time to come to get School Board members elected by popular vote, so let us all take advantage of what little chance we have now.

A person don't know what it is like without representation until they are without. Too many people and good people have stayed asleep for too long.

Please express your feeling to your Squire (and they are your Squires) before it is too late. Before the next County Court meeting in November.

Yours truly,
Joe B. Brannon, Route 3,
Lenoir City.

Brown, Cam Malone and another Russell man. This is all the names Mr. Richmond sent us. We appreciate his efforts and patience.

Back during the years of World War II when local churches would recognize their boys in service with a roll board which listed the names of those from their church rolls who were serving their country in various branches of the service were placed in a conspicuous place so that all would see them when attending church.

We have a photograph of one of these. This one was in the Loudon First Baptist Church and was loaned to us by the Webster family. The late Rev. E. R. Webster was pastor of the church at the time of World War II.

Another picture we have this week is of Nell and Harry McNabb. They are well known folks around Loudon and lived in the Corinth community for many years. Later they lived in Lenoir City. Their father was the late Rev. D. O. McNabb.

Harry is now living in Oak Ridge and works at Oak Ridge National Laboratory. Nell is married to Ed Coaley, also a native of Loudon, and they live in Michigan.

Our reason for saying this is that quite some time ago, an ardent reader of ours down in Florida sent us a picture of an old chair factory work gang. We have had one of these before, but at that time, we could not identify any of the men in the picture. Mr. Richmond of Florida has spent a

Sunday Flying Happening At Butch Ferguson's

There was a Flying Happening Sunday at the Ferguson Flying Circus, a 3000 foot grass airstrip owned by Butch Ferguson of Philadelphia.

During the day more than 20 aircraft visited the field, located just off Dry Valley Road, adjacent to I-75, with 15 aircraft on the field at one time. The happening was just that, nothing was planned, but as the day went on the crowd of people (as many as 75 at once) and the planes kept coming.

The activity was so brisk at times, had the event occurred at a controlled airport the traffic controller would have climbed the walls. Aircraft on the field included Cessna 172's, Cessna 150, Cherokee 180's, Citrabias, J-3 Cubs, Air Coupe, V-Tail Bonanza, Mooney, Champs and others.

Loudon Class Of 62 In Project Survey

The Loudon County High School Class of '62 is currently being studied as part of Project TALENT, a nationwide survey supported by the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The primary purpose of Project TALENT is to help improve the educational process and career guidance programs by learning from the experiences, both good and bad, of 1960 high school students. The Class of '62 was first surveyed by Project TALENT in the Spring of 1960 during their sophomore year. This follow-up survey, being conducted thirteen years later, is designed to learn what has happened to them during the years in which they have matured from teenagers to young adults.

In September a follow-up questionnaire was mailed to the last known address of each member of the Class of '62 who participated in Project TALENT in 1960. Additional reminder forms will be mailed over the next several months. For the results of the study to accurately reflect the experiences of the Class of '62 it is necessary that as many persons as possible respond to the questionnaire. Any person in the Class of '62 from this High School who has not received a follow-up questionnaire is urged to write the Project at P.O. Box 1113, Palo Alto, Ca. 94302 and give his current address so a questionnaire can be sent.

Based on information collected in previous follow-up surveys Project TALENT is publishing a Career Data Book, the purpose of which is to provide students and counselors with summary information on the interests, aptitudes and abilities of persons who enter various career fields.

We have a new teacher this week at LHS, his name is Ronald Melvin Jenkins. He is replacing Mr. Gibson who is now our principal. Mr. Jenkins will be teaching General Business. Mr. Jenkins makes his home in Loudon City. He attended Hiwassee College in Madisonville. He received his B.S. in education. His experience before was he taught at Lenoir City Middle School. Larry Collins is now teaching World History. Grade cards will be given out Thursday as we will be out of school Friday for the E.T.E.A. meeting. The third issue of the CHIEFTAN will come out Thursday. Sales for the Lou-Hi-San ended Monday. The response was good, but not quite as many made deposits as in past years. Indications now are that about 100 fewer copies will be ordered.

Elected School Board, Industry On Court Agenda

Three areas of controversy before Loudon County Quarterly Court will be on the agenda for the regular November meeting, set for 9 a.m. Monday at the courthouse.

A three page agenda containing 45 items, released by Judge Harvey Sproul, early this week, contains the explosive question of election by popular vote for school board members, the containing haggle between the court and Road Commissioners about fuel and services now provided by the Central County Garage; and the Manpower Programs dispute over who will administer the programs.

Some of the other major points is a possible request from the County Industrial Committee to condemn property to locate Crown Industries in Loudon County. The Loudon County committee of 100 has been working with the firm but has been unable to obtain the site the firm wants.

Crown, manufacturers of residential doors, has been interested in purchasing a site, about 10 acres on U.S. 11 near Loudon. While the company was trying to arrange for purchase of the land the owner then sold it to an out-of-town buyer who now refuses to sell a portion of it to the firm. The plant, if located in Loudon, would represent a million dollar investment and employ about 100 persons.

It is expected that petitions containing more than 2000 names will be presented to the

Open House Set At Loudon HS

Loudon High School Principal Jim Gibson this week announced that an Open House would be held at the school from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 6.

He said the purpose of the Open House is to give opportunity for parents and faculty members to become better acquainted. The faculty will be available in classrooms to discuss any problems relevant to the school and students.

Student guides will direct tours of the building. Mr. Gibson said that the Open House is something that the teachers have wanted and he hopes that parents will take the opportunity to visit the school and meet with faculty members.

McCluen, Deatherage Get GOP Nomination

Edwin H. Arnold, Secretary of the Republican Judicial Executive Committee of the Fourth Judicial Circuit (Loudon, Blount and Roane counties) said that Honorable Lloyd G. McCluen, present Judge, and H. Kenneth Deatherage, present District Attorney General, were the only persons to qualify for a judgeship in the Fourth Judicial Circuit. The rules provided for a call for a

TVA Tellico Statement Upheld, Appeal Expected

Several Injured In Wrecks

LOUDON HIGH STUDENT INJURED—Loudon County Ambulance Service attendants work to free Ricky Arden, 17, a Loudon High School student from the wreckage of his car following an accident when the car left highway 11 at Gates Drive in Theatre and flipped on its top about 11 a.m. Monday. Arden was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Knoxville where he was admitted for treatment of neck, back, leg and head injuries.

SEVEN INJURED ON I-40—Seven Ohio residents on their way to Florida in a pickup truck with a bedcaper were injured about 1 p.m. Friday when their truck overturned at the intersection of I-40-75. State Trooper Joe Littleton said two of the seven were admitted to UT Hospital in Knoxville. The two most seriously injured were Samsole Garcia, 20, wife of the driver and 10 year old Moravia Luna.

VIRGINIA MAN HURT—A passenger in this Dodge truck driven by Roscoe H. Bird, 50, of Dunbar, West Virginia, was slightly injured when the truck hit an object in a pasture field. The injured man was identified as Lefloy Alfrey. The accident occurred about 3:45 p.m. Sunday.

THREE INJURED—Three persons were injured when the car and truck shown above collided at the intersection of highways 70 and 95 near Eaton Crossroads about 4:15 p.m. Tuesday. A passenger in the car driven by Ernest C. Burns of Alcoa, Jack Croft of Maryville was taken to Blount Memorial Hospital with a head injury. Occupants of the truck, Hugh and Lula Elmore of Eagleville were admitted to Loudon Hospital.

The Tennessee Valley Authority's environmental impact statement concerning the $69 million Tellico Dam-Lake project was upheld last week when Federal Judge Robert Taylor announced his decision that TVA may continue the project that was held up for two years by a lawsuit and injunction in Federal Court.

The ruling will almost certainly be appealed to the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati. Judge Taylor, in an opinion running some 27 pages, held that TVA's environmental impact statement on the project meets the requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act. Judge Taylor concluded TVA's decision to proceed with the dam was not arbitrary.

"This court cannot substitute its judgment for that of TVA as to the wisdom of proceeding with a project in which half the funds have been appropriated," he said.

He noted that $35 million have been expended.

Environmental organizations against the dam had challenged the sufficiency of the impact statement as an effort to stop the project.

The trial began Monday, Sept. 17, and ran through Thursday, Sept. 21, with each side presenting expert witnesses in sometimes acrimonious testimony.

The dam is partly completed across the mouth of the Little Tennessee River where the river empties into Watts Bar Lake just below Fort Loudoun Dam. Completed, it would back up an embayment nearly 33 miles to the base of the Alumina Co. of America's Chickasaw Dam at Tallassee.

The lawsuit was filed in late 1971 and, in January 1972, Judge Taylor issued an injunction prohibiting TVA from continuing with construction of the dam until the environmental questions were settled.

The injunction allowed TVA to continue its road work and other improvements in the area but forbade any work on the dam or on clearing timber.

TVA and dam proponents argued the $35 million of an estimated $60 million cost had already been spent on the project. However, opponents of the dam argued that only about $4 million worth of concrete poured into the dam itself would be a loss. The rest of the money, it was argued, was spent on a new bridge over the Little Tennessee on Highway 411 and on improving roads in the Tellico area.

According to TVA figures, the agency provided an additional $0 per acre the land necessary for the project and completed a quarter of the road work in the valley. Half the dam is completed, but the large earth-fill portion of the work was never begun due to the injunction of January 1972.

In January this year TVA halted work on all phases of the project, even road and bridge work which, under the injunction, could have continued.

TVA has said the reservoir would provide an additional 200 million kilowatts of electricity per year by channeling water through a canal to the existing generating unit at Fort Loudoun Dam.

Plaintiffs in the suit are the Environmental Defense Fund, Trout Unlimited, the Association to Preserve the Little T., and Thomas Burell Moser. Vonnore property owner.

ONLY A SMALL PORTION of the I-75 bridge across the Tennessee River at Loudon still is not decked. This aerial photo taken Sunday is looking Southeast. The bridge is scheduled for opening in August of next year.

Meetings Slated On I-75 Connectors

The Tennessee Department of Transportation, Bureau of Highways, has scheduled two public meetings in Loudon County to separately discuss the planned right-of-way for both the Sugar Limb and Philadelphia connector routes from I-75 to U.S. 11.

The Philadelphia connector will be discussed at the first meeting to be held at 7:30 p.m. at the Philadelphia Masonic Lodge, Thursday, Nov. 1. Glenn Malone, Regional Right-of-Way Engineer for the Department said all matters concerning the Philadelphia connector right of way, which generally will follow old Pond Creek Road from I-75 to U.S. 11 will be discussed and the public is invited to present their objections or discussion on the route at that time.

The same will hold true at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 8, at the Loudon County Rescue Squad Building. At this meeting the Sugar Limb connector will be discussed.

Both connectors are just under two miles in length.

United Fund Nears 75 Percent Of Goal

Loudon County's 1973 United Fund Campaign took another big step toward success this week when it was announced that 73.4 percent of the $48,600 goal had been pledged.

Fund Campaign Chairman Tom Matlock said that he had great hopes that when the next weekly report is given at Sig's Restaurant in Loudon City, 12:30 Monday, that the campaign will have reached its goal. If it does it would be one week earlier than expected.

Chairman Matlock said that in the 15 year history of the United Fund in Loudon County a drive has never failed to surpass its goal and this year will be no exception.

He said that the campaign workers and the residents of the county who contribute or make pledges through their places of employment are responding in an excellent fashion.

At the meeting in Loudon Monday an additional $12,674.76 in pledges and contributions was reported, bringing the total to date to $35,925.24 which is less than $13,000 from the goal.

New money reported came from Don P. Smith Chair Company, $300. The Mamont Corporation reported pledges of $354.50 since last week bringing their total to $4728.50. Union Carbide Films-Packaging plant at Loudon reported $1024.45 in additional pledges for a total of $3910.00.

The biggest increase during the week came from the Loudon County employees at the Oak Ridge plants. New pledges from there were reported to be $6134.00 bringing the total there to $13,431.00 about 75 percent of that campaign is complete it was reported.

Additional pledges of $675 was received from the Loudon business districts giving that division a total of $1100. Loudon residential contributions increased $127 to $659.28. At Loudon City Residential and Business divisions reported $222.81 in new contributions.

Chairman Matlock told workers to continue to remind residents that when they make a pledge or contribution to the United Fund that they are making one donation which is shared by 15 charity and service organizations.

The 15 agencies in the Loudon County United Fund are as follows:

- 1—American Red Cross
- 2—American Legion Mile of Dimes
- 3—Arthritis Foundation
- 4—Boy's Club of Loudon City
- 5—Daniel Arthur Rehabilitation Center
- 6—Empty Stocking Fund
- 7—Great Smoky Mountain Council of Boy Scouts of America
- 8—Tansi Girl Scout Council
- 9—Loudon Mile of Dimes
- 10—Loudon County Emergency Rescue Squad

- 15—United Cerebral Palsy

Changes Made In Tax Refund Procedure

Loudon County Trustee J. V. Schrimsher said this week that a change in procedure for persons over 65 or those totally or permanently disabled to claim a property tax refund has been announced by the state.

Under the new procedure a Medi-Care Card, issued by the Social Security Administration will serve to prove that a taxpayer is 65 or older, as well as previously announced items, but excluding the marriage certificate.

Schrimsher said a copy of the 1973 tax receipt, if issued in the name of the applicant will be sufficient proof of ownership of property and verification of payment of the 1973 taxes.

Are you ready for the trick or treaters? If not, try the delicious cookie recipe that follows. In fact, children will probably think they are too attractive to eat.

COOKIE OWLS

Pre-third cup shortening, soft 1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar 1 cup Quaker Oats
1 egg (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)
1 teaspoon vanilla 1 oz. (1 sq.) unwaxed
1 cup crunchy peanut butter chocolate, melted and cooled
1 one third cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder

Beat together shortening and sugar until creamy. Add egg, vanilla and peanut butter, blend thoroughly. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add to creamed mixture; blend well. Stir in oats. Divide dough in half. Shape one half to form a roll 8 inches long. Add chocolate to other half. Roll our chocolate dough on waxed paper to form an 8-inch square. Place roll on chocolate dough; wrap chocolate dough around roll; pinch seams together. Wrap in waxed paper; chill at least 1 hour. Cut into 1/4-inch slices. For each owl face, pinch chocolate dough to form 2 "ears." Use 2 chocolate pieces for "eyes" and a cashew for a "beak." Place on ungreased cookie sheets. If desired, make small hole in cookies with wooden skewer. After cookies have baked, thread ribbon through hole to hang on tree. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Makes about 24 dozen cookies.

If dough is refrigerated several hours, allow to stand at room temperature about 10 minutes before slicing.

Your County In Action

BY
Harvey L. Sproul
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

Ever since I have been a resident of Loudon County, I have heard people talk about how the County was about to "break loose" economically. Indeed, it did seem that all of the raw material was present i.e. good highways, water, and a good labor

County has never mushroomed, while Hamblen and Cooke County, and others, have. We have had a concerted effort for the past ten years by various community leaders, joining together County-wide, to attempt to make some progress along this line. And progress has been made! The Maremont, Munsey, and Lenoir Industries plants, together with Elm Hill and Sheffield Steel, as well as others have enabled us to keep pace. And the progressive City Councils, and the Quarterly Court have continued to work toward expanded and substantial increases in our industrial base and opportunities for employment several weeks before a final decision can be made by this industry as to locating in Matlock Bend. This industry is NUMBER ONE in category and thus far has asked for nothing from local government and its citizens, although our industrial committee has stepped in to offer assistance when negotiations bogged down as to the remaining parcels. If this industry ultimately locates here, it will help give Loudon County a substantial industrial tax base which we do not come close to having now (as witness your tax rate after the Question 3 classification system was adopted). We could then approach a tax rate more in line with some of our neighboring Counties with large industrial tax bases such as Blount, Hamblen, etc. Remember, however, that there is no assurance yet that this industry will finally locate here. Another point is that the number of jobs in the plant itself will not be comparable to the projected plant investment involved, which would have its good points in that a tremendous strain on our school system, housing, etc. will be avoided, but this tax help will still be there. Also it probably would be several years before construction of the plant will be completed. There has been a lot of talk—I thought this information might be of interest. In addition, however, we have several other industries which are interested in various parcels in the County, which are on a smaller basis than the concern interested in the Matlock Bend area. More will be heard on these matters in coming weeks.

Series Deals With Hospital Service

EDITORS NOTE-The following article is the first of a series written by staff members of the Loudon County Memorial Hospital concerning the care of patients, hospital services and facilities. The article this week on Pre-Hospital Care of the Cardiac Arrest Victim was prepared by John Grabelle and Mike Langley of the County Ambulance Service.

CARE OF THE CARDIAC ARREST VICTIM

Below is a quote from Southern Medicine, October 7, 1972.

"A white man in his early 50's begins to have excruciating chest pain on a summer evening in 1962 in a rural area portion of one of the 4 major metropolitan areas in the State of Tennessee. An ambulance is called. It arrives 15 minutes later and the man is asked to move onto the cot. He is loaded in the rear of a combination ambulance hearse unit and whisked away to the hospital with red lights and sirens. The attendant sitting in the rear watches the man who is lying flat on the cot vomit, gasp for breath, and observes the man as he becomes cyanotic and then limp. The patient is DOA at the hospital.

The same type of incident occurs in 1972. The ambulance is called in and the attendants or technicians arrive speedily and comfort the man, move him onto the cot very easily, allowing him not to assist in any way. Then he is started on portable oxygen at six liters, minute and loaded into a high speed room ambulance unit which gives plenty of room for the attendant or technician to work around his patient. He is transferred to the way to the hospital and relayed by radio communications directly to the physician in the emergency room. The man vomits and the attendant or Emergency Medical Technician immediately rolls him on his side and begins suctioning, clearing the airway adequately. Abruptly the respirations and pulse cease; the patient has gone into cardiac arrest. The head of the stretcher is lowered, a short spine board is put under the patient and a cardiac resuscitatory system is begun simultaneously. The hospital is notified by radio in the emergency department that the patient is in cardiac arrest and that resuscitation is being attempted. The attendant sitting in the emergency room still in a state of cardiac arrest. Defibrillation is carried out and proper definitive care begins. Eight weeks later the man walks from the coronary rehabilitation unit, a viable living example of an effective system of providing emergency medical services which includes an effective

Emergency Medical Technician training course." - Cardiac arrest is the sudden and unexpected cessation of respiration (breathing) and effective circulation. Useful brain function is preserved only if ventilation (breathing) and circulation are re-established within two to three minutes. (As defined in the Textbook of Medical Surgical Nursing Second Edition p. 287.)

The effective return of ventilation and circulation is obtained in pre-hospital situations by use of CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation). CPR combines mouth to mouth respiration with closed heart massage. The latter is accomplished by applying downward pressure on the sternum or breastbone with the palm of the hand. By pressure toward the spine, the heart is compressed and blood is forced out into the circulatory system. A sudden release of pressure causes the heart to again fill with blood. If repeated once a second and accompanied by mouth to mouth respirations no less than 12 times a minute, life can be sustained for long periods or until a physician can rule the patient has died. Since it is imperative that CPR be instituted within the four to six minute period, (a standard taught to EMT's) if irreversible damage to brain and organs is to be stopped, CPR should be taught to a wide segment of the lay public through effectively organized and professionally supervised programs of instruction using mannequins and films. By instructing a large number of people, help for the cardiac arrest victim will be at his side. Sustaining life until professional help arrives will save many lives each year. The risk in having so many partially trained people involves bruising of ribs, damage to internal organs, and further injury to the victim. No one must ever attempt to aid any victim, accident or otherwise, which may further the extent of their injury or situation unless there is no other way. The potential for good greatly outweighs the potential for bad where training is used properly. Autopsies have revealed that many people who die suddenly have no apparent heart damage. Death may have occurred when a reversible electrical disturbance in rhythm, called fibrillation, was the cause. If resuscitated within the four to six minute limit these individuals may have lived.

A side issue concerns those who perform the procedure. Legal action may be brought against persons who may injure victims. Several states have enacted laws protecting individuals who perform emergency procedures. These should be adopted universally. This legal problem further emphasizes the need for instruction. Interest, cooperation, and participation of the medical profession, as well as the general public is necessary for the success of this vital drive for life.

When cardiac arrest occurs in the street, restaurant, theatre, sports stadium, golf course, or at home, professional help cannot usually arrive within the critical period. Remember that with the proper training and knowledge of CPR, a family member or bystander could institute life saving procedures until trained personnel can arrive.

10 Units Of Government

Does Loudon County have more or fewer governmental agencies, for its size, than other communities? How many of these administrative bodies, with power to pass rules and regulations affecting local residents, are there in the county?

A comparison of the local governmental structure with that found in other sections of the country, is made possible through a report on the subject, recently released by the Department of Commerce. It is called "Governmental Organization."

The data for it was gathered from all parts of the country in connection with the 1972 Census of Governments. The findings indicate that, in many areas, community affairs are being directed less and less by county, municipal and township governments and more and more by autonomous or semi-autonomous sub-divisions.

In Loudon County, the report shows, there are now some 10 units of government in operation, five of them with property taxing power.

They consist of four municipal governments, no township governments, no independent school districts, 4,454.

five special districts and the county government itself. The number is two more than was tabulated in 1967, when the previous Census of Governments was taken.

By way of comparison, there was a reduction of 3.7 percent nationally in the number of local governments in the five-year period.

From the standpoint of population, Loudon County is listed as having one agency of government for every 2,439 local people. The average elsewhere in the nation is one for every 2,676 and, in the State of Tennessee, one for every 2,454.

Local Farm Gross Nears $6.5 Million

Although farming and ranching have not been the most lucrative of occupations in recent years, Loudon County's agricultural community has been making out better than most, it appears.

The majority of local farmers held their own last year and a number of them, especially those with well-equipped, commercial-size setups, ended up well ahead of the previous year.

Credit for it is attributed to record output, made possible by generally favorable weather conditions, by greater mechanization and by more intensive use of fertilizers and pesticides.

Gains were made in nearly every section of the county. The Northeast, which was hit by heavy and continuous rains, was an exception.

The facts and figures, showing how local growers fared in relation to others, are contained in a survey released by the Standard Rate and Data Service.

It reports total receipts in Loudon County from farm operations in the past year at $6,386,000. Two years ago, when it made a similar survey, it listed the total at $5,758,000.

That was the gross amount, before deductions for operating costs and taxes.

Included in it are the cash receipts from the sale of farm goods, together with government payments and income in kind, which is the value of products grown and consumed on the farm.

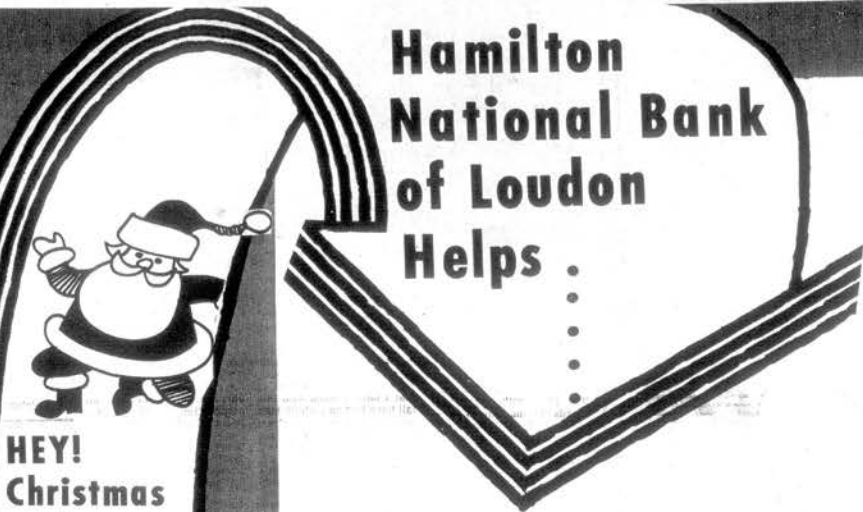

According to the most recent figures from the Department of Agriculture, approximately 17 percent of the total received locally from the sale of farm products came from the marketings of crops and 83 percent from livestock, poultry and dairy goods.

Although the past year was a big one for the American farmer in terms of gross income, it was also a record one for expenses. However, there was some net gain.

The Agriculture Department reports gross income at $68.9 billion, an increase of $9.2 billion over the prior year.

Production expenses rose in the same period to $49.2 billion, which was $4.7 billion above 1971. As a result, net farm income went up $4.5 billion in the past year.

All signs point to a much bigger improvement in the current year.

County Gets State Award

Loudon County is one of 12 counties in Tennessee that has been selected for an award for making an outstanding effort to improve personnel practices. The counties are participating in the Intergovernmental Personnel Act of 1970. Designed to establish personnel policies or to supplement existing personnel policies for employees of the county, the Act provides for

The University of Tennessee Agricultural Extension Service

By CHARLES F. McCALL, Extension Leader

We have experienced four feeder calf sales during the month of October. After observing the state graders as they graded calves of Loudon County beef producers it looks like it would be a good time for beef herd owners to take inventory to see how they did this year with their beef herds now that most of them have sold their 1973 calf crop.

Check the weights, percent calf crop and the quality of your calves as well as the number of compacta. If you scored low in any of these areas, analyze your situation and see what you can do to make more money from your cows.

Recent figures indicate that calves sold thus far in this year organized feeder calf sales will have an average weight of 475 pounds. If your calves did not average this much there are several things you can do to produce calves that are above this average. Although there was plenty of rainfall in most areas of the county this year, was your forage the kind on which cattle make good growth? Did you have the right mixture of grass and legumes? Maybe a better fertilization program could help your situation. Did you rotate your pastures, and were the weeds and tough grass clipped? If not, these management practices need a lot of thought.

If you carried out all of these practices and you are still not satisfied with your calves, you need to look deeper. The first place to suspect is the bull you are using.

"This old boy, who is more than half your herd, may be costing rather than making money." The feeder calf sales that I have worked with this year have had an awfully high percentage of compact calves. Feed lot operators don't want this kind of cattle. The fastest way to change this situation is with a bull if the bull isn't doing the job, you can remedy this situation by replacing him with a bull with performance records.

The salvage value of your herd bull who is not transmitting good growth rates, is about 40 cents a pound in today's market. Use this money this fall to help buy a bull with good records from birth to weaning at least two pounds per day and one that has a lifetime weight per day of age of at least 2.40 pounds with a 365 day weight of at least 1,000 pounds or better. Now this is not a 100 percent guarantee that growth rate will be improved, but it is better than not knowing anything at all about the performance of the bull you are buying. In addition, let's eye ball the bull to be sure he has plenty of muscling, stretch, and is structurally correct. Taking these factors into consideration will lessen the chance of error.

There are several performance tested bull sales that will be in December, January, February and March. Attend these sales, study the records, get some advice, make your selection, and take a good bull home to your farm as a herd sire.

Greenback In Crucial Contest

Loudon To Play Final 973 Home Game Against Rockwood Friday

Speaking of Sports

By DANNY GIBSON
Sports Editor

I believe it was Tricky Dick who first said "you won't have me to kick around anymore." But Tricky has been getting the boot quite frequently lately. Rockwood's football team might adopt that old saying as their motto. Because those big bulky Class AA teams won't have Rockwood to kick around anymore after the 1974 season.

Rockwood's dropping to Class A where the livin' is easier. Kingston, Maryville, Rhea County, Lenoir City, Loudon, and others have made life pretty hard on the Tigers since classification was introduced in 1969. But no more.

"We're looking forward to playing in Class A," said Rockwood coach Mike Collier. The Rockwood enrollment was 565, five over the AA cutoff for the last classification period. It's down now to around 485 which means Rockwood will drop to Region 2 Class A when enrollment figures are studied next time around.

"They always say you can only play 11 boys at a time," quipped Collier, "but I would rather have a larger student body to pick from like Kingston and Cleveland and some others."

According to TSSAA figures, Kingston's enrollment is 850, Cleveland 900 and Lenoir City 919. That's a bunch of folks to choose from.

Instead of being low on the Class AA totem pole, the Tigers in 1975 will be high on the Class A pole. Loudon has an enrollment of 540 students and has considered the idea of dropping into the Class S membership in the state's basketball format, but since the cutoff is different in basketball than in football the Redskins would still barely be in the "AA" classification in football. Thus the Loudon athletic program has chosen to further their overall athletic futures in the "AA" and Large athletic competition.

Loudon does not have any "A" teams on their football schedule to date as a victory over a lower rated school does not give as many points as a win over a school of equal size or higher, triple-A in this case. Hence a team could win a game and still lose in the standings for a state play-off berth.

The Tigers still have a year left on their football contract with Loudon and it is unknown at this time if the contract will be honored for next year or not.

Five of Rockwood's 10 contracts expire this year and Collier plans to replace them with Class A teams for 1974, throwing out any chance at the Class AA region race. But that may be a problem, too.

"I've talked with several Class A schools," said the second-year head coach. "They tell me they'll think about and call me back." If that fails, Collier will sign Class AA schools on one-year contracts.

The Tigers stand 5-2 this season with six sophomores in the starting lineup. In two years, those sophomores will be seniors and Rockwood will be a serious Class A contender.

Rockwood's only bright moment in Class AA circles came in 1970. A final-game victory over Maryville would have meant a Region 2 championship. But the Tigers lost, 13-7, and haven't made a bid for the crown since then.

"If you get your head beat in year after year," said Collier, "it tears down your program. My first year at Rockwood we had something like 58 boys out for spring practice. This year we had 38, I think."

Rockwood, in Collier's words, is now heading in the right direction.

Football weather has finally arrived and only two games are on order for county teams this Friday night. Loudon will be hosting Rockwood in the Redskins' final home game of the season. Greenback visits Midway while Lenoir City is off for the week with an open date.

Loudon will be a 14 point favorite to clip the Tigers Friday night despite their contrasts in season records. Loudon is 3-5 for the year while Rockwood supports a 2-5 workweek and a convincing 36-4 triumph over a favored Lenoir City eleven last week.

Greenback will be trying to break a two game losing streak at Midway. The Green Wave have an impressive record over the Cherokees are likewise 6-2. Greenback has never lost to the Hoans County "2" division team, a sudden turnaround of lackluster play by the contending Region One Cherokees could slip the domination. Greenback can not suffer another setback this season and make the playoffs. The Cherokees are a 12 point favorite, but must play on the road and this could be a great equalizer for the all important contest.

Loudon Exhibits Best Season Effort

Long Gainers Help Rebels Turn Back Redskins

Loudon turned in probably their best team effort of offense and defensive execution Friday night only to be dealt a spirited 12-3 setback by state ranked Maryville.

The Redskins play was near flawless with several individuals playing game. The Rebels, with only one loss this season in eight games, used two big plays to slip past the fired up Loudon team. The Red Rebels hit on a 52 yard pass play on the first play of the second half to salvage a field goal and take the lead for the first time in the game 6-3. A 76 yard run from scrimmage with 2:56 left in the third period provided the insurance points to stave off a possible Loudon upset bid.

Loudon got the opening kickoff at their own 20 yard line and failed to make a first down punting to the Rebels at their own 52 yard stripe.

The Rebels rolled to four quick first downs to the Loudon 38 yard line before the Loudon defense dug in and checked the forward progress of the Rebels. A Maryville punt backed Loudon into a hole at their own eight yard line. A 42 yard punt by Sam Love pushed the Maryville all the way back to the 27, and the Loudon defense refused to yield a yard as the first period closed with neither team lighting the score board.

Loudon opened the second quarter at their own 28 yard line and in 11 plays were camped on the Rebels six yard line. The big play of the impressive march was a sparkling 35 yard run by sophomore tailback Porky Campbell that got the ball inside the Maryville 20 yard marker.

The Rebel defense became stingy and forced the Redskins "golden toe" man, Kenny Skinner, to into action. The accomplished kicker converted a three-pointer through the uprights from the 13 yard line for a 23 yard field goal and a 3-0 Loudon lead with 7:17 left in the half.

Maryville fought back only to be stalled at their own 35 yard line. A questionable roughing the punter penalty gave Maryville a first down at mid-field. The Loudon defense again went to work and in three plays the Rebels were still at mid-field. Nevertheless the fourth down punt had Loudon backed against their own goal line. The Redskins punched the ball out to the 26 yard line but a fumble recovery by Maryville gave the Rebels a final chance before the half to score. The Rebels, maneuvering against the clock, managed to reach the Loudon 10 yard line before having to settle for a 27 yard field goal to knot the halftime count at 3-3.

Maryville received the second half kickoff and on the first offensive play from their own 26 yard line converted on a 52 yard bomb that stationed the football on the Loudon nine yard line. The game play was well covered by the Redskin secondary and only a fantastic individual effort by the Maryville receiver made the play a success.

Loudon was not to be out done and in three plays Maryville could not crack the Loudon five yard line and had to go for a field goal on fourth down and goal. The squibby boot of 22 yards was ruled good for a 6-3 Maryville advantage, but different angles to the goal post created some question as to the true flight of the ball passing through the uprights.

The Redskins got their first offensive try of the second half from their 34 yard line and in 12 plays were down to the Maryville 22 yard marker. A pass interception wiped out the 43 yard march and

CAMPBELL INVADERS REBEL TERRITORY—Loudon's sophomore tailback Porky Campbell follows the blocking of teammate Jimmy Bivens to pick up Maryville's best ground gain of the night against Maryville, a 33 yard scamper. Campbell totaled 41 yards in three offensive carries and accounted for two Redskins first downs.

Maryville had the ball. The Rebels found the Loudon defense unyielding on two running plays. A third down and nine at the Rebel 24 again saw the Maryville team stick to the ground and a run, only this time the Loudon defense failed to tackle the Maryville runner as he twisted and turned through the line of scrimmage. At least six of Loudon's defensive stalwarts had their hands on the ball carrier only to see how let him slip free and romp 76 yards for a touchdown. The extra point try was no good. Loudon refused to give up and Maryville was not permitted past the 44 yard line of the Redskins for the remainder of the game.

Loudon got to the Maryville 26 yard line and 29 yardline in the latter minutes of the fourth period but failed in a bid to score and again put heat on the Rebels who chose to protect their nine point margin with a good kicking game and defense.

Loudon's tremendous team play for the entire course of the game was led by the fine defensive duties of Dennis Rowe, Brad Brewer, Preston McQueen, Steve Kiser, Tim Guider, Danny Russell, Dickey Colvin and Donnie Thearp.

Thearp recovered a Maryville fumble late in the game and Colvin rushed the Rebel punter so hard in the fourth period that he missed the football with his foot and Colvin fell on the ball for Loudon.

Offensively Loudon played a tough fundamental game with Rick Melton, 10 carries for 49 yards, Tim Guider, 10 carries for 38 yards, Porky Campbell, three carries for 41 yards, and John Deatridge alternating turns as the Redskins work horse ball carriers.

Loudon will play their final home game this Friday night against Rockwood.

PLEASE DON'T TELL MOM ON ME COACH—I'm going to tell your Mothers on you if you don't start shaping up out there." Well, Loudon football coach Bert Radledge might not have said it quite that way, but he did have a few words of difference to express to Maryville-Loudon game officials after Kenny Coulter (left) and Billy Don Archer (asking for mercy) had tagged the Redskins with a penalty roughing the punter which was highly questionable.

Greenback Bows To Panthers 19-14 For Second Straight Loss

Greenback suffered their second loss in a row Thursday night as they were victimized by oft-beaten Charleston 19-14 in the Panthers' home field. The defeat, although damaging to the Cherokee path for a berth in the Class A TSSAA State Playoffs it did not eliminate them. Warrant (7-1), who has had to scramble since losing to Greenback 13-12 three weeks ago dropped Region One challenger Coalfield (6-2), 26-14, and Jellico upset Jackboro (6-2) 14-8 to give the Cherokee a second berth at closing out the season in top form and land a playoff spot. Only the top two teams in each region are eligible for the state playdowns. Walland has a tough game coming up with Madisonville (5-2) in what could be a wild finish for Region One teams. Greenback got several big breaks in the first half against Charleston but failed to use them for registering any type of scoring as the Panthers slipped on top 12e by intermission.

The Cherokee were stopped on their first offensive try but Charleston fumbled after a poor Greenback punt of 10 yards landed at the Cherokee 7. Bobby McNeilly recovered playing with out the services of linebacker Tim Hammonstre in the first half, caused another Charleston fumble with Dennis Childs claiming the prize pickin.

On the Cherokee's first offensive play Linginfelter straddled 31 yards to Charleston 11 yard line but the play was nullified by a clipping penalty and Charleston forced a punting situation to open the second quarter.

The Panthers located on their own 20 yard line started an 18 play march down the field that took seven minutes mage, despite the Cherokee never having gained possession of the pickagin in any way.

The Cherokee came up with a fumble recovery on the next play as Hammonstre started on defense and latched on to the football.

Greenback had their offense stopped with another pass interception and Charleston regained control of the ball. The Cherokee's stubborn Defense gave up nothing and finally got the ball at their own 33 yard line. The Cherokee used 11 plays to travel the distance for their first touchdown. Mark Carver and Harold Hawkins had pass receptions of 18 and 13 yards respectively to aid the drive, while Hammonstre carried CARVER HAS BIG NIGHT—Greenback flanker Mark Carver has his biggest night of pass receiving Thursday night as he snagged three Tony Linginfelter aerials for 84 yards of real estate. Here he goes up in a crowd of Charleston players to catch a pass.

CHEROKEE OFFENSIVE GAIN—Senior quarterback Tony Linginfelter gets a block from his offensive center Mike Evans in reaching the yard marker for a first down. Linginfelter had 23 yards of offensive rushing and one touchdown while having a 31 yard run called back on a clipping penalty.

The second half saw a strange turn of events. Greenback came out on the field ready to play and on the Panthers first offensive try had a punt blocked by Greenback's Bill Joe Kyker.

The ball hit a Greenback's lineman and the referees gave the ball to Charleston eleven at the original line of scrimmage.

Tigers Stun Lenoir City With 36-6 Romp

Rockwood romped to their fourth straight football victory Thursday night by surprising favored Lenoir City 36-6. The loss was the Panthers' fifth of the season in eight games to date, with the largest point spread.

Rockwood rolled up 399 yards of total offense, scored touchdowns three out of the first four times they had the football and were in complete command of the game by halftime with a 29-0 advantage.

Rockwood (5-2) marched 80 yards for their first touchdown following a 43 yard punt by Lenoir City's Mike McConkey. The Tigers struck pay dirt in nine plays with the final scoring maneuver coming from the five yard line.

Lenoir City carried the ensuing kickoff back to their own 41 yard line and in nine plays were inside the Rockwood 30 yard line. A third down pass was incomplete and the Panthers punted with the ball carrying into the end zone for a touchback.

The Tigers promptly engineered another 80 yard scoring drive with the big play of the offensive series being a 58 yard touchdown run that closed out the first quarter with the Panthers trailing 14-two point conversion was stopped shy of the double stripe and the score was 36-6.

Lenoir City's Danny Hall recovered a Rockwood fumble with just 50 seconds left in the game but the Panther offense was unable to take advantage of the Tiger turnover as time ran out.

Defensively the injury plagued Panthers were led by the play of Jeff Blakney, Sam and Carl Thompson, and Curtis Monner. Lindsey was the best on offense for Lenoir City with 65 yards on 15 carries. Johnson had 11 tries from scrimmage for 30 yards and caught two passes for 34 yards. Buddy Jones also played well with 19 yards gained on four times with the pickin.

The Panthers will be off this next week as they try to repair their battered and injured gridiron for the final home game of the season against LaFollette Nov. 8.

Gordo Watson Ignites Sewanee Victory

Gordo Watson, 170-pound junior halfback from Loudon, rushed 19 times for 120 yards and three touchdowns Saturday to lead Sewanee to an enjoyable 31-0 victory over Washington and Lee.

The game was especially enjoyable to the Sewanee fans and a small delegation of Loudon residents attending the game, despite the damp, drizzly afternoon that began bright and sunny. The Tigers are now 4-3 for the year with only next week's game at Chicago remaining.

Former Sewanee Coach Bill White was honored during halftime, and perhaps his presence enthused the present-day Tigers, who scored on a 10-yard pass from Ron Sweeney to Joe Toler after time had expired.

But it was Watson, freshman halfback Dennis Reed of Winchester and quarterback Steve Tipps of Chattanooga Baylor who put the game out of reach of the Generals. They and the Sewanee defense which intercepted four passes and recovered four fumbles.

Sewanee had a big day offensively, despite losing three fumbles and having one player picked off. Shirley Majors' club amassed 287 yards rushing, 21 first downs and completed 7 of 21 passes for 98 yards. The Generals were held to only 29 yards on the ground - 11 in the second half.

Linebacker Emerson Lotz recovered fullback Jim Farrar's fumble on the Washington & Lee 13 to set up the first Tiger TD. After Reed carried to the one, Watson plunged in for a 6-4 lead with 2:06 left in the first quarter. Interestingly, the Generals lost all their fumbles in the first half, when the rain was the heaviest.

Defensive end Kevin Lanahan recovered a fumble by General tailback Jim Nolan to set the stage for the Tigers and Watson on the General 11. Gordo swept left end on his first attempt for a 12-0 lead with 2:12 left in the half.

The Tigers drove 42 yards in four plays for their first TD of the second half. Reed gained the first 10, before Watson broke a couple of tackles for the last 32.

Sewanee's most impressive drive came in the fourth period, as it went 71 yards in 13 plays, Tipps sneaking it in from a yard out. David Field added the only PAT with 0:37 left in the game.

MID-AIR BATTLE—Loudon's R.L. Braunum goes high in an effort to catch this Dennis Queen pass in the waning seconds of the fourth quarter as Loudon trailed the Maryville Rebels 12-3. The pass was incomplete.

Mrs. C.E. Thompson Wins Football Contest First Place

Only one entry in the Herald Football Contest last week correctly picked all 19 winners. That contestant is Mrs. C. E. Thompson of Philadelphia who wins first place cash of $12.

Several persons correctly picked nine winners and the tie-breaker rule, total points scored by both Loudon (2) and Maryville (12), 15 points decided the winners. With 20 points on the tie-breaker, missing the Crossville win over Notre Dame, was Phil Watkins, Perry St., Loudon. Phil claims second place money of $8. Third place is divided ($2.50 each) by Pat Foster of Loudon and C. A. Robertson of Loudon. Others who missed only one game but did not have a good guess on the tie-breaker were Helms, Ruth Thompson, Harold Grimes, John Stevens and John McSpadden.

Greenback Deal Second Loss 19-14

Greenback swiftly equaled the scoring feat with three play drive to the Charleston end zone. Mark Carver's 36 yard pass reception highlighting the drive. Lingelfelter plunged over the double stripes from the two yard line. A two point conversion pass to Harold Hawkins was complete and the Panthers led 19-14.

Charleston got the ball with 2:57 remaining and managed to use up two minutes of the clock before punting. Greenback made a desperate try to reach the Charleston end zone but time once again closed out the action for another week with Greenback deep in Panther territory.

Offensively the Cherokeses were led by Hammontrout with 45 yards in six carries, all in the second half. Mark Carver's three pass receptions, stood for 84 yards, led the Greenback receivers. Harold Hawkins caught four passes for 37 yards.

Defensively Hammontrout, Mike Evans, Rader, McNeilly, Kyker, Childs, Rollins, and Brooks played well, but overall the Greenback linemen failed to get their job done in the trenches and for the second straight week inferior football teams made the Cherokeses look bad.

The officiating was in a class of its own, spearing, kicking, slugging, and piling on long after the whistle had blown plays dead to lead several Greenback players being unnecessarily bruised and injured. Once on a penalty against Charleston with second downs and four yards to go for a first down, the ball was returned to the start of the offensive series and the penalty marked off. That's 21 yards if you are counting on your fingers. On another play Greenback picked up five yards on first down. The Charleston chain gang must have decided the play was too easy as they not only moved the downs marker but the chain crew moved with the ball and it was second down and 10 yards to go for a first down.

Other such happenings occurred through out the game and the lack of understanding of the Greenback team play made the Thursday night trip to Charleston certainly one of those nights.

Oak Ridge Deals Loudon Frosh Loss 14-6

Statistically the Loudon Freshmen were soundly beaten by Robertsville Junior High of Oak Ridge last Thursday night but the Redskins were in the game up until the last play. The Oak Ridge hosts won the game 14-6, locking up the win with a score in the last 19 seconds of the game.

All of the scoring came in the second half. In the first half Oak Ridge ran well but could not get points on the board. The hosts kept Loudon bottled up, limiting the Redskins offense to 34 yards in the half.

Dean Nichols a Robertsville ninth grader, quarterbacked his team and led them in rushing. With about four minutes remaining in the third quarter Robertsville drove 70 yards with Nichols getting the score on a 10 yard run. He also scored a two point conversion.

off Loudon marched 61 yards in 12 plays. In the drive Greg Deatridge and quarterback Carter Cardwell handled the ball carrying duties. Early in the drive an Oak Ridge defender pushed flanker Kenny Starrett on the hosts 44 but the drive failed to continue and Oak Ridge took control of the ball at their own 38 and in 10 plays scored with quarterback Nichols again scoring from 10 yards out. The extra point failed and OR had a 14-6 lead with 19 seconds left.

Loudon returned the kick off to their own 43 and three pass plays failed as the game ended.

Defensive standouts for the Redskins were Junior Roles, Ricky Lovin, Deatridge, Cardwell, John Sweet, Windie Davidson, Danny Isbill and Starrett.

The final race of the year is on lap Sunday at Atomic Speedway. The country's fastest third-mile dirt track. Late Model sportman drivers from throughout East Tennessee and North Georgia are expected to be on hand for the Claude Donovan Benefit event.

The program, scheduled to get under way at 2 p.m. with time trials, will consist of a regular weekly show-up feature, semi-feature, at least four heats and main events for hobby and bomber division drivers.

Adult tickets are $3 and $2.50. Children under 12 years will be admitted without charge.

Donovan, a veteran of more than 20 years of competition on short tracks throughout the South, was seriously injured at a Kentucky track recently when he wrecked while making a qualifying run. He remains in a Louisville, Ky., hospital.

All proceeds from the race will be used to pay Donovan's mounting hospital bills.

Drivers vying for top money will include track champion Tootle Estes, Joe Lee Johnson, Jerry Meadows, Snooks De'For, Buddy Rogers, Ken Phillips, Little Bill Corum, H.E. Vineyard and Zeke Buchanan.

Almon owner Bob Martin, president of the National Shooting Sports Foundation, announced that the annual track banquet will be held Nov. 17 at the Knights of Columbus Council building at 550 Idlewood Lane (off Gleason Road). Tickets ($8) can be reserved by calling 993-0138. Martin announced that only 150 persons will be able to attend.

TENNESSEE BOATING DISCUSSED

The Tennessee Game and Fish Commission's Boating Safety Advisory Board met recently in Chattanooga to discuss future plans of the newly created Boating Division.

According to Phillip Tidwell, Chief of Boating, the Board discussed plans for operating new programs in enforcement and education.

"We are developing a boating safety education program," Tidwell commented. "For use throughout Tennessee. Plans are in progress to start this program before the heavy boating activity starts next spring."

Tidwell said that eight full-time positions have been established to administer law enforcement and educational programs.

"Tennessee has about 170 thousand registered boats," Tidwell notes, "and the number continues to increase rapidly each year. The objectives of our program are to decrease boating accidents and to help boaters better utilize and enjoy their recreation."

Chief Tidwell also pointed out that boaters should be mindful of potential dangers of winter boating. Proper

READY FOR New CARGO

This ship has been emptied of its cargo, and has steadily made its way to the dock and will be ready for the next voyage. If this ship were to remain empty, it would be of no value and would be falling to the one thing that it was built for.

Man was intended to be a worshiper to God, and when he does not join in worship to God, he is falling in the same way. Make your life mean something for God.

NOV 1 1973

This one is unusual for one particular reason. They had to cut a channel out of the ice large enough to run the ferry. This was quite a job, but as you can see, the ferry is crossing the river in this picture. Note all of the ice frozen on the paddle wheel and the rest of the boat.

The boy in the center of the picture is Ralph Wells, a well known Loudon boy. The other boy is not identified. Maybe some of our readers will recognize who it is and pass the information on to us.

Many of our readers who keep scrapbooks of the Good Old Days have expressed the wish that we could get other pictures of this unusual event in our area. We hope these will be enjoyed by the scrapbook keepers, as well as all of our other readers. Our many thanks to Mr. Frank Jones for the loan of these pictures.

For the past several years we have tried in vain to find someone who had taken pictures of the old Memphis special train wreck which occurred across the Loudon Railroad Bridge around 1925. We had almost given up ever finding any, but alas, we now know someone who has some. Thanks to our good friend, Frank Jones of Ferry Street, Loudon, Mr. Jones knows who has some of these pictures and is going to try to borrow them for us to use in the good Old Days.

Our interest in this has been motivated by the fact that this was possibly the worst train wreck to occur this close to Loudon. As you will recall from what we have written in the past, the engineer was killed.

We will be looking forward to getting these old pictures in the future. Mr. Jones said it would be a few weeks before he could find out about them.

How did you make your fortune? I became the partner of a rich man, he had the money and I had the experience. How did that help? Now he has the experience and I have the money.

You've not had a good day, even though you have labored hard, unless you have done something for someone who will never be able to repay you.

Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

As long as the present generation lives, the unusual winter when the river froze over will always be a topic of conversation and it seems that the unusual pictures that were taken at the Loudon ferry will continue to crop up from time to time. This, we are proud of. It seems that each person who took pictures there chose different people and scenes to record on their cameras. We have written about a car crossing the ice, people skating on it, wheel barrows being rolled across it but this time we have a picture which shows something else being done on the ice. Bicycle riding and the man pedaling along is Ike Lindsay. The man behind him is unidentified.

Another picture we have shows the largest crowd on the ice of any we have had before. As you can see in the picture, there was snow on the ground and it had been on the ground for several days. During this period of time, snow stayed on longer than any other period of time that I can remember. I am sure that in years prior to this, the time span was longer, but that was some winter.

We have still another picture of the frozen river and

The leopard was made by a taxidermist. Its coat is a modacrylic textile fiber made by Union Carbide from several basic chemicals. It's called Dynel.

Remarkable fiber? We think so. But haven't you found that a lot of remarkable things come from Union Carbide?

and virtually nonflammable, it's used for laminated boat decks. For tents. As overlays for storage tanks and air ducts.

Come closer. It's only a modacrylic.

Mrs. Birkholz Named Memorial Gift Chairman

Mrs. Ray Birkholz of Loudon County today was named Memorial Gift Chairman of the Loudon County Heart Association. Appointment was announced by Dr. Charles Wender, President of the East Tennessee Heart Association.

"These gifts help express feelings which are beyond words," said "They say you care enough to help reduce the toll of suffering and death from heart attack, stroke, and other cardiovascular diseases which cause more than a million deaths a year. In addition, the gift is a fitting honor to the memory of another, or to the achievement of a much admired friend."

The special advantage of memorial gifts to the Heart Association is in the many benefits they bestow, the Heart spokesman said. Memorial gifts are a lasting tribute to the person honored. They also help the Heart Association, which is doing something about heart disease.

Memorial gifts support heart research, public education, and community programs such as: The U.T. Heart Clinic where services are available to any medically indigent patient in this area upon physician referral, cardiopulmonary resuscitation classes for physicians, dentists, nurses, and emergency care personnel interested in learning the life saving techniques of mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and closed chest heart massage, seminars for physicians and nurses teaching the latest techniques

County, Cities Get More Road Money

Representative Gentry Crowell, Democratic Caucus Chairman and long time supporter of an improved rural road system, this week announced that the State of Tennessee had mailed checks to Loudon County totaling $7,693.22.

The money which was distributed to cities and counties on a per capita basis is the first payment made by the State under the new direct payment appropriation passed by the General Assembly last spring.

"It's time we do more for the roads and streets of our smaller counties and towns," Crowell said. "I'm glad that our Democratic majority in the Legislature was able to pass this program."

"Tennessee's road needs are great," Crowell continued, "and the Democratic majority in the House of Representatives will do everything possible to see that they are met."

In addition to the funds received for Loudon County the City of Lenoir City received $4,557.96; Loudon received $3,197.96 to be used on city streets.

Local Officers Attend Seminar

Seventy-one Law Enforcement officers graduated this week from two regional in-service training seminars sponsored by the East Tennessee Development District (ETDD) in Alcoa and Oak Ridge. Other officers attending a third ETDD seminar in Murfreesboro will graduate at the end of November.

The seminars were made possible by a $24,000 grant from the Tennessee Law Enforcement Training Council.

The 40-hour seminars covered firearms training, scientific methods of investigation, patrol techniques, court procedures, narcotics, and other areas of interest. Recognized specialists from a number of professions were brought together as instructors in the seminars, including FBI agents, attorneys, local police training officials, and other officials with expertise in the various fields covered.

John W. Anderson, Jr., ETDD Executive Director presented certificates of graduation to the men after their successful completion of the training program. The certificates will become a permanent part of each officer's personnel file.

Eight hours were spent in firearms training, while the classroom portions of the in-service sessions consisted of 22 hours of instruction. To facilitate attendance, lectures were broken down into morning and afternoon sessions, and law enforcement supervisors were encouraged to send their officers to the morning sessions and the remainder to the afternoon sessions.

The seminars were available to all city and county law enforcement agencies that meet minimum standards throughout the 16 counties of the East Tennessee Development District. The three sites chosen for the seminars served the following counties: Oak Ridge—Anderson, Campbell, Claiborne, Morgan, Roane, and Scott; Alcoa—Blount, Knox, Loudon, Monroe and Sevier; Murfreesboro—Greene, Grainger, Hamblen, Jefferson and Union Counties.

Members of the City of Loudon Police Department who attended were J. R. Airhart, Troy Burton and Sgt. William Grams. From the Loudon County Sheriff's Office were Voyd Carruth, Jake E. Chapman, Gary Ryan and Joe L. Sims.

Southern Installing Welded Track Here

Southern Railway System will install an additional 14.6 miles of welded rail in Loudon County, the company announced today.

The project is part of a system-wide program to replace conventional "jointed" track on Southern with continuous welded rail, according to H. L. Rose, Southern's chief engineer, line maintenance. The work is progressing at the rate of some 400 miles of new welded rail a year, he said, adding that some 40 percent of Southern's 10,000 miles of railroad in 13 states is today constructed of continuous welded rail.

Work will begin November 26 on 7.3 miles of track between Lenoir City and Loudon, Rose said. A 7.3 stretch of track between Philadelphia and Sevierville will also be renovated beginning December 10. Both projects will take about 10 days to complete.

"When joints are eliminated by welding the rail sections together, most of the wear problem is eliminated," he said. "This gives a smoother ride to the specially designed equipment and heavy loads that feature modern railroading, and eliminating the familiar 'clinky-clack' sound caused by train wheels crossing track joints."

Actual installation of the ribbons of rail is a far cry from the physical strength that was necessary in the days of John Henry, the most legendary steel driver man of them all.

The rails are welded into quarter-mile lengths at a central location 30 yards of the new ribbon are transported in special trains of 22 cars to the point of installation. Each train carries 54 ribbons of rail—enough to lay seven and one-third miles of new track.

There are several important preliminary steps in the rail-laying procedure. First, new cross-ties are unloaded along the track. These ties are placed on the road bed at locations where old ties have been marked for replacement.

New ballast is then distributed. Materials such as tie plates and spikes, rail anchors, tie plugs and cross-ties are unloaded along the section of track from the ribbon rail train.

As the train moves into position and the replacement materials, two strands of rail are threaded onto a rail car and fed out over a roller car, used to steady and guide the rail between the old rails.

The new ribbon rail is then guided into place and spiked to gauge. The old rail is loaded onto a train and taken to Atlanta, where it is processed for other use or scrapped.

NEARLY 15 MILES of welded, jointless rail moves from Southern's central rail-welding plant at Inman Yard, Atlanta, on a special train developed by the railway's operating department. The six-quarter mile lengths will soon arrive in Loudon County to replace a section of Southern track to provide smoother safer travel in the area.

WELDED RAIL ROLLS off specially designed cars that carry it into the track bed where it will be replaced with standard jointed rails already there.

TOO VALUABLE TO WASTE

Electric energy powers household appliances, lights, and heating and cooling systems. It also runs countless equipment and machinery for the farm, for business, and for industry. Often it is the only source of energy used.

Because electricity is so versatile and so widely used, it should be used wisely. Efficient use can prevent wasteful uses of electricity and can help consumers reduce their electric bills.

In the home, efficient use includes having a fully insulated house, turning off lights and appliances not in use, washing only full loads of dishes and clothes, and setting the thermostat at the lowest comfortable setting during the heating season.

Our specialists can give you more efficient use tips. Electricity will go further and cost less to use if everyone will take steps to use only as much as he really needs.

October Rain Above Normal

October rainfall averaged 2.9 inches across the Tennessee Valley, a little above normal for the month. TVA records. Nearly half the rainfall came in the last few days of the month, after a two-week period of no rain in the region.

October is typically the Valley's driest month, with normal rainfall of about 2.7 inches. Normal monthly totals through the winter spring, and summer months range from 4 to 6 inches.

The highest October total for the region was 5.77 inches at rain at Lawrenceburg, Tennessee—an unusual turnout, since Lawrenceburg had the region's lowest rainfall in September with a total of only 2.6 of an inch. The low for October was .97 of an inch at Walters Powerhouse near the Carolina-Tennessee border on Interstate 76.

Hoop Tickets Lenoir City To Close Home Stand, On Sale

Loudon High School principal Jim Gibson has announced that season tickets are now on sale for the forthcoming 1973-74 Redskins basketball season. The season tickets are $7.50 for students and $10.00 for adults. The season ticket will be good for 12 regular season home games. Tickets may be purchased at the High School office.

State Play-Off At Stake In Greenback-TSD Game

Even though Basketball season is trying to nose its way into the sports scene, football is still very much in flower. Lenoir City will welcome the return of running back Mike Walker for a Friday night grid match against LaFollette at home. The game is the final home contest for the Panthers and they should have the edge in superior strength, especially since Walker will be available for active playing. Greenback, rebounding with a convincing 49-21 trouncing of Midway after two straight setbacks travels to Knoxville and meet Tennessee School for Deaf. The Vikings are 8-1 for the year and have been making an issue for some weeks as to their hopes of eliminating the Cherokees from the opportunity of landing a state play-off berth in Region One. A Cherokee victory would put Walland and Greenback in the first round of the state playdowns. Greenback is a 10 underdog, but all the marbles are on the line in this one and Tony Linzinger and company appear to do best when the odds are against them. Here's in Greenback and let's keep our fingers crossed for them to score an upset and bring home the credentials of victory and a ticket into the state play-offs. Loudon is off this week and will finish their season next Friday night at Harrison.

Speaking of Sports

The TSSAA appears to be in a real quandary about the mid-summer all-star games and coaches clinic. Their idea of let's-give-it-one-more-year-and-see-what-happens attitude is beginning to sound like a broken record. But, then again, it's an understandable position being taken by the nine-man Board of Control.

It's sorta like the old football adage of when the super star has just about had it. He wants the quarterback to "let Leroy carry the ball." But the TSSAA isn't taking this situation lying down. They're studying developments from the most recent clinic-games venture and are prepared to take "a hard look" at the next one. As it stands right now, there might be a next one. Possibly, pending news from next month's board meeting in Hermitage, there might not be a next one.

The Board of Control, which must make the decision, appears to have four options:
—Leave the clinic and games in Knoxville and give them one more chance at making a buck.
—Shift the clinic and games again, this time to Middle Tennessee State University in Murfreesboro, and see if they can make it there.
—The Board of Control could drop the entire program—both the clinic and the games.
—The Board of Control could discontinue the games as "a bad investment" and retain the clinic. After all, the clinic for years was a success on its own. The games were started in 1967 and have been major financial flops ever since.

It's the belief of some TSSAA officials that the state organization may have got into the all-star business at the wrong time. All-star games all over the country are of a dying breed, having outlived their drawing appeal. And the TSSAA certainly isn't going to fool around with a losing cause much longer. Right now the TSSAA is hoping to expand its state-wide athletic program, mainly in the direction of girls' sports, and it simply needs money to achieve that goal. Money the All-Star games are draining from the TSSAA bank account.

The membership got news of the all-star games fate in the October issue of TSSAA News. In a summary of the previous board meeting, that group "agreed to delay selecting the site for the 1974 Coaches' School and All-Star games until the Board has had time to study the report of the 1973 Coaches' School and the financial report of the 1973 All-Star games."

Gill Gideon, TSSAA's executive secretary, points out that several states are discontinuing all-star games. Georgia for one, and Florida is seriously considering that step. Gideon spoke to several state groups while attending the Southeastern High School Association meeting recently in Atlanta.

"And those people have been in the all-star business a lot longer than Tennessee," Gideon said. "They've been having games for around 20 years and ours is just seven years old."

But Gideon also said that he was willing to go along with "whatever the membership wants to do." And he added, "I believe the board feels the same way."

No doubt, the TSSAA will get a feel of the membership in regional meetings in December. The all-star games are not a part of the prepared agenda, but "informal conversations" are expected to pop up from Memphis to Knoxville concerning the games.

Gideon feels like "a decision by the Board will be made between Murfreesboro and Knoxville." The executive secretary doesn't think the board will drop the games. "They'll try it for one more year, I think."

But Chattanooga Central High School principal Hobard Millsaps, a member of the Board of Control, says he doesn't believe the TSSAA will sponsor the games and lose any more money. "It'll have to be a profitable endeavor," Millsaps said.

And none of the TSSAA officials are willing to retain the games if they jeopardize the over-all TSSAA athletic program. "We've maintained a solid program for years," says Millsaps. "We've navigated, but haven't maneuvered, if you know what I mean. The football playoffs have kept us out of the red, taking up the slack caused by the boys basketball tournament not being as lucrative as it once was."

The TSSAA has pulled all the rabbits out of the hat. It has no more tricks to pull. The all-star games have turned into a lemon. You can't sell a lemon these days and get by with it.

"And I'm not at all in favor of curtailing some of the services TSSAA offers to the schools," says Millsaps. "To say a deficit caused by the all-star games."

ON THE GROUND...IN THE AIR...OR SWIFT AFOOT... It did not make a lot of difference where the football was thrown Friday night if Loudon junior tight end Sam Lyle was in the neighborhood the ball was caught. Sam scored three touchdowns on passes of nine, 35, and 18 yards and added three other catches to amass a total of 98 yards for the game.

Lovelace To Lyle Combination Sparks Redskins Over Rockwood 28-7

The Loudon Redskins may have saved their best to last. The talented Redskins pulled the rug from under the wheedling Rockwood Friday night to the tune of 28-7. The game was the final home game for the Loudon eleven and 13 seniors. The Redskins close the football season with an away game November 16, at Harrison.

Junior tight end Sam Lyle and senior quarterback John Lovelace teamed to give the Redskins an early 14-0 first quarter lead and the stage was set for a sound Redskins triumph. Their fourth in nine games. Rockwood's record is now 3-3.

Loudon quenching their thirst for a victory look the second half kickoff with Rick Melton returning it 19 yards to to pay dirt on their third offensive series of the night. The drive took most of the second period with Porky Campbell bulging his way over the goal line from the Rockwood two yard line.

Lovelace blended a land and air attack in registering a 21-0 halftime lead for Loudon. Tim Guider (64-3 yards), David Surret (two yards), Rick Melton (32 yards), Johnny Deardrifer (two yards), Sam Lyle (three pass receptions for 36 yards, and Porky Campbell (14 yards and the touchdown) accounted for one of the more picturesque Redskins scoring drives registered in a number of years.

Loudon reserves held their own turning back a Rockwood scoring threat at their own 10 yard line. Loudon drove the ball into Rockwood territory only to have a pass interference spoil the march and give the Tugers a chance to finally hit the score board late in the final quarter. The play of seniors Brad Brewster, Steve Kiser, Tim Guider, Preston McQueen, Danny Russell, Nat Campbell lost in the second period with a shoulder injury, and Jimmy Bivens gave the Redskins tremendous leadership in the game. Mike Yates, Donnie Therp, Jimmy Long, Bumper Webster, and Dickey Colvin stood out in their play.

John Lovelace engineered a masterful game directing the controls of the Big Red Machine. Melton, Guider, and

1973-74 Hoop Season Previews With Saturday Night Action

Cansler, Thearp Anchor Redskins

The Loudon Redskins have increased their pace in fall drills for the fast approaching 1973-74 basketball season. Coach Hugh Watson in his third season at the helm of the Loudon boys is hoping for an improved season over last year. A year of 17 wins and 15 losses. But the Redskins made some big tomahawk marks in the end with a second place district finish and a trip to the region playoffs.

Watson's team had a 25-7 mark in his first year as the chief mentor.

This year's team looks better on the floor than on paper. Not blessed with an abundance of height, the Redskins return two of the leagues top sophomores of a year past in junior front line performers William Cansler 6'2" jumping-jack pivot man, and 6'4" forward Donnie Thearp. Both closed the 1972-73 season with double figure averages.

Joining Cansler and Thearp on what will probably be the starting line-up for Tuesday night's season opener at Knoxville Farragut are three seniors up from the Redskins junior varsity. Mark Smith a 6'3" forward has developed into a consistent rebounder and marksman from the corners. The guard slots will be manned by two 5'11" blunders that have really taken charge in preseason workouts. They are senior Greg Allmon and Butch Brown. "Allmon has developed into an outside scoring threat and his jumping ability is a big help on defense," states Watson. Brown has lost nearly 40 pounds over his sophomore and junior playing weight and is now a swift maneuverer with the basketball. His eye for the basket is also a valuable plus in the Redskins offense. Brown will operate the all important point guard slot.

R.L. Brannum a 5'10" senior, who started on last year's team is temporarily lost to the team for three to four weeks due to corrective surgery of some injuries received in a car accident back in the summer.

Other top varsity material will be four sophomores. Rick Melton a 5'11" forward played some on the varsity as a freshman while Teddy Bivens a 5'10" guard has been impressive in early scrimmages and is sure to log some varsity play. Marilyn Brown and Gumper Webster are also guards with Webster a 5'8" playmaker and the best ball handler on the squad. Brown is playing football and will be slow at the start of the season as to his team value, but should whip into shape quick enough to give adequate rest to first team regulars. Dennis Queen, Mark Harper, Henry Chambers, Greg Deatbridge, Randy Davis, Tim Kiser, Charles Kerr, and Jim Birkhoffs.

HARD WORKING REDSKIN TRIO—Loudon Basketball Coach Hugh Watson, in his third year as the head mentor of the Loudon cagers, is all smiles over the hard work and determination of two of his potential senior starters Greg Allmon (35) and Butch Brown (33) have been exhibiting in pre-season drills.

EXPECTING A SEASON OF IMPROVEMENT—Greenback girls' Coach Jerry Masingo is expecting an improved season over last year's sextet ending. Leading the Cherokees efforts will be seniors (left to right) Sherry Cable, Kathy Broome, Coach Masingo, and Linda Hall.

Basketball swings into a share of the sports spotlight around the area this weekend with Loudon County teams taking the lead. Loudon City opens the cage season Saturday night with Rhea County at LC and then come back for a Tuesday night engagement with Oliver Springs also at home.

Loudon starts play with a Monday night grid game at Knoxville Bearden and then the boys travel to Knoxville Farragut on Tuesday night for their initial opening games.

Greenback does not start their season until November 20 and may not start then. If their football team continues to win and advance to the state "A" championship rounds. If this happens the Cherokee season will not get off the ground before December or a possible loss of five games from their schedule that cannot be made up due to a full schedule after the football play-offs and TSSAA restrictions of regular season contests.

In league play the Oak Ridge Wildcats of Carter County and the team to beat in District Seven. The Wildcats return all their starters from last year and that team contended for a berth in the state through substitute play. Loudon City should be a contender for a possible runner-up position with plenty of competition from Clinton, Harrison, Kingston, and maybe Lake City.

The Loudon City girls will be a 1-2 neck and neck battles with Kingston as both teams are of veteran material.

In District Eight Maryville Everett or possibly Telford (front line averages over 6'3") Maryville will be the king of the mountain this season. Loudon is expected to rate high as a contender, but can find no push over in McMinn County, McMinn Central, Bradley County or Alcoa.

The Loudon girls are faced with the blockade of reigning state champs Bradley County and Maryville Everett will be a strong opponent. McMinn Central or McMinn County could make some waves on senior nights.

In District Three Small School Knoxville Catholic has the dominating veteran team. While Fort or Friendsville is the tops in girls.

Cherokees To Shoot For Improvement

The Greenback girls basketball team is expected to be improved over a oft-beaten campaign of last year. Three graduates from the Cherokee varsity, Mary Beth Hammonree, high scoring forward, the most noted loss.

Thus the Greenback offense will be with an established leader. Kathy Broome a near 6 footer and active in several hoop camps looms as a top scoring threat. Sandy Hammonree is a returning playmaker but was not a big scorer in 1972-73. Broome is a senior while Hammonree is a junior. The other forward is undecided but could rest between juniors, Rhonda Brown, Becky Woods or maybe freshman Chita Tipton.

Since no varsity jobs have been finalized, Coach Jerry Masingo (also assistant football coach) may look to a guard or two in forming a proactive offensive trio. The Greenback defense will lack height, but should have reasonable quickness and some varsity experience. Almost all returning guards spent some three weeks at basketball camps some where in the South during summer vacation. Seniors Linda Hall and Sherry Cable logged playing time as juniors and should step back in to their positions this winter.

Bill Adams a hard working junior is expected to challenge the other starting guard slot along with Kathy Long. Gwen Thompson, Kathy Snuggler both juniors and Debbie Childs and Karen Long sophomores are also back from last year with hopes of breaking into the starting line-up.

Coach Masingo will have a number of freshmen to evaluate. Margie Gilbert, Marty Rivers, Robin Anderson, Darlene Woods, Chita Tipton, Linda Haulston, Gay Shepherd, Debbie White, and Terrie Darwiler will be completing for varsity uniforms.

First year senior Linda Darwiler may also battle for playing time despite having no varsity experience.

Panther Boys Termed "Inexperienced"

The Loudon City boys are termed in a rebuilding season for 1973-74 after posting a 17-9 mark last year and losing seven games. But Coach Willie Joe Smalley, in his 14th season at Loudon City may just have one of the better potential clubs. The team is definitely an inexperienced group of varsity players but all have had valuable playing time on the poised junior varsity unit that rarely loses.

Senior Mitch Keebler a 6'2" guard and Eddie Liles a 6'2" forward are the only starters with first team playing experience from last winter. Keebler is a point guard, floor leader and shooter, while Liles has hit in double figures on occasions and is capable from 12 to 15 feet of putting the ball home.

The most impressive factor of this team is the play of 6'5" center Benny Brown. The senior pivot man is doing his part and more in pre season scrimmages and in this early season work of the team. Senior Johnny Price or junior Eddie Billingsley, neither expected to be big scorers in 1973-74, but to make the team. Both will share starting time and serve double duty as a forward or guard.

Balancing out the Panther varsity will be junior guard Ronnie Casak a 6'2" former Sophomore Howard Casler 6'6" and Grayling Littleton 6'11" who will also be logging playing time this year for the varsity.

The team will get a little more depth when football season is over and last winter players in seniors Mike Walker, Carl Thompson, and junior Mike McCollum arrive on the scene for the varsity. A lack of inexperience goes with this team but no foe should breathe easy once the tip off starts the game. Coach Smalley has paced his team through a rigorous schedule of pre season scrimmages in Knox and Blount Counties with pleasing results. The Panthers will surprise some teams, while on some nights the more experienced for may have the upper hand.

Lassies Must Score High To Win Big

The Loudon girls lost three seniors from last year's 17-11 team but on one of their consistent starters. Nevertheless the Lassies do not pose all that improved. The starting offense is still intact with senior sharpshooters Marilyn Smith and Jane Shubert rating as two of the best in the state. Junior freshmen, Susan Johnson and Debbie Hawkins has all the moves to be equally strong at putting points on the score board. All four starting forwards held a double figure average last season. While fast and good at the boards, the forwards lack height and must rely on quickness and experience to conquer tall defenses.

On the guard end of the floor the loss of defensive ace Gloria Brown will be felt. No single returner will be able to fill her shoes. Senior letterman Mary Tyler at 5'8" and Connie Huskey a speedy 5'6" ball handler will carry a lot of the defensive load. J.J. Purdy a proven 5'7" junior appears to have landed the other starting job.

Yarber Harrison, a 6' junior, could be the key to the team's success as he's dominating the defensive back boards. Presently she is no better than first substitute with all the credentials of becoming a regular with work.

Cindy Allmon and Liz Delano are returning guards which have improved over their sophomore season. Both will be used in varsity roles and should give good accounts of tested defensive play when called on.

Offensively junior Betty Starr is capable of filling into the regular starting line-up without upsetting the offensive play. Starr has had experience as a starter and proven she can play under pressure.

The starting guard position, the Lassies will be given an experienced guard, the Lassies will be given an experienced guard, the Lassies will be given an experienced guard.

targeted as district contender, but must prove they have a defense to match their offense. As of right now the forward end of the floor could be a disastrous one.

While trusting his varied schedule with experienced upper classmen. Coach Dewey Arpe has a splendid group of freshmen that will give team depth and could see some varsity time during the course of the season. Bernadette Locke, Jennie Letter, and Beverly Bell are forwards, while Kim Brant-thoover and Juliette Locke are promising guard material.

Others are Lynn Fickey, Donna McNabb, Pam Giles, Sharon Chambers, Susan Jameson, Lee Ann Chihaz, Robin Guider, Susan Watson, and Jackie Russell.

Veteran LC Sextet Has Depth But Tough Schedule

The Loudon City girls basketball team will be the first hoop team in Loudon County to start play this year with the preliminary game of Saturday night's Panther opener with Rhea County. The Panthersettes will be returning its entire team from last year, having lost only one senior a part time starter in guard Vicki Morgan.

Coach Glenn Williams will have a rough time bettering his 22-6 campaign of last year, but when you have one of the state's top individual scorers back as a senior in the form of Marietta Blackburn, a senior slender gunner has rilled in close to 1600 points in her varsity play and this round should be just as complementary. Joining Miss Blackburn will be two juniors, Kathy Quillen and Pam Thomas. Both are experienced and capable of shooting in double figures.

Coach Williams plans to put more of the scoring burden on them this winter and thus take some of the past pressures away from Blackburn, who also doubles as the team playmaker.

The guards, coached by assistant Joe Hall, are anchored by senior Janet Leeper. Leeper is a tough competitor and one of the best in the district. She will get team help from senior Dianne Dunlap and either Junior Pat Ingram, who played some last year, or senior Glenda Brown. Sophomore Karen Slinnett is also high on the possible starter list and will play some.

Sophomore Pam Thomas a promising freshman candidate Patti Cook, a likely replacement to Miss Blackburn next year, are top of reserve reserves. Miss Cook can play guard with authority.

Lisaan Blakney, Sandy Thompson, Patti Watkins, and Kathy Fulton are listed as defensive personnel while Cindy Thompson, Lisa Henry, and Vicki Cook are all reserve offensive depth. Coach Williams will give his lessee a tough regular season schedule to attempt to master with such powers as state champion Bradley County on his schedule for the first time in several years and a mid-season Christmas tournament at Class S state champions home site in Gainsboro. The Rotary Club event is expected to have six of the better sixets in the state this year. Certainly the Panthersettes will be tagged as one of the teams to reckon with in the East Tennessee Class I ranks.

Greenback Boys Must Replace Guard Duet

The Greenback Cherokees are not scheduled to open play until Tuesday, November 20. The Cherokees posted a fine 14-9 record last year and have recently wrapped up in a tough football race for a berth in the state playoffs and have yet to start work on the hardwood as the key Cherokee boosters are also instrumental in the success of the football team.

But when practice and the season does get underway, Coach Charles Leeper is expecting a potentially strong season. "We may not be outstanding to start with but by the start of the second half of the season we should be able to hold our own," relates Bailey.

Others that should boost the Cherokee cage squad are Kyle Shepherd, Mark Myer, Tom Rader, Eddie Vaughn, Harold Hawkins, Danny Dodson and possibly Glenn Quillen and Irterman and first year man Rusty Reagan.

The front line will get plenty of push from seniors Mike Evans a 6'1" returning letterman and first year man Rusty Reagan.

Kingston, Jefferson Fool Contest Entrants

Two key games in the Herald Football Contest last week fooled many people. Those games were the tie win over Kingston and the Jefferson overtime victory over Cleveland.

However five of the hundreds of entries correctly picked all 19 winners and three of these five share in the $25 in prize money. The tie-breaker score of 35 points, scored by Loudon (28) and Rockwood (7) decided the first place winner.

The $12 first place money was won by Bonnie Lane, R1. Lenoir City who had 28 points on the tie-breaker. Second and third place money of $12 was divided $6.50 each between Bill Thompson of Philadelphia and Myrtle Robertson, 612 Perry Street in Loudon who each had 27 points on the tie-breaker.

Other entries with 18 correct games were John Costner with 28 point tie-breaker and Nadine Moser with 24 points.

Greenback Trounces Green Wave With 49-21 Performance

Greenback spotted Midway a 7-0 early first quarter lead Friday night and then unleashed a torrid offensive show that buried the Green Wave 49-21 for win number seven and the end of a two game losing streak. The win, credited much to the play of seniors Tony Linginfeller and Tim Hammontree kept the Cherokees in hot pursuit of a state play-off slot with only one regular season game remaining.

Linginfeller, who is considered one of the top major college football prospects in the Southland, ran for four touchdowns and passed for another.

Midway opened the contest in impressive fashion, taking the opening kickoff and driving 87 yards to score in 12 plays.

Greenback, which has never lost to the Green Wave gridlers, started their first offensive maneuver from their own 34 yard line. The Cherokees drove to the Midway 14 yard stripe before turning the ball over on downs. The Greenback defense starting to come to life after a near three week vacation of letting inferior opponents push them around, stopped the Midway eleven cold at the Green Wave 17 yard line.

Linginfeller took the fourth down punt and from the 47 yard line for the Midway end zone and a 7-0 deadlock.

Greenback's defense turned the Midway offense around at the mid-field stripe, but a well placed punt had the Cherokees working from their own two yard line. The Cherokees may have proved to themselves and to their loyal followers that the season was not lost as they rambled down the field with a full head of steam for the go-ahead touchdown.

The long drive took only eight plays with Linginfeller, Kyle Shephard, and Tim Hammontree setting the tempo of a well precisioned offense. Hammontree completed the drive with a sprint around right end for 65 yards and a 13-7 lead that was not to be topped.

A pass interception by Harold Hawkins set up the third Greenback score, which came on a 41-yard drive requiring six plays. A 25-yard pass to Billy Joe Kyker got the skins on the Greenback defense but never anything damaging enough to contend for the lead as the Cherokees continued to restore the dragon; five play they had experienced in the first half of the regular season.

Late in the third quarter Greenback gained possession at the Midway 41 yard line as a result of fake punting situation. Six plays later, Tim Hammontree strolled into the end zone for the fifth Cherokee touchdown of the night.

An attempted on side kick following a fourth quarter touchdown by Midway which covered 69 yards in four plays gave the ball to Greenback at the Green Wave 36 yard line. A Greenback fumble stalled the Cherokees at the 16 of Midway, but Kenny Evans was quick to get the ball back with a pass interception at the Midway 49 yard line.

Greenback had several big first down 15 yard penalty against the Cherokees.

Down 43-13, Midway came back to drive 31 yards after a personal foul on the kickoff pass gained 27 yards. A clip at the end of this play set the ball back to the Greenback 34 yard line. The Midway offense followed with a sneaky end around play for a touchdown and a two point conversion to make the count read 42-21.

Greenback got the ball on the ensuing kick-off at the Midway 25 yard line following a rash of penalties against the Green Wave. Greenback finished the scoring from the 30 yard line with a pass from Linginfeller to Hawkins. Hammontree booted the conversion to put a victory wrag of 49-21 on the all important game.

RADER, McCARVER MAKE TACKLE—Greenback's Rick Rader (61) and Mark Carver (82) combine to halt the forward progress of this Midway runningback as the Cherokees ended a two game losing skid with a convincing 49-21 slaughter of the Green Waves.

Loudon Freshmen Hand Lenoir City 32-0 Loss In Season Final

The Loudon High School Redskin Freshman Football team completed their 1973 season Tuesday night by soundly defeating Lenoir City 32-0 in the Panther's field.

The third big play of the night for Jones came midway of the fourth quarter when he intercepted a Lenoir City pass and raced untouched 44 yards. He also carried in on the extra point and Lenoir led 26-0.

Following a bad punt snap Loudon downed the Lenoir City punter on the 10 and on third down Kenny Starritt raced the distance for the final score giving Loudon the 32-0 win. Earlier in the season in Loudon defeated Lenoir City 12-8.

Key defensive plays were turned in by Butch White.

return in the third quarter, this time for 54 yards with 2:07 remaining. The extra point again failed and Loudon held on 10-0 lead.

Terry Viers and Sam Stewart who recovered Lenoir City fumbles. Other defensive standouts were Junior Rollen, John Sweet, Danny Iabill, Ricky Lovin and Carter Cardwell.

Loudon Quarterback Carter Cardwell directed the Loudon attack for 160 yards rushing, not accounting for the 153 punt and interception return yards by Jones. Lenoir City had a total offense of 83 yards. Loudon had six first downs to four for the Panthers.

Loudon Coaches Larry Bridges and Larry Collins said their team, who had dropped two straight games, went into the game determined to carry the fight to Lenoir City and did just that.

STARRITT GETS FREE—Loudon Freshman flanker back, Kenny Starritt, breaks through the Lenoir City defense for a 10 yard TD scamper for Loudon's last touchdown in the 32-0 route of the Panthers Tuesday night.

As Kingston tried desperately to move the ball but was stopped after a 4th down and six attempt fell short. Loudon then went 60 yds. in four plays, with the key play being a 59 yd. run by Chuck Johnson. A five yd. pass from Estes to Black was good for the TD. The extra point attempt failed as the scoring ended 26-0.

After exchanging fumbles, Ben Fields intercepted a Kingston pass to set up a 57 yd. scoring pass from Estes to Starritt. This made the score 14-0 as the half ended.

The win was the 36th in a row for the Indians and win number 102 for Coach Buster

The leading groundgainers were Starritt and Johnson with 209 and 82 yds. respectively. The offense was led by Estes, Starritt, Johnson and Black. Fields, Watkins, Hawkins, Rows and Moore led the Defense.

Court Postpones Most Action Until Monday, Justice Center Bids Slated

(Continued from Page 1) Malone responded, "We know we can't trust them, there have been too many flaws." He added that the Road Commissioners have told the auditors that they are responsible for the expenditure of public funds on the roads.

"We were elected by the people and we're responsible for all this," he asserted. Mr. Malone also said there was "something dishonest" in connection with the title purchased by the county, but did not offer any evidence of his charge.

Squire Blair asked if there was anything dishonest about getting the title cheaper.

FOR THE THIRD time, Squire Henry Foster had requested the continuation of Manpower program be placed on the agenda.

Again, Squire Foster said he had no report to bring before the court, but "we've learned this weekend that the program has been taken away from Loudon County and by some people in this county."

He promised a report by the next court meeting, saying "So many lies have been told by this man from Roane County that it will take me a while to get it all written up."

Jack Smith, Mid-East Community Action Director, was in the audience, but made no response.

Mr. Smith said lately, "He's (Squire Foster) said it so often, I didn't figure it was worth replying."

THE COURT also voted unanimously to let bids on the construction of the Loudon County Justice Center.

Tam Woodard, representing the architectural and engineering firm of Barge, Cannon, Wagner and Sumner, told the court the bid specifications are complete and "we are ready to advertise for bids."

Court approved Mr. Woodard's recommendation to receive bids on Thursday, Nov. 29 at 3 p.m.

The court voted to give the company the discretion of whether to have two separate bids, one for the site grading and one for construction of the building.

TED RANDOLPH of Loudon, head of the county's Civil Defense and Emergency Preparedness program, told the court the nationwide energy crisis is beginning to reach the local level.

Mr. Randolph said with Arab countries curtailing oil shipments to the U.S. by as much as 25 percent, it may be necessary for some type of priority order to be given to allocation of fuels.

He suggested county court should delegate authority to the county purchasing agent or someone to draw up plans for priority allocation in Loudon County.

Mr. Randolph said after the meeting he believes the county should "prepare for the worst. Then if it doesn't happen we haven't lost anything."

He added that the federal government is "gearing up for all possibilities."

THE COURT approved budget amendments for the school system and for work on the heating and cooling systems in the courthouse and the county office building.

The school budget received an additional $22,770. It was explained that nine teacher aides and one secretary were hired after school started. The additional personnel were needed to meet the requirements of the Title I program.

Bill Lawson, administrator of federal programs, explained that if the people had not been hired, all Loudon County's Title I funds would have been cut off. Salaries for the aides and secretary totals $18,360.

Funds for the Health Occupations program were appropriated to cover the expenses of the contract entered into with Lenoir City. The program costs the county $4,000 for one year.

The remainder of the money is for salary increases for the superintendent and his supervisor. The funds are state money and will not come from the county.

Court also accepted a bid of about $15,000 for work on the heating and cooling systems.

A resolution supporting the state committee on rural roads was approved.

IN COUNTY ROAD PROJECTS

The acceptance of sub-division roads as county roads was accepted on condition that developers fix a drainage problem.

Judge Sproul told the court a new state law is now in effect which allows a tenant to lodge complaints against a landlord if the tenant has paid the rent. The court named the building inspector to respond to the complaints and make a recommendation on what solution is needed.

IN A MOTION by Squire Roy Blodgett and seconded by Squire J.G. Hudson, the court voted unanimously to give the county builders and suppliers until next March to propose amendments to the Southern Building Code. Until then, the code will not be enforced.

Woodrow Munsey appeared before the court and said, "It was news to me," when he read in the paper last month that he was encroaching on a county right-of-way.

The question was carried over to the next meeting to give the court time to see if there are other violations of the right-of-way.

A request by Earl Crisp to rezone property on Highway 11 near Highland Park School from R-1 Suburban Residential to C-2 Commercial was unanimously approved.

Attorney Charles Eblen, who represented Mr. Crisp at the hearing, contended that the property has been in commercial use for years and should be zoned as commercial. The rezoning was not recommended by the Loudon County Planning Commission.

Taylor Refuses To Continue Injunction

Federal Judge Robert L. Taylor refused last Thursday to continue an injunction prohibiting work on the Tellico Dam project but allowed Fred Palmer, Environmental Defense Fund attorney, to call the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals clerk and ask for a hearing on the injunction before Friday.

While Judge Taylor refused to allow the stop-work injunction pending appeal, he did persuade TVA attorney Seachamp Bragan to agree to the few days grace for the plaintiffs to try in the Court of Appeals.

The plaintiffs will present their petition to the appellate court Monday. If allowed, one judge could decide it or a three judge panel could rule.

The lawsuit was heard in Federal Court here in four days in September and decided in favor of TVA.

Judge Taylor ruled that TVA's environmental impact statement complies with regulations set out in the construction of the dam, on the Little Tennessee River near Lenoir City.

Harrison Claims Condemnation Of Land Is Wrong

Dr. Harrison, who is not a member of the Chamber, but who was invited to be present and express his views, said that although there was a law allowing a county to condemn property for the purposes of creating an industrial park, he would fight it because he believed it to be a "dangerous precedent" and it is wrong to condemn one man's land for another man's use.

The Chamber had agreed to circulate petitions in support of the condemnation asking the Squires to go ahead with the plan which reportedly had support of eight of the nine court members prior to Monday's meeting. This was abandoned after a meeting of Chamber, Committee of 100 and FLIDCO representatives was held on Monday.

Harrison had placed an advertisement in both the county newspapers calling for support against the condemnation. This cancelled it as part of the compromise. Dr. Harrison is in contact Dr. Harsh and ask for him to make another site, similar in size which will on the new Philadelphia interchange connector.

If this is done the industrial groups hope that they can interest Crown, who is ready to announce the location of a new plant at Philadelphia, in the new site. The firm would employ about 60 persons.

Should this not materialize before the Court meeting Monday night it is expected that the industrial groups will still seek to have the original site condemned.

Report Shows Per Capita Income Here

The per capita personal income of Loudon County was $2,673 in 1971, compared to $2,533 in 1970, a report from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville says.

The information is from a study on income and population estimates by the UTK Center for Business and Economic Research. The report appears in the current issue of the Tennessee Survey of Business.

"Per capita personal income is one of the most important measures of general economic welfare," the report says. "This relationship among geographic areas in terms of per capita income and rates of change in these measures over time are of great interest to many people."

The report, authored by George Kronbach and Richard A. Engels of the CBES staff, says the state's average growth, from $3,229 in 1971 to $3,671 in 1972, represents a 10.3 per cent increase.

Figures are available for the state as a whole through 1972, but only through 1971 for individual counties and Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas (SMSA).

In 1972, the national per capita income, at $4,492, grew 7.9 per cent from 1971, while the Southeast at $3,801 recorded a growth of 9.9 per cent for the same period.

The state's per capita average in 1972 was $3,756, compared to $3,666 for the nation. Thus Tennessee has increased from 53 per cent of the national figure in 1971 to 81.7 per cent in 1972.

Loudon Countains In Higher Income Bracket

How well are Loudon County families making out financially? What proportion of them are now to be found in the upper income brackets?

The latest figures show that rising wages and salaries in the area have benefited most families, moving them up to higher positions on the income ladder. Conversely, the proportion at the lower level has become smaller.

The extent to which these changes have affected local residents is brought out in a copyrighted report released by Sales Management, Inc. It indicates, for every section of the county the percentage of families that fall within each income bracket.

The breakdown was made for the purpose of obtaining a better understanding of a community's purchasing power than was possible through its "average income" figure alone.

Study Shows Hospital Bed Needs Here

The East Tennessee Health Planning Council (ETHPC) has approved a major study recommending that most of the 27 general hospitals in this area do not need to construct additional short-term beds in the immediate future.

The study, which utilized six methods of projection and two population definitions to estimate bed needs by the year 1980, was approved by ETHPC at its quarterly meeting Oct. 11. The study was prepared by the East Tennessee Development District (ETDD) and it determined that there are presently 3,919 general hospital beds throughout ETDD. This figure exceeds by 548 the most liberal estimate of the 3,371 beds projected to be needed in the district by 1980.

The complex study concluded that the following ETDD counties, based on current usage patterns, should not need additional beds during the projected period: Claiborne, Hamblen, Knox, Monroe, Roane, Scott, and Sevier.

Study estimates for counties that should need additional beds, and their numbers, include: Anderson, 9-9; Blount, 24-48; Campbell, 0-4; Cocke, 5-20; Jefferson, 4-20; and Loudon, 0-4. Three other counties within ETDD, Grainger, Morgan, and Union, presently have no hospital facilities at all, but the study does not recommend the construction of new hospitals within these counties during the projected period.

ETHPC members stressed that approval of the study indicates only that it is authorized for use by the council as a guide for planning future bed need requirements, and is subject to review if local conditions change within any of the counties.

The ETHPC, which is composed of 78 members representing both consumers and providers of health care, is designated by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare as the official statewide health planning agency for the 16 counties comprising ETDD.

In other business at the quarterly meeting, Dr. David Allen, deputy commissioner for Local Health Administration, Tennessee Department of Public Health, addressed the council concerning the establishment of a primary care center in East Tennessee during the coming year. Dr. Allen said that the state Legislature, which last year provided $500,000 for the construction of primary care centers in other parts of the state, will study recommendations for additional centers in next year's General Assembly.

He advised council members to review potential primary care sites and formulate a list of recommendations in order to facilitate the establishment of such a center in East Tennessee.

A short memorial service was held for the late Leroy Stansell, chairman-elect of ETHPC and administrator of the Chamberlain Memorial Hospital in Rockwood, Stansell, who was a leading figure in East Tennessee health planning circles for many years, died earlier this month while attending a hospital convention in Gatlinburg. The memorial service was led by Dr. Gideon Fryer, council member.

Finally, the Council nominated two individuals to represent East Tennessee at the State Health Planning Council in Nashville. They were Dean James Amberg, dean of the University of Tennessee College in Madisonville, and Miss Barbara Shaw, chairman of the Loudon Neighborhood Service Center in Loudon.

STATEMENT OF TENNESSEE EDUCATION ASSOCIATION TO BUDGET HEARING ON EDUCATION

President William Lewis of the Tennessee Education Association presented the views of TEA to the Committee at a Budget Hearing in Nashville on October 22, 1973. Lewis urged the Committee to develop a budget for education for fiscal 1975 based on the following principles:

1. Anticipated revenues should be determined with full recognition of the rapid economic growth of the state and the funds should be fully applied to essential state services.
2. Education should receive a percentage increase at least comparable to the present increase in other departments.
3. The budget should fully recognize and provide for the increased cost of living for public employees before improvements elsewhere are proposed.

4. Textbooks and Instructional Supplies. Sufficient appropriations to increase per pupil allotment from $8.50 to $9.50.
5. Handicapped and disadvantaged youth—The implementation of Public Chapter 82 as passed in 1972 will require substantial funds as determined by the State Department of Education.
6. Vocational Education in grades 7-12. The Comprehensive Vocational Education Act impacted in 1973 is an excellent beginning but needs sufficient appropriations to begin the implementations of the program.
7. Full time principals and assistant principals. Sufficient funds to provide a Principal for all schools with 12 teachers or more and an assistant principal for schools with 25 teachers or more.
8. School secretaries. Sufficient appropriations for the state to share in financing school secretaries in all schools.
9. Teacher Retirement—Sufficient appropriations to provide teachers at retirement age a degree of financial security that is comparable to that provided through any other state supported retirement system.
10. Joint financed statewide insurance program for teachers.
11. Adequate support for higher education.

Don't expect good music from an infrequently tuned piano. The tension of the strings is changing all the time due to climatic changes and must be tuned regularly. A neglected piano will cause harshness of voice and irritating to all who hear it. You can make arrangements with your local tuner technician for regular piano service. Looking At Loudon County's Future

BY DAVID BOOHER
 Editor's Note: David Booher is a planner with the Tennessee State Planning Office who is assigned to work with Loudon County and its municipalities.

One of the goals which all the planning commissions in Loudon County believe is important is for all residents of the County to have healthy, safe, and decent housing. All three planning commissions have studied the question of how this goal could be achieved. Some time ago, Loudon and Lenoir City adopted building codes to insure that all new construction and repairs met minimal standards for safety and health. And this year after an extensive study of the housing problem with the help of the East Tennessee Development District and the Tennessee State Planning Office, the Loudon County Planning Commission recommended the adoption of a County Building Code based on the Southern Standard Building Code.

After this recommendation was taken up by the Quarterly County Court, however, a lot of misinformation and rumors began to circulate which confused some people. In the space remaining, I would like to see if I can't answer some of the questions.

QUESTION: Does Loudon County really need a Building Code?

ANSWER: The 1960 Census of Housing found that 41 percent of the housing in Loudon County was substandard. While this data was not collected in the 1970 Census, one doesn't need statistics to see the kind of poor housing around the county that a building code will help to prevent. Within the next six years, 611 new units of housing will be needed according to the East Tennessee Development District. If the Timberlake New Town project becomes a reality, almost 11,000 additional units will be required by 1980. In other words, there is going to be a lot of new housing construction in Loudon County in the next few years. A building code is the only way to protect the consumer and the reputable builder from unscrupulous and "fly-by-night" contractors.

QUESTION: Can't Loudon

County write its own building code? Why does it need a model code?

ANSWER: The special act of the Tennessee Legislature which authorized Loudon County to adopt a building code provided that it could adopt a model code. It did not allow for the adoption of a code prepared by the county. Model codes such as the Southern Standard Building Code are advantageous for two reasons. First, they allow for uniformity from one jurisdiction to another so that construction people do not have to deal with a different set of requirements and regulations in each jurisdiction. This allows for better competition and, hence, larger cost to the consumer. Second, a model code allows for an orderly mechanism whereby new technologies and materials can be incorporated into existing codes in a systematic and professional manner every year.

QUESTION: Why should Loudon County adopt a Building Code when nobody else has?

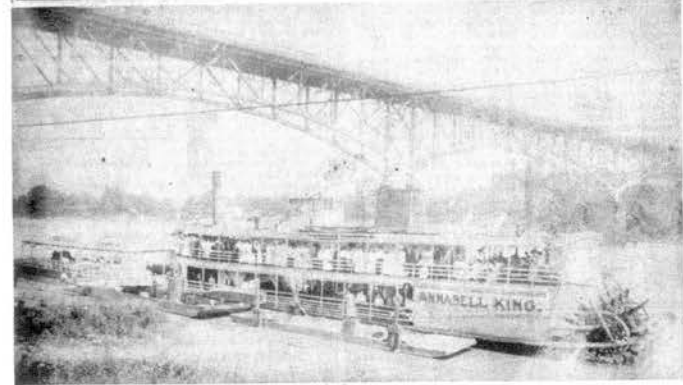

ANSWER: Over 1,300 cities and 70 counties in 20 states have adopted the Southern Standard Building Code as a local building code. This includes 107 cities (Loudon and Lenoir City being 2 of these) and 4 counties in Tennessee. In addition, 6 other Tennessee counties are in some stage of adoption of model codes as evidenced by the passage of special legislation for them. But, even if no other government had adopted a building code, Loudon County has never been afraid to be a leader when a progressive step forward was needed.

techniques impacting on the field of building is permitted.

QUESTION: Will the requirement for grade marked lumber in the Building Code make a house cost more?

ANSWER: Yes. The Director of Building Inspection in Knoxville estimates that the additional cost would be less than $300 per house. A prominent west Knox County building contractor questioned estimated the additional cost at between $200 and $300 per house. But anyone who has ever had their home warped out of shape because green or moist lumber was used or who has had part of their home collapse because a bore worm ate out the interior of a support beam will tell you that this is a small price to pay for inspected lumber.

I am sure that other questions will arise. The Building Inspectors in Loudon, Lenoir City, and Loudon County will no doubt be happy to answer any questions they can. In addition, copies of the Building Code are on file in the County Clerk's office where anyone can inspect them. I will also be happy to meet with groups who want to know more about Building Codes.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

One of the biggest construction jobs ever undertaken and completed in the town of Loudon was the building of the Highway Bridge across the river at Loudon. It was a much needed thing in its day as the interstate bridge is today which is being built at this time.

The highway traffic had started an upsurge and although the old and historically prominent and very efficient ferry which was using two boats to ferry the traffic just could not take care of all the cars. Even by using two boats, the cars still were backed up for several blocks awaiting their turn to get across the river. A decision was made in Nashville to build a number of bridges in the State of Tennessee and Loudon bridge was among them. In those days, as in some cases today, bridges were named in most cases, after prominent people. I believe, if my memory served me correctly, the Loudon bridge used to have a name on a board hanging from the first span on each side. The name was Loudon Bridge. It seems that as a small boy we heard something in regard to the name choice but I can't recall what it was.

A span of 44 years has elapsed with millions of cars crossing the bridge yearly since its completion. Having been the massive project that it was, it created an area wide deluge of interest and many came equipped with cameras. So, many things were recorded by these cameras and this week we are using a picture of a most unusual event that happened during this job. Of all things, a pier, which had already been completed, fell smack into the Tennessee River. The reason given was that the footing had shifted but many people were scared of the bridge falling, since this pier had fallen. Anyway, this week, we have a picture of the massive pier laying in the river, which speaks for itself. Another picture shows a construction scene from the bank on the Loudon side. Note the old time equipment and crude booms. These are a far cry from the equipment in use on the interstate bridge today.

Another picture we have is of another old river steamboat. This one is unusual because of the large crowd of people on board. This picture was made under the bridge at Knoxville sometime prior to 1910. Without a doubt, this was an excursion boat plying the Tennessee River. It was possibly it could have been a passenger boat loading up for a trip down river to Loudon, as this was quite normal back in those days.

Our many thanks to Frank Jones for the loan of these old and interesting pictures.

Two reasons why women tell secrets. One, they are not important enough to keep and two, they are too important not to tell.

REPORTER: To what do you attribute your great age?

GRANDPA: The fact that I was born so long ago.

Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

Could you afford a new washer if prices jumped?

That's why railroads are essential.

We can't promise a price freeze on washing machines. But we can say that shipping by rail remains one of the best bargains you'll find. That's one of the reasons Southern and other railroads are so popular with appliance makers. In fact, 71% of all household appliances are shipped by rail.

And shipping by rail is as dependable as it is economical. Maybe that's why railroads handle twice as much intercity freight as trucks. Two hundred times as much as airlines.

Which is why you need railroads. And why you need Southern.

ENERGY CRISIS IS REAL—

From all indications the energy crisis in the nation is real and of course it will affect everyone in Loudon County. Adjusting to the speed curbs, not being able to go where you want when you want and not getting all the fuel oil you want will be hard to adjust to.

Right now all the controls are voluntary, but it would be a good idea to take the suggestions made by President Nixon to help conserve energy. It might make the shock of expected gas rationing, possible soaring prices to $1.20 per gallon, traveling in groups only to necessary places and etc., easier to take when the national legislation is passed and mandatory controls take effect.

It is hard to drive on interstate highways at 50 mph, we know and have had the speeding tickets to prove it, but we must all try. For years we have heard that the energy crisis was coming, but like everyone else kept buying vehicles, traveling, buying appliances and things that take energy.

We were glad to see Loudon County Civil Defense Director Ted Randolph report on the matter to County Court Monday night and suggest that local governments set up an advisory board to control the energy consumption of the government agencies.

Really we have no choice but to honor the demands of the government because the crisis is here. It is only a shame that the crash program for development of new energy sources was not enacted long ago. We fear its effect on the economy, industry, business and the individual will be far reaching.

Get the sweaters and long johns out or else you might get cold.

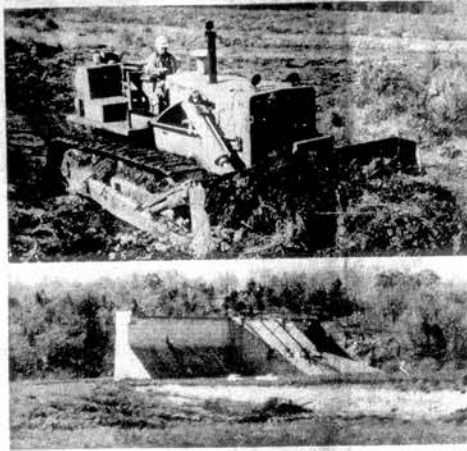

BULLETIN

Thieves Hit Law Office, Drug Store

Loudon City Police were investigating a break-in at Bevin Drug Company and the law offices of Fowler and Gibson Wednesday morning. It was the second such break-in at the two firms in three months.

Like the first break-in the thieves entered the second floor law offices by crossing the roof of Greer's, Inc., went through a bathroom window into the library of the law firm. Inside they tore up floor covering at the same place as before and went through the floor into the drug store below.

Nothing was reported missing in the law offices and an inventory of drugs in the drug store prescription department was still underway at press time Wednesday. In the earlier break-in several thousand pills were taken.

A BULLDOZER begins scraping away vegetation which has overgrown the work site for the Tellico Dam as construction on the controversial project resumed Monday. In the other picture, trucks can be seen parked within the shadow of the long-completed concrete portion of the dam. Work has been stopped by Federal Court injunction since January of 1972.

TVA Resumes Tellico Work, Opponents Continue To Fight

Tennessee Valley Authority resumed work on the Tellico Dam Monday after more than a year of court-ordered work stoppage while the issue was being heard in Federal Court. The Sixth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at Cincinnati last Friday turned down a request from the Environmental Defense Fund for a temporary injunction against further construction of the dam on the Little Tennessee River here.

Federal Judge Robert L. Taylor in Knoxville, who ruled in favor of TVA on the question of whether the agency's Environmental Impact Statement was adequate, also had denied a request for injunction while an appeal was being heard.

TVA Board Chairman Aubrey Wagner was present for the resumption of work Monday morning. Work began with two bulldozers and a road grader removing vegetation which had grown up to cover the site where a 1900-foot earth-fill section of the dam is to be built.

The concrete portion of the dam is virtually complete. When the earth-fill portion is completed and a canal opened up to connect the Ft. Loudon Lake with the proposed Tellico lake, the impoundment of lower 33 miles of the Little Tennessee will begin.

Charles J. Haun was the Superintendent in charge of the site Monday as resumption of work got under way Monday. He said equipment would be assembled and craned here as quickly as possible.

Work began Monday at the same point where it was ordered stopped by Judge Taylor's stop-work injunction in January 1972. TVA crews at that time were grading down to bedrock to prepare footings for the earth-fill portion of the dam.

Two bulldozers Monday were pushing weeds and bushes away which have covered the area.

A patrol grader was busy repairing the gravelled work road into the dam-site area and a hydraulic crane was standing by to be used when needed.

Several TVA trucks and at least a dozen employees' cars were on the site and workmen reopened buildings which had housed materials, tools and supplies before the work-stoppage.

County Court Action ...

Squires Call For Energy Board, School Board Vote

Loudon County Court, in special adjourned session Monday night, approved the establishment of a "Energy Advisory Committee" and took the first step for what may change the method of selecting School Board members.

However, a movement to condemn a 60-acre Philadelphia tract for industrial use was again deferred to the next meeting of County Court.

Squire Roy Bleasdale, Mayor of Philadelphia, who had been the leader of the movement, asked to have the matter postponed until the December meeting.

He said later that

MR. HICKEY

Glenn Hickey Found Dead

Former Loudon County Quartermaster member Glenn Hickey, 72, was found dead in his home at 300 Church Street in Loudon about 11:05 a.m. Tuesday. Death was apparently caused by two self-inflicted wounds in the chest and head from a .38 caliber pistol. Loudon Police Chief John Lennex said.

Hickey's body was found by his nephew J.D. Jones of Madisonville. Jones was preparing to take Mr. Hickey to the Veteran's Administration Hospital in Johnson City. Hickey had been a patient there for several weeks and was discharged just last Sunday. Chief Lennex said Hickey was found on the couch in the living room of his house and indications were that he had only been dead a couple of hours.

While Hickey had been in the hospital his wife, who has been an invalid for many years had been staying with other relatives near Loudon.

Far years Hickey was a self-employed mechanic and also had worked for Miller Motor Company before he retired. After retirement he served as custodian of the Loudon United Methodist Church, where he was an active member, but also retired.

Survivors are listed as his wife, Nettie Presley Hickey; brothers, Tom, Verda, Ky., Marion, Dublin, Ind., Ralph, Kingston, George, Oak Ridge; several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Thursday at Karnes Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. W.B. Harner and Dr. Harrell Russell officiating. Burial to be in Corinth Cemetery.

County residents who have not made their annual pledge to the 15 member United Fund agencies to do so this week. He said that the directors of the United Fund are always hopeful that the drive will see several thousands of dollars over the goal pledged. He said there are always some pledges that cannot be collected because some people change jobs or move from the community and the extra money is needed in order that all the member agencies will representatives of the industrial plant have agreed to look at an alternate site in Philadelphia which would be available without condemnation.

MONDAY NIGHT'S special meeting was an adjourned session from the regular session a week before. It had been requested by Squire J. J. Blair to consider a proposal to elect School Board members by popular vote. The condemnation matter also was planned for the adjourned session to allow time for opposition to present a case before bringing it to a vote.

CIVIL DEFENSE Director Ted Randolph emphasized the importance of making preparations now for a serious fuel shortage to come. He asked for the appointment of a five-member committee—one from each incorporated city and one from the county—to serve as an advisory board to make recommendations back to County Court and other authorities about how best to distribute the limited amount of motor fuel and heating oil the county and cities will be able to obtain.

"Emergency vehicles will, of course, have to have priority," he pointed out. The committee would have to look a month, maybe two months, in advance toward making arrangements of fuel so that every department of city and county government would get a fair share of fuel and be able to operate, he explained. Supt. of Schools Albert Dukes reported that the schools being heated by Hydrotane gas have already been cut to 65 percent of the amount received last year. These include Steeple, Highland Park and Philadelphia gymnasiums and the New Providence school.

County Judge Harvey Sprout suggested that the committee suggested by Mr. Randolph be enlarged to include one member from each School Board—a total of seven. Mr. Randolph agreed.

Squire J.D. Baber's motion, seconded by Squire James M. Hartsook, that the Energy Advisory Committee, as suggested, be set up and that the Civil Defense Director serve as its coordinating officer. The vote was unanimous.

EARLY IN THE meeting, William K. Bright, President of Loudon County Farm Bureau, read a resolution, recently adopted by the Bureau's Board of Directors in opposition to the proposal to condemn the Philadelphia industrial site.

The property, 60 acres which lies between U.S. Highway 11 and Southern Railway at the eastern edge of the Philadelphia city limits, belongs to Dr. Griff Harsh, a

Masked Robber Gets $99.50 From Motel

A man wearing a ski-mask and brandishing a hand gun knocked Fort Loudon Motel night clerk Gary Honeycutt in the jaw and took $99.50 from the lobby registration desk about 11:25 p.m. Friday and then fled.

Loudon Police Sgt. Bill Grimes said that Honeycutt said he was in the clerk room at the lobby when he heard someone come in. He went in the lobby and was confronted by the man about a foot and medium build, wearing blue jeans, slip on shirt and a raggled jacket. The man had on a ski-mask and had a small handgun. He told Honeycutt to give him all the money. When Honeycutt said he didn't have any money the man hit him in the jaw and shoved him back into his room.

The robber then went to the lobby desk, took the money and left telling Honeycutt if he moved he would kill him. Honeycutt called another Loudon Police Department, told them that the man got into a Ford Falcon which another man was waiting outside. Went to the Mulberry Street traffic signal and turned north on U.S. 11. The light colored car was said to have had Ohio license plates.

United Fund Just $128 From $48,600 Goal

It was close but the Loudon County United Fund campaign did not reach its goal of $48,600 by noon Monday as pledged campaign leaders had hoped. With less than one half of one percent of the goal remaining, Charles Davis, filling in as United Fund chairman in the absence of Tom Matlock, set a victory dinner for Fund workers at Big's Restaurant in Loudon City next Monday at 12:30 p.m.

Mr. Davis urged all Loudon County residents who have not made their annual pledge to the 15 member United Fund agencies to do so this week. He said that the directors of the United Fund are always hopeful that the drive will see several thousands of dollars over the goal pledged. He said there are always some pledges that cannot be collected because some people change jobs or move from the community and the extra money is needed in order that all the member agencies will get their budgeted amount of funds.

New pledges reported at Monday's meeting in Loudon totaled $3,999.42, which put the total pledged to date at $5,121.94, just $18.06 away from the announced goal.

New money reported this week included $631.05 from industry of which $273 was from Sheffield Steel Corporation of Loudon City. New money of $331 was reported by Loudon business chairman Bob Hudson and $287.82 additional from the residential campaign. The Loudon City business and residential campaign showed new pledges of $3110.25. The first report from the campaign in Greenback listed $747.30. It was reported that the Greenback area campaign was just getting in high gear and another sizeable report was expected from the community. An additional $20 was reported from the Philadelphia campaign.

The remaining 50 acres is designated by the (2). Owner of the Philadelphia farm, Dr. Griff Harsh has reportedly offered to sell the Fort Loudon Industrial Development Company about 10 acres, designated number 3, behind Philadelphia School along the proposed 1.75 connector. County Court has postponed action on the condemnation suit in face of opposition from several groups and in view of the alternate site which has not yet been seen by Crown

THE LAND INVOLVED in a controversy over condemnation for an industrial park and an possible alternate site are shown in the aerial photo above. Sections 1 and 2 are a 60 acre tract that was recently bought by Sweetwater Valley Farms and had been proposed for condemnation. A door manufacturer, Crown Industries of Tampa, Fla., is interested in the 10 acre site (1) between Highway 11 and the Southern Railway tracks.

Canter Says Statements Misunderstood . . .

Owners Say Did Not Know About Crown

In a letter following Mrs. Will D. Robertson, widow of the late Will D. Robertson, said she was unaware of any effort by the Fort Loudon Industrial Development Corporation to buy land that she was co-owner of. Mrs. Robertson along with Ben Robertson, retired president of the Hamilton National Bank of Loudon, owned a 60 acre tract of land that has been mentioned as a possible industrial park.

Several weeks prior to a move last week seeking condemnation of the property they sold the land to Dr. Griff Harsh of Birmingham owner of Sweetwater Valley Farms.

It was reported to the newspapers this week by FLIDCO President Don Canter that there may have been some misunderstanding of things said in the court meeting last week concerning FLIDCO's interest in the land.

He said that some time ago Ben Robertson had said that the land "might" be made available for industry and that under those terms several prospects had been shown the property.

Canter said that although the FLIDCO board had discussed among themselves the possibility of buying the land that the group had not started any direct talks with the Robertson concerning price of the land.

He also stated that at the time the land was sold by the Robertsons to Dr. Harsh the Robertsons were not aware that Crown Industries of Tampa had expressed an interest in putting a door plant there.

Canter said that apparently statements made in meetings last week left the impression that the Robertsons were aware of the industry when the property was sold, when actually they were not. Mrs. Robertson's letter follows:

In regard to the two articles published in the Loudon County Herald for the last two weeks, concerning the tract of land on U.S. 11 near Philadelphia.

I can not stand by and not make a correction on the two articles.

I was half-owner of the tract of land involved and sole owner of the farm joining the tract. I would like to state that I was never in anyway approached or contacted concerning this land by anyone connected with the Loudon County Committee of 100 and for Loudon Industrial Development, neither had I ever heard of FLIDCO or Crown Industries until the publishing of these two articles in the Loudon County Herald.

I have no idea where the information came from for parts of the two articles in the Loudon County Herald concerning the sale of this land, but the above statements are true.

I would like for this article to be published on the front page of the Herald, as were the other two articles concerning this tract of land.

Signed: Mrs. Will D. Robertson.

Court Approves Energy Board

 Birmingham, Ala. brain surgeon. Ironically, he acquired the property only recently—two or three days before representatives of Crown Industries were scheduled to come to Loudon to make a final decision to locate here. Dr. Harsh has refused to sell the property.

Mr. Bright's Farm Bureau will serve as a willing seller is one thing but when either is unwilling and the power of government is used to force the will of the other in private enterprise matters, it is little short of confiscation of property, the impairment of power, and the use of eminent domain for purposes never intended. Such use of the power eminent domain makes one wonder whose property next will be taken and for what purpose in the name of public need.

"We urge you as a governing body to look seriously at the justification of the use of this power at any time. Use wisely this power as sacredly entrusted to you."
 Mr. Bright was the only speaker on the condemnation issue.

TVA Restarts Tellico Work

He said he feels that the early date set for the appeals hearing represents a small victory for opponents of the dam, especially considering the fact that the Appeals Court ordinarily has a backlog of at least six months' work.

The Environmental Defense Fund, however, which has led the court battle against the Tellico dam, now is calling for money from local opponents of the project.

Mr. Eirod told the group that the EDF has put a lot of money into the effort to stop construction of the dam and now EDF feels there should be some expression of financial support from Tennessee.

EDF says that the appeal to the Sixth Circuit will cost at least $10,000 and they would like us to raise half of that amount," he said.

Almost $200 was raised at the directors meeting, it was reported, and the national organization of Trout Caroleys B. Knox, condemnation (1-75).

a sacred trust, is the right of eminent domain or the right to condemn and take privately owned property for a purpose in the public good. We understand the exercise of this authority for schools, roads, hospitals, and the like, but we question the wisdom of exercising this important authority to take private property from one private use to put into another private use.

A transaction between a willing buyer and a willing seller is one thing but when either is unwilling and the power of government is used to force the will of the other in private enterprise matters, it is little short of confiscation of property, the impairment of power, and the use of eminent domain for purposes never intended.

Such use of the power eminent domain makes one wonder whose property next will be taken and for what purpose in the name of public need.

Shop Has Uniperm

Evelyn Grimes, Rt. 4, Loudon, has announced the arrival of a precision forming system, a new method that features pre-programmed permanent wave results.

Called Uniperm, it replaces guesswork perming with an automatic curling process. During pre-introductory testing, chairmen noted that they could "concentrate more on creative cutting and styling, now that the technical aspects are completely automatic."

When Mr. Blair made his motion again—this time with the additional explanation that the proposed bill would be brought back to County Court before it would be submitted to the State Legislature, and that if passed there, it would come back to the people in referendum for ratification, it was seconded by Squire J.G. Hubson of Greenback.

Squire Conner announced he would vote against the measure because, he said, "I haven't had a single person from my district come to me and ask for this change." He insisted that this is the wrong time; that the right time would be after consolidation of City and County schools, which he said "coming quicker than any of us realize."

 Vote on the measure was 5-2 in favor, with Squire Duckworth absent. Voting against were Squires Conner and R.L. Hamilton. Mr. Hamilton made no comment on the matter.

Squire Henry Foster, at the end of the meeting, said he wanted to explain his vote—that he had nothing against any of the present School Board members (now appointed by the Court) but that he had never believed in keeping anything away from the people and he felt they should have a chance to vote on this matter.

The nine-member committee would be made up of three Court members, three interested citizens, and three members of the County School Board, if they are interested. Judge Sproul promised to appoint the committee right away.

SUPP. OF SCHOOLS

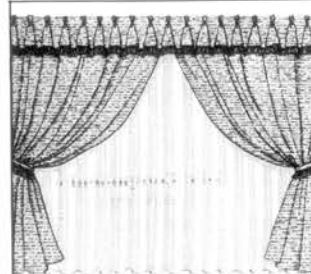

Albert Dukes reported to the Court on the advisability of the County owning its own school buses. He advised waiting, since, he said, State Commissioner of Education Carmichael plans to recommend to the State Legislature that the State take over all school buses.

This plan, Mr. Dukes said, has been in operation in North Carolina for over 30 years. They train 17, 18 and 19 year old high school boys to drive the buses and "they have a very fine safety record."

"The State is already putting thousands and thousands of dollars into transportation," he said. "All they will have to do is put a little more with it and own all the buses."

Meanwhile, he told the Court, it would cost $250,000 for Loudon County to buy enough school buses to operate the school transportation system. In interviewing school officials in Knox, Anderson and Roane Counties, he said he saw that sometimes hired drivers don't take care of buses quite as well as they would their own.

Speaking of Sports

Only one week remains in the regular season for several football teams to grab berths in the 1973 TSSAA Football Play-Off series.

In Class AAA Region 1 Knoxville Central and Oak Ridge will tangle in the Nov. 23 football games. In Region 2 Chattanooga Baylor will take on Warren County of McMinnville. In Region 3 there are three teams left in the running and they are Nashville Overton, McGavock and Father Ryan. The Region 4 race has come down to Memphis Whitehaven, Hillcrest, Hamilton, CBHS and Covington. Nashville Overton, McGavock and Whitehaven could all clinch berths with wins this week.

In Class AA Region 1 there is a three-way race between Ketrion, Rulle and Maryville. Ketrion has finished the season with a 9-1 record and both Rulle and Maryville have one game left this Friday. Kingston has qualified in Region 2 with Notre Dame, McMinn Central and Lake City still in the race for the other position. Trousdale County High of Hartsville and Macon County High of Lafayette have qualified in Region 3. Region 4 could end up in a four-way tie between Lexington, Fairley, Collierville and Milan. Both Notre Dame and Fairley could clinch berths with wins this Friday.

In Class A Region 1 Walland won one berth after posting a 9-1 record and Greenback won the other spot topping Coalfield and Porter by means of the second tie-breaker. Greenback ended up with 510 points. Porter has 400 points and could pick up only 20 point more, and Coalfield ended the year with 410 points. Sequatchie County won Region 2 berth while Spring City, Meigs County and Oliver Springs are battling for the other position. A win Friday by Spring City would give Spring City the other berth. College Grove earned a berth in Region 3 while White House, Westmoreland and Brentwood Academy are in a fight for the other position. In Region 4 Dyer County of Newbern and McEwen have both reached the play-off series.

Semi-finals are scheduled for Nov. 30 and the championship games in all three class are set for Dec. 7.

Twenty proposals making up the largest agenda ever in TSSAA history will be discussed and voted on by TSSAA member schools at three regional meetings scheduled in December.

The first meeting will be in Knoxville, Saturday, Dec. 1. The West Tennessee regional Football staggers into its final week of regular season play this Friday night with Loudon and Lenoir City shutting down their pigskin ways on the road. Loudon travels in Harrison in hopes of finishing the season with a 500 mark. The Blue Devils have not fared as well as they had hoped this fall, nor has the Redskins. The Redskins are a heavy favorite in the battle, but must put a wrap on things minus two starters in seniors Nan Campbell and R. L. Itratum.

The Lenoir City Panthers are likewise seeking a 500 campaign with four wins and five losses to date. The Panthers must travel to Knoxville, one of the top "AA" powers in the state and lose only one time this season and headed for the state play-offs.

In the first round. The winner of that game will travel to County Spring City game. Both are unbeaten in regular season.

Basketball is getting off to a fast start with Lenoir City playing two District Seven battles. On Saturday night the Panthers go to Kingston while on Tuesday night the Harrison Blue Devils visit the LC hoopsters. Loudon also gets into its league slate with a Saturday night home game against McMinn Central. Tuesday night finds the Redskins also at home with Kingston visiting the Loudon gym. Greenback will be idle in basketball until they have completed their football season which could be as late as the second week of December.

Linginfelter Guides Greenback Past TSD 34-20 To Gain State Play Off Berth

The Greenback Cherokees throttled their Region One State Play-off express past a highly ranked Tennessee School for the Deaf Friday night by the score of 34-20. The victory clinched Greenback a berth in the first round of the Tennessee State High School Football Championship play downs November 23.

With the win the Cherokees set the stage to face once-leader Walland once more in post season play. Greenback was the lone team to defeat the Indians in regular season play. Thus setting up a sure harbinger for the first round of the Class A championships.

In Friday's conquest of TSD, the Cherokees were led once again by captains Tony Linginfelter and Tim Hamontree. Linginfelter scored three touchdowns and passed for a fourth, while Hamontree scored one TD, kicked two extra points, roused out 101 yards rushing in 19 carries and played his usually bruising defensive game.

Running Back Kyle Sheperd was also an offensive gem for the Cherokees, piling up 66 yards in 11 tries, mostly on straight-ahead drive plays. Greenback met things started in fine fashion, smothering TSD's initial offensive and then marching to a TD the first time they got the pigskin. Hamontree went over from the one to cap a 62-yard drive. Moments later, TSD's Don Stuart picked off an errant Cherokee aerial to give his team impetus to go ahead for the only time in the game. Quarterback George Harrison circled right end and broke tackles to score on a 23-yard spring, then kicked TSD into the lead, 7-6.

After an exchange of possession, the Cherokees were on the move again. Highlighted by three clutch completions, two to Bill Joe Kyker and the last one a seven-yard scoring aerial to Harold Hawkins the Greenback team regained the lead. Mark Carver took another Linginfelter pass for two more points to stretch the margin to 14-7 with 4:31 to go in the second period.

TSD put us far as the visitors' 25 before being stopped, and the half ended with the tally still the same. But not for long. Linginfelter's second-half heroics wasted no time in getting started, as he took the opening kickoff at the seven, broke one tackle and sped past the rest of the Vikings for a 93-yard touchdown return. Greenback led 21-7 with Hamontree's conversion boot. A hard snap in a punting situation set the Cherokees up again. Taking over on the TSD 36, they scored in five plays, with Linginfelter snaking over from the one. Hamontree's toe did it again and Greenback had practically crowd all doubt, on top by 28-7.

The two teams swapped scores before the third period had ended. Willie Sangster tallied on a six-yard burst for the Vikes and Linginfelter scored for the visitors on another one-yard sneak. Greenback threatened once more in the game but was held on down.

TSD, against many Cherokee reserves, drove 87 yards in the waning moments and picked up a score on another Harrison punt, this time from only a yard away. His kick narrowed the final margin to 34-9.

The entire Cherokee defense shone when it counted, even though TSD railed up quite a bit of yardage when the outcome was no longer in doubt. The Cherokee offensive line of Dennis Childs, Gene Kimbrell, Keith Rollins, Jimmy Brooks, Rick Rader, Mike Evans and Kyker did a fine job of controlling the line of scrimmage to open up room for the running game, which kept the victory.

The site of the playoff battle between Walland and Greenback will be determined within the next few days. Greenback 4 9 30-34 TSD 7 8 47-20

STEPPING OUT IN FRONT—Greenback's Tim Hamontree applies a stiff arm to an unidentified TSD defensive player in aiding his path to slip around right end for a sizeable gain in Friday night's Region One football battle with the TSD Vikings. Hamontree carried the ball for 101 yards and caught one pass for 12 yards in the game.

Lassie's Find Bulldogs To Be All Bark, No Bite With 7-2-27 Romp

The Loudon girls got the basketball season off on a cheerful note with a wallop of Knoxville Bearden Monday night 72-27. The Lassies completely dominated the first year Bulldog varsity squad, rolling to a 41-6 half-time lead and coasting through the final two stanzas.

The Loudon guards surrendered but four field goals for the night while the Lassie offense had six air-making the scoring column. Senior Jane Shulert and freshman Bernadette Lacke shared scoring honors in directing the Loudon triumph with 18 points each. Starters Debbie Hawkins and Marilyn Smith added 15 and 13 points respectively.

Coach Dewayne Arr used his starters less than two quarters but still came out with a team shooting percentage of 50 percent as the Lassies connected on 27 of 54 shots. Loudon also hit 18 of 29 foul shots for a 50-50 63 percent.

Bearden hit four of 22 field

LAASSIES TOP REBOUNDER—Yarber Harrison controls this rebound from a Knoxville Bearden forward and Loudon teammate Liz Detaney. The Loudon guards permitted the Bulldog forwards only four field goals the entire game.

Herald Grid Contest In Final Big Week

Although the football season is all but over there are still enough upsets each week to throw entrants in the Herald Football Contest off course. Last week only four 10 game picks were among the hundreds turned in.

The Lenoir City-LaFollette game was used as the tie-breaker. Lenoir City won 14-8 for a 20 point tie-breaker which was used to pick the winners.

First place and $12 is for John Costner of Loudon who had 27 on the breaker.

Second place money of $8 with 26 on the tie-breaker is claimed by Bill Lawson Jr., and third place by his son Bruce. Bruce gets $5 on a 30 point tie-breaker. The other correct entry was from Maris Miller, Rt. 1, Kingston who had a 31 point tie-breaker.

This is the last week for the 1973 Football Contest and there were not very many games to pick from which should make the contest depend heavier on the tie-breaker.

Tickets Still On Sale

Loudon High School principal Jim Gibson has announced that season tickets are now on sale for the forthcoming 1973-74 Redskin basketball season. The season tickets are $7.50 for students and $10.00 for adults. The season ticket will be good for 12 regular season home games. Tickets may be purchased at the High School office.

Turkey Shoot

A turkey shoot sponsored by the Loudon Jaycees will be held Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at a vacant lot between Loudon Motor Company and Railroad Salvage.

Shells will be furnished for all shooters. Proceeds will be used to pay for the underprivileged Children's Christmas Shopping Tour.

CLUTCH RECEIVER—Greenback's Bill Joe Kyker who had four clutch receptions for 67 yards against TSD Friday night was also a defensive stalwart in the Cherokees very decisive Region I win for a berth in the state playoffs. Kyker carries two Viking tacklers down the field after making this catch of a Tony Langinfeffer pass.

Speaking Of Sports

meeting will be at Jackson on Monday, Dec. 3, and the final meeting at the TSSAA building on Saturday, Dec. 8.

Included in the agenda is the proposal that football teams be placed in districts. Another football proposal states that the play-off system be on the win-loss percentage of the games played with the school's classification, and to be eligible for the play-off a school must schedule at least eight games within its classification.

A basketball proposal asks that schools be classified in three classes for basketball instead of two classes, with Class A having an enrollment of 1 to 450, AA from 451-1,000 and Class AAA all over 1,001. Another classification item asks that schools with only three grades have their classification based on the number of students actually enrolled in grades 10-12 instead of basing classification on an equal basis with schools that have grades 9-12. One proposal asks that the boys' state basketball tournament be permanently placed in Middle Tennessee beginning in 1975.

One of the legislative proposals deals with participation in All-Star games. If passed, the TSSAA Bylaws would then be changed to include the following: "A student who participates in all all-star football game shall be ineligible in all sports for a period of twelve months from the date of participation. A senior basketball player shall be allowed to participate in at least one all-star basketball game in addition to the TSSAA All-Star Game."

Your County In Action

BY
Harvey L. Sproul
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

This year the State Planning Office has compiled a very attractive brochure highlighting the activities of that office over the past year. In Loudon County, all three Planning Commissions are assisted by the East Tennessee Office of the State Planning Office, and Loudon County was included with one of the main articles in the report.

Week by week, sometimes we don't realize what is happening, but in looking back at this report it indicates considerable amount of accomplishments during the last couple of years or so.

I thought it might be interesting to you if I reprinted the article here:

From: State Planning Office "Review of 1973 Activities" being constructed and developed (one at Eaton Crossroad and one in the Loudon community), a county ambulance system, substantial improvements to the county sheriff's office, a retirement system and a personal classification and compensation plan for county employees.

Interstate connecting roads approved

County court members, led by Judge Harvey L. Sproul, have approved the construction of two interstate connecting roads, which will assure more concentrated and rapid urban development for the county and will strengthen its economic base.

Still more achievements include the new transfer station, which is operated jointly with Lenoir City and Loudon for the disposal of solid waste, and a new central location for county residents to put their garbage.

Lenoir City, Loudon and Loudon County officials are also cooperating on the construction and development of a $250,000 county justice center, which will contain a criminal justice center, central jail, courtroom, communications center, offices for all the police activities in the county and centralized record keeping facilities.

Federal grants are being used to help finance the center, which will replace the overcrowded, deteriorating county jail now located in Loudon.

County planning commission played major role

The Loudon County Quarterly Court hasn't been the only organization participating in securing all these projects for the county.

A major role has also been played by the Loudon County Regional Planning Commission.

The county planning commission became one of the first rural counties in the state to prepare and enforce a county zoning resolution.

Half Mile Copper Stolen From Lines

Thieves cut and removed some 2,300 feet of copper wire from Fort Loudon Electric Cooperative lines on the night of October 22 in Loudon and Blount Counties.

The wire stolen was neutral conductor on the Friendsville-Big Springs Road, four spans of some 1500 feet were cut, rolled up and hauled off. Then some 250 feet of neutral conductor was stolen the same night on the circuit from the Big Springs Presbyterian Church, South West. A privately owned line to the Reel Quarry at Friendsville was cut and removed some time between November 1 and 7. All of these circuits were in Blount County.

The neutral conductor between Adley's Chapel and Morganston Road in Loudon County was reported stolen Thursday, Nov. 8.

Fort Loudon Electric Cooperative has a standing reward of $500 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of Loudon County copper wire from its system. All members of the Cooperative are asked to be on the alert for this type of thievery. Anyone seeing any unusual activity occurring on the system is asked to try and get a description and license number of vehicles then call an employee of the Cooperative and county law enforcement officers. The 24-hour answering service Greenback Phone number is 956-3382 or at Radlinsville the number is 442-2487.

STAY COMFORTABLE WITHOUT RAISING YOUR THERMOSTAT

The next time you feel like raising your thermostat for warmth, don't! Instead, consider installing a humidifier.

Your heating system draws moisture from the air inside your home in the process of heating this air, and this dry air feels uncomfortable. A humidifier can put moisture back into the air, making you feel comfortable at a lower temperature.

It's expensive to raise your thermostat several degrees (each degree above 70 degrees adds about 3 percent to the heating bill). But you can avoid the extra cost by maintaining a relative humidity of 30 to 40 percent.

Using a humidifier during the heating season will help you save money on heating bills—at no sacrifice to your comfort.

Aiding Accident Victim

It has been the experience of the ambulance service, that many victims of auto accidents who have died may have been saved had passerbys been trained in emergency first aid. Simply clearing an airway or aiding the victim by positioning him so that he may breathe is sometimes all that is necessary until help can arrive. The passerbys is most likely the nearest "rescuer" available for sometime. It is the responsibility of the general public to see that they are trained in self-help and emergency care of life-endangering situations. This may be accomplished by interest in and the requesting of professionally organized training sessions.

The article below "Aiding The Accident Victim Before The Ambulance Arrives." Is the second in a series of articles prepared by the Loudon County Memorial Hospital to make the public aware of their role in treating and providing services in the community.

Hospital Administrator Guy Hamilton said "Our purpose is to provide a means for transmitting changes in the health care field which directly effect your local health care delivery system and you."

"These changes sometimes will be legislative action taken on a national level and sometimes on a local level. There will be an attempt to provide you with timely information about health care trends. Also, there will be from time to time a series of articles dealing with specific needs of our community with regard to health care."

He continued, "We will use as resources for our articles, our own personal experience, health care periodicals, our medical library, the experiences of others in health care, and weekly health care bulletins."

Mr. Hamilton explained that articles will alternate between information taken from Tennessee Hospital Association (THA) and American Hospital Association (AHA) periodicals, and information dealing directly with the local hospital and community.

"We hope our efforts are effective in providing a means for the community to view the inside of this hospital and its people and also a means for us as hospital people to better understand the needs of our community which we have dedicated our lives to serve," Mr. Hamilton said.

"Your cooperation in this effort through your comments and opinions will be very much appreciated," he concluded.

traffic in order to find trained personnel if any, and possibly a two-way radio, and the last copy to the emergency personnel.

4. Never touch a car with high tension wires draped around it. Call the power company to the scene to remove them correctly before rescue is attempted. Remove the patient from danger. Turn off the engine if the ignition is on. Make sure no one smokes, there may be dangerous gas leaks. Make use of flares or warning devices.

5. Remove the patient from danger unless the victim is in dire need of removal, such as fire, explosives, etc., only those trained in first aid should attempt this. Cover those victims who are thrown clear with blankets, leaving their face uncovered. Support unconscious victims and clear the airway of blood, vomit, or other material with a handkerchief or cloth. Cushion the head to prevent a kink in the neck. If there is obvious bleeding, direct pressure on the wound with a clean cloth or other material will usually stop the flow.

With ambulance response improving as quick as it is in Loudon County, there will usually be no need for the passerbys to be involved. The situation may arise though, everyone must be prepared.

We, the hospital staff, feel that these articles will help the public to become more aware of the self-help and emergency first aid procedures that are available to them. It is our hope that the articles will also bring the public closer to the hospital and the ambulance service which are both here to serve them.

Looking At Loudon County's Future

by Dave Rooper
EDITOR'S NOTE: David Rooper is a planner with the Tennessee State Planning Office assigned to work with Loudon County and its municipalities.

In past articles, some of the objectives and activities of the planning commission in Loudon County have been discussed. One of the things which the commissions have always sought to encourage is continued economic prosperity. This is felt to be important in order to help reduce the number of people who must live in economic poverty; to help more people have a secure future; and to help provide the taxes necessary to support essential community facilities without unduly burdening the individual taxpayer.

One aspect of economic prosperity is a strong enough manufacturing and industrial sector to support what economists call the "economic base" of a community. The economic base of a community is that portion of the community's wealth which comes from outside the community. Hence, local agricultural products which are sold outside the county, and local industrial products sold outside the county bring dollars into the community in the form of wages, taxes, and the purchase of local services. On the other hand, retail sales represent a "non-basic" sector of the economy because they represent the exchange of local dollars.

This technical discussion is important because it helps to explain why a strong and diversified industrial sector is important to a community. It is property from one private use to put into another private use. A transaction between a willing buyer and a willing seller is one thing, but when either is unwilling and the power of governments used to force the will of the other in private enterprise matters, it is little short of confiscation of property. The usurpation of power, and the use of eminent domain for purposes never intended. Such use of the power of eminent domain makes one wonder whose property next will be taken and for what purpose in the name of public need.

"We urge you as a governing body to look seriously at the justification of the use of this power at any time. Use wisely this power so sacredly entrusted to you."

Letter To The Editor

Mr. Larry Cate, editor
The Loudon County Herald
Loudon, Tennessee

Dear Editor:
The enclosed resolution was passed at a special meeting of the Loudon County Farm Bureau last Thursday night. We would appreciate your publication of this resolution which was presented to the Loudon County Court at their adjourned meeting Monday night.

Sincerely,
William K. Bright,
president.

"We, the Loudon County Farm Bureau Board of Directors, petition you, the Loudon County Court of Loudon County, not to exercise your right of eminent domain to condemn and take property for the purposes of localizing private industrial plants."

"The Quarterly County Court is the governing body of our county charged with the responsibility of governing drill and ceremonies, weapons map reading, combat tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and army history and traditions."

Pvt. Craig's wife, Januata (SIC), lives on Route 2, Wheat Road, Lenoir City.

Loudon County in the interest and protection of the citizens. As the governing body you are granted by law and the constitution certain authorities. One of the most important authorities granted you, and one which we believe should be exercised with extreme care and guarded as a sacred trust, is the right of eminent domain or the right to condemn and take privately owned property for a purpose in the public good. We understand the exercise of this authority for schools, roads, hospitals, and the like, but we question the wisdom of exercising this important authority to take private

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

This week we have a varied interest group of pictures, which we must get into our column before the doors lose faith in us. But as is the usual case, we will eventually get around to using pictures loaned to us, if just sometimes takes a while to work them in.

We appreciate your patience with us. For the past two or three weeks we have been journeying to a past era along the old Tennessee River in our town. We have brought out by picture some of the things that happened in those passing years.

Another thing that is unique about this picture is the tower in the background. It is the conveyor tower of the old Loudon Sand and Gravel Co., which was quite a large operation in its day. And we are sure many of our readers will recall this. Note the old buildings in the background. From all indications, this picture was made in the 20's. Our many thanks to Mr. Frank Jones for loaning us these pictures.

Our other picture this week was loaned to us by Mrs. Fred Arden. It is a picture of her and her brother, the late Audie Williams. Mrs. Arden stated that the picture was made when the family lived on a farm below Loudon on the river.

Many were the calls and comments we had about the frozen river picture and we were informed that the ferries were run back and forth across the river to keep the channel open. And that all the clearing was not done by chopping the ice out.

In Florida there was the usual argument after the auto accident. The woman as usual was talking, "It turned the way I signaled," she said. At which the man retorted, "Yes, I know, that's what fooled me".

Cook In Army Exercise

Army Private First Class Gerald M. Cook, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel K. Cook, Route 2, Greenback, participated with other American and allied troops in exercise Helmyer V in Germany, Oct. 10-16.

The military airlift command flew approximately 11,000 U.S.-based soldiers and more than 1,000 tons of equipment to three different airfields in Germany in preparation for the event.

Immediately after arriving overseas, the redeployed units drew combat gear and vehicles from prepositioned storage sites in Germany and moved to the exercise area to begin the seven-day field maneuver.

Fitted against the airlifted forces were Europe-based elements of NATO forces of the U.S., Germany and Canada.

The exercise, conducted by the Joint Chiefs of Staff and NATO, focused on the procedures and techniques for receiving, equipping, assembling and employing units after they arrive, rather than on rapid deployment of troops from the U.S.

Pfc. Cook is regularly assigned with Battery A, 1st Battalion of the 3rd infantry division's 10th field artillery, at Schweinfurt, Germany.

Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

PROPOSED CARE INN OF LOUDON—The photo above is an artist's drawing of the proposed 120 bed Care Inn Nursing Home that may be built in Loudon. Care Inn, a division of W.W. Bond Jr. and Associates of Memphis, proposed the facility to the Loudon City Commission last Thursday night seeking the establishment of a City Health and Education Board to issue revenue bonds for the construction of the $1.1 million facility.

Supreme Court Refuses Injunction

The United States Supreme Court Monday rejected a plea from the Environmental Defense Fund to halt further construction on the Tellico Dam Project here on the Little Tennessee River.

A suit by the environmentalists claiming that the project has not met requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act is now before the U.S. Circuit Court in Cincinnati. The fund asked the high court to halt the Tennessee Valley Authority project pending outcome of the lawsuit. The justices declined. TVA last week started further construction on the dam, near Lenoir City, after two years of delay due to lawsuits by the EDF and others.

740 Percodan Pills Taken From Bevins

Some 2300 pills of various types were taken in a break-in at Bevins Drugs last Tuesday night or Wednesday morning, Police Chief John Lennox said. There were 740 Percodan pills taken which is the strongest narcotic the store stocks, Lennox said. The others were all controlled drugs but of little narcotic content, he said.

The construction of a 120 bed nursing home in Loudon was proposed by a Memphis firm to the Loudon City Commission last Thursday night.

Murray Murphy, executive vice president of Wm. Bond and Associates, said the firm which has 11 other nursing homes in Tennessee and Mississippi, is interested in building their next Care Inn in Loudon.

Mr. Murphy said that two state studies showed an im-vice president of Wm. Bond and Associates, said the firm which has 11 other nursing

Thieves Hit Cafeteria Safe

Thieves broke into an office-storeroom at the Maremont Corporation's cafeteria operated by the ARA, an industrial foods system, and took an undisclosed amount of money from a safe.

Loudon Police Chief John Lennox said the burglary was discovered last Saturday. He said there was $1000 in the safe but not all the money was taken. The investigation is continuing.

United Fund Exceeds Goal Final Report Shows $49,733

For the 13th consecutive year the Loudon County United Fund Campaign has reached and passed its announced goal. The goal of $48,000 for the 15 agency campaign this year surpassed that goal by $1172 Monday when all reports were made at the Victory Meeting at Sig's Restaurant in Lenoir City.

New pledges of $130.70 were reported by campaign leaders at the meeting pushing the total to $49,733.64. The big push in the 6th week of the campaign came as the Lenoir City business and residential divisions completed their campaigns.

New pledges reported at the meeting were Lenoir City business $719.50 for a $430.50 total; Lenoir City Clubs, $25; Lenoir City residential $221.20 for a $1138.92 total; Loudon business reported an extra $40 for a $2604.50 total; Loudon residential grew $10 to $1260. Greenback held at $747.50. Philadelphia added $17 for a $344.16 total and Schools held at $827. Two additions from industry were reported. They were an additional $289 from Union Carbide Oak Ridge and an additional $5 from Lenoir Industries. The campaign totals for the industrial division which accounts for most of the funds is as follows:

Eaton Corporation	$7467.60
Elm Hill Warners	$2076.12
Smith Chair Co.	$474.50
Maremont Corp.	$3268.55
Union Carbide-Oak Ridge	$3294.85
Bacon Co.-Loudon	$15,349.00
Bacon Co.-Lenoir City	$2112.70
Sheffield Steel	$1737.00
Carter-Lumber Co.	$287.00

tribute was paid at the final report meeting to the late Mrs. J.C. Greer, who had served as residential chairman of the Fund in Loudon since its beginning in 1961. She spent part of the last two days of her life preparing for this year's campaign. Her co-chairman was Mrs. Clyde Norton with Mrs. Arthur Fowler, Mrs. Jack Lefler, Mrs. Gene Davis, Mrs. Kenneth Harris, Mrs. Denver DeFord, Mrs. Mike Walker, Mrs. Doug Watkins, Mrs. Lamar McCall, Mrs. Clyde Woodard, Mrs. Hamill Carey, Mrs. Russell Surrent, Mrs. Jim White, Mrs. Kenneth Wolfe, Mrs. Larry Christian, Mrs. Pete Campbell and Mrs. Jesse Lovelace serving as workers.

Speaking for Fund Chairman Tom Matlock, who is in Puerto Rico on assignment from his employer, Charlie Davis said that the successful completion of the campaign total reflects a job well done by the many hundreds of workers who took part. He expressed his and Matlock's thanks for their efforts and time and also to the thousands who gave of their money to assist the member agencies of the Loudon County United Fund. Some of the volunteer workers in the Loudon area who were mentioned for their efforts were area Chairman Charlie Davis, J. E. Greenway, industrial chairman, business chairman Robert Hudson and his division

After considerable discussion Mayor Gene Lambert suggested that the Commission take no action until the December meeting to allow each Commissioner an opportunity to study the bond proposal. Murphy said that the proposed Care Inn would cost about $1.1 million, be constructed on a X design all on one floor, and would be located near the Loudon County Memorial Hospital if at all possible. He said the Home would employ about 50 people and in effect would have the same benefits to the community as a small industry. He said the home would accept Medicare patients and the current day rates are $135 for semiprivate room and $150 for private room.

Fewer Christmas Lights

There will be fewer street decorations for the Christmas Season in the business area of Loudon.

Chamber officials say the reason for fewer decorations is two-fold. First the request of the President that the number of out-door decorative lights be held down to a minimum to help conserve energy.

Second, the Loudon utilities, who erect and cares for the decorations each year, said that about half of the light strings are worn out beyond repair and the Chamber said that businesses in the area were not willing to raise several thousand dollars to replace the worn out equipment this year.

LOUDON PARK CONSTRUCTION—Construction is well underway on the second phase of development at the $200,000 City of Loudon Recreational Park. Swimming Pool complex. The movement of dirt in the area of the tennis courts has been completed and construction on the courts will follow soon. In the area of the ballfield and general recreation excavation is underway as well as at a second parking lot for the complex. Construction will be completed sometime next spring.

CANCER UNIT HONORED—Tom Greene, Executive Director of the East Tennessee division of the American Cancer Society, is shown at a meeting of the Loudon County Chapter last Thursday night presenting the county chapter with an award for reaching 100 percent of its goal for 1973. Loudon County was one of 18 counties in the state to reach its goal.

If you're a fuller figure you need a 'FUL-ly' bra. Not a bigger bra.

Just what is a fuller figure? It's a well-developed mature bustline that can be anything from a 34B to a 54E. But one that needs greater coverage, not greater depth.

An ordinary bra can't provide that. Only one can. Excelsior Form's Ful-ly. Because it's not a bigger bra. It's a fuller bra.

The cups are designed fuller in three sections so you get built-in support and firm uplift.

Ful-ly has wider straps that prevent digging. Plus soft slip-on shoulder pads for extra comfort.

The elasticized stretch panels around the cup keep you firmly inside. If loose, digging or binding.

The cups are proportioned to your bra size, and designed to give you complete coverage. Which means

DAR Meets, JAC Presents Program

Mrs. Sam Wilson and Mrs. Jessie Ridenour recently entertained the Hiwassee Chapter DAR at their home on Mulberry Street for the November meeting.

The highlight of the evening was a presentation of the program "Heroes of the American Revolution" by the eighth grade JAC Club. Thirteen Revolutionary heroines and their escorts paraded in elaborate Colonial costumes, each couple paired to give her biographical sketch and to relate an anecdote of her contribution to the Revolutionary cause.

The audience was delighted by this program and expressed its appreciation to the JAC's and their director, Mrs. Lucille Purdy. Hiwassee Chapter strives to concentrate its efforts in the work of Junior American Citizens in Loudon County with three clubs now active and two more being organized.

The regent, Mrs. Billie Morton, conducted the business meeting. During the social hour, packages of patriotic stationery were distributed to members to sell as a Christmas project. Dinner and coffee was served by the hostesses.

TURKEY TIME

It's that time of year again. Of course, turkey is now popular the year round, but this has not changed its holiday popularity. For many people it would not seem like Thanksgiving if it were not for the "turkey" and all the trimmings.

The supply of turkey is plentiful for the holiday, but expect to pay more than usual. Turkey, however, remains a good buy for the menu planner.

When buying whole ready-to-cook turkeys under 12 pounds, allow 1/2 to 1 pound per serving. For larger birds allow 1/4 to 1/2 pound per serving. Turkey frozen with neck and giblets inside the body and neck cavities will be thawed before cooking. Thaw in the refrigerator in cold or cool water that is changed often, or at room temperature. When thawing, have the turkey in its original wrap. Your method of thawing will depend upon the amount of time and space that is available.

If the turkey is stuffed, stuff just before roasting. This requires no water, no cover, and no searing. A shallow open pan allows the heat to circulate around the bird, roasting it evenly. A rack keeps the bird out of the juices. Preheat oven to 325 deg. F. Brush skin with fat. If a roast meat thermometer is used, insert it so the bulb is in the center of the inside thigh muscle or the thickest part of the breast meat. Be sure the bulb does not touch the bone. The internal temperature when done will be 180 deg. F.

If the turkey is stuffed, stuff just before roasting. Do not stuff ahead of time. Combine ingredients just before stuffing the bird. Allow 1 cup stuffing per pound ready-to-cook weight. Do not pack stuffing tightly; if you do, it will be soggy and the bird may burst when the stuffing expands during cooking. There is less chance of bacterial growth if stuffing is baked separately in a baking pan.

Have a happy Thanksgiving by playing it safe. Refrigerate meat, gravy, and stuffing in separate containers immediately after the meal.

Rehabilitation Center Has Been Accredited

The Daniel Arthur Rehabilitation Center in Oak Ridge, which served more than 700 patients last year, has been notified that it has been accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities. This marks the first comprehensive rehabilitation Center in Tennessee to receive accreditation. The DARC serves patients from nine counties in East Tennessee: Anderson, Roane, Knox, Campbell, Blount, Morgan, Loudon, Union and Scott and has been in operation for twenty-three (23) years. This accreditation resulted from an extensive evaluation of the program in late spring of this year. The Commission accredited three specific programs at the Rehabilitation Center, physical restoration, vocational adjustment, and speech pathology.
According to Mr. Z.H. Brody, Director of the Center, the accreditation has been a goal of the Center's Board and staff for a number of years. He feels that this national recognition will do much to enhance the Center's program in the nine county area served. Mr. Brody indicates that his staff and Board members are in the process of reviewing the specific recommendations made by the Accrediting Commission and appropriate steps being taken to implement these changes in order to continue the accreditation status beyond the initial period.
The Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Centers is made up of a number of organizations including the National Rehabilitation Association, the International Association of Rehabilitation Facilities, the American Hospital Association Section on Rehabilitation and Chronic Disease Hospitals, Goodwill Industries, National Easter Seal Society and the National Association of Hearing and Speech Agencies. As of 1974 all agencies providing such related services will have to receive such accreditation in order to continue to offer services to disabled adults through Vocational Rehabilitation.
The Rehabilitation Center is sponsored in part by the various United Funds in the nine county area surrounding Oak Ridge.

Hospital Health Care Tips

CAFE CORONARY
Imagine yourself sitting in a restaurant eating lunch, suddenly someone falls to the floor lifeless and speechless. What would you do? The first thing is, don't jump to conclusions, and confuse things. Check the person immediately for pulse and respiration. Remember that the person may be only choking instead of what seems to be a heart attack. Look in the person's mouth for an obstruction.

Sudden death due to choking on food occurring at home, or more frequently in a restaurant, is described above) is the sixth leading cause of accidental death in the United States, according to the National Safety Council. Five years ago the NSC added "inhalation of food." In its compilation of accidental deaths and listed 2,383 such deaths. It is remarkable that the number of deaths due to food asphyxiation, (suffocation due to lack of oxygen), exceeds those due to such familiar mechanisms as aircraft accidents, firearms and lightning. This emergency, called "cafe coronary," because it promotes symptoms similar to a heart attack, can be recognized at once by any informed bystander, physician or layman. First, the victim is usually a middle aged or elderly person. The latter may not be readily apparent, but it is the single most important factor in the causation of the cafe coronary. Second, the victim has attempted to swallow solid food usually steak. Third, the victim becomes completely aphonic (unable to talk, groan, cough, or breathe), and remains motionless in a sitting position until collapse occurs from anoxia (lack of oxygen in the body tissues). Occasionally the victim may, without speaking, arise from the table and walk for a short distance before collapsing. From a review of 55 autopsies of Cafe Coronary deaths, it is estimated that approximately 50 percent of such emergencies the food is of atrocious size, measuring up to as much as six inches in length. The average size of such lodged food approximates that of a pack of cigarettes. The bulk of this food usually rests on the superior surface of the tongue and can be removed digitally by the middle and index fingers of an informed bystander. When the food is beyond reach of probing fingers, some form of instrument must be used to grasp and remove the food. Such an instrument suitable for the use by any bystander has been developed by Eller (known as a choke saver). All restaurants should be equipped with such an instrument, (the cost of which is only a few dollars) designed for use by untrained personnel. In approximately 95 percent of the cases, it is estimated that the obstructing bolus of food could be removed by such an instrument.

In the remaining 5 percent of the cases, it is estimated that the food would be beyond the reach of such an instrument and the only effective means of therapy would be an emergency on the scene tracheostomy.

In the management of this imminently fatal situation, certain things must not be done. Slapping the victim on the back or sternum as one might in a coronary, is a waste of precious time, administration of oxygen or attempted mouth to mouth resuscitation before removal of the obstruction is a form of non-treatment. To our knowledge, no one with an obstructed airway has survived a trip to the nearest hospital. Remember that when and if this happens, someone must act quickly to enable a person to live.

Some of these views were published in the Medical Opinion Vol. 2, No. 9 Sept. 1973 issue by R.K. Haugen M.D. Prepared by Mike Langley, John Grabel E.M.T.'s L.C.S.

4 Local Nurses Attend Workshop

Four Licensed Practical Nurses from Loudon County Memorial Hospital attended a workshop at the Red House in Athens last week. The three day workshop was on "Critical Care of Patients in the Emergency Room."

Mrs. Ruth Harvey, former supervisor of Erlanger Hospital's Intensive Care in Athens was the speaker.

Mrs. Harvey told some 250 area nurses that "some 40 to 70 per cent of the persons who enter emergency rooms are not actually emergency cases." One solution to this problem may be the employment of "triage nurses" who are trained to quickly determine which patients are most urgently in need of emergency treatment.

The veteran nurse, who now is the nursing director at the Bedford County General Hospital in Shelbyville, identified two basic types of "walk-in patients" who clutter emergency rooms.

There are those who are financially poor, who come to emergency rooms because "it is the only way they know to enter the health care system" and there are the more affluent "who treat the emergency room as a physician's office," the speaker said.

The large number of non-emergency patients "dilutes the professional care emergency room and personnel are not able to administer to the really critical patients," Mrs. Harvey said. She explained that triage nurses are most often utilized in war situations or in times of natural disasters to quickly decide which of the critically injured should receive priority treatment.

Sometimes the triage nurse must decide to pass over persons deemed likely to die even if treatment is administered, in favor of others who seem critically injured but likely to be restored by quick treatment, Mrs. Harvey said.

The speaker, who served a year in Erlanger's emergency room and was also director of nursing at Children's Hospital, said it is illegal to turn away a patient who desires treatment.

For non-critical patients it is often a matter of advising them to see their doctor, giving them a list of physicians, or making a check-up and suggesting an appointment for a more thorough physical examination, she said.

Emergency room priorities, she said, are: (1) the patient who needs immediate attention to save his life, (2) the patient who is in shock, (3) the patient who needs early surgery, (4) the patient who needs surgery but who can stand to wait several hours, and (5) the patient who needs only minor treatment.

Emotion stability is the prime quality needed, by a nurse, Mrs. Harvey concluded. "She must have the dedication and commitment to stay at her post regardless of what situation arises."

Dr. William Buchner spoke on the subject "Diagnosis and Management of Shock in the Emergency Room" and other speakers discussed airway management, closed chest massage and rapid interpretation of EKG also this morning.

Dr. Peter Davidson gave talks on acute chest pain and emergency room management of acute congestive heart failure.

The workshop was sponsored by the Southeast Tennessee Area Health Education Center.

Your County In Action

BY Harvey L. Sproul
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

We live in a changing world, sometimes changing so fast that we just can't keep up with it.

A good current example of this, of course, is the energy crisis.

UNKNOWN CRISIS
I am writing this on Monday afternoon, and I have just had about three telephone calls from different offices, but they all relate to the same problem: that is, fast action is required as we are concerned in Loudon County.

I am going to refer to this as the "Energy Crisis."

Why, you say, should we be concerned about a Health Care Crisis—particularly when you look at the fact that we have a brand new, well-equipped modern hospital? One thing that people fail to realize is that a hospital depends almost entirely upon the type, quality and quantity of the physicians in the community.

There is no way for a hospital to get patients, unless there are physicians who are treating people and handling their health-care needs, which inevitably means that some people are going to have to be admitted to the hospital.

But if you don't have physicians who are admitting patients to the hospital, then the hospital is going to operate at a level below the break-even point.

All of our Loudon County people who go to Knoxville physicians, when they have to go to the hospital will go to a Knoxville hospital.

SITUATION

So as we face the situation where out of the seven practicing physicians we have in Loudon County (2 in Lenoir City and 5 in Loudon) the great majority are either over age 60, or awfully close to it.

This is bound to mean that their time for the general practice of medicine at the rate they have practiced it in the past is limited.

We have had one doctor terminate his practice within the last year, and for several months his practice had helped to keep many of the beds in the hospital filled.

But we are now faced with the rising cost of operations, the need for more patients to sustain it.

ULTIMATELY

Who does this ultimately mean?

In my opinion, it means that if we do not do something immediately to keep the next very few years we will in all probability be faced with a situation of only one or two physicians in the County with a general practice, and when it gets down to that few a number, it means that even here physicians will probably go into a specialty of some kind because the physical drain will be more than they will be able to handle.

ATTRACTION

The moral fall then is that we must take immediate steps to attract physicians here, or we won't have any.

In other words, whether we agree that this is the way it ought to be or not, specialists like other people are looking for a situation where they can have some free time, without a feeling of slacking off on their responsibility to their patients, and they are going to be looking for a clinic-type situation where they can take turns about in being on call.

In addition, if a "clinic" of physicians could be attracted to Loudon County, this would mean hopefully that we would have specialists available right here in town so that it would not be necessary to go to Knoxville for specialists.

ATTRACTION

In my view, with our increased industrial expansion in the offing, and will all of the attractions that we have to offer of our smaller communities close to the metropolitan area, we should be able to attract specialists and general practice physicians that would draw patients here for medical attention from other counties, instead of ours being drawn to Knoxville.

Again, the question facing us immediately is whether or not we will do something now to insure that we will have medical care in our own community, or whether we in the next few years we will have to plan to head for Knoxville for any kind of medical treatment, even to the smallest injury.

And the immediate result, and problem is an approaching crisis in our own hospital which is now in the position of having to compete for its top it off, with the Park West Hospital which is only a few miles down the Interstate.

Loudon-Lenoir City Meet In Friday Night Hoop Play; Greenback Kicks Off TSSAA Grid Playoffs

Speaking of Sports

By DANNY GIBSON
Sports Editor

The semifinals and finals of the 1974 TSSAA Boys' State basketball tournaments, both Class S and L, will be telecast live from the Mid-South Coliseum in Memphis, March 15-16.

TSSAA has entered into an agreement with State Productions, Inc., through the Nashville firm of Dawson, Daniels, Sullivan and Dillon, Inc., to put on the telecast which is expected to reach over 3,000,000 people.

"We are really excited about being able to have the best boys' basketball in the state on television," said Gill Gideon, Executive Secretary of the TSSAA. "We feel that the agreement we have reached may be the start of some really big productions for TSSAA. Several states now have their basketball tournament or finals on television and the reaction has simply been great," added Gideon.

A top-notch production crew will be on hand for the color presentation along with outstanding play-by-play announcers and color men. A mass media communications center will also be established by State Productions, Inc., for the benefit of all news media. The television package will be offered to stations in Memphis, Jackson, Nashville, Chattanooga, Knoxville and the Tri-State areas.

The TSSAA Board of Control in its November meeting besides approving the television broadcast also selected Middle Tennessee State University as the site of the 1974 TSSAA Coaches' School and All-Star games.

The clinic will be Aug. 1-3. The All-Star basketball doubleheader will be played on Thursday night, Aug. 1, with the football battle set for Friday night, Aug. 2.

Both the District Seven (Lenoir City) and District Eight (Loudon) basketball tournaments are officially set to be played in Lenoir City and Loudon High School gyms in late February. The site of the region tourney, held last year at Lenoir City, is expected to be held in Knoxville with possibly the sub-state coming back to Lenoir City before the boys state tournament swings to Memphis. At least the girls sub-state has a strong chance to be at LC. It was held in Blount County last year.

A last glance at the football season we are closing out this week finds McMinn Central with a 7-3 season record in the Region Two playoffs. Both Loudon and Lenoir City could have been in the post season event with some consistency and possibly a better hand of fate.

"The Panthers were heavy hit by graduation and needed every player available for a repeat season of 1972. But the Panthers lost all star candidate Wade Rice to a bad knee, both Mike Walker, senior running back, and Jeff Walker, outstanding lineman suffered injuries that had them out of key games. Not to mention other nagging little hurts experienced by Panther regulars. Coach Brown also had to score his team up in the latter part of the season with some

It's playoff time and what it means for football.

Twenty-four teams open a three-week drive Friday which hopefully will take three of them to the pinnacle of Tennessee prep football—championships in Class AAA, Class AA and Class A.

Greenback and Walland will set the playoff picture off to an early start. The Region One Class A opponents will meet at 7:30 Wednesday night at Maryville High School Field. The reason for this is that Maryville and Knoxville Rule are to do battle on Maryville College Field on Friday night for the Class "AA" Region One title. The TSSAA forced the split so as not to have a crowd of conflict. Neither Walland or Greenback approved the Wednesday night date, but had no choice. Not only does it cut short the preparation time for the two teams but Wednesday night is usually prayer meeting nights for many of the communities in our area.

Greenback, a 13-12 victor in the regular season meeting of the two teams, will be a touch-down underdog for the playoff clash.

And in Region 2, two teams which lost in the 1972 state finals are back at it again in 1973.

Leading the pack is top-ranked Baylor, 10-0. The Red Raiders are set to battle unbeaten, fourth-ranked Warren County, coached by Pedro Paz, the nation's only "hillbilly Cuban." Baylor, which lost 30-0 to Bristol a year ago, is trying for a second straight regional title.

Kingston, which has lost in the finals two consecutive years, is gunning for a third straight AA crown. The Yellow Jackets are ready to battle McMinn Central. Those two clubs will meet at Kingston.

Elsewhere on the playoff scene, No. 1-ranked Sequatchie County takes on second-ranked Spring City for the Class A regional championship. Both clubs are 10-0 and will converge on Dayton for their title scrap.

On the basketball scene Loudon and Lenoir City meet on Friday night at Loudon. The action is expected to be close in both boys and girls contests.

Tuesday night Lenoir City hosts McMinn Central while Loudon entertains Midway. Greenback has postponed all their basketball games until they have concluded football play.

"SHE IS A SENIOR AND WILL HAVE THE BALL A LOT"—It is only speculation as to what Loudon High School girls basketball Coach Deweyne Arrp is discussing, but to Mike Walker, Lenoir City's all East Tennessee candidate, Lenoir City dipping to 4-6 on the year after making the state playoffs in Class "AA" last year finds junior lineman Jeff Walker on the All County squad. The hard playing Walker is a brother to the Panthers' senior running back Mike. Jeff is expected to be the hub of Coach Dale Browns team in 1974. Sam Thompson, who captained the Panthers this year as a senior has been a rough competitor in the trenches this fall and is so honored for his efforts. Complementing Bredner and Guider from the Loudon team that finished with a 5-5 work-sheet are senior defensive standouts Steve Kiser and Preston McQueen. Kiser, a two year letterman plays offensive center and linebacker on defense. Mike Lyle is the only underclassman to make the team from the Cherokee playoff bound eleven.

Loudon Hardwood Units Zip Past McMinn Central

Loudon appears to be regaining some momentum in its early stages of the 1973-74 basketball season. The Redskins turned back a fundamentally sound McMinn Central team Saturday night 52-49 for their first win of the season.

Loudon now 1-1 got double figure scoring from Butch Brown William Cansler and Donnie Thearp in gaining the district win.

Brown burned the nets for 18 points on nine of 14 field goal attempts. Cansler, the high rebounding senior pivot man, slamed in 16 points and claimed 18 rebounds in a excellent individual showing. Donnie Thearp had 12 rebounds for the night and dropped in 13 points to round out the Redskins offensive trio.

Loudon broke the game in the second and third quarter out shooting the Charger 17-12 and 18-12 in respective cantos. The Loudon Lassies made the night a sweep with a rousing 61-28 slaughter, their second straight win in two outings. The Lassies hit a

Linginfelter Heads Loudon Herald 1973 All County Team

The Loudon County Herald is drawing a close to the 1973 football season with its announcement of the Annual All Loudon County Football team. With the respective teams now going to specialist or players used mainly on offense or defense and not playing both ways has forced the Herald to honor 14 players on the 1973 squad. The Loudon Redskins have five players honored, Lenoir City three, and the Greenback Cherokees bound for the first round of the state playoffs this Wednesday night at Maryville High School, has six members on the team. The Cherokees All State candidate senior quarterback Tony Linginfelter accents the prospective college material elite of Loudon County.

Even as a fledgling freshman quarterback in 1970, knowledgeable football followers in Greenback were expecting great things from Tony Linginfelter. The 6'3", 200-pound senior has certainly not disappointed his fans, and there are many. He saw only limited varsity playing service as a freshman, but was a key figure on the Cherokee freshman squad. He took command of the Greenback passing as a sophomore and proved to be a talented passing whiz, riddling opposing defenses for over 1000 yards in passing and another 300 on individual rushing. College scouts were buzzing over the potential possessed by Linginfelter.

A heavy burden fell on Linginfelter's shoulders for the 1973 season. The talented quarterback-safetyman was to lead the Cherokees to the Region One Class A playoffs. His versatility and leadership on the gridiron directed the Cherokees to an 8-2 regular season plateau. The second best record in the school's history.

Linginfelter has been an awesome task for the opposition to stop. Thus far this fall with the past season playoffs to start this week, Linginfelter has rushed for 643 yards in 103 tries from scrimmage or a 6.2 rushing average per carry. The rugged senior has passes for 990 yards this year connecting on 72 of 174 passes and having only six intercepted. To complete his stats he has scored 90 points and figured in all of the teams 262 total points. Linginfelter also returns punts and kickoffs, returning 32 for 701 yards and a 21.9 average. His best effort has been a 91 yard touchdown jaunt in the season final victory over TSD, 34-20.

The highly respected "Mr. Linginfelter" with his All State credentials smouldering in the typewriters of sports writers all across the state, being named the state's Associated Press Player of the Week twice this year, certainly has to be the Loudon County Herald's most outstanding pick for All Loudon County honors in 1973.

Linginfelter follows such outstanding Loudon County football players as Loudon's Yancy Hampton and Garth Watson, Lenoir City's Tommy Cook as great individual football players but even greater as their abilities to be team leaders. Joining Linginfelter on The Herald's annual all star team is Mike Walker, Lenoir City's all East Tennessee candidate. The senior running back has been the Panthers top individual ground gainer over the past three seasons. He is also a defensive stalwart at linebacker.

Loudon's Tim Guider, senior fullback and linebacker, and Brad Brewer, senior lineman, top the standouts honored from the Redskins camp. Both have been instrumental in Coach Bert Rutledge's rebuilding program for the Loudon eleven. "They have been excellent team leaders for our younger players to follow," relates Rutledge.

Greenback with the top won-loss mark in the county has senior defensive leader Tim Hammetree, a hard running fullback and linebacker, making the team. As did Cherokee seniors Keith Rollins, an All Footballs Conference player as a junior at his defensive end position; Bill Joe Tyler a 6'6" light end and defensive tackle that has been very consistent all season; Mike Evans, the Cherokee's offensive center and other half of the linebacking corp. Junior lineman Jimmy Brooks was

Loudon Goes On Warpath With 38-14 Wallowing Of Blue Devils

The 1973 football season ended for Loudon Friday night at Harriman with the Red Skins rallying to an easy 38-14 victory. The win gave the Loudon griders a 9-5 season record, while the hapless Blue Devils were 6-10 for the year.

Loudon received the opening kickoff with David Surratt bringing the ball back 25 yards to the Loudon 34 yard line. Johnny Deatridge gained one yard on the first play from scrimmage and then got the ball once more on second down. A big block by senior Brad Brewer, gave Deatridge all the room he needed to sit sail on a 65 yard touchdown jaunt and a Loudon lead they would never relinquish. Kenny Skinner booted the point after touchdown.

Harriman failed to move the ball on their first offensive efforts and a minus five yard punt had Loudon knocking on the door for another touchdown.

From the Harriman 17 yard line the Redskins used five plays to find pay dirt. Johnny Deatridge again scoring on a one yard plunge. Skinner's boot was good.

Harriman did better on its second offensive series with two first downs, but their drive stalled at the Loudon 47 yard line and a fourth down fake punt fooled no one and Loudon took over on downs.

Loudon attempted to go for a touchdown bomb on first down and the pass was intercepted at the Harriman 16 yard line.

Harriman did not keep the ball long before Mike Yates recovered a Blue Devil fumble at the 20 yard line as the first quarter ended with Loudon ahead 14-0.

Loudon could not penetrate the Harriman nine yard line and had to turn things over to the kicking of Kenny Skinner. The "golden teed" junior split the uprights from 25 yards out and the Redskins made the count 17-0.

Skinner teed up the ensuing kickoff and proceeded to make the tackle and come up with a Harriman fumble recovery at the Blue Devil 35 yard line.

Loudon punted two first downs and moved to within 11 yards of the goal line but Harriman held on downs as the Redskins attempted to go for six more points rather than a fourth down field goal.

Harriman was forced to punt but Loudon fumbled the ball back to the Blue Devils at the Harriman seven yard line. Rick Melton skirled into the end zone from that point and Loudon carried a 24-0 first half lead into intermission.

Harriman started the second half with a much improved game plan. The Blue Devils returned the kickoff 30 yards to the Loudon 38. Eleven plays later Harriman scored on a one yard sneak and added a two point conversion to bite into the Loudon advantage 24-14.

The two teams swapped possessions before Loudon could begin to roll for another score. From their own 34 yard line Loudon marched 64 yards in six plays to pay dirt. John Lovelace accounted for the score on a well executed boot leg around left end. Tim Guider, who had been instrumental in carrying the ball down the field enabled the play to develop with a dive into the Harriman defensive line fooling everyone.

Kenny Skinner added the PAT with 1:07 left in the third quarter.

A 43 yard kickoff return by Harriman was for naught as FORWARD GRIND—Loudon's Rick Melton appears to be halted by the entire defensive line of Harriman Friday night but actually the fast moving sophomore escaped for a touchdown as Loudon rolled to a 28-14 victory. Melton was just one of nine Loudon backs that had rushing yardage for the game.

Loudon's Sam Lyle recovered a Blue Devil fumble at the 70 yard scoring drive against Redskin reserves as the fourth quarter in a mid field standoff with no scoring in the final 7:30 of the game.

Loudon 47. Three plays and David Surratt was out in front for a 41 yard touchdown run and a 38-8 lead.

Harriman fought back with Loudon had its best offensive showing of the season with nine backs sharing real estate gains that totaled 247 yards for the night. Johnny Deatridge had the most yards with 79 on five carries. David Surratt ran for 56 yards in four carries. Tim Guider punted 48 yards in seven tries. John Lovelace rounded out the big ground gainers with 32 yards in eight runs from scrimmage. Rick Melton, Porky Campbell, Marlan Brown and Dickey Colvin all had plus yards for the night. Brewer, Guider, Russell Colvin, McQueen and Kiser were the chief head hunters on defense with everyone playing a full quarter or more in the game.

Panthers Put Scare Into Rule Golden Bears, Bow 13-0

Leonor City without much fanfare and certainly without any evidence of challenging powerful state playoff found Knoxville Rule closed their 1973 football season in defeat 13-0, but not without a gallant effort.

The Panthers, crippled with injuries from the start of the season, patched together what probably was their peak performance of the 1973 campaign. Knoxville Rule now 9-1 for the season and conquerer of Kingston (Region Two playoff effort). Handling the Yellow Jackets as late would be the ball bounced into the arms of a Rule player and he raced into the end zone for a touchdown. Walker, blasted through the Rule line to block the extra point attempt.

Jeff Blakney gave the Leonor City a quarter lead when he fell on a Knoxville rule fumble at the Golden Bears 18 yard line. The Bears checked the Leonor City of fense and a field goal effort by Mike Walker hit the cross bar of the goal post and bounced back.

Leonor City turned in a near equal defensive exhibition in the fading minutes of the half as Rule reached the Leonor City eight yard line only to be denied a touchdown in four plays from scrimmage.

The second half was a hard hitting defensive battle with Leonor City rising to the occasion on several crucial downs to throw the Golden Bears behind the line for minutes.

Leonor City was never able to get its offense rolling except in the last five minutes of the game. Mike McConkey hit on four of six pass attempts to move the Panthers to the 23 yard line of Rule. The Knoxville team finally held on to stop the scoring threat. Carl Thompson had two clutch receptions in the march and Buddy Jones and Junior Johnson the other two.

Mike Walker was the top offensive player for Panthers with 47 yards on the ground. Walker also led the tackling for both teams with 12 individual tackles credited him in the game and a fumble recovery. Bobby Smith, Junior Johnson, Blakney, Jones, Reed, Lindsey, Sam Thompson, Harry Landrum, Curtis Monger, and Tony Long just did a fantastic job of not playing the Rule team.

minor discipline problems.

As for Loudon the Redskins seemed to have trouble keeping the candle lit after dropping a heart-breaker to Kingston in double overtime.

A victory in that one might have been the tonic the Redskins needed. Injuries also crept into the Loudon camp with key regulars out periodically. But the big thing with Loudon stemmed from their apparent jinx or snake bitten ways to give up the football. Truthfully I think it became a mental thing rather than a contact or physical happening.

Loudon fumbled the ball 45 times officially and lost 21 of them. Opposing defenses picked off 14 Redskins passes. Meanwhile Loudon caused just 23 fumbles and recovered 13. The Redskins intercepted 13 passes. Hence the frequency of the Redskins to cough up the ball is believed to have been very much on their minds rather than the idea to run reckless for added yardage.

But there is always next year and who knows maybe it will be some one elses turn to be plagued. Unless we can talk everyone to start the season again and give our teams another try.

Loudon and Leonor City are both blessed with the talent to toe the line with Kingston and McMinn Central. "Let's get 'em next year."

Grid Test Becomes Family Affair

Like some football teams the Lawson's got a late start in the Herald Football Contest but have made up lots of ground the last two weeks.

Last week Bill Duce, Lawrence Lawson were winners and this week Byron Lawson claims first place money of $12 with all games correct and 42 points in the tie-breaker. A perfect tie-breaker would have been 52 (Loudon 38, Harriman 14).

Second place money of $8 with all games right and 41 points to Bill Duce, College Street, Loudon. Third place and $5 is claimed by Blanche Willet, Gay Street, Loudon with 35 points in the tie-breaker. Two other perfect picks who missed on points were Tim Thompson and O'Dell Justice Jr.

Kingston Surprises Panther Cagers With Sweep

Leonor City was surprised by Kingston Saturday night in basketball as the Yellow Jacket cagers rallied for a 53-42 victory in the girls game and completed the night by handling the Panther boys team 71-52. The setbacks were the first of the season for both Panther units.

The Pantherettes got off to a quick 14-9 first quarter lead and had a slim 25-24 advantage at the half. But four second quarter fouls on the Pantherettes senior defensive star Janet Leeper had the Leonor City sextet in trouble.

A strong third period erased the Leonor City lead from the scoreboard and gave the Yellow Jackets all the momentum to record the win.

Marietta Blackburn set the tempo for Leonor City hitting for 21 points as the Pantherettes shot 31 percent as a team. Pam Smith added 11 markers to give Blackburn double figure help.

Both teams are pre-season picks to battle for the 1-2 district position in girls action. The Leonor City boys gave a good account of their selves but could not combat the 57 percent shooting show of Kingston as they bowed 71-57. Eddie Liles and Mitch Keehler was the top scorers for Leonor City. Liles collected 21 points and had 11 rebounds. Keehler panned in 18 points and added six assists.

Leonor City stayed with the Yellow Jackets through the first half and even had a 34-32 lead at halftime. But in the third quarter Kingston hit on nine of 14 shots while the Panthers were hitting just three of 11 floor shots to fall behind by 10 points.

Leonor City shot 43 percent for the night, 26 of 60. Kingston with the hot hand all evening out rebounded the Panthers 46-42.

Fastest and most certain method of preventing grass tetany: Feed magnesium* to the herd.

*CO-OP CATTLE MAG BLOCKS *CO-OP HI-MAG MINERAL MIX

Grass tetany is a disease that creates a nutritional and economical problem for the cattle business. One of the factors causing tetany is a deficiency of magnesium in the cattle's diet. This can happen when cattle are grazing on soils low in magnesium — which is entirely possible here because most Tennessee soils are deficient in magnesium.

A year's investment in prevention pays for itself if you save the life of just one animal in an average herd. Stop in at your Co-op where you have a choice of products — Co-op Cattle Mag Blocks and Co-op Hi-Mag Mineral Mix — and where the folks want first of all to help you and serve you.

Other individuals who should be praised for outstanding seasons and receiving consideration for All County honors were Loudon's senior running back David Surratt, lineman Nat Campbell, who played much of the season with an injured shoulder but still drew opposing teams to individual linemen to block, and quarterback John Lovelace who displayed tremendous improvement and poise in his junior and senior years at directing the Loudon attack.

Game & Fish

TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game and Fish Commission

Tennessee big game hunters look to the fields and forests in large numbers in early November as hunting fever, beautiful scenery and good weather brought hunters out in search of game.

Results from 11 Tennessee Game and Fish Wildlife Management Areas throughout the state during two-day hunts held November 2-3 and 3-4 show nearly 12,000 hunters participating.

Hunter success for the two hunting periods with hunters bagging 574 deer was 35 deer-hunter.

The most successful area proved to be the Cheatham Wildlife Management Area hunt conducted Nov. 2-3. Seven hundred hunters bagged 53 deer for a 8.3 percent success. No does were allowed to be taken on this hunt.

November 3-4 was the second hunting period on the management areas and results show the AEDC Wildlife Management Area as having the highest hunter success. A total of 1,365 hunters took 102 bucks and 137 does for a total of 129 deer. This afforded a success ratio of 17.5 percent.

Hunt statistics compiled by the Commission's Game Management Division included special hunts by archers, shotgun-only and muzzle loader-only hunts.

The Chuck Swan WMA held a muzzle loader hunt with 400 hunters participating bagging 30 buck deer.

Two areas held bear and/or deer hunts November 2-3 with the Tellico WMA bringing home the most being bagging 6 bear. The Catosa WMA recorded 5 bear during the two-day hunt.

Wildlife management area hunts will continue to be held for deer, bear, and bear through November and December. Prospective hunters should become familiar with each wildlife management area regulations and hunting dates before making plans to hunt big game in that area.

Fishing and Hunting Report

The Loudon Redskins were host to the Kingston basketball team Tuesday night with the Loudon boys winning 82-66 and the Redskins sextet falling 48-44.

Loudon boys coach Hugh Watson turned the game over to the football players some just out three days for varsity practice since football is over and the memory of that 13-10 overtime grid loss to the Yellow Jackets surely inspired the Redskins to play their best game against a Kingston team in five years. The Redskins put 10 men into the scoring column and all of 13 saw playing time as Loudon rolled to a 82-66 rout.

Loudon held a two-point lead at 30-28 and 32-30 in the third quarter but could not hang on down the stretch as the taller Yellow Jackets used foul shots and 11-point turnovers to gain the upper hand.

of the game. Loudon hit more field goals than the Yellow Jackets, 18 to 17 but lost at the charity stripe. Kingston's Tammi Alexander hit seven straight foul shots in the last two minutes on a 31 seconds to insure the Kingston ad-

Panthers Slip Past Harriman In Overtime 62-58

Eddie Billingsley's three-point play with four seconds remaining Tuesday night hoisted Lenoir City to a 62-58 overtime win over Harriman.

The visiting Blue Devils had battled from five points behind in the closing minutes to tie on a field goal by Dan Anderson with 18 seconds remaining.

HIGH POINT FORWARD—Loudon's Marilyn Smith led all scorers Tuesday night with 24 points on short jump shots and speedy layups as the Loudon girls attempted to defeat unbeaten Kingston. The Yellow Jackets handed the Lassies their first season loss 48-44.

Anderson, who scored Harriman's last nine points in regulation, put his team on top in overtime with a layup off a steal. Mitch Keebler knotted the score at 55-56 with 2:09 left, but with 1:40 remaining, Ken Hammonds' free throw gave Harriman a one-point lead.

Brazeeale's field goal with 1:34 left put Lenoir City ahead 57-56, but Harriman took the lead with 1:12 to go on a 20-footer by Grady Langley. Lyles gave Lenoir City the lead for good with a field goal with 26 seconds showing. Harriman lost the ball on a bad pass with 26 seconds remaining, setting the stage for Billingsley's three-point play which checked it with four seconds left.

Lenoir City had taken a 16-17 lead after one quarter, and then stretched it to 20-12 before Harriman rallied. The Blue Devils outscored the Panthers 18-8 the remainder of the half to take a 30-28 lead at intermission.

FINGER TIP CONTROL—Loudon's William Canaler goes high to spike his high pass into the basket for a Loudon field goal. The exciting play usually is good for two or three times a game. Canaler had 14 points Tuesday night as the Redskins downed Kingston 82-66.

A pair of baskets by Hammonds gave Harriman its biggest lead at 38-30 but Lenoir City rallied to cut it to 40-37 after three quarters. Keebler's basket with 6:08 remaining put Lenoir City on top again 43-42.

A fielder by Lyles gave Lenoir City a 44-40 lead with three minutes remaining, but the Panthers missed the front end of three one-and-one situations allowing Harriman to close the gap. Anderson registered seven points against a basket by Keebler, and the Harriman guard's 15-footer with 18 seconds left sent the game into overtime.

Mitch Keebler led the visiting Panthers with 20 points with Eddie Lyles casting 14 and Don Brazeeale registering for 12.

The Lenoir City girls won their game handily posting a 18-16 triumph.

RUGGED REBOUNDERS—Loudon's J.J. Purdy and Yarbher Harrison soar high after a rebound Tuesday night as the Lassie guards played with a determined effort the entire game. Harrison and Purdy led the Loudon sextet in rebounding, while Purdy was tops in interceptions also with four.

NICE SHOOTING FORM—You can always tell a football player fresh from the gridiron when he must make the change to hardwood and basketball. Loudon's R.L. Branan does not have the best points on this shot but the football-basketball performer gets the job done, he scores two points.

Impact Of Inflation In Local Area

To what extent has the rising cost of living affected residents of Loudon County? Have incomes in the local area increased fast enough in the last few years to enable the average family to absorb the higher cost and have something additional left over?

Prior to the last year or two, most families, locally and elsewhere, were able to keep ahead of the game because their earnings were rising more rapidly than their costs.

More recently, however, with galloping inflation, many have been falling behind.

A study by the Tax Foundation, a non-profit research organization, shows what has been happening to people's buying power. "Because of taxes and inflation," it states, "pay increases of up to 35 percent in the last seven years fall short of giving a family the same purchasing power it had with the smaller, 1966 income." Those with bigger increases, however, ended up even or better.

In other words, the cost of living has gone up more than 35 percent, putting a squeeze on many family pocketbooks. How has a married man in Loudon County, for example, who earned $8,000 in 1966, made out with the $2,800 in pay raises he may have received since then?

The figures show that not only have his raises been erased by the tax-inflation combination, but his after-tax pay today is worth about $390 less than it was seven years ago.

For the married man who made $10,000 in 1966 and is getting 35 percent more than that now, the Tax Foundation details how his $3,500 pay increase turned into a $466 net loss.

His income taxes, Federal and state, went up $306 on average and his Social Security tax rose $335. Inflation caused an additional loss of $3,016.

Thus, his expenses rose $3,966 in seven years and his income only $3,500, which left him $466 short of the break-even point.

Other calculations, based upon the general figures contained in the report, indicate that a Loudon County man who had a $5,000 income in 1966, which rose to $6,750 in 1973, ended up with a net loss of $140 and that the one who had a 1966 income of $12,000 lost approximately $510, despite a 35 percent hike in salary.

Producers Cautioned Of Marketing Cards

Burley tobacco producers who sell tobacco produced on one farm to a different farm, will card for a different farm, will be subject to penalties and quota reductions. These words of caution came this week from Fred Fipps, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, when commenting on issuance of 1973 marketing cards.

Mr. Fipps said tobacco marketing of 1973 burley tobacco crop were mailed to Loudon County producers on November 6. "To protect themselves, growers should carefully follow the procedures for marketing tobacco," he said.

The marketing card is issued by the County ASCS Office for each farm to identify the tobacco marketed from that farm. Any tobacco marketed above 110 percent of the farm quota will be considered excess tobacco and the producer will be responsible for any marketing quota penalty due.

In regard to leasing burley tobacco quotas, Mr. Fipps pointed out that quota may be leased and transferred from one farm to another prior to sale of the crop and no later than February 15, 1974. He stressed that leasing agreements must be approved and postage quotas officially transferred from one marketing card to another by ASCS office personnel before sale and settlement. The Chairman said another grower responsibility is to make sure that his marketing card is returned to the County ASCS Office as soon as he has finished marketing his crop.

The service is greatly concerned that farmers understand the rules so they can market all the tobacco they're entitled to and that a sound and effective burley tobacco program can be maintained.

"Members of the ASCS office staff will be glad to explain any aspect of tobacco marketing card use or leasing," Mr. Fipps added.

Anderson To Appliance Purchases Up Here Speak At Calvary Bapt.

Paul Anderson, the "World's Strongest Man" will be at the Calvary Baptist Church Sunday, November 25 at 9:45 p.m. Everyone will have an opportunity to meet him personally and see him lift eight men at one time, drive a twenty penny nail through a 2 x 4 with his bare hand and give his personal testimony about what Jesus Christ means to him.

Paul Anderson, the undisputed "World's Strongest Man," was born in Toccoa, Georgia, October 17, 1922. After graduating from high school, he attended Furman University, on one of many football scholarships. Paul became interested in weightlifting and was able to lift more weight than anyone in the history of the college, and after a few weeks of training, was breaking world records that had stood for over 30 years.

With these first efforts, a weightlifting career was launched that took Paul Anderson in national, world and Olympic titles. He has toured the world as a good will ambassador for our State Department and lifted in command performances for heads of state. The Russian people were so impressed with his world record breaking tour of their country in 1955, that they call him a wonder of nature.

Paul has participated very successfully in several sports, including football, weightlifting, boxing, and wrestling. He has lifted more weight in one single attempt than anyone in the history of the world, 6,270 lbs. in the back lift. Some of his other activities include movie and television appearances.

Throughout his career, Paul has had one great goal, to help unfortunate young people develop into good citizens. After much thought and investigation, he found the best way to serve these future

Judging from the number of major household appliances and other equipment that Loudon County families have been buying in the last few years, living standards are on the rise locally.

Their purchases of air conditioners, dishwashers, TV and stereo sets, cars, food freezers and other high-cost high-price equipment have been climbing steadily since 1960, despite inflation.

What made these expenditures possible was the income gains that have been chalked up, year after year, by most families in the area.

The rate at which they have been adding to their ownership of household appliances and automobiles is revealed in the Census Bureau's County and City Data Book. Loudon County was able to establish a foster home for teenagers because they were being neglected by most other organizations. Many of these valuable future leaders were being sent to penal institutions, from the lack of other facilities.

Today the Paul Anderson Youth Home, Inc. is a reality and is located in Vidalia, Georgia. Paul and his wife, Glenda, operate the Home, endeavoring to develop good citizens through Spiritual Guidance, Education, and Physical Fitness.

Paul travels constantly, and probably speaks to more young people in person than any other man in the United States. He actually speaks and performs over 500 times each year. He feels that with attitudes today being like they are concerning many of the basic Principles of our land, he must use his influence to talk with our youth concerning Christianity, Patriotism, and the values and fascinations of our free enterprise system. He serves on the National Board of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and other such organizations that are dedicated to an uplifting of our teenagers through a personal relationship with Jesus Christ.

By the same token, food freezers are more common in the area than ever before. The proportion of local families that have them is placed at 96 percent, which is more than in 1960, when it was 22 percent.

Residential telephones have also increased in number, the government report states. Locally, the homes so equipped total 80 percent, as against the 1960 total of 70 percent.

As to a fourth classification, car ownership, which is another indicator of living standards, the proportion of local families with one or more cars is listed at 83 percent.

These and other expensive articles, which help make life easier and add to the enjoyment of living, have been coming within reach of a growing number of local residents.

Rating each community with respect to ownership of these four categories of equipment, if every family had all four of them, its score would be 400, the maximum possible.

Loudon County, with a score of 244, places well above many localities. The United States average is 234. It is 243 in the East South Central States.

Shortage To Slow Mail

(Continued from Page 1) Marris said, "by the fact that in addition to the fuel consumed by commercial air carriers, we require approximately 350-million gallons of fuel to travel 2.25-billion miles delivering the 90-billion pieces of mail that flow through the system each year. Our requirement for the month of December alone is 45-million gallons."

Postmaster Marris said the "public cooperation on meeting these new, advance mail early dates is needed to help us complete all Christmas deliveries."

years we have tried to find a picture of Mr. and Mrs. White and their old milk hack but to date we have had no luck. We feel that this was an era of life in our section that is worth recalling. During these years, Mr. White was joined by a Mr. Hawkins and Mr. Lillard Houston, who also operated milk hacks and later trucks. We ran some pictures a few weeks ago of the big Roanoke County flood which was caused by the Oakdale Dam bursting after what we have always heard was a cloud burst. We are not sure this is correct, but we believe it is. Anyway, some of the past pictures we have used showed what we thought was a good overall view of the devastating damage to this area. But the ones we have had in the past were nothing to compare with this one we are using this week.

Another picture we have this week is Bob Custead and his sister. Quite possibly this old picture was made at the location where the Hamilton Branch Bank now stands. I believe I am correct in saying that Mrs. Custead, Bob's mother, kept roomers in this large old house. The Custeads were a well known Loudoun family. Bob was an outstanding Loudoun football player and later played at UT. Bob has lived in Knoxville for many years and is Service Manager at the Buick Automobile Agency. Leroy, Bob's younger brother, who still lives in Loudoun was also an outstanding football player at Loudoun High School.

ture of a well known boy of Loudoun and the Steekee area. Eldon White and his dogs. This picture was possibly made at the White home in the Steekee section of our area. Eldon's family is well known and for many years. Eldon's father, Fek White (now deceased) had a milk route in Loudoun. Once a week the White milk hack which was horse drawn, made its way through the streets of Loudoun delivering milk, butter and farm products. For the last few

Emergency Cardiac Care Topic Of Medical Meeting

Emergency Cardiac Care was the topic for a program presented before the medical staff of Loudoun County Memorial Hospital, Dr. Gerald Sundah, Cardiologist, discussed Definitive Therapy of the cardiac patient. Dr. Cecil Rowe, an Anesthesiologist at the University of Tennessee Medical Research Center and Hospital, provided information and techniques on airway and ventilatory support.

The program was sponsored by the East Tennessee Heart Association and the Tennessee Medical Association, Committee on Emergency Medical Care. Heart attacks are the leading cause of death in the United States, and the Heart Association has developed training programs for the medical and nursing personnel to better the patient's chances of survival. Equipment is provided on loan from the East Tennessee Heart Association to develop necessary resuscitative skills. Ambulance personnel at Loudoun County Hospital have been certified in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation Technique through participation in Emergency Medical Technician training of the Tennessee Department of Public Health.

The session conducted at Loudoun County Hospital is one of the first concerning emergency care conducted by specialists from Knoxville. The Knoxville Academy of Medicine, East Tennessee Heart Association, and the Tennessee Department of Public Health are participating in training to better the emergency medical care received by the victim of sudden illness or accident.

$3600 Awarded In I-75 Condemnation

After a week of scheduled trials in Circuit Court the first jury trial was finally held Monday of this week. All scheduled cases last week were settled out of court.

MOD Holiday Project Started

The case tried by jury Monday before Judge Willard Kittrell was a condemnation of land for Interstate 75. Proposed School Bill Ready For Squires

County Court Monday will get a report from a committee that has been attempting to prepare a private act for the election of County School Board members by popular election. Sources reported that a multiple-choice type bill has been prepared and will be presented to the court at their meeting at 7 p.m. Monday night.

The latest problem in the project that has been six years in planning and bids are due to be opened next month, involves the use of Federal Revenue Funds for the project.

Earlier the county had been told that Federal Revenue Sharing Funds could be used to match funds granted by the Law Enforcement Planning Agency for the project Judge (Continued on Page 12)

Bacon Adopts Four Day Work Week

The three Charles H. Bacon Company plants in Loudon and Lenoir City will go on a four day 10 hour per day work week beginning December 4. Company Personnel Director H. F. (Pete) Littleton made the announcement Tuesday of his week saying that the company felt it should conserve every effort to both conserve the vital energy, and at the same time protect the jobs of their employees.

He said the company did not know just how much energy could be saved by these steps but a detailed study will be made throughout whatever period the four day work week stays in effect.

Local Energy Board Tackles Fuel Shortage Problems

The first meeting of the Loudon County Energy Advisory Committee, which grew out of action of County Court earlier this month, was held Monday night to begin to look for ways to help Loudon County governments, business, industry and home owners deal with the energy crisis.

Members are Handolph representing Lenoir City Schools, J.B. Hagler, Loudon County Schools, E.R. Tarwater, Greenback, Kenneth Dutton, Lenoir City, Eddie Brewer, Philadelphia, Charles Burnett, Loudon and Ray Birkholz, industry.

Mr. Handolph, Emergency Preparedness Director of Loudon County, chaired the meeting which was made up of representatives of the school systems, county government, and industry.

Final Cashword Winners Announced

The last winners in the Loudon County Herald's Big Cashword Puzzle promotion that ended three weeks ago after 13 weeks of competition were announced this week by contest judges.

In all $500 in prizes, $50 each week was awarded to the winners. The Herald and the 21 firms in Loudon, Lenoir City and Greenback that sponsored the promotion expressed their appreciation to the readers of the paper for their participation in the promotion.

MRS. HOWARD, MRS. PURDY, MRS. RITCHEY

Each woman was awarded $50 in Cashword Bucks that can be spent in any of the sponsoring firms.

The final winners came one each on the last three puzzles that had not been graded when the contest closed.

The winners are Mrs. Grace Purdy of Loudon, Mrs. Charlotte Ritchey of Loudon and Mrs. Carl Howard of Loudon. All three women said they played the Cashword game often and had deposited their entry blanks at various stores.

Judge Harvey Spraul, at the direction of the committee, was drafting the proposals Tuesday but they were not completed in time to be available for publication.

Another contest item on the 36 point agenda concerns the $500,000 Justice Center.

Tree Sales Start Dec. 6

Loudon County Rescue Squad Captain John Parris announced this week that the annual sale of Christmas Trees by the Squad is scheduled to begin on Dec. 6 at all regular locations in Loudon, Lenoir City and Greenback.

He added that unlike most things people will buy for Christmas this year the trees will sell for the same prices they did last year.

Greenback 4-H'er Wins National Award

By Bonnie F. Sherley, Staff Writer
Loudon County has its first National 4-H Project winner this year. Teresa Goddard, a Loudon County 4-H'er, was named one of the eight 1973-74 National Safety project winners Wednesday in Chicago. Teresa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Goddard of Greenback.

Teresa left Saturday morning to attend National 4-H Congress with some 30 other State 4-H project winners from Tennessee. Eleven of these 4-H'ers were named National winners in their respective projects.

As a national winner in Safety, Teresa will receive a $1,000 educational scholarship. General Motors is the sponsoring donor of the Safety project. They have been the sponsor of this project for more than 25 years.

To be a state winner and attend National Congress in Chicago is a goal of all 4-H'ers, but to be a National winner is a dream few 4-H'ers ever achieve. Teresa's 4-H record book was judged in the National competition for leadership, achievement, and personal development. She has accomplished such safety activities as encouraged county farmers to attach slow-moving vehicle signs to equipment traveling county roads; taught swimming lessons in summers; talked to county groups on Safety, and distributed attractive small signs of phone numbers of firemen and police department to families of the community.

Teresa has learned that accidents and injuries on the farm, in the home, on the highway, in the community, and during recreation can be reduced. She has stimulated others in the community, county, district, state and now the nation to become safety conscious.

Woman Killed In 70-95 Crash

A collision at the intersection of Highways 95 and 70 in Eaton Crossroads last Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 21, left a Knoxville woman dead and her husband and two Lenoir City women in the hospital.

Ethel White Gardner, 70, was killed when the truck her husband was driving collided with a 1970 Chevrolet station wagon driven by Mrs. Wanda Lois Adams of Lenoir City Rt. 2.

George William Gardner, 71, Schand Road, Knoxville Rt. 7, was taken to Fort Sanders Hospital with broken ribs and a possible punctured lung.

Mr. Gardner was driving a 1961 Ford pickup truck. The impact threw Mr. and Mrs. Gardner from the pickup and left the seat of the truck laying left in the highway.

Mrs. Adams, 23, driver of the station wagon, suffered a severe knee injury. She was also taken to Fort Sanders. Mrs. Patricia Latham, 21, of Lenoir City Rt. one, received a head gash and was sent to Fort Sanders.

Three-year-old Jeffrey Adams, son of Mrs. Adams, and Cindy Latham, 2, and Shelia Latham, 4, daughters of Mrs. Latham were all treated and released at Fort Sanders.

Sgt. Wallace Mills, Tennessee State Trooper, said Mr. Gardner was traveling east on Highway 70 toward Knoxville.

Sgt. Mills said Mr. Gardner apparently stopped at the stop sign on 70, did not see anything, and "ceased" across into the path of the station wagon.

The station wagon was traveling west on Highway 95 toward Oak Ridge.

Other survivors of Mrs. Gardner are a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Birchfield; brothers, Samuel Dawson and Emmanuel White; sisters, Mrs. Annie Tarwater, Mrs. Elva Carr, Mrs. Bertha Stallworth, all of Knoxville, and Mrs. Ada Hobson of California.

Services were held Saturday at Weaver's Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. J.B. Thompson officiating.

TRAVELING OUT OF LENOIR CITY ON 95, this station wagon collided with the pickup truck and threw the Knoxville couple from the truck. THIS 1961 FORD PICKUP was crossing Highway 95 going toward Knoxville when it collided with a Chevrolet station wagon, killing one woman and sending three other people to the hospital.

length gown of white bridal satin and chiffon. The neckline (fashioned with a mandarin collar and hemline of the full skirt) were applied in French lace and the full chiffon sleeves were finished with lace cuffs.

She wore a short circular veil edged in matching lace. Her only jewelry was a diamond necklace, a gift from the maid of honor, and she carried a cascade of white roses and blue silk flowers.

Miss Shirley Phelps, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Donna Clover, sister of the bridegroom and Miss Becky Phelps, cousin of the bride.

The attendants wore old-fashioned, peasant style dresses fashioned with a stand-up collar and full sleeves, finished with wide cuffs. The full skirts of printed crepe were accented at the hemline by a wide ruffle and the bodice was designed of the matching solid crepe. The maid of honor wore blue and the bridesmaids were in green. Their headpieces were green. Their handbags were wicker baskets filled with white daisies and baby's breath.

Miss Rhonda Merriman, niece of the bride was flower girl. She wore a long blue dress designed identical to the maid of honor.

Mr. Clover, father of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsmen were Gary Clover, brother of the bridegroom, and Norman Brown, brother-in-law of the bride. Ushers were Doug Clark and Dale West.

Immediately following the reception a reception was given by the bride's parents at the church.

Energy conservation is a serious matter. Power shortages are occurring, and it is time for each person to do whatever possible to cut down on usage. Homemakers can do their part toward conserving energy. Although no one person can solve the crisis alone, each person can do his part as American households use 30 percent of the energy consumed in the nation. The following are some suggested ways of conserving energy in homes this winter.

Don't make equipment work harder than necessary. A clean machine in good repair operates better. Avoid using extension cords for major appliances and don't overload circuits.

Check the insulation in your house. Your heating bill can be cut as much as 15 percent with proper insulation. New lower wattage light bulbs use less electricity for the same amount of light output.

Draw the shades or draperies over windows when the sun is not shining in warmth.

Insulated drapery lining will reduce heat loss. Heavy coats of paint on radiators will also reduce their effectiveness.

If there are cracks around the doors, apply felt or metal weather stripping to stop the flow of air. Don't change the thermostat throughout the day. Find a comfortable setting and leave it there. Try to adjust to a little lower temperature than normally used. At night, lower the thermostat above five degrees.

Your County In Action

BY
Harvey L. Sproul
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

There is one thing I meant to explain about my column two weeks ago, and forgot to say last week. The problem was that for some reason part of the column was left out, the part being left out was the part explaining what the rest of the column was. (Isn't that clearly explained?) so that it looked as if I had written the article.

But the rest of the column was a quotation of a feature article concerning Loudon County and its progress. The article was taken from the Tennessee State Planning Office "Annual Survey and Report."

I was proud that Loudon County had been selected as a good example of what a county can do with good planning, a responsible Quarterly Court, and good cooperation, but I did not write the article myself as it may have appeared to you to have been done.

To quote from another monthly periodical, the "Tennessee Survey of Business" put out by the University of Tennessee College of Business, statistics in an article in this report show that Tennessee has increased in economic development a head of the Southeast and of the United States.

For example total personal income increased from 1972 for the first half of 1973 10.4 percent in Tennessee, but only 3.1 percent in the Southeast, and 3.3 percent in the United States.

On our own local basis in Loudon County, we have been talking lately about industrial development, and how Loudon County's prospects seem to be increasing.

One of the questions with which we have become involved more and more involves the extent we should go to induce industrial development.

This takes in such decisions as the amount of money needed for local administration, whether to use condemnation or not, whether to refuse certain types of industries which may have pollution problems or do not pay enough, or do not have the right kind of skills, whether or not the industry is willing to pay its share of the taxes, etc.

Our unemployment rate in Loudon County has been very low, and in addition we have some good prospects of potential industry which would help increase our tax base.

Surely we want to continue to be interested in good sound industry, which have good backgrounds and good products, and of course many times the question of whether or not these concerns will be interested in Loudon County depends upon the interest that we show back to them, and the co-operation and "welcome" climate which we present.

But I do not personally think that "good industry" would expect "tax concessions" to any significant extent, if at all.

I am personally hopeful that we do not have to resort to this kind of inducement. The current thinking is that any industry that will pay enough and have the right kinds of jobs for our people, will also be willing to pay taxes and be a partner in our community.

But there are still certain things that we have to do to facilitate the location for such industries and to show our interest in them if we want to attract such industries.

We have worked for years actually to be in position to get some Federal assistance on the establishment of an industrial park, and the City of Lenoir City has been interested in particularly in the tract next to the Eaton Vale and Towne Corporation.

It now looks, after a rather dim look for awhile, that the City and the County may have a good opportunity of getting a significant Federal grant for the development of this park.

I might hasten to say that when you consider the possibilities and interest that many industries have in Loudon County at this time, and what this holds forth for us in the next five to ten years, together with the natural growth pattern of the Knoxville Metropolitan area westward as well as Blount County developing westward, that our basic planning which has been done through our local planning commissions, and the efforts being made by Quarterly Court, City Council and the Planning Commissions to have some control over the quality of development and the placing of the development, has been done at the proper time and in the proper way.

Let us hope that the citizens of the County will continue to support these plans, so that Loudon County does not have to become a vast wasteland of slums and improper planning, but that the utilities will be put to the right places for the right purposes, that land will be saved for agricultural development and open space use, etc.

Training Project

A Man Power Development and Training Act Project had been jointly approved by the Department of Labor and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to provide the classroom type training for 35 persons in Loudon, Morgan, Roane and Scott Counties. Congressman John Duncan said Federal funds in the amount of $119,103.00 have been allocated for the project for periods up to October 4, 1974. The participants will receive multi-occupational training, sponsored by the Department of Employment Security, Cordell Hull Building, Nashville.

The Tennessee State Employment Service determines the need for workers in the occupation in which the training is provided. Refers, tests and counsels applicants for training, administers the payment of training allowance and provides job placement and assistance to trainees upon completion of the course.

Windle Is North Georgia-Alabama Coach Of Year

It's been just two short years since assistant Redskin football coach Buddy Windle has left Loudon County to return to his outstanding accomplishments at the helm of the Chattanooga grid fortunes. Coach Windle has been honored by the Chattanooga Times, a leading daily paper of the lower East Tennessee and Northern Georgia and Alabama regions, as the North Georgia-Alabama coach of the year.

Windle graduated from Loudon in 1959 and attended Mars Hill College in North Carolina where he was a standout performer on the football team. He was the offensive player of the year at Mars Hill in 1959 and graduated from college ranks in 1964. From the college gridiron he became an assistant coach at Chattanooga for three seasons before leaving and then returned to the Indians in 1972.

The Greenback Cherokeses closed down their football play Wednesday night and quest for a possible "A" division state championship when the Walland Indians got revenge for a regular season 13-13 setback by handing the Cherokeses a 26-6 Regional playoff defeat. The loss was only the third for the Cherokeses during the season, as compared to eight victories.

The game was a near even contest in statistics but the difference proved to favor the slicker Walland offense over the bigger Greenback eleven.

The Cherokeses started the game by driving to the Walland 32 yard line before two incomplete passes and a nine yard loss forced a punting situation.

Walland had the ball for just four plays as senior center and defensive linebacker Mike Evans picked off an Indian pass that was deflected by 5'7" Dennis Childs. Evans returned the ball four yards to the Walland 33 yard line.

Quarterback Tony Linginfelter wasted no time in calling on Kyle Shepherd for five yards. A first down pass to 6'0" tight end Bill Joe Kyker had the Cherokeses a first down at the Walland 18. Linginfelter and Tim Hammonree moved the ball to the one yard line and with 2:30 left in the first quarter Hammonree plunged into the end zone for a touchdown.

The conversion kick was good and the score was 6-0. Walland returned the kickoff 16 yards and on the first play from scrimmage countered through the center of the Cherokeses line for a 66 yard touchdown maneuver. A two point conversion pass made the count 8-6 at the end of the first quarter.

Greenback crossed into Walland territory to start the second period but had a Linginfelter pass intercepted at the Walland 23 yard line to halt the Cherokeses drive.

Greenback was still controlling the game despite the score and forced Walland to punt on fourth down.

Greenback failed to move the ball and Walland once again took possession at their 32 yard line.

From the 32 the Indians embarked on a 17 play drive that gave them a 14-6 halftime lead with 2:04 left in the second quarter. Greenback's Bobby McNeilly stopped the two point conversion effort. The second half saw Greenback backed against their own goal line following a Walland punt that carried to the Cherokeses' eight yard line.

Greenback managed to advance the football for a first down on a pass to Kyker but Walland held and a 37 yard punt by the Cherokeses had Walland with its best field position of the game at the Greenback 31 following the return.

Walland moved to the Cherokeses 22 yard line before the stubborn Greenback line dug in to check the Indians on downs.

Greenback could not get moving and had to punt, this time for only 23 yards. Walland finally broke the Greenback hold on defense and in five plays had crossed the double stripes of the goal line for a 20-6 lead with 2:29 showing in the third quarter.

The conversion try for two points was no good.

Walland managed to contain Greenback in Cherokeses territory and with a defensive push stopped the Loudon Countians on fourth down and short yardage to again get the ball on the Greenback side of the 50.

Walland scored an insurance touchdown with 11:28 left in the game on a two yard run.

The two teams swapped possessions before Greenback legged the ball down to the Walland 10 yard line as time ran out on the Cherokeses scoring ideas.

Tim Hammonree was the Cherokeses top ground gainer for the night with Kyker and Harold Hawkins leading the pass receivers.

Greenback did not play one year although they did not do all so terrible. The Region "Championship" was on the line and both teams were worthy representatives for Region One honors. Walland will now meet Sequatchie County in the second round of the state playoffs.

HAMMONREE SCORES—Greenback gets on the score board first in the Region One "A" state playoffs against Walland as Tim Hammonree noses his way over the goal line for six points.

KYKER STRETCHES FOR RECEPTION—Greenback's Bill Joe Kyker has to really stretch his 6'7" frame to haul in this pass over the middle of the Walland line as he gains 15 yards and a first down for Greenback Wednesday night.

NOT A BAD WAY TO DEPART—These Greenback seniors will have a lot of memories and certainly a great contribution to the football play at Greenback High School for several seasons to come. They are presented with the Region One Class "A" runner-up trophy for finishing in the top eight class A teams in the state football play this season with an 8-2-2 record. The second best in the schools history. Pictured left to right are Bobby McNeilly, Gene Kimbrell, Keith Rollins, Rick Rader, Mike Evans, Dennis Childs, and Bill Joe Kyker. Tim Hammonree and Tony Linginfelter, senior team captains accept the trophy on behalf of the team.

Loudon Boys Run Out Of Steam

Panther Comebacks Drop Loudon Hoop Teams In Friday Thrillers

Lenoir City got outstanding basketball play from its senior players Friday night as the Panthers returned from behind in both the girls and boys games to down Loudon on the Redskins home floor.

The Pantherettes, down by 15 points at one stage of the preliminary contest, battled back on the shooting of Marietta Blackburn and the foul plagued Loudon sextet to win a barn burner 60-58.

Miss Blackburn, the blonde bomber of Loudon County, started the game with a "off" performance aided by the excellent Loudon defensive attention given her by J.J. Purdy, Connie Huskey, Mary Tyler and Yarbber Harrison. But the defensive blanket became ragged in the end and the individual performance by the Pantherettes. Blackburn, Jane Shubert with 23 points led the Loudon offense. Marilyn Smith fired 21 points, most coming in the first half as the Lassies raced on top 29-15 with 4:21 to play in the first half. Debbie Hawkins rounded out the scoring with 14 points.

Loudon scored three more field goals than the Pantherettes and out shot their visitors with a 22 for 44 night of 50 percent. Lenoir City converted on 16 of 44 shots for a 41.1 percent. But the game was decided at the foul line as Loudon ran into foul trouble early at both ends of the court and complemented their fate with 11 turnovers as compared to six for the game by the Pantherettes.

BLACKBURN HAS NO PREFERENCE IN FINDING THE RANGE—Marietta Blackburn the Lenoir City "Blonde Bomber" sizzled the nets for 48 points and almost was a one man (girl) team to bring her team from a 15 point first half deficit to an exciting 60-58 win over the Loudon sextet. Blackburn drives in for a four foot jump shot as Loudon guard Mary Tyler (left) and J.J. Purdy (right) attempt to distract her. Loudon's Connie Huskey found stopping Blackburn outside to be no easier as she drills a 25 footer in the fourth quarter.

LOUDON SHARP SHOOTER—Loudon's Butch Brown was the most consistent scoring threat for the Redskins in Friday night's hoop thriller at Loudon. The senior guard pumped in 18 points for his night's work.

Loudon had 20 fouls for the first half and a total of 35 for the game with guards Mary Tyler and J.J. Purdy and forward Marilyn Smith all with four fouls at half time. Connie Huskey and Yarbber Harrison also ended the game with four fouls and Tyler and Smith fouled out in the final stanza.

Coach Dewayne Arp had to rely on inexperienced freshmen to carry the fight to the highly regarded Pantherettes team as his top reserve as occasional starter at forward, Junior Pety Starritt, missed the game due to a Thanksgiving vacation trip to Florida. Hence costing the Lassies adequate scoring replacements in the ninth and 10 stages of the second quarter and in the frantic minutes of the fourth canto. Lenoir City did not take the lead until the final 59 seconds of the third quarter as a Blackburn field goal. The Pantherettes held an three-point lead twice in the game with the last time coming in the last 27 seconds of the half game.

The Pantherettes jumped the Charger sextet 55-27 with a sweep with a 35-51 win over Loudon. Mike McConkey had 25 to pace Lenoir City while Steve Viana was lead for Loudon with 12 markers.

Billingsley's Foul Shots Win For Panthers

Lenoir City boys had to struggle from behind to make the night a sweep. The Panthers down by nine points with just over three minutes left in the game, came to life on the shooting accuracy of Eddie Liles and Eddie Billingsley to capture the win. Billingsley dropped in both ends of a one and one foul shot with only four seconds remaining on the clock to give the Pantherettes their fifth triumph of the year. Billingsley finished the night with 10 points while Liles, who balanced scoring attack that saw five Lenoir City forwards end in the scoring column.

Pam Smith led the Lenoir City offense with 18 points followed by Marietta Blackburn who got 15 points in just over a half of playing time. Kathy Quillen tallied nine and Scotty Cook and Pam Thomas counted out the scoring with eight and five points respectively.

Lenoir City jumped to a commanding 19-4 first quarter lead and were never pressured as they picked up their fifth win of the season in six games.

The Pantherettes left 36-11 at the half and 46-21 at the end of three quarters.

Redskins Roll As Midway Cage Teams Fall

Loudon chalked up a double hoop win Tuesday night against the Midway Green Wave at Loudon. The Redskins started the night with a 58-35 triumph over previously unbeaten Midway girls (4-1). The Loudon outfit made the night a sweep after a slow start 72-54.

Debbie Hawkins led the night with 11 of 15 shooting performance for 22 hit points and a close follow-up by senior Marilyn Smith 21 points propelled Loudon through the girls contest. The Lassies are now 3-2 for the season and opened the game up in the second half by bouncing from an eight point halftime lead to a 21 point advantage going into the final frame.

Liz Delaney paced the Loudon guards which won the rebounding edge, 35-34, with five retrieves of stray shots. Offensively Loudon hit 25 of 40 shots for a hot 62 percent. Midway managed but 12 of 31 attempts for a 38.4 shooting percentage.

In the night-cap the Loudon boys trailed for the first 13 minutes of the ball game and finally took a two point lead with 2:28 left in the first half as a 15 foot shot by senior captain Greg Allison. The Redskins continued to hit for a 28-21 halftime advantage and won out the game on Lee with a strong second half.

Junior front liners Donnie Thearp and William Canales set the scoring tempo for Loudon with 20 and 19 points, respectively. Thearp pulled down 16 rebounds and Canales grabbed 13 as the Redskins dominated the backboards 48 to 38.

Senior guard Butch Brown

"SORRY ABOUT THAT"—Loudon's Jane Shubert grins her teeth after colliding with Lenoir City's top rebounding guard Janet Leeper on this move for the basket. Shubert was called for charging on the play.

Loudon gained a four point edge in the fourth quarter as Lenoir City guard Dianne Dunlap was lost with five fouls. But the Panther sextet fought back and with six seconds left in the game was on top 60-58.

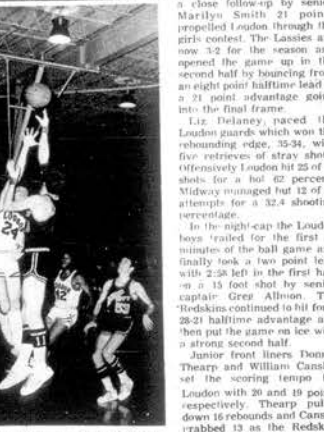

The Lassies got two last ditch tries to knot the score as Marilyn Smith intercepted a Lenoir City pass and drove for the goal only to be clapped by a charging foul on the defensive work of Kathy Quillen. Smith's fifth foul. Lenoir City was then guilty of stepping across the half line—on bringing the ball up the court and Loudon again got new life on their forward end of the floor only in mishandle the in bounds pass as the Pantherettes won 60-58.

Jane Leeper and Dianne Dunlap led the Lenoir City defense with nine and five rebounds, respectively. The Pantherettes had 25 for the night.

Loudon got but 21 rebounds in the game with J.J. Purdy and Connie Huskey sharing LEAPING PLAYMAKER—Lenoir City's Mitch Keebler with eight scoring assists and 25 points was most instrumental in directing the Lenoir City quintet over Loudon Friday night 72-59.

SETS PANTHER SCORING PACE—Lenoir City's Eddie Liles launches a soft one hand jump shot over the defensive hustle of Loudon's R.L. Branam. Liles scored 26 points in the game with the Redskins.

Lenoir City Rotary Club Basketball Classic Set For December 7 & 8

The second annual Rotary Basketball Classic, pitting teams from Hiwassee, Roane State, Cleveland State, and Knoxville College Junior Varsity, will be held at Lenoir City's Guy F. Tallent Gymnasium Friday and Saturday, Dec. 7-8.

The losers of the games Friday will play in consolation round, Saturday night at 7 and the winners will meet for the championship at 8:30. This year's event has been dedicated in the memory of Tommy Bradshaw, for 40 years sports editor of the Lenoir City News and an avid fan of all area sports. He died of a heart attack last Feb. 21.

Many area high school stand-outs will be in the event, including two who made the all-tournament team last year: Johnny Morgan, 6.5 sophomore forward from Hiwassee; and Alvin Boyd, 6.2 sophomore forward, one of the top players for the Raiders.

Others on the Roane State squad, many of whom made names for themselves in high school play, include Phil Bazel, Scott Bowman and Art Hutchinson of Harriman, John Davison, Robert Davison and Frank Linton of Rockwood, Randy Tatham and Jim Harris of Lenoir City, Mike Hill of Dayton, Bill Gann and Willie Allman of Knoxville, Mike Blanford of Clarksville, Skipper Coppinger of Marysville, Clyde Jolley of

Tampa Rockets End Loudon Indians Winning Streak 12-0

The Loudon Indians winners of their last 33 football games which have included three consecutive Volunteer Conference Championships saw their three year win streak halted by the Tampa Rockets in the Holiday Bowl played in Tampa, Florida Thanksgiving weekend.

The Indians received the opening kick-off and quickly reeled off two first downs on the running of Freddie Starriff and the passing of Eddie Estes to David Black. The Rocket defense stiffened and the Indians surrendered the ball. Tampa showing a good balance of running and passing moved over the Indian defense for a score as the 1st quarter ended. The conversion try failed and Tampa led 6-0. Tampa led 6-0.

The stout and heavier Tampa defense continued to dominate the game and again forced Loudon to give up the ball. The strong Tampa running game once again moved close to the Loudon goal line, but the determined Indian defense held firm and forced Tampa to yield the ball. Disaster quickly struck the Indians again as they fumbled on the first play and with 6 seconds remaining in the 1st half Tampa connected on a 28 yard scoring play, once again the try for extra point failed and at half the Rockets led 12-0.

The third quarter opened with the Indians kicking off to Tampa. David Black kick was an on-side try working to perfection with Mark Moore picking the ball up on first bounce and scampering 20 yards down field. Eddie Estes kept for 10 yards; Freddie Starriff on a counter picked up 12 yards and Loudon had 1st and goal at the Tampa 8. A recovered fumble, an incomplete pass, and a three yard gainer left it 4th and goal at the Tampa 5. Eddie Estes dropped back to pass, but as he threw he was hit and the ball fell hopelessly in front of the open receiver, and the Indians had lost their chance to regain their lost momentum.

Tampa mounted a drive that finally was halted deep in Loudon's territory, but the drive had taken all of the 3rd quarter and part of the fourth. When Loudon took over time was against them, but hope remained in their efforts, thus again the Indians followers found life -- an Estes pass to Black with a quick lateral to Starriff had Loudon driving again. A quick burst by Johnson got 10. Starriff again on the Counter picked up 12. The Tampa defense stiffened and forced Loudon to throw and an interception sealed the loss.

The stubborn Loudon defense was anchored by Mack Moore, Ben Fields, Paul Walkins, Wayne Anderson, Tony Brookshire, Skip Paynter, Carl Hawkins, David Black, and Dean Ross.

QUAIL HUNTERS—"Bud" Howell and Berney Franklin are shown with their bird dogs and 10 quail they bagged while hunting in Loudon County this past weekend.

IN HOSPITAL PARKING LOT—This Terry's Potato Chip truck, driven by David Stewart, reportedly of Knoxville overturned in the parking lot at Loudon County Memorial Hospital about 5:45 a.m. Wednesday. Loudon County Police Officer John Mills said Stewart appeared to be seriously injured and was taken to a Knoxville hospital. The truck was leaving the hospital service entrance when the brakes apparently failed. The vehicle went over an embankment overturned on its top into the doctor's parking lot.

Local Hospital Financial Picture Not So Bright

Editors note—The following article was prepared by Loudon County Memorial Hospital Administrator Gay Hamilton concerning the financial picture of the hospital and how it has changed and is expected to change in the future. The hospital depends on doctors to admit patients and many of the physicians in Loudon County are nearing retirement age and one left during the past year. This could have a dramatic effect on the financial picture of the hospital. For years this type of information concerning the local hospital have not been available for publication making this the first time that the public has had some look at the financial situation at the hospital.

By Gay Hamilton, Administrator
L.C. Memorial Hospital
Hospitals are not allowed to make any price adjustments to recover these past cost increases. Hospitals also have to meet previous commitments for increases in wages, rent, and interest.

The result is that many hospitals are using up their reserves they accumulated in past years. Eventually they will have to try to borrow money. Those in extremely dangerous financial positions may not even be able to do that.

During the past two years, since the Economic Stabilization Program went into effect, Loudon County Memorial Hospital has suffered a steady decline in its reserves. In 1970, just prior to Phase I, this hospital's total revenue was $540,767 and total expenses were $486,086 which yielded a $54,681 fund balance. In subsequent years this fund balance has continued to become smaller. In 1971, total revenue of $601,700 minus total expenses of $551,183 equaled a $50,516 fund balance. In 1972 the figures were $608,012 revenue, $564,124 expenses, equalling $143,877 fund balance. In 1973 the figures were $583,426 revenue, $567,329 expenses, equalling a $33,957 fund balance. The 1974 figures are expected to be $623,219 revenue, $598,843 expenses equalling a $24,376 loss.

In addition, the hospital is currently financing the cost as well as administering the new ambulance service for the County. The date deficit of this program is roughly $61,500 with the County having subsidized roughly $21,000 which leaves a deficit for fiscal year 1973-74 of $51,000. By the end of the current fiscal year the hospital will have incurred a $60,000 ambulance service deficit.

In conclusion, our insurance is not a self-serving one; it is the foundation on which our ability to serve the public rests. In other words, sound financing is in the public interest and contributes to continued quality patient care.

Some patient services at Loudon County Memorial Hospital could be curtailed because of the current and past controls of the Economic Stabilization Program. The regulations imposed by these controls are forcing us and other hospitals across the nation to use capital im-mark. While the price of goods and services hospitals bought increased sharply under Phase III, hospitals themselves could not raise prices enough to recover the full amount of these increases. Hospitals were one of only three industries under mandatory controls during this phase. Under these conditions, many hospitals began using up the limited reserves they acquired in previous years. Some began going into debt to pay services at the same level as in the past.

According to Phase III regulations still in effect, even those hospitals that have been able to reduce expenses through management techniques are limited in the amount of income they can receive.

Loudon County Memorial Hospital under the Economic Stabilization Program may not exceed its base period operating margin. Operating margin equals the net operating revenue or that amount left after subtracting operating expenses from total operating revenue and divided by total operating revenue. The base period is the average of a hospital's two best years, selected from the last three fiscal years ending before the freeze or any year subsequent to the freeze.

During the Economic Stabilization Program, even a hospital that lost money during its base period was not allowed to raise prices enough to break-even without being granted an exception by the Cost of Living Council. The situation became worse under the freeze which did not allow total increases at all and virtually no exceptions.

Like most hospitals, Loudon County Memorial Hospital makes up its budget before the beginning of its fiscal year by estimating the number of patients it expects to treat during that fiscal year. Using this occupancy rate, it is able to approximate its operating expenses. The hospital also tries to budget a certain amount of reserves for capital and other non-operating expenses. In past years, if then would set prices at a level to balance these estimated expenses.

Should the occupancy rate go above expectations, Loudon County Memorial Hospital would realize a greater income than expected. Before the Economic Stabilization Program went into effect, the hospital would use for such things as defraying expenses for charity care, new construction, new equipment, or as a contingency for emergency expenditures. Should occupancy rates dip unexpectedly in succeeding years, the hospital could call upon these earnings to meet operating expenses.

The Economic Stabilization Program not only makes it difficult for hospitals to accumulate reserves, but also forces many to use up the reserves they do have. During the Economic Stabilization Program, many hospitals were unable to raise prices enough to absorb the full price increases demanded by suppliers of goods and ser-

School Bill On Agenda

Sprol said he has now been informed that there has been a change of opinion on the matter that could present another major problem for the court.

The complete agenda for the meeting is as follows:

Residents

Buying More Insurance

Residents of Loudon County are more heavily insured at the present time than they have ever been.

The trend is attributed, in part, to the fact that most families are earning more than before and are in better shape, economically, enabling them to entangle on this type of protection.

At the same time, they have been providing for their future by putting more money aside as savings.

As a result, ownership of life insurance has reached an all-time high in Loudon County. The total amount in force is now approximately $154 million.

The basic statistics, for the nation at large and for each of the states, come from the Department of Commerce and the Life Insurance Fact Book, recently released.

They show that the bulkward of Americans have set up for themselves in the form of life insurance has grown to the enormous sum of $1,628 billion.

Of this amount, some $29,203 million is on the lives of State of Tennessee residents. In 1962, by way of comparison, the total was $11,583 million.

And this is exclusive of Federal insurance, provided for veterans and others, and insurance issued by fraternal organizations.

In terms of the individual family, the extent of its coverage is almost directly proportional to its income.

Families with bigger earnings have more insurance, as a rule.

On average, ownership by the average family in the state is equivalent to 27.0 months of its net, after-tax earnings, the figures show.

In Loudon County, based upon this yardstick, based upon the average level of earnings locally per family, the amount of life insurance in force in the area comes to approximately $18,730 per family.

Because these suppliers were not under mandatory regulations, their price increases commonly ranged between 10 to 30 percent or more. Hospitals could only raise prices to reflect certain "allowable" cost increases. Allowable cost increases for wage expenses were limited to 3.3 percent of last fiscal year wage expenses and for non-wage expenses (including technology) were limited to 2.7 percent of the last years total expense.

STOLEN CAR RECOVERED—Two wreckers are being used to pull a stolen Blount County car out of Waits Bar Lake near Evans' Boat Dock at Lenoir City last Tuesday after the car was discovered by Willard Parks of Loudon just off the end of a new boat ramp built last summer.

Stolen Car Found In Lake

A car that was stolen in Blount County eight months ago was found by a Loudon fisherman in the Waits Bar embayment of the Tennessee River just below Fort Loudoun Dam last Tuesday afternoon.

The car, a 1965 Ford Fairlane 500, was stolen from Wayne Giles of Maryville last March. It was found Tuesday by Willard Parks, Pine Top Street, Loudon while he was fishing just below new boat ramp just north of Evans Boat Dock near Lenoir City. Mr.

Parks told Lenoir City Policeman J. C. Hammett that he was fishing in the same spot two weeks ago when his boat hit something but he did not know what it was. He said he decided to go back and see after the water level was dropped. He did and found the car.

The Loudon County Rescue Squad was called to assist in recovering the car, which was pulled from the lake by a new heavy duty wrecker from Duggan Wrecker Service.

Officers at the scene said that the car was intact and had not been stripped. It had apparently been driven into the water from the boat ramp, officers said.

COMMUNITY COMMITTEE ELECTIONS

Farmers throughout Loudon County have been mailed ballots listing the candidates for their ASCS Community Committee posts for next year, according to Fred Pippa, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

Other County Committee members, Ralph Eldridge and Bill Henderson, join me in urging Loudon County farmers to take part in the election. Vote and return the ballots to the County ASCS Office by December 3rd, the Chairman stated.

Mr. Pippa stated that voters should follow these steps to make sure their ballots are kept secret and are eligible for counting:

- 1-Vote for 1, 2 or 3 candidates.
- 2-Place marked ballot inside plain envelope and seal.
- 3-Place plain envelope inside certification envelope and seal.
- 4-Sign and date back of certification envelope.
- 5-Certification envelope must be returned or postmarked.

Final Payment Public Law 974 Funds Received

Final payment for the 1973-74 School Year under Public Law 974 (Federal Connected Children, or children of parents who work on Federal Projects) has been received by Lenoir City Schools in the amount of $11,355.00. The initial payment of $39,823 was received last May and was based on 52 percent of the entitlement. The final payment increased the percentage of entitlement from 52 percent to 66 percent. It is presumed that the remaining two percent of the entitlement will be paid at a later date. The entire entitlement was held up several months last year when the President impounded all federal funds for Public Law No. 974 except for those parents who lived on and worked on federal projects.

The total entitlement for Lenoir City Schools last year was based on an Average Daily Attendance of 364 children who were present every day school was in session times the rate of $215.07. Had the program been funded at 100 percent, we would have received $78,265.48; however, Congress funded the program on 66 percent of entitlement. Since 66 percent of the entitlement has now been paid, it is quite probable that the remaining two percent may yet be paid at some future date.

Enrollment cards are now being received for parents of children who work on Federal Projects during the 1973-74 school year. If you are one of the parents who work on Federal Projects and have children in Lenoir City Schools, be sure you file an enrollment card for each child in attendance at a Lenoir City School.

New Regulations For Issuing Work Permits

New regulations for the issuing of Work Permits for all under 18 years of age make it mandatory for Permits to be approved by the State Commissioner of Labor before the Permit is given to the employer. In the past it has been possible for a Superintendent of Schools to issue the Work Permit for the approval by the Department of Labor. However, this regulation has now been changed by the Department of Labor and the Employer and Minor must wait for the approved copy to come from the State Department of Labor. New regulations now require the Superintendent of Schools to submit the employment and age certificate to the Department of Labor in triplicate as well as one copy of the Employer's Intent and the Doctor's Statement Form. The Department of Labor will, after this is done, approve the Work Permit. This will cause a delay in the process of getting a Work Permit and Minors and Employers should take this into consideration in meeting the requirements for a Work Permit.

Are You Using Electric Space Heaters?

Gas, oil, and coal for home heating are in short supply. As a result, many people are switching to electric space heaters. And this is causing three serious problems.

- Using electric space heaters for the first time can easily overload the transformer serving your home. It could blow out, leaving you and possibly several neighbors totally without power.
- Using an electric space heater in an un-insulated home is practically like burning money, since the heat escapes almost as rapidly as it's produced.
- In a home with inadequate wiring, electric space heaters can cause circuits to overheat to the burning point. Your house could burn down.

These Are The Problems -- Here Are The Solutions.

- Call us before buying an electric space heater. We'll see that the transformer delivers the electricity you need.
- Insulate your home. Otherwise, your electric bill will be enormously expensive. Caulk around window and door frames, and weatherstrip outside doors. Since greatest heat loss occurs through the ceiling, insulating it with at least six inches of fibrous insulation should be your first step.
- As a fire prevention measure, have an electrician check your home's fuse box and wiring. And never put metal objects behind fuses, or use a fuse or circuit breaker that is larger than the circuit calls for.

SO CALL US BEFORE YOU BUY. WE'LL HELP EVERYWAY WE CAN.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Many of our people have from time to time worked on the many TVA projects in Tennessee and many of them worked on one of the first dams built in Tennessee. This was the Norris Dam which we have a picture of made on April 12, 1938 as the dam was being built. We thought that many of our readers would enjoy this unique old picture.

Of course, the passing 37 years have brought many changes to the Norris Dam area and today it is a very beautiful area and is widely known for recreation of many types. These were lean years and the magnitude of a project of this size brought people to work together from many parts of our area as well as other states.

We have a couple of other pictures this week and both of them are of very well known Loudon area people.

The first one is of a couple of chaps who grew up in the Fourth Community a few years ago. They are Leon Bright and Tom White, who are cousins. Both of these boys are from well known Loudon County families. Many will remember Tom when he sang with an East Tennessee Quartet which had a radio program sponsored by the old Norris Motor Co. of Knoxville.

The other picture we have is of Errol Arden, also a well known boy who grew up on the farm. This picture was made on a Loudon County farm in the '30's.

people directions in traveling as has so many other landmarks. We have made quite an extensive search in the last few years but have failed to find any pictures. Maybe there are some, but possibly time has elapsed since their being made and someone who might have them didn't have any reason to keep them after the industry ceased operation. This happens many times with old pictures.

IN PARTING

Guy goes into a restaurant and says to the waitress, "I want seven coffees, four regular, one black, one without sugar and one without cream, and the waitress says, "To Go?"

In a small town, the sheriff might get a frantic call, "Do you want me as sheriff or yet?" he asked. "Both come the reply. "We can't get our dogs mouth open and there is a burglar in it."

Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

Tips Offered On Driving At 50 MPH

TVA's Hazard Control Branch has drawn up a list of suggestions for employees driving at the 50 mph maximum highway speed that now applies on Government travel. These precautions may be helpful to other drivers observing the 50 mph maximum to conserve fuel during the energy crisis.

1. Allow additional cushion or space between you and the car in front in order to accommodate tailgaters or fast closing vehicles in case of emergency slowdown or stop.

2. Maintain continuous check on vehicles following you in order to take evasive action in the event of an impending emergency.

3. Except when passing vehicles, drive to the right on dual lane highways particularly interstate and other high speed expressways. Blend with the flow of traffic when possible.

4. Allow additional time for overtaking and passing slower moving vehicles.

5. Signal driving maneuvers, such as changing lanes, slowing down, turning, and stopping, well in advance of actual execution.

6. On two-lane highways encourage faster moving following traffic to pass when conditions are safe.

7. When entering or crossing dual lane and divided highways, be sure that a fast moving vehicle is not concealed from view by slower traffic.

8. Maintain exterior of car in a clean condition so that it can be seen under poor light conditions. Do not permit dust, grime, and mud to accumulate on vehicle.

9. Keep all lamp lenses clear and clean—particularly tailights, stoplights, and reflector surfaces—so that your vehicle will be clearly visible to cars approaching from the rear.

10. Use headlights not only under adverse weather and driving conditions—dawn, dusk, rain, fog, etc.—but use at all times during highway travel.

11. Start your trip earlier—allow more time for traveling in your destination.

12. Take a break at least every two hours on long trips.

13. Check your TVA vehicle and yourself—both must be in good operating condition before you drive.

14. Drive defensively so as to prevent accidents in spite of the incorrect actions of others or adverse driving conditions.

Saving Energy Starts At Home

In the face of a threatened national energy shortage, the major opportunities for consumers to save energy in the home are in more careful use of heating and major home appliances, according to the Tennessee Valley Authority.

TVA supplies electricity generated mainly from coal and waterpower, and it expects to have an adequate supply through the winter heating season. But officials point out that energy needs are so interrelated that significant savings in any form of energy consumption can help improve the national situation.

Consumer information pamphlets on ways to save on electricity are available from TVA and from most of the region's municipal and cooperative local electric systems.

"If you're going to find savings you have to look where the power is being used, and over 90 percent of home consumption is concentrated in a few major uses," says Paul S. Button, TVA director of power marketing.

"Most of the increase in home use has been part of the basic improvement in this region's living standards, as more families have been able to afford ranges, refrigerators, water heaters, and room coolers," he said.

"Today residential power use is growing at a somewhat slower rate since most families now have the basic appliances. But it is continuing to grow, and there are indications in some areas that shortages of fuel for home heating will increase the demand for electricity."

Winter heating accounts for more than half the energy used in the typical home, whether the heat comes from electricity, gas, oil, coal, or firewood, Button said.

"Almost two-thirds of this region's home use of electricity is for heating, water heaters, and air conditioning. Add lighting ranges, refrigerators and freezers, clothes washers and dryers, and the total rises above 90 percent."

Because heating and cooling make up such a large part of the total TVA and local electric systems have concentrated much of their energy conservation efforts on more effective use of insulation and other measures that can save on these uses of electricity—setting thermostats at conservative levels, installing storm windows and doors, caulking to keep heat in at night (and vice versa in summer).

Recommended insulation standards are being proposed for use in power distributor regulations and city, county, and state building codes. Training programs are being established in heat pump installation and maintenance, because of the large energy savings potential in the inherent efficiency of the heat pump.

We have been interested in watching the progress on the work on Interstate connectors down at Robinson Springs I guess we have been recalling all the interesting things about this area. Possibly highlighted by the old Carding Machine plant that was in this location for many years, and it has been many years ago. It is too bad some pictures were not made of this old time industry, which from what I can learn was quite elaborate in its day. It is very modern in its day. We recall the old building and everyone's geographic reference to this as the Carding Machine area. This terminology was used to give

Several Local Homes Hit By Burglars

In the wake of a series of home breakins Sheriff Freeman Russell this week urged county residents to take extra security precautions when leaving their homes.

Sheriff Russell said that each year the frequency of home breakins increases between Thanksgiving and Christmas and suggests that home owners be sure that all windows and doors are locked when they are away from home and when away for extended periods to let his office know when the home will be unattended. He said the number of patrols in residential areas is being increased on an around the clock basis to try and hold the number of burglaries down as much as possible.

"These people don't use a set pattern. The breakins come at all times of the day or night and an increasing number are pulled off during the day," the Sheriff said, "and guns, television sets, money and Christmas gifts are among the favorite items taken."

Last Wednesday the home of Billy Goose Hensley, Rt. 1, Lenoir City, was entered by someone who had a key that fit a side door in the home. Taken was four $25 U.S. Savings Bonds, a movie camera, four or five silver dollars, and several packs of cigarettes.

According to the report filed by Deputy Jake Chapman, Deputy Kenneth Brown investigated a breakin at the home of Mrs. Lou Crawley, Rt. 1, Loudoun where the burglar entered through a rear window. Taken was a 30-30 rifle and a 12 gauge Winchester automatic shotgun.

The home of State Representative Benny Stafford in Eaton Forest Subdivision was broken into on Thanksgiving day. The report filed by Deputy Brown listed four guns as stolen. They included a Colt .357, Smith and Wesson .307, a 12 gauge over and under shotgun and a 12 gauge Winchester automatic. Entrance was by forcing open the front door.

Another Thanksgiving burglary took place at the George R. Brown home in Forrest Heights Subdivision. Deputy Chapman said a sliding glass door in the basement of the home was forced open.

Taken was a 25 inch Zenith Color Console television set and a 22 caliber revolver of blue steel with white handles. Earlier on Nov. 23, a report at the jail showed that thieves entered the office of WBLC Radio and took about 1000 45 Bends, a movie camera, four or five silver dollars, and several packs of cigarettes.

Loudoun will have a Christmas Parade. The event will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 8 and will be sponsored by the Loudoun Band Boosters Club.

Both the Loudoun High School and Loudoun Junior High Bands will participate in the parade. It will include floats, other marching units and mobile units.

Prizes will be given for the first and second best floats in the parade. Band Booster official Charles T. Jones said any float or other entry will be welcome to enter. Those wishing to enter should contact Mr. Jones at 459-4406.

Of course the star of any Christmas Parade, Santa Claus himself will appear. Other units will include floats by the Sweetwater Valley Citizen's Band Club, possibly Union Carbide, Pete's marching majorettes, the VFW, the Tops Club and others.

Mr. Jones said that anyone who had floats in the Lenoir City parade Monday of this week would be welcome also.

The parade route will be as follows: Lineup at the American Legion Building. Proceed down Grove Street to Wharf Street, South on Wharf to West Street. Across Mulberry to Cedar Street. North on Cedar, back across Grove Street to the Courthouse lawn where the bands will give a concert of Christmas music.

A proposed bill for the popular election of Loudoun County School Board and the appointment of the Superintendent of Schools by County Court in its regular monthly meeting Monday night.

Squire J.J. Blair made a motion for the court to accept the bill and move toward placing it on a ballot to see what the people want.

His motion died for lack of a second.

SQUIRE JAMES A. Hartsook said he would like to have time to study the bill further and asked that it be placed on the agenda for next month's meeting.

In the public discussion before the court action on the agenda, Spencer Watkins of Loudoun told the court he believed the people in a democracy should have a chance to vote on the proposal of an elected school board.

Commenting on Squire J.D. Connor's vote against the proposal because no one had contacted him about the change, Mr. Watkins said if Squire Connor would check the petitions presented in the court he would find many names from the Second District (Mr. Connor's District) asking for the change.

Squire Connor voted against setting up the committee to draw up the bill at a special meeting of the court last month.

Squire Connor said since the last meeting several people had discussed the proposal with him. However, he did not elaborate on the discussions.

THE COMMITTEE which drew up the bill was composed of nine members. Squire Henry Foster, Boyd Duckworth and J.G. Hudson represent county court. Don Brown, Mrs. Beulah Davis and Lee Thompson represent the public. Ted Wampler, James H. Bailey and John Hagler are from the Loudoun County School Board.

The court also declined to consider a reorganization of the county highway department.

Tennessee Blacktop plant, says as long as Hot Mix complies with all state health and pollution laws and operates the plant as they said, he would not oppose their being given relief until the zoning hearing. He added that he and other farmers in the area could not stand further damage to their water supplies.

A REQUEST from the Hospital Board that the court determine a regular basis on which to reimburse the hospital for the ambulance service deficit was referred to the budget committee.

Squire Connor indicated that the service has a deficit of $13,506.93. The court appropriated $21,000 for the service through last March 31.

The court turned down a request from Lenoir City to change a proposed contract concerning the development of the Fort Loudoun Industrial Park next to Eaton Forest.

Lenoir City had asked that 1) a portion limiting the county's share of the costs to $37,000, 2) an agreement on how any in-lieu-of-tax money would be divided between county and city, and 3) a section giving the county the right to audit the city's records of receipts and expenditures of the park be omitted from the contract.

The court, however, approved the contract without the changes, subject to further negotiation.

County Judge Harvey Sprad announced that bids for the construction of the Loudoun County Justice Center will be opened at 2 p.m. next Tuesday, Dec. 11.

HE ALSO reported that recent rulings indicate that revenue sharing funds cannot be used for matching the Law Enforcement Planning Agency grant because all the money is federal funds.

Tom McNabb and Gary Hensley were named by Lenoir City and Loudoun respectively, to represent the county on the Rules Justice Center Co-ordinating Committee.

Jack Henry of Lenoir City was named to the committee.

by the other four members. Squires Iroy Bledsoe and Hartsook represent county court.

Court also held over to the next month's meeting a request to vote on whether to approve a road in the first district from Highway 72 to Tellico Dam.

AN AGREEMENT was made with TVA several years ago that TVA would build a road across or near the dam if the county would construct a road on the south side of the river.

The contract has been held by TVA while County Court was asked to allow a provision saying TVA would not be held responsible for the road unless the Tellico project is completed.

Judge Sprad said TVA had contacted him and said its lawyers have now agreed to sign the contract as is. Court members wanted time to refresh their memories on the agreements.

In the continuing wrangle over the Mid-East Community Action Agency, Squire Foster made a motion to request several documents be referred to the Loudoun County Court. Clerk's office noon, Tuesday, Dec. 4.

SQUIRE FOSTER's motion asked for a list of members of the board of directors and all committees of the agency, 2) a copy of the minutes of all meetings since May 8, 4) a copy of all the agendas for those meetings, and 6) a copy of the publication of public notices of agency meetings.

Squire Duckworth seconded the motion, but Judge Sprad ruled the motion was out of order since Squire Foster had not specifically requested it be placed on the agenda.

He added that if all members of the court agreed to consider the motion or if the court wished to change its rules, he would consider the motion.

Squire Foster then made a motion to change the rules of (Continued on page 7)

Fort Loudoun Savings And Loan Opens

The Fort Loudoun Savings and Loan Association opened Monday in the General Lenoir Hotel building at the corner of Broadway and A Street in Lenoir City.

The association is one of 12 such businesses chartered by the state recently under the 1953 Builders and Loan Association Act.

For years the state had not issued charters under the act, but now Commissioner Halbert Carter issued the charter and the legislature has passed several amendments to the act strengthening regulations governing the operations of the savings and loans.

Harry Wampler, local business, civic and political leader, is the chairman of the board of the business. Edwin A. Arnold of Loudoun is the secretary and treasurer. W. Broady Harrison of Loudoun is the president and manager.

Other members of the board of directors are: Bob Cusick, Gary Lindner, Bob Porter, Dr. Walter Shea, and Bland Windley of Lenoir City. Bob McEachern, and Don Cantel of Loudoun, and Bill Bright and William H. Russell of Philadelphia.

The firm will deal completely with first mortgage loans and will accept deposits which will pay the depositor higher interest rates than those offered by regular banks.

Pond Creek Water Polluted By Oil

Many farmers in the Pond Creek area from Philadelphia to Loudoun have reported heavy pollution of Pond Creek and other springs and underground water tables apparently resulting from an asphalt plant near Philadelphia.

In a special meeting last week, The Loudoun County Regional Planning Commission recommended that Building Commissioner Harry Neal issue stop work orders to two asphalt manufacturing firms, Tennessee Blacktop Company and Hot Mix, Inc., at the Vulcan Material Rock Quarry near Philadelphia.

Sources since have reported that Tennessee Blacktop had been closed by the State Health and Pollution agencies for polluting oil to drain into area which then allowed it to gain entrance to the water supply for area residents and farms. Some farmers reported serious damage to poultry cattle and dairy operations.

The second firm Hot Mix, Inc. was in process of setting up their plant in the quarry but was not yet in operation. Both firms were found to be in violation of local zoning laws. Hot Mix was given temporary relief from the stop work order Monday night by County Court. A change in the zoning law to clear the firm's operation is now pending a public hearing slated for January 7, but the court's vote (Continued on Page 5)

3 Lenoir City Men Held For Attempted Murder

Three Lenoir City men were charged at Knox County Jail with allegedly attempting to murder a Knox County youth at his home on Nov. 28.

Charged were Michael Glendon, with felonious assault with intent to murder; Jimmy Hicks, two counts of felonious assault with intent to murder and breaking and entering; and Franklin Snyder, two counts of felonious assault with intent to murder and breaking and entering.

Deputy James Gene Everett and Gerald Whaley said the three men allegedly pistol whipped Burley Morgan, Baker Town Road in a wooded area near his home.

The detectives said Hicks and Snyder allegedly forced their way into Morgan's home, bound his mother and then forced Morgan to go with them to a wooded area where the incident occurred.

Glendon was allegedly waiting in the wooded area for Morgan to be brought from the house, the detectives said.

Glendon's home was set at $25,000. Hicks' at $20,000 and Snyder's at $15,000.

HAVE A SAFE AND MERRY CHRISTMAS

I would like to extend to you a few safety rules as we get ready to decorate our homes for Christmas. Remember that a fresh Christmas tree is green and the needles are hard to pull from the branches.

MRS. GARLIN WHITE, Greenback, busily works on a pillow she began making at the Latch Hook Rug Workshop held Thursday, November 29 at the Lenoir City Rescue Squad Building. Techniques of design and construction of latch hook rug and pillows were demonstrated by Mrs. Bonnie F. Sheeley. For a free pamphlet on latch-hooked rugs and pillows call the Agriculture Extension Office 458-2671.

If you decide to use electric lights this year, use no more than three sets of lights per extension cord. Never use electric lights on a metallic tree. Although safe when used according to manufacturer's directions, metallic trees can become charged with electricity from faulty lights. Then any person touching a branch could be electrocuted. To avoid this danger, use colored spotlights above or beside a tree, never fastened onto it! Keep "bobbing" lights away from children. Such lights are hazardous because their bright colors and bubbling movement can tempt curious children to break candle-shaped glass, which can cut, and attempt to drink liquid which contains a hazardous chemical. In homes with small children, take special care to avoid decorations that are sharp or breakable; keep trimmings with small removable parts out of reach of children, and avoid trimmings that resemble candy or food. A child could eat them! Don't burn the Christmas wrappings in a fireplace. A burn fire may result for wrapping can ignite suddenly and burn fiercely.

Appeal Of Revenue Sharing Could Get County More Funds

An appeal to the U.S. Treasury Department by County Judge Harvey Sproul may result in Loudon County receiving considerably more federal revenue sharing funds than was originally estimated by the federal government.

According to Judge Sproul the County was being short-changed because Federal Treasury Department

Officials in Washington were using erroneous data to compute Loudon County's share of revenue sharing funds. Judge Sproul immediately contacted Tommy Wilson, Field Representative for the County Technical Assistance Service of the University of Tennessee and working with that agency compiled corrected fiscal data and other information. This data was used as the basis for a formal appeal to the U.S. Treasury Department and should result in additional federal funds being received by the County.

Federal revenue sharing funds are allocated to counties using formulae which take into account population, general tax effort and per capita personal income. In checking the Treasury Department figures, Judge Sproul determined that the government had used erroneous property tax figures as a basis for their calculations. "They had correct population and per capita income figures, but the property tax figures were more than $41,400.00 lower than the actual figures," Judge Sproul said. "I hope that by substituting the correct figures in the formulae the county's entitlement will be increased substantially," he continued.

According to Judge Sproul revenue sharing funds are deposited with the County Trustee in a Federal Revenue Sharing Trust Fund until appropriated for county purposes by the Quarterly County Court. Under Federal law the funds may be used by the court for operating and maintenance expenditures in areas of: public safety, environmental protection, public transportation, health, recreation, libraries, social services for the aged and poor and for capital-outlay expenditures.

Judge Sproul indicated that the revenue sharing funds will be invested until they are needed to finance appropriations. Interest earned on these funds will be used for the same purposes as the revenue sharing funds.

D. W. McKinnis, Jr., Executive Director of the Tennessee County Services Association complimented Judge Sproul for his efforts in securing additional federal funds for Loudon County. "Judge Sproul was in the forefront of the fight for property tax relief during the last General Assembly which resulted in more than $30 million in state funds being returned to local governments to help stabilize the property tax rate," McKinnis said.

"The efforts made by Judge Sproul to get additional federal funds for the county will benefit the people of Loudon County for years to come," he added.

Most Circuit Court Cases Are Settled

Out of eight cases set for trial in Circuit Court this past week only one was heard by a jury. In the first two weeks of the four week session only two cases have been tried. All others have either been settled out of court or continued until the next term.

The case tried by jury was heard last Tuesday. It was an auto accident damage claim with Freddie Grundstaff Marcell claiming damages from Janice Gray, Terry and Ruby Gray. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendants Terry and Gray. Cases settled included John Fuller, Floyd Padgett, Joe Arthur Padgett, Jr. and John F. Fuller as next friend and father of John Fuller, Jr., a minor vs. Charles K. Powers and David Powers. Wilson G.

Belcher and Martha Belcher vs. Jim S. Barry, auto accident; State of Tennessee vs. Fred A. Walker, condemnation; State of Tennessee vs. Myrtle H. Graham, James H. Graham and Peggy G. Bates, condemnation.

A non-suit was taken in the case of Larry C. Steed vs. Lay and Conway and Wayne Cardwell, false arrest. Continued cases include Loudon County vs. Tom G. Henry Jr. and wife, Katherine Henry, condemnation, and auto accident cases of Phyllis Johnson vs. Michael R. Wier, and James L. Johnson vs. Michael R. Wier. Nine more cases are still set for trial before the current term is slated to adjourn on December 13.

Woodworking Class Set

Classroom training in woodworking and other occupations is available for 35 persons in Loudon, Morgan, Roane and Scott Counties under a Federal project announced this week by Congressman John Duncan. A Manpower Development and Training Act Project has been jointly approved by the Department of Labor and the Department of Health Education and Welfare in the amount of $19,100, the announcement said.

Training positions have been allocated for the project up to Oct. 4, 1974. Positions will be available for 20 woodworking machine operator trainees in a 26-week program and for 15 clerk stenographer trainees in a 48-week program. It was reported by a spokesman from the Harriman office of the Tennessee Department of Employment Security, which will administer the program. Those interested may apply at the Harriman office or at the Lenoir City or Loudon Neighbors Service Center. An Employment Security office representative comes to the Lenoir City Center from 9 to 11 each second and fourth Wednesdays and 11 the Loudon Center on the first and third Wednesdays.

The Tennessee State Employment Service determines the need for workers in the occupations in which training is provided, refers, interviews and counsels applicants for training, administers the payment of allowances, and provides job placement and assistance to trainees upon completion of the course.

Pond Creek Water Polluted By Oil

(Continued from Page 1) will allow them to start operation immediately if they are in complete compliance with all local and state health and pollution criteria.

James R. Proops of the Loudon County Health Department reported that the two hot mix plants did not have the required state air and water quality control permits and that the one already in operation had been notified that it did not meet state pollution standards. Proops also noted that one former had complained that pollution from the site had made his chickens ill.

Building Commissioner Neal stated that on subsequent visits to the site he and Proops had identified an oily residue coming from a nearby spring. Planning commissioner Ross Wilkerson expressed the opinion of many of the members when he said "Everybody here wants 1-75 built as soon as possible, but the people in the area should be protected and the law should be obeyed."

"If these companies had come to us beforehand, we could have worked out a solution, that would have been satisfactory to everyone. Instead, they went in there without telling anybody, and now we all have a serious problem on our hands."

In other action, the commission recommended the amendment of the Zoning Regulation to allow temporary use permits and aerial reconnaissance for the operation of cement and asphalt plants in agricultural and commercial areas. The action was taken to make it possible for contractors working on roads to locate as close as possible to the construction site and still not infringe on the rights of nearby property owners.

The planning commission also heard a report from County Judge Harvey Sproul on the progress which has been made in the development of the Industrial Park near Lenoir City. The Commission recommended that any land at the location of the site not already zoned for industrial use be re-zoned for that purpose.

An invitation is extended to the entire community, especially those interested in what is happening in present day Chile, the Pastor Rev. W. H. Harter said.

The Rev. Joseph T. Eldridge, a United Methodist missionary to Chile, returned to the United States in October, 1973 for a furlough. Born in Loudon, he attended Tennessee Wesleyan College at Albion and graduated in 1967 with a bachelor of arts degree in social science. He attended Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas, and received the bachelor of divinity degree. He has been youth director of Christ United Methodist Church, St. Petersburg, Fla., and Urban Park United Methodist Church in Dallas. He has been active in the peace movement and has served as a Headstart worker. He is a ministerial member of the Holston Conference.

During his service in Chile, he was assigned to work in the Juan Antonio Rios Methodist Church and the Third Methodist Church, both in greater Santiago. He also taught at the Comunidad Teologica Evangelica, an ecumenical community that is designed to prepare pastors and laymen for service in local churches in that area. He has worked closely with the concerned Committee which is trying to help church people in the United States understand the complexity of the relationships between the two hemispheres, particularly in travel at a maximum of 50 M.P.H.

Bell Starts Energy Conservation

South Central Bell has responded to the Federal Government's request to conserve energy by broadening its continuing program of conservation, according to E. W. Clark, Manager for the Company in Loudon.

"We acted positively months ago when it became apparent that energy supply could become a major problem in this country," said Clark. "We then instituted procedures to conserve energy in four major areas: gasoline, electricity, heating fuels and diesel fuel. As a result of the President's recent speech, we have strengthened these measures even further."

Clark outlined six steps the Company will be taking to further conserve energy:

All Company vehicles to travel at a maximum of 50 M.P.H.

Worktime temperatures in all heated offices to be reduced to 68 degrees. Air conditioned offices to be kept no cooler than 78 degrees.

Heat supplies to seldom-used rooms and storerooms to be shut off. Where a danger of freezing exists, a minimum temperature of 40 degrees to be maintained.

Garage areas to be kept no warmer than 50 degrees during winter.

Gas and oil heating plants in Company buildings are being checked to be sure they are operating at maximum efficiency.

When areas are unoccupied, lights will be turned out wherever possible, and the Company will continue to emphasize conserving electricity in all of its operations.

"In addition," Clark said, "employees throughout the Bell System are being requested to cooperate with the energy conservation program at work, on the road, and in the home."

Roy Acuff Endorses Court Modernization

Roy Acuff, country music entertainer and former candidate for Governor of Tennessee, this week joined the group of well-known state-citizens who have expressed the urgent need for court modernization in Tennessee.

Acuff said, "Too many court cases in our state are delayed far too long because of overcrowded court dockets. Our judicial district follows a pattern started in 1870. We must redraw them. There is legislation before our State senate to do this. Governor Dunn and I, support this legislation. But unless it is passed next January it will be almost impossible to redraw the districts for another eight years."

Acuff urged, "Every Tennesseean should write the state legislators in their district and encourage the quick passage of the court redistricting bill."

Acuff explained, "This will greatly help in reducing the crime. Case workloads will be distributed evenly. Quicker trials will be possible. Money will be saved by people who are involved." The country singer added, "A whole slew of benefits and improvements will result if this vitally important legislation is passed."

Roy Acuff, who recently passed the age of 70, is the oldest living member of the original Grand Ole Opry cast, having joined in 1938. Today, he's the unofficial host of the famed country music show and has performed in London.

Board Action on Student Admission Overruled. U.S. District Judge L. Clure Morton recently voided a regulation of the Tennessee County Board of Education and issued an injunction calling for admitting to school attendance a youth indicted on a charge of murder in the death of his father. The Board policy in question denied admission to the schools of the county of persons indicted on a major felony until such time as the case is settled in favor of the student. The Judge dismissed the plaintiffs request for punitive damages.

Court Defers Action On School Board Bill

SEVERAL MINUTES of discussion led to a vote on the motion. Squire Blair voted no and Squire Foster said that was far enough. The vote was not completed, the matter was dropped and placed on the agenda for the January meeting.

The discussion, although terse, was not the heated argument of previous meetings on the Mid-East Agency.

A.W. Carpenter's request for a rezoning of four acres of land from industrial to commercial was postponed to allow the Planning Commission time to consult with other property owners in the area.

Squire Hudson heatedly declared that "it takes the Planning Commission six months to do anything."

Squire Blair added this country "is getting to be just like Russia. We own property, pay taxes, and a bunch of other people tell us what to do with it."

SQUIRE HUDSON said Mr. Carpenter had told him Monday that the Planning Commission had said there was no need for him to attend court. He said Mr. Carpenter's understanding was that favorable action would be taken on his request.

Squire Connor made a motion seconded by Squire Curtis Williams to hold a public hearing on Mr. Carpenter's request at 9 a. m. of the January meeting of the court. The motion was passed unanimously.

Judge Sproul and State Planner Dave Booher explained that the only reason for the delay was an attempt to ensure everyone concerned a fair chance to be heard.

There was additional grumbling when the Planning Commission did not recommend any action on the permanent closing of the wooden bridge and road near Robertson Springs.

MR. BOOHER again explained the commission wanted to check with all property owners involved and get their feelings on the matter.

Road Commissioner Lillard Hodson requested some action on the matter saying there was some insurance money involved and "we need some sort of answer."

Judge Sproul pointed out that insurance companies are licensed by the state and "aren't going too far."

A request to close part of the old Loudon Road at the John Browder property was agreed to in principle. The final approval will come after other access is provided in the area.

JUDGE SPROUL reported that the federal government is now considering legislation for land-use planning on a national basis.

He commented that such action would remove the planning further from a local level and slow action even further.

The court heard a report from the Purchasing Committee that the low bid for a grader for Road Commissioner Joe Greenway was for $26,054 from Nixon Machinery and Supply Company for a Wabco grader.

Judge Sproul was authorized to sign necessary papers with Greenback and Philadelphia for the use of the Solid Waste Transfer Station at 75 cents per person.

The contracts are necessary to receive state grants for the two cities.

SEVERAL BUDGET amendments were approved for an additional $10,000 for the county garage.

Squire Duckworth originally voted no on the amendments, explaining he "wanted to know what the $10,000 is for."

Purchasing Agent Armold (Buddy) Jenkins explained the garage originally received $10,000 to operate on until money began coming in from work done.

That appropriation was made in June. The garage had mechanics working in July and August, but it was late August before the garage was in full operation.

The original appropriation has been used, Mr. Jenkins explained.

AFTER SOME discussion the squires seemed to be generally agreed that the county is getting its money's worth from the garage.

On a re-vote, Duckworth voted yes, making the budget amendment vote unanimous.

In the public discussion section, Earl Rhyno of Greenback said that the recently imposed 10-ton load limit on a portion of Old Niles Ferry Road at Greenback left him no way to get his trucks to his home where he has his shop.

Whyne says he operates a trucking business and his trucks weigh more than 10 tons when empty. He said he is aware that the trucks are hard on the rural roads and he keeps them off the county roads whenever possible.

He said at one time he was able to keep off Old Niles Ferry except for about one-quarter mile, but property owners had since fenced so close to the pavement on an alternate road he could no longer use it.

RHYNE STATED that he got no sympathy from Road Commissioner Joe Greenway and said if Greenway could break the law by doing work on private roads he felt he could violate the load limit law.

Greenway replied that since the court action demanding that Road Commissioners follow the state law in not providing services on private roads he has complied except in a few cases, one of which is a road where four people live. It is a mail route.

This road came up later in the court meeting when a land owner asked that the county consider accepting it for a public road. That matter was referred to the Planning Commission.

On Rhyno's problem, Judge

Sproul said that he would place the matter on the January court docket which would allow the court to take whatever action they might wish concerning the problem.

SQUIRE J. J. BLAIR reported that he had been contacted by Ben Robertson, who for 25 or 40 years has been trustee of a trust fund established by Newton Bogart, a railroader who resided in the county in the mid 1800's. Mr. Robertson told Squire Blair he wished to resign from the trusteeship effective January 3.

Blair explained that Bogart left the $2500 trust to be used to help poor people in the county and the will stipulated the county court would appoint the trustee.

He said Robertson's father had been the first trustee. Squire Blair indicated that the money was now held in a local bank and the trust was apparently available for use under the terms of Bogart's will.

Blair turned the matter over to Judge Sproul who is to research the will and report to the next meeting of the court.

WORK ON THE LONG AGENDA began with several reports coming from Judge Sproul. He reported that the county had received an award from the state for adopting Personnel Policies and an overall personnel program.

Approval of a grant from the state toward the purchase of an ambulance for the county Ambulance Service was announced by the judge. He said that the grant would pay 75 percent of the purchase price of a new emergency ambulance for the county.

A problem has cropped up which is temporarily holding up planning for the proposed Overlook Mental Health Center that is to be built in Loudon County the judge said.

He reported that the State Mental Health Trustees are not happy with a resolution that would have a Board of Directors appointed locally to direct the operations of the hospital. He said he hoped that this problem could be resolved soon and the plans be advanced quickly.

UNANIMOUS APPROVAL of a motion to exempt the county from the Local Government Liability Act which removed governmental immunity for certain negligent acts of county employees was approved.

The act, which will go into effect Jan. 1, 1974, will make the county liable for up to $40,000 damages of claims.

The motion to exempt the county from the act was made by Squires Blair and Jim Harrook. Judge Sproul said that many county judges felt that if most counties and cities exempted themselves from the act the State Legislature might pass another law, but he felt the court was correct in their action at this time.

Speaking of Sports

By DANNY GIBSON
Sports Editor

The high school basketball format, changed just two years ago to a Large and Small school classification, is fixing to take on another alteration. The proposal is to have three divisions of hoop play over the state as in football.

Lenoir City High School athletic officials introduced the idea of basketball on the divisional level of A, AA, and AAA in accordance to individual school enrollments two years ago to the TSSAA. But some how the bill was altered to a two division vote when the final voting by TSSAA member schools was taken and the Board of Control put their seal on the issue.

Unsatisfied AA schools, those with enrollments of 451-1000, felt they were no better off in the two division set-up as they were included in the Large classification of the state prep basketball picture. Thus after two years of the misfortune the double-A schools are finally being heard and agreed with by other schools across the state in all three enrollment brackets.

The East Tennessee high school coaches met Saturday at Knoxville Bearden High School in a regional TSSAA business meeting. The coaches voted in favor of the plan for classifying the basketball programs of the state into similar branches as enjoyed by the football teams.

The East Tennessee vote was an over whelming 63-18 in favor of three divisions. Regional meetings Monday night in Jackson and this Saturday at Hermitage will give the final feelings of the coaches over the state with the Tennessee Secondary Board of Control left to make the final approval.

The meeting in Jackson Monday night concluded with a vote of 45 to 28 in favor of the move. Bring the count to 108-46 with only Saturday's meeting to count. Therefore unless there is something like a unanimous vote to keep the present system as is the new or what should have been the three classification system introduced two seasons ago will go into effect with the 1974-75 basketball campaign.

Since the move is expected to pass the test among the state coaches with a favorable atmosphere, there will be Class AAA (enrollments of 1001 and higher), Class AA (451-1000), and Class A (450 and under) playoff competition.

This plan would put approximately 157 schools in Class A, 105 schools in Class AA, 106 schools in Class AAA. Class A would be divided into 16 districts and eight regions. Four teams from each district would qualify for the regional tournament. The eight regional winners will qualify for the state tournament. Class AA and Class AAA will be divided into 16 districts and four regions. Two teams from each district will qualify for the regional tournament. Two teams from each region will qualify for an eight team state tournament in both AA and AAA classifications. Class A will have approximately 19 teams per region and Classes AA and AAA will have approximately 26 teams per region.

Presently, there are two state hoop tournaments for Class Large and Small schools in boys and girls play.

Other administrative proposals to be voted on and discussed in regional meetings are as follows with the East Tennessee results of Saturday in parenthesis:

—Favored (43-29) that the Board of Control appoint a committee to prepare a district method of classification for football.

—Favored (64-25) that the boys' state basketball tournament be permanently placed in Middle Tennessee beginning in 1975.

—Voted down (27-51) that schools with only three grades have their classification in football and basketball based on the number of students actually enrolled in grades 10-12.

—Voted down (33-39) that the football playoff be based on the won-lost percentage of games played within the school's classification.

the mid-section of this Tampa back as he and Dean Rowe apply a bruising tackle. Coach Buster Custard's Indians were cheered on by the chants of cheerleaders Pam Bliven, Pam Henson, Gail Moore, Melanie Brakebill, Angie Love, Lisa Murrell, and Kelly Purdy.

Friendsville Hands Greenback Third Loss

The Greenback Cherokees playing without the services of senior center Bill Joe Kyker and Jeff Disney stumbled to Friendsville Tuesday night 71-33.

The Cherokees' 6'6" pivotman, Kyker, suffered a collapsed right lung following practice on Monday and is in

Blount Memorial Hospital. The rangy Kyker is expected to be out of action for about three weeks. Disney, a six foot junior letterman and strong candidate to nail down a starting guard slot left void by the graduation of Greenback's Larry Hitehey and Jo-

Mainer, has left the team. Greenback with no player getting more than nine points trailing 21-6 at the first quarter break and was never able to recover. Mike Reagan had nine points for the Cherokees followed by Tony Linginfelter with seven.

Bank Of Loudon County, Tuff-Coat Remain 1-2 In Independent League

The Bank of Loudon County behind the gunning of Yancy Hampton has stretched their season basketball mark to 7-0 in the Philadelphia Independent Basketball League. Hampton, the former Loudon High School hoop standout, rifled in 42 and 35 points respectively last week as the Bankers outclassed Prospect 106 to 65 and then edged Piney in a barn burner 98-97.

Eddie Jenkins was the best for Prospect with 31 points while Ronnie Starritt took game scoring honors in the Bank Piney shootout with 27 points. Tuff Coat kept their winning pace in holding down second place in the league with a 6-1 record to date. The Tuff-Coat five stopped Bar-Knill 76-52 with David Williams collecting 30 points. Terry Bright had 19 for the losers. Tuff-Coat also had little trouble from Prospect on Thursday night by posting a 73-52 decision. Dwight Quisek was the leading point getter for Tuff-Coat netting 28. Eddie Jenkins was once again the best for Prospect with 16 points. Piney was upset by Luttrell in other league action on Tuesday night. Luttrell's Larry Thomas paced the winners to a close 69-46 victory. Thomas had 31 for the night. Larry Bradshaw and Ronnie Starritt shared scoring honors for Piney with 18 points each. Luttrell also came out the victor in their Thursday night clash with winless Bar-Knill 67-59. Bill Hicks led a balanced Luttrell offense with 14 points. Danny Watkins was the top individual for Bar-Knill with 28 big points.

FALCON'S STOP REAGAN—Greenback's Mike Reagan is stopped on this move to the basket by two Friendsville players. The speedy guard led the Greenback offense with nine points for game.

SHEPHERD DRIVES—Kyle Shepherd takes an offensive rebound and drives into the lane for two points in Tuesday night basketball action at Greenback. The Cherokees playing with out two regulars bowed 71-33.

Loudon Romps By Sweetwater Cage Teams

Loudon raced to a double cage win over outclassed Sweetwater Tuesday night on the losers' home floor. The Loudon Lassies captured a 60-

29 distaff win and the Loudon varsity breezed to a 75-36 triumph.

Both games were played under a steady down pour of rain.

The Sweetwater gymnasium had a severe roof leak at mid-court and at one stage of the girls' contest a total of seven towels were needed to absorb the stream of water. The weather slackened for the boys contest.

The Loudon girls had little problem in running their season mark to 5-2. Debbie Hawkins paced the Lassies with 21 points and Marilyn Smith figured in with another 17 markers as the winners were ahead 34-12 at halftime. Jesse Shubert, who brought a 12.6 season average into the contest, totaled only four for the Lassies but proved just as valuable to her teammates with 13 scoring assists. Loudon hit 26 of 44 shots for a 59.1 percent and the Lassie defense yielded only eight field goals in 28 tries by Sweetwater for a 31.9 percent. Yarker Harrison and Liz Delaney led the team rebounding for Loudon with six and five respectively. Loudon had 33 rebounds with Sweetwater collecting 20.

The Loudon boys vaulted to a 20-12 first half lead and were never headed as they increased their record to 4-3. The Redskins had 10 men in the scoring act for the night. Donnie Thearp led all shooters with 14 points. William Canjmer and Butch Brown followed with 12 and 11 points respectively.

Sophomore "Bumper" Webster got his first start for the Redskin varsity as Coach Hugh Watson seeks to find an accomplished playmaker. To stabilize his sometime erratic team's offensive play. Loudon dominated the game with ease out rebounding Sweetwater 8 to 27 and hitting 26 field goals in the contest as compared to the Wildcats 16.

The Loudon "B" team under the direction of Phillip Betts rolled to their third straight victory 4-63-29 romp. Jim Birkholz led the Loudon junior varsity with 10 points.

Game & Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game and Fish Commission

OPENING WEEKEND OF SMALL GAME SEASON

Small game hunters took to the field in force this past weekend. Thanksgiving Day was opening day for quail and rabbit hunters. According to Bud Howell of Loudon, quail hunting was good during the opening weekend. Bud and Berny Franklin of Lenoir City, while hunting Friday, located four coveys and bagged a total of 10 quail.

Steve Cavett and Kyle Cowers of Loudon hunted together on Friday and bagged 12 quail out of three coveys. They returned to the field on Saturday and located four coveys while bagging 13 birds.

Peso Campbell, J.Y. and Mike McNabb located three coveys on opening day; and bagged 13 quail. On returning to the field on Friday, they bagged seven birds out of one covey.

On opening day, Hugh Humphries and Halbert Franks located three coveys of birds and bagged 10 quail. A group of Loudon quail hunters journeyed to Crossville during the holidays. The hunters were Franklin Deford, Gary Williams, Jim White and G. W. Crisp. They hunted two days on the plateau locating 10 coveys and bagging 30 quail.

Quail hunters weren't the only ones taking advantage of opening day. Rabbit hunters were in the fields at dawn in pursuit of the main ingredient for rabbit stew. Don, David and Ted Ridings and Benny Davis, while hunting during the morning on opening day bagged eight rabbits. Don and David returned to the field on Friday and Saturday and bagged an additional four rabbits.

Also taking advantage of opening day were Jerry Buckner, Gary and Billy Rivers who were successful in bagging three rabbits and one quail.

ATTENTION COON HUNTERS
John Moats, A.C. Brown and Hayman Weaver of Lenoir City were raccoon hunting this past week in the White Oak Flats area near Indian Boundary Lake outside the Cherokee Wildlife Management Area in Monroe County. While they were road hunting, their three hounds picked up some type of poison and one of the dogs died.

If you are planning on hunting in this area, you should leash your hounds near the roads in this area. Local coon hunters are having "poor" to "fair" success in pursuit of their sport because of the heavy foliage on the trees. Earl Russell and James "Tater" Watts were hunting coons in Loudon one night this past week and after an hours race they treed and bagged one raccoon. A couple of nights later, Earl and Allen Russell hunted this same area and again after a good chase, they treed and bagged another large raccoon.

MCCONNELL LEAVES G&F COMMISSION
G&F Commission biologist Chester McConnell has submitted his resignation and announced that he will join the staff of the Wildlife Management Institute. He will be a field representative for the private agency. McConnell will be joining the staff of the Wildlife Management Institute. He will be a field representative for the private agency. "I leave this organization," McConnell said, "with much optimism. Prospects for a successful Game and Fish operation in Tennessee look better than ever in my eight years with the Commission." McConnell will be working in a seven state area which includes Arkansas, Missouri, Louisiana, Kansas, Oklahoma and Tennessee.

This Setback Can Put You Dollars Ahead

Setting back your thermostat a few degrees and keeping it there can save you dollars during cold weather. It takes lots less electricity to heat your home to 70 degrees rather than 75 degrees - and you probably can't even tell the difference - except in your heating bill.

Other ways to heat economically are to install storm windows and doors, weatherstrip around doors and caulk around windows, have adequate insulation, keep windows and doors closed, open drapes in rooms exposed to the sun during the day and close at night, and shut off heat in unoccupied rooms.

Observing these efficient-use tips should help you stay comfortable during the colder months and save on the operating costs of your electric heating system.

Wednesday Morning, Nov. 28, the Prayer Group sponsored a Jesus Rally. Special guests included: members of God Squad with their director, Mike Morgan and accompanist John Backlein; the Youth Choir of the Loudon United Methodist Church and their director, Inky Swiney; Rev. Articles To Discuss Flood Insurance

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first article in a series on the federally subsidized flood insurance program available to residents of Tennessee as well as residents of all other states. The coordinating agency for flood insurance in Tennessee is the Tennessee State Planning Office.

On March 18, 1973, James V. Nicely returned to his home on Clairmont Drive in Knoxville and found it filled with approximately two feet of water. His wife and two children were evacuated by Red Cross Volunteers in a boat.

Damages to the house and property totaled approximately $9,800, and repairs are still being made. At the time of the flood, Nicely, like most people, had homeowners insurance. Flood damage, however, was not covered under this policy.

Nicely stated that his damages were slight when compared to those of many of his neighbors. Some of the residences near him are still vacant.

James Nicely is now covered by flood insurance, and he states that "I can rest easy now when I hear it raining at night without having to run outside and check to see if the water is rising."

Since the earliest days of the pioneer settlers, men have been building on and occupying flood plains in America.

Too often, these areas are not recognized until much damage in the form of loss of property and life has occurred. It is estimated that the average annual losses in the Nation due to flooding reach more than $1 billion—and that amount is rapidly increasing! Yet encroachment upon flood plain areas continues.

Every year, East Tennessee is susceptible to damages running as high as $2.5 million. This year alone, some 12 counties in East Tennessee have experienced flooding, and some 2,300 families have suffered losses due to flood damages.

TVA has predicted that a number of communities in East Tennessee could possibly suffer costly damages from annual flooding. For example, the estimated potential average annual damages for Gatlinburg are $187,000; for Sweetwater $82,000; for Harriman $37,000; for Sevierville $27,000 (this would be much higher without channel improvement); and for Newport $17,000.

The 1973 Chattanooga flood is a recent and striking example of the damages which can result from flooding. Damages resulting from the flood reached an estimated $35 million.

According to a TVA representative, without regulation by TVA dams upstream the damages would have been an estimated $500 million.

Attempts have been made to stem the tide of these natural forces, but flood-protection structures have been unable to prevent them. Development through zoning, subdivision regulations, building codes and development policies; or to exercise control through flood forecasting, and temporary evacuation.

However, as long as construction continues on land susceptible to flooding and as long as structures exist in a flood-prone area, some form of help will be needed when flooding does occur.

Help Offered
Help is available in the form of a federally subsidized program of flood insurance.

The program was established under the Housing and Urban Development (HUD) Act of 1968 as a cooperative effort between the federal government and the insurance industry. The responsibility for adopting and enforcing land-use provisions so as to restrict future development of land in flood-prone areas was delegated to State and local governments.

An amendment to the 1968 HUD act, which became effective as of January 1, 1973, has made flood insurance available to individuals who were previously unable to get it.

Areas in East Tennessee which have been identified as eligible for flood insurance as of August 31, 1973 are: Alcoa, Clinton, Gatlinburg, Harriman, Jackboro, Jasper, Jefferson City, Jellico, Knox County, Knoxville, LaFollette, Lake City, Lenoir City, Loudon County, Maryville, Newport, Oak Ridge, Pigeon Forge, Rockwood, Sevierville and Tazewell.

TVA Discusses Possible Rate Hike

The TVA Board this week will decide whether to raise rates Jan. 1. Signals the agency has been flying for the past several months indicate an increase, if not Jan. 1, certainly by March 1.

TVA expenses have been increasing faster than revenues, Lee Sheppard of the agency's Information Office said yesterday. He said the cost of fuel this year is running 31 per cent ahead of last year and the cost of power bonds is running 30 per cent ahead of last year. But revenues are running only 18 per cent ahead of last year's.

The last rate increase became effective last Jan. 1, and it averaged about 9 per cent to the distributors. However, the dollar increase passed on to residential, commercial and industrial customers averaged only about 6 per cent. TVA's last rate increase brought down on it the wrath of Rep. Joe L. Evans (D-Tenn.), chairman of the House subcommittee on public works. He charged TVA with using "dubious wisdom" in making the increase. And he said it put TVA rates in danger of losing their position as the base-line by which other utility rates are supposed to be measured.

However, the general public hasn't seemed much concerned about power rate increases. Or perhaps most people are resigned to rising costs on all fronts. In an effort to learn the public's feeling about power rates and other matters, TVA conducted a series of six public meetings over the Tennessee Valley in September. Only 81 persons attended the meetings and most of those were newsmen, TVA employees, and representatives of local electric systems. Only 23 were regarded as members of the general public.

At the Knoxville meeting, the public criticism of TVA was not for increasing rates, but for keeping rates low at what some speakers said was at the expense of the environment.

When TVA announced that the public meetings would be held, it said the board would consider comments made at the meetings when the time came in December to decide on future rates.

TVA also said then that current trends indicated the agency's costs would exceed revenue by $10-$15 million this fiscal year.

If TVA does not increase rates soon, it will be deviating from the general trend in the energy field. Prices of gasoline, coal, heating oil, and electricity generally are on the rise over the nation.

Scripps-Howard writer Robert Dietach reported Thursday from Washington that a growing number of electric utilities have been asking and getting rate increases of between 20 and 30 per cent.

TVA Reports Increase

In Energy Sales

An increase in energy sales and a drop in net income are reported by the Tennessee Valley Authority in its latest quarterly report of power operations.

Sales of electric energy for the three months ended September 30, 1973, totaled 26.3 million kilowatt-hours, 7 percent more than the same quarter a year ago.

Operating revenues for the quarter were $28 million higher than last year, due to both increased sales and an upward adjustment of rates last January.

However, fuel costs increased nearly $20 and interest charges were up about $12 million over the same period a year ago. All other costs together increased another $12 million.

Net income for the three months was $6.1 million, some $16 million below last year.

The report notes that TVA electric rates will remain unchanged through December, but cost trends indicate that a rate adjustment or increase may be necessary before the current fiscal year ends next June.

Sen. Baker Supports Court Reform

U.S. Senator Howard Baker (R-Tenn.) has called court modernization in Tennessee "one of the most important legislative reforms that can be achieved on the state level next year."

"All Tennesseans will benefit if the State Senate acts to approve the rational redistricting of the Tennessee court system according to current population and case workload," Baker said.

Tennessee's senior senator pointed out that different areas of the state have grown at different rates in the more than 100 years since state court districts were established. He said changes in population have resulted in great imbalance in case loads among the judicial districts.

Baker noted that some judges now have over seven times the case loads of judges in other districts. He called the existing system "antiquated and inefficient," saying that it causes delays in carrying out the administration of justice and adds to the costs of trying cases for both the state and individual citizens.

The proposed court modernization plan would equalize caseloads, Baker said, by redrawing boundaries of the judicial districts according to population. The legislation would create 27 judicial districts with one chancery court and one circuit court judge and one extra judge for every additional 40,000 in population or fraction of that number. The present number of judges would be retained in the four largest metropolitan areas of the state.

We were talking to Mrs. Shad Haskins in Knoxville the other day and she told us that they possibly had some pictures of London's worst train wreck. Sure hope they can find them and let us use them in the Good Old Days column.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

A few weeks ago we had what we thought was the last of the Harriman flood pictures, but we now have some more. Of course, these are different. We normally like to run some of these and change to something else in a different vein, but we like to afford courtesy to our readers who go to the trouble of sending us pictures to run. Here are a couple more pictures of the great Harriman flood. We certainly hope they will be of interest to our readers.

We received many calls about the pictures we ran of the high waters and also some letters. One of them was from Mrs. Ruby Lanter Jaynes of Vance, who is a regular reader of the Good Old Days. She says that in 1917, when she was a young girl living in Loudon, that her father took her in a boat down Main Street and that her family home which was on Steeple Street at that time had to be moved out of because of the high water. She told us of how her dad rode in a boat through the front door of their home and out the back door. She stated that there were not many families living in Loudon at that time but most of them who did had to move out because of the high water.

and we recalled the old Zenith Co. Windmill Battery Charger which was supposed to recharge the batteries for the old time battery operated radios. As I recall, it did not work too well because there was not enough wind. So if you are thinking about a windmill generator to produce electric power during the power shortage you had better take a second look.

Will these words again become a part of our vocabulary? Stove pipe, wood box, wood pile, coal scuttle, pine knots, stove eye, slah wood, hack stick, etc.

A dear friend of ours bought a wood heater, pipes and elbows the other day. His house today has central heating and air conditioning but he told us that it was a stop gap measure and a lot of us might wish we had done the same thing.

$11,900 Award Given In Auto Wreck Case

A damage award of almost $12,000 was given by a Loudon County Circuit Court jury to Rubye Mae Thompson for punitive and comprehensive damages received in a Knox County automobile accident. The trial started last Friday and was completed Monday morning. Court Clerk Billy Joe Akins reported. Defendants in the case were Seaboard Fire and Marine Insurance Company and the Hartford Accident and Indemnity Company. Both companies had claimed non-responsibility in the case. The woman was awarded $7,000 in punitive damages and $1,750 in comprehensive damages from Seaboard; $2,000 in punitive damages and $1,150 in comprehensive damages from Hartford, for a total award of $11,900. As had been the case in the first two weeks of the session most cases facing Judge Willard Kitzler's court were settled before trial. Those settled this week were Robert Guss Hubbard and wife, Auding Marie Hubbard vs. Loudon Farmers Cooperative, auto accident; Clifford R. Baird vs. John J. Mosley Jr., assault and battery; State of Tennessee vs. Mary McCown, Dale Knox and Carolyn B. Knox, condemnation; Raymond E. McClain, Sr. vs. William A. Goley and Lou Emma Hittingsley, auto accident; and Gordon A. Moore and wife, Frances V. Moore vs. Loudon County, Tenn., Wright Brothers Construction Company, Inc., and McKinnon Bridge Company, Inc., blasting.

Justice Center Bids Delayed

The bid dates for the Loudon County Justice Center has been postponed from December 11, to 2 p.m. Thursday, December 20. The reason for the change is that there were other projects, including the State Regional Detention Center at Morristown that were being bid on or around the same date. In addition, the original time allowed from the date that the specifications were released until the bid date was fairly short, and the architect believed that not much in the way of construction could be accomplished during the later part of December anyway, and allowing additional time to December 20 should interest more bidders and get a better contract for Loudon County, Judge Harvey Sproul said.

Methodist Chrismon Tree Service Set

The Loudon United Methodist Church is preparing a Christmas tree for the Christmas season and invites the public for its lighting on Sunday, December 16 at 5:30 p.m. in the sanctuary of the church. A Christmas tree is decorated with Christian symbols and tells the history of the Christian faith.

California Woman Raped, Man Charged

An eight hour man hunt by Loudon County and Roane County Sheriff's Department deputies and Oak Ridge City Police Wednesday led to the capture of a man in connection with the reported rape of a California woman Wednesday afternoon.

The rape occurred about 3 p.m. Sheriff Freeman Russell said the 26 year old woman, traveling alone, said she was stopped at the rest area in Roane County, near the Loudon County line, when a man tapped on her car window

FIRST PLACE FLOAT—An Old Christmas was the theme of the Union Carbide employees float in the Loudon Band Booster Christmas Parade Saturday. The float won first place in the judging and the sponsors awarded $25. Prize money in the float competition was provided by the Loudon Chamber of Commerce.

Subscription, Newstand Prices Increase Jan. 1

Effective January 1, 1974, new mail subscription rates and newstand copy rates for The Loudon County Herald will be increased. Subscription rates inside the county will be increased one dollar to $5 per year. Subscriptions mailed outside the county will be $7 per year, a two dollar increase. Newstand price of the paper will be 15 cents per copy.

Herald Editor Larry Cate said in making the announcement that tremendous increases in the cost of newsprint, which have sent production costs of the paper higher and increased postage rates have made it necessary to increase the newstand and subscription rates. "For the past two years the postal rates for mailing the newspapers have steadily increased and during the past year two increases in the price of newsprint have been advancing," Cate said. He also stated that effective January 1 another increase of 25¢ per ton will send the cost newsprint to $200 a ton. Special subscription rates of $3 for in-county subscriptions and $4 for out-of-county subscriptions are now in effect as a Holiday Special through Dec. 21 and anyone wishing to extend their subscription to take a new subscription may do so and save over the new rates.

The Loudon High School and Junior High Bands will present their Christmas Concert on Sunday, December 16 at 3 p.m. in the Loudon High School auditorium. Loudon Expected To Approve Nursing Home

Apparently the Loudon City Commission favors a proposal by a Memphis firm to build 120 bed nursing home in Loudon. The Commission will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the Utilities Building with officials of the firm, William Bond and Associates, to further discuss the proposal that was put before them at a November meeting. One Commissioner said the week that if all the question in the minds of the City or satisfactory steps will be taken to create a health on Education Facility Board a seven members that would have the power to sell revenue bonds for the project. Murray Murphy, Executive Vice President of the firm, is expected to attend the meeting with sample documents including a lease-purchase agreement for the million dollar facility. The firm is asking the city to sell revenue bonds, for which the firm would be completely responsible for payment and liability of backing the bonds with the assets of its company.

The firm now has 11 similar nursing homes in Tennessee and Mississippi. Commissioner Doug Lyle said the firm has a very good reputation and after all the legal questions are ironed out he believes the facility will become a reality. It is understood that the Commission will move quickly to form the local board that will handle the sale of bonds and be responsible for the lease agreement. The facility would be known as the Care Inn of Loudon. At Monday night's meeting of the Commission public hearings were on the annexation of Lakewood Heights Subdivision and the reopening of property owned by Grace Carter from Residential to Commercial. No one appeared in opposition to either and the commission approved both a second reading. City Administrator Gary Bond reported that the Commission will meet with representatives of Southern Railway Thursday morning to discuss the long sought improvement of improvement of several rail crossings in the city. Those on the agenda are the Kern Street, Highland Avenue and Harkberry Street crossings. The City for several years had been trying to get light and bell signals at crossings and other im-

Medical Care Crisis Seen For County

The need for improved medical care in Loudon County was the subject of the meeting of the Loudon County Health Council last Thursday. The two main topics of concern were the doctor shortage and utilization of the old hospital. A panel composed of Judge Harvey Sproul, Squire I.D. Conner, Gray Hamilton, Administrator of Loudon County Memorial Hospital, and Dave Booher, Loudon County Planner from the East Tennessee State Planning Office, presented a vivid picture of the doctor shortage and its implications. Among the panel's stressors were that the average age of a physician in Loudon County is 61, that the county hospital is in serious financial difficulty because of the increasing number of people going to Knoxville, for medical care, and that better emergency room coverage is impossible without more physicians. It was clear from the discussion that Loudon County does indeed have a medical care crisis and action must be taken to solve the problem as soon as possible. Ed Smith said a Health Forum is planned for the month of January and that county-wide participation will be a crucial factor in solving the health manpower shortage. All who are interested are urged to attend, but the date of the meeting has not yet been set.

Victims Called Lucky To Be Alive

Car, Motor Home Collide

An Ohio woman is lucky to be alive, State Trooper George Pierce said, after she apparently went to sleep at the wheel and her car struck a motor home, pinning her in the wreckage for about 20 minutes. The accident occurred Saturday about 4 p.m. on U.S. 11 about three miles South of Loudon. The woman Agnes M. Kline, 53, of Trenton, Ohio, told Pierce that she was traveling North on the highway when she must have fallen asleep causing her car to travel into the path of the big motor home. The Kline car was heavily damaged driving the door and dash of the car into the woman, pinning her. The motor home overturned in the highway blocking traffic for more than an hour.

DRIVER TRAPPED—Ambulance and wrecker crews are shown working to free Mrs. Agnes Kline from the wreckage of her car on U.S. 11 South of Loudon Saturday afternoon after the woman went to sleep at the wheel and her car collided with a motor home. She was admitted to St. Mary's Hospital in Knoxville with leg, hip and facial injuries.

While the man was trying to free his car, that had gotten stuck in the mud on the narrow service road, the woman freed herself, got to White Wing Road where a motorist look for TVA guards at Melton Hill. When deputies from Loudon and Roane County arrived the man had abandoned his car and fled into the woods. The area, which is in Roane County is inside the City limits of Oak Ridge. A manhunt was organized complete with blood hounds. Just before officers were planning to call off the hunt and station unmarked cars in the area for the night, the man walked out onto Highway 95 and quickly arrested by officers about 10 p.m. He was identified as John Albert Heffelfinger, IV, 30, of Jacksonville, Fla. He was taken to Oak Ridge jail and held under $50,000 bond. The woman had been taken to Oak Ridge Hospital where she was treated for injuries from an apparent beating she had received and for shock.

MOTOR HOME DESTROYED—A $10,000 motor home driven by a Michigan man was a total loss after a collision with a car about three miles from Loudon Saturday afternoon. The four occupants of the vehicle, which turned over blocking the highway, escaped with only minor injuries.

JOHN ALBERT HEFFELFINGER, charged with rape in connection with an alleged attack on a California woman who is a third year law student, is booked into Roane County Jail Friday. The officers are Deputies Charles Shannon and Bennie Wallace.

BONNIE SHEELEY
Assistant Extension Agent
Agricultural Extension Service
The University of Tennessee

Terrariums or gardens under glass was the subject for a workshop held Wednesday, December 5 at the Loudon County Extension Building. Joyce and Jackie Bowden of Bowler's Greenhouse and Flower Show were the instructors. Approximately 25 women from all sections of the county participated in the workshop. Terrariums are a horticultural hobby that's a natural for gardeners, gardeners or people who love plants but must have a lot. The trick consists of growing plants in glass containers.

For a beginner, an enormous restaurant mayonnaise jar or a large small-mouthed bowl is excellent. For the more adventurous, it is possible to use gallon cider jugs or large cylindrical containers.

The first step is to sterilize the container. Once it is clean, get either roofing pebbles or peastone or extremely coarse gravel, which will serve as a dry wall beneath the planting soil.

The best way to get pebbles and other material into a bottle with a long narrow neck is to roll a loose-wool funnel of strong construction paper and insert it deep into the bottle. The pebble layer should be at least one inch deep.

Next shake a heaping of activated charcoal over the pebbles to keep the soil sweet. Now add sterilized soil mix, available at your local garden supply store, to the desired level. Be sure the soil is moist, not wet, before it is put into the container. Next, set the plants in place, using long handled-spoons, forks, or sticks as necessary.

To avoid splattering plants with soil, it is best to add all the soil you intend to use before you begin to set the plants. After about three days, cover the opening of the container to maintain humidity. Place the terrarium where it will receive plenty of light but no direct sunlight. If moisture gathers on the inside walls of the container, remove the cover for a few minutes to ventilate. Terrariums need very little additional moisture. Add only a small amount of water if plants show slight wilting. This is the only care they need.

Development Interest Growing

by David Hooper
EDITOR'S NOTE: David Hooper is a planner with the Tennessee estate Planning Office assigned to work with Loudon County and its municipalities.

Over the past few months a lot of exciting things have been happening in Loudon County—things which point out that Loudon County is rapidly becoming an urban county. Large industrial companies are actively seeking sites for plants. Investors are developing plans for commercial developments on 175 Federal grants for important community facilities like parks, the county justice center, the new hospital, water and sewer systems, and other projects are being approved.

All of these and other factors too numerous to list just point out that Loudon County and its municipalities are rapidly changing from an agricultural rural area to an urban area. As this happens, and as people must live closer together and work closer together, conflicts begin to develop between land uses. A recent example of this was the conflict that recently developed between residents, farmers, and an asphalt mix plant operation near Philadelphia. Similar conflicts occur when someone builds a tavern next to his neighbors' homes or a mobile park in the middle of a subdivision.

Each of these uses are equally legitimate uses of land—the asphalt plant, the house, the farm, the tavern, and the mobile home park. It is only when they are too close to each other that conflicts occur because the activities of one have an effect on surrounding property. For example, a commercial use such as a tavern brings with it noise, traffic, congestion, and so on, which are detrimental to residential areas.

Communities all across the country have long recognized this "mixture of incompatible land uses" as a problem in an urbanizing area. Hence, since 1916 when the first zoning ordinance was adopted in this country, cities and counties have used zoning to try to prevent these kinds of conflicts as much as possible and to provide for the development of their communities so that they will be healthful, safe and attractive places to live and raise children. Zoning is necessary and is not now a way to take a person's property or some have suggested. The basic principle of zoning is an old one in American law—"So use yourself as not to harm another." Zoning regulations just recognize the fact that some uses of property which might ordinarily be perfectly acceptable, may not be in a particular location because they harm others. And it is through zoning laws that the community can democratically insure that all the needs for commercial, industrial, residential, and agricultural uses can be provided for in the community, without harming others.

TVA Increases Power Rates

Rising TVA power system costs, particularly for coal, will require higher wholesale and retail power rates beginning in January under the rate adjustment clause of TVA power contracts. So far this year, the average cost of coal burned is about 20 percent ahead of the level a year ago.

The TVA Board of Directors determined today that a rate adjustment is necessary after a quarterly review of power system costs and conditions showed additional revenue will be essential to cover financial requirements for the fiscal year that ends June 30. The increase in home electric bills will average 14 percent or about $2 a month, but this will vary with the level of power consumption and the retail rate schedules used by individual local power distributors. On a typical rate schedule, for example, the increase will be $1.77 in the monthly bill for 1,000 kilowatt-hours, which is about the average level of use for homes that do not have electric heat.

For 2,000 kWh, which is about the year-round average monthly use for electrically heated homes, the increase would average $3.54 a month—with most of the additional cost coming during the winter. Turning down thermostats 4 to 6 degrees below last winter's level in electrically heated homes will produce a saving on heating costs that would offset about half of the increase in rates, TVA pointed out. Actual heating bills also will depend a great deal on how cold it is this winter.

Home consumers using TVA electricity now pay an average of 1.32 cents an average kilowatt-hour. The national average is currently about 2.35 cents, but is also continuing to increase because of rapidly rising costs experienced by the electric utility industry in general.

Overall TVA power system costs this fiscal year are estimated to be about $207 million above last year, up 30 percent, but the estimated rise in revenues would be only $135 million at present rates, substantially less than the amount needed to cover the expanded costs.

The rate adjustment will add fifteen-hundredths of a cent per kilowatt-hour to present rates charged to the distributors of TVA power and the large Federal and industrial customers served directly by TVA, an average increase of about 20 percent. Industries with large, stable power requirements are paying a low average charge per kilowatt-hour, so the additional fifteen-hundredths will represent an increase of up to 23 percent for these industries.

Similarly, the increase for home consumers will represent a larger percentage change for higher levels of consumption, ranging from about 5 percent for a home with minimum power use to about 15 percent for a home using 4,000 kWh a month.

The TVA power system is owned by the United States and is not operated for profit, the agency pointed out. However, TVA is required by law to charge rates that will produce gross power revenues sufficient to cover operations and maintenance expense, payments to states and counties in lieu of taxes, debt service on bonds, payments to the U.S. Treasury as a return on past Government appropriations investment, and a margin for reinvestment in the power system.

This will be the second rate adjustment under the quarterly review procedure incorporated in TVA power contracts in 1973. An adjustment of about 9 percent was added to rates a year ago. TVA's adjustment procedure is used in place of a system of automatic monthly escalators used by many utility companies across the Nation.

On December 13 TVA will hold another series of public information meetings across the Valley. They will be held in Jackson, Nashville, and Knoxville, Tennessee; Tupelo, Mississippi; Paducah, Kentucky; and Muscle Shoals, Alabama.

These meetings provide an opportunity for more detailed discussion of the factors which affect the region's power supply system costs, and rates. They also provide an opportunity to the public to express views and to ask questions. Comments expressed will be taken into account by the TVA Board in its next quarterly review.

Exact times and locations of these meetings will be announced within the next few days.

AN ARTIST'S RENDERING of the Knox Federal Savings and Loan Association scheduled to be completed by the end of January.

Knox Federal Starts Construction

Site preparation for a branch of the Knox Federal Savings and Loan Association began last week at the corner of Broadway and Highway 95. Alex Curtis, executive vice-president and managing officer of the $40-million home lending and savings institution, said the building should be complete by the end of January. He explained that the office is a prefabricated building and can be put up quickly.

The office here, he said, will be a full service branch capable of closing loans and handling deposits on any of several plans.

He emphasized that accounts are insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an agency of the U.S. government.

"We specialize in making home loans," Mr. Curtis pointed out, "and we will be able to make appraisals and complete loans right in the office."

Land Between Matlock Bend And Loudon Subject Of Study

Almost 25 percent of the land between Loudon and the Matlock Bend area has a high potential for urban development. This was one of the findings of a recent study completed by the Loudon Planning Commission. The study was aimed at identifying the overall potential for development of the 4,500 acre area between 175 and Loudon.

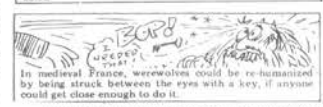

David Booher, Loudon's staff planner, reported on the preliminary findings of the study at the regular meeting of the Commission last week. The study was initiated in order to help the city determine if the extension of certain urban services into the area is economically feasible. The Loudon Commission was assisted by the Loudon County Soil and Water Conservation District, the Loudon County Planning Commission, and the Tennessee State Planning Office.

Among other findings some 35 percent of the land has very poor development potential for urban uses such as subdivisions and commercial enterprises. These areas are primarily limited by natural factors such as excessive slope and flooding and by the intentions of the property owners to keep the land in farming.

The Commission recomended that the City Council, the Utility Board, and the Planning Commission review the final findings in a joint meeting and discuss future action.

In other business, the Commission reviewed progress on the revision of the Zoning Ordinance and on the preparation of a street improvements program. The street improvements program is being prepared to assist the City in deciding on priorities for the repair of streets and for correcting congestion in certain locations. The study is being prepared under a federal grant with the assistance of the Tennessee State Planning Office and the University of Tennessee Department of Civil Engineering.

Tellico Appeal Heard

A three-judge panel of the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals at Cincinnati listened to arguments on both sides of the Tellico Dam case and then took under advisement the claim of the Environmental Defense Fund (EDF) that TVA's environmental impact statement for the project was inadequate.

Federal District Judge Robert L. Taylor ruled in Knoxville in late October that the TVA statement was adequate and dissolved an injunction he had issued against TVA's going ahead with the project that held up construction for almost two years. EDF appealed the Taylor decision to the Court of Appeals.

EDF attorney Jon Brown took issue with what he said was Judge Taylor's position that the impact statement was not reviewed by his court. He said the statement did not contain an updated cost estimate of the dam.

Beauchamp Brogan, the TVA attorney, conceded that cost of the project has increased beyond the last estimate of $69 million and he said the increase was caused by the two-year delay the EDF suit has caused.

The judges who heard the arguments were Wade H. McCree Jr., Detroit; Paul C. Weick, Akron; and William E. Miller of Nashville.

Cedar Hills Golf Club Moves Into New Facilities

Newly constructed Cedar Hills Golf Club clubhouse, swimming pool, and tennis courts provide a striking atmosphere for the 18-hole golf course and family club.

The new Cedar Hills Golf Club is now in full operation, even the swimming pool and tennis courts are complete, but with that nip of winter biting at our heels, Club Pro Bill Johnson invites all to visit and lounge by the hearth and a log fire in the just finished club house. The new facility makes the Cedar Hills renovation almost complete. "We are still minus a few shrubs and need to do a little landscaping in the spring," relates Johnson. "But for the golf course and greens and the facilities that go with it we are most happy and satisfied." The new club house and family recreation center is an immaculate show place with the accent of an open fire, wall to wall carpet, dinner accommodations, snack bar, card rooms, television, cocktail lounge, pro shop, spacious locker rooms, and the atmosphere of outdoor living. The glassed-in north-west side of the club house gives the club's visitors a full view of the well groomed 18-hole golf course and its mountainous back ground. Summer enthusiasts will get great pleasure from a dip in the olympic size swimming pool or a spirited set of tennis on the adjacent courts beside the club house. The swimming pool and tennis courts were in service at the close of this past summer. Of course the Cedar Hills Golf Club is a private concern, but Club Pro and Manager Bill Johnson says he has close to 50 memberships available at this time. "I hate to say anything about it, for fear of making someone mad," tells Johnson. "Our present membership is good and with just a few vacancies available before we are completely at maximum accommodation (500 strong). Thus by spring and the change of weather for a lot more golf our club membership roster is expected to be full with out much worry or advertisement. It would make us feel bad to advertise a lot of memberships are open and then have to turn someone away because we are suddenly booked. We are frightful this is going to happen anyway long before its time to tee 'n up going to impress many of our members' guests and friends. And we are giving them all kind of chances to bring them by and introduce them to the "New Cedar Hills". Cedar Hills Golf Club just recently held their grand opening with a big three day celebration of festivities and family entertainment. For the weeks to come and the present holiday season Cedar Hills officials has planned a full card of activities. Dinner will be served on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday nights from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m., and Saturday nights from 7:00 to 11:00 p.m. Reservations are not required. The menu will consist of steaks, seafood, and sandwiches. A businessmen's lunch is served five days a week at the club. During the month of December a combo will entertain in the evenings on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday. The cocktail lounge is open every Tuesday through Saturday with proper dress and membership card required for entrance. The Cedar Hills Club House will be the scene of several Christmas parties but a few dates are still open if any interested parties wish to also use the new club facilities. A New Year's Eve Party is being scheduled with a $15.00 per couple cover charge, which includes dinner. A $5.00 per couple charge for those not wishing to dine. "Reservations are a must," states Johnson. So if you're looking for something different as a Christmas gift! How about a family membership for the Cedar Hills Golf Club or a social membership if you are not an active golfer. Sounds nice for the sports minded family.

Threap Sets Victory Tempo Over Harriman 66-53

CROWDED SITUATION—Loudon's Teddy Bivens finds the play to be a bit crowded close to the goal as Harriman tries desperately to pressure the Loudon offense into a turnover. The Redskins romped to a 66-53 win with Bivens collecting six points for Loudon.

Loudon turned in one of their best home efforts of the season Friday night with a sweep of the Harriman Blue Devils. The Loudon Lassies captured the distaff contest 67-35, while the Loudon boys combined for a 66-53 triumph. The Loudon "B" team dropped a heartbreaker in overtime to the Harriman Junior Varsity 58-56. All three Loudon forwards burned the nets for double figures in guiding Loudon to its sixth win in eight games. Jane Shultz broke out her scoring slump with 18 points to lead all scorers in the preliminary battle Debbie Offensively Loudon shot a warm 55 percent, making 26 of 47 from the field. Harriman was limited to a 29 percent effort with only 15 field goals out of 51 attempts. Loudon also made 13 of 16 foul shots. Harriman hit seven of 26. In the night cap the Loudon boys began to show signs of unity and team play by turning back a fine Harriman five 66-53. The Redskins shot a respectable 40.6 percent with 24 field goals out of 59 shots. Harriman found the hoops on 22 of 61 shots for a 36 percent showing. Loudon also dominated the backboards with a team total of 65 as compared to 47 for the Blue Devils. William Candler came up displaying complete authority under the backboards at both ends of the court paced the Loudon victory with 31 points and 25 rebounds. Both marks are individual season highs for the Redskins. Threap, who accounted for 14 points in the first eight minutes of the game, had his sights on the goal as well as on the stage in the game that he backeted a 25-foot field goal on a two hand job pass to William under the Loudon basket from the deep corner. Threap hit nine of 15 shots for the game and added 13 of 17 foul shots. Joining Threap in double figures was Butch Brown who had 12 points. William Candler came up

CRACKS HARRIMAN PRESS—Loudon's Liz Delaney fires a pass to a teammate on the forward side of the basketball court despite much pressure from the Harriman forwards, who use a half court press in an attempt to stop opposing guards from getting the ball down the floor.

Hawkins added 16 points and Marjory Smith was just a hunker behind with 14 counters. Coach Dwayne Arp also got 15 points from his reserves in a hang up job over the Devillets. Cindy Allman, getting her TAKES OVER REDSKIN PLAYMAKING—Loudon Sophomore Admiral Webster has moved into the quarterback spot of playmaker for the Loudon basketball team. The smooth ball handling floor general has done a splendid job since moving into the starting line-up. Here he weaves between two Harriman players before passing the ball.

THREAP SPARKS LOUDON WIN—Loudon's Donnie Threap grabs this rebound with both hands to assure the Redskins of a rebound against Harriman. The racy junior forward propelled the Redskins to victory with 25 rebounds and 31 points as the Loudon varsity improved their record to 5-3.

Jennie scraped for the basketball and tallied six points in the Lassies 67-35 romp.

ALLMON SWEEPS BY BLUE DEVILS—Loudon's Greg Allmon appears to be sweeping right end, but actually he has just pulled down a defensive rebound for Loudon and is spinning out of the lane to start a fast break in the Harriman game Friday night. Allmon, senior team captain, has proved a true team leader with an abundance of hustle and rugged play.

"Bumper" Webster, the pint size sophomore playmaker, proved his first varsity start at all the important point guard position was no one night thing, as he played well against the pressure defense applied by Harriman. The slick ball handler had several assists and was a stickler on defense to the disbelief of the Blue Devils who had the chore of attempting to run the energetic Webster down from all parts of the basketball court.

Loudon's record is now 5-3 as in Harriman's.

Skiing Expected This Weekend At Area Resorts

Light snow fell Monday in the Gatlinburg area, stirring hope for a weeklong start of ski activities at the Gatlinburg Ski Resort.

Conditions are favorable for making snow and the snow guns were turned on last night with temperatures in the 20s.

The Renegade Resort near Crossville said it had no immediate plans for making snow today. Renegade also is aiming at starting its season this weekend.

Sugar Mountain in Banner Elk, N.C., had 10-15 inches of mixed natural and man-made snow and reported "good" conditions. Two lifts were in operation.

THE VALUE OF HUNTING
 If you are to take a series of deer stands to figure the number of man hours he spends to bag a deer, he's likely to tell you to find your own tree. And the duck hunter who just spent a day in bone chilling drizzle, standing in a duck blind, wouldn't take a minute out of his story to estimate the cost per pound of the meat he brought back.

The sportsman is unconcerned with these aspects of the hunt and the returns that hunters get for their contributions to wildlife and the outdoors cannot be expressed in dollars and cents. The rewards of hunting are physical and emotional. Whatever the reward to show, their willingness to support their sport, with time, effort and money.

HC Defeats Cherokee Cagers

Greenback lost a pair of basketball games to host Harriman Chilhowee Tuesday night.

Robby Kizer was high scorer for the Cherokeees with nine points.

Surveys by the U.S. Government show that hunters, along with fishermen, pour nearly $7 billion into the nation's economy each year. And it is estimated that hunters spend more than $100 million each year developing wildlife habitat on privately owned land.

Flood Insurance Available

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second article in a series on the Federally subsidized flood insurance program available to residents of Tennessee as well as residents of all other states. The coordinating agency for flood insurance in Tennessee is the Tennessee State Planning Office.

The potential for disaster caused by flooding in Tennessee is staggering. Homes, property, and human lives are lost every year due to the unwise occupancy of potentially hazardous flood plains.

Fishing and Hunting Report

This report is based on present weather and water conditions and is subject to change.

CHEROKEE LAKE - Muddy and rising. Activity is slow due to weather and water conditions but a few bass are being taken casting spinning type lures tipped with pork chunks, around the islands. Crappie are being taken 8 to 12 feet deep using minnows or small feathered flies. Rockfish and hybrids are fair below John Sevier Dam.

NORRIS LAKE - Murky and rising. All species poor except bream and they are being taken on crickets and worms.

DOUGLAS LAKE - Muddy in upper end and murky on lower end. All species poor.

FORT LOUDOUN LAKE - Muddy in upper end and murky in lower end. A few bass are being taken jigging with worms. All other species poor.

WATTS BAR LAKE - Muddy and fluctuating. All species poor.

MELTON HILL LAKE - Muddy and rising. Bass, bream and catfish are fair, bass on minnows and slugs and bream and catfish on worms.

HUNTING REPORT
 Squirrel hunting is good especially with dogs. Rabbit kill success is poor over all but in some sections of Sevier, Monroe and Roane counties it is good with dogs. Quail hunters are having better success than in years past and it should get better as the

Philadelphia Adopts Official Seal

Mayor Roy Hledose announced this week that Philadelphia has adopted a city seal. The mayor and city council have been working on this seal for the past several months. The city council consists of the following: Mrs. Evelyn Everett, Junior Duckworth, Eddie Brewer, and Raymond McKinstry, and the city recorder, Mrs. Sarah Hledose.

In the beginning of this matter, the mayor and city council asked Rev. Dillard Hagan, pastor of Philadelphia First Baptist Church, to gather some material for a seal. He accepted the responsibility and did gather some material. He also contacted Dr. Kennedy, head of the Art Department at the University of Tennessee. This was done last summer.

Dr. Kennedy suggested that his art class, which consisted of 10 students in his summer class, to work on this project as a class assignment. Each student drew his own impressions for the city seal. This material was presented in the mayor and city council, and after much discussion on what they thought and wanted for Philadelphia, they came up with the present seal.

the river at Chattanooga would have gone nearly 7 feet above flood stage—about equal to the actual crest in a larger flood last March. The actual river level this time was held about 4 1/2 feet below flood stage at Chattanooga.

TVA channel projects in several Valley communities carried high flows without overflowing. At Oliver Springs, Tennessee, an improved channel section on Indian Creek prevented an estimated $375,000 in flood damages. Tims Ford Dam, in middle Tennessee reduced the Elk River flood crest at Fayetteville by 4 feet, preventing significant flood damage.

Rainfall Double For November

November rainfall averaged 7.3 inches across the Tennessee Valley, more than double the normal 3.5 inches. TVA reports this was the Valley's third highest November rainfall on record. Highest rainfall total for the month reported to TVA was 14.26 inches at Petros, Tennessee, about 30 miles west of Knoxville. Nearly 12 inches of that total fell in the storm that moved across the Valley November 26-28. Lowest total reported for November was 2.76 inches at Guntersville, Alabama.

Four months of the past 12 have brought heavy rainfall and Tennessee River flood control operations. These included regional rainfall averages of 7.7 inches in December, a drenching 11.4 inches in March (highest one-month amount in 25 years), 7.2 inches in May, and 7.3 inches in November.

TVA reported this week that its flood control operation following the late November rains has prevented an estimated $22 million in damages at Chattanooga. Without regulation by upstream dams and reservoirs,

Hines Valley Completed

Ashland Oil Inc. of Knoxville has finished paving and installing guardrail on Hines Valley Road from near Pine Grove to State Route 1 at Eaton Cross Roads in Loudon County. State Transportation Commissioner Robert P. Smith announced today.

A contract for the 4.7-mile project was awarded to the Tennessee Department of Transportation. Work began Nov. 1 and cost $185,555, Smith said.

Philadelphia is one of the oldest towns in this area, yet it is the youngest city in Loudon County. There has been much progress made in Philadelphia since the town was incorporated in 1861.

The mayor and city council said they sincerely appreciate all of the work that has gone into this seal. "We want to personally thank Rev. Dillard Hagan, Dr. Kennedy, Allan Doty, and the Department of Art at the University of Tennessee, for the job that they have done for us, and making it possible for us to have a beautiful city seal," Mayor Hledose said.

The Bride Wore A Dress

Reprinted From Publisher's Auxiliary
William H. Evans, 60, veteran editor of the Groversville-Johnstown (N.Y.) Leader-Herald and opponent of the traditional small-town newspaper wedding story, wrote the following accounts of his marriage ceremony. The story appeared in the Leader-Herald.

green color matched everything else. The bride wore a dress. The male attendant was wearing a $1.98 sport shirt he generally uses while golfing. It was a gift last Christmas from the bridegroom and was making its 14th appearance this year. The dark blue pants somewhat matched the shirt. The shoes and socks were sort of off-color but contained no holes.

GROVERSVILLE, N.Y.—After a whirlwind courtship of 20 some years, most of them odd, Mrs. Helen M. Andrzejewski, a blonde bombshell divorcee, became the bride last night of William H. Evans, an office-worn, brunet-tinted widower.

Sentence was pronounced by Supreme Court Justice Arthur C. Aulisi at the home of the bridegroom, 92 East State Street, in the high-mortgage district.

The judge, long-time friend of the bridegroom, said the sentence was for life but that he was giving the bridegroom one night out for every 25 years of good behavior. He wasn't quite like awarding a fished cake to a full-time employee of Dunkin' Donuts.

Witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Bruno DeKants, who gave their address as 18 Gillen Terrace.

THE BRIDEGROOM WAS

attired in a green houndstooth check, double-knit sports jacket, double-knit green pants and tie and socks to match. He wore black shoes and exhibited a well-worn wallet, in 1969 pre-Christmas salesman's display sample styled by St. Thomas) containing two photographs of George Washington. The

The female attendant wore slacks, shirt, shoes and socks of multiple colors and her hair was in curls. She did not figure she would be pressed into service for the surprise event.

THE BRIDE, who resided at 331 E. Main St., Amsterdam, N.Y., after years on Cork Hill in that city, is employed by the state Department of Taxation and Finance (Income Tax) in Albany. The bridegroom is employed as a handyman by the William B. Collins Co., printers and publishers in Groversville. Non-traditional wedding music was provided, on recordings by Engelbert Humperdinck, who sang "I'll Be Your Baby Tonight," "The Good Times," "Everybody's Talking," and "Take Me for Now, Love."

The couple left after the ceremony for an indefinite (until the money runs out) stay in southern Florida.

Upon return, they will make their home at 92 East State Street with their 14-month-old mongrel, Snooty, a dropout from obedience school, who also attended the ceremony in a black leather collar and License No. H12000. He stayed behind as a watchdog.

own water system. This was before Loudon had its water system and Dr. Joe's was considered ultra-modern. This old water tank was sold to the Charles H. Bacon Co. and Hank Walker moved it from this location to the hosiery mill site. In those days this was quite an operation but Mr. Walker did the job while many people said it couldn't be done. Many of our readers who go through their collection of family pictures from time to time come across some they feel will be of interest to the Good Old Days readers and we greatly appreciate their thinking about us and passing them on for us to use. We are always happy to receive them. One of the pictures we have this week is of the Lonnie W. Oddy children: Mary, Kathleen, Richard and Ray frooks on the back of the cow. This old picture was made in 1946 and was made at the Joe West Farm near the overhauled bridge between Loudon and Lenoir City. This picture was sent to us by Lonnie W. Oddy of Get Good Road, Loudon

Our many thanks to Mr. Oddy. Having mentioned the West Farm reminds us of the late Mr. Joe West, who was a good friend of ours. He always took the time to talk to us when we were growing up. Mr. West was in charge of Maintenance at the Bacon Hosiery Mills for many years. We always enjoyed talking to him and since we have been doing the Good Old Days we have wished many times that we had a picture of him. In all the years he was with Bacon Company, surely someone took one of him at the mill. I know one of his most prized pieces of equipment at the Mill was the old stand-by power plant. Sure would like to have a picture of him by this old generator. In the past few months we have had several of our readers to tell us that they had pictures for us to use. If you have pictures, give us a call.

"I left my last job because of something the boss said." "What did he say?" "He said I was fired." Arithmetic is one thing, logic is another. 71.4 Percent Economic Growth Here

Loudon County's economy chalked up significant gains in the last few years, exceeding the advances reported for many sections of the country. The progress was most apparent in figures showing the amount of business done by local retail establishments. Their sales in the past year were 71.4 percent higher than they were five years ago. Much of the increase, however, was due to inflation. The findings are based upon reports, released by the Standard Rate and Data Service, covering the five-year period.

The major credit for the strong local showing is attributed to the consumers in the area and their desire and ability to maintain their normal way of life despite the troubled times. In the past five years, as a result of their maintained spending, overall sales in Loudon County's retail stores rose from $23,681,000 to a total of $40,597,000, the SRDS figures show. The 71.4 percent rise compares with 43.1 percent in the United States and with 55.3 percent in the State of Tennessee. Almost every branch of business shared in the growth. In the past year local people were in the market for more cars, more and better clothing, more food, furniture, household equipment, cosmetics and other goods than they were in 1967. And at that, they did not go all out. They still held back a sizeable amount as savings. The prime fuel for this outpouring of consumer dollars was the big gain in personal income. The net earnings of the local population, after payment of taxes, rose from the $41,241,000 they received at the beginning of the five-year period to the $68,275,000 that was available to them in the past year.

Your County In Action

BY HARVEY L. SPROUL
LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

Well, my family and I have just completed another milestone in our lives (the next expected big milestone to be the arrival of a new baby sometime in February). This particular milestone was the moving from our "City" address out another mile or so into the County into the old Tom Foster home on the Market Road.

When the first milestone of planning to move to the county was planned, we didn't yet know about the second milestone.

If any of you have ever gone through at least partial remodeling of an old farm house (or any kind of house) you have some idea of the strain which we have been going through since July 1, 1973.

Our first goal was to get into the remodeled house on August 1, which was subsequently lengthened to September 1, October 1, November 1, and finally Thanksgiving Day, on which we began to move. Now, the extended time to get the partial remodeling done was not the only strain which occurred, but if you have been involved any in the purchase of building materials, labor, etc., recently you know where the other significant strain occurred.

As I have heard frequently happens, we spent much more than we had planned. Of course, this was an additional strain on my wife physically, and this is a particular strain at this particular time.

How all of these problems could conglomerate at such a bad time is still hard for me to understand.

I had been saving "vacation" time for the purpose of moving (some people say that I have been on a permanent vacation) but as is usually true after a day and a half some things got so urgent at the office that I had to get back and we have not completely finished moving yet. Maybe we can finish by Christmas or Valentine's Day. Now we'll have to work to keep the bank satisfied.

In the meantime we have started "farming" and have quite a bit of "livestock" on our ten plus acres—two cats, two dogs and a horse.

satisfactory to the issuing agent. This does not apply to (a) Housework in the child's home or parents' business, (b) Agricultural Work, (c) Casual Work, including but not limited to the home, (d) Distribution or sale of newspapers, periodicals, handbills, or articles of any description in any street or public place outside of school hours, (e) Shoeshining in any street or public place outside of school hours, (f) Babysitting.

Letters To The Editor

The Loudoun County Herald
Dear Sir:

My name is Joe Brannon and for weeks now I have been thinking about the proposed changes in the county school board. I don't look like the bill drawn up by the court committee will get anywhere and it does not have my blessing either.

I have some suggestions about the school board and thought I might pass them along to you and the court.

1. Continue to let Court appoint the members, but let Court take hearings from people. Example, set up a public hearing on a certain person in mind for School Board and hear the people out on it if people show no interest or have a certain person to nominate. Let it be heard in a public hearing and be thrashed out as to who should be appointed or not. Pick best qualified man, etc.

2. Let terms run no more than four years with a chance to get reappointed to second term. But place a two term limit on members.

3. Let the delegate running for board member notify the public of his intentions at least three months before appointment date.

4. a - If a seven member board - Only let three members be in Loudoun City, one at Eatons (not voting with Loudoun City), two in Loudoun, Steeple and Philadelphia and one on Greenback and Glendale.

b - Or alternate plans for nine board members - Only have not more than four in City of Loudoun City, two from Greenback and Glendale, two from Loudoun area, one from Eatons and Highland Park or two from Eatons and one from Glendale and Greenback. We need some system to keep Loudoun City from controlling the whole County because they have their own School System. If they do consolidate with the County, the City can't control the County and City and if the consolidation takes place, the city will be the County Schools so there will be no problem there.

5. Let the person eligible for school board be of age not less than 28 years old.

6. Let majority be men if women are present on Board.

7. Let these procedures be worked out before July, 1974 and take effect.

8. Let the Chairman be decided by the Board members every two years.

9. Let Superintendent term run as presently running but make a clause to the effect that if the majority of public see fit, bring charges against Superintendent and if charges are proven true let the Court replace him. No one man should dominate the position of Superintendent without public having a little control over it somewhere. This is dictating.

10. Let School Board member running for first time be petitioned for appointment at least three months before appointment deadline notify the public by advertising at least two weeks in sequence.

11. Let Court decide on best qualified Superintendent. This is an important position but public should have power to condemn Court decision if proven Court is in wrong doing.

12. Let County Maintenance Supervisor speak only to Board and not public. Other words let School Board decide what maintenance will do and not do and where in sequence in priority.

13. Let School Board agenda be published at least one week before meeting.

14. Have Secretary to keep minutes as proceeding in Parliamentary Law. This way all minutes will be kept and not just the ones of importance to Board.

15. Let present Board members serve rest of their term out with eligibility for not more than one more four year term providing citizens don't come up with a better qualified man to run against him for appointment. Court will have say which is best qualified not necessarily on experience.

16. Let Chairman of School Board vote only when the vote Squires to vote only in the vote unless this particular Squire presented the bill to be voted on. Then let him remain silent on voting unless he vote. Then he can vote his favorite side.

18. If a certain Board member has been on two terms in sequence and out then after four years if an opening comes up and the Court sees fit with approval of public he can be reinstated as a new member for two more terms. This will eliminate stagnation.

These are the Brannon plans and if printed for the public to review and change add to or amend and present a bill with alterations. We could say this is a basic study plan as a guide line to a new idea in selecting school board members, which will give public a more secure feeling in its Board members, which it does not have now.

I have all due respect for the present School Board members in Loudoun County. They are doing a fine job, but they are lax in some spots where they should give a great deal more attention and a lot of attention in some areas of their profession.

If printed I hope to have the respect and have no hard feelings between any present or future school board members.

Sincerely,
Joe Brannon,
Route 3
Loudoun City.

MR. EDITOR:
This is a copy of a letter I wrote to Governor Winfield Dunn.

Dear Governor Dunn: I am writing you this letter to register my opposition to no-fault insurance, and to any form of insurance that is compulsory. First because no-fault insurance offers the insured practically nothing except that his drivers license cannot be revoked. Then who should every man or woman who owns and drives a car be compelled to pay the insurance companies a large premium for the privilege of driving his own car? Our lawmakers contend that it is for the protection of the other drivers. But I personally believe it is a political understanding worked out between the fat pig insurance companies and our overpaid politicians.

I say this because I have had experience with insurance companies and people with political connections. And I am sorry to say but in every case, insurance proved to be anything other than a protection for the victim.

As an illustration of what I mean, I will give you a brief outline of an accident that happened only one mile from where I live on Friday night Feb. 14, 1969. I was coming home from the Loudoun City Car Sales. When I got to where the White Wing Road intersects with Highway 95, I stopped at the STOP sign which is 57 feet back from Highway 95 and there was no car lights in sight. I started going around a curve about 200 yards away. I noted that they were coming at a terrific rate of speed and I stopped my car. Just seconds later there was the sound of metal striking metal and my car was jerked forward and to the right about six feet but my car motor was still running. The car that hit me went on and drove two complete spins in the center ditch with its lights pointing north, the direction from which it came. I walked about 10 seconds then not seeing anyone, I cut my motor off and walked over to the other car. Then a man came up out of the ditch walking unsteadily and leaned up against the front of my car. I said something to him but he did not seem to hear me. Then he went back and opened the car door and opened a satchel and examined the contents then closed the satchel and came back to the front of his car.

Then the highway patrolman, Richard (Red) Phillips arrived on the scene and started making his report. I handed him my drivers license and he took them and just glanced over them then handed them back to me. Then I told him I did not have liability insurance and he said that is too bad, you ought to have it. Then he turned to the other man whom I did not recognize at the time and asked him one or two questions. Then I heard the man say I have some of that high proof stuff in my car. I am glad it did not break. I am glad Mr. Phelps said in a low voice, I am lo. Then Patrolman Phelps took his flashlight and started around the car and I followed him and when we got to the back in the trunk of the car, I noticed the right rear fender was smashed in. I asked what did it and Mr. Phelps said, That is what hit you. Then I realized that the car was out of control and side wise when it hit me. Patrolman Phelps never did go over to my car and examine it. So I got in my car and drove it home.

Then on Saturday morning I went to Loudoun City and to the office of Bland D. Winfrey, attorney, and told him what had happened and asked him to settle the case and get me a release.

Then on Saturday, Feb. 22, I got a telephone call from Miss Norma Henry wanting me to come to the State Farm Insurance Office. I asked her why I should come to the office and she said, We are Mr. Denton E. Littleton's attorney, and he met me at the door with two padded repair estimates for Mr. Littleton's car. One from Curtis Pontiac-Buick, Inc. 300 East Broadway, Loudoun City for $995.41 and one from Jim White Chevrolet, Inc., 311 East Broadway, Loudoun City for $1,006.12.

He said that Mr. Littleton's car, a 1966 Pontiac Lemans was listed at $1300 and that Jackie Sartin, a local junk dealer, had told Mr. Littleton he would give him $300 for the wreck for junk. And if I would give Mr. Littleton a certified check for $1000, he would sign a release. I asked Mr. Winfrey why I could not give him a check for $1300 and me take the wreck. But he said Mr. Littleton had done said it to Jackie on Monday Feb. 24. I went to Jackie Sartin's junk yard and asked him to let me see Mr. Littleton's car, and Jackie said Mr. Littleton did not let him have it. Then a few days later I went to Atty Winfrey's office to have him fill out the papers to the N.A.A. so I could get the Ally. fees I had paid him. And he got very angry and said he would have to get the records out and that anyway I could not get anything because I did not start a suit. But I insisted and he went and got records and laid them on his desk in front of him and although the report was upside down to me, I noted that it said a 1967 Pontiac Catalina ID-No. 3845 and it was a 1966 Pontiac Lemans with ID-No. 3845 that hit me.

Just as Mr. Winfrey finished filling out my claim papers his phone rang and he went in the other room to answer it. He said for me to wait a minute that he wanted to make a photostatic copy of the papers. But I picked up the papers and left his office. Then I wrote a letter to the Dept. of Safety and asked them what kind, make and model car or cars, Mr. Denton E. Littleton had registered to him in 1968. And their answer was, a 1967 Pontiac Catalina ID-No. 3845, which was the ID number he had on the Lemans. Therefore he could not have had insurance on the Lemans and I believe he was drinking and he told Patrolman Phelps he had alcohol in his car and meanwhile I was sitting still waiting for him to pass yet because of political connections, the State Farm Insurance Co. helped Denton E. Littleton and his friend, fix up false papers to defraud me. I hope you will take into consideration these facts before signing into law any form of compulsory insurance.

Sincerely,
James S. Cornett

Are You Using Electric Space Heaters?

Gas, oil, and coal for home heating are in short supply. As a result, many people are switching to electric space heaters. And this is causing three serious problems.

- Using electric space heaters for the first time can easily overload the transformer serving your home. It could blow out, leaving you and possibly several neighbors totally without power.
- Using an electric space heater in an uninsulated home is practically like burning money, since the heat escapes almost as rapidly as it's produced.
- In a home with inadequate wiring, electric space heaters can cause circuits to overheat to the burning point. Your house could burn down.

These Are The Problems -- Here Are The Solutions.

- Call us before buying an electric space heater. We'll see that the transformer delivers the electricity you need.
- Insulate your home. Otherwise, your electric bill will be enormously expensive. Caulk around window and door frames, and weatherstrip outside doors. Since greatest heat loss occurs through the ceiling, insulating it with at least six inches of fibrous insulation should be your first step.
- As a fire prevention measure, have an electrician check your home's fuse box and wiring. And never put metal objects behind fuses, or use a fuse or circuit breaker that is larger than the circuit calls for.

SO CALL US BEFORE YOU BUY. WE'LL HELP EVERYWAY WE CAN.

Loudon Charter Study Proposed

A Government Study Commission of "blue ribbon" appointees has been proposed to make a complete study of the City of Loudon charter.

Mayor Eugene Lambert announced that he and City Administrator Gary Hensley had been discussing the need for changes and updating of the city charter. A last Thursday's meeting of the City Commission Lambert told the commissioners he wanted them to be thinking about the proposal and to recommend citizens to him to serve on the select committee.

Mr. Hensley said that the city is operating under a charter that is almost 50 years old and many of its sections are obsolete and the Commission is doing many things that are necessary to operate the city that are illegal because they are not covered under the charter.

Mayor Lambert said that there are many professional aids available for such a study. He named the Municipal Technical Advisory Service for one and indicated that a complete study could take six, eight months or even a year. He mentioned that from five to seven people who were really interested in city government and understood principals of government should be sought to serve on the commission.

Apparently the Government Study Commission will be one of the main topics that will be discussed at a "retreat" slated by the Commission for mid-January.

Breakins Continue To Plague County

A rash of breakins continues to keep Loudon County Sheriff's Department deputies busy.

The home of the W.M. Brezalek family in Hines Valley was left in a shambles by thieves Tuesday. Deputy Luke Bright said the family left home Tuesday morning and returned about 2:30 p.m. and found the back door forced open.

Taken was an Allide 445 stereo AM-FM receiver, tape player, two speakers, set of ear phones, a bank containing $50 in change and a Arco camera and case. Deputy Bright said several other items were found outside the home. The house is located on Hines Valley Road.

Deputy Veyd Carruth investigated a theft at the Steve McKee residence on Johnson Circle in Browder Hollow. A long horn roping saddle valued at $800 was taken. Two days later the saddle was found.

A Bradford 19 inch color television set and $60 in change were taken from the home of T.W. Watkins, Rt. 5, Harrison Lane, according to a report filed by Deputy Kenneth Brown. A window was broken out of the residence by the thieves.

Tip Top Tavern near Lenoir City was also the victim of a breakin. Taken was about $25 in pennies, two wrist watches and two boxes of slim Jims. The cigarette machine, Jake also broken into. Deputy Jake Chapman investigated.

Mrs. Ray Birkholz To Head Heart Fund Drive

Mrs. Ray Birkholz will serve as the campaign chairman of the 1974 Heart Fund in Loudon, Erie, and Philadelphia. It was announced this week by Jake Butcher, Campaign Chairman for East Tennessee and Mr. Ned McWherter, Tennessee Heart Campaign Chairman.

In making the announcement Mr. Butcher, President of the City and County Banking Group in East Tennessee, said, "It is a pleasure to welcome Mrs. Birkholz as chairman of a dedicated group of Heart Fund volunteers. Loudon has in the past done an outstanding job in conducting their campaign against the nation's number one killer...heart disease."

American Heart Month, by an act of Congress. Anyone wishing to help in this year's campaign should contact Mrs. Ray Birkholz.

"I am happy to accept the chairmanship of the 1974 Heart Fund Drive in Loudon. The latest Public Health Department figures show that out of 237 deaths in Loudon County during 1971, 131 deaths, or 56 percent, were caused by cardiovascular disease; this is the best reason I know for every person in Loudon to work for and contribute to the Heart Fund."

Herald Christmas Issue Saturday

The Annual Christmas Greeting Issue of The Loudon County Herald will be published Friday night of this week for delivery and newstand sales for Saturday.

In the 29 page greeting section are Christmas Greeting advertisements from more than 100 Loudon County businesses along with several hundred letters to Santa Claus from youngsters in Loudon County.

Deadlines for the main news section of the issue will be 3 p.m. Thursday. All correspondents are urged to have their copy into the office by noon Thursday. There will not be an issue of The Herald Christmas week, although the office will be open during regular business hours.

The first publication of the new year will be on Thursday, Jan. 4, about 24 hours later than usual because of the New Year's Day holiday falling on Tuesday.

METHODIST CHRISMON TREE.—The first known Christmas tree in Loudon was erected at the Loudon United Methodist Church last week and lighted at a special ceremony at the church. In the photo are Mrs. W.F. Zimmerman, Mrs. Glen House, Mrs. Harrell Russell and Rev. W.H. Horner.

Chrismon Tree Service Keynotes Holiday Spirit

BY CALVIN LUNSFORD

The Loudon United Methodist Church conducted a Chrismon tree lighting service on Sunday, December 16 at 5:30 p.m. This was the first Chrismon tree in the City of Loudon. These trees have been constructed and lighted in Atlanta, Birmingham, Knoxville and Maryville.

The word Chrismon was derived from the words Christ and monograms. The decoration on the tree were monograms of Christ. All of the ornaments are symbols which have been used by Christians. Some of which have come down through centuries of use.

All Chrismons which were used in decorating the tree were made in combination of gold and white. The white denoting the Lord's purity and perfection and the gold denoting his majesty and glory. Only white lighting was used pointing our Christ as the light of the world and again emphasizing his purity.

During the lighting ceremonies, different monograms on the tree were pointed to and an explanation of their meaning and Christian significance was conducted by those on the program as Christmas music was sang by the church choir.

The designing and construction of the tree and its symbols was a joint effort by the church family and a total of four months time was consumed in making this unique tree ready for the Christmas season. The United Methodist Women's Club did research in preparation for getting the church side project underway. The ladies of the church as well as many of the male members contributed time and talent in making and designing some of the unique symbols which were needed to make the tree a reality.

In a giant figure-eight in the center of the tree, the lower circle of the light bore symbols which were emphasized during the program.

Some of the symbols were explained as follows: the cross, of Christ's saving work of redeeming mankind; the dove, a symbol of the holy spirit; the circle, a very appropriate symbol for expressing the eternalness of God since a circle has no beginning or end.

Of course, this is only a few of the hundreds of symbols which adorned this majestic tree. The tree reached from the floor to the ceiling of the sanctuary.

The idea behind this tree was not only to make an unusual and beautiful tree but the spiritual aspect with reverent intent.

Rev. W.H. Horner, pastor of the United Methodist Church said that it was a church family venture and a work of great joy to each one who participated. He stated that all the Chrismons were made by the Loudon family and he hoped the lighting of the tree with its beauty and significance helped make the celebration of Christmas more meaningful.

RECEIVE GRANT CHECK.—Loudon County State Senator Carl Koella and State Representative M.F. 'Benny' Stafford are shown receiving a check for Loudon County. The check represented a state grant for solid waste disposal for the county.

City Slates Meeting On Urban Revitalization

A "brain storming" session of the Loudon City Commission with all merchants, businessmen, professional persons and owners of commercial property in the city, will be held at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, January 10.

Mayor Eugene Lambert said the meeting is being called to discuss possible interest in Urban Revitalization of the business districts, downtown and west end of the City.

Mayor Lambert said that the merchants will be asked if they are interested in such a project and if they are the City will ask the Tennessee Valley Authority and other agencies which assist cities in making studies and plans for revitalization projects to make proposals.

The Mayor indicated that the city certainly did not have any definite plan and that hopefully some plans could be made from this meeting of the merchants. The possibility of funding such a project is included in the five year capital budget of the city.

Lambert stated he understood that possibly a local bank and some merchants have discussed the possibility of enhancing the parking situation in the downtown area and the city in no way wants to interfere in their plan.

City Administrator Gary Hensley said that the city does not have any plan on the proposal, but right now it is just an idea that can be worked on. This is the reason for the meeting on Jan. 10 to determine if there is sufficient interest to proceed with studies and planning that would be necessary.

The Mayor also said that if sufficient interest is shown he would be in favor of going into a planning phase and to look at alternative plans but the city is by no means proposing to start a project totally at city expense. Whatever is done would have to be a joint venture between the city and the business community, he said.

He said that the Commission recognizes the importance of local business to the city tax structure and the importance of seeing a viable commercial community grow and to attract new businesses as well as enhancing the business of existing commercial establishments.

Future action of the Commission on this matter is said to rest on the interest shown at the January meeting by the businessmen and commercial property owners, both in the downtown business district and in the West End.

Commissioner Doug Lyle and the other Commissioners all expressed a strong interest in a revitalization program. Commissioner Lyle said he had already talked to some businessmen and found a strong interest and willingness to participate in a program that would serve to strengthen the businessmen's position in the city.

Nursing Home Gets OK

Loudon City Commission in special session last Thursday night approved the establishment of a Health and Education Facilities Board for the City of Loudon which will lead to the construction of a 120 bed nursing home at Loudon.

The home will be constructed by the William Bond and Associates of Memphis and will be known as Care Inn, a trade name the company uses on the other 11 nursing homes they have in Tennessee and Mississippi.

Murray Murphy, executive Vice President of Bond, Danny Sanders of the firm's Construction division and Jim Pickle of the Land Development Division were all present for the meeting.

The City will create a seven member Health and Education Facilities Board which will issue revenue bonds for the funds that will be used to purchase the land and build the building. The facility will then be leased by Care Inn and operated in a lease-purchase agreement.

Although the bonds will be sold by the City of Loudon the city will not be liable for their payment. The Wm. Bond company will put up their assets to back the bonds.

Mayor Eugene Lambert asked that each member of the Commission submit names to him from which the facilities board will be created at the January meeting of the Commission.

Mr. Murphy said that his firm had talked to Mrs. Martha Robinson of Loudon about the purchase of about six acres of land just south of Loudon on Highway 72 as a site for the facility. He indicated that an option agreement had been reached.

Mr. Murphy stated that it would take 60 to 90 days to obtain a Certificate of Need from the State of Tennessee, another 30 days for the sale of the bonds, which would be followed by the construction of the facility.

He said it would take about five or six months for construction meaning the nursing home would be open late next year.

Mr. Murphy and his associates had spent all day Thursday in Loudon working with Mayor Lambert, City Administrator Gary Hensley and Commissioner Doug Lyle on the proposal.

World War II Rationing Recalled Local Cars Burn 9,418,000 Gallons Of Gasoline Annually

How will Loudon County be affected if and when gas rationing is imposed once again? What adjustments will have to be made by the owners of the 12,300 local cars?

Less than half the people now living in the area can remember what it was like when the government previously rationed gas, during World War II.

That is not because of any faulty memory on their part. The reason is that most local residents were either not yet born or were too young then to know what was going on. The median age of the Loudon County population is only 31.2 years.

If they had been present and aware, they would have observed that each family car had a sticker on its windshield, with a big A, B, C or X on it. This told the service station attendant at a glance just how much gas the driver was entitled to.

The A stickers were good for four gallons a week in the beginning. This was later reduced to three.

The B ones were good for supplemental allowances that would enable essential workers to commute to their jobs. The C ones went to those people who required cars for their livelihood. They got more.

The X sticker, highly prized, was for vehicles exempted from any rationing.

In addition to the sticker, each car owner was issued a ration book and stamps. A stamp had to be turned in to the gas station each time a purchase was made. The station, in turn, had to paste the stamps on sheets and turn them in to the government.

There were other severe restrictions at that time. One of them applied to the speed limit. It was set at 35 miles per hour, as compared with the 55 limit in effect now.

With the present controls on speed and on Sunday sales of gas proving to be inadequate, the government is leaning toward rationing. Affected by it will be the 12,200 passenger cars in Loudon County, which have been consuming gas at the estimated rate of 9,418,000 gallons per year.

A cutback of 20 percent would mean that they would get about three gallons less per week, on average. This represents a reduction of some 45 miles of travel per week.

Gunter Displays Nativity Scene
At the Forest Hills subdivision near Davis School, the true story of Christmas is related in a Nativity Scene which is across the lawn of the home of Dr. F.A. Gunter, Doctor of Divinity. Dr. Gunter's interest in constructing scenes related to the Christmas season dates back across a span of better than 12 years. Dr. Gunter, who is a Cumberland Presbyterian minister, as well as a school teacher, began his Christmas scene activity work in 1959 at the Hardin County School. He has displayed his talents at Gillis Mills School, which won a top prize; at Union Grove School in McMinn County; Browder, Luttrell and Jackson Schools in Loudon County; Petros School in Morgan County and last year at Oakdale School. Persons driving through this section of Loudon County will likely stop and take a second look at the work of Dr. Gunter, who through his talents and labor has caused Christmas to take a little deeper meaning for those who pass his way.

LIGHTED ON CHRISTMAS EVE—Dr. F.A. Gunter of Loudon will light this nativity scene on the lawn of his home near Davis School for one hour Christmas Eve. Dr. Gunter made each piece of the display, some as long as 12 years ago.

The Dutch like their desserts and the chef gives special attention to this department. He flavors his desserts with Vandermint, a delicious Dutch minted chocolate liqueur. One of the favorites is Vandermint Buttercream Torte.

Vandermint Buttercream Torte
 1/2 qt. milk
 1/2 cup sugar
 1 Tbs. vanilla extract
 1/2 cup corn starch
 1/2 cup chocolate syrup
 Mix 1/2 cup corn starch with 1/2 cup milk. Bring rest of milk, sugar and vanilla to boil. Add corn starch-milk mixture and simmer for 2 minutes. Strain if necessary, and cool.
 Whip butter until fluffy and slowly add the custard.
 Reserve two cups buttercream. To the rest, add 1/2 cup chocolate syrup and 1/2 cup Vandermint and mix well.
 Cut sponge cake into three layers. Spread about 1/2" of the chocolate-Vandermint buttercream between layers and cover top and sides. Decorate top of cake with plain buttercream and chocolate chips.

BY HARVEY L. SPROUL

LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

It was certainly sad for me to learn that Reverend Alexander Gillander and his family are leaving Loudon County.

As pastor of the Greenback Presbyterian Church for several years now, he has been one of the good forces toward promoting the idea of co-operation and better relations between the people of the Greenback area of Loudon County and the rest of the County.

He has served as Chairman of the Loudon County Welfare Advisory Committee, and has been involved in many other general community activities involving a County-wide nature.

I seldom was in Greenback for any kind of function wherein he and Mrs. Gillander were not present and very much involved.

If there was anything good and positive going on, they were always in the middle of it, with little time for stopping to criticize or to be negative.

They will be missed and we wish them the best of luck in the future.

And while speaking about Greenback, isn't it a nice thing to hear about Terresa Goddard and her national honor as having been selected as a National Winner in the National 4-H Safety Project competition. Congratulations to her and to her family!

One of the things that frequently comes to my mind is how much the world involves around meetings.

We are all involved in meetings and anyone who is interested in the improvement of community, or governmental or church, or professional activities, etc., knows that success revolves around meetings.

Sometimes we get to thinking, "Well, why can't we just go ahead and do this?" But we come to find out that we live in a democracy and no one can just come out and do something.

The big problem is to have involvement and support on any particular issue that you want to accomplish and basically the only way to get that kind of thing and to organize it, is to have meetings.

The problem about meetings is that so often they get off the track, and that the wrong things are said by the right people, or vice versa, and one begins to wonder how anything is ever accomplished by a meeting.

One of the most used phrases is that if you want to kill something then refer it to a committee.

But this is not true, because there is virtually nothing that you can get accomplished unless you do refer it to a committee to explore the ideas and to get the best ideas of all persons involved.

Many people feel that they would rather not speak up in a meeting because they feel rebuffed if they make a statement which is not well received by the other people present.

But this is the wrong way to feel, because all of us can be right all of the time and the way to get to the truth or to the nut of the coconut is to talk back and forth until the idea is refined.

I would have to say that any of the accomplishments that have been made in County government during the last few years has had to be because of and with extensive discussion with Court members and citizens through meetings, newspaper articles, etc. Get the problem out in the open - get it hood down to a workable solution and support by general public opinion. If the final result is good, it will stand and be generally supported. If not, it should be taken back to the stable (my farm language I picked up).

Now no one can consider, I suppose, that this has been a very enlightening column today, because I have just beat around the bush talking about meetings, but to give you an example of how much "meeting" is required in order to accomplish the overall job, I will list in column form the meetings which I have attended or should have attended within the last three or four weeks (ETDD - East Tennessee Development District):

- Loudon County Quarterly Court
- ETDD Human Resources Committee
- ETDD Executive Committee
- Several meetings with Industrial prospects
- Loudon County Budget Committee
- Loudon County Purchasing Committee
- Dedication of Tennessee Forging Steel
- Loudon County Planning Commission
- Loudon County Memorial Hospital Board
- School Board Special Study Committee
- Overlook Mental Health Center Board
- Local Government meeting with Legislators
- County Personnel Board
- County Welfare Advisory Committee
- Loudon County Committee of 100
- Loudon County Health Council
- ETDD Law Enforcement Project Review
- Hospital-Physician Coordinating Committee
- Meeting with TVA concerning Lenoir City Industrial Park
- ETDD Steering Committee
- Governor's Advisory Committee concerning Title I Assistance to Higher Education
- Loudon and Roane Manpower Program Allocation Committee

Now this is just meetings having some governmental association and does not include other meetings at which I was present or was supposed to be present.

So if you are not willing to meet or if you don't have a staff which can meet for you (they haven't provided me one

Gasoline Shortage Could Trigger Black Market

The continued gasoline and diesel shortage could trigger an upsurge in illegal fuel traffic, but according to Commissioner of Revenue George M. Tidwell Tennessee is in a good position to meet the problem, thanks to a stiff new law enacted by the last legislature.

Tidwell said the new law has provided the department with some real strength in dealing with tax violators engaged in illegal activities such as bootlegging fuel into the state or pirating non-taxable fuels for commercial sale.

Under the statute, any action which deprives the state of lawful revenue in excess of $5,000 will be considered a felony offense, punishable by a maximum fine of $5,000 and/or a maximum sentence of five years in jail.

In cases of non-payment or fraudulent tax returns, all accounts must be paid in full in addition to the possible sentence and fine.

Although the law has only been in effect since May, 1973, it has already produced a major indictment. An East Tennessee oil distributor has been bound over for trial in Hamblen County on charges of failure to submit fuel tax payments, failure to file tax returns, and illegal importation of untaxed fuel into the state.

The commissioner said that some distributors had engaged in similar activities in the past but until the enactment of the felony statute such violators were punishable as misdemeanors.

After paying a relatively light fine individuals often resumed operation again under an assumed name.

"When we were operating under the misdemeanor law, our hands were really tied," Tidwell explained. "We'd bring tax violators in, win our case, and the next thing we knew they'd be back on the street, doing business at the same old stand. For them, a misdemeanor was a drop in the bucket compared with the money they could rake off by illegal means."

"But now," Tidwell said, "we've finally got a law with some teeth in it. It may not stop these boys completely but the thought of five years in jail may slow them down a bit."

Tidwell stressed that the law was not aimed at the average taxpayer who might yet, and if you don't want to spend a lot of time talking and explaining, then being a County Judge, or a Mayor, or a similar official is not for you.

make innocent mistakes in the filing of returns.

"Our main concern is the conscious and active tax defaulter, the kind of individual who collects sales tax from a customer and then puts it in his pocket instead of turning it over to the State.

This kind of individual is cheating the customer not only at the counter—he's cheating him in his daily life, in the quality of his children's schools, the roads he travels, the services offered by his town, county, and state. All of these things come from tax."

Tidwell said the fuel tax area has been relatively free of problems in the past. He admitted, however, that the energy crisis could change that.

"If the shortage proves as severe as some predictions, we may see tactics similar to those used during the World War II rationing. I don't anticipate any heavy black market trade in Tennessee, but you may see small-time operators who try to make a profit by bringing in gas from surrounding states and selling it without paying Tennessee fuel taxes."

"Or you may see distributors claiming non-taxable status for fuel sales to exempt areas such as farming and essential industries, and then they will turn around, shorting their customer's orders and sell the surplus to commercial outlets. They can get the higher price without even paying the State its lawful taxes."

Whatever form the problem takes, Tidwell said the Department of Revenue is ready to deal with it.

"We're not in the business of harassing or persecuting anyone, but the tax laws weren't created just to generate operating revenue for the state. They were also created to protect honest taxpayers from others who drain the state's resources—and potential by not paying their proper revenue share.

"That's what the people pay us for, to enforce those laws as fairly and equitably as possible. And that's what we intend to do."

Flood Insurance Benefits

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last in a series of three articles on the new federally subsidized flood insurance program available to residents of Tennessee as well as residents of all other states. The coordinating agency for flood insurance in Tennessee is the Tennessee State Planning Office.

What would you do if you were suddenly forced to evacuate your home to the raging waters of a flood? How could you protect yourself and your family from the losses such floods often leave in their wake?

While you may not be able to stop the damaging waters of a flood, you can protect yourself from the losses resulting from it.

How? Through a new federally subsidized program of flood insurance.

An amendment to the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968, which became effective as of January 1, 1973, has made flood insurance available to individuals who were previously unable to get it.

But exactly what sort of losses are covered by flood insurance?

The National Flood Insurance Program defines a flood as "a general and temporary condition of partial or complete inundation of normally dry lands from 1. the overflow of inland or tidal waters, 2. The unusual and rapid accumulation or runoff of surface waters from any source, or 3. Mudslides which are caused or precipitated by accumulations of water on or under the ground."

What sort of coverage can I expect?

Any damages resulting from flood conditions as defined above are covered under the flood insurance program.

However, damages caused by a factor such as natural erosion would not be covered under the program.

The policy states that insurance at subsidized premium rates may be purchased for any existing building or for any building whose construction was started before the date the community was identified as a hazardous area, and for any new construction outside the areas of special flood hazards.

Insurance at the subsidized rates may be purchased in amounts up to $17,500 for single family residential structures (including townhouses or rowhouses) and up to $20,000 for all other structures. Contents coverage is available at subsidized rates in amounts up to $5,000 per unit and may be purchased by either the owner or the tenant.

There is a deductible clause, applicable separately to both the structure and the contents, which is either $200 or two percent of the amount of the loss, whichever is greater.

Effects on the Community. A community must adopt minimum land use control measures in order to apply for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program.

In other words, local governments must show evidence that decisions concerning the location, design, and construction of new structures will take known flood hazards into account.

However, if the information concerning a community's flood situation (which is needed in order to formulate these land use and control measures) is not available, the community may simply adopt a building permit system. This will enable the community to obtain flood insurance coverage until such time as the necessary flood hazard information becomes available.

The community can receive a number of benefits from the adoption of land use and control measures. For instance, land use regulations are helpful in seeing that unprotected lands are out to their most appropriate use. Also, losses resulting from the unwise use of flood-prone lands by private or public landowners are prevented.

Often the decision of how to use land or where or how to build is not made by the same individual who will suffer if these decisions are improperly made. Land use and control measures are the means by which a community sets standards to ensure that wise decisions are made.

By encouraging local governments to adopt policies which will prevent the unwise occupancy and use of flood prone areas, the federal government hopes to minimize losses resulting annually from floods.

your community, contact the Tennessee State Planning Office, East Tennessee Section, 1114 W. Clinch Avenue, P.O. Box 1069, Knoxville, Tennessee 37901, 615-523-2165.

Lenoir City Schools

UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE OFFERS TWO NEW COURSES FOR ADMINISTRATORS

The Department of Educational Administration and Supervision at U.T., Knoxville, will offer two new courses during the winter quarter to train principals, teachers and administrative personnel for school administration. The new courses are entitled School Transportation and Advances School Management, both are three hour courses.

The School Transportation course, No. 5773, is a basic study of school transportation relating to its development; federal, state, and local responsibilities; central office responsibilities; principal and teacher responsibilities; legal aspects, driver personnel; services and maintenance; routes and stops; purchasing of buses; financing; accounting; insurance and liability; and public and private ownership. This course will be offered on Tuesday evenings from 6:30 - 9:30.

The Advanced School Business Management course, No. 5774, is a planning approach to school business through (1) The role and setting for school business administration, (2) Planning tools and processes designed for school business administration, (3) the tasks of school business administration, and (4) the school business administrator and his position. This course will be offered on Monday from 6:30 - 9:30 p.m., winter quarter.

SURVEY OF FEDERAL CONNECTED CHILDREN

The annual Survey of Federal connected children in Lenoir City Schools will begin this week when parents will be sent enrollment cards for enrolling all students whose parents work on Federal projects. In order to claim reimbursement under Public Law No. 874 parents must certify they are employed on Federal installation.

The enrollment card is simple and easy to fill out and requires the signature of the parent or guardian. It is merely a certification to the fact that the parent, either mother or father, is employed on Federal property. By filling out the enrollment card, the parent makes it possible for Lenoir City Schools to collect from the Federal Government for the operation of schools in Lenoir City. Last school year, Lenoir City received in excess of $40,000 for Public Law No. 874, Class B children. These are children whose parents work on but live off federal installations.

Last year, 1972-73 school year, 421 children attended Lenoir City School whose parents worked on Federal projects. The following properties were eligible last year and will also be eligible this school year, 1973-74:

Atomic Energy Commission: Union Carbide, Rust Engineering; Tennessee Valley Authority: Kingston Steam Plant, Bull Run Steam Plant, Fort Loudon Dam, Power Construction, Tellico Dam, Melton Hill, Cumberland City Steam Plant, Sequoyah Nuclear Plant, Raccoon Mt. Project, Muscle Shoals Plant, Brown's Ferry Nuclear Plant, Magnolia Avenue Site of TVA, Union Avenue Building in Knoxville.

Parents and guardians are requested to fill out the enrollment cards and return to school the day following receipt of same.

COMMODITIES HELP TO REDUCE PRICE OF SCHOOL LUNCHES
Surplus commodities distributed by the State Department of Agriculture help considerably to reduce the price of school lunches. This is reflected in the cost of commodities distributed to Lenoir City school last year in the amount of $25,270.85 and included the following items:

35 cases of canned pineapple; 5190 lbs. frozen chicken; 12 cases canned pears; 8600 lbs. creamery butter; 37 cases canned peaches; 4700 lbs dried beans; 505 lbs. frozen pork; 56 cases canned tomatoes; 27 cases apple sauce; 13 cases rolled oats; 22 cases peanut butter; 22 cases canned corn; 63 cases frozen orange juice; 3760 lbs. frozen turkey; 36 cases salad oil; 30 cases dry milk; 3200 lbs. corn meal; 18000 lbs. flour; 950 lbs. rice; 34 cases of canned poultry; 28 cases shortening; 1440 lbs frozen french fries; and 18 cases fruit cocktail.

play it safe with Christmas Lighting

Before you decorate your tree with lights, check them for any defects in wiring. Sockets and plugs should be replaced if necessary.

Do not leave the Christmas tree lights on all night, and remember to turn them off when you leave the house. If the houselights dim when the Christmas tree lights are turned on, unplug any appliances on the same circuit.

If you are decorating outdoors, be sure that wires, plugs, and sockets are weatherproof and designed for outdoor use.

Observing these electrical safety precautions should help you have a safe and merry Christmas.

DRY FASHION

The early Spanish explorers and one later-day resident of Scotland had one substantial thing in common—the development of the raincoat. We wear raincoats as a matter of course today, but, according to the Teacher's Scotch Information Centre, their invention was comparatively recent.

The earliest Spanish explorers made a clumsy move in the direction of waterproofing. They were constantly plagued by the handicap of wet feet, so they tried painting their new rough shoes with a milky substance that the natives used to keep the lampreys off.

In 1770, a chemist, Joseph Priestley, discovered by accident that a congealed bit of this white sap would "rub" out pencil marks, so he named it "rubber."

Loudon Lassies Move Into Share Of District 8 Leadership With Bradley County, Tame Everett Sextet 56-53

The Loudon Lassies ran their season record to 8-2 Friday night with a hard earned 56-53 victory over once beaten District Eight power Maryville Everett. The Lassies, winning a big one for Coach Dewayne Arp and on the road at that, got double figure scoring from its three starting forwards.

Jane Shubert, Loudon's senior playmaker, stepped from the role of non-shooter and low scorer to the clutch gunner Friday night. The three year starter for Coach Dewayne Arp had a most pleasing performance netting 18 points and five assists, on a season average of some 12.5 points a contest.

Marilyn Smith, who like Shubert, has been a starter for three seasons and watched the Loudon distaffs usually come only close in the major important games, rifled in 24 points for top game scoring honors.

Loudon's "Miss Consistent" junior Debbie Hawkins joined in the jubilation with 14 points.

The Lassie forwards used a balanced offensive effort to handle the Bulldogettes. In the first seven minute frame that ended in a 14-14 deadlock Shubert had six points, Smith and Hawkins four each. Everett edged the Loudon sextet 18-16 in the second quarter for a 32-30 halftime lead. Shubert tallied just two points and Hawkins had four, counters, but Marilyn Smith took charge with 10 points to keep the game on the ropes.

The third period had Loudon knocking the score at 46-46. Shubert again held the clutch scoring coach with eight points and two assists. Smith and Hawkins each scored four more points. The final frame belonged to the run and gun of Miss Smith, who scored six points, and the tenacious Loudon defense of Jennifer Jean Purdy, Mary Tyler and Connie Huskey. Marilyn Smith's driving field goal and foul shot in the waning seconds of the ball game when a single turnover could have blown the game for either team clinched Coach Dewayne Arp's sextet its longest winning streak since the crafty coach took the head mentor post in 1971-72 campaign.

Offensively Loudon shot a remarkable 37 percent with 20 field goals out of 46 shots. Not one Loudon forward shot less than 50 percent from the field.

Loudon added four points by way of foul shots. The Lassies shot just seven in the game. Maryville Everett, losing for only the second time and this first time in district competition, played without one of its usual starting forwards Dena Sumpter, but hit 23 of 41 shots for a terrific 51 percent as a team. The Bulldogettes also counted on seven of eight foul shots.

The Loudon defense not playing as tough as maybe they have played for four complete quarters this season, got bustling efforts from J. J. Purdy, Connie Huskey, Mary Tyler, and Cindy Allmon. Miss Tyler was high rebounder for Loudon with six and sparked an excellent fourth quarter exhibition that yielded the Everett sextet a season quarter low of seven points.

The Loudon boys, facing what will probably prove to be the top team in District Eight by the time of tournament playdowns in February, bowed to the currently unbeaten Bulldog five 81-62.

The Redskins was led by William Caniser and Butch Brown in the game with Caniser dropping in 20 points and Brown, giving the best individual performance, had 16 points and the team high in rebounds with 11. Loudon played the last two minutes of the first quarter and the three quarters to follow minus the services of rebounding ace Donnie Theary, who was lost on a highly protested double foul. An Everett player was also removed from the game by officials. But the talented Bulldog proved to have the better quality in depth as they punched out a 21 point advantage at one stage of the game, only to have Loudon battle back to an 11 point difference in the middle of the fourth period.

A total of 57 fouls was called in the skirmish, that saw Loudon lose four players in game by way of fouls. Neither team shot extremely well from the field with Loudon hitting on 23 of 47 shots for a 34.3 accuracy. Everett scored on 26 of 59 shots for a 27.6 percent. The big difference in scoring came at the foul line with Everett making good on 29 of 40 charity throws and Loudon collecting only 16 points out of 36 foul shots.

Loudon also lost the rebounding department by a 56 to 39 difference.

FRIDAY NIGHT OFFICIATING FAILS TO HUMOR LOUDON COACHES—The Friday night officiating by TSSAA basketball officials Phil Hatcher (left) and Danny Webb (right) failed to humor or please the Loudon boys' coaches Hugh Watson and Phillip Bettis, who protest a flagrant technical foul called by Webb. Hatcher is scheduled to see duty in the District Eight Tournament to be held in Loudon in the latter days of February.

SHUBERT TAKES BULLDOG GUARD FOR CLUTCH BASKET—Loudon's Jane Shubert sparked the Redskin Lassies to a 56-53 win over once beaten Everett Friday night with a clutch performance of offensive play and also added five assists to her team leading total for the season. In these two action shots Miss Shubert lures Everett guard Willa Willocks into over playing her to the right so to maneuver for an easy lay-up down the left side of the lane.

Temple Freeze Spoils Vol Classic

Temple University all but ruined the University of Tennessee Classic Saturday night with the deep freeze used against the Vols in the championship game.

It was surprising, and utterly shameful that a school would come into a holiday basketball tournament and disappoint thousands of fans who came expecting to see some high caliber play.

Basketball played this way will keep folks at home watching television, and no school can operate without the fans.

The 11-6 Tennessee victory might well serve a purpose, in the long run. Could be that it will call attention to the need of a time limit to force teams to shoot the basketball. Coach Ray Meers said after the contest that he favored a time clock to compel action.

The freeze by Temple is the deepest one we've ever seen in college play. We have witnessed control basketball by college teams, but certainly nothing where a team held the ball for as long as 10 minutes.

Tennessee didn't have a shot at the basket from the field in the second half, and Temple didn't play at all until there were only 2:12 left in the game.

Coach Meers will be faulted by some for not leaving his zone defense and going to a man-to-man in an effort to create action. However, the rule was on Tennessee's side, and the coaches elected to stay back and force Temple to abide by the rules.

Regardless of what should have been done, and who should have done it, eight years of work to build the Classic into a top holiday meet was almost wasted in 40 minutes of nothing!

Lenoir City Zips By McMinn County Hoop Teams

TOO MANY HANDS—Lenoir City's Eddie Liles finds this rebound to be accompanied by an aggressive McMinn County player who also wants the basketball. Liles was instrumental in the Panther's seventh victory of the season in 11 games.

The Lenoir City boys will own a 7-4 worksheet for the Christmas holidays and the Morrison Invitational Tournament the Panthers will participate in December 26-29.

The Panther hoststiers rebounded from a one point setback at Clinton Tuesday night to hand McMinn County a hearty trouncing 64-43. The Lenoir City roundball squad trailed by 12 points in the questionable minutes of the first half, but rallied to come from behind for a 28-20 first half lead and continued to pour on the points with a 36-23 advantage in the second half.

Mitch Keebler highlighted the Panther triumph with 30 points for top scoring honors in the game. Eddie Liles was not far behind in the scoring column with 18 points and 11 rebounds. Johnny Price came off the bench to trigger the Lenoir City attack with 11 points.

Lenoir City dominated all phases of the contest by out rebounding and out shooting their McMinn County visitors.

The Lenoir City Pantherettes failed to much luster in the preliminary contest after being idle for a week. The Lenoir City sextet disposed of the McMinn lassies 53-34 as all three Pantherette starting forwards collected double digit scores.

REAGAN DRAWS FOUL—Cherokee guard Mike Reagan, netting 10 points for Greenback Friday night draws a foul on this move to the hoop.

Cyclones Breeze To Double Victory Over Greenback Units

Greenback closed out their basketball for the 1973 year Friday night by hosting the cage teams from White Pine. The visitors eased away with a victory in both girls' and boys' games to give the Cherokee a 1-0 record to work to improve on over the Christmas holidays.

The Cherokee girls with a more consistent offense trailed by just three points at the end of the first quarter (11-8), but was behind 22 to 16 at the half. The Cherokee sextet was still in range after three periods 36-22, only to have the White Pine offense to open up with a 22 point fourth quarter explosion and win going away 57-28.

Greenback had two forwards in double figures. Kathy Broome fired in 14 points and Rhonda Brown had her first double figured effort of the season with 10 counters. Three forwards for White Pine made the double figure column.

The Greenback boys, playing hopefully their last game of the season without their star center, senior Bill Joe Kyker, fell to a rallying White Pine five 62-48.

Kyker, who has been sidelined with a collapsed lung, is expected to take part in two a day workouts during the Christmas vacation and should be at full speed when the Cherokee attempt to regain their winning form which made them one of the top quintets in District III last season.

Game & Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game and Fish Commission

A press conference will be held Tuesday December 18 at the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission offices in Nashville to hear the evaluation from the National Wildlife Federation.

The Commission which has been evaluating the Commission for the last several months is chaired by Thomas Kimball, Executive Vice President of the National Wildlife Federation.

"The evaluation of the Commission will cover all phases of the agency and will serve as a guideline for future direction within the Commission," noted Commission members.

"I am sure the recommendations by these top-flight professionals who evaluated the Commission will be sound and practical."

Other wildlife professionals who are members of the evaluating committee are: Charles D. Kelley, Director for the Division of Alabama Game and Fish; John S. Gottschauk, Executive Vice-President of the International Association of Game and Fish Conservation Commissioners; Dr. Douglas L. Gilbert, Assistant Dean and professor in the wildlife school of Colorado State University and Richard H. Stroad, Executive Vice-President of the Sport Fishing Institute.

The members of this select committee were chosen by the National Wildlife Federation.

Deer Harvest High

The first session of the 1973 deer season ended December 2 with a record number of 2,265 deer reported through the county checking stations.

The success of the 1973 deer season is being attributed to good weather and a better reporting system. But even with these factors, Tennessee Game and Fish Commission's game biologists report a 28 percent increase over last year's harvest at this time in the season.

Last year's data show 4,388 deer harvested during the entire season compared to this season's 5,265 with the second segment yet to begin. Unit VIII has the highest harvest recording a total of 3,221 deer.

Small Game Hunting Light

Small game hunting throughout the state has been light due to the warm weather and the corresponding big game season, according to Tennessee Game and Fish Commission game biologists.

Results from small game hunters during November across the state are placing populations in the "fair" range with middle Tennessee being the only area of the state rating a good hunting success on both rabbit and quail.

West Tennessee rates rabbit and quail fair. Middle Tennessee has the rabbit hunting at fair to good along with the quail at fair to good, however some areas are reporting excellent hunting success.

Deer Season Re-opens

Deer season re-opens December 22 in Units IV, V, VI and VIII and runs through January 1. Units I and II has a bear, bear (big, legal) season beginning December 22 and lasting until December 29 with a limit of one bear in Unit I and no limit on the bear. Unit V-442 deer and Unit VII-292 deer.

Although Unit VIII takes in a 26 county area and covers most of west Tennessee, other areas of the state had a comparable amount of success during this first segment of the season.

Unit V taking in an eight county area in north central Tennessee ranked second in total number of deer harvested while being a third as large as Unit VIII which took the most deer.

Archery Hunters Bagged 129 Deer

The archery hunters bagged 129 deer with animals reported from all but Units II and IV. The highest number of animals reported by archery hunters was from Unit VIII with 69 deer.

In four units in which bear were legal, 13 of the animals

Unit VI Takes in 26 County Area

Unit VI which covers a four county area in south central Tennessee also ranked high with 228 animals being checked through the county checking stations.

County-wide, Unit VIII still had the largest number of deer harvested per county with an average of 124 animals checked while Units V and VI in middle Tennessee reported average per county harvests of 53 and 56 animals respectively.

Nuclear Plant Brings Changes In Rhea County

Rhea County in East Tennessee has a new county planning commission, a consolidated high school, new housing, a sanitary landfill in place of an old dump, a labor training program, and local flood control and city improvement projects—all developed with help from the Tennessee Valley Authority since TVA began planning Watts Bar Nuclear Plant three years ago.

A team of specialists from various TVA divisions was organized to work with local governments and community leaders to reduce the problems involved with this large-scale construction project (up to 2,300 workers) located in a rural area of Rhea County.

The same approach is being used at other major TVA projects as the growth trend in power demands requires the agency to begin another new power plant about every two years. TVA teams already are at work with state, district, and local agencies on the construction of a nuclear plant project scheduled to begin next year at a proposed site in Jackson County.

Alabama, and another scheduled to start in late 1975 with a tentative location under study between Hartsville and Carthage, Tennessee. The construction period for each project is six years or more.

H. Peter Clausen, who coordinates this program in TVA, says, "We hope this effort will not just avoid the local problems that can arise when projects of this size are undertaken, but that it will help bring about comprehensive area and community development. The program is designed to use the construction project as a basis for creating a better local environment."

For the Watts Bar project, TVA completed a study in January 1971 indicating the project's impact on the local area's housing, schools, and other public services. Based on experience at other TVA projects the study estimated how many of the workers would be hired locally or within commuting distance, how many would move in from other areas, how many of those would buy or rent homes, and other queries, how many would bring families and the technical assistance to private developers of subdivisions, apartments, and mobile home parks.

Also in January 1971 TVA brought in a community development specialist, Dr. Don Fowler of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, to conduct a leadership development conference for several dozen local leaders from Dayton, Spring City, and Rhea County.

After some delays construction of the nuclear plant began in December 1972, and project employment is now about 1,180 workers. It is expected to peak at about 2,300 around the summer of 1976. The permanent operating and maintenance force when the plant is completed will total about 170 employees with an annual payroll of more than $1,500,000.

In working with local agencies TVA has:

- Helped conduct studies which resulted in construction of a single consolidated high school serving the entire county.
- Helped organize county planning commissions in Rhea and Meigs Counties. These planning commissions, with TSPD assistance, are considering the adoption of subdivision regulations to control substandard growth.
- Provided information and technical assistance to private developers of subdivisions, apartments, and mobile home parks.

—Provided portable classrooms at Spring City Elementary School to accommodate increases in enrollment generated by the TVA project.

—Provided technical assistance in clearing the Spring City dump and in operating the new Rhea County Sanitary Landfill.

—Cooperated with Rhea, Meigs, and Roane County Boards of Education in developing an adult laborers training program.

—Designed the nuclear plant drinking water system so that it could become part of a proposed multicounty water grid at a future date.

—Met with area health services providers to explain arrangements for medical care of TVA employees. Provided on-site medical facilities for employees at TVA expense.

—Started a flood control project on Richland Creek in Dayton in cooperation with state agencies and HUD.

—Initiated a TVA "Operation Townlift" project to provide technical assistance in revitalizing and improving downtown Dayton.

SPACIOUS FAMILY ROOM IS RECESSED RUSTIC CONTEMPORARY HAS DINING COMBINED WITH KITCHEN

By W. D. FARMER

An open entrance created by the foyer leading directly to a recessed family room is an attractive feature of this single story rustic contemporary dwelling.

There is a large fireplace in the family room and the dining room is one step up. It features a grill on a portion of the fireplace. There is also ample pantry space and wall cabinets are between the two pantry railings.

A screened porch is outside the dining room and it can be reached from the family room. The kitchen features a central island cooking surface with a hood and all appliances are within easy reach. An entry way off the kitchen has a half bath and allows access to the laundry with its washer and dryer connections. The spacious garage has an inside entrance to the house through the entry way and another entrance into the living room.

The spacious living room has good access to the kitchen and an excellent view on the front of the house through several large windows.

The master bathroom across the hall features a generous walk-in closet off the dressing room and a connecting bath.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Every now and then we have a group of pictures that we don't know a lot about. But they have been passed along to us by some of our readers and we just don't have the needed information at hand for them. We sometimes forget just what their significance is.

But we will go ahead and use them. Sometimes we are amazed at what we come up with after they run in our column. One of these pictures shows Peg Jaynes and someone who we cannot identify with a horse. Possibly there is a story behind this. If you know, give us a call.

Another picture we have is of three men but we don't know who they are. On the back of the picture is a record of hours worked someplace. If you recognize them, let us know.

Another picture we have is of Country Boy Joe Mills, who likely is rabbit hunting in a deep snow back in the Good Old Days.

With the arrival of winter and the changes it brings in our way of living, we were wondering if the homes we lived in when I was growing up ever reached 60 degrees in the winter. I have my doubts if it did. I can't believe as the families of those days who lived over the old time fire places ever enjoyed the comfort of 60 degrees during the cold winters. But as somebody mentioned to me the other day, we were toughened to it. Like we were a lot of other things.

Our mail the other day contained a very nice letter from Mr. Frank Weigel of Oregon, Ohio. Mr. Weigel stated that he enjoyed reading his home town paper. He was a resident of Loudon back in what he relates was his Good Old Days. He mentioned some of his old Loudon buddies who are now deceased, Herbert Giffin, Sam Wilson, Burksdale Greer and Henry and Jim Thomas.

Mr. Weigel stated that he and Jim Thomas were in the Army together and were stationed at Camp Wadsworth in Spartanburg, S.C. He said that after peace was signed in World War I, he and Mr. Thomas were transferred to the Quarter Masters where they had 7000 horses. He said Mr. Thomas worked as a blacksmith and he served as a mounted guard.

Mr. Weigel asked us to pass greetings on to his many friends in Loudon and that he wished them the best in the coming New Year.

We are always glad to hear from our readers in distant places and to have them relate things they recall about our town and its people.

With our first snow flurry of the season, we would like to ask our readers a question. We have heard that it never snows much in the full of moon, right or wrong?

Christmas

Humble shepherds, tending their flocks by night, harkened to the angels' glorious message of the Saviour's birth and came in from the fields and found Him asleep in a manger...and they adored Him. Wise Men, journeying from the East, followed the Star to Bethlehem seeking the newborn King to bestow on Him their gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh...and to worship Him. As we rejoice this Christmas, let us cherish the spiritual rewards of love and friendship, peace and contentment. It is with heartfelt gratitude for your continued confidence, that we extend the season's best wishes.

Our Christmas Wish For You

The Hamilton Family wishes to express seasonal joy. May it be filled with happiness. May the love of the Heavens descend. Bringing joy to our world, and peace among men.

Our family's joy is our service to you. Not only this season, but the whole year through. Serving a community and people in which we believe. Your gift to us, the greatest we could receive.

Happiness is our newest addition. As our Philadelphia office nears completion. Thanks for receiving us in such a splendid way. We will strive to serve you, your confidence to repay.

Once again we give thanks for having shared in your life. To have laughed with you in joy. To have helped in strife. Through Bancshares and improved service, we're trying hard. Through Christmas Clubs, Golden Pass Book, Mastercharge and BankAmericard. Three Big Stockings of toys and things are to give away. There is now Can O' Cash for Gifts or to help you pay.

Ours is a daily, as well as a seasonal wish. That we have contributed along your way. Our interest in personal and community wide. Plus the percentage on savings accounts we are able to pay.

May God bless the faith of all men. On this another joyous Christmas Day. May again the faces of the Heavenly angels smile. As in greatest joy they pass along your way.

The Hamilton Family wishes you all the joys of the season. May the coming year for you have abundance in store. And the joys of Peace, Health and Prosperity. Abide with you now and forever more.

Greenback Girl Killed In Terrorist Attack

RESULTS OF TERRORISTS RAID—This photo gives a distressing view of the inside of the Pan Am jet liner that was firebombed by Palestinian terrorists at Fiumicino Airport near Rome Monday in which Bonnie Presnell of Greenback was a passenger. Miss Presnell died of burns and her cousin, Robin Haggard, was critically burned. The girls were on their way to spend Christmas in Saudi Arabia with Robin's parents.

Bonnie Presnell, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Houston Presnell of Greenback, died in Rome, Italy, Tuesday, a victim of a firebomb attack on a Pan American Airways jetliner by Arab terrorists.

Miss Presnell was one of 22 persons killed in the attack. The bombing took place Monday at Leonardo da Vinci Airport near Rome, Italy. She was on her way to Saudi Arabia with her cousin, Robin Haggard, 16, to spend Christmas with Robin's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Bert Haggard. Miss Haggard is reportedly in critical condition in a Rome hospital from burns suffered in the attack.

Miss Presnell, a 1972 graduate of Greenback High School, was a second year student at Hixson College where she was on the girl's basketball team and majoring in physical education. At Greenback High School she was captain of the 1972 girl's basketball team and very active in school clubs.

Miss Presnell and Miss Haggard, who is a student at Harrison-Chilhowe Baptist Academy, left Saturday. Robin's mother, Wilma, is a sister of Bonnie's mother. Mr. Haggard is a dentist for the American Oil Company in Saudi Arabia.

Mr. and Mrs. Presnell, who own 411 Gift Shop, a retail and wholesale business near Greenback, first learned their daughter was injured when they received a telephone call late Tuesday morning, telling them that she had died.

The State Department has told the family that their daughter's body would return home Friday or Saturday, Dec. 21 or 22. The family was to receive friends at Nile's Ferry Baptist Church, where Bonnie was a member and burial was scheduled for Oakland Methodist Church Cemetery.

Besides her parents, Miss Presnell is survived by two brothers, Gary Houston Presnell and Larry Wayne Presnell, and one sister Patricia Diana Presnell.

"I didn't much like the idea of Bonnie going over there," said Mr. Presnell, "but she had her heart set on the trip." She had planned to be away for about two weeks.

Bonnie loved flying, her father said, and had been taking flying lessons at the Madisonville airport.

Her mother said she had worked as a waitress in a restaurant in Madisonville and had done baby-sitting for three months to save money for the trip. Mrs. Presnell said:

"Bonnie's high school principal, James McGhee, said 'Bonnie was just an outstanding young lady; always ready to help when called on; never seemed to have a sad moment, always happy and enjoyed life.'"

At Greenback High as a basketball player she was selected to the first Loudon County Herald All-County girl's basketball team, was a member of the FFA, Teen Club, Letterman's Club, 4-H, and was active in Girl Scouts. This past summer she served on jury in Criminal Court in Loudon County and sat on a panel that tried a murder case.

The firebomb attack on the plane came while the two girls were on an 11 hour layover near Rome.

Twenty-one of the 32 known dead in Rome were passengers aboard the Pan American World Airways plane firebombed by the Arabs at Leonardo da Vinci airport in the suburb of Fiumicino. The other fatality was an Italian policeman shot down when he pulled his gun in an attempt to fight back.

Thirteen persons aboard the plane were listed as missing. Police said 28 bodies were found on the Pan Am plane and one passenger, Miss Presnell, died in a hospital. Four of the dead were unidentified, but four of the victims were identified as Moroccan government officials.

Lufthansa said the hostages aboard the Boeing 707 jet, in addition to the four-member crew, were six Italian policemen, an Italian airport worker, two Lufthansa employees and an Ethiopian Airlines mechanic.

MISS PRESNELL

Earlier, Lufthansa officials in Frankfurt said 18 persons had taken refuge in the German plane during the airport attack at Rome and also were taken hostage.

The hijackers began their attack at Rome with a sub-machine gun fusillade in a terminal departure wing crowded with hundreds of departing passengers. The nationalities of the guerrillas were not determined. Italian authorities said they had come to Rome on a flight from Madrid.

Two of the guerrillas ran up the ramps of the Pan Am jet and hung incendiary bombs inside, then fled to the Lufthansa jet where their companions were waiting. The Pan Am Boeing 707 was bound for Beirut, Lebanon and Tehran, Iran, on a flight originating in Rome. The flight normally begins in New York, but the New York-Rome leg was canceled because of bad weather. Pan Am officials in New York said:

Police said many of the dead were found with their seat belts fastened.

A Pan Am spokesman said 59 passengers were booked to take the plane but not all had boarded it at the time of the bombing. Eight of the nine crew members were known to have survived. The ninth, a stewardess, was missing.

"I saw the guerrillas shooting all around," said an airport worker. "I helped an injured man who came out of the Pan Am plane. He told me a terrorist had fired at him virtually point blank."

The attack started about 1 p.m. at the airport when the terrorists opened their luggage for a routine security check and drew out sub-machine guns, hand grenades and pistols, police said.

The terrorists took hostage several policemen from the security point and ran with them onto the tarmac as they sprayed the terminal with bullets.

Hundreds ran when the shots started, falling to the ground and ducking beneath chairs and behind columns. One policeman was shot dead on the way to the Lufthansa jet.

"There was a tremendous panic," said an airport employee. Frank Manion, 64, of Long Island, N.Y., who was aboard the Pan Am plane with his wife, said: "The pilot warned over the public address system that there was trouble at the airport. Suddenly there were two or three explosions. There was fire, smoke, fragments from bombs. You couldn't see anything."

A DREAM BECOMES TRAGEDY—

Bonnie Presnell's death was a tragedy which really cannot be measured in words. Any death by means other than natural can be called a tragedy, but Bonnie was a young lady making a trip that had been a dream. That trip was terminated in Rome, far short of her destination in Saudi Arabia when a terrorist threw a firebomb into the big jet on which she and her cousin were passengers.

Bonnie and about 30 others died and her cousin was critically injured. The killers with a political motive in trying to free two other killers that were in jail, gave no thought to who they were killing. The victims were just tools to be wasted to obtain what they wanted. Half of those killed were Americans.

Bonnie was probably having the biggest adventure of her life. She was flying to a foreign country for Christmas. She loved aviation and was working toward her own private license.

Her killers said they were proud to have killed so many people. We did not know all of these people and only knew Bonnie as a basketball star at Greenback. She was a beautiful girl, her ready smile and personality gave her a beauty that no sane person could be proud to have destroyed.

The American government has taken steps to prevent such things as the attack in Rome from happening aboard airplanes and in airports in this country. These terrorists group seem to pick on airliners and airports for their destruction because it gives them mobility letting them hop from country to country making demands. Their hostages cannot get away in the air and a single bullet can spell doom for hundreds and large ransom sums of money or the release of criminals can easily be obtained by such acts.

It would still be a good idea for the international pilots association to refuse to fly into countries that do not provide safety measures to stop such persons from getting aboard the planes and taking the lives of persons like Bonnie Presnell.

Water System Grant Applications Approved

Two applications totaling $385,000 in funds from the Appalachian Regional Commission to help pay for the construction of a joint water system in Loudon and Monroe Counties were approved by Governor Winfield Dunn early this week. Total cost is $2,500,000, which includes $385,000 in funds from Loudon County and $350,000 in funds from Monroe County. The Department of Housing and Urban Development has already awarded $500,000 to each county for the project.

"I want to commend Rep. Benny Stafford and Rep. Bill Watson for the work they have done in following these applications while they were being processed. Loudon and Monroe counties have needed this project for a long time. I'm pleased I could approve these applications," Governor Dunn said.

Representative Stafford represents Loudon County and Representative Watson represents Monroe County. The project will provide a water supply for the two counties. The facility will serve Greenback, Vmore and the Highway 411 Corridor, all of which presently have no water system. It will also provide an adequate source for the City of Madisonville which presently has a grossly inadequate supply.

Justice Center Bids Opened, $614,000 Low Is $70,000 Over

Bids for the Loudon County Justice Center, to be built on highway 11 near the Rescue Squad building, were opened Thursday and Vickers Construction Company of Knoxville was the apparent low bidder.

Vickers' bid was $614,000, which is about $70,000 higher than had been hoped. Other bidders were Construction Management Inc., $665,500 and Chambers Builders Inc., $723,000.

After the bids were opened Judge Harvey Sprout said that he, Sheriff Freeman Russell and the Justice Center committee of the court will work with Vickers and the architects to find ways to trim the bid some and perhaps the court might increase the funds appropriated.

Vickers bid included the excavation of the site, the building and jail and kitchen hardware. The communication and records systems will be under separate contracts and separate federal grants.

Judge Sprout said that he hoped to have the necessary work done in time for the County Court to consider awarding the bid at their January meeting.

Another problem with the Civil Defense people, from whom the county had counted on getting $25,000, have backed up. The state office and regional Civil Defense offices had recommended and encouraged the county to include an emergency operations area in the building, but it appears that the Washington office may ask that their allocations be used in other areas of Civil Preparedness.

Judge Sprout said that he is now contacting state and national officials to get help in retaining the funds.

Judge Sprout said that the basic point is that the bids are higher than the projections and there may be a setback caused by the Civil Defense funds but it is hoped that things can be worked out.

Lenoir Citian Killed When Car Leaves Road, Hits Tree

An elderly Lenoir City man was killed instantly late Monday when the car he was driving ran off a county road and struck a tree. The victim, Jack C. Robinson, 71, 1111 East Second Avenue, Lenoir City, was pronounced dead upon arrival at Loudon County Memorial Hospital from head and chest injuries. The accident occurred at 5:40 p.m. Monday on Hickory Creek Road near Lenoir City.

Sheriff's Deputy Kenneth Brown, who investigated the Robinson car was traveling south on Hickory Creek road when it ran off the right edge of the pavement, went 20 feet and struck a tree headon. It was reported that the man had been to a farm in the area to look at some hogs and was returning home.

Mr. Robinson was a member of Primitive Baptist Church of Lenoir City. He was a retired steel moulder at the Lenoir Car Works and had served as president of the Moulders and Allied Worker's Union.

ACCIDENT VICTIM'S CAR—The impact of Jack C. Robinson's car into a tree beside Hickory Creek Road is shown in this photo. Mr. Robinson was killed in the accident late Monday afternoon. He was a retired steel moulder at Lenoir Car Works.

WATER DISTRICT FUNDS ANNOUNCED—Governor Winfield Dunn is flanked by Loudon County Representative M.F. Stafford and Monroe County Representative Bill Watson as the Governor announced early this week that Appalachian Regional Commission funds totaling $385,000 had been approved for construction of a water system in parts of Loudon and Monroe Counties.

Loudon County Herald for and about Women

Spends Entire Year Creating Gifts

BY CALVIN LUNSFORD
What do you plan for Christmas 1974? This might sound a little far fetched to you and I, who haven't completed our plans and shopping for 1973, but not so for a Loudon lady who spends the whole year planning and making preparations for the coming of Christmas.

The name of Mrs. Lewis (Charlotte) Hodge reflects the preparation and beauty of Christmas the whole year. Wreaths, ceramics, seasonal Christmas trees, crocheted pieces, hook rugs, etc. Mrs. Hodge, who is a skilled craftswoman makes the majority of the gifts she presents to friends and relatives at the Christmas season. The gifts are not only beautiful but usually are items of usefulness to the homemaker. The skillful uses of pine cones and other material nature produces are soon to be things of beauty when touched by this lady's skillful hands.

To most of us the thought of Christmas trees makes us aware that it is either buy one or cut one from a friend's farm. But not so with this family, which will have, as in years past, a tree and not just another tree, but a thing of beauty put together by Mrs. Hodge.

The skill and patience reflected in the many things Mrs. Hodge has designed and made are not something which she started recently. It is the result of twenty years of work which she had invested in her many skills.

CHRISTMAS CRAFTS—Mrs. Lewis Hodge, one of Loudon's more gifted craftsmen stands beside a large display of Christmas crafts she created for gifts.

She told this writer that it possibly all began when she was involved in home demonstration work and she said the interest just continued to grow. Not only has it afforded her with some highly appreciated gifts for her friends and relatives, but she has sold many of the things she has made and has had the opportunity to sell many more if she had so desired.

The extent of Mrs. Hodge's vast skills are not only known by her many friends in Loudon but she had gained recognition in many parts of other states where her works have been on display.

tended to her in display her work in Gallatin, which she stated she had to pass up because the requirements were that her displays be for sale to visitors to the display and she didn't want to do this.

Mrs. Hodge's varied skills have been on display at the "Craft House in Knoxville and the Craft's Fair held in Chattanooga.

Of course, after viewing the many beautiful things, we asked her what she enjoyed making the most. She was hesitant about choosing any particular thing, but somehow we felt that the beautiful Christmas wreaths composed on natural pine cones might just by chance be her favorite.

Many of us, during this Yuletide season, will receive gifts we will be proud of, and rightly so. But people like Mrs. Lewis Hodge has one of life's greatest gifts. The gift of creating true beauty with their skillful hands.

The Loudon County Home Demonstration Club members demonstrated Christmas Decoration ideas at the Christmas Dinner at the Loudon High School Cafeteria Tuesday night, December 11. I would like to share some of the decorations with you. Mrs. Joe McWilliams of the Thursday Nighters Home Demonstration Club demonstrated the making of a Calico Christmas Ball. Here are the instructions.

- Styrofoam ball
 - Cut calico fabric on bias
 - (Measure from end to end of ball. Cut shape to fit (4 pieces) ball)
 - Glue fabric pieces to ball with Elmer's glue
 - Cut eyelet strips to fit (2 strips) around ball
 - Run velvet ribbon through ruffled eyelet leaving enough to tie bow at top of one
 - The first eyelet strip is secured with dress maker pin
 - The fishing line around pin held for hangers.
- Mrs. Gerald Campbell demonstrated the making of Christmas Kissing Balls. She is a member of the Loudon-Corinth Club. You might like to make this pretty decoration to hang from a light or a door.
1. Blow up large round balloon.
 2. Wrap with hand crocheted thread in a spidery design. Almost completely cover the balloon.
 3. Cover with liquid starch (Little Bo Peep, Roman, Sila-Flu, etc.) Pat on with hand or sponge. Pat on very thick.

4. Hang over pan or something to drip. (2 or 3 days)
5. While still wet, but no longer dripping, sprinkle with glitter. If it doesn't stick good, you may spray with a glue for glitter and reapply after balloon is taken out.
6. When ball is dry, slowly let air out of balloon and pull out of it.
7. When ball is punctured, the ball will collapse.
8. You may tie a ribbon on or arrange greenery (holly or "mistletoe") for more decoration.
9. Hang or arrange in centerpiece.

Loudon Girls To Open 23rd Blount County Jaycee Basketball Classic

Some of Tennessee's top basketball teams will be playing in the 23rd annual Maryville-Alcoa Jaycee holiday high school basketball classic Dec. 27-29 at Maryville College.

Chattanooga Howard, Tennessee High of Bristol, Cleveland and McMinn Central will be the visiting girls teams while the visiting boys will be Bradley Central, Gallatin, Loudon, and Parsons Riverside.

Alcoa, Everett, Friendsville, and Maryville are the host boys teams this year with Everett, Friendsville and Porter being the host girls teams.

The classic will open at 4:45 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 27, in the new Maryville College Fieldhouse with a four-game session. Five-game sessions beginning at 3:30 p.m. are scheduled on Friday, Dec. 28, and Saturday, Dec. 29. Chairman Gene Newmark announced. Admission at each day's session will be $1.50 for both students and adults.

In its 23-year history, 86 Tennessee high schools or almost one-fourth of the 375 schools or almost one-fourth of the 375 schools in the state have participated. Founded in 1952 by Dean Stone, it is the second oldest holiday basketball event in Tennessee and is known for the participation of top notch teams. Any profits are used to provide scholarships to local students who apply.

As the holiday season approached, two of the teams in the classic were undefeated, three had lost only a single game, and four others had lost only two games.

The Porter girls, coached by Galen Johnson Jr., had a 19-0 record at the holiday break. His teams having been to the state tournament 14 of the past 15 years, winning three state titles.

Coach Don Heatherly's Everett boys stand 9-0 with four starters back from a good 1972-73 team. Alcoa boys, coached by Vernon Osborne, were 8-1, Knoxville Fulton surprising the Turnaside by two points. Osborne-coached Alcoa teams have won two state titles.

The other two teams with only one loss are Bradley girls and Cleveland boys. Coach Jim Smiddy's defending state champion girls in the large school division stand 5-1, having lost only to Lenoir City. Coach Chuck Condo, who produced strong boys teams at Madisonville before moving to Cleveland, has a 5-1 record, having lost only to Chattanooga Tyler.

The three teams with only two losses are all girls teams Everett, Loudon, and Parsons Riverside. Coach Bob Berron's Everett girls have lost only to Sevierville and Loudon, went to the state tournament last year and defeated state champion Bradley in two of four meetings during the year. Coach Dewayne Arp's Loudon girls stand 9-2 with losses only to Kingston and Lenoir City.

Coach Mack Chandler's Parsons Riverside girls are 18-3 as the holiday begins, having lost to Chester County and Savannah Riverside.

defeated Friendsville in the first round of the state tourney last spring then lost in the semi-finals by one point.

Coach Chandler has fielded varsity games which may be state record.

Lenoir City Basketball Teams In Holiday Tournaments

The Lenoir City Panthers and Pantherettes will be playing in invitational tournaments during the Christmas holidays. Coach Willie Joe Smalley's Panther team will play in Morristown and the to lead PANTHERETTE TROPHY HUNT—Marietta Blackburn will carry a 27 point scoring average to Gainsboro next weekend for hopes of leading her team to a Rotary Club Title in the Gainsboro Invitational Tournament. The Pantherettes have already defeated the Class I State Champions (Bradley County) and should win over Gainsboro, defending Class S State Champions would certainly have achieved some impressive credentials going into the second half of the 1973-74 season.

Pantherettes at Gainsboro. Lenoir City will play Gallatin-Pittman in their opening game at 5 p.m., December 26. Coach Glenn Williams' one beaten team will meet the winner of the Sparta-Cleveland contest Friday the 28th. Surgoinsville and Merrittstown are in the same bracket as the Panthers. Rutledge, Knoxville Rule, Wynn and Morristown East are in the other division.

In the distaff tournament, Gainsboro, Gordonsville, Carthage and Ceina are the teams in the lower bracket while Lenoir City, Sparta and Cleveland are in the upper division.

Gatlinburg Pittman was in the Class S state tournament last season and Gainsboro won the state Class S girls' championship.

State Tournament Dates Changed

The Tennessee Secondary Schools Athletic Association is moving dates of the boys' and girls' State basketball tournaments back one day because of the fuel crisis.

Now, the TSSAA said, the boys' tournament is set for March 12-15 and the girls March 19-22. "This means that the tournaments will run from Tuesday through Friday, making it possible for fans and teams alike to get home on Saturday," a TSSAA spokesman said.

The boys will play in Memphis, the girls in Jackson.

GOING TO MORRISTOWN INVITATIONAL—Lenoir City will be one of the top team's competing for the holiday trophy in Morristown's Invitational Basketball Tournament. Game And Fish Cracking Down On Poaching

General Sessions Judge Eugene Eblen's court is definitely not the place for those who hunt out of season. The Roane County jurist believes in keeping the Volunteer state a great place in which to hunt and fish.

Recently Lt. Ed Witt, Sgt. Bob Harmon, Bob Land, Ed Gouge and Bill Holladay, Officers of the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission, the AEC Security Force and the Oak Ridge Police Department jointly apprehended three illegal deer hunters in the Oak Ridge area of Roane County. Evidence found resulted in charges of possessing and transporting a deer during a closed season, resisting arrest and reckless driving being placed against Archie Bradley and William James of Oak Ridge and James Howell of Knoxville.

When arraigned in General Sessions Court, the defendants pleaded guilty. Judge Eblen, after hearing the evidence, found the defendants to be guilty and assessed $449 in fines and court costs. A 1973 half-ton Ford truck that was used to transport the illegal deer was confiscated by the Game and Fish Commission. A high price to pay? Not when compared to the thousands of dollars spent annually by legal hunters who enjoy the Great Outdoors during the legal open season.

Greenback and Lanier concluded basketball play before taking a break for the Christmas holidays. Tuesday night with a District III clash at Greenback, The Eagles managed to slip by the Cherokee in both girls and boys action.

The Loudon Herald Sports Department was in error last week when in the account of the Cherokee-White Pine basketball game made the statement that the Greenback play had ended for the 1973 year—Sports Editor's note.

The Greenback girls had trouble finding the basket in Tuesday night's game and the Lanier sextet rolled to a 12-0 first quarter lead. Greenback finally got in gear in the second frame and out scored the Eagles 10-4 for a 16-10 deficit at the half.

Lanier proved capable of holding the Cherokee distaff at bay with a six to eight point advantage in the second half and ended the game in charge

Sgt. Sellers Is NCO Grad

Staff Sergeant Samuel C. Sellers, son of Mrs. Fred Smith, Rt. 5, Lenoir City, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force Security Service Noncommissioned Officer Academy at Goodfellow AFB, Tex.

Sergeant Sellers, who retired advanced military leadership and management training, is a communications operations technician at Kelly AFB, Tex. The sergeant, whose father is retired USAF Technical Sergeant Samuel M. Sellers, Rt. 2, Concord, graduated in 1961 from Farragut High School in Concord.

Coach Bill Wallace's Friendsville boys had a 5-3 record with losses to Alcoa, Carter, and Knoxville Webb. Coach Jimmy Campbell's Maryville boys also had a 5-3 record with losses to Farragut and Alcoa and a one-point defeat by Everett. Coach Campbell, who is 5 feet 7, has one of the tallest teams in Tennessee with one player being 6 feet 9 and two standing 6 feet 8.

Chattanooga Howard has a 6-2 record, the two losses being to Hamilton and Melrose on a road trip to Memphis. Coach Henry Bowles annually has one of the better Chattanooga area teams.

Tennessee High of Bristol won the strong Big Six Conference Basketball Tournament Wednesday night, defeating Sullivan Central, 49-46, with six seconds to play. Bristol now has a 7-5 record. A few days ago Bristol defeated strong Lee Edwards High of Asheville, N.C., 72-66, with David Sweeney scoring 32 points. While Coach Bob Chambers' team has a 7-6 record, his team is young and follows on the heels of three seasons in which his teams have won 21 to 26 games each year.

Coach Jim Cornwall, former U-T player, has a 3-5 record at McMinn Central this year. Last year's team went 20-7 and he lost to undefeated Everett by only eight points earlier this year.

While Coach Pat Webb's Gallatin girls approached the holiday with a 2-4 record, it might be misleading Finishing among the top four teams in the state tourney in 1970 and 1971, Gallatin's losses this year were to Springfield, Lebanon, Franklin, and Warren County, all strong teams.

Loudon Redskins Zips By Sweetwater For Second Time

REDSKIN FORM—Loudon's Rick Melton rebounds a basket in the Sweetwater-Loudon game Tuesday night as an unidentified Wildcat defender is too late to prevent the play.

Loudon stormed past an outclassed Sweetwater girls and boys basketball team Tuesday night to end their regular season play for 1973. The Loudon girls will take part in the Blount County Jaycees Basketball Classic next week.

The Loudon Lassie romped to an easy 66-23 victory behind the offensive punch of six forwards which shared equal playing time. Jane Shubert, presently holding the hot hand in scoring for the Lassies, hit nine of 17 shots and one foul toss for 19 points and game scoring honors. visitors in every quarter. The Loudon defense was led by the rebounding of Mary Tyler with seven of a team total of 33.

Sweetwater had a total of 16 rebounds and 18 turnovers in posting a nine for 30 shooting percentage.

The Loudon boys had a likewise easy victory, notching a score of 81-43. The Redskins used the entire varsity in racing to their sixth win. Butch Brown led a nine man Loudon scoring assault with 17 points. Donnie Therpy tapped in 15 and pulled down 12 rebounds. William Casler was close to the basket with 14 points and 12 rebounds. Greg Allmon hit a season high of 10 points to balance out the starting five.

Game & Fish TODAY

By Sgt. Bob Harmon
Game and Fish Commission

Ranking fourth nationally in observing the National Hunting and Fishing Day September 22 was Tennessee with 108 programs concerning various aspects of these outdoor activities.

The day observing Tennessee was Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio as states put on programs concerning everything from shell reloading demonstrations to fishing contests and hunter safety programs.

The day observing hunting and fishing on a national basis was developed in 1972 and has had favorable reception from the public.

The success of the 1973 observance was attributed to the "Shopping Center" approach. It was obvious from the 1972 observance that if people would not make the effort to drive to a hard-to-find gun club, then the clubs could pool their efforts and hold one large multiclub gathering in the middle of town where the public would have easy access to talk with the sportsmen and fishermen interested in promoting hunting and fishing.

As a result of this observance across the land, millions of Americans now have a better idea of the sportsmen's role in conservation. With the continued support of sportsmen and clubs the 1974 observance will make an even greater impact on the conscience of America.

Congratulations to the Tennessee sportsmen club that participated in this year's celebration.

Tennessee hunters should keep a sharp eye out for what appears over the top of their gun barrel. It could be a hawk or an owl and the resulting impact could cost the hunter from $50 to $500.

All birds of prey are protected in Tennessee and also come under a federal protective act.

It should be remembered by all hunters and sportsmen that hawks and owls play an important role in maintaining good healthy populations of such game species as rabbits and quail.

However, many well-intentioned, but misguided, sportsmen persist in the belief that the elimination of hawks and owls will improve hunting. Nothing could be farther from the truth.

All hunters should take a long look at the predator-prey relationships which exist in nature before unloading on one of our feathered friends.

Predators feed on the weak, diseased members of a population. The reason for this is that these animals are much easier to catch than the strong healthy animals. This

Loudon County Hunting Report

Squirrel hunting is good especially with dogs. Rabbit kill success is poor over all but in some sections of Sevier, Monroe and Roane counties it is good with dogs. Quail hunters are having better success than in years past and it should get better as the weather gets colder. Grouse hunting is fair in mountain sections of Campbell and Anderson counties. All other sections are poor. Goose hunting is poor.

Remember there is a closed season on all song birds except English sparrow and starlings. They can be taken without limit the entire year.

Duck season open December 12, 1973 with a limit of four - no more than 2 wood ducks, one canvasback or one redhead. Ducks may be hunted in Knox, Blount, Roane, Loudon and Anderson counties - but geese may not.

Tennessee Duck Hunters on the Go

Tennessee duck hunters on the Gooch and Camden Wildlife Management Areas will have the opportunity to take part in an experiment using iron shot instead of the conventional lead shot, says Game and Fish Director Harvey Bray.

Director Bray announced that ten shells would be provided to each duck hunter who wanted to participate in the iron shot study.

The participation is entirely voluntary and each hunter volunteering to use this new iron shot load will be asked to fill out a questionnaire after using the new shell.

Only 12 gauge shells are available due to the limited production of iron shot at the present time.

Hunters will be asked to compare the performance of the iron shot with lead shot they normally use. Lead shot will not be provided for comparison. The iron shot study will only last a short time due to the limited quantity of shells available.

Following the collection of data at the Gooch and Camden WMAs, a detailed evaluation will be conducted using data collected by all states participating in this study.

The study was originated by the Fish and Wildlife Service. Waterfowl losses which occur due to lead poisoning from feeding on lead pellets deposited around long-existing duck hunting areas may be eliminated.

Questions still arise from investigators conducting the study regarding such aspects as crippling losses of lead versus iron shot. It is hoped that the duck hunter in the field may answer this question.

Cherokees Place Five On All Foothills Conference Grid Team

Walland High School, co-champion of the Foothills Athletic Conference and East Tennessee A Division champion, paces the 1973 All-Foothills Football team. Coach Jack Renfro's Indians placed seven performers on this year's select unit.

Greenback's Cherokees, co-champion with Walland in the conference this season, and Walland's opponent in the 2-T championship game had five players on the all-conference team.

Porter and Friendsville had four players each on the team, while Townsend High put two on the conference team. Seniors dominated the all-conference team. Sixteen of the 22 players honored are seniors, four juniors, a sophomore and freshman. The sophomore and freshman are both from Greenback.

These 22 players and members of the coaching staffs of the six teams in the Foothills Conference will be honored at the annual Blount County Football Banquet.

the construction of a water system in the Greenback area and adjacent areas in Monroe County. This is a good example of how important planning and cooperation is in achieving the goals of a community. But few people even know what goes on behind the scenes in such a project, and I thought it would be interesting to review just a few of the efforts that went into the recent announcement.

Providing a water system for the Greenback area has been an important goal of Loudon County citizens and officials for many years. As early as 1964, the Ft. Loudon Utility District was formed with the idea of building a water system for the Greenback area and adjacent areas in Monroe County. Although several applications were made to the federal government for assistance, none were ever approved and a water system was not economically feasible without some kind of financial assistance. Hence, the project died, but not the goal.

Then, in the late 1960's, the planning commission in Loudon County, Monroe County, and Blount County began to actively cooperate in planning for the development of the three county region. This was culminated by the adoption of a three county comprehensive plan in 1970. This plan also called for a water system to serve the Greenback area and adjacent areas in Monroe County. As a result of this plan and in order to provide the utilities for the residential, commercial, and industrial growth expected in this area, the Tellico Area Services System (TASS) was organized by county officials in both counties in 1971. Each county also established a county-wide utilities board. An engineering firm was hired to do a detailed study and cost estimate of the water system and a final project cost of $2,222,000 was decided on.

With detailed plans ready and with evidence that Loudon County and Monroe County were seriously planning for future development, the way was again open to apply for federal assistance. Loudon County officials, led by Judge Harvey Sproul, and Monroe County officials, led by Judge J.P. Kennedy, filed applications to the Department of Housing and Urban Development and the Appalachian Regional Commission for federal grants. The East Tennessee Development District, the Tennessee Valley Authority, and the Tennessee State Planning Office assisted with the rather complex preparation of the applications as they had with earlier planning efforts.

The Tennessee Valley Authority also agreed to loan the counties some money for the project. And after the initial HUD application for one million dollars was approved, an application was submitted to the Farmers Home Administration for a loan to help finance the local share of costs. With the approval of the ARC grant, the project finally seems feasible. Hence, a vision more than 15 years old is finally going to be realized, and it was truly possible because of the cooperative and forward looking efforts of numerous officials and agencies with the leadership of Judge Sproul and Judge Kennedy.

 LOUDON COUNTY JUDGE

Christmas Day itself is almost here and I guess it is universally true that Christmas brings back many memories for all of us, both sad and joyful.

It is a time when I think most people truly have the feeling of peace and goodwill.

I was thinking the other day about names and how Jesus is identified as being Jesus of Nazareth, and thinking how it became necessary through the ages to put a surname on people in order to distinguish certain persons from other persons who had the same name.

We still have the problem today to a certain extent because there are so many John Browns or Bill Smiths. We have to go ahead and say John Brown of Lenoir City and Bill Smith of Loudon. It can even get farther along the line to have to say, "Bill Smith out Antioch way."

We can certainly see the results of the effort to distinguish people one from another.

Look at the names of Carpenter, Smith, Walker, and Miller.

I wonder why we don't have more people named Cobler? We can certainly see why we have so many people named Farmer.

I suppose if Jesus were living today he would be known as Jesus Carpenter.

But all of these thoughts are unimportant possibly and merely indirectly associated

Little Tennessee Valley Educational Cooperative Meets at Vonnore
 The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Little Tennessee Valley Educational Cooperative met at Vonnore on Wednesday Evening, December 12 with the following Board members present:

Mr. Billie Joe Littleton, Chairman
 Dr. Tom Clark, Monroe County Court
 Mr. Ed Daugherty, Superintendent of Sweetwater Schools
 Mr. J.B. Hagler, Loudon County
 Mr. L.N. McDowell, Superintendent of Monroe County Schools
 Mr. Jack White, Monroe County Board of Education
 Superintendent Ross H. Wilson, Lenoir City Schools
 Executive Secretary William Oakes

Dave Boober and John Mayes of the Tennessee Planning Office were present as guests of the Board.

The following action was taken by the Board:

1. Report on psychological and special education. The Board approved the report and suggested in the future that the report be made semi-annually since too much time was being spent preparing the report.

Increased difficulty is being experienced by the Cooperative in transporting children for Special Education. This has always been a problem and no doubt will continue for some time.

2. Driver education program is operating within the budget and a proposal for Driver Education will be proposed in the Annual Program of Work for 1974-75.

3. Report on U.T. Contract for Survey
 Since the Survey was not produced by U.T. within the time limit prescribed in the contract, the Executive Director was authorized to achieve a workable compromise with U.T. on the price to be paid for the survey.

4. Comprehensive Work Plan for 1974-75.
 All seven school systems comprising the Cooperative have approved the concept of preparing a comprehensive work plan for the 1974-75 school year to be submitted to each Board of Education. Each Board can then accept or reject any or all portions of the proposed work plan. This plan should be ready no later than the February meeting.

5. Fiscal Report
 Monroe County Schools was excused from paying the Cooperative $3,822.08 for Administration since the county is furnishing a psychologist at no cost to the Cooperative.

6. Report on Retirement for Cooperative Employees.
 The Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System has notified the Cooperative that Cooperative employees are not eligible to join the system. Legislation will be necessary to correct this inequity.

7. Bicycle Safety.
 Several groups have recommended to the Cooperative that a program of bicycle safety be prepared to be initiated in elementary schools throughout the area.

This program will be included in the annual program of work for acceptance or rejection by the respective boards.

The next regular meeting of the Cooperative Board will be held on January 9, in the meeting room of the Vonnore Branch of the Sweetwater Valley Bank at 7:30 p.m.

State Board Recommends 15 Percent Pay Hike for Teachers

TO MANAGE BRANCH—Steve Hurst, above, has been named by the Merchants and Farmers Bank of Greenback to manage the Lenoir City Branch which will open in a temporary mobile office in February.

Steve Hurst has been branch manager of the Lenoir City Branch of the Merchants and Farmers Bank of Greenback. The new branch, which will be located on East Broadway at the former location of Cotton Easter Ford Used Car Sales, will open on February 1 in a mobile office unit. The permanent building will soon go under construction and be completed in August of 1974. Merchants and Farmers President Mrs. Nola Elam said that Mr. Hurst comes to the bank from Blount National Bank. He is the husband of the former Sandra Hall of Greenback, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tutus Hall of Greenback. The Hursts reside in Fort Lenoir Estates near Lenoir City. Mr. Hurst, 25, is a graduate of Everett High School in Maryville and attended East Tennessee State University for three years. He is a member of the Maryville Civitan Club and is a Baptist.

Brock Gives Support To Court Reform

had not been brought to trial until 17 months after his arrest," Brock said. "Even now, the time lapse between arrest and actual trial is approaching 12 months on a regular basis. Most of the blame can be traced to the fact that our courts have simply too many cases to handle and thus a citizen's right to a speedy trial is hampered."

According to Brock, "What must be done as quickly as possible is to equalize our court system to the population of the state. Since the court lines were drawn many years ago, Tennessee's population has changed drastically, and the courts as they are now set up simply cannot begin to handle the cases. Now, new courts lines must be drawn, and the number of judges in relationship to the number of people must be increased."

"If we are to have effective law enforcement in Tennessee," Brock continued, "steps must be taken to see that each court has the time to hear fairly the cases before it, and see to it that those cases are handled quickly, and without delay."

"That is why I feel that it is important that legislation for court modernization in Tennessee be acted upon quickly," Brock explained.

Are You Using Electric Space Heaters?

Gas, oil, and coal for home heating are in short supply. As a result, many people are switching to electric space heaters. And this is causing three serious problems.

- Using electric space heaters for the first time can easily overload the transformer serving your home. It could blow out, leaving you and possibly several neighbors totally without power.
- Using an electric space heater in an un-insulated home is practically like burning money, since the heat escapes almost as rapidly as it's produced.
- In a home with inadequate wiring, electric space heaters can cause circuits to overheat to the burning point. Your house could burn down.

Those Are The Problems -- Here Are The Solutions.

- Call us before buying an electric space heater. We'll see that the transformer delivers the electricity you need.
- Insulate your home. Otherwise, your electric bill will be enormously expensive. Caulk around window and door frames, and weatherstrip outside doors. Since greatest heat loss occurs through the ceiling, insulating it with at least six inches of fibrous insulation should be your first step.
- As a fire prevention measure, have an electrician check your home's fuse box and wiring. And never put metal objects behind fuses, or use a fuse or circuit breaker that is larger than the circuit calls for.

SO CALL US BEFORE YOU BUY. WE'LL HELP EVERYWAY WE CAN.

This picture shows a young man, Lonnie Russell, with an old five string banjo. The other two in the picture are Carl and Maggie Watson, the children of Jim Watson. The other picture is of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Watson and Mr. Watson's father, Jim Watson. We express our thanks to Mrs. Lizzie Jenkins for the loan of these old pictures. We are always grateful to those who think of the Good Old Days when they come across old family pictures.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Sometimes it takes an old picture to remind us of some of the things that at one time were a very definite part of our everyday lives but are now just memories of the past. I have said this before, but I think it is so true. Many of the things now past had a real value and brought us as a people a lot closer together than we seem to be today. It used to be that if you had a person or persons in the community who could play music, they were called on to go to people's houses to entertain. Sometimes several families would gather at one home to listen to someone sing and play. Of course, this was long before television came along. We used to play some music with some of these groups and we enjoyed every minute of it.

All of these memories as well as many more were recalled as a result of an old picture we received last week. We ran into Roy (Dinah) Miller the other day and had a very enjoyable visit. Roy has been our friend for more years than either he or I care to say. He, like so many of those from my life in the Good Old Days, remind me of the days of those yesteryears in our town Loudon. We always had a love for music and I appreciated Roy's fabulous talent as a musician. We had intended to ask Roy about his brother-in-law, Jim Roberts. Jim lived in our town years ago and was a very accomplished harmonica player. He could even play some of the classics as well as the current popular tunes. He was another dear friend of ours from the Good Old Days, but we have lost contact with him through the years.

As we come to the ending of another year, we realize that the Good Old Days has been around for quite a few years now. Our being able to continue the column is attributed to you, our readers who help with your pictures and interest. To you, our readers, we would like to wish you a Merry Christmas and a most prosperous New Year. Resolve this coming year to let us hear from you. We would greatly appreciate it.

TVA Power Sales Near 1972 Level

Unseasonably mild November weather helped hold down TVA power sales to the region's local electric distribution systems to a total of 5.2 billion kilowatt-hours for the month, about the same as in November a year ago.

These sales had been running about 9 percent ahead of 1972 levels, partly because of the increased number of consumers on the local systems. November heating demands, as measured in degree-days, were only 60 percent of the level a year ago. Weather has a major effect on power consumption during the heating season in the Tennessee Valley region, because the use of electric heat is more widespread than in most areas of the country.

Overall TVA power sales for November were 8.9 billion kWh, up about 5 percent from a year ago because of higher sales to large industrial and Government installations.

Postma Heads Oak Ridge National Lab

The appointment of Herman Postma as Director of Oak Ridge National Laboratory, effective Jan. 1, 1974, was announced this week by Roger

F. Hubba, President of the Nuclear Division, Union Carbide Corporation. Postma succeeds Alvin M. Weinberg, Laboratory Director since 1962. Weinberg has been named as the Director of The Institute of Energy Analysis to be formed by the Oak Ridge Associated Universities (ORAU) under its contract with the Atomic Energy Commission.

There are 226 Lenoir Citizens employed at Oak Ridge National Laboratory, out of a total of 603 working in all Oak Ridge plants. Floyd L. Culler, who has been serving as acting director of the Laboratory during Weinberg's leave of absence since February, will assume his previous responsibilities as Deputy Director. Postma, who has been Director of the Thermionuclear Division at ORNL, joined the Nuclear Division in 1966 as a physicist studying the properties of plasmas and their instabilities. In 1967 he spent a year as a visiting scientist at the FOM-Instituut voor Plasma Fysica in The Netherlands.

As Thermionuclear Division Director, he has directed research in controlled fusion; experimental plasma physics; theoretical plasma physics; atomic, ionic and molecular beams; high energy phenomena; high vacuum research; engineering; and fusion feasibility studies. A native of Wilmington, N.C., Postma received his bachelor of science degree with highest honors from Duke University in 1963; his master's degree from Harvard University in 1967; and his Ph.D. from Harvard in 1969. He is married to the former Patricia Dunigan of Oak Ridge. They and their two children live at 104 Berea Road, Oak Ridge.
