DAC Observes Constitution Week Event

Each year the Daughters of the American Revolution sponsor Constitution Week during the week of September 17-23. All homes and places of business are asked by the DAR to display the American Flag during these days and all schools are asked to put special emphasis on the origin and significance of the Constitution.

Since the 200th Anniversary of our Country is being celebrated during this year and next, the DAR feels we have good reason to take a look at our past history, hold fast to that which is good and have faith in the future.

There were three documents of importance in the beginning of this Country: (1) The Declaration of Independence-1776; (2) The Articles of Confederation-1777; (3) The Constitution-1787. The Articles of Confederation set up a plan for the thirteen original states after the Declaration of Independence was adopted. The Articles did not suffice to insure the success of the new nation so after many months of hard work in a convention called at Philadelphia, the Constitution was ratified by the states. Ten amendments were added to the Constitution and known as "The Bill of Rights".

Jason Ray Ramsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Ray Ramsey of Clarksville, will celebrate his first birthday Sept. 24. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Young of Philadelphia and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Ramsey of Venable.

The United States has the oldest written Constitution of any of the leading countries of the World. So the DAR urges everyone to fly your flag proudly-When we fly the flag, we salute the blessings we enjoy in this great country and show that we hold it a privilege to be an American.

CAPITOL COMMENTARY

BY M. LEE SMITH

(c) 1975, M. Lee Smith & Associates

The best thing that could happen now in the mental health patronage controversy would be for the furor to subside, for Republicans to resist making political hay, and for the Blanton administration to manifest a greater concern for the patients served by the Mental Health Department and less responsiveness to the demands of county patronage committees.

General Assembly Speakers John Wilder and Ned McWherter took a step toward ending the controversy last week when they said no legislative hearings will be held.

Predictably, that brought editorial criticism and strong retorts from Republican legislators but the speakers were sweeping the matter under the rug.

But what purpose would a legislative investigation serve other than to prolong the controversy? Facts surrounding the disagreement and the conclusions that can be drawn seem clear enough. No one has denied that Western State Superintendent Earl Ninow was involved in a continuing disagreement with the Hardeman County patronage committee. When the disagreement became polarized, Mental Health Commissioner Harold Jordan offered Ninow the opportunity to transfer to Central State Hospital in Nashville as superintendent.

While Ninow was in Jordan's office declining the offer to transfer, Governor Ray Blanton was touring Western State accompanied by a photographer. The next day the governor released pictures and described conditions at the facility as "deplorable."

The governor has maintained Ninow was fired because of the shocking conditions. But Jordan says the superintendent was dismissed for inattention to duties and violation of department policy.

Although Jordan will not say so, the policy Ninow violated was an instruction to him that he not speak critically to the press or his hospital staff concerning the governor's patronage committee.

While Blanton and Jordan have different explanations for the firing, again no one has denied that the chain of events leading to Ninow's dismissal began with the strong disagreement between him and the patronage committee—a disagreement for which Ninow was partly responsible.

And when it came to the choice of firing the superintendent or disbanding the patronage committee, the Blanton administration came down on the side of the committee.

Despite the statements of the governor to the contrary, it is difficult to believe the alleged deplorable conditions at Western State played any role in the decision to fire Ninow.

Earlier this year Western State received full accreditation following a detailed inspection of the facility. Commissioner Jordan has agreed with former Mental Health Commissioner Nat. Winston and Richard Treadway that similar conditions can be found at other state institutions.

That does not make conditions at any of the facilities acceptable. But it does argue against stinging out Ninow for dismissal because of what the governor—a mental health layman—says he saw.

The most unfortunate aspect of the entire situation is that no one has benefited by it.

The biggest losers must be the patients who reside in the state's mental health and retardation facilities. Several top level mental health employees have resigned. For those that remain morale is down.

The Governor Blanton's controversy has resulted in a political problem of no small proportions. And for Commissioner Harold Jordan the result is a loss of credibility in the mental health community.

There are few winners. Mostly losers. And it will serve no purpose now to prolong the controversy.

Board Committees

The following committees were appointed by Board Chairman Ted Wampler at last week's meeting:

Bus Owner Contract Agreements—Leonard Liles and Gary Kinsey

Bus Routes and Schedules—J.B. Hagler, Ted Handolph and Edward Headlee (ex-officio)

These committees have been created to deal with the transportation problems which we are currently experiencing. We sincerely hope that some solutions can be worked out soon.

Building Program

On Tuesday and Wednesday of last week representatives from the State Department of Education and the State Fire Marshall's Office toured most of the school buildings in the Loudon County system. Loudon High School and New Providence Special Ed Center were the only two buildings not visited. These representatives will develop recommendations for the Loudon County Board of Education to consider in arriving at a final plan for the building program. These representatives will also attend the County Court meeting on October 6 when the final Board plan is scheduled to be presented to the County Court for adoption and partial funding.

That Ghost In Your House Could Be The Wiring

Do your lights dim mysteriously?
Does your TV picture shrink?
Do your appliances, like irons and fry pans, heat up slowly?
Do fuses or breakers often trip or blow?

If you answer yes to any of these questions, your house probably has inadequate wiring — something much worse than a ghost.

Inadequate wiring causes inefficient electricity use and, worse than that, it's unsafe. It could cause a fire.

Have a qualified electrician or electrical contractor check out these symptoms and bring the wiring up to standards as soon as possible.

Shots Urged For Pre-Schoolers

Dr. Carolyn A. Beard, of the Loudon County Health Department, announced this week that October is Immunization Month.

Dr. Beard urges all parents to protect their pre-school children from diseases now by seeing your doctor or your health department for immunizations.

She stated that whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus and polio immunizations should be given at two months of age; measles, rubella and mumps at one year and by five years of age, children should be completely protected with boosters.

4,595 Here Receive Social Security

Of the billions of dollars that pour out of Washington each month in the form of social security checks, how much goes to residents of Loudon County?

How do their checks compare in size with those going to people in other communities? According to the latest official figures, released by the Social Security Administration, the pension payments locally are relatively large.

And they will be raised automatically from their present level, from time to time, to adjust for increases in the Consumer Price Index, to which they are now tied. They went up 8 percent in July, because of this arrangement.

As of the beginning of this year, the report shows, payments to Loudon County beneficiaries were at the rate of $1,127 three years ago. It was more than in many parts of the country.

Elsewhere in the East South Central States, the average was $1,623 and, in the State of Tennessee, $1,676.

The amount of money that people become entitled to when they retire is based upon their contributions to the pension fund during their working years.

Eligible to receive social security benefits are retired or disabled workers and their dependents. Each year more and more people qualify for such protection.

The total on the receiving end in Loudon County as listed in the latest report, is 4,595. Three years ago there were 4,189.

Because of the steady increase in the number of beneficiaries and the frequent hikes in the scale of payments, social security money has become a major force in the national economy. This year, some $63 billion will be paid out to nearly 31 million retirees and their families.

Currently, the annual amount going to local residents is approximately $2,746,000. Three years ago, it was $4,764,000.

Although the payroll tax to pay for these benefits remains at 5.85 percent each for employee and employer, the tax is now being applied to incomes up to $14,100, instead of $13,200, as before.

Class Has Picnic
The Loudon High School Class of 1959 will have a picnic, Saturday, September 20 at 6:30 at the Philadelphia Park. The picnic was previously announced to be held at Union Carbide Park.

The clinic is open to anyone interested in becoming a cheerleader from ages eight and up. There will be a charge of $5 for the program.

Advisory Committee Discusses Road Bill

The Citizens Advisory Committee on Transportation created by County Judge William Russell and the County Court has held two recent meetings where the main topic of discussion was the proposed County Transportation Department.

During the last session of the state legislature Judge Russell proposed a private act, which was not introduced, that would create a DOT for the county and in the act would completely overhaul the county highway department.

Advisory Committee Chairman Broady Harrison said the group has discussed the proposal, looked at comparison figures of other counties on spending per mile of rural road, per person and other.

He said that at a meeting tentatively set for Nov. 17 the committee hopes to have a Highway Superintendent from another county that has switched from a multi-highway department system such as the one in Loudon County to a unified system as proposed by Judge Russell.

The committee also may seek a feasibility study of the proposals provided they can find a state sponsored agency that will do the study at no cost to the committee or the county.

Mr. Harrison stated that the committee hopes to make a recommendation on the road department issue but first wants to get all the technical, financial, actual experience information it can obtain. He said that he feels that sometime in the future the county should consider action to obtain an airstrip or small airport for the county.

You Bet Your Life

by Joyce Stimpson, R.N.

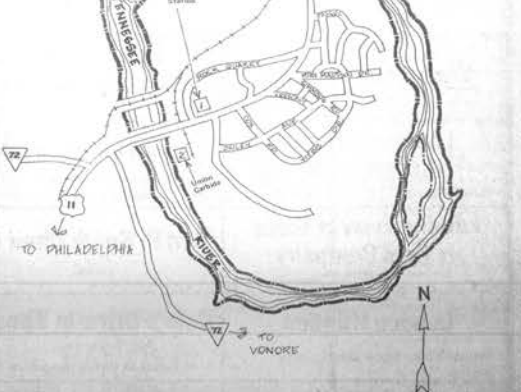

How many times have you been told that smoking may be hazardous to your health? That sounds trite after a while. Unfortunately, though, it is true.

Just what exactly does smoking do to your health? It seems that nicotine is the villain in most cases. Smoking affects two body systems primarily—your lungs and your cardiovascular system (heart and blood vessels).

We are all aware that cigarette smoking is directly linked with lung cancer. Unfortunately, lung cancer is very, very difficult to cure. There are other lung problems caused by smoking too, though. There are tiny hair-like structures in your main airways called cilia. The cilia move constantly in a sweeping motion, bringing harmful material (like phlegm) up out of the lungs. Smoking destroys cilia. Therefore, coughing (the second line of defense) is the only way the smoker can cleanse his lungs. Over a period of time, the smoker may develop emphysema, a long-term debilitating disease.

In terms of the cardiovascular system, nicotine narrows your blood vessels. Since blood vessels carry needed oxygen to body cells, smoking interferes with this oxygen delivery. The organ most commonly affected is your heart, but all body parts suffer to some extent. By narrowing blood vessels, nicotine also contributes to high blood pressure and adds needless strain to your heart.

Much damage caused by cigarette smoking is reversible—but only if you quit smoking. Cutting down will usually not help. Be good to your lungs, heart and pocketbook. Quit smoking.

SOLID WASTE TRANSFER STATION—Loudon County Court Solid Waste Committee Chairman Boyd Duckworth said that many people in Loudon County are still using illegal roadside dumps because they do not know where the solid waste (garbage) transfer station is located. It is just west of U.S. 11 on the North-east side of the Tennessee River from Loudon, across from Union Carbide. The map above shows the location of the station as related to Union Carbide.

Melton And Brown Riddle Kingston Defense, Redskins Romp To 6th Consecutive Win, 17-7

by DANNY GIBSON
Sports Editor

The Loudon Redskins won their 16th straight football game in a row Friday night as they nailed the shut out on a hard hitting Kingston team by a score of 17-7.

The Redskins, who won the last two games of the 1975 football campaign, and posted a 12-0 state championship state last year, is now 2-0 on the current schedule.

Loudon may have eased the minds of several doubters in Friday night's dog whippin' of a respectable Kingston team on the Roanoke County center stage.

In the first half, The second half was equally demoralizing as the Yellow Jacket ended up with 12 yards of total offense, one yard rushing for the game, 11 passing and a single first down.

While Loudon fashioned one of its more stirring triumphs, it must be noted that this Kingston team, while respectable is not one of their best cast of grid performers.

The defense, while Loudon fashioned one of its more stirring triumphs, it must be noted that this Kingston team, while respectable, is not one of their best cast of grid performers.

to Kingston, they are tough enough when playing them on our field. We are proud of the way the team responded to this type of challenge.

Couch Jim Gibson said he thought Junior Rolan played his top game ever. "Junior really did the job he is capable of doing."

While Rolan was knocking out the Kingston interference, Marlon Brown, Dennis Stewart, Dickie Colvin, and Steve Hill were registering tackle after tackle in bone crushing style. Definitely the Loudon linebackers stayed awake through out the game as Loudon's defensive game plan was very strong and convincing.

The two teams exchanged offensive series before Loudon went to work in earnest. Marlon Brown crashing in to make a tackle caused a fumble at the Kingston 30 yard line and Steve Harrison recovered the ball at the Yellow Jacket six yard stripe.

The scoring opportunity failed to yield points as a still fresh Kingston defense met the challenge and Loudon fumbled the ball back on second down.

Another swap of offensive series and Loudon was again to get the ball on a turnover as Greg Deatridge claimed a fumble.

On first down and Deatridge at the controls, the Redskins swung to the right with Deatridge marking a last second pitch to speedster Rick Melton to enable him to cut the corner and launch 31 yards for the first touchdown of the night with 2:28 left in the first quarter.

The Redskins point after touchdown conversation was executed with perfection. Thus retiring quickly the conversation pieces that resulted from Loudon's inept efforts in the Powell touchdown rout.

With the touchdown Loudon started to dominate play, missing at least two chances of adding to the score.

Kingston, finding itself unable to establish an offense, returned to the defensive wars. Loudon drove patiently forward only to run into a four down and a long three yards at the 36. A decision to gamble ended up in a poor exchange of the ball and an alert Kingston defender grabbed the football from the Loudon backfield and was off and running on a 55 yard TD sprint that would send both teams to the dressing room at the half with seven points.

With 7:02 left in the half Loudon rolled up three first downs and was to the Yellow Jacket eight when another fumble halted the march. Kingston exhausted the time on the clock ending the quarter.

Loudon took the second half kickoff and following a 20 yard return by Bumper Webster paraded 66 yards in 12 plays to make the score 14-7.

A 15 yard roughing the punter penalty and a miffy 29 yard trek by Melton put the Redskins on the Kingston 20. Fullback Marlon Brown, got the call five straight times, and each time the big senior balled the ball into the end zone from the one. His extra point kick was perfect.

Kingston failed to move the ball in two series and Loudon punted once.

Starting the fourth quarter Loudon opened shop on the Kingston 20. Melton, Brown and Freddie Strick punched the ball to the Kingston four yard line before Loudon settled for a 21 yard field goal by Marlon Brown.

The Redskins took a 17-7 score into the final 7:56 of the game and appeared to have things sewed up.

Kingston was still unable to generate an offense, but the defense almost came to the rescue. With 3:56 to play the Yellow Jackets knifed in to block a Mike Brookshire punt at the Loudon 15.

Thus the Loudon defense had to prove itself or risk a barn burning finish. The Kingston thrust was upended on fourth down at the Loudon six. Jimmy Brown causing a fumble and recovery that was to seal the game away.

When the dust had cleared Loudon found itself a convincing winner. Senior running backs Rick Melton, 20 carries for 138 yards, and Marlon Brown, 28 carries for 114 yards, had been a double barrel death for the Yellow Jackets, now winless in 1975.

Loudon had 15 first downs and had the pigskin for 66 plays. Kingston saw the ball for offense only 44 times, and eight of those times were for fourth down punts. Six plays resulted in fumbles and the rest of the action was spent in frustration as the Loudon defense had adequate man power to plug every offensive avenue that yielded an overall 12 yards.

ON HIS WAY—Loudon quarterback Greg Deatridge flips a pitchout to a speeding Rick Melton as the senior running back turns the corner in route to scoring Loudon's first touchdown against Kingston Friday night. The Redskins won 17-7.

MOVES OUT SIDE—Loudon's Marlon Brown moves to the out side to gain first down kicked two extra points and added a field goal in the game.

GETS IT AWAY—Loudon Mike Brookshire gets this punt off in plenty of time as teammate Carter Cardwell holds off a determined Kingston punt rush. Brookshire may miss the Lenoir City game due to a leg injury received in a Monday workout.

LOUDON FRESHMEN SCORE—Steve Watkins, Loudon freshman quarterback barely makes it into the end zone for a touchdown last Tuesday night in the young Redskins 16-0 win over Lenoir City. Involved in the play for Loudon is 50-Paul Watkins, 33-Mark Gibson, 87-Ben Fields and David Lambert.

Loudon's 1-2 running duo of Marlon Brown and Rick Melton sparked Loudon to 285 yards of total offense.

The long time heralded stride of the Kingston tradition to stick people on defense proved true in Friday night's combat encounter. Nevertheless, the offensive front wall of Loudon, Steve Harrison, Bryan Curtis, Steve Hill, Jeff Nichols, Sam Sharp, Steve Lyle, Junior Holen and Zack Spoon, wedged out continual notes for the offensive backs to slash through.

The proud Yellow Jacket defense was playing more on merit than enthusiasm by the late stages of the contest.

Meanwhile, Loudon's questionable defense which got its first stern test since an early fall scrimmage at McMinn County with the Cherokee and Oak Ridge soon after the start of fall practice was awesome on this occasion. Solid tackling and great team pursuit produced Kingston with a minus seven yards and without a first down

The defense tackled with authority, but due to lack of offensive punch has to play overtime and even with 21 seniors can not meet the demands that will be required for the type schedule they book.

The Redskins, not without error, losing three of six fumbles, and still unestablished as to their passing capabilities, "grew up" in team maturity.

"A few more games like this and we will have to consider our overall inexperience situation that faced this team at the season start as capable material for better things," spoke a still optimistic Coach Ratledge. "I don't like going

Couch Jim Gibson said he thought Junior Rolan played his top game ever. "Junior really did the job he is capable of doing."

While Rolan was knocking out the Kingston interference, Marlon Brown, Dennis Stewart, Dickie Colvin, and Steve Hill were registering tackle after tackle in bone crushing style. Definitely the Loudon linebackers stayed awake through out the game as Loudon's defensive game plan was very strong and convincing.

The two teams exchanged offensive series before Loudon went to work in earnest. Marlon Brown crashing in to make a tackle caused a fumble at the Kingston 30 yard line and Steve Harrison recovered the ball at the Yellow Jacket six yard stripe.

The scoring opportunity failed to yield points as a still fresh Kingston defense met the challenge and Loudon fumbled the ball back on second down.

Another swap of offensive series and Loudon was again to get the ball on a turnover as Greg Deatridge claimed a fumble.

On first down and Deatridge at the controls, the Redskins swung to the right with Deatridge marking a last second pitch to speedster Rick Melton to enable him to cut the corner and launch 31 yards for the first touchdown of the night with 2:28 left in the first quarter.

The Redskins point after touchdown conversation was executed with perfection. Thus retiring quickly the conversation pieces that resulted from Loudon's inept efforts in the Powell touchdown rout.

With the touchdown Loudon started to dominate play, missing at least two chances of adding to the score.

Kingston, finding itself unable to establish an offense, returned to the defensive wars. Loudon drove patiently forward only to run into a four down and a long three yards at the 36. A decision to gamble ended up in a poor exchange of the ball and an alert Kingston defender grabbed the football from the Loudon backfield and was off and running on a 55 yard TD sprint that would send both teams to the dressing room at the half with seven points.

With 7:02 left in the half Loudon rolled up three first downs and was to the Yellow Jacket eight when another fumble halted the march. Kingston exhausted the time on the clock ending the quarter.

Loudon took the second half kickoff and following a 20 yard return by Bumper Webster paraded 66 yards in 12 plays to make the score 14-7.

A 15 yard roughing the punter penalty and a miffy 29 yard trek by Melton put the Redskins on the Kingston 20. Fullback Marlon Brown, got the call five straight times, and each time the big senior balled the ball into the end zone from the one. His extra point kick was perfect.

STACKED UP—Loudon's Marlon Brown finds this mountain of blockers and tacklers just a little too high for him to climb over in the Kingston game last Friday night. Nevertheless the big senior fullback was not to be denied as he rushed for 114 yards in the game.

Watkins Scores Twice In 16-0 Frosh Win Over LC

The Loudon Freshmen football team won their second game in as many outings last Tuesday night by stopping visiting Lenoir City 16-0.

Loudon quarterback Steve Watkins accounted for all the young Redskins points with two one yard touchdowns and a pair of two point conversion dashes.

The Loudon Freshmen

Neither team managed a scoring drive in the second half as fumbles and broken plays hampered each team's offense. Lenoir City came closer to scoring at the Loudon 20 yard line and was in Redskin territory for most of the second half.

Steve Watkins was the leading ground gainer in the game with 55 yards on 13 carries. Ben Fields three pass receptions for 63 yards was also a high mark.

Loudon is off this week with a game set for Lenoir City the 30th of September. A game with McMinn Central is also being sought.

came to life in the second quarter with just over seven minutes left in the half. A three yard Lenoir City punt gave Loudon the ball at the Panther 15. A fumble carried the ball back to the 19 but Watkins teamed with receiver Ben Fields for 13 yards. Mark Gibson ran three yards and a Loudon first down at the LC three. Gibson then dove for a couple of yards and Watkins stepped over the double stripe with 5:10 showing.

Paul Watkins recovered a Lenoir City fumble but the Panther frosh bounced back to intercept a Loudon punt.

Lenoir City was forced to punt and the Loudon offense went to work from the Loudon 37. Battling the clock (1:20) Watkins booked up with Fields for 25 yards. Gibson caught a pass for seven yards and then faked a run only to pull up and toss a 30 yard strike in quarterback Watkins.

With Loudon parked on the one yard line Watkins scored easily.

Contest Decided By Tie-Breaker

What was a winner last week was only a runner-up in the Herald Football Contest this past week. Eleven persons correctly picked all 10 games correctly and one had the points (Loudon 17, Kingston 7—total 24) dead on the nose.

The only trouble spots on the entries was the Gibbs win over Webb and Jefferson's defeat of Sevier County.

The 100 percent perfect entry carried the name of Nancy Ross of Tazewell. She wins the $12 first place cash prize.

A new slate of games with the rival contest of Loudon vs Lenoir City as the leader appears in the contest ad this week.

Breazeale Interception Prompts Greenback Win Over Lanier

The Greenback Cherokeees will carry a perfect 2-0 record into this Friday night's home bout with Lanier. Friendsville thanks to an alert Stanley Breazeale.

Breazeale, a junior defensive end that one time attended Friendsville, alertly rescued the Cherokeees from possible defeat in the fourth quarter Friday night with a pass interception.

Lanier trailed only 6-0 as the game wound into the late stages with an Eagle drive putting the ball in play at the Greenback five yard line. A pass to the flat failed to catch Breazeale off guard and the slender junior plucked the aerial and tracked on 21 yards for a return to the Cherokee 22.

With only the game clock to worry with, 29 seconds remained in the game, Harold Hawkins followed the crisp block of Rick Russell to turn a routine third down effort into a 73 yard touchdown breakaway and a 12-0 final score for the Greenback team.

The Cherokeees, which posted a similar 7-0 win last fall over the Eagles, protected a second quarter touchdown by Bobby Smith through out the game with a rugged team defensive showing.

The Cherokeees appeared to take the game in hand early as the lumbering locomotive fullback Bobby Smith smashed for 28 yards, but the Cherokee defense was finally side tracked at the 15 on fourth down.

A 62 yard punt and Greenback fumble put the Cherokeees with the backs to the wall late in the opening period. Rick Russell, Tony Chambers, Steve Linginfelter, Jimmy Brooks, Bobby Smith, Mitch Smith, and Danny Dotson combined talents to hold the Lanier attack at the 20.

The Cherokeees started to click in the second quarter. From the 23 yard line Roddy Kizer flipped a 12 yard pass to Harold Hawkins. Bobby Smith ran for five yards, an incomplete pass and Kizer added five yards for a first down. Danny Dotson blocked the blocking of Smith for eight yards. Smith came back on two carries for 11 yards and another first down. Dotson collected four yards, before an offside penalty forced a change of situation. From the 27 yard line Lynn Tucker got the 13 yard line of Lanier. Bobby Smith powered his way for the last 14 stripes and with 4:07 left in the first half had Greenback ahead 6-0.

A pass to Hawkins was broken up.

Lanier advanced to the 48 before the half ended.

Lanier played offense for much of the second half as Greenback let the Eagles escape from their own territory with costly penalties. The penalties often times giving the Eagles new life on a stalled march.

The Greenback defensive team play which caught the attention of everyone at the game, showed a little battle fatigue as Lanier regrouped for its final quarter offensive thrust at its own 38. Down the field the Eagles flew and only the stellar play of the slings defense did the Cherokee manage to contain the effort inside the 10 yard line and prevent a knotted score or possible Lanier win with an extra point success.

Still the greenback offense was not able to run the clock out and Lanier made one more game attempt that had the Cherokeees backed to the limit only to have Breazeale rescue the Greenback cause with his interception.

The Cherokeees not only had balance in the line with crisp offensive blocking up front, but complimented the effort with Bobby Smith carrying only 12 times for 74 yards. Danny Dotson, taking some of the burden off Smith had nine carries for 33 yards. Hawkins moved the ball 88 yards on six snaps and Kizer added 13 yards on five tots.

Lynn Tucker caught a pass for 23 yards. Glenn Quillen made an eight yard reception. Hawkins claimed two for 16 yards. Dotson also took an aerial for five yards.

Defensively linebacker Danny Dotson was all over the field and came away with 14 stops. Steve Linginfelter graded his highest ever with 12 tackles. Rick Russell completed the trio of leaders. Jimmy Brooks, Bobby Smith (a fumble recovery) Mitch Smith, and Breazeale all had standout moments defensively.

Coach Keith Bailey stated, "he was very pleased with the line showing both ways. We still can not afford any injuries, but for 11 players we have some dedicated people to stick it out with most anyone we face. Lack of depth really hurts in the late going but I think we are in pretty good condition. It still asks a lot of each player. Our running game is coming along and has surprised us some. We felt we would have to throw maybe 25 times a game but Roddy's five for nine kept the Lanier defense guessing enough to help our line from being double teamed."

Lanier Greenback 0000 - 6 8800 - 11

GOOD GAME—Greenback's Eric Belcher (52) gives his teammate Stanley Breazeale (82) a "winning" smile as the two Cherokeees enter the Greenback dressing room following a hard fought 12-0 win over Lanier. Breazeale was the hero of the game, intercepting a pass in the waning minutes to preserve the Cherokee win.

Greenback Hosts Falcons In Battle Of Unbeatens Loudon, Lenoir City Join In 47th Grid Meeting Friday

Friday night marks the 47th grid meeting between Loudon and Lenoir City. The traditional headline is one of the oldest rivals in Tennessee dating back to 1928.

Lenoir City has the edge in overall victories with 24 Loudon closed the gap to two games last year when they won convincingly 42-21p. There has never been a tie game.

Loudon is again favored in the season opener in football next Friday night against Crossville. The triple-A Jets are currently unbeaten. Not only will this be Loudon's first home game of 1975 but Homecoming will also be observed.

Loudon Principal Jim Gibson urges everyone interested in the season football package, four home games for $7.00 (adults) and $3.00 (students) to purchase their tickets through the high school business office.

Lenoir City head coach Henry Blackburn would like nothing better than to get his season on course with a starting win over Loudon. "We must have a well executed game if we are to make problems for Loudon. They are bigger and have more depth than us."

Loudon head coach Bert Ruggles said "Lenoir City is much better than last year. I've reviewed their game films and they have got a better quality of ball players. Their line has got some players who really come off the ball. They seem to be lacking just that little bit of success or luck or what ever to start making themselves heard. They will get it all together one night and lookout. I would not want to take Lenoir City for granted."

Game time is set for 8 p.m. Loudon will be without the service of Mike Brookshire, Redskin punter Brookshire was roughed in a punting work on Monday and has a bruised left knee that will undoubtedly keep him out of this game.

Otherwise both teams report healthy teams for Friday night's game. Greenback faces a stiff test in its home field Friday night. The Cherokeees host Friendsville. The Falcons are 3-0 this season and are pre-season conference and Region 1 contenders. They feature a stout defense.

Greenback lost by a 7-0 score last year, but also bring a better team and a unfinished record of 2-0 into this neighborhood head knocker.

Greenback will be a sure touchdown underdog for the 7:30 kickoff. "We are all in good playing

Honest Injun Boots, No Offense Meant

The sports department of the Loudon County Herald (namely one Danny Gibson) came under fire from Roane County News Sports Editor Boots Cook this past weekend.

Mr. Cook, a stockholder in The Herald, stated in his weekly column that Kingston would probably control the ground game against Loudon but would fall to the Redskins 20-7. In statements of just made in the offices at Kingston last Tuesday we honestly understood him to say that Loudon did not have the horses to get 100 yards on the ground against the Kingston defense, requiring Loudon to pass to win.

Mr. Cook failed to find humor in the end and thus took offense to the news note. Boots and I are both dedicated to our "home" teams and often joke about events surrounding the rivalry between the Loudon and Roane teams. We are sorry to have angered him to the extent our remarks did, and meant no offense to him.

TWO POINTS SPOILED—Greenback receiver Harold Hawkins is prevented a two point conversion reception following a Cherokee touchdown Friday night against Lanier.

Recreation Tennis Finals Told

The Loudon Singles Tennis Tournament sponsored by the Loudon Recreation Department was played last week with the finals in each division being concluded Saturday afternoon.

Recreation Director Bill Birkholz announced the following results. In men's play for 18-years and under Mike Lambert defeated David Browder 6-4, 6-2. Jack Ferguson edged Tom Lambert 7-5, 5-7, 6-4 in the Regionals. Bonnie McNabb triumphed in the Intermediate play by downing Bruce Brown 2-6, 6-1, 6-0. Gary Lindner routed by Bill Custard 6-0 and 6-2 to capture the Men's Advanced trophy.

In women's play Pat Foster turned back Beverly Veal 6-1, 6-3. Sheena Lindner recovered to drop Cammie McNabb, 2-6, 6-0. In 6-2 in women's Intermediate Beth George prevailed over Linda Arp in the Advanced Hawkins' 6-0, 6-2.

BACK IN THE

GOOD OLD DAYS

He enjoyed the Good Old Days. I guess Bart travels about as much as anybody from Loudon, with his work as a high ranking official of the Masonic Lodge, possibly a tiring role, but rewarding in the contacts with people across the U. S. A. Bart has helped us from time to time in our Good Old Days effort.

Some time back in one of the Good Old Days columns, we mentioned that we would like to have some pictures (if available) and some information on the old Civil War soldiers. We had many people who served in this historical part of the early days of our country. Some important events, that is important to our area, occurred in the Sweetwater Valley area. We have been able to compile some of the events, which we feel our readers will consider colorful and interesting as well as informative. We plan on using this in the near future and would be very happy to hear from our readers on this interesting part of our country's colorful history.

The picture we ran of the late Mr. McDinkins a couple of weeks ago was taken in North Carolina. We thought it was taken in Philadelphia. Anyway, many of our readers were interested in this picture of a man from a well known Loudon County family. We always appreciate our readers help in correcting us on information about some of our old pictures. Our many thanks. Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

Our reader could not help us either but, as in the case many times, we ask for our readers' help. We are sure someone can name all of those in the picture. School Board To Receive Building Costs Next Week

Superintendent of Loudon County Education Edward Headlee said this week that State Education officials have said it will be another week before they are ready to present cost estimates on proposed building programs for the county.

Last week it was announced the State will present cost estimates on the building program developed by the County Board from the UT survey, and an estimate on a program that is being developed by the state.

It is expected that the state plan will call for the construction of two new middle schools, one in the Eaton-Highland Park area and one South of Loudon.

Superintendent Headlee said the plans at this time are for him to meet with the state men in Knoxville on Sept. 30 to receive their estimates.

If this comes about he will call a meeting of the County Board of Education for Thursday, Oct. 2, hopefully to have the board adopt one of the plans for presentation to the County Court at their October 6 meeting.

Morphine Other Drugs Taken In Richesin Pharmacy Breakin

A small quantity of drugs, including morphine, was taken from Richesin Pharmacy in Loudon sometime Saturday night.

Loudon Police Chief John Lennox and FBI Agent Leon Miller said they thought the break-in was not connected to the more professional jobs in the area in recent weeks. A box of drugs and left a large quantity of others that were in the same cabinet.

Chief Lennox said that a false trouble call was called to the Justice Center during the night which dispatched city cruisers to Loudon High School. He said the break-in could have occurred during that time.

State Outlines Ways For School Consolidation Here

The legal steps to effect the consolidation of the public school systems of Loudon County and Lenoir City were explained to a joint city-county committee last Wednesday night by two State Department of Education officials.

The meeting was the second for the committee which was formed about four months ago, composed of members of both school boards and members of the Lenoir City Council and County Court.

Robert Sharp, legal and administrative counsel of the State Department of Education; and Haskell Evans, Tennessee office outlined four different ways to achieve consolidation, but did not make a specific recommendation of which method to achieve, saying that the mood of the people of Lenoir City concerning the details of the consolidation points to be considered.

The four methods to achieve consolidation explained by Mr. Sharp are as follows:

- 1 - Contractual operation by the county of the schools belonging to the city school district, under the general supervision of the county superintendent.
- 2 - The abolition of the city school system and the transfer of the operation of the schools to the county system, upon approval by the voters of the city in a referendum on the subject. If the mood of the people were ripe this would certainly be one of the simplest methods of effecting consolidation, Mr. Sharp stated.
- 3 - The joint operation of schools by the boards of education of any two systems.
- 4 - Unification of the systems within the county.

The first step to take under this method is to create a Unification Educational Planning Commission. This method of unification allows for detailed planning, full consideration of the problems attendant upon unification, the expression of the will of all the people both city and county voters, and perhaps a smooth transition. Since the law on the subject of unification is complete and detailed on the procedures necessary and the order of the steps to be taken, the State Department of Education has developed no manual or guidelines to implement it, but offers assistance.

Unification can also be achieved through legislative enactment, Sharp said. Since the city school system was created by private act of the General Assembly, the people could petition their state representatives to introduce bills which would repeal the existing enactments and abolish the school system. This would result in there being but one school system in the county, which would operate all schools in the county.

Mr. Sharp told the committee that under any method used to achieve consolidation the state had laws that would guarantee certain rights to insured personnel, such as pay, insurance and other benefits.

The state official said the only Tennessee systems to use the unification system were Clarksville and Montgomery County and this was about 15 years ago. He said the system has not worked well and there are still problems in Montgomery County as a result.

Sharp said that since he some sort of public opinion referendum could be held to get the feeling on consolidation and if the vote favored consolidation then more concrete proposals and plans would be worked on. He was told it could and Chairman Wampler said he would rather have this type of arrangement.

After considerable discussion on the next move of the committee, which was formed to make some recommendation to their respective governing boards on consolidation, Chairman Wampler said he would call the next meeting when three or more members of the group petitioned him to do so.

Committee Chairman, Ted Wampler, who is County School Board chairman said

Fund Kick-Off Monday, Tumblin To Speak

Richard Tumblin of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of Knoxville, will be the kick-off speaker for the 1976 Loudon County United Fund Campaign. Mr. Rachel Huff, campaign chairman, announced this week.

The kick-off dinner is set for 7 p.m. Monday at the Loudon VFW building. All area chairmen and UF volunteer workers are invited to attend the kick-off dinner.

The 1976 goal for the 15 agencies United Fund drive is $51,649.

Mr. Tumblin, a graduate of the University of Tennessee, has been active in the Knox County United Way campaign for several years. He was kick-off speaker for the Oak Ridge UF campaign in 1973. He has been chairman of Communications of the Knox United Way for the past three years.

Representatives from the 15 agencies that compose the Loudon County organization are expected to attend also.

The UF agencies are American Red Cross, American Legion Mile of Dimes, Arthritis Foundation, The Boy's Club of Lenoir City, Dantes Arthur Rehabilitation Center, The Empty Stocking Fund of Greenback, Great Smoky Mountain Council of Boy Scouts of America; Tansil Girl Scout Council, Loudon Mile of Dimes, Loudon County Emergency Rescue Squad, Philadelphia Community Chest, United Services Organization, Youth Club of Loudon, Loudon County Advisory Committee and United Central Palsy.

"Loudon County has held a tradition from the first campaign some 16 years ago of meeting its goal, and I certainly expect that tradition to be carried on this year," Miss Huff stated. "We have always had the best cooperation from every facet of the population in volunteering to work in the campaign and generous contributions from thousands of people to maintain our level of success," she concluded.

Although the actual campaign does not start until later next week, some industrial reports are expected at the kick-off.

Students Are Key To St. Jude Campaign

STUDENTS AID SOUGHT—Loudon County leaders in the Walk for St. Jude Hospital met with students in all Loudon High Schools last week to get the students to take an active part in the Walk. Above Loudon High student leaders Steve Hill, Mark Moore and Janet Koston are pictured with Ted Sizler and Mrs. Jo Richards, Loudon County Co-Chairmen of the Walk, Paul Bivens, and Bob Espy, Southern Regional Coordinator for St. Jude Research Hospital.

Mr. Bob Espy, Southern Co-ordinator for St. Jude Hospital, was the guest speaker at both Loudon and Lenoir City High School assemblies last week. He showed a film which gave a descriptive account of the extraordinary work and research that is going on at St. Jude Research Hospital.

Mr. Espy spoke on the following significant facts about St. Jude Hospital:

- (1) St. Jude is the largest childhood cancer research center in the world, in terms of numbers of patients and treatment successes.
- (2) St. Jude is non-sectarian, inter-racial and completely free of charge to patients admitted by physician referral and if their disease is under study.
- (3) St. Jude provides "total medical care" once a patient is accepted, even for surgery and for treatment not related to the research in which he or she is taking part.
- (4) St. Jude is the first and only institute established for the sole purpose of conducting basic and clinical research in catastrophic childhood diseases.

(5) St. Jude conducts basic research in the fields of Biochemistry, Cell Biology, Virology and Immunology, Hematology, Histology and Nutrition and Metabolism, in addition to clinical research programs.

(6) St. Jude's basic and clinical research findings and accomplishments are freely shared with physicians and research scientists throughout the world, extending the benefits of its work beyond its own patients to children, parents and Society everywhere. Truly, helping children live throughout the world.

Mr. Espy said that on a winter night in 1940 an unknown comedian, Danny Thomas, made a pledge to St. Jude "thaddens, patron saint of the hopeless. His prayer was for rescue from despair, and the pledge was a covenant of Lenoir City, Tennessee. From his promise grew a dream, St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

Mr. Espy also visited with various members of the student body at Loudon and Lenoir City High Schools in order to discuss the Walk for St. Jude Hospital, which is scheduled for October 4.

Campaign workers are now concentrating on the Walk for St. Jude with registration of all walkers to begin at the Lenoir City Shopping Center at 8 a.m. with the Walk beginning at 9 a.m.

The Registration booths will be in back of the Lenoir City Shopping Center and registration will be open until 9 a.m.

Sponsor forms can be picked up at all three high schools in the County by contacting the guidance counselor office, or by contacting Leslie Rice, president of Lenoir City High School National Honor Society, Q. E. Richmond, 966-8212 or Ted R. Sizler, 458-5545.

The Last Bake Sale of the St. Jude Fund raising campaign will be held Saturday, Sept. 27 in front of the former Kuhn's Store in Lenoir City.

New fall fashions for women concentrate on soft, brushed fabrics. Many fabrications use a touch of rabbit's hair or angora in polyester blends. For others, brushing, napping, shearing or sueding gives the warm cozy feeling.

Colors lean toward royal wine shades, burgundies and chablis. The Chinese influence continues in smoke and heather tones. Ombre, the gradation of tone, continues in importance and is new as a ground for prints and stripes.

Borders are coming strong for the Big Shape dress and pared-down chemise. There are more dimensional plaids. The newer stripes are broken or simply a suggestion of stripes. Something new in faux units, or false ones. For example, a solid effect is actually made up of bits of color.

Styling takes two directions: big, loose, swingy shapes and body-bugging slim lines. Often in separates, the two looks are combined for a newly-layered interest. An overdress is added to pants and a shirt topped by a sweater. Pants are as popular as ever and sometimes worn under either slim, clingy or Big Look dresses and tunics. Or a Big Top goes over pared-down pants or slim-look skirts. The Chinese influence for tops includes quilting, side-wraps, toggle and frog closings and lacquer colors. Shorter, cropped blazers topuffed pants.

There are longer skirts in wrap-arounds and swishy rounds. The opposite slim lines allow plenty of free action with box pleats giving skirts the slim look. In dresses, body-bugging sweater dresses and Sirens

Ground Breaking For Fork Creek

The membership of the Fork Creek Baptist Church held an afternoon worship service at the site of their new church Sunday at 2 p.m. and broke ground for their new church. The new building for the 240 Fork Creek members will be located on new highway 72, but is presently reached from Wade Road about eight miles from the present church location.

The Fork Creek Baptist Church, like many other structures is to be torn down to make way for the Tellico Lake, and the 240 members selected the hillside site about a mile from Jackson Chapel Church for their new church home.

Founded in 1853, Union Fork Creek, has been located just beyond the Bacon Farm on highway 72, growing as the community developed.

It is understood that the cemetery at the present church, which reflects the history of the congregation, will be left intact and not disturbed by the backwaters of the lake. A new cemetery is planned on the grounds of the new church, which the membership hopes to have ready for use next summer.

The deacons and building committee members turned the ceremonial shovel of dirt as the pastor, Rev. Kenneth Hunt and about 60 of the church members and guests looked on. Actually work on the church has already started with the footings being dug and poured.

Also on the program Sunday were former pastors and Loudoun County Baptist Association Missionary Glen Mellon. The ground-breaking speaker was Benke Creel.

TURN FIRST SHOVEL—Deacons and building committee members of Fork Creek Baptist were given the honor of turning the first shovel of dirt at the ground breaking of Fork Creek Baptist Sunday. The church pastor, Rev. Kenneth Hunt is at right.

Called Board meeting
The Board meeting that was anticipated to be called for this week will not be called due to the delay from the State Department of Education in finalizing the cost estimates for the building programs. It is hoped that these estimates can be ready for a possible called meeting prior to the County Court meeting set for October.
Superintendents' Conference
The annual Superintendent's Conference was held in Gallatinburg on September 14-17. Perhaps the most interesting item to emerge from this gathering was a proposed new method of State funding for school systems based on the student instead of the curriculum and teaching positions. There is much to be done before this proposal could be submitted to the legislature, but Loudon County would gain about $200,000.00 in new money from State sources under the new program

Immunizations
REMINDER! All students enrolled in kindergarten or the first grade for the first time this year must have all necessary shots in order to remain in attendance in Loudon County Schools. This is a State law and we are bound to see to its enforcement. Parents are reminded of this in the event you might have missed an earlier announcement concerning this same situation.
Football
Cool nights and warm days show that fall is really here. We offer our congratulations to the Loudon High Redskins on their continuing success in the sport of football. We hope that Greenback will bounce back from their defeat at the hands of Friendsville and have an excellent season. Best wishes to the coaches and players of both these fine athletic teams. Keep up the good work.

Boston Firm To Build Reactor

Project Management Corporation (PMC) has selected a proposal from Stone and Webster Engineering Corporation of Boston, Mass. as the basis for negotiation of a contract under which Stone and Webster would be the general contractor to construct the Nation's first large-scale demonstration breeder nuclear plant at Oak Ridge.
Negotiation of the contract will begin in the near future, it was announced last Thursday, by Wallace E. Behnke, Chairman of the Board of PMC. As general contractor, Stone and Webster will be required to construct the plant and install certain components, systems and equipment procured by others.
The selection of Stone and Webster from eleven proposals completes the effort by PMC to establish the team that will design and construct the breeder nuclear power plant. Westinghouse Electric Corporation was selected as the lead reactor manufacturer to design the nuclear steam supply system. Burns and Roe Incorporated was selected to provide general plant architect-engineering services.
The plant, which will be named the Clinch River Breeder Reactor (CRBR), is a key element in the Nation's high-priority energy research and development program leading to successful demonstration of the Liquid Metal Fast Breeder Reactor (LMFBR) in the mid-1980s. The CRBR will help demonstrate the technical and economic feasibility of the LMFBR as a practical source of power with reactor design emphasis placed on safety, reliability and environmental compatibility.
PMC was organized in March 1972 following the joint utility proposal of Commonwealth Edison Company of Chicago and the Tennessee Valley Authority to build and operate the demonstration plant in cooperation with the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission (AEC). The AEC's functions in the project have been assumed by the Energy Research and Development Administration by authority of the Energy Reorganization Act of 1974.

Beeler Gets Award For Public Service

Tennessee Agriculture Commissioner Edward S. Porter today recognized 150 Tennesseans, who are volunteer weekly weather and crop reporters, with a Certificate of Appreciation.

This Certificate which reads "In Appreciation for Valuable Public Service" bears the seals of the United States and Tennessee Departments of Agriculture. Both these agencies have cooperatively published the Weekly Weather and Crop Bulletin from the information gathered by these volunteer reporters for the past 40 years. Volunteer weather and crop reporters in Loudon County receiving this Certificate by mail are: Silas E. Beeler, Sr., Rt. 2, Greenback.

"I am proud of the government cooperation in this program of collection and publication of agricultural statistics. I am even prouder of the loyal Tennesseans who provide the basic information for this public service without compensation or compensation of law," he emphasized.

The Weekly Weather and Crop Bulletin, published from March through November, provides information not only for farmers, but also buyers, processors and haulers of farm products who need to know crop conditions and progress in planning their business. Other cooperating this information is the U.S. Weather Bureau which contributes the rainfall and temperature data and the 30-day weather outlook; the local University of Tennessee agricultural extension service offices who gather information and the Statistical Reporting Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture which summarizes the information gathered and jointly publishes the report with the Tennessee Department of Agriculture; explained Commissioner Porter.

"Timely information about the nation's agricultural resources serves as the basis for many important decisions. Farmers, businessmen, researchers and Congressmen all rely on up-to-date knowledge of supplies and prices of farm products," he noted.

The flights are necessary to train flight crews of the 1st Special Operations Wing in low-level navigation. The C-130 Combat Talon aircraft fly the routes at altitudes between 300 and 1,000 feet above the ground. Routes have been carefully selected to avoid populated areas wherever possible.

Information Wanted By Aging Office

The Blount County Office on Aging has asked the assistance of the Loudon County Office on Aging in finding a way to help financially troubled widows.

Charles Quagliana, Director of the Blount County Office on Aging, believes that action should be taken on either State or National levels to help widows between the ages to 50 and 60 whose needs are not being met by the Social Security program as it stands now. These women are too young to receive a widow's pension if their children were still at home there would be survivor's benefits for them.

Quagliana is urging Blount area widows, who either have faced or are facing this financial problem to write to him at the Community Action Agency, 309 Court Street, Maryville, giving details. He is now gathering information on the problems of older widows which he plans to present to lawmakers in hopes of getting changes in Social Security or other action.

The Loudon County Office on Aging would like to encourage all Loudon Countians who have experienced this difficulty to write to Mr. Quagliana, giving details of their financial problems so that appropriate legislative action can be obtained.

Redskins Stay Atop Region I Standings With 35-12 Drumming Of Rival Panthers

by Danny Gibson Sports Editor

The Loudon Redskins moved one notch closer on the all time win loss records of the 47 year football rivalry between them and Lenoir City Friday night as they posted a comfortable 35-12 victory.

The win was Loudon's third straight of the 1975 season and their 17th consecutive success dating back to the tail end of the 1973 campaign.

Loudon all but decided the game in the first half as they struck paydirt on their first four offensive series of the night for a 28-0 halftime advantage.

Lenoir City broke an 11 quarter scoring drought in the final canto with 12 big points on two well earned touchdowns. The Panther defense also limited the Redskins to seven points in the second half and may have salvaged some confidence in their capabilities for the rest of the grid season.

Loudon meanwhile must buckle to the task of facing six straight "winners" in its bid to again make the playoffs. Their first three foes are thus far winless.

Lenoir City started the game from their 31 as Walt Thaxton brought the opening kickoff back 16 yards.

A five yard penalty and surprise quarterback starter Steve Arnold lost three yards to get the Panthers in a hole fast. A fumble at the 19, recovered by Loudon's Jim Brown with 9:55 left in the first period automatically gave Loudon a great scoring opportunity.

The Redskins moved swiftly on four downs and the run of Marlon Brown, Rick Melton, and Greg Deathridge to score with 8:27 showing on the clock. Melton dashing over the goal line from the five. Marlon Brown converted on his first five straight extra point kicks.

Lenoir City got the ensuing kick-off back to the 50 as Doyle Varner returned the pigskin 11 yards and a 15 yard penalty on Loudon for piling on added to the moving of the chains.

Loudon's defense forced a punting situation and the Redskins received the ball at their own 17.

Greg Deathridge promptly unloaded his stable of running backs on the Panthers in the way of Melton, Brown, and sophomore Freddie Starritt. The Redskins paraded 23 yards in pure championship fashion on eight plays.

Rick Melton accounted for 27 yards. 41 on one run, but Lenoir City moved the ball out to their 47 before a hurried play lost 13 and forced a punt by Phil Reed.

Loudon getting the ball for the third time in the game, this time at their own 32, struck out for still another scoring drive. The Redskins clicking on 13 offensive snaps hit the end zone from the six yard line as Freddie Starritt roared past would-be Panther tacklers and Loudon held a 21-0 count with 8:53 to play in the fourth quarter. Steve Harrison came up with a clutch defensive stop of Arnold at the Panther 20 and two plays later the L-Cians were punting.

From the Loudon 40, Dickie Colvin got his first taste of offense for the game and the senior co-captain rambled 21 yards into Lenoir City territory.

Quarterback Carter Cardwell then alternated Colvin and Melton before springing a touchdown happy Freddie Starritt loose on a 26 yard jaunt and his third TD of the night for a 28-0 first half Loudon lead.

Five minutes and 21 seconds still remained on the first half clock when Lenoir City received the pigskin for the fifth time. And for the fifth time without the success of registering an initial first down the Panthers, punted with 3:38 on the clock.

Nevertheless, Steve Melton passed his 100 yards per game quota with a nine and seven yard run that placed the ball on the 44 yard line of Lenoir City. Lenoir City seemed to be demoralized when Steve Arnold fumbled and Loudon's Marlon Brown claimed the pigskin at the Lenoir City 42.

The Panther defense came to the rescue as Mark Moore could gain only three yards. Sophomore Eddie Estes failed to connect on a pass to his reliable receiver Conway Dukes, and Freddie Starritt could not turn the corner and had to settle for two yards on third down. Punter Mike Brookshire was then caught on an attempted run and the Panthers had the ball at their own 43.

Two consecutive 15 yard punts on Loudon gave the Panthers all the scoring incentive they needed. Doyle Varner legged the ball three straight time before Arnold went to the air for a 15 yard completion and touchdown to Phil Hood with 2:33 left to play.

Loudon then took the ensuing kick off and kept the ball for seven downs as the game ended and the Redskins at the Lenoir City 33.

and knotted the score at 6-6. Greenback stopped offensively, came threw on a 35 yard punt by Harold Hawkins and a 15 yard clipping penalty had the Falcons leading at their own 16 yard line. The Friendsville offense powered its way to the 37 before Eric Belcher came up with what appeared to be another great opportunity for the Cherokee.

Greenback lost 22 yards in pass attempts and the Falcons took over following a bad fourth down snap that cost the Cherokee 12 more yards. Friendsville taking the momentum moved swiftly in six plays to take the upper hand at 14-6 and only 31 seconds left in the half. A halfback pass conversion accounted for two points.

Greenback opened the second half with a passing attack that saw Lynn Rucker grab a 16 yard first down aerial in the first series. A Friendsville pass interception at the 50 yard line turned the march over to the Falcons who rolled for 12 straight plays but a stubborn defensive fight by the Cherokee took the ball away on downs at the four yard line.

The determined effort was able to prolong the game. Hawkins was whacked at the 10, and a fumble ensued. A 10 yard run with 32 seconds left in the third period wrapped up the game's scoring. The conversion kick was not good.

Greenback had one spark at closing the gap in the final quarter, moving things to Friendsville 34. But a delay of game penalty and a loss of 10 yards on a passing attempt killed the march.

Greenback had the ball again briefly in the waning seconds of the game but a pass interception and the final few ticks of the game clock placed the game in the record books.

Loudon Midget Football Teams Trim Madisonville; Play At LC Saturday

The Loudon Quarterback Club sponsored Midget Football program will take its fourth team act to Lenoir City this Saturday night.

The Grasshopper game will get under way soon after 4 p.m. with the Grasscutters, Mustangs, and Indians taking the field in games at 6, 7, and 8 o'clock respectively. The Loudon-LC encounter kicks-off the second half of the season for both organizations. Loudon won three games this past Saturday night from visiting Madisonville.

The Loudon Grasscutters opened the evening with a 38-0 rout. The Mustangs had a tougher time, pulling out a spory 20-14 triumph. Lloyd Cook gave the Mustangs an early 6-0 lead following a lengthy drive by crossing the goal line from 50 yards out.

Madisonville knotted the count at 6-6 by half time. Billy Moore's pass to Tony Lennox and hard running by Pat Brown and Lloyd Cook sparked the Mustangs in the third period. Kevin White dashed over for a touchdown from the five yard stripe. Cook made the score 14-6 on a two point conversion run.

Loudon recovered an onside kick at the mid-field stripe. A pass to Lennox and a craft 13 yard gain on an end-around by Pat Brown set up the final 14 yard aerial from Moore to Lennox for a 20-6 Loudon advantage. Madisonville cashed in on a 50 yard pass and run and added a two point conversion run for the final count of 20-14. The Indian defense threw up blanks as they evened their season mark at 2-2 with a 14-0 decision.

The Indians were sparked on offense by the running of Walter Henry and the passing out of John Cardwell to Kerry Branthoover.

Loudon scored in the first half on a second down and six situation at the Indian 39. Alan Eldridge fooled everyone as he scampered 61 yards on an end around around Cardwell.

hit Branthoover for a two point pass reception on the conversion effort.

Loudon again hit the score board, this time in the second half. From the Madisonville 43 Cardwell hooked up with Branthoover who made a lateral of the football to Alan Eldridge, who raced unopposed for a second touchdown.

The extra point effort was no good. Kent Everett, Steve Buchanan, and Donnie Eldridge were defensive stalwarts as the Indians denied Madisonville any scoring opportunities.

Eight Picks Tops In Herald Contest

Power ratings, season records and every other means of selecting winners in the 10 game Football Contest this past week were just a means for defeat. More than half the entries missed five or more games. One contestant who enters weekly missed nine games.

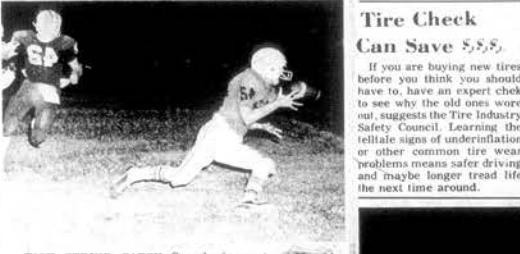

There were four persons who correctly picked eight winners, and only four more got seven games correct. There were about four hundred that missed five or more.

Winner with eight games right and 42 points on the tie-breaker (47 points, Loudon 35 and Lenoir City 12) is Bill Long, Rt. 5, Lenoir City. He missed midway over Madisonville and Karns over Farragut. Mr. Long collects $12. Carl Grimes of Loudon, had 35 points on the tie-breaker, good for second place money of $8. Third place is shared ($2.50 each) by Kevin Hill and Gene Foster. Both entries had eight games right and a 34 point tie-breaker.

The four contestants who missed three games were Keith Grimes, Tim Farmer, Jack Harrison and Garlin Moser, Jr.

EVANS MAKES STICK—Greenback cornerback Randy Evans was quick to make this defensive attack of a Friendsville ball carrier in the Falcons backfield. The play was one of few that resulted in minus yardage for the Falcons.

SHOE STRING CATCH—Greenback receiver Harold Hawkins makes a shoe string catch of a Roddy Kizer pass as the Cherokee batted rival Friendsville last Friday night.

Tire Check Can Save $$$

If you are buying new tires before you think you should have, to have an expert check to see why the old ones wore out, suggests the Tire Industry Safety Council. Learning the telltale signs of underinflation or other common tire wear problems means safer driving and maybe longer tread life the next time around.

OUT OF REACH—Greenback's Randy Evans (40) finds his efforts to catch up with this pass a losing cause as the ball sails out of bounds.

It started "slob-busters" and trophy hunters and brought out the worst possible aspects of hunting. It had so much gory footage of innocent and "tame" animals being killed, or dying slow agonizing deaths that CBS felt it necessary to advise that the program was not suitable for all members of the family.

On the surface, the program appeared to be a report on the activities of the average American hunter and brought out many facts and figures about game management and the economics of hunting. All of these statements were played down as being only "claims" or "theories" by game managers and were over shadowed by the emotionally-packed anti-hunting scenes and statements.

Now, it is true that none of the scenes took place in Tennessee but many, many Tennesseans were exposed to the program.

It couldn't help but reinforce the resentment that our anti-hunters feel and probably swayed many non-hunters to the anti-hunting camp.

Rain Washes Out Atomic

Ninety laps of racing is scheduled Saturday night at Atomic Speedway.

It marks the third time in which the late model sportsman program has been scheduled. On back-to-back Saturdays, rain has moved in to wash out competition.

The racing gets under way at 8:30 with time trials for the sportsman drivers. The 90 laps of action doesn't include qualifying and heat runs. The money for the racing are $3.50 and $3.

Buddy Rogers of Knoxville, who won the last event on Aug. 30 at the speedway, will be back shooting for another victory.

Several drivers from the Chattanooga area are expected to be on hand. These include veteran Joe Lee Johnson and his son, Ronnie. Among the Atomic regulars figured to be in the thick of the battle for the $500 first-place payoff are Nate Estes, H. E. Vineyard, Bill Ogle and Herman Goddard. Also on hand will be Gary Duggan of Lenoir City, Ken Phillips of Loudon and Lee Roy Vann of Oliver Springs.

Besides the 40-lap feature and 20-lap semi-feature for sportsman drivers, Class B machines will be running a 20-lap affair. The highlight of the night, however, may be the final event—a 10-lap powder puff derby.

As many as 15 women are expected to go to the starting line. Some will be competing in sportsman cars, others in Class B machines.

Following this week's racing is the Southern 200 on Oct. 4. Top names from throughout the South are likely to be here for the $10,000 run. First place will be worth $2,000.

Anti-Hunting In Tennessee

"There is little, if any, anti-hunting sentiment in Tennessee," Tennessee hunters have no reason to feel concerned about anti-hunting sentiment as it is nothing to get upset about."

How many times have you heard or even made these types of statements? And how true are they?

On September 5, the CBS television network put on a 90-minute nationwide broadcast entitled "The Guns of Autumn" written and produced by a Mr. Irv Drexler. This very biased anti-hunting program was narrated by one of CBS's major news commentators, Dan Rather.

Tennessee Football Facts Compliments Of Bank Of Loudon County

Last year the University of Tennessee's football team went to its fifth consecutive bowl game under the guidance of head coach Bill Battle. The Vols edged out a 7-3 win over ACC champion Maryland and presented their coach with his fourth post season classic triumph.

When Bill Battle took over the reigns at Tennessee in 1970, he was only 29 years old, but youth proved no barrier as the head coach guided the Volunteers to an 11-1 record, a Sugar Bowl rout of Air Force, and a national ranking of Fourth. His teams have gone 46-12-2 for a winning percentage of .783.

Before he came to Tennessee as an assistant coach, Bill Battle had learned the ins and outs of football as a player at Alabama. As a three-year starter, Coach Battle helped the Crimson Tide win a national championship. He played end, and as a senior was named to the All-Southeastern Conference Academic Team.

The Volunteers have posted seasons of 11-1, 10-2, 10-2, 8-4, and 7-2-2 since Coach Battle took over, and UT has won the Sugar Bowl 13-13 over Air Force in 1971, the Astro-Bowl/Bowl (24-17 over LSU in 1972), and the Liberty Bowl twice (16-13 over Arkansas in 1971 and 7-3 over Maryland in 1974). Coach Bill Battle is a natural successor to a long line of great Tennessee coaches.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Larry Cate, Editor
The Loudon County Herald
P.O. Box 276, Cedar Street
Loudon, Tenn. 37774

Dear Mr. Cate:

We appreciate very much your letter of September 12, explaining your policy of furnishing complimentary copies of the Herald to schools. Please accept our thanks for this service. We have had many requests for the Herald in our library and we are sure it will be greatly appreciated by both students and teachers alike.

We would like to receive the two complimentary copies you offered during the entire school year of '75-'76. Again, thank you.
Sincerely,
Bonnie J. Ledbetter
Librarian

Mr. Larry Cate,
Editor, Loudon County Herald
Loudon, Tennessee

Dear Larry:
May we at Nichols School take advantage of your generous offer of a complimentary subscription to the Loudon County Herald? We have wanted to subscribe for a long time but have felt we couldn't afford to do so because our funds are so limited.

By the way, the school librarians in the county (both Loudon County and Lenoir City) are meeting regularly to discuss common problems and needs. I am chairman of the group and we met on August 28th with a covered dish dinner at my house on Martel Rd. Mrs. Mary Ann Hedge, librarian at Eaton's School, presented the program which concerned a two week graduate workshop she took at UT this summer concerning children's books in translation. We also shared various free and inexpensive filmstrips and records we had found. Those meeting were Mrs. Joyce Niles, Loudon High; Mrs. Linda Arr, Loudon Jr. High; Mrs. Judy Millsaps, Loudon Elementary; Mrs. Mary Ann Hedge, Eaton's; Mrs. Mary Ellen Campbell, Lenoir City Middle School; Mrs. Sylvia Sproul, Nichols School; Miss Bonnie Ledbetter, Lenoir City High School; Mrs. Meryl Moroney, West Hill School; and Mrs. Rachel Roagan, Greenback School.

It would be too selfish to ask that all of the above schools with libraries receive complimentary copies of the Herald. Some may already receive it but since it is the county newspaper it is good to have copies in all the counties' school libraries. I am a little puzzled about the status of the Community Schools but was glad to see that we are going to have a coordinator with the Roane State people since they had already done quite a bit toward that area. Thank you very much.
Sincerely,
Sylvia M. Sproul

TVA Power Charges Lower For October

Charges for TVA electricity will be lower in October because of a decline in average fuel expense at power plants last month, the agency said today. The lower August fuel expense will mean a reduction of 90 cents per 1,000 kilowatt-hours on home electric bills in October. That amounts to about a percent on typical home bill, although actual bills and the percentage decrease will vary with the amount of electricity used.

Each month TVA accountants compute billing charges based on changes in the actual expense for fuel and repairs. The end of the air conditioning season should mean lower electric bills over the next couple of months for many homes, simply because they will be using less electricity," according to J.R. Burdshaw, TVA Director of Power Marketing. "More than 60 percent of the region's homes now use some form of air conditioning." Average monthly home use of electricity at this time of year is about 1,000 kilowatt-hours in the Tennessee Valley region. October bills at that power imports for the TVA system. The last decline in these charges had been in March. Since that time they rose steadily as they reflected a dramatic increase in the cost of coal, plus the cost of unusual power purchases from other systems to make up for several large generating units that were off for repairs.

TVA said the reduction in average fuel expense last month resulted partly because some of its power plants having the lowest coal costs were able to produce a bigger share of TVA's overall power supply in August than in July. There was also a modest decline in the average cost of coal received by TVA.

level of home use will range from about $22 to $27, depending on local rate schedules. In late August the TVA Board completed its quarterly review of overall power system cost and revenue and announced for the current year. The Board made no rate adjustment at that time, but pointed out that charges to consumers would continue to rise or fall each month as billing charges to reflect changes in fuel and purchased power expense are computed under the existing formula.

VICA Club Sets Car Wash

A Car Wash, sponsored by the VICA Club at Lenoir City High School, will be held Saturday, September 27 between 10:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. at the rear of the White Store in Lenoir City Shopping Center. Price is $1.50 per car. All proceeds will be used for club activities.

ago Blanton, while campaigning for the office he now holds, was strongly critical of Governor Winfield Dunn for using the Lear for out-of-state political trips to Maine and Texas. Blanton has not escaped criticism for the inconsistency between his comments as a candidate and his use now of the Lear as Governor.

When Blanton indicated shortly after assuming office he might not sell the jet, strong criticism was voiced by Republican legislators. And when he said he would take the aircraft to the Middle East this fall for use while there and possible sale, Representative Brad Martin (R-Memphis) demanded to know the round trip cost. It was determined to be $12,000. The governor's press office hastily announced that plans to take the plane to the Middle East had been scrapped.

The Lear was administered in 1972. As might have been anticipated, the aircraft became an item of immediate controversy and a symbol of luxury for the Republican governor. In fact, Dunn received more criticism for purchase of the Lear than for any other single act during his term. A Capitol Hill reporter for a prominent newspaper lost his job in part because of excessive reporting about the aircraft to the exclusion of other news.

It now appears Gov. Blanton may retain the airplane and perhaps he should. State business and involved heavily in industrial recruitment. Good aircraft capability is needed. A case can be made for the need for a jet airplane. In any event, the General Assembly next year should enact legislation prescribing who may use all state airplanes and for what purposes. At the present time there are no ground rules. One bill on this subject has already been prefiled.

Since it is in the interest of the state for the governor to make the best possible use of his time, the chief executive should be permitted to use state aircraft for any purpose. But when the governor uses the plane for a political trip, then the state should be reimbursed. This is the policy used by both Dunn and Blanton. Reimbursement is being made for Blanton's recent trip to Minnesota.

Others who should be permitted to use state planes are the Governor's wife and his immediate staff, commissioners, assistant commissioners, constitutional officers, the attorney general, and legislative leaders. Other officials should not be permitted to use state aircraft for political trips.

There are at least two other legitimate uses of state airplanes. One is for industrial recruitment regardless of whether a state official is on board. The other is in emergency situations such as to save a life by transporting a politician.

Provisions of this nature should be enacted into law. And the petty political bickering about state airplanes which has gone on for over two years should cease. When, as here, a good political issue comes along, politicians generally overreact. The media often overreacts to overreaction, and the result is written about the Lear jet.

Loudon Countians To Attend Swine Conference

By Charles F. McCall
Extension Leader

The first annual Tennessee Swine Producers-Industry Conference, the largest educational program ever developed for swine producers in the state, is scheduled for the Middle Tennessee Experiment Station near Columbia, Tennessee, October 15-18. Several Loudon County producers will attend.

The producer-industry conference is an outgrowth of the former swine agribusiness conference conducted by the Agricultural Extension Service. It is designed to bring swine producers in closer contact with all swine agribusiness agencies in the area and present a clearer understanding, swine service and supply companies, and other agencies are cooperating to assist the farmer.

Featured speakers for the conference will discuss topics ranging from economic considerations to swine diseases to breeding. These short sessions, held in the program tent on the station grounds, will begin at 10:00 A.M. and last until 3:00 P.M. each day.

Speakers for the two-day conference are: Dr. Estel Hudson, Extension agricultural economist, U.T.; Kenneth Eugene DeBusk and Dr. H. O. Wagner, Extension Agricultural Engineering, U.T.

Dr. J. P. Hitchcock, E. R. Lidvall, Jr., and Dr. Frank Masciopp, animal science, U.T.; Dr. Horace T. Barron, Department of Rural Practice, College of Veterinary Medicine, U.T.; Dr. Ralph Hall, Extension food technology and science, U.T.

About 100 display spaces have been reserved by agribusiness organizations, purebred breeders, and national and state livestock organizations. Several companies will also demonstrate their equipment outside the station grounds.

Tours of the UT Swine Testing Station will be conducted twice each day, and demonstrations in cutting, selecting, and cooking pork will be available for both men and women. Cooking pork on the outdoor grill will be featured.

The swine conference is sponsored by the University of Tennessee Institute of Agriculture in cooperation with all major swine-related business agencies and organizations serving the Tennessee swine producer. A detailed program schedule is available at your local Agriculture Extension Service Office.

Two Return From Trip To Indiana

Two people from Loudon County were among the 160 Tennesseans who made a special trip to Indiana, Sept. 8-11.

They went as guests of the Farmers' Cooperative for a tour of Farmers Forage Research (FFR) Cooperative in Lafayette, Indiana. Their purpose was to observe varietal development research as applied to forage, soybeans and hybrid corn. FFR is one of 14 members of the seed research cooperative in the United States and Canada.

Sixty-six farmer cooperatives in Tennessee were represented by farmers, Co-op employees, managers and board members plus TFC personnel.

Those who joined the tour from Loudon County included John D. (Bud) Barr, Philadelphia farmer and co-op director; and A. M. Wilson, Lenoir City farmer and co-op director.

Among TFC personnel present were W. E. Bailey, assistant to the general manager of TFC; Bobby Vannatta, president, TFC board of directors; Paul Bailey, Edward Felkner and George Diggs, directors.

Two busloads originated at La Vergne, one at Teno and one at Jackson, to accommodate the extra large tour group.

Food For Thought

If all the world were reduced to a town the size of Loudon, 3800 people, in this town would be 228 Americans. The remainder of the world would be represented by 3572 other people.

The 228 Americans would have half the income of the entire town. The 3572 others would share the remainder of the town's income.

At least 384 townspeople would be practicing Communists. That's more than our whole nation. 266 others would be under Communist domination.

Twelve hundred fifty-four people in the town would be classified as Christians. The other 234 would not.

White people would total 1151, non white would be 2649.

The 228 Americans would have a life expectancy of 70 years. The 3572 others could expect to live not more than 40 years.

The 228 Americans would have 15 times as many possessions as the average of all the rest of the people in the village.

228 Americans would produce 16 percent of the total town's food supply. Although they eat 62 percent above the maximum daily requirement, they would either eat most of what they grew, or store it for the future at enormous cost.

Since most of the 3572 non-Americans would be hungry most of the time, it could lead to some ill feelings toward the 228 Americans, who would appear to be enormously rich and fed to the point of sheer disbelief by a great majority of the other townfolk.

Of the 3572 non-Americans, 148 would have malaria, 323 would have schistosomiasis, 11 would have leprosy, 171 would die this year from malaria, cholera, typhus and other infectious diseases. Five hundred and ninth-three will die from starvation and malnutrition. None of the 228 Americans will ever get these diseases and will probably never worry about them.

The 228 Americans would each spend $87 a year on liquor and tobacco, but less than $20 for drugs needed for the finest medical care in the world and they would be loudly proclaiming that medicine costs too much. We're very interesting people.

THE BICENTENNIAL IS HERE AND NOW!

A series of periodic articles prepared by the Loudon County Chapter of the Daughters of American Colonists in the Black Community

During the 1850's the Freeman Foundation, a Quaker organization, of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania became interested in an educational program for the Black race in the South. Loudon and Philadelphia, Tennessee were selected to be included in this program since there were no provisions in either town for Black children to receive an education. The land was secured and one room buildings were constructed at each location. Each building was furnished with folding partitions so they could be used for religious, recreational, and educational purposes.

The site for the program in Loudon was in the 500 block of Cedar Street on the property now owned by Mr. Charles Jones. Mrs. Lou Tallafere, grandmother of Mrs. Reuben Sharp of Loudon and Mr. Mark Harrison of Maryville, was the first teacher in the Loudon Colored School. Mr. Charlie Whitlock was the first Black teacher and other Black teachers during those early years were Mrs. Charlie Whitlock, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Elderidge, Mrs. George Blair, Rev. Schuyler T. Elderidge and his wife Mattie Kennedy Elderidge. Rev. John Elderidge, and Misses Maude Stone, Laura Watkins, Louella Russell Brown, Dixie West, Alberta Harris and Georgia and Cleo Young. The enrollment during a normal school year ran from 125 to 150 students with ages ranging from five year olds to 20 year olds.

Closing of School Exercises, the highlight of the school year, were always held in the main court room of the Court House, with programs including musical numbers, recitations, dialogues and plays. Among the recitations, "The Boy Hood on the Burning Deck" is remembered by one old grad as one of the favorites.

Probably the most exciting day spent at Loudon Colored Free School was in the year 1911 during a severe thunderstorm when lightning struck the building while school was in progress. The lightning came down the sounding post and that one flash split the post, opened the door to the building, knocked the teacher from her chair to the floor and threw the student body into a state of fright, confusion—and flight. But as so often happens, Providence was kind and other than a few tears and a partial deafness on the part of several of the children all escaped serious injury.

Black children continued their schooling at this location until it became apparent that the building was no longer contain the growing Black population. Loudon County then over the Cedar Street property and made provisions, with the help of the Julius Rosenwald Fund, to provide new educational facilities for Black children. A building was erected on Seeks Street and the new school was called Dunbar.

From these roots Loudon as produced a third and fourth generation of Black teachers among whom are Theresa E. Blair who holds a master's degree and teaches in New York; Edna J. Hensley Arvine who retired recently after many years of teaching in Loudon; Charlene White, who has held teaching positions in Philadelphia, Madisonville, Virginia and Maryland; Annette White who teaches in Dayton, Ohio; Saundra White, Loudon Junior High and Pond Gap, Knoxville; Martha and Grace Smith, both with masters and teaching in Port Huron, Michigan—her sister, Arlene elected to go into nursing and is RN in New Jersey; Grace Baker who has taught in Loudon County, Michigan and Virginia; Wills Easterly also with a master's degree who teaches in Detroit; and Ann Blair who has taught in Pala Alto, California.

Among the young Black people of Loudon today who have just recently completed college work and have chosen other fields are Earl Hall Smith, a graduate of U.T.; Maurice Wilson, a graduate of Hiwassee College; and Bobby Smith, a graduate of A&S State University.

Vickey Faulkner, Alfreda and Eugene Henley, Narcissa and Connie Harrison and Gloria Brown are among others who are working toward their college degree.

No Acreage Requirement For Feed Grain

There will be no acreage set-aside requirement for the 1976 feed grain and wheat programs. Job Hutton, Chairman of the Loudon County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, says. This will be the third consecutive year for these programs in which no set-aside was required.

Feed grain and wheat producers are not being encouraged to take cropland out of production next year, Mr. Hutton said, "because even though this year's corn and wheat crops are expected to be at record levels, export demand is strong."

Mr. Hutton, chief secretary of Agriculture U.S. Butz reaffirmed his announcement of 1973 that there will be no conserving base requirement for the duration of the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act, and the Secretary will not use his discretionary authority to limit feed grain and wheat plantings to a percentage of allotments. The Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973 is effective through the 1977 crop year.

For 1976, as in the present year, producers may substitute any non-converting crop (except marketing quota crops), or any conserving crop (including approved volunteer covers) used for hay or for grazing in order to preserve their wheat and feed grain allotments.

This announcement of provisions will provide farmers with information they need to make their 1976 crop planning decisions. Additional provisions will be announced after USDA reviews more 1976 production data. Feed grain and wheat programs are designated to provide farmers decision-making freedom to produce for the market-place, Mr. Hutton said. Applicants equal consideration without regard to race, color, sex, creed or national origin.

THE BICENTENNIAL IS HERE AND NOW!

A series of periodic articles prepared by the Loudon County Chapter of the Daughters of American Colonists in the Black Community

During the 1850's the Freeman Foundation, a Quaker organization, of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania became interested in an educational program for the Black race in the South. Loudon and Philadelphia, Tennessee were selected to be included in this program since there were no provisions in either town for Black children to receive an education. The land was secured and one room buildings were constructed at each location. Each building was furnished with folding partitions so they could be used for religious, recreational, and educational purposes.

The site for the program in Loudon was in the 500 block of Cedar Street on the property now owned by Mr. Charles Jones. Mrs. Lou Tallafere, grandmother of Mrs. Reuben Sharp of Loudon and Mr. Mark Harrison of Maryville, was the first teacher in the Loudon Colored School. Mr. Charlie Whitlock was the first Black teacher and other Black teachers during those early years were Mrs. Charlie Whitlock, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Elderidge, Mrs. George Blair, Rev. Schuyler T. Elderidge and his wife Mattie Kennedy Elderidge. Rev. John Elderidge, and Misses Maude Stone, Laura Watkins, Louella Russell Brown, Dixie West, Alberta Harris and Georgia and Cleo Young. The enrollment during a normal school year ran from 125 to 150 students with ages ranging from five year olds to 20 year olds.

Closing of School Exercises, the highlight of the school year, were always held in the main court room of the Court House, with programs including musical numbers, recitations, dialogues and plays. Among the recitations, "The Boy Hood on the Burning Deck" is remembered by one old grad as one of the favorites.

Probably the most exciting day spent at Loudon Colored Free School was in the year 1911 during a severe thunderstorm when lightning struck the building while school was in progress. The lightning came down the sounding post and that one flash split the post, opened the

Health Care Cost Here Put At $3,626,000

For residents of Loudon County, the cost of getting sick has skyrocketed in the last few years. Their bills for medical and dental services, for hospital and nursing care, for prescription drugs and other health needs have climbed to an all-time high. And, even though most of their bills in the past year were absorbed by the Government or by private health insurance—$2 out of every $3 being taken care of in that way—the remaining one-third, which they had to pay themselves, amounted to more than ever. The facts and figures relating to health care throughout the United States are detailed in reports made by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and the Conference Board and others.

In Loudon County's regional area, based on their latest findings, the average out-of-pocket costs in the past fiscal year came to approximately $148 per capita, it is estimated. This is exclusive of their premium payments for insurance. By way of comparison, the average was $149 per capita in the United States as a whole. For specific individuals, the health bills ranged from well above average to well below. They varied from area to area and from family to family. Age makes a difference—a big difference—in a person's health care bill. During the past year, the over-65 population had out-of-pocket expenses averaging $415 per capita as against $117 for the rest of the population. The overall average, $148, is broken down by HEW to $34 for physicians; $25 for dentists; $20 for hospital care; $39 for drugs and sundries and $31 for other requirements, such as home nursing care, eyeglasses and the like. These averages lump together all people, including those who had big expenditures and those who had none at all. The total out-of-pocket cost to Loudon County residents for health services in the past year, based upon the estimated regional figures, comes to approximately $3,626,000. For the nation as a whole, health care amounted to over $104 billion in 1974, a 10.6 percent increase over 1973.

APPEAL FROM YOUTH TOWN—Ricky Haynes, a resident of Tennessee Sheriff's Youth Town (second from left) is shown with his three brothers at Youth Town where all four boys live and go to school. Ricky thanked Sheriff Guy Russell in a letter for the support received from him and Loudon Countians and said without him and his four brothers would have no place to live. Sheriff Russell said that Loudon Countians donate several thousand dollars to the home each year, but more donations are needed now to continue the operation of the home for boys. Anyone wishing to make a donation should contact the sheriff.

in our area years ago. Many of them were in demand every Sunday and many nights during the week. We have always wanted a picture of the Kirkland Brothers group. This group was very outstanding and very well received any place they sang. The Kirkland name was connected to singing and singing schools, which were held often in our section. They would meet in churches and someone would teach round and shaped notes. It made it possible for many of the area churches to have excellent choirs. It also provided a place for the young people to go and many of the boys would walk their girl friends home. Napo, no cars. Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

Inspector Has New Office

Loudon County Building Inspector Jack Henry this week announced that his office has been moved to the courthouse. The Inspector's office is sharing space with the election commission on the main floor of the courthouse. The office phone number is 458-4470. Commissioner Henry said that anyone wanting building permits to having questions concerning permits or county building codes could contact him at the office.

For and about Women

Said At Cookeville . . .

Birdwell-House Nuptials

Paty Birdwell and Gus W. House, of Cookeville, were married August 1 in the chapel of First United Methodist Church, Cookeville.

Simplicity marked the 5:30 p.m. ceremony which took place in the presence of the couple's families, when the vows were read by Rev. Roy J. West.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Paul McCas of Whitleyville, and Harry Lee Denson of Carthage. She is the step-daughter of Paul McCas of Whitleyville.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. House of Loudoun. His brother, Bill House, also resides in Loudoun. Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Louis Johnson, Jr., organist. "Hymns to Joy" was used as the wedding march.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Betty Birdwell of Cookeville. Bridesmaids were the bride's daughters, Karen Rena and Linda Faye Birdwell. Serving as best men were the bridegroom's sons, Mo and Richard House.

In the doubling ring ceremony, the rings were carried by Linda and Richard, and were presented to the minister by all four of the children.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the church. A three-tiered wedding cake was the central attraction. The bride and groom, the bridesmaids, and the refreshment table, where Gus and Paty toasted each other and cut the cake. Refreshments were served by Joy Platt and Doris Young.

After a short wedding trip, they are now residing in the Saxony Apartments in Cookeville.

Mrs. House is employed with the First National Bank of Cookeville.

Mr. House, a graduate of Loudoun High School and the University of Tennessee, is employed with Super-X as a pharmacist.

Relatives from Tennessee, North Carolina, California and Ohio attended the reunion which was held on September 7 at the Bright home.

Mrs. Frances Gales Humann of Newsum, Calif., formerly of Loudoun, is now home after being a patient for several weeks in a California hospital where she underwent surgery. She extends her appreciation for everyone's kindness during her illness.

Mrs. Hill McKee and daughters, Juanna, Betty and Shirley of Knoxville, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Hatcher.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Johnson of Loudoun and Mrs. Buford Albright of Madisonville, were in Marion, Ga. Tuesday with Mrs. Betty Calhoun, who had surgery Tuesday morning at Marion hospital. They stopped in Atlanta Monday night to visit Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stamey and daughters.

Pen Pals Meet After 30 Years

After 30 years of corresponding as pen pals, Mrs. John B. Chastain and Mrs. Robert Boyd of Rock River, Wis., met face to face for the first time.

The two started writing as pen pals over 30 years ago when Mrs. Chastain was residing in Burt, Michigan, and before either of the women were married.

When Mrs. Chastain first started writing pen pals she received many letters from a number of friends, but as the years went by only two remained.

Recently after visiting Michigan and friends in New York and Virginia Mr. and Mrs. Boyd came to Loudoun where the two women met for the first time.

The boys are cattle ranchers, have two married daughters, three grandchildren, enjoy hunting and trap, elk and mule deer on their ranch. They have lived in Chagwater, Laramie and Cheyenne.

After an overnight stay with the Chastains in Loudoun the couple drove on to Mississippi to visit their daughter and family.

Mrs. Freda Roberts is a patient at UT Hospital in Knoxville.

Children Honor Maw Clinton With 100th Birthday Dinner

Loudoun County has a new centenarian, a witty bright-eyed Mrs. Nancy E. (Allen) Clinton of Rt. 2 Loudoun. The young lady was 100 years young on Tuesday, Sept. 30, but the family, some 22 of them, honored her with a birthday dinner and family reunion Sunday at the home of Leona Goble, a daughter in Moore Road.

Auxiliary President To Visit

Mrs. Julie Wadlington of Memphis, State President of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Dept. of Tennessee, will make her official visit to the Second District Auxiliary, Friday, October 10, in Knoxville.

Smoky Mountain Post No. 1723, Knoxville, will host the President's visit, 7 p.m. in their New Post Home, 734 North 4th Avenue.

Second District President, Mrs. Wallace (Heleen) Mills of Loudoun, will preside over the business session during the State President's visit. The Second District consists of Auxiliaries in Harrison, Knoxville, Maryville, and Sunbright. President Mills is currently working with Loudoun V.F.W. Post Commander Britton Riddings, trying to organize an Auxiliary in Loudoun.

Mrs. Wadlington, head of the 6,500 membership organization, assumed her duties July 1. She is a member of National Avenue Baptist Church, Memphis. Mrs. Wadlington is the mother of 3, grandmother of 10. The family is V.F.W. oriented. 12 members belong to Auxiliary 1962, Memphis, with six of those serving as officers for the 1975-76 year. Her husband Leonard is a life member of Post 1962.

Mrs. Clinton, better known as "Maw", was born on September 30, 1875, in Sevier County. She was one of 15 children, having nine brothers and five sisters. When she was born, just 16 years after the end of the Civil War, Clydes S. Grant was president. Mrs. Clinton will tell you that her grandmother was a tailor and made military uniforms for George Washington.

In 1904 she married Bates Clinton. They had five children, four of whom are living and attended their mother's 100th birthday celebration. Mr. Clinton, a farmer, died in 1950.

Austelle Clinton of Philadelphia, daughters Ruth McKelvey, Leona Goble and Ruby Hughes, all of Loudoun, moved to Loudoun County from Sevier County. A trip that took two days by a two horse wagon. They came by highway, but at that time it was so narrow than a dirt road.

Besides her four children she has nine grandchildren, 14 great grandchildren, and one great-great grandchild. Until she was over 90 she cooked, sewed and took regular exercise. Failing eyesight brought a slower pace. Mrs. Clinton is a charter member of Valley View Free Will Baptist Church and was active there until just a few years ago.

Mrs. Clinton told one of her grandsons Sunday that she doesn't feel much different today than she did when she was 21 years old. She seemed quite unfrayed by the fact she was 100 years old, but the members of her family were more excited than she. When a covered dish luncheon was served she was the first to be served. Later she was showered with gifts and was the target of many photos.

Forty-one states and five foreign countries are represented at the college, located between Nashville and Chattanooga atop the Cumberland Plateau. The Episcopal-owned university also incorporates a preparatory school, Sewanee Academy, and the graduate-level School of Theology. The college concentrates on liberal arts, with majors in 22 subjects in the humanities and sciences. During orientation students were divided into small groups, enabling them to meet their fellow students a few at a time. Every new student was invited to the home of a member of the faculty or administration for dinner one night, many of them turning to help set the table or toast the salad, or bringing swim suits for a dip in one of the lakes that dot the campus and its residential sections. With no metropolitan area nearby, Sewanee (as the university is known for short) has managed to fill the free time of its students with eleven fraternities, 15 intercollegiate sports, and 48 other extracurricular organizations, from drama to community service and mountaineering; from firefighting to prayer groups.

Loudon Unveils Passing Attack (Deathridge 6 of 9)

Redskins Thrill Homecoming Crowd With 21-14 Comeback Win Over Crossville

The Loudon Redskins spotted upset victory over Crossville, a stout triple-A team in all respects, a 14-0 first half lead. Then behind the passing touch of Junior quarterback Greg Deathridge Loudon rallied to a 14-14 intermission deadlock.

The second half developed into a defensive tussle with Loudon threatening twice with penetrations to the Jets nine yard line. With 5:38 left in the game Loudon constructed a 14 play drive that ended with Greg Deathridge plunging into the end zone from the two yard line with only 27 seconds showing on the game clock.

The game in itself was a rave with the packed house of Redskins Homecoming participants and a fine Cumberland County following. For the coaches and players it was a night mare.

The Jets came into the game hungry, seeking an upset. The Redskins appeared nervous in emotion and the first half defense was barely laying the Crossville ball carriers on the ground instead of knocking them to the ground.

Senior linebacker Marlon Brown made the only hard hit in the Loudon tacklers in the first 14 minutes of play. Senior Dickie Colvin was the game's overall defensive stalwart for the Redskins as he played into the hall all night.

Crossville took the opening kickoff and returned it 12 yards to the Jet's 29. Fifteen plays later the Crossville offensive unit had chewed up 8:04 off the clock and posted a 7-0 lead.

Greg Deathridge returned the ensuing touch back 25 yards from his own seven and Loudon had fair field position from its 32. Marlon Brown rammed his way for seven yards, but Deathridge was blind-sided as he forced a hand off and a fumble resulted on the second snap. Crossville recovered at the 39.

Crossville, sticking with an unexpected but successful land game, used an 11 play march and a highly questionable defensive pass interference flag to suddenly take a 14-21 advantage with 9:43 left in the first half.

The Redskins had to attack fast if they were to even stay in the game.

From the 32 Brown dove for three yards and a face mask penalty gave Loudon 15 more Stationed at the mid-field stripe Deathridge stepped back into the pocket and attempted a long bomb to sophomore receiver Conway Dukes, who lacks blind-speed, nevertheless has the sticky fingers of a promising receiver and the perfectly thrown aerial was all that it took. The reception and dash to the end zone closed the gap to 14-6 with 8:56 left in the half.

Loudon's defense finally became involved and the two teams swapped punting situations.

Crossville then started out with a 15 yard first down run from its 19 but a fumble recovery by Marlon Brown had the Loudon offense back in business at the Jet's 30.

The Redskins did not waste a second in trying its success with the long pass. This time as Crossville came with an eight man rush Deathridge unloaded to a speeding Kenny Starritt. The junior flanker made the catch in the end zone with 1:49 left in the first half.

Deathridge rolled right and slid into the end zone for a booming 14-14 tie.

Loudon was not through as corner back Carter Cardwell intercepted a Crossville pass and returned it 19 yards to the Loudon 41. Brown ran for 11 yards. Rick Melton scooted for 15 and Brown hit the middle of the line for three more yards.

Deathridge then gained a 29 yard strike to Kenny Starritt who was finally dragged down at the one yard line.

Only two seconds was left on the clock and Loudon was without a timeout. Deathridge finding the situation unique, let the clock expire before he could call a play and the half came to an explosive close at 1:14.

The Redskins, lucky to be in the game at the half, was a new team by the third quarter. Loudon had two drives checked inside the Crossville 10 yard line and a bobble of an attempted field goal also denied Loudon the possible lead.

But with 5:48 left in the final stanza Loudon embarked on its final drive of the night. From the 41, Marlon Brown got three. Deathridge added five. An illegal procedure penalty halted things for only a moment as Crossville gave Loudon a first down as fourth down punt by being offside.

But still it took a roughing the punter 15 yard mark off from the Crossville 46 to the 31 to keep Loudon alive.

A amazing pass to senior Mike Lambert gave Loudon a first down at the 16. Deathridge and Brown combined for six yards. An eight yard dump pass to Melton moved the ball to the 10 yard line and Deathridge slammed in from there with 0:27 remaining. Brown's confidence effort was perfect for a 21-14 count.

The Redskins winning for the first time with a near polished passing attack met its toughest challenger since Hartsville tested Loudon in the "AA" state finals last December.

The Loudon backs had to share the 906 yards of total Redskin offense with a trio of pass receivers. Marlon Brown had only 47 yards in 13 carries. Rick Melton, who had flirted with 200 yard performances this year, was limited to 66 yards on nine carries and had a eight yard pass reception.

Greg Deathridge playing his best game overall, had 34 yards on nine rushes.

Dukes (50 yards), Lambert (50 yards), and Kenny Starritt (50 yards) has to be worth a new head dress for Loudon's chief war council and relieves a lot of speculation that the Redskins are incapable of moving the ball in the airways.

Defensively Loudon was sparked by linebackers Dickie Colvin, Marlon Brown, Jim Brown and Jeff Nicholas. Colvin had a fumble recovery, and Steve Harrison spiked a Crossville punt to give Loudon a scoring opportunity at the Jet 31.

CAUGHT FOR FACE MASKING—Marlon Brown got only three yards rushing for his effort on this carry but the face mask tackle cost the Jets an extra 15 yards.

HOMECOMING FINAL—Loudon squeezed by with a last minute touchdown Friday night as they battled an overflow homecoming crowd with an exciting come-from-behind 21-14 win over triple-A power Crossville.

Gets 9 of 10 In Grid Contest

James O. Wilson, Highland Avenue, Loudon won first place in The Herald's football contest this past week with nine of 10 games correct and a tie-breaker of 34 points. Loudon defeated Crossville 21-14 for a 35 point tie-breaker.

The only other contestant to get nine games correct was Calvin Hill of Abertown with a tie-breaker. Wilson wins $12 and Hill $8.

The big upset in the contest this week, at least as far as the contestant entries were concerned was Harriman over Rugg and Doyle over Farragut. Quite a few didn't expect Lenoir City to beat Webb or Maryville to down Alcoa.

Third place with eight games correct and a perfect tie-breaker of 35 points was claimed by Bruce Lawson. He wins $5.

Others with eight correct picks, but with less luck on the points were Paul Stevens, Martha Justice, Kenneth Willis, Anne Scott Hill, Dennis Turbyfill, Nadine Moser, Garlin Moser, Jr., and Bernard Miller.

The contest is in its 5th week and another $25 in cash prizes awaits the entrants.

Panthers Capture First Grid Triumph With Double Overtime Decision Over Spartans

The Lenoir City Panthers have hit the win column. The tough luck Panthers found the task to be one of tooth and nail.

Lenoir City and Knoxville Webb had only horse collars through regulation time last Friday night as defensive save after save by both teams highlighted regulation play. Both teams managed to score in the first overtime period.

Steve Arnold cashing in a fourth down and one situation. Keith Amos booted the Panthers extra point. Knoxville Webb lost 10 yards in two plays but hit on back to back 10 yard passes to stay even with Lenoir City in the scoring column.

The Panthers contained Webb in their second offensive effort and an attempted field goal was wide of the mark. Lenoir City then took the running of Steve Porter, Benny Goley, and quarterback Steve Arnold over the one yard line again and Arnold slashed over on fourth down as the Panthers took their first win of the 1975 campaign 17-7.

The Panther defense played in the style of its fall exhibition efforts. Webb moved the ball into Lenoir City territory repeatedly but the play of Herbert Sarten, Bob Keener, Terry Housley, Kenny McNabb, Bill Burr, Steve Porter, and Don Mabry were never better.

The Spartans first offensive thrust came in the first period when they constructed a 50 yard drive that was finally overhauled at the Panther nine yard line. The Webb offense closed to within 25 yards of the Panther goal line in the second quarter only to be thrown back. Steve Arnold intercepted a pass in the third quarter to kill one third quarter scoring march and Steve Porter and Bill Burr joined forces in giving the Panthers their football as Webb attempted to kick the Panthers with a fake field goal attempt in the third stanza.

The fourth quarter had

Knoxville Webb knocking on Lenoir City's door almost the entire 12 minutes. The Panthers fumbled soon after the start of the fourth act and the Spartans moved the ball at will until a fourth down at the Lenoir City one yard line was checked by the stout tackling of Jeff Stamps and Terry Housley.

The defensive save and a swag of fumble recoveries. Herbert Sarten claiming the ball for Lenoir City stood out in tremendous clutch efforts. Nevertheless Webb had to be stopped once more and this time the Spartans were within two yards of scoring when Benny Goley and McNabb proved to be the rescuing duet for Panther fans.

Lenoir City never got its offense in gear as they reached the further down the field than the 40 of Webb. Lenoir City played with out injured Danny Hall and lost Walt Thaxton services in the game.

Steve Porter came on to do a commendable job with 65 yards on 17 snaps. Benny Goley had 55 yards and Steve Arnold added 40 yards, his last two efforts bring the Panthers the victory. A happy Coach Henry Blackburn said the new ball team had to have some good things happen to it. "They just work too hard not to get something out of their efforts. Our defense really played football. Our offense was not the best, but we had to play conservative most of the night since our field position ranged inside our 20 what seemed like a year."

The overtime experience was the first for Coach Blackburn or the Panthers for that matter since the tie-breaker system was set up some three seasons ago. KNOX WEBB 0000-70-7 LENOIR CITY 0000-74-13

INTERCEPTION—Carter Cardwell (10) follows up front interference of Steve Hill and Dickie Colvin as he takes back a pass interception to halt a Crossville march.

DEFENSIVE PRESSURE—Lenoir defensive end Jim Brown, sophomore, goes after the quarterback in Friday night action.

PRYS AWAY—Greenback's Bobby Smith appears to be prizing the hands of this would-be tackler away from his ankles as he returned to top running form in the Cherokee's loss to Porter.

Loudon, Central Winner To Have Shot At Making Region II Playoffs

Out of the frying pan and into the fire, Loudon's Herk Rattledge and the Redskins will again be faced with a tough "chore" in handling visiting McMinn Central this Friday night.

"The Chargers have not lost since opening night when they backed to cross county rival McMinn County who rates strong in this year's triple-A circles.

Loudon dealt McMinn Central its lone two setbacks in the 1974 season. Loudon won the first game 21-7 and then went on a rampage with a 42-14 playoff series triumph.

"They want our hides and in the worst way," says Bert Rattledge. "I can not blame them. But our nine game schedule makes us a better than equal in possible points so a loss to either or both would just about wipe out our hopes. Thus Central is the likely choice since they have beaten Harriman."

So come Friday night when the dust has settled a possible playoff berth hanging in the balance, the Region II standings should be shaping up. The Chargers are again equal in size to Loudon as last season. The backfield is not any better than a year ago. The passing threat is still in their bag of plays.

Loudon will counter with a "balanced offense" that preferably daze the airways with clutch passing. The Redskins defense will have to land some licks as a team rather than leaving the job up to just a couple or three for this important challenge.

Game time is 8 o'clock and tickets are available in advance. All tickets at the gate will be a set $2.

Lenoir City (1-1) will travel to Cleveland for a head banger. The Panthers played the Raiders off their feet a year ago and showed well on Cleveland soil two seasons past. The Cleveland team has a 2-2 record, but both losses were to Region II front runners and this makes them solid favorites.

The Panthers would need to get healthy to catch the Cleveland team napping. Certainly the Panther defense is doing a job, but lack of offense could keep the Panthers from making things rough.

Greenback will also go on the road trying to end a two game losing skid. Vandy will host the Cherokee and to make the meeting more challenging the Monroe Countians wing plays in some seven years and this could be an experience in itself for the Cherokee. If the Blue Devils can confuse Greenback long enough they might pull an upset, but the Cherokee are all back in playing shape, except for Rick Russell and a solid effort can win big for the Greenback cause. Game time is set at 8 p.m.

Loudon Horse Wins Arabian Crown

Samtyr and Las Nutron may not be household words but in the world of Arabian Horse Racing they are as well known as Foolish Pleasure is an thoroughbred racing. Perhaps if Arabian racing in the United States had the history of thoroughbred racing these two names would have been splashed in headlines in newspapers across the United States.

Samtyr on Sept. 18 in Albuquerque, New Mexico, won the National Championship of Arabian racing, getting his sixth straight win of the season. His stablemate, Las Nutron, who has a two win and two place record in four races in the season, came in second.

Both horses are the property of Dr. Sam Harrison of Loudon and a group of other men, mostly of Loudon County.

Dr. Harrison and his wife Bettye, owners of Sa Arabet Arabian Farms at Loudon, have been breeding and raising Arabian horses for about 10 years. They entered Arabian racing about four years ago with a horse named Dimrak. Dimrak won three of five races his first year on the track and this past year in Michigan won two races and placed one time at Midland and Adrian Michigan in the three races he was entered. Samtyr is a four year old bred by Sambar and was purchased from New York breeder for $4000. The syndicate which owns the horse includes Dr. and Mrs. Harrison, Tom Foster, who is general manager of Sa Arabet Arabian Farms, and a group of other men. The horse is now valued at well over $10,000. The owners plan to race the horse for at least two more years than he will stand at stud. In the National Championship race, Samtyr, the smallest horse in the field of the 10 top Arabians in the nation, carried the most weight, 127 lbs., and won the race by about four lengths from Las Nutron. The horse ran the one and one-half mile track in 2:52 minutes. Arabian races range from one half mile to one and one half miles in length, with some being as long as two miles. Samtyr was a one to two favorite to win the race. Some $16,900 was wagered on the race and over one half that amount was on the Harrison entries.

Dr. and Mrs. Harrison and several of the owners of Samtyr and Las Nutron were in Albuquerque for the race. The runnerup on the National Championship, Las Nutron is owned by Dr. and Mrs. Harrison, Mr. Foster, Judge William Russell and George Whitsitt of Memphis. Both, Samtyr and Las Nutron will spend the winter at a western track preparing for the 1976 season.

Dr. Harrison and Col. Foster are training a new horse to enter the race circuit. SMS Dynamite is about two and one half years old and was bred in Cicero, Ind., at Swinging M Stables. The owners may offer shares in the horse after the first of the year.

Arabian Sale

This Weekend

The 9th Semi-Annual Arabian Horse Consignment Sale at Sa-Arabet Farms in Loudon will be held Saturday. The sale will feature 47 Arabian horses offered at auction at the sale barn.

Dr. Sam Harrison, farm owner, and sale manager Col. Tom Foster said the sale will feature some of the top bloodlines in Arabian horses. The sale will start at 1 p.m., but the horses will be shown at public display from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

Friday night the Harrisons will host a country supper for the buyers and horse owners at the farm on highway 72 West of Loudon.

All day on Saturday food and refreshments will be sold at the farm. The 47 horses come from Tennessee, North Carolina, Indiana, South Carolina, Wisconsin, Florida, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and New Jersey. The public is invited to attend the sale and bid on the horses.

ONLY THE NEWSPAPER presents a full ration of news and views to satisfy today's hungry minds.

NEW ROAD CRUMBLING—A section of the just completed Sugar Limb Connector is crumbling. Soon after the road was blacktopped around the first week of September a section of the road near the Interstate on a large fill began to crown with the fill crumbling. Rains since have caused major cracks and sags in the road at the fill. A heavy storm last week further weakened the road forcing officials to close the new road. State officials said this week that core drillings had been taken Monday and as soon as geological reports were completed they would know whether the damage was minor or would take a major repair project to correct the damage. Cracks on both sides of the road in the same area are visible in the photos above.

NEWSPAPERS...THE SPIRIT OF FREEDOM!

Since the early days of newspapers in Colonial America, the people of this country have fought to protect their right to a free press. The first news publication in the American colonies was called "Public Occurrences" which was published in 1689, beginning a tradition of informing people of the activities of all levels of government through the foremost print medium, the newspaper. Even the Stamp Act of 1765 which Parliament passed to impose a tax on all paper and documents could not keep the people from wanting to know all of the news. As we approach the 200th Anniversary of the United States, we would like to salute the brave men and women who fought for this nation's independence and the right to a free press. We also salute the reporters, editors, advertisers and readers who have supported us in our efforts to present the latest local, national and international news as objectively and accurately as possible. In the spirit of a free press, we have written editorials expressing our opinions and published letters offering opposing opinions. And we will continue to present our readers with the latest news, features and the best advertising available in the free tradition of freedom of the press which has made America great!

The 1976 Ford Cars And Trucks Are Now At Curtis-Tipton

Ford LTD Landau 2-Dr. Pillared Hardtop

The way to measure value in standard-size cars. LTD's quiet, solid comfort for six tells you how well it's engineered and built. In standard equipment, interior conveniences and appointments LTD compares favorably with longer, heavier, more expensive cars it's designed to replace.

And your choice is wide: 2 LTD's, 2 Broughams, 2 Landaus and 2 Wagons, including the Country Squire, one of America's most popular luxury wagons.

The top-of-the-line Landau gives you just about everything you'd expect in a much more expensive car—except hard-to-park length. For a fine car with a distinctive flair all its own, select the Brougham. And for full-size pleasure at minimum price, move into the LTD—with all of Ford's quiet quality, service-saving features. Look close at the new 1976 Ford LTD, LTD Brougham and Landau—and you'll see that Ford means value.

Mustang II Ghia

America's best-selling small luxury car.

You'll feel younger as soon as you see Mustang II's exciting choice of models and options. There are three glamorous Luxury Groups for your selection: Silver, Tan Glow or Silver Blue Glow.

Mustang II offers two body styles in four models: the fastback-styled 3-door 2+2 and Mach I with fold-down rear seat, or the formal roofline Hardtop and Ghia. The standard power is a thrifty 2.3 liter engine with 4-speed floor shift. You can get the optional 302 CID V-8 (with SelectShift Cruise-O-Matic) or 2.8 liter V-6 (with manual 4-speed).

F-100 Ranger XLT

Ford Pickups — Tough and Thrifty

The closer you look, the better we look... and the '76 Ford gives you more than ever to take a closer look at! In addition to the regular pickup, you should look into SuperCab pickups and new F-150 Heavy-Duty 4x4's that run on regular gas.

Choice of cab. Regular Cab... the roomy 3-passenger pickup with full-width front seat and in-cab storage space behind the seat. Super Cab... the double-duty 2 door pickup that can seat a family of six. SuperCab provides 44 cu. ft. of in-cab cargo area behind the front seat, optional rear bench seat or jump seats. Crew Cab... the 4-door pickup that seats 6 big adults.

Choice of engines. The thrifty 300-cu. in. Six is now standard in most series, and you have a wide choice of V-8's ranging from the 302—the smallest V-8 any pickup offers—up to 460 Cubic inches. Engines feature "Breakerless" Solid State Ignition system—standard.

Choice of options. Ford offers wide range of options.

Maverick 2-Dr. Sedan (Stallion Option)

Backed by millions of owner-driven miles. No compact car has more going for it than Maverick. It's a simple, reliable family-size compact with a reputation for dependability, easy service and low scheduled maintenance expense. When you compare compact, you'll see that Ford means value.

Pinto 3-Dr. Runabout (Squire Option)

Easy price, easy upkeep, easy at the wheel. That's the combination that has made Pinto a best seller year after year. And for 1976 Pinto takes on a brighter, fresher look—with new grille and front end ornamentation and a choice of all-vinyl or cloth and vinyl seats, and, of course, Pinto's traditional economy in initial price, fuel and scheduled maintenance. It all adds up to new evidence that Ford means value.

Granada Ghia 2-Dr. Sedan

America's Success Car

Elegantly designed for today's driving. Granada became last year's best-selling newswagon because it introduced a special kind of car for our changing ways of driving.

Granada gives you standard-size interior comfort, and plenty of space for people and luggage. But it's about 2 feet shorter and half a ton lighter than most standard-size cars for ease of parking, handling—and surprising fuel economy. Its looks and lines remind you of the Mercedes 280 and the Cadillac Seville, but it carries a low Ford price. Granada seats five in comfort and surrounds you with fine-car luxury and appointments.

Yet Granada, with its 200 CID engine,* is at heart an economy car. Solid state ignition, gas-saving steel-belted radial tires, 5000-mile oil changes, 30,000 miles between chassis lube—all add up to money-saving proof that Ford means value.

Choose the Granada 2- or 4-Door Sedan—or give yourself an extra treat with the Ghia 2- and 4-Door versions. A close look at Granada is a look at a new trend in cars.

Elite 2-Dr. Hardtop

Fine Car Styling

Styled to keep you apart from the crowd, priced so you can enjoy it now.

Ford has brought a fine road car into the mid-size field. Along with its superb roadability, the Elite gives you a full measure of luxury at a reasonable price. You see elegant Elite touches everywhere—full or half vinyl roof standard at no extra charge, twin opera windows, distinctive exterior brightwork, generous soundproofing and interior appointments that distinguish Elite as a personal car. Besides all its standard features, the Elite is available with a wide variety of options, including a power Moonroof. While the Elite keeps costs down with its many maintenance-reducing features—it lifts your spirits up every time you take to the road, Elite—spirited proof that Ford means value.

Gran Torino Brougham 2-Dr. Hardtop

Full Size Value

Torino is the great mid-size buy. Torino is a roomy, well-equipped mid-size. Smooth, responsive V-8. Automatic transmission. Power steering. Power front disc brakes. Steel-belted radial ply tires. Six passenger comfort. Plus the looks, finish and appointments of more expensive cars.

Torino is noted for its smooth, solid ride and famous Ford quiet. Satisfy your budget and your good taste with a choice of six 2- and 4-door models: 2 Torinos, 2 Gran Torinos and 2 Gran Torino Broughams, including the elegant 2-Door Hardtop with vinyl roof and opera windows. Even three wagons. Ford means value in the mid-size field and Torino is the proof.

CAPITOL COMMENTARY BY M. LEE SMITH

(c) 1975, M. Lee Smith & Associates

At the Main Prison in Nashville and in Hamilton County a total of 17 inmates will await an execution that may never come.

The 17 death sentences have been handed down since the General Assembly enacted Tennessee's present death law in early 1974. All convictions have been stated pending appeal of each case.

Those favoring the death penalty contend it is essential as a deterrent to crime. Although studies have never proved the death penalty deters crime, neither have they conclusively determined it is not a deterrent.

Opponents of the death sentence claim it is wrong to take a human life for any reason. They also assert that the death penalty has been applied primarily against blacks and rarely against those able to afford competent legal counsel.

The U.S. Supreme Court in 1972 concurred with this latter argument in a case involving Georgia's capital punishment law. With all nine justices writing an opinion, the law was held unconstitutional because the court apparently found it was applied arbitrarily.

That ruling saved 21 Tennessee death row inmates from execution. The Tennessee law then in effect was similar to the Georgia statute and Attorney General David Park advised Governor Winfield Dunn to commute the 21 death sentences to 99 years.

Dunn followed the advice of the Attorney General.

The new 1974 Tennessee law was an attempt to enact a capital punishment statute that would be held valid under the 1972 Supreme Court ruling. Pending court appeals will test the constitutional validity of the act.

In addition, a North Carolina death penalty case is now before the U.S. Supreme Court. Oral arguments will be heard later this year, and the high court will have the opportunity to clarify its confusing 1972 ruling.

If the constitutionality of the death penalty and the Tennessee statute in particular are ultimately upheld, then the fate of the 17 death row inmates—plus others who may be subsequently sentenced—will rest with Governor Ray Blanton. Under the state constitution the Governor has authority to commute a death sentence.

Blanton's most recent predecessors all used their authority on death sentences in varying degrees.

Governor Frank Clement strongly opposed the death penalty on religious grounds, and commuted all death sentences during his terms in office.

His successor, Governor Buford Ellington, favored capital punishment and permitted Tennessee's last execution in 1959. But after the trauma of one execution Ellington stayed other death sentences until Clement returned to office.

Governor Winfield Dunn was a strong advocate of the death penalty but no executions occurred during his term because of the Supreme Court decision and pending appeals.

Blanton is apparently opposed to capital punishment although his public statements have not been entirely consistent.

As a legislator in the mid-1960's Blanton voted to repeal capital punishment. But in his campaign for Governor last year he said, "Now that I've seen the effects of no capital punishment, I would at least consider a limited capital punishment law."

Blanton's most recent statement on the subject was last week in Chattanooga when he said he would "never pull the switch" to enforce the death penalty.

If the Governor maintains that view and the Tennessee law is upheld, then he most likely will commute to 99 years the sentences of the 17 inmates now on death row.

Coop Meeting Saturday

At the business meeting three directors will be elected to the Cooperative Board. This will be followed by more door prize drawings, a safety demonstration of live high voltage work by the operating personnel of the Cooperative.

There will also be a closed circuit television presentation on insulation - it doesn't Cost It Pays.

Radio Stolen

A stereo radio and tape player were stolen from the residence of Hoyt Cole, Rines Valley Road, Rt. 2, Lenoir City over the weekend.

County Deputy Lucian Kent said the break-in was discovered by Mr. Cole about 1 a.m. Sunday. Entrance to the home was made by prying open the front door. A glass in the door was also broken.

RECEIVES MEDAL—Captain John D. Carpenter (right), son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie W. Carpenter, Greenback, is presented the Army Commendation Medal at Ft. Eustis, Va. The medal was awarded for meritorious service. Such service can be done over an extended period of time or for outstanding achievement in a single situation. In either case, the recipient must have demonstrated skills and dedication far above the average. Capt. Carpenter received the award assigned as a curriculum evaluation officer with the U.S. Army Transportation School. Presenting the citation and congratulating him is Col. James A. Morsey.

The Fort Loudoun Chapter of the Daughters of American Colonists

Education in the Black Community

The Rev. Willard Donato Edgington, a native of Loudoun, born in 1879, the son of Joseph and Sarah Ann Lenoir Edgington, was among Loudoun's most highly educated and one of its foremost Black religious and educational leaders. He attended school in Loudoun and graduated with honors from Maryville College where he was awarded a scholarship to Butler University in Indianapolis. From B. U. he continued his education at the University of Chicago until the spring of 1899 and a few years later his education was completed at the University of Edinburgh in Scotland. As a young man he became friends with Professor D. B. Simpson, the principal at Loudoun College and a graduate of Edinburgh, who encouraged him to further his education and also gave him some financial assistance. Mr. Fred Greer of Loudoun was another one of his benefactors as was a Mr. Stern in New York who sent him money from time to time while he was in Scotland. However, his financial help did not make ends meet and he worked at various jobs in order to secure an education. While attending the University of Chicago he worked as a butler in the McCormick home, the nationally known farm machinery family.

Mr. Edgington entered the ministry in the fall of 1899 and his first teaching position was in Macon, Georgia. From 1902 until 1912 he taught in Philadelphia and it was during this period, in 1911, that he took a nine months leave of absence to go to Scotland to complete his work toward a master's degree. Upon his return the years 1912-1917 were spent teaching in Loudoun. He left the teaching profession in 1917 and was employed by the Post Office Department in Washington, D.C. until 1923 when he again returned to Loudoun. In 1925 he entered the ministry and three years later he married Swanney Mae

He and his wife visited the mission fields every year and the work carried them into the states of Texas, Alabama, Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, and Indiana as well as the length and breadth of Tennessee.

During his time Mr. Edgington was also the editor of The Cumberland Flag, a monthly religious publication, the only month piece of The Black C. P. Church. The Flag was edited at 206 Ferry Street, printed in the Lenoir City News office, and mailed from the Loudoun post office to subscribers throughout the country. As our thoughts turn backward it is felt that Professor Edgington, as he was sometimes called, is more than worthy of our remembrance.

You Bet Your Life

by Joyce Stimpson, R.N.

Do you know someone with too much "sugar in the blood"? This condition is called hyperglycemia (hyper-tu-much, gly-cemia-sugar). It is most often associated with diabetes mellitus.

Diabetes occurs when your body cannot properly use the sugar you eat. This is usually because of a problem with your pancreas. The pancreas is a small organ under your left rib cage which makes insulin (among other things).

The unused sugar accumulates in your blood, and is then filtered out through your kidneys. Therefore, a blood test or a urine test for sugar could determine if you have hyperglycemia.

Diabetes runs in families. As it develops, you may notice several symptoms. Because you can't utilize sugar, you may feel tired and have a lack of energy. The increased amount of sugar in your blood makes you thirsty, and drinking extra fluid causes you to urinate more frequently.

Some people complain of itching because of excess sugar deposits in the skin. Women frequently have vaginal infections with itching, because infections occur readily where there is high sugar content. Sores on your lower legs may not heal well because of high sugar, plus poor circulation.

Diabetes can usually be well controlled with proper exercise, a specific diet, and/or medication. If it is not controlled, many complications can occur, such as blindness, heart disease, strokes, kidney disease and gangrene.

If you have diabetes, maybe you should find out more about it. If relatives have it, ask them about it, so you can control it before it controls you.

School Board To Meet At Greenback, Thursday Night

The Loudoun County School Board will meet in regular session Thursday at 7 p.m. at the Greenback School. Superintendent Edward Headlee indicated in the meeting agenda that detailed discussion of the various proposed school building programs will not take place at this meeting.

The agenda under the building program heading calls for setting a date for a Board Work Session to examine the program proposals.

The Superintendent met with state education officials last week and had a state program outlined for him, which as expected called for two middle schools in the county and other school improvements totaling $5,000,000. Headlee withheld the details, saying he thought the board should have copies of the state findings on the state program, the U-T Survey program and the board members might have before they are made public.

The Greenback meeting is another in a series that will take place in the physical school plants to give board members an opportunity to visit the buildings and see the facilities for themselves.

The Greenback parents have several requests which will be made of the board at the meeting. They are: 1 - Request for baseball coach's supplement for 1976-77; 2 - New seating for football field, both home and visitors side; 3 - Chain link fencing for football field; 4 - Watering facilities to properly care for the football field turf.

Court Approves Industrial Zoning Inspector's Budget Restored

The Loudoun County Court Monday night voted to rezone the W.D. Williamson Farm on Blair Bend at Loudoun from residential to industrial, clearing the way for the City of Loudoun to apply for grants to obtain the 265 acre farm for an industrial park. The court also restored funds to the office of County Building Commissioner making it a full-time office. When setting a budget earlier this year a move was successful in cutting that budget making the county a part-time office.

Both the industrial park proposal and the building inspectors office had been in trouble in court, but backers of both managed to get enough court support to approve the measures.

The vote on the industrial park proposal rezoning was 5-3 in favor. The motion to rezone was made by L.D. Conner with Curtis Williams seconding. They were joined by Squire Roy Duckworth, Boyd Duckworth and R.P. Hamilton in voting for the issue. Against were Squires J.J. Blair, J.G. Hudson and Jim Hartsook.

Discussion on the rezoning was opened by State Planner Steve Campbell who said both the city of Loudoun and Loudoun County Planning Commissions favored the rezoning. He stated that when the Williamson farm was rezoned residential about a year ago, it was done because there was not sufficient interest to develop an industrial park there and that residential developer John Weston and Roger Davis presented elaborate plans for a major residential complex in the bend. Since that time, Campbell said the developers lost an option on the Williamson farm, but had opened a small subdivision on land purchased from Cecil Webb next to the Williamson farm. After the option expired the city of Loudoun approached the Williamson concerning obtaining the property for industrial purposes. This course was approved, then got commitments for grants and loans to develop the acreage into a $2,000,000 industrial complex if the zoning matter could be resolved.

Campbell said that he felt that the development of the industrial park would not conflict with the residential proposals of Weston and Davis on the Webb property as they are clearing.

Mr. Davis said that his firm has dealt in good faith with the Williamson and the complexity of the option requiring a swap of the Loudoun farm for a farm in Oregon in which problems arose which could not be worked out in the time limit of the option. He said that he felt that if the industrial threat were removed that if given the proper amount of time his firm could obtain the farm in the future.

Davis disputed claims his firm was broke and anti-industry. He claims that the firm has spent $200,000 in developing a subdivision (known as Blair Bend) on a hill overlooking the Williamson farm which will be built by the industrial park. He clearly indicated he will take his case to court to try and stop the effort to industrialize the Bend.

Richard Ginn of the Tennessee Valley Authority told the court that TVA highly favored the rezoning and had fought the move earlier that had changed the property classification to residential. He said TVA considers Blair Bend the best water oriented site left on the Tennessee River and that having public ownership of the property, as proposed by the City of Loudoun, would assure the success of the venture.

Squire Jim Hartsook said the backers of the project were trying to legislate the residential developers out of business. He said the decision on Blair Bend was one of the most important the court will ever make and the question had become a moral issue because the developers had started their project with the intent to build a residential complex but would be ruined by the rezoning.

Squire Jim Blair, who owns a farm through which the city will have to secure rights of way for rail and highway to get to the Williamson farm, strongly opposed the issue, took the position that the county was not standing behind businessmen who had placed their confidence in the county.

County Industrial Representative Bar Iddins said that in the past many industrial prospects had been interested in sites in Blair Bend, but because it was not available in small tracts and was privately owned kept it from being developed. He cited Luby Boy Chair Company as saying had Blair Bend been developed or owned by a public or private group as an industrial park they would have built their plant here instead of Spring City.

Iddins said he is currently dealing with Robinson-Myers Company of Springfield, Ohio, and they were very interested in a site in the Blair Bend Industrial Park if it was developed. The firm had been seeking to purchase the Genesco Building in the Loudoun Industrial Park, but it was obtained by the Maremont Corporation last week.

Squire L.D. Conner, member of the County Planning Commission said he made the decision to rezone the property industrial. He said afterward he thought he might have made a mistake, but sought advice from knowledgeable people who said the industrialization of Blair Bend would be in the best interest of the county. Conner said he felt that there were sufficient buffers to protect the residential development overlooking the property and that industrialization of Blair Bend would greatly broaden the tax base of the county and would help provide better schools and other services demanded by the citizens.

The vote to restore full funding to the Building Inspector's office was 5-3. Only Squire Roy Duckworth, who led the move to cut the funds, opposed the measure, voting against the move.

One month ago the County hired Jack Henry as the new building inspector after the previous official resigned following the budget cut. Henry reported that during his first two weeks on the job he issued 19 permits bringing in $888 in fees. He said the permits for 13 new homes, one mobile home, four home additions and one commercial building would have a combined value of $450,000 and bring new taxes to the county.

Squire Jim Blair, who had been considered as opposing the restoration of funds, thanked Henry for the report and later voted in favor of the measure.

Squire Jim Hartsook made the motion to restore $2,365.64 to the inspectors budget which would provide a full time salary of $10,000. The motion was seconded by Squire Williams and was supported by all the court members except Duckworth.

Before the vote Judge William Russell, planner Steve Campbell and Hartsook explained that local residents could not get loans for home or commercial construction in areas considered as "flood plains, unless the federal flood insurance program was in effect in the county. One requirement of the insurance program is that the county have a land use program and a suitable enforcement officer, in this case it would be the building inspector.

Highway 95 rezoning Without opposition the Court approved the rezoning of a parcel of land on highway 95 at Lenoir City which cleared the way for the construction of a shopping center by the Lenoir City Company.

Muddy Creek Road A study was taken which hopefully clears the way for the construction of a new Muddy Creek Road in the second district. Squire Hartsook reported that the purchase of four residential lots in Cedar Hills for about $5000 would secure the project. He said the lots would be ruined by the road construction but would leave enough surrounding property for the construction of a community park. The court approved the purchase.

A delegation from Stockton Valley and Luttrell were in the courtroom wanting court help on getting stalled mud construction started on their communities.

Over two years ago right of way was secured for a road through Luttrell connecting Monroe and Roane Counties, but for some reason the highway has not been completed.

The Maremont Corporation is in the process of establishing a new manufacturing plant in Loudoun. Vice President and General Manager of Maremont's Automotive Division Bill Zeeb announced late last week that a tentative agreement had been reached with the Genesco Corporation to lease the 85,000 square foot Genesco plant in the Loudoun Industrial Park across the road from Maremont's muffler plant.

Zeeb said the new plant will manufacture catalytic converter, an emission control device added to many new cars starting with the 1975 models to reduce the hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide in the exhaust gas stream. The catalytic converter accelerates the oxidizing process and reduces nearly all the unburned hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide to water vapor and carbon dioxide gas. Zeeb said that the manufacture of catalytic converters is a new product of the Maremont muffler plant.

The Genesco building was built shortly after the purchase of the building at the time Genesco and Maremont came to an agreement on the plant.

Zeeb said that a formal announcement about the new Loudoun plant would probably be made by Maremont's public relations department in about a month, after the agreement with Genesco is completed.

Zeeb would not speculate on the number of persons the plant would employ. He said it would be in the first half of next year then Maremont got a firm grip on the business and what size market they would have for the converters.

Maremont opened its present operation in Loudoun in 1961 and has steadily expanded the original facility and has since leased the old Durallite plant also used in manufacturing. The firm's employment in Loudoun has grown from 400 and now approaches 1000 persons.

Guns, Money Taken In Breakin At Greenback Store

The value of merchandise and damage to the Greenback IGA Store on Highway 411 from a break in last week could amount to as much as $6,000. County Deputy Allen Clemmer said. The store is owned by Martin McCullough and Deputy Clemmer said that he believes, believed to have been from three to five persons using a pickup truck or a van or both, used a sledge hammer to knock a hole in the overhead walls of the store to get inside. Three holes were knocked in a rear wall by the thieves.

Once inside the store was ransacked, display cases were turned over and light bulbs broken out of fixtures to keep passers by from seeing activity in the store.

Taken were at least 10 guns, possibly as many as 20 pistols, 11 or 12 bags of change amounting to between $1200 and $1500, 11 country hams, 300 cartons of cigarettes, two cases of snuff, four cases of cigarettes, six cases of coffee, two cases of bacon, an undetermined amount of packaged meat and other items.

Several boxes of merchandise such as knives, clocks and household items were left behind in the store and a large number of hams were strewn in an aisleway but not taken.

Deputy Clemmer said that fingerprints were taken in the office of the store where the money was taken from.

BONNIE SHEELEY Assistant Extension Agent

It's a season of big tops, more skirts, soft sewing fabrics and silhouettes for pretense and junior misses in the back-to-school brigade. Add to this, lavish detailing including overfitching and tuckling, novel pockets and tabs, buttons, zippers and toggles.

Color standouts of green, rust and berry, range from lush mid-tops to soft heathers with pastel accents in ice blue, lavender and pumpkin. Apply the advantage of washability and the season promises to be one of good looks and easy care.

Stuffed fabrics and suede-like mixes of polyester and blends come in crushed of fabrics. Corduroys reign in traditional plaids, lattice-salts, pasties or tweeds and newly-colored scattered country fabrics. Knits and weaves, a leading fabrication this fall, take on detailed designs through stitching such as pointelles, cables and patchwork combinations. Patterns via jacquards, marled yarns, space dyes and stripes are also on hand.

Since there are so many natural fabric simulations and variations to consider, check labels for laundering information. The interest in skirts encompasses divided skirts, wrap-around, big skirts that are knee length or longer, tub and suspender skirts. Tops are generally wide and looser. Mock twin sweater sets and t-shirts with scarves are newsworthy. Emphasizing the importance of tops, fall collections feature different styles to wear with solid slacks or dirndl skirts. Included are unembroidered mock turndown and jacket sweaters featuring neckline detail, belts, cuffs, pockets and matching mufflers.

Dresses are more feminine, eyes in sportswear. Among them in classic pinfore a denim look with ruffles. A novelty story print shows up in a flared skirt and ribbed top. The chemise is seen in soft, laundry-loving polyester-cotton with a necktie bow.

Casual cuts include the big shirt dress in woven fabrics such as flannel, gauze or sudeed polyester. Adaptation of the Big-look translates into a corduroy popover top with drop-shoulder, very wide cuffs and sleeves and top stitching for accent. Matching pants are also top-stitched and feature wide flare legs and pockets.

Jumpers are very much in evidence, often paired with turtle-neck tops. Polyester and acrylic blends include a French school girl look and others in wrap-around versions and embroidered styles.

First Class Mail Improved

The U.S. Postal Service first-class mail service improvement program will go into effect at Loudon Post Office on October 11, Postmaster Ed Marrs said today. Under the program, first-class mail will receive service that is equal to or better than airmail.

The major new service step will extend to all first-class mail weighing 13 ounces or less. "In practical terms, what this service improvement means is that domestic first-class postage now will purchase the level of service that previously only airmail could buy," said Postmaster Marrs.

Loudon Batters McMinn Central 22-0 With Air Tight Defensive Performance

And the beat goes on! The Loudon Redskins man-handled Region II double-rival McMinn Central Friday night, 22-0, for their fifth win of the season.

The loss was McMinn Central's second of the year in six games and reduces their playoff hopes for 1975. Unbeaten Loudon, winning their 18th straight game, continued its march for a return post season playoff appearance. The defending "AA" State Champions are currently deadlocked at the top of the Region II standings with unbeaten Chattanooga Notre Dame.

The Irish have already defeated Cleveland, but still have regular season tests with Kingston and McMinn Central.

Loudon used a crisp hitting defensive effort to shutout the Chargers Friday evening. Senior linebackers Marlon Brown and Dickie Colvin led a stout Redskins defensive in tactics. Defensive end Steve Harrison also graded out with one of his best individual overall showings. The first year senior was in on nine tackles, had a pass reception, and blocked with authority.

The Redskins controlled the game throughout, limiting the Chargers offensive advances to the Loudon 41 yard line once in the first quarter and again to the same station in the final 12 minutes.

blocking and execution against a tough defense all season. The holes were there and the backs hit them quickly. Gary Brown (248 pound sophomore) played his longest time of the season and is going to contribute a lot to our line in the stretch run of the season.

Neither team registered a first down in their initial offensive series of the game.

The Chargers carved out two first downs and drove to the Loudon 41 yard line on its second chance of the night. Carter Cardwell made a standout tackle for a loss of one yard and Marlon Brown followed up with a pass interception and 45 yard return to the Charger 45.

FOOTBALL TALK—Loudon running back Freddie Starritt (26) appears to be carrying on a running conversation with his lead blocker Steve Lyle (77), on this first down scamper Friday night.

NEAT CATCH FOR LAMBERT—Loudon senior split end Mike Lambert is fast becoming a trusty pass receiver for the Redskins. Here he takes an 11 yard aerial from Greg Deaithridge under tight defensive pressure.

DOING HER THING—Loudon High School Marching Band's feature twirler, Debbie Plemson, goes through her two-baton twirling routine at halftime of the Loudon-McMinn Central football game.

While the Loudon defense was making its best showing since the second week of the season when Kingston fell prey to the Big Red, the Loudon offense was rolling up 306 yards of total offense.

Fullback Marlon Brown, who seems to have taken a personal pleasure of wrecking the Chargers victory plans in the last two seasons, had over 100 yards rushing. Brown punished the Chargers with his pass catching time in 1974 and this time round the big power runner exploded to 108 yards on 22 rushing carries, for still another stellar performance.

BROWN HAS BIG NIGHT—Loudon senior Marlon Brown (bottom of picture with football) had one of his best night runs on the gridiron Friday with 108 yard rushing, a top defensive effort with a fumble recovery and pass interception and a touchdown in pacing Loudon's 22-0 triumph over McMinn Central.

Greg Deaithridge, used the running of Brown and Rick Melton to march the Redskins into Central territory. Brown claimed 17 yards and Melton had a 16 yard gallop. Steve Harrison latched on to a five yard bullet from Deaithridge and the Redskins were to the Charger 29.

Deaithridge was trapped for a seven yard loss and Melton was pulled down and lost the handle on the ball on second down and the Charger defense recovered to end the first quarter.

Loudon and the Chargers swapped punts, before the Redskins could kindle the steam to record their third first down of the game and set out on their first scoring drive. With 6:42 left in the first half, Loudon took control of a Central punt at its own 18. Brown and Melton alternated ball carrying duties with Melton's 13 yard trek to the Charger 46 the turning point of the eight play 82 yard drive. Brown who had 19 yards in the scoring drive, rambled for seven yards and then Melton followed the key blocking of Brown and center Steve Harrison to race 39 yards and Loudon's first touchdown.

Loudon's third aerial steal of the game before the fourth quarter could tie off its first try.

An off sides penalty on McMinn Central coaxed Loudon to go for a two point conversion with Melton dancing into the end zone for an 8-0 score.

Cardwell then engineered a 13 play, 45 yard drive on the running of Brown, Melton, Dickie Colvin and Freddie Starritt, that was short of a touchdown, as Colvin lost a fumble on the Central five yard line.

McMinn Central had 2:55 remaining in the first half to generate an offense, but Loudon's defense was stubborn and forced a punt with the Redskins exhausting the clock before intermission.

The Chargers were able to put together their best attack, moving to Loudon territory for the second time in the game only to have the ball taken away on downs at the 41.

Loudon quickly moved into the drivers seat in the second half, with 14 points on the board in the third quarter.

The Chargers were able to put together their best attack, moving to Loudon territory for the second time in the game only to have the ball taken away on downs at the 41.

McMinn Central challenged Loudon by taking the ball over on downs at its own 32 following the second half kickoff.

The Loudon Indians also posted a 28-6 win in a real head-knocker to wind up the evening.

John Cardwell and Kerry Brant Hoover put Loudon in command early with a 25 yard touchdown aerial combination. A halfback pass hung over for a two point conversion.

The Indians came right back with a touchdown of their own and the game was tight at 8-6.

Mark McCallie gave Loudon a 20-0 halftime lead as he intercepted a Tellico pass and returned it 66 yards for a score.

Tellico finally made the scoreboard light up with a long scoring drive of their own in the fourth quarter for a 20-6 count.

The Indians came up with their own splendid recovery later in the contest as Allen Eldridge and the race for paydirt was on.

Steve Buchanan landed a defensive tick in the second half that sent him to the hospital with a neck sprain and a brief delay in the game.

Following the mishap Loudon settled the game with a 39 yard halfback pass from Brant Hoover to Donnie Eldridge to get Loudon close to the end zone. The Tellico defense held, but Allen Eldridge was alert to steal Bear pass and return it for the game's final touchdown.

Buchanan, Stacy Cole, Perry Purdy, David Matlock, and Cardwell were all singled out for stout defensive showing in the Indian victory.

Cardwell then engineered a 13 play, 45 yard drive on the running of Brown, Melton, Dickie Colvin and Freddie Starritt, that was short of a touchdown, as Colvin lost a fumble on the Central five yard line.

Loudon Visits "Improved" Harriman

Lenoir City Homecoming Is Friday Night County Grid Attraction

The high school football season swings into mid-season play this Friday night. The Loudon County football season is starting to make their way to the head of the class, while other teams are trying to salvage winning campaigns with playoff dreams set for another year.

Loudon County prep teams all figure into the various categories.

Loudon, while undefeated, must journey to Harriman and combat the once beaten Blue Devils. Harriman, still very prominent in the current Region II double-A playoff race, counts the Redskins as a "must game".

"Harriman is probably the most improved team on our schedule," admitted Coach

Bert Ratledge. "I am not saying Maryville, McMinn Central, or the like are not good teams. But they have been consistently in the playoff picture for several seasons and continue to come up with talented material. Harriman has been down in recent seasons and just ended a long losing streak last year. They are playing sound football this year and have improved almost weekly. They beat Kingston and got Knoxville Rule a couple of weeks ago. They have about six or eight boys that can play and they seem to be positioned at the key roles to make a football team go. They are certainly a capable team and we sure can't afford to overlook anyone at this time."

When asked how might Harriman prove a problem for the streaking Redskins? Coach Ratledge said he thought the Harriman defense was outstanding and would present the Redskins offense with snags in its execution. A defensive effort on par with last Friday night's McMinn Central game should balance the scales. Harriman has a better passing game than the Chargers.

While Loudon will be the slight power, Harriman's home field advantage and the need for both teams to register a victory should make this game a dandy.

Lenoir City will host Knoxville Halls this Friday night. It will be homecoming for the Panthers with nine lovely senior girls being nominated by their student body election for a title of Queen.

Miss Pam Smith, a University of Tennessee freshman, is the reigning queen. Seeking her crown are Tonya Ellis, Donna Pardue, Becky Kincaid, Melissa Campbell, Leslie Rice, Bobbi Woolwine, Sandra Morgan, Ruthie Atkins, and Susanna Padgett. The Lenoir City Student Council is in charge of homecoming activities with the crowning of the queen being at halftime.

The game itself is considered a near toss-up. Halls is a "AAA" team having won twice this fall. Lenoir City is 1-4 for the season, but has yet to face a team without a winning ledger.

Coach Henry Blackburn may have his healthiest team available in several weeks for this game. A solid first half performance could make the Panther homecoming a bright spot.

Both the Loudon-Harriman and Lenoir City-Knoxville Halls kick-offs are 3 p.m. affairs.

Greenback is back home after again moving about 500 miles. Seeking her crown are Tonya Ellis, Donna Pardue, Becky Kincaid, Melissa Campbell, Leslie Rice, Bobbi Woolwine, Sandra Morgan,

Second Quarter Touchdowns Carry Cherokees Past Vonore

Greenback jolted Vonore by an 18-0 score last Friday night as the Cherokees bounced back from two straight defeats.

Bobby Smith was again in top form, rushing for 142 yards on 17 individual carries, and ending the first quarter with 334 left in the half. Kizer was tackled shy of the goal on rushing on 13 snaps.

Greenback checked Vonore

Lynn Rucker's 11 yard pass reception at the Vonore 23 ended the first quarter.

Greenback continued to move with Bobby Smith and Dotson swapping running assignments to put the ball at the one yard line. Dotson barreled over from the one with 3:34 left in the half. Kizer was tackled shy of the goal on rushing on 13 snaps.

with 12 tackles to his credit, also top individual defensive Bobby Smith, Danny Dotson, stars.

The Greenback defense turned the Blue Devil offense into a missus seven yard showing and from the Greenback 29 the Cherokees were on the march again.

A 65-yard run by Bobby Smith moved the sticks to the Vonore nine yard line. Dotson dashed for a four yard gain and Smith then carried three straight times before cracking into the end zone for a 12-0 Greenback halftime lead.

Roger Hampton sparked the Greenback defense with several tackles in running out the halftime clock.

Greenback had to halt the Blue Devils at their 33 again in the first quarter.

The Cherokees then cranked up the offense with an eight play drive that made the score read 18-0.

Glen Quillen's 48 yard pass reception and run set the stage for the touchdown on the six yard line. Bobby Smith got the TD on a four yard effort.

Fumbles plagued the fourth quarter action. Jimmy Brooks claimed a Vonore fumble at the Greenback 34.

Bobby Smith gained 12 yards and a 13 yard pass to Harold Hawkins seem to have the Cherokees threatening once more.

A lost Greenback fumble at the Vonore 34 ended the drive. Greenback again fumbled late in the quarter at its own 25. Vonore ramed the ball to the Cherokee five yard stripe before defensive end Stanley Brazzale came up with a fumble recovery to give Greenback a shutout and their third win in five games.

Eric Belcher was the top Greenback defensive stalwart SPINS AWAY—Greenback's Danny Dotson (122) spins away from a Vonore tackler to gain a first down. The junior performer gained 66 yards and scored a touchdown in the 18-0 Cherokee win.

SMITH BACK IN FORM—Bobby Smith, bruising runner for the Greenback Cherokees, scored twice and accounted for 143 yards rushing as he was warded off tacklers like this Friday night at Vonore.

LC Freshman Stop Loudon Winning Streak

The Lenoir City Freshman football team has ended a long time domination by Loudon freshmen gridriders. The young Panthers handed Loudon its first defeat of the season last Tuesday night by the score of 40-24.

The set back was Loudon's first of the season and also ended a Loudon winning streak that carried back to the 1973 season. Last year's Redskins frosh were unbeaten under coach Larry Bridges.

Lenoir City took a first quarter lead of 6-0 on Keith Cook's 15 yard run with 2:40 left in the period.

Loudon got on the scoreboard in the second quarter following a fumble recovery at the Lenoir City 25 yard line.

The Redskins used seven plays to tally on a one yard plunge by Steve Watkins. Watkins also ran for a two point conversion and an Lenoir lead.

Loudon came up with another fumble recovery following the kick-off with Paul Watkins finding the ball.

A 25 yard pass from Steve Watkins to Rick Sutton set Redskins in motion at the LC 14. Only a tremendous Panther defensive effort was able to hold Loudon from scoring as they held on down at the one yard line.

The Redskins did not let the Panthers get out of the hole and after a Keith Cook punt of 23 yards Watkins and Sutton again hooked up on a pass. This time for a touchdown and a 16-0 lead. Watkins made the two point conversion run.

Lenoir City closed the gap in the third quarter as Loudon's Mark Gibson lost the football and Jason Rice scooped up the ball and ran 52 yards for a Lenoir City touchdown. The extra point was no good.

A 42 yard punt by Mike Walker gave Lenoir City the lead once more. Bobby Morgan passed James Johnson for the two point conversion.

Lenoir City increased their lead to 28-16 on the final play of the third quarter as Cook raced 34 yards for a touchdown.

Loudon battled back with a 10 play drive to open the final period that saw Ben Fields go over the double stripe from the two. Mark Gibson hit Donnie Talbot with a two point pass on the conversion.

Lenoir City then traveled the length of the field only to be turned back at the Lenoir one yard line.

The Redskins were then intercepted on a passing play and Bobby Morgan returned the misfired aerial for a touchdown. Morgan also added a two point conversion run.

Lenoir City then added insult to injury when Mike Walker rambled 23 yards in the final seconds of the game for the Panthers final points and a 40-24 decision.

Loudon had won the previous meeting at Loudon 16-6.

The Big Red Machine is not getting an abundance of daily newspaper recognition. Nevertheless after half of the regular season Loudon is presently holding the longest winning streak in the state, 19 straight victories.

Loudon, the defending AA State Champions, has ranked among the leaders in the Associated Press Prep Polls this fall. They have held the number one position in the Double-A top 10 on occasions, while yielding to Hartsville on other weeks. They consistently make the top 10 in the overall UPI Prep Rankings.

The "AA" runner-up went from first to eighth this week with Loudon again the top team having gathered a season high of 18 first place votes. Harrisville fell to Bellevue of Nashville last Friday night 7-6.

Loudon, meanwhile rolls calmly along without very much fanfare, but undefeated at 5-0.

But where graduation left vacancies, eager reserves and "two name" players have patiently waited their chances.

Several close to the Loudon scene feel the Redskins are "saving" with their ice water poise and current weekly tempo before climbing into "Championship peakness" nearer to the season end and sky high emotion.

What ever be your choice of thinking, it is hard to second guess or out figure the well tuned football minds of Coach Bert Radledge and Jim Gibson. Who would dare argue a success story as they continue to unfold.

Remembering the Redskins lost 17 seniors to graduation, it is hard to believe that they have not suffered at least one or possibly two defeats in bringing this team along in '75.

Loudon has barely touched on the pass this fall but the results have been equally efficient. Kenny Starritt, Mike Lambert, Steve Harrison, David Grison, Conway Dukes and Mike Sweet rich for their numbers to be called.

The Loudon defense has few big name heroes. Marlon Brown and Dickie Colvin seem the 1975 team has shown little emotion in recording its present work sheet. The players seem to take each Friday night as a business like task. Even though they trailed by the most points at one time already this year than they had in nearly three seasons of games, the team attitude was the same. "Get our heads together and win the game."

They did the feat almost with the frightful polish of a professional group.

Certainly the Redskins are beatable. Each remaining foe on the regular season has circled the Redskin date. Should the playoffs develop into the 1975 picture, there is no doubt the Redskins will find the rugged one.

But half the 1975 season is still ahead and with it we look quickly at the achievements and improvements of the current Redskin edition.

Following those up front blockers are seniors Rick Melton and Marlon Brown. Melton has defied injuries and played in every game. He has rushed for 655 yards to date on 66 carries, and scored six touchdowns.

Marlon Brown has come through with three touchdowns, 10 extra point placements, and one field goal. He has been called on 79 times and came away with 37 yards, much up the grid, so to speak, of opposing defenses.

The Redskins are not with out back up talent. Freddie Starritt (25 carries for 132 yards), Dickie Colvin (65 yards), Carter Cardwell (30 yards), Greg Deadrigh (100 yards), and Mark Moore (40 yards), and Mark Moore (40 yards) are all ready for any occasion. Bumper Webster who heads the defensive secondary would star in many place money with 30 points on the tie-breaker. Third place and $5 went to Edward Hill of Athens. The other entry that didn't miss a game but had a 42-1 point tie-breaker Jack Harrison of Athens.

Those who missed only one game were Eli Cleveland, Donald Cleveland, Steve Rogers, Harold Grimes, Bruce Lawson, Bill Lawson Jr. Monty Lawson, Coy Blankenship, Sheila Eller, Darrell Annis, Doris Hill, Calvin Hill, Dennis Turbyfill, Garlin Moser Jr., Nadine Moser, and Geneva Foster.

Coach Bill Battle's best Volunteer team to date was the 1970 edition that finished 11-1 and was ranked fourth in the nation. This was a great defensive team that forced irreparable backfield Walker and defensive back Bobby Majors on All-American status. Fullback Curt Watson, linebacker Ray Nettles, and kicker George Hutcheson were honored as All SEC.

The Vols sped past SMU 28-0 to open the 1970 season. However, Auburn's Sullivan to Beasley combination proved too much for UT as the Tigers won 36-23. Tennessee rebounded to bury Army 48-3. Georgia Tech fell victim to the Big Orange by a 17-6 margin. The next week the Volunteers put an end to Alabama's 115-game scoring streak with a 24-0 whitewash. UT blasted Florida 48-7 and Wake Forest 41-7 in a close game. Tennessee edged South Carolina 20-18. The Vols registered their second shutout as they bombed Kentucky 40-0. UT won the game of the state with a 24-6 decision over Vanderbilt, and closed the regular season with a 28-7 victory over UCLA.

The University of Tennessee closed the season with a 34-13 rout of Air Force in the Sugar Bowl. The victory insured the Vols a national ranking of Fourth.

National 4-H Week

4-H Week Theme

"4-H '76 Spirit Of Tomorrow"

THE 4-H NAME
During the early years, what is now 4-H was called various names—boys' and girls' clubs, agricultural club, home economics club, corn club, cotton club, canning club, etc.

The first use of the term "4-H Club" in a federal document appeared in 1918 in a bulletin written by Gertrude L. Warren. Early in the 1920's, at a conference in Washington, D.C., the question of deciding on a distinctive name to be used nationally was discussed. Miss Warren and several others favored 4-H Club work, and gradually this came into wider usage. By 1924, club work had acquired the name of 4-H by which it would thereafter be known throughout the world.

THE 4-H PLEDGE
Otis Hall, of Kansas, was responsible for the original wording of the 4-H pledge. When the Executive Committee of the Land-Grant College Association requested Dr. R. A. Pearson, President of Iowa State College, and Dr. A. C. True of the Federal Extension Service to write a pledge for 4-H, they submitted a pledge substantially as written by Hall. At the first National 4-H Club Camp in 1927, the 4-H pledge was officially adopted by the State 4-H leaders.

This pledge remained unchanged until 1973, when in response to requests from a number of States, including a recommendation from 4-H members attending National 4-H Conference, the pledge was changed to include "my world." This change was officially approved in 1973 by the Extension Committee on Organization and Policy, and now reads—

my head to clearer thinking my heart to greater loyalty my hands to larger service, and my health to better living for my club, my community, my country and my world.

THE 4-H MOTTO

"To make the best better"

The 4-H motto was originally proposed by Miss Carrie Harrison, a botanist in the Bureau of Plant Industry. It was officially adopted by leaders who attended the first National 4-H Club Camp in 1927. It has remained the same through the years.

Help us find the oldest former 4-H member in Loudon County. Fill in the form below and mail to Mr. Roger Perkins, Associate Extension Agent, Post Office Box 277, Loudon, Tennessee 37774 by October 18, 1975.

THE 4-H EMBLEM
The first emblem design was a 3-leaf clover, introduced sometime during the period 1907 or 1908. In 1909, the first pens with this emblem came into use! From the beginning the 3H's signified Head, Heart, and Hands.

A four-leaf clover design with 4H's rather than three—suggesting that they stand for "head, heart, hands, and hustle"—had sympathetic hands trained to be useful, helpful and skillful, and the hustle to render ready service, to develop health and vitality.

In 1911, at a meeting of club leaders in Washington, a committee recommendation was adopted approving the present 4-H design as shown here, suggesting that the 4-H's stand for Head, Heart, Hands, and Health—universally used since.

The 4-H emblem was patented in 1924. When the patent expired at the end of the usual 14-year term, it was determined best to ask Congress to pass a law protecting the use of the 4-H name and emblem. This was done in 1939, and slightly revised in 1948.

MEANING OF THE THEME

SPRIT OF TOMORROW

In commemorating our nation's bicentennial, 4-H prepares for tomorrow's horizons... horizons which call for determination and challenge based from a strong national heritage. The bicentennial era is an appropriate time to pause and reflect on this strong heritage and the accomplishments of the 4-H movement whose embryo was forming during the nation's centennial years and whose philosophy has reached out to embrace the young people and volunteer adults around the world in spirit of working together to "learn by doing."

As the 4-H program continues to progress, it will be meeting the challenges of tomorrow with the same enterprising spirit that has built the 4-H program to its present level of success... currently fulfilling the needs and aspirations of 7.2 million youth in citizenship, leadership and community service activities. Tomorrow's goals—both personal goals of character building, knowledge seeking and skill development... and altruistic human goals of love, understanding and peace—can be the goals of all 4-H'ers individually and collectively.

"4-H '76, Spirit of Tomorrow" encourages 4-H'ers to set high standards and to establish realistic, personal goals as they prepare to assume the responsibilities of adulthood. Youth are challenged to vigorously tackle the problems and concerns, to build a better tomorrow, by exercising the same spirit that 4-H has displayed so abundantly throughout its history.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

For the past few weeks we have been going through our files and running some of the collection of pictures we have had in our back log. Many of these came to us without any identification or at least not much. One of these pictures we are using this week, but we don't know who they are. We are sure they are possibly well known Loudon area folks. We greatly appreciate our readers who sent us pictures. Sometimes we don't get identification and other times through our negligence, we misplace them. But we appreciate the help of our readers who call and offer identify to some of our unknown pictures. If you can help us on this one, give us a call. Our other picture this week is what we believe to be the old Toad Hill School, which was located in the rural area of Loudon County. We have had a lot of information on this old school in past years. We have had pictures of this old school various years in its existence. It, of course, has been gone for many years, but is well remembered by some of our senior citizens.

Mr. Sam Robinson called us the other day to offer us some help on some of these old pictures. At the present time we haven't had the time to go and talk to him, but will as soon as possible. We will pass the information along to our Good Old Days readers later. We were down on the river near the old ferry landing the other day and we recalled how active this area was a few years back. There were many things going on there. In part it was due to the Ferry, but I don't think this was the only reason for so much activity. It is strange how through the passing years the activity shifts to different areas. We recall when the old Lyric Theater was the focal point in our town. I doubt if it is hardly noticed today. It was a high point in our town's history for many years. The location housed the local theatre from back in the days of silent pictures, back as far as when the Blount family ran it. Holbert Miller later operated it. Then Bill Butler and in its later days, the late Charles Calville owned it. He built the Court Theatre which burned and was located where Bowman and Porter is now located. The late Mr. Charles Morgan tried to revive the theatre in the 1930's but the interest was not there anymore. He and I talked about this on several different occasions. He would have liked to have got it going again because he was very much interested in it. This is a good example of how things change with the passing years. I doubt if the interest will ever again reach any level to warrant revival of the small town theatres. But never the less, the old Lyric theatre of Loudon will always have a place in the hearts of those from the Good Old Days. Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

Local Emergency Medical Technicians Win State Award

While hosting a state meeting of the Tennessee Emergency Medical Technicians Association, the Loudon County EMT Chapter received a plaque from State President Martin Cash for promoting service of Emergency Medical Technicians at the local and state level. The day long meeting was hosted by the Loudon County Emergency Rescue Squad headquarters with a luncheon held at the Twin Lantern Restaurant. About 30 EMT personnel from across the state attended the meeting.

At the business session the Association discussed ways of promoting themselves as professionals as well as how to get the general public to better understand what the EMT is capable of doing in the case of accident or sudden illness that might arise. They discussed the new laws and requirements that will effect them directly from the Emergency Medical Services. EMTs must undergo stiff requirements through the state to maintain their current certification.

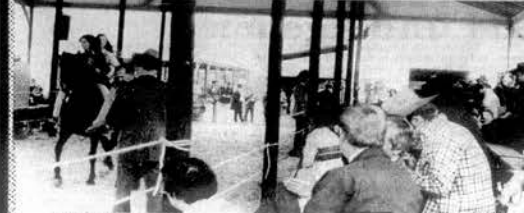

Washington County attended the session and discussed the need for the EMT and nursing personnel to work closer together in emergency care. She stated that it was most important for the Technician to give an account of the patients condition from the time of their arrival and during transport to the emergency department. This information is most important to the further treatment and follow-up care of the patient at the hospital care Mrs. Bridges said.

EMT is a trained professional in emergency care and should be respected in his or her field. She said she realized that the EMT renders pre-hospital care only, while the nurse in turn renders hospital care and both are vital in emergency care programs.

Loudon County EMT Chapter President Mike Langley said that anyone in care is welcome to attend the Loudon Chapter meetings; the second Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the Rescue Squad building.

Audit Shows Plight Of Loudon Hospital

The Loudon County Memorial Hospital operated at a deficit for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1975, and was operating without malpractice insurance at that time.

According to an audit report prepared by Joe E. Henry and Company, C.P.A., of Knoxville, for the State Comptroller's Office, expenses exceeded revenues by $34,309 when substantial allowances were made for uncollectible accounts and depreciation of plant and equipment.

In addition to professional liability coverage for malpractice suits brought against the hospital, the facility lacked insurance coverage for common liability and in transit to banks. The loss of damage to account records, and bond coverage on employees who regularly handle cash.

The hospital showed $280,915 in outstanding patient accounts in 1974, down from about $282,000 in 1973. This figure is still quite high according to experts in hospital administration.

with 11,149 in FY 1974. This means a drop in occupancy dropped from 61.2 percent to 54.5 percent, a very low figure according to hospital administration experts.

The 10 bed Loudon County Memorial Hospital was opened to the public in August 1971. It was constructed at a cost of $2.1 million. Currently about 28 beds at the facility are occupied on a daily average.

In a related audit also released recently by the Comptroller's office, it was revealed the Loudon County Ambulance Service operated at a deficit of over $58,000 for the 1975 fiscal year.

The Loudon County Court has voted to reimburse the Loudon County Memorial Hospital for 100 percent of the service's uncollected costs for the period. The hospital at one time subsidized the ambulance service.

Revenues for the service are derived from user fees, a grant from Loudon County, and a $3,600 grant from the State of Tennessee.

way has not been built.

At Stockton Valley residents were promised that a new rural road would be built there this past summer, but no action there either.

Squires Blair, Bledsoe and Duckworth all called for some action by the county to get these projects started.

Judge William Russell said he would bring both roads to the attention to state highway officials who would be in Loudon on October 16 to meet with county highway commissioners.

Motivation

Ray O. Jones

There is an old story about the dog chasing the rabbit but was unable to catch it. As his excuse for not catching the rabbit, the dog said, "It was running just for the fun of it, and the rabbit was running for his life." It does make a difference why one is running. If you're running just for the fun of it, or if you're running for your life! The rabbit was really motivated. He had a reason for running.

It is remarkable how much more power one has when what he is doing is a matter of life or death. If it is just for fun, he takes it easy and not much happens, but if it is a matter of life or death, there is a new sense of enthusiasm and urgency. One of the saddest facts any pastor has to face is the sickening fact that many people are not serious about their religion or their church. Religion with some people is a game to be played, a social role to be acted out. Motivation is an important element in life. Some people have more motivation than others, and they become more successful. They have a reason for running which some do not have. People often fall through lack of motivation and purpose rather than lack of ability.

There are people limping who should be walking, whimpering when they should be whistling, crying when they could be laughing. There are projects and dreams struggling when they could be thriving, shrinking when they could be growing, falling when they could be succeeding. The difference between success and failure, in the church and in business, is the reason for running. A poor man is not who is without a cent, but he who is without a dream to motivate him. The motivated man will make more opportunities than he finds. Prayers for the motivated man are guidelines, not stop signs. Don't play a harmonica when you can play a great pipe organ. Don't push a mole hill when you have power to move a mountain.

In Memory

In loving memory of Omer Wells who died one year ago, October 6, 1974.
The sunshine lost it's brightness, the blue skies turned to gray, the birds hushed their singing, Omer, dear, the day you went away. But God has not promised skies always blue, flower strewn pathways all our lives through, God has not promised sunshine without rain or joy without pain. But God has promised strength for the day, it's so lonesome without you, your chair seems so vacant. It was so sudden you didn't have time to say goodbye, it didn't seem real at first, but we miss you more each day.
Always love you, wife and family.

WHO CARES? Many manufacturers today build their products as if no one really cared. This is truly regrettable. There are a few exceptions. Steinyway and Sohmer pianos are still made today like craftsmen of old made everything—by hand. The Everett piano company is another who cares enough to build a high-quality piano in today's "modern" world. Come by today and let us show you what sets these pianos apart from all the rest. Three Schools Are Broken Into Three schools were broken into last week according to records at the Loudon County Justice Center.

The biggest haul was made at the Davis School cafeteria last Wednesday night. Taken were 22 pounds of ground beef, six and one half 48 piece cans of fish, 12 pounds of butter, two cans of peanut butter, one case of cheese, five No. 10 cans of ravioli, one case of chili mix, seven two pound packages of french fries, three boxes of peas, four No. 10 cans of corn, three No. 10 cans of pork and beans, one number 10 can of pears, one can of vanilla pudding and a large skillet. Entrance to the school was through the west cafeteria window Deputy Allen Clemmer's report said. The same night a window was broken out at Steekee School and it was entered but nothing was found missing. At Browler School a telephone was stolen. One hundred dollars in $20 bills was stolen from the home of Gary Chambers, 100 Lee Drive in Lenoir City on Tuesday night while Mr. Chambers was at work a report filed by Lenoir City policeman Floyd Williams said.

United Fund Drive Reaches 39 Percent

The Loudon County United Fund is off to its best start ever. The current drive, which started October 1 and reached 39 percent of its $51,649 goal at the first report meeting held Monday.

Drive Chairman Miss Rachel Huff said that reports that first meeting pledges and contributions totaled $20,154.79. She said that the big reason for such a good report at the first meeting is because the drive at the Oak Ridge plants started early and they reported that the Loudon Countians here have pledged $11,451 and the drive there is not yet complete.

City business $885; Loudon business $462; and Loudon Residential $77.38. Loudon County Sheriff Guy Russell said that the drive is completed in the month of October. She said she hopes that because the campaign is in a good position at this time the workers will not slacken, nor that the public will think their pledges are not needed.

"We only met our goal by $11,451.00, and we need to get $40,198 more to get to our goal of $51,649.00. So we need all the support we can get to make this a successful drive," Miss Huff said. She also encouraged all campaign workers to attend the report meeting.

CB Club Plans Halloween Event

Two fund raising events have been scheduled to give the young children of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Mealer of Eatons Community.

The Loudon County Citizens Band Radio Club will hold a Halloween party open to the public, boys and girls, moms and dads of all ages, from 6 p.m. to 11 p.m. on Halloween, Friday, October 31 at the Legion ball park.

CB president James Thompson said that Link and the Klites featuring Brad Decker will provide music for dancing. The entertainment will consist of rock and country music.

The Halloween Party is free to everyone, but donations will be taken up for the Mealer family. Among the activities will be apple bobbing contest, witches brew, gifts for best dress kids in age groups, 1-5; 6-9; 10-12; 13-15. There will be free candy and prizes for everyone, plus a dance contest for kids, teenagers and adults.

The CB Club is being assisted in the Halloween party by the Loudon Recreation Department, the Loudon Police Department and various merchants and individuals who will contribute prizes.

Waylon Mealer, 3, has been in intensive care at East Tennessee Children's Hospital since August 17, undergoing treatment for Colic Neurosis and requires constant use of a breathing machine. Waylon's 11-month-old brother, Rachel, is scheduled to undergo Orthopedic Surgery Thursday at Children's Hospital.

The father has been employed at Wise Iron Works in Knoxville and the mother, Rebecca, works in the Finishing Department of the Charles H. Bacon Hosiery Mill in Lenoir City.

Due to the illness of the children neither parent has been able to work.

The hospitalization of Waylon is costing the young family $200 a day.

Saturday of this week a Benefit Basketball Game will be held at 2 p.m. at Eaton School. The proceeds will go to the family.

The game is being sponsored by the fellow workers of Mrs. Mealer. The game will feature the Charles H. Bacon Office Workers and Lenoir City Departmental employees. Admission is $1.

One-Man, One-Vote Does Not Apply To School Board, State Says

The one man one vote law does not apply to school boards that are appointed by an elected county court, an opinion from the Tennessee Attorney General's office informed Loudon County last week.

Philadelphian Squire Boyd Duckworth had requested that County Judge William Russell obtain the opinion on the naming of school board members. Duckworth was of the opinion that board members should be named by the court under an apportioned basis. Duckworth has been unhappy with the recent appointments of several new members to the Loudon County School Board. The appointments did not include any residents of the Fourth District (Philadelphia-Luttrell) of the county.

The opinion written by Assistant Attorney General Richard Lingo said, "There is no constitutional infirmity in

Cost Estimates Asked On Middle Schools, And Renovation Of Others

The Loudon County Board of Education Tuesday night authorized hiring an architect to get cost estimates on a county-wide school building and renovation program. This includes two new middle schools (grades 6-8, one in the Eaton and Highland Park area and one near Loudon).

The middle school proposal was expected from State Department of Education people, and the school board soon to setting costs would agree with their proposal except at Philadelphia.

A delegation of parents from Philadelphia was present for the meeting and asked that their school be maintained as a Kindergarten through eight grade facility. Board member Gary Kinsey also supported the move, by stating that Philadelphia has grown in two years from 220 enrollment to 294, a much higher percentage of growth than other schools in the Loudon area which would be included in the middle school program. He pointed out that there were 94 children from the Luttrell area there now, as opposed to 40 when Luttrell was closed.

The board agreed that the middle school at Loudon, taking grades 6-8 from Loudon Junior High and Steekee would still be in line with the middle school proposed for the Lenoir City area without Philadelphia students. Board members J.B. Hagler and Ted Randolph stated that at some point in time it might still be necessary to convert Philadelphia to K-5, but that would probably be years away. Hagler and Randolph say that although the board has said it will agree to maintain Philadelphia as K-8 in the current building program the board should not lose site of the purpose of the building program in providing future protection from problems it now faces in facilities.

Basically under the building program Loudon Elementary and Davis would be closed. A K-5 facility would be provided in the present Junior High with the old elementary being closed. The upper grades at Steekee would be moved to the middle school and the lower grades at Davis, which would be closed, would agree to Steekee.

A Middle School would take upper grade students from Highland Park and Eaton School, with those schools being renovated for K-5 facilities. Browder would be closed and those students sent to the split schools in that area. The state recommendation also said that Glendale should be closed as soon as other facilities at Greenback and Highland Park were completed. Hagler said that would definitely have to be done if the enrollment at Glendale did not increase to meet the state average daily attendance standards.

Under the program there would be general renovation at all schools in the county. In some cases like the proposed K-5 facility at Loudon a gymnasium or physical education facility would have to be built along with other expansions of the building.

Philadelphia will continue to be the number one priority. At one time a motion was on the floor to have the cost estimates taken only in Philadelphia and the two middle schools. This was amended to include the total program. Only board member Kinsey voted against the amendment, with Chairman Ted Wampler expressing his opposition to the amendment.

Wampler feels that the estimates will be of no value by the time they are used. He thinks that the board should take their priorities one at a time and get them funded by the time they are needed.

Hagler said the board should have some idea of costs to allow it to better set priorities for the entire program, because he thinks this is what the Commissioner of Education is looking for. Commissioner Ingram at one time said the board should develop a total program, over not more than five years, get it approved by the State, and have the court fund the first year priority, with a guarantee that each priority after that will also be funded. Superintendent Edward Headlee said he hopes to have the estimates on the new construction and renovations needed in the program ready for the board in November and after that a meeting would be held with the board to discuss the program. The costs and priorities.

The complete evaluation of the state staff on the schools and their observations are printed elsewhere in this issue.

After two sessions of board meetings in county schools the board voted Tuesday to discontinue the practice. Chairman Wampler said that the purpose of the meetings in the schools, for the board to get a chance to see the facilities, had been lost. He felt that the people in the county did not understand that the board was there to consider a county-wide agenda and seemed to get upset when items about schools other than theirs was discussed. At the meeting in Greenback last week the board was blasted by some of the parents for not giving Greenback equal treatment.

Two resolutions were passed by the board commending Loudon High School football coaches Bert Rutledge and Jim Gibson for their outstanding records in football. For their leadership in athletics as well as in the school program in general, the board congratulated FFA instructor Wilson Belcher for the success he has had in developing outstanding land judging teams from year to year at Greenback.

For the second time in three weeks thieves have broken into Kichenin's Loudon Pharmacy and taken a quantity of narcotics. The latest break-in was a replay of the first. The thieves used a crow bar to break up a glass door at the side of the store and then prried open the narcotics cabinet, Loudon Police Chief John Lenoir said.

At 3:25 a.m. Loudon police officer Frank McKenzie called by the store, saw one man sitting on a motorcycle. A second man came out of the store and both left on the cycle with the officer in pursuit. The thieves turned toward Miller Motor Company and lost the officer in the vicinity of Loudon Utilities.

Taken from the store's narcotics cabinet was a small quantity of percodan, demoral, perast, tylenal and emprin.

SHERIFF GUY RUSSELL talks to coroner Dr. W.B. Harrison as Chief Deputy Luke Bright covers the body of James Fine, Harrison Road, who apparently shot himself to death while sitting in a truck behind his home about 10:30 Monday night.

Death Of Jim Fine Believed To Be Suicide

James Fine, Harrison Road, Lenoir City, was found shot to death in a truck behind his home about 10:30 p.m. Monday by his son Greg. Loudon County Sheriff Guy Russell said the shooting appears to be self-inflicted but that a full investigation is being conducted.

Sheriff Russell said that the victim's son said he came home from his girl friend's home and found a note in the truck. The note said "Greg, All I have is yours, I love you, God Bless, Dad."

Sheriff Russell said that the father and son had been working together on construction and were building a new home for themselves in the area of the shooting. The new home was nearing completion. Mr. Fine, 35, recently sold 23 acres of his farm to Loudon County for his new Vocational School which is under construction next to his home.

The victim was shot in the right ear, with the slug exiting the left side of his head, shattering a glass in the truck. The father had worked on construction as a carpenter for a number of years and at one time worked at the Loudon Farmers Cooperative.

Assisting Sheriff Russell in the investigation are FBI Agent Leon Miller, Charlie Hawk, assistant attorney general, and attorney Clarence Robbins. The body was taken to Blount Memorial Hospital in Maryville for an autopsy.

Mr. Fine is survived by his son, Gregory, sister, Mrs. James (Mary) Sowards of Lenoir City; three brothers, Robert H. of Kingston, Joe and Tom (Bud) of Lenoir City and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at Click Funeral Home Chapel with burial in Loudon County Memorial Gardens.

Loudon City Employees have given a five percent across the board cost of living pay raise by the Loudon Mayor and Council at a special meeting held Tuesday night. In proposing the pay raise City Manager Gary Hensley said the cost of living raise is a policy of the Council and does not effect the personnel merit system where employees are eligible for advancement according to experience and personal achievement on the anniversary date of their employment.

The Council approved on third and final reading the approval of a contract to Loudon County Cable Television to provide Cable TV service to the city. The completion of the franchise process will allow the company to apply to the Federal Communications Commission for a license to install the system in Loudon. It is expected to be a year to 18 months before the system is ready to be sold to subscribers.

Manager Hensley reported that the State Fire Inspectors Office has notified the city that it is not moving fast enough on meeting the schedule and satisfy the State. The two groups will meet Thursday night.

The City Manager reported he was to be in Nashville Friday to meet with EDA and ARC concerning grants for the proposed 288 industrial park complex on Blair Bend. The City passed a hurdle in the County Court approved the rezoning of the property.

The Council instructed Hensley to re-submit an application to the Community Development Program which was turned down last year because of a shortage of funds. It approved the city could receive grant funds to make improvements in the water system and streets in the hospital hill area.

When meeting with the Utilities Board Thursday night the Council will also discuss the possibility of extending waterlines along new highway 72 from U.S. 11 to the interchange with 175. Hensley reported that several persons are considering commercial developments in the area of the interchange and now would be the best time for the city to consider extending need utilities to the area.

Thursday at 6 p.m. she will appear at the Lenoir City Rotary Club meeting.

Mrs. O'Brien Here Thursday

State Representative Anna Belle Clement O'Brien of Crossville will be in Loudon County all day Thursday for a series of meetings.

She will meet with County Judge William Russell, the three county road committee and representatives from the State Department of Transportation at the Hotel Lenoir City. At 1 p.m. the group will have lunch.

From 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. she will be at the Philadelphia branch of the Hamilton National Bank to talk to anyone who might wish to meet with her.

Kidnapping Indictment Is Quashed

An indictment for abduction and kidnapping against a farmer, Sweetwater policeman, Roy Moore Jr., was quashed in Criminal Court at Loudon last week. It was ruled that the indictment was not supported by the evidence. The officer was charged with the offense with an offense that was indictable under law.

Steve Carter was sentenced to six months in jail after entering a plea of guilty on a charge of attempting to commit a felony. He had been indicted for larceny.

Jail sentence commixed a day long trial where Kenneth Skidmore was charged with concealing stolen property.

State Suggested School Building Program

A team of State Department of Education officials last week presented Superintendent Edward Headlee with their evaluation and observations on two proposed building programs for the county schools.

One evaluation is of the building program which came from the University of Tennessee survey of the system and the other is a plan projected by the state officials calling for the construction of two middle schools, one to serve Highland Park and Eaton and one to serve the Loudoun-Philadelphia area, plus major renovations to other school buildings in the county.

The proposal did not include cost estimates, but said that additional adjustments may be made before cost estimates are made.

The report contains a list of building requirements in two categories: (1) grades K-8 and (2) grades K-5.

In reading the program the first set of recommendations deal with what has to be done to make the school meet minimum standards, whether it is maintained at its present grade levels or changed. The other two deal with additional changes to make the schools conform with K-8 and K-5 standards.

The observations of the state staff are as follows:

Grades K-5 - Enrollment 454

- 1. Existing facilities should be renovated and remodeled. When this is done the following facilities will be available.
- 2. The following facilities should be available after 19 classrooms plus three portables.

Highland Park - Enrollment: 388

- 1. Estimated one-half of Glendale - 53
- 2. Brodner, approx. 28

Total 467

1. Implement items 1, 2 and 3 under K-5 below.
2. Convert the area under the gym into a pre-vocational facility or construct new facilities.

5. Renovate and remodel existing facilities as suggested under No. 4 below.
6. Provide additional toilets.
7. The entire site should be developed and landscaped.
8. Convert the library into a playroom for elementary children.
9. Construct a library, a combination lecture-laboratory science room, a typing room, a music room, and remodeled.

12. Instructional media center by converting the auditorium.
13. Classrooms-when two are converted to one kindergarten.
14. Cafeteria.

17. Facilities needed on a comparative basis for K-8 and K-5 are as follows:

Grades K-8 - Enrollment: 718

In order to accommodate the pupils in grades K-8 on a comparative basis with middle school facilities which could be provided in a new plant, along with primary and intermediate facilities, the existing plant should be renovated and remodeled and additional building added as follows:

1. Art laboratory.
1. Music room-instrumental and general music.
- 3 science rooms.

Undefeated Loudon Adds Harriman To List Of Victims, 28-12

The Loudon Redskins have added Region Two contender Harriman to their list of victims in a bid to repeat as the "AA" State Champions.

The Redskins fashioned a grueling ground attack which produced 245 yards of real estate and four touchdowns in clubbing the Blue Devils 28-12.

Loudon quarterback Greg Deatridge scored twice and Mike Lambert and Marlon Brown each contributed TD's. Harriman tallied once in the second and fourth quarters. The upper minded Blue Devils matched Loudon play for play in the first quarter. The Redskins gained a first down on their first series but a 14 yard punt gave Harriman satisfactory field position at their own 38.

Harriman, mixing a passing attack and running game, moved to the Loudon 37 before bouncing a fourth down punt out of bounds at the Loudon one yard line.

Loudon was able to advance the football to the nine yard line before returning the ball with a 32 yard punt. But in the process the Redskins dropped a warrior in junior guard Steve Lyle. The fine lineman who had developed into a stellar performer on offense replacing a void in the Loudon ranks hit hardest by spring graduation Lyle, stood up in a straight ahead blocking effort by the Harriman defense, was caught from behind and then offensive play Junior Rowland, who had a field night on defense for the Redskins, recovered at Blue Devil tumbler at the Harriman down on their first series but a 14 yard punt gave Harriman satisfactory field position at their own 38.

senior work horse had 110 yards on 25 carries and was a trojan on the defensive side of the ledger as well.

Junior Rowland was a defensive stalwart along with linebacker Dickie Colvin and safety Bumper Webster.

Jeff Nichols and Steve Harrison received a high grade following the grading of the game film on Monday.

Steve Hill, Marlon Brown, and Harrison also was credited with key blocks on offense.

Rick Melton finished with an offensive figure of 72 yards on eight carries and Greg Deatridge had his top night in rushing with 44 yards on 14 keeps of the football.

Freddie Starritt moved the chains 19 yards, all in the fourth period.

Carter Cardwell directed Loudon's final touchdown that put the game far out of reach.

Calling All Booster Club Members!!!

What has happened to the Loudon Athletic Booster Club? The organization which came to life in the final days of the Loudon drive to the state "AA" football championship and raised close to $5000 in a two week period so to send the Loudon gridlers to the Sugar Bowl has not been heard of in some time.

The "charter members" might ought to be getting their gab together. Loudon needs to win only two of their next three regular season football games to again be eligible for the state playoffs.

Should the Redskins prevail again as defending champions, it would be assured this 1975 club would expect fair treatment of the 1983 playoff champs that attended the Gator Bowl and the New Orleans trip last New Year's.

The Redskins have two remaining home games and an open date that could be used in a fund raising effort. Hence not waiting for a last week decision of how best should the 1975 team be possibly honored.

And if Loudon does not successfully defend the "AA" title then what money is actually in hand could be used to renovate the press box for the 1976 season or upgrade the stadium in some way. Money left over could be placed on account for future needs in the Loudon Athletic Program.

At any rate the time for a meeting, chili supper, membership drive or the like is now while the rest of the football season is still in flower.

taking over for a sick Greg Deatridge and smoothly winning over Harriman and paying it. The win was Loudon's sixth of the season and 20th in a row.

LOUDON 28 HARRIMAN 12

BROWN HAS BUSY GAME—Loudon's Marlon Brown is finding the late season demands a real chore. The bruising 210 pound fullback got the call on 25 offensive snaps Friday night and responded with his second 100 yard plus performance in two weeks.

PULLS AWAY—Loudon's Rick Melton, who had a clutch running performance against a hard tackling Harriman defense Friday night, pulls away from a host of Blue Devil tacklers to advance the football for the Redskins.

fell on by other linemen which in turn tore the ligaments in his left knee.

The injury required surgery over the weekend and Lyle will be lost until spring practice. Gary Brown (220 pound sophomore) or Junior Rowland (a 230 pound junior) are expected to fill the position for the remainder of the season.

Meanwhile Harriman staged a 25 yard, eight play drive that came to a stirring end at the Loudon one yard stripe. The Redskins throwing up a four down goal line stand on the stout defensive efforts of Harriman's Rowland, Dickie Colvin, Steve Hill, Jeff Nichols, Marlon Brown, and Sam Theop.

The emotional turn around was most apparent as Loudon controlled the second quarter clock. A 15 play, 99 yard touchdown drive, that consisted of six minutes on the clock gave Loudon the lead at 7-0. Greg Deatridge scored the touchdown from the two yard line and Marlon Brown was perfect on the conversion.

Marlon Brown, becoming the "horse" of the punishing Loudon ground attack, carried the ball on eight snaps in the drive and gained 35 tough yards.

Rick Melton, who makes things doubly tough on opposing would-be tacklers had two outside dashes for 43 yards.

Harriman was completely demoralized on their first offensive snap following Loudon's TD as Mike Lambert alertly grabbed a deflected pass and returned it 40 yards for Loudon's second touchdown in just a time span of 41 seconds.

Harriman still managed to tighten the range before intermission as they almost scored on a 83 yard pass reception and run. Only a tremendous defensive save by senior safety Bumper Webster was the speeding ball carrier dragged down at the Loudon 18.

Nevertheless the Blue Devils punched the ball into the end zone in five plays with just 15 seconds left in the half.

The two point conversion pass was off target. Harriman took the second half kickoff but on their first down markers in the scoring march. Harriman struck pay dirt from its one.

Loudon promptly gained excellent field position on a on-side kick and set out on a seven play scoring drive to match the Harriman score.

From the Harriman 48, Freddie Starritt and rugged Marlon Brown to go into the end zone from the one with just 15 seconds left in the game. Brown getting both the TD and extra point.

The win almost gives Loudon a clear shot at making the Region Two playoffs. Harriman, Cleveland, and McMinn Central are all saddled with two or more losses and are the challengers threatening the Redskins' chances.

Marlon Brown exhibited a great performance, his second in as many weeks, both on offense and defensively. The HEAD ON CRASH—Loudon defensive backs Greg Deatridge (17) and Bumper Webster (30) put the clamps on Harriman receiver Barry Oody (15) following a 14-yard pass reception during the first quarter of Friday night's game.

HARRIMAN STANDOUT—Harriman junior speedster Val Barksdale (22) tries to flee the sure grip of Loudon's Greg Deatridge (12) in one of Harriman's better offensive efforts. Barksdale set the tempo for the Harriman attack. Loudon's Steve Harrison (66) is in pursuit of the play.

Football Teams Receive Warning

A Madisonville man was bound to the Loudon County Grand Jury Friday on a felonious assault charge which grew out of an assault on a football official following a game between the Loudon and Madisonville midget football games Saturday, Oct. 4.

The fan, reportedly upset with the officiating in one of the Volunteer Midget Football Conference games between the schools stopped an official leaving the game and struck him.

Kenny Everett, an official in the Loudon Quarterback Club, sponsor of the Loudon teams, said that Dan Wicks, secretary of the Conference, issued a release warning fans, parents, players and coaches to conduct themselves as spectators at the contests or face possible actions by the conference.

The act Saturday night has resulted in the Madisonville teams having to forfeit all their games for the entire season, eliminating them from any play-off games and bowl games.

Wicks said actions of fans or coaches could result in suspension and such acts means the youngsters on the teams suffer the consequences. He urged everyone to cooperate with game officials because there could not be a program without them.

Football Contest Packs Surprises

Kingston over McMinn Central, Farragut over Carter and Meigs County over Sweetwater was a surprise to most contestants in the weekly Herald Football Contest, but three entries had all the eligible games correct.

The Church Hill and Goodlettsville game was not used in the grading because it was played on Thursday night.

The tie-breaker, Loudon 23, Harriman 12, for a 40 point tiebreaker decided the winners.

Two people share the first and second combined cash winnings and receive $10 each.

With 35 points on the tie breaker were Myrtle Robertson of Perry Street in Loudon and Steve Loggers, Jr. of Philadelphia. Also with all games correct and a 31 point tie-breaker was David McCallie, Watson Street in Loudon. He wins $5.

Winners may pick up their cash prizes at The Herald office.

The last half of the Contest season begins this week with 10 of the top high school games in the area awaiting the picks of those who wish to enter and try for the $25 in weekly cash.

Knoxville Halls Trims LC 12-0

The Lenoir City Panthers bobbed the football eight times last Friday night and had a bad snap on a fourth down punt which all contributed to a 12-0 homecoming loss to Knoxville Halls.

Lenoir City lost four of its eight fumbles.

To add to the misery of the game many Panther patrons and athletic officials left the referees may have been too lax in their judging of the contest.

At any rate the Panthers suffered their fifth loss in six outings.

The Panthers took the opening kickoff but kept the ball only three snaps as a third down fumble turned the ball over to the visitors.

Knoxville Halls was able to penetrate only to the Panther 38 as Benny Goley, Herbert Sartin, Bill Burris, Jeff Stamps and others threw up a iron defense.

Lenoir City could do no right as they lost their second fumble in as many series at the 48. The Red Devils cashed run attempt by Panther punter Wendell Behele from his own end zone.

Behele was tackled at his own one yard line. Three plays later Halls had added six more points on the scoreboard and led 12-0. The Panther defensive charge again stopped the conversion attempt.

The Panther miseries followed into the second half. Normally a second half team

The Panthers made their deepest march into Halls territory on their next possession. Driving the ball to the Red Devil 34, a fumble again wiped away any thoughts of scoring as the visitors took over at their own 37.

A hardy drive in the Panther six yard line was finally contained by the bend but don't break defense of the Panthers.

But the Panthers, with backs to the wall, were unable to escape their own goal line. A fourth down punt snap was rushed and the result was a

Cherokees In Final Home Game

The Greenback Cherokees will close out their 1973 home football slate Friday night with a 7:30 p.m. invasion of Townsend.

The Cherokees are 3-3 for the season with four games left on their schedule. The team is finally three being on the road, a slight favorite.

"We will be at near peak potential for this one," says Coach Keith Bailey. "Rick Russell is off his crutches and will dress out for the game. He will see some action I guess, depending on how practice goes this week."

Neither Greenback or Townsend stands a chance of winning the conference or making the playoffs. Thus the game will stand much on tradition of school rivalry. The Cherokees would like to end the home stand with a victory and hopefully tack on four straight before basketball season. The Cherokees will be a slight favorite.

Loudon hosts Knoxville Young in an 8 p.m. blood-letting.

The Yellowjackets are said to have 11 of the best athletes in Knoxville and their record of 1974 (eight wins and two losses) and a 5-2 work sheet is very respectable.

Young Coach John Clabo, in his 27th season, has nine starters and 12 lettermen back from 1974. Linebacker-guard Theron Jenkins is tabbed as one of the top linemen in the state. Senior fullback Bobby Green will carry the offensive hopes of the Young High attack.

Young plays three triple-A teams this fall and has a tough schedule from start to end. Nevertheless the teams has equal size to Loudon and will certainly pose a threat to their 20 game winning streak, less in the state.

Technique, Sound Fundamental Training, Key To Ratledge's Coaching Marks

By Danny Gibson, Sports Editor

"Antiestablishmentarianism" is our longest word, but it will never describe the coaching legend of Loudon's head football coach Bert "Chig" Ratledge.

Not many people in the world can rightfully state themselves a living legend. For one reason most of those who are so widely known and remembered are since departed. Few live to really enjoy the contributions and pleasures they brand into our busy and speeding society as we know it today.

But not Loudon's Bert Ratledge. "Chig", to most, he is one of the most noted high school football authorities in the Southland.

Tennessee grid coaches always try to stay close to Coach Ratledge when he is present at a coaching clinic. Few miss his lectures if he is on the clinic program. His knowledge is unmeasurable in football. He makes no fanfare of his abilities and success as a head football coach. He's been known to be more devilish than his rowdiest of players, still he is admired by the youngest of football fans and to the most critical of elders.

Coach Ratledge in 19 years as a head coach, all at his high school alma mater, Loudon, has one of the top records in the entire state.

Ratledge has won 121 games and his teams have lost only 66. Nine games ended in ties. Three games still remain on the current regular season.

Coach Ratledge has never suited up for a varsity football game in his entire life. Never knew the thrill of scoring a touchdown, never wiped out an opposing would-be tackler with a stand-out block or made a game saving tackle. But the "master" has taught the fundamentals and principles of football to countless young men that have journeyed through the scene at Loudon High School since 1957. His impression on their lives and the respect from the community itself, makes him stand tall among the giants of men.

Coach Ratledge's story is still a very active one and many more chapters will certainly be added before his coaching days and memories are put on the shelf for a guide to aid young coaches of the future.

Nevertheless, Coach Ratledge, who is presently enjoying one of his preeminent coaching feats in football, has not always been on top.

Ratledge took over the head football duties at Loudon in 1957 following a year as Redskins assistant. Loudon won but three in 1956. In his first year as "the chief" Loudon rolled to a 9-2 record.

He had but one winning campaign in his next four seasons. But in 1962 the Redskins went 11-0 and followed in 1963 with a 10-1 mark. Only an 11th game loss to Kingston (26-6) halted what still stands as Ratledge's longest winning streak of 21 games.

Loudon standouts of that era were quarterback Butch Crabtree and halfback Raymond Stamey. End Bill Lane and linemen Jerry Lawhorn (center) and tackle Jerry Trout were also instrumental in the long string of victories.

Ratledge rebuilt the Redskins program from a disappointing 1960 showing into five consecutive years of winning teams.

The 1966 team (7-4) held its opponents scoreless for 23 straight quarters. From the second half of the Bluewood game to the second quarter of Loudon's first game ever played on Dukes Field, hosting Marville, the defense was unyielding as it stymied every scoring avenue.

Loudon ran off an impressive 16-1 state prior to 1969 when the TSSAA adopted the playoff system, classifying schools "A", "AA", and "AAA" by enrollment. The Redskins, despite facing four triple-A teams in 1969, captured the "AAA" State Championship with a 11-0 record. Kingston tied the Redskins 7-7 after seven consecutive wins.

A near miss of the playoffs in 1970 was to be Loudon's last blaze of glory for a couple of seasons. But the underclassmen of 1972 were not to be denied of bringing Ratledge and Loudon back to the headlines of every newspaper across the state. By 1974 the tide had turned. Loudon reeled off 12 straight wins without a loss. A double-A state championship flag once again draped the halls of Loudon High School.

And in 1975, still to be completed, the Redskins have retained to buckle and presently hold a perfect 6-0 season record.

A win Friday night against Knoxville Young would equal Coach Ratledge's best effort, 21 consecutive victories. Not since 1973's 12-3 loss to Marville has the Redskins failed to show up in the victory column.

The current Redskin edition wants more than anything to be "remembered" to their coach as the team to farther that winning record and if possible give him and Loudon High School another first for any Redskin team, back-to-back state titles.

Coach Ratledge who prefers the quiet life and stands in the shadows of his many honors and coaching achievements is still a young man in the coaching ranks. He continues to stay ahead of the times in developing team after team. His players believe in him, the alumni praise him, his opponents continue to be awed by him. A "lucky" Loudon looks strong and bright as their football program of the future hinges on a man many feel is a "living legend" far ahead of his time and certainly a wise and respected leader in his profession of life. His technique and quest to find new ideas of the game are a thrust to his football artistry.

He gingerly awaits afternoon football practice, the game on Friday night's, and the hopes to better his team's showing for still another game or another season.

Walland Hurdles Cherokee Upset Bid 32-12

The Greenback Cherokees hosted the state's fourth ranked Class A power Walland Friday night with the visitors tearing loose for a 32-12 decision.

The Cherokees, considered by many as the last major region of glory for a couple of seasons. But the underclassmen of 1972 were not to be denied of bringing Ratledge and Loudon back to the headlines of every newspaper across the state. By 1974 the tide had turned. Loudon reeled off 12 straight wins without a Randy Evans hauled the ensuing kickoff back 63 yards and a 26 yard pass to Hawkins had the Cherokees camped on the Walland eight yard line. Kizer, came right back to find Hawkins on an eight yard aerial and a touchdown with 1:31 left in the half.

Walland is unbeaten now in six games.

The Indians kicked off to Greenback and then promptly forced a punting situation. Walland then hammered out a 77 yard scoring drive that took 16 plays and all but 3:30 of the first quarter clock.

Walland struck again with just 43 seconds showing on the clock in the opening period on a 43 yard run from scrimmage.

Greenback finally got their first first down of the night on a 17 yard pass from Kizer to Harold Hawkins.

The Cherokees were unable to go offensively and Walland almost broke the game wide

Paul will be joined by his wife and two children in Knoxville as soon as housing arrangements are made.

Walland came out the second half with scoring on their minds. A 48 yard run on the first snap of the third quarter moved the ball inside the Greenback 15. Three plays later the score read 26-4.

Steve Linginfelter claimed a Walland fumble mid-ways of the quarter and Kizer unloaded a 47 yard bomb on the Indians to Hawkins to cut the score to 26-12.

The last 18 minutes of the game became a defensive tussle with both teams making mistakes that halted drives. Jimmy Brooks recovered a fumble for Greenback in the final period but the Cherokees gave the ball back on a pass interception.

Walland finished the night with a last minute touchdown on a five yard run capping a 17 yard drive.

Roddy Kizer led Greenback in rushing with 22 yards on five carries. The Cherokees were unable to establish a ground attack and had to pass to advance the ball. Harold Hawkins had six pass receptions for 112 yards and two touchdowns. Danny Dotson was the top defensive player with a 75 tackle performance. Eric Belcher also had another standout game with 13 tackles. Dotson and Belcher lead the Cherokees through six games with 71 and 69 tackles respectively. Steve Linginfelter, Bobby Smith, Mitch Smith, Stanley Bressaire, Harold Hawkins, and Roger Hampton made the bulk of the team stops in the Walland loss.

CAPITOL COMMENTARY BY M. LEE SMITH

(c) 1975, M. Lee Smith & Associates

During the legislative session last spring a coalition composed mostly of Republicans and conservative Democrats succeeded in stopping legislation to provide for the recognition of public employee labor unions.

Proponents of this legislation who include Governor Ray Blanton, the Tennessee State Labor Council, and the Tennessee Municipal League are expected to renew their effort next year.

Courts have repeatedly held that public employees, like their counterparts in the private sector, have a constitutional right to join labor unions. But state and local governments are not required to recognize and bargain with labor unions in the absence of a statute.

The pending legislation—while prohibiting the right to strike—would define unfair labor practices, provide for collective bargaining, establish a mediation board, and set out impasse solutions.

The Blanton administration bill on this subject was drafted by a UT Law School professor and introduced in the General Assembly without input from the Tennessee State Labor Council or the Tennessee Municipal League. It was never actively pushed by administration floor leaders and never got out of a standing committee in either house.

Subsequent to introduction of the Blanton bill, two other provisions are not effective. In Kansas City 200 fires occurred during a four-day walkout by 500 firemen. The mayor said union members deliberately set some of the fires, an accusation that was sharply denied by the union. The New York strike resulted in blocked bridges and garbage piled high in the street where it was set ablaze. These and other similar events can only reinforce the opposition to public employee union recognition. And it is expected the coalition of Republicans and conservative Democrats will prevail once again in the coming session. (c) 1975, M. Lee Smith & Associates.

back officers and when they serve on juries they have to give strong sentences. This brings me to the point of this letter. In this term of court, a man was convicted of concealing stolen property. The officers worked many hours on this case. The merchandise was in the man's home by officers who had a valid search warrant. As I said, the man was found guilty of receiving and concealing stolen merchandise by 12 of his peers.

They also gave him his sentence—one day in the county jail. What does that say to the people of this county—or should I say, what does that tell the thieves of this county? Larry Propps, Deputy Sheriff Loudon County.

Sincerely,
W.N. Calvert, III,

Illiteracy Rate Here 11.9 Percent

What adjustments, if any, will have to be made in Loudon County to conform with Federally-mandated changes in election procedures, enacted this year, to aid voters who have language difficulties? How many are there in the local area who have trouble voting intelligently because of an inadequate grasp of English?

Many of the problems that led to the 1973 amendments to the Voting Rights Act stemmed from the relaxation of immigration restraints in 1965. It resulted in a big increase in the number of foreign-born in this country. Most of them have adapted, or are adapting, to their new surroundings and to the language. Some still need help, however. Essentially, the special assistance comes into play states the Department of Justice, in places where more than five percent of the citizens of voting age are members of a single-language minority and where the illiteracy rate is higher than the national average. In such cases, the communities are being required to furnish bi-lingual election materials and special manofors - calling places.

The Missing Vitamin Ray O. Jones

Walking through a drug store I noticed a long counter filled with bottles of vitamins. There were Vitamins A to Z in various colors and shapes. I looked for a bottle of Vitamin P but I searched in vain. You don't find Vitamin P in a drug store. Vitamin P does not come in bottles, boxes or cellophane.
Vitamin P is found only in people. Everyone has this vitamin, even though they may not use it. Without Vitamin P people become discouraged, weary, sad, and even emotionally ill. You will never meet a person who does not need Vitamin P. Whether you are big or little, tall or short, fat or skinny, rich or poor, educated or uneducated, you need Vitamin P. Vitamin P is so important that one man said that if he could afford it, he would hire a professional Vitamin P pusher.
What is Vitamin P? It is the Vitamin of Praise. Praise to human ears is like organ music to the soul. Praise can mean the difference between success and failure, life or death. Praise is never out of season. It is needed all year round. A little praise goes a long way. And it's a toss-up as to who gets the most out of Vitamin Praise, the giver or the hearer.
Vitamin P works miracles! Praise would transform the office, shop, school, home, or church. Praise would add to every relationship what salt adds to food. Praise builds morale, mends broken friendships, dissolves hatred, encourages sagging spirits, and rekindles enthusiasm in the heart. Each person is responsible to produce and market Vitamin P. When you disagree with someone and make someone happy, you are made happier too. You would be surprised what Vitamin P would do for you, to say nothing of what it would do to the person to whom you give it. The Bible says, "Praise is beautiful" (Ps. 38:1). You can't praise God without having praise for your brother.

are successful in establishing identity. Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

BACK IN THE

We have created a lot of interest these past few weeks about our comments around the Civil War events, and we have a picture this week, which has historical connections with the Revolutionary War. This is a picture of a house off Highway 96 near Jackson Bend. It is the James Wylie home. This area was the burial ground of Revolutionary soldiers. James Wylie is the only known Revolutionary soldier buried in Loudon County.

Many stories have been told about the old house through the years. It was called a haunted house. During the slavery days one of the slaves went berserk and cut off the head of another slave and hung it on a fodder pole in the field, which is possibly where it got the haunted house reputation.

In our digging into the civil war realm with our search for missing links, such as pictures and family accounts, we have been able to find out some things. Maybe not valuable as historical events, but some the less, interesting, whether absolutely factual or not. We would like to be able to continue this in conjunction with our 150th Centennial celebration next year. Maybe, with the help of our readers, we can come up with some interesting bits of information, fact or fiction, which will further our areas in this area of our local history. Our efforts are not to upstage those who have worked hard to establish accurate accounts. We are always grateful to the wives of the Daughters of the American Revolution for compiled information about our area history and to Ed McQueen, our County Historian and friend.

We were talking to Ralph (China) Presley the other day and we were reflecting on our childhood days in Loudon. Our families were always close. My brother, Bob, the radio bug and the late Cliff Presley, China's brother, were very close friends and spent many hours of their boyhood days working on some electronic project either at the Presley home or the Lunsford home. As is the case, whenever we talk to our childhood pals, we always wonder what happened to all those years. It seems they have passed so very fast and we are left with aches and pains of growing old and a lot of memories.

Our other picture this week is one which was taken in Loudon many years ago. This statement is made on the word of someone else. We can't recall the house but maybe some of our readers can help us to pinpoint it.

We don't know who the young lady is either. Her identity might shed some light on where the house was located or who owned it. We are using it on request of one of our readers. We are always glad to use pictures passed on to us. Many times we don't know anything about the pictures but many times we

County Eyes Two New Tax Revenues

The Loudon County Court Legislative Committee Tuesday night discussed the possibility of private acts enacting a wheel tax and a really transfer tax as ways of increasing revenue to the county for funding the upcoming school building program. Also discussed at length was a private act to reorganize the county road department.

The committee was headed by Squire R.P. Hamilton with Squires Jim Blair and Curtis Williams as members. Judge William Russell and Administrative Assistant Randy McGill participated in the meeting.

The committee had reports from the state on possible ways to raise needed funds without raising the property tax. Two of the most popular with the committee was the wheel tax, where each motor vehicle in the county would be taxed annually and the really transfer tax, which is due when the owner of the property transfers the property to another person.

The state estimates the really transfer tax, charged at a rate of 3-10ths of one percent of the value of the property sold, would bring in over $100,000 per year. Depending on the amount of the wheel tax it could bring in from $77,500 to $10,000 a year. The break down furnished by the state was $5 would produce $77,500; $10 tax would create $135,000; $15 would bring in $232,500 and $20 brings $310,000.

The committee asked that the county judges office prepare possible private acts on the two measures to be considered by the committee later before taking them to the county court for approval before being sent to the state legislature in January. Judge Russell and Mr. McGill also said that the state thinks the county is not collecting all the taxes it is due from various businesses due from existing legislation. Judge Russell said he felt that the county was missing out on $250,000 a year because the various offices that collect them are not enforcing the laws. One that was discussed at length was the business tax act. Last year the county collected only $39,000 in business tax. It was felt that strict enforcement of the act by taking the gross receipts reports from the state sales tax, and computing what was due from various businesses the county would collect several times that amount.

The reports also indicated that if each county office will be more efficient in their use of county funds another

Langley Appointed Ambulance Director

Mike Langley, who had been acting director of the Loudon County Ambulance Service for about a month, since the resignation of Bill Sweet, was named permanent director of the service last Wednesday.

Langley, 30, a native of Harrison, who graduated from Loudon High School in 1961 has been associated with the Loudon County Ambulance Service since April of 1973. Before that he had been with the Roane County Ambulance Service since December of 1971.

A certified Emergency Medical Technician, Langley will direct the operations of the Loudon County service. He heads a staff of 10 men, who operate three ambulances from the Loudon County Justice Center.

Langley is married to the former Janice Turner of Harrison. They have three sons, Mike, 8, Brad, 7 and Dusty, 2. The family resides at 132 Pathkiller Trail in Loudon.

The director took training at the Harrison Hospital, Knoxville Vocational School and various other schools given training in emergency care. He has taught courses in care of heart patients at various schools, red cross classes, hospital and nursing homes. Before joining the Roane Ambulance Service he was employed seven years by Burlington Industries in Harrison.

After his appointment last week, Langley announced that he had appointed a member of his staff, Doug Easter, as coordinator of in-service training for the Loudon County staff. The in-service training is required by the Emergency Medical Service to keep personnel certified by the state. He said Easter would establish a series of classes in the near future for the staff.

Langley also said that there are plans to add another ambulance to the fleet now operated by the county. He said that the number of calls answered by the service is running about 120 per month, but has sharply increased since October. He has already in October they have answered over 90 calls.

Action Promised On Stockton Valley Road

After a meeting with officials of the Tennessee Department of Highways, Loudon County Road Commissioners, residents of Stockton Valley and other county officials Thursday, State Representative Anna Belle Clement O'Brien said she would make a concerted effort to get the state to speed up to rebuild Stockton Valley Road in the fourth district of Loudon County.

State road officials Bob Patton, Bill Wilson and Carl Robbins were in Loudon to meet with the Road Commissioners, County Judge William Russell and others on the realignment of the Federal Aid Primary and Federal Aid Secondary Road programs.

The realignment basically shows that certain roads, principal collectors and major collectors will remain eligible for FAS and FAP funds and all other roads not designated will be ineligible for future funds. The men said overall road conditions in the county will remain the same, the county will not lose any money by the changes, but the designation of the roads will be different.

Examples given were that Cedar Fork Road in the 4th district and Hines Valley Road in the 5th, and the Greenback section of old 95 will be removed from eligibility. Other roads such as Griggood, Fork Creek and Sugar Limb will be added to the systems.

Although, as Mr. Robbins explained, the purpose of the

Loudon Discusses Water Line Extension To I-75

Loudon City Council met with the Loudon Utilities Board and owners of property at the I-75 and State Highway 72 interchange Monday night to discuss extending city water lines to serve the interchange area.

Loudon Utilities Board Chairman W.F. Zimmerman presented the Council with a policy of his board concerning the extending of water to the interchange. The policy requires a deposit $24,000 to run a eight inch water line to the interchange. The utilities said the cost of the line would be $60,000. Of the $24,000, which is proposed to be levied against the four corner properties at the interchange, the proposal indicates the property owners could get about half their investment back. The two corners on the southeast side would be levied $5,000 each and the northwest corner $7,000 each. An additional $3,000 would be charged for a two inch tap and meter. The remainder of the proposal is as follows: "If each corner is contracted, the allocated cost (above determined) plus $300.00 tap fee shall be paid, and this allocated cost shall be paid by the Board to the user making the deposit of a $24,000."

(2) For a distance of 400 feet from the right of way of I-75, on either side thereof, excluding the four corner locations, any connection within said 400 feet will require a deposit of $2,500. On the connection made from four corners, plus a $400 fee. Beyond the 400 ft. connection set out above, any connection made during the period the construction is underway, the water tap will be $100 per 100 foot frontage and after construction has been completed the water tap will be $300.

"(3) All water taps shall be used for more than one user and be for only one user, and all materials and costs on the property to the property line shall be at the expense of the landowner, lessee or renters, and not an expense of Loudon Utilities."

"(4) No water line may be used for more than one user in one location, and upon violation services shall immediately be stopped and the water meter removed.

"(5) No applications will be accepted until there is an initial application with deposit of $24,000, exclusive of the tap fee for one of the four corners of the intersection." Chairman Zimmerman said that the $5,000 depositors may get as much as $2,500 of their deposit back as the use of the line grows. The $7,000 depositors could get back $3,000.

Landowners Bill Hildreth, Jim Hamilton, Doug Gray, H.C. P and Edw. Treasler were at the meeting.

The property owners felt that they would participate in funding the project, but felt the utility board was asking the four corner property owners to pay a higher share than they should. Mr. Hamilton felt that if the base were spread out, letting property owners further back than 400 participate in higher

DST Ends Sunday

Don't forget! This weekend the nation returns to Standard Time after six months on Daylight Savings Time. The change actually takes place at 2 a.m. Sunday, but to save your clocks a hazy hour when you retire Saturday night.

This means if you retire at 11 p.m. set your clock back to 10 p.m. and then get an extra hour of sleep before getting up for church Sunday. On the other end of the day you will find it gets dark an hour earlier.

All special legislation that extended daylight saving in an effort to help cope with the energy crisis has not expired and no action is expected as further changes.

The county experimented two years ago with year-around daylight savings time, but then congress last year restored standard time for four months, responding to arguments that energy savings were minimal and winter-time daylight saving time was hard on school children and others.

This legislation has not been extended. The basic law is now in effect, providing standard time all areas from the last Sunday in October to the last Sunday in April.

UF Drive At 61 Percent

Loudon County's United Fund Drive continues to set a record pace in its quest of raising $1,688 for the 15 member agencies.

UF Drive Chairman Miss Rachel Huff reported that new pledges and donations totaling over $1,600 were received at the weekly report meeting held Monday at Loudon Junior High School. To date the campaign has raised $11,851.22, which is 61 percent of the goal.

New money reported at the meeting was as follows: Smith Chair Company $1,000; Corporation $2107; Maremont $144; Charles H. Bacon Lenoir City $425; Charles H. Bacon Company Loudon $1,200.25; Union Carbide Oak Ridge $3,061; Union Carbide Loudon $2,300; Lenoir City business $1477; Lenoir City residential $177.70; Loudon business $204.50; Loudon residential $151; Eaton-Dixie Lee $172.

Among the residential workers that have completed their areas are Mrs. William Jones.

The next report meeting will be held at Sig's Restaurant at 12:45 Monday.

Two Hurt At Tellico Dam

Two Tennessee Valley Authority employees were injured about 4:50 p.m. Thursday when the Tellico Dam construction bridge was riding in plunged off a construction bridge at the Tellico Dam construction site.

Injured were the driver of the 35 ton dump truck, James Earl Carroll, 40, of Kingston, and Robert L. Johnston, 32, of Maryville.

Both men were thrown from the truck into deep mud below the bridge. The truck came to rest over the mud, but Loudon County Ambulance Service personnel were able to remove them within 15 minutes.

After treatment at Loudon County Memorial Hospital both were taken to University Hospital in Knoxville. Carroll sustained a skull fracture and other head injuries. Johnston had a fractured pelvis and dislocated elbow.

Robbins cannot work miracles, but wishes he could do so this one time.

Philadelphian Mayor and fourth district squire Roy Robbins asked if the county could borrow money to construct the road and then be repaid when state funds were available. Robbins said that road funds could not be anticipated and such an act had been ruled illegal.

At lunch Thursday, Mrs. O'Brien met privately with Road Commissioners Lee Malone, Joe Greenway and Erik Millsaps to discuss several road projects in the county and get their feelings on highway related legislation.

Later that afternoon she held private conferences with the district at the Philadelphia Branch of the Hamilton National Bank.

Once upon a time, it was probably true that "women's work was never done"—especially in kitchen. But today, breakfast, luncheon or dinner—formal or casual—any meal comes quickly together with the help of modern appliances and convenience foods. And the versatile sandwich meal stars as perhaps the easiest and quickest of all.

Sandwich meals can save time, energy and money; yet provide the nutrition everyone needs for vacation time or school.

SANDWICH MEALS FOR BUSY PEOPLE

Sandwich meals fit into the busy pattern of today's living for everybody. They cut down on kitchen time; they're quick to eat if need be; they're easily carried in a packed lunch. On the other hand, sandwiches also adapt to more leisurely dining, whether for the family on the patio, or for company.

In the array of convenience foods in today's markets, bread-enriched or whole grain—heads the list. Widely available at bake shop, food store or super market in an amazing range of types, shapes and flavors, enriched or whole grain bread provides a ready-to-use base for infinite sandwich variety.

Combined with other convenience foods, easy-to-make sandwiches offer real economy in time and energy. Sandwich meals help family budgets, too. Meals and seafoods in fillings may be extended by using in-season fruits and vegetables. Less expensive meats or canned meat or fish, properly prepared; tempt and satisfy the most discriminating appetite as easily as more expensive fillings.

The cereal protein of enriched and whole grain bread becomes complete when eaten with small amounts of more expensive animal protein. For just pennies per serving, enriched bread and rolls offer this and other nutritional advantages, plus delicate, freshly-baked flavor.

In fact, nutrition serves as a primary reason for sandwich meals. A sandwich is a meat, flavorful, easy-to-eat package of good nutrition. The enriched bread supplies generous amounts of the B-vitamins, thiamine, niacin, and riboflavin; the mineral, iron, as well as protein, calcium and food energy.

Snake Bitten Panthers Stumble To Kingston 24-0

A wet and soggy field has contributed to the Lenoir City Panther football misfortune. The Panthers bowed for the sixth time in seven games last Friday night at Kingston 24-0.

Coach Henry Blackburn's gang was once again a terror on the field.

First Down	LC	K
Passes Attempted	2	8
Passes Completed	0	2
Pass Yards	0	2
Rushing Yards	61	183
Penalties	3	34
Fumbles-Lost	3-2	4-1
Time of Possession	4:26	3:28

On defensive fight and glamour, but mistakes and continual offensive bobbles provided the Yellow Jackets with enough scoring opportunities to again win here a possible triumph.

The first half was a tight defensive standoff with Kingston getting on the scoreboard for a 6-0 first period lead with only three minutes gone in the game. The Panthers lost the football on a sweep and the Kingston defense recovered at the 24.

The Yellow Jackets tallied on the first offensive snap. The scoring maneuver came on the hosts second offensive series.

The Panthers actually played well enough to win or at least forced the game to be a close one. But lack of offense at crucial times and untimely mistakes gave Kingston the edge as the game wore on.

The Panthers had one scoring threat in the first half but a fourth down Kingston punt attempt never happened as the ball sailed over the head of the kicker and was recovered at the Jackets 27. Four downs lost one yard and the Panthers were content to hold the Yellow Jackets in check until right before the half.

Steve Arnold alertly intercepted a Kingston pass and a Yellow Jacket pass in interference call moved the chains for the Panthers as they edged their way to the Kingston five yard line. But the Panthers were to get no closer despite being in Kingston territory for the biggest part of the game.

Kingston lost the football on its second offensive snap of the third quarter but Lenoir City gave the ball back in the fourth down before a fourth down pass over the punters head and rolled some 23 yards to the Lenoir City 33 before being recovered by the Jackets. It took Kingston 11 plays to wear down the gallant defensive fight put up by Lenoir City stalwarts Steve Porter, Danny Hall, Bill Burris, Tony Williamson, Herbert Sarten, and Jeff Stamps.

The next time Kingston got the ball they drove 56 yards in 10 plays with 5:37 to go in the game. The touchdown coming on a 23 yard pass.

The final Kingston touchdown followed a Lenoir City fumble at the Jackets 24. A 41 yard run and a hasty pass with only 1:30 showing and the Panthers a bit weary resulted in the final count of 24-0.

Steve Arnold with 45 yards in five carries was Lenoir City's top gainer. Jackie Hyan had 32 yards for the Panthers.

The Panthers played without the injured services of Don Mabry, Rob Keener, Kenneth Flynn, Tag Green and Benny Goley.

Central Division and Northern Division winners Kingston and Rockwood met on Nov. 1 with the winner facing the Loudon Grascutters on Nov. 8 at a site yet to be named for the 1975 Championship.

The Loudon Mustangs battled Sweetwater on even terms for three and one-half quarters before the visitors finally squeezed out a TD for a 6-0 verdict.

Louden never came closer than the Sweetwater 15 yard line where they ran out of downs.

The Loudon Indians also had their winning streak snapped by the Cats 20-0. The loss left Loudon with no better than a second place finish behind the Saturday night gridders in the division standings.

The Indians trailed by only 6-0 for much of the game but an effort to pull the game out of the fire left mistakes add to their woes and open the gates for the late game scores by the visitors for the game difference.

John Cardwell, Allen Eldridge, and Walter Henry played hard in an attempt to put some points on the board for the Indians. Steve Buchanan, Harry Brantthover, Gary Gray, Perry Purdy, Kent Everett, Cardwell, and Henry all stood out.

Redskins Need Another Victory Late Season Defeats Keeps Playoff Pictures Foggy

By Danny Gibson Sports Editor

The high school football season is moving right down to the wire with playoff berths up for grabs in almost every division and in each respective region.

The Loudon Redskins need to be the lone defending state champion to be in the win/loss three division post season class.

Defending triple-A champ, Nashville's Father Ryan, bowed to unranked Battle Ground Academy 18-14 over the past weekend. Loudon, made it 23 straight wins, as they sloshed past the Knoxville Union Region One "AA" contenders 28-6.

Brentwood, winner of Class A in 1974, has since been moved to the double-A count zone. The step does not seem to have handicapped their football play as they surge toward a Region Three playoff berth with what appears to be a loss up of three to four teams. All are 7-1 at this writing.

As for prognosticators, who like to look ahead and predict the future here is some "ifs" and "ands" that could make your crystal balls into a tizzy.

We will start with Loudon since most Loudon Countians are now starting to join the band wagon as the Redskins move closer to winning a playoff berth for the second straight year.

"But" don't get the idea the opportunity for a second straight playoff is in their bag or going to be all that easy. First of all Loudon we might remind folks just a nine game schedule. That in itself is equivalent to a loss in regard to a 10 game (normal season schedule). To win Loudon just about has to win all nine games to even be a playoff contender.

In that nine game quagmire of capable opposition two highly regarded "AA" powers, Maryville and Goodlettsville, slinked as sure "traps" to be concerned with.

Looking at Maryville first, the Red Rebels are a constant thorn to the Redskins cause. Usually the season of both "AA" powers hinge on the winning or losing of their yearly encounter. This year is no exception.

Maryville had preseason billing as the best Rebel grid unit to suit out in a quarter century of high school football. That would include both the Rebels and the Maryville teams and a state title in 1970. The Blount County Red and Gray football team found out the 1975 season was in progress after taking two jobs a loss and a tie.

The Knoxville title, snatched by the Knoxville Blue, and then the shocking 13-7 loss to Middleburg, Ky.

Maryville has since won five straight games (Crossville, Alcoa, Kingston, Maryville Everett, and Church Hill). The latest win, a 24-21 of Church Hill knocked the upper East Tennessee Region One contender out of the "AA" picture for at least another season.

A Friday night win for Maryville over Loudon would put the Rebels in grasp of making the playoffs by the skin of their teeth. It also would mean starting to join the Loudon Region Two Express Route to the playoffs.

Maryville (Nov. 7) is a repeat of the same. The Trojans are locked in a heated race with Hartsville, Brentwood, and Hickman County for playoff credentials. The Middle Tennessee and can ill afford a loss and survive the playoff out. But for that matter what team left in the 1975 football card?

Maryville is yelling for the Redskins. They would love to end the Redskins winning skid and are the choice of many to do just that.

The Redskins have tremendous team quickness. Their defense seems to come up with the big play that often times turns the football over to its offense in outstanding field position. The Maryville victories of late have been made possible through the success of the Rebel offense to move swiftly for a score following an opposing teams mistake or turnover.

A deeper look at the Maryville-Loudon rivalry sees Loudon unable to beat the Rebels on Loudon's home ground from 1962 until last year. Loudon won the game in 1974 by 20-7, they tied at Maryville in 1973 13-13, the last time a Redskin football team has lost 21 games.

Nevertheless it all boils down to just about stating that neither team can risk a defeat and that only makes the adrenaline flow more and the pressure mount higher. The cork is sure to flow Friday night.

Now hastily let's view those "ifs" and "ands" Chattanooga Notre Dame (Region Two "AA" leader) bowed for the first time Monday night to a fired up Saddy-Daisy team 35-6. The Irish must face McMinn Central and Kingston on successive Friday night's Saddy-Daisy fell to Crossville 13-0, if that means anything.

Harriman esses back into the playoff scene with three on par with Greenback, but has scored a few touchdowns and could secure some more. Nevertheless a decent effort by the Cherokees should have them scoring a lot of points.

Central are both doubtful with three losses, while Loudon needs a win to put a lock on their chances. It's still anybody's race.

Looking northward Knoxville South and Kingsport Ketter met Friday night. Both are serious contenders. The Rockets with just one loss, Ketter with two, could both meet again in the playoffs or Maryville might sneak in the back door noising out the regular season play.

South-Ketron loser? Confused? Scared? Optimistic? There's always next year!

Besides, high school basketball practice is in full scale workouts with teams logging some 10 days of drill under their belts. The hoop season will start pinching the grid season out of the spot light around November 11 as many teams tip off their regular season play.

The Redskins have tremendous team quickness. Their defense seems to come up with the big play that often times turns the football over to its offense in outstanding field position. The Maryville victories of late have been made possible through the success of the Rebel offense to move swiftly for a score following an opposing teams mistake or turnover.

A deeper look at the Maryville-Loudon rivalry sees Loudon unable to beat the Rebels on Loudon's home ground from 1962 until last year. Loudon won the game in 1974 by 20-7, they tied at Maryville in 1973 13-13, the last time a Redskin football team has lost 21 games.

Nevertheless it all boils down to just about stating that neither team can risk a defeat and that only makes the adrenaline flow more and the pressure mount higher. The cork is sure to flow Friday night.

Now hastily let's view those "ifs" and "ands" Chattanooga Notre Dame (Region Two "AA" leader) bowed for the first time Monday night to a fired up Saddy-Daisy team 35-6. The Irish must face McMinn Central and Kingston on successive Friday night's Saddy-Daisy fell to Crossville 13-0, if that means anything.

Harriman esses back into the playoff scene with three on par with Greenback, but has scored a few touchdowns and could secure some more. Nevertheless a decent effort by the Cherokees should have them scoring a lot of points.

Central are both doubtful with three losses, while Loudon needs a win to put a lock on their chances. It's still anybody's race.

Looking northward Knoxville South and Kingsport Ketter met Friday night. Both are serious contenders. The Rockets with just one loss, Ketter with two, could both meet again in the playoffs or Maryville might sneak in the back door noising out the regular season play.

South-Ketron loser? Confused? Scared? Optimistic? There's always next year!

Besides, high school basketball practice is in full scale workouts with teams logging some 10 days of drill under their belts. The hoop season will start pinching the grid season out of the spot light around November 11 as many teams tip off their regular season play.

Looking at Maryville first, the Red Rebels are a constant thorn to the Redskins cause. Usually the season of both "AA" powers hinge on the winning or losing of their yearly encounter. This year is no exception.

Maryville had preseason billing as the best Rebel grid unit to suit out in a quarter century of high school football. That would include both the Rebels and the Maryville teams and a state title in 1970. The Blount County Red and Gray football team found out the 1975 season was in progress after taking two jobs a loss and a tie.

The Knoxville title, snatched by the Knoxville Blue, and then the shocking 13-7 loss to Middleburg, Ky.

Maryville has since won five straight games (Crossville, Alcoa, Kingston, Maryville Everett, and Church Hill). The latest win, a 24-21 of Church Hill knocked the upper East Tennessee Region One contender out of the "AA" picture for at least another season.

A Friday night win for Maryville over Loudon would put the Rebels in grasp of making the playoffs by the skin of their teeth. It also would mean starting to join the Loudon Region Two Express Route to the playoffs.

Maryville (Nov. 7) is a repeat of the same. The Trojans are locked in a heated race with Hartsville, Brentwood, and Hickman County for playoff credentials. The Middle Tennessee and can ill afford a loss and survive the playoff out. But for that matter what team left in the 1975 football card?

Maryville is yelling for the Redskins. They would love to end the Redskins winning skid and are the choice of many to do just that.

Loudon Grascutters In Playoffs

The Loudon Quarterback Club sponsored Little League Football season will end this Saturday night with a road trip to Madisonville. The Madisonville games will be played in good will only as the Monroe Countians have been forced to forfeit the remaining season of play for a irritant fan striking a game official.

In games last week the Loudon teams hosted a senior leading Sweetwater and only the unbeaten Grascutters were able to achieve victory.

The Grascutters, coached by Bill Lennox, Frank Henson, and Donnie Costner, are undefeated through regular season play. They dealt Sweetwater a 29-0 setback in a fourth down Kingston Division Flag.

Brent Bright, Tim Lennox, and Derrick Hichens all scored touchdowns Saturday night. Randy Campbell passed to Byron Gable for the only two point conversion success. The Grascutter defense was outstanding as Roger Grimes paced the tackling along with noseman Roy Kizer, defensive end Coley Moore and Clayton Stamey and John Hutten.

Central Division and Northern Division winners Kingston and Rockwood met on Nov. 1 with the winner facing the Loudon Grascutters on Nov. 8 at a site yet to be named for the 1975 Championship.

The Loudon Mustangs battled Sweetwater on even terms for three and one-half quarters before the visitors finally squeezed out a TD for a 6-0 verdict.

Louden never came closer than the Sweetwater 15 yard line where they ran out of downs.

The Loudon Indians also had their winning streak snapped by the Cats 20-0. The loss left Loudon with no better than a second place finish behind the Saturday night gridders in the division standings.

The Indians trailed by only 6-0 for much of the game but an effort to pull the game out of the fire left mistakes add to their woes and open the gates for the late game scores by the visitors for the game difference.

John Cardwell, Allen Eldridge, and Walter Henry played hard in an attempt to put some points on the board for the Indians. Steve Buchanan, Harry Brantthover, Gary Gray, Perry Purdy, Kent Everett, Cardwell, and Henry all stood out.

Greenback Edges Townsend 13-6 In Game Of Turnovers

The Greenback Cherokees totaled 314 yards of total offense Monday night and got out to an easy 13-0 first quarter lead over visiting Townsend, but the momentum switched to a defensive struggle as the Cherokees settled for a 13-6 triumph.

The Cherokees, running their record to 4-3, opened the game at their own 30. Fullback Bobby Smith, showing his early season authority as a real estate agent, powered for 17 yards in two carries. Quarterback Roddy Kizer went to the pass on first down at the 47 and the result proved to be a 53 yard reception and run for a touchdown by end Lynn Rucker. The play came just 1:16 into the contest. The kick following the TD was no good.

rolled dead at the Greenback 15 yard line. The Cherokees managed to blast out of their hole as Smith tacked on a 22 yard run and Danny Dotson raced for 21 yards. A Cherokee fumble momentarily side tracked the Greenback drive. Townsend was denied a first down and Greenback constructed a seven play scoring drive of 66 yards. Bobby Smith had 36 yards on the scoring drive. Harold Hawkins caught a pass for eight yards and ran for eight more before Danny Dotson capped the drive with a 16 yard jaunt for a touchdown. Harold Hawkins point after touchdown kick was good and Greenback led 13-0. Townsend was stymied by the aggressive Cherokee defense as Eric Belcher, Bobby Smith, and Steve Linginfelter met the Tiger ball carriers at the line of scrimmage yielding nothing.

But as the second quarter got underway the Cherokees seemed to lose its offensive zip and with it the Townsend offensive came to life.

The Tigers moved to the airways, throwing a total of 25 times in the game, hit jack-pot in five downs covering 68 yards with eight minutes left in the first half. The extra point try was no good and the score read 13-6.

The game appeared set for a high scoring see-saw attraction, but the respective defenses were to step in and rule the show.

The Townsend defense swiped three of Roddy Kizer's passes and the Cherokees in turn intercepted three Townsend aeriels and recovered a clutch fumble in their own end zone in protecting their slim lead down the stretch.

Kizer lost two passes to interceptions in the latter part of the second quarter and redeemed himself with a theft of his own to end the half against the Tigers.

The kicking game suddenly became a big weapon of field position, and Greenback backed up at its own goal line got a first rate punt from co-questionable face mask penalty to spring board inside the Greenback 25 yard line. The push ended at the two yard line on a fumble recovery inside the Greenback end zone by Roddy Kizer. Frank Mitchell provided the hit that separated the ball from the ball carrier.

The Cherokees then used over half the fourth quarter clock to march 69 yards in 15 plays to the Townsend 11 yard line. The spirited drive was stopped on a pass in- to Greenback territory, but the Cherokees were unyielding and a heated rush of the Townsend quarterback late in the game forced a pass interception by Bobby Smith and Steve Linginfelter.

line. The game ended with Greenback at its own four yard line threatening to score. Bobby Smith was again the force of the Cherokees ground assault with 182 yards on 20 carries. Danny Dotson had 83 yards on 12 carries. Roddy Kizer added 16 yards rushing and was a stalwart in the Cherokee defensive secondary along with Dotson.

The game was played on Monday due to the heavy rains on Thursday night and most of Friday, making the playing field too muddy for the game. The game was also Greenback's final home game of the 1975 season.

WHO HAS IT—Greenback receiver Glen Quillen battles Townsend standout Tommy Coker (44) for possession of this Cherokee aerial but the ball was never caught as both players struggled to find the handle.

SMITH MOVES ON—Greenback throttle man Bobby Smith gained 132 yards in leading the Cherokees to a 13-6 win over Townsend Monday night.

Man Robbed At Gunpoint

A Lenoir City man, James Brummitt, reported to Loudon County deputies last week that he was robbed by two armed black men in Bone Hollow at Blacktown.

Brummitt said that he was introduced to the two men earlier and one asked to borrow money. He got out his billfold and one of the men pulled a .38 caliber pistol and took his billfold containing $330 and the keys to his truck. He said they were driving a 1968 Chevrolet with Anderson County license plates.

PREPARES TO PASS—Greenback quarterback Roddy Kizer prepares to unload a touchdown strike to receiver Lynn Rucker in first quarter activities against Townsend Monday night.

County Eyes New Tax

(Continued from Page 1) $100,000 a year can be saved. It was mentioned by Squire Curtis Williams that if the trustee would invest a larger share of county funds another $100,000 a year could be raised.

There was some mention holding a referendum in getting the voters of the county to approve another 1/2 cent sales tax which is lawful under present state laws. Both the wheel tax and the realty transfer tax would not require a referendum, just ratification by the court on a two-thirds majority.

Loudon Discusses Water Line

Mr. Fee, who plans to build three businesses at the interchange, restaurant, service station, and gift shop, wants to start construction immediately, and sees the proposal as one which already penalizes him since he is the only one of the property owners at the meeting who is currently planning development. He said if the others were not willing to participate in the deposit, he would have to put up the entire $25,000.

Mr. Gray, who owns two corners, asked if the four corner holders could pay the interest on the bond issue each year until the line developed to where the tap fees and water use would pay for the bonds. The board agreed to consider this.

FALL HARVEST—Loudon County Chief Deputy Sheriff Luke Bright and Deputy Allen Clemmer are shown harvesting a crop of marijuana that was confiscated late Sunday afternoon. The pot crop was located in a desolate wooded area about two miles down the Tennessee River from Loudon. The owners of the crop had evidently used a boat to get tools and plants to the garden. On the north side of the river the marijuana garden was cut out of heavy woodland. It appeared that the crop had been harvested with only a few dozen of what had been hundreds of plants remaining.

Clowers Home Burglarized

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Clowers, 827 Rosedale Avenue in Loudon, was broken into last week. The house was ransacked and some $495.17 in money and household items were taken, a report filed by Loudon police officer, Jesse Costner stated. Taken were six cartons of cigarettes, a jar of old silver coins, a quantity of paper money, several books of various kinds of trading stamps, a watch, four new sheets, four sets of pillow cases, two pieces of luggage and all prescription drugs in the bathroom medicine cabinet. Entrance was gained through a window on the south side of the house.

Three other cases were notified, dismissed with defendants paying court costs. They were Jerry McDonald and Mike Wallace, charged with larceny; Lorene Kay Kirkland and Donald Eugene Waldrup, possession of whiskey for resale; and Carl Cooper, attempted larceny of gasoline.

Chig Hit Reckless Lick

Mr. Larry Cate, Editor
Loudon County Herald
Loudon, Tennessee

Dear Editor:

Your recent article on the football biography of Coach Chig Rattledge was an interesting and timely account of an outstanding coach. You and your sports editor, Danny Gibson, are to be commended for this feature story. However, there was one our great Country. We are glad that once again it is being given its proper place as a symbol of sacrifice to keep us a free country.

Our other picture this week is of a couple of Loudon youngsters whom we can not identify. Someone passed this picture to us and we are using it. Maybe someone will be able to identify them for us.

We are grateful to Mrs. McJunkins for her call about a picture we had week before last and next week we will fill in the blanks with her information. Our many thanks to her for her help.

The pictures we ran a couple of weeks ago which we could not identify, we now have had help in identifying them. We have had some calls and are grateful for the help of our kind readers.

Mrs. Sam Clark called to identify the school group and said she had a list of those in this old picture which she is going to mail to us along with the name of the school. We will wait until we receive this before writing about what she told us. In the course of our conversation, we talked about Mrs. Clark's father, Charlie Jaynes, who ran a blacksmith shop in Loudon for many years.

Mr. Jaynes, who is now deceased, was a well-known craftsman during his lifetime. When I was a boy, I used to play with his son, Charles, who is also now deceased. We spent many hours in and around Mr. Jaynes' shop and he was always willing to stop what he was doing and help the boys in their wagon building.

For many years we have wanted a picture of him and his shop. Well, Mrs. Clark says she has looked for one in the family pictures and believes they have one somewhere. She says that when she finds time she will look again and if she can locate one she will let us use it. Our many thanks to her for her efforts in both of these things, which are of interest to me and our readers.

We are always so grateful to those who help in so many ways. As I have said many times, this is our column.

Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

significant factual error and one omission which should be corrected.

As high school teammates of his, we can testify that Chig has indeed "suited up" for "rarsity football games" in both football and basketball competition. Not only did he suit up, but no player who ever wore a Loudon uniform ever hit a harder and more reckless lick than Chig. In fact, these reckless licks were the cause of the termination of his varsity career. After watching him throw his 118 pounds into much larger players and being carried from the field in an unconscious state on numerous occasions, Coach McCall went to Chig's father and advised him to persuade his son to quit football before he injured himself seriously.

The significant omission referred to is no fault of yours or your writer but rather to be blamed the modesty of Coach Rattledge and a lack of communications with media on the part of the TSSAA. After last year's championship season, Chig received a letter from the TSSAA informing him that he had been selected as Tennessee's nominee for the national "Coach of the Year" award. Typically, Chig kept his notification practically secret showing it to only a few close associates and then only after extracting a promise of secrecy "which we are now violating with a relatively clear conscience."

In the interest of fairness and fact, we would be grateful if you would make these corrections and additions to your story known to your readers.

Sincerely,
Bill Blair

Korean Victims Name Not On New Memorial

An Open Letter to: American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Daughters of American Colonists.

Above is a picture of my brother who was killed in Korea on March 26, 1953. This is the original picture that was published in the Loudon County Herald. Can any of the above organizations explain to me why his name should not appear on the Memorial Plaque which was erected in the lawn of the court yard here in Loudon? Read the inscription under his picture very carefully, and then tell me he should be forgotten!

A letter was written to Nashville and this matter was supposed to be straightened out. J. W. Goeller, CPT, AUS Retired Chief, War Records Division, had my brother's name entered on all appropriate documents pertaining to the war dead, and this was sent here.

The Memorial Plaque has already been erected and the names inscribed upon it. My brother's name is not on the plaque, and I think this is very degrading, disrespectful and an insult to the family and to my brother's memory.

We were told that they would hold off on the inscription of the Plaque until my brother's name reached them. Seems as if that promise was broken? Why was the plaque inscribed without his name? Seems to me a promise means very little if anything to some people. Does two wrongs make a right?

My brother was a volunteer, not a draftee. He also volunteered to go to Korea to defend and protect his Country. He thought so much of his Country that he gave his life for it.

The draft dodgers get plenty of publicity and their names in the papers, but the good citizens of the noted clubs of Loudon cannot even have my brother's name inscribed upon the Memorial Plaque on the lawn of the Loudon County Courthouse.

I think it's a shame and disgrace for a thing like this to have happened. It is not right for his name to be forgotten or overlooked by the county, State, or Country. I want to see his name inscribed on the Memorial Plaque; that's only right, fair, and honest.

I hope the responsible person or persons will read this and straighten this matter out. If they have a heart or any feelings at all, they will see that the right thing is done and

Nashville Error Reason For Malone Omission

After the receipt of the above letter concerning the omission of Joe Malone's name from the memorial plaque on the new war memorial, The Herald made an effort to get the matter explained.

A letter on file in the office of the County Judge from H. W. Goeller, Chief of the War Records Division of the Military Department of Tennessee, which is also referred by Mrs. Mildred Malone Gray in her letter, indicates that until the time Mrs. Gray inquired about the matter the name of her brother who was killed in the Korean Conflict, was not on the official list of war dead from Loudon County.

The letter says that a search very soon.

It is also learned that a second name had not been included on the plaque, because it too had been omitted from the list supplied by the War Records Division of the files turned up the death card of the Marine, and at that time (following the letter from Mrs. Gray) the proper recording of the young man's death was recorded.

In a telephone call Monday Captain Goeller said it was not the fault of the Loudon County Committee that the original list sent to the county did not include the name of Mr. Malone, that his department at the time the death was recorded in 1953 made an administrative error. He said the department regretted the error.

It was also learned that after a list of the names was published in The Herald prior to the erection of the memorial plaques, the Malones did bring the matter to the groups involved in the memorial project but the plaques had already been ordered.

It was also learned that a second name had not been included on the plaque, because it too had been omitted from the list supplied by the War Records Division

One of our pictures this week is one we have had for some time. Like some of the others we have used recently, it was laid away and somehow overlooked with the passing of time.

With the coming of the Bicentennial next year we are delighted to have a picture of some Loudon ladies who are proudly displaying the greatest flag in the world, our own stars and stripes. What the occasion was or who the ladies are we have no idea, but I think this points up an era when people loved our Country's flag and were proud to pose with it. During the period of flag burning, we, like many other Americans, were upset. Why? Because we were aware of the cost of human lives that made it possible for it to wave in public places in

Loudon Career Night Tuesday

Bill Rankin, from MACCI Talent Search, will be the guest speaker at Loudon High School's Career Night Tuesday, October 22 at 7 p.m. Mr. Rankin, an expert on Financial Aid, has spoke on several occasions throughout the state about Financial Aid. The two hour program will begin with an assembly in the High School auditorium in which Mr. Rankin will address the group. Following the assembly, the group will then attend conferences of their choice with representatives from several area colleges, business colleges, armed forces and local industries speaking to the groups.

Each representative will be allowed two 45 minute sessions. There will be representatives from Carson, second monthly decline in these billing charges from the peak level reached in September.

Each month the level of these charges is determined by the changes that have occurred in actual power system expenses for fuel and power imports. The charges that have been calculated from September expenses will generally apply on electric bills from November meter readings.

TVA adopted the fuel cost adjustment in mid-1974 and later adjusted rates to reflect the cost of power imports as well. By September of this year the added charges based on these expenses amounted to nearly $8 per 1,000 kilowatt-hours in residential bills, following a period when the average cost of coal burned in TVA power plants roughly doubled and power purchases were larger than normal.

Total will be down to about $6 per 1,000 kilowatt-hours in November. Basic home power bills will range from about $21 to $25 for the first 1,000 kilowatt-hours used, depending on local rate schedules.

TVA was able to reduce its power purchases last month as the end of the summer air conditioning season brought lower regional power demands. Fuel expense also has been more stable in recent months. In September the average cost of coal burned in TVA power plants was $17.37 a ton. That was down from a high of $18.68 in May, but still was almost double the average cost of about $9 a ton for fuel burned in the first half of 1974.

Waste Tanks End Farm Pollution Of Creek

Sweetwater Valley Farm recently completed construction of one of the largest animal waste holding tanks in Tennessee, according to Roncoe Presley, farm manager. The Philadelphia farm maintains a herd of approximately 125 dairy cattle and the tank was required to prevent further pollution of Sweetwater Creek.

Technical assistance was provided by the Soil Conservation Service through the Loudon Soil Conservation District for the design and installation of the facility. The 67,000 gallon tank was designed to hold the manure from 30 days of operation. Presley said that the manure would be spread on the farm to supplement fertilizer requirements.

University of Tennessee studies estimated the value of manure as fertilizer at $14.25 per cow based on 1971 fertilizer prices, but with today's fertilizer prices, the value should be well over $30.00 per cow.

The location and design of the livestock operation is a primary factor in the selection of the best manure disposal system. Holding tanks and dry stacking facilities allow the manure to be used as a fertilizer supplement. Dry stacking facilities generally have lower initial cost and allow the use of conventional manure spreading equipment.

Assistance is available through the Loudon Soil Conservation District for selection, design, and installation of lagoons, holding tanks and dry stacking facilities. The office may be reached at Post Office Box 247, Bacon Building, Loudon, Tennessee. The telephone number is 458-2206.

ASCS Petitions Due October 28

Community Committee nominating petitions must be received in the ASCS Office by October 28. Martha Blair-Costa, ASCS Executive Director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said that the deadline is firm.

Farmers who are interested in nominating candidates should secure the signature of three eligible voters on the nominating petition and return it to the ASCS Office by the above date.

Six valid petitions per county are required to fill each slate of nominees. All valid petitions will be accepted by the ASCS Office and the names of all eligible nominees will appear on the ASCS ballot.

The opportunity to nominate, vote and be elected is open to all eligible voters in the county. The ASCS committee election is open to all eligible farmers regardless of race, religion, sex, color or national origin.

TVA Electric Bills To Decline In Nov.

Charges for TVA electricity will decline again in November, mainly because of reduced expense last month for power purchased from other suppliers. On home electric bills the reduction will be $1.11 per 1,000 kilowatt-hours of electricity used.

This reduction will amount to about a percent of a typical home bill, although the effect on actual bills will vary with the amount of electricity consumed. This will be the

County Farmers Report Shows

For Loudon County's farm community, the past year proved out to be a better one, and by large, than it did for farmers and ranchers in many parts of the country.

Although some operators did little more than hold their own, others, especially growers with large, well-equipped setups, ended up in the black. These were not so good, on the other hand, for most livestock producers.

The final figures for the year, recently released on a county-by-county basis, show that gross receipts in the local area from the sale of crops, livestock and other farm products compared favorably with those reported in 1973.

The better showing was due to higher prices obtained for most commodities rather than to increase production. Expectations of a bumper crop, tempered out because of the hot, dry summer followed by an early frost.

However, figures from the Department of Agriculture show that it was a landmark year in that gross farm income in the United States topped $100 billion for the first time in history.

In Loudon County, according to data compiled by the Standard Rate and Data Service, farm receipts in the year came to $13,485,000, as against the previous year's $12,379,000.

The income figure refers to gross receipts, before taxes and operating costs are taken into account.

The bulk of it consisted of cash returns from the sale of crops, livestock and other commodities. Making up the remainder are government payments and "income in kind," which is the value of the home-grown products consumed on the farm.

A breakdown of the cash receipts in Loudon County from the sale of farm goods, based upon the most recent data from the Department of Agriculture, shows approximately 17 percent coming from crops and 83 percent from marketing of livestock, poultry and dairy products.

As for the net income that remained for the nation's farmers after deducting their expenses, that is another

Tennessee Valley Jobs, Income Up

The Tennessee Valley region gained 58,000 nonfarm jobs in 1974, bringing total nonagricultural wages and salary employment in the region to about 2.5 million, according to estimates by TVA's Economic Research Staff.

This represented a gain of about 2.4 percent for the region, slightly more than the national increase for the year.

Per capita personal income for the region in 1974 reached $4,185, almost 77 percent of the national average of $5,448 and the highest ratio yet of Valley income to the national level. In 1933, per capita personal income for the region was about 45 percent of the national average. These figures represent total personal income averaged over the entire population—men, women, and children.

In spite of national economic conditions, regional manufacturing employment stayed at about the same level as in 1973, totaling nearly 870,000 jobs. Over the past ten years manufacturing em-

by Joyce Stimpson, R.N.

Congestive heart failure or "dropsy" is a condition often seen in people with weakened hearts. If the heart muscle isn't as strong as it should be, it is unable to pump blood adequately. The blood then backs up, causing congestion (hence the term "congestive heart failure").

Symptoms of heart failure can be divided into two groups. One involves a backup of fluid into your lungs. This causes shortness of breath, difficulty breathing, and a cough producing a frothy sputum.

The second type of failure occurs when fluid backs up to the rest of your body. This causes swelling, particularly in your lower legs and feet. You can have one or both

Hamilton Sponsors School Program

The Hamilton National Bank of Loudon has given the Loudon High School a new filmstrip program, "Banking Is" to help students learn about banking in the classroom.

In conjunction with the program, bank president Don Center has created the position Student-Bank Counselor. Named to the position was Jim Curtis, Vice President and Cashier, who will be available to students for financial advice and counseling. He will also advise business classes at the school on the "Banking Is" program.

At a presentation meeting last Thursday at Loudon High School, bank assistant vice president Ted Lomax presented the multimedia filmstrip unit to Loudon High Principal Jim Gibson.

In making the announcement of the program, Mr. Center stated, "The program 'BANKING IS' gives the student first-hand experience with the basic banking activities he will use throughout his life.

"Writing a check, applying for a loan, computing interest and using a bank's services are things most adults take for granted; we have done them all our lives. But these activities must be learned, and for many of today's students they are as foreign as any new endeavor.

"Many adults learned banking by trial and error; but, in today's world of advancing technology, this is no longer a satisfactory solution. For instance, today check-writing is as much a part of life as driving is. Ninety percent of all financial transactions are made by check and the American public will write over 21.5 billion checks this year. Yet, in spite of this, statistics show that less than 85 percent of the graduating seniors know how to write a check properly. So, it is easy to see that check-writing is an activity that each student should understand if he is to take his place in the financial community.

"We hope our sponsorship of this program will help give the student a more thorough and systematic understanding of these basic banking activities and help him in the management of his personal financial affairs.

"We strongly believe that the more financially secure a student becomes through knowledge and practice of good banking, the better a citizen he becomes, and the better our young citizens, the better our tomorrow."

HOW TO BUY A PORTABLE HEATER & USE IT SAFELY

If you plan to buy a portable electric heater to supplement your existing heating system or to use as your only heat source, here are some tips for wise purchase and use.

Consult an electrician first to make sure your wiring can handle the extra load.

Buy a heater with a thermostat and a "tip-over" switch that shuts off the heater if it gets knocked over.

When using the heater, keep it away from anything that will burn.

Heat only the room you are using and keep the doors closed to prevent heat escape.

Don't plug the heater into an extension cord. The cord could overheat and cause a fire.

And finally, never touch an electric heater while taking a bath or shower or while touching a faucet or water pipe. You could get a serious shock.

Ask us for a copy of the free folder, The Portable Electric Space Heater.

Have Tried Allen's Lenoir City, Tenn.

News reports recently told about a certain wealthy and very happy man who started putting $20 bills into small envelopes with a note attached to each bill which read, "Jesus loves you." He drove from house to house leaving an extra in each mail box. The surprised recipients of these $20 bills were very happy, of course, but within an hour there were five policemen searching at the same time for this strange man. They believed the $20 bills would be counterfeit, and the man would be either a con artist or nuts or maybe both.

It did not take very long for the policemen to find the strange man, because he was not hard to locate, and he was running from anybody. To the utter amazement of the police, however, they discovered that the $20 bills were genuine currency, and that the man was on the level. "I'm just happy," he told the puzzled policemen, "because I have had an experience with God, and just wanted to do something nice for people and tell them that God loves them too."

We piously talk about the highest ethics of the Christian religion, and yet when a man actually practices the values of our highest ethics, we believe he is either a crook or insane. If a man really puts into practice the Golden Rule, he is distrusted, eyed with suspicion, and often investigated. Isn't that odd?

If the rich young ruler had obeyed the words of Jesus and sold his property and given the money to the poor, they would have said of him what was said about the rich man mentioned above. We have criticized the rich ruler because he didn't do what Jesus told him. But how many of us have sold our lives and given the money away? Of course, Jesus hasn't told anybody else, except the rich ruler, to do something foolish like that. (?) There is more saying in religion than doing. There is a gap between words and deeds, talk and action. Religion is good in theory but of little value pragmatically. After all is said and done, more is usually said.

700 Expected At Halloween Party

In an effort to keep Halloween safe, provide wholesome family fun for all ages and raise money for a Loudon County family, the Loudon County Citizens Band Radio Club will hold a Halloween Party from 6 p.m. to 11 p.m. at Legion Field in Loudon.

Admission to the event is free and the Club is preparing for up to 700 youngsters and adults to attend. Club President James Thompson said that Link and the Elites will provide dance music for the party.

There will be the traditional costume contests, apple bobbing, witches brew, candy and gifts for everyone at the Halloween party. Costume contests will be for age groups, 15, 6-9, 10-12, 13-15. Dance contests will be for kids, teens and adults. The CBRs will be assisted in the event by the Loudon Police Department and the Loudon Recreation Department. Many merchants and firms are donating funds and prizes for the party.

Although there is no admission to the Halloween Party, contributions will be taken to help Mr. and Mrs. Gary Mealer of Eatons Community with the hospital bills of their two children.

Their three-year-old son, Waylon, has been in East Tennessee Children's Hospital since August 17 and the intensive care unit requiring constant use of a breathing machine. The boy's sister, 11-month-old Rachel, also had surgery at the hospital for an Orthopedic problem there.

The father and mother have both been forced to leave their jobs at Wise Iron Works in Knoxville and the Charles H. Bacon Company in Lenoir City to help with the constant care their children are requiring. Hospital bills have been piling up at a rate of $200 a day.

Legislation On Court Agenda

The person elected to County Court in the election in the Second District Thursday will be sworn into office at the County To Enforce Permit Law

To avoid violating county building and zoning codes and subsequent penalties, Loudon County Building Commissioner Jack Henry urges anyone who is thinking about building to contact him before they begin construction.

Commissioner Henry pointed out that the county's building and zoning codes apply to any construction conducted outside the city limits of Lenoir City, Loudon, Philadelphia and Greerback. Builders are required by the Loudon County Zoning Resolution to purchase a building permit when any of the following types of construction are conducted in the county at a value of $500 or more:

- (1) alterations and repair of existing buildings.
- (2) additions to existing buildings.
- (3) construction of new buildings, and
- (4) private home placement on mobile lots.

Building permit applications are made directly to Commissioner Henry at his office in the Courthouse in Loudon, phone number 458-4079. The application requires the submission of information relating to the type of construction, its location on the lot and the value of construction. Cost of the permit is $3 per $1,000 up to $15,000 construction costs, and $2 per (Continued on page 10) opening of the court session at the courthouse Monday at 9 a.m. Judge William Russell will administer the oath of office.

The remainder of the court agenda has an innocent appearance, although there could be some discussion on possible new sources of revenue for the county. Judge Russell's agenda carries a report item from the Legislative Committee. The committee last week asked that the judge start preparing possible private legislative acts that could lead to the adoption of a Wheel (Vehicle) Tax and a Realty Transfer Tax.

The court has asked that new revenue sources be found to provide funds to the upcoming school building program to keep from adding more pressure to the property tax. The Wheel Tax could provide from $57,000 to $200,000 in new revenue depending on the amount of the tax; and the Realty (Continued on page 10)

Tree Falls On Loudon Man

Roosevelt McManis, 52, of 2 Loudon, was seriously injured Saturday when a tree he was cutting down fell the wrong way and hit him in the back as he attempted to get out of the way.

Loudon County Ambulance Service emergency medical technicians said he may have sustained fractures of the back and right ankle and internal injuries. He was taken to Fort Sanders Hospital where he underwent surgery for internal injuries Saturday night. Mr. McManis is employed at Don P. Smith Chair Company in Loudon.

UF At 81 Percent Of $51,649 Goal

Leaders of the Loudon County United Fund Campaign are hoping that Monday's report meeting will put them over their 1976 goal of $51,649. This past week the Fund drive collected another $9,862.29, which puts the campaign at $41,786.62 some 81 percent of the goal.

Campaign chairman Miss Rachel Huff told the division leaders to urge their workers to make their greatest effort this next week to try and wind up the drive.

There were several major division reports at the meeting Monday which pushed the drive toward the goal. The new money reports were: Eaton Corporation $480; Maremont 500; Lenoir Car Works $70; Lenoir City Bacon Co. $149.50; Loudon Bacon $10; Sheffield Steel $120; Union Carbide Oak Ridge $3,300; Union Carbide Loudon $847.74; Greenback Community $300; Lenoir City business $1975; Lenoir City restaurant in Lenoir City at residential $895.65. Three Charged In Kidnapping Three Roane County residents have been charged with kidnaping after an incident at a Dixie Lee home early Monday, according to a report at the Justice Center by Deputy Vond Carruth.

Carruth's report states that at 12:54 a.m. Charles H. Phillips, 30, and Pierr Underwood, 32, both of the Harrison came to the residence of Linda Johnson, 22, and her mother Mrs. Lena Morris, Rt. 5, Lenoir City and kicked on the door until they let them in. Phillips, allegedly armed with a 22 rifle went into the Johnson woman's bedroom and argued with her about coming with him. While in the room four shots were fired into a wall of the house.

The girl claims she was forced to leave with Phillips. The car containing the Johnson woman, the two men and another woman, Viola Freels of Oliver Springs was stopped by City of Harrison police at 2:50 a.m. The Johnson girl was released unharmed.

Phillips was charged with shooting into a dwelling and kidnaping. Underwood and Freels were both charged with kidnaping. Bonds for all three were set at $7,500 after they were returned to jail in Loudon County.

Capitol Commentary

By M. Lee Smith

Several days ago Lamar Alexander, Nashville attorney and 1974 GOP nominee for Governor, turned down a strong personal plea by President Gerald Ford to accept the number two position in his 1976 election campaign. The Alexander decision surprised many.

Earlier Alexander had been invited to Washington by Howard (Bo) Calloway, Ford's national campaign manager. Alexander talked first with Calloway, had lunch with the President's chief assistant Donald Rumsfeld, and then was taken to the Oval Office.

The proposal was that Calloway would be the publicly identified chairman of the campaign with Alexander directing the effort on a day-to-day basis. Ford told Alexander he needed him. A request by the President and leader of one's political party to fill a position of great responsibility cannot be rejected in cavalier fashion. And so Alexander thought about it. Three days later he called Calloway and declined with regret.

Alexander says, "I needed to stay home." He was away from his family much of last year while running for Governor. Next year his wife will have their fourth child. And with his political activity Alexander has never really settled into his Nashville law practice. But there were other factors. The established view in Washington is that the Ford campaign is presently in disarray. There has been little movement organizationally since Ford announced several months ago he will seek election in 1976.

If this assessment is accurate, then it would be difficult with Calloway continuing as head of the campaign for the number two person to have a major impact—even though Alexander was promised wide authority and access to the President.

As one Washington official said last week, "What Ford needs to do is give Calloway an ambassadorship. Then maybe he could persuade a bright person like Alexander to straighten out his campaign."

In addition, Alexander has no ambition to participate in a presidential campaign and then remain as part of a national administration or in a lucrative Washington law practice. He says, "Whatever political ambitions I have are limited to Tennessee."

There is no doubt Alexander has had and continues to have those Tennessee ambitions. Beginning as an aide in Senator Howard Baker's 1966 campaign, Alexander planned and worked to fulfill his goal of winning a statewide political office.

In 1970 Alexander considered running against Bill Brock for the Republican Party Senate primary. A brief tour of the state quickly convinced him that would not be the thing to do. Later that year Alexander managed Winfield Dunn's successful campaign for Governor, declining an offer by Dunn to serve as his chief staff assistant, and joined a Nashville law firm. Then in 1974 Alexander saw his chance, never doubting he could win both the Republican gubernatorial nomination and election. When he lost to Governor Ray Blanton, it was the first setback for Alexander in a highly successful career.

It was a jolt. And the year since for Alexander has not been pleasant. After the normal post-election lull, he was confronted with a nagging campaign deficit. Then he experienced the difficulty of readjusting to the relative boredom of law practice. If nothing else, the Ford offer presented the opportunity to become involved in a major campaign responsibility filled with intensity and challenge. Alexander declined that opportunity. But if the circumstances in 1976 are right, it is not likely he will decline the opportunity to once again seek statewide office in Tennessee.

Local ASC To Decide Emergency Eligibility

Eligibility for assistance under USDA's Emergency Livestock Feed Program will be determined by the Loudon County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee without prior approval from Washington, according to Martha Blair, County Executive Director.

The livestock feed program may be implemented by the county committee, with concurrence of the State ASC Committee, when a natural disaster causes the farmer substantial loss of livestock feed normally grown on the farm. Miss Blair said. Under the program, feed grains owned by the Commodity Credit Corporation can be sold to eligible livestock owners at reduced prices. The assistance is to prevent widespread liquidation of livestock because of flood, drought, hurricane, tornado, disease, insect infestation or other catastrophes.

Miss Blair pointed out that program assistance is limited to those livestock owners who, because of a natural disaster, are required to purchase large quantities of feed normally produced on the farm, and are unable to get it through regular distribution channels without undue financial hardship. In fiscal year 1975, 4.8 million hundredweight of feed grains were distributed under the livestock feed program to eligible applicants in 126 counties. About 26.8 million bushels of oats, the only feed grain available at this time for distribution under the program, are earmarked for this use. Applicants for Emergency Livestock Feed Program will be given equal consideration without regard to race, color, sex, creed or national origin.

McMinn Central Defeats Loudon Frosh Twice In Six Days

Chargers Win 28-8

The McMinn Central Freshman football team marched 80 yards in eight plays following the games initial kickoff last week in dumping the Loudon frosh 28-8.

The set back was Loudon's third of the season in six games.

The junior Redskins constructed a first quarter drive of their own but ran out of downs at the Charger 30 yard line.

The two teams swapped punts as the second quarter got underway. The McMinn Central freshman defense claimed a Loudon fumble at the Redskins 28 with 7:18 left in the first half. Three plays later the host were on the scoreboard again. Loudon blocked the conversion kick for a 12-0 difference.

Another swap of fourth down punts and Central was in scoring position once more. Loudon fumbling their punt return at the 29 yard line.

The Redskins defense of Bryan Eller, Mark Vance, Tim Moore, David Lambert, and Tim Denton checked the Charger offense by forcing a minus two yards in real estate in four plays.

Loudon then moved to the Charger 25 before half time. A fired up Loudon team took the second half kickoff and rammed the ball down the field for 50 yards to the Central 20. The Chargers held on downs only to have Loudon's Jimmy Niles intercept a pass on first down.

The Redskins at the Charger 41 moved all the way to the 31 and had a touchdown pass in the air from Steve Watkins to Ben Fields when a McMinn Central defensive back appeared and caught the ball returning it to the Loudon three yard line.

Three plays later the Chargers had taken a 20-0 lead on a touchdown and two point conversion.

Ben Fields brought the ensuing kickoff back 54 yards and quarterback Steve Watkins hit split end Tony Schrimsher with a 10 yard first down pass. The Redskins came back on a 28 yard aerial from Watkins to Rick Station for their lone touchdown of the game. Steve Watkins added the two point conversion run. McMinn Central pushed across a score with just 33 seconds left in the game, covering 20 yards on the drive in three plays. The two point conversion pass was successful.

Skins Lose 33-14

The Loudon High School Freshman football team has dropped its second game in six days to McMinn Central Frosh.

The Loudon Braves fell by the score of 33-14, despite taking a 14-12 first half lead to the dressing room, Monday night on Dukes Field.

The Chargers, boasting a considerable size difference in comparison of freshman football material, scored the first two times they had the ball in the first quarter. The first score came on a nine play drive that was topped by a 22 yard scoring pass. Loudon's Ben Fields fired through the line to block the extra point conversion kick.

Steve Watkins returned the ensuing kickoff back 46 yards but a clipping penalty forced the Redskins to start operations from their own 11 yard line and a punt was fourth coming.

The McMinn Central team then marched 34 yards in seven snaps to take a 12-0 lead as the extra point conversion run was stopped.

Loudon opened the second quarter with Watkins carrying the ball out to the 42 on the kickoff. Eight plays later the Redskins scored with 8:12 left in the half as Steve Watkins raced for 31 yards. The conversion pass was incomplete.

Tim Denton paced a fine Loudon defensive effort and following a Charger punt to the Loudon 40 the young Skins were rolling once more.

The Redskins attempted to get their passing game untracked but through straight incompletions forced a punting situation. Loudon punter Ben Fields had other ideas and when no rush appeared headed down the field for what proved to be a 56 yard touchdown jump. Steve Watkins ran for a two point conversion and gave Loudon a 14-12 lead.

The final 3:30 of the second period was a defensive standoff with Loudon taking the ball away from the Chargers at their 24 yard line on downs.

McMinn Central took the second half kickoff and engineered a nifty 64 yard scoring drive in 10 plays to regain the lead at 18-14.

A fourth down gamble by Loudon on their own 23 yard line forced the Chargers the football and perfect field position. Eight plays later the Skins were up with just 14 seconds left in the third period.

Loudon fumbled the ball away at its own 36 but a determined defensive showing saved Loudon at the 20. Loudon attempted to catch the Chargers napping on fourth down and 11 at the Redskins 12 with a Ben Fields pass to Joe Watson. The effort was short for the needed yardage and Central again was in fine field range.

McMinn Central scored on their first offensive snap, but missed the extra point kick for a final score of 33-14.

The Chargers led in first downs 13-0 and out rushed the Redskins 166 to 141. Loudon had just six yards passing, while Central added 81 to their count. Penalties hurt Loudon; six for 60 yards. The visitors had but two for 10 yards.

Paul Watkins (25 yards), Steve Watkins (35 yards), and Ben Fields (72 yards) led Loudon in rushing. Doug Bishop's 131 yards on 11 carries set the running tempo for the Charger freshman.

TOURNAMENT WINNERS—Beth George of Loudon and Jo Ann Thompson of Lenoir City are pictured with John Watson, co-director of the Athletic House Tennis Tournament with trophies they won in the play over the past two weeks. Miss George won the sportsmanship trophy in the women's division of over 18's players and a silver tray in the singles intermediate for reaching the semi-finals. Miss George and Mrs. Thompson also won the women's Intermediate Division by defeating Kellie Hancock and Becky Tolson, who had previously been unbeaten.

Loss Fails To Extinguish Redskins Playoff Possibilities

The TSSAA high school state playoffs are scheduled for first round action on Nov. 14 with the Region Champion and respective runner-up slated to do combat on that night.

Representatives of Region One meets Region Two and three teams with four in each respective division of "A", "AA", and "AAA", the following week.

This weekend and of course the final weekend of the regular season (Nov. 7) will bring forth these teams of distinction.

For those concerned over the Loudon loss to Maryville the playoff picture looks like this:

A Loudon win over Goodlettsville would assure the Redskins a playoff berth. Their opponent would be either Chattanooga Notre Dame or Harriman.

Another Loudon loss would force these alternatives. Most likely the Redskins would still be in good shape, but only if Chattanooga Notre Dame loses one of their two remaining games, Kingston there or off-beaten Chattanooga Riverside Harriman, with a stronger schedule in its favor, would be "in" with wins over Rockwood and Livingston.

The double victory would give the Blue Devils 74 points. Livingston AAA appears to be easier than unbeaten single-A power Rockwood.

If Loudon should end with 70 points and Harriman had 74 or 70 the Redskins will be in the playoffs due to beating Harriman and having a stronger opponent schedule (based on total won loss records) than Notre Dame.

But still this is based on the theory that the Irish will lose again. They are currently 6-2, losing twice in five days.

If all three teams win the rest of their games then Loudon would meet Notre Dame. A Loudon loss, and if Harriman and Notre Dame go unbeaten the remainder of the season would place the Blue Devils and Irish into the region meet.

Should Harriman and Notre Dame end with equal points and Loudon is safe with 80 points, then Harriman would get the nod as runner-up with a stronger schedule.

In Region Two, Region One opponent in the second round of the playoffs, the picture is like this. Maryville, trying to slip in the back door with two losses, must face out-beaten Knoxville Powell and then end the regular season by being capable but doubtful McMinn Central.

Maryville must win both games. Knoxville South (6-2), Kreton (7-1), and Rogersville (6-2) are also in the Region One race. South has a weak schedule and should they need the support of their opponents records to make the playoffs would fall far short.

Kingston/Kreton plays Rogersville in regular season and that will put a brighter light on things in the north.

Currently one would have to figure Maryville (definitely the strongest team of the four at this writing) as a first round opponent of probably Kreton.

The Red Braves in turn should capture the Region One trophy and thus predicted by many to again find Loudon (Region Two) still on the warpath from their four overtime setbacks of last Friday night.

Neither Loudon's Coach Riedinger or Maryville's Coach Ted Wilson are selling any of their counterparts short as all teams concerned are out to make the playoffs and such ideas can make the adrenalin flow and bring out super effort by all. Still believe in recognize the possibilities, and equally hope the other teams will be able to do so.

November 21, otherwise the bridge to the 1975 double-A state championship will pose a tooth and toe nail face off attraction that may create more heat than the actual state final.

Old Fashioned Shindig To Benefit Mealers

An old fashioned "Shindig," with a modern flavor has been planned for the Legion Field at Loudon Saturday, Nov. 1 from 1 p.m. to midnight—and all proceeds will be for the benefit of the Mealer Family Fund.

Three-year-old Gary Mealer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Mealer of Eaton Crossroads community, has been confined to the intensive care unit at Children's Hospital in Knoxville for the past two and one-half months, at a cost of more than $200 per day.

As a result medical expenses now have reached more than $40,000, and the prospect is that they will continue to spiral.

Friends of the Mealer family have conducted several benefit activities and, to date, almost $6,000 has been raised. All the money is in a special bank account at Hamilton National Bank in Lenoir City and is being administered by Charles H. Bacon Co. Personnel Director Homer F. Peter Linton.

Anyone who wants to make a contribution may do so by mailing it to the Mealer Family Fund, in care of the Personnel Department, Charles H. Bacon Mill, Grand Street, Lenoir City, 37771.

Saturday's activities will include an auction of "yard sale type" items donated by people in the community. Betsy McAllister and Gary Jones, both of Loudon, who are spearheading the planning for the activity, say they badly need items to auction off.

Garland Lindsey will be the auctioneer.

Items may be left at the fire hall either in Lenoir City or Loudon and they will be taken to the field Saturday for the auction.

In addition, a concession stand will be in operation, offering hamburgers, hot dogs, potato chips, coffee, cold drinks and candy.

Wampler Named Chairman Of Vo-Ed Group

Loudon County School Board Chairman Ted Wampler has been elected chairman of the Loudon County Vocational School steering committee. The $1.8 million vocational school being built on Harrison Road is financed by the State Department of Education and will be equipped and staffed by the state.

The Loudon County and Lenoir City School Boards will jointly oversee the operation of the school and it will be open to students from all high schools in Loudon County.

Other officers in the steering committee are Acting Lenoir City Superintendent Harold Duff as vice chairman; and Loudon County Superintendent Edward Headlee as administrative agent. The assistant administrative agent will be named once the Lenoir City system has a permanent superintendent.

The committee instructed Headlee to get in touch with the vocational officials in Nashville to determine the status of the building, what systems the county will be responsible for such as installation of equipment and other matters. Headlee said the contractor reports that he is about three weeks behind on the construction schedule due to slowness in receiving materials, but thinks the building will be completed before the contract deadline June 30, 1976.

The school is expected to be in use next school year.

Russian Evangelist Is Revival Speaker

Dr. Hyman Appelman, who is known throughout the world as a leading Christian evangelist and who was once a lawyer in Chicago, will conduct a special series of meetings at the Prospect Baptist Church, Route 1, Loudon. The meetings will begin on November 2 at 7:30 p.m. and will continue until November 9 at 11 a.m., according to Rev. David L. Stephens, Jr.

Dr. Appelman was born in White Russia, but was brought by his family to Chicago when he was 13 years of age. He had to begin school again in the first grade, but he completed eight years of grade school in two years. He went on to high school and university and was awarded his A.B. degree at Northwestern University, his L.L.B. and L.L.M. at DePaul University and he has an honorary D.D. degree. He practiced law in Chicago before his conversion to Christianity.

Dr. Appelman has preached in many nations of the world and has made numerous trips to Russia and other "Iron Curtain" countries. He has made an intensive study of Communism and is considered an authority on history and world affairs. Because of this insight, he is constantly in demand to appear before civic clubs and high schools and universities. In recent months Dr. Appelman has preached in Taiwan, Indonesia, Hong Kong, India, South Korea and other places in the Orient. He has recently made a trip to the Near East, visiting Israel and other countries in that area. Fleming Revell, Baker Brothers, and Zondervan Publishing Company have published 42 books written by Dr. Appelman and his articles and sermons have appeared in many Christian periodicals in the United States and abroad. According to the pastor, Appelman is a tireless worker, rarely taking a night off from his preaching, often speaking several times a day. It is estimated he has preached 25,000 times and won more than 250,000 souls. Rev. Stephens urges everyone to hear this outstanding speaker and evangelist.

permit prior to beginning construction can result in a doubling of the fees. In addition, violators upon conviction may also be fined up to $50 a day for each separate offense. (Each day such violation continues constitutes a separate offense.)

Commissioner Henry explained that after a builder has been notified that he is violating the county building permit system, he has up to seven days to obtain the permit at regular costs. The county building commissioner has the legal right to stop construction of a building that does not meet the standards of the existing zoning and building codes, can revoke building permits upon violation of the codes, and can determine that a building is unsafe for occupancy.

Legislation On Agenda

Transfer tax is projected to produce another $100,000 in funds for the county. Judge Russell is now in the process of drafting proposals on the acts for the Legislative Committee. There is a possibility the committee will meet this week, but more than likely they will not be ready for presentation to the court Monday.

Other items on the very short agenda are a resolution encouraging congressional action on revenue sharing, a general education report and Little Tennessee Valley Educational Cooperative report. There will also be reports from the Purchasing Committee, Law Enforcement Agency, Hospital, the county property survey committee and budget committee. The appointment of members to the Loudon County Health Board and a resolution endorsing the need for additional nursing home facilities rounds out the court agenda.

at homecomings or just when a few of them find the time to get together to talk about childhood days, hard time or other relatives. Most of the time the conversation gets around to a special event in their lives. Many times those who have departed this world are thought of in a special way.

We were talking to Mack Jones the other day. Mack was home due to the passing of his father, Frank Jones. We went to school together and did a lot of our growing up together. We were good pals, but this was the first time we had seen each other in over 30 years. Our lives during this period of time was in different geographic localities. It is the same with many of those we grew up with. Life's course has taken us in different directions, but like I said in the beginning, it is good to see and talk to old friends who have been a part of our lives.

Our thoughts along these lines were motivated by a picture we have this week. It is a group of relatives together to talk with each other. They are Tom Hill (seated) Mrs.

Tom Hill, Ida James, Dora Everett and Mrs. Sally Elizabeth Hill. We don't know where this picture was made but it was made during the 60's.

Mrs. Clark stated that many in the picture are now deceased. We are grateful to her for her help in identification of those in this old picture.

Our picture this week is from our back log of pictures. This one is of Ned Dan when it was being finished. As you will note, one side of Ned's dress was when the reservoir was being filled.

I recall, this project at the time was about the biggest thing that ever came to East Tennessee. Just about everyone was trying to get a job during the construction days which probably paid more than any other jobs available in those days. Of course, it was the first of the TV news, and people were interested in visiting the site to see what was going on. Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

MARINES' 200th BIRTHDAY—Loudon Mayor Eugene Lambert signs a proclamation honoring the United States Marine Corps on their 200th birthday. The official celebration is the week of Nov. 3. Watching the signing is Marine Staff Sergeant M.J. Aichele of Maryville the area Marine Recruiter.

More Local Families In Upper Brackets

Because most Loudon County residents are earning more than they did in other years, and because more women are working and bringing home paychecks these days, many local families have moved into higher income brackets. To the extent that the added cash helps them to cope with the never-ending rise in the cost of living, it is a good thing. To the extent that it puts them into more costly tax brackets, it is bad.

Some local families, whose earnings had previously been below $8,000, have graduated to the $10,000 and over level. Their former spots have been taken over, in the progression, by those who had been receiving less than $8,000.

Just where they stand, currently, is brought out in a copyrighted report issued by Sales Management. It details, for every section of the county, the percentage of families that fall within each income bracket.

In Loudon County, it shows, 53.7 percent of the local households had disposable incomes in the past year, after payment of their personal taxes, of $8,000 or more.

This was a greater proportion than was found in many parts of the country. The purpose of the survey was to gain a better understanding of each community's purchasing power than was revealed solely through its average income figure.

It shows whether there are a small number of high-income families making up for a large number with small incomes or whether earnings are more equally distributed.

The breakdown figures for Loudon County show that 17.7 percent of the families had after-tax incomes of $5,000 to $8,000 in the past year, that 13.2 percent were in the $8,000 to $10,000 bracket, 25.1 percent at the $10,000 to $15,000 level and that 15.4 percent had incomes above $15,000. The remaining families had $5,000 or less after taxes.

Because the survey takes into account only cash income, it does not do full justice to farm communities, where income-in-kind and lower living costs are important factors, it is noted.

Although incomes have been on the rise for most Americans, so have living expenses. Nationally, there was a net loss of nearly five percent in buying power last year.

LOUDON WOMAN INJURED—A steering failure caused the car above driven by Clydel Rutherford, 26 Cedar Street, Loudon, to go out of control and plunge off U.S. 11 onto a county road below last Wednesday afternoon. The young woman was taken to Fort Sanders Hospital with head and facial injuries, broken ribs and bruises. Deputy Jake Chapman is shown investigating the accident.

Three Farm Agencies To Share Office

Loudon County has been chosen by the Department of Agriculture as the site for a one stop service center for farmers, announced Congressman John Duncan.

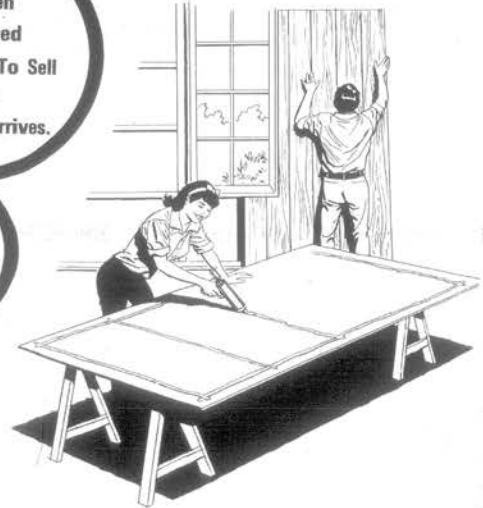

Under this plan three agencies—the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, the Farmers Home Administration, and the Soil Conservation Service—will be located in the same building or even on the same floor. Representative Duncan says when a farmer needs help he'll literally only have "one stop" to make.

The service center will be located in Loudon at the County office building. The ASCS and the Soil Conservation Service are already located there and the Farmers Home Administration will join them as soon as remodeling is completed.

If we don't wash our wastewater he may have to drink it.

Every day, a million people living in a typical American city generate about half a million tons of wastewater.

Sewage systems in many cities cannot cope with these amounts. So wastewater is not cleaned thoroughly before it's discharged into rivers and lakes, and contributes to their pollution. The same rivers and lakes we rely upon for our drinking water.

Union Carbide has developed a wastewater treatment system called UNOX. It cleans the dirty water of towns and cities faster, cheaper, and uses less energy and space than any system devised before it.

The Unox System uses high-purity oxygen instead of air. The oxygen is forced into a series of closed treatment tanks where it increases the efficiency of the microorganisms that feed on pollution and improve water quality.

Nearly 100 cities are now using or installing the Unox System. As the population of America grows, so does our need for clean water. And if we don't clean our dirty water, no one is going to do it for us.

Today, something we do will touch your life.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:
I would like to acknowledge my appreciation to the Loudon Herald for its support, interest and great coverage of the Redskin football team. By living out of state, I only get to see a couple of Loudon games a year. But with your sports coverage, I can keep up with the team every week. Thanks for the good job.
I would also like to congratulate Coach Kattledge and the Big Red on equalling the '62-'63 21 game winning streak. I feel honored to have played for such a great man and coach as Coach Kattledge, whom I admire and respect as much as when I played for him.
Coach Kattledge has a way of making football fun and an enjoyment to play and watch. Every guy I know who has played for him feels the same way.

As for the fans, they follow Loudon football as good as any high school fans I have ever seen. We always have as many on the road as the home team has and that sure means a lot to a football team.

Keep on being tough.
Yours truly,

Raymond Stamey, Riverdale, Georgia.

Dear Editor:
I have just read the letter from the sisters of the late Joe Malone who gave his life for his Country.

I would not attempt to explain why his name was not inscribed on the Memorial Plaque. I don't think it was done intentionally.

I would have to agree that the draft dodgers and deserters get plenty of publicity.

On behalf of the American Legion, Department of Tennessee and as a member of American Legion Post 130, I offer a public apology to the Malone family.

Sincerely,

In response to the article of October 25
CB Radio is a great help to Community Education Program Underway

Loudon County's first organized effort at Community Education is being well received program coordinator Susan Pressly said this week. There are classes with an enrollment of some 65 students now in most of our citizens. It has a wide range of offerings that are beneficial to our public. I heartily agree it is grossly missed and at times profanity is used. It is ignorance of CB operators to use such language on the radio. The F.C.C. is working towards eliminating a lot of this.

Also the truckers should not take advantage of the CB radio to transmit information to each other about where road blocks are set up. No Citizen Band Radio Operator should aid them in this.

In Loudon County, I feel we have a very fine Citizen Band Radio Club. We are proud of the almost 100 membership. We have the only legal chartered and registered Radio Club in Loudon County. It is chartered in Nashville and registered and recorded in Loudon. We believe we have the best By-Laws that could be drawn up. Our Club is now officially a member of REACT, chartered and certified, REACT No. 2294, Loudon County.

Our club is dedicated to work with all Law Enforcement Officers and Loudon County Rescue Squad. Our REACT members monitor Channel 9 twenty-four hours a day around the clock.

At this writing, the truckers have moved to Channel 19 and we are relieved of all the bleedover from Channel 10 stations.

Our club would like to be recognized as working with all Loudon County Law Enforcement Officers. Thank you, O'Dell Justice, Loudon County Citizens Band Radio Club, REACT No. 2294, progress.

Mrs. Pressly, Loudon County Superintendent Edward Headie and officials of Roane State Community College, co-sponsors of the program will begin meetings this week to broaden the program for the second semester, set to begin in early January.

Projects in the next session are expected to include several college level credit courses and an expanded selection of non-credit offerings.

Of the courses now in progress Law for the Layman is the most popular. About 30 persons are attending the class, which started on October 20 at the Loudon County Justice Center. In the first week Terry Vain and Gerald Easter discussed the five major courts in Loudon County and this week H.T. Harris gave instruction in the income tax laws. There are still openings in the class and anyone interested can register at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the Justice Center.

Nine persons are participating in the Red Cross Home Nursing class taught by Lillian Russell. The class is now learning home care for the sick and injured. The certified course is being held at Loudon High at 6:30 p.m. every Monday.

Surprisingly only 11 women are registered in the Slimnastics class taught by Linda Pickell at Loudon High at 6:30 on Monday. Anyone wishing to register may do so at the beginning of any class period. The course costs $10. Exercises for physical fitness and slimming are included in the class.

Always popular is the Oil Painting class taught by Calberta Bowden at the First Baptist of Lenoir City annex. Fifteen students are enrolled in learning the art by painting an autumn arrangement and learning shading, blocking and lighting.

OIL PAINTING has always been one of the more popular Community Education classes and the one now underway in Loudon County is being well received. The class is being held in the First Baptist Lenoir City Annex. Instructor is Calberta Bowden.

Youth To Collect For UNICEF

The Youth of the Loudon United Methodist Church will be collecting funds for UNICEF on Halloween between 5:30 and 8:30 p.m. Friday. The UNICEF workers can be identified by the UNICEF containers they will carry. Anyone not having one UNICEF on Halloween between 5:30 and 8:30 p.m. will not be a member of the group.

A TRUE FRIEND

Ray G. Jones

Most of us have fewer friends than we would like to believe. One may have many artificial friendships which are shallow and superficial, but a real friend is one with whom you can share your deepest feelings, one who will help you be yourself. A beautiful friendship is as rare as it is precious. Such a friendship existed between Jonathan and David. We are told that "Jonathan loved David as his own soul" (1 Sam. 18:1).

A friend is one who really and truly knows us - and yet, in spite of what is seen and known, loves us still. Dinah Craig aptly describes a true friend: "Oh, the comfort, the inexpressible comfort of feeling safe with a person, having neither to weigh thoughts nor measure words, but pouring them all right out just as they are - chaff and grain together, certain that a faithful hand will take and sift them, keep what is worth keeping and with the breath of kindness blow the rest away."

Jesus recognized the need for genuine friendship: "No longer do I call you servants, but I have called you friends" (John 15:15). Someone has said, "If you want a true friend is willing to give as well as receive. A true friend is one who promotes the happiness and growth, expressed the spirit of friendship." In a letter to a friend, of friend that was made to me. "I'd like to do the sort of thing you do for me. I'd like to be the sort of person from whom you can share your deepest feelings, one who will help you be yourself. A beautiful friendship is as rare as it is precious. Such a friendship existed between Jonathan and David. We are told that "Jonathan loved David as his own soul" (1 Sam. 18:1).

REV. AND MRS. W.H. LEMMING were honored Sunday at New Hope Methodist Church observed Ministers Day. Rev. Lemming has served in the ministry for over 50 years and he and his wife, Carrie, are still active in the ministry field.

Rev. Lemming Is Honored By Church

BY CALVIN LUNSFORD
Ministers Day at the New Hope Methodist Church was in honor of one of their former pastors and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. W.H. Lemming. Rev. Lemming, a retired Methodist minister, was the subject of a "This is Your Life" presentation.

Rev. Lemming was born on October 1, 1889 near Madisonville. He began his service as pastor of West Lonsdale Methodist Church in Knoxville. He served in the ministry for over 50 years. It is estimated that he has preached over 5,000 sermons. In 1961, he retired from the active ministry and studied Real Estate. He passed the State exam with honors, but this was short lived in the life of this servant of God and mankind and he asked the Conference for work in the preaching field again. So he was off to another stint as an active minister.

During his years of service, he was never too busy to help someone with a problem job. He was also noted for his craftsmanship in many fields. Rev. Lemming is married to Carrie Barnett Lemming and together this couple, even in their senior years, continue to help and bless peoples lives. They touch in their ministry.

Tribute To Veterans

BY CALVIN LUNSFORD
At the threshold of our Country's Bi-Centennial celebration, possibly one of the most costly and least appreciated assets we have in this century is Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness, bought with the lives of young men and thousands still living and patients in Veterans Hospitals across the land. Many are able to walk the streets of our cities today, some with a limp, a seeing eye dog or a physical defect which will affect their entire lives. Choose the war or conflict.

America was there in the form of the cream of our youth. The reason for our involvement, whether right or wrong, our young men paid with their lives. Some are in our midst today, others made the supreme sacrifice for our great Country.

As we stop to pay tribute to both the living and the dead who so bravely defended our flag and Country, we would but pray that a lasting peace will be ours to enjoy and give thanks to those who have given so much in order that we might enjoy Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness.

Loudon County School Superintendent

In-Service Days
Friday, October 31 and Monday, November 3 will be in-service days for all Loudon County teachers. Students will not be in school on these days. This is the time for the annual E.T.E.A. meeting at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville and Monday will be an optional in-service day for those teachers needing to work in their respective areas of interest and instruction.

Community Education
The community education classes are underway for this first quarter and we currently have four courses (non-credit) that are meeting. Plans are being readied for next quarter's subjects and interest areas. The County Court Committee on Education and Culture will be meeting soon to advise the Community Education Director on which subjects should be offered during the winter months. If you know of a course which you would like to see offered during next term, please contact your local member of the County Court Committee on Education and Culture so that he/she will know your interests and can convey these to the director at the next planning session.

Office Hours
The office hours for the superintendent's office are 8:15 and 1:45, Monday through Friday. Saturdays can be arranged if necessary by appointment only. While this schedule is not as open as last year's hours, we feel that we must do our share to conserve energy (heat and electricity) so this accounts for the slightly shorter office hours this year. The office phone number is in the telephone directory (438-5511) and someone should be available during the above listed hours. Although the superintendent, principals, and directors must often be called away from the office to visit one of the eleven schools in our system, there is usually someone near the telephone during these hours.

School Bus Discipline
There have been several complaints concerning student conduct and language on some of the county school buses this year. The School Board has publicly stated that it will tolerate no profane or abusive language on county buses. If it becomes necessary to suspend bus riding privileges to those students involved in order to correct this problem, this measure will be taken. It is sincerely hoped that county parents will cooperate with school officials in helping to control the use of profane language and improper conduct on school buses. Bus transportation is a privilege provided by the Loudon County Board of Education. It should be remembered that privilege can be withdrawn if they are abused too much. Let us hope that this does not become necessary.

THE CURTIS MATHES FOUR-YEAR LIMITED WARRANTY

WHO PROVIDES THE WARRANTY. This Warranty is provided by the Manufacturer, CURTIS MATHES MANUFACTURING COMPANY.

WHO IS PROTECTED. This Warranty is extended to the original owner or successive owner of a Curtis Mathes Techna 3 color television receiver.

WHAT IS COVERED AND HOW LONG. This Warranty covers all electronic parts, including electronic circuit assemblies and the picture tube, on a Curtis Mathes Techna 3 color television receiver for 4 years from date of original retail purchase. Replacement parts, electronic assemblies and picture tubes supplied under this Warranty are warranted only for the remaining portion of the original Warranty period.

WHAT CURTIS MATHES WILL DO. Curtis Mathes will supply for 4 years new or remanufactured parts, electronic circuit assemblies and picture tubes which meet the Curtis Mathes high quality standards to replace such items which fail under normal use and service. This is the exclusive remedy under this express Warranty and applicable implied warranties. When the failure involves an electronic circuit assembly, the Curtis Mathes dealer or service will customarily replace the entire assembly without going through the expensive procedure of analyzing and repairing the particular part which failed.

WHAT THE OWNER MUST DO. The owner is responsible to the Curtis Mathes dealer or other servicer for all travel and service charges.

WHAT ARE THE EXCEPTIONS. This Warranty does not apply outside the continental U.S. or when the product has been abused or damaged. This warranty does not cover audio products (radio, phonograph, tape player or recorder, speakers) in a TV stereo combination, which are covered in a separate warranty. This Warranty does not cover cabinet or other non-electronic parts.

WHAT IS THE PROCEDURE. Upon purchase of a Curtis Mathes television receiver, it is important that the owner return the Warranty Registration Card to establish date of original retail purchase. If the receiver is transferred, the successive owner is to notify Consumer Relations Manager, Curtis Mathes Manufacturing Company, of the change. In order to obtain service, the owner is to contact his local Curtis Mathes dealer, preferably, or other servicer who will process this Warranty. When a replacement part is provided, the part which failed is to be returned to Curtis Mathes through the Curtis Mathes dealer or other servicer.

CURTIS MATHES MANUFACTURING COMPANY
Box 151, Athens, Texas 75751

No other maker offers a warranty even half as good as this. Maybe you should find out why before you buy your next color TV. Ask your Curtis Mathes dealer about it.

In order to better service his customer, a True Value member will be pleased to provide a "Rain Check" guaranteeing the sale price of any item temporarily unavailable and notify the retail customer when the item arrives. Advance planning and volume buying make true values possible, however, this circular must be prepared several months in advance of the actual distribution period. Occasionally, an advertised item may not be available because of sales above anticipated demand or because of circumstances beyond our control; while we do our best to avoid such situations, we have no control over our manufacturers' delivery problems. Dedication Of County Justice Center Wednesday Formal dedication of the $650,000 Loudon County Justice Center will be held at 1 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 12 at the new facility on U.S. 11 between Loudon and Lenoir City.

Director of the National Civil Preparedness Agency, John E. Davis, former Governor of North Dakota will be the dedication speaker. Gov. Davis will head a list of more than 250 invited guests which include local, state and national law enforcement and government figures.

The Justice Center opened about six months ago on a limited basis, but now all facilities in the building are in full use. The building houses the county jail, which will facilitate some 60 prisoners, General Sessions Court and clerks office, Central Communications and Records of the various law enforcement agencies, offices for the Sheriff, chiefs of police of Loudon and Lenoir City, Highway Patrol, The Loudon County Ambulance Service and the local Civil Preparedness (Civil Defense) Agency.

The dedication of the Center will be held at the front parking lot with seating provided for as many people as possible. The ceremony will follow the opening.

Governor Davis will arrive by helicopter shortly before the service. The helicopter transportation will be provided by the Tennessee Civil Preparedness Agency. The helicopter will land on the Sugar Lamb connector.

Those on the program will be Judge William Russell and Fred E. Gooden of Lenoir City. If he is able to attend Congressman John Duncan will introduce Gov. Davis. Leading the pledge of allegiance will be former County Judge Harvey Sprad who spearheaded the initial construction of the Justice Center.

A court resolution by Jim Hartsock instructed Henry to take the step-work action on any construction where the permit had not been obtained. He said he would act on the order immediately.

Superintendent Headlee was not present for the meeting but sent a written report which was given by Judge Russell.

Headlee was attending a meeting with school building program architects Barber and McGraw. He said he was attending the meeting even though it prevented him from working in court because of the time factor in getting cost estimates on the program. He said that County Administrative Assistant Randy McGraw had been working with him in assisting the department to locate any state or federal funds to assist in the program.

Headlee said the "more we can accomplish initially, the better our position to deal with the other phases of this long-range (5 year) program. We hope to be ready to present the program to the court for its consideration prior to the first of the new year."

Headlee also reported that four non-credit classes are underway through the Community Education program and thanked the court for creating the program. Headlee said he is assisting in the program.

He reported on the Vocational Education School governing board and said the school under construction on Harrison Road, should be ready for use in the fall of 1976.

The new County-wide maintenance program has been providing excellent service to the schools. The Superintendent's report said, "Unfortunately, we are still trying to catch up in several areas, but the crew is working to solve problems which have existed for a number of years. Those of us in the school system are still working to solve these problems."

nessee National Guard of Loudon City will present the colors for the ceremony. All chiefs of police, sheriffs, juvenile officers in the 16 county East Tennessee Development District have been invited, as well as all county judges, criminal, circuit, general sessions and chancery judges. Other guests will be mayors and council members from throughout the area, members of the Law Enforcement Advisory Committee of East Tennessee, the board of directors of the East Tennessee Development District, officials of the State Department of Corrections and others.

County Judge William Russell, Lenoir City Mayor Joe Grayson and Loudon Mayor Eugene Lambert said they would attend the ceremony and open house also.

Gov. Davis has been director of the Civil Preparedness Agency (formerly Civil Defense) since 1969.

Laird awarded Mr. Davis the Defense Department's Distinguished Civilian Service Medal for his part in forming a new agency with an expanded mission to assist communities in developing measures for protecting the population against nuclear attack by supporting and coordinating State and local government efforts to achieve emergency readiness; the expanded program enables DCPA to assist communities with measures for pestetice.

Mr. Davis is a former Governor of North Dakota, having served two terms from 1966 to 1969, and was National Commander of the American Legion in 1966-67. He has also served as a mayor and State Senator.

Born in Minneapolis, Minnesota, on April 18, 1913, Mr. Davis was graduated from the University of North Dakota in 1935 with a degree in Business Administration. In addition to his public service, Mr. Davis was president of the First National Bank of McCluskey, North Dakota, and has interests in insurance, farming and ranching.

Residents of the area have been attempting for years to get the road repaired. Mrs. Ann Bright and others were present for the meeting to ask the court for passage of the resolution.

Importance Of Farming Shown At Farm-City Day Tour

A group of Loudon County business, government and industrial leaders got an inside look at the agriculture industry and dairy farming in Loudon County during Farm-City Day last Thursday.

MILK BREAK—Mr. and Mrs. Glen Townson serve Ray Birkholz with milk and cookies during a stop at the Townson milking parlor at the Farm-City Day tour of the farm Thursday.

Members of the Farm Bureau and related farm services were guests of the Loudon County Committee of 100 for lunch with Jim Farley, Farm Bureau insurance agent providing a program. Among the other farm guests at the luncheon attended by some 28 persons were County Agent Charlie McCall, Production Credit Association manager James A. Pope, Farm Bureau President Bill Bright, Bobby Beech of the State Farm Bureau office and Tom Best of Production Credit.

Farley used national and local farm figures to point out the importance of farming to Loudon County's industrial family.

Between 1900 and 1970 the population grew from 80 million to 200 million with urban population going from 20 to 160 million with four and one half percent of the population producing the food for the rest of the nation, Farley pointed out. In 1950 each farmer supplied food for 15 other persons, by 1970 it grew to 45 for each farmer and now 55 for each farmer. This is done by increased output per man hour. Output per farm man hour has more than doubled in the past 20 years while the industrial output of the rest of the nation has declined in its growth of output per hour.

BLACK AND WHITE FACTS—Glen Townson reads statistics on his dairy farm operation from a computer print out as Committee of 100 Industrial Agent Bart Iddins and other Farm-City Day guests look on.

Of the 37 percent of the average income spent for food only 37 percent gets to the farmer while the remaining 63 percent is in marketing costs by processors and distributors. The 37 percent of income for food in the United States is compared to 53 percent in Russia and 83 percent in Ghana.

Farley said there are 1,064 farms in Loudon County covering some 110,756 acres or 73.1 percent of the land in the county. The average farm contains 104 acres.

county last year was $13,485,000 up 1.1 million over the previous year. Of that income 83 percent was from dairy, poultry and livestock farms, and 13 percent from crops. Loudon County corn producers have the largest bushel per acre crop yield in the state. There are 2,500 dairy cows in the county and the average professional farmer has $200,000 invested in his business.

Dairy farming was highlighted in the Farm City Day activities and Farley gave several interesting figures on the subject. There are 53 grade A Dairy farms producing 4,74,805 gallons of milk per year bringing in $9.68 million in milk income. Of the milk cost of the grocery store using $1.50 per gallon as a price the dairy farmer gets about half, the remainder going for marketing.

The Farm Bureau picked the dairy farm of Glen and Jack Townson on Matlock Bend at Loudon to show their industrial and business friends of the Committee of 100. The father and son partnership owns 286 acres and leases another 234. They have 110 milk cows and at the present have 94 holsteins in production.

Their farm, although a new business enterprise, some 10 years old, is considered one of the best operations in the county. It is a U-T demonstration farm and most of the equipment, buildings and techniques used are new.

When the visitors arrived at the farm they found all the equipment marked with price tags. Everything from a 79 cent pair of gloves to a $12,000 tractor and there were several of those.

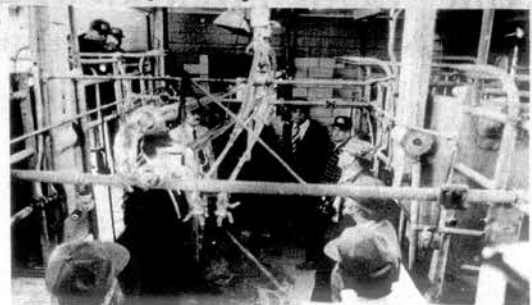

The Townsons gave the group a tour of their dairy operation and explained their procedure. The dairy consumes 225 tons of grain, 1,900 tons of silage, 150 tons of hay and has 300 acres in pasture. The cows produce 150,000 gallons of milk per year. At the milking barn Glen's wife served milk and cookies while her husband, fielded questions about the farm operation.

The Farm-City Day was capped Thursday night with the annual meeting of the Farm Bureau of Loudon County. The Farm Bureau's State Public Relations manager K.C. Dodson was the speaker.

Bill Bright was re-elected president of the County FB for the fourth year. Jim Pope was re-elected as Vice President. Directors elected were Hugh Hickey, Robert A. Anderson Sr., Dixie Miller, Esco Summit, Homer Vaughn Simpson, Clarence Betts and Fred Flipp.

Some of the Farm-City Day guests who attended on Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. Don Carter, Ed Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Ray Seiney, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Birkholz, Bart Iddins and Benny Stafford.

15 Players Again Named

Once Beaten Redskins Pace 1975 All Loudon County Football Team

The 1975 All Loudon County High School Football team once again has a 15 man roster.

The 1974 All Loudon County Squad, the biggest all star unit ever selected, was also a 15 player group.

Loudon High School is again the team with the most players for the second straight year. The Redskins, who have lost but once in their last 22 games, placed nine players on the squad in 1974 and also went to win the Tennessee "AA" State Championship.

There are only eight Redskins to make the elite stars this year with several repeating from their junior season.

Senior Linebacker and bruising fullback Marlon Brown is this year's premier player. The 210 pounder has rushed for 701 yards in 155 carries and the Redskins still have a regular season game left. Brown is also a stand-out defensive player and tackler. He kicks Loudon's points after touchdowns. Brown is a true player with major college credentials.

Loudon's Dick Melton is again on the All County check list with 861 yards on 96 carries in just eight games for the Redskins. Melton serves as a defensive back for the Loudon gridders, but his offensive abilities has him tabbed as a highly prospective major college performer in the future.

Loudon linebacker Dickie Colvin, playing in the shadows of Brown on offense, excels as a headhunter on the Loudon defensive unit. Colvin, while not on the college site, certainly holds his own with the toughest in the high school ranks and is a battler by all standards. A possible surprise to many was the selection of senior Bumper Webster. The fleet Webster is Loudon's fastest player. He is instrumental in the defensive secondary and will stick any runner that might cross his path. He is seldom seen on offense but is counted on for punt returns, kickoff and alterness. No doubt the most under rated player on the Loudon team and possibly in the county.

Loudon quarterback Greg Deathridge makes the team for the first time. The junior field leader, brother to last year's top All County performer Johnny Deathridge, won the Loudon quarterback job from still another Loudon stalwart Carter Cardwell.

Deathridge in eight games has led the Redskins in totaling 2457 yards of total offense. He also is the deep back on kickoffs and is a starter on the defensive secondary team.

ounding out the other top Loudon individuals is offensive center Steve Hill. Hill, a team co-captain, is in a class to himself in blocking for the ball carrier. Hill has joined efforts with Marlon Brown in spring more Loudon backs for touchdowns than any other lineman. Hill is an excellent line man blocker. He is a rough competitor on defense at his linebacking post.

Macing high in the choice of the selection committee was senior Jeff Nichols. Nichols, who anchors Loudon's offensive line as its lone returning starter from 1974 is a stalwart at getting the job accomplished. His blocking and stout defensive showing has made life miserable on many an opposing lineman has tall in the battle of the trenches. Junior Rolan, a junior defensive performer, spares no mercy in possessing a running back on Friday night. Rolan is termed a pleasure player to coach for he is always out to improve. He never misses practice and has never failed to go the full route of any game due injury or hurt.

Picking up a player on this year's team was Lenoir City. Despite being only 18 to date, the Panthers have some fighters that have given their all and extra in trying to turn things around for the mysterious Panther short comings.

Lineman Tony Williamson is the lone senior from the Panther squad to make the All County team. Williamson has some 20 plus pounds this fall in an effort to be better prepared for what many thought would be a pleasing season for the Lenoir City team.

Williamson is a two year letterman and has been a trojan for the Panthers in the line both on defense and on offense all season.

Two Lenoir City juniors should make the 1975 season look favorable. Lineman Herbert Sarten proved he can play with any one Friday night after Friday. Sarten's solid showing, practice and in games, would make him a bonified All East Tennessee or maybe All State was it not for being passed over as many oft-beaten team stickouts are missed. Sarten will be a Panther leader and star in 1976.

Another rugged and definitely too small an individual to be out meeting ball carriers jaw to jaw is junior linebacker Steve Porter. Porter is a reckless tackler that like to hit and make it sting. He has also ground out some offensive yardage as a part time running back. But put time in his strong suit and no one can deny his efforts are All County in all phases of the game.

Greenback again lands four players to the 15 player list. The Cherokees have only one repeater from last fall. Senior pass catching whiz Harold Hawkins. Hawkins has caught 22 passes for 271 yards. He leads Greenback in scoring and has intercepted five enemy passes while doubling on defense. His 39 yard punting average on 24 kicks is also a choice statistic.

Sharing the glitter of the star role at Greenback is transfer senior fullback Bobby Smith. Smith has been a human tank with 397 yards on 88 carries to date and scored five touchdowns. He has been in on almost 70 tackles as a defensive player.

A surprise to the Greenback coaches and the conference fans has been lineman Eric Belcher. Belcher, a junior, leads the Cherokees in fumble recoveries with four. He has one pass interception and shared in or made himself a total of 83 combine tackles. Belcher has worked to earn his credentials and should be a dependable returnee come 1976.

Concluding the All County team is junior linebacker and defensive back Danny Dotson of the Cherokees. Dotson is a competitive ball carrier on offense but shines weekly on defense where he has over 80 tackles to his credit. His 316 yards of rushing offense has been an asset this fall also.

DEFENSIVE GEM—Lenoir City's Steve Porter (30) makes behind the line tackle of Knoxville South's Dee Flanagan in a stellar defensive role for the Lenoir City team last Thursday night. Porter has been a defensive leader for the Panthers all season.

Rockets tallied from one yard out and failed to convert the extra point kick with 3:25 left in the first period. Lenoir City countered the opening scoring march with an 18 yard return of the ensuing kick-off by sophomore Jackie Ryan. From the Lenoir City 29, Walt Thaxton bolted for 16 yards and a first down. Thaxton and Steve Porter managed but six yards in three snaps and Phil Reed boomed a 41 yard punt to the Rocket 10 yard line.

South was stymied by the Lenoir City defense. Defensive tackle Kenny McHabb was instrumental in the Panther defensive effort.

A short 20 yard South punt gave the Panthers the ball at the South 40. Quarterback Steve Arnold engineering a nifty 10 play scoring drive used up the remainder of the first quarter clock as the Panthers progressed down the field with near fluid ease.

Arnold gained one yard, Danny Hall, again showing pre-season form, fought for eight yards. Thaxton was denied a first down at the 31, but Hall slammed through the South defense for five yards on a fourth down call. Thaxton lashed on 10 yards in two carries. Hall ran off tackle for 12 yards and Steve Porter rumbled the ball to the one yard line with a three yard dash as the first quarter ended.

Danny Hall was stacked up shy of the goal line, but Thaxton barreled in from the one foot line and with just six seconds gone in the second quarter the Panthers had knotted the score at 6-6. Gary Hargin's conversion kick was perfect giving the Panthers a 7-6 advantage.

Rockets Final Quarter TDs Blast Lenoir City Upset Bid

The season is running out for the Lenoir City Panther football team. The Panthers went down to their eighth defeat of the season last Thursday night to Region One "AA" contender Knoxville South, 21-7.

The hard-luck Panthers, who have managed to win but a single game thus far this season and that in overtime, battled the Rockets with the enthusiasm and determination contrast to that of an off-beat team about to finish a season of disappointment.

Knoxville South, a loser only twice thus far this season, scored the first touchdown of the game. The Rockets took the opening kick-off and dove the ball 60 yards in just four quick plays. A swift Steve Colburn had runs of 31 and 7-6 advantage.

ROCKET LEADER—Lenoir City sophomore stalwart Jackie Ryan (20) misses in a tackling effort of South's Steve Colburn. Colburn ran for a game high of 107 yards and two touchdowns in leading the Rockets to a 21-7 win.

INCOMPLETE PASS—Lenoir City linebacker Danny Hall is on top of this pass reception effort by South's end Scott Van Fleet as the play went for no gain on the incompleteness.

THAXTON TRIPPED—Lenoir City junior running back Walt Thaxton was a work horse for the Panthers last Thursday night against Knoxville South with 20 carries for 59 yards and a touchdown.

kickoff and Terry Housley, a 195 pound junior, led the Lenoir defense in stopping the Rockets at their own 37. Lenoir City ran into a near crisis as they were checked in three plays at their own 40 and managed to unleash only a seven yard pass. South appeared ready to roll by past script of Lenoir City late. A Panther error and the opponent turns the mistake into a score. The Rockets did move the appeared to be playing themselves in a mirror, so unusual to be having the breaks go their way. Nevertheless the Panther's good fortune was for naught as the first half clock ran out. The third quarter was a defensive stand off with Lenoir City dominating the statistics but neither team could muster a score. A swap of punts and Lenoir City began to construct a drive at their own 30. But seven plays, a first down and 20 some odd yards gained were quickly erased as a clipping penalty and an illegal procedure mark off killed the Panther momentum.

A high snap on fourth down almost made the crowd gasp as the feeling the bubble might pop for the Panthers. Reed fielded the ball and got off a neat 40 yard punt and Thaxton and Steve Porter made sure there was no return at the South 30.

The Rockets advanced to the 50 and a 48 yard punt gave the Panthers a rough way to go at their own two yard line. With the game barely two minutes into the final quarter, Hall was stopped for no gain. Arnold then rolled to his left in a pass-run option. A South defender broke through the ranks and nailed Arnold for a two point safety and South had regained the lead at 8-7. Counting the safety, the next dozen plays of the game proved to be a nightmare for the Lenoir City team.

The Panthers were penalized at their own 20 on the free kick for being off-sides. Thus booting the ball twice, both times the Panthers lined up with just 10 men on the field to cover the kick.

South got the ball at their own 40 and in two plays had again ignited the scoreboard following a 29 yard scamper followed by a 37 yard punt.

The extra point effort was spoiled by Jackie Ryan. Trailing 14-7 and time a factor, the Panthers drove from their own 27 to the South 41 in eight plays. A first down pass failed to catch the Rocket napping and an interception resulted. The return was good for 68 yards and a clinching touchdown with 3:54 left in the game. The conversion kick made the count 21-7.

The game became ragged at the end with the Panthers fumbling away any hopes of a come back with 2:04 left in the game.

Walt Thaxton paced the Lenoir City cause with 59 yards on 20 carries. Danny Hall ran for 37 yards on 12 snaps and caught a 10 yard pass. Porter (13 yards), Ryan (11 yards), and Arnold (five yards) rounded out the Panther offense.

The Lenoir City defense was solid, as was the overall Panther effort. But almost as if by predestined fate the spirited Panther team failed to receive any cigars for their play.

Trick-or-Treat Tough On Grid Contestants

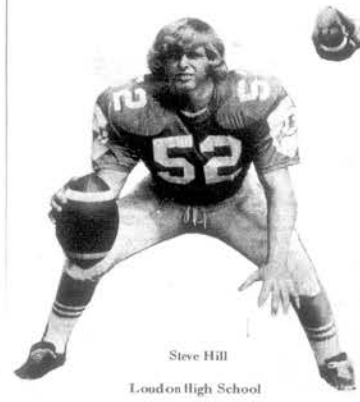

Central contest was played on Friday night. The first place $12 winner was Danny Thompson, Rt. 4 Loudon. Three persons missed only one game bringing the tie-breaker into play. The perfect tie-breaker would have been 10 points, Knox Hill.

Central defeated Oak Ridge 7-3 in the tie-breaker contest. Getting $6.50 each on tie-breakers of 31 are Juanita Simpson and Sherry Simpson. Missing the money with a 34 point tie-breaker was Calvin Hill.

There were several new teams in the Herald football contest and the grades of the contestants were not too good. Only one contestant correctly picked all the eligible games. Nine games were used as the Greenville and Sullivan

Cherokees Down Midway, 19-8

Green Wave tried to fake the kick and was caught by a first down rush with Greenback taking over at the Green Wave 41 to start the fourth quarter.

A first down pass of 11 yards from Kizer to Lynn Rucker ended up in a Greenback fumble and Midway was again on the march.

The Greenback defense refused to yield and the Cherokees offense took over exhausting much of the final period clock with a 14 play drive covering 42 yards. A Harold Hawkins punt gave Midway the ball on its own 10 yard line.

The Green Wave reeled off three first downs, but the game ended with the ball on the Greenback 47 and the Cherokees holding a scoring difference of 19-8.

Final stats had Kizer rushing for 36 yards on 16 snaps and Danny Dotson 21 yards on 10 carries in support of Hawkins (who had 20 yards rushing on four tries) and the bruising play of Smith.

Pit Crews Can Win, Lose Races

One mistake by a pit crew wasting one or two seconds can mean the difference in winning or losing for a NASCAR driver. There are about a dozen top crews on the Winston Cup Grand National racing circuit who understand this in being able to handle a normal pit stop in 15 seconds or less.

When a crew services a car they work from both sides of a safety wall to change the tires, add gasoline, clean the windshield and grill, and hand the driver a cool drink.

center and the various senior citizens clubs in the county. The dedication service was held on the front porch of the building. Howard Nelson, president of the Loudon County Council and Dr. Bill Hyden, chairman of the dedication program, and many other persons were instrumental in planning the service and getting the Center ready for public inspection. Loudon County Judge William Russell, who led local efforts to get funds and grants to establish the center and programs which it will direct, made the formal dedication. Judge Russell's remarks were as follows: "In as much as this Senior Citizens Center has been established and designed to provide and expedite programs and services for the welfare of senior adults of Loudon County it is fitting and proper that we now dedicate it and fulfill the goals for which it is intended. First to continue and utilize all existing programs and services now available to the elderly of Loudon County from private and public organizations designated to improve effectiveness and increase involvement of all qualified and deserving elderly. Second, to identify problems and needs confronting the elderly of Loudon County and to call such attention to the attention of existing agencies so they may amplify, modify and originate programs, facilities and actions to enhance the quality of life for all our senior citizens."

were found guilty of shooting into a dwelling by Judge Tom Ingram. They were given six month jail terms with all but 30 days suspended. They will be allowed to build the time on weekends, according to reports. A third defendant, Viola Fries, was freed of a kidnapping charge. The three were accused of forcing Linda Johnson, 22, to leave her mother's home with them after Phillips allegedly forced his way in the home and fired shots into the wall of a bedroom.

The Little Tennessee Valley Educational Cooperative is working with county school officials to establish a Center for Special Education at New Providence. LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor, We, the Q.E. Richmond Family, wish to take this opportunity to thank the Loudon City Jaycees, the many individuals and merchants of Loudon, Greenback and Lenoir City who helped make the St. Jude Fund Raising drive the most successful in the history of Loudon County. (We were advised that our drive was probably the most successful in the United States for a community the size and population of Loudon County).

valuable publicity every week, many times on short notice. Next a "special" thank you to the churches of Lenoir City and Loudon for their donation of cakes and other pastries for Bake Sales with all proceeds going to St. Jude.

Also best of all we say a "big special thanks" and a job well done to the young people of Lenoir City, Loudon and Greenback Schools for their cooperation and help in making the Walk for St. Jude the most successful event of the entire fund raising drive. They did a wonderful job getting sponsors, walking about 17 miles, and collecting their pledges. For this we are eternally grateful to the walkers, sponsors, school officials for their help.

Last but far from least, we thank the many merchants in Lenoir City, Loudon and Greenback who donated the prizes for the Walk. Also the Loudon City News, Loudon County Herald and WBLC Radio Station for their invaluable publicity every week, many times on short notice.

He is a member of the 33d Marine Amphibious Unit, which took part in an amphibious assault of a simulated defended beach at Sarus Bay, Turkey. After securing the beachhead, his unit conducted a series of tactical exercises and advanced more than 40 miles inland during a four-day period.

would like to thank some special friends in Loudon, Ted and Linda Sittlar, who devoted every available moment to this worthy cause. They, along with Paul Rivers, worked many, many hours helping in every way possible. They are by far the most willing, energetic young people we have ever had the pleasure of working with. Lastly, we would ask your prayers for ourselves and the hundreds of children and their parents at St. Jude Hospital. This drive was in memory of our daughter, Patti Jo, who died August, 1966. She was a patient for 14 months at St. Jude Research Hospital. A bronze plaque with 'In Memory of Patti Jo Richmond from the Citizens of Loudon County' will be placed in the Main Lobby at St. Jude Hospital. For all this we say Thank You Loudon County, Quins and Jo, Richmond.

©1975, M. Lee Smith & Associates

It becomes increasingly apparent a major state tax increase will be enacted early next year. And without doubt the need for massive additional Medicaid funding as the foremost contributing factor to the likely tax hike. Medicaid is the open-ended federal-state program which pays for a variety of medical services for the aged, blind, disabled, and those eligible for aid to families with dependent children. It is not to be confused with Medicare which is the federal health insurance program for the elderly administered by the Social Security Administration. This year over 43 million state dollars have been appropriated for Medicaid with total Tennessee state and federal costs now estimated to be at the astronomical level of $281 million. An additional 18 million state dollars will be needed this fiscal year if services are to be maintained at present levels.

There are two primary reasons for an immediate need for massive new Medicaid dollars. First, the General Assembly this year—in its efforts to hold down state spending and avoid a tax increase—used an inordinately low projected cost for the Medicaid program.

Second, eligibility for welfare assistance programs for the aged, blind, and disabled carries with it eligibility for Medicaid.

In 1975 the federal government took over from the state the total costs and administration of the three welfare programs. In doing so, eligibility requirements were relaxed.

As a result of this relaxation, about 30,000 more Tennesseans are able to obtain Medicaid benefits. The fiscal effects of the broadened eligibility are now being felt. The present $18 million problem will likely be surmounted by a ten percent reduction in services, a $5 million transfer of funds from other programs, and a $10 million supplemental appropriation in January. This appropriation and others will likely necessitate a tax increase effective no later than April 1.

Even if the present problem is solved, the Medicaid program will continue to make increased demands on state dollars. As a matter of course, such open-ended federal programs are requiring at least ten per cent additional funds annually. There are several contributing factors to these cost increases. Foremost is inflation with costs in the health care area rising at a rate twice that of inflation generally. Recent economic conditions have resulted in increasing demand for Medicaid assistance during the recessionary period. And providing additional services or increasing eligibility to the existing program both by federal regulation and state legislation naturally have increased Medicaid costs.

Clearly, the Medicaid program must be brought under financial control. The state cannot continue to increase appropriations by huge amounts each year.

State cost is now $43 million. Early next year that cost will likely increase to $58.4 million. The projected state cost for fiscal 1977 is $68.9 million.

Something must be done to curtail the spiraling cost of Medicaid—if not in Washington, then in Nashville.

One of our pictures this week is from our back log. We are always proud to have our readers send us pictures for the Good Old Days. Sometimes it takes awhile to get them in the column but we appreciate your kind understanding and patience with us.

This picture is not too old but it is interesting because it points out over fifty years of our Loudon Fire Department with the first fire truck Loudon had on the left. It is still operable, as we pointed out in a column a few months back. We said 50 years. Well, it may not be quite that long, but almost. We are grateful to Boss Wallace for help he has given us over the years concerning the history of the Loudon Fire Department. We, in Loudon, are proud of those who have served in the Department as well as those serving today. Our present Fire Chief, Charles (Chili) Jones is to be commended for their untiring efforts in offering fire protection to the Loudon citizens.

Our new picture this week

New World Mission

A "New World Mission", sponsored by Maryville, Oak Ridge, Knoxville and Morristown Districts of the United Methodist Church, will be held at the Knoxville Civic Auditorium, November 9-11, with services each night at 7:15 p.m. Loudon is a part of this district and the New World Mission and everyone in the Loudon area is invited to attend.

We don't know the cats of yesteryear, but we feel that someone will enlighten us before next week. We hope someone will come through with the answers.

We have been pursuing our Civil War Burial Site investigation. Of course, we realize that it would be almost impossible to locate and list them all, but one thing that will be surprising is that there are so many of them in cemeteries across our area. We had many calls on this and a lot of help. From time to time we will bring you up to date on this.

Our good friend Don P. Grove went to quite a bit of trouble to secure the following names for us.

Those buried in the Forshee Cemetery are John Bowman, Revolutionary War; B. M. Foster, Indian War; E. S. Linsberry, Sgt. W. H. Baldwin, W. H. Dyer, Elkenny Brogden, Lt. Thomas Bowman, T.G. Scott, Sgt. Houston Brown, Joseph L. Miller, Capt. C. Burnett, J.R. Scott, Robert Phifer, J.N. Culvahouse, Sgt. John A. Miller, M. Miller, Thomas Miller, Israel Scott, W.M. Culvahouse, Jasper Billings, and Thomas Brackett.

We are grateful to Mr. Grove for this list. I think this points out the tremendous number of men who were involved in the Civil War. One of these, of course, was in the Indian War. I was not aware that any veterans of the Indian War were buried in marked graves. I am sure there are others in our area but I will have to have help on locating any of the others.

Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

City, FmHA Close $45,000 Loan

A $45,000 insured loan to the city of Loudon, to purchase a fire engine to improve their fire department was closed last week by the Farmers Home Administration according to an announcement by Paul M. Koger, State Director.

The loan will enable the City of Loudon to meet the requirements of the Tennessee Insurance Services office in order to maintain their 6th Class fire rating which will keep insurance premiums from increasing.

State Director Koger stated that the closing of the loan represents a step forward in FmHA's efforts to assist in the rural development of Tennessee and Loudon.

Koger was very complimentary of the city officials for their interest in upgrading their fire department. This type project has high priority for loan funds according to Director Koger.

Eugene Lambert, Mayor of Loudon, was instrumental in securing the loan.

The loan was processed by William L. Mason, County Supervisor.

Koger stated that the Farmers Home Administration has over 25 different programs through which individuals and organizations may receive assistance to improve and revitalize rural America.

During the period from July 1, 1974 to June 30, 1975 the agency channeled over $167 million through these programs into Tennessee and made it the biggest year ever for Farmers Home Administration in the State.

Farmers Home Administration programs of credit and management assistance are available to individuals and organizations in rural areas (areas of 10,000 or less population) who cannot obtain adequate credit from other sources and meet the eligibility requirements.

THAT'S A RADISH—John Chastain of Loudon is shown with a radish one foot long and eight inches around which he picked from his garden in Loudon. The white radish weighed one pound.

A TRUE FRIEND

Ray O. Jones

Most of us have fewer friends than we would like to believe. One may have many surface friendships which are shallow and superficial, but a real friend is one with whom you can share your deepest feelings, one who will let you be yourself. A beautiful friendship is as rare as it is precious. Such a friendship existed between Jonathan and David. We are told that "Jonathan loved David as his own soul". (1 Sam. 18:1)

A friend is one who really and truly knows us - and yet, in spite of what is seen and known, loves us still. Dinah Craik aptly describes a true friend: "Oh, the comfort, the inexpressible comfort of feeling safe with a person, having neither to weigh thoughts nor measure words, but pouring them all right out just as they are - chaff and grain together, certain that a faithful hand will take and sift them; keep what is worth keeping and with the breath of kindness blow the rest away."

Jesus recognized the need for genuine friendship: "No longer do I call you servants but have called you friends" (John 15:15). Someone has said, "If you wish a friend, be one." Selfishness is the enemy of friendship. A true friend is willing to receive. A true friend is one who promotes the happiness and growth of the person he loves. Edgar Guest, in a letter to a friend, expressed the spirit of friendship: "I'd like to be the sort of friend that you have been to me...I'd like to do the big things and the splendid things for you...to brush the gray from out your sides and leave them only blue...I'd like to give you back the joy that you have given me, yet that were wishing you a need I hope will never be; I'd like to make you feel as rich as I, who travel on unlanded in the darkest hours with you to lean upon...could I have one wish this year, this only would it be: I'd like to be the sort of friend that you have been to me."

Utility Employees Air Grievances To City Council

About 15 hourly and office employees of the Loudon Utilities Board met with the Loudon City Council last week to express grievances they have with the Utilities Board and Utilities Manager Charles Burnette.

Special Court

Session Monday

Loudon County Quarterly Court will have an adjourned meeting Monday at 9 a.m., Judge William Russell announced this week.

Four items on the agenda deal with receiving bids on $500,000 in bonds for the Tellico Area Service System and related resolutions pertaining to the water district funds.

The other item is the consideration of appointment of members to the Loudon County Industrial Bond Board.

Only these items will be considered at the meeting Judge Russell said.

School Board Set To Hire Architect

In all probability the Loudon County Board of Education will continue its present contract with the architectural firm of Barber and McMurray on the proposed school building program.

The item is on the County School Board agenda for the Nov. 15 meeting to be held in the office of Superintendent Edward Headlee at 7:30 p.m.

Headlee said there had been some question of whether or not the firm would want to continue with its present fee of five percent due to past changes that have been made in the program in the last two years. He said this week the architect did wish to continue its contract.

The principal grievance is salary. The hourly men said that three salaried department heads paid overtime when their salaries already reflect a much higher pay scale. They feel that they should be increased some 50 cents per hour to put them on an equal pay scale with salaried employees.

Other grievances read by Mr. Winfrey were:

- That all employees should be rotated in various jobs with all departments as needed rather than having a few employees exempt from certain jobs.

- When power outages occur an employee will put a line back on service until a standby man is contacted.

- If standby man needs help an emergency job he will contact another employee of his choice to assist in order to expedite the work.

- All new employees should go through proper job training before working on hot-line jobs or any other safety related job.

- Some readers desire to be responsible for the meter books and given time to check books for accuracy before being sent out to read another route.

- That all work orders come through the business office and be properly completed in the business office before the requested work is performed by utility employees.

- The employees said they had taken their problems to the Utility Board, had been told things would be worked out, but nothing ever happened.

- They said after the sit-down they attempted to get another meeting with the board and their labor attorney and were told by the attorney that the board had nothing else to discuss with the employees.

- The principal difference seemed to be over the salary difference paid to the various department heads vs the pay of the hourly workers. They said the salaried department heads were paid a salary rate, average annual over-

- It was contended that the salaried personnel are paid five times as much as the five from Loudon City will compete Saturday night for the title of Loudon County Junior Miss in the annual pageant sponsored by Xi Alpha Psi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority of Loudon City.

New County Wheel Tax Top Choice Of Court Legislative Committee

Loudon County Court's Legislative Committee, charged with finding new sources of revenue, held its second meeting last Thursday and is planning to present several proposals to the membership of county court for consideration.

The Committee's search for new money sources, to raise money for a county-wide school building program and to ease the burden on the property taxpayer, include an additional 1/4 cent sales tax, a wheel tax on all vehicles and a realty transfer tax.

The decision to present the entire package of proposals to the county court was discussed at discussions of all the measures. Attending the meeting was County Judge William Russell, Committee Chairman R. P. Hamilton, members Curtis Williams and Jim Blair, Administrative Assistant Randy McGill, Treasurer V. Schrimsher, County Court Clerk Edward Alexander, Register of Deeds Ralph Wear and Tommy Wilson of the County Technical Assistance Service.

Some of the revenue figures furnished by the committee by state agencies regarding revenues generated by the tax proposals were disputed. Register Ralph Wear said that comparing the proposed local realty transfer tax of 3-10ths of one percent with the state realty tax of 26 cents per hundred dollars, he believes the local tax would bring the county about $35,000 based on the realty transfer figures of 1974. The state had estimated the realty tax would generate $100,000 in revenue.

Rutherford County in Tennessee is the only Tennessee County that has the Realty Transfer Tax in effect on a local basis. Mr. Wilson said that there is some question of its legality.

Wear expressed his opposition to the local tax saying it would be an undue burden to the purchasers of property and could hurt the sales of real estate property in the county.

The Register said that the addition of the local realty transfer tax would add $90 to a $30,000 registering a deed which is more than double the present recording fees.

Squire Blair said he was still for any kind of tax that would take some burden off the property tax. He said that even if Mr. Wear's figures were correct the local transfer tax would bring in revenues equal to 10 cents on the property tax rate.

A Wheel Tax on all motor vehicles in the county seemed to be the most popular and revenue producing measure under consideration by the committee. The CTAS official said that about 40 to 50 counties in middle and west Tennessee use the local tax method but as yet no county has adopted it.

According to the figures available to the county there are about 15,500 vehicles in Loudon County that could be taxed. The tax could bring in as much as $30,000 if the tax was set at $20 per vehicle. The various rates discussed and the amount of revenue it would generate based on 15,500 cars are $77,500 for $5, $115,000 for $10, $222,000 at $15 and $310,000 at $20.

Car owners would purchase their decals at the same time they purchased license tags or registered their cars. Also persons who lived outside the county but worked in Loudon County would be required to purchase the county tag. The County Court Clerk would share the responsibility of seeing that vehicles had valid county tags on them. Failure to have the tag would subject the vehicle owner to a fine or possible court action.

State figures say that if the county takes advantage of the additional one-fourth cent local sales tax, making a total of 1.75 cents per dollar, tax revenues totaling $185,000 would be received. After the division of the local tax, the mandatory one-half for education and the share which would be received by the cities the county could expect some $50,000 in new money from the measure. Such a private act would require a referendum of the voters for ratification.

Trustee Schrimsher defended his practices of investing county funds and challenged the report by county auditors that he could invest more money than he is. Schrimsher said he now has $2.2 million invested and at times barely has enough uninvested funds to cover the county's day to day operating expenses. "For me to make the county another $100,000 as the auditors suggest I could, I would need another $1.5 million in uninvested funds for investment. And we just don't have it," Schrimsher said. He stated that the fund balance at the end of any month is what some people believe is excess

FIRE DESTROYED a mobile home on Main Street in Loudon about 1:30 a.m. Tuesday. Despite the efforts of the Loudon Fire Department the unit was destroyed by the fire. The mobile home reportedly belonged to Gary McCloud, but apparently was unoccupied at the time of the fire.

COURTHOUSE PARKING—What once was the site of the old County Jail is becoming a parking lot for the courthouse. The county, city of Loudon and County Highway Department are cooperating to build the lot. Squire R. P. Hamilton, formerly in the grading and paving business, is giving his time to oversee the work and help in the construction.

Burley Marketing Cards Mailed

Marketing cards for the 1975 burley tobacco crop were mailed to growers on November 6, John M. Hutton, Chairman of the Loudon County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee reports.

Mr. Hutton said marketing cards and instructions for use were mailed to producers who have certified the pesticides, DDT, TDE, Fosaphene and Endrin were not used on their 1975 crops. Producers failing to file such certification will have to do so before a card can be issued.

Commenting on the use of the marketing card, the chairman said that producers should keep in mind that tobacco can be sold only on the card for the farm on which it was grown. If the grower has an interest in two farms and each has a quota, he needs to be very careful to see that entries are entered on the proper marketing card. The same is true if he has excess and his neighbor is under-produced. He must not use the card for a farm other than the farm on which the tobacco was grown.

In most instances, producers may lease and transfer quota rights from one farm to the other but this must be done in the ASCS office, and must be done before the tobacco clears the sale at the warehouse.

If marketing for a farm exceed 10 percent of the effective quota, or tobacco is

Stolen Car Found In Jamestown

A car stolen from the Lenoir City Car Auction last Friday night was recovered in Jamestown and two men arrested Saturday in a cooperative effort between Loudon County Sheriff Guy Russell and Fentress County Sheriff L. K. Stockton.

The 1972 Ford LTD was taken from the Auction between 8 and 9 p.m. Friday. Sheriff Russell and Deputy Voyd Carruth obtained information that the car was taken to Fentress County.

Once with Sheriff Stockton the car was located and stalked out. On Saturday the Fentress Sheriff arrested Ronald Keith Crabtree and Steve M. Garrett both of Jamestown. They were charged with grand larceny and returned to Loudon County. The defendants were bound to the grand jury Monday morning from General Sessions Court.

In the trunk of the car, which belonged to C. & G. Motor Company of Chattanooga, were 22 car titles, a cashiers check for $800 and four dealer tags, all that belonged to C & G.

marked on the card for a different farm, a marketing quota penalty of 85 cents per pound could be applied. Also, the next quota established for the farm could be reduced.

Official schedules of loan values by grades were not received in time to be forwarded with the cards but will be available later. Advance loan rates by grades range from 71 cents to $1.03 per pound and reflect an average support of 96.1 cents a pound, about 12 percent above 1974.

New County Wheel Tax Top Choice Of Court Legislative Committee

(Continued from page 1) money that could be invested. "Most of our money comes in at the end of the month, making the balances look high, but just a few days after most all of it is needed to cover warrants for expenditures," Schrimsher stated.

County Court Clerk Edward Alexander defended his collection of local business taxes. He said that the figure quoted at the last meeting of the committee and published in newspapers was wrong. He said last year his office collected some $49,000 in business taxes, but the state got about $19,000 of that which left the $30,000 figure which was reported in the papers.

Alexander said he is working with Randy McGill on ways to improve the tax collection, but said it would be impossible for him to take to the road to force the collection. The committee discussed various ways Alexander could get more accurate information on businesses in the county and increase the collections. Judge Russell said that the county had missed large tax takes from contractors such as the contractors on the I-75 bridge over the Tennessee River, connector roads and contractors involved in the Teaco Dam project. He asked that Alexander try to collect on these projects since some are still underway or were finished during this current year.

* Greenback Accepts Rockwood Jaycee Bowl Invitation *******

The Greenback Cherokeses are going bowling. The Cherokeses posted a 7-3 regular season record and have accepted a post season bowl bid to play in the 27th annual Rockwood Jaycee Football Classic this Saturday night at 7:30 p.m.

The Cherokeses last participated in a high school bowl game in 1966 at Elizabethton, facing Hampton in their 10th annual Rockwood Bowl. The Cherokeses also were involved in post season activities in 1973 when they made the Class A state playoffs of Region 1. Greenback was 4-4 last fall and were one win shy this season before finishing the season strong with a 7-3 mark and four straight wins.

The Cherokeses are ranked in the top 20 of the Class A teams this year. They have scored 383 points and give up a total of 118. The Greenback offense has come to life in recent weeks with Roddy Kizer combining a bombardment of touchdown passes with hard running on the part of himself, fullback Bobby Smith and running back Danny Dotson. Greenback has totaled 2498 yards of offense and 968 has been on passing. Kizer has hit on 48 of 138 passes. Bobby Smith has rushed for 740 yards on 108 tries for a 6.9 yard average. Dotson has added 568 rushing yards and Kizer 207. Harold Hawkins is the Cherokeses' "Mr. Versatile" with 139 yards rushing on 25 chances and 435 yards of passing totals with 27 catches to his credit. He has scored 37 points. Eric Belcher leads the Greenback defense in tackles with 44 individual stops and 64 assists. The junior lineman, an All Loudon County performer, is joined in his duties with Stanley Breazeale, Bobby Smith, Danny Dotson, and Jimmy Brooks. Brooks leads the team in first down blocks with 25.

Greenback's three losses came at the hands of highly state ranked Class A power Walland (19-0), Porter (9-1), and Friendsville (7-3). In all the Cherokeses defeats add up to seniors with an overall worksheet of 26-4 and Porter and Walland will play for the Region 1 Class A Championship.

The Wildcats, coached by Ronnie Parsons, inherited the Sweetwater head reins one week into the 1975 season following a heart attack to Sweetwater coach King Berrong who was forced into retirement. The Wildcats feature two stand-out running backs in

Panthers Fall To Lake City In Football Season Ending, 11-7

Lenoir City has closed their 1975 football season on a losing note. The Panthers, who have had a disappointing luck throughout the season, won only one game while losing nine.

Lake City, headed to the Clinton Jaycee Bowl, with an 11-2 record, shut the door on the Panthers in their regular season final 11-7. The Lakers got on the score board with a first quarter field goal of 27 yards. The three point goal followed a Lenoir City fumble at the Lake City 20. The visitors then drove the ball to the Panther 12, only to be stopped and a field goal kicked.

Lenoir City started the game in missing style. All Loudon County Steve Porter recovered a Lake City fumble and the Panthers rolled behind Matt Thaxton and Danny Hall for a first down at the Lenoir City 25. Five plays later the Lake City graders had edged in front by an 11-7 tally.

The game rested with the defensive efforts of both teams squeezing out potential scoring threats. Lenoir City made a final gasp of winning the game in the fourth quarter, but their efforts fell shy of the goal line as Lake City took control of the ball at their own 10 yard line. The rest of the final period was played at midfield.

Danny Hall paced the Panthers rushing with 30 yards in a dozen snaps. The game ended with the Panthers losing 11-7.

Lake City 11-0

Cherokees Torpedo Vikings 30-14 For 7-3 Record

The Greenback Cherokees are going bowling. The Cherokees, closing their regular season of football activities with four straight victories, romped over Tennessee School for the Deaf Friday night 30-14 for a 7-3 record.

Thus the Cherokees have accepted an invitation to meet Sweetwater (7-3) in the 27th annual Rockwood Jaycee Bowl this Saturday night at Rockwood.

The Cherokees were on top by only 12-0 at half time Friday night, battling a determined Viking defense and an even tougher Tennessee River leg that actually prevented sight of the opposing sidelines by game's end.

Nevertheless the Cherokees added 18 third quarter points with Harold Hawkins coming up with a fumble recovery for the Cherokees.

Greenback put three touchdowns on the score board in the third quarter.

Randy Evans recovered a TSD fumble on their first play from scrimmage in the second half at the Vikings 21.

Five plays later Danny Dotson bounced into the end zone from the one yard line. Again the try for the extra point was no good.

Greenback forced a fourth down punt and from its own 30 Hawkins raced 27 yards on a pitchout around end. Bobby Smith took a seven pass for 24 yards to the Viking one yard strip. Smith then bolted over the double stripe with 5:51 to play in the third period.

A penalty wiped out the two point conversion pass from Kizer to Lynn Tucker.

Greenback closed out its scoring with a third down fumble recovery and ran by senior Jimmy Brooks for a touchdown. Brooks scooped up the football at the TSD 35 and displayed his running abilities of his junior season when he performed in the Cherokee backfield.

TSD finally struck paydirt on the first play of the fourth quarter and duplicated their efforts with just 21 seconds showing in the game for their 14 points.

Greenback had its only drive of the fourth quarter halted at the Viking 20 on downs.

The Cherokee play was well balanced. Bobby Smith had 23 yards in six carries and caught a pass for 24 yards. Danny Dotson ran for 44 yards on seven snaps and caught a pass. Harold Hawkins had over 100 yards of rushing and pass receptions. Handy Evans, Mitch Smith, Chris Blair, all ran for plus yardage in the game, while Stanley Breezeale and Quillen also caught passes.

Defensively the charts had Tony Chambers with 10 stops and Eric Belcher with 15. Handy Evans was in on 10 tackles and Mitch Smith helped with 13. Stanley Breezeale, Jimmy Brooks and Bobby Smith all made tackles behind the line of scrimmage on Viking ball carriers.

and turned the game over to worthy reserves as the host scored twice in the fourth period to make the score respectable.

Greenback got a 52 yard kick off return by Roddy Kizer and Danny Dotson added 27 yards on a seat run to the TSD six yard line. But the Vikings held tight and Greenback lost the ball on downs at the one yard line.

The Vikings moved the ball out to midfield with a punt. The Cherokees were not to be denied this time as they marched 50 yards in six plays to make the count 6-0 with 2:01 left in the opening quarter. A pair of 23 yard pass completions from Roddy Kizer to Glen Quillen, the last being for the touchdown, were the key plays of the drive.

Greenback came back on its next possession with a Kizer again taking to the air. A 56 yard pass reception and run by senior All County flanker Harold Hawkins capped a four play 72 yard march. The TD came with just 58 seconds gone in the second canto.

TSD then took control of the second quarter by mounting a drive that was stopped on Greenback at the Cherokee 25.

The Viking got the ball back three plays later on a pass interception at the Cherokee 25.

DOTSON STOPPED—Greenback's top ground gainer for last Friday night was Danny Dotson. The junior had 44 yards in seven carries.

Loudon Grasscutters Win Vol Midget Championship Over Harriman, 8-6

FIGHTS TO GET FREE—Loudon Grasscutter running back Archie Cosner tries his best to shake a Harriman defensive player as he seeks to make it to the outside in a running play for Loudon last Saturday night.

GAME WINNING TOSS—Loudon Grasscutter quarterback Randy Campbell steps back into the pocket before unloading a game tying touchdown aerial to receiver Byron Gobel of 20 yards in the fourth quarter of Saturday night's 8-6 win over Harriman for the Volunteer Midget football Conference Championship.

The Loudon Grasscutter football team has won the Volunteer Midget Football Conference Championship by downing Harriman in a stirring 8-6 come from behind win last Saturday night.

The Grasscutters, coached by Bill Lennox, Frank Henson, Ben Fields, and Donnie Coener and sponsored by the Loudon Quarterback Club, rode the passing arm of Randy Campbell to their eighth win of the season. They have tied two and not lost a game.

The first quarter was a defensive standoff with neither team able to establish an attack. But in the second half a Loudon fumble opened the doors for a Harriman touchdown and the Hooper Countians took a 6-0 first half lead to the sidelines.

Loudon came back to threaten in the third quarter but another fumble at the Harriman goal line ended the scoring drive.

In the final frame (seven minutes) Loudon refused to let Harriman escape the shadows of their own end zone and forced a 25 yard punt mark off. Operating in Harriman territory, Randy Campbell coolly took to the air and hit Byron Gobel with a game tying touchdown aerial of 20 yards. Campbell then turned his attention to receiver Clayton Stamey for a game winning two point conversion.

Defensive standouts of Roger Grims, Derek Richesin, Troy Kiser, Ray Mills, Archie Cosner, Tim Lennox, and Campbell held the Harriman team in check as they were unable to cross mid-field with the ball.

Harriman season ended with a 11-11 slate following the loss. The teams did not play each other in regular season games.

THEY'RE NUMBER 1—The Loudon Grasscutters proudly gathered to show as a team that they are the best in the Volunteer Midget Football Conference following a well earned 8-6 decision over Harriman in conference championship games at Sweetwater last Saturday night.

State Football Championships To Be Held On Thanksgiving Day

The biggest day ever in Tennessee high school football will be this Thanksgiving Day when all three championship games in the TSSAA Football Playoffs will be played at the same site on the same day.

The Tennessee Secondary School Athletic Association announced plans to play a Thanksgiving Day tripleheader featuring the top six football teams in Tennessee. All three games will be played at Horace Jones Field on the campus of Middle Tennessee State University in Murfreesboro on Thursday, Nov. 21.

The Class A finals will start the afternoon off at 1:00 p.m. The kickoff time for the Class AA championship game is set for 4:30 p.m. The nightcap will find Tennessee's largest classification of schools, Class AAA, beginning play at 8:00 p.m. The stadium will be cleared between games.

This is the first time that the TSSAA has scheduled all of the championship games at the same site on the same day.

"We are real excited about this format," said Gill Gideon, Executive Secretary of TSSAA. "This is the first time that the final games have fallen on Thanksgiving weekend. We discussed the play-off possibilities with the TSSAA Board of Control and decided that it would be a good chance for fans to see all three of the championship games. Being able to play all three games at MTSU in the center of the state on Thanksgiving will provide an excellent chance for fans to see the very best teams in Tennessee," added Gideon.

First-round play-off games are set for Friday, Nov. 14. Semi-final games will be played the following Friday, Nov. 21. In the semi-final games in all three classes the winners from Region 1 and Region 2 will play each other, while the winner of Region 3 meets the champion of Region 4.

Advance tickets to all play-off games may be secured from each of the participating teams and are $2.00 per person. Tickets purchased the day of the game at the game site are $2.50 each.

"We are looking for real large crowds on Thanksgiving," Gideon indicated.

"The play-off program in this state has really grown and the interest in the playoffs has simply been great. With the addition of the tie-breaker in high school football it seems that the games are more interesting than ever.

"I can think of no better way to crown the three state football champions and end the football season than to be playing all three games at the same site and on the same day. The outstanding facilities, administration and location of Middle Tennessee State University helps make all this possible. With MTSU's artificial turf there will be no problem about field conditions and every seat in the 15,000 seat stadium is good," said Gideon.

WRAPPED UP—Loudon fullback Marlon Brown is all wrapped up on this running play for a Loudon first down. Brown later scored as Loudon won 13-0.

RECEIVE TROPHIES—Loudon Grasscutter players receive their championship individual trophies following their come from behind triumph over Harriman Saturday night at Sweetwater.

THE BICENTENNIAL IS HERE AND NOW!

A series of periodic articles prepared by
The Fort Loudoun Chapter of the Daughters of American Colonists

By Swanney Mae Wilson
It is a matter of history that members of the black race played an important part in gaining the independence of America. It is estimated that 5,000 blacks, slave and free men, bore arms for the Revolutionary cause. While most of them were foot soldiers in mixed units other blacks served as guides, couriers, spies and laborers, blacks who built bridges, forts and entrenchments.

More specifically, six years before - The Declaration of Independence on March 5, 1776 Crispus Attucks was among the group of colonists who converged on Boston's Town Square to protest the clubbing to death of a youth by a British sentry. When fighting broke out between the colonial citizens and British soldiers it was Crispus Attucks who was the first to fall during what would become known as the Boston Massacre. His memory stands today on Boston Common which commemorates the runaway slave and his other fellow countrymen who lost their lives during the confrontation. Three other black patriots included Peter Salem, a former slave, Barrille Lewis and Salem Poor who distinguished themselves during the famous Battle of Bunker Hill on June 17, 1775 and Salem Poor received a citation for bravery in the battle.

Prince Hall, a free man who was born in the British West Indies and emigrated to Cambridge, Massachusetts, also saw active service in the Battle of Bunker Hill and three years later enlisted in the Medford militia for nine months. He was a Methodist minister, a black leader, and became the founder of the black Masons when he established Boston's African Lodge No. 489 in 1787 on a charter from British Masons. Prince Whipple, while still the property of Capt. William Whipple, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence who later freed his slave, was another who made a significant contribution to the fight for independence. He was one of the craftsmen who rowed General George Washington and his party across the icy Delaware River in a snow and sleet storm on Christmas Day in 1776 to win an important victory over the surprised British forces at Trenton. This was also a time of creativity for blacks and two of the more familiar of these were Phillis Wheatley and Benjamin Banneker. Phillis Wheatley, a writer of verse, won acclaim in 1773 for her volume of poetry, Poems on Various Subjects, Religious and Moral and before the year 1300 at least five editions were printed in England and America. This was something of note as she was only the second woman in all British America to reach this plateau and English was not her native tongue. She had been born in Africa, without formal education, had been a slave until the year her volume of poetry was published and was only 20 years old at the time. One of her later poems was dedicated to George Washington when he was appointed as commander-in-chief of the Continental forces. Benjamin Banneker was America's first black scientist and achieved fame in the field of mathematics and astronomy. He wrote an almanac which, Thomas Jefferson was privileged to read. He built a clock of wood that worked and kept time. And when the spot was chosen on the Potomac to build the new national Capital, Benjamin Banneker was chosen by Mr. Jefferson to be a member of the commission which surveyed the territory that became Washington, D.C. As America celebrates her Bicentennial black Americans can point with pride to the role of the black race in the Revolutionary period and with added pride to their achievements and growth as evidenced during the passing of 200 years of this nation's history.

UT Offers Civil War Book

An account of the Civil War exploits of an Indiana artillery battery which spent considerable time in campaigns in Tennessee is the latest publication of the University of Tennessee Press. "Yankee Artillerymen: Through the Civil War with Eli Lilly's Indiana Battery," draws upon letters, journals and other documents to describe the day-to-day activities of the unit which was intended to be "the crack battery of Indiana." Lilly organized the battery with that purpose in 1862. During the war, the battery marched some 6,000 miles and traveled another 1,000 by rail. At musterout, only half of the original members were left. Both books are available in local bookstores or from UT Press, 283 Communications Building, UT, Knoxville 37916.

Tennesseans can expect a state tax increase soon. It will likely come early next year. Foremost among underlying causes for the probable hike is the high rate of inflation which has persisted in the economy for the past several years. State government experiences the same problems of increasing costs that plague individuals and private business. The program hit hardest by inflation is Medicaid which will require a supplemental appropriation of $8 to $10 million. Costs in the health care area are rising in Tennessee at a rate about twice that of inflation generally. Coupled with increasing costs is the fact that Tennessee's tax revenue is growing at a rate below that of inflation and low revenue growth are not the only factors contributing to the need for a tax increase. In recent years the General Assembly has authorized several costly new programs which are now making substantial additional demands for state dollars. These programs include a new School of Medicine at Johnson City, a School of Veterinary Medicine at UT-Knoxville, several regional correction centers, and a massive comprehensive vocational education program. Some of these new programs were needed and of high priority. Others were not but still must now be paid for. Ironically the tax increase will come at a time when there is much disenchantment with government taxing and spending in general and when the federal government is decreasing taxes and perhaps the rate of spending growth. It will come at a time when there is clear evidence that Tennesseans — like most Americans — are waking up from what one economist has called the "fiscal illusion." For years people have been in favor of having the government do things for them but have not been in favor of paying the bill. The illusion has been that we can have the benefits without the costs.

Now government is taking more and more of our weekly paycheck. In 1960 government — federal, state and local — took about 18 per cent of the paycheck. Now it takes twice that much. Are we getting twice as much in government services? Clearly, no. At the same time government takes more in taxes, the price of food and gas goes over higher. We are caught in the middle unable to buy necessities. Instead of taxes and butter, increasingly now the choice is taxes or butter. As one Tennessean said last week "When I was a poor kid, I ate hamburgers. Now I eat hot dogs." And there is discontent with government. Many suspect the aims of government have changed. Many believe government taxing and spending does not help the mass of middle income taxpayers but rather benefits the chronically poor and the very rich. It is in this atmosphere the General Assembly will enact a tax increase next year — an increase which does not seem avoidable when the state's fiscal situation is considered. The potential political effects in an election year are difficult to gauge. But many legislators are skittish. Well they might be.

Rainfall In October Above Normal

Rainfall averaged 5.4 inches across the Tennessee Valley in October, nearly 3 inches above normal and the wettest October since 1970. Rainfall averaged 7 inches over the western half of the Valley, the highest October total since 1932. The upper half of the Valley, east of Chattanooga, received an average of 4.1 inches during the month. Tennessee River streamflow was the highest since 1966 for October. The highest October rainfall was 12.6 inches at Haleyville in north Alabama, and the lowest total for the month was 1.3 inches at Elizabethton in upper east Tennessee.

ILLEGAL CATCH—Tennessee Wildlife officers Rex Collier and Ed Will are shown looking at one of three truckloads of fish that were taken illegally at Fort Loudon Dam Monday. Three truckloads of fish, carp, buffalo, gar and cats, weighing some 2,000 pounds were found. William Green, Annette Green, James Green and Ledi Green, all of Hixon were charged with illegal commercial fishing within 1,000 yards of a TVA Dam. They were each fined $57.25 in General Sessions Court.

More In County Self Employed

The spirit of individual enterprise continues to flourish in Loudon County, judging from the number of local residents who start up new businesses each year.

Despite the hazards involved in launching a business, many are doing so these days. Some of them, desirous of being on their own, are giving up their jobs and the security of a weekly paycheck to make the move.

Others, who have been out of work for some time because of the depressed economy, are taking the step in the hope of improving their situation.

These entrepreneurs combine whatever they have in the way of savings and whatever they can borrow and make the big move. Some of them buy existing businesses and others start brand new ones.

More than half of them get into retail operations or franchises of some sort. Grocery stores and restaurants are most popular, followed by a variety of service businesses. The chief requirements are small initial investment and low overhead. According to the latest Commerce Department statistics, there are some 710 residents of Loudon County who are making their living from their own businesses or professions.

They are the storekeepers, the doctors, the farmers, the contractors, the gas station owners and such. Being self-employed, they no longer have such problems as getting and holding a job. Instead they have other problems—meeting the monthly rent bill, labor costs, supplies, sales volume and competition.

Based upon the most recent figures, approximately 7.5 percent of the local working population are self-employed. The proportion is well above that in many areas of the country.

The Government lists several ingredients for a new business to succeed. The first is money. There should be enough of a cushion or reserve fund to carry on for a considerable time, since few of them are profitable in the early stages. In addition there must be a knowledge of the business, a willingness to work hard and the ability to avoid serious mistakes.

You Bet Your Life

by Joyce Stimpson, R.N.

Since we are in the midst of football season, and not far from ice skating, skiing, and basketball seasons, we should probably talk about joint injuries. You could even use the same general information if you turn your ankle at gentler sports such as dog-walking or leaf-raking.

Following an injury, many people contact their physician and arrange for x-rays. However, unless there is a very obvious fracture, many people use the approach of "let's wait and see." In either case, here are some general guidelines to use following a joint injury.

- 1) Elevate the injured part (ankle, wrist, etc.). This reduces swelling. This is also important if you have a cast, because swelling will make the cast too tight.
- 2) For the first twenty-four hours, apply ice wrapped in slight towel. This constricts blood vessels and decreases swelling and pain.
- 3) After the first twenty-four hours, applying heat may make you more comfortable.
- 4) Support the injury (use an elastic bandage, a boot that laces up past the ankle, etc.).
- 5) Check the circulation to your fingers or toes. They should be warm to touch and pink in color. There should be no tingling or numbness. If you find a circulation problem, contact your doctor. Have a safe fall.

Steps Given For Cutting Heat Bills

Even though charges for TVA electricity are being reduced, electric bills this winter will still be higher than last year for consumers who heat electrically, according to a TVA energy specialist.

A typical electrically heated home will use two to three times as much electricity in a cold winter month as it has been using in September and October, so bills will climb in coming months, J. W. Ward, chief of TVA's Electrical Demonstration Branch, said. And even after the recent reductions in power charges, these charges will be much higher power plant costs than those of a year ago. The cost of electricity will still be some 20 percent higher than last winter for the same consumption, he said.

Consumers should take steps now to cut down on heat loss from their homes," Ward said. "Most of the electricity used in a typical all-electric home in winter is for space heating to replace the heat that escapes through ceilings, floors, walls, doors, and windows. That accounts for most of the dollars in those winter electric bills, and that is where the main savings can be gained."

Installing adequate insulation can do more than anything else to cut heat loss from homes," he said. "We recommend at least 4 inches (R-19) of insulation between ceiling and attic, and 3-1/2 inches (R-11) of insulation with a vapor barrier in outside walls and under floors. Installing storm doors and windows, caulking around outside windows and door frames, and weatherstripping around outside doors will keep even more heat in."

For those who can't afford storm doors and windows, lacking up sheets of clear plastic outside the windows will help, Ward said. "And you could use air leaks around window and outside door frames with any material you have, as long as it does not present a fire hazard."

Ward recommended a thermostat setting no higher than 68 degrees. "The lower the thermostat setting, the fewer kilowatt-hours will be used," he said.

Rooms not often used should be closed off, if possible, and the thermostat setting reduced in them. The filter in a central heating system should be cleaned or replaced every 30 days. If the damper of a fireplace not in use should be closed tight so heat can't escape up the chimney.

More information on electricity-saving measures is available from the offices of local electric systems.

DRIVER ESCAPES INJURY—Gordon Robbins, 64, of Fenton, Michigan, somehow escaped injury Wednesday when his pickup truck pulling a mobile camper jackknifed and overturned in the median of I-40 near the Loudon-Knox County line. State Trooper Joe Lemons said that Robbins lost control of the vehicle while attempting to pass westbound traffic and skidded over 400 feet.

A MILLION-DOLLAR MORNING, FOR PENNIES

Sunrise. The electric clock buzzes. Feet on the floor. But winter or summer, the house is comfortable by just setting the thermostat. Flip on a light. Shower and shave with warm water. Shortly, the aroma of perking coffee, and bacon and eggs, and hot biscuits drifts through the house. Turn on the radio and listen to the news and weather while getting dressed. Wake the children. Scan the paper while under a good reading light and in your best chair. Breakfast. And homelife conversation. Kiss the kids on the forehead. Her at the door. And leave for work without giving a second thought to all the conveniences electricity made possible for you and your family that first hour of the morning.

CARD OF THANKS
We would like to thank all our neighbors and friends for the flowers and food and kindness shown to us during the death of our loved one. A special thanks to Paini Rock Church and Highland Baptist Church for the food. Each act of kindness is deeply appreciated.
The family of Mrs. J. W. (Martha) Moore. 11-13-75

Many of those, who by virtue of the passing years are eligible to be in the realm of the Good Old Days, will recall the days of the family entertainment center called the radio and with boys of that era. A good prize fight was something to look forward to, and they would gather at someone to hear the blow by blow. One of those who was very popular in those days was Max Schmelling. We have a picture of Max holding his prize, the world championship. He had just defeated the popular W.L. Stribling on July 3, 1931. We felt that this old picture was a prize within itself, much less to remind us of that Good Old Days era.

Our other picture this week is very small but it is a picture of two men well known in Loudon years ago. One of them is Walter Julian, Mr. Julian, now deceased, was a man of many talents. He was always engaged in some sort of venture that could well be considered out of the ordinary. He was projector operator at the old Court Theatre for a long period of time. I know he did mechanical work at the plants around Loudon. I believe it was at the chair factory and maybe the hosiery mill. He had a knack for doing this type of work.

In thinking about motion picture projectors, in years past, it was a much sought after profession, and good projector operators were hard to find.

The other man in the picture is identified as John Malone. I am pretty sure that this is the John Malone who lost his life in World War I. The name is inscribed on the bronze plaque in the Loudon Courthouse Yard and was put there many believe he was the only casualty from Loudon during World War I. I could very well be wrong in this but I believe this is correct.

For many years the brass plaque stood at the base of the concrete structure which was the resting place for the old World War I Cannon, which went for scrap from during the course of World War II. Many a Loudon boy has sat on the wooden seat of this old cannon.

A few weeks back we ran a picture of some ladies dressed in patriotic clothing. We did not know when it was taken or where but now we know. It was a 4th of July celebration in Loudon in 1923 and the ladies in the picture were Cora Parks Hill, Bonnie Ralston Scarborough, Lillian Vanni Chromley, and Cora Hines Robinson. We are grateful to Maxine Isaacs for helping us to establish the place (time and identity). Our many thanks.

Next week we will have a picture of a man who served Loudon for many years in an honorable position. Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

Architectural Cost Estimate In Six Weeks

The Knoxville based architectural firm of Barber & McMurtry will continue to provide architects for the million dollar Loudon County school building program. County Board approved an amendment to the contract last Thursday adding several schools to the program that were covered under the original contract given the firm less than a year ago.

Ben McMurray, a partner in the firm, attended the meeting to explain the contract. The firm will fill all the drawings and architectural details for 10 percent fee for new building, renovation and remodeling projects. In the case of two middle schools planned and may be duplicated in design the firm will make the second plans available for a two-percent fee. McMurray said he was aware that the contract may cover several projects all projects are after the contract was the architect said that would begin immediately the first priorities are hoped that within 60 days the firm would start feeding estimates on the project.

The board, in discussing the program, is still in agreement that it would best to get the cost estimates as they are ready, but they will have all the estimates and alternate hand before they go to court for any funding. Architect Hired, Cost Estimates In Sixty Days

The Knoxville based architectural firm of Barber and McMurray will continue as architect for the multi-million dollar Loudon County school building program. The County Board approved an amendment to the firm's contract last Thursday night adding several schools to the program that were not covered under the original contract given the firm more than a year ago.

Ben McMurray, a senior partner in the firm, attended the meeting to explain the contract. The firm will handle all the drawings and other architectural duties for a five percent fee for new building, renovation and remodeling projects. In the case where two middle schools are planned and may be duplicated in design, the firm will make the second school plans available for a two and one-half percent fee.

McMurray said he was well aware that the contract period may cover several years before all projects are built. After the contract was signed the architect said that work would begin immediately on the first priorities and he hoped that within 60 days the firm would start feeding cost estimates on the projects.

The board, in discussing the program, is still in basic agreement that it would be best to get the cost estimates as they are ready, but to wait until they have all the cost estimates and alternatives in hand before they go to county court for any funding and establish the priorities for a multi-year (probably a year's) building program.

There were questions concerning the contract for architectural services, one dealing with the hourly fee charged by the firm for measuring existing buildings to get information for the estimates and plans. The contract calls for $60 per hour for the service, provided that building does not become a part of the program. Mr. McMurray said if any building that is in the program is measured then the work will be part of the regular five percent fee. Only if such work is done on a building that is not included in the final program will there be a charge for these services.

Superintendent Edward Headlee, Board Chairman Ted Wampler and Vice Chairman J. B. Hagler said each had had several contacts from other architects wanting to make a bid for the service, but felt that since the old contract with Barber and McMurray was not changed, only amended to include other schools, and because the firm had already done work on several of the schools, it would be best to stay with that firm. During that discussion Mr. McMurray said, "we feel we have a legal and binding contract and with the amendment the compensation has not changed. Actually most firms charge more than five percent for renovation, and the added two and one half percent for duplication use you a very good contract."

One of the alternate plans that will be presented will be for renovating the old Loudon High School for use as a Junior High. It was pointed out that at least two court members thought that would be less expensive than adding to the present Junior High and building a new middle school in the Loudon area. Most of the board members with this and doubt that the state would accept the proposal, but is having the cost estimates done anyway to help determine the direction of the program.

Chairman Ted Wampler said he thought that the board should take the estimates on Philadelphia as soon as they are ready and get the project started.

Hagler disagreed saying the board should wait for the entire package. Ted Randolph said going to the county court without estimates on the entire building program would be a "nightmare."

Superintendent Headlee suggested that the board think of hiring a consultant to work with the architect to make sure the buildings are completely functional. Far education, not just nice buildings. Headlee said the U-T School Planning Lab and former Loudon teacher and now a professional school planner, Dr. Gary Dutton had offered their services in this connection. Headlee said that Barber and McMurray did not have a professional school planner on their staff.

In discussing the board discussed who to use as their on-the-job representative at Clerk of the Works to see that the contractor built the schools as specified. Steve Harrison, who did similar work at Loudon High and other schools was mentioned and was to be contacted to see if he was available.

Chairman Wampler said he felt that the Superintendent, principal and faculty of each

City Approves Street Projects

Loudon City Council Monday night approved two major work projects for the winter for the street department. They were to begin storm sewer work on Steekee Street with actual street work to be done next summer. Also agreed to a project to rebuild much of the sidewalks at the courthouse with participation from the county in the furnishing of materials.

Maintenance Superintendent Ray Lovin said that his crew was now working on the storm sewers on Steekee and when the concrete work there was completed he would begin work on the sidewalks around the courthouse. He also said that his crews planned to repair as well as Steekee Street.

Don Canter and Jack Fieby were reappointed to the City Housing Authority. Members of the Beer Board, Jake Stevens, Joe Mourfield and Burton Petrey were reappointed.

After some discussion the Council agreed to make hospitalization and life insurance coverage available to city employees covered under the classified service available to the employee at the time of their employment. Previously they had to wait

County Asked To Help In Blair Bend Project

The City of Loudon has asked the County Court to become partners with them in the development of the Blair Bend Industrial Park. The reception for the Squires was held in the office of County Judge Bill Russell Monday morning following a special court meeting where the proposal was made by Loudon City Manager Gary Hensley and Councilman Joe Carter. Manager Hensley pointed out to the court members that county participation was needed to fully develop the potential of the 200 acre park and that the return on the investment, two to three hundred thousand dollars, from sale of the land and taxes generated when sold to industry would be of benefit to the county.

It was also pointed out to the court that governments were finding the best way to attack financial problems of local government is to increase the tax base so the tax base does not have to be increased.

Hensley said that several court members asked questions relating to the return they could expect on the investment, but the most part seemed favorable to the December meeting because of the close timeframe the city is working with in getting funding for the project.

Hensley said that the logic behind the $1.2 million project is that both the Loudon City and Blair Bend industrial parks could greatly benefit from the spinoff from the Exxon Nuclear plant and the Nuclear Breeder Reactor in Roane County. He said the two parks would be in a great position to attract various office and satellite plants that will be required to feed products to the new nuclear projects. He said he felt the Knoxville Chamber of Commerce nationwide program to make the Knoxville area the energy capital of the world would have impact on the surrounding counties including Loudon County.

On Hospital Board Agenda...

Medical Building In LC May Be Proposed

The possible construction of a medical professional building on highway 96 in Loudon City was to be discussed at the meeting of the Loudon County Memorial Hospital Board of Directors Wednesday night.

Hospital Administrator Gary Hamilton said that the board is looking for ways to stimulate use of the hospital and feels that the construction of a professional medical building would help secure medical specialists to the county. The hospital census at the 50 bed facility has been below last week there were only 14 patients in the hospital.

Mr. Hamilton said that a set of architectural plans for such a building are already in hand and along with the end of the new city park to the estate of Elizabeth Thomas as part of medicine specialists and

Loudon Offers Free December Parking

The Loudon City Council has ordered that free parking be allowed in the downtown area during the month of December.

Councilman Kenneth Thomas presented the move saying he felt if the parking meters were not working during the month that it would create a better business atmosphere for the merchants. At the same time he said that merchants should encourage their employees not to take advantage of the free parking and not tie up parking spaces that might be used by shoppers. He also approved a two hour limit on parking at a single meter during the month.

Carbide May Use Local Bonds For Treatment Facility

Loudon County Court approved three resolutions dealing with $500,000 in revenue bonds for the Tellico Area Service System water district and elected seven persons to the Loudon County

Industrial Bond Board, all in a 10 minute special session of the court Monday. Elected to the County Industrial Bond Board were Don Carter and Edwin Berley for two years; Merle

Westbrook and W. F. Zimmerman for four years, and Harry Wampler, Hoss Wilkerson and J. Y. McNabb for six years. A resolution read by Squire Jim Hartsook called for Broady Harrison to be appointed to the board replacing the late Cotton Eater. Squire I. D. Conner nominated Wampler, who then won in a 6-2 vote. Judge Russell stated that all the terms of the Bond Board had expired and all re-appointments were made. It was stated that the Board was being reorganized because Union Carbide at Loudon was considering using the Bond Board to finance the construction of a $2 million water treatment facility to improve treatment of waste water now going into the Tennessee River.

The TASS resolutions came after no one appeared in court to bid on the half million in bonds at five percent for 60 years.

The resolutions were as follows: 1-To confirm the sale of $500,000 water revenue and tax bonds (TASS) of Loudon County to the Farmers Home Administration.

2-To authorize the issuance of a $500,000 water revenue and tax bond (TASS) of Loudon County and other related provisions.

3-To authorize transfer of $500,000 bond proceeds to Tellico Area Services System water system construction fund. Following the meeting members of the court were guests of the City of Loudon at an informal reception in the office of County Judge William Russell where City Manager Gary Hensley gave them an updated report on the progress the city is making toward securing Blair Bend for a major industrial park.

ETSU MAJORETTE—Dobbie Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Earl Thomas, Route 3, Cox Road, Loudon, is one of six majorettes with the East Tennessee State University Marching Band. A graduate of Loudon High School, Miss Thomas is a physical education major at ETSU where she is a sophomore.

scored first, on their offensive series of 17 in the first period of Rick Melton's 36 yard Melton, a second on East Tennessee's continued his razzle-dazzle efforts for 20 on 21 carries and several touchdowns to Redskins triumph. All East Tennessee's Brown, missed tying record for carries by 28 carries for 119 yards took time out for 17 seconds anchoring the Loudon offense. In all total the Redskins offensive punch Loudon to a clear down of the game with 36 total yards and control time of 1:00 clock 24 minutes and seconds to 23:16 for the game was Loudon offense as Dame battled for possession eight Loudon fumbles away with five touchdowns. Three of the touchdowns were a pair of Dame bobbles and three of the 29 passes by the visitors. Loudon "struck" following the opening return of 18 yards to the Dame 35. Dickie Co. Loudon County defense scrambled from the scrimmage pile-up of football and Loudon first scoring try from 33.

Loudon managed a first down to the Dame 21. But an incomplete pass, which was to broken collar bone of wide receiver Kenny and a fumble by Melton the ball back at the 33. Starritt came out game under his own and considered Coach Ratledge of fear of broken his collar bone shoulder injury and had his standout rushed to the hospital.

Melton Runs For Three Touchdowns; Notre Dame Falls 20-6

The Loudon Redskins football team has successfully defended its Region Two Class "AA" football title. The Redskins defeated region runner-up Chattanooga Notre Dame 20-6 last Friday night on Loudon's Dukos Field before a sellout home crowd and only a mere 400 Chattanooga followers of the Irish.

The game, played in the first real taste of winter weather, saw game time temperatures of mid-40's and in the low 30's and a frozen frost covering the gridiron.

Nevertheless Loudon went about their business in handling the confident Notre Dame team. The Redskins scored first, on their second offensive series of the game in the first period on senior Rick Melton's 36 yard jaunt.

Melton, a second team All-East Tennessee honoree, continued his razzle dazzle running efforts for 202 yards on 21 carries and scored two more touchdowns to pace the Redskins triumph.

All East Tennessee Marlon Brown, missed trying a playoff record for carries by one, had 26 carries for 118 yards and took time out for 17 tackles in anchoring the Loudon defense.

In all total the Redskins 12 offensive punch sparked Loudon to a clear domination of the game with 17 first downs, 363 total team offense, and control time of the game clock 24 minutes and 44 seconds to 2:16 for the Irish.

The game was not all Loudon offense. Notre Dame battled for possession of eight Loudon fumbles, coming away with five. Loudon wrestled away a pair of Notre Dame bobbles and pilfered three of the 29 passes thrown by the visitors.

Loudon "struck a lick" following the opening kickoff of 18 yards to the Notre Dame 35. Dickie Colvin, All Loudon County defensive star, scrambled from the first scrimmage pile-up with the football and Loudon got its first scoring try from the Irish 33.

Loudon managed six plays and a first down to the Notre Dame 21. But an incomplete pass, which was to end in a broken collar bone of junior wide receiver Kenny Starritt, and a fumble by Melton gave the ball back at the 22.

Starritt came out of the game under his own power and insisted Coach Bert Ratledge of fear of having broken his collar bone. Coach Ratledge checked the shoulder injury and quickly had his standout flanker rushed to the hospital.

CAUSES FUMBLE—Loudon safety Bumper Webster steals the football away from the Chattanooga Notre Dame fullback at the Loudon five yard line. Rick Melton (20) is soon to make the recovery.

break required a specialist to set it and Starritt was taken to see it and Starritt was taken to Knoxville. The junior receiver, who has caught four passes for four touchdowns this season will be out the rest of the year, but is expected to be in line shape for spring drills.

Meanwhile, Loudon's defense was containing the Irish at their own 28, forcing a 25 yard punt on fourth down.

From the Loudon 47 Melton ran behind the blocks of Gary Brown and Jeff Nichols for nine yards, Marlon Brown slammed up the middle for seven yards and a first down at the Notre Dame 36. Rick Melton then stepped out side of Junior Rolan and Bryan Curtis block on the left for an easy sprint to pay dirt and a Loudon lead of 6-0 with 6:35 left in the first period. James Birkholz tried for extra point was wide of the goal post.

Notre Dame, exhibiting its pre-game scout report of having a pin-point passing attack, went to work in earnest. South-paw quarterback Tommy Phifer had the Irish all even in less than two minutes.

Herald flanker Mike Bruce returned the ensuing kick-off 25 yards. A one yard run into the heart of the Loudon defensive core was followed by an 11 yard strike to Bruce at the Notre Dame 46. Loudon's defense again destroyed the running game as Colvin, Marlon Brown, Steve Harrison and Jimmy Brown threw the ball carrier for a yard loss. But Phifer returned to the air for an incomplete pass which was to end in a broken collar bone of junior wide receiver Kenny Starritt, and a fumble by Melton gave the ball back at the 22.

Starritt came out of the game under his own power and insisted Coach Bert Ratledge of fear of having broken his collar bone. Coach Ratledge checked the shoulder injury and quickly had his standout flanker rushed to the hospital.

BETTER LUCK NEXT SEASON—Coach Bert Ratledge wishes his Chattanooga visitors a safe ride home after Loudon had disposed of the Irish 20-6.

defense in keeping the Irish bottled inside its own 20.

Loudon next possession was to again be wrecked by a lost fumble. This time Marlon Brown failed to get the handle on a Deathridge pitchout at the Irish 37 and the ball was recovered at the Notre Dame 46 with 5:15 showing in the first half.

The Loudon defense was invincible, but Notre Dame caught Loudon retreating for a return of a fourth down punt and the punter rambled 18 yards to carry the ball into Loudon territory for the second time in the game. Loudon yielded a first down on two runs and the Irish was actually moving for the first time in the game.

Loudon partisans and football team alike have dreamed of a time when these two "AA" powers might cross paths again. Maryville footballers and Blount Countians have boastfully enjoyed the past month and feel equal treatment can again be dealt the Redskins should such a meeting be necessary.

Necessary it is and this time for all the marbles. To the winner goes a berth in the attempted extra point that would have given Notre Dame the lead.

Loudon took charge of the game with its next offensive series, although the actual scoring difference was not settled until just five minutes remained in the fourth quarter.

Greg Deathridge ran the ensuing kick-off back 20 yards and Loudon kept the ball for the next 6:20 to a 14 play drive that ended at the Notre Dame 10 yard line.

Melton and Brown had alternated calls in moving Loudon down the field before Deathridge coughed up the ball on a delayed handoff at the 10.

Junior Rolan led the Loudon

Dame 24.

Melton dashed for the score with 1:13 left in the initial half and Jim Birkholz split the uprights for a 13-6 difference.

Loudon ended the half with a minus 12 yard sack of the Notre Dame quarterback and the fire carried over to the second half play.

The Redskins gave the Notre Dame offense an early opportunity to knot the score in the third quarter, fumbling away the pigskin at their own 31 just 1:39 deep into the second half.

Steve Hill, Sam Thearp, Jeff Nichols, Junior Rolan, Marlon Brown, Jim Brown, Steve Harrison, and Dickie Colvin proved instrumental as Loudon held on downs at their own 23 yard marker.

The Redskins moved into Notre Dame territory on first down as slippery Rick Melton escaped for 51 yards to the Irish 26.

A fumble on third down and a 12 yard effort by sophomore Freddie Starritt to the Notre Dame 17 left Loudon a yard short of keeping the ball with 6:16 left in the third canto.

A nifty 27 yard run by Keith moved the ball to midfield.

Loudon played like a machine in routing off four well engineered first downs, advancing the ball to mid-field on a crisp blocking and running by Melton and Brown.

A 33 yard bullet to Mike Lambert had Loudon swinging toward the Chattanooga goal line but in the course of the reception and run Lambert was separated from the ball. Notre Dame recovering at their own 46.

Senior defensive back Tim Merrell may have applied the final straw that would break the Irish. With 9:46 left in the game Merrell intercepted a deep in Loudon territory and returning the ball 13 yards. A masterful defensive play, Notre Dame found itself working now slumped in Loudon and the clock running in the Redskins favor.

Notre Dame retained possession of the ball with 7:52 left in the final frame. A straight passing attack was well blanketed by a steady Redskins defensive rush and all secondary.

Dickie Colvin's second defensive recovery of the night was a pass intercepted at the Loudon 29 yard line would send the Irish home for another season. Colvin zipped up the field for 29 yards and a 15 yard penalty of a "late hit" on Loudon's Steve Hill by a Notre Dame player gave the Redskins field position at the Irish 34.

Five plays later Loudon had crossed the double stripe on a six yard dance by Rick Melton and Loudon would advance to the 1975 semi-finals of the Tennessee Class AA football championship. Jim Birkholz extra point boot made the count 20-6 with 3:31 to play.

Notre Dame retained the ball for its longest play series with a game ending 16 yard march that died at the Loudon 18 yard line.

Coach Bert Ratledge was happy with the game score. Commenting, "We were misled on their passing game, we were told that they could pass but Phifer was not supposed to be able to unload the long bomb. He's got my vote for a big league centerfielder. That kid has a fine arm and knows how to use it. Bruce is a good receiver with speed and size." "I thought they would bring a better game though, I guess the Chattanooga people slumped in Athens."

Coach Ratledge was upset with his teams mishandling of the football and calmed the post game excitement in the Loudon dressing room to tell his team so.

"You'll be laughing stock," cautioned Ratledge, "if you think you can play the type ball we did tonight and face the challenges ahead."

with the game at Maryville's back door (Maryville Everett) and having beaten Loudon in the regular season.

Maryville has recorded three shutouts but had 109 points scored on them. Loudon appears to be a better offensive team but gave away five and six yards at crucial times on first down to the Maryville team the last time out.

There will be no proclamations nor will there be any foolishness in this week's practice warm up for the Friday night show down. The rematch will be the top "AA" attraction of the entire 1975 playoffs. Maryville

Loudon, Maryville Rematch Staged For Friday

Loudon's October 24th meeting with Maryville was written up across the state of Tennessee as the most suspense filled game of the 1975 season and has had many of a cup of coffee drunk while discussing the pros and cons of what might have been and what was. Loudon fell in four overtimes to the Red Rebels 17-14.

Loudon has made a two touchdown favorite and many feel this is out of proportion

Redskin-Panther Hoop Game Reset For Saturday Night

The old rivalry of Loudon and Lenoir City basketball gets another page of the scrap book this weekend with the over shadowing buzz and excitement that is being centered on the high school football playoffs.

The game scheduled for Loudon on Friday night, had to be changed to Saturday night. But the quality of play will remain the same.

The Panthers will bring to Loudon superior teams in both boys and girls classes. The Panther boys are getting plenty of ink as one of the teams to be wise of a strong district and region contender. Coach Willie Joe Smalley's team returns three starters for this season in center Howard Cusick (6-8), Grayling Littleton, and guard Terry Fartson.

"We want to have a good ball team," admitted Coach Smalley. "But I think we may be over rated by many. We must depend on some sophomore and juniors to make up our starting five and the inexperience will have its problems for us."

The Lenoir City girls feature junior Patty Cook at forward and Pam Thomas and Betty Powell guard to give Coach Mike Pickle enough offensive strength to rate him as the most of pre-season picks for district honors.

"Patty is moving for the ball well and should score high for us. She is tough inside. Pam and Betty are both capable of bringing the defense to them with out side shooting," stated Coach Pickle.

The Pantherette defense has two starters back in Nandy Thompson and Debbie Johnson. Beth Taxton and Kathy Fulton will battle for the other starting position.

Thompson is presently out of action with a broken nose.

The Loudon boys will counter with its cast of juniors and hope for a standout shooting performance to counter set the Panther experience.

Coach Dewayne Arg figures to score on the Lenoir City team but the Loudon guards have yet to tackle anybody with a player with the skills of Patty Cook. Miss Cook may find it rough to dribble the ball but Loudon on the other hand may find the backboard.

Where Has All The Big Game Gone?

Where has all the big game gone? Much of it has gone, and continues to go, to poaching.

Wildlife laws are intended to limit the hunting pressure applied on a game species. Such regulations are set so that the maximum number of animals can be taken by hunters without harming the breeding stock.

Poaching (the taking of animals out of season), cuts into the breed stock and can seriously reduce the animal population.

A good example of poaching activities came (a light recently 12 miles from Maryville in a section of Blount County known as West Miller's Cove).

Wildlife officers discovered a bear-hug trap that had been made by welding two 30 gallon drums together, end to end, to form a cone tube. A sliding metal door had been welded over the open end and attached to a series of bent pipes and chain which extended back through the top of the rear barrel. The pipe extended down into the barrel some six to eight inches and was barely attached to the barrel by a small notch in the pipe.

This delicately balanced trip mechanism was designed to bring the door crashing down once an animal got inside the trap and brushed against the trip rod.

Tennessee Law prohibits trapping except during the established trapping seasons (None exists for bear and hogs). It requires the written permission of the landowner to trap on his property and requires that the trap have the name of the owner on it. Violation of any of these provisions is punishable by a fine of from $25 to $50.

It is also unlawful to use a pitfall, deadfall, scaffold, cage, snare, trap, net, salt lick, blind pit, baited hook, poison, chemicals, explosives, set guns, or ball traps or a mixture of ingredients used for food purposes in kill, injury, or capture wildlife, such as bear and hogs) which are protected by State Law. Violation is punishable by a fine of at least $50.

It is also unlawful to pursue, capture, or possess any big game species except in those areas and at those times when the season has been opened by the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency.

yielding few defensive rebounds.

Greenback also opens up its hoop season this weekend with a Friday night game at Maynardville.

The Cheerokees of Coach Charles Bailey must fill a couple of vacant positions left by graduation Junior Roddy Kizer will again be the Cherokee work horse. And the slender forward-guard can expect help from sophomore Steve Englanders (6-5) and Harold Hawkins (6-0). All are returning lettermen. Danny Dodson and Lynn Tucker, a pair of juniors are expected to challenge for starting berths. Sophomore Jimmy Russell is termed a good punter and has a soft shot.

He could be a starter or "sixth" man.

Tom Radar, Glen Quillen, Chris Blair, and Richard Hogan will round out Friday night's travel squad. "We will run a lot and try to get things going our way," states Coach Bailey. "We will not be a big as most teams and will have to make up for it on shooting and quickness."

The Greenback girls, winner of just three games last year, but nevertheless making the regional tournament, should be much better.

Coach Jerry Masingo has forwards Chita Tipton and Pam Neely back for their junior and sophomore seasons respectively and Marti Myers, who played both ways last winter is expected to be a full time forward this year.

Senior Debbie Childs will anchor the defense while Robin Anderson is set for defensive duty as a starter. The other position is up for immediate grabs and may not be settled until several games into the season.

Pantherettes Upset

LC Topples Harriman Hoop Team

Lenoir City rolled up a 17-point lead midway through the second half Tuesday night but had to hold off a Harriman rally during the final stages of the contest. The Blue Devils visiting Blue Devils, 63-58.

Grayling Littleton and Grayling Littleton scored 18 points each to pace the winners, who outscored Harriman 41-22 during the middle-top quarters of the contest.

The Blue Devils, expected to be in a rebuilding season after losing six of their top eight performers from last year's regional championship team, were paced by junior forward Val Barkadale, who led all scorers with 22 points and had an outstanding night on the backboards with 21 retrieves.

In the girls contest, Harriman defeated the Pantherettes on their home floor for the first time in recent memory, pulling away to a 60-49 victory. Harriman also won the junior varsity game, 53-36.

In the boys varsity contest, Harriman opened up a 16-12 lead after one quarter here on a stone cold cold from the field, hitting only 6 of 27 shots over the next two periods.

Pete Littleton led the surge which put the Panthers ahead by good, sending home five field goals from far out on the right side during the second period as Lenoir City opened up a 34-25 lead at intermission.

Big 6-8 center Howard Cusick found the range to start the second half, pouring in three fielders during the third period as the Panthers extended their lead after three quarters to 53-38.

Barkadale's fielder ahead of the contest (50-36) and the outstanding Blue Devil leader changed in two more fielders to start the fourth quarter to suddenly make it an 11-point hallogame.

Free throws by Cusick and Littleton helped Lenoir City bring things under control at this point. The Blue Devils surged again in the closing minutes of play, scoring the final seven points of the contest, including back-to-back tip-in buckets by reserve forward Terry Daniels.

The two Littletons led the winners in scoring with 18 points each, while Cusick contributed 12. Guard Terry Parton, a returning starter for the Panthers, did not score.

Harriman's girls surprisingly took control early in their contest, and were in command all the way, leading 14-8 after one quarter, 33-28 at halftime, and 45-36 after three quarters.

Patty Cook had 21 points for Lenoir City to lead all scorers, while Pam Thomas chipped in with 14 points. Betsy Powell had 12, and Sharon Liles added two.

Greenback's Late Surge Falls Short Of Wildcats 34-25

Running backs Ed Brewster and Tippy Armstrong combined for five touchdowns and 283 yards rushing Saturday night as Sweetwater defeated Greenback 24-25 in the 28th renewal of the annual Rockwood Jaycee Bowl.

Brewster, who rushed for 104 yards in 14 carries, accounted for Sweetwater's first three touchdowns in the contest as runs of 10, 40, and 1 yards. Armstrong, after a slow start, came on to take rushing honors for the evening with 19 carries for 180 yards, scoring twice in the second half on runs of 8 and 42 yards.

The Wildcats threatened to blow Greenback out of the game on numerous occasions, but the scrappy Cherokees made the best of their breaks to keep the game close down to the wire.

It took Sweetwater only two plays to score on their initial possession of the contest, with Dan Mercer passing 47 yards to Keith Plenson on the scrimmage play to put the ball at the 10, and then Brewster darting over for the touchdown.

The Wildcats were unable to move on their next possession, but just before the end of the quarter got on the scoreboard again Brewster streaked over from 30 yards out for the touchdown after scampering 19 yards two plays earlier to get the drive underway.

Danny Mizer's second conversion made it 14-0. The Wildcats consumed most of the second quarter on their third scoring drive, marching 92 yards in 14 plays with Brewster plugging over from a yard out with 2:56 remaining. Armstrong had 42 yards on five carries during the drive, while Brewster twice picked up key first downs.

Greenback brought the regarded as one of the outstanding pass receivers in East Tennessee for the past three seasons, fumbled the ball at the outset and appeared to be hemmed in by four Sweetwater defenders back at the 5. He broke to the middle and then made a tremendous pivot move back to the outside, picking up a gain of 28 yards before he was raced down the sideline for the touchdown. Ronnie Kizer's conversive kick made it 21-7. Greenback, unable to sustain any type of a drive against the heavily-favored Wildcats, again relied on the big play midway through the third period to cut the gap to 12-13. Hawkins was again the key figure in an 82-yard drive, taking a pass from Kizer after beating a defender deep on a 59-yard scoring play.

The Wildcats matched that score on their next possession, marching 57 yards to score in only six plays. Armstrong's 36 yard run was the big gain in the drive, and the 200-pound junior fullback also got the touchdown rambling in from six yards out.

Armstrong added another touchdown in the opening minutes of the fourth quarter, reeling off back-to-back runs of ten yards each and then racing 42 yards down the right sideline for the score.

Greenback refused to fold and moments later got the break they had been waiting for when lineman Jimmy Brooks scooped up Sweetwater fumble at midfield and rambled 40 yards down to the Wildcat 10. Kizer passed to Glen Quillen on the next play to cut the gap to 24-19. Brewster almost went the distance with the ensuing kickoff, racing from his own 19 to the Greenback 38. Armstrong and Brewster added the touchdown the ball to the opportunist Cherokees struck again as defender Randy Evans intercepted an option pitchout in full stride and raced 74 yards for a touchdown to make it 24-25. Brewster intercepted a two-point conversion pass, however, leaving Greenback mathematically short.

Only minutes remained when Greenback got the ball back again. Kizer passed to Hawkins for 27 yards, and then raised up and hit his ace receiver again in the short flat. Hawkins raced down the sidelines some 37 yards and appeared to be going for a touchdown but as he jerked away from the last defender, he lost the ball, with Sweetwater recovering at its 28. Final statistics showed Sweetwater with 337 yards rushing while Greenback's net for the evening was minus 27. Through the air, Kizer was successful on 7 of 24 attempts for 137 yards, with Hawkins on the receiving end of six for 147 yards. Mercer completed 4 of 14 for 81 yards for Sweetwater.

At the conclusion of the game, Armstrong of Sweetwater was named the game's top offensive player and Greenback's Brooks was selected as the outstanding defensive performer.

DEFENSIVE STANDOUT—Greenback senior Jimmy Brooks received the top defensive award for his play in the Rockwood Jaycee Bowl.

Lady Redskins To Have Questionable Defense

The Loudon girls will be seeking a new threesome for defensive chores this season. J.J. Purdy, Yarbber Harrison, Cindy Allmon, and Liz Delaney are players of the past. Filling their void will be a young, untested, guard corps. Junior Juliet Locke is the lone defensive player with variety experience. Coach Dewayne Arp puts Juliet in a class with J.J. Purdy. "She will be as tough or better than J.J. and I feel J.J. may have been one of Loudon's better all round guards in several years," admitted Arp.

But where does he or the Lady Redskins go past Locke? "We got some girls who believe they can do the job and I am willing to back them up, they don't mind working and that is what it takes," declared Arp.

Rounding out the defense will be two of four possibilities. LeeAnn Chhaz (5-5); Susan Jameaux (5-6); J.J. Purdy, Yarbber Harrison (5-6); and Cindy Allmon (5-6) are other prospects. None have ever played varsity ball.

Locke, Chhaz, and Jameaux are too small and don't appear rugged enough to stand up under the heated battle of the defensive boards. Grizzle and Simpson are still young and need playing time to develop.

Thus the defense may be the worst at the season start of any of Coach Arp's hoop campaigns at the helm of the Lady Redskins. On the forward end a returning trio of juniors are "ready." Bernadette Locke could be an All State performer by her senior season. A 30 point plus average will be so-so stuff. Kim Brantner will be the most improved and should be a sound pivot player if she does not have to return to playing guard. Which may break up an offense that "knows" people.

Playmaker Jennie Iffler has developed a jump shot but outside gunning and ice cold nerves at the foul line will keep her in double figures. As a group this three is equal to any in the district if not the entire state. Their point totals should run high all are unselfish players wanting to win. The guards could hamper them from overall team honors this season but next year could be a banner year for Loudon and Coach Arp.

Reserve forwards who could start at most schools are Beverly Barr (junior) and Sylvia Hawkins (sophomore). "They will play a lot and without thought to importance. Both can do the job," informed Arp.

Grizzle will also get a chance to play some offense as he is told. The Loudon junior varsity sextet and some will dress with the varsity from week to week are forwards Rita Bedford, Cathy Delaney, Donna Bird, and Kelly Purdy. Guards Pam Hivens, Becky George, and Ann Black.

Tennessee Football Facts Compliments Of Bank of Loudon County

Tennessee's first visit to a major bowl game was a trip to the 1959 Orange Bowl. The National Champion Vols, coached by General Neyland, were pitted against the second-ranked Sooners of Oklahoma; both teams carried 10-0 records to Miami.

Early in the first quarter, the Volunteers backed the Sooners up to their one-yard line; Hugh McCullough punted to All-SEC back George "Bad News" Cline, who returned it to the OU 27-yard line. Tennessee drove to the 12, and Bob Fox broke clear for a touchdown. Sooner guard Jim Thomas blocked Fox's extra point attempt, but All-American end Bowden Wyatt picked up the ball and converted. The Vols drove to the Sooner four in the second quarter, but OU pushed Tennessee back to the 15. Wyatt boomed a 22-yard field goal to give UT a 10-0 lead at halftime.

The third quarter was scoreless; however, the Volunteers mounted a 77-yard scoring drive in the fourth quarter. Walter "Habe" Wood pounded out runs of 20 and 14 yards, then fired a pass to Jim Coleman at the OU 14. After a five-yard penalty, Wood scored on a 19-yard reverse. Fox converted, and Tennessee had a 17-0 victory.

The Volunteers' defense, which had allowed only 16 points in the regular season, completely dominated OU. The Sooners got only five first downs and 117 yards in total offense.

The Knoxville College Bulldogs and Bryan College open the Dec. 5 tournament at 7 p.m. Tennessee Wesleyan and Tusculum College will conclude the opening night action with a 9 p.m. tipoff.

Loudon Boys "Go" Without Footballers

Loudon boys basketball coach Hugh Watson is again faced with putting together a basketball team without the presence of key varsity players. At least seven of Coach Watson's cagers are Redskin football performers who are very much alive in the running of a second straight Class AA state title.

"We played around the footballers last winter and our season just never got in gear," declared Watson. "I won't be changing everything around to upset the program like that again."

"Our team will be made up of juniors and sophomores. Some freshman will dress with the varsity until the football boys come out."

When football is over three seniors will be on the scene to aid for playing time. They are basketball lettermen Bumper Webster, Marion Brown, and Rick Melton. Other key personnel will be guard Freddie Starrin and front liner Steve Schroeder and Jim Brown, all are sophomores.

Junior Greg Deatridge and Carter Cartwell could see playing time at guard.

Meanwhile the Redskins are young and have little varsity experience. Given the time and encouragement this team might be on par with teams that will defeat them in regular season by tournament time. Their play will be like hot and cold water running. "When we are scoring and hustling this group will play with the best, even if they are inexperienced," stated Watson.

The team expected for varsity duty at this writing are Randy Davis and Terry Viars at guard. Davis is a pure shooter and aggressive. Viars may just be the best floor general to come along since Hale Auburn directed traffic for the Redskins back in 1971. Terry has a good outside shot and will let fly when left open, otherwise he takes the ball to the defense in making things happen.

Mark Harrell, 6-5, will be a solid pivot man before graduating from the Redskin ranks. Harrell has a season of playing time under his belt and this will be valuable to the Redskins. "This man" Mark Blair and determined Steve Millsaps are set at forward. Millsaps is 6-2 and probably under rated. He will develop with playing time and could be a stand-out surprise. Steve has good shooting range and rebounds well at times. Blair is a jumper. Probably the quickest player on the team at this time. Can shoot from long range and will also improve during the season.

All the starters are juniors and this five may be too far from business at the end of the year.

Kingston in its lone game to date had beaten Lenoir City, another team of considerable ability and should hold their line-up on the first day they get to practice," informed Coach Watson.

Coch Watson termed his teams progress of young players being able to step in and fill the void of experienced players to new assistant coach Jim Hamilton has really been a big help to our program and his short time here can be easily evaluated by the way some of our young players are stepping in to do the job," praised Watson.

Loudon, Kingston Hoop Teams Split

The Loudon Redskins played host to Kingston in basketball Tuesday night. The Loudon distaff established themselves as a region contender by routing the unbeaten Yellow Jackets girls 40-38. The Redskins boys, showed tremendous improvement over their season opening play last Thursday and still sit 3-2.

The Loudon Lady Redskins may have stepped several games ahead of their expected pace in overpowering the almost certain District 5, Class AA champions.

Many sports writers and preseason previews labeled the ball for 62 seconds drawing a foul and with seven seconds Randy Davis was faced with a one-and-one foul shot.

The first loss was no good and the rebound ended in a Loudon foul with Kingston icing the game at 29-35 and two seconds left to play.

Davis sparked the gallant Loudon showing with 17 points. Mark Harrell had 13 points and 13 rebounds in fighting the backboards with another rebound to go.

Both teams hit 16 field goals with Loudon's Davis getting 15. Kingston hit 7 of 13 charity tosses.

own in double-A competition. The first half Tuesday night was a thriller. Loudon barely clung to a one point lead at the end of the first quarter. The second period was all even with Kingston converting on six of nine foul shots while Loudon countered on four Bernadette Locke field goals for 10-20 intermission count.

The second half belonged to Loudon. A scrappy defense of juniors Juliet Locke, Susan Jameson and Lee Ann Chibass played far above their varsity experience and lost few rebounds despite a considerable lack of comparable height of the Kingston forwards.

Sophomore Renee Grizzle came off the bench in the latter part of the third quarter to rest a foul plagued Juliet Locke and the six footer raked the backboards in near senior form.

The Loudon offense, also all juniors, but all veterans of their positions exploded for eight field goals on 14 floor shots dueing the Kingston sextet 16-11 in the seven minute first quarter.

Bernadette Locke again set the tempo with six goals on 10 tries. One basket coming on three straight rebound efforts by the talented forward.

Bernadette exchanged scoring roles with teammate Kim Branthover and Jennie Leifer and became the playmaker and scorer for the Redskins.

The game settled to a 10-point difference and was never lower.

Loudon was led in scoring by Bernadette Locke's blistering 28 points. Kim Branthover was also effective with 14 points.

Loudon out rebounded Kingston 27 to 23. Juliet Locke had six and Renee Grizzle five for the defense. Bernadette Locke grabbed 10 on offense.

Loudon hit 21 of 40 shots for a 42 percent Kingston had 14 field goals on 41 shots for a 34 percent accuracy.

In the boys game Loudon did not shoot as well as season opener. The Redskins, despite losing, made just five turnovers, and placed a good Kingston team on the ropes before yielding 28-5.

The Redskins were down by 10 points in the first half but a hot Randy Davis and stand-out team bustle by Mark Blair, Steve Millsaps, and Mark Harrell vaulted Loudon back into the thick of the game with a third quarter surge of seven field goals.

Davis hit four of six shots. Viars earned a 10-footer and Mark Harrell hit two of two from the lane. Kingston could manage but six points.

A Kingston goal tending call knuckled the score at 33-33, foul shots broke a two minute scoring drought by both teams and Loudon dropped behind by the game.

The poised Redskins worked the ball for 62 seconds drawing a foul and with seven seconds Randy Davis was faced with a one-and-one foul shot.

Loudon made just eight turnovers in the game but difficulty to conquer a Wildcat press in the late stages turned the ball over for key Sweetwater baskets and enabled the victory.

Loudon coach Hugh Watson, saddened, said, "Our chances of winning center on how well we shoot. Junior guard Randy Davis is a pure shooter and his three for 15 is not his expected game. We played flat in the second half. I'm a little surprised at our failure to handle their press. Sweetwater wanted the game more down the stretch. We are young and have only a couple of starters out there with varsity experience. We hope to improve and there's not a senior on our bench right now."

Moats' Retiring, Selling Business

John J. Moats, who has operated a consistently growing business at the west Lenoir City limits for a quarter-century, this week announced his retirement from business at the end of the year.

He and his wife, Katherine, plan to do a lot of "taking it easy," they said. Mr. Moats said he intends to "do a lot more couch hunting" and his wife said she probably will concentrate on housekeeping a lot more than she has been able to do.

Part of the building and the City Metal and Heating Co. have been sold to their son, Darrell Moats, who already has assumed control of that operation.

Between now and the first of the year, the rest of the business, John J. Moats Furniture and Appliance Co. will engage in a continuous close-out sale. Moats said "I have worked almost two shifts a day for the past 25 years," he said, "and now I plan to take it a little easier." He said he probably will build a few businesses, just to keep active.

Mr. and Mrs. Moats' home is on Shaw Ferry Road.

The diversified business man has been interested and active in civic affairs. He is a member of the Lenoir City Chamber of Commerce, and is director of the Lenoir City Committee of 100 for Industrial Development.

He announced new hours for the business: 9 to 5:30 Mondays and Tuesdays; closed Wednesdays; 9 to 7 Thursdays and Fridays and 9 to 5 Saturdays.

He expressed sincere appreciation to all his customers for their patronage during the past 25 years.

Kingston Nips Panthers In Basketball Opener

The Lenoir City Panther basketball teams opened their 1975-76 basketball season on the road at Kingston last Friday night.

The Panthers' edge behind in the opening quarter and were never able to recover in falling to the Kingston distaff 61-52.

Mark Harrell carried the Loudon offense with 12 points and 14 rebounds. Steve Millsaps, playing for the first time, responded with 10 points and 12 rebounds.

Loudon had a poor opening game from one floor with 13 of 26 floor shots hitting bottom, for a 26.8 percent. Sweetwater did slightly better making 18 of 56 for 32 percent.

Loudon did well at the foul line making nine of 12 as compared to Sweetwater's five of 12.

Loudon made just eight turnovers in the game but difficulty to conquer a Wildcat press in the late stages turned the ball over for key Sweetwater baskets and enabled the victory.

Loudon coach Hugh Watson, saddened, said, "Our chances of winning center on how well we shoot. Junior guard Randy Davis is a pure shooter and his three for 15 is not his expected game. We played flat in the second half. I'm a little surprised at our failure to handle their press. Sweetwater wanted the game more down the stretch. We are young and have only a couple of starters out there with varsity experience. We hope to improve and there's not a senior on our bench right now."

Loudon made just eight turnovers in the game but difficulty to conquer a Wildcat press in the late stages turned the ball over for key Sweetwater baskets and enabled the victory.

Loudon Girls Set Defensive Mark; Boys Drop Cage Opener

The Loudon Redskins opened their regular season high school basketball play last Thursday night by beating Sweetwater.

The Loudon Lady Redskins, featuring a complete "rookie" defensive corps from the 1974-75 season, posted the school's all time point yield of a mere seven points, while the offense ripped the net for 71.

Loudon Girls' head manager, Dewayne Arr, did not expect such a runaway and turned the game over to reserves for the most part of three quarters.

"They (Sweetwater) did not do our guards much of a favor. They need game experience, but in a closer game than this I'm afraid Kingston, Lenoir City and teams like that won't be that easy to stop. In fact I'm not sure they stop at all. These girls don't have much to get the big lead over here tonight. Sweetwater had a bad night and don't have the experience of our team," said Arr.

Who ever the Lady Redskins exhausted its bench with team managers almost getting the call for floor duty.

Junior Bernadette Locke better than ever before, paced the onesided game with 25 points on 11 field goals and three of three foul shots. Her three field goals in four attempts in the second half quickly landed her a seal on the bench for the rest of the game.

Jennie Leifer added eight points and Kim Branthover fired up 11 points.

Reserves Beverly Barr and Sylvia Hawkins looked the part of varsity starting material with stand out 14 point performances. Freshman Cathy Delaney, who will some day fill the shoes of Bernadette Locke as a Lady Redskin leader, had two points.

New defensive players made their first varsity play. Juliet Locke, Lee Ann Chibass and Susan Jameson were more than impressive, although never really challenged, denying the visiting Wildcat sextet a single point in the first period.

Sean Briers, Irene Simpson, and Renee Grizzle logged more playing time than the first game defensive starters.

Loudon held a 32-2 halftime lead and topped the Monroe Countians 42-5 in the second

They are currently in the process of measuring those schools which will be renovated and/or added to in order to develop cost estimates for the total program ready for submission to County Court by the February session in order for them to authorize funding for this program. Architect Hired By School Board of the schools be used in helping design and approving of design in their respective schools.

The use of school facilities by other than school groups took up almost an hour of time at the meeting. A group representing a DeMolay Chapter at Highland Park complained of not being able to obtain use of the Highland Park School gym.
The Board restated their desire that county residents be allowed to use school facilities when they are not in school use, but pointed out their policy that leaves such use to the decision of the principal and custodian of the schools.
The Highland Park group said they were promised use of the gymnasium, but when it came time to get a key, the principal said he was busy and could not be there when the group wanted him and the custodian refused to come. The group offered to pay the usual $10 for two hours use of the gym. They felt wronged because of a prior agreement for use of the facility.
The board discussed making guidelines to use their office time, but again felt they could not force a principal or custodian to use their office time to present for non-school use of the facilities. They did change one aspect of the policy stating that the principal, custodian or faculty representative of the principal could be named in such cases.
The Board has asked that Highland Park Principal Earl Thomas be present at the next board meeting to further discuss problems that have arisen at the school concerning non-school use of the buildings.
Board member Leonard Liles said it was a "crying shame" that the school cafeteria use was denied the Highland Park Buritan Club recently. He said the club has donated some $300 to the school and yet the cafeteria manager or principal had refused their use of the cafeteria for a dinner meeting.
Board members Gary Kimey, W. D. McCarroll, Ted Randolph, and Steekee Principal Geraldine Boone were appointed as a committee to study the school board policy on married students.
It was pointed out that the policy merely states that in cases of married students, they are urged to remain in school in cases of married pregnant students they may remain in school a reasonable time. Unmarried pregnant students may be dropped.
The case in question now is a married 15 year old girl in 8th grade. The girl has left school at the suggestion of the principal however. Superintendent Headlee said that in court decisions in such cases have upheld school board actions that were considered reasonable.
In order to maintain "comparability of effort" one of the Title I guidelines the board added $300 to the budget for a part-time aide at Glendale School where the student-teacher ratio was in excess of the county average.
Bill Lawson, director of federal programs, suggested the additional aide, who would work about two hours per day, might be used as a tutor in various subjects.
Permission was given to the Loudon Recreation Department to use the Elementary School gym for a Junior Pro Basketball league for third, fourth, fifth and sixth graders.
The City proposed to refinish the playing floor, place fire extinguishers and enforce no-smoking regulations in the building.

GOV. JOHN DAVIS Director of the United States Department of Defense Civil Preparedness (right) is shown making the dedication address at the Loudon County Justice Center last Wednesday attended by several hundred persons. The dedication service was moved inside the Sessions Courtroom due to a heavy rainfall during the morning and early afternoon.

CD Chief Compliments County On Justice Center

Rainfall forced several changes in the dedication plans for the Loudon County Justice Center last Wednesday but the affair drew a good crowd and many complimentary comments about the facility itself and the cooperation between government agencies in the county that made it possible.

Rain forced the air force jet that brought John E. Davis, director of the Defense Civil Preparedness Agency from Washington to the dedication to land in Chattanooga instead of Knoxville due to low cloud conditions. Use of a State Helicopter was also weathered out and officials had to drive to Chattanooga to pick up the speaker causing the dedication to start about an hour later than planned.

During the time many of the officials of various state and federal agencies who attended (around the building).

In his dedication address the former North Dakota Governor said, "This structure combines the services of the most essential agencies of local government—those which fight crime, dispense justice, correct the delinquent, and prevent or mitigate disaster. Those of you here today, who translated these official responsibilities into action, deserve the wholehearted commendation and support of your fellow citizens."

Director Davis, a former governor of North Dakota, and former National Commander of the American Legion, heads the Federal agency responsible for providing financial support, technical advice, and training and equipment to State and local governments to improve their disaster readiness. DCPA contributed toward the cost of the Justice Center's civil defense Emergency Operating Center.

The Federal official declared that "In our experience, combining the County's emergency operations capability in one structure provides the quickest and most advantageous means for controlling disaster, for providing help where it is urgently needed, and for speeding recovery after an emergency."

Davis said, "The Nation as a whole, as well as the people of Loudon County, will benefit from the existence of this vital public facility."

He pointed out that it is part of the national civil defense system—the shield for protecting the U.S. population against the effects of nuclear war.

"In conjunction with thousands of emergency facilities like it," Davis said, "The Center will help us respond to a national crisis with strong concerted action by all government elements—Federal, State and local."

Davis praised Senator Howard Baker, Congressman John Duncan and County Judge William H. Russell for their unwavering determination that Loudon County have the most modern facilities and equipment for promoting public safety.

The Defense Civil Preparedness Agency, with headquarters in the Pentagon, supports community emergency readiness programs through eight Regional offices and a Staff College at Battle Creek, Michigan.

Judge Russell acted as master of ceremonies for the event and former Judge Harvey Sproul, who was designated when the Center was judged and under construction also participated in the program.

DEDICATION CROWD—Just about half the people who came to the Justice Center dedication were able to get inside the sessions courtroom for the ceremony. The activity was moved inside Wednesday because of rain.

DEDICATION LUNCHEON—About 30 persons attended a luncheon that followed the dedication of the Justice Center Wednesday. The luncheon was in the center itself. Shown above are Loudon Mayor Eugene Lambert, Judge William Russell, Gov. John Davis and Ed Bailey, administrative assistant to Congressman John Duncan.

Organization Of Friendly Visitor Planned

Wednesday, November 26 at the Loudon County Senior Citizens' Center at 10 a.m. there will be an organizational meeting of all persons interested in being a "friendly visitor" to an elderly person who is homebound and/or disabled.

2. encourage that individual to remain as independent as possible for as long as he or she can.
3. assist that person in communicating any needs that he or she has to the Office on Aging so that those needs can be referred to the appropriate agency and/or organization.

Each person who becomes a friendly visitor will be trained by the Loudon County Office on Aging. Any age person can become a friendly visitor and anyone can attend the meeting. Those interested in visiting, or anyone knowing of an older person who would like to be visited, call the Loudon County Office on Aging at 458-4444.

THE HAMILTONS'

GOOD TIME NEWS

A periodic dollars and sense report that'll help you bank on good times.

NOW STRAIGHT ANSWERS FROM THE HAMILTONS ABOUT A RETIREMENT PLAN THAT SAVES TAX DOLLARS!

Question: How much can I earn?
The Hamiltons: It all depends on how much you want to set aside and which Hamilton plan you choose. The 4 plans based on current rates pay by Hamilton Bank are as follows: 5% on an Initial Deposit of $10,000; 7-1/4% or 7-1/2% on an Initial Deposit of $1,000. Funds must remain on deposit for 6 years to earn 7-1/4%, 30 months to earn 6-1/2%, one day to earn 5%.

Question: Exactly who is eligible for Hamilton Bank IRA?
The Hamiltons: Any individual who earns salary, wages, fees, commissions or other amounts for services actually rendered and who is not an active participant in another retirement plan in any tax year. This includes self-employed persons, part-time employees and working spouses.

Question: My spouse is covered under a company plan, but I'm not. Do I qualify?
The Hamiltons: Yes, and if she were not covered but you were, she could open an IRA plan.

Question: Do I have to make regular deposits?
The Hamiltons: No. Make deposits whenever you can or whenever you choose. To build a strong retirement plan, you'll want to deposit as much as you can up to the legal limit each year.

Question: Suppose I miss an entire year?
The Hamiltons: That's O.K. You don't have to make deposits every year. (You would have to make a deposit if you want any tax break for that year, however.)

Question: Can I ask my employer to make regular payments for me?
The Hamiltons: Yes, you can have a set amount sent to your IRA account each pay day... or at whatever time interval you choose. Just tell your employer what you want.

Question: When can I withdraw funds?
The Hamiltons: You can start withdrawing funds when you reach age 59-1/2, but not before. You must start withdrawing funds by age 70-1/2.

Question: What if I'm disabled before age 59-1/2?
The Hamiltons: If you are permanently disabled you can withdraw your balance in a lump sum or elect periodic payments. You will pay ordinary income tax on payments actually received.

Question: What if I die before I collect all of what's due to me?
The Hamiltons: The full balance will be paid to your beneficiary or estate as you designate.

Question: Can I have a joint account?
The Hamiltons: No, but you can, and should, name a beneficiary.

Question: Can I borrow from my account?
The Hamiltons: No. The IRS prohibits borrowing from Individual Retirement Accounts.

Question: What does it take to open my account?
The Hamiltons: Simply complete and sign an Adoption Agreement and make your initial deposit at any Hamilton Bank office. We will need your Social Security number and birth date. If you name a beneficiary (optional), we will need the beneficiary's complete name, address, Social Security number and birth date.

Question: Does the bank charge anything to open an account?
The Hamiltons: No.

Got any more questions? We'll be glad to get the answers for you. Just drop by your nearest Hamilton Bank and ask. We're here to help.

Butler spent seven years in radio broadcasting and 37 years in the packaging industry. He came to Tennessee in 1966 as Production Manager of Container Corporation of America's Chattanooga operation. He transferred to the company's Memphis Plant as its General Manager in 1961.

The Butlers returned to Chattanooga in 1969 and built their retirement home in Hixson. Cliff and his wife, LaVonne, are active members in Chattanooga's First Christian Church, he being an Elder and presently Chairman of the Official Board.

The much sought-after speaker became a Lion in 1968, and is now working on his 27th year of perfect attendance. He was elected Governor of Indiana Lions District 23-E in 1964 and in 1965 was commissioned Mr. Lion of Indiana for his efforts in Lionism throughout the state.

Since then, as an International Counselor, he has been much in demand as a dinner speaker throughout the Eastern United States. His lectures on "Lukewarm Lionism" and "Our Nation's Safety" have won acclaim in all areas.

Mr. Butler is one of the Founders of The Tennessee Valley Lions Kidney Foundation, and was its second president. He is a member of the Chattanooga Downtown Lions Club.

Seven of the original 22 charter members are still living and are expected to attend the Banquet. Three of them, W. V. Kirkland, A. C. Dukes Sr., and Dr. J. R. Watkins are still active in the club. Others are Yeater Breeding, Raymond (Honey) Lyle, Earl McCall and Arthur Fowler.

President of the Cleveland Lions, who chartered the Loudon Lions in 1935, Billy R. Edwards will also attend the affair.

King Lion Says, "Thanks Loudon For 40 Successful Years Of Lionism"

By James C. Savage

Thursday night the Loudon Lions Club will celebrate its 40th anniversary. This has been forty years of success in community projects, helping the blind, and helping those with eye problems who can not help themselves.

The success has been possible only through the cooperation and support of the citizens of Loudon. The 53 Lions members can not possibly become aware of all the needs in our community without the help of concerned citizens, churches, school officials, retail merchants, city officials, professional, community, and many other groups.

We thank all of you for the marvelous response to our call for help in our White Cone Day Drive. This is one of our biggest projects and is supported by you with your donations when a Lions Club member knocks on your door. We even have people call and tell us they were missed during the drive and would like us to come by and pick up their donation.

Another project that is a big success, thanks to you, is the Lions Municipal Park. This was a big undertaking, but with your help it is a dream come true for all to enjoy.

The many other ways that private citizens help us are certainly too numerous to be mentioned. However, when one speaks of the Lions Club, he is in essence speaking of the community. The Loudon Lions Club is a group of 53 dedicated men joined together in a common cause, and that is to help those less fortunate than themselves.

The reason for forming and continuing the Lions Club is that men united together can accomplish so much more than they can as individuals.

These 53 Lions plan the project, work out the details and then ask you, the citizens of Loudon, to assure the success of the project by your support and in some cases to carry out many of the activities. Also, being an active Lion is a time consuming activity. For the Lions Club is a working club. For this reason, many good Lions reach a point in their careers where they are no longer able to serve on an active basis, for reasons of business, health, relocation or other reasons. It is therefore necessary to continually find new members. The fact that Loudon has always provided the club with these new members certainly speaks well for its citizens. For this Loudon, WE THANK YOU.

Almost every well known figure of Loudon has been a member at one time or another. Many of these past members have gone on to help their fellowmen in other ways. The present membership has forgotten many of these men who were once Lions, but the fine work they accomplished while active members lives on, and for these accomplishments WE THANK YOU.

Lions International points out that one of the important keys to a successful Lions Club is keeping the public informed of its activities. In most cases the difference between success and failure of a project is the publicity it receives. We owe a big thanks to the Loudon Herald who has always done more than required to help our Club in any way possible. All we have to do is ask. We appreciate their support and on behalf of all our members I would like to THANK YOU, THE LOUDON HERALD. Larry Cate, editor of the Herald is one of our Lions Club members.

AGAIN THANKS TO YOU OF LOUDON, past, present and future, for all of your fine support and we feel that you are a very important part of our success.

We have just had our basketball tournament which was a success and now we are involved in our fruit cake sales. We are always working on our Sight Conservation Program and securing donors for the East Tennessee Eye Bank, we also support the Volunteer Blind Industries, which employ the handicapped in the manufacturing of bedding in Morristown, Tennessee. Contributions are made annually to the Christian Fund for the Tennessee School for the Blind in Nashville. Each year the Lions Club sends a delegate to the 44th Club Congress in Nashville, a delegate to Boys State in Cookeville, a delegate to the Red Cross Leadership Training Camp at Townsend, and makes a donation to the Loudon High School Band, along with many other donations and projects throughout the year. Of course we can not forget the 40th July parade and activities which are always enjoyed by the community.

The past 40 years have shown that the Lions Club joined hand in hand with the fine citizens of Loudon, can accomplish whatever it undertakes.

AGAIN TO THE PEOPLE OF LOUDON WE SAY THANKS!

A 40th Birthday Salute Honoring

THE LOUDON LIONS CLUB

Chartered November 19, 1935

The Lions Club Emblem Meaning

The emblem worn by Lions Club members stands for more than just the symbol and initial of the club.

The large "L" stands for law, liberty, labor, loyalty, love and life as well as Lions, according to the International Association of Lions Clubs.

The circle around the "L" represents the unity of Lions around the world, and the two profiles of lions represent a Lion looking in every direction for an opportunity to serve.

Colors of the Lions are purple and gold.

Purple, says thy International organization, stands for loyalty to country, loyalty to friends, loyalty to one's self and to the integrity of mind and heart. Gold symbolizes sincerity of purposes, liberality in judgment, purity, in life and generosity in mind, heart and purse.

The slogan of Lions is "liberty, intelligence, our nation's safety." The motto is "we serve."

22 Local Leaders Charter Local Lions Club In Fall Of 1935

Two organizational meetings were held in the fall of 1935 leading to the formation of the Loudon Lions Club, the oldest civic organization in the community. The two fall meetings were held at the Loudon Hotel operated by the late Mr. and Mrs. Happy Billingsley and the others in the law office of Daniel and Fowler.

The charter meeting was held Nov. 19, 1935, at the Masonic Lodge Building. The charter was awarded to the club on Dec. 17, 1935. The Knoxville Lions were to be the sponsoring club but they were inconvenienced and the Cleveland Lions Club was the sponsoring club.

Charter members were: M. O. Brucekner, W.V. Kirkland, Raymond Lyle, Dr. Arthur Harrison, Homer A. Newman, J. Earl McCall, Sam Wilson, Frank Quinn, Albert C. Dukes, Sr., Dr. J.R. Watkins, Arthur Fowler, N.A. Weaver, Sr., R.M. Gray, Dr. W.B. Campbell, Sr., Yater Breeding, J.L. Brooks, H.L. Brooks, Rev. W.C. Boyant, Charles Colville, Kyle Kollock, Hubert McKinney, and Charles Piomans.

The first president was M.O. Brucekner; Arthur Fowler was secretary-treasurer; and Raymond Lyle was first Tail Twister. The club held its regular meetings in the old Loudon High School Home Economics Department and meals were served by the ladies of the Loudon Methodist Church, who continued to serve the club some 28 years. The club moved the meeting place to the Loudon Elementary School Cafeteria in 1939 and met there some 25 years. The next meeting place was Lucky's Grill and then West End Cafe for a short

The largest membership ever for the club was 70. The present membership is 53. Three charter members are still active. They are W.V. Kirkland, Dr. J.R. Watkins and A.C. Dukes, Sr.

The club has four father-son presidents. Dr. W.B. Campbell Sr. and Dr. W.B. Campbell Jr.; N.A. Weaver, Sr. and N.A. Weaver, Jr.; Joe Hudson and Robert Hudson; and the most recent G.W. House and Bill House.

Presidents of the club include: M.O. Brucekner, W.V. Kirkland, Homer Newman, Kyle Kollock, N.A. Weaver, Sr., I.H. Watson, Albert C. Dukes, Sr., Frank Quinn, Dr. W.B. Campbell, Sr., S.F. The first Lions project was to install lights on the old Loudon High School Football field for night football in the summer of 1936. In the fall of 1938 additional lights were installed for night football at the school.

Through the years many community projects have been tackled by the Lions. One of the more recent was the development of the Lions Municipal Park at Roberson Springs which with the help of the City of Loudon became the first park of its type in Loudon. It is now the site of many activities of individuals, families, groups and clubs each year. The Lions hold their family picnic, July 4th Carnival and other events at the park.

Since the organization of the club in 1935 it has been estimated that the Loudon

Lions has raised some $115,000 for civic improvement and sight conservation. The local club has been a leader in furnishing men for district and state level posts. The first was Dr. W.T. McPeake, who served as Zone Chairman and Deputy District Governor. N.A. Weaver Jr., Zone Chairman; James Moreford, Zone Chairman and Deputy District Governor; W.G. House, Zone Chairman, District Deputy Governor; Membership and Retention Chairman and District Secretary-Treasurer; Lion Charles McCall has served in many cabinet posts, District Governor, Deputy District Governor, Zone Chairman and others; and Joe V. Watkins, Zone Chairman.

Loudon Lions meet twice monthly, the first and third Thursdays for a dinner meeting in the VFW Post building in Loudon.

Lions International is the largest service club in the world, with over 1 million members in some 25,000 clubs in 150 countries and geographic areas.

Community Leaders In Membership

Who and What are Lions Clubs made from? They are selected from the community's leading business and professional men, industrialists, farmers, clergymen, educators, merchants and others. They are pledged to help through Lionsism those less fortunate than themselves. Lionsism is non-sectarian, yet it encourages religious observances and church loyalties. It is non-political, but it indicates a lively interest in governmental and civic affairs. The purposes of a Lions Club is to determine community needs and develop means of meeting them, either through its own efforts or in cooperation with other agencies. During the last fiscal year, Lions Clubs completed more than 400,000 separate community activities. At the same time, Lions Clubs provide good fellowship and club social life for their members. Services which Lions perform vary with the needs of their communities. Almost from the start of the organization, Lions have been helping the Boy Scouts and the 4-H Clubs and the Boys State Program. In the early days of Lionsism, Lions Clubs concentrated in three activities: furthering or betterment of school systems; development of adequate public health facilities; and elimination of slum conditions and poverty. But services having to do with sight conservation and improvement of the lot of the sightless also appealed to the founding Lions, and today many Lions Clubs devote much of their effort to this service.

Each Lions Club is free to choose the activities in which it will engage and will always be found at work on activities which its members believe will best serve the interests in their community. To be a member of the Lions Club is to be respected in the community because of the strong code of ethics in the club constitution. The code states that a member Lion is: "To show my faith in the worthiness of my vocation by industrious application to the end that I may merit a reputation of quality of service." "To seek success and to demand all fair remuneration or profit as my just due, but to accept no profit or success at the price of my own self-respect lost because of unfair advantage taken or because of questionable acts on my part." "To remember that in building up my business it is not necessary to tear down another's; to be loyal to my clients or customers and true to myself." "Whenever a doubt arises as to the right or ethics of my position or action towards my fellowmen, to resolve such doubt against myself." "To hold friendships as an end and not a means. To build that true friendship exists not on account of the service performed by one to another, but that true friendship demands nothing but accepts service in the spirit in which it is given." "Always bear in mind my obligations as a citizen to my nation, my state and my community, and to give them my unserving loyalty in work, act and deed. To give them freely of my time, labor and means." "To aid my fellow men by giving my sympathy to those in distress, my aid to the weak and my substance to the needy." "To be careful with my criticism and liberal with my praise; to build up and not destroy." The main objectives of each Lions Club are these: "To create and foster a spirit of generous consideration among the peoples of the world through a study of the problems of international relationships." "To promote the theory and practice of the principles of good government and good citizenship." "To take an active interest in the civic, social and moral welfare of the community." "To unite the members in the bonds of friendship, good fellowship and mutual understanding." "To provide a forum for the full and free discussion of all matters of public interest, partisan politics and sectarian religion alone excepted." "To encourage efficiency and promote high ethical standards in business and professional; provided that no club shall hold out as one of its objects financial benefits to its members." From its founding by Melvin Jones on June 7, 1917, to today Lionsism has lived with its beliefs. Through its actions new clubs are being formed every day. And for the past 10 years, new Lions Clubs have been formed at the rate of more than two a day and 902 each year.

District Governor Applauds Success Of Loudon Lions

Carl S. Needham, Jr., Governor of Lions District 12-N, a member of the Fountain City Lions Club sent the following letter of congratulations to the Loudon Lions on their 40th Anniversary.

"November the 19th 40 years ago the first Lions Club in this area of Tennessee was chartered. Over these past 40 years we have seen these clubs grow to the present number of 57 clubs. These are from here in Loudon East and West to the Northeast to Mountain City and Northwest to Oneida. This club, the Loudon Lions Club, is the granddaddy of them all.

"I have often wondered what each of these communities would have done without the civic services these clubs have rendered. If all the services had been granted through the tax dollar, I'm sure that the taxes would have been much greater. The Lions main service project is Sight Conservation, and I'm sure many of the citizens of this community have received aid, and possibly sight, through the concern and work of this fine club. Of course this club has performed many other civic services but you, the citizens of Loudon, know of these many services performed by those dedicated Lions.

"I congratulate the present officers and members of this fine Loudon Lions Club for their fine year they are having. I also want to congratulate the Charter Members and past officers for the vision and leadership they have given to bring this club to its rightful place in this community and Lions International.

"Once again congratulations on 40 years of service and I hope that you have many more productive years in Lions International and this fine city and community."

Puttin' It All Together For The Fortieth

By W.G. House, Sr.
An anniversary is in the making, a celebration of forty years of community service for those who are less fortunate than we. How do we go about this task of assembling all the necessary things to make this glamorous occasion all in place? Nothing to it. Go to work.

One of the more important items is to obtain a speaker. This is no easy task. The membership is to be contacted for their ideas on what type of person and speaker should we have for this type of occasion.

Efforts should be made to obtain one that will not wear the ladies to distraction and not speak for an unreasonable length of time. His speech should be of a nature to keep the audience spellbound all the time. This duty was completed in April 1975.

There are many committees to be organized and placed in action. One of the committees, as in the usual case, the money raising group. These members are to plan means of financing the celebration by setting the charges of the dinner tickets and any other expenses. Perhaps a raffle of some sort to raise some additional funds. They have all tickets printed and distributed to the membership.

Another important committee is the program committee. These fellows are to put together a program that will not be too time consuming and blend in with the speaker. A planning group is also set up to arrange for a meeting place and prepare the menu. This group also helps in setting the tables in place with the help of the decorating committee who planned by yet another group. They are to come up with any door prizes that will be favorable for this occasion. The lighting is all important for an event such as this and no mistake should be made. Also a group is to take care of the audio. Everyone wants to hear the speaker and others on the program. The entertainment must be the best available. One person was appointed to take care of this and a superb job has been done. The one important job along with the many others in the reception committee. Four members and their lovely ladies will perform this duty, and a great job they will do. Many other duties will be performed by various individuals making this a grand and glorious occasion.

This is basically how it is put together. Every one helps and carries out the assignment handed them. Unity is wonderful.

G.W. HOUSE

will have full charge of the arrangements for the seating and planning the head table. Favors and door prizes are

Many Offer Lions Congratulations

Presidents of the Loudon Civic Clubs, Mayor Gene Lambert and Chamber of Commerce President Ray Birkholz has issued statements of congratulations and best wishes for the Loudon Lions Club 40th Anniversary.

MAJOR LAMBERT—"Loudon is a better community because of the existence of the Loudon Lions Club and their very fine members. Few organizations have contributed so greatly to our city as have the Loudon Lions Club. Had it not been for the Lions the city probably would not have the very beautiful Lions Municipal Park. It was through their efforts that this project was started and was later aided by the City of Loudon. I congratulate them on the occasion of their 40th Anniversary and know they will continue for many years to work in make life better for others."

CHAMBER PRESIDENT Birkholz said, "Undoubtedly the whole community has been a better place in which to live and work because of the fine programs the Loudon Lions have carried out in their 40 year history. Especially noteworthy is the club's sight conservation program in which they have been faithfully involved for many years. The Loudon Chamber of Commerce congratulates all members and officers of the Loudon Club on their 40th Anniversary. LOUDON WOMANS CLUB President Mrs. William E. Webb stated, "The Woman's Club congratulates the Lions and note their contribution in citizenship, patriotism, health and welfare, and sight conservation work during the past 40 years. We know of their good work as many of our member's husbands are active Lions. Our community would be at a loss without their work, help and support in any activity."

ROTARY CLUB President William Russell states, "Anyone who has been in this community for any length of time has to admire the tremendous benefits brought to it through the tireless efforts of the Loudon Lions Club. The Loudon Lions are looked on by other clubs across the state as a model organization. The purpose of all civic organizations is to serve and the Lions always have, this goal in mind. The Rotary Club of Loudon extends its best wishes to all the Loudon Lions past and present for their 40 years of service to Loudon."

LIONESS FAY HOUR, Husband Glen and other Lions and wives are shown during a Ladies Night dinner. Mrs. House keeps the Lions Scrapbook and helps and decorates for many events.

House Has Been Lion On The Go

W.G. House has spent almost a quarter century in Lionism not only in Loudon but on the District, Regional and Zone levels. This year as District Membership Retention Chairman of District 12-N a job that keeps him on the go.

It is his responsibility to visit all the clubs in the District and keep them inspired. He also served as a liaison between the District Governor and the Presidents of the clubs.

No organization can grow, prosper, and retain its leadership in community affairs without a periodical infusion of new blood. New members bring new ideas, new influence, new enthusiasm and new friendships.

It is his duty as membership and retention chairman to inform all clubs in the District about keeping club members busy because his job is the vital and continued process of making new members into good members. By club participation in a continuing program of activity, you never find a club that becomes a worn out club.

15,000 Have Eyes Examined By Loudon Lions, Many Others Get Free Glasses

Programs of sight conservation and aid to the blind are major projects of the Loudon Lions Club as well as of the International Association of Lions Clubs here and abroad.

Blindness became a focus of activity during the 1925 International Lions' Convention. Moved by an appeal from Miss Helen Keller, "angel of the blind" the convention adopted a resolution making work with the blind a major activity among the Lions.

Today the International Association is recognized all over the world as a leading agency for service in that area.

FOR SOME 19 YEARS The Loudon Lions have been giving free eye examinations to students in Loudon County Schools. Former Loudon Lion Dr. Jesse Hope is shown overseeing an examination that took place in 1960.

The Loudon Lions Club has throughout the years placed great emphasis on the sight program.

Arkansas Enterprises for the Blind, which serves the Tennessee area helps blind adults enter the mainstream of society.

The East Tennessee Eye Bank has secured over 500 eyes in its 10 years of existence. They can be transplanted in any hospital where an ophthalmologist is located.

The club furnishes the sight-testing machines, instructs the mothers in their use and coordinates the screening program.

Recording for the Blind was begun in 1951, and today over 20,000 titles are available on discs and 40,000 on tapes.

The Loudon Lions Club also cooperates with all of other Lions Clubs of Tennessee, supports and operates the Tennessee School for the Blind in Donelson.

$30,000 Contributed To Sight Conservation

The Loudon Lions Club has participated in the WHITE CANE DAYS since the non profit venture started in 1964 by the Lions Clubs of Tennessee to raise funds in its communities to make possible more effective projects in sight conservation and aid to the blind.

These projects include the Volunteer Blind Industries, Workshop for the Blind, Recordings for the Blind and Arkansas Enterprise for the Blind.

Volunteer Blind Industries has added a new dimension to its increasing program of rehabilitation services for the visually handicapped.

The idea was conceived by Dave Day, who was contacted for the Service of the Blind for the State of Tennessee, of Johnson City.

At the Blind are quick to say, "With the tools to do the job, blindness is not such a terrible catastrophe, just another problem."

The Tennessee Unit was organized in Oak Ridge in 1952 and slowly grew so that financial support until 1961 when, through the efforts of the Oak Ridge Club...

McCall Finds Service Rewarding

Charles F. McCall, a member of the Loudon Lions Club, is Past District Governor of District 12-N. He was elected to this position in 1973. He has the distinction of being the only member of the Loudon Lions Club to ever hold this position.

During this time, Past District Governor McCall was required to visit all clubs in District 12-N, which is composed of 69 clubs from Rockwood to Mountain City.

McCall stated that he was proud to have the Loudon Lions submit his name for nomination and that it was a wonderful experience for him.

Lion Aslan is a fruit grower and shipper, and the owner of a fruit packing and cold storage company in Ingalls.

Lion Aslan joined the Kingsburg Lions Club in 1949 and has held all major offices in that club and in his district.

Lions Club in 1957 and has 18 years perfect attendance. He has been a delegate to the International Lions Convention in Miami, San Francisco and Dallas.

Summing up his feelings about Lions Club McCall said "It has taken a lot of time which I do not regret at all but I am concerned about others and I found that by helping those less fortunate has been very rewarding.

Power Rate To Decline In Dec.

Charges for TVA electricity will decline in December for the third month in a row, due mainly to lower purchased power cost to TVA last month, power system officials told the TVA Board of Directors today.

On home electric bills the reduction will be 40 cents per 1,000 kilowatt-hours of electricity used, about 3 percent on a typical bill. The effect on individual electric bills will vary with the amounts of electricity consumed.

December power bills generally show an increase in home power use—sometimes a large increase for homes with electric heat—so many consumers may have larger total bills in spite of the lower coal per kilowatt-hour used.

Each month the level of billing charges for TVA power is determined by the changes that have occurred in actual power system expenses for fuel and for power purchased from neighboring utility systems. The charges that have been calculated from October expenses will generally apply to electric bills from December meter readings.

Reduced power purchases from outside the region during the fall period of relatively low power demands have been a main factor in the current declines in TVA billing charges. That trend is likely to be reversed as winter heating demands require increased power purchases in coming months, officials indicated.

At the December level of charges, basic home power bills will range from about $21 to $25 for the first 1,000 kilowatt-hours used, depending on local rate schedules. That is a decline of $2.3 from the peak level reached in September, which followed a period of rapid increases in fuel and purchased power expenses.

At today's meeting the TVA Board also began its quarterly review of overall power system costs and revenues. Although the review will not be formally completed until November 25, no new rate adjustment for the January-February quarter was recommended in today's presentation to the Board. With no new adjustment, billing charges would continue to vary upward or downward each month under the existing formula reflecting changes in fuel and purchased power expense, but charges would be unchanged otherwise.

The last rate adjustment was adopted after the quarterly review held a year ago, at a time when earnings had fallen below the levels required to meet power system financial obligations. Revenues and earnings for the coming quarter are expected to be adequate.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

One of our pictures this week is one we have had in our files for some time. Recently we have been trying to clear out some of our backlog. This picture was run in the Herald about 35 years ago. Possibly the event was the winners of some sort of contest, just what, we have no idea.

It seems that we recognize some of the kids in the picture, but we can't be sure. Maybe some of our readers can help us. I recall when I was growing up in Loudon that kids would really go all out for a contest. In our day the gifts were not as plentiful for kids. I am assuming this is possibly a Christmas Contest of some sort. We hope we will get the details from some of our readers.

Our other picture this week is one of a girl. This photo was in a group loaned to me by the family of the late Mrs. Jett. Possibly it is a person many of our readers know. I don't know if she was from Loudon or possibly Roane County. Anyway, we possibly will find out from our reader source.

We are still looking for old Civil War soldier pictures. If you have one, you will loan us please give us a call when you look it up and send it to us for use in the Good Old Days. From what he told us about it we are sure our readers will enjoy seeing it. Of course, all us from the Good Old Days know Rev. Neims and he sends greetings to all of his Loudon friends. This also includes the same from his wife, Barbara, who also grew up in Loudon.

With all the very beautiful fall weather many of our readers have asked me if I had any records of a fall season as warm as it has been this year.

Sorry, I don't but wish I did. I think from what I can hear, it is possibly a record.

We know a man in Loudon who has kept a record on the weather in Loudon for many years. Maybe he can answer the question. Anyway, possibly by the time this gets into print, we might have had a cold snap to break the unusual heat wave. I hope not. I wish the pretty weather would last till spring, but I seriously doubt that it will. Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

18 Farmers Seek Community Posts

Some eighteen farm residents of Loudon County are in the running for three Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) community committee posts.

County ASCS Executive Director Martha Blair.

The small election for ASC community committeemen is being held this month, and ballots will be mailed November 21 to all persons eligible to vote in the farmer committee elections, she said.

The final date for mailing voted ballots or for dropping them off at the County ASCS Office, is December 1. Ballots will be counted on December 4th at the County ASCS Office on east Lee Highway, with the public invited to attend.

On December 9, the newly-elected community committeemen will hold a county convention to nominate and elect one county committee member and two alternates.

The newly-elected county committee member will serve for three years, the alternates for one year.

ASC community committeemen not only elect members of the ASC county committee and select chairman but also assist the county committee throughout the year in the administration of federal farm programs locally, Miss Blair said.

She pointed out that any farmer who is eligible to take part in any ASCS program is eligible to vote in the mail election. Voting eligibility is determined without regard to race, sex, color, religion or national origin.

Elsewhere in the United States, among counties of comparable size, 10,000 to 25,000, the average was $407 per capita. The national average for all counties, large and small, was $375 and, in the State of Tennessee, $403.

The services covered by these outlays varied somewhat. In most counties they include schools, roads, fire and police protection, health, welfare, housing, sanitation and other functions.

The money to pay for them came in part from local taxes, fees and charges, amounting to some $151 per capita. The remainder was derived from state and Federal payments.

Although some communities have inordinately high costs, due to special local conditions, the rising cost of government has been a problem for all of them because payrolls, equipment, supplies and the cost of borrowing have been skyrocketing.

Local Government Operation Cost Each Loudon Countian $272

In Loudon County, as in other communities across the country, closer tabs than usual are being kept on local government finances these days.

The special concern at this time is due to the disastrous situation in New York, where expenditures have been running far in excess of revenues, resulting in the city being unable to meet its current obligations.

Other communities are also having financial problems, especially the large ones, it appears. That is because their costs have been rising at a faster rate than those of smaller places, according to Robert Brown, executive director of the Tax Foundation.

As for the cities across the country, the foundation reports that its figures show that "the smaller cities are the most economical with the taxpayers' funds."

In fiscal 1975, it finds, general expenditures amounted to $427 per capita in cities between 500,000 and 1,000,000 population but were only $138 in those under 50,000.

A similar situation exists at the county level, according to the latest Government figures. In counties with over 250,000 population, spending has been at the rate of $81 per capita, on average, and in those under 25,000, at $421.

In Loudon County, spending for general services was at the rate of $272 per capita, the figures indicate.

LOUDON, TENNESSEE, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1975

15 CENTS PER COPY

... On Thanksgiving Day

There won't be quite as many turkeys in Loudon this year as usual. Why? Because, not too many people will be here to eat them. A couple of thousand Loudon Countians will follow their Loudon High Redskin football team to Murfreesboro for the AA Football Championship game with Hartsville at Middle Tennessee State University on Thanksgiving Day.

The Loudon-Hartsville game will be a rematch of the AA Championship of last year, won by the Redskins 5-4 at Lebanon. Also the Redskins are the only 1975 Champion of the three classes to defend their title. Should the Redskins win they will be the first team in the state to hold three Championship titles. They won their first in 1963 the year the classified championships were held.

Thanksgiving is being billed by the TSSAA as the biggest day in Tennessee football history with all three Championships being played on the same field the same day.

The action will begin at 1 p.m. Central Time, that's 7 p.m. Loudon time, at the Walland and White House building in the A division in the 15,000 seat stadium on the astro-turf field. The AA game of Loudon and Hartsville will follow at 5:30 Loudon time, 9 p.m. Loudon time Oak Ridge.

Fans Charter Special Bus

Greer's is sponsoring a special bus to Murfreesboro for the Championship game Thanksgiving day. The round trip transportation, including ticket to the AA Championship is $11 per person. Reservations will be received on a first-come, first-served basis. Persons interested should contact Ham Carver or Don McColledge at Greer's. Money must be turned in at Greer's by noon Wednesday.

The bus will leave the First Baptist Church parking lot at 1 p.m. Thursday and return immediately following the game.

Two Routes To Murfreesboro Given

Loudon Redskin fans planning to attend the Championship game Thanksgiving day in Murfreesboro, at the Middle Tennessee State University in Murfreesboro have two routes to choose from to reach the game.

Possibly the best route is some 10 miles longer in travel but features interstate the route. The route is from Loudon to Chattanooga, in Chattanooga pick up I-24 and travel to Murfreesboro. Take the second exit (Franklin-Murfreesboro). Go right and at the second traffic light turn right again and proceed direct to the stadium. This route is 185 miles meaning if a traffic average the state allowable speed limit of 55 mph it would take about three and one half hours to drive to the game.

ARC Approves $666,000 For Industrial Park

The Department of Economic and Community Development last week notified the City of Loudon that an Appalachian Regional Commission grant of $666,000 has been tentatively approved for the proposed $12 million development of the Blair Bend Industrial Park.

The notification said that the funds were being held for the project pending receipt of a formal application and arrangements for funding the remainder of the project.

Loudon Mayor Eugene Lambert said that the tentative approval by ARC gives the city the green light to proceed with several preliminary steps leading to acquisition of the 285 acre W.D. Williamson farm. The farm has long been sought for industrial purposes and the city recently began work to get necessary federal and other support to acquire and develop the land.

Last week the city asked the County to participate in the development of the project and an item dealing with this is on the county court agenda for Monday night's meeting.

The $6 percent grant offer was part of a letter asking that a formal application be submitted no later than Feb. 27, 1976. The city has stated before they hope to start work in the park early next year, as soon as all pending legislation and the land can be acquired through a condemnation procedure.

Tax Proposals, Blair Bend On Squire's Agenda

Whether or not Loudon County will participate with the City of Loudon in the development of the $12 million Blair Bend Industrial Park will be considered by the county court at their December meeting Monday at the courthouse. The meeting starts at 7 p.m.

Recently the city asked the county to participate. County officials would allow the complete development of the park in one step. The court is being asked to share in the local funds necessary to develop the park along with the federal and state funds totaling more than 50 percent of the project are expected.

The balance would be financed by a 40 year, five percent loan from the Farmers Home Administration.

Loudon Mayor Eugene Lambert said that participation by the county would certainly be a great assistance in getting the project underway as completed. "With proper funding we can get the park ready for sale and the quicker this is done the faster the county and city will get a return through a broadened tax base."

Another item on the agenda-Bacon Building: Consideration of office rental, indicates that a resolution commending the Loudon High Redskin Football team.

College Credit Offered In Community Classes

Loudon County Community Education coordinator Susan Presley said this week that persons who are interested in taking college credit courses locally provided through the State Community College should contact her or fill out a survey form which is published elsewhere in this issue.

Mrs. Presley said that it is hoped that there is sufficient interest to offer several college level courses in the county. If there is the courses would start in early January. A full schedule of non-credit courses for high school age and adults is also being

Committee Named To Study Medical Satellite Clinic Concept

The Loudon County Memorial Hospital Board of Directors last Wednesday night approved the creation of an Institutional Planning Committee, which Administrator Gay Hamilton said would be used immediately to develop a satellite medical clinic concept to complement services at the hospital.

Hamilton said that 10 top industrial, business, community and medical leaders in the county have been selected to the committee. They are J.W. Wilburn, III, Bart Idtina, Buddy Jenkins, Judge Bill Russell, Bob Lyons, Dr. Walter Shea. Others were to be named.

The committee will meet late this week to get their information on responsibilities and the conditions that have led to the creation of the committee. They will investigate and develop plans for recruitment of specialty physicians. Determine the feasibility of the satellite clinic concept and under a requirement of Medicare develop a three year capital expenditure budget for the hospital. The capital expenditure requirement is for any expenditure of equipment, facilities or staff that cost over $10,000 it was explained.

The concept itself, Hamilton explained, includes professional medical buildings at the hospital in the communities surrounding it, owned by the hospital and staffed with physicians in specialties that it is felt are most appropriate for the area.

The new committee will be responsible for recommendations to the hospital board, who then must in turn act on them before being sent to the county court for final approval. The planning is on a three year basis with updating each year.

The first action of the board will be to address itself to the recruitment of specialty doctors. They will look at other communities of comparable size and closeness to metropolitan areas, see which has been more successful in recruitment then investigate the means they used to recruit and attract medical specialists.

The program, it is hoped by the hospital board, will answer the problem of low census at the county hospital, which in four months this fiscal year has gone in the red $30,000 because of low (52 percent) census.

Ms. Sue Patterson of the Tennessee Medical Loan Scholarship program explained that young doctors coming out of medical school are looking for facilities, office space, income guarantees and benefits. They are getting none and she said that Loudon County is to compete for these doctors they must develop a plan and some sort of package to present them.

Hamilton said that the local hospital is losing patients to the Knoxville Hospitals because the GP's here refer many patients to internists at those hospitals in Knoxville and when hospitalization is required the Knoxville centers get the business that would come to Loudon if there were acceptable specialists here.

The Harriman and Rockwood hospitals were cited as examples. Harriman recently closed one wing because of low census. There are no specialists there. At Rockwood there is a certified surgeon. That hospital is always full it was pointed out.

County Judge William Russell, who attended the meeting, said the key to such a program of recruitment would be acceptance of the local physicians who would be sending patients to the internists or surgeons. "Without the support of the local doctors the whole thing would flop," he said.

Ms. Patterson said that few doctors today go into solo practice. Most look for a group practice and are besieged with offers of office space, equipment and other benefits.

Approval was given by the board to update the accounting equipment in the business office. Hamilton explained that an employee that earned $600 a month had resigned, but that for $129 a month additional computer equipment could be added and operated by the present staff without hiring anyone to fill the vacated position. The proposal was approved on a 6-1 vote with Squire Jim Blain voting against the move.

"Approval was given a medical staff recommendation to allow the wife of Dr. Jerry Rogers to perform

Redskins Avenge Maryville Loss with 12-9 Overtime Squeaker

REDSKIN GROUND LEADER—Greg Deathridge sprints for a sizable gain in leading the Loudon offensive ground attack.

RAMBLIN' REB—Maryville fullback Danny Spradlin is scissored by Loudon's Greg Deathridge (17) and linebacker Steve Hill (53).

VICTORY SESSION—It was a happy Loudon delegation who raced from the Maryville Everett football field Friday night with a state AA playoff win over Maryville 9-6.

Loudon High School, for the third time in seven years has reached the finals of the Tennessee School-boy Class AA State Football Championships. The Redskins won the coveted double-A state title in 1969 by shutting out Humboldt 30-0, and again in 1974 with a routing 46-0 over Hartsville of Trousdale County.

Loudon assured itself a spot in the 1975 state final, to be played Thanksgiving Day (Thursday) at Middle Tennessee State University, with a Friday night semi-final victory over Region One Champion Maryville 12-9.

The Region Two Redskins, who have won 24 of their last 26 games, avenged their lone defeat of the regular season, a four overtime 17-14 setback to the Red Rebels.

The rematch of East Tennessee "AA" powers in just four weeks picked up the "helmet cracker" right where it left off October 24. Only the time Loudon prevailed, and again it took a heart stopping overtime stanza to decide the winner.

Last Friday night's heralded Loudon-Maryville rematch was expected to be a reverse in every phase of their first meeting, considered to be a most conservative effort by both clubs with stout defensive efforts.

And Friday night started out with the tempo of a wide open scoring affair. But defenses quickly took charge and overtime was again necessary to separate the differences in these two fine and unquestionably equal football teams.

Maryville took the opening kickoff with a 25 yard return to the Red Rebel 20. Fourteen plays later the Maryville offense was camped on the Loudon 10 yard line, having used up the first 7:30 of the first quarter to heekle the Redskins defensive unit with four first downs.

Loudon finally dug in and forced Maryville to finally settle for what appears to be a fourth down field goal attempt of some 27 yards. The field goal attempt was only a diversion to pull the Redskins into a tight defensive formation and thus opening up the end zone for a passing play that would yield the Region One Kings a touchdown and a staggering right to the chin of the defending "AA" state champs, Loudon. The extra point kick was wide of the goal posts as a determined rush by Loudon's Dickie Colvin rushed the kick.

Nevertheless Loudon trailed with 4:40 left in the first quarter 6-0.

Greg Deathridge hauled the ensuing kickoff back 24 yards to the Loudon 25. Loudon was to then exhaust the quarter and in 13 plays rambled the length of the field to knot the game at 6-6 with just 45 seconds gone in the second period.

Greg Deathridge bucking his way up the middle for Loudon's last seven yards to cross the double stripe of the Red Rebels. Jim Birkholz's try for the extra point was blocked.

Loudon, aided by two penalties and a clutch third down reception by Junior Conway Dukes of 21 yards highlighted the Loudon scoring march.

Rick Melton got the call seven times and responded for 19 total yards on the drive. Loudon poked up three first downs, one on a 15 yard penalty following a two yard effort by Melton that moved the chains from the Loudon 39 to the Maryville 44. An offside penalty by the continual blitzing Maryville defense gave Loudon another first down berth at the Red Rebel 30.

Loudon answered with a 30 yard punt by Mike Brookshire, on third down and nine, Deathridge fired a 21 yard aerial to an off balance Conway Dukes, and Loudon was inside the Maryville eight yard line, bringing to a close the first quarter.

Two plays later Melton ripped through a hole up the middle and despite being hit at the four yard line rambled into the end zone for his 12th touchdown of the 1975 season.

With the first half clicking away at a break-neck speed the two well coached and fundamentally prepared teams settled to a defensive tussle.

Loudon, strong and big, refused to surrender to the Red Rebels a single first down for the remainder of the first half. Maryville had the football on four separate offensive series in the period. In fact Maryville failed to gain a first down until its final offensive series of the fourth quarter.

Loudon was not to be turned loose either. The Redskins, facing a quicker defensive opponent, managed only one first down in three offensive series during the second quarter. That first down coming on a 26 yard dash by Loudon's Greg Deathridge to the Maryville 49 with 1:35 remaining in the first half.

Meanwhile Maryville failed to crack the Loudon defense on its second offensive series of the game. A 15 yard holding penalty forced a Red Rebel punt to 39 yards to the Loudon 28.

Loudon answered with a 30 yard punt by Mike Brookshire, despite a gain of six yards by Loudon's fullback Marlon Brown on the Redskins first snap.

Loudon's strong arm defensive rush of Colvin, Marlon Brown, Jim Brown, Dennis Stewart, Junior Rolan, Steve Harrison, Tim Merrill, Carter Garwood and Jeff Nichols intercepted the Maryville offense again and a 34 yard boot to the Loudon 25 was in order with 4:53 left in the first half.

Loudon sought to open up the Maryville defense with a passing attack, but Deathridge was intercepted on third down at the Loudon 35 and the ball returned five yards to the Redskins 30.

Senior Linebackers Dickie Colvin and Marlon Brown teamed to halt any scoring ideas by Maryville. The Reds could manage just six yards and Loudon took over on downs at the 24 with 1:43 on the clock.

Deathridge cut back through the grain for a near break-away run of 26 yards on first down. Loudon was finally calmed as a halfback punt from Marlon Brown to Mike Lambert caught the Maryville defense asleep on fourth down by running from a punt formation. The play gained only two yards and Maryville got the ball on downs at their own 44 with 1:10 remaining in the first half.

Loudon received the second half kick-off with Bumper Webster racing 13 yards to the Loudon 27. Rick Melton zipped for 14 yards and a stunning first down at the Loudon 41. A Loudon fumble, recovered by an alert center Steve Hill and a minus three yards in two rushes stopped the Loudon surge. Brookshire punted 31 yards to the Maryville 31.

The game was to take on a flavor of a Loudon win with 8:13 showing on the third period clock. Dickie Colvin, a real sticker for the Loudon defense, started in a recovery drive with a fumble as the Red Rebel 39. Senior Linebacker Steve Hill was also on the button. Colvin piled to assist Colvin with holding on to the Maryville fumble.

Loudon pounded the Maryville defense for nine offensive snaps, but the quick Rebel tackling unit only bent, never broke.

Marlon Brown powered for 11 yards to the Maryville 28. Loudon was chased out of bounds following a gain of six.

Carter Garwood, came on to take the quarterback reins with Deathridge filling a halfback position. The junior field general turned inside for a drive saving first down on a two yard dive to the Maryville 17.

Deathridge span free for eight yards but the Maryville defense rose to the occasion halting Loudon on downs with a four yard loss on fourth down and two at the Maryville nine yard stripe.

A booming 46 yard punt put Loudon back on offense again. Deathridge darted for 12 yards but Marlon Brown was separated from the ball at the Loudon 46 as Maryville crossed the 50 yard line on offense for the second time in the game.

Maryville, permitted last at the entire third quarter, coughed the ball up on the first play of the fourth quarter and Loudon's Jim Brown recovered at the Loudon 45.

Deathridge, the game's top ground gainer with 88 yards on 19 carries, got Loudon in motion once again on a 21 yard punt. A delay of game penalty set the Redskins back to the Maryville 36 and Mike Brookshire punted the ball dead at the Red Rebel eight yard line.

Maryville made its bid to win the game in regulation play by executing offensively three first downs and held the football for 6:32 of the final eight minutes of the fourth quarter. Only to be forced to punt their scoring dreams away with a 42 yard kick to the Loudon 10.

Loudon managed to move the ball 21 yards in the final 1:28 of the game, picking up two first downs.

Overtime play became almost apparent when Loudon's defense refused to give away at mid-field as Maryville tried desperately to swing the game's momentum to their side in the waning minutes of regulation play.

Loudon won the overtime toss and elected to go on defense first.

Maryville's junior Class AA All State fullback Danny Spradlin got the call on three straight downs. The hard running junior gained six yards on first down, but Loudon limited the strong running back to one yard plunges on second and third down. Maryville went for the field goal and was successful from the 10 yard line for a 20 yard scoring kick to make the score 9-6.

Loudon took the offensive role and quarterback Greg Deathridge following the straight ahead blocking of the right side of his line and the battering ram lead of fullback Marlon Brown nosed into the end zone on their down to give Loudon the victory.

Deathridge had rushes of three, three and four yards to gain entrance into the Maryville end zone.

Deathridge was the top individual rusher in the game with 88 yards and a touchdown to his credit.

The Annual Quarterback Pee Wee Football Banquet will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Loudon Junior High Cafeteria.

Final Football Contest A Toughie

Not one of the hundreds of Herald Football Contest entries hit all 10 games on the contest last week and only three persons got nine of the games right.

The tie-breaker has decided the contest every week this year and this final week was no different. The perfect tie-breaker would have been 21 (Loudon 12-Maryville 9), but the winner Jimmy Annis of Cleveland had 20 and was closest. The game he missed was the most missed of the week, Rockwood's defeat at the hands of Walland. The winner gets $12. Second place and 30 with a point tie-breaker was claimed by O'Dell Justice of Loudon, who also missed the football lockwood game. Third place cash of $5 was won by Gladys Holford of Rockwood with a 28 point tie-breaker.

The Herald and the sponsors of the Football Contest wish to thank the thousands who entered throughout the season and helped make the football season a little more exciting.

Brown And Melton On "AA" All State Team

Loudon has placed two members of its 1975 football team on the All State Class "AA" first team. The team selected by the Associated Press strictly from double-A schools in Tennessee, has recognized Loudon's Rick Melton, a senior running back with over 1000 yards of rushing to his credit this year and 12 touchdowns on the offensive backfield. Marlon Brown, a 210 pound senior linebacker and bull-dozer fullback made the first team for his stellar tackling play on defense.

Both were All East Tennessee honorees in a selection group ranging of all three state classifications.

Other All State Class AA members were Maryville fullback Danny Spradlin and line runner Carl Quincy, number 49 and 70 respectively. They were a spectator at the Friday night Loudon-Maryville rematch.

Notre Dame's line receiver Mike Bruce was also listed. Val Barksdale, Fleet Harriman receiver made the second unit.

'75 Class AA State Grid Title A Replay Of 1974

Loudon and Hartsville will again be making repeat appearances in the TSSAA double-A football championship finals. This year's title will be decided on Thanksgiving Thursday at Middle Tennessee State University. Game time is set for 5:30 p.m. (local time).

The Redskins, making their third championship round appearance, winning titles in 1969 and 1974, is the lone defending title holder to return to vie for this year's honors.

Hartsville lost but six members of its 1974 runner-up team. Both starting backs have been replaced by graduation and the Yellow Jackets appear to be none the worse.

The Yellow Jackets bring to the Championship game the best defensive statistics of any team to make the playoffs in any classification. The Loudon County eleven have registered seven shutouts, winning both playoff games to date by identical scores of 34-0.

They have a potent offense that has exploded for 421 points and that averages out to be 35 points a game.

They have lost once, a 7-6 squeaker to Nashville Bellevue. But this game was played in a down-pour of rain and in a sea of mud and water.

A more picturesque night for football found the Yellow Jackets and Owl in a rematch for the Region III title and Hartsville's own in convincing style 34-0.

Thus the game stacks up to be one of defenses. Loudon bigger and more depth, against a quick rugged team with playoff experience and a often times nine rushing linemen.

Hartsville is in the state finals for the fourth straight year, winning the championship in 1972 over Kingston 12-0.

The game will be played this year on artificial turf and the new experience could prove an early break in the outcome of the game.

Loudon will leave the high school at 11:15 a.m. and will have a pre-game meal at Tennessee Tech in Cookeville. The Redskins plan to arrive at the game site about an hour and half in advance to kick-off and will return to Loudon following the game.

East Tennessee representatives making bids for state title Thursday will find Walland (12-0) meeting White House (12-0) for the Class A title. Oak Ridge carries a 11-1 mark into the Thursday night AAA game with Nashville Maplewood (11-1).

A play-off note has found this year's first two rounds to be tied in offensive marks by the Class AAA teams. To date the Class AAA games have produced a combined total of 37.5 points per game output. In Class AA 30.4 points have been placed on the scoreboard each game. The Class A is only a few tenths of a point behind at 29.16 points.

Loudon's Brant Hoover, Locke Gun Down Lenoir City Distaff 57-42

Lenoir City Girls' Basketball Coach Mike Pickett and his Pantherettes are still looking for their first victory of the 1975-76 basketball season. The Pantherettes (0-3) traveled to Loudon (3-0) last Saturday night and found the Lady Redskins in near mid-season form despite it being only their third game of the regular season.

Loudon Girls' Coach Dewayne Arp turned loose his Redskins sextet in a torrid performance that had Loudon ahead by 20 early and by 15 points of game's end, 57-42.

Randy Davis Tallies 24 Redskins Upset Lenoir City Cagers

The Loudon Redskins have captured their first basketball triumph of the season. Coach Hugh Watson's quiet rode the blistering 24 point pace of junior guard Randy Davis to down county rival Lenoir City last Saturday night 59-55.

The win, an upset in District Six "AA" competition, left both teams with 1-2 season records.

Loudon got a lot of hustle and floor movement from its five starters, all juniors, and clutch reserves led by sophomore Steven Betts.

Lenoir City likewise battled with a determined effort, but a chain of circumstances has set the early season play of the Panthers back considerably.

The Panthers lost Joey Cunningham a promising 6-3 forward who was on the border line for a starting position following four fall scrimmage seasons with high school teams from around the area. Senior pivot Howard Cusick, a 6-8 All County performer as a junior, has a blood clot in his knee and is out of action until December.

Coach Willie Smallie is having to play much more inexperienced players and a lot shorter front line than the Panthers had counted on in their first five weeks of fall practice.

four shots in what must have been a frustrating experience for the veteran forward. The Panthers managed only six points from the field in the halves and nine for the quarter.

Loudon did not have a standout floor percentage (five of 20) in the third period either, but Steven Betts, sophomore, came off the bench for the Redskins to go in a clutch field goal and grab a pair of rebounds in guiding the host to a 14-9 difference and 48-41 edge.

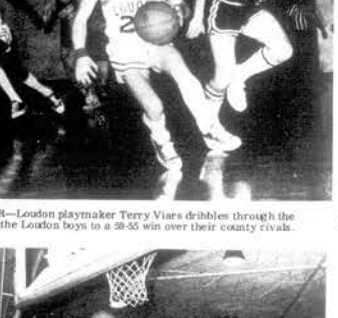

Loudon increased their lead to 12 points, at 33-21, early in the first quarter, but Lenoir City came roaring back behind Grayling and Pete Littleton and guard Terry Parton.

The Panthers narrowed the gap to 33-33 with 1:23 to play, but each team settled for four points down the stretch and Loudon hung on to register its first victory of the season.

Loudon hit 19 of 63 shots from the field for only a 30 percent shooting game. A strong showing at the foul line, 21 of 26 made up the difference in points to record the triumph.

Loudon forward Kim Brant Hoover had her most splendid game of her offensive career by canning 11 of 13 shots from the floor and adding six of six foul shots to pace all scorers with 28 points. Kim was an all star guard in grade school and also on the Redskins freshman distaff.

Brant Hoover's sizzling offensive exhibition was led by Bernadette Locke who added 23 points. Miss Locke's 10 field goals over shadowed her surprisingly Loudon's boys' Coach, Hugh Watson, was very jubilant over the performance of his all junior line-up. "I can't remember when I was more pleased with winning, our boys have really been working and the total team effort finally paid off for us tonight," said Watson.

The Redskins, on a steady improvement course from their season opening upset loss to Sweetwater in overtime, showed a tremendous amount of hustle and team movement on offense and niftily played after the Panthers on defense.

Lenoir City gave a solid team effort themselves, but just could not hold pace with Loudon on this night.

Continuing scoring by Loudon guard Randy Davis was complimented by key baskets from his teammates throughout the game as Loudon hit from all angles of the court.

The Redskins had their best shooting effort of the entire game in the first quarter making seven of 13 field goal attempts. Davis had four field goals for eight points and Terry Viars, Steve Millsaps and Mark Harrell all bagged points.

Still the Panthers held a two point advantage, hitting nine of 17 floor shots in the first eight minute frame. Senior Grayling Littleton's five field goal bombardment from the deep corner had the Panthers at a full head of steam and leading 18-16.

Lenoir City with a scorching first half field goal percentage, hitting 15 baskets in 28 attempts, was nevertheless trailing in the score as Loudon made 12 of 26 shots and then added nine of 10 shots from the foul line for a 33-31 halftime lead.

Lenoir City failed to score in the first two minutes of the second half, Grayling Littleton missing four straight shots in what must have been a frustrating experience for the veteran forward. The Panthers managed only six points from the field in the halves and nine for the quarter.

Loudon did not have a standout floor percentage (five of 20) in the third period either, but Steven Betts, sophomore, came off the bench for the Redskins to go in a clutch field goal and grab a pair of rebounds in guiding the host to a 14-9 difference and 48-41 edge.

Loudon hit 19 of 63 shots from the field for only a 30 percent shooting game. A strong showing at the foul line, 21 of 26 made up the difference in points to record the triumph.

Loudon point guard Terry Viars, was given credit for an excellent job of running the Loudon offense and the little fire-eater responded with eight assists and 11 points to join Davis in double figures.

Randy Davis hit a stellar eight of 14 floor shots and eight of nine charity attempts for eight game high 24 markers.

Lenoir City, just out played on this night, hit well from the field (24 of 49 shots), fashioning a 48.9 percent team showing. But a seven for 20 foul shooting mark denied the Panthers from picking up the win.

The Panthers had a balanced scoring attack. Grayling Littleton and Pete Littleton each scored 13 points. Sophomore guard Ricky Gouder came off the bench to play a fine ball game and finished with the leaders in rebounding 13 points. Terry Parton had 12 points and led the Panthers in rebounding with eight.

Mark Harrell's 13 rebounds topped all backboard play and gave Loudon a slight rebounding edge at 31 to 26.

Lenoir City Rotary Classic To Feature Top Sr. Colleges

Four area senior colleges, Bryan, Tusculum, Tennessee Wesleyan and Knoxville College, are in the fourth annual Lenoir City Rotary Basketball Classic at Lenoir City High School Gymnasium Nov. 26-27.

Wesleyan and Knoxville College are considered to be the favorites. Knoxville College has 14 letterwinners returning from last year's squad that divided 31 games. Wesleyan tied for the VSAC championship last year.

This tournament marks the first time senior colleges have participated in the event, which pits area senior colleges until this year.

Tickets for the Rotary Classic can be purchased from any club member and are available on the campuses of the participating teams. All proceeds will be used for scholarships for Lenoir City High School seniors.

Gregory Jones, 6-8 center from Chicago, heads the list with Darrell Foster, 6-6 forward from Chicago, and Maurice Davis, 6-7 forward from Gary, Ind., completing the tall and tough front line.

Tracy Champion and William Campbell, both 6-3 seniors, also were key members of the back court group which also includes John Atkins, 6-2, and Rodney Williams, 6-10, who hail from Toledo and Atlanta respectively.

Coach DeWayne Simmons also has Frank Coffey, 6-4 forward from Pulaski, Mike Grier, 6-5 guard from Pulaski, Arnold Craig, 6-3 forward from St. Louis, Maurice Tiche, 6-0 guard from Chicago, Melvin Flisellen, 6-0 guard from Chattanooga, Ronald Blanchette, 6-3 forward from Sacramento, and Steve Woodfork, 6-4 center from Detroit, on the roster.

Coach Dwayne Farmer's Bulldog's, unbeaten in their opening three games this season, are rated at the top. Captain Ray Simmons, who played for Coach Hue Watson at Loudon High School, is the TWC leader while Paul Webb, who made everybody's all league team last season, joined the team last week.

John Morgan, Maryville, Larry Russell, Knoxville, Sam Coleman, Middleboro, David Tucker, Wilcox Plains, Mike Turner, Knoxville, Spencer Rider, Hardinsburg, Ky, and Ken Eskand, Koppert, N.J. are the other letterwinners returning from the defending VSAC Conference Champions.

Farmer, coaching at Hiwassee and Tennessee Wesleyan, is cited in on the magic 300 victory mark as his clubs have won 287 games while losing but 202. David Mason, who along with Webb led Hiwassee to the last two Rotary Championships, is the leading Bulldog defensive performer.

Bryan College, coached by Wayne Dixon, features seniors Dan Begley, Don Rianton, Quentin Crabtree, and Larry Nicks. Mike Eldridge, Saddy Daisy, Mike Hall, Dayton, Wesley Johnson, Chattanooga, Clarence McDowell, Memphis, Chuck Sanders, Hixson, Dwight Pease, Memphis, and John Van Klief, Nashville, are the Tennesseans who perform for the Lions.

Eldridge and Begley, scoring 19 and 17 points respectively, led the Lions to an 88-70 decision over Johnson Bible College in their opening last week. Mike Hathaway, 6-3 forward from Asheville, Paul Williams, 6-10 center, and Sanders also found the scoreboard for the winners.

Walter Stokely, averaging 19.4 points per game last season, and Shane Small, 12-7 average, are the top scorers returning for Ed Coates Greenville team.

Dale Kennedy, who played in Lenoir City last year as a member of the Cleveland Hawks, is one of the top newcomers. The squad returns 12 letterwinners and includes 6-6 Mickey Myers, Greenville, and Randy Hopson, Greenville, two outstanding sophomores last season.

The Pioneers placed six men in double scoring figures last week in the opener as Tusculum defeated Bryan, 111-66, to drop the Lions 1-1 for the season.

Stokely paced the balanced attack with 22 points. Following were Jim Hunter with 15, Bob DeLoeuw with 14, Kennedy with 13, and Shane Small with 11. Bryan's Begley led all scorers in the game with 22 points.

6-2 guard from Prattville, Tenn., Small, 6-4 junior forward from Chambersburg, Pa., and DeLoeuw, 6-9 sophomore from Elmwood Park, N.J., are the most improved players on the team.

Tickets for the classic can be purchased from any of the participating club members. All monies from the Classic will go to scholarships for high school seniors.

Thanksgiving Holidays
This Thursday and Friday, November 27 and 28, will be holidays for the Loudon County schools. Schools will close on Wednesday afternoon and re-open on Monday, December 1. We hope that everyone has an enjoyable vacation and returns on Monday.

Bicentennial Workshop
The Bicentennial Workshop for teachers and other interested citizens was a success. A number of folks turned out to see examples of crafts and hear reports on other projects planned for the celebration of our country's 200th birthday. Those teachers who planned and organized this meeting are to be congratulated on a job well done.

Community Education
Susan Pressly, our director for community education, has received several replies to the questionnaire which appeared in recent issues of the local papers. These are extremely helpful to her in determining which classes or subjects are of interest to you. We hope that this program can expand and grow even larger as more folks are made aware of the opportunities available in community education.

Compliments Of Bank of Loudon County

The University of Tennessee's second National Championship team was in 1952; this team was coached by the legendary General Neyland. This Volunteer team was led by three All-Americans: halfback Hank Lauricella, guard Tom Daffer, and tackle Bill Pearman. End Doug Atkins, back Bert Rechard, and guard John Michels were named All SEC.

The Volunteers opened the 1951 season with a 14-0 shutout of Mississippi State. A week later Duke fell victim to UT's second shutout 26-0. The Vols blasted by Chattanooga 42-13 and trumped Alabama 27-13. Tennessee's defense registered its third shutout against Tennessee Tech, and the offense exploded for a 68-0 victory. The Vols roared by Washington & Lee 60-14 and Mississippi 46-21. Kentucky was the next victim as the Volunteers whitewashed 28-0. In the intra-state rivalry with Vanderbilt, the Volunteers were hard pressed as the Commodores put up a game fight. However, Tennessee prevailed 35-7. After that game the University of Tennessee was voted the outstanding team in the nation.

The Terrapins of Maryland tarnished the perfect season with a 28-13 upset in the Sugar Bowl; however, Tennessee had its second National title.

Circuit Court Cases Decided

A Loudon County Circuit Court Jury last week awarded Leskeye Lee Ashe $5,000 in damages from Arthur Wilkerson for lateral support. The judgement was for damages to the Ashe property from cuts Wilkerson made on his property, a rubble home park, allegedly causing partial collapse of Ashe property.

A $25,000 judgement was awarded William Aaron Dills and Eugene Dills from an auto accident lawsuit against Richard E. Alexander.

A land condemnation, State of Tennessee vs Sam Hochkins ended in a mistrial Tuesday after a half day of proof on the case.

Three cases scheduled last week were settled out of court. They were Betty Easton and Dewey Easton vs Phyllis A. Lane, and a cross action of Phyllis Lane vs Betty S. Easton; auto accident; Davie Lee Moore, John D. Moore vs Clifton Rogers and wife, motor cycle, auto accident; and Oscar Harris and wife vs Tennessee Valley Products and Cas Walker Cash Stores, lateral support.

Goldberg Heads TAEA

Dr. Paul Goldberg, director of community services at Roane State, has been named president-elect of the Tennessee Adult Education Association at the group's Fall meeting at Fall Creek Falls State Park.

The Goldberg's office in this state-wide organization means that he will work with the President during this current term of office. Then the President-Elect will move up to the office of President during 1976 and 1977 for a two year term.

The Tennessee Adult Education Association is composed of persons involved in many phases of adult and continuing education in the State. The broad purpose of the group is to promote and develop an understanding of this important type of education.

Dr. Goldberg said, "This organization, being broad based, brings in persons of many affiliations. This is unifying to the field rather than divisive. So many people specialize in their professional associations. One of the strong points of the TAEA is that it provides an interesting collection of ideas of professionals, all of whom have a common interest."

It's great to be a winner!

You can be a winner with two kinds of money. Money for your retirement years. Money for your family's needs if you do not live to retirement. Let me show you how easy it is to buy two kinds of money at the same time.

All-Weather 78

Goodyear's All-Weather 78 is built with polyester cord that is heat tempered in an exclusive Goodyear process to set the cord at optimum strength and resilience. The wide "flexion tread" is "reverse molded," a technique borrowed from race-line production, to reverse molding, the contour of the tread surface is slightly concave as it comes from the mold - so that when the tire is inflated, the tread makes full, flat contact with the road. And the rib-type tread design is well ground, with plenty of traction ridges to provide distinctive grip in every direction. Our All-Weather 78 gives you lowest quality, at a price that's in step with the times. Tire-up now.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

458-2681

One of our pictures this week is of a former Loughby Thomas A. (Tommy) Gaylon. This service picture was made when Tommy was stationed at Fort Dix, New Jersey. Of course the time is during World War II. We have had several pictures of service men come our way during the past few weeks. We are talking to Charles Davis down at the Hamilton Bank the other day and Charlie loaned us some very interesting old pictures which we will be using in our future columns.

Our other picture this week is of a young lad, Sonny Bright, with a prized fish caught in our area many years ago. The fish is a 16 pound Walleye pike. At the time this was a record catch. Don't know if the record still stands or not.

I was not aware of it, but hand quilted bed quilts are a very popular item these days. In recent weeks several people have contacted me, asking if I knew of anyone who had a quilt for sale. They had heard that I had done a feature story on old time quilting art and thought possibly I might tell them where and whom to contact to buy a quilt. I am not setting up shop to promote the sale of quilts, but I will help our readers to possibly locate one, but like many other things, the interest cooled off.

The other day our telephone rang and it was a group from Knoxville, who were interested in making an underwater search, possibly in a different side of the river than the side searched before. I am not authorized by anybody to make a decision on who searches or who doesn't. I would be very happy to see these engines located for the benefit of our area and would be happy to supply information that I have to these people or others who may have an interest in this. The other divers who pursued this before, strongly believe that the engines are there and I, for one, greatly appreciated their efforts in this matter. These two men were well versed in diving as well as salvage operations. They since have expressed a desire to return sometime and make a more extensive search and I for one would welcome them as well as other interested groups or individuals.

Sometime back our City Council appointed a group to pursue this and another project, which would bring the City of Loudon into the realm of historical sites in our town. I was a member of this group, but as to my knowledge, the group has not been actively engaged in the pursuit of their objectives. No reflection on them, but maybe this will give us a good opportunity to get active again.

Well, thank it for now. See you next week.

Permit Needed For New Septic Tanks

Loudon County Health Department Construction Permit Unit Director James R. Propps reminded the public that under section 53.20 of the Tennessee Code Annotated that a Construction Permit No. 35.67 is needed for any installation of a septic tank and sub-surface field.

This permit will include either soil percolation data or soil evaluation for your construction area. This permit should be secured before your home is constructed for proper layout planning on your lot. You will have a sizable investment in your home, so your sewer system, if properly installed, today's homeowner uses 10 to 20 times the water that was used 20 years ago. By law, any household waste discharge requires subsurface disposal. This is why soil classification is very important. Before buying any property, please consult our department or your Soil Conservation Service, Farmers Home, Federal Land Bank, Federal Banks, V.A., F.H.A. and most banks require this service.

In some Tennessee counties financial institutions have several hundred houses for sale with no buyers due to either improper sizing or installation of septic tank systems or poor classification. This could happen in Loudon County. Call your County Health Department, 458-2682 or 458-2618 for this free service.

CONVENIENT STORE LOCATION—Work began on site preparation for a Convenient Food Mart store on Mulberry Street in Loudon last week when the last of two houses on the property was removed.

THE HAMILTONS' GOOD NEWS

A periodic dollars and sense report that'll help you bank on good times.

SHOP AND SAVE AT HAMILTON

YOUR FUTURE AT HAMILTON

Savers at Hamilton are getting a break. Why? First of all because the bank pays the highest interest allowed by federal regulatory authorities. Second, on high-interest bearing certificates, the bank compounds interest every three months and credits the amount to your account.

The effect of compounding quarterly can make a difference.

For example, suppose you have $1,000. If you put this in a savings account which compounds annually, at the end of six years (assuming a 7 1/2% account) the value of your $1,000 will be $1,543.30. The future value of the same $1,000 in a Hamilton account that is compounded quarterly is $1,561.73.

The difference becomes more dramatic with larger amounts of money over a longer period of time. For example: $10,000 compounded annually at 7 1/2% will be worth $20,610.32 in ten years. The future value on Hamilton's quarterly compound method is $21,023.49, a difference of $413.17—something to think about.

These Hamiltons offer the best savings programs in town.

SAVINGS PLAN FOR EDUCATION

Problem: You have an 11-year-old child who will be entering college in seven years. You figure that it will cost approximately $2,000 per year for his college education. How can you provide for this?

Answer: Step One: Start now by opening up a regular 7 1/2% account of $100 per month. At the end of the first year, savings plus interest will equal $1,229.71. Step Two: Withdraw $1,200 and place it in a six-year account paying 7 1/2%. At age 18, this account will be worth $1874.15. Step Three: Don't stop saving. You must repeat your year cycle for at least four and one-half years.

Benefit: By the time your child is 15 years old, you have assured his college education. As inflation eats into the dollar value, you still have plenty of time to "catch-up." By this time, you will have formed a good savings habit—and who knows, maybe you can save $200 per month.

Good news and good times ahead for savers at Hamilton. Six good savings plans make it easy for our customers to find the one that fits.

Our Regular Savings Account is for you if you need to make frequent deposits and withdrawals. It pays 5 percent per annum and is paid on savings of $10 or more. Interest is compounded continuously and paid quarterly. Deposit any amount at any time and withdraw as needed. A slight service charge is made on withdrawals exceeding six in one quarter.

A Golden Savings Account earns 5 1/2%. It's for you if you plan to leave your money on deposit for ninety days or longer. Interest is compounded continuously and paid quarterly. Withdrawals may be made the first 10 days of each calendar quarter.

A Big Six Account earns 6% and is for you if you can leave money with us for twelve months. Interest is compounded quarterly and credited to your account.

A Super Six Account is for people who can wait thirty months before withdrawal. It earns 6 1/2%. Interest is mailed to you personally. If left in the account, interest compounds quarterly.

A Seven Plus Account earns 7% on $1,000 minimum deposit left in account for four years. Seven and one-half percent can be earned on monies left on deposit for six years.

Caution: Withdrawal before maturity of six and seven percent accounts are subject, under federal law, to reduction to five percent interest and forfeiture of three months interest.

Happiness Is Golden Club

A Golden Club Checking Account at The Hamilton of Loudon is more than a checking account. You will get our Golden Club gives you more for $2.75 per month than you can get at a Saturday night auction.

Other benefits of Golden Club are unlimited checking activity regardless of number of checks written or minimum balance.

Personalized checks and deposit tickets, all you need, choice of color and check cover.

HE NOW OFFERS DIRECT DEPOSIT

Hamilton's most recently added customer service is Social Security Direct Deposit. This means, simply, that Hamilton Bank receives your Social Security checks and automatically deposits them into your checking or savings account.

All it takes is authorization from the Social Security recipient and Hamilton has plenty of authorization forms just for the asking.

Hamilton's direct deposit is the safest, most convenient way to get your check exactly where it belongs. There is no way for it to be tied up in the mail or lost or stolen from your mailbox.

TAX-FREE IRA PLANS SET-UP TO BENEFIT SELF-EMPLOYED

Hamilton has good news for wage-earners and self-employed people who are not currently participating in any other tax qualified retirement plan.

Under the terms of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, it is possible for an individual to establish his own tax deductible retirement account.

You are allowed to deduct up to $1,500 per year or 15% of your gross income, whichever is less, by placing this money in an Individual Retirement Account.

You benefit in two ways. First, you are establishing a real nest-egg for retirement at age 59 1/2 (the law does not allow deductions beyond this age). Second, you pay less taxes.

For example: You are 25 years of age making $10,000 per year and are eligible for an IRA. The law allows you to set aside $1,500 per year (that's $125 per month). The 1974 tax rate table says that an individual pays (prior to itemized deductions) $2,090 in federal income taxes. Had you set aside the $1,500 in an IRA account, your taxable income then becomes $8,500 and you would pay $1,715 or $75 less in taxes.

At age 59 1/2, under the Hamilton's 6.5% plan, the value of your account is $185,567.08. At this time, you may consider a lump sum payment or monthly payout program. In this example, the individual is entitled to $1,604.29 per month for a 15 year period.

Your Hamilton Branch Officer will help you establish your own Individual Retirement Account.

Kittrell To Hear Case Of Fired Deputy Friday

Only one case was completed in jury action during Circuit Court in Loudon County last week. A verdict in favor of Loudon County who was the defendant in a auto accident case brought by Kenneth Thomas.

Thomas alleged that a county highway department truck from the Second and Fifth District pulled onto Martel Road causing him to wreck. The jury found that the county was not at fault in the accident.

After hearing proof for almost a half-day before a jury the auto accident case of Arthur B. Duggan vs Kathy Grayson and a cross complaint was settled in chambers before going to the jury.

A non jury case, former Sheriff's Department Deputy Kenneth Brown vs the Loudon County Merit Board will be heard by Judge Willard Kittrell Friday.

Brown, who was fired by Sheriff Guy Russell, with the Merit Board then upholding the action, has asked that Judge Kittrell hear proof in the case to see if the action of the merit board was justified.

Judge Kittrell ruled last week that he would hear the case this Friday.

Two other cases slated for last week were settled out of court. They were Quintus Mills vs Arthur Wilkerson, lateral support; and June Martin vs Robert Nelson, auto accident.

In a report on court proceedings last week a jury award in the case of William Aaron Dills and Eugene Dills vs Richard Alexander was listed at $25,000. That was incorrect the jury awarded Dills $2,500.

Five Arrested In Breakin

Five persons including two juveniles have been charged by county officers following three breakins in successive nights into the same residence on Town Creek Road in Lenoir City.

The arrests followed a series of tips to officers, a stake-out on the house where three of the subjects were arrested and a stake-out on some of the stolen items in the business district of Lenoir City.

Broken into was the residence of Ed Pendleton, a house that is under construction. Pendleton resides in Florida during the winter and no one was occupying the home at the time. It does contain furnishings and a large quantity of personal items.

The first of the three nightly breakins occurred Wednesday night, and was investigated by deputy Allen Clemmer. Most of the $3,389.56 worth of items taken were taken Wednesday and Thanksgiving nights.

On the third night several officers staked-out the house and caught Ricky Carroll, 19, and two juveniles of Lenoir City inside the house. They were charged with breaking and entering.

Deputy Voyd Carruth, who worked 24 hours with no rest on the case, said a series of tips and the stake-outs led to the arrests.

Saturday morning about 11:30 the stake-out on some of the stolen goods, stored under a business building on Kingston Street in Lenoir City led to the arrest of Gary Parris, 22, of Lenoir City. He was charged with receiving and concealing stolen property.

About 3:30 p.m. Saturday Carruth arrested Mike Gosa, 25, also of Lenoir City for receiving and concealing in the case. All three adults were placed under $3,500 bonds pending hearings later this week in General Sessions Court. The juveniles

Squires Delay Vote On Blair Bend, New Tax, Bonds Discussed

Loudon County Quarterly Court Monday night postponed action on a proposal to participate with the City of Loudon in the development of the Blair Bend Industrial Park until an adjourned meeting set for 7 p.m. Monday, Dec. 15.

The motion came from Squire J.D. Conner who said he thought more detailed information on the county's participation should be furnished, such as how much money would the county be liable for, the time element involved in funding, return schedule in event land is sold, the picture on the county bond debt and how county participation would effect the property tax rate.

Squire Jim Blair, who owns property that would be effected by the 285 acre development of the W.D. Williamson farm, said he probably would benefit more than anyone else in the county because the park would mean a highway, railway and utilities through his property, in effect making his property as valuable as the industrial park, but he opposed the project because it was not needed.

He said that the Lenoir City Industrial Park is sufficient at this time and it had not attracted any new plants. Blair called the development of the $1.2 million Blair Bend park a "horn blowing" at a time the county was saddled with taxes from projects that already had been done that were not needed.

Loudon City Manager Gary Hensley told the court that the development of the park would be a way to broaden the city and county tax base without adding additional kinds of taxes or raising the property tax rate. He pointed out that a well developed industrial park has a high record of success in attracting good industrial firms.

He said that the city could not afford the local funds to develop the park by itself. He said that the county is being asked for $200,000 with the city putting in $400,000 and the remainder with a $666,000 Appalachian Regional Commission grant, which has already been approved.

Hensley explained that the city and county share could be borrowed from the Farmers Home Administration on a five percent, 40 year loan and for the first few years the county would not have any expense except interest. By that time he said the park would be developed and the sale of land to prospects and taxes generated by industry there would more than pay the amount spent on bond retirement by the two governments.

Hensley pointed out that both the city and county must either broaden their tax base or raise the property taxes year after year just to meet its present level of services, much less build or improve schools and meet other needs.

The City Manager said that without the county participation the city could not pursue the project further and the idea of developing one of the most sought after tracts of land for industrial purposes would be lost.

School Buildings

Superintendent of Education Edward Headlee informed the court that the architects are now in process of measuring existing school buildings at Steekee, Philadelphia, old Loudon High, Easton and Highland Park. He said this was necessary because there were no existing blue prints on the buildings from which the architects could work on planning renovations.

Philadelphia is still the number one priority Headlee said but the priority may be expanded to include one or more other schools, depending on the findings of the architects.

The Superintendent promised to have the court a full report by the architect on cost estimates for the full county-wide building program by February. He explained that the school board was having the architect look at the possibility of converting the old Loudon High into a middle school if it is cheaper to do than build a new one south of Loudon.

Judge William Russell asked about the possibility of one county comprehensive high school, built on the 25 acre tract where the County Vocational School is now being built.

Headlee said he understands the vocational school was designed where an academic tract building could be attached and that the 25 acre site would be large enough to accommodate a comprehensive high school of 1700 students which is the approximate combined sizes of Loudon, Lenoir City and Greenback High Schools.

Asked if it would be possible

Bank Declares Record Dividend

The board of directors of the Bank of Loudon County declared the largest dividend in the history at their November meeting. Bank president Ed Bell announced this week.

A $2 per share dividend payable Jan. 1, was declared by the board to all stockholders of record on Dec. 1. Bell said the bank's total resources increased by more than $3 million during 1975. The earnings per share for 1975 was in excess of 36 per share, he stated.

President Bell said, "The growth in both resources and profits is contributed mainly to the many local stockholders and customers supporting their homeowned banking facility. The board of directors and staff of the bank are looking forward to supporting its customers in Loudon County and surrounding areas in their banking needs in 1976."

Iddins Heads ET Council

Bart Iddins of Loudon has been elected President of the East Tennessee Industrial Council. Iddins is the Loudon County Industrial representative working through the Loudon County Committee of 100 for Industrial Development.

The East Tennessee Industrial Council is made up of professional industrial development agents from counties and cities throughout East Tennessee reaching from Bristol to Chattanooga.

Other officers elected by the Council were Coby Reeves of Knoxville Chamber of Commerce, vice president; and Bruce Goodman of the Knoxville office of the State Industrial Development Agency as secretary-treasurer.

Scarves are an essential fall and winter accessory. Square and oblong scarves are versatile accessories that put without the full fashions. Try in different ways around the head or neck, a scarf is capable of many tricks. Experiment a bit to find just the right look for each outfit. You start by folding a scarf into a three or four-inch bandwidth. Knot below the ear with streamers gracefully trailing the shoulder. Or make a turban by folding a square scarf into a triangle. Knot the triangle point and place at front of head. Tuck under and tie scarf in the back. Tie at the front for a different turban style.

Place around the neck and tie around the neck. Turn to right side and tie corners around the neck forming a fluffy butterfly shape in front. Scarves are as varied in colors, textures and fibers as they are in their uses. Many are made of nylon and other synthetics. Some are made of cotton or blends and others of time-honored silk. Most can be machine washed with the synthetics and blends requiring little or no ironing. Brightly grained silks scarves call for quick hand washing using a gentle soaping action rather than wringing or twisting motion to work suds and rinses through the fabric. Silks should be washed in cold water to protect extra-sensitive colors and pressed with an iron set at low heat.

Economy May Force New Taxes, Mrs. O'Brien Says

A bleak overall economic picture may force legislators to consider a number of possible revenue measures which will be considered when they reconvene January 13, and try to map out a balanced budget, which provides the services Tennesseeans need, according to State Representative Anna Belle Clement O'Brien, D-Crossville, who was in Nashville three days last week attending budget hearings before the Joint House-Senate Finance, Ways and Means Committee.

Budget Committee Discusses Phone Bill

The phone bill at the Justice Center, medical bills for prisoners, charges by Barber & McMurray for work at Loudon Junior High and Greenback Schools and condition of the road leading to the solid waste transfer station were the major topics at a meeting of the Loudon County Court Budget Committee last week.

The Committee transferred $300 from surplus to the Justice Center telephone account to cover expected telephone charges for seven months. Originally $240 had been placed in the budget for telephones, but this was exhausted in five months. The bill has been running about $40 a month. This includes telephone service for the communications center, all law enforcement officers.

Civil Defense, Ambulance Service and jail.

Judge Bill Russell said the telephone bill for that type of operation was not unreasonable, but it cost more than had been estimated.

Loudon Football Players Tackle Varsity Hoop Duties

By Danny Gibson Sports Editor

It has taken the Loudon football players, turned basketball players, only a brief eight minutes to apparently win varsity positions on the Loudon basketball team, as Loudon led to an unbeaten Knoxville Young Monday night 60-51.

Loudon boys' hoop mentor Hugh Watson, welcomed his football playing basketballers to their first team practice of the fall last Friday following the Redskin players' second straight Class "AA" State Football Playoff Championship win over Treasdale County, 28-14 on Thursday. The hoop workouts continued on Saturday and Sunday afternoon with Watson awarding varsity status to seniors Rick Melton, Marion Brown, and Bumper Webster. Junior Greg Debridage and sophomores Jimmy Brown and Freddie Starritt.

Also left on the varsity are Loudon's five starting juniors that have labored for the past six weeks to earn Loudon a 2-2 season record. Sophomore Stephen Bettis, who has matured into a clutch player for the Redskins as a part-time starter and reserve in Loudon's first four games has been sent to the junior varsity for more playing time.

Then the hardworking cast of "Randy" Davis, Mark Harrell, Terry Viars, Steve Millaps, and Mark Blair took the floor Monday night against Loudon's toughest foe of the immediate season, unbeaten Knoxville Young. The talented Yellow Jackets stormed to a 21-18 edge in the first period, hitting remarkably well from all points on the court. Loudon was a cold starter and only a sizzling finish by Steve Millaps, Mark Blair, and Mark Harrell enabled the Redskins to appear to be in a position to challenge their stronger and more experienced opponent for the rest of the game. The surprise came sudden as Watson not only resumed help to start the second quarter of action but inserted a complete new lineup that found only junior Mark Harrell still active on the floor. The footballers, a little premature to the scene possibly, was unable to rough up the fluid play of the Young High unit. Meanwhile the Redskins fell behind by 10 points at halftime and later by 16 in the second half.

A hustling Mark Blair and points by Terry Viars and Mark Harrell in the last three minutes of the game carried the Redskins to within nine points by game's end, 60-51. Loudon's starting five never played as a unit following the first quarter and only starter Mark Blair who games in 18 points, grabbed six rebounds and blocked two shots in playing his best game of the season logged more than 12 minutes of action in the game by any of the initial beginners. Loudon's second half line-up turned the ball over eight times as Young took full advantage. The Yellow Jackets hit 24 of 45 shots for the night, a 53.3 percentage clip and out rebounded Loudon 27 to 22. Loudon's hot shooting guard Randy Davis missed on three with a 38-45 triumph. The loss was Midway's first of the year.

BLAIR GETS BLOCK-Loudon forward Mark Blair, (44) playing his top game of the season with 18 points and six rebounds, here also blocked two shots, goes high to reject this Knoxville Young field goal effort. Included in the play for Loudon are Bumper Webster (24) and Steve Millaps.

Loudon Cools Green Wave With Cage Sweep

The Loudon High School basketball team are rounding into excellent basketball form. The Redskin cages swept a double win from visiting Midway last Tuesday night. The Loudon girls increased their early season mark to 5-0 with a 38-45 triumph. The loss was Midway's first of the year.

Bernadette Locke hit 12 of 22 floor shots and closed the night on a pair of foul tosses to net 28 points. Kim Brant Hoover hammered in 20 points and grabbed six of offensive rebounds. Jennie Lefler made the big win a balanced effort with 12 points. Loudon jumped to a 19-8 first quarter lead on three field goals by Locke, Lefler added four points and Kim Brant Hoover rifled in two foul with 40 three field goals.

Bernadette Locke continued her bombardment in the second quarter as Loudon led 34-15 at intermission. Midway fought to play on even terms in the second half cutting a 21 point Loudon lead to 11 points, but Loudon never lost control of the game's tempo. Susan Jameson had a game high 14 rebounds in leading the

Lady Redskins Win Sixth Game 61-47

Coach Dewayne Arp's Lady Redskins pelted the hoops for decisive margins in the first and third quarters. Monday night in taming the visiting Calhoun Minix's set, 61-47. Coach Arp's veteran cast of junior sharpshooters forwards seth the season soon after the opening tip-off by hanging a 23-10 first quarter score on the wall.

Bernadette Locke flipped in four field goals, Kim Brant Hoover matched the four field goals and added a foul shot, and Jennie Lefler hit bottom on three floor attempts. Calhoun regrouped to cut the halftime difference to 33-29.

Loudon answered back in the third canto with 15 points and Renee Grizzle dominated the defensive side of the court for the Lady Redskins with a fine second half of play as Loudon whipped the Minix 35-18.

Coach Arp started pulling his starters from the game early in the fourth period and finished the game with fresh reserves on both ends of the court. The win was Loudon's sixth of the season without a setback.

Bernadette Locke and Jennie Lefler tied for top individual scoring honors with 23 points each. Both girls hit 10 times from the field and three of five foul tosses. Kim Brant Hoover rounded out the balanced "fun" and gun triple barrel offense with 13 points. Loudon overpowered their visitors in rebounding 35 to 16. But Coach Arp was not smiling about his team's 20 turnovers, even though the season is still in a young stage.

REBOUND BASKET-Loudon Lady Redskin playmaker Jennie Lefler fights for a Loudon rebound against Calhoun girls Monday night to tip the ball back through the net for 15 points. Miss Lefler had her best scoring night of the season with 23 points.

TSSAA Slate Regional Meetings

Fifteen proposals will be discussed and voted on by TSSAA member schools at three regional meetings scheduled in early December at Knoxville, Nashville and Jackson. The Knoxville meeting of all East Tennessee member schools will be Wednesday, Dec. 3, at 1 p.m. at Bearden High School. The Middle Tennessee meeting will be Saturday, Dec. 6, at the TSSAA state office building. The final meeting will be Monday night, Dec. 8, at Jackson Central-Merry High School beginning at 7:30 p.m. Several of the items to be voted on include:

- Requiring a student to have passed at least four full unit subjects instead of three to be eligible to participate in athletics.
- There shall be no spring practice in football or basketball.
- Moving the opening date of football season to one week later in the season, starting the first Friday in September instead of the last Friday in August.
- All baseball be classified in a Small and Large classification.
- That the TSSAA Board of Control set the sites for all district and regional basketball tournaments.
- That the center three in girls' basketball be limited and the ball be put in play by the team not credited with the score by a throw-in from the end of the court where the goal was made.
- That TSSAA appoint a committee to study plans for football to provide in each region (sub-region) that would insure each member school a regular season schedule of at least eight games and an option of scheduling two games outside of its class, and that private schools be placed in a separate classification when competing for a state championship in football.
- All votes of the TSSAA membership are recommended to the TSSAA Legislative Council and Board of Control.

Littleton Zips In 31 As Panthers, Chargers Split

Lenoir City's Grayling Littleton striped the nets for a career high of 31 points last Tuesday night as he and his team mates gunned down and rebounded them from a Saturday night loss to county rival Loudon. Littleton was the man of the hour, the 6-1 senior hit 11 of 13 floor shots and made nine of 13 foul chances to account for his 31 markers.

Terry Parton, running the Panther attack with 19 assists, had 14 points on a six of 11 performance. Johnny Richmond tipped in five field goals for 10 points. Pettie Littleton, cousin to Grayling, had 11 rebounds and eight points.

In the second half to farther riddle the Central defense as the Panthers won each quarter by a field goal. McMin Central hit only 31 percent of their floor shots (26 of 83) and made 21 fouls. The Panthers made just 10 team fouls but was out rebounded 46 to 37. Thus the game's point difference coming at the free throw station with Lenoir City making 19 of 27 as compared to McMin Central's four of seven.

The Lenoir City girls are still seeking a victory. The Chargerettes captured the preliminary contest 50-46, in what proved to be a case of the Central forwards out dueling the Lenoir City shooters. All three starting forwards for both teams tallied in double figures. Patty Cook led Lenoir City with 20 points while Pam Thomas had 14 and Betsy Powell 10. (Continued on page 11)

Cherokee Trio Pace Greenback Over Townsend 66-55

The Greenback Cherokees have wasted little time in evening their season basketball record at 1-1. The Cherokees crushed visiting Townsend 66-55 last Tuesday night on the run-and-gun fire power of Roddy Kizer, Steve Linginfelter, and Harold Hawkins.

Kizer drilled in 21 points on 10 of 15 floor shots, raked off 14 rebounds and was the top individual in directing the Cherokees to their first win.

Steve Linginfelter was a backboard trojan with 12 rebounds and 16 points in a sound performance at center. Harold Hawkins rounded out the Greenback double figure players with 14 points from the wing and deep corners.

Myers hit a third quarter hot streak to bring Greenback back into contention at 33-27. The Cherokees closed to 40-37 in the final period as Pam Neely whipped in four field goals on five driving lay-ups.

Townsend made 21 of 57 shots and were beaten bad on the backboards 45 to 25. The Greenback girls attempted to attack a tight Townsend zone defense with lay passing and the result ended with the Cherokees first loss, 30-43.

Pantherettes Post First Victory Topple Farragut 56-33

The Lenoir City Pantherettes have finally broken into the winning column after five winter hoop outings.

Coach Mike Pickle's Pantherettes had four forwards to register double figure shooting in blitting by Farragut 56-33.

Liles came off the bench to throw in 17 points and guide the Pantherettes to their first win of the young season.

SHORT ON ROOM—Lenoir City guard Terry Parton (21) appears to have over shot the goal in trying to uncock this lay up basket against Knoxville Farragut last Friday night at Lenoir City.

The Pantherettes trailed only by eight points at the half as Pam Thomas connected on four second quarter field goals to keep the home team close.

LILES FIRES—Lenoir City reserve forward Sharon Liles, a sophomore, goes high to flip in this jump shot over a Farragut guard. The Pantherettes broke a four game losing streak with a 56-33 decision.

Pam Thomas connected on four second quarter field goals to keep the home team close. Patty Cook's three field goals were all the Lenoir City offense in the third period and the Chargeettes went up by an uncatchable 15 points.

Sandy Thompson grabbed 11 rebounds in leading the Pantherettes to a 37-31 difference on the back boards. Kathy Fulton fouled out in the second half and Debbie Johnson played the fourth quarter with four violations.

Lenoir City raced to a 18-2 first quarter lead on the torrid shooting by Cook and Thomas. Patty scored 10 points and Sharon Liles came off the bench to score eight second quarter points and the game was played by reserves thereafter.

The Pantherettes defense was led by Sandy Thompson's five rebounds and limited the visitors to 11 field goals in the game. All six Farragut points in the last period were on foul shots.

Lenoir City hit 15 of 29 first half shots and finished with 25 of 51 tries for the night. The Lenoir City boys were victimized by a hot shooting Admiral team 69-55.

The Panthers were not able to find the right combination, fought to narrow first and second half Farragut leads of 11 points to one and five points respectively. The Knox County team then roared to a 14 point difference and Lenoir City was never able to get closer than seven points in the late stages.

The Admirals upped their lead to the final 14 point difference in the closing seconds on baskets that came off lay-ups by way of the Panther full court press and foul shots.

NEAR INTERCEPTION—Loudon linebacker Marlon Brown almost intercepts a pass as Loudon turns back a Hartsville drive to successfully defend their "AA" State Football Championship 28-14.

MELTON TURNS UP FIELD—Loudon senior running back Rick Melton has just taken a pitch-out from quarterback Greg Deatridge and heads up the field behind the block of Loudon full back Marlon Brown.

REDSKIN ON PROWL—Loudon All State running back Rick Melton races down the side line for a first down as he views the closing in of Hartsville would-be tacklers. Melton carried the ball nine times for 86 yards and closed his senior year with 1292 yards on 156 tries from scrimmage.

one yard line. A two point conversion pass was good and the score closed to 21-14. A Loudon clipping penalty had the Redskins tackled to their own 14 following the ensuing kickoff. A Loudon first down and a 28 yard punt to the Hartsville 40 set the action for the final 10:58 of the ball game. Loudon's defense perhaps playing a little scared, crashed through the ranks to force a loss of 15 yards on a poor execution of a pitchout. The Yellow Jackets followed with a pass play and sophomore defensive end Jim Brown baited the ball to the turf. Hartsville punted, but Loudon's offense was checked for only its second time in the game for making at least one first down with the football, thus a return boot followed. An eight yard pass completion and a 10 yard advance the ball to the Hartsville 46. Loudon's Jim Brown again coming up with the big play made the tackle on an end sweep and in doing so caused a fumble that he later recovered at the Yellow Jacket 43 and only 6:46 left to be played in the game. Loudon embarked on a clock killing drive that not only covered 43 yards but in nine plays had crossed the Hartsville goal line for a 28-14 lead to the 1975 Class AA State Championship. Junior field general Greg Deatridge, putting the final touches to a tremendously exciting and picture perfect team performance dashed around right end eluding tackles and getting a final block from senior flanker Bumper Webster to cut the corner of the end zone. Only 2:41 remained in the game when Hartsville made its final bid for any possible points and a miracle victory. The Loudon defense halted all movement at the Yellow Jacket 20 and when the Yellow Jackets punted with 1:16 on the clock the Loudon partisans fans headed for the sidelines to get closer to their men of the hour. THE LOUDON REDSKINS, DEFENDERS OF THEIR 1974 STATE TITLE, New 1975 AA Kings, and a record setting third state title in seven years. Behind it all "stroled" a business like pair of men in red. Head Coach Bert "Chig" Rutledge and his assistant, Jim Gibson had wrote another chapter in the school boy sports scene of Tennessee. Rutledge, fast becoming a legend in high school football, was flanked by a jubilant group of coaching aides.

Larry Bridges, Gordo Watson, and Bill Thompson. In the press box former Loudon assistant and now a friend to the Redskins, Gary Dutton, and on the field along side Rutledge, another former assistant now a head coach at a high school in Georgia, Buddy Windle, had all teamed to prepare the Redskins in their final act of the 1975 season. The coaching efforts and team play proved to be the highlights of the whole Loudon season as the Redskins gave a precession exhibition of football at its peak.

Greg Deatridge set the winning tempo with two touchdowns, a TD pass of 23 yards and 124 yards on 25 individual carries. His senior All State running backs Marlon Brown and Rick Melton closed down filtrative prep-carries with Brown going 50 yards on 13 snaps and Melton 61 on nine calls. Junior quarterback Carter Cardwell stepped in to the controls in the second half as Loudon used Deatridge some as a runner, gained 10 yards on three carries.

Top defensive standouts were Jim Brown with 12 tackles, Junior Holen in on 12 stops, Jeff Nichols had 14 defensive snafus, Steve Hill was in on 11 tackles. Deatridge seven, Melton six stops, Webster six stops, and the height of the defensive show went to Colvin and Marlon Brown with 17 tackles each for the day. A truly great reward for a fine team of high character and sportsmanship STATE CHAMPIONS 1975.

Roane Close To Getting Exxon

The probability of Roane County becoming the site of another major facility has moved another step closer. Energy Research and Development Administration has announced that it expects to begin negotiations by late January with Exxon Nuclear Co. on the use of ERDA-controlled property in Roane County for a planned nuclear fuel reprocessing and storage facility.

The move had been anticipated for some weeks and indicated to some persons close to the situation that Exxon was no longer considering any other possible sites for the proposed facility.

ERDA said that it is willing to undertake discussions to determine whether a suitable arrangement can be made with Exxon to sell approximately 160 acres near the intersection of Bear Creek and White Wing (State Route 99) Roads to Exxon for construction of the proposed Exxon facility, with appropriate limitation on uses of an adjacent buffer area. Exxon requested use of the land earlier this year. The site is near that of the Clinch River Liquid Metal Fast Breeder Reactor.

Availability of use of the land would be limited to the construction and operation by Exxon, at Exxon expense, of a facility for the chemical reprocessing and temporary storage of spent fuel elements from nuclear power plants. Reprocessing is a key step in the nuclear fuel cycle to remove for ultimate reuse, valuable fuel which was not consumed in the fission process within the core of a nuclear reactor. The reprocessing also separates waste (fission by-products) from the reusable fuel. Availability of the land and construction of the plant would be subject to Exxon obtaining and complying with all necessary licenses to construct and operate the facility, and would be subject to other such terms and conditions as may be deemed appropriate. Should an ERDA need for the land arise, ERDA would withdraw the land from Exxon use.

The land requested by Exxon is located in the western end of Oak Ridge between ERDA's Oak Ridge Gaseous Diffusion Plant and Oak Ridge National Laboratory. Since the fall of 1974, Exxon has been conducting geologic studies on the property under a special permit with ERDA and is presently conducting environmental and ecological studies. A notice of intent to negotiate a land use arrangement will be published in the Federal Register. Negotiations between ERDA and Exxon will not be initiated prior to 45 days after the date of publication of the notice. Persons wishing to express an interest in the use of this land should notify R.G. Romatowski, Assistant Administrator, Energy Research and Development Administration, Washington, D.C. 20545, in writing within 30 days of the date of publication of the notice.

Canadian Is 3 Millionth At Museum

Jack Galarneau of Canada was surprised Monday morning Dec. 1 during his family's visit to the American Museum of Atomic Energy by a shower of gifts. He and his wife and three children were given over $100 worth of gifts from Oak Ridge merchants, a key to the city, and gifts from the museum's store. Galarneau was the museum's three millionth visitor since the museum opened on March 19, 1949. With him to share in the event were his wife, Madeline, and his daughters, Theresa, 11, Louise, 9, and Kari Lynn, 6. The Galarneaus from St. Bruno of Quebec, a city near Montreal, were traveling south to Louisiana and Texas on a five-week vacation.

CAPITOL COMMENTARY BY M. LEE SMITH

A week ago Friday the state government patronage as fell again. After months of rumor and innuendo the Blanton administration finally succeeded in obtaining voluntary resignations from William Hobbs and Phillip Brooks, the top staff members of the Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

The ABC is the state agency assigned the responsibility of regulating the sale of liquor in Tennessee. Among other things, the agency issues and renews all wholesale and retail liquor licenses.

The three-member commission is the policy making body for the agency. Hobbs, Brooks and other staff members manage the agency program on a day-to-day basis.

Both Hobbs, a highly regarded former FBI agent, and Brooks, a graduate of the Vanderbilt School of Law, are exceptionally well qualified for the positions they have held. They have a thorough knowledge of state liquor laws, have been good administrators, fair minded and honest. Significantly, they have not been involved in partisan politics.

The political shenanigans began early this year after Governor Ray Blanton appointed S. J. King of Fayetteville and H. E. Henry, Jr. of Jackson and reappointed Carl

A. Jones of Johnson City to the commission. In early July King, elected chairman of the commission, called a meeting to consider "personnel problems." Specifically, King said he had "heard rumors" and indicated the commission would fire Brooks.

Jones—who served on the commission under Governors Ellington and Dunn had been instrumental in hiring both Hobbs and Brooks—adamantly opposed firing the two professionals. He is to be commended.

Henry also refusing to abide the heavy handed patronage demands of the Blanton administration, resigned from the commission.

That left only King until Blanton got, after a several month delay, the commission majority he needed by the appointment of Frank Phillips of Memphis. Phillips is a member of Blanton's Shelby County patronage committee. His cooperation is currently under indictment for an alleged federal law violation arising out of Blanton's 1972 Senate campaign.

Following Phillips' appointment, Hobbs and Brooks resigned when King made it known to Hobbs a resignation would be welcome.

For Hobbs and Brooks their resignations ended a long period of frustration. During this time rumor abounded. Morale among other commission staff members was at a low ebb. Most of the lower level staff spent large amounts of working time attempting to secure themselves in their positions.

In an effort to bring the situation to a conclusion, Hobbs made repeated phone calls to the Governor's office and to King. The calls went unanswered.

On one occasion King did not show up for a commission meeting, never bothering to advise Hobbs he would not be present. That left Jones as the only member in attendance, and necessary commission work could not be done.

At no time did King or anyone connected with the Blanton administration pay Hobbs or Brooks the courtesy of explaining the reasons why the Blanton administration wanted them to leave state government. Cam mon decency would seem to have demanded a frank personal explanation.

In the end, two good professional state officials were literally—run out of state government by the patronage hungry, ax wielding Blanton regime. The losers certainly are not Hobbs and Brooks. As able men, they will go on to other successful endeavors. Nashville Mayor Richard Fulton, recognizing talent when he sees it, has already hired Hobbs as a staff member. The losers are the state and the taxpayers. Far too many competent, non-political employees are being forced out of state service under Blanton administration policies.

Head Start Budget Ok'd

The approval of a nine-month budget of $164,734 for the Head Start program in Roane and Loudon Counties has been announced by Third Dist. Rep. Marilyn Lloyd.

The announcement said the funds were going to the Mid-East Community Action Agency, headquartered in Kingston and serving both the counties. Jack S. Smith, director, received the notification.

It was reported that the funding would provide for 40 children to participate in the program on a part-time basis and 100 on a full-time basis. The program is administered by the municipal school systems of Harriman and Lenoir City.

Zoning Revisions Studied

Suggestions for revisions to the Loudon County Zoning Ordinance were the main topics of discussion at the monthly meeting of the Loudon County Regional Planning Commission Thursday, November 20, in the Loudon County Courthouse.

The planning commission agreed that it would begin drawing revisions to the zoning resolution in January, 1976 and that the revised resolution would be forwarded to the County Court by Spring for its adoption.

Steve Campbell, staff planner with the Tennessee State Planning Office (TSPPO) in Knoxville, said that only a few changes would be made in the resolution regarding standards for development and that certain procedural requirements would be recommended for change. Campbell noted that the county's zoning resolution has been in effect for about four years. During this time, he said, the planning commission has had the opportunity to note where clarifications and minor changes are needed in the resolution in order to make it more easily understood by the public.

In other action, the planning commission heard a report by Randy McGill, Loudon County Administrative Assistant, regarding resolutions passed by the County Court concerning TASS water system improvements. The planning commission also heard reports by Building Commissioner Jack Henry and Road Engineer Tom Davis. Planning Commissioner Charles Harrison also gave a brief report concerning a recent meeting of the Land Use Advisory Committee, appointed by Judge William H. Russell and the County Court. Harrison noted that a wide range of topics were discussed at the meeting, including utility extension policies, advance land acquisition policies, school site selection, and the relationship between land use and transportation.

The planning commission's next regularly scheduled meeting is Thursday, December 11, in the County Courthouse.

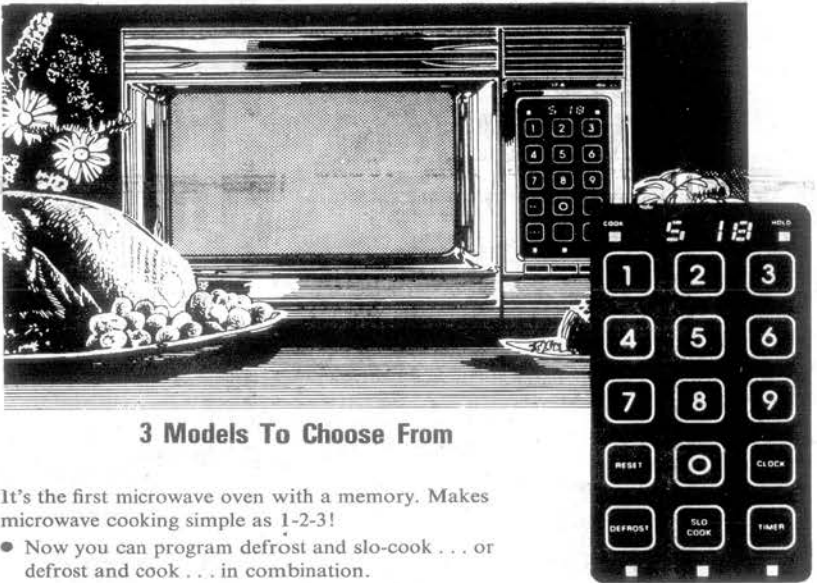

NEW COUNTY VOCATIONAL SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION BEHIND—Contractors on the new $1.2 million Loudon County vocational school report that construction is about three weeks behind on the project because of problems in receiving materials. The state built, equipped, and staffed school is to open to students from all over Loudon County next fall. It will be operated jointly by the Loudon County and Lenoir City Departments of Education. The facility is located on a 25 acre site on Harrison Road about two miles from Lenoir City High School.

1990 County Land Use Analysis Is Published

Water and sewer facilities are greatly affecting the rate and types of growth and development taking place in Loudon County, according to Steve Campbell, staff planner with the Tennessee State Planning Office (TSPPO) in Knoxville.

A detailed examination of the county's existing water and sewer facilities is provided in the 1990 Loudon County Land Use Analysis and Plan, an official report of the Loudon County Regional Planning Commission and TSPPO.

The five existing utility districts in Loudon County provide water for approximately 18,500 people and greatly affect the county's ability to accommodate growth," Campbell explained. A sixth water distribution system, the Tellico Area Service System (TASS), is currently being built to provide public water service in the Greenback area.

considerable growth specifically in the area between Lenoir City and the Knox County line. Moderately dense development has also occurred in the county south of Loudon along major county roads and has been encouraged in part by the provision of water by the Piney Utility District, Campbell said. In turn, the proposed TASS water system in Greenback and along Highway 411 is expected to have a significant impact on additional residential, industrial and commercial growth in that area, he said.

The report points out that problems do exist in Loudon County regarding the adequacy of existing water lines. Many lines are too small to provide enough water pressure for adequate fire protection. The report proposes that it will become economically feasible for the county to upgrade existing water lines to provide better fire protection only with the enforcement of land use policies and with the extension of properly-sized lines on a development-by-development basis.

The land use analysis and plan also notes that development is currently limited in areas of the county lacking public water and (or) wastewater systems. "The use of septic tanks for wastewater disposal is limited in certain areas of the county due to poor soil conditions," Campbell explained.

When asked about the use of subsurface sewage disposal units, he continued that such a means of wastewater disposal could pollute groundwater supplies. Both of these factors, poor soils and the possibility of groundwater pollution, currently limit development in selected areas of the county, he said.

Weed Seed Live As Much As 40 Years

By Charles F. McCall Extension Leader

Perhaps you've wondered many times where those weeds came from. Very few of our farmers would think that these weed seeds could lie dormant in the soil for as long as forty years.

In order that you may understand better let's look at seed dormancy. Really it's a resting stage for weed seed. Surroundings account for most of this. For example our Loudon County farmers and gardeners who plow a weed-infested field after 15-20 years may find heavy infestation of pigweed, lamb-quarters or some other broadleaf weed that hasn't grown there in that period of time it was in grass.

When the land was plowed, buried weed seeds were brought to the soil surface. In the top 1-2 inch of soil, the weed seeds are exposed to higher temperatures and variations in temperatures, greater aeration and light.

This is the reason we find weeds growing after so many years. In fact this was proven in 1979. A long time ago for many people. Weed seed that had been buried in bottles for 40 years were dug up and found to germinate.

You can help prevent this in your garden and fields by using only certified seed. This way you get clean seed and prevent weed from accumulating in the soil. Also control weeds by using herbicides and cultivation in row crops. Timely mowing of turn rows and pastures is also a very important step.

Added Schooling Boosts Earnings Of Residents

From a dollars and cents standpoint, does added education pay off for Loudon County residents?

Can local people who complete their high school or college education expect to make more money during their lifetime than those who do not?

The commonly held assumption that more schooling produces big economic advantages has been challenged in a research study just completed at Harvard University.

It finds that the job market for college graduates has gone "from a major boom to a major bust" in recent years.

Also it contends, "because of the failure of the economy to expand sufficiently to provide high-paying jobs for the growing number of university graduates, the return on the college investment has fallen significantly." The authors are Dr. Richard Freeman and J. Herbert Harter.

Other studies, however, while not denying that the job prospects remain uncertain, maintain that a college education continues to be very worthwhile financially.

On the basis of national findings, compiled by the Department of Commerce, it appears that the average Loudon County man with four years of college education is paid 58 percent more during his working career than his high school graduate.

By the same token, local men who have graduated from high school have lifetime earnings prospects that are 39 percent greater than those of elementary school graduates.

Since the figures are averages they do not reflect the fact that some people with limited education make more than some college graduates do.

In Loudon County, the latest figures show, the median years of education being acquired is 9.1, as compared with the median in 1960 of 8.3.

Of the local population over age 25, 37 percent are high school graduates and another 3.7 percent, college graduates.

Denying that a college education has declined in economic value, Allan W. Ostar of the American Association of State Colleges refers to a Carnegie Commission study which found that college graduates earn more, have steadier employment, better fringe benefits and are more likely to be satisfied with the work they are doing.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor
A MESSAGE FOR AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK

This week thousands of proclamations throughout the nation will be signed by millions of parents and other taxpayers will visit their schools, and even more will read the news by media publicity as educators and other supporters of public education endeavor to publicize what has traditionally been the biggest public relations event of the school year. This is American Education Week.

A surface inspection of schools, or of the casual acknowledgment that public education is a great thing, serves its purpose as an annual observance. But sad as it may be, many see this type of superficial inspection of education, seriously short of what is needed. Tennessee teachers would be the first to agree. They are attempting to tell you that all is not well.

Many dedicated teachers, professional people who realize that our future is in our schools and who know that there is no alternative to public education, are deeply concerned, almost to the state of alarm. Their feelings have been described in the press recently in a variety of ways—as anger, unrest, disappointment, militancy, and just plain uncertainty and frustrations. I think is more descriptive.

Why is morale among teachers so low? Don't they know things will be better when the economy improves? Well, teachers are reasonable people. But they're not in a diligent people. They know it will take more than economic prosperity to offer much hope to their problems and needs. Some educators are even beginning to feel that their even temper, good nature, submissiveness, and their acceptance of whatever local fiscal and policy-making bodies—and the state legislature—are willing to provide have proved to be more of a liability than an asset. Unfortunately as it may be, teachers know this status cannot change. They have no choice. The only other alternative is to continue accepting inadequacies or to be passed over altogether. I am also reminded that there are other acts of concern—some valid, some not. Teachers are willing to accept and can appreciate valid criticism and to listen to other points of view. But they don't expect to be ignored.

In addition to economic problems, teachers are frustrated because they are called on to solve problems nobody else knows how to tackle, and then severely criticized if they come up short. Not only are they expected to make up for deficiencies of parents and society in general, there is a tendency to blame the schools for all social ills in the first place.

The most in the cry for a return to the basics is staggering. While there have been demands and support for expansion of educational services in recent years, vocational education, kindergarten, education of a handicapped building construction and various social services have been given evidence of the support needed to improve the basic instructional program. The state provides slightly over one penny per day per student for instructional materials and supplies—not a single increase in the past 13 years.

With paper and other publication costs almost doubling in the past two years, the allotment for textbooks has remained the same. Many schools are short of enough textbooks to go around, and in some classrooms the only supplies available are those the teacher has purchased with his or her own money. In spite of reductions in minimum class size set by the legislature, class size has not

In addition to economic problems, teachers are frustrated because they are called on to solve problems nobody else knows how to tackle, and then severely criticized if they come up short. Not only are they expected to make up for deficiencies of parents and society in general, there is a tendency to blame the schools for all social ills in the first place.

The most in the cry for a return to the basics is staggering. While there have been demands and support for expansion of educational services in recent years, vocational education, kindergarten, education of a handicapped building construction and various social services have been given evidence of the support needed to improve the basic instructional program. The state provides slightly over one penny per day per student for instructional materials and supplies—not a single increase in the past 13 years.

With paper and other publication costs almost doubling in the past two years, the allotment for textbooks has remained the same. Many schools are short of enough textbooks to go around, and in some classrooms the only supplies available are those the teacher has purchased with his or her own money. In spite of reductions in minimum class size set by the legislature, class size has not been reduced significantly, and most school systems this year are expected to request waivers from the State Board of Education for over-sized classes. At the top of this, the legislature passed a state reading program last year before it was given an opportunity to prove its effectiveness.

The public should know that schools are not most accountable for the lack of academic progress by students. Parents and the environment—the value placed on education by parents, availability of books at home, even a child's diet—is an important factor that influences learning. A child comes from a home where there is unlimited television for example, and no time for reading for entertainment will always score low on reading tests. And today's students, most experienced teachers will tell you, because of a combination of family and other social changes, are more difficult to motivate and manage than they were say 10 years ago.

The multimillion-dollar testing industry, especially college entrance exams, is a sensitive issue with most educators right now. Schools have taken a beating recently because averages on college entrance exams have reportedly dropped. Some would have you believe that the total success or failure of public education could be based on this measurement. Your objective is simply to increase the average, that's no task at all. Just return to the old practice of admitting the best to the top students, those who definitely plan to attend college. Stop giving the title to those who pull the average down.

The myth held by some that teachers have short working days and long vacations with pay is constant source of frustration. The fact is that teachers spend up to seven hours daily at a school—many with no duty free time, even for lunches, with another two to three hours of planning and clerical duties at home or with extracurricular activities. Teachers are generally paid for 10 months, followed by two months of unemployment—without compensation. Not only is it difficult to make it during the summer months, without pay, teachers are periodically required to return to school of their own expense to update their certificate, which is their license to teach. A summer in graduate school can cost 10 percent of a teacher's annual take-home pay.

Most who have chosen teaching as a profession are in it because of their desire to serve, not for its monetary rewards. However, most teachers are also breadwinners. They have families to feed, clothe, shelter, and educate too. And the fact is that the average teacher's salary in Tennessee is $4,000 below what the federal government considers necessary for a moderate standard of living for a family of four. This year's increase was a disappointment; they are not willing to accept for a second consecutive year.

Teachers will continue doing their best with what they have, but instead of being the victims of social, economic, and political forces, they are becoming a force of their own Tennessee teachers are united in their determination to have a greater voice in directing public education and their own welfare. School boards, city councils, county courts, and the state legislature can look for informed and determined efforts on their part to advance the cause of education in 1976.

Tennessee will be better because of it.

Why is morale among teachers so low? Don't they know things will be better when the economy improves? Well, teachers are reasonable people. But they're not in a diligent people. They know it will take more than economic prosperity to offer much hope to their problems and needs. Some educators are even beginning to feel that their even temper, good nature, submissiveness, and their acceptance of whatever local fiscal and policy-making bodies—and the state legislature—are willing to provide have proved to be more of a liability than an asset. Unfortunately as it may be, teachers know this status cannot change. They have no choice. The only other alternative is to continue accepting inadequacies or to be passed over altogether. I am also reminded that there are other acts of concern—some valid, some not. Teachers are willing to accept and can appreciate valid criticism and to listen to other points of view. But they don't expect to be ignored.

In addition to economic problems, teachers are frustrated because they are called on to solve problems nobody else knows how to tackle, and then severely criticized if they come up short. Not only are they expected to make up for deficiencies of parents and society in general, there is a tendency to blame the schools for all social ills in the first place.

The most in the cry for a return to the basics is staggering. While there have been demands and support for expansion of educational services in recent years, vocational education, kindergarten, education of a handicapped building construction and various social services have been given evidence of the support needed to improve the basic instructional program. The state provides slightly over one penny per day per student for instructional materials and supplies—not a single increase in the past 13 years.

With paper and other publication costs almost doubling in the past two years, the allotment for textbooks has remained the same. Many schools are short of enough textbooks to go around, and in some classrooms the only supplies available are those the teacher has purchased with his or her own money. In spite of reductions in minimum class size set by the legislature, class size has not

SOME OF LOUDON'S BLACK HISTORY

By Swannye Mae Wilson

Business and Employment
While no local black business subscribers are among the listings in the Yellow Pages today, in the late 1800's and early 1900's blacks had a place in the business community of Loudon.

black cobbler and operated a shop for many years near the present location of Duncan's Department Store. Perry Reynolds owned and operated a barber shop at the store site and lived in the house next door which Dr. Will Harrison, Dr. Arthur Harrison and Dr. Sam Harrison later used as an office. The shop had two barber chairs and two of Mr. Reynolds' sons assisted their father.

Church and an uncle of William S. Wilson of Loudon, who conducted the final service for the black people of the town regardless of their church affiliation. Henry Jackson McGuire was another builder during those years and the Big Bethel AME Zion Methodist Church stands today as one of the examples of his craftsmanship.

After Mr. Reynolds' death, Charles Young, who came to Loudon from Virginia in 1880, opened a barber shop just up the street from the Reynolds location and Tom Young later joined his father in the business. This one room frame building with the traditional barrel-roof outside the entrance was located on property owned by the Talarfero family and faced Grove Street.

Bass Cleveland ran a grocery store at the corner of Perry and Grove and was aided by a carpenter by trade. Many Loudon were built by him, of which are the Garner - Aley home and the H. M. Gray residence. He rendered another important and necessary service to the community as a coffin maker and worked out of the direction of Mr. Robert Johnston who was the undertaker at that time. This was long before the day of the funeral home with made-up caskets on display - their facilities consisted of a small coffin shop on what is now Gay Street containing seasoned lumber and a work area. Coffins of pine or poplar were built only when there was a death and were made according to the measurements of the deceased. The final touches were left to Mr. Johnston and William Henley, another highly respected black of that period. Generally the coffin was finished on the inside in a dark stain made from a mixture of stove polish and coal oil, however for a more elaborate funeral it was covered in a black or grey fabric and studded in brass. Before the coffin was placed in a droy wagon or hack, covered with a black canvas sheet and taken to the home where death occurred it was padded with cotton bats and lined with muslin, black linings for men and white for women and children. And it was Rev. Mangum Slier, many years the pastor of Mt. Olive Baptist Church and an uncle of William S. Wilson of Loudon, who conducted the final service for the black people of the town regardless of their church affiliation.

Mr. W. C. Duff's Livery Stable, located at the back of the building on Grove Street which for years housed Loudon Motor Company, employed blacks whose duties included care of the horses and carriages that went out from the stable either on a rental basis or to meet the boats when they arrived at the wharf and all incoming trains.

Several blacks also found employment near the depot at the Osborne House, the Greer House and the Sumner Hotel. The Greer House was a private home and only served meals to the public but the Osborne House provided lodging as well. Meal time was always a busy time at all three places and Monday and Wednesday were two of the busiest days of the week for it meant the arrival of drummers, salesmen were called then, with their trunks of sample merchandise, which were checked at either the Osborne House or the hotel and later carried out to the local merchants. Ruth McGuire, her children and grandchildren were largely in charge of the operation of Osborne House. Some had cooking duties while others served the food, cleaned, and cared for the linens. The smaller children supplemented the family income as boot blacks and could always be found at the depot when the trains came in. Hugh and Will Blair, dressed in dark trousers and white coats, were on hand to greet guests at the Sumner Hotel and it was Mary Dobson and Katherine Johnson, who contributed much to the hotel's reputation for good food.

With the passing of time these job opportunities have also passed but they remain today a part of the black history of the town.

MAREMONT THANKSGIVING FEAST - The two photos above show a portion of the hundreds of Maremont employees having their annual Thanksgiving dinner at the plant last Wednesday. While they eat entertainment is provided by Link Shabert and his band. The event was held this year in the Genesco plant which was recently acquired by Maremont for a new manufacturing facility.

The reason for all this, we have a picture of a group of young men of a few years back. I am sure many of you will recognize them or will know some of their relatives. I guess these boys grew up in Loudon or this area. I know some of the men and know relatives of the others.

We couldn't identify one of the men but the others are Creed Thomas, Joe Jenkins, John Jenkins and Richard Delapp. We don't know where or how long ago this old picture was made, but likely it is 50 years old at least. The picture was loaned to us by Mrs. Curtis Scarbrough of High Point, N.C. and brought to us by Don Roberts. Don also loaned us our other picture this week and we are grateful to these kind folks.

The other picture is of Mr. Joe Preston. For many years

Mr. Preston ran a produce wagon in Loudon. Most of the boys my age will recall hitching a ride on the coupling pole of Mr. Preston's wagon. Mr. Preston, who is now deceased, was a well liked Christian gentleman, who was greatly respected.

The other day Jess Early called and asked me what name the Loudon High School football team went by before they were called the Loudon High Redskins. The name he was talking about was the name used in the middle. First they were called one name, then another and later the Redskins. We have this somewhere in our backlog of material, but we can't seem to locate it. What we would like to know is the name and what years they used the name. Help us if you can.

At one time, Danny Gibson, sports editor of the Herald and I talked about the possibility of a team history. Well, maybe one of these days we will do it. I have all the background material for this that I have collected over a period of several years. One of my best sources of information was the late R. M. Gray, who possibly had the greatest knowledge of early football in Loudon than anyone. He and myself spent quite a few hours talking about this and it is very interesting. Early football in Loudon was a far cry from what it is today.

Our picture a couple of weeks ago, the children with all the prizes around them, was identified for us. It was a Five to Five Store give-away back in the 40's. Some of the children were Joyce Willett, Jim Mike Watkins, Wanda Purdy, Jimmie Shubert, Linda Smith and others who could not be identified.

Carruth stated that the stolen merchandise was recovered, except for some stereo tapes and an eight piece set of flatware. The merchandise was found under the Lenoir City store, Direct Fabric, from a house trailer on Ashe Avenue where Goss reportedly lived, from the Parris residence on Magnolia Avenue, from a car in front of the Parris residence, and from a house on B Street in Lenoir City.

Mr. Pendleton, who returned from Miami to identify the stolen goods said that two Citizens Band Radios, an AM-FM Stereo Receiver, five speakers, two record changers, six to seven cases of 34 each stereotapes, a Franklin Mint seal, several quarts of wine, W. Rogers, Silver plate serving dish, 72 piece set of sterling silver, four piece hostess set of silver, one tea case of gold color flatware, one set of 24 gold flatware, red lined set of plates and Edwards silver plate flatware, service for eight, several extra pieces, other silver pieces, a quantity of collector dinner plates, glassware, chinaware and three dozen china glasses.

Those involved in the investigation, stake outs and arrests were Carruth, Clemmer, deputy Larry Propps, Sgt. Kuznetsov, Juvenile Officer Sims, Deputy Vaughn Loveday, Lenoir City police chief, Clifton Williams and Lenoir City officer Raymond Littleton.

No Power Hikes—TVA

The TVA Board of Directors completed its quarterly power financial review last week and, as expected, determined that there will be no new rate adjustment for the coming quarter. Billing charges will continue to vary upward or downward each month under the existing formula reflecting changes in fuel and purchased power expense, as provided in a rate adjustment adopted a year ago and still in effect. Charges for electricity will be unchanged otherwise.

LANDMARK COMING DOWN—For nearly three quarters of a century the Watkins Building on Wharf Street has housed either a grocery-generals store or doctor office. The building was purchased by the Hamilton Bank about six years ago. Recently Dr. J. R. Watkins moved his offices across the street and the bank has started tearing the old building down. The space will be used for a banking remote drive in window and parking lot.

Squires Delay Vote On Blair Bend, New Tax, Bonds Discussed

(Continued from page 1) to consolidate the Lenoir City High School into the county system, with the city to maintain its lower level grades in a city system. Headlee answered that this has been done several places across the state including in Monroe County. There the county tax accepted Sweetwater High School from the city, but the city maintains its R-1 schools.

Headlee said that neither the county or Lenoir City boards has discussed that idea, but it was something to think of. It would be possible, Headlee said, that the two high schools now in Loudon and Lenoir City could be reorganized into a single school system, eliminating the need for the two now proposed by the county.

Legislation Discussed—The possible enactment of two private acts to help raise money to finance the school building program was discussed along with what various bond issues would do to the tax rate with and without the new sources of revenue.

After hearing a report from Squire R.P. Hamilton, Chairman of the Legislative Committee on the proposed additional one quarter cent sales tax and a Wheel Tax, the court asked to study the proposals. The proposed realty transfer tax was dropped by the committee after it was learned a court decision in November had ruled it unconstitutional. Judge Russell said that a bill regarding the election of school board by popular vote was still being drafted but would be presented at the court member had requested.

County Central Accounting Director June Castwood outlined what bond issues of $1, $2, and $3 million would cost the county based on seven percent interest for 20 years. On the tax rate at $1 million would be an additional 24 cents, $2 million 47 cents, and $3 million 71 cents.

She said with the additional taxes this amount could be reduced or done away with all together depending on the revenues created by the tax the bond issue.

Using a $3 million bond issue she gave these figures: The 1/2 cent additional tax rate would generate $30,000 in new revenue for schools, a Wheel Tax of 10 per car on an estimated 15,000 vehicles in the county would produce $150,000. Add to this $85,170 in new property tax money, which would be 21 cents on the tax rate. All these combined would bring in $283,170 which would support a $1 million bond issue. If the Wheel Tax was set at $15 per car some $225,000 would be gained, and the additional property tax hike would not be needed.

Judge William Russell said that the county bond agents said it would not be wise for the county to sell more than $3 million in bonds, because with the present bond debt of $2.9 million the bond rating of the county would be lowered. He asked that the School Board take this in consideration when proposing their building program.

With court approval County Judge William Russell appointed new Purchasing and Budget Committees within the court. Judge Russell almost completely changed the make up of the two committees.

The new Purchasing Committee is composed of Squire R.P. Hamilton, appointed as the Judge's representative, Squires Roy Helms, I.D. Conner, Curtis Williams and Boyd Duckworth. The Budget Committee is composed of Squire Russell as Chairman, Squires Jim Blair, J.G. Hudson, Terry Vann, and Jim Hartcock.

Vann was also appointed by Judge Russell to membership on the Sanitation and Legislative Committees.

An attempt by Squire Jim Hartcock to have space in the Bacon Building leased to Calvin Atchley of Atchley Pharmacy in Lenoir City for a prescription shop was blocked by Judge William Russell who recommended it be referred to the Purchasing Committee as required by law.

Re zoning Approved—The rezoning of a parcel of land on U.S. 11 near the Justice Center from rural residential to general commercial was approved by the court. The land is owned by David Moats.

Building Inspector County Building Commissioner Jack Henry reported that in November he issued 34 new permits, 17 for homes, 11 home additions, four mobile home one commercial addition, and one commercial sign. The permit fees totaled $1,199 and the additional property value by the buildings and additions would amount to $425,550.

Bedkins Honored—The Tennessee AA Football (Champions), the Loudon Redskins were presented at the beginning of the meeting and were honored by a resolution from the court. Squire Boyd Duckworth read the resolution which applauded the efforts of the Redskins, their coaches and fans. It commented on the three-plate crowns won by the school in seven years and the fact that it repeated its 1974 championship. The resolution said the Redskins had brought valuable recognition to its football program, school and county. After the resolution was read the team received a standing ovation.

Judge Ponders Decision . . .

Sunshine Law Figures In Brown Appeal

Circuit Judge Willard Kittrell spent two hours of testimony Friday in the case of former Deputy Kenneth Brown's challenge of the Loudon County Merit System Board's decision to uphold the action of Sheriff Guy Russell in firing him. The judge has taken the case under advisement and said as soon as possible he will report his decision.

Brown's attorney Mitchell Cramer of Knoxville challenged the case seeking reimbursement and back pay on the grounds that there was no proof that Brown converted money due to patients to the Veterans' Hospital in Murfreesboro to his own use and that the board's decision, given by telephone was a breach of the State Sunshine Law.

The action upholding Brown's dismissal came on five days after a hearing before the Merit Board composed of Chairman Fred Williams, Jim Blair and R. P. Hamilton. In a similar action a couple of months ago in which where Brown was suspended the board found in his favor and ordered Sheriff to put him back to work.

The charges against Brown in the hearing early this year were when he was a deputy under former Sheriff Freeman Russell and when he was a deputy under Sheriff Sprout.

There was some increase in 1974 which peaked out in 1975 due to a new physician who came and left the county in the same year. It has declined since 1972 steadily. The rate of decline has been steady from 72 to 74.

A chart showed that in 1974, with the introduction of three new medical staff members, this halted the declining rate of census, but it did not alter the direction.

Another graph showed the admission of the six practicing physicians and it indicated in the average of six months of January to June 1975 that each of the staff members number of admissions had declined about 25 percent, but the total admissions to the hospital were about the same due to the activity of the three new medical staff members.

White Store Owner, McDonald Dies

F. Dwight McDonald, 68, president of White Stores, Inc., and a Knoxville civic leader died Sunday night in the emergency room at Park West Hospital shortly after he became ill at his home. The cause of death was listed at 11:45 p.m. Sunday.

McDonald headed the vast White Store chain which consists of 39 grocery and 17 White Variety Stores in the East Tennessee area. The White Stores in Loudon and Loudon City along with the White Store in Knoxville were closed at noon Tuesday for the funeral of Mr. McDonald.

Mr. McDonald took over the store in 1963, when his father, Frank A. McDonald, died, one of the largest grocery chains of locally owned stores in East Tennessee was started in 1922 when the elder McDonald bought the L.O. Rogers chain of stores.

Other survivors include his wife, a brother, Roy, McDonald of Chattanooga; three other daughters, Mrs. Carolyn McMillan and Mrs. Thomas Overton, both of Knoxville, and Mrs. Barbara Ladd of Cincinnati.

Survivors also include Mrs. Thomas Rainey, Boca Raton, Fla.; Miss Kitty McDonald, and Mrs. Frank McGowan, both of Chattanooga; and 14 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 10 a.m. at the First Presbyterian Church.

He said he was paid in cash one time when using his personal car, but was never paid in cash when in a county cruiser and has no idea if payment was ever received for the trips or what happened to the money.

Deputy Lucian Kent recalled one trip he made where he signed the voucher, but did not receive payment, but he said he was paid in cash one time when using his personal car, but was never paid in cash when in a county cruiser and has no idea if payment was ever received for the trips or what happened to the money.

"I wouldn't be sheriff in Loudon County or anywhere else for five minutes without the right to terminate persons I was legally responsible for," Circuit Judge Willard Kittrell said following a hearing in his court Friday where former Deputy Kenneth Brown was challenging his dismissal by Sheriff Guy Russell and the actions of upholding the Sheriff's actions by the Loudon County Merit System Board.

After ordering the court reporter to close the record on the case and making the laws of the state where the sheriff is responsible for the actions of his deputies and that deputies are bonded to that sheriff, the Judge made his remarks.

He said, "It is difficult for me to understand how a sheriff of this county could take the responsibilities of the actions of his deputies and not have the right to hire and fire, which is what the merit system in this county does."

"My response here has nothing to do with the lawsuit we just heard, but the people should be concerned about this," the judge concluded.

Following the adjournment of the court several attorneys were discussing the remarks including those on both sides of the Brown case. Both sides agreed that if the Merit System were tested in the courts it most likely would be found unconstitutional.

NEW SIGNALS ERECTED—After almost 15 years of efforts by the City of Loudon and Loudon County, a new train actuated bell and light signals have been erected at the intersection of the Highway Avenue Crossing of the Southern Railway tracks. Railway employees installed the signals that were paid for by a state-federal safety grant of some $50,000. The signals have been in the past five years during which time two persons were killed in train-automobile accidents at the crossing. The crossing signals went into operation Sunday.

called him and the decision was unanimous to deny Brown's appeal.

Asked how the decision was made and announced in public, Williams said, "No sir."

Cramer then asked if Squire Hamilton left before the meeting was over. Hamilton "no sir."

Attorney Sprout at this point attempted to enter a motion to dismiss the procedural pleas by Brown, but this was denied, and Squire Blair, but this was not brought out in the hearing Friday, and thought to be a critical part of Brown's appeal.

Brown's attorney said that the stated Open Meeting (Sunshine) Law says that no decisions or discussions in determining an issue may be held in secret or announced in secret or by using electronic means such as the telephone.

Williams said he notified Cramer that he would call back later. He said that the men did not discuss their individual rulings, but each represented the Merit Board, Chairman Williams, said that soon after Brown's dismissal he called and told Williams he was a hearing as soon as possible and would call Brown after learning of a Merit Board meeting asked to have the case heard on Feb. 4.

Williams told the court that at the hearing it was Brown's testimony that when he collected money for the VA trips he turned it in to the sheriff.

Attorney Cramer asked how the Board voted on the issue. Williams said after the hearing it was decided to let each board member think about the decision and in a few days Hamilton called and gave him his decision. He stated that Blair wanted a few days and said he would call back later. He said that the men did not discuss their individual rulings, but each

Declining Hospital Use Discussed By Committee

At the first meeting of the new Institutional Planning Committee of the Loudon County Memorial Hospital the committee looked at the problems of declining use of the hospital, why it has happened and what can be done about it.

The committee met with Hospital Administrator Gay Hamilton last Tuesday afternoon. Dr. Walter Shear, Paul Zerbe and Harvey Goodman of the UT Area Health Education Center, Rose Keener of the Health Services Agency, Ted Wampler of Wampler Wholesale Meats, Purchasing Agent Buddy Jenkins, Judge William Russell, County Administrative Assistant Randy McGill, J. W. Wilburn III president of the Loudon County Health Council and Bill Hildreth president of the Hamilton Bank of Loudon City.

Great showing of the problems were exhibited. One showed the census of the hospital from 1963 to 1975 and it was noted that in 1966 there was an increasing rate of occupancy, but it declined in 1969. From that point it dropped dramatically in many years and is now at 40 percent in volume.

Increase in hospital census beginning in 1966 was attributed to Medicare and the controversy regarding location of the new hospital. A referendum on the issue held in 1967 resulted in a new hospital to be built in Loudon settled the issue, but apparently many people were unhappy with the decision and the effect was a drop in business at the hospital, she noted.

There was some increase in 1974 which peaked out in 1975 due to a new physician who came and left the county in the same year. It has declined since 1972 steadily. The rate of decline has been steady from 72 to 74.

A chart showed that in 1974, with the introduction of three new medical staff members, this halted the declining rate of census, but it did not alter the direction.

Another graph showed the admission of the six practicing physicians and it indicated in the average of six months of January to June 1975 that each of the staff members number of admissions had declined about 25 percent, but the total admissions to the hospital were about the same due to the activity of the three new medical staff members.

It was emphasized at the meeting that the community needs to be involved in the direction the health care system takes, and they need to have input into the kind of facility and the kind of services being offered. It also indicated that that was one of the reasons for this committee and its involvement in the definition of the current problems and in seeking ways to solve them and to meet the challenge of a health care system for the people of the county.

There was also a graphic illustration of what a health care system is composed of and its involvement in a hospital component and a medical staff component. It was indicated that this community had addressed

Parris Loses Part Of Finger

John Parris, owner of John Parris Motors in Loudon City and Captain of the Loudon County Emergency Rescue Squad, lost a portion of the index finger on his right hand Saturday in an accident at his used car sales lot.

It was reported that Parris got his fingers caught in a car fan belt pulley. The nail joint of the index finger was cut off in the accident and the other three fingers on the hand were injured when they were caught in the pulley.

Parris was taken to Port Sanders Hospital where he underwent surgery Saturday afternoon.

Mile Of Dimes Deadline Set

The Loudon Mile of Dimes, a United Fund Agency that distributes food baskets to needy persons at Christmas, is now receiving names of persons in need of the service. Chairman Jack Lefler said this week.

The final list of persons to receive the Mile of Dimes Food Baskets will be compiled at a meeting Sunday, Dec. 14. Persons having names that should be screened are asked to call Lefler, J. E. Greenway, Charlie Davis, Joe Hitey, F. L. McClunkin, Clarence Morris, Roy Frenley, Curtis Murr or the pastor of any Loudon area church.

The food baskets are always accompanied with toys for youngsters provided by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 5150 Toys For Tots program.

The baskets will be delivered to the families selected on Christmas Eve.

Two Face Pot Charge

Two Loudon High School students were cited to Juvenile Court Monday after being caught smoking marijuana behind a concession stand at the Loudon City Park next to the school.

Juvenile Officer Joe Sims said the two were apprehended by City of Loudon Police and a small quantity of marijuana was found in their possession. A hearing before Judge Tom Ingram was scheduled for later in the week Sims said.

Blair Bend Vote Is Monday

The acquisition and development of the 265 acre Blair Bend Industrial Park is the best and most logical route for Loudon County to take in trying to broaden its tax base, attract new industry and get new jobs all at the same time.

Monday night at the county court, in special session, will decide whether or not to participate with the city of Loudon in the purchase and development of the W. D. Williamson farm into a $1.2 million industrial park complex.

There is already a promise of $668,000 in grants for the project. The city proposes to put $400,000 into the project and is asking the county for $300,000. This money is needed for rights of way, is lighting it. He says not for personal reasons, but because the county does not need the industrial park. We feel he is probably involved in a conflict of interest in voting on the measure, but that is not the important issue.

The issue is that Loudon County does need a park such as Blair Bend. There are those in Loudon City, we are told, who fear the Loudon Park and the one now under construction in Loudon City will be in competition.

This is correct to a point. The parks have separate characteristics and do not necessarily lend themselves to the same types of industry. The Loudon park would also be almost twice as large. There is no reason both would not be highly successful.

There is not a single industrial park that is fully developed in the state that is not filling up. In several years ago Roane County built an industrial park. It is now almost full and a second is under construction. One at Maryville is full. Another is planned. Industrial promoters in the county made plans to take the court on one of the facilities in Blount and Roane to show them what a fully developed industrial park would do. But the squares were not interested and twice the trip had to be cancelled.

An industrial park has undisputed long term benefits. But one good sized plant will pay more in taxes and tax producing benefits to the county in one year, than a Wheel Tax, new sales taxes, and other ideas would in ten years.

The Industrial Park proposal has a chance of approval, but only if the squares will use independent thinking, keeping the county in mind, not selfish interest of some one individual, or petty district jealousy out of the issue. Keep these out and vote would be 9-0 in favor. Any vote against the project will be for one of the reasons mentioned before.

Despite what one person has said, this is the first time it has been possible to obtain and develop the area into an industrial park. Before firms have been interested in parts of the property, but there was no way at that time the city or county could have the means to purchase and develop the property. Now for the first time there is a chance using grant funds, city and county funds for a cooperative effort to develop an industrial park that would be the envy of the entire southeast.

As colder weather approaches, crickets may start invading your home. In addition to their annoying chirping, crickets can damage many fabrics, and get into food products.

House crickets are the type of cricket which cause the real damage in your home. These crickets are a light yellowish-brown in color and 1/2 inch in length. Preferring warm, dark places in buildings, the house cricket will hide in cracks and under structures until early evening when they begin their activity. It is also possible for them to crawl up buildings and around the walls of tall structures. So even third or fourth floor apartments are not immune to invasion.

Homeowners need to remember that house crickets set up permanent housekeeping and will reproduce in numbers equaling cockroaches. Every effort should be made to eliminate house crickets quickly.

Another type of cricket that can enter your home is the field cricket. Although field crickets prefer to live outdoors they will invade your home when outdoor populations are high and the food supply dwindles. The field cricket is black or dark-brown in color and about one inch long.

In rare occasions two other types of crickets—the camel cricket and the mole cricket—might also be found in your home. These crickets prefer cool, damp and dark areas such as basements, cellars and rarely-used freplaces.

There are methods of controlling the troublesome insects in your home. Obviously, with the house and field crickets, the removal of trash and long vegetative growth will discourage crickets from entering your home. If your doors and windows are poorly screened and loose-fitting, crickets can very easily enter the house.

A homeowner should take special care to repair loose screens and seal door thresholds. However, if the cricket population is extensive, the use of residual spray or dusts and baits to control the insects.

Area Legislators Need Your Opinion

EDITOR'S NOTE: Again this year this newspaper is publishing a questionnaire for the Loudon County legislators so they may have a better idea of the feelings of area residents on various issues. Readers are asked to fill in the blanks and mail the questionnaire to one of the three addresses below. The replies will be tabulated to give some trends on local thinking which will better inform the legislators when they are considering legislation in the general assembly next month. The legislators reported that last year's questionnaire was very helpful in considering some of the legislation proposed in the Tennessee General Assembly. Readers may sign their name or omit it as they choose. The questionnaire is published recently in the Maryville-Alcoa Daily Times, which shares representatives with much of Loudon County.

CAPITOL COMMENTARY BY M. LEE SMITH

©1975 M. Lee Smith & Associates

If he were to run, East Tennessee banker Jake Butcher almost certainly would win next year's Democratic Senate nomination and be favored to defeat incumbent Senator Bill Brock.

But Butcher has made it clear he will not be a candidate next year. Instead he frankly says, "I want to run again for governor and serve one term. I have no political ambitions beyond that."

Butcher made his first statewide race last year in the crowded 12-man Democratic primary for governor. He finished a close second to Governor Ray Blanton and emerged with a bright political future.

Butcher's campaign was characterized by the same traits evident in his business dealings — salesmanship, savvy, guts and a willingness to spend enormous amounts of money.

Whether Butcher three years from now achieves his goal of winning the governorship will depend to a large extent on the continued success of the banking and other business operations which he and his brother C. H. Butcher, Jr., have rapidly pyramided in the last several years.

In the early 1960's the Butcher brothers and their father owned the Union County Bank, an Armoore oil jobber, and perhaps a few lesser interests. Jake and C. H. made their first major business expansion in 1968 when, with Harry Vestal, they purchased the First National Bank of Lake City.

It was a shrewd move, enabling the Butchers under the state's countywide branching law to establish a bank in prosperous Oak Ridge. The City and County Bank name was established, and the C & C Banking Group rapidly acquired a total of eleven banks in Tennessee and Kentucky. Altogether there are about twenty people in the C & C group with strong mutual loyalty among them.

Along with banking interests, the C & C group also owns insurance businesses, oil distributors, real estate and development corporations, a small business investment company, and numerous other business enterprises.

Various combinations of the C & C group serve as owners, directors and officers of the C & C banks and other business endeavors. The entire operation is a complicated mass of associations and business relationships dominated by the Butchers. Earlier this year Jake Butcher made by far his most daring business move when he purchased control of the Hamilton National Bank of Knoxville. The Hamilton is East Tennessee's largest bank, larger than all C & C banks combined.

The results of Butcher's management of the Hamilton have thus far been nothing but good. The bank's third quarter statement reflects increases in assets, deposits, net income and dividends.

Despite success to date, two major reservations exist in the Tennessee financial community concerning the Butcher operation. The first involves a number of business practices which some feel are questionable.

itself to the hospital component by building the new plant and that it was as good or better than any so bed plant in the area. It was also indicated that the attention needs to be focused to the medical staff component of the system. There are presently only general practitioners on the staff. There is one radiologist, but that person is in general practice and any admissions to the hospital are the result of her activity as a general practitioner.

Discussion led to the belief that the medical staff needs to have some diversity with regard to specialties and there needs to be people in the primary care specialties to complement the general practice activity currently in the system. People in primary care specialties are people in the specialties of internal medicine, general surgery, pediatrics, obstetrics and gynecology.

There was also a graphic illustration of how the health care system — as a system — operates. The medical staff component is responsible for all admissions and discharges through the facility. That the patient is economic life blood of the hospital and that the control of the volume of business and the spectrum of services in the hospital component of the system is entirely dependent on the medical staff.

There was discussion of competitive nature of the health care system. It was indicated that this hospital system must compete with other health care systems.

It was indicated that the client that is sought has the option of choosing the hospital he wishes to have service his needs, and for Loudon County to succeed as a system it must be as attractive and more attractive than its competitor.

It was indicated that there are two competitive markets that the county works in. One is the market for the client and the other is for recruiting physicians.

There are several physician shortage areas in Tennessee and all are competitors for medical staff specialists. This means that Loudon County must offer the same type of options to prospective specialty people as the others. This means guaranteed annual income, office space and management services to attract these people to Loudon County.

The other competition is for the patient. That competition is dependent upon the competitive nature of the medical staff and the spectrum of services that are being offered by the local medical staff. In order to be effective here it was noted that the county must first address themselves to the problem of competition

Redskins Move Past .500 On Viars Foul Shots

The Loudon Redskins have moved ahead of the .500 mark following their 55-41 edging of Harriman Coach Hugh Watson's round-ballers.

REDSKINS FIGHT—Loudon backboard workmen Marlon Brown and Mark Harrell double up on this Harriman player to soon take away the ball.

REBOUND GETS AWAY—Loudon's Marlon Brown lets this Harriman rebound escape him but Loudon won the game 55-41.

Davis, Harrell Gun Down Unbeaten Wildcats 58-51

The Loudon boys basketball team journeyed to Sweetwater last Tuesday night for a rematch of their season opening overtime loss to the Wildcats.

Sweetwater riding a five-game unbeaten winning streak here in the early stages of the basketball season, needed only the first quarter to realize the Redskins had come to play.

Loudon scored to a 16-8 first quarter advantage and never trailed in the contest as Sweetwater went down for the first time this year 58-51.

Loudon juniors Mark Harrell and Randy Davis, both upset over Loudon's season opening setback to the Wildcats in overtime, declared vengeance on the Wildcat goals with a strong 1-2 punch for the Redskins.

Harrell canned 23 points for his personal season high, hit a total seven of 10 second half shots and apiked 11 rebounds to lead all scored men. The 6-3 pivot man had 11 field goals in 19 tries for the game.

Davis was just as awesome, backing from a scoreless performance on Monday night against Knoxville Young filed the nets with 18 points. Davis carried Loudon's offense in the first half with a red-hot burning tempo of six for seven and hit eight of 12 shots for the whole game as Loudon won their third game of the season in six contests.

Loudon hit one of its best floor percentages against Sweetwater with 25 of 30 shots for a 83 percent shooting.

Sweetwater hit on 20 of 42 shots for a respectable 47.6 shooting mark.

The Wildcats failure to battle the backboards probably was an underlying key to Loudon's stout performance. Rick Harrell and Marlon Brown muscling for 10 rebounds controlled the boards with authority for Loudon as the Redskins charts showed a decisive 44:17 difference.

Redskins Home Friday Night

The Loudon basketball teams will play at home this Friday night against the Maryville Everetts.

The Loudon fans should try to arrive early as the preliminary contest will feature the explosive play of unbeset sextets.

Loudon with its veteran force of junior forwards scoring in the 60 to 70 point range and bidding for its 10th victory of the year, meets Coach Bob Herrong's talented team that went to the state tournament last season.

The Bulldogs get an un-bested in six games and are also an offensive team.

hit both ends of his foul shots for a 51-48 Loudon lead. Randy Davis made one of two foul shots six seconds later for Loudon's 52 points and a Harriman lay-up that beat the final gun accounted for their score of 50.

Mark Harrell, supporting Davis with a double figure count of 10 points, had 11 rebounds to top Loudon's board play. Mark Blair was also instrumental in fighting the backboards in the fourth quarter.

Rick Melton, experiencing foul problems, finished with eight points as did Deatridge. Harriman made the game close with a 20 for 31 showing at the foul line. The Redskins

Lady Redskins Win 8th In Row Loudon Bomber Destroys Harriman Distaff

The Loudon girls basketball team got an electrifying 41 points from district scoring leader Bernadette Locke in romping past Harriman Friday night 72-64.

The win was Loudon's eighth of the current season with out a loss.

The Lady Redskins also received a balance offensive effort from Kim Brant Hoover and Jennie Leffer. Miss Leffer hit five field goals and four foul shots for 14 points and Miss Brant Hoover added 13 points.

The individual laurels nevertheless went with the cool and modest play of junior Bernadette Locke.

The Lady Redskin sharp shooter hit a sizzling 15 of 27 floor shots (55 percent) and was good on 11 of 13 foul shot chances. She also grabbed an individual game high of nine rebounds and handed out five assists.

Loudon stormed to a 42-30 halftime lead as Bernadette Locke teemed in 22 points on nine of 13 shots and seven foul shots. But the Lady Redskins had to finish the first half with Miss Locke on the bench with three fouls thus Brant Hoover and Leffer teamed with Beverly Barr to keep Loudon in complete control.

hit eight of 12 foul opportunities.

Loudon Coach Hugh Watson was tickled with their second win of the week. "Stating we are far from our expected goals. We were much better in the spring, but this team seems to be regaining a lot of its potential now that we are at full strength."

Harriman proved stubborn in the third quarter, playing Loudon on an even pace. In fact the Devils went on a scoring spree late in the third quarter that carried into the final seven minute act that produced 12 unanswered points.

Loudon led by 55-34 when the bottom fell out of the Lady Redskins attack and Harriman cut the gap to 55-46. The Lady Redskins regrouped to shut down the Harriman offensive bombardment and proceeded to win going away, taking the final quarter 17-16.

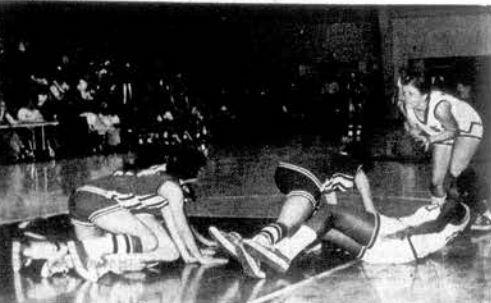

Loudon hit 36 of 59 shots for a 61 percent team shooting mark. Harriman made 19 baskets on 38 shots for 31 percent.

Juliet Locke and Susan Jameson shared the defensive honors with seven rebounds each for Loudon. Loudon barely had a rebounding edge 32-31.

Loudon was automatic at the foul line with a 20 for 24 showing. Harriman made 14 of 30 foul attempts.

CLEARING THINGS OUT—Loudon guard Juliet Locke peels off a pick by teammate Susan Jameson as she carries the ball down the floor for the Loudon forwards to work on offense.

DOWN, BUT NOT OUT—Loudon guards appear to have found a new defensive measure, tackle, as all three go down and two Harriman forwards with them, but the ball and shooter seem to have escaped the pile-up.

Championship Game Film Available To Public

Final 1975 Loudon Football Stats Released

The Loudon Redskin football team's 12 game statistics, which includes a very impressive season ending 28-14 State Championship victory over Hartsville has been concluded.

Loudon dominated its season even in turning the ball over on fumbles, nevertheless for the second straight season and third time in seven years the Redskins are the "AAA" crown kings of football.

Loudon football coach Bert Ratledge has the Hartsville game film back and reports the film in color taping is certainly to be a treasured trophy to refresh the memories of Loudon followers for years to come. Several groups and civic clubs have already made arrangements for the film to be shown. Coach Ratledge said this week that he or coach Jim Gibson would be pleased to show the film to any interested group.

and special guest speaker will carry on, but long on yardage and touchdowns paced the Loudon offensive stats. The senior runningback had 136 carries for 1292 yards, and 8.2 yards per carry average, and scored 14 touchdowns.

Marlon Brown, who shared with Dickie Colvin top tackling marks, had 213 carries for 981 yards and a 4.6 average. He tallied seven touchdowns and made 17 extra points, one two-point conversion run, and a field goal.

Greg Deabridge scored six TD's, and a two point conversion. Kenny Starritt four touchdowns, Freddie Starritt three and a extra point run. Conway Dukis hit paydirt twice, Mike Lambert, Dickie Colvin, once each and Jim Birkholtz came on during the playoff's to boot six extra points.

Redskins Senior Contribute to Loudon Trophy Case—The Loudon Redskin football seniors, 14 of them, joined with Coach Bert Ratledge and Coach Jim Gibson in arranging their 1975 contribution of trophies to the Loudon trophy case. The "new" hardware includes a Region title over Chattanooga Notre Dame 30-6, an overtime decision of Maryville 12-9 for the playoff semi-final, and the coveted 28-14 State Championship

NOT BAD FOR SEVEN YEARS—Loudon head football coach Bert Ratledge shows no emotion here, but the wise and veteran master of the Loudon modern era football game surely must feel a great joy having won three state Class AA football titles in the past seven years. The winning mark is a state record, not to mention back to back titles in the last two seasons and the coach smiles when he says he likes things in even numbers.

Women's Rec. Hoop Play Starts

The league play started Monday night and will have two games each week (Monday and Thursday nights) at old Loudon High School gym.

KIZER GUNS DOWN BEARS—Greenback guard Roddy Kizer goes high to bank in a field goal as the talented junior hit for 33 points against the Tellico Bears last Friday night.

Kizer Impresses Tellico Cagers With 33-Point, 16-Rebound Night

The Greenback Cherokees simply ran out of gas last Friday night as the Tellico Bears enjoyed their home court surroundings to blister the visiting Cherokees 81-67. Greenback matched the long range missiles of the Bears which gained all five Tellico starters double figure efforts, for almost three quarters.

A Cherokee scoring drought in the middle of the third court opened the door for the Tellico quint to turn a three point game into a 10 point working margin and soon built their lead into a decisive difference.

Greenback fell behind 19-16 in the first quarter as starting center Steve Langifelter drew three quick fouls and had to sit the remainder of the first half and part of the third quarter.

 Junior Roddy Kizer, Loudon County's best all around player and only a junior, went to work at both ends of the court for Greenback. The slick playing 6-2 guard, rebounded and scored with standout authority as Greenback pulled even at 35-35 by halftime.

The hot shooting Bears were not to be stopped. The winners hit 10 of 20 third quarter shots and built a shakey three point third quarter edge into a 10 point difference with five straight baskets from all points on the floor.

Greenback's Harold Hawkins finally broke the Greenback seal on the basket from the left corner, but the damage was done. Tellico never cooled off as they canned 11 of 24 fourth quarter shots, making seven straight baskets with two going for three point plays late in the game, winning the score to 19 points at one stage.

Greenback unable to match the overall offensive punch of the Bears hit on 29 of 82 shots. Tellico made 36 of 85 shots in the race home shootout.

Kizer led all scorers with a stellar showing of 33 points, 16 in the first half. The Cherokee leader had 16 rebounds, five assists and two blocked shots to complete his night's work. Tellico basketball coach Mike Cole, made special mention that "Kizer is the greatest player we've seen in two years. He has great college potential. And he is not selfish with his play."

The game officials were also complimentary to the fact that Kizer's cool play was rare in his complete showing. "He is active at both ends of the floor and blends well as a team man, not just a scorer."

Harold Hawkins with 14 points was Greenback's only other double figure shooter. Greenback was out rebounded 38 to 41. Tom Rastar's seven retrieves were second to Kizer for the Cherokees, as the hustling senior replaced Langifelter and did a commendable job. The Greenback girls, loser to Tellico in a fall scrimmage by only three points, never got their game plan going as the Bees prevailed 41-33.

"I guess we were just flat following our Tuesday night's game against Friendsville," stated Coach Jerry Masingso. "I hope it can be different at our place."

bright spot for the Greenback team. The Cherokees hit 15 of 37 shots and collected just 21 rebounds.

A pressing floor game that proved frustrating and caused a considerable number of floor errors by Greenback sparked the winners to a hot shooting 65 percent exhibition (22 of 33 shots).

Harold Hawkins with eight points was Greenback's second highest scorer.

Friendsville Glides Past Greenback In Basketball

The Greenback Cherokees were double prey for the basketball hungry Friendsville Falcons last Tuesday night at Greenback. The Falcon hoopers swept both ends of their District III meeting with the girls turning on the steam in the final canto for a 45-36 win and the Friendsville boys made things look easy routing Greenback 64-36.

The Greenback girls may have played one of their toughest games in recent years, at least for three quarters the Cherokees were most impressive.

Greenback gunned in six of their first 13 shots and held a surprising 12-11 first quarter edge over the highly favored Friendsville distaff.

The visitors charged back with four baskets on nine tries for a 23-17 halftime lead. Only 17 field goal attempts were launched by both in the carefully played second quarter.

Despite the final score the game was played extremely close with Greenback placing all three forwards in double figures. Marti Myers led the Greenback scoring with 11 points. Chita Tipton had 12 and Pam Neely contributed 10.

Greenback hit 16 of 46 floor shots for 35 percent. The foul line proved to be an important factor as the Cherokee sextet hit only four of 11 and missed the front end of five one-and-one foul situations in the game.

Friendsville hit 18 field goals out of 43 shots for a 42 percent.

The winners hit nine of 15 foul tosses.

Friendsville out rebounded Greenback 32 to 27. Debbie Childs led Greenback in rebounding with six. Robin Anderson and Cindy Bell shared in rounding out the end of the Cherokee's better defensive games of some time.

The Friendsville boys, packed to dominate conference and district action and again possibly challenge for another return berth in the state tournament this year, lived up to all expectations. in winning their way to a 64-36 triumph.

Greenback did not get on the

Loudon Girls Coast

The Loudon Lady Redskins have returned their season opening engagement with punishes. Sweetwater, posting an easy 61-20 decision.

The Lady Redskins had destroyed the Monroe Cougars in 29-7 in their November opener and this contest was played on the same pattern.

Sweetwater managed to grab a short lived 4-2 lead in the first quarter, but Loudon zipped in eight straight points and the game was only a matter of naming a scorer.

Coach Dewayne App's unbeaten sextet placed six forwards in the second column, four in double figures.

Bernadette Locke and Kim Branchwood shared the individual scoring high with 15 points each. Jennie Lefler and Beverly Barr posted in 10 points each and Sylvia Hawkins added nine and Cathy Delaney a field goal.

Ahead 15-6, Loudon swept past the hot Wildkittens with a 19-2 scoring difference that had the Lady Redskins on top by 24-6 at intermission and the starting line-up on the bench.

Loudon reserves performed much of the second half.

Loudon hit only 34 percent of the game making 24 of 70 shots. Kim Branchwood's seven for 12 shooting was the best marksmanship for the winners. Beverly Barr led the Loudon forwards at the foul line with four of four. The Lady Redskins made 12 of 21 in the game.

Susan Jamerson speared 10 rebounds at Loudon was most dominating on the backboards with a 50-27 difference.

The win was Loudon's distaff seventh without a setback.

ETDD Starts Update

The East Tennessee Development District (ETDD) is updating its regional Public Improvements Program for the 16 counties in the ETDD area, John W. Anderson, Jr., ETDD Executive Director, announced today. The first phase of the Public Improvements Program is to obtain a list of major construction projects which local elected officials feel are needed by local governments. Individuals or citizen groups which want to suggest projects for consideration are asked to put them in writing by Dec. 15 to either the majority city administrator, or county judge in their community or to Georgia Vines of the ETDD staff. The types of projects included in a Public Improvements Program include airports, mental health centers, recreational facilities, major road and other transportation improvements, major school projects, water and sewer projects, industrial parks, economic development activities and others. The Public Improvements Program is used by the Board of Directors of the District in determining regional projects and in recommending funding for the projects. It is used by the ETDD staff in assisting local governments to find financial sources for the projects and can be used by local governments to assign local money to projects.

Make a Stocking Doll for Someone You Love

There must be at least one or two little girls on your Christmas list who would love to own a stocking doll. Since it will be an unusual and original gift, it will be treasured twice as much as the others. Here provide a basic doll that you can dress in any way you wish.

Using a stocking or long sock, cut the pieces as shown. Sew the bottom of the body and stuff with clean rags, krayol or cotton and trim to the neck. Take the head in at the back if it looks too large for the body. Sew arms and legs and attach. The body in middle to make a waistline. Use bright red thread to stitch mouth and nose and make button eyes. Attach wig piece and fringe at bottom or braid. Yarn can be used for the hair also. Dress doll in any way you choose. U.S. SENATOR BILL BROCK WASHINGTON OUTLOOK

"The majority is not silent—the government is deaf." That is a short, cryptic note I received from a Tennessee recently which contains a great deal of truth. It probably expresses the sentiment of many of us.

Our nation was founded 200 years ago to provide and protect freedom. As much as anything else it was founded to protect people from government. Over the ensuing years, government has formed numerous departments, agencies and commissions to protect individuals, consumers — generally, the American people. Unfortunately, many of those organizations have done the contrary. In fact, most of them do not even conduct their decision-making process in public. Most decisions are made behind closed doors in private meetings of the commissioners, or board members, and so on. What has developed from that is wrong. Those agencies designed by Congress to protect, have all too often done just the opposite, and "stuck it to" the average American. Additionally, though, very bodies have increased the growing credibility gap between our people and government. The government has indeed turned deaf.

That may no longer be the rule, however. The Senate has passed two measures which I sponsored that will require 49 departments, agencies and commissions to open their decision-making process to the public for the first time. In the same vein, the Senate agreed to open the final two major committee decision-making processes to the public: the mark-up session and the Conference Committee sessions. Combined, these two changes can prevent the American people an advance they have not had for many years, the direct ability to have a voice in certain decisions by determining exactly what those decisions are, and how they

Radical Scientific Theories

Evidence stemming from U.S. and Russian space probes tends to justify the revolutionary theories of Dr. Immanuel Velikovsky that caused such a stir in scientific circles twenty-five years ago. Established in 1952, the Russian probe Venus 3 was crushed in it. Mars was another planet, according to Velikovsky, that had a stormy early history, nearly colliding with both Venus and Earth. He reasoned that Mars would show evidence of this violent period in a cratered and pock-marked surface. This has been confirmed by pictures sent back to Earth by space probes. Velikovsky also degrees F and subsequent readings have reported 900 degrees F and more. He also claimed that Venus would have a dense atmosphere at a time when astronomers calculated it had less atmosphere than Earth. Its atmosphere is so dense—50 times heavier than that of Earth—that in 1966 the Russian probe Venus 3 was crushed in it.

Circuit Cases Decided

Circuit Court Judge Willard Kittrell refused Friday to dismiss a slander lawsuit filed by Loudon County Deputy Voyd Carruth against W.A. Goley of Lenoir City. Attorneys for Goley attempted to get the suit dismissed stating that Carruth was a public servant and had no recourse from criticism. Carruth claims that statements made about him before a meeting of the County Court following an incident near Goley's home last year had damaged his character and caused him "personal grief." In other Circuit Court action last week the Fort Loudoun Electric Cooperative won an account suit judgment of $760.80 against Howard T. Long, Jr. Gary Meek was awarded a judgment of $271.50 from June Latham for construction of racks for a business place. The suit had sought $720. The jury heard testimony to the fact that the woman refused to pay for the display racks because they were not built to specifications and the plaintiff (Meek) had taken the racks back after she refused to pay. The $271.50 award was for labor. In a non-jury action Judge Kittrell awarded Carlin Murr $168.90 in damages from Dickey L. Dalley in an auto accident case. A non-suit was taken in a case where William C. Dalley, a former City of Lenoir City employee was seeking reinstatement and back pay. Cases settled out of court during the week were Beta J. Todd and Hugh B. Todd vs Gary D. Atkins, auto accident; Hattie B. Johnson vs Susanne A. McDonald, pedestrian-auto accident; Kenneth E. Bolt vs Phillip Wayne Mitchell and Hyder Truck Rental, death claim; and State Farm Mutual Insurance Company vs Shirley L. Graves, appeal from General Sessions Court.

The Madonna and Child in Painting

The Madonna and Child have long been a source of inspiration to artists. The period that produced the greatest works of art of the Madonna and Child, was the Renaissance, though there is evidence of painting of the Madonna long before.

The number of Madonna pictures increased after the Council of Ephesus, in 431 A.D., when the Virgin Mary and Child became symbols of the accepted Christian faith. The oldest paintings were found in the catacombs of the early Christians, built between the First and Fifth Centuries, as places of worship. As persecution of the Christians under Roman emperors became more intense, they took to the catacombs as places of prayer and refuge. In the catacomb of Saint Callixtus, in Rome, one of the earliest pictures of the Holy Family was found. Renaissance means the rebirth of the art of classic antiquity. Although dates of this period vary from country to country, it is generally agreed that it began in the late 1200's and lasted into the early 1500's. It was a time in which new styles developed in painting, sculpture and architecture. The society in which the artist lived greatly influenced his art.

Some of the greatest pieces of religious art were produced in this period. Paintings of the Madonna were fewer after the 1600's, but the really important paintings were produced before then.

Fra Filippo Lippi represented a sentimental trend in painting of the Renaissance. His "Madonna Adoring the Child" includes a deep forest background in his painting that shows the youthful mother kneeling before the Child. There is a feeling of light and delicacy in his stirring work "Madonna and Child Embraced."

Some of the greatest paintings of the Madonna were done by Raphael in the late Renaissance. In his short but brilliant life, he did many paintings much admired by those who painted after him. Though his study of models, his Saints and Madonnas are idealized representations. Among his Madonna paintings are "The Madonna of The Chair," "The Alba Madonna," "Madonna in the Meadow," and his "Sistine Madonna," originally painted as an alt-piece for the Church of San Sisto. This masterpiece shows the Virgin Mary supported on clouds with the infant Jesus in her arms. Pope Sixtus II knelt in prayer on one side, Saint Barbara on the other. His "Niccolini-Cowper Madonna" shown above, hangs in the National Gallery in Washington, D.C. Special mention goes to Andrea del Sarto, called the "perfect painter" by Florentines of the High Renaissance. He produced masterpieces like "The Holy Family," "extremely satisfying and popular works of art."

One of the greatest painters of all time, Titian, a leading painter of the Venetian school, affirmed his joy of life in his "Assumption of the Virgin."

Giovanni Bellini, Giorgione, Alceio Baldovinetti, are among the many painters of the Madonna.

The Madonna and Child has been and will continue to be an inspiration to all in the arts, in life.

THE STORY OF CHRISTMAS IN CENTENNIAL AMERICA

THE BEGINNING—On December 25, 1492, the history of Christmas started in the New World, when Columbus' ship, the Santa Maria, was abandoned off the coast of Haiti. In Virginia in the year 1613 a record by an expedition of Captain John Smith reads: "The extreme winter, rains, frost and snow caused us to keep Christmas among the salvages where we were never more merry, nor fed on more plenty of good Oysters, Fish, Flesh, Wild fowl and good bread."

Settlers in Virginia brought many customs from England, the burning of the Yule log, ringing bells, lavish dining, dancing, games and Christmas carols. Churches and homes were decorated colorfully, and parties and balls were memorable. The Pilgrim Fathers arrived in Plymouth some 7 years later, bringing with them their strong distaste for Christmas. Thanksgiving day, with its feasting and neighborly celebrations with friendly Indians, was more like Christmas.

In 1659, the General Court of Massachusetts enacted the law by which "anyone who is found observing, by abstinance from labor, feasting, or any other way, any such days as Christmas day, shall pay for every such offense 3 shillings." However, the Puritans did not have their way for long and the anti-Christmas law was repealed in 1681.

HAPPIER CHRISTMAS—The chief winter celebration of the Dutch Dutch in New Amsterdam was on December 6, St. Nicholas' Day. Significantly enough, it was a Christmas day in the promise of presents bright in their eyes.

Gradually, however, the increasing number of English in this area brought about the adaptation of many of the old customs with the arrival of the first German dissenters in 1700. We find a tremendous increase in the observance of Christmas. It is with the Germans that the universal customs of Kris Kringle or Santa Claus and the Christmas tree originate.

The rapid growth of our country brought about religious antagonism. The intermingling of people of different religious and national backgrounds also helped.

One of the more important historical events that took place on Christmas was the crossing of the Delaware by George Washington and his troops, in 1776, when they defeated the Hessians at Trenton, New Jersey. The Americans routed the redcoats who were slaying the effects of the holiday!

Sunday Schools, which had their beginning in the first half of the nineteenth century, helped to promote the acceptance of many folk customs, most importantly, Santa Claus and the Christmas tree.

In his beautiful classic, did much to popularize this colorful holiday. It was some time before Christmas came to be celebrated as we know it now.

ENTER SANTA CLAUS—In America, Santa Claus is known by three names—St. Nicholas, Kris Kringle, and Santa Claus. St. Nicholas first appeared in the first half of the fourth century in Asia Minor, as Bishop of Myra. Many miracles are attributed to him and there are many legends that attest to his generosity. He was the protector of an aboard Dutch ship, as well as the patron saint of young people. The first Dutch church built in New York City was named for him.

Sinterklaas, as he was known to the Dutch, eventually became Santa Claus... his original red and white vestments became our model.

POEMS AND PICTURES—Clement Clarke Moore credited with creating the current Santa Claus image and story in his poem, "A Visit from St. Nicholas." The poem, originally written for his children in 1822, has been published an endless number of times and is one of the most popular American poems.

"MERRY OLD SANTA." Illustration from Christmas Drawings for the Human by Thomas Nast 1890. Courtesy of The New-York Historical Society, New York.

The fat, rosy-cheeked Santa we recognize today evolved from a series of cartoons by Thomas Nast, nineteenth century artist. His series of Christmas drawings showed how Santa spends his spare time through the year.

AMERICA TODAY—Americans today celebrate the Christmas holiday in many colorful ways. The tradition of this beautiful season is strong in America and all in peace and brotherhood, has been and will be a unifying force for all.

Let us all celebrate Christmas in America!

School Journalism Workshop Underway

What is news? How to write a news story? And, how to originate and write a feature story? That's how the Journalism Workshop at Lenoir City High School began on Wednesday.

Eighteen journalism students participated in the workshop led by Sandra Plant and Judy McGill of Roane State Community College. Mrs. Plant is assistant director of public information at Roane State and Mrs. McGill is director of public information.

After a thorough look at news and feature writing, Mrs. Plant worked with students on editing techniques. Learning by doing is the idea in editing, so the students were given an actual news story which they edited by using copy editing symbols. Mrs. McGill presented a section on photography dealing with creative controls and the importance of composition in making good pictures. She brought along some of her own photographs to illustrate concepts of composition.

This is the second journalism workshop that has been presented at a high school. The next Journalism Workshop will be held December 19-21 at Loudon County High School.

The journalism class at Lenoir City High School is taught by Steve Wilcox. The student publication at the school is 'The Panther Press.' One of the workshop leaders, Mrs. McGill lives in Lenoir City and commutes to her job at Roane State. She has a B.A. in English from the University of West Florida and an M.S. in Adult Education from the University of Tennessee.

Mrs. Plant is a resident of Oak Ridge. In addition to her position at Roane State, Mrs. Plant is a freelance writer whose work has appeared in a number of newspapers and magazines. She has a B.S. in journalism from the University of Tennessee.

Both Mrs. McGill and Mrs. Plant will be teaching Community Service courses in Loudon County during Winter Quarter. Mrs. McGill will teach photography on Thursdays from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at her home in Cedar Hills subdivision beginning on January 8. The course will cover 35mm photography all the way from the snap of the shutter to developing the negative and making prints.

Mrs. Plant is offering her creative writing course on Thursdays from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Loudon County Justice Center. The title of the course is 'Writing for Fun, Profit or Publication.' During the course she covers all types of commercial creative writing except poetry. Students will have an opportunity to work in all areas of article and short story writing.

Vaughn Buys LC Ford Dealership

Cotton Easter Ford, Inc., long-time automobile dealership in Lenoir City, has been purchased by W. A. Vaughn, Jr. of Knoxville.

Mr. Vaughn, a native of Knoxville, has been in the automobile business in East Tennessee for 20 years, serving in various capacities, including dealership owner and President, car-truck leasing company executive and in automobile financing.

"I am extremely proud to become associated with an automobile agency that is held in such high esteem as Cotton Easter Ford," Vaughn said. "Mr. Easter was an outstanding individual and it is truly a challenge to follow a man of his capability and integrity. His untimely death in August was a shock to the community. He and I were friends and I had long admired him."

The Lenoir City area has seen tremendous growth in recent years and even greater growth will be experienced in the years ahead. The potential for business in the Lenoir City area plus the excellent reputation of Cotton Easter Ford are the main reasons for my interest in this location," the new owner said. "We will continue to operate in the fine tradition established by Mr. Easter."

Mr. Vaughn said it is his intention to retain all personnel, using the current 14 employees as a base for expanding the dealership's business and employment. Mr. Vaughn projected an increased employment at the Ford dealership, boosting the staff to a total of 31 within the near future.

Cotton Easter Ford moved into ultra-modern facilities in August 1974. The buildings contain an indoor-outdoor showroom providing display area for approximately 30 cars under roof, a large service area, complete parts department and a body repair shop.

From 1964 until 1972, the Ford agency was known as Easter-Purdy Motor Co., owned by Mr. Easter and Willis Purdy of Lenoir City. Mr. Easter became the sole owner in 1972.

Mr. Easter was President and principal stockholder in Volunteer Ford, Inc., Clinton, Tennessee, prior to acquiring Cotton Easter Ford. He recently sold his interest in the Clinton automobile agency.

Woodard Is Marine Grad

Marine Private George W. Woodard, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Woodard of Route Two, Lenoir City, was graduated from recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C.

Physical conditioning, discipline and teamwork are emphasized during Marine recruit training. Classes include instruction in close order drill, Marine Corps history, first aid, uniform regulations and military customers and courtiers.

SON RECEIVES MARKER—Hamilton National Bank officials Don Center and Jim Curtis present Dr. J. R. Watkins with a marble sign bearing the name of W. S. Watkins. The marker came from a building the bank purchased from Watkins, that for years housed his office and prior to that his father's grocery store. The building is currently being torn down to make way for a remote drive in banking facility and parking lot.

FATHER AND SON WINNERS—Bill Zeeb of Marenton and his son Bill Jr., both of Loudon were first and second place finishers in the annual Heart Fund Cyclopedia, which raised $4,500 in Knoxville recently. Mr. Zeeb raised $727.88 and won a grand prize of accommodations for 8 days and 7 nights for two in Daytona Beach.

Energy Savings Reduces Bill

A typical electrically heated home in the Tennessee Valley can save about $60 a year with the addition of better insulation and storm windows and storm doors, according to TVA energy management specialists.

Actual savings would depend on the size of the home, patterns of heating use, and other factors. This estimate is based on average annual use of 21,300 kilowatt-hours for a typical home with three and one-half inches of insulation in walls and four inches over the ceiling.

The addition of storm windows and doors, another two inches of insulation over the ceiling, and three and one-half inches of insulation under floors (above unheated basement or garage area) would mean a saving of about 2,300 kilowatt-hours for heating and cooling during the year.

At present home electric rates, that is equal to a saving of about $60 on electric bills for the year, most of it coming on the large electric bills that result in winter when energy consumption for heating is added to the home's year-round uses of electricity.

CAPITOL COMMENTARY

BY M. LEE SMITH

(c) 1975, M. Lee Smith & Associates

NASHVILLE—News stories published several days ago in Tennessee newspapers have said that former President Richard Nixon offered to nominate Senator Howard Baker to the Supreme Court in October 1971 but that Baker turned down the offer. The stories were incomplete and inaccurate.

News of the Baker high court offer was first reported in early 1972. The latest accounts resulted from commentary by Nashville attorney and former Senate Watergate Committee Minority Counsel Fred Thompson in his recently released book At That Point in Time.

In his book Thompson writes, "For Howard Baker, the first day's questioning of (former Attorney General John) Mitchell caused mixed emotions... Mitchell, a few years before, had offered Baker a post on the Supreme Court. Men like Baker who grow up in the mountains of east Tennessee do not soon forget things like that."

Baker's decision. A call was placed by the two Senators to Governor Winfield Dunn.

Baker told Dunn of the offer and his decision to accept it. A discussion ensued as to whom Dunn would appoint to fill Baker's Senate seat. With Dunn and Brock debating the possible appointment of then 8th district Congressman Dan Kuykendall, Baker left the line to take an incoming call from Mitchell.

In a few moments Baker rejoined the Dunn-Brock phone conversation and told them that Mitchell had said the President intended to appoint another person to the court vacancy. It was only at this point that a decision was made, in Baker's words, "to mutually disengage from the offer."

There is more to the story than that. When the offer was made, Baker told Mitchell he would have to think about it. The Senator then consulted staff members and friends. Three or four days elapsed with Mitchell pressing Baker for an answer. Finally Baker called Mitchell and said he would accept the offer.

After calling Mitchell, Baker advised Senator Bill Brock of his decision. A call was placed by the two Senators to Governor Winfield Dunn.

Saving for retirement?

Then, you'll be interested in a law recently passed by Congress. This law allows you to deduct up to 15% of your taxable income up to a maximum of $1,600.00 and apply it to a retirement program of your own. The plan is available to anyone not covered by a qualified retirement income plan and allows you to put those tax-deferred dollars into United of Omaha's Individual Retirement Annuity.

Let me show you how this plan can help you build a nice nest-egg for your retirement years. Give me a call soon.

TVA Power
Sales Are Up

Net income of the TVA power system for the first three months of fiscal year 1976 was $58.8 million compared to $11.9 million a year ago, according to the agency's quarterly report on power operations.

Improved net income reflects the effects of the January 1975 rate adjustments which were necessary because of inadequate earnings in the same July-September period last year. Without the adjustments TVA could not have met its financial obligations for the last fiscal year, the report said.

Revenues of $438 million were up $178 million from the year-ago level, as monthly billing charges for the quarter reflected this year's higher costs of fuel and purchased power.

Students Now Choose Small Town Living

An "overwhelming majority" of students now would choose country or small town living.

The summary of a "youth poll" recently conducted by the Gannett News Service and reported in The Nashville Banner, which is part of the Gannett organization, shows that more than are boys. It said that 72 percent of students recently surveyed by "The Scholastic Magazines" said they would prefer country or small town living. It also said:

"In a nation-wide poll of 40,000 junior and senior high school students, a 39 percent plurality say they would live in a rural area if given a choice, and 33 percent would live in a small town."

Compared to the findings of a similar poll of three years ago, these results represent a small but revealing cross-the-board shift in attitude in favor of living in the country. Five percent more students would prefer to live in the country than in 1972, when 32 percent opted for a "rural area" and 35 percent "a small town."

In the current poll, only a bare 11 percent say they would like to live in the city, while 14 percent said they would three years ago.

Suburbia also lost some of its popularity, slipping to 17 percent in the earlier poll.

Most of the students in the present poll say they prefer the country because cities fail to provide the quality of life they desire.

"I just love the open space of the country," says 16-year-old Cindy Kanik, who lives in Alder Creek, N. Y. "There's always six or seven houses on a lake, and most of them aren't occupied in the winter." Cindy moved there recently from nearby Utica, an older, industrial city of 91,000 where she "hated living."

"Cities are dirty, the houses are crowded together, there's no place to run in," she says.

Most teens prefer the country because they say they want clean air and the benefits of an uncrowded, natural environment - things they say they can't get from a city.

"I really prefer the country," says 14-year-old Peggy Taylor, of Waverly, N. Y., a small community of about 5,000. "It is beautiful and peaceful. I love animals and being out-of-doors."

Donna Klappich, a 17-year-old Oregonian, touches on the students' most frequent complaint about urban living: Portland, the city with which she's most familiar, has "crowding, air pollution and traffic snarls which she dislikes." And the air is so bad," she adds.

For Tamara Hakken, the 17-year-old daughter of a minister in Shelby, Mont., "Erle Anthony Keko, B. S. in Education, Greenback; Harold Wayne Hutton, Master of Science.

almost have to be a politician before you can have a vote in the government. Power seems to be controlled by a handful of people."

But Les Childers, a classmate of Tamara's, says: "In a small town, everybody knows everybody's business. In cities, you have more of a feeling of independence, more privacy. I like that."

In both polls, girls favored cities a bit more than the boys did. In 1973, 17 percent of the girls voted for cities compared to 10 percent of the boys who did. Currently, 13 percent of the girls favor the city compared to only 9 percent of the boys who do.

At least part of that difference between the sexes may come from practical considerations. The young women say they usually find cities an easier place to find work and live in than the more family-oriented small towns and suburbs.

"I like to spend some time in the country but I wouldn't want to live there," says Marilyn Verges of New Orleans. "It's too quiet. I like to have people around me."

Cooking Tips

Did you dry any fruits or vegetables last summer? Nutritious and tasty dishes can now be prepared from these foods.

To prepare the food, cover the dried food with cold water and soak it to 2 hours. Soaking 2-6 hours may result in increased tenderness. Use only the water that can be absorbed by the food. Add water during the soaking process if necessary.

Remember to keep the food covered as it soaks, cook the food in the same water as it has been soaked and cook until tender.

When cooking dried fruits, add 1/4 cup sugar per 1 cup of dried fruit. Dried fruits do not need as much sugar as fresh fruits. Sugar is added at the end of the cooking period. Add salt to dried fruit to bring out the freshness. The addition of a citrus juice just before serving will also give a fresh flavor. Vegetables lose much of their natural flavor so use a spice or herb for a tasty dish.

Cook greens, cabbage, tomatoes and soup mixtures without soaking. Drop them in enough water to cover and cook until tender.

Prepare a dish using dried fruit or vegetable.

Agenda

1. Reading and approval of minutes for October and November.
2. Interview new teacher applicant - Ginger Crabtree - Language Arts, Loudoun Jr. High.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

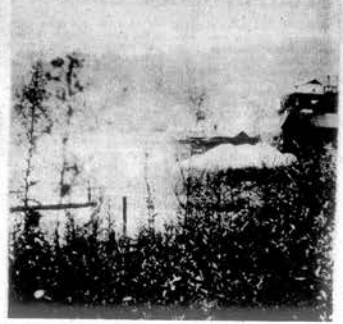

Many times our readers will loan us pictures of family members who were well known in our area. We are always happy to use this type of picture and greatly appreciate the interest from our readers who share these pictures with us.

This picture was loaned to us by Don Roberts. The picture is of Don's grandfather, the late J.F. Roberts. Mr. Roberts was a fine gentleman and was known by most of the area folks who grew around during his lifetime. He, of course, was the father of Don's dad, the late Frank Roberts. Frank was a well known automobile mechanic who worked for Miller Motor Co. for many years and later at the Lenoir City Chevrolet dealer. He was a dear friend of mine as well as a multitude of area folks.

Before we talk about our other picture, we would like to make a correction. The other week we ran the picture of the young man with the fish. We said the name was Sonny Bright. It should have been Ronnie Bright. Ronnie, who is now deceased, was the grandson of Mrs. Tilley and she called to tell us of the error. Glad to straighten it out. Our many thanks to Mrs. Tilley.

Our other picture this week is a picture which shows high water location but it is somewhere in our area. Of course Loudon had its share of destructive high waters over the past years, the focal point being the section near the ferry landing. But other sections suffered also. Anywhere along the banks of Steeple Creek were also trouble spots. Exactly where this photo was taken, we don't know.

One of the greatest pleasures we get out of doing the Good Old Days is the chance to talk to our many friends and readers, and the many kind efforts of these people to help us in many ways. The other day Orna Mae historical event in our town's history. Later Mr. Thomas moved to the other corner of the block where he operated the H.L. Thomas dry goods store for many years. It was in front of this store that the picture we mentioned was made but at that time it was operated under another name, Sienknecht. We hope this is spelled correctly.

We asked Mrs. Russell for a picture which we will tell you about later. We believe it will be one you will enjoy.

We also talked about the Watkins building, which is being torn down. We thought that the building was built in 1925. I think this is correct. It was in this building that the Watkins family operated a grocery store for many years. The store was operated by the late W.S. Watkins.

Well, that's it for now. See you next week.

Russell called to help us identify the picture of the children who were pictured with prizes in front of a local store. We had already had a caller who solved this mystery for us, but in the course of our conversation we covered many aspects of the Good Old Days era. She told us something that we didn't know. At the location now occupied by the Hamilton Bank, the late H.L. Thomas had a store and was Loudon's first dealer for gasoline and coal oil, better known as kerosene. This, in itself was a

The Legend of Befana

Families of Italian origin are familiar with Befana. In these days of woman's lib, it is interesting to hear about this legendary lady.

When the Three Kings were on their search for the Holy Child, they passed the house of Befana as she was sweeping and cleaning her house. In answer to her inquiry, they told her of their search. She asked to go with them, but they continued on their way without waiting for her to finish her chores. When Befana tried to overtake them she failed, and so was unable to worship the Holy Babe with them.

Since then, the woman Befana wanders the earth seeking her last opportunity. Italian children believe Befana rides through the air on a broomstick, on the eve of January 6, which marks the Feast of Kings, still seeking the Christ Child. She goes down chimneys, leaving presents for the girls and boys, as the Wise Men brought gifts to the Holy Child.

In Russia, the same custom was once familiar, though the lady there was known as Babouahka.

Christmas Gesture

Robert Louis Stevenson (1850-1894), author of "Treasure Island" and "Kidnapped," was born on November 13 but "gave" his birthday to a girl born on Christmas Day. Stevenson made a gift of his birthday to a child named Annie H. Ide, to let her have "two joyous celebrations a year, with a proper birthday and a Merry Christmas."

Holly-Day Hum

Sprigs of holly should be placed in beehives at Christmas. So says an old English Christmas tradition. This custom stems from the legend that, at the Mangrove, bees gathered to hum a hymn of joy.

Western Style WHITE CHRISTMAS

CAN YOU GUESS WHERE the photograph above was taken? Maine? Vermont? Upper New York State? Actually, it was taken in what we have come to associate in our minds as "sunny California!" Photograph courtesy of The Oakland Museum, Oakland, California.

The romantic and beautiful snow scene above, so typical of Christmas and Santa's world, was taken in Loomis, California, about 1919.

Loomis is northeast of the capital city of Sacramento. Sacramento itself embraces the site on which Captain John A. Sutter, in the Sierra Nevada, the yearly snowfall averages about 454 inches.

Early in 1900, the winter Olympic Games were held in Squaw Valley, high among the Sierra Nevada mountains. Athletes from about 30 countries competed.

atures even in the summer. Winters are long and severe and some of the peaks are snow covered all year. Although snow is nearly unknown in the valleys of the central and southern coast, at Tamarkin, in the Sierra Nevada, the yearly snowfall averages about 454 inches.

Carols and Candles

Carols and candles bring added spirit and luster to Christmas.

The word "carol" comes from the middle English carole, meaning "to sing joyously." The majority of our most familiar carols date from the nineteenth century. Some researchers believe that carol singing could be a carryover from the Roman songs of the Saturnalia. Francis Scott Key, noted lawyer and author of The Star Spangled Banner, also wrote carols. It is little known that the comedian Harpo Marx, of the famous Marx Brothers, also authored a popular Christmas carol.

Caroling on Christmas Eve is a tradition brought to America by our English forebears, that delights us all at holiday time.

CANDLES — Special lighting effects as we now know them, elaborate and colorful as Christmas, started with the romantic glow of holiday candles. Placing lighted candles in the window on Christmas eve is believed to have started in Boston. There are elaborate electric light shows in almost all large American cities, but candles still sell in the millions, showing that Americans enjoy their soft glow and associations.

Lavish Feast

At Christmas, in the year 1492, when Columbus was spending his day in the New World, King Henry VII gave one of his most sumptuous feasts. The King (1485-1509), the Queen and members of the court dined on no less than 120 different dishes — with peacock as its climax! He observed holiday customs lavishly, to say the least, serving among the many delicacies a popular dish called "frumenty," made by adding sugar and spices to boiling tinned wheat.

Teachers To Ask For 16-17 Percent Increase

A 16 to 17 per cent salary increase will be necessary this year in order for Tennessee's teachers to keep up with the cost of living, according to Louise Tibson, president of the Tennessee Education Association.

In a prepared statement distributed at the budget hearings before the Fiscal Review and Finance Ways and Means Committees, the TEA said morale is low, more teachers are moonlighting, and fewer teachers are taking refresher courses because state and local governments failed to cover the cost of inflation last year.

Stating that the TEA represents over 58,000 active members in K-12 and higher education and retired and executive secretary, explained that, "Tennessee's teachers are always placed in an unfavorable position. They receive all the attention when taxes are increased. Then other services, some of them worthy ones such as Medicaid and other public health programs, receive increases proportionately far greater and amounting to many millions of dollars. This last year teachers, who received less than the publicized 2.5 per cent increase and almost 10 per cent less than the increase in the cost of living, are actually being forced through less buying power to subsidize education and to release millions of dollars to other services."

Mrs. Tibson said the mood of Tennessee's teachers has changed drastically since last spring and they expect to be recognized as vitally important professionals and not as second class economic citizens.

Court Approves Blair Bend Project

6-3 Vote Clears Way For 285 Acre Complex

FIVE MACHINE GUNS that were reportedly stolen from United Parcel Service shipments were recovered in Loudon County last Friday by local authorities working with the FBI. Sheriff Guy Russell and Chief Deputy Luke Bright are shown looking at the .45 caliber sub-machine gun.

At the conclusion of one of the most unusual sessions of County Court the Squires approved by a 6-3 vote to participate with the City of Loudon in the development of the Blair Bend Industrial Park.

When Monday night's special session opened Judge Hill Russell presided. Napier, a spokesman for Loudon County Teachers Association to speak to the court.

present and future citizens of Loudon County." Squire Conner said. As the meeting opened it appeared that the court stood 2-4 against the issue with Squires Bledsoe, Blair, Williams, Hudson and Hartsook ready to vote against it. Squire Roy Bledsoe made a motion seconded by Blair to recess for one hour to meet with the Loudon City Council and the Cecil Webbs, who along with Squire Blair own property that must be obtained for rights of way for road, rail and utilities into the property. The motion started out to adjourn the session until the court and council could meet, but Judge Russell asked that since both groups were present that the meeting recess and they meet at that time. A vote on the motion passed 4-1 with Vann voting not to recess.

Stolen Machine Guns Recovered, Two Charged

The Loudon County Sheriff's Department and Federal Bureau of Investigation agents, working together last Friday, apparently have solved the theft of a large number of 45 caliber Rem-umond Mark III sub-machine guns. The guns have been stolen from United Parcel Service shipments over the past several months the officers said.

Two men, including a UPS truck service attendant have been arrested and charged with receiving and concealing stolen property. The UPS employee arrested was Charles Roberts Jr. of Knoxville and Lenoir City man Rick Erwin (alias), who was arrested late Friday night in Seymour. Both are being held under $5,000 bond and face preliminary hearing in General Sessions Court Friday.

number from the gun the two officers had checked was on the list. They went back to the pool room in Loudon and picked up Billy Hart of Main Street in Loudon and questioned him about the gun. During this time Jim Jones of Lenoir City came in and said he bought four of the guns for $30 each and turned them in. That makes five of the weapons that have been recovered. Deputy Bright said there are 16 more of the guns still out and hopes that they can be recovered as soon as they can be traced to persons who bought them.

Two men, including a UPS truck service attendant have been arrested and charged with receiving and concealing stolen property. Both are being held under $5,000 bond and face preliminary hearing in General Sessions Court Friday.

Chief Bright said that anyone having bought one of the guns is urged to turn it in to him or Sheriff Russell at the Justice Center. He said persons who innocently bought the weapons would not be prosecuted. Information in the case is being turned over to a United States Prosecutor in Knoxville for possible federal charges on theft of interstate shipments.

School Board Says . . . Consolidation Before Comprehensive School

A comprehensive school for Loudon County would be possible but only after total consolidation of the two school systems, according to opinions expressed by most members of the Loudon County Board of Education last Thursday night.

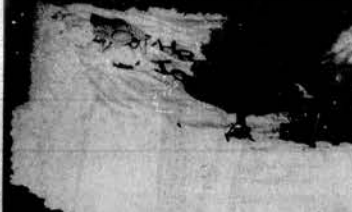

Information in the case is being turned over to a United States Prosecutor in Knoxville for possible federal charges on theft of interstate shipments.

Board member J. B. Hagler said that a partial consolidation (just the high school grades), or a jointly operated high school, or total consolidation can make the proposal possible.

Shopping for your children's Christmas presents might be a difficult task this year. Many parents face the dilemma of a wide selection of toys versus a limited Christmas budget.

Here are some guidelines for parents to follow when choosing toys. When buying parents should consider if the toy is fun, safe and simple enough for children to enjoy by themselves.

If your child is celebrating a first Christmas, the "perfect" toy might be a stuffed animal, non-toxic wooden rattles and musical toys with moving parts.

For the toddler climbing and building toys can help develop coordination. Wooden puzzles and toys a toddler can pull and manipulate will give them a sense of achievement and hours of enjoyment.

Two to six-year-olds enjoy stuffed animals, dolls, cradles, picture books, tricycles, trucks and engines. Children from six to twelve appreciate bats, balls, gloves, cooking sets, dress-up dolls, construction sets, footballs, basketballs, roller skates, gym equipment, bicycles and arts and crafts sets.

Older children may like microscopes, magnets, prisms, ecology toys and chemistry sets to help them learn about the world around them.

Parents are cautioned against wasting money on "junk" which attracts the eye but are not fun, safe or useable. Often these types of toys only last a few days. Select toys carefully and instruct children in using them properly to eliminate the hazards and double the fun this holiday season.

CAPITOL COMMENTARY

BY M. LEE SMITH

(c) 1975, M. Lee Smith & Associates

To predict with certainty what the Tennessee General Assembly will do in any upcoming session is generally hazardous business. But it is now increasingly apparent the legislature will enact a tax increase when it reconvenes early next year.

The tax hike—assuming one is enacted—will come at a time when Tennesseans, like most Americans, are complaining loudly about over-taxation, over-regulation, and Big Brother government. It will come at a time when in the minds of many government is the problem, not the institution for problem solving.

One has only to listen to presidential candidates of either party and all philosophies to know that the view of the American people on government spending and red tape is coming through loud and clear. And while this concern is focused on the federal establishment, much of it spills over to government at all levels.

Given this situation, why then does the General Assembly—never known for ignoring political reality—appear on the verge of enacting a state tax increase? Foremost among underlying causes is the high rate of inflation which has persisted in the economy for the past several years.

State government experiences the same problem of increasing costs that confronts individuals and private business. Particularly hard hit are departments such as Mental Health and Corrections which maintain large institutions with substantial food and fuel costs.

Coupled with increasing costs is the fact that Tennessee's tax structure is regressive. This means the tax burden hits hardest those least able to pay. And from the standpoint of state government, it means natural increases in state revenue do not keep pace with growth in the economy.

Along with inflation and the state's regressive tax system is the demand for funding costly new programs, most of which the General Assembly authorized several years ago. Many of the facilities in the new comprehensive vocational education system are now complete and ready for operation. The increase in cost to the state next year will be $7.5 million.

Renovation of Brushy Mountain Prison and construction of the Shelby County Correction Center will be finished in the next several months. Operating costs to the state next year for these two facilities will require six million additional state dollars.

In 1972 the General Assembly mandated but never adequately funded an equal education opportunity for all handicapped Tennessee children. The state is now confronted with a lawsuit seeking a court order to carry out the mandate of the law. Additional state funds will be required.

Along with these programs are the costly new Schools of Medicine at East Tennessee State University and Veterinary Medicine at U.T. Knoxville. Several legislators

Loudon FFA Builds 53 Nesting Boxes

Singing, Play Are Slated

A singing and Christmas play are scheduled this weekend at the Loudon House of Prayer on Stockton Road.

The singing will be at 7:30 p.m. Saturday featuring the Hillman Quartet of Cleveland.

Sunday at 7:30 p.m. the church membership will present a Christmas Play. The public is invited to attend both services. Pastor Rev. Charles Powell said.

Lenoir City Football Coaches Resign

By Danny Gibson
Sports Editor

The Lenoir City High School varsity football program took another shot to the chin this past week when it was confirmed that head coach Henry Blackburn and his assistants Bo Burnett and Grady Thompson had all filed letters of resignation.

This leaving the football coaching chores up for immediate grasp.

Coach Blackburn, who has been in the Lenoir City athletic position since 1963, started out as the Panther freshman coach. He later was moved up to the varsity under head coach Dale Brown and as Brown left in 1974 Blackburn was hired as the head coach. Blackburn greeted his first varsity material in the spring of 1974. The team never got off the ground in a fall of hustrations and setbacks. The Panthers won only once.

This past fall, Coach Blackburn's second year as the head coach, the Panthers showed tremendous excitement and a hint of a prospective winning atmosphere. The team was not very large in size or number, but the heart and play of some of the individuals had to make the coaches and partisans close to the Lenoir City football program feel the team had an even chance of splitting the season with a .500 effort.

The spring and fall workouts graded the Panthers ready for combat. The defense seemed to be the life and blood of the team. Gang tackling and total pursuit was the theme of a Panther team in recent seasons. The offense held little imagination. Team and individual speed was not present in standard form, still the offense had its bright moments.

Nevertheless, despite the moving of the football and the fighting defense the Panthers scored few points.

Opposing teams always seemed to score more, not necessarily a lot more. The result was again another season of defeats and one triumph.

Coach Blackburn once said following a narrow loss, "This team needs to win just one of these type games and then follow with a victory the next week. We might just turn the corner. They know nothing but defeat and they try so hard in practice and they know they can't blame them so terribly for all teams make mistakes and are going to lose but a Lenoir City) are simply out manned and for the size of our school this shouldn't be the case."

Coach Blackburn hit the nail on the head and didn't realize it or just hated to dwell upon the thought.

Where has the football interest at Lenoir City gone?

A school with 900 students should "win" its share of athletic contests year in and year out. And on some of those years should be the king horse of the stables. But in football the Panthers have become only the dormant. The Panthers have not won with authority on the gridiron in the past 10 to 15 years. That is a long time.

Even the "AA" state playoff team of 1972 was never taken serious. The team was small in number, but had the determination and worked for its merits. One would have thought the program would have had a new birth from this group of players' enthusiasm. The 1973 campaign was not one for passing out cigars. The winning way of 1972 didn't carry over.

Nor has the final picture of 1974 or 1975 been so bright.

Coach Henry Blackburn has tried. He accepted a position few applied for. He thought he could turn things around and build some "old" pride and tradition that once was hand and hand with Lenoir City football and stirring seasons of victories and glamour.

Coach Blackburn tried and really tried. In fact I guess if the truth was known he has cried a few tears during his head coaching days of work and sweat to find the magic key that would lift the door of the football tomb the Panthers have stumbled into.

Blackburn sees no light above. The material to win walks the halls of our school daily. But no one seems interested in buying a part of the action. You know it takes a price to play winning athletes. You have to put some strain and work into your athletic diet.

"There are not enough of our boys, hungry enough to

Those that do play try past their normal abilities and end up hurt and with out any depth the entire team ends up hurting."

Coach Henry Blackburn and Coach Thompson will resume classroom jobs they presently hold. Coach Burnett is the principal of the Lenoir City Middle School and suspicion was that this might be his final school campus. Coach Burnett and Coach Thompson have worked with the Lenoir City football program for the past five years.

No job appointments or applications of interested grid coaches are known to have been received by the Lenoir but losing was nothing!"

I refuse to believe anyone can ever say these gentlemen did not give their all in commanding their team's performances or teaching their players the code of sportsmanship and hard play.

Loudon Girls Win, Boys Lose At Alcoa

The Loudon girls vaulted to their ninth straight win of the season last Tuesday night by shooting the nets down at Alcoa, 65-42.

Bernadette Locke set a 24 point pace that had six Lady Redskins notching points in the Loudon score book. Miss Locke hit 12 field goals for her points in just over two and one half quarters of playing time.

Loudon started off in slow form as Alcoa ran up a 3-6 lead. Bernadette Locke an-requested the Alcoa Pep Band to quiet their instruments while the game was in progress. (a rule handed out by the TSSAA). Coach Arp's plan was met unexpectedly with a technical foul and banished from the Loudon bench. A rule violation also as a takes three technicals to clear any player or coach from the playing area.

Arp left, figuring the game well in hand, leaving Loudon score keeper Jerry Foster in charge. "Coach" Foster promptly made the decision of the night for the waiting Loudon reserves as he pulled the Lady Redskin regulars and went with a new line-up. The substituting failed to affect the game as Loudon took the quarter 17-16.

The Lady Redskins hit 30 of 61 shots, which included guards playing forward in the final minutes. For a 49 percent shooting accuracy Alcoa was held to 13 field goals out of 41 shots or 29 percent. The game was "hugged" along for the Tornadocets at the foul line as they attempted 32 shots and made 16. Loudon hit five of 12.

Julie Locke's 10 rebounds led Loudon in rebounding. The Loudon boys were not as successful as the girls, bowing 37-49. The Redskins were all even at 28-28 at halftime, but the Tornadocets came out strong in the third act, 15-41.

Loudon got a balanced effort in the first half as neither team could do the other. Dick Melton's eight points in the second period was actually the best individual effort of any player in dominating the action for the whole game.

Melton finished the game as high scorer for the Redskins with 12 points.

Steve Millsaps, Mark Harrell, Terry Viars, and Marion Brown all had their moments of offense.

Foul shots proved the difference in the game as both teams hit 19 field goals for the lead. Alcoa damped in several charity tosses in the third quarter as they grabbed the lead 43-32. Each team managed four field goals in the stanza.

Loudon made just 11 of 22 free throws and missed the front end of seven one-plus ones.

Alcoa made 19 of 26 at the foul station.

Loudon Girls Streak Halted At Nine

The Loudon girls dropped their first game of the season Friday night, following nine straight victories, 60-51.

Unbeaten Maryville Everett, who will probably wind up number two in the state in the Class AAA behind Bradley County, broke away from a tight game in the third quarter to hand Loudon the loss.

The Lady Redskins had played about as well as they were capable in the first half and trailed by only 30-27. Loudon had led at one juncture of the second quarter 22-21 with 4:16 left in the half. Dandy junior sharpshooter Bernadette Locke, enjoying a tremendous first half, registered a three point play off a drive and gave Loudon its lone lead of the night.

The Lady Redskins had to go without the full services of regular Jennie Lefler, who has lost some 15 pounds due to a ear and throat infection and was available to limited duties only.

Nevertheless Loudon was never surer in the first half. Bernadette Locke tacked up 21 points and the Loudon guards did excellent.

The third quarter was just not Loudon's cup of tea. All three forwards missed shots that has been automatic for games past. Everett used the cold spell to gain a working margin.

Sylvia Hawkins, who played well, hit two field goals and a pair of foul shots as she tried to shoulder the third quarter problems for Loudon.

Loudon settled down in the final frame, Jennie Lefler playing most of the seven minutes hit 10 of her 12 points for the game, several of which came from about four rows deep in "the second balcony" from a tight game in the third quarter to hand Loudon the loss.

WHAT DO YOU THINK REF—Loudon's hustling junior forward Bernadette Locke seems to be questioning the referee as to who the ball was last touched by. The Loudon gunner had 27 points against Everett.

The Loudon boys lost composure in the final 64 seconds of the game last Friday night with Maryville Everett and ended up losing a nip-and-tuck game 56-53.

The Redskins trailed early by 8-4 but rallied on strong defensive pressure and a pattern offense. Loudon rolled to a 10-8 advantage only to have the visitors reel off six straight points. Randy Davis and a determined drive by Steve Millsaps closed the gap to 14-13 at the end of the first period.

Loudon jumped to a 23-19 lead as Davis banked one off the glass and Marlon Brown slammed in an offensive rebound to break a 19-19 deadlock.

Davis hit again from the left wing to make the score 25-21 with 2:50 left in the first half. Loudon was all even at 25-25 at intermission as point guard Terry Viars had picked the Everett zone to death with sharp passes for nine Loudon field goals.

The Bulldogs came out in a pressure man-to-man defense in the second half and double teamed the Loudon guards on occasions. The result was a series of Loudon turnovers giving Everett the lead.

Loudon regrouped on the guard play of reserve Mark Blair and could have tied the game by the end of the quarter had Rick Melton been able to find the handle of a easy lay-up pass from Blair in the final 30 seconds of action. Loudon did beat the buzzer for a basket by Blair as Mark Harrell rebounded strongly and whipped a floor length pass to the speeding Blair for a lay-up at the end of the third period gym.

The Redskins lost their top offensive rebounder of this game, Marlon Brown, with 32 seconds left in the third quarter on five fouls.

Still the Redskins continued to find steady team play from the bench as Steve Millsaps returned from a rest to connect from the corner at the five minute mark for a 47-47 tie.

The game went right down to the wire with each team swapping baskets but again the double team pressure of the Loudon point guard and a full court press in the last minute had its toll on the Redskins. Everett scored

Loudon Fresh Cagers Split Season Opener

The Loudon freshman basketball teams traveled to McMinn County last Thursday night.

The Loudon girls, coached by Loudon varsity girls coach Dewayne Arp, captured their game by a score of 47-36.

Freshman Cathy Delaney burned the nets for 27 points in picking the win. Bono Byrd added 14 in the first frosh showing of the season.

The young Lady Redskins spurred to a 19-6 first quarter lead and were never headed.

The Loudon freshman boys under the direction of assistant varsity boys coach Jim Hamilton saw the Cherokees come from behind to post a 54-44 win.

Loudon squeaked out a 7-6 first period edge and had a 21-18 margin by intermission, but the host Cherokees out shot Loudon for a 33-31 score at the close of three quarters.

McMinn controlled the final act with an eight point difference to win going away.

Jody Russell and Ben Fields were the big guns for Loudon chumping in 20 and 18 points respectively.

Walland Takes Close Wins From Greenback Hoop Teams

CLOSE TO THE BASKET—Greenback guard Roddy Kizer is on the spot for an easy tip in as he ripped the nets at Walland last Friday night for 38 points, his top performance of the season. The junior is averaging 26.3 points a game and hitting 58 percent from the floor thus far this season. Steve Linginfelter (52) is also in on the rebounding play.

ANDERSON BLOCKS SHOT—Greenback guard Robin Anderson gets a portion of this shot as teammate Debbie Childs goes for the ball at Walland Friday night.

The Greenback Cherokees basketball teams are making things close and exciting even if they are not winning all of their games.

The Greenback girls are just about to break into the big time of the District III Class A distaff competition. Coach Jerry Masingo's roster still lacks that little inkling of confidence that is needed to win the close ones. But the victories are sure to come soon and when they do may become a lasting thrill as the present varsity has led one senior (Debbie Childs) on the starting six and this team is already termed veteran stock.

The Cherokees were noted last Friday by Walland last Friday night 39-21 on a basket in the last six seconds of the game.

Greenback had led by seven points on two occasions, trailed by as much as four at one stage and then rallied to tie the contest on seven separate times.

Down by a 37-34 count with 1:40 to play the Greenback distaff roared back and held a 38-37 lead with 17 seconds to play. Walland scored and the visiting Cherokees lassies failed to convert in the final four seconds of play.

Pam Neely had her best game of the season with 28 points. The sophomore hit on 13 of 52 shots while Greenback hit 18 field goals in 52 attempts for the night.

SETS PACE FOR GREENBACK DISTAFF—Greenback sophomore forward Pam Neely accounted for 28 big points as the Cherokees fell to Walland last Friday night 39-38.

part.

Greenback made just 12 turnovers a vast improvement to some of their latest showings.

Walland made 18 field goals also and the difference came at the foul stripe as the Indian set his three of eight as compared to GB's two of eight.

The Greenback boys rallied from a 14-5 first quarter deficit to draw even at 25-25 by halftime but could not hold the course down the stretch as Walland prevailed 64-57.

W... and hit a high percent in the third quarter to pretty much decide the contest.

TWO FOR JIMMY—Greenback forward Jimmy Russell accounts for his lone two points at Walland with this jump shot.

Roddy Kizer again having a standard performance hit 16 of 24 shots in recording 38 points for the game. The individual output was the best in East Tennessee basketball Friday night.

Kizer also had 14 rebounds to pace the board action. Greenback hit 22 of 60 shots while Walland made 24 of 61.

Greenback Opens Throttle On HC Basketball Teams

The Greenback Cherokees Academy last Tuesday night with a pair of impressive hoop wins.

The Greenback girls used 14 players to hang a one-sided 31-19 loss on the Lionsettes.

Coach Jerry Masingo saw his first team forwards, Chir Tipton, Marti Myers and Pam Neely roll to a convincing 30-2 Cheryl Belcher had eight rebounds and five fouls to top the Greenback stingy defense. (Gay Shepherd pulled down nine retrieves.

The Greenback girls hit 36 of 87 shots, about twice their normal playing speed to record their second win.

The Greenback boys were not to be out done as they stepped the Lions 30-51.

Roddy Kizer had 27 points, Harold Hawkins 12 and Steve Linginfelter 18 for Greenback's top three shooters.

Ten Cherokees scored points and was in command all the way.

The Greenback shooting was at its season's best 38 of 65 for 58 percent. The Cherokees had a bad night at the foul line making only four of 24 for the game.

Kizer (12), Hawkins (10), and Linginfelter (11) teamed to lead the Greenback rebounding in a 47-29 edge.

The youngsters started out a little conservative, but once the action got into the second half it was open fire on the HC goals.

Jackie Hall led the Cherokee distaff with 22 points. Robin Kizer had 16 on eight field goals and Jackie McNeely 13 points. Marti Myers 13 counters in the first seven minutes led the regulars.

Did You Know?

According to CBS news, a state by state survey revealed the following harvest figures for one season. More than two million deer, almost 100,000 elk, 77,000 antelope, more than 17,000 bears, 31.5 million squirrels, 27 million rabbits, 11 million ducks, 1.5 million geese and more than 94 million upland game birds.

The actual numbers are probably higher since not all states keep records. Think what this enormous harvest means in terms of recreation, dollars added to the economy, and additional protein for American families.

Maiden's Grocery in Clarkfield and the W & W Sports Center in Harrogate will be the check stations for this hunt.

The Last Hunt (gun-archery) hunt on December 18-21. This is a buck only hunt with no hunder quotas. A permit, available from any license agent, will be required.

Early Bulldog Scoring Guns Down LC

The Everett Bulldogs broke open a close game in the middle stages of the first period with a 13-point outburst and went on to defeat the Panthers from Lenoir City, 76-65, last Tuesday night.

SURROUNDED—Loudon guard Pam Eivens finds her self being guarded as she tries to pass off in Loudon's freshman game at McMinn County last Thursday night.

Lenoir City never led in the contest, but an early barrage by Grayling Littleton kept the Panthers close. His three consecutive field goals closed the gap to two on three occasions, the last at 8-6 with 3:55 left to play in the opening scene.

A three point play started the Bulldogs off and running and with 41 seconds left in the quarter the home team, after another field goal, had a 25-9 edge.

Terry Parton scored for the visitors to cut the gap to 25-11 and after a 14-point swap-out in the second period the two teams were at intermission with Everett maintaining the same margin at 41-27.

A charge by Ronnie Hendrix, Parton and Grayling Littleton forced a timeout on the Bulldog side of the court with the count reading 43-31 early in the fourth period, but a fast finish in the closing minutes of the quarter carried the Bulldogs to a 61-41 margin at the end of the third stop.

The Panthers started a counterattack in the final act but after cutting the distance to 10, Grayling Littleton and Ronnie Hendrix were lost on fouls and Everett sealed up their fourth victory in seven games this season.

All five starters for the winners were in double figures. Grayling Littleton led the Panthers with 27 points. Hendrix and Parton scored 13 points each and Petie Littleton tallied 10 points. The winners converted 32 of 69 from the field for a 47 percent mark. Lenoir City, shooting 37 percent, finished with 27 of 72.

The Panthers won the battle of the boards, 41-33, with Petie Littleton leading everybody with 13. Grayling Littleton and Hendrix were next with 10 and nine recoveries.

The unbeaten Everett Bulldogs outscored Lenoir City Girls in every period to run their winning streak to seven this season with a 66-37 decision.

The Panthers, who lost to Everett in the semi-finals of the regional tournament last season, stayed close for a quarter. After taking a 12-6 lead at the end of the first stop, Everett won the second period, 19-12, and piled up an 18-4 advantage in the third quarter.

Six points by Patty Cook and a field goal by Betsy Powell matched a pair of buckets by Everett forwards in the early going, but another field goal and a bucket on the last tick of the first period by Sam Lee put the home team ahead to stay.

Lee, scoring 11 points, quickly moved the margin to 20-10 at halftime despite four field goals by Cook. The Everett defense of Janice Mayes, who pulled down 21 defensive rebounds, Kathy Pratt and Lori Merriman allowed only a pair of field goals and Everett was ahead 40-24 going into the final frame.

Lee (29) and Telfelteller (34) were best for the winners. Cook, running her total point production to 207 in eight games, was best for Lenoir City with 14. Pam Thomas (10), Sharon Liles (5), Powell (4) and Janet Redmond (2) completed the scoring for the losers.

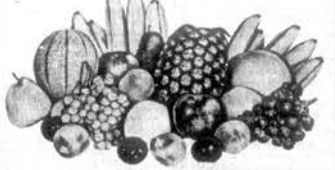

Everett shot 64 percent, 29 of 45 to set up the Bulldogs as the top team to beat in Region 1, AAA, basketball. Lenoir City hit 18 of 32 shots and made just one of five foul shots.

PURDY LAUNCHES—Loudon freshman forward Kelly Purdy zips up a long one hand shot as the Redskins lasses defeated McMinn County last Thursday.

Gumbo's Sextet Takes Early Lead

Gumbo's women's basketball team has taken an early one game lead in the Loudon Recreation Women's Basketball standings.

The Glendale based sextet is 2-0 after a week of play. In the season opener Gumbo defeated the VFW 42-27 behind the 16 point play of Judy Tipton. Rosie Watson paced the VFW with 23 points.

Judy Tipton with 23 points and 21 by Tuck carried Gumbo to their second win on Thursday night over Smith Chair Company 60-43.

Sandy Broden was tops for the game with 30 points. The VFW turned things around to even their record with a 27-43 triumph over French's. Rosie Watson again led the VFW with 27 points. Lynda Hawkins netted 15 for French's.

Bulldogs Put Bite On Loudon In Final 64 Seconds

Greenback rode the 20 point shooting of Kathy Broome to hand Harriman their second loss 48-29. Carolyn Butler tallied 13 for the Roane Countians.

Mark Jarrell had 14 points and 10 rebounds.

Marion Brown and Steve Millsaps each had eight points (twice) and a final period interception each things at 36-35.

Randy Davis led Loudon with 17 points, eight in the final quarter and six of those were from the foul line.

and eight rebounds. All of Brown's retrieves were on the offensive boards.

Loudon was the backboarder 27 to 12.

Everett was a better shooting team with 25 for 50 in the game. Loudon hit 21 of 47 shots for 44.7 percent.

Court Approves Blair Bend

MAJOR MAKES POINT—London Mayor Gene Lambert gestured with his hand as he answers a question by Squire Jim Blair in an informal session between the court and City Council during a recess of court Monday night. In the meeting the court approved participating with the city in the development of the Blair Bend Industrial Park.

Consolidation Prior To Comprehensive School

consolidation of the two systems would have to take place before the county board would consider such a move. Wampler said that even though a building program is now under study to relieve problems in the lower grades the county some day will need to consider a high school for county students not attending Lenoir City High from the Eaton, Highland Park, Dixie Lee and adjoining areas of Lenoir City.

Wampler said he felt that about a year ago consolidation of the Lenoir City and County systems might be a possibility in the near future, but the issue now seems to be further away than it ever has been. Greenback board member John M. Hutton said that he would be against any attempt to build a comprehensive high school because it would force Greenback students into schools in Blount County. He said to him the Greenback students to a comprehensive school in Lenoir City or anywhere would not be acceptable to the people in Greenback.

Handolph said that the board has already selected the direction it is taking in its present building program, that consolidation should be kept in mind, but it is not an issue immediately as far as the county is concerned, and the board needs to concentrate its efforts on the present building program.

J. B. Hagler agreed saying, "I'm not sure we can change directions in mid-stream. Lenoir City has not indicated consolidation is what it wants and we must move forward with our present program."

Chairman Wampler said he felt the biggest problem facing the county board is taking the building program to County Court in February. "What we ask those fellows for and what we get for this program is going to be a big difference."

The county is expecting a building program of $5 million or more over five years, but Wampler expects the court will not provide that much in funds even though the state commissioner of education says that an entire program must be presented to court, the first priority fund, and guarantees that the remainder of the program funds guaranteed.

Hagler said that if funding the proposed building program is a problem there is no need for the county to think of a comprehensive high school.

Ted Handolph disagrees saying that if the board presents a total program of priorities spread over a specific number of years he feels the court will go along with the board requests.

Board member Leonard Liles says that until 1981 the county debt payments are so high he feels that funds will be limited until that time, but if the board approaches the program a little at a time he feels the court will be receptive.

Chairman Wampler concluded the discussion by saying "it is an evident fact as long as there are two systems we are not interested in a comprehensive high school. In event of consolidation we would be in a position to look at it."

Parents Don't Show
A request of a Glendale School parents group to have an item on the agenda asking for the transfer of children from that school to Greenback did not materialize. No one showed to address the board of the proposal. Dick Waterhouse of the Glendale PTA, present at the meeting, said that no one within the PTA was aware of the request.

Building Program
Superintendent Headlee reported that the building program architect had completed measurements of all the county buildings involved in the building program and was now concentrating their efforts on getting plans ready on Philadelphia School. The board's first priority in the program. He said that meetings had been held with the Philadelphia principal and faculty concerning the design and needs of the building. Cost estimates on the entire program and the completed drawings on them have been ready in January for board consideration he said.

Three Revisions in the policy dealing with students were approved by the board after representation by Ted Handolph and Gary Kimsey.

The revisions including using the words "high school" when referring married students to remain in school. The second drops students that are married when in the elementary grades, but enrollment of them to use homebound or adult education to complete their elementary education. They would be able to re-enter school as a high school student.

The third an unmarried student would be dropped if pregnant, but could return to school if the pregnancy is terminated by the principal and guidance counselor of the school.

Cybernetic Use
A continuation of a discussion from the previous board meeting concerning non-school use of school facilities took over an hour of the board's time.

At the last meeting a group of Highland Park residents asked that the board clarify its policy on the use of the school gymnasium. They said that they had been told that the use of the gym for a Demolay basketball game.

The board's policy leaves the decision of the school facilities to the principal. Highland Park principal East Thomas told the board that it was his decision not to allow school facilities to be used by non-school groups and except for the school PTA and a workshop that has been at the school for two years, the facilities were closed to public use after school.

He said that although the person who stays at the school when it is in use gets a minimum of $10 or $5 per hour, there have been problems of misuse of the facilities and equipment. He said that while a church basketball league there last year there were problems of misuse of equipment being stolen and a number of disturbances. He said that he would like to have the facilities in good condition and felt it was more important to have the facilities available for school use. He said he and his teachers did not want to have their spare time sitting in the buildings while they were being used seven or eight hours a week. He said that the board policy left it up to the principal of the school to decide on the use of the facility and it was his decision not to make the building available to anyone and that the principal at Steelee School had taken the same attitude.

There was considerable discussion on what was said at the last meeting and about the use of other buildings in the system, but the matter ended up with no changes in the policy, but various board members made it clear they would like to see some way designed to let the various communities make use of school facilities.

Varner Named
Charles Varner of Loudon was named by the board to conduct a survey of routes by school buses in the county. The survey will be used by a board committee to determine what if any changes can be made in the bus transportation of the system. Varner will be paid not more than $100 for the task which will take about 30 school days to complete.

Maintenance
Superintendent Headlee was complimentary of the new county-wide maintenance team saying that there has been "remarkable" improvements in the schools through their efforts. He said that there are still problems but they are being taken care of on a day to day basis. "We will almost catch up on the hundreds of maintenance problems this year," the superintendent said.

Budget
Headlee reported that the state legislature changed a law which gives the school board until May to present its tentative budget to county court instead of April. He said that he expects to have the board start serious work on budget documents in March.

Pays For Band Trip
The board approved payment of $475.50 in transportation expenses of the Loudon High Band to the semi-final and championship football games in Maryville and Murfreesboro. Headlee explained that the band paid for their own transportation to each game, but had no way to plan for the two additional trips. The expense covered the use of two buses to each game. The payment was approved on a motion by board members Kimsey and W. D. McCarroll.

Randolph Concerned
Ted Randolph, chairman of the board's bus transportation committee, said he has discovered that in 1965 the mileage per day for school buses was 988 and this year, 10 years later it is 1,140 miles per day. He said this costs the county another $150 a day and he wonders where the additional miles are coming from.

Skins Congratulated
A motion by the board approved a resolution congratulating the Loudon Football Team on their AA Football Championship.

IBM Proposal
Joe Bird and Ron Henry, educational sales representatives of the IBM company presented a 55 minute program to the board on equipment that would add new concepts to the business education program at Loudon High School. It included 20 new electric IBM typewriters, an electrical transcription program, to complement the shorthand program and other equipment.

They offered the equipment on a lease-purchase program that would cost the county $53.50 per month. They were allowed $20 each for 20 used manual typewriters now in use at the school.

The board asked that the business teacher at Loudon attend the next meeting to answer her desires in the proposal.

Greenback Sr. Trip
The board approved excusing the Greenback High Seniors from school from April 14-18 (which includes two school days) to make a senior trip to Washington D. C.

Personnel Changes
The board approved the hiring of Ginger Crabtree as language arts instructor at Loudon Junior High.

Leaves of absence were approved for Carolyn Black and of Loudon High and Kathy Waller of Loudon Elementary from Jan. 19 to June 1, because of pregnancy. Leave was also approved for Mary Alice Childs of Eaton from Jan. 5 to June 1.

Rufus B. Watson was the agreement in which the Blair and Webb farmland would not be annexed, except that part that is obtained for rights of way.

Mr. Lambert said the entire concept of the industrial park was to save the taxpayers money. He said that there are two ways a government can get funds to support the programs it has. One by additional property tax, and the other is to broaden the tax base. He said that the creation of an industrial park to attract industry that pays a large amount of taxes would help solve the need to add extra burden on the individual property owner.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb made it clear that despite any agreements they did not favor the park.

In reply to questions of why the city did not know the exact location of roads and utilities, City Manager Gary Hensley said that until the city is assured it has all the financing needed it would not be possible for them to proceed with the project and the costly engineering and design work would be useless if it then proved that sufficient funds could not be obtained.

"When we are funded we intend to work as closely with the Blairs, Webbs and any other property owner to give them every consideration possible in selecting rights of way into the Williamson farm," Hensley said.

Squire Vann said he felt that the city had been very open in their proposals and keeping the project in full public view.

The informal session of the court with the Loudon Council and the Webbs was recessed to allow Hensley to get a set of the preliminary engineering plans. During this time Squire Vann and Hartsock conferred and Hartsock stated he would be agreeable to county participation in the project by paying a portion of the Marmont in-lieu of tax payments to pay interest on the money if the initial resolution and amendments were made.

Burris projects that the firm will have 10 employees after one year, and over 50 employees within five years.

The company is now family owned and operated and is planned at a later time to include a greater number of stockholders.

Case Ends

In Non-Suit

A lawsuit asking nearly a million dollars in personal injury damages by former Loudon High School cafeteria worker and her husband, against three firms ended in a non-suit for two of the firms and outright dismissal on the other.

Mrs. Minnie Sharp and her husband, C.T. Sharp were seeking damages for injuries and illness caused Mrs. Sharp from the inhalation of chemicals from a dishwasher.

Judge Willard Kittrell, after three days of testimony before a jury, dismissed the case involving defendants HIR Food Distributors and U.S. Chemical Corporation. Dismissed from the lawsuit was Hobart Equipment Company.

It is understood that the attorneys for the Sharps will refile against the two firms.

All other cases in the final week of Circuit Court were either settled or continued. Court Clerk Billy Joe Atkins said.

An Account of a Visit from St. Nicholas.

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse;
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care,
In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there;
The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugar-plums danced in their heads;
And mamma in her 'kerchief, and I in my cap,
Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap;
When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from the bed to see what was the matter.

Away to the window I flew like a flash,
Tore open the shutters and threw up the sash.
The moon, on the breast of the new-fallen snow,
Gave the lustre of mid-day to objects below,
When, what to my wondering eyes should appear,
Darted a miniature sleigh, and eight tiny reindeer,
With a little old driver, so lively and quick,
I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick.

More rapid than eagles his courses they came,
And he whistled, and shouted, and called them by name:
"Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now, Prancer and Vixen!
On, Comet! on, Cupid! on, Donder and Blitzen!
To the top of the porch! to the top of the wall!
Now dash away! dash away! dash away all!"

As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky;
So up to the house-top the obstacles they flew,
With the sleigh full of Toys, and St. Nicholas too.
And then, in a twinkling, I heard on the roof

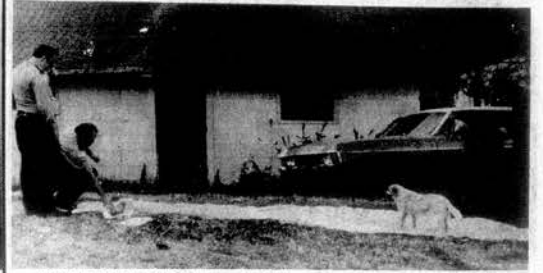

The pattering and pawing of each little hoof—
As I drew in my head, and was turning around,
Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound.

He was dressed all in fur, from his head to his foot,
And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot;
A bundle of Toys he had flung on his back,
And he look'd like a pedlar just opening his pack.

His eyes—how they twinkled! His dimples how merry!
His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry;
His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
And the beard of his chin was as white as the snow;
The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,
And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath;
He had a broad face and a little round belly,
That shook, when he laughed, like a bowl full of jelly.

He was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf,
And I laughed, when I saw him, in spite of myself;
A wink of his eye and a twist of his head,
Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread;
He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work,
And fill'd all the stockings then turned with a jerk,
And laying his finger aside of his nose,
And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose;
He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
And away they all flew like the down of a thistle;
But I heard him exclaim, ere he drove out of sight,
"Happy Christmas to all, and to all a good night!"

On Christmas Eve, 1822, Clement C. Moore composed this poem as a present to his six children. Although it was not published until many years later, its 28 couplets became the most famous Christmas poem ever written. Today, the people of Union Carbide bring it to you with their best wishes for a very Merry Christmas.

TWO CHILDREN INJURED—Two small children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Townsend, 802 A Street in Lenoir City, narrowly escaped serious injury or death Sunday when the family car rolled over them in the backyard of the home. Officers are observing the scene. The children were playing on the blanket when the car, unattended, rolled back and into the side of the house. The children are Georgia Leason, 2, who was admitted to Loudon County Memorial Hospital for observation. The car reportedly rolled over her chest. The other child was three year old Tammy Michelle, who had head and back injuries. She was treated and released Lenoir City Police Chief Clifton Williams said.

Christmas Holidays
This Friday, Dec. 19 at 1:00 p.m., the annual Christmas holidays begin for all Loudon County schools. Schools will re-open Monday, Jan. 5, 1976. Those of us in the schools of Loudon County want to take this opportunity to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and a most Happy New Year!

Additional Revenue
As 1975 draws to a close and 1976 begins, let all of us support the members of the Loudon County Council as they search for additional revenues to handle our long-needed school building program as well as our overdue teacher salary raises and our out-of-date handling for instructional materials.

Certainly we can all make a new year's resolution to assist the County Court members in their efforts to fund those very needed educational requirements.

If we do not want our children to receive a second-class education, why should we continue to fund the schools in a second-class manner?

Local Annual Family Food Bill $2,440

Loudon County residents may not be eating as high on the hog as they did in more prosperous times but they are eating as plentifully, it appears.

The average family is going in for fewer steaks and other fancy cuts than normally but is not going hungry. It is substituting less expensive items, preparing less elaborate meals and doing less dining out.

In terms of quantity, local people continue to be stowing away edibles in considerable volume. On the basis of their purchases in food stores and their expenditures in restaurants, their weekly consumption figures out to about 29 pounds per capita.

In that respect, the change since 1972, locally and in most parts of the United States, has been small, despite the fact that the cost of food has gone up sharply.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that the average American household of 2.8 persons spent $40.05 a week for food last year, as against $30.32 toward the end of 1972. This is exclusive of alcoholic beverages.

The figures on food consumption and on the amount of money used for that purpose come from the Department of Agriculture, the Labor Department and other sources.

During the past year, they show, the diet of the average American consisted of 188 pounds of meat, including 116 pounds of beef, approximately 60 pounds of fish and poultry, 285 eggs, 123 pounds of potatoes, 247 pounds of milk and cream, 107 pounds of wheat flour, and 52.5 pounds of fats and oils, not to mention fruits, vegetables, cereals and other products.

In Loudon County, the cost of eating on this average scale came to approximately $2,440 per household last year.

For families living on farms, the outlay was considerable lower than this and, for urban families, somewhat greater. Nationally it averaged $2,080 per household.

Telephone Excise Tax To Reduce Local Bills

Telephone customers in Tennessee will pay less federal excise tax on their telephone service beginning January 1, 1976, according to W.N. Calvert, South Central Bell's local manager.

On bills rendered on or after that date, the federal excise tax rate on local and long distance charges will be reduced one per cent, from seven to six.

The reduction results from an act passed by Congress in 1970, which calls for the gradual reduction of the federal excise tax rate on telephone service. It will continue to be reduced one per cent a year until it is completely eliminated in 1982.

POPULAR FELLOW—The City of Greenback held a reception and Christmas Music program last week with the honored guest at the reception being Santa Claus. Here the jolly fellow is the center of attraction as dozens of Greenback's young residents place their Christmas orders.

THE GREENBACK BAND is pictured playing Christmas music for a town program held last week attended by several hundred residents.

RC Furnishes 117 Gifts For Veterans

Some 117 Christmas gifts have been sent to the Veterans at VA Hospital at Mountain Home through the efforts of the Loudon County Chapter of the American Red Cross, Chapter Chairman Fred Smith announced.

The organizations making contributions were the Pilot Club, Suberba Woman's Club, Coyote, Lenoir City Woman's Club, Senior Clonian Club, Cumberland Presbyterian Ladies, Keystone Class of Central Methodist, Ruth Class, Fideles Class of First Baptist, Mr. and Mrs. Haze Houk all of Lenoir City, Loudon Woman's Club, Loudon Methodist Adult Fellowship, and Loudon Lion's Club. Greenback Community Club Ladies Bible Class of the Philadelphia First Baptist Church.

The guests were requested through the VA Hospital at Johnson City. The Chapter has been active in the program for quite some time. The only gifts many of the Mountain Home Veterans receive at Christmas come through the efforts of the Red Cross gift program. The gifts benefit some 200 persons.

The Loudon County Chapter also sends 80 birthday gifts during the year to the hospital. Many of the organizations that participate in the Christmas program also support the birthday gift efforts.

Chairman Smith said that without the cooperation and representation of the donations by organizations through the chapter the local goal could not be met.

THE GRASSCUTTERS football team, League Champions were gathered in front of the fireplace on their float in the Loudon parade.

OLD FASHION CHRISTMAS was carried out with a family scene at Christmas. The float was sponsored by the Lenoir City Future Farmers of America.

CAT DUMPED—A large piece of construction equipment being hauled on a flatbed truck was almost dumped into the creek at Pond Creek Mill Wednesday when it fell off the truck. A guard rail saved the expensive machine from being heavily damaged. Here a wrecker is shown getting it back on the road. It was released on the Curtis Brothers truck and sent to Oklahoma.

The delegates also elected Carl A. Smith of Lenoir City and Joe Amburn of Loudon as first and second alternates to the committee.

Other members of the County Committee are John M. Hutton of Greenback and C.V. Duff of Lenoir City. The committee is responsible for local administration of government farm programs such as Agricultural Conservation, Production Adjustment and Marketing Quotas, Price Support, and Storage Facility and Drying Equipment loans, and such other programs as may be directed by the Secretary of Agriculture.

The vacancies were filled by farmer-delegates who are newly-elected ASC community committeemen for 1976. Community committeemen assist the county committee in farm program administration and help keep farmers informed of program provisions.

Three From Here In UT Honor Chapter

Honored at the initiation banquet was Dr. Andrew D. Holt, president emeritus of UT, who was given the Distinguished Member Plaque in honor of his election as Distinguished Member of the National Board of Trustees. He is the twenty-first member of the board.

The initiates from Loudon County are: Randall David Harris and Thomas Eugene Gibson, both of Lenoir City and William Dale Amburn of Loudon.

Humane Society Asks Help

Members of the newly formed Loudon Humane Society have made much progress in recent weeks. Through cooperation of the Lenoir City Council, improvements have been made at the existing city pound located at the old city dump. These changes assure better treatment of animals confined at the Lenoir City pound until a new shelter can be developed.

Charter application papers have been submitted to the Secretary of State in Nashville.

The Society is presently investigating possibilities of developing in association with Mr. Bob Proaps, Director of Environmental Services at the Loudon County Health Dept., proposals for a county wide animal shelter.

The next meeting of the LCHS is on Thurs., Dec. 18 at 7 p.m. at the Justice Center. All interested persons are urged to attend.

PLEASE HELP!

The Loudon County Humane Society needs your support.

3 Simple Ways To Save Electric Heat

With minimum effort and little or no money, here is a trio of tips to cut electric usage of your house.

Tack clear plastic over the outside of your home's windows and screen doors. This creates a dead air space that will slow the loss of heat.

When the sun is shining, open the curtains and drapes to let in this free and natural heat.

Reduce your need for heat by insulating yourself. Wear longjohns topped with a heavy shirt and, if you're really chilly, a thick sweater.

This church, as well as others in Loudon, have been a part of our town's rich history. All of us are proud of their influence in our lives and the lives of those who have lived in our town for all the passing years.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

One of our pictures this week is a church group. The picture was taken at the Loudon Methodist Church. We don't know what year it was, but it possibly was taken in the 20's. It is at the old church building, which burned a

Rev. Harrell Russell loaned us this picture so long ago we are ashamed to mention the time. Anyway, Rev. Russell is trying to identify those in this old picture. Maybe you can help. I am sure he will greatly appreciate your help.

Our other picture this week is a comical shot of what not to do when you have a flat tire. This couple has not only had a flat, but they have also wore the rim off of the old spoke wheel which was made of wood in those days. Thought you might get a kick out of this. No, it was not anybody local.

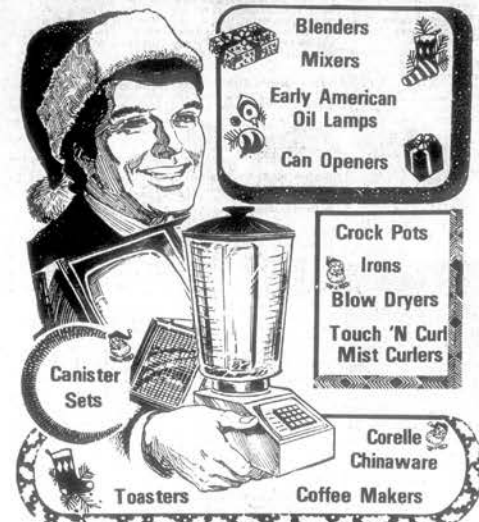

This time of year we always think of our childhood days and how Christmas was then. In saying what we will, there is no intention of knocking Christmas as it is today. It always makes me happy when people have more to enjoy. No, I wouldn't want to go back to the way things were in those days. I would be foolish if I did, but to recall those years, seen as they were, affords us a lot of happiness and joy.

Those were the depression years and times were pretty hard. Many children were taught as I was, that if you had plenty to eat and nothing else, you should be thankful for that. For our youngsters, yes, we had Christmas trees. They were ones we would go out and cut ourselves. Most folks in the country would give a boy a tree off their farm. We had to walk out to cut them and walk back dragging or carrying a tree. The decorations at our house were handmade for the most part with maybe an ornament here and there, but, there was an unexplainable atmosphere of love and family togetherness felt everywhere.

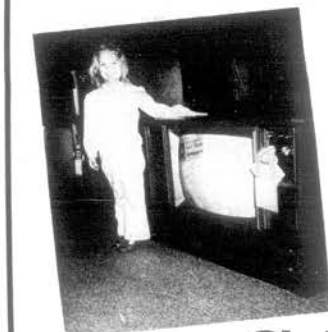

Our treat usually consisted of a gallon of apples, a gallon of oranges and a box of pep-permit stick candy. If you have never cut a hole in an orange and stuck a stick of peppermint candy in it and sucked the sweet nectar, then you have missed something. I don't know about you, or how it would taste today, but what a memory for me. Well, that's it for now.

Loudon High School principal Jim Gibson said that he most probably will resign the administrative position at the end of the present year. Gibson has been the school for 20 years, succeeding Napier who was a traffic accident.

Gibson, also a football coach for three years, said coaching and teaching cannot do the kind of a job as a coach. He is required of a long-term coaching stay in coaching football and having a Superintendent Headlee after retirement as a coach. Mr. Gibson said that Gibson would like to resign the post of principal this year, but a teacher-coach. Dutton, formerly coached at Loudon, quit his position to return to school to receive a doctorate degree working for the educational co-Johnson City.

The Superintendent will return to the Loudon County. Headlee stated he to see Gibson's principalship because he has standing job and and respected by and faculty. The superintendent said the vacancy at Loudon be up to the Education to the principal but recommend Dr. post.

Gibson May Give Up Principalship At Loudon High

Loudon High School Principal Jim Gibson said this week that he most probably will resign the administration position at the school at the end of the present school year. Gibson has been principal at the school for about three years, succeeding William Napier who was killed in a traffic accident. Gibson, also assistant football coach for the past three years, said he loves coaching and feels that he cannot do the kind of job that is required of a principal as long as he is coaching. "I want to stay in coaching. I love football and have talked to Superintendent Edward Headlee about returning to the classroom as a teacher and coach," Mr. Gibson said. Superintendent Headlee said that Gibson told him he would like to relinquish the post of principal at the end of this year, but remain as a teacher-coach. Headlee also said that there have been discussions between him, Gibson and Dr. Gary Dutton about the possibility of Dutton returning to Loudon as principal of the high school should Gibson give up the job. Dutton, from Loudon, formerly taught and coached at Loudon High. He quit his position there to return to school to obtain his doctorate degree. He has been working for the past year in an educational cooperative in Johnson City.

The Superintendent said that it is possible that Dutton will return to the classroom in Loudon County anyway. Headlee stated he would like to see Gibson leave the principalship at Loudon because he has done a very good standing job and is well liked and respected by his students and faculty. The Superintendent said that if there is a vacancy at Loudon High it will be up to the Board of Education to hire the new principal but he would recommend Dr. Dutton for the post.

There has been some mention of Gibson in a head coaching job in a neighboring county. Gibson said that he is aware of the fact his name has been mentioned as a possible head coach at Kingston High where he once was an assistant, but he said there is no vacancy there. Kingston coach, Jens Plennos, according to the Roane County News, will make a decision during the Christmas holidays on whether or not he will continue as the head mentor at Kingston. Coach Gibson, who helped build two State Championship teams at Loudon, stated the mention of the head coaching job at Kingston is strictly speculation and rumor, but he is keeping all options open concerning his future at Loudon or elsewhere.

Christmas Popular With Local Thieves

For some reason the Christmas season is one of the favorite times for thieves and burglars. Sheriff Guy Russell this week, in the wake of a rash of home and auto break-ins, warned residents to lock their homes and cars when they are unattended. Five guns were stolen from Jack Randall Harris home on Old Midway Road Wednesday, Rt. 4, Lenoir City. Deputy Lucian Kent listed as taken a Barrett 12 gauge over and under shotgun, Remington Model 747, 30-06 rifle, western holster gun case, Remington 22 automatic rifle, Smith and Wesson .38 caliber. Total value of the items was put at $700.

Thursday a break-in at the home of W. G. E. Murrell, Road, Rt. 3, Loudon was investigated by Deputy Allen Clemmer. Taken was a seven millimeter army rifle and a mink stole.

A portable color television set, a 220 volt electric heater, two sets of solid brass candle holders, an antique seven piece silver service valued at $700 and a pocket knife were taken from the James M. Hair home on Loudon Ridge Road, Rt. 4, Lenoir City Thursday. A report filed by Deputy Clemmer Friday told of a larceny of a number of items from a room at the Inn of Lenoir City Thursday night. The night clerk said a man from Georgia who had just registered asked to be moved to a room with a television set. On investigating motel employees found that not only the television was missing, but one sheet, two bath towels, one pair of hand towels, four wash cloths, three blankets, three ash trays, four pillow cases and a trash can.

COUNTY DEPUTIES Allen Clemmer and Jake Chapman look over thousands of dollars worth of stolen checks that they recovered from a Lenoir City man and a juvenile Thursday after Clemmer arrested the pair on a county road.

Suspicious Deputy Makes Big Score

Loudon County Deputy Allen Clemmer was returning to the Justice Center after investigating two break-ins Thursday afternoon when he noticed a car parked on a dead end section of old Sugar Linn Road and saw one of the two occupants trying to hide something from his view. The deputy stopped to check out the car and the investigation led to the arrest of Louis E. Craig, Jr., 20, of the Eaton Community and a juvenile. In the car Clemmer found a new reversible electric drill that had been stolen from J. J. Duggans on Highway 70, a check writer stolen about a month ago from Sanderson Distributing Corporation in Knoxville, a typewriter, about 300 checks from Specialty Steel Company and C&C Leasing Company of Knoxville, and a quantity of marijuana. Clemmer said that he called for assistance. Deputy Jake Chapman and Chief Deputy Luke Bright came to the scene. The deputy said the checks had all been embossed in the checkwriter for sums ranging from $50 to $150. Knox County officers are checking out the origin of the checks. The defendants said they had not attempted to cash any of the checks. "Craig was charged with receiving and concealing stolen property, possession of marijuana, contributing to the delinquency of a minor and public drunkenness. He was fined $30 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail on the latter two charges and then bound to the Grand Jury on the two other charges.

Merit Board Wins Case . . .

Brown Firing Is Upheld

Former county deputy Kenneth Brown has lost another legal fight to be reinstated to the force of Sheriff Guy Russell, who fired him last February. Circuit Court Judge Willard Kittrell announced Friday that he had dismissed a petition by Brown against the Loudon County Merit System Board claiming the board had exceeded its jurisdiction, acted without material evidence and violated the state "Sunshine Law." In reviewing a summary of the five page opinion was given 15 days after Kittrell heard the plea of appeal in a two hour hearing in Loudon County. The judge said the board found by the evidence that Brown was guilty of improper conduct on those three specific occasions. The opinion makes three conclusions from a review of the transcript and the judge held the following: (1) That the board erred in refusing Lrown's witness which was offered to testify as to the character of two witnesses who had given evidence against him. A witness' character and credibility is always subject to attack in a legal or quasi-legal proceeding. (2) That the board erred in allowing some unattested documents introduced as evidence. (3) Did not violate the "Sunshine Law," TAC-8-402, for the purpose of circumventing of the spirit of requirements of the law. The use of the telephone was merely a tool for the convenience of the members in this case and there is no showing that it was for the purpose of avoiding the requirements of this act.

The opinion shows that from the evidence offered by the petitioner at the court hearing that testimony of the petitioner: Wampler, Hather, Hammons; and Kent and answers to interrogatories, the county found that such evidence fails to establish that Brown was not afforded due process or that the board acted illegally or arbitrarily; that although the Board made some improper rulings upon the admissibility of certain evidence the transcript still contained evidence which was properly admitted which is sufficiently adverse to the petitioner to sustain the Board's decision. The judge concluded finally that Brown was afforded the opportunity by the court to supply evidence which was improperly excluded by the Board and that evidence the court found insufficient to justify a reversal of the Board's action. The Judge ruled that Brown would be taxed with the costs of the case.

Toy Gun Escape Attempt Fails

Leroy Knight of Anderson County arrested in Clinton Thursday, unsuccessfully tried to escape from Loudon County Deputy Voyd Carruth Thursday night as he was being transported to the Loudon County Justice Center. Carruth said he picked up the prisoner, charged with burglary, at the Lenoir County Jail at 10:20 and started to the jail just as he crossed into Loudon County on I-40. Knight, according to Carruth, told him to keep both hands on the steering wheel because he had a gun to the back of his head and would kill him. Carruth said he looked through the rear view mirror and could see what appeared to be a pistol pointed at his head. "When he dropped the weapon to the floor of the car I removed him from the vehicle and searched and handcuffed him. I searched the back seat and found a knife and a wood carving of a gun," Carruth said. He loaded the prisoner back in the cruiser and took him to the Justice Center and advised charges of felonious assault and attempted escape to the forger charges against Knight.

Plan Developed To Attract New Physicians

The Loudon County Memorial Hospital Institutional Planning Committee, working for a month now to develop a plan to attract new medical personnel and build the census of the county hospital, made a series of sweeping recommendations to the Board of Directors Friday. The hospital board will consider the recommendations at the January meeting, hospital Administrator Guy Hamilton said. The recommendations by the committee are as follows: Authority to negotiate guaranteed minimum incomes with prospective MD candidates subject to the following provisions: a. That the medical staff review and conduct credentialing and indicate their willingness to accept or reject candidates based on the findings. b. That the committee review candidates and submit a list of recommendations to the board for approval or disapproval. c. That authority be granted to offer management services with amount of fee for such services to be negotiated by the hospital administrator and physician management services will be provided by hospital staff under joint supervision of hospital and the doctor. d. That authority be granted to offer office space commensurate with resources of the hospital and needs of the prospective doctor. The fee for such space to be negotiated by the administrator and the doctor. e. That authority be granted to negotiate purchase of the Greenback doctors building and equipment for $22,500 subject to final approval of the hospital governing board. f. The motion to make the recommendations was made by County Judge William Russell and seconded by committee man Arnold Jenkins. The vote was unanimous with those present

WOMAN TRAPPED—Mrs. Evelyn Wynn, 53, of White Wing Road, Lenoir City, was trapped in her overturned car in the median of Highway 86 near the Simpson Road intersection some 30 minutes Friday afternoon as Rescue Squad and Loudon County Ambulance attendants worked to free her. According to Highway Patrolman Joe Lemons, Mrs. Wynn, who is bookkeeper at radio station WLLI in Lenoir City, was traveling north on 86, when she apparently backed out, went into the median and as the car, a late model Buick, struck the opposite side of the

Power Failure Leaves LC In Cold Thursday

A massive power failure, caused by an insulator failure at the Lenoir City power substation, left the entire Lenoir City area without power for about three hours Friday. A 69,000 volt line on the TVA portion of the substation failed when an insulator failed on one of the three legs of the line and caused the others to fall also, causing the heavy lines to burn. This completely shut down the system. The power outage caused schools to be dismissed, made it necessary for many businesses to close on a very busy holiday day. Crews of the Lenoir City Utilities began a repair immediately but because of the scope of the damage it took some three hours to return electric power to the almost paralyzed city and surrounding area. At least one industry, Eaton Corporation closed for the remainder of the day shift because of the power interruption.

Not Machine Guns, Commando Maker Claims

James L. McCown, president of Manchester Arms, Inc., Clinton, Ohio, said the stolen guns recovered in Loudon County last week by the Loudon County Sheriff's Department were not semi-automatic machine guns, but were semi-automatic rifles. McCown, factory distributor of the Commando Mark III, said that there is no such thing as a semi-automatic machine gun. He said the guns recovered are a model the firm manufactures at a rate of some 150 per week.

Plan Developed To Attract New Physicians

being J.W. Wilburn III, Ted Wampler, Dr. Walter Shea and Harvey Spraul. Hamilton said that if the hospital board accepts the recommendations it will give Loudon County the program it needs to compete for the services of specialty physicians and general practitioners that will be looking for areas of practice. He said that if the county can purchase the Alexander Clinic in Greenback and locate a physician for the area it will add greatly to the health care services available to that section of the county and bring added business to the Loudon County Hospital, because for years most of the health care services in Greenback have been lost to Blount County. Hamilton said he is more than pleased with the response and progress made by the committee in the past month. "It shows concern and responsible action by the citizens of the county who are concerned about the future of the medical services available to local citizens in their home county," Hamilton said. At the meeting Friday there were a discussion of the active involvement of the present medical staff in the activities of the committee. The success or failure of the project was largely dependent upon the invaluable support and assistance of the doctors at the hospital. Mr. Hamilton was instructed to thoroughly brief the members of the medical staff concerning the local problem and to involve them in every step of the program. Meetings with the medical staff on the subject have already commenced and it is indicated that they are already working toward the solutions sought by the committee. Hamilton said subsequent meetings with the medical staff are to begin the second week of January and continue on a regular basis if possible until the problem is resolved. It was reported.

Citizens Speak On Development Program

A public hearing was held Tuesday night prior to the Loudoun City Council meeting on the planned joint Loudoun County-City of Loudoun Community Development Program on an area centered around "hospital hill."

It was explained that the application for an improvement program under the federal program seeking a grant of $275,000 was turned down last year, but the city and county are considering submitting a pre-application this year on a similar project in the same area.

Mayor Eugene Lambert stated that the city and county are still considering just what their application will stress as improvements in the area. Last year it dealt mainly with street, water, fire protection and sewer improvements in the city and parking and other improvements around the Bacon Building and Senior Citizens Center for the county.

County Judge William Russell and County Court Administrative Assistant Randy McGill stated the county hopes such a program can be undertaken and federal funds obtained. They mentioned that the county is also still considering the improvements that could be sought through the program and they would work with the City Council and City Manager Gary Hensley in developing an application.

Senior Citizens officials Ellen Netting and Gussie McSpadden told the group they would like to see an application to the Senior Citizens Center included in the application. Mrs. Netting stated that the center is a beautiful facility but lacks the size for group activities by some of the Senior Citizens Clubs who have memberships of 100 or more each.

McGill also mentioned that a basketball court or some such recreation facility in Huntville near the County Garage is also a possibility for a county project.

A representative for the City Counciling firm said that under the program the City of Loudoun would be eligible for $196,000 and Loudoun County $48,000.

Loudoun Businessman Ham Carey attended the hearing and stated that Loudoun has sought for years to get a program to improve the community around the hospital and felt the city and county were looking in the right direction in trying to make improvements in that section of Loudoun.

Another hearing on the program was scheduled for this past Monday night.

PAUL GILLEY INJURED—Paul D. Gilley, 58, formerly of Loudoun, now of Alcoa, was taken to Loudoun Memorial Hospital with minor injuries following a head-on collision on Highway 95 just South of the Fort Loudoun Dam about 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Gilley was driving the car at left and was traveling north when, according to a report filed by Highway Patrolman Rick Chester, he failed to observe a detour and struck a car driven by Carl Bennett, 25, of Knoxville.

STOLEN CAR RECOVERED—Chief Deputy Luke Bright examines the Volkswagen of Terry Norman of Loudoun that reportedly was stolen Tuesday night. Norman reported the car stolen Wednesday and that night county deputy Lucian Krot found it in a ditch on Poplar Springs Road at Notchin Hill out of Loudoun. The car had been heavily damaged, windows and lights broken out, body damage and the battery had been taken.

Report Given On Law Consolidation

The Loudoun County Law Enforcement Agency heard a report on the progress of the Law Enforcement Consolidation Study on Loudoun County from attorney Harvey Sproul who was contracted to make the study at a meeting last week.

Sproul reported that there are many consolidation studies in existence and that many of these studies point out the difficulties involved in consolidation of law enforcement agencies, especially in Tennessee. He reported that the sheriff must retain significant duties regardless of the structure of a consolidated agency. Mr. Sproul reported on the consolidated system in metropolitan Nashville. Other examples cited were contract police work and the possibility of consolidation of the cities within a county without county participation.

Chief Deputy Luke Bright commented on the possible structure of a citizen board which would oversee a consolidated agency. Sproul also reported that funds had been set aside by the state for a county project of a consolidated law enforcement agency in Loudoun County.

County Law Enforcement Agency Chairman Jim Hartsook commented on the study and said that it would be made possible through a consolidated law enforcement agency and county law enforcement agency if one existed.

Those attending the meeting from the agency were Hartsook, Roy Bledsoe, Gary Hensley and Jack Henry. Others attending were Bright, Randy McGill, Gary Mabrey, Chief Clifton Williams, Judge William Russell, Terry Vann and Gary Lemax.

The Agency discussed the review of applications for additional personnel and part-time dispatchers for the Justice Center. They gave Chief Deputy Luke Bright the authority to hire part-time personnel as dispatchers.

Redskins Break For Holidays With 60-51 Win Over Owls

The Loudon boys will be working over the Christmas holidays to improve on their basketball record for the New Year. Loudon ended their early season play on a high note last Thursday night by tripping Ooltewah 60-51 for their fifth win against six losses.

"We are going to work during the holidays and really try to iron out some of our mistakes. We don't have a truly easy game the rest of the season and it will take our best effort each game," stated Coach Hugh Watson.

The Redskins are not that far from developing into a

The team presently has not one senior and yet they stand to be in the thick of the district race which will become a heated affair as soon as Friday, January 2 when Loudon hosts Maryville. The Redskins are 1-1 in league play to date.

Last Thursday night play was a delight to all as Loudon turned back a stubborn Ooltewah quint by the score of 60-51.

The Redskins, unable to land a solid knock-out punch, had several chances to put the game away but the Owls kept coming back.

Terry Viars had his best offensive game and may have equaled his best floor game of the season, although it is the opinion of this writer his Nov. 21 play against Lenoir City was a stellar performance. The hustling 5-4 point guard was instrumental in putting Loudon on top early. Viars hit eight of 14 shots from the floor for 18 points. He had 10 counters in the first half and brought the Loudon crowd to its feet early with a flurry of baskets. Viars gunned in a land a solid knock-out punch, had several chances to put the game away but the Owls kept coming back.

Terry Viars had his best offensive game and may have equaled his best floor game of the season, although it is the

a full court press and the human buzz-saw teamed with Mark Harrell to whip away a steal and then rife in a 20-foot shot in a span of one minute.

Viars was not the complete show as running mate, junior Randy Davis, had his shooting eye and "six-guns" blazing. The gunslinger fired in eight of 13 shots made good on five of five foul shots and led all scorers with 21 points.

The "two-gun" backcourt effort combined well with nine points each from Mark Harrell and Steve Millsaps. Mark Harrell and Greg Deathridge made a clean swipe of the boards with 12 and seven respectively to lead Loudon to a 28-22 edge in that department.

Loudon had a 138 first quarter lead and was in the driver's seat at 32:21 by intermission. Ooltewah used Loudon floor errors and sometimes overplaying defenses to make the second half interesting although seldom challenging as to catching the Redskins.

Loudon hit 24 of 51 shots for 47 percent. Ooltewah made 23 of 58 attempts for 47.9 accuracy. Loudon counted on 12 of 18 foul shots, the Owls five of nine.

The Lenoir City boys made their final appearance before the holidays in an 8 p.m. tilt, losing a heart breaker 61-59.

Loudon Girls Scores Easy Win Over Kingston, Boys Defeated

The Loudon Lady Redskins have bounced back from their first defeat of the season to run their record to 10-1 following last Tuesday night's glubbing of Kingston 57-34. The victory was on the loser's home floor.

Bernadette Locke broke open a low scoring first period with three straight field goals and Jennie Lefler and Kim Brantbover also found the mark as Loudon rolled to a 25-19 halftime difference.

The Lady Redskins cruised for a whopping 16-7 difference in the third quarter as Jennie Lefler scored eight points on long range bombs some two steps across the Loudon-Roane County lines.

When the dusted had settled Loudon owned their 10th win and second of the season over the Yellow Jacket set.

Bernadette Locke topped all scorers with 26 points making 11 of 18 shots. Kim Brantbover flipped in 19 points on nine of 17 tries and Lefler closed with 10 marks.

Coach Dewayne Arp played his entire varsity and got a proud performance from reserves Irene Stimpson and Renee Grizzle on defense.

Loudon hit 26 of 52 shots for 50 percent. Kingston was limited to 11 baskets out of just 31 attempted shots. Loudon's rebounding, well distributed, came out to 31-15 difference.

The Loudon boys did all their scoring from the floor, as they did for the second straight year the Red Men have not had the opportunity to shoot a foul shot.

Kingston meanwhile tallied both from the floor and the charity stripe as they pulled out a 37-50 decision.

The first quarter was a seesaw game. Kingston jumped out in front by six points but Loudon plugged away to out score the Yellow Jackets 8-6 only to trail by a field goal at the rest break 20-18.

Both teams ran their patterns well and showed a lot of poise as the second quarter half and 26 of 50 for the game (52 percent). Loudon made 25 field goals for all of its 50 shots on 59 shots for 42 percent.

The game rocked along with Kingston nursing a eight to two point lead the entire second half. While the game swapped hands five times in the first half, the Yellow Jackets never trailed in the second two quarters.

for still last second preparations, but the Admiral defense was unyielding as Lenoir City was unable to get off a shot and the win went to Farragut, their fifth in a row. Grayling Littleton set the scoring pace for a balanced Lenoir City attack. Grayling had 12 points, Pettie Littleton had 12 points and Ronnie Hendrix and Terry Parton 11 and 10 points respectively.

and was a member of the late Bob Neyland's 1951 national championship team. Ollie transferred to Memphis State for his last two years of college football and was an honorable mention All-American.

Ollie began his coaching career in 1954 at Halls High, moved the following year to Maryville as an assistant to Jim Henfro and succeeded Henfro as head coach in 1966. In 1967, Ollie was hired to rebuild the football program at Memphis Catholic High. Catholic had won only 11 games in the previous 13 seasons.

In his second year at Catholic, with Maryvillian Buddy Gilbert as an assistant coach, Ollie coached in 1967 and was ranked eighth in the state. His last five teams at Catholic, 1963 through 1967, won 46 and lost only five games, finishing among the state's top five each year.

Ollie left Catholic after the 1967 season to join the original staff of Johnny Majors at Iowa State. Ollie was John's offensive backfield coach, administrative assistant and director of recruiting. He recruited many of the players who helped take Iowa State to bowl games in 1971 and 1972.

In 1970, Ollie moved to Memphis State as quarterback coach, assistant coach and chief of recruiting, thinking that he had a shot at the head coaching job there when Billy Murphy retired. But, when Murphy retired, Ollie and some other coaches were dismissed, and the head job went to Fred Fincoast who left after two years to coach at Vanderbilt. While Ollie was on the Memphis State staff, the Tigers won the Missouri Valley Conference championship and beat San Jose State in the Pasadena Bowl (in 1971).

Ollie Keller doesn't know what the future holds for him and his family.

"Right now, we're just trying to get over the shock," he said.

Keller Gets Axe At NE

The strange, intensive, and sometimes cruel world of college football has claimed another victim.

Ollie Keller, the man who carried Northeast Louisiana University into the big time this year and who is considered by many peers to be one of the sharpest offensive minds in college football, got fired a few days ago.

The axe also fell on the school's athletic director, Bill Beall, and on Ollie's entire staff of football assistants, including former Marquette College head coach Howard (Monk) Tomlinson.

It came as a shock to all of them.

"It's unbelievable," Keller said on the phone from his home in Memphis. "It's tough to take, with three kids in college here (at Northeast) and one as a senior in high school."

Coaches at state universities in Louisiana have one-year contracts, Ollie's expires Dec. 31.

It was quite a Christmas present, coming home from a week of recruiting and learning he'd been fired two weeks before Christmas. Actually the Keller children heard it first. Two of them got the news from fellow students on campus. Another read the headlines in the newspaper bottle. Ollie's wife, heard about it on a radio talk show.

"They didn't give us any advance notice or anything," the Maryville native said. "None of my staff knew it either."

Ollie and Beall were brought to Northeast Louisiana under the administration of Dr. George Walker, the president.

He but he has retired, and the new president, Dr. Deibert Vines, executed the housecleaning.

His last Louisiana job fell posted a 4-6-1 record in its first year as a member of the NCAA's Division I.

"The difference in a 4-6-1 season and 8-3 was only 10 points," Ollie said.

Northeast tied Pacific (3-3) and lost by margins of three points or less to Kent State (29-3), Eastern Michigan (24-21) and McNeese State (14-15).

In 1973, Ollie's second year as head coach, Northeast tied Mississippi State (21-21) and beat previously unbeaten Richmond (14-0), snapping Richmond's 10-game winning streak.

Former Lenoir City football standout and baseball star Tommy Cook was recruited and signed by NE to an athletic scholarship in 1972. Cook was instrumental in the 68-21 tie of Mississippi State, playing as a freshman defensive back. Tommy dropped out of the Northeast program this past fall and attended the University of Tennessee as an all time student only.

The south-paw athlete is expected to be a varsity candidate on the football baseball team this spring.

Cook was very surprised to learn of the old happenings at the Louisiana school. "Coach Keller was a good coach and was building a fine football team. I just felt I was better off in baseball and when I decided this I made my own decision to finish up at UT. I was playing both football and baseball at Northeast," stated Cook.

"I don't know what they expected," Ollie said. "It's a game of inches, and we were that close, just a few points, in having a great season."

Ollie's team this fall had the nation's 10th most productive passing attack. The team gained 2,020 yards through the air for an average of 184.2 yards per game. The quarterback, Joe Bruer, was the fourth leading passer in the nation. Ollie's middle guard, Glenn Flemming, made All-Southern.

Ollie made his first mark in football as a 145-pound tailback at Maryville High School in the mid-1940's. He was a senior on Maryville's undefeated team in 1946.

After an Air Force hitch, Ollie enrolled at Tennessee

Greenback Evens Record With 61-57 Tipping Of Tellico

The Greenback Cherokeses have evened their season at 4-4 with a stirring 61-57 win over Tellico last Friday night. The win stood for a previous whipping handed out by the Bears at Tellico two weeks ago.

Roddy Kizer played the key role in the win, Greenback's second of the week, with 25 points and eight assists. The junior also had 23 rebounds. Greenback got after the Bears early with a 21-8 first quarter drilling. The Bears failed to wilt as they came from behind to tie the game at 57-57 with less than two minutes to play.

Steve Linginfelter, who was hampered by fouls in the two teams' first meeting, connected from the left corner and with just 30 seconds remaining. Danny Dotson ripped off a Tellico miss and turned things over to Kizer who sank a pair of foul shots with 13 seconds to play to ice the win at 61-57.

Kizer made 10 of 22 shots for his points. Steve Linginfelter was also tough around the hoops, canning 18 points. Harold Hawkins guided through an even 12 counters.

Danny Dotson, Rick Blader, Chris Blair, and Jimmy Russell also chimed in to contribute greatly to the triumph.

Greenback reared past Tellico with a first half shooting effort of 19 for 36 but fell to a nine for 25 during the second half as Tellico made it close.

The Bears hit 24 of 66 shots for 36.4 percent.

Greenback out rebounded the Cherokee Coustians 34-92. Greenback made 13 of 23 foul shots to nine of 15 for Tellico.

The Greenback girls can't seem to get things together against the Tellico sextet. The Bearettes again won 44-32. The Cherokettes lost the last time 41-33.

Tellico barely had a 24-21 lead at the half but Greenback went from lead to worse in the second half making five of 23 shots and being out scored 20-11.

Pam Neely, scoring 12 in the first half, had 10 points to spark the Greenback sextet. Robin Anderson's five rebounds led the Greenback girls to a 28-26 difference on the boards.

Greenback hit 13 of 49 shots for 26.5 percent. Tellico made 14 of 41 shots for 34.1 percent.

DESPERATION TOSS—Greenback forward Harold Hawkins throws up a desperation shot as he loses his balance in a 12 point performance against Tellico Friday night. Greenback won the game 61-57.

Greenback has swept another basketball game doubleheader. The Cherokeses teamed up on visiting Lanier last Tuesday night for the sweep.

The Greenback girls played very well in posting a 51-34 win for their third success of the season, equalling their entire season wins of last year.

The Greenback boys all but brought the house down as they led for all of three quarters, some times by as much as 10 points only to let Lanier take the lead with just two minutes to play.

State Champions Owlettes Hand Loudon Sextet Second Loss

Loudon closed down its basketball play for the Christmas Holidays last Thursday night with a two game split with visiting Ooltewah Owls.

The Loudon girls suffered their second loss of the season in the evening's preliminary bout, 55-44.

The loss, Loudon's second in 12 games to date, was to the defending Small School TSSAA State Champions of last year. The Owlettes are in the Class AA division this winter and could prove an interesting new rival for the equally ranked Lady Redskins.

Ooltewah zipped to a 6-0 lead to start the game and was never headed in winning their 11th game in 12 outings.

Following the Owlettes opening spurt Loudon came back to 6-5 but the visitors out shot Loudon 6-1 in the final two minutes and came out on top 12-4 for the seven minute stanza.

The score was 28-18 at halftime as Ooltewah scored two last minute buckets to give them the momentum at halftime.

Loudon experienced another slow starting third quarter and fell behind by as much as 16 points before regrouping in the last canto for what ended a 50-44 contest.

Berardette Locke led Loudon in scoring with 20 points, but failed to have one of her better games as she made just eight of 26 floor shots.

Kim Brant Hoover added 15 points and Jennie Leffer pumped in nine.

It was a bad night all round for the Lady Redskins hitting 17 of 60 shots for their lowest shooting mark of the season (28.3 percent) and made but 10 of 18 foul shots.

Ooltewah shot 40 percent making 20 of 50 tries and added 15 of 24 foul tosses. The visitors out rebounded Loudon 30 to 28 with Kim Brant Hoover grabbing eight offensive rebounds and Susan Jameson and Renee Grizzle five each for the Loudon defense.

Loudon had 18 turnovers in the game as compared to 10 listed for Ooltewah.

America's First Carol Written For Indians

As far as it is known, the very first Christmas carol composed in America was written for an Indian tribe by their missionary priest. The priest, Father Jean de Brebeuf, was born in France in 1593 and came to the New World in 1626 to spread the Gospel of Jesus.

Firemen Complain To City Council

Four fulltime Loudon firemen and one volunteer fireman appeared briefly before Loudon City Council Tuesday night to express complaints about City Fire Chief Chilli Jones.

The firemen, John Staleup, Captain Sherman Staleup, Kenneth Brown and Larry Hughes, and volunteer fireman Gene Dilla, complained that the Chief did not listen to suggestions they had, complained of the way they fought a fire but offered no help, and had left a 17-year old boy on duty who had had no training.

Fireman Kenneth Brown said that when they tried to talk to Jones about matters he had had the fire department was the least of his worries.

Mayor Gene Lambert said the men were welcome to attend the meeting and he wanted the differences between the men and their superior worked out, but the city had certain policies pertaining to handling grievances. He told the men to first go to Jones and if they got no satisfaction then take their problems to the City Manager. After that if there were still problems they could be brought directly to him.

"I am sure there are two sides to this matter and it is unfair for us to listen to only one side and be expected to make a decision," the mayor stated.

The council passed an ordinance to make the West side of Poplar Street, behind the courthouse a no parking zone.

Also in the same ordinance was a no exit ruling from Poplar to Mulberry Street. The action was taken as part of the design of the new Courthouse Parking lot that has just been constructed in a cooperative effort by the city and county.

John Hayes, head of a Nashville engineering firm, discussed the storm and waste sewage facilities plan study that the firm will be undertaking in Loudon. The study is required by the Environmental Protection Agency is financed by a 75 percent federal grant. The Loudon Utilities will pay the local share of the $100,000 study which will outline the problems and direction of the city's waste water disposal for a 20 year period.

Sarten Sues Sheriff And Two Deputies

A Federal Court lawsuit totaling $600,000 has been filed against Loudon County deputies Voyd Carruth, Larry Prospa, and Sheriff Guy Russell by George Sarten of Lenoir City. The suit, $200,000 against each of the three defendants, cites violations of the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments in connection with an incident in which Sarten was arrested on Dec. 27, 1974.

The suit claims the defendants used "unreasonable and unnecessary force" in making the arrest and that "there were no reasonable or just cause for the original arrest" in the first place.

Sarten, in the bill, says that on Dec. 27, 1974, he was following a car driven by his brother, Isaac Sarten and that the defendants, Carruth and Prospa, stopped Isaac Sarten's car. George Sarten also stopped his car, the suit says, since he was unable to pass, and that when he opened his car door, the two deputies "forcefully pulled and jerked the plaintiff (George Sarten) from his vehicle hitting him with billy sticks or slapsacks and placed him under arrest for public drunkenness, resisting arrest and carrying a deadly weapon. Although the plaintiff was injured, the defendants dragged him to the cruiser and threw him into the rear seat of the vehicle... (and) drove the plaintiff to jail. Although the plaintiff was noticeably injured and requesting medical attention, the defendants locked the plaintiff in a cell."

Sarten claims he "sustained substantial medical and hospital expenses and has been caused to endure great pain and suffering and mental anguish, (and) a loss of profits of approximately 50 percent for 1975 and has expected future earnings are greatly diminished."

proceeded to round up the cattle, with all the cows gathered around the meeting house, the bells ringing. It broke up the meeting, and calmed down the shouting. It reminded me of when I was a boy attending an old time revival. A lady got happy, grabbed another lady around the shoulders and hollered she was on her way to Heaven. The woman she had grabbed yelled, Get off my back. I ain't no horse, you can't ride me to Heaven. Well, that's it for now. See you New Years.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

CALVIN LUNSFORD 458-2681

We had some pictures sometime back of the boys of Loudon in the 20's. We used several of them through the ensuing weeks and have a lot of comments from our readers who remembered this era in the life of our town. The group picture was loaned to us by Shad Haskins. Well, in looking back through them, we discovered one which we think we missed and didn't run, so we are using it this week.

This old picture, as were a lot of the others, was made in front of the Courthouse. This spot seemed to be a very popular place to use as a background for pictures.

Over the past few months we have run many pictures of servicemen from Loudon in various conflicts. We are always glad to have them and use them in our column. We always like to pay tribute to men who have served their country. We have had a fairly good cross section, with representation of most of the branches of our service. I don't believe we have had a Marine.

How, I can't recall it. Maybe someone will send up pictures. Our picture this week is of William (Bill) Varner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Varner. Bill was in the 6th Armored Division, and at the time this picture was made, he has just completed his basic training.

Bill was in the restaurant business in Loudon after he was discharged. From the service.

Many things have happened in old time country churches, many of a serious nature and some of a humorous nature.

We heard the following story about an old country church. It seems that it was the morning service on the Sabbath. It seems that back then, everyone's cattle ran out to graze and as there were no fence laws, cattle were grazing around the church that morning. It seemed as if everyone of them was wearing a cow bell. It is said that the man was sitting in the Amen corner and his big dog which always went to church with the family, was lying under a bench nearby. Well, near the close of the service, one member of the congregation got up from under the bench and barked at the top of his lungs and running so fast he raised splinters on the floor. Out the door went the dog and

CHRISTMAS

From
The Hamiltons

JAMES L. CURTIS, JR.

In true tradition of the story old
When the mystic sounds of the season unfold
The Hamilton Family cherishes this reason
To bring to all, Greetings of this season.

DEMOND T. LOMAX

Hark, the herald angels sing
Heralding the birthday of a King
May true peace and love surround your tree
Is the sincere wish of the Hamilton family.

Our family's joy is our service to you
Not only this season, but the whole year through.
Serving a community and people in which we believe
Your gift to us, the greatest we could receive.

We count the year's blessings at this season
And it's not hard to find the reason
But one thing makes the Hamiltons beam
Our Loudon High Redskins Championship Team.

We supported the Redskins all the way
Like the Hamilton family, Teamwork in every play
We greeted you from Murfreesboro with radio hospitality
And cheered with friends as the Championship again became a reality.

Once again we give thanks for having shared in your life
To have laughed with you in joy, To have helped in strife.
Through planning and improved service, we're trying hard Holiday lay-away, Golden PassBook, Master Charge and Bank Americard.
To increase the carefree joy of Christmas Day
There is now Can-O-Cash for gifts, or to help you pay.

In keeping with service, matching today's pace
We are adding a downtown remote window and parking space
To improve our service, we're eager for the chance
And now conducting a study to enhance our West End Branch.

Ours is a daily, as well as a seasonal wish
That we have contributed along your way.
Our interest is personal and community wide
Plus the percentage on savings accounts we are able to pay.

May God bless the faith of all men
On this another joyous Christmas Day
May again the faces of the Heavenly angels smile
As in greatest joy they pass along your way.

The best wishes are ours to bring
As the distant tolling bells ring
The happiness and prosperity of every day
That this year the Hamilton family can bring your way.

The tradition of the Family Christmas
Is what the Hamiltons would like to express
From our Family to your Family, Glad tidings, Holiday greetings and a New Year filled with happiness.

Dear Santa,
I wish that it was Christmas today because I would get my toys and wack up the next morning and play with my toys and play with them all day and go to school the next day and do my English and math. I have a good grade card and that is the end.
